One reason for these elaborate precautions is to prevent a recurrence of the bombing that took place in the Capitol prior to American entry into the last war. Planted in a senate reception room by a pacifistic college professor, the bomb exploded at midnight, July 2, 1915, and left the chamber a shambles.

Earlier that day the Washington Times received a letter from the perpetrator announcing his intention to bomb the capitol "as an exclamation point to my appeal for peace." He was arrested several days later at Mineola, L. I. He committed suicide in his cell.

* * *

WILLKIE'S SPEECH

That acceptance speech Wendell Willkie is writing is one of the toughest jobs he's ever tackled! It can make him or break him.

Willkie has got to crack two of the hardest political nuts ever handed a G. O. P. standard bearer: the power issue and foreign policy.

Even under normal conditions the power issue is pure TNT, particularly in the West, which is strong for public power. For Willkie, with his Wall Street and utility background, the handling of this issue so it doesn't explode in his face is doubly delicate.

Perhaps even more difficult is the question of foreign affairs and its closely related problem of compulsory military service. On the latter, Willkie has never declared himself and the Republican platform also is silent

Roosevelt has declared for "universal training," although so far he has not expressed a view on the pending bill. But his leaders are for it and it's generally considered an administration measure.

On foreign policy, particularly on aid to the British, the President's record is an open book. And so was Willkie's until he was nominated. Since that moment not one word has come from him on this all-important topic, though he has talked daily on various other matters.

It didn't leak out at the time, but when Willkie visited Washington early last month, the G. O. P. isolationists, led by Senator Vandenberg, tried to corral the new candidate and give him a big isolationist sales talk; warning him to pipe down on aiding the British. But Willkie sidestepped the bloc and they didn't get a chance to put on the pressure.

Note—Regardless of what Willkie says, running-mate Sen. Charles McNary is isolationist and pro-public power. He intends to say so in his acceptance speech late this month.

* * *

THE LaFOLLETTES

In the current pre-campaign jockeying for position, both Republican and Democratic chiefs are warily watching Wisconsin's famous brothers LaFollette—Senator Bob, who is up for re-election this year, and ex-Governor Phil, who since his defeat two years ago has been quietly promoting a "Fuehrer-principle" kind of organization which he launched in the spring of 1938 with a lot of fanfare.

Bob LaFollette faces a tough battle. Three key voting blocs in the state are the large German, Scandinavian and Polish groups Obviously playing for the favor of the first two, Bob was a very active isolationist last November.

But this stand boomeranged when Hitler invaded the unarmed Scandinavian countries. So with the Poles already down on him, the disaffection of the Scandinavians was a serious blow.

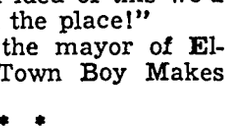
There is no question of LaFollette's personal hostility toward Hitler and Nazism.

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

PROGRAM FOR THE WILLKIE ACCEPTANCE

Morning:

1—Inspection of the house in which Wendell Willkie was born, with special attention to exhibits including:



(a) Milk bottle broken by the infant Willkie when he heard for the first time the mention of a name that sounded like "Roosevelt"; (b) blackboard upon which he once drew a donkey and scribbled the words, "This is a turkey"; (c) faded Mother Goose book with page turned to a verse brought up to date as follows:

Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard
To get her poor doggie a bone;
When she got there the cupboard was bare—
The New Deal had skinned it by phone.

* * *

2—Short talk by nursemaid who remembers distinctly that as a child in arms Willkie had the kind of personality that made her give him a lollipop when the doctor ordered paregoric.

* * *

3—Reception by Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCarthy, present tenants of the old Willkie home, marked by frequent exclamations by both, "If we'd ever had an idea of this we'd never have taken the place!"

4—Address by the mayor of Elwood: "Home Town Boy Makes Good."

* * *

5—Sight-seeing tour through business area, with special attention to the cobbler's shop where Willkie's shoes were repaired, and the barbershop where he was first shaved and in which the barber is still trying to argue him into getting his hair cut some day. Review of places featuring Wendell Willkie Hamburgers, Wendell Willkie Barbecue Lunch, Wendell Willkie Haberdashery, and the "Wendell Willkie Punch —Positively One to a Customer."

* * *

Noon to 2 p. m.:

Band concert on the Elwood Green.

Selections: "Banks of the Wabash," "Inquisitions of the Potomac," "I'm on My Way," "Throw 'Em Down McClusky," "Just a Little White House Built for Two."

2 p. m.:

Athletic Events at Gallaway park.

Greased Pole Climb: Bob Taft.

Escaping From Locked Trunk Demonstration: Mr. Willkie.

Throwing the 100-Pound Racket: Thomas Dewey.

Boxing Rodeo: Mr. Frank Gannett vs. the whole New Deal.

Sack Race: Original Willkie for President men vs. alternates.

Wrestling Events: Charlie McNary vs. Past Performances; Mr. Willkie vs. the field.

3 p. m.:

Parade.

Section 1—Republicans Who Had Just About Given Up Hope.

Section 2—Republicans Who Had Definitely Given Up Hope.

Section 3—Battle-scarred Tories.

Section 4—Businessmen's Clubs of America (on stretchers).

Section 5—Budget Balancers (in ambulances).

Section 6 — Thrift Clubs (on crutches).

Section 7—Efficiency Experts (by proxy).

Section 8—Brass bands playing the theme song, "Heaven Help the Poor Businessman; the New Deal Never Will."

* * *

4 p. m.:

Mr. Willkie accepts the nomination at Elwood high school while his school teachers shake their heads and whisper, "You could knock us over with a feather."

5 to 8:

Dancing, cold snacks and arguments over the Gallup poll.

* * *

SUMMER PORTRAIT

Hills and dales
And cars with banners
Full of folks
With rotten manners.

* * *

Add similes: As ironic as the idea of Pierre Laval putting other French leaders on trial for making mistakes.

* * *

Adolf Hitler has sent to Mussolini as a gift a train of three armored cars equipped with 16 anti-aircraft guns in the hope "that it may accompany you in the future to protect your life." This would indicate that the reaction to those balcony speeches isn't what it used to be.

* * *

Out of 900,000 tulip bulbs planted by the city of New York in a special Riverside drive garden 800,000 failed to come up. After that we don't feel so futile about the daffodil bed.

Cool and Delig
New Shirtwa

PERFECT to put on a right now in flat cre print or spun rayon, th fully cut shirtwaist fas be a cool delight on th days of summer No. 87
so crisp and fresh, in st en, polka dot silk or brill sharkskin. And it will fortable and unhamper cause the lines are so si free. The bodice can be with three buttons a back in narrow, deep buttoned almost to the shallow revers.

Why not have it both w
it's so very easy to mak practically no detailing a few gathers beneath and darts at the waist circular skirt has a love ful swing.

Pattern No. 8727 is de sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 a 16 requires 4⅔ yards material without nap.

Send order to

SEWING CIRCLE PATTE
Room 1128
211 W Wacker Dr
Enclose 15 cents in coin
Pattern No.
Name
Address

SOOTHES CHAFED
MOROL
WHITE PETROLEUM
WORLD'S LARGEST SELL

Tested Friends
Friendship is a pla growth, and must u withstand the shocks before it is entitled to t tion.—Washington.

Miserab with backa

WHEN kidneys functio you suffer a naggin with dizziness, burning, frequent urination and night; when you feel all upset . . . use Doan's Doan's are especially working kidneys. Millio are used every year. The mended the country ov neighbor!

DOAN'S P

WNU—N

MERCH

•Your Adverti Dollar

buys something space and circu the columns of t paper. It buys circulation plus t able considerati readers for this and its advertisin

LET US TE MORE AB

y Years Ago England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Russia, Japan and America Were Allies, Waging War Against China!

D SCOTT WATSON
(Western Newspaper Union.)

o it came to pass the Allies — Eng- d, France, Ger- stria, Italy, Russia, d the United States eir armed forces common enemy and mon enemy was light of present oes that statement it fantastic? Yet, it But, it should be stly, that occurred go and it was an in- the history of inter- elations that is now orgotten. It came his way:

he turn of the century tial Empire," weak- ears of aggression by powers, was on the being dismembered. ciety of patriots, popu- n as the Boxers (from anslation of its Chinese Ho Chu'van, meaning righteous harmony"), d to the principle of the Chinese" raised "Kill the foreign dev- y, 1900, they destroyed f villages inhabited by o had been converted stian religion and mas- e people. In June they two English mission- village 40 miles from assinated the chancel- Japanese legation in and waylaid and killed Ketteler, the German le, as the outrages reigners and native creased, a mixed force rines and sailors of tionalities reached Pe- tect the legations. The uthorities did little if o restrain the Boxers urder and pillage con- st of the foreign resi- e capital and many na- rts took refuge in the ation where the Brit- er, Sir Claude Mac- k charge of the prep- resist the threatened 14 Peking was com- off from communica- the outside world. all of the nations who s there had begun or- xpeditionary forces to eir rescue and within me their troops were ing upon the coast of ne of the first to act nited States.

16 Gen. Arthur Mac- ommander at Manila d to rush a regiment ese port of Taku where forces were concen- d which they captured The Ninth infantry, d by Col. Emerson H. as chosen for this duty 19 days, although de- a typhoon, Liscum's at Taku.

Chinese began attack- oreign settlements in nd on July 13 an allied British, French, Japa- Americans moved t high-walled city. Aft- fight lasting 15 hours the city by storm but ed a loss of 700 killed ed in doing it. Among was Colonel Liscum. words are inscribed banners of the Ninth oday—"Keep up the g across the Pacific le these events were ce was Maj. Gen. Adna , who had a brilliant he Indian and Spanish- wars and who was com- ke command of the forces in China. There numerous reports that s had captured the le- Peking and killed all nders. But soon after arrival, the Americans rough friendly Chinese esieged Europeans and were still holding out.

Makes a Decision.

erican commander was of moving at once to ue. But international had sprung up among Allied leaders and pre- was being lost while ted what course they rsue. In the midst of ir conferences Chaffee ed a cablegram from telling him that he hand in whatever ac- cided was best. Stuff- patch in his pocket and m the table, he an-men, at daybreak to- e American forces will Peking. I should be to have company—the better. But they go at even if alone."

The Fourteenth United States infantry in the Palace Grounds of Peking. (From a photograph in the United States Signal corps, War Department, Washington.)

Gen. Sir Alfred Gaselee, the British commander, sprang to his feet.

"I'm with you," he exclaimed. "The British troops will march with the Americans tomorrow morning."

So on the morning of August 4 an Allied army of 20,000 men set out for the Chinese capital. Since Germany had the largest contingent of land forces in China it had been agreed that command of the expedition was to be given to the German commander, Graf von Waldersee. However, he had not yet arrived in Tientsin so the expedition started without him.

The Tricky Russians.

By August 13 the Allies were within 12 miles of Peking. They had agreed to spend the night in reconnoitering the situation before making an attack on the ancient walled city. The Russians, however, who had been the slowest on the march, now tried to steal first honors for themselves by attacking the Tung-pien-men gate. They succeeded in forcing an entrance but were driven back with heavy losses. This breach of international etiquette added to the ill feeling that had been evident from the beginning of the expedition and which later flamed out in a series of troublesome incidents.

MAJ. GEN. A. R. CHAFFEE

The next morning the Japanese attacked at another point along the walls but were checked by the fierce resistance of the Chinese. The American forces, moving forward to go into action, became entangled in the Russian line of advance and were somewhat delayed. So it was not until 11 o'clock that two companies of the Fourteenth infantry, led by Col. A. S. Daggett and covered by the fire of the remainder of the regiment, reached the base of the wall, despite the hail of lead poured upon them by its defenders. Here they were sheltered temporarily but it was a question how long they would be safe.

In this crisis a young bugler named Calvin P. Titus volunteered to try to climb the wall and clear it of its defenders. Such a feat was dangerous to the point of foolhardiness. But by some great good fortune he reached the top undiscovered.

Before him was a group of huts on top of the wall. Scouting forward cautiously Titus found that they were unoccupied. As he returned to the edge of the wall, Capt. Henry G. Learned, the adjutant of the regiment, who had followed him, handed him the end of a long cord to which was attached a rifle and a supply of ammunition. Hastily pulling these up, the young bugler immediately opened fire on a group of surprised Chinese who showed up a few minutes later.

Meanwhile Captain Learned had hauled up more rifles and ammunition and other soldiers came scrambling up. Soon they had established a firing line and under its cover the whole company occupied the top of the broad wall. They drove off the defenders from that corner of the wall as far as the east gate, through which a short time later the British forces, under General Gaselee entered without opposition.

The Siege Is Lifted.

Meanwhile Battery F of the Fifth field artillery, commanded by Capt. Henry J. Reilly, had swept the Chinese off the wall west of the Tung-pien-men gate and the Fourteenth drove forward, pushing the defenders southward toward the Sha-Huo gate. As the British entered the city and the other Allied forces swept in, resistance collapsed and the siege of the legations ended. It is not difficult to imagine the hysterical joy with which these people, who had been living for two months under the shadow of a horrible death, welcomed their rescuers.

Although the siege of the legation had been raised, armed Chinese forces still held the Forbidden City within Peking and from its walls kept up a sniping fire on the invaders. On August 15 the Allies began cleaning out these snipers. Reilly's battery distinguished itself during this fighting but its commander was killed while standing beside General Chaffee watching the effect of the fire of his guns on the Third Gate.

The Looting Begins.

On August 28 the Allied forces formally entered the Forbidden City. "I was opposed to the performance as one based on curiosity merely and not one of military or political necessity, but I was overruled," General Chaffee reported to his superiors. "The city of Peking has been sacked; looted from corner to corner in the most disgraceful manner imaginable, such is my opinion. I had no idea that civilized armies would resort to such proceedings. It is a race for spoil. I have kept my own command fairly clean, thank God, but with all my efforts it is not spotless."

Although the Germans under Graf von Waldersee had arrived too late to take part in the fighting and capture of Peking, they were leaders in the looting. When Chaffee learned that they were removing from the Chinese observatory some ancient astronomical instruments, the American commander sent a strong letter of protest to Von Waldersee. But it was useless. The instruments were carried away and were not returned until after the World war when the Treaty of Versailles forced the Germans to return them to China.

As might have been expected such incidents and other echoes of international jealousy created dissension among the Allies and added to the confusion which reigned in Peking for some time after its capture. In contrast to this, however, was the friendly co-operation between the British and the Americans. They were more truly Allies than any of the others and when the time came for the evacuation of Peking the British commander sent a detachment of Indian pipers to show the Americans special honor by "piping them out" of the Chinese capital.

Star Dust
STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THERE'S never a dull moment at Big Bear, Calif., these days. No sooner did 20th Century-Fox's "Brigham Young" troupe finish work on location near there than Monogram's "Queen of the Yukon" moved in.

The town has just one important street, and it's jammed nightly with bearded extras (whose beards earn a living for them) and members of the cast. Irene Rich, Charles Bickford, Melvin Lang, Dave O'Brien, and June Carlson are in the lineup.

Melvin Lang and Dave O'Brien had to stage a fight the other day; in preparation, Bickford spent several days teaching O'Brien how to avoid injuries. But—when Director Phil Rosen called "Cut!" O'Brien fell to the ground, and the company doctor found that he had a broken rib. He'd been too much excited to remember Bickford's instructions

—+—

When young players in Hollywood get discouraged they remind themselves—and anyone who'll listen—that it takes just one good picture to make a star.

"Look at Pat O'Brien in 'Front Page'," they'll say "Look at Cary Grant in 'Topper'—Shirley Temple in 'Little Miss Marker'—Errol Flynn in 'Captain Blood'—May Robson in 'Lady for a Day.'"

IDA LUPINO

Another name has been added to the "Look" list—it's that of Ida Lupino, who did a nice job in "The Light That Failed" and has won her spurs as a result of her "mad" scenes in Warner Brothers' "They Drive By Night." She'll co-star with John Garfield in "East of the River."

—*—

We may have another Rogers-Astaire picture, if RKO can find the right story for it. Fred Astaire is free-lancing at present, and Ginger is booked for three pictures, one of them being a picturization of the very popular novel, "Kitty Foyle." But some time next year they may be dancing together again.

—*—

Herbert Moulton has a new idea for screen entertainment, and he hopes you're going to like it. After six months of hard work he has finished an abridged version of "Love Me Tonight," starring Maurice Chevalier, Jeanette MacDonald and Myrna Loy, and originally released in 1932. It will run just 45 minutes.

Other old-time successes being considered for streamlining are "Design for Living," "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "Night After Night," and "One Hour With You."

—*—

Betty Field left the stage for Hollywood a year ago; in that time she's played four big parts, so different from each other that she's the envy of all the other young actresses. In "What a Life!" she was the nice high school girl who was Jackie Cooper's sweetheart; in "Of Mice and Men" she was the sultry, amorous young woman who attracted Lon Chaney Jr. In "Seventeen" she was a giddy young siren, and in "Victory," her latest picture, she's warm, tender, understanding.

—*—

Three years ago Ralph Edwards hitch-hiked from his home in Oakland, Calif., to New York for a job. A couple of weeks ago he returned to his home in a plane. These days he's so busy that, when he decided to take a six-week vacation, five other announcers had to be called in to sub for him.

Six months ago he turned up as creator, director and master of ceremonies of his own program, the hilarious "Truth or Consequences." It was tried out on four eastern stations, and soon will be launched on WEAF in New York.

—+—

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Geraldine Fitzgerald returns to the screen to co-star with George Raft in "South of Suez" . . . Looks as if Charlie Chaplin's "The Dictator" would be released about the middle of September . . . Susanna Foster has a gold powder box which, when opened, plays "Fight on for U. S. C."—given her by the boys of the University of Southern California's band, who worked with her in "There's Magic in Music" . . . Tyrone Power will do a series of pictures based on tales about Zorro, the California bandit—his current one, "The Californian," is a re-make of the old Douglas Fairbanks "The Mark of Zorro"

Go-to-School Headwear Will Include Chic Matched Turbans

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S high time to be tackling the go-to-school wardrobe problem. So far as millinery is concerned, thanks to the charming fashion of wearing bewitching little match turbans, such as have been so tremendously popular of late, the college girls' plan of action is made perfectly clear. Just keep in mind the slogan "a matching turban with every frock or blouse or suit." Sounds like a big order, doesn't it, but truth is it's as simple a way to get rid of the hat question as we know.

Not that new fall turbans are going to repeat summer versions. Indeed not! Just watch and see what happens when the fall style parade is in full swing. You are going to see the most captivating, unusual little pompadour concoctions enroll under the turban regime, that fancy can picture.

Designers are bending their efforts to create turbans that take kindly to the idea of being posed back of the new pompadour hairdo. So when you take a piece of your dress goods to match up a turban to go with your new fall frock be sure the model you select is the kind that will set off your flattering pompadour curls to perfection. Note the turban shown in the oval below to the left. Here a bright red drape is brought through a golden ring in a way that gives the exotic far east caste to the picture. It tells you that turbans that tilt forward go fifty-fifty with the very new pompadour types.

Assuming that you will be getting together a whole collection of turbans to match (with each dress a self-fabric headpiece) we especially cite the "chignon" turban as a must have in the group. The turban with a chignon or with a bandanna tie at the nape of the neck is sure news that is news. You can carry out the idea as extreme as you please. Knotted and tied, the ends will stream down to the waistline at the back or stop at the shoulders. You can get in the better shops a clever little chignon type such as Lillie Dache interprets via a red, white and black silk scarf manipulated as you see above to the left in the oval. Note the saucy chignon frill at the back and see the impudent bow to the fore designed to accent your widow's peak to the utmost. This type turban also adapts itself to the new pompadour hairdress.

If you like bright stripes, tell the world this fall via a stylish peaked turban together with a gigantic matching envelope bag of red, white, yellow and blue striped fabric as worn by the smartly clad young woman pictured to the right.

It adds to the glamour of the new jersey frocks that the majority of them are accompanied with turbans or toques made of the identical jersey. The figure centered in the picture demonstrates how interestingly the alliance of a striped jersey frock and a matching striped jersey draped turban work out. Here a reefer of dusty rose flannel over a navy and white striped jersey dress, navy shoes with dusty rose quilted bag and gloves add a definite style touch, the cabochon twist of the matched jersey turban supplying the final touch of chic. See how flatteringly it reveals the pompadour, which, as said before, is the characteristic feature of the newer turbans.

The vogue for matched fabric hats is expressed not only in turbans for this fall but we will see many brimmed sports hats made of tweeds to match suits and coats to which add a shopping bag of the same and behold a perfect ensemble for travel and town wear.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Pompadour Felt

Whether the hat be wide of brim, a tiny toque, a draped turban or a dramatic beret, milliners are tempering them to the new pompadour hairdo. The model pictured accents sophisticated simplicity which is so important just now. Its lavish brim with neat grosgrain ribbon band and short streamers at the back are eminently style-right.

Suede for Sports Is Coming for Fall

Soft glove suede is being used by Vorys, a West coast designer, in a collection of sports dresses for fall. One dress of suede, in a pottery pink shade, is collarless and has soft, unpressed pleats in the skirt. The belt is just a wide sash of brown suede. Another dress of beige suede has a fly-front closing, a perfectly straight skirt and deep, saddle-stitched pockets on either hip.

Fashion Hints for The College Girl

While the dress of the college girl must assume a casual look, yet in reality it must observe most meticulous detail that insures for it style distinction.

You will thrill with delight at the sight of the new featherweight jersey dresses styled in classic simplicity but spectacular at that because of the fringed shawl of the self-jersey that is thrown nonchalantly about one's shoulders.

And then there are the newest-of-the-new pinafore frocks. Can imagination go beyond this—a navy dress with a bright red pinafore of sheer wool with pleated apron skirt and a jumper top all carried out in demure little girl fashion yet skillfully tuned to teen age wear? You will want to include one of the new and clever drawstring models done in jersey. They are fitted to waist with drawstrings that tie in front. Another suggestion is a plaid skirt with suede shirt in bright monotone.

Color Contrast in Fall Wool Suits

Two-piece jacket-suits dramatize color contrasts and blends more eye-appealingly than ever. Some of the new color contrast suggestions offered are olive green with mauve, brown with pale blue, plum with pale blue, dark brown with toffee tan, red with hunter's green and so on and on with the color spectrum fashion will make merry this fall.

The schemes are worked out with monotone tweeds coupled with plaids and stripes. Lots of plaid is on the way for fall. It will be tailored into long coats, into separate jackets and for the costume entire.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1 00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

IOWA IS CHAMPION STATE IN FIGHT AGAINST CHINCH BUGS

Iowa used more creosote in its fight against chinch bugs this year than all other midwest states combined—1,361,800 gallons. The creosote, furnished by the Bureau of Entomology and plant Quarantine, was used in 45 counties to construct chinch bug barriers. Kansas used 379,500 gallons; Missouri, 320-100 gallons; Nebraska, 287,100; Illinois, 45,980, Oklahoma, 23,000 and Indiana, 20,350.

"Safe Ways are Happy Ways." Hancock County Safety Council.

PAUL GRANGE RETURNED SUNDAY EVENING FROM HIS TRIP TO CANADA

Paul Grange returned Sunday evening from a trip to Ft. Francis, Canada, where he went in company with a group of lumber dealers to visit lumbering camps and saw mills and to enjoy a couple of days fishing. The men had good luck fishing bass and wall eye pike.

The men who made the trip were Buck Beebe of Hampton, Jay Boyd of Eldora, Clarence Buth of Fredericksburg, John Richardson of New Hampton. Paul Grange of Klemme and Mr. McWilliams, salesman for the Shetland Pine Lumber Company.

When the men arrived at Fort Francis they immediately went aboard a boat which was their headquarters on the tour and fishing trip on Rainy Lake. Canoes were carried aboard the boat for the fishing trip, and the men had fine meals and lodging aboard the boat.

Economists and agricultural engineers expect much building of cribs and granaries for corn storage this fall, due to the size of the expected corn crop and the resealing activity.

The 1940 apple crop will be very large.

BIG ANNIVERSARY SALE (ENDS LABOR DAY)
BUY NOW! BIG BARGAINS
JUST THINK OF IT!
Firestone TIRES
AS LOW AS $5.15
AND YOUR OLD TIRES

LIFETIME GUARANTEE
EVERY Firestone Tire carries a written lifetime guarantee - not limited to 12, 18 or 24 months, but for the full life of the tire without time or mileage limit.

Firestone CONVOY

4.75/5.00-19	5.25/5.50-17	6.00-16
$5.15	$6.15	$6.85

AND YOUR OLD TIRE

PRICED right down to bedrock — and just before your Labor Day Trip! Here's the value sensation of 1940 built with patented Firestone construction features to assure longer mileage and greater safety. At these low prices, equip your car with a full set today.

NOW! THE FAMOUS Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRE At These LOW PRICES

$9.99 AND YOUR OLD TIRE Size 6.00-16

SALE ENDS SEPT. 2

Millions of new cars were originally equipped with this great Firestone High Speed Tire — now built to deliver still longer non-skid mileage. The outstanding value of 1940. Buy a complete set today.

Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRE

SIZE	PRICE
4.75/5.00-19	$7.53
5.25/5.50-17	9.27
5.25/5.50-18	8.46
6.00/16	9.99
6.25/6.50-16	12.23
7.00-16	13.89

AND YOUR OLD TIRE
Other Sizes Proportionately Low

GET OUR LOW PRICES ON THE FAMOUS FIRESTONE STANDARD TRUCK TIRES

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station
HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa

Around Iowa

Operations.

Five-year old Wayne Grady, Grant, though not so old in years can really tell about his "operations." During the past seven weeks he has undergone three operations. the first for a ruptured appendix. In a short time he will have to return to the hospital for a fourth.

-oOo-

Rain.

Because there had been so much rain that it rindered their work, two men working on the Leonard Thieking farm near Waverly decided to go fishing. However, they forgot a minor matter—fishing licenses. As a result, they were hailed into court and fined.

-oOo-

Pet.

Margaret and Mary Rose Ott, of Oskaloosa, have a unique pet—a small porcupine. "Porky" as it is called. will make its home inside a wire enclosure.

oOo

Property Boom.

Milo, a town of some 500 people, has been having a small "land boom." Six properties have changed hands during the past two weeks.

oOo

Fish.

Conservation officers have been unable to determine the cause of the death of thousands of fish in the Shell Rock River recently. Marble Rock citizens have been forced to rake in the dead fish and bury them in long trenches.

-oOo-

Fire.

Bill Murray, Chariton fire truck driver, had the "honor" of driving the truck to a fire in a house which he had just purchased. A roof fire had started but little damage was done. We doubt if Bill would like a repeat performance.

-oOc-

Hitchhiker.

Francis Hoffman, 14, has decided hitchhiking isn't all a bed of roses. Starting from Sioux City he reached Sheldon on his way to Arnold's Park to visit a brother. A trucker reported seeing the boy trying to get a ride east. Returning a little later, the rucker saw the boy standing on the opposite side of the road. attempting to thumb a ride west. The city of Sheldon played host for his dinner, and a kind-hearted conductor arranged to see that the boy arrived home.

-oOo-

Turkeys.

Wellman, which is nationally known for its leadership in the turkey industry, will this year celebrate with a Thanksgiving Town festival, August 22.

oOo

Too Many Fish.

Four couples from Hampton and Eagle Grove, returned home from a fishing trip with high expectations of giving their friends a "fish dinner." As they had too many to bring in their cars, they packed the fish in ice and shipped them home. Friends were invited for dinner, but no fish had arrived. Consequently, codfish and herring were substituted with the promise that when the fish arrived, the friends would again have an invitation for dinner However, as yet no fish have come end they realize it will be too late.

-oOo-

Unusual Question.

With the temperature around 90 degrees, a gentleman registering at a Denison hotel wondered where the steam radiators were. He had been visiting in the west and said the hotels were equipped with steam radiators, so that if the weather turned cool during the night the guest could turn on the heat.

-oOo-

To Hawaii.

Sylvia Newll, formerly of Fenton, has gone to the Hawaiian Islands where she will serve as home demonstration agent of the University of Hawaii.

-oOo-

Lost Foot.

Art Kroneman, farmer living near Mithcell. had the misfortune to have a leg badly crushed in a threshing machine. It was necessary to amputate the leg between the ankle and the knee.

oOo

Advertises.

Harry Baldwin, farmer living near Little Sioux, placed the following ad in the Little Sioux Hustler: "Wanted a gentle two-inch rain." Baldwin promised to pay for the ad when the gauge belonging to Kerr, the publisher and also the local weather bureau reporter, showed two inches. After the ad had appeared two weeks, Kerr reported to Baldwin that the gauge showed four inches. Both Kerr and Baldwin were satisfied. the farmer's crop was saved and the publisher received double pay.

-oOo-

No Maneuvers For Him.

Lindsay Crabtree, of Kansas City will spend the time which he thought would be with the National Guard at Camp Ripley, in a LeMars hospital. Crabtree fell and struck his head on a curb in the LeMars business district.

oOo

English Vitsitor.

Iris Daddington, 13, of Harrogate, England. will soon arrive at the C. W. Pennington home in Sumner. Mrs Dddington, Iris' mother had also requested that her son, 18 and her mother be allowed to come. The mother's age and because the son will soon be subject to military service, served as reasons for not granting the permision.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr and Mrs. Alex Hammon and son, Laural, visited at the Albert Lange home, Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaefer and Daisy, and Ed Suckow visited at the Rev Suckow rome near Postville and other points of interest, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Greiman and daughters visited at the Albert Lange home, Tuesday night.

Mr and Mrs. Herman Brunes and daughter, of Goodell, visited at the Emery Schaefer home, Sunday.

Mrs August Ridder visited a few days at the Ben Ridder home the past week.

Mr and Mrs. Cecil Suant and daughter, Betty, of Marble Rock, visited at the Emery Schaefer home, Thursday.

Mr and Mrs. Will Hempel and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ax and family, were dinner guests at the Paul Stromer home, Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ridder, of Nora Springs, and Mrs. August Ridder, were supper guests at the Ben Ridder home, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kishman, of Farmersburg, visited at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Corllet and husband, Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder and family, Rose and Iris Schaefer, and Paul Ridder visited at the Fred Gates home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange and family visited at the Lew Abele home, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mary Lange helped at the Floyd Greiman home, Wednesday.

SQUADRON OF BOMBING PLANES FLEW OVER KLEMME THURSDAY

A squadron of nine bombing planes flew over Klemme early last Thursday afternoon, flying in a northerly direction.

Later information stated that the planes were of the latest type Martin B-18 bombers, carrying a crew of five men each, a pilot, co-pilot, bombadier and two machine gunners. The planes were equipped with bomb racks and two machine guns, fore and aft.

The planes left Barkley Field, Lousiana last Thursday morning at 8:30 and re-fueled at Des Moines. They were on their way to Camp Ripley, Minn.

Most of the people in Kelmme heard the planes roar and were on hand to see the unusual sight.

Famous.

The Little Brown Church at Nashua is known far and wide. Recently, Wendell Metcalf of Boston, Mass., and Jessie Gasch of Hartford, Connecticut traveled lo' those many miles to be married there.

"One Habit You can't overdo is the Safety Habit." Hancock County Safety Council.

EGG SHELLS AND OYSTER SHELLS OF EQUAL VALUE

Broken egg shells, formerly a total loss to both producers and produce plants, may in the future compete with oyster shells and high grade limestone as a poultry feed, said H. L. Wilcke, poultry head at Iowa State College.

Writing in the Farm Science Reporter, quarterly publication of the Experiment Station and the Extension Service, Wilcke said egg shells have been found as effective as oyster shells in supplying calcium carbonate to both hens and chicks.

In the experiments, the egg shells were sterilized and ground, and fed at the rate of 3 per cent m the laying mash. When fed to growing chicks there was no difference in rate of growth and percentage of crooked bones between chicks fed egg shells and those fed oyster shells.

Some poultrymen have been hesitant about giving laying hens the shells because they feared their use might start the hens eating eggs. In 2 years of experimens at Iowa State there was no evidence of this habit.

The question boils down to one of price; which ever is cheaper is best to use. If prices of egg shells and oyster shells are about the same, however, the poultrymen might choose to buy "his own product" by using egg shells.

"Holding back" early hatched pullets so they won't start laying until egg prices are higher in the fall is a detrimental practice. Instead of preventing false molt, "holdng back" actually may cause it.

CORN WORM DAMAGE VARIES WITH V

Some strains of hybrid corn are practically free worm damage Ioana, and Ioglen, 3 golden hybloped by the vegetable section of the Iowa A Experiment Station, found quite free of the gold A and Ioglen are ant, but do not equal quality or color.

In 1940 Ioana was bronze metal by the Seed Trade Association periority over open-pollrieties of yellow sweet

Arthur Weller
FUNERAL DIREC
—with long experien best equipment.
PROMPT AMBUL SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day o Klemme, Iowa

Photograph
LIVE FOREVER
RUSSE
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny

K. F. M. Specia
Friday and Saturday, Aug. 23

MONARCH PICKLES Large Jar 23c
QUALITY for 70 YEARS

MONARCH COFFEE 1-2 lb. cans 2 for 21c
QUALITY for 70 YE

OLIVES, Plain Large jar 25c
RAISINS 2 lb. pkg. at ....

SOAP FLAKES BIG FOUR GIANT PACKAGE

COOKIES Plain, lb. at 10c
BAKING CUPS Per package .....

Super-Creamed CRISCO OR SPRY 1 lb. can

SHREDDED Wheat, 2 boxes 19c
TOILET SOAP 3 bars for .....

P AND G WHITE NAPHTHA SOAP 7 bars

RICE FLAKES 2 boxes .....
(Balloon FREE With Each Package)

SCHOOL SUPPLIES
SCHOOL BEGINS MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 2.
. . . and we invite you to come here for your school plies. We carry a complete line of

Tablets	Pencils
Note Books	Pens
Note Book Covers	Ink
Note Book Fillers	Crayon
Rulers	Lunch Kits

A Variety Of Cold Meats For School Lunches . . . .

Klemme Food Mark
MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSEN

HODIST CHURCH
Zabilka, Pastor

rch:-
rvice 10:00 a. m.
hool 11:00 a. m.

ch:-
hool 10:15 a. m.
rvice 11:20 a. m.
Social Sept. 2nd

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10:00 a. m. German Service.
11:00 a. m. Sunday School.
8:00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
8.00 p. m. Thursday.
Men's Chorus

E MUST SELL OUR

CARS and TRUCKS

atter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT gains in late models. You take no chances when you us. Come in and look them over.

arner Motor Sales

BILE CHEVROLET

THRILLS
AT THE IOWA
TATE FAIR
AUG. 23 - 30
AUTO RACES
3 days of National Circuit championship races for 1940 world's title — Aug. 23-25-30. More than ½ of America's greatest dirt track pilots entered
HORSE RACES
SUPER THRILLS
2 sensational "Thrill Days" featuring noted daredevils in head-on collisions, dynamite smashups, aerial crashes, and dozens of other hair-raising stunts.
Sat., Aug. 24—Wed., Aug. 28.
National livestock show
Thousands of farm features
Nation's largest 4H show
Complete women's exposition
Flower and garden show
Farm machinery exposition
Dancing to famous name bands
World's fair fireworks
125 acre free camp
National horseshoe tournament
Golden wedding jubilee
THE VACATION BARGAIN OF THE YEAR
WAR NO. 2.
CIRCUS

Was it noble or ignoble for the German baron to sell his title? His socialite friends say it was the only hope of saving his beloved baroness and himself from the Nazi headsman's axe—but read what President Roosevelt and others think in an illustrated feature in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Atlas Sorgo or other sorghums cannot be grown satisfactorily for grain in Iowa because fall rains rot and mold the heads.

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—ONE 18 INCH JOHN Deere Tractor Plow Northern Implement Shop 1tc

$450 00 PLAYER PIANO AND Rolls I will let it go for $39 00 $5 a month to reliable party Write today and I will tell you when my piano can be seen in Klemme Write Mrs Mary Schultz, Route 5, Box 229A, Waukesha, Wis. 2tp

FOR SALE—USED TIRES AND Tubes, all sizes and makes Many good tires at bargain prices. Herman Paul. tfc

FOR SALE— LEATHER, CORD and Cover Fly Nets at Kimball's Leather Store. J12tfc

RUBBER STAMPS—A 2 LINE stamp with your name and address for 60c Times Print Shop.

FOR SALE - 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain 50 cents each Klemme Auto Company tfc

FOR SALE- GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape Northern Lumber Implement Shop 1tc

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

FARMERS — SELL YOUR SURplus machinery, live stock, etc. with a want ad in this column. One cent per word does the trick.

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS— printed on 200 sheets and 100 envelopes for only $1. Your choice of type styles, ink and papers. Times Office. tfc

GRAY RECOMMENDED FOR BUILDING PAINT

While there is a growing tendency to paint all farm buildings white or light-tinted colors, agricultural engineers at Iowa State College suggest a change of color. They point out that a most attractive set of buildings result from painting the barn, poultry house, hog house, machine shed and other outbuildings a gray shade. Gray does not soil and show dirt and its use gets away from the dark red and brown colors that may not appear as decorative and fresh as the gray shales.

It is not economical to purchase and apply cheap gray paints on farm structures, according to the Iowa State Engineers. Some gray paints are made of the lowest grade pigments and oils that soon wash away, fade and waste the time used in applying them.

From a stock of basic paint materials, consisting of paste white lead and linseed oil, drier and turpentine, a gray paint of the same high quality as first grade house paint can be made by adding a small quantity of lamp black in oil This tinting may be done with any white paint remaining from previous paint work.

Tinting white paint with lamp black or raw umber to make gray shades increases the durability of the paint

Paint can be applied with satisfactory results this fall if care is taken to avoid painting over damp wood

WATCH FOR DISEASE IN TAKING OUT HONEY NOW

Before removing honey from the hives this month, it's a good idea to check the brood nests for signs of disease, says F. B. Paddock, Iowa State College extension beekeeping specialist.

If hives are not checked, there is danger that equipment may become mixed, spreading disease to healthy colonies. The best practice is to shun colonies which show signs of disease until the end of the honey season, when they can be given special attention.

Extension Bulletin No. 212, on "Control of Foulbrood," can be obtained free of charge by writing to the Iowa State College Bulletin Office, Paddock says. It gives complete information on the control of foulbrood.

TOMATOES GROWN FROM SEED HAVE ADVANTAGES

Tomatoes grown from seed produce as heavily as those grown from plants, but ripen somewhat later, according to experimental results recently announnced by E S Haber, horticulturist at Iowa State College.

In addition the seed-grown tomato are not affected so much by blight or leaf spot as are the sourthern grown plants. Plants from seed sown April 15 this year caught up in size with southern grown plants transplanted May 20, and produced some ripe tomatoes as early as the transplanted ones. Haber said.

Seed sown as late as June 1 will produce many ripe tomatoes in September, after early transplanted plants have lost their foliage through disease and have stopped bearing. But seed sown so late will not produce more than a half crop.

WIRE CAN BE USED TO RID TREES OF BORERS

Patience, a sharp knife and a stiff wire are all that are needed to rid apple trees of round headed borers. and right now is the best time of year to "go after them," says S. W. Edgecombe, Iowa State College extension horticuturist.

"If the borers are presnt in apple trees, little pieces of brown sawdust like material will be found at the base of the trunk," the horticulturist says.

"When this material is scraped away, you'll be able to find the borers in their tunnels, just under the bark. Often these tunnels are long, and it is necessary to dig them out with a sharp knife and stiff wire."

"Don't stop if you locate one borer in a tree. since there are sometimes as high as 10 or 15 in a badly infested tree," Edgecombe says. "It pays to be careful in checking, because if unmolested, the borers may kill the trees."

Attempting to lubricate, clean or adjust machines while the motor is running is the most important single cause of farm accidents.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

July 8th, 1940

Regular meeting called to order by the Mayor with four members present.

Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

On motion the following bills were alloowed:

Geo. Buseman
June Salary	$75.00
Melvin Buseman
Labor	2.10
W. F. Pavey
Repairs	6.35
Lloyd Lau
Gravel & Dray	4.50
Royer Mfg. Co.
Grader Blades	12.24
Klemme Times
Advertising	6.00
Han. Co. Co-Op. Oil
Gasoline	9.28
Central States Elec. Co.
Light & Power	74.62
Treas. of State
Sales Tax	1.34

Budget Estimate was completed and made ready for publication.

Meeting adjourned.
A. J. KUDJE, Clerk

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Chas. R. Fischer, Commissioner of Ins., To Bankers Life Co. Q C Deed, 8-2-40, W½ 33 94 24.

Frank W. Senneff, Guardian of John Johnson, Inc. To Carl Johnson, et al, Guardian's Deed, 6-10-40, $1,125. S½ SE¼ Sec. 12 & NW¼ NE¼ 13 94 25.

August G. Lau and Helen wf, To F. H. Ridder, Q C Deed, 12-16-39, cons. $1.00, all that part of S½ SW¼ and all that part W½ NW¼ 19 95 24 S of D. D. Nos land 2.

Vida G. and Dennis Conlan To Central Electric Telephone Co. Wty Deed, 8-14-40, $50, beginning at NE corner Lot 16, Blk 5, Orig. Town of Goodell, thence S. 16 ft. thence W. 20 ft., thence N. 15 ft Thence E. 20 ft. to place of beginning.

E. F. and Marion Rankin To N. E. Braer, Q C Deed. 5-20-36, $1. Lot 3, Blk 35, Orig Town of Garner.

Archie W. Jones, Executor, estate of Wesley K. Skinner, deceased To E. R. Branstad, Probate Deed, 7-9-40, $6,140. E one third of E 70 A. of N½ NE¼ 19 & N½ NW¼ 20 97 23, less school house site.

Ihno A. Gerdes and Ruth B. Kunz, Trustees under Last Will and Testament of Edward Kunz, deceased, To Fidelis Kunz, et al, Trustee Deed, 8-15-40, $1. W½ NE¼ & E½ NW— 19 96 26, Hancock County, NE¼ 22 98 27 Kossuth Co., E one third of Lot 1, Blk 25, Orig Plat of Wesley, Kossuth, Lots 10, 11, 12, 13, & 14, all in Blk 3, Wty & Barret's College Add To Wesley.

Remembered.

The Iowa Lutheran Children's Home at Waverly was remembered in the ill of a Mrs. Buhr of Urbana, Illinois. The home received $5,796-77.

Klemme Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lau and daughter, Marjorria, and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Curley of Davenport, were sightseeing at West Bend on Saturday, and Pilot Knob on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje left early Sunday morning on a vacation trip to Colorado to spend a week or ten days vacationing at Estes Park and vicinity.

Miss Hazel Klovstad. of Boone, came Sunday evening for a visit with Mrs. Ernest Gerardi. The ladies are college friends. Miss Klovstad will teach at Doone this year.

Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesh returned Tuesday from a trip to Yankton and Menno, South Dakota, where they visited with relatives and friends since last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bird, accompanied by Wayne Bird and LaVonne Hammitt, left Saturday afternoon for the Dells of Wisconsin. They also visited relatives at Bagley. Wis., returning home Monday.

Wilbur Hennigar is the owner of a new 1941 model Hudson Super 6 "Commodor" sedan which he purchased from the Klemme Auto Company last week. The new Hudsons are now on display at the local garage.

"Bodge" and George Bowles, of Indianola, drove up Friday afternoon and visited until Sunday forenoon with Ray Jorgenson, Jr. Miss Jacqueline Kudje accompanied the Bowles young men to Indianola for a visit with Lois and Edna Bowles for a week.

G. S. Club Met At The Home Of The Wellemeyer Girls

The G. S. Club met Monday evening at the home of Ruth and Nora Wellemeyer. The young ladies enjoyed a picnic supper on the Wellemeyer porch, after which they spent the evening playing bridge.

High score was won by Miss Avis Barz, while Bernice Tanner took second high honors for the evening.

BROTHER OF KLEMME WOMAN DIED IN TEXAS AFTER ACCIDENT

Mrs. Wm. Zabilka received a message that her brother, A. J. McColl, died at his home at McAllen, Texas on Thursday, August 15th. Mr. McColl died as the result of injuries received in an auto accident about a month ago.

Mr. McColl was widely known as the owner of a large citrus grove in Texas.

Killed.

Ray Allard, Gladbrook, was electrocuted while working on an electric refrigerator.

Are Boosting For

Healthy School Year

WE ARE ALL PROUD OF KLEMME'S FINE NEW SCHOOL!

Klemme has one of the finest and most up-to-date school buildings in North Iowa. We have a fine corps of teachers and a fine group of students. Our school system is one we are all proud of. Our graduates go out into the world and make good records. Give your boy or girl the advantage of sending them to the Klemme School this year!

A GOOD SCHOOL NEEDS HEALTHY CHILDREN . . .

We can all work for the continued success of our fine school system, both in Klemme and the Rural Districts, by keeping the children STRONG and HEALTHY . . and that is where DAIRY PRODUCTS will help. We urge you to give your children lots of Milk, Cream, Eggs, Cheese . . . and above all . . . liberal helpings of KLEMME CREAMERY BUTTER. There is no other food containing so many valuable vitamins to build strong, disease resisting bodies as BUTTER.

Let KLEMME BUTTER Be An Important Part Of The School Lunch Kit!

emme Co-Op. Creamery

MUELLER, Manager WALTER LEMKE, Secretary

Rural School

Supplies - - -

WE CARRY MANY OF THE ITEMS YOU NEED . . .

Mr. School Director:

During the past years this hardware store has supplied many of the items used in the Rural Schools. Here are a few of the items needed:

Black Board Erasers	Sweeping Compound
Black Board Chalk	Curtain Rods
Water Fountains	Toilet Paper
Water Dippers	Paper Towels
Dustless Mops	Coleman Lamps
Floor Mops	Electric Lamps
Interior Paint	Waste Baskets
Interior Varnish	Door Mats

For The Pupils:

Come here for your Dinner Buckets, Lunch Kits, Thermos Bottles and other school accessories.

First . . . Try Your Home Owned Harware Store.

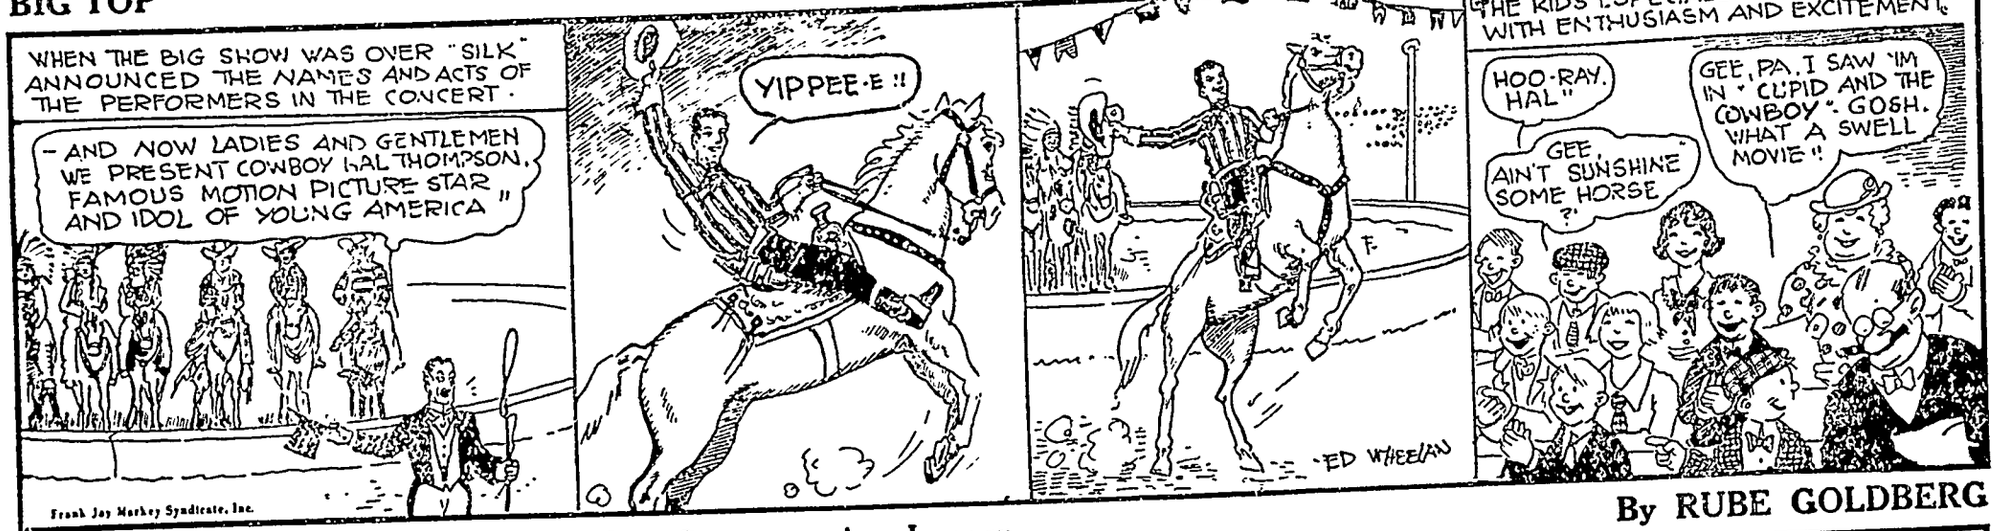
E. F. Jacobs

"The Farm Service Store" Klemme, Iowa

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

BIG TOP By ED WHEELAN



WHEN THE BIG SHOW WAS OVER "SILK" ANNOUNCED THE NAMES AND ACTS OF THE PERFORMERS IN THE CONCERT.
- AND NOW LADIES AND GENTLEMEN WE PRESENT COWBOY HAL THOMPSON, FAMOUS MOTION PICTURE STAR AND IDOL OF YOUNG AMERICA" YIPPEE-E !!
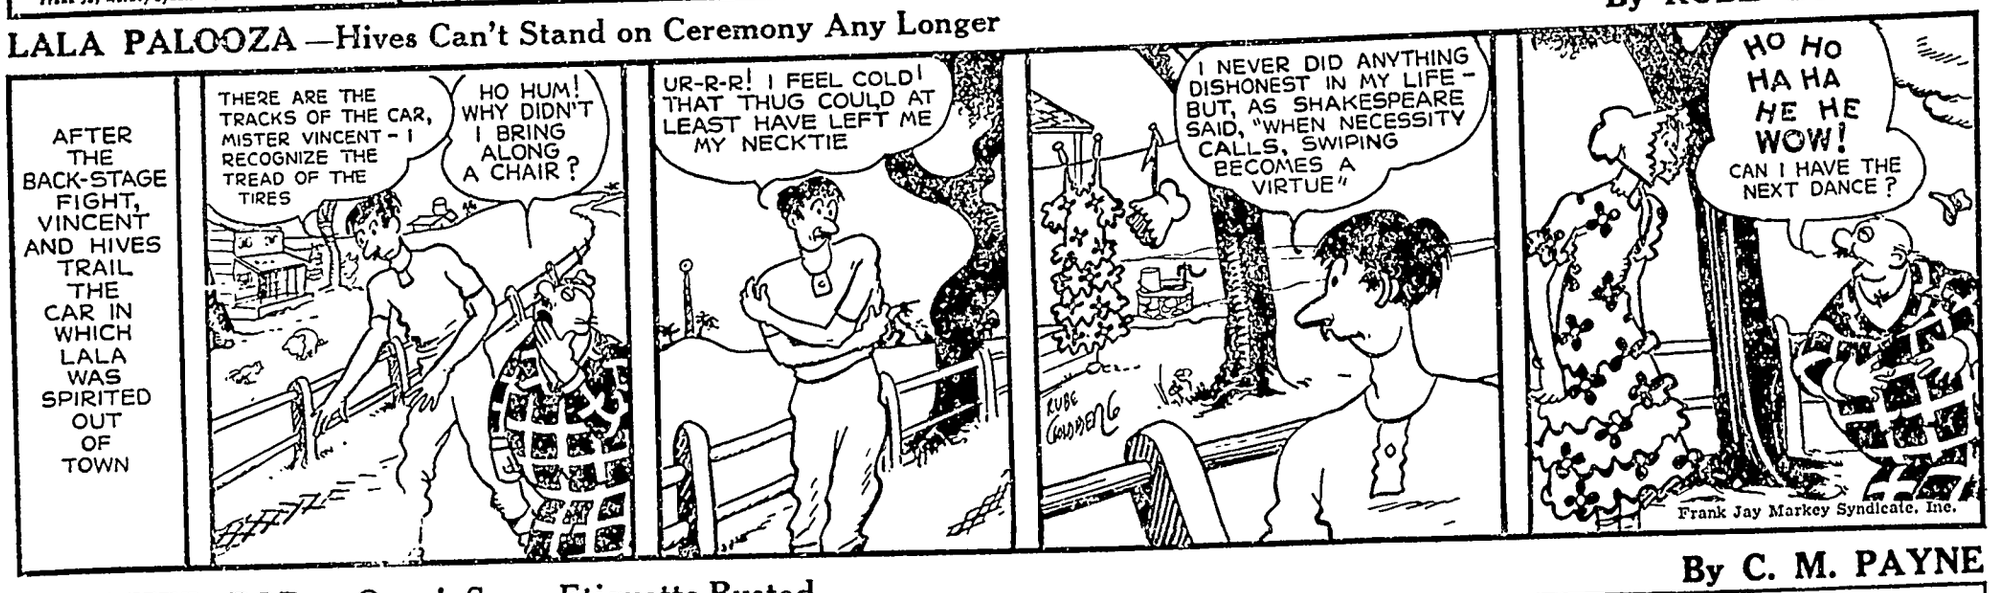
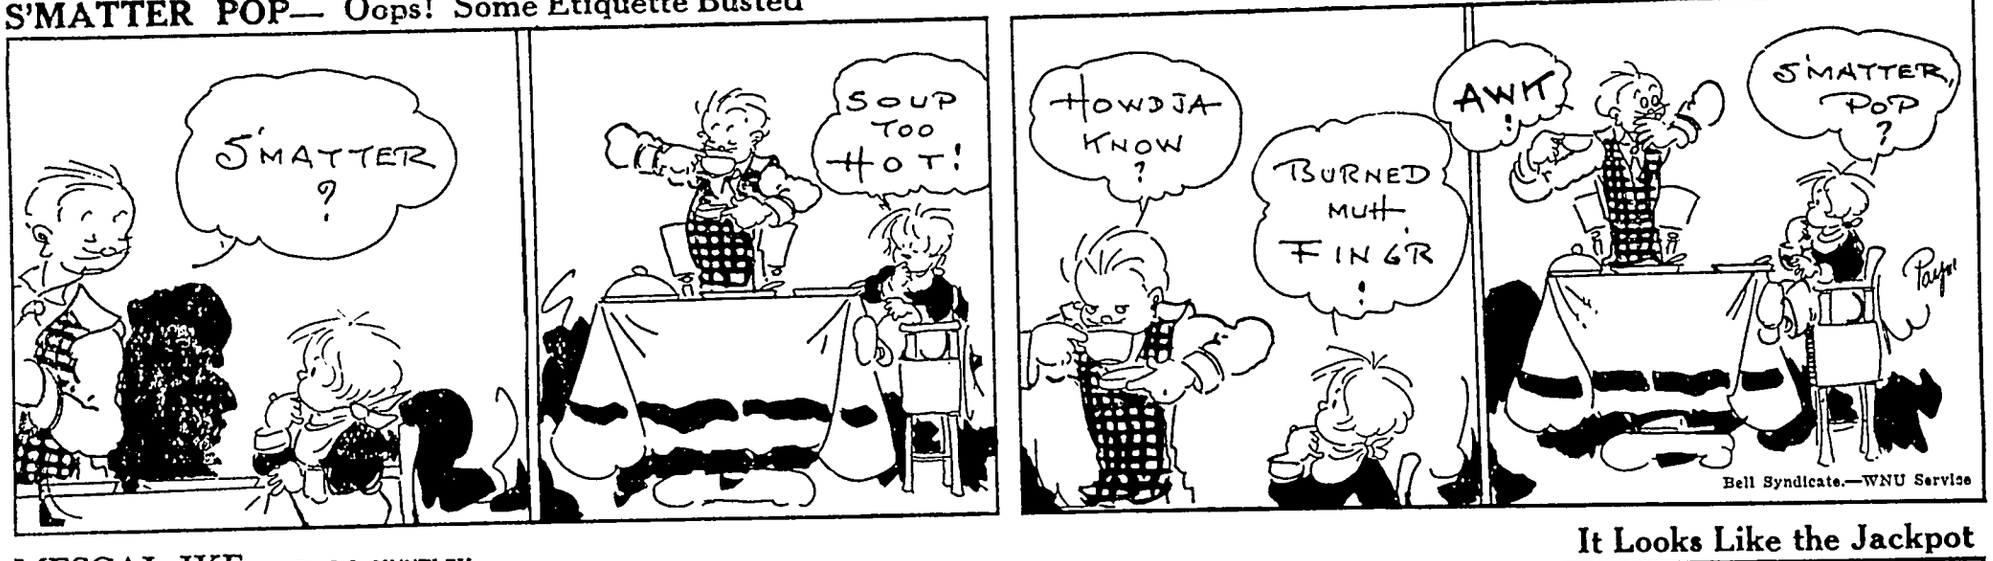
ED WHEELAN
THE KIDS ESPECIALLY WENT WILD WITH ENTHUSIASM AND EXCITEMENT.
HOO-RAY, HAL"
GEE, AIN'T SUNSHINE SOME HORSE?
GEE, PA, I SAW 'IM IN "CUPID AND THE COWBOY". GOSH. WHAT A SWELL MOVIE!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

LALA PALOOZA—Hives Can't Stand on Ceremony Any Longer By RUBE GOLDBERG

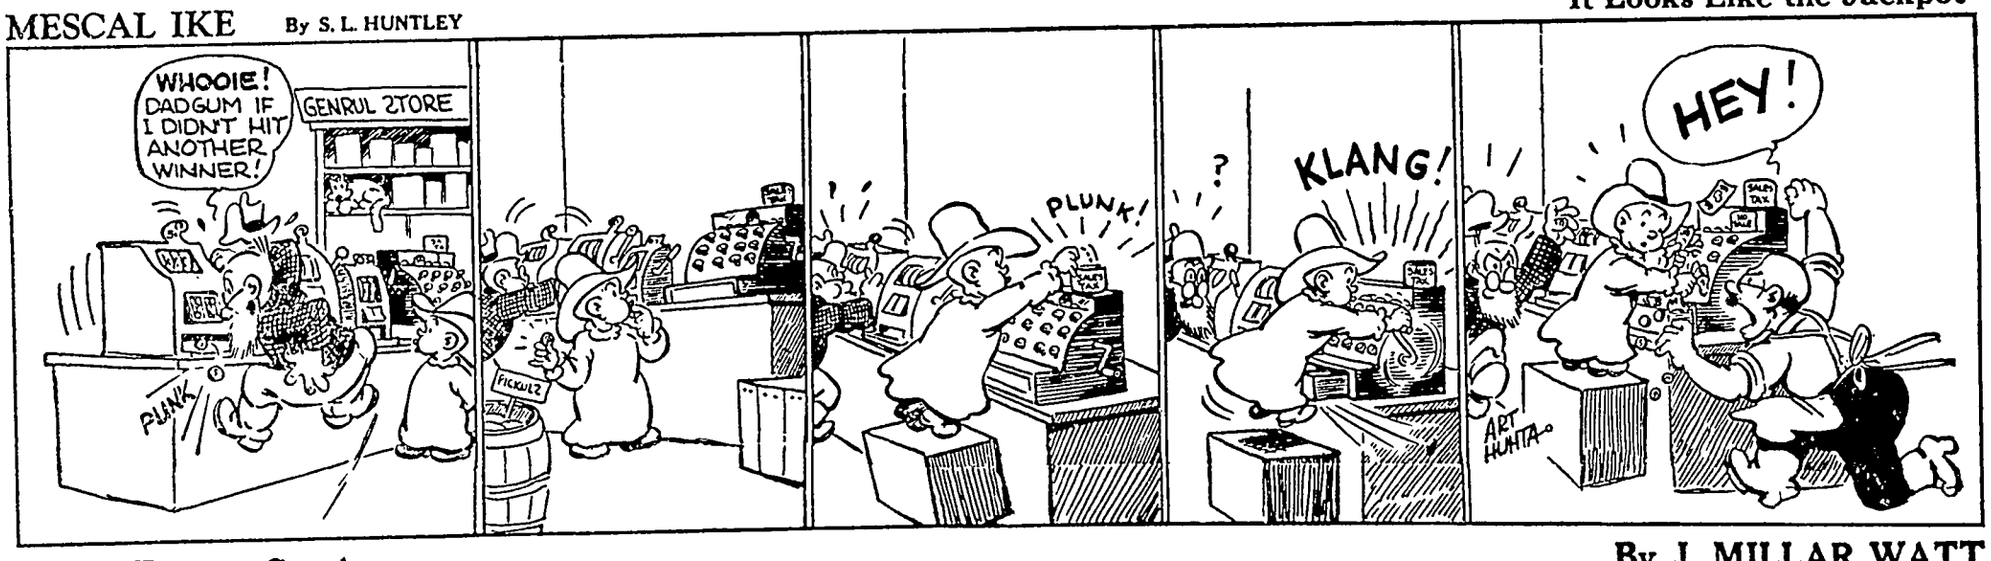


AFTER THE BACK-STAGE FIGHT, VINCENT AND HIVES TRAIL THE CAR IN WHICH LALA WAS SPIRITED OUT OF TOWN
THERE ARE THE TRACKS OF THE CAR, MISTER VINCENT - I RECOGNIZE THE TREAD OF THE TIRES
HO HUM! WHY DIDN'T I BRING ALONG A CHAIR?
UR-R-R! I FEEL COLD! THAT THUG COULD AT LEAST HAVE LEFT ME MY NECKTIE
I NEVER DID ANYTHING DISHONEST IN MY LIFE - BUT, AS SHAKESPEARE SAID, "WHEN NECESSITY CALLS, SWIPING BECOMES A VIRTUE"
HO HO HA HA HE HE WOW! CAN I HAVE THE NEXT DANCE?
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

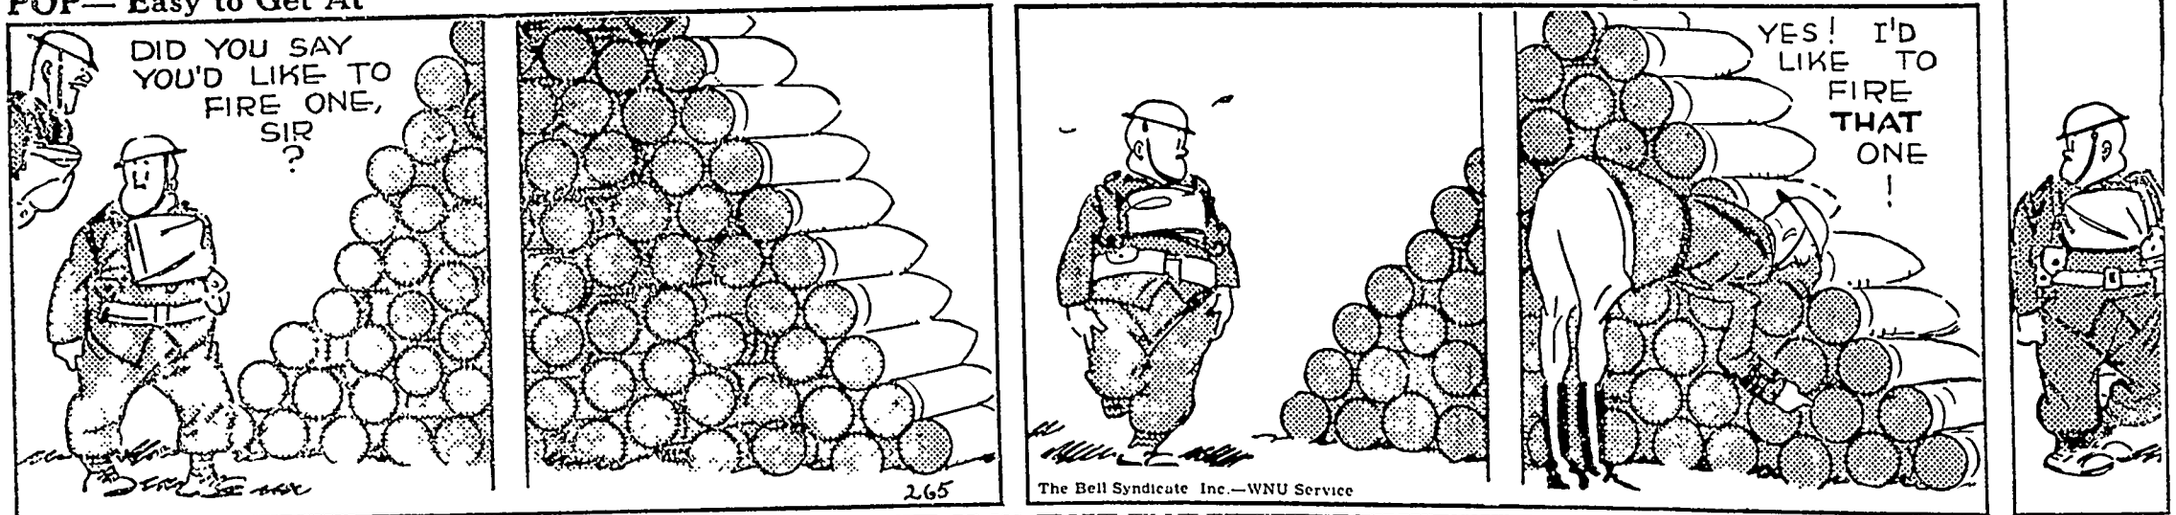
S'MATTER POP— Oops! Some Etiquette Busted By C. M. PAYNE



MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY — It Looks Like the Jackpot



POP— Easy to Get At By J. MILLAR WATT



THE SPORTING THING By LANG ARMSTRONG

"Quick, Mike, call a doctor, McSnitch is havin' one of his dizzy spells."

HIS GOOD TURN

"It is the duty of everyone to make at least one person happy during the week," said a Sunday school teacher. "Have you done so, Freddy?"

"Yes," said Freddy, promptly.

"That's right. What did you do?"

"I went to see my aunt and she was happy when I went home."

Crust

Father—When I was a little boy, I always ate the crusts.

Willie—Did you like them?

Father—Of course I did!

Willie—Then you can have mine.

Hot Water Man

"I make a living keeping people from getting in hot water."

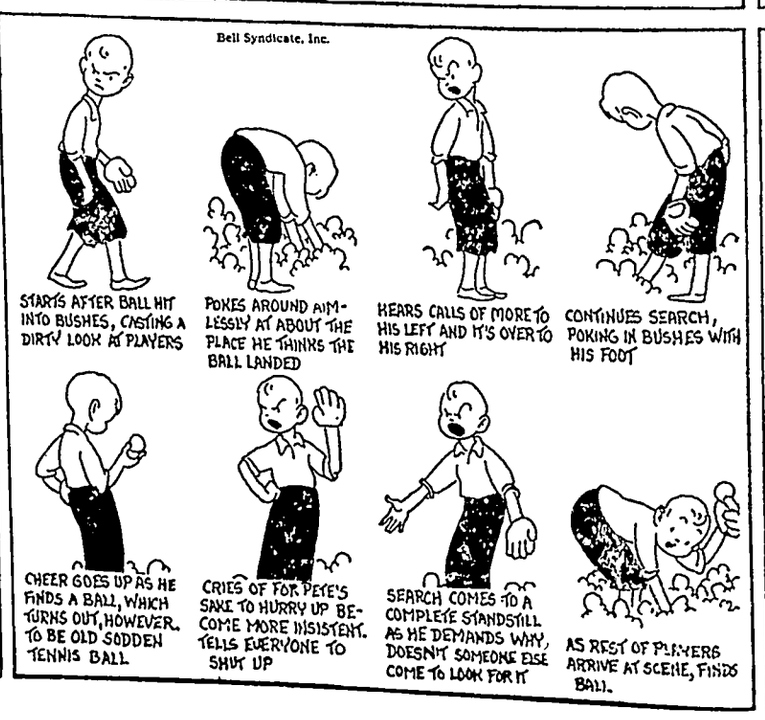
"Oh, an attorney, eh?"

"No, an apartment janitor."

Doesn't Bite

" 'Scuse me, lady, could you give a poor fellow a bite?" "I don't bite myself; I'll call the dog."—Stray Stories.

LOST BALL By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



Bell Syndicate, Inc.
STARTS AFTER BALL HIT INTO BUSHES, CASTING A DIRTY LOOK AT PLAYERS
POKES AROUND AIMLESSLY AT ABOUT THE PLACE HE THINKS THE BALL LANDED HEARS CALLS OF MORE TO HIS LEFT AND IT'S OVER TO HIS RIGHT
CONTINUES SEARCH, POKING IN BUSHES WITH HIS FOOT CHEER GOES UP AS HE FINDS A BALL, WHICH TURNS OUT, HOWEVER, TO BE OLD SODDEN TENNIS BALL
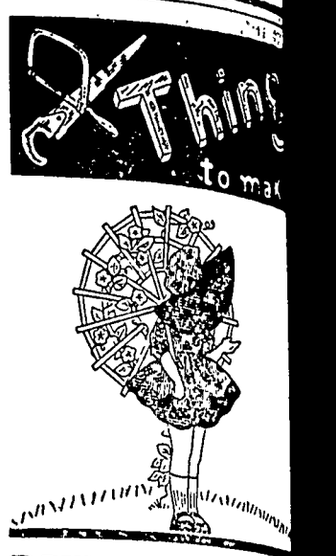
CRIES OF FOR PETE'S SAKE TO HURRY UP BECOME MORE INSISTENT. TELLS EVERYONE TO SHUT UP
SEARCH COMES TO A COMPLETE STANDSTILL AS HE DEMANDS WHY DOESN'T SOMEONE ELSE COME TO LOOK FOR IT
AS REST OF PLAYERS ARRIVE AT SCENE, FINDS BALL.



BESIDES being a most attractive addition to lawn or garden in herself, this cute little sunbonnet girl has practical features. The parasol trellis she holds is ideal for climbing flowers or vines. Cut the girl from plywood or other thin lumber with jig, coping or keyhole saw, add the trellis, then paint according to the directions given on pattern Z9112, 15 cents. General cutout instructions accompany this pattern. Send order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.

Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS
REPAIRS For Your STOVE FURNACE or RANGE
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All Makes
Have Your Dealer Order from Us
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COMPANY

Harsh Words

A wound inflicted by an arrow heals, a wood cut down by an axe grows, but harsh words are hurtful—a wound inflicted by them does not heal. Arrows of different sorts can be extracted from the body, but a word-dart cannot be drawn out, for it is seated in the heart —Mahabbarata.

WEARY DESPONDENT GIRLS: Crying spells, irritable nerves due to functional "monthly" pain should find a real "woman's friend" in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Try it!
Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

There Is a Tide

Truly there is a tide in the affairs of men; but there is no upstream setting forever in one direction.—Lowell.

There Are Two Ways to Get at Constipation

Yes, and only two ways—before and after it happens! Instead of enduring those dull, tired, headachy days and then having to take an emergency cathartic—why not KEEP regular with Kellogg's All-Bran? You can, if your constipation is the kind millions have—due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. For All-Bran goes right to the cause of this trouble by supplying the "bulk" you need.

Eat this toasted, nutritious cereal regularly—with milk or cream, or baked into muffins—drink plenty of water, and see if your life isn't a whole lot brighter! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

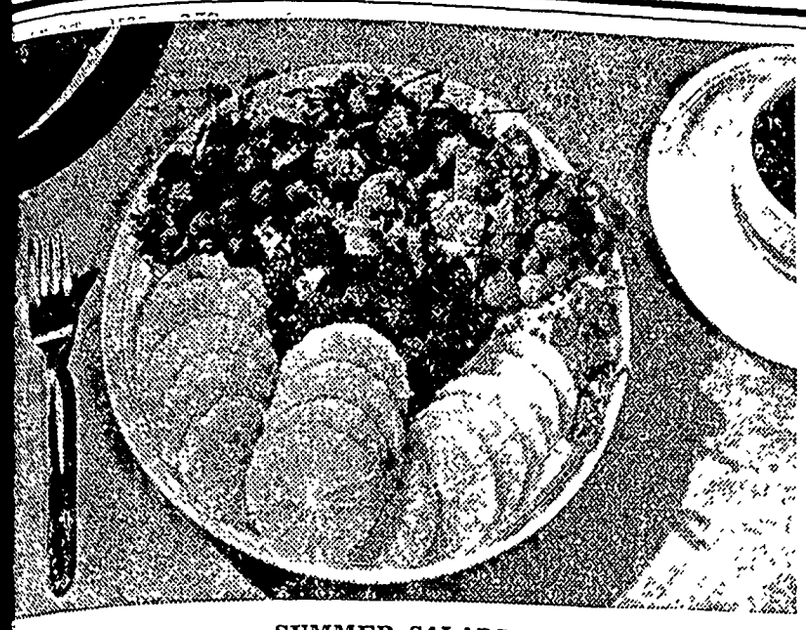
We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to get it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.

● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. This advertising shows another of its many facets—shows itself as an aid to making all our business relations more secure and pleasant.

$$$$$$$$$$$$$$



SUMMER SALADS
(Recipes Below)

Household News By Eleanor Howe

alads, in summer, are as impor- as swimming or tennis, or golf! hing tastes quite so good as a l, crisp mixture of fresh greens, ruits, or vegetables, served with the proper dressing. The very d is refreshing—like a drink of , sparkling spring water after a and dusty hike.

ery light salads may be served an appetizer first course, if de- d. Dinner sal- , too, are t; they may served as a arate course, with the main rse of the al. For lunch- , salads may be somewhat heav- because the main luncheon dish ikely to be light. Many times, a cheon salad is a whole meal in lf, served with bread or crisp s, a beverage, and dessert. And e are many times in informal cheons and dinners, when salads duty for dessert.

hat makes a good salad? Plenty crisp, fresh greens, a blend of ts or vegetables or fish, a zesty ssing and a dash of color, say experts. To make salads appe- ng and refreshing, as they should everything must be fresh, crisp, well chilled. Greens are fresh- d in ice water for half an hour, drained in a salad basket or , and left in the refrigerator to chill. To prepare head lettuce for salads, cut out the core or stem with a pointed knife, and let cold water from the faucet run into this opening. The er forces the leaves apart and ans them.

se other greens besides lettuce garnishing salads, and in mixed en salads, as well. Watercress, der inside leaves of raw spinach, ive, escarole and romaine are d for variety.

dd cubed, leftover meats to green ad, for a hearty main dish. And hot days, plan fruit salad plates unch or supper.

eeled oranges, sliced and served h fresh, whole berries, with let- e, watercress or endive for a nish, make an attractive and re- shing meal.

Crab Apple Salads.
(Serves 6)

6 eggs
Pink pure food color
12 cloves
6 tiny sprigs of green
1 head lettuce
½ cup mayonnaise

ace eggs in saucepan, cover with ing water and simmer gently un- eggs are hard cooked (about 15 utes). Remove shells while eggs very hot, then while holding egg er hot water, flatten both ends of egg until it takes on the shape small crab apple. Paint a tint ink on each egg with pink liquid r; place a clove at the stem end he egg and another at the blos- end. Add a tiny sprig of green he stem end and the "crab ap- " will be complete. Arrange let- cups on individual salad plates; e one egg on each plate and e with mayonnaise.

Fruit Salad.

oss lightly together in salad bowl cup watermelon balls, one cup kmelon balls, one cup honey melon balls, 1 cup seeded red ries, and 1 cup diced celery. french dressing in sufficient ntity to thoroughly coat all ts. Serve in bowl lined with led greens.

Golden Fruit Salad.
(Serves 6)

ablespoon gelatin
ablespoons cold water up juice from canned pineapple (hot) cup sugar
w grains salt cup orange juice cup vinegar range (cut in pieces) up raw carrot (coarsely grated) cup crushed pineapple
ak gelatin in cold water and dis- e in hot pineapple juice. Add r, salt, orange juice and vine- . Cool, and when beginning to stiffen, add remaining ingredients. Turn into wet mold and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise or fruit salad dressing.

If you're planning a picnic for a crowd, be sure to read Eleanor Howe's column next week. You'll find in it Miss Howe's own tested recipes for picnic foods—a recipe for a chocolate cake to serve 25 hungry picnickers; directions for making barbecue sandwiches or meat loaf for the same size crowd; and a recipe for a gallon of inexpensive chocolate chip ice cream.

Fruit Salad Dressing.

2 egg yolks
½ cup strained honey
Juice 1 lemon
Dash salt
1 cup whipping cream

Place egg yolks, honey, lemon juice and salt in top of double boiler and cook ½ hour. Remove from flame, beat with dover egg beater and cool. Whip cream and then pour the chilled honey mixture into the whipped cream—beating entire mixture with dover egg beater. Serve with any kind of fruit salad.

Appetizers.

Cut the crusts from slices of very fresh bread. Spread bread with cream cheese generously mixed with paprika. Roll as for a jelly roll and slice in very thin slices. Brush with melted butter, toast lightly, and serve immediately.

French Dressing.
(Makes 1½ cups)

½ clove garlic (grated)
4 lumps sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon paprika
1 cup oil
⅓ cup vinegar

Grate garlic on lump sugar, and let stand before using, for several hours. When ready to mix, place all ingredients in order listed in jar. Shake vigorously and serve.

Tomato Jelly Rings With Salmon.
(Serves 5 to 6)

1 tablespoon gelatin (unflavored)
¼ cup cold water
2 cups tomato juice
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon onion (minced)
½ cup celery (chopped)
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 pound can salmon
Watercress or lettuce
Salad dressing

Soak gelatin in cold water. Combine tomato juice, sugar, salt, pepper and bay leaf, and bring to a boil. Strain. Dissolve softened gelatin in the hot liquid. Allow to cool until the mixture begins to thicken. Fold in onion, celery and lemon juice and pour into individual ring molds. Chill until firm; just before serving unmold on beds of watercress or lettuce. Fill centers of salad rings with large flakes of salmon. Serve with salad dressing.

Have you ever realized that every single one of us includes, in our daily routine, several hundred homely, household tasks? And have you ever discoverd by accident some simplified, easy, and practical way of doing one of these tasks? Then you know how valuable a book would be that contained several hundred just such helpful hints on homemaking.

Send 10 cents in coin to "Household Hints," care Eleanor Howe, 919 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and you'll receive your copy of this helpful booklet, promptly.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Tasty Cases

Green peppers, cut in halves and simmered for 10 minutes, make tasty cases for creamed or scalloped fish. After the peppers have been filled put them in the oven for five minutes or so to brown the tops.

Clothes Space

For additional clothes space in the closet fasten a bird-cage hook to the top of the closet door. This will hold six or eight hangers and will keep long dresses up from the floor.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for August 25

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

CONFESSION AND FORGIVENESS

LESSON TEXT—II Samuel 12:13, 14; Psalm 51:1-3, 9-13, 32 5.

GOLDEN TEXT—Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed.—James 5:16.

If the Bible told us only of perfect people, we would recognize it as being not true to life and assuredly of no help to us who know our own sinful natures. The Bible, however, tells us in all truthfulness of the bad as well as the good, the weak as well as the strong, the humble as well as the mighty.

It honestly portrays the sins of its greatest characters, revealing the heart of man as "deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked" (Jer. 17:9). It tells us of a gracious God (when man repents and forsakes his sin) who invites the sinner to come and be delivered from his sin.

The lesson centers around David, the humble shepherd boy who became king; and in the height of his glory, being tempted of his own evil desires, fell into the lowest of sin, which he then sought to cover by a well-planned murder. He finds no peace until he repents and returns to God. Three words summarize the lesson.

I. Sin (II Sam. 12:13, 14).

That little three lettered word seems to have the hiss of the serpent in it—sin—the cause of all man's woes and the heartache of a loving God.

David had tried to hide his sin and he said, "My bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long. For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me" (Ps. 32: 3, 4). "Be sure your sin will find you out" (Num. 32:23) is just as true today as it was in David's time.

The nature of sin is described in Psalm 51, and if we may anticipate a bit, we note that it is described by three words: "transgression," meaning a rebellious "stepping over" God's boundaries; "iniquity," from the same root as our word "unequal," meaning crookedness of heart and life; and "sin," which means missing the mark, a life going the wrong way.

Note that sin, while it may bring sorrow and trouble to us and those round about us, is "against the Lord" (v. 13 and Ps. 51:4). The sinner must face and answer to God for his sin.

Nathan's straightforward dealing with David brought him to

II. Repentance (Ps. 51:1-3, 9-13).

What David expressed to Nathan —"I have sinned against the Lord" —is more fully expressed in the great psalm of penitence which we know as Psalm 51. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith well says that "probably these verses have brought more comfort, and assurance of forgiveness, and hope for a renewed life after some terrible transgression, to a greater number of God's children down through the ages than any other single passage in the pages of the Old Testament."

To acknowledge one's transgression before God is to open the floodgates of His mercy, to receive His grace in forgiveness, cleansing, restoration, new joy, and (note it well) renewed usefulness (v. 13). God does not cast His people off because of their sin, nor cut off their usefulness when they repent.

Observe, however, that God did not permit David's sin to go unpunished. God is forgiving, but even repentance cannot wipe out the results of sin (II Sam. 12:14). God chastised David to declare before the people all of His divine hatred of sin. To sin against God is no light and casual thing. It cuts deeply into life, and only the grace of God is sufficient to bring a man up out of that pit. But there is

III. Forgiveness (Ps. 32:5).

How tender and sweet is that word —forgiveness. It speaks of the removal of guilt, the breaking down of the barrier which sin has created, and the restoration of fellowship. Where all had been wrong and troubled, all has become right and at peace.

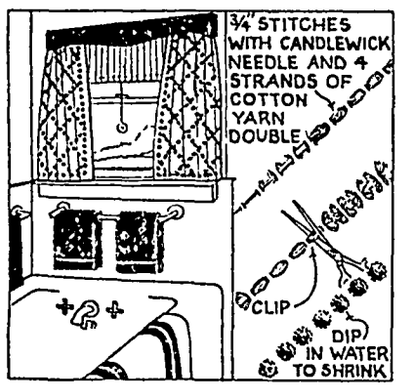
These things are true even in the forgiveness of one man toward another who has offended, but infinitely greater when the heart of God meets the repentant sinner. He is so ready to meet such a man that even while he is thinking of confessing, God sees the attitude of his heart and forgives. "At this moment, without sight or sound that mortal ear can detect, or attitude that the eye of man can observe, even before the thing is said, when I make up my mind to confess, 'thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin'! Do you wonder that when this man was going to write a psalm about this matter, he had to begin, 'O the blessings of transgression forgiven, and sin covered'?" (G. Campbell Morgan).

Fidelity

It is only by fidelity in little things that a true and constant love to God can be distinguished from a passing fervor of spirit.

HOW to SEW

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS



WHEN we last heard of Marty and Bill the curved bottom shelf of that old buffet had not been used. Well, Bill made it into a cornice board for the bathroom window, and painted it blue. Then Marty went into action on curtains to match.

Grandmother is an expert at doing old-fashioned candle wicking, so together they made the tufted curtains illustrated. They used plain white muslin marked off diagonally in three-inch squares. They found the blue they wanted for the tufting in a soft string type of cotton yarn. The sketch tells you the rest. The dipping is what really turned the clipped stitches into tufts; then the curtains were stretched into shape to dry but were not ironed. All this about curtains has given Gram the most wonderful idea for something for a bride's kitchen shower that is coming off soon. It is pretty clever, we think. Watch for it, next week.

* * *

NOTE: Many other old-time stitches have modern uses. Sewing Book 2 contains directions for 42 of these stitches with suggestions for their use in your home. To get a copy send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....
Address .....

Ask Me Another

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Who wrote the poem in which appear the words: "Stone walls do not a prison make"?
2. Do the Eskimos have a word for any number beyond twenty?
3. When a military man speaks of logistics, he refers to what?
4. Which President of the United States lived to be 90 years of age?
5. Which of the following have the highest diplomatic rank—consuls, ambassadors, or ministers?
6. A long ton is equal to how many pounds?
7. What are bats classed as, birds, flying mammals, or rodents?

The Answers

1. Richard Lovelace ("To Althea from Prison").
2. No. Their word twenty actually means "a-man-counted-to-the-end."
3. Logistics refers to transport and supply.
4. John Adams.
5. Ambassadors.
6. A long ton is 2,240 pounds.
7. Flying mammals.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

A reader suggests putting a little blue or green vegetable coloring in the goldfish bowl to give the water a more realistic touch of the deep.

* * *

Did you know that if you flour the pan of the scales you can weigh out sticky substances and you won't leave half of them on the pan when you put them into bowls?

* * *

Japanned articles should never be washed in hot water as the japan is likely to wash off. Use lukewarm water and soap.

* * *

Cold air drops and hot rises. The compartment of the refrigerator under the ice chamber is, therefore, always the coldest part of the refrigerator.

* * *

When frying don't put in the article to be fried until the fat is still and a faint smoke is seen rising from the pan.

Bad Remedies

There are some remedies worse than the disease.

Time for Good

That which is good to be done, cannot be done too soon.

"WE'RE IN THE SWIM WITH MIGHTY MILD, MELLOW 'MAKIN'S' SMOKES!"
Ray Olson and Ralph Rivers know the tobacco for cool pleasure—and speedy rolling!
I CAN ROLL 'EM FASTER AND TRIMMER WITH PRINCE ALBERT! THAT CRIMP CUT LAYS RIGHT—SO EVEN, NO BUMPS
AND P.A. IS BETTER TOBACCO—RICHER-TASTING, FRAGRANT AROMA —AND NO HARSHNESS
Rollin' along with P. A.! Ray Olson (right), who wins prizes for singing, is telling what Ralph Rivers (left) already knows. "Give me Prince Albert for smooth, easy-rolling smokes that are cool on the tongue—and stay lit!" Those are Ralph's sentiments, too—and notice how Miss Julie Laird (seated) and her friend smile an O.K. on that swell P.A. aroma! (No other tobacco like Prince Albert for pipes, either!)
In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned
86 DEGREES COOLER
than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested...coolest of all!
PRINCE ALBERT
THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
LONG BURNING PIPE AND CIGARETTE TOBACCO
70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy tin of Prince Albert
Copyright, 1940, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

"Safety is always in Season." Hancock County Safety Council.

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, August 21-22.

"Blondie Has Servant Trouble" with Arthur Lake and Penny Singleton.

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Aug. 23-24. (Double Feature)

"The Biscuit Eater"

with Billy Lee.

Also

"Return Of Wild Bill"

with Bill Elliot and Luana Walters

Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, August 25-26-27.

"When The Daltons Rode"

with Randolph Scott and Kay Francis

Wednesday and Thursday, August 28-29.

"Gold Rush Maisie"

with Ann Sothern and Lee Bowman

Added Attraction

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Knisely, of Rockwell, were visiting with old friends in Klemme today.

Grandpa C. F. Keraus has been seriously ill at his home in Klemme for more than a week.

Quite a number from this vicinity are attending the North Iowa Fair at Mason City this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Henschen and son, William, of Garner, were visiting at the Mrs. Henry Lau home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jacobs and children spent Sunday with the C. J. Papousek family, of Belmond, at their cottage at Clear Lake.

Mrs. Lyle Smith and two sons, of Clinton, Ill., spent a few days the past week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Goll.

Miss Doris Bernd. of Manson, Iowa,spent the week end visiting with Miss Novella Bredbenner at her home.

Mr and Mrs. Albert Hoferman and sons, of Thornton, were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas.

Dave Ross returned the first of the week from a ten day stay at Ada, Minnesota, where he was looking after his farm interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Curley, of Davenport, Iowa, aunt and uncle of Mrs. Wesley Lau, were visiting at the Wesley Lau home for a few days the past week.

Mrs Naska Bock had as dinner guests Sunday, her son, Mitchell from east of Klemme, and Mr. and Mr Edwm Bock and daughters of Garner.

Mr and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth spent Sunday and were dinner guests at the home of her mother, Mrs. Hodgson at Plymouth.

Joe Johnson and grand daughter, Pattie Kudje, are spending this week in the country at the Stewart Hevilin home, southwest of Klemme

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Woolliung, of Farmer City, Ill., and Mrs. C. E. Boothe, of Roswell, New Mexico, came last Wednesday afternoon for a few days visit at the N. G. Moberly home. Mrs. Woolliung and Mrs. Boothe are sisters of Mrs. Moberly.

MORE ABOUT WILLKIE
(Continued from front page)

of any group of Americans for any other group—except as the New Dealers seek to put it there for political purposes. I stand for a new companionship in an industrial society.

"Because I am a business man, formerly connected with a large company, the doctrinaires of the opposition have attacked me as an opponent of liberalism. But I was a liberal before many of these men had heard the word, and I fought for many of the reforms of the elder LaFollette, Theodore Roosevelt, and Woodrow Wilson before another Roosevelt adopted—and distorted—liberalism.

Opposed to Monopolies.

"I believe that the forces of free enterprise must be regulated. I am opposed to business monopolies. I believe in collective bargaining, by representatives of labor's own free choice, without any interference and in full protection of those obvious rights. I believe in the maintenance of minimum standard for wages and of maximum standards for hours. I believe that such standards should constantly improve. I believe in the federal regulation of interstate utilities, of securities markets, and of banking. I believe in federal pensions, in adequate old age benefits, and in unemployment allowances.

"I believe that the federal government has a responsibility to equalize the lot of the farmer, with that of the manufacturer. If this cannot be done by parity of prices, other means must be found—with the least possible regimentation of the farmer's affairs. I believe in the encouragement of co-operative buying and selling, and in the full extension of rural electrification. But American liberalism does not consist merely in reforming things. It consists also in making things.

"And I say that we must henceforth ask certain questions of every reform, and of every law to regulate business or industry. We must ask: Has it encouraged our industries to produce? Has it created new opportunities for our youth? Will it increase our standard of living? Will it encourage us to open up a new and bigger world?"

New Deal Victims.

Mr. Willkie demanded that kind of legislation, that policy, that will encourage business to expand, to create jobs for the unemployed, saying:

"It is a statement of fact, and no longer a political accusation, that the New Deal has failed in its program of economic rehabilitation. And the victims of its failure are the very persons whose cause it professes to champion.

"The little business men are victims because their chances are more restricted than ever before.

"The farmers are victims because many of them are forced to subsist on what is virtually a dole, under centralized direction from Washington.

"The nine or ten million unemployed are victims because their chances for jobs are fewer.

"Approximately 6,000,000 families are victims because they are on relief.

"And unless we do something about it soon, 130,000,000 people—an entire nation—will become victims, because they stand in need of a defense system which this administration has so far proved itself powerless to create anywhere except on paper.

"To accomplish these results, the present administration has spent $60,000,000,000.

Mr. Willkie Accepts.

"I accept the nomination of the Republican party for President of the United States.

"I accept it in the spirit in which I know it was given at our convention in Philadelphia—the spirit of dedication. I herewith dedicate myself with all my heart, with all my mind, and with all my soul to making this nation strong.

"But I say this, too In the pursuit of that goal I shall not lead you down the easy road If I am chosen the leader of this democracy as I am now of the Republican party, I shall lead you down the road of sacrifice and of service to your country

"What I am saying is a far harsher thing than I should like to say in this speech of acceptance—a far harsher thing than I would have said had the Old World not been swept by war during the past year. I am saying to you that we cannot rebuild our American democracy without hardship, without sacrifice, even without suffering. I am proposing that course to you as a candidate for election by you."

When the speaker finished, the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. Hats went up in the air and shouts of "Hurrah for Willkie" came from many thousands. They left the great meeting repeating to each other the words "Willkie—the Hope of America."

Farmers in dry areas are turning to artifical ponds when wells fail to provide sufficient water supply.

"The Sowers of Safety are the Reapers of Happiness." Hancock County Safety Council.

Miss Novella Bredbenner returned home last Thursday from McGregor, where she attended the Wild Life School. Miss Mari Ann Huebsch, of McGregor, accompanied her home for a few days visit.

"Bill" Trafford, of Belmond, was in Klemme on business Monday. "Bill" at one time was a familiar sight on our streets as he was salesman for the Wellemeyer furniture store and he and his family resided here for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Risser and son, Bobbie, came from Des Moines Saturday afternoon to visit over the week end at the P. M. Wilson home. Bobbie remained in Klemme to spend this week with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day spent Sunday visiting at the Conklin home in Boone. Mrs. Day's neice, Jean Conklin, who has been visiting in Klemme the past week, and Earl Conklin, who has been visiting at Clear Lake, accompanied them to their home at Boone.

Mr. and Mrs George Born and Mr and Mrs. Henry Barz drove to Fort Dodge and vicinity Sunday Mr. Born reported that in counties south of here that more rain had fallen and many grain fields were seen where shocks were standing in water.

Quite a few from Klemme and vicinity attended the Hobo Convention at Britt, Monday. The new "King" of the hoboes is "Coast Kid" Benson. who gained the throne from "Scoop Shovel" Scotty who failed to show up this year to defend his crown.

Mrs. Lenz, of Spooner, Wisconsin, mother of Clifford Lenz, and Katherine Lenz, his daughter, came the latter part of the week for a visit with Klemme relatives and friends. They expect to return to their home in Wisconsin again next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jost drove to Des Moines Sunday to bring Phyllis home. Phyllis recently had an operation performed on her hip at a Des Moines hospital where she has been the past three weeks. Phyllis is making a good recovery from her operation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ritchel, of Manhatten, Illinois. and Mr .and Mrs. Alex Rose of Garner, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Heiner, of Flint, Michigan, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gould and son, Jimmie, of Plymouth, were dinner guests at the W. Henry Galbreth home, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chapman and son, David, and Bobbie Jones of Kansas City, Mo., came Sunday evening to spend a week's vacation in Iowa visiting with Mrs. Chapman's sisters, Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson of Klemme and Mrs. Liebendorfer of Mason City. They are spending most of their vacation with the Liebendorfers at a cottage at Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blank accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Worthy Usher and children of Rowan, spent Sunday visiting with the Fred Blank family at Montgomery. Iowa.

As if one hail storm w enough, the crops on the H Hughes farm near Richland ter, were damaged the s time. The second storm dam them so that they will not rec

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Io

Fair Time and Vacation Trips

. . . means that you shou have your car in perfe condition to enjoy yo trip.

Come in today for check-up, grease job a lubrication.

IF YOU NEED

New Tires..

. . now is the time to b before prices advance fu ther. Trade-in allowanc on your old tires.

We are equipped to give you complete service from a tune-up to a complete overhaul job!

North Side Garage

A. C. Bird Phone

THADA'S

A Good Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

FLY RIBBONS 5 for 10c
RAISINS 2 lbs. for 14c

OMAR wonder FLOUR — THE BREAD FLOUR SO GOOD IT WINS CAKE PRIZES — $1.69

PUFFED WHEAT 2 lg. bags 19c
MATCHES 3 boxes for 08c

LUX TOILET SOAP 3 Bars 17c

PORK & BEANS 1¼ lb. cans, 3 for . 25c
PORK & BEANS Quart can 09c

COFFEE Chocolate Cream 1 pound tin at 28c

IOWA MIRACLE Bleach, Qt. ..... 10c (5c bottle deposit)
IOWA MIRACLE Bleach, Gallon ..... 34c (10c bottle deposit)

Black Tea Nash's 1-4 lb. pkg. for 25c — Cut Glass Tumbler FREE

COOKIES Plain, 2 lbs. 25c
COOKIES Fancy, 2 lbs. 25c

Harvest Clearance

SALE OF USED CARS

In order to make room for New 1941 Models, we are closing out our line of BETTER USED CARS at exceptionally low prices. Come in and look them over. We will take your present car in on trade for one of our BETTER USED CARS!

You Will Be Proud To Own One of These Fine Cars:

- 1939 PONTIAC— Two Door Touring Sedan Reconditioned
- 1937 TERRAPLANE— Sedan, excellent condition A good buy for anyone
- 1937 CHEVROLET— Master DeLuxe Town Sedan Ask to see this one
- 1937 FORD V-8— Fordor DeLuxe Town Sedan Has Radio and Heater
- 1936 FORD V-8— Tudor Sedan, Reconditioned Has Trunk. A fine car
- 1935 PONTIAC— Two-Door Sedan Excellent Value!
- 1935 PLYMOUTH— 4-Door DeLuxe Two-Tone Finish
- 1934 FORD V-8— Fordor Sedan Good Condition
- 1935 CHEVROLET— 2-Door Sedan, New Finish and in Good Condition

SPECIAL SALE BARGAINS:

- 1933 CHEVROLET— 4-Door Sedan, Extra Clean Job at $150.00
- 1931 FORD— Sport Coupe, New Paint, take it at $125.00
- 1931 HUDSON 8— 4-Door Sedan Very Clean, special $125.00
- 1931 CHEVROLET— Extra Cheap Transportation, Going AT $35.00
- 1929 CHEVROLET— Good Condition, and a BARGAIN at $65.00
- IF YOU DON'T SEE What you want in this list . . . tell us your needs.

Klemme Auto Co.

Sales and Service Phone 93 Klemme, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT

Vol. 45 KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 28, 1940.

Program Will Undergo ges For Next Year

FARM PROGRAM
W PROVISION FOR NSERVATION OF SOIL

provision of the 1941 am have just been an-
the Agricultural Ad-Administration. Acreage for crops other than l be announced later production and the ef-European War on con-and may be determined rately, but officials in-at production would be at a level which will abundant supplies of iber.

payment under the probe announced after the creage allotments are de-
The program contains visions which may be individual counties as a obtaining greater con-under the program. These may, upon recommencounty and state com-used in lieu of total ing acreage allotments in re feed crops are not grown for market and onservation can be ob-der the alternative pro-ese are: (1) Establish-five-year conservation a farm, with deductions ment payments for fail-ain the 1941 portion of
(2) Determination of a acreage of erosion re-ops and land uses, with from payments for fail-aintain this acreage in sisting crops and land
(3) Provision that no earn a greater percentage ment on special acreage than the percentage earned of the soil-build-ance.

er of provisions are conhich give further con-to the needs of the of small farms.

provision under which 20 may be earned on any ontinued for 1941. If as $15 is earned by planting any farm may earn as $35 under the program.
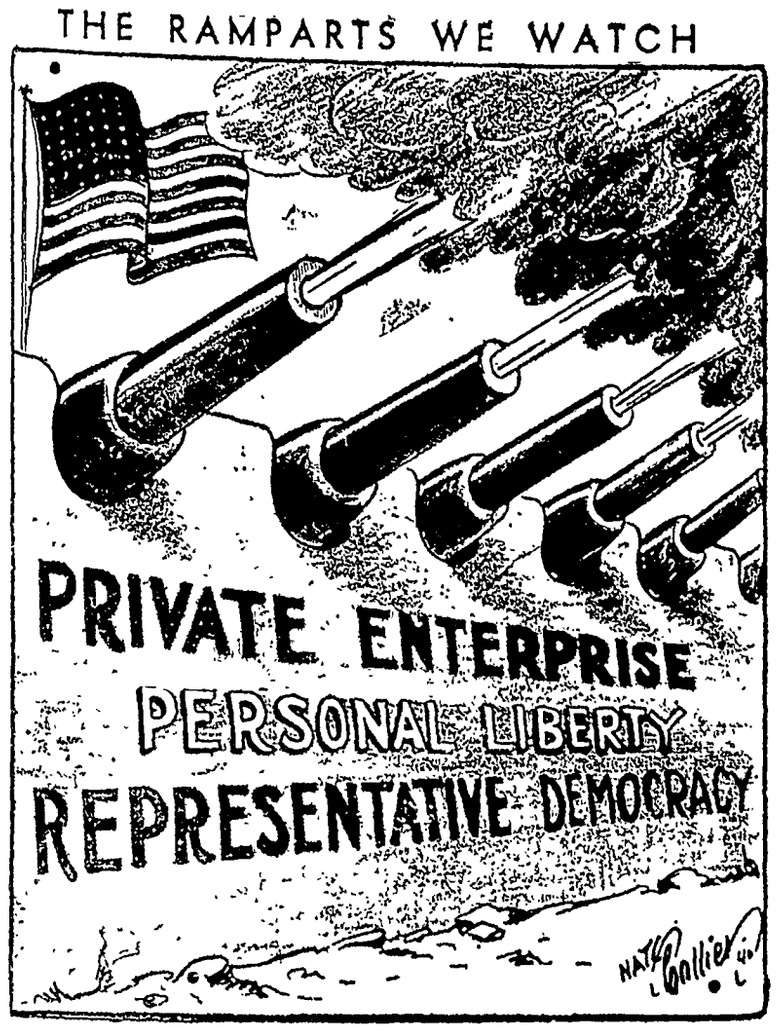
arm in the commercial for which a corn allot-less than 10 acres is demay be considered a allotment farm. If the is not exceeded, the matically becomes a corn farm, but if the allotexceeded, the operator up to 10 acres of corn eing subject to deduchis conservation payments. Under the 1940 program it was necessary for a farmer having a corn allotment of less than 10 acres to indicate whether he wished his farm considered an allotment or a non-allotment farm. Many small farmers are not in a position to make this decision before planting.

3. On small farms where the maximum payment is not more than $20, any part of the soil-building allowance may be earned by carrying out locally adapted conservation practices not included in the program. This provision will be applicable in designated areas where they are needed, and the practices for which payment will be made under it will be recommended by local committeemen.

4. In areas where feed crops are not generally produced for market, any farmer may grow as much as 30 acres of soil-depleting crops without incurring a deduction for exceeding the total soil depleting acreage allotment.

As in 1940, a soil-building allowance will be established for each farm, to be earned by carrying out soil-building practices In addition to the soil-building allowance, a special allowance of $15 is available for any farm under the 1941 program to be earned by the planting of forest trees. This special allowance amounted to $30 in the 1940 program This change was made in consideration of a recommendation of the National conference and because of (1) difficulty in estimating the amount of payment which could be earned under the provision, thus creating a problem in budgeting funds, and (2) the fact that is administratively impracticable to have substantial quantities or funds "ear-marked" only for specific practices on a national basis. The total amount of funds available for soil-building practices is not decreased by this change. The entire soil-building allowance for any farm may be earned by planting forest trees.

To encourage the carrying out of soil-building practices which are best adapted to local areas, the program provides that, within designated areas, on any farm where 50 per cent of the crop land and orchard land is devoted to perennial legumes or grasses, a farmer may earn $50, or one-half of the soil-building allowance, whichever is smaller, by carrying out locally adapted soil-building practices. The practices for which payment will be made will be recommended by local committeemen.



Teaching Profession Attracts Many Klemme High School Graduates

KLEMME YOUNG PEOPLE WILL LEAVE SOON
FOR TEACHING POSTS

Large Number of Klemme People Now In Teaching Profession

This week a host of Klemme young people will be leaving for various parts of the country to takeup teaching duties for the coming year Some of them are in the "experienced" class, while a few will face the pupils for the first time.

Miss Irene Harms, who has been teaching at Doone for several years, is this year going to a larger school and will teach at Logan.

Miss Marie Stille will return to Malcolm where she has charge of the school music

Miss Gladys Zabilka, another Klemme young lady who has chosen music as her field, returns to Luther, Iowa.

Miss Ruth Wellemeyer, who has had experience in rural school work, has been promoted to a "town teacher" and will be on the teaching staff of the Titonka schools.

Miss Novella Bredbenner returns to Allison where she enters upon her second year of teaching.

Miss Thelma Chambers has already gone to Lamont, Iowa, where she is in charge of home economics. This is Miss Chambers' first year in the teaching profession

Miss Glenna Gruetzmacher returns to her post at Winthrop, Ia, where she is in charge of school music.

Miss Delores Cook will take up her first year of teaching at Allen, Nebraska. Miss Cook specialized in music at Morningside College, at Sioux City, where she graduated in June.

Harold Gruetzmacher, whom we still classify as a Klemmeite, but who has not resided here for some years, will again direct the school bands and other phases of music in the schools at Carrol.

Earl Josten, also a former Klemme young man, returns again this year to his teaching position at Valley Junction.

"Abe" Lauritsen, one time "printer's devil" at the Times office, and who later taught at Renwick, Ledyard and for the past couple of years has been superintendent of schools at Parkersburg, has been elected as County Superintendent of Schools of Kossuth County.

Miss Carmen Kluckhohn will again take up her teaching in the rural school, known as the Stille school west of Klemme.

Miss Mabel Schuldt will also return to rural school teaching at Ell No. 8

Miss Evelyn Arnold, who attended State Teachers College at Cedar Falls, begins her first year of teaching this fall in the Riverside rural school south of Klemme.

Miss Doris Barz will teach this year in the Lemke school four miles west of Klemme.

Klemme Schools Ready To Op Monday Morning, September 2

INFORMATION REGARDING THE RENTING OF BOOKS,
FOR 1940-41 SCHOOL YEAR

All Grades, Except Kindergarten, Be At The School House, 9 a. m. Monday

Everything is ready for the opening of the new school year in the Klemme Public Schools, and the faculty members and janitor will be on hand early Monday morning to greet a record crowd of students. The largest student body ever to enroll here is expected to take up work in the new building this year.

The high school and all grades except kindergarten will be expected to be at school at nine o'clock Monday morning to arrange for books and receive instructions for the year's work. A definite starting date has not yet been set for kindergarten. The work in this department may be postponed until the end of the first six weeks as usual, and it may possibly start sooner. A decision on this matter will be reached sometime during the first week of school, and all parents of kindergarten students will then be notified.

Books will be handled on the rental plan again this year, and parents can help the teachers and superintendent greatly by sending checks or cash in the right amount for the books the first morning The rental charges for each grade are listed below:

Kindergarten, $.25; First Grade, $1.61; Second Grade, $1.45; Third Grade, $1.92; Fourth Grade, $2.52, Fifth Grade, $2.09; Sixth Grade, $2.26; Seventh Grade, $1.91; and Eighth Grade, $1.91.

Ninth Grade Boys, $2.40; Ninth Grade Girls, $2.50; Tenth Grade, (Without Typing), $1.59; Tenth Grade, (With Typing), $3.59.

Eleventh and Twelfth Grades (Students in these grades can determine the charge of their books by totalling the prices in the list below for the subjects they registered for. They should be sure to count the English correctness work book and the Physics work book if they registered for English literature and Physics.)

Economics, $.45; Eng. Literature, $.55; Eng. Cor. Wk. Bk., $.20; Geometry, $.60 Com. Law, $.42; Physics, $.45; Physics Wk. Bk., $.80; Man. Train. II, No Charge; Home Ec. II, No Charge; Sociology, $.45, Typewriting, $2.00.

Damage done to books last year will be charged to pupils at the beginning of this year, but, in order to avoid confusion, it will not be collected the first day. A statement showing this amount, together with any unpaid bill for the family last year, will be sent back to parents the first day or soon thereafter. These amounts will not be large in most cases but most be collected in order to insure proper respect for rented books.

Locks for lockers will not be rented until Wednesday or Thursday, as assignment of lockers will be only tentative until all registrations are complete. Students are therefore requested not to bring money for locks until later in the week.

Pupils who rented locks last year paid the full cost of the locks and were not given a refund at the end of the year. These people may use a lock without charge for the next three years. Those who graduate before that time will receive a refund at the rate of ten cents a year for each year the lock was not used. Those who discontinue the use of a lock before graduation will also be entitled to same refund, but, again to avoid confusion students should not plan to apply this refund on books the first day. It will be much better to bring the full amount of the book rental on Monday.

On Wednesday or Thursday when locks are given out, those desiring to rent a lock for the first time will pay forty cents and will be entitled to four years of use of the lock, with the refund privileges stated above.

To sum up the procedure for first day, all students are asked be at the school house by nine o'clock (not earlier than eight-thirty). They should have the rental fees with them if possible. Books will be distributed and instructions will be given out for the start of the year's work. This Monday morning session will probably take about an hour and a half. The students will then be dismissed for the remainder of the day. Classes will meet on a full-time schedule starting Tuesday.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE WILL BE ORGANIZED HERE

New Organization Will Combine All Of Present Women's Church Divisions

An important meeting has been called for Thursday afternoon, September 5th, at 2.00 o'clock at the Klemme Methodist Church at which time the organization of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be fully explained.

This new organization is being adopted in all Methodist Churches through-out the entire country and it will replace and combine all women's organizations in the church into one group. The Ladies Aid, Missionary Society and other organizations will be terminated and all re-organized into the new form.

All ladies of the community who have been members of any of the old organizations, or who are interested in becoming charter members of the new organization, are invited and requested to attend the meeting next Thursday.

MISSION FESTIVAL WILL BE HELD SUNDAY AT REFORMED CHURCH

Rev. Seibler of Melbourne Will Deliver The Morning Sermon

A Mission Festival will be observed at the Klemme Reformed Church next Sunday, September 1st, beginning at 10:00 a. m. when Rev. John Seibler, of Melbourne, Iowa, will deliver the morning sermon.

At 11:00 a. m., the Sunday School hour begins and Rev. Seilber will again address the Adult department, while Rev. Wm. Huenemann of the Ell Town Reformed Church will address the Young People's class.

For the afternoon service beginning at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Wm. Everts of Buffalo Center will be the speaker. Rev. Seibler will again deliver an address at the evening services which will begin at 8:30 p. m.

Rev. Grosshuesch announces that all of the services will be conducted in the English language and that offerings for missions and benevolences will be taken at all services. The Sunday School offering will go the Indian Mission. Rev. Grosshuesch invites all to attend the above services.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF COUNTY INVITED TO FORT DODGE, FRI.

Mrs. W. S. Pritchard, Garner, Eighth District Organization Chairman, has issued an invitation to all Republican women in Hancock County to attend a meeting and luncheon at Warden Hotel in Fort Dodge on Friday, August 30th. The luncheon is at 12:30 and will be followed by an afternoon meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is to form a district organization and to nominate a delegate and alternate to the National Convention to be held in Detroit, September 20 and 21st.

All Republican women of the county are invited and urged to attend this important meeting.

Skimmilk powder can substitute for skimmilk in calf-feeding where the latter is not available.

HANCOCK COUNTY WINNERS
AT THE IOWA STATE FAIR

Hancock County 4-H club members exhibiting at the 1940 Iowa State Fair are winning many ribbons. In the judging Friday and Saturday, the boys won in the baby beef classes the following placings: Wayne Greiman, 14th; Richard Greiman, 19th; Clifford Greiman, 11th; Bernard Greiman, 22nd; Clifford Greiman, 17th; Alvin Townsend, 16th. In the group showing they placed 15th and Wayne Greiman placed 9th in produce of 4-H club heifer contest. The boys will sell their calves in the sale at the fair on Friday, August 23rd.

Round-headed borers in apple trees may be dug out of the trunk with a stiff wire and sharp knife. They live in tunnels under the bark.

uneral Services For Ernest Henschen Will Be Held This Thursday Afternoon

uneral services for Ernest C. Henschen, will be held at the Klemme Reformed urch Thursday afternoon, August 29th, 2:00 o'clock. Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch l deliver the sermon.
nterment will be in the Ell Township metery and the following will be the ket bearers: William Henschen, Earl schen, Sylvanius Wacker, Amos Hughes d Klinge and Albert Schmidt.
he Wellemeyer Funeral Service will be charge of arrangements. Following is a tch of Mr. Henschen's life.

Obituary

rnest Conrad Henschen was born Oc-er 15, 1860, near St. Louis, Missouri. His rents, Herman Henschen and Fredericka nneiderjohn Henschen, were natives of rmany.
His early life was spent near St. Louis, ssouri, where he attended rural schools d became a member of the Methodist urch.
At the age of 18, he moved to Hancock unty, Iowa, where he found employment a farm hand.
At the age of 30 years, he was united in rriage to Mary Wacker, but sadness me to this home when his bride of a few nths suddenly passed away.
On December 8, 1891, Ernest C. Henschen d Sophia Louisa Wacker were married Rev. Triek of the Ell Township Reform-Church. They commenced housekeeping the old Bock farm 3 miles northeast of emme. After two years, Mrs. Henschen's her, Frederick Wacker, gave them a m which farm is now known as the Ernest Henschen farm, because they have owned it for nearly a half century.
During their married life, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Henschen lived on a rented farm 2 years, on their own farm 37 years, in the town of Garner 6 years, and in Klemme 5 years.
To this union six children were born, Alfred and Esther died in childhood, and Elsie died at the age of 24 years Three children survive they are: Ernest L. Henschen, Klemme, Iowa; Mrs. Otto Woiwood, Garner ,Iowa; and Walter Henschen, who now operates the home farm in Ell Township.
It should also be mentioned that Fred Bell, a son of their daughter Elsie, has made his home with them since he was an infant.
As a farmer, Mr. Henschen was frugal and thrifty, well liked by his neighbors and respected by his children
For some twenty years, Mr. Henschen was bothered with rheumatism and for the last few years he walked with a cane. About ten days ago he was stricken with a hemorrhage which seemed to grow worse from day to day and the end came Monday at 11 p. m., August 26, 1940.
He reached the age of 79 years, 10 months, and 11 days.

He leaves besides his wife and chilrden, 6 grandchildren and four brothers: Henry Henschen, Garner, Iowa; Lewie Henschen, Garner, Iowa; Fred Henschen, Klemme, Iowa, and Julius Henschen, Corwith, Iowa, and other more distant relatives and friends.

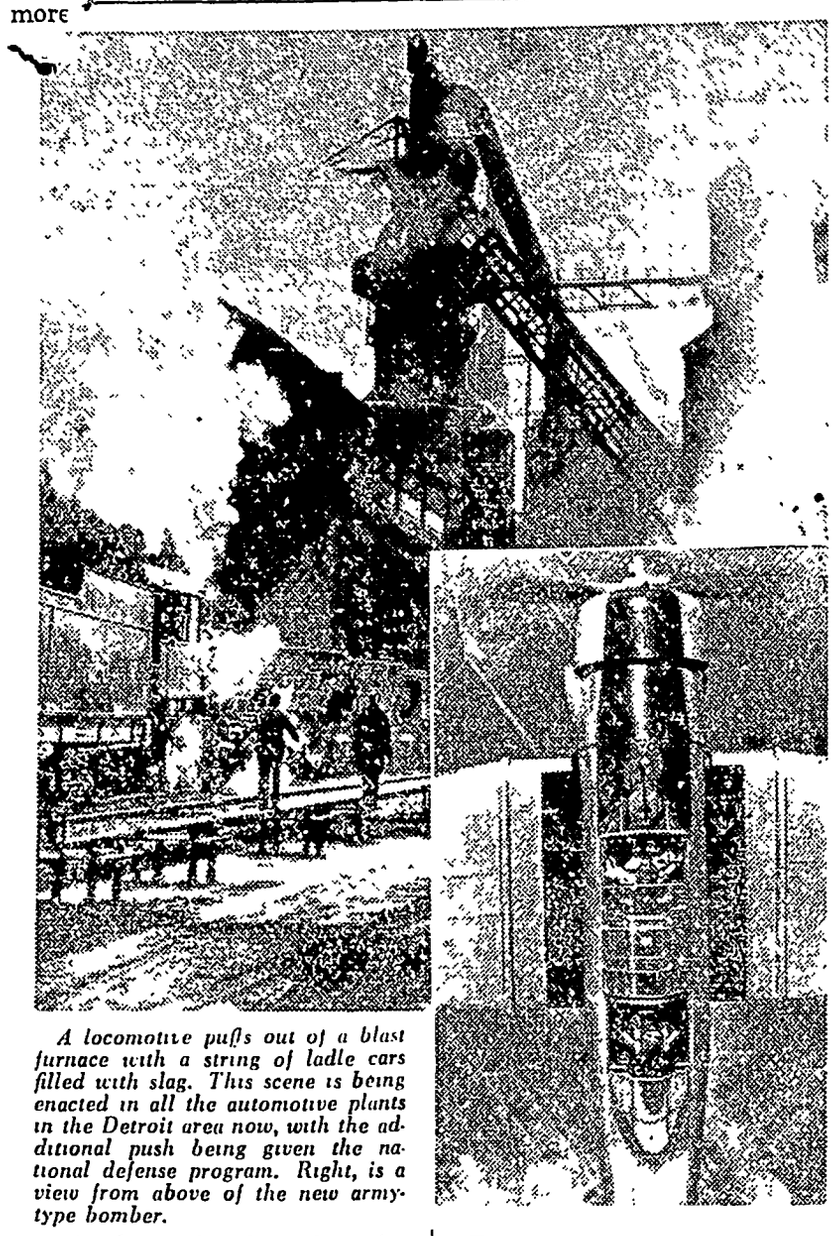
fety is always in Season." ick County Safety Council.

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
rst Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Knisely, Rockwell, were visiting with friends in Klemme today.

Grandpa C. F. [illegible] seriously ill at [illegible] me for more

Hopes on Detroit; key to Mechanized Needs



A locomotive puffs out of a blast furnace with a string of ladle cars filled with slag. This scene is being enacted in all the automotive plants in the Detroit area now, with the additional push being given the national defense program. Right, is a view from above of the new army-type bomber.

Qu[illegible] tian F[illegible] big the Sud[illegible]ing f[illegible] [illegible]s galvanized into [illegible]e letter he just had [illegible]pened warned of a plot to bomb [illegible]e office in which he was sit-"Th[illegible]ng.

His first act was to call the [illegible]ompany's own police and have the building searched. Even while this was going on, the long distance phones were working and the firm's extensive plants in Detroit were being warned and much more elaborate precautions were being taken there, although the letter said nothing about the Detroit factory.

Key to U. S. Defense.

Why all this interest in Detroit? Mainly because that city and its outlying municipal brothers-in-industry—Flint, Pontiac and Lansing—are fast becoming the key to America's defense program, the Ruhr of the United States

The eyes of the army and navy, as well as the National Defense commission, are on Detroit. Here are going many of the millions of dollars that make up the billions Uncle Sam is spending to modernize and equip services.

An expert of the National defense council, looking up from a mass of figures in his Washington office recently announced that Detroit and its neighboring automotive towns would be able by this time next year, to fulfill all orders for army trucks, tanks, caissons, plate parts and motors for airplanes and small boats, for both sides of the European war at the war's present rate of consumption. And while this was going on the factories would be able to turn their usual quota of civilian automobiles as well.

Certainly Detroit is preparing to do just that, and the preparations take into consideration the use of only the present available manpower. Virtually no additional employees, beyond those now on the payrolls, need to be added, although the number of work days and hours may be increased to the present legal maximum.

Set for Special Calls.

Much of this, of course, calls for material adjustment in the precision machinery now in operation. One Detroit body factory which never thought of airplanes six months ago, already has signed an experimental contract with an eastern airplane maker to produce wings At least two other plants are getting ready for any call not only to airplane engines but parts as well

One entire plant of a General Motors corporation subsidiary now is engaged in airplane engine making, although it is encountering difficulties in getting into large-scale production. If the international situation continues to be critical, time will be the essence of the problem, and the automobile industry has the habit of telescoping hours into minutes.

But it will require several months of intense preparation, even under the pressure of war, for the automobile companies to swing into the mass production of aircraft.

A good deal of preliminary work has been done. The spotwelding of aluminum alloys, up to now a ticklish and largely unsatisfactory method of building airplanes, is being studied Two makes of European aircraft engines have been torn down by automobile factory engineers to determine how fast they could be produced, and the results are encouraging.

Plans at Ford Plant.

Ford, for one, knows the precision requirements of aircraft engine construction differ materially from the ordinary volume-produced automobile motor, but precision is routine in the automobile industry. Even in the average car motor measurements for less than one-thousandth of an inch are a standard requirement.

Just 22 years ago Ford was assembling 105 "Liberty" motors a day for World war planes. Ford is going to make some British-designed Rolls-Royce engines regardless of whether he gets an order from the United States government. He may even make a complete airplane powered with one of the motors.

Plans, in fact, have been drawn at the Ford plant for the additional buildings and floor space that would be required for airplane and plane engine output.

A single item of the preliminary work illustrates how Ford proposes to speed up engine production in the event of an emergency. He plans to cast the crankshaft instead of forging it. The shaft of the Rolls-Royce in its finished state weighs 103 pounds. In the rough stage, as produced abroad, it weighs 261 pounds. Cast in the Ford foundry, it weighs 135 pounds.

Thus in the Ford shops only 32 pounds of metal is machined off as against 158 pounds in the British factories.

Meanwhile tooling is being surveyed in all plants for 1942 models and sales departments are getting their 1941 production into high gear. As in all other years there are innovations that will quicken the eye of the prospective purchaser and open his pocketbook.

Hudson was two weeks ahead of others in the usual starting date for assembling new models. Their feature this year will be "symphonic styling," a harmonizing of interior colors with those of the exterior.

The basic colors are gray, green and tan, which will harmonize with the exterior color. For example, if the purchaser selects tan, not only the exterior but also the upholstery, headlining, trim, carpets and instrument panel will be in harmonizing shades of tan.

There will be two color choices in the low-price class and three in the medium.

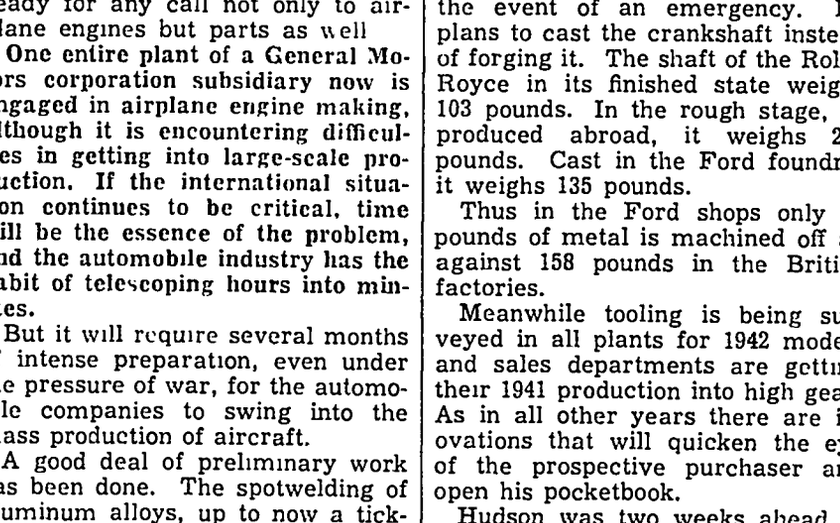
Meanwhile, Hudson also is making plans for armament orders. In the last war they made tanks, Liberty motors for planes, shells, transmissions for tanks and four-wheel drive trucks. Officials, however, are not revealing what the present plans contemplate.

Preparations for production of a new all-metal "flivver plane" designed eventually to sell for $1,000 also is occupying attention. The idea has the backing of Fred J. Fisher, eldest of the family of Fisher brothers and a founder of Fisher corporation.

Fisher confirmed that he is associated in the venture with William B. Stout, a pioneer aeronautical and automotive engineer. A spokesman for Fisher said the plane still was in the experimental stage and plans for mass production would not be made until the trial model is tested and licensed, probably after the first of next year.

The plane was said to be designed for simplified flying with its engine mounted in the rear driving a pusher propellor It was said to be a two-seater with a range of 500 miles, a cruising speed of 110 miles per hour and a landing speed of 35 miles an hour, and a wingspread of 35 feet.

How U. S. Agriculture Is Faring



REDUCED FRUIT EXPORTS MEAN LARGER FRESH FRUIT SUPPLIES AT HOME SLIGHTLY SMALLER CATTLE SLAUGHTER AT HIGHER PRICES LAST HALF OF 1940 COMPARED WITH SAME PERIOD OF 1939.
WHEAT SUPPLY FOR EXPORT AND CARRY-OVER ABOUT SAME AS YEAR AGO
FEED GRAINS MORE THAN AMPLE UNLESS AUGUST WEATHER DAMAGES CORN CROP
MILK PRODUCTION, PASTURES, PRICES, EXPORTS BETTER THAN LAST YEAR
ONE-THIRD OF U S FARM EXPORT MARKETS CLOSED BY BLOCKADE SMALLER HOG SLAUGHTER, HIGHER AVERAGE PRICES EXPECTED NEXT MARKETING YEAR
MODERATE INCREASE EXPECTED IN CIGAR CIGARETTE CONSUMP-TION TOBACCO EXPORT SITUATION UNFAVORABLE FEWER YOUNG CHICKENS ON FARMS, FEWER LAYERS IN PROSPECT FACED BY BLEAK EXPORT PROSPECTS, COTTON GROWERS LOOK TO DOMESTIC MARKETS
SOME FURTHER IMPROVEMENT IN CONSUMER DEMAND FOR FARM PRODUCTS IN PROSPECT
FARM INCOME FIRST HALF OF 1940 UP 282 MILLIONS OVER FIRST HALF LAST YEAR
TRUCK CROP SUPPLIES PLENTIFUL, MARKET SUPPLY OF POTATOES ONE-FOURTH LARGER AUGUST 1940
BUREAU OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS

Issued by U. S. Department of Agriculture.
Released by WNU Service.

Future Events on the Calendar

¶ With many varieties of shade trees in America threatened by disease. a national shade tree conference will be held at Detroit on August 27.

¶ A former automobile speedway transformed into a trotting park, the new Roosevelt Raceway half-mile track will open at Westbury, Long Island, August 26 for a 30-day meeting.

¶ Veterans of the Fifth Division, American Expeditionary forces will open a three-day celebration at the New York World's fair August 31

¶ Fifty thousand farmers will drive 20,000 automobiles to the "world's largest farm outing" on August 26 at Andrew's Grove, near Rockford, Ill. The annual picnic is sponsored by the Burritt Grange of Winnebago county

U. S. Secret Service Wars on Counterfeit

What do you know about dollar bills? About fives, tens or twenties?

Perhaps you are aware that the picture of George Washington appears on all one-dollar bills. But do you know that the first President's likeness appears only on one-dollar bills? Can you say without looking whose portrait is printed on twenty-dollar bills, or tens, or fives?

If you know these things you have made a beginning, even if it is a small one, toward protecting yourself against counterfeit money, according to officials of the United States secret service.

Educating America on how to detect spurious money is one of the jobs that occupies the attention of the secret service. It has been steadily on this job for nearly 80 years.

"Know your Money" is the slogan of this educational campaign. It is being carried to people everywhere by movies, the radio, lectures, newspapers.

A short-subject motion picture, "Know Your Money," has been shown to more than 25,000,000 persons in the last six months Thousands of money handlers—tellers, clerks, cashiers—have been taught by secret service agents how to detect counterfeit bills and coins.

For the first six months of 1940 the secret service took out of circulation $44,426—every dollar a loss to someone—compared to $122,254 for the first six months of 1939 This drop of nearly 64 per cent represents the effect of the "Know Your Money" campaign, Secret Service Chief Frank Wilson asserts, adding:

"When we have taught the American people to be completely counterfeit conscious, counterfeiters will quit making counterfeit money because of the impossibility of passing it."

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

GENERAL PERSHING

General Pershing's solemn warning that unless aid is given the British fleet to resist Hitler, the United States faces certain attack, was not a reply to the appeasement broadcast of Colonel Lindbergh. When the A. E. F. commander decided, after a study of confidential military reports, to come out of retirement and speak to the nation, he did not know that the flyer also planned to talk.

Also, Pershing wrote his speech without any knowledge of what Lindbergh would say. However, Pershing did tune in on the latter's broadcast. But it was only for a few minutes.

The General of the Armies became so incensed at Lindbergh's views that he turned off the radio and snapped, "That's outrageous. I'm saying nothing about that young man in my talk tonight, but I shall make it my business to do so on another occasion"

* * *

TENANT FARMERS

Despite all the good intentions of Henry Wallace regarding the sharecropper and tenant farmer, the inside fact is that both have been increasing in numbers and decreasing in security, year by year. For anybody who wants to write another "Grapes of Wrath," there is more abundant material than ever.

It is not being shouted from the housetops, but between 1930 and 1935, the number of farm tenants increased at the rate of 40,000 a year to reach the staggering total of 2,865,000. The 1940 census, when the figures are out, is expected to show a still higher figure

Privately agriculture department officials admit that they are just about licked, and have almost abandoned their drive to reduce tenantry.

There are three reasons for the increase in tenant farming:

1. Increased mechanization. Best index of this is the mounting sale of tractors Technological unemployment, which long ago hit the factory, has now come to the farm.

2 Reduced acreage To prevent price-depressing surpluses, AAA contracts with farmers to plant less. This means fewer tenants are needed to plant, tend and harvest the crops. Meantime, the rested land next year gives higher yield, necessitates further reduction of acreage

3. In spite of AAA efforts, however, tenants and sharecroppers are not getting proportional benefits of AAA payments The money goes to the landlords, many of whom are insurance companies and absentee owners AAA officials, headed by Cully Cobb, have insisted they can't make an issue of this or they will lose landlords' compliance.

Sharecropper Security.

Economists in the department are now making a drive for security for tenants This represents a radical shift of direction For until recently, the drive was to convert tenants to owners, with government aid.

Instead, realizing that many tenants are incapable of owning and operating a farm, AAA planners are not trying to decrease the number of tenants but to increase their income and security It is pointed out that tenantry in England is much higher than in the United States (80 per cent against 42) but that the English farm tenants have a degree of protection unknown here.

First step in this direction is to formalize and legalize the relation between farmer and tenant by bringing in a simple, uniform lease to bind the relation between them. Over 80 per cent of all tenants and sharecroppers have only verbal agreements with their landlords.

Conferences in the agriculture department are preparing for such a drive Preliminary material has been drawn up, under Economist Dover P. Trent. The country will soon hear about the "flexible farm lease."

Approximately a million tenant families (5,000,000 persons) move every year Benefit payments, poured out by the billions, never touch them. They are the big unsolved problem of the New Deal's agricultural reform.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Rep. Joe Martin, new G. O. P. national chairman, has added to his staff Dave Ingalls, campaign manager of Sen. Bob Taft.

The famed Indiana Two Per Cent club is virtually broke and practically defunct. Harshest blow was the new Hatch act. This is costing the club hundreds of "dues" paying members.

* * *

G. O. P. TROUBLES

The campaign organizing difficulties of the faction-scarred Democrats have been widely advertised.

Little has been said about it. But the Republicans are having their troubles too.

Real reason for that gathering of party chiefs at Colorado Springs last week was to clear away a batch of inside snags which have caused the Republican machine, after more than a month of activity, to be less than one-third organized.

MR. FARLEY MAKES A SHIFT

Jim Farley has retired as National Democratic chairman to head the New York Yankees. Eight years of football have been enough.

* * *

Jim will find it a relief to be in a field where the pitcher doesn't want to bat, field and coach at one and the same time.

* * *

For nearly a decade he has been head over heels in national politics, where use of the "bean ball" is strictly ethical, and that's been long enough to convince him that life is more satisfactory in a business where its use is at least officially discouraged.

* * *

Jim is an old baseball man himself. He was a first baseman on the Haverstraw nine back home. But he had to get into politics to discover that a man could mean well and still get spiked in both.

* * *

After what he has been through in the last few years, it is understood that Big Jim has a terrific yen for a business where team play will be welcomed, where not more than one pitcher is used in the box at the same time and where the use of amateur coaches is barred.

* * *

James M. Cox, chief backer of Mr. Farley in the baseball deal, is Miami's Number One Citizen, and it may be that he has decided this is the only way to get the Yanks to train in Miami as an added winter attraction. Miami has everything else.

* * *

Governor Cox's chief sporting interest is in golf. But it may be that, like most golfers, he would like to get his mind off it and thinks it worth a couple of million to do it.

* * *

Big Jim Farley has been the most underpaid man in politics. That wouldn't be so bad except that of late he hasn't even been allowed to argue with the umpire.

* * *

And it has probably been a terrific strain for an old baseball player to be in a position where he can't find out whether his star pitcher intends to keep pitching or to take a job as coach at third.

* * *

There is a rumor that one of his last acts as postmaster-general will be to design a DiMaggio postage stamp and a Babe Ruth memorial post card.

* * *

We wish Jim lots of luck in the baseball world. And we hope he doesn't find the change so confusing that he will signal for a caucus instead of the hit and run play.

* * *

Add similes: As forgotten as a platform a week after its adoption.

* * *

BRITAIN IN ANY WAR

ROUND 1—John ("Kid") Bull rushes in, chin out, and is floored five times.

ROUND 2—He is groggy and defenseless, but manages to weather the round.

ROUND 3—He is knocked all over the ring. He takes a count of nine. The bell saves him.

ROUND 4—He waddles around without landing a single punch. The bell finds him cut and bleeding.

ROUND 5—He is floored five times. There are cries of "Stop it!'

ROUND 6—He is struck by everything except the water bucket, and finishes the round on his hands and knees.

ROUND 7—He manages to get one hand up and stagger through the round, with both eyes closed.

LAST ROUND (FLASH) — John Bull wins by knockout!

* * *

LIFELINES

Action speaks louder than words, and so do tanks.

Keep your powder dry, but be sure to have the powder.

Procrastination is the thief of nations.

Not many want to see the ace if you really have it. As it is with men so it is with nations.

* * *

Stewart Cole Clark insists that his laundryman puts it "No Willkie, no shirtie."

Strange Fa[illegible]

Swift Canal Trac[illegible]
Loud Whale Blo[illegible]
Market for Rust

¶ The United States flee[illegible] through the Panama ca[illegible] remarkable speed. Not [illegible] 110 of its ships passed [illegible] 48 hours, thus moving o[illegible] in and another out every [illegible] utes.

¶ The loudest respirato[illegible] ments known are those of [illegible] When harpooned, they so[illegible] stay under the water for [illegible] as two hours and, comin[illegible] surface, expel their [illegible] breath with such force [illegible] sound can be heard for m[illegible] a mile.

¶ Although only 24 states [illegible] a tax on retail sales, near[illegible] 000,000 a year is collected [illegible] way. Incidentally, only [illegible] states, Alabama, Louisi[illegible] Mississippi, have made the[illegible] tokens interchangeable [illegible] convenience of interstate s[illegible]

¶ A large Eastern railro[illegible] from 200 to 500 tons of rust [illegible] ly to various steel co[illegible] which use it in the manufa[illegible] pig iron —Collier's.

And the Director Wen[illegible] ABSOLUTE QUIET!

The director was prepa[illegible] shoot a scene on stage 6. "Quiet!" he ordered.

A technician stepped on [illegible] floor-board, and the re[illegible] squeak brought the director [illegible] ing round with a yell "Q[illegible]

A makeup man dropped [illegible] stick, and the almost u[illegible] thud brought a scream fr[illegible] director· "Quiet! QUIET!"

A hush fell over the set [illegible] camera started to grind a[illegible] director signalled to start [illegible] tion.

Two submachine guns bu[illegible] a deafening chatter, pou[illegible] stream of lead into a kitche[illegible] with crockery.

The scene was over.

"MIDDLE AGE" WOM[illegible]

Thousands have [illegible] smiling thru thi[illegible] ing time" by [illegible] Pinkham's—[illegible] for helping fema[illegible] tional troubles. [illegible]
LYDIA E. PINKH[illegible]
VEGETABLE COM[illegible]

Advice Giver

Let no man presume to gi[illegible] vice to others that has no[illegible] given count to himself.—Se[illegible]

"Black Leaf 40" KILLS LICE
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS.. OR SPREAD ON ROO[illegible]
"Cap-Brush" App[illegible] makes "BLACK LE[illegible] GO MUCH FAR[illegible]

Double Loss

Who to his friends his m[illegible] lends may lose his money a[illegible] friends.—Plautus.

Top the Market
WITH
Green Top Mineralized Fa[illegible]
The efficient and economica[illegible] method of producing hea[illegible]
See your local feed de[illegible]

The Wise Feast

Fools make feasts, and [illegible] men eat them.—Benjamin F[illegible] lin.

The CURTIS HOTE[illegible]
MINNEAPOLIS
In Tune with Modern Tim[illegible]
Rooms with New conveniences and soft water private bath[illegible]
One person - $2.00, $2.50, $[illegible]
Two persons - - $3.00 to $[illegible]
Excellent Cafes

Facts of
ADVERTISIN[illegible]
• ADVERTISIN[illegible]
represents the leadership [illegible] a nation. It points the w[illegible] We merely follow—follow [illegible] new heights of comfort, [illegible] convenience, of happine[illegible]
As time goes on adverti[illegible] ing is used more and mo[illegible] and as it is used more [illegible] all profit more. It's the w[illegible] advertising has—of bringing a profit t[illegible] everybody concerned [illegible] the consumer includ[illegible]

nadian Memorial Recalls Career of A Judge and Humorist Who Contributed To the Evolution of Our "Uncle Sam"

t known cartoon of a sym- figure representing the States. It appeared in in 1844.

"Sam Slick," after a drawing made by Leech, artist for Punch, who made the drawings for the English editions of Haliburton's books.

First American cartoon of Uncle Sam, drawn by F. Bellow and published in 1852.

ELMO SCOTT WATSON

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

YOU may never have heard of Thomas Chandler Haliburton, dian barrister and judge, died in England 75 years this month. But you, as American, should have reason to remember nas Chandler Haliburton, or. For he was the crea- of "Sam Slick, the Con- icut Clockmaker" and Slick provided one of the ents out of which gradu- evolved our symbolical e of Uncle Sam. More that, he had an influence nd contributed largely to pe of humor which we come to regard as typi- American.

even though few Americans that such a man as Thomas dler Haliburton ever existed ave forgotten it if they did , we have more than a pass- nterest in a project now r way up in Canada. The urton estate at Windsor, Scotia, is being rehabilitat- nd a noted painter, Sir Wyly , has been commissioned by overnment of Nova Scotia to full-length, life-size painting he man who created Sam and whose writings, a hun- years ago, were delighting ers not only in Canada but e United States and England ell.

liburton, the scion of an an- Scottish family, was born in sor in 1796. Educated at 's college in Nova Scotia he admitted to the bar in 1820, was elected to the house of mbly of the colony, was ed to the bench of common s in 1829 and in 1840 became dge of the supreme court. In midst of his judicial duties, he d time to write a series of ches for the local news- ers. In one of these he sati- d the character of the New land Yankee in the person of m Slick of Slickville, Onion nty, Connecticut," a clock- er and peddler whose knowl- e of human nature, unsophis- ted wit, droll speech and erness in using what he ed "soft sawder" immediate- made him a favorite with adian newspaper readers. st published anonymously in a er called the Nova Scotian, a ection of these sketches was ught out in book form by eph Howe, the editor of the a Scotian. A copy of this k fell into the hands of Thom- Bentley, the English publisher, immediately issued an Eng- edition.

A 'Best Seller.'

The Clockmaker, or the Do- of Sam Slick of Slickville" first published in 1835 and an instantaneous success. It through 50 editions, a "best er" record which, considering time and the size of the book- ing public, has never been aled.

The success of the first book sketches encouraged Bentley issue a second in 1838, a third 1840, and a fourth in 1844. In there were five volumes in ich "Sam Slick" was the prin- al character. Three of them e devoted to "The Clockmak- ." The fourth was called "Wise ws and Modern Instances" and fifth "The Attache, or, Sam k in England." In the latter n appears as an attache to the erican legation in London and shrewd and humorous obser- ions on the upper classes of gland and their pampered ser- vants were as mirth-provoking as his satires on life among the Yankees.

As for the influence of Haliburton and "Sam Slick" on American humor and American literature in general, a writer in the Dearborn Independent several years ago declared that "Bill Nye, Artemus Ward, 'Mrs. Partington', O. Henry, all have lighted their brands at one time or another at the torch of Judge Haliburton. Certainly no other book produced on this continent has had so widespread and unmistakable an influence."

This writer then goes on to point out that "Mark Twain's 'A Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court' is an emanation from 'Sam Slick, the Connecticut Clockmaker.' 'Innocents Abroad' is inspired by the same model."

Not only did later writers get ideas for characters and situations from Haliburton but they also used some of his words and expressions verbatim or almost verbatim. For, as this same commentator points out, "The one most quoted expression from 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' is that 'Topsy' 'just growed.' That is cribbed directly from 'Sam Slick' who was read and quoted in Harriet Beecher Stowe's family, as he was in every other family throughout the United States . . .

"We use the expression 'corn fed' and fancy it originated in our Middle West, but it comes from 'Sam Slick' who always described women in the terms which he uses for horses, one of his most commentary ones being 'fine forn fed.' "

As for "Sam Slick's" contribution to the evolution of our symbolical figure of Uncle Sam, this same writer declares "That figure with his shrewd smile, his goatee, striped trousers held down by long straps, the symbolical Uncle Sam—we are apt to think that he was hit upon by someone in a moment of inspiration and pictorially set forth to symbolize the United States. Not at all. This figure is 'Sam Slick,' the hero of 'The Clockmaker, or the Doings of Sam Slick of Slickville,' as conceived by Judge Haliburton and as drawn by Hervieu, a Frenchman, and Leech, the artist, who made Punch famous, to illustrate the English editions."

A glance at the illustrations at the top of this article will demonstrate the credibility of that theory. In the center is the figure of "Sam Slick," as delineated by Leech, the artist for Punch At the left is reproduced a picture which is generally accepted as the first known cartoon of a symbolical figure representing the United States It appeared in Punch in 1844 and although the name of the artist is unknown it may have been Leech.

At any rate, the resemblance between this figure and the figure of "Sam Slick," especially in the matter of costume and "long-leggedness" is striking. It represents a young man, of decidedly flippant tendencies, thumbing his nose at the spectators and was intended to depict the rowdy young nation of the United States. The symbol of this nation was "Brother Jonathan" as "John Bull" was the symbol of England.

The First Uncle Sam.

The picture on the right is usually regarded as the first American cartoon of Uncle Sam. It was drawn by F. Bellow and was published in the New York Lantern, a comic weekly, on March 13, 1852. In it is pictured an amused young man, wearing the high beaver hat, tight trousers, low-cut waistcoat, high collar and bow tie in which he is still portrayed. The costume is the same as "Sam Slick's" and even the face resembles Sam's. The only difference is that Uncle Sam's trousers are striped.

It will be noted that Uncle Sam was then a beardless young man. English and American cartoonists continued to portray him thus down to the days of the Civil war. Then Thomas Nast, one of the greatest cartoonists this country ever produced, began making some changes in Uncle Sam's appearance. It was Nast who put chin whiskers on him and made him the kindly old gentleman that we know. It is said that Nast had in mind Abraham Lincoln when he began depicting Uncle Sam. He also added the familiar starred vest and striped coat and put stars on his hat. Since that time, cartoonists generally have followed Nast's lead in portraying Uncle Sam.

But the essential fact is that he is the tall gangling man in tight trousers, swallow-tailed coat, high collar, bow tie and tall hat and represents the spirit of America. Typifying America in both costume and spirit, he traces directly back to the typical American character created by a Canadian judge more than a hundred years ago—"Sam Slick, the Connecticut Yankee."

Haliburton the Historian.

Haliburton was not a writer of humorous works only. Some of his more serious works included "Rule and Misrule of the English in America" and the first authoritative history of Nova Scotia. Incidentally, Longfellow is said to have drawn part of his inspiration for writing "Evangeline" from this history. But Judge Haliburton could not be very serious even about his serious work. Concerning this history he once said that "Next to Mr. Slick's History of Cattyhunk in Five Volumes, it (this history) is the most authoritative account of unimportant things I have ever seen." However, the government authorities of Nova Scotia thought enough of it to recognize it with a ceremonious speech of appreciation in the house of assembly.

In 1850 Haliburton retired from the supreme court and went to England to live. In 1859 he was elected as a conservative in the house of commons and held his seat there until its dissolution in 1865. Because of ill health, he declined a re-election. The University of Oxford conferred the degree of D. C. L. upon him a short time before his death at Isleworth, England, on August 27, 1865.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

AS TO PERSHING'S SUGGESTION

NEW YORK.—General Pershing says that we ought to sell 50 "obsolete" destroyers to England to save our own country from Germany. On the same subject George Fielding Eliot says:

"The question which we have to ask ourselves is a plain one. It ought not to be befuddled by such non-essentials as whether the transfer of destroyers to Great Britain would or would not be 'an act of war'. It would be of course, but that is only an academic question . . . The legal definitions of international conduct . . . are now obsolete."

It seems that everything is now obsolete as far as it suits the purpose of those who are hell-bent on getting this country into a war for which it is completely unprepared

The destroyers are "obsolete." Our own engagements in treaties and conventions and the things we have always stood and sometimes fought for are, in international law, "obsolete"

As to the destroyers being "obsolete" If they are, how does it happen, as men of this opinion intimate or argue, that the battle of Britain the fate of the world's freedom and the safety of our own country depend upon sending them to Britain? As an American officer said when it was being argued that we ought also to send over a million "obsolete" Springfield rifles, "No rifle is obsolete that will kill a man with an aimed shot at 1,500 yards—especially when you have nothing with which to replace it."

A ship doesn't necessarily become "obsolete" or "surplus" simply because it is 16 years old.

Nobody has shown this more clearly and honestly than Major Eliot. I don't know his qualifications as a naval expert, but applying well known published naval standards and opinions as to the proper ratio of destroyers to battleships, Major Eliot showed that practically none of these destroyers is surplus or can be taken without stripping our own navy. They are no more "surplus" than "obsolete."

Just as a sidelight, most of them are armed with four-inch and three-inch guns, as well as with anti-aircraft guns. Except for World war 75 mm. artillery (about three-inch), cannon of higher caliber and anti-aircraft guns are what we do not have, what we most need and what we have the least prospect of getting quickly.

In Mr. Knudsen's last progress report as published, "bottle-neck" items of procurement were discussed as well as those in which there were no bottle-necks. But he didn't mention cannon. He probably didn't mention them because the trouble there isn't just a bottle-neck. It's a needle's eye and a flock of camels.

Major Eliot is very frank and very accurate in calling the shipment of destroyers an "act of war." It is war itself. But it is vicarious war—undercover war. The kind of war we have always condemned and pledged ourselves not to wage. The weakness of this position seems to me to be this: Our policy always has been not to be aggressors in any war. We fight only when we are attacked or threatened.

These war minded men are put in the position of having to say, and they do say, that we are so threatened now—to the death. If that is not true, then we ought not to go to war—even to this blind-pig, bootleg war. If it is true, then we ought to go to war tomorrow—with everything we have. In a fight to a knockout you can't "hit soft."

* * *

LINDBERGH AND PERSHING

You can get a sample taste of what "can happen here" from the debate in the senate blasting Charles Lindbergh's speech.

Three New Deal senators, than whom there are none whicher, danced around the torture stake: Minton, Pepper and—with deep blushes for my own home state of Oklahoma—that ineffable ex-teacher of elocution and Desarte, Josh Lee.

These gentlemen offered to disembowel Lindbergh for saying that if we are going to do business at all after this war is over, we will have to do it with both victor and vanquished, even if the victor is Germany, that we shall have to reconcile ourselves to this idea and that it would be wise to try to intercede to stop this war before it destroys any more of civilization.

Some journals imply that Lindbergh's speech had been ghost-written by Nazis and contrasted it with General Pershing's urging that we send part of our navy—50 destroyers—into this war by the subterfuge of "selling" them.

I disagree with part of what Lindbergh said, but the man who denies his right to say it as being un-American convicts himself thereby of an un-American state of mind out-Hitlering Hitler

Black Jack at 80 is still one of the world's great soldiers, but he knows as little naval strategy as I George Eliot unconsciously "obsoleted" his text at the moment of its utterance However, it may later be dragooned by the apostate Knox I happen to know that the navy doesn't agree with General Pershing

PATTERN DEPARTMENT SEWING CIRCLE

REMEMBER how nice you used to look and feel when you tripped off to school in a fresh white blouse with a sailor collar? Well, if you're in the junior size range, you can take upon yourself that same naive, engaging charm, by making this frock with sailor collar and rows and rows of braid. Design No. 8738 has very soft and feminine lines, however sailorfied its spirit, because the skirt has smart unpressed front fulness and the blouse is gathered to round out your bustline.

Carry out the nautical idea by making it up in blue chambray with white braid, white linen with navy braid, or beige with scarlet. It's a good style for checked gingham and sharkskin, too Send for the pattern right now. Be among the first to wear it!

Pattern No. 8738 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 13 requires 4½ yards of 35-inch material without nap; 8½ yards braid. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No ..... Size .....
Name .....
Address .....

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Delicate colors in washing materials will not fade if before being washed they are soaked in tepid water to which a few drops of turpentine have been added.

* * *

Grass stains can easily be removed from linens, cottons or white stockings by rubbing the stains with molasses before washing.

* * *

The backs of pictures should be inspected from time to time. If there are any holes in the paper, fresh pieces should be pasted over them, or dust will get in.

* * *

When stewing fruit, add the sugar just before taking the fruit off the stove. In this way far less sugar is needed than if it is put in at the beginning.

* * *

When folding a bedspread back for the night begin at the top of the spread and fold it toward the foot of the bed in half. Then fold from each end toward the center, forming a triangle, the point of which is toward the head and the base toward the foot of the bed. Hold the point and fold it smoothly over the footboard. To unfold, follow in reverse order.

* * *

When laundering curtains of voile, scrim or any material which has to be ironed, if they are folded so the selvage ends are together and ironed, they will hang perfectly even and straight.

A BIG HELP TO HEALTH!

Nation needs more vitamins and minerals — U. S. Department of Agriculture

See how you're helped by delicious oranges!

Hardly one family in two now gets enough vitamins and minerals to permit radiant good health. So enjoy oranges liberally—daily! Eat them for healthful refreshment. Or keep ready a big pitcher of fresh orangeade.

An 8-ounce glass of fresh orange juice gives you all the vitamin C you normally need each day—and one-third of the vitamin B1. It also supplies vitamins A and G, and the minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron.

Sunkist brings you the pick of California's finest-ever crop of summer oranges. Buy a supply next time you buy groceries.

Copyright, 1940, California Fruit Growers Exchange

Sunkist

CALIFORNIA ORANGES

Best for Juice—and Every use!

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Around Iowa

No Air Raid.

Earlville firemen turned out en masse recently when the fire-siren went off, and the switch stuck on contact. After about five minutes of continual "shrieking" Driver Merle Sawyer managed to open the circuit and stop the alarm. It is reported that some citizens were of the opinion that it was an air raid alarm, and sought safety in their cellars.

oOo

Hard-Boiled.

Upon investigating an ordor of burning feathers near his car, John Knipper, Dyersville, discovered one of his White Rock hens perched on the manifold. Not only that, he found five eggs laid all in a row between the manifold and the engine -- all hard boiled. Outside of a few scorched feathers, the hen apparently suffered no harm.

-oOo-

Jumped.

Luther Mitchell and Everett Eddy, Spirt Lake, didn't wait for the train to hit their car which was partly on the tracks, before getting out. The only injuries suffered by the two were caused by barb fire fences and other hindrances which got into their way as they escaped.

oOo

Superstitious.

Contractor Frank Elben, Cumberland, will have nothing to do with a job that starts on Friday. Therefore, Elben hurriedly started working on a job one Thursday evening recently, if it would have been impossible to do that, he would have delayed starting until Saturday.

-oOo-

Smoke, But No Fire.

As a rule where there's smoke, here's fire, but when Pomeroy Night Watchman Henry Voss discovered smoke coming from a local lunchroom he could find no flames. They discovered that the smoke was coming from an ice cream refrigerator motor which was burned out.

-oOo-

Runaway.

Very likely we would all be as surprised as Nevin Lee and W. W. Vernon, Polk City, were when a large transport truck came rolling through the front porch of the Nevin home. No sooner had the driver gotten out of the truck, thinking he had set the brakes than it started rolling down an incline. Neither Lee nor Vernon were seriously hurt.

-oOo-

Decided.

For some time indefinite plans have made for building a new theater in Grundy Center. Last week, a fire, wihch practically destroyed the old theater, finally decided the matter for its owner, Frank Rubel of Des Moines. Plans for a new building are now being discussed.

-oOo-

Lucky.

"Chick" Rubner, Worthington, can thank his lucky stars that he lived to tell the story when lightning struck the wrist watch he was wearing.

-oOo-

Oldest?

Janice and Joyce Walderbach, Anamosa have a pet which they would hate to trade for anything. It is a 31-year-old horse, which was their father's pony when he was a boy. Though stiff in the joints and preferring to walk rather than trot, Dolly still remembers the tricks taught her when she was younger.

oOo

Up and Down.

Twice the stone retaining wall, which is being built on an embankment of the Knoxville high school stadium, has been washed down by the recent rains. At last reports, it was still "down," but efforts were being made to make it stick aganist the bank.

-oOo-

Six.

Various reasons were given for the causes of six accidents in 72 hours occurring near Decorah. Fortunately, no one was seriously injured.

-oOo-

Exploded.

An explosion of a steel water tank in the engine room in the basement of the Laurel consolidated school near Baxter, hurled the tank through the floor into the domestic science roon. It is thought that gas coming from a deep well which supplies the tanks with water caused the explosion.

oOo

No Chance.

A small wire-haired terrior, Jiggs, belonging to Hugh Eckels, Seymour, had no difficulty in killing a rat which ran right into his nose. The force carried the rat into the astonished dog's mouth.

-oOo-

Saved.

The curiosity of two Sioux City police officers undoubtedly saved the life of Gordon Issenhuth of Akron. Noticing smoke coming from the car, the officers stopped and discovered Issenhuth alone in the car and asleep. The upholstery behind the steering wheel was smouldering and beginning to ill flame. Issenhuth suffered no effects and damage to the car amounted to very little.

oOo

Returned.

A silver trimned rosewood baseball bat, which was won by the Adel baseball team back in the '70's at a tournament played at Marshalltown, is again in Adel. The trophy has been in the hands of different people in various parts of the country, but was sent back to Adel by Park Garoutte of Denver, who thought its rightful place was in Adel. L. V. Russell now has it in his possession. All members of the winning team are now dead.

FEEDING HUNGRY TREES MAY BE DONE IN FALL

Fertilizing shade trees to produce more luxuriant growth and foliage, though most effectively done early in the spring, can be done in the fall if that time of the year is more convenient, says John R. Fitzsimmons, extension landscape architecture specialist at the Iowa State College.

He recommends a complete fertilizer, 10-8-6 formula - which contains 10 per cent nitrogen, 8 per cent phosphorus and 6 per cent potash. The dosage of fertilizer may be calculated as follows. add the height of the tree in feet to the spread of the branches in feet to the trunk circumference in inches. The resulting figure is the number of pounds of 10-8-6 formula needed for the tree.

Application Formula

The "punch bar" method is recommended by Fitzsimmons for application of the fertilizer. Holes are punched in the grounnd to the depth of 8 to 24 inches in a wide, irregular surface under the outer spread of the branches. Measure the diameter of the tree trunk at breast height and punch 10 holes for each inch of the diameter. For example, if the tree is 8 inches through at breast height, 80 holes would be punched.

Water Thoroughly

The required amount of fertilizer should be divided equally among all the holes, which are then partly filled with dirt; the entire area is given a thorough watering to carry the fertilizer into the ground and make it availabe to the roots.

Oats discolored by rains are not injured for hog feeding unless the discoloration is accompanied by mold or rot.

HEALTH SERVICE ACTION CUTS WASHING OF FRUIT

Action taken by the federal Public Health Service to increase the tolerance on the amount of lead and arsenic on commercial apples means that many Iowa growers will not have to brush or wash their fruit this fall.

Lewis T. Graham, Iowa State College entomologist, says that the new tolerance for apples is 0.05 grain of lead and arsenic and .025 grain of arsenic trioxide per pound of fruit. The old tolerance was .02 grain of lead and .01 grain of arsenic trioxide.

Growers who hesitated to apply a late second brood spray because they figured they were too close to the old tolerance can now go ahead with late sprays, where needed, with less danger of exceeding the tolerance limitations.

Growers can check on the amount of spray residue on their fruit by sending representative samples to the state chemist at Des Moines.

PONDS SOMETIMES SUPPLEMENT WELLS ON FARMS

During recent years of dry weather, water shortages have prompted many Iowa farmers to build ponds for water supply Agricultural engineers at Iowa State College say that in sections of the state where attempts to dig new wells have been expensive and unsuccessful, ponds have been put to use with good results.

They are not in favor, of course, in sections where good reliable wells are available. But in areas of water shortage many have been constructed with the help of the Soil Conservtion Service. Also, some private contractors in these areas are equipped for the work. Whether the subsoil is tight or open will determine largely whether a pond will be successful.

Determine Size

The size of the pond depends upon the amount of water needed and the intended storage period. In Iowa a supply to last 4 months is considered enough, except during extreme drouth. With the storage period determined, the size of the pond can be estimated from the daily consumption. Water consumed daily by a mature horse is about 7 gallons, and for poultry about 6 gallons; a hog or sheep, 3 gallons, and for poultry about one-twelfth gallon for each bird.

Allowances should be made for losses due to seepage and exaporation. For a 50,000-gallon seasonal requirement, the pond should have a capacity of about 125,000 gallons.

25,000 Gallons Per Acre

One difficulty has been found in drainage areas which are too large, resulting in expensive maintenance of either dams or spillways, or both An annual run-off of 2-inches of water over the drainage area is thought satisfactory This would provide 54,175 gallons of water per acre of drainage area. If 46 per cent of this is available after drainage and seepage, each acre should provide 25,000 gallons of water.

In Iowa, farm ponds usually are made by the building of earth dams. The pond should not be located in a deep gulley, as it will then gradually fill will silt.

MANY ARE PUTTING SORGHUM INTO THEIR SILOS

Yields More Per Acre Than Corn But Is Worth Less Per Pound

Atlas Sorgo or other sorghum crops are being grown for silage should be left to mature as long as is safe before danger of frost, says H. D. Hughes, head of farm crops at Iowa State College.

Farmers will begin ensiling the crop about the middle of September, and will contmue until the first of October. Tho deadline will vary in different sections of the state.

Atlas More Popular

Atlas Sorgo is the most popular sorghum crop in the state, Hughes said, and its increase in tonnage has been phenomenal. It is valued both for its high tonnage and it strength of stalk. Developed at the Kansas Experiment Station, the crop is classed as a late variety in Iowa.

Farmers in northern Iowa have been using Atlas with good results, but are having better luck with Waconia Orange. It is an earlier variety, but the yield is somewhat the same as that of Atlas. Also it is not so green and full of sap at cutting time. The Iowa Experiment Station has been distributing Waconia Orange seed for several years and recommends it as a sirup sorghum.

Outyields Corn

Growing sorghums for grain is not generally practiced in Iowa, Hughes says, because fall rains cause the heads to rot and mold, and the crop is difficult to cure and save.

Sorghums yield about 50 per cent more tonnage than corn under similar conditins, and the acre-value is cnsiderably greater On a pound-for-pound basis, however, corn silage is worth more than sorghum silage.

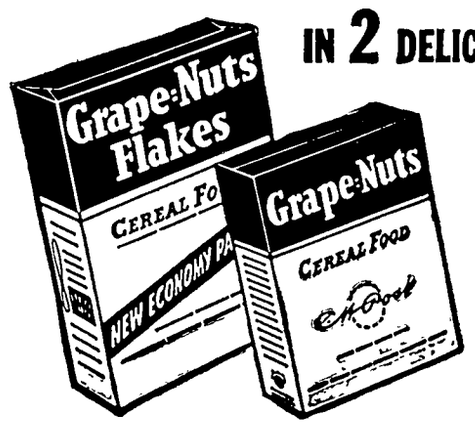
New strains of hybrid sweet corn are resistant to ear-worm damage.

"Safety takes the ... Accidents." Hancock ... Council.

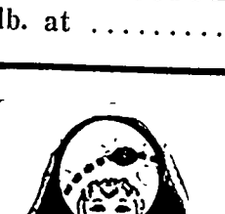
Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

K. F. M. Specia...
Friday and Saturday, Aug. 3...
THE SAME DELICIOUS FLAVOR
IN 2 DELICIOUS FORMS!

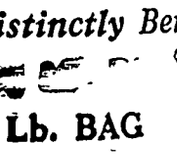


BOTH FOR ONLY 29c
FOLGERS COFFEE 1 lb. at 26c
FOLGERS COFFEE 2 lbs at .....



Miss Minneapolis Flour
Distinctly Better
49 Lb. BAG $
Look for the Valuable Coupon in the Ba...
TOILET TISSUE 5 rolls for 26c
BAKING POWDER Calumet, lg. can ...
SOAP Swift's Quick Naptha 8 bars.... 2...
MUSTARD, French Style, qt. jar 15c
CLEANSER Sunbrite, per can ....

6 pkgs. 25c



per b... 25c
Klemme Food Marke...
MONARCH STORE
C. A. LARSEN, ...

STEEL or WOOD BINS?

We have a COMBINATION BARGAIN on STEEL BINS, at less than 10 cents per bushel for 1,000 and 2,000 bushel bins.

THE TWO FOR

$275.00

BUY THIS COMBINATION!

Material for WOOD BINS 10x18 which will be very useful when empty, for as little as

$85 to $90

. . . according to what you want in them. These Wood Bins can be built so that they can later be used for a Garage, Hog House, etc.

Investigate Before You Buy!

Northern Lumber Co.

"Northco" Products

Klemme, Iowa

eman's 8-day tour in received one shock
e up in the hospital
ded her husband's
, and still another ge said young wives themselves get into about this strange in The American magazine distributed ek's Sunday Chicago an.

rs cut their acreage crops 5 per cent this intained recent gains
ing crop acreages,
ct that participations rogram declined.

ff F.E. Blackstone

& Blackstone AWYERS
Iowa

VEAR
lch's
NDARD
RALLS
MENT GUARANTEED
our Dealer

MUST SELL OUR

CARS and TRUCKS

tter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find
TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT.
ains in late models. You take no chances when you us. Come in and look them over.

arner Motor Sales

BILE CHEVROLET

FELCO

Line:

AIN • COAL • FEEDS—
eed Grinding, and Feed Mixing
• Salt, Seed, Twine, and Flour
— COME IN —

emme Co-Operaitve Grain Company

mers Elevator" C. C. Kilgore, Mgr.

ED CAR SALE

tinued!

se of bad weather of the past week, we are con-r Harvest Clearance Sale of Used Cars. We have mber of cars the past week, but we still have a ion to choose from.

need a BETTER CAR than the one you are now me in and pick out one of our BETTER USED e will take your present car in on trade.

llowing cars are listed on our Harvest Clearance

ntiac	1934 Ford V-8
rraplane	1935 Chevrolet
evrolet	1933 Chevrolet
rd V-8	1931 Ford
rd V-8	1931 Hudson
ntiac	1931 Chevrolet
ymouth	1929 Chevrolet

tock includes two door sedans, town sedans, all priced for quick sale. Come in today and pick ar.

e featuring cars that are in fine mechanical conn inside and out, and on good tires.

- PHONE 93 -

nme Auto Company

iac Sales & Service Klemme, Iowa

Good dairy cows will give about 20 per cent more milk and butterfat if they are "dried off" for a month or 6 weeks and put into condition before calving.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:-
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League 7:30 p. m.
Epworth League Party Friday evening.

Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
E. L. and E. L Social as above
Birthday Social Sept. 2nd

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10 00 a m English Service
11:00 a. m. Sunday School.
8:00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
8:00 p. m Thursday
Men's Chorus

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Burned.

The year-old-son of Mr. and Mrs. George Seidel, George, Jr., burned his feet and hands when he stepped upon a hot metal disc lying in the sun in the yard.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Lorenzo Smith and Rosalle To J L. Dufee, Q C Deed, 8-17-40, $1. W. 8 acres of E 23 acres of N 40 A of SWP 33-96-25

Florence E. Peterson, widow, and Anna Marie Peterson, single, To Mabel C. Love, Wty Deed, 8-14-40, $425 Lot 2, Blk 19, Orig. Town of Garner

The Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co To Rudolph F Schaefer and Minnie, Wty Deed, 8-8-40 $33,420 50. W½ frl Sec 6 & that part of NE¼ frl Sec 6 lying N & W of center dredge ditch all in 96-26.

E. H and Agnes Jacobsen To Emily Bravik, Wty Deed, 8-20-40 $1. Lot 1, Grace Fisk's Add to the Town of Britt.

Mabel Vietmeier and Walter C hus., et al To Elizabeth Hinder and Ida Vietmeier, Wty Deed, 12-21-38, $1. Und three-fifths of S½ 6-94-25 subj to mtge. of $8,000

Miriam B. Taylor, widow, et al To C H Paulson, Q C Deed, 7-31 40, $50 Lot 3, Britt Boat Club Division of NE¼ 14-96-25.

Lloyd M Bentsen and Edna Ruth, wf To J L Dunfee, Wty Deed, 8-15-40, $2.000 Lot 12, Auditor's Plat Add to Britt.

J. P and Thelma P. Wolpe, To Zion Church of the Nazarene, Britt, Wty Deed, 8-21-40, $1. W½ NW¼ Blk 4, Stubbin's Add. to Britt.

Lloyd A and Maude Brugman To C I Snyder, Q C Deed, 8-22-40 $1. Lot 5, Blk 17 Tallman's Add to Garner.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FIRE PROTECTION AT LOW Cost—A necessity for every farm and home. Fyr-Fyter Extinguishers cost little and often save thousands. Elmer Ax, Distributor

FOR SALE—WE HAVE A GOOD Assortment of Used Heaters, Ranges and Wash Machines at Bargain prices. Jacobs Hardware. 1tc

FOR SALE—A GOOD TENNIS Racket and Case. $1.50. Times Office 1tc

FOR SALE—ONE 18 INCH JOHN Deere Tractor Plow. Northern Implement Shop. 1tc

$450.00 PLAYER PIANO AND Rolls. I will let it go for $39.00 $5 a month to reliable party. Write today and I will tell you when my piano can be seen in Klemme Write Mrs. Mary Schultz, Route 5, Box 229A, Waukesha, Wis. 2tp

FOR SALE—USED TIRES AND Tubes, all sizes and makes Many good tires at bargain prices Herman Paul. tfc

FOR SALE— LEATHER, CORD and Cover Fly Nets at Kimball's Leather Store. J12tfc

RUBBER STAMPS—A 2 LINE stamp with your name and address for 60c. Times Print Shop.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company tfc

FOR SALE - GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

NOTICE—DON'T WAIT UNTIL the rush begins, let us do your Furnace Repairing early. Order parts at once from Jacobs Hardware 1tc.

FARMERS — SELL YOUR SURplus machinery, live stock, etc. with a want ad in this column. One cent per word does the trick.

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS— printed on 200 sheets and 100 envelopes for only $1. Your choice of type styles, ink and papers. Times Office. tfc

NEW FIXTURES INSTALLED IN LEWIS RADIO REPAIR SHOP

"Stub" Lewis has improved the radio repair department of his store by installing a new type of work table which is complete with twenty large drawers for repair parts and tools and which also contains a large instrument panel, electric outlets, lighting, etc. The new work table is conveniently arranged for two men doing repair work.

Shelving has also been re-arranged in the work shop and more storage space has been gained for a large stock of radio tubes, batteries and parts carried in stock for quick service

LIBERTY HOMEMAKERS MEET

An interesting discussion on the art and methods of baking with lard was given by Mrs. Aaron Stromer to Liberty township Homemakers last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Stromer The talk included a recipe for chocolate cake, using lard as only shortening The business meeting was taken up by the election of officers for the coming year. A few games and stunts were played before refreshments were served.

Mrs. Erwin Moll was elected new Township Chairman; Mrs. H. A Greiman, Music Chairman; Mrs. Richard Ax, Health Chairman, and Mrs. Paul Stromer, Publicity Chairman

The following leaders were appointed District No.1, Mrs. Ray Haberkamp; No. 2 and 3, Mrs. Frank Bredlow; No. 4 and 5, Mrs. Clarence Lenz, No. 6, Mrs. Ben F Greiman, No 7, Mrs. Howard Spitler, No 8, Mrs. Emory Schaefer; and No. 9, Mrs. Roy Schaefer.

The following ladies will act as cooperators No 1, Mrs. Richard Brouwer; No. 2, Mrs. Ben Reimer, No 3, Mrs. Frank Tlach; No. 4, Mrs Kenneth Schieltz; No. 5, Mrs. Aaron Stromer; No. 6, Mrs. Albert Kehl; No 7, Mrs. John Albers; No 8, Mrs. Kenneth Zwald, and No. 9, Mrs Kermit Stulle.

J. T. BIRTHDAY CLUB MET AT MRS. FITZPATRICK HOME

The J T. Birthday Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Fitzpatrick where the afternoon was spent in playing bridge High scores for the afternoon was won by Mrs. Martin Barz while low score was held by Mrs. Clark of Clear Lake Lunch was served after the games.

Guests invited were Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Clear Lake; and Mrs. Orville Bridges and Miss Lorraine Buntenbach.

TWO MOVIE SHOWS WILL BE GIVEN IN KLEMME THIS WEEK

Because of the rain last Saturday night, the open air movie for that evening was postponed until Thursday night of this week. The regular show on Saturday night will also be given this week.

ALL ALIENS IN HANCOCK COUNTY ARE REQUIRED TO REGISTER SOON

Registrations of all aliens 14 years of age and over, residing in Hancock county starting Tuesday, August 27th and will continue until December 26th at two post-offices, Garner and Britt.

Carl O. Roe is the postmaster at Garner and A. W. Lee is the postmaster at Britt.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation for the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy and condolence extended by friends and neighbors during the recent illness and death of our Mother.
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lau

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. Verner Christie, south of Klemme, are the parents of a baby girl born to them at the Belmond maternity home, Thursdaynoon, August 22nd.

Aid Group Will Meet

The "Galloping Group" of the Klemme Methodist Ladies Aid Society will meet this week Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Verner Nelson in Avery township. Mrs. W. F. Missman is co-hostess.

PARENTS CAN CO-OPERATE TO KEEP SCHOOL ATTENDANCE UP

Should Watch Children And Keep Them Home When Ill

General school attendance probably would increase between 20 and 30 per cent this fall if all parents would insist upon keeping their children at home when they show signs of disease, the Iowa state departmen of health asserted today.

The department said that by refusing to allow sick children to attend classes. parents would help "immeasurably" in preventing the spread of disease. The net result, it was claimed, would be seen in better school attendance.

Measles, whooping cough and scarlet fever were particularly named as diseases in which "every effort to observe isolation regulations should be made" Case rates are generally high for these diseases, the department said, because parents do not report mild, undiagnosed cases and infectious children who should be at home are allowed to go to school.

"This laxity creates a vicious trend," it was added. "The infectious disease from one home is taken to the school where children of other families become infected and carry the disease to their homes. If parents in the latter homes are equally lax, an epidemic may develop."

The department urged parents to forget the idea of "100 per cent school attendance" and keep the children home whenever they are ill and indisposed, especially when they have fever, headache, or nausea.

Isolation for whooping cough is 21 days after the first "whoop" develops, according to the department. Measles cases are isolated for a period of 10 days and scarlet fever cases for 21 days.

MRS. NAGLE FINDS FREAK EGG SMALL EGG WITHIN AN EGG!

Mrs. Fred Nagel brought a small egg to the Times office last Wednesday which she found on the inside of a perfect egg. It was an unusual freak and Mrs. Nagel says that it was the first time in seventy-six years she had ever found such a combination . . . and she added that she has cracked a lot of eggs in that time.

The approximate capacity, in acres per 10-hour day, of a field machine can be obtained by multilying its effective width, in feet, by the speed, in miles per hour, at which it is to be operated.

Soybean oilmeal can be used successfully as a primary protein in the poultry ration, but cannot eliminate the use of milk products or alfalfa meal in supplying vitamins.

A good fertilizer for shade trees is the 10-8-6 formula; it may be applied in the fall as well as in the spring.

DAIRY CATTLE CONGRESS OFFERS LARGE PREMIUMS

More than $20,000 in prize money will be shared by the five dairy breeds at the Dairy Cattle Congress in Waterloo, Iowa, this fall, announces E. S. Estel, secretary-manager.

The National Belgian Horse Show, companion feature to the congress, will award $5,000, and prize money in the 4-H Dairy Calf Show will be $4,172.

Dairy judges for the exposition, to be held Sept. 30 to Oct. 6, will be as follows: Holstiens, Prof. C. S. Rhode, Urbana, Ill; Guernseys, W. K. Hepburn, Hopewell Junction, N. Y.; Brown Swiss, J. P. Eves, Chicago, Ill.; Ayrshires, Cuthbert Nairn, Ellicott City, Md., and Jerseys, J. W. Ridway, San Antonio, Tex.

Judging the Belgian Show will be Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, head of the Animal Husbandry department of University of Missouri. More than 300 entries are expected.

Featured with the Dairy Cattle Congress and National Belgian Horse Show are the American Poultry Congress, International Waterfowl Exposition, Women's and Girl's Department, Official 4-H Contests, Dairy Products show, Saddle Horse show, Midwest Flower and Garden show, Midwest Rabbit and Hippodrome Circus.

FARMERS DECIDE TO RESEAL THEIR CORN

Rainy Weather Starts Talk of Saving Stored Crop For Another Year

Wet weather during the first half of August has stimulated considerable interest in resealing 1938 and 1939 corn, Iowa AAA officials reported this week.

The wet weather and subsequent cold weather deepened the possibility that some corn, especially in the northern part of the state, might be caught by an early frost if the next few weeks don't bring good corn-maturing weather.

Exceptional Quality

As a result, many farmers who had planned to deliver or feed out their 1938 and 1939 corn have decided to reseal it in view of its exceptionally good quality and the fact that the 1940 corn may be high in moisture content.

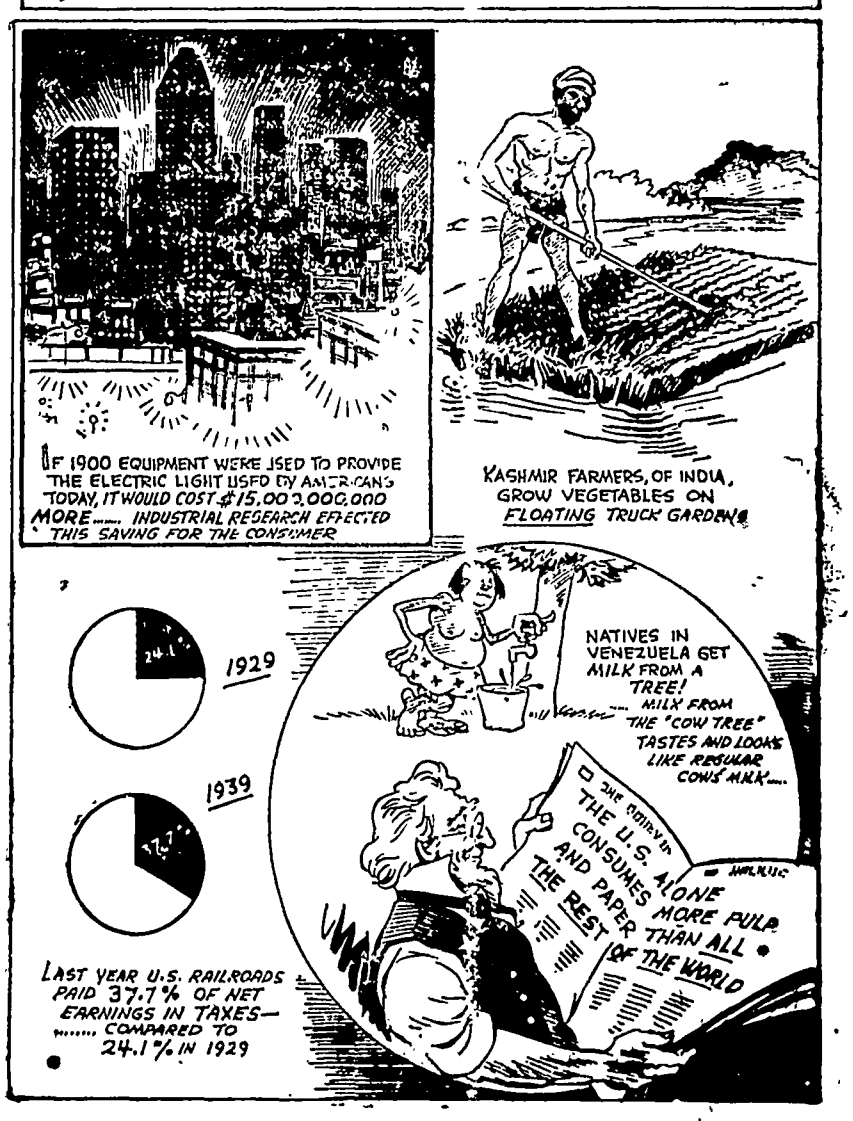
AAA officials at the state office at Des Moines also said that preliminary reports indicate that the 1940 corn is not too well filled out in some areas of the state and that the yeild is lower than previously expected.

No Deadline Yet

Farmers may reseal their corn, they said, anytime within the next few weeks. No deadline has been set, as yet, and the resealing privilege will probably be available until about the time provisions for the 1940 corn loan are announced.

The Commodity Credit Corporation will pay farmers 5 cents a bushel for resealing their corn for 1 year and 10 cents a bushel for agreeing to hold it on their farms for 2 years.

Accrued interest is canceled when the corn is resealed.



THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE
BY TOPPS
IF 1900 EQUIPMENT WERE USED TO PROVIDE THE ELECTRIC LIGHT USED BY AMERICANS TODAY, IT WOULD COST $15,000,000,000 MORE..... INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH EFFECTED THIS SAVING FOR THE CONSUMER
KASHMIR FARMERS, OF INDIA, GROW VEGETABLES ON FLOATING TRUCK GARDENS 1929
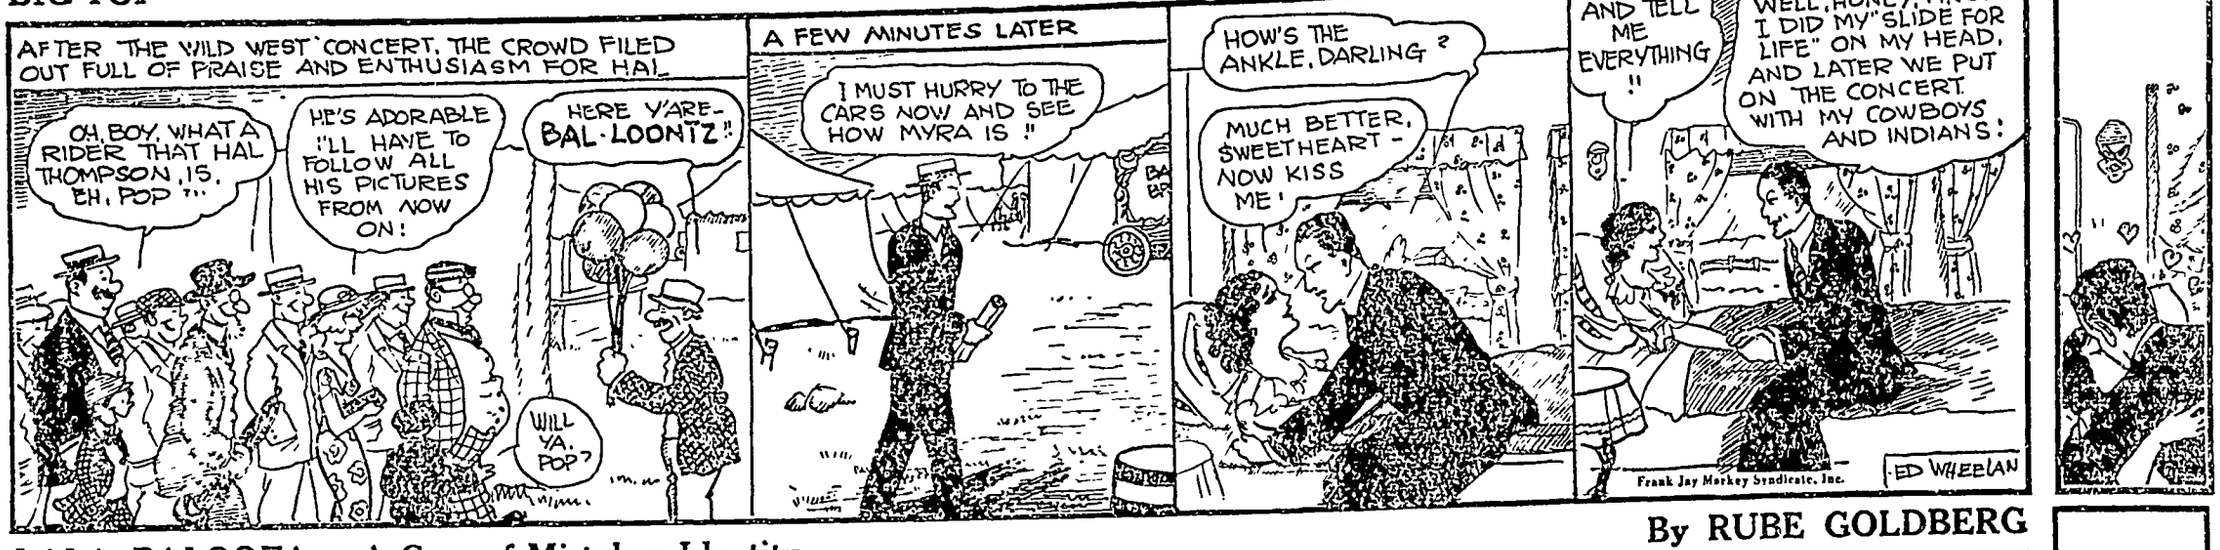
24.1%
1939
37.7%
NATIVES IN VENEZUELA GET MILK FROM A TREE! ..... MILK FROM THE "COW TREE" TASTES AND LOOKS LIKE REGULAR COWS MILK.....
ONE NEWSPAPER IN THE U.S. ALONE CONSUMES MORE PULP AND PAPER THAN ALL THE REST OF THE WORLD
LAST YEAR U.S. RAILROADS PAID 37.7% OF NET EARNINGS IN TAXES— ..... COMPARED TO 24.1% IN 1929

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

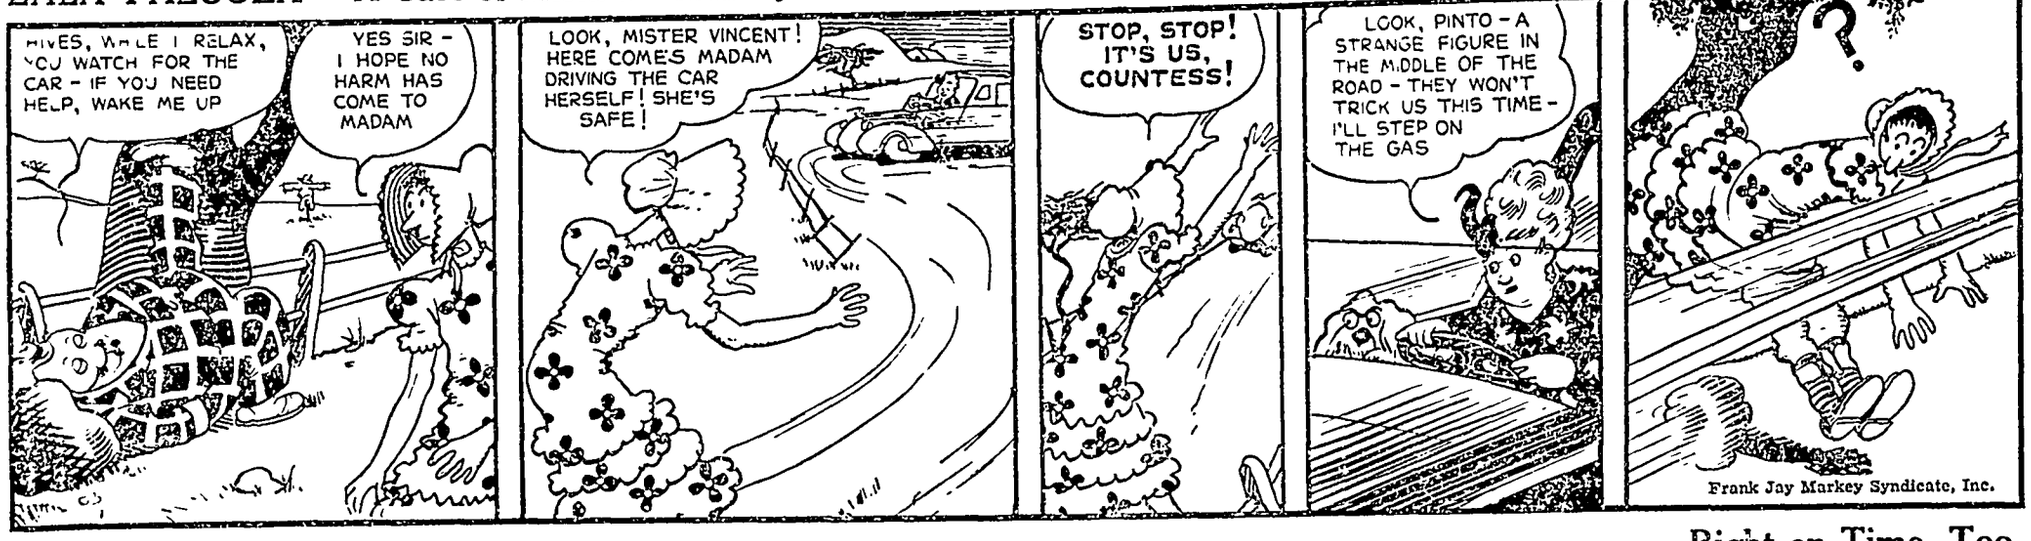
By ED WHEELAN



AFTER THE WILD WEST CONCERT, THE CROWD FILED OUT FULL OF PRAISE AND ENTHUSIASM FOR HAL
OH, BOY, WHAT A RIDER THAT HAL THOMPSON IS, EH, POP ?
HE'S ADORABLE I'LL HAVE TO FOLLOW ALL HIS PICTURES FROM NOW ON!
HERE Y'ARE- BAL-LOONTZ!
WILL YA, POP?
A FEW MINUTES LATER
I MUST HURRY TO THE CARS NOW AND SEE HOW MYRA IS !
HOW'S THE ANKLE, DARLING ?
MUCH BETTER, SWEETHEART - NOW KISS ME!
AND TELL ME EVERYTHING !!
WELL, HONEY, FIRST I DID MY "SLIDE FOR LIFE" ON MY HEAD, AND LATER WE PUT ON THE CONCERT WITH MY COWBOYS AND INDIANS!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
ED WHEELAN

LALA PALOOZA —A Case of Mistaken Identity

By RUBE GOLDBERG

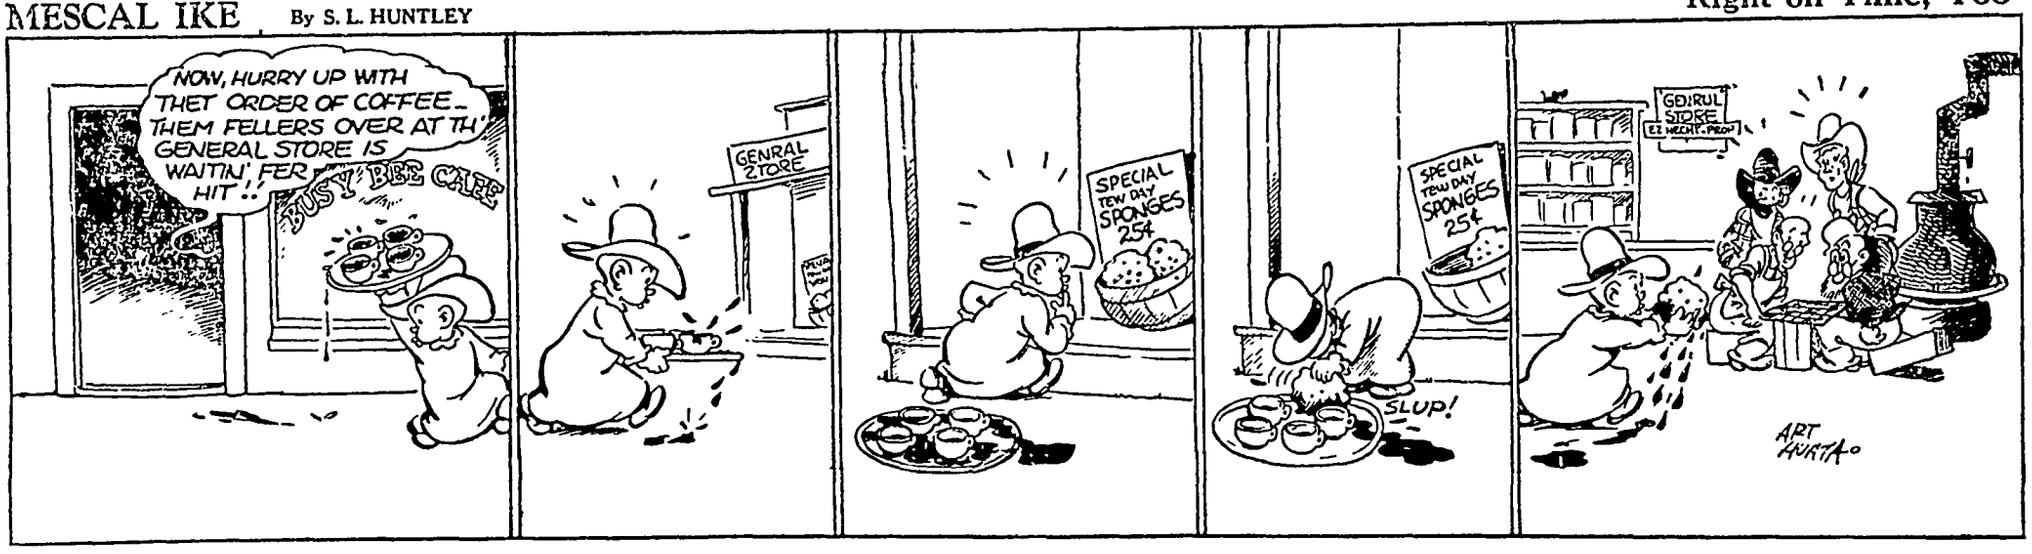


HIVES, WHILE I RELAX, YOU WATCH FOR THE CAR - IF YOU NEED HELP, WAKE ME UP
YES SIR - I HOPE NO HARM HAS COME TO MADAM
LOOK, MISTER VINCENT! HERE COMES MADAM DRIVING THE CAR HERSELF! SHE'S SAFE!
STOP, STOP! IT'S US, COUNTESS!
LOOK, PINTO - A STRANGE FIGURE IN THE MIDDLE OF THE ROAD - THEY WON'T TRICK US THIS TIME - I'LL STEP ON THE GAS
?
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

Right on Time, Too



NOW, HURRY UP WITH THET ORDER OF COFFEE - THEM FELLERS OVER AT TH' GENERAL STORE IS WAITIN' FER BUSY BEE CAFE
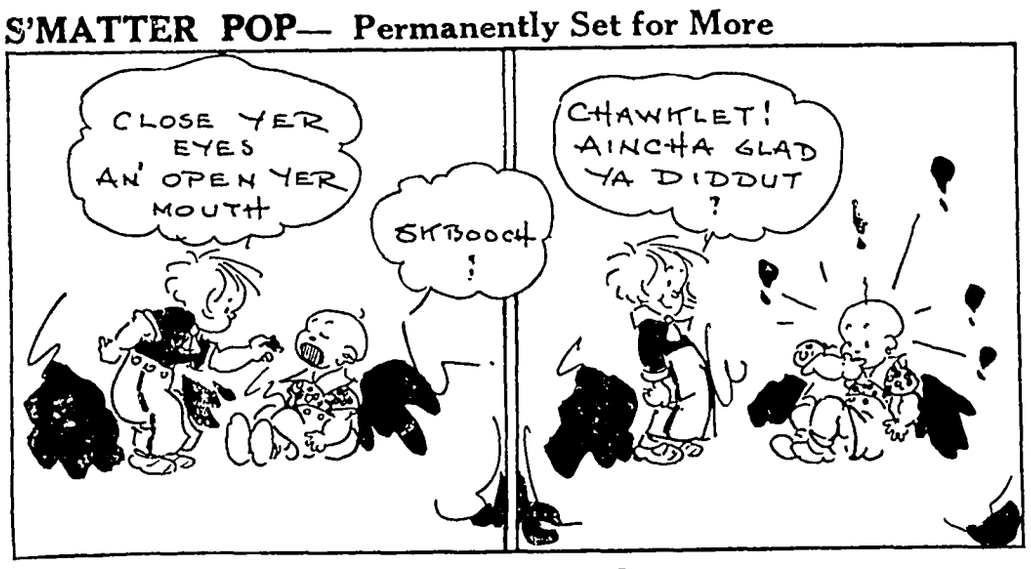
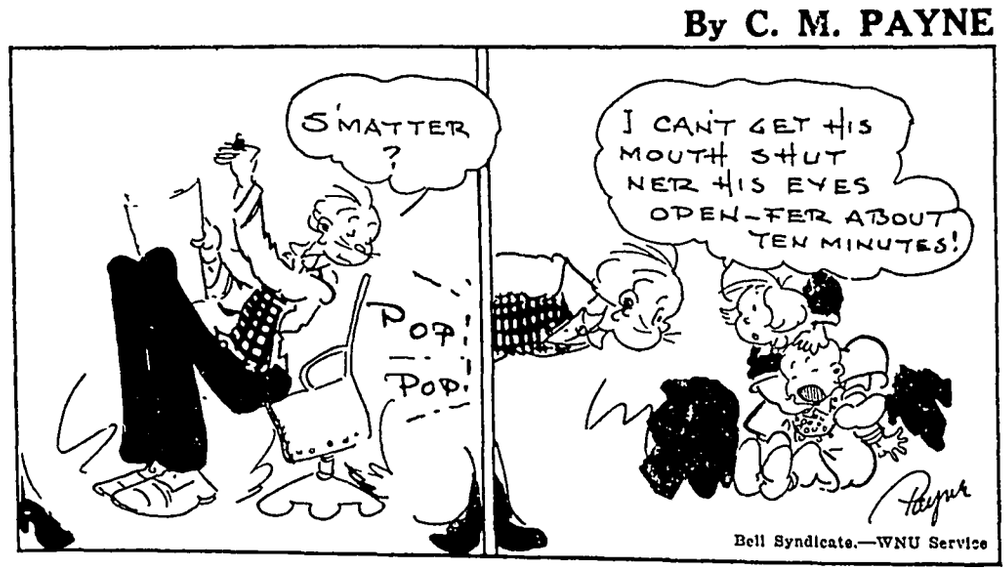
GENRAL STORE
SPECIAL TEW DAY SPONGES 25¢
SLUP!
GDIRUL STORE
ART HURTA

S'MATTER POP— Permanently Set for More

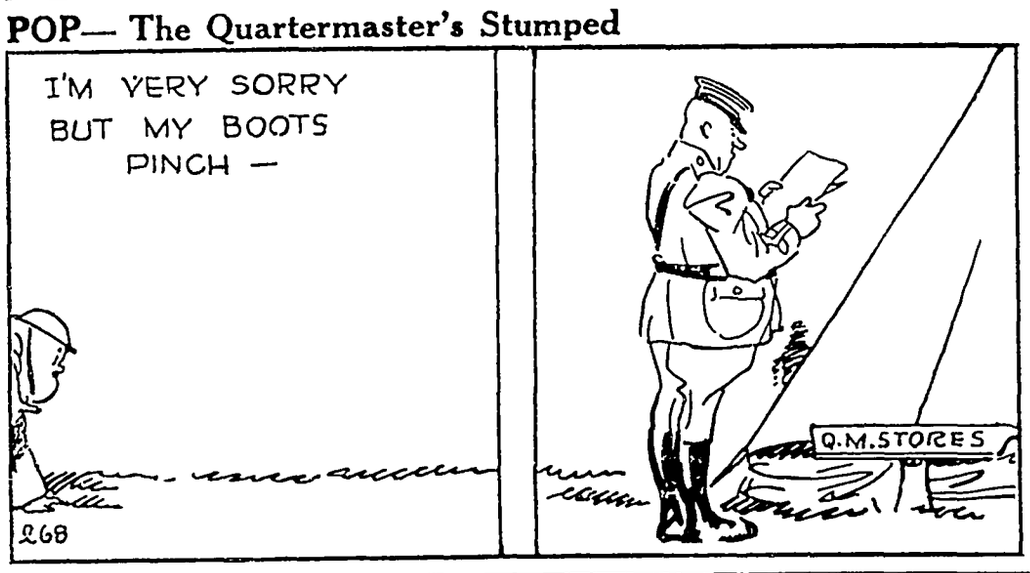
By C. M. PAYNE

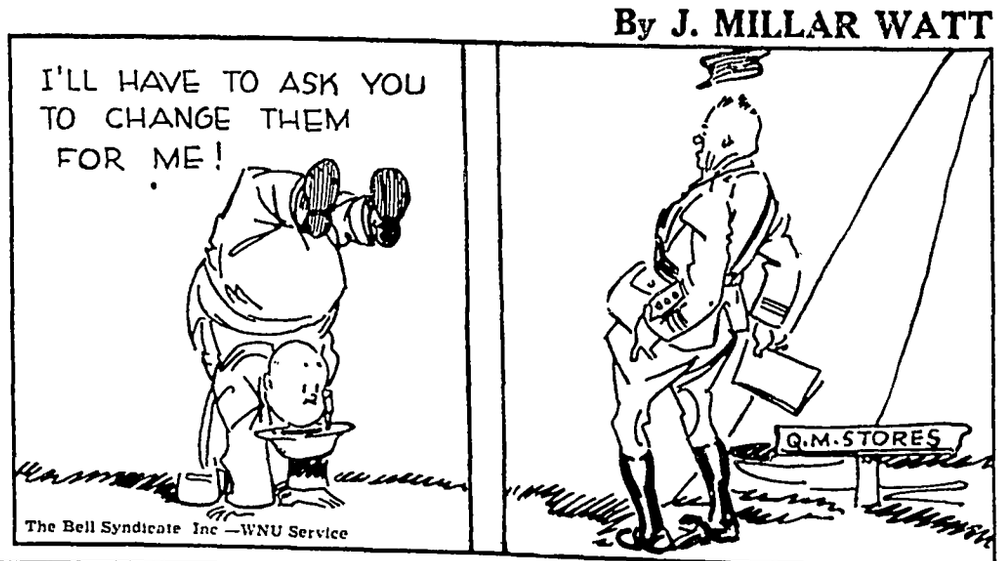




POP— The Quartermaster's Stumped

By J. MILLAR WATT





THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

"Ah-ah! Musn't point!"

UNFAIR AIR CORPS

Clara—Why did the air corps turn down Frank?

James—On account of his eyes.

Clara—Why, I think his eyes are lovely.

Nice Fellow

"What do you think of Jones?"

"He is one of those people that pat you on the back before your face, and hit you in the eye behind your back."

Ask Somebody Else

Young Man—Is there any time at which children cease to be a source of constant worry?

Old Man—I don't know. My oldest child is only 65.

Companions

Father (at 3 a. m., to restless baby son)—Now what are you crying about?

Infant—Wanta drink.

Father—So do I. Go to sleep!

FAMILY INSPECTION

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

SUBMITS TO FAMILY INSPECTION BEFORE STARTING FOR PARTY.
IS TOLD TO TAKE HIS HANDS OUT OF HIS POCKETS AND STRAIGHTEN OUT HIS SUIT.
AND FOR PITY'S SAKE NOT TO WEAR HIS HAT ON THE BACK OF HIS HEAD
AND TO FIX HIS HANDKERCHIEF WITH A CORNER SHOWING NEATLY
AND IT'S TOO BAD HE DIDN'T WEAR HIS BLUE TIE
LEAVES, REFLECTING ON THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF PLEASING A FAMILY.
Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service

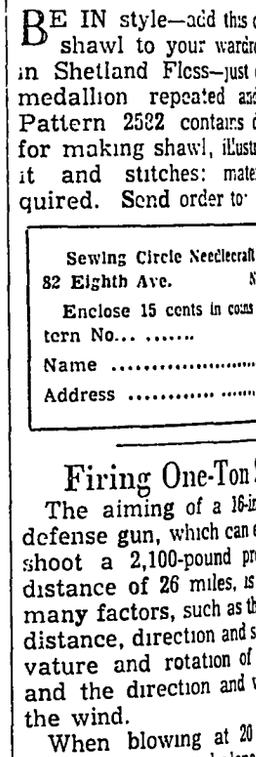
CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS
REPAIRS For Your FURNACE
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any
Have Your Dealer Order from
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR CO.

PATENTS
ORWIG & HAGUE
Patents, trade-marks, copyrights
Sixth Floor Crocker Bldg., Des Moines
Branch Office—Washington, D. C.

REMEDY
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS
A daily tonic—a real stomachic

Jiffy Crochet Shawl For Young and Old



Pattern No. 2582

BE IN style—add this crocheted shawl to your wardrobe. Make it in Shetland Floss—just one simple medallion repeated and joined. Pattern 2582 contains directions for making shawl, illustrations of it and stitches; material required. Send order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York
Enclose 15 cents in coins for each pattern No. .....
Name .....
Address .....

Firing One-Ton Shells

The aiming of a 16-inch defense gun, which can effectively shoot a 2,100-pound projectile a distance of 26 miles, is based on many factors, such as the rotation of the earth, distance, direction and speed of the wind, curvature and rotation of the earth and the direction and velocity of the wind.

When blowing at 20 miles an hour, a cross wind alone can carry this shell as much as 303 yards from its course during the 101 seconds that it is in the air.—Collier's.

RELIEVES SUNBURN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER at 5¢
MOROLL
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

Slow Pace

To climb steep hills requires slow pace at first.

Watch Your Kidneys

Help Them Cleanse the System of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. If kidneys sometimes lag in their work and do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful users the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

WNU—N

BEACON—SAFETY

●Like a beacon light, which shows the height—the advertisements in newspapers point you to newer, better, easier ways of procuring the things needed or desired. It shines as a beacon of news. The beacon of advertising—and it is to your advantage to follow it whenever you make a purchase.

Household News By Eleanor Howe

WHEN YOU PLAN A PICNIC FOR A CROWD
(Recipes Below.)

nunity picnics are fun! They opportunity for a carefree der the open sky—carefree the chairman in charge of if she's planned her program chosen her helpers wisely.

crowd to be served is a arge one, it's a good idea to have one committee member responsible for each main dish such as meat, potatoes, salad, dessert, and beverage, and one re- for extras such as buns, relishes, etc. There'll be a committee and a clean-up tee, as well.

s for four or five families ually co-operative affairs. amily may supply its own ut more often each one pro- e item in large enough quan- serve the crowd. One fam- t provide the salad, one the nd still another family the which might be watermel- uscious chocolate cake, or a full of old fashioned ice With a little planning, the n be fairly equally distriban outing is in the offing and to you to plan the menu for d, you'll find these picnic helpful.

lunch is being prepared at hoose foods that permit be- d preparation, and that are difficult to carry or to serve. ovide a fairly simple meal, nty of everything but not so ariety that it will cause con- nd lots of extra work.

less you are sure of a good upply, it's better to carry the om home.

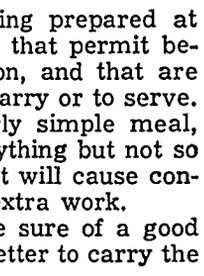
ry fruit juices, tomato juice in thermos bottles.

main dish for the picnic— ight be chili, baked beans, alloped potatoes, can be the day before, then in the brought to the boiling point, dutch oven or casserole in several thicknesses of er to retain the heat.

n't overlook the possibilities foods for picnic use. Quick- meats can be carried, with- even on a warm day. They t on the way to the picnic and will be ready to use.

find other picnic pointers ook book, "Easy Entertain- here are menus and tested for beach parties, hikes and ado beefsteak fry."

you write to me, won't you something about the "com- meals" oup has Do you nners for rch, for men's tions or farm bu- perhaps? any ped- ou serve at meals like this, t are your favorite menus? aiting to hear from you!



nor Howe is going to give ext week, some of her fa- recipes for cool, refresh- mer beverages, and dain- ies to serve with them. for this column next week.

nother's Ginger Cookies.
akes about 6 dozen)

¼ cups shortening
⅛ cups sugar
eggs (separated)
¼ cups molasses teaspoon cinnamon teaspoon ginger teaspoon nutmeg teaspoon cloves
teaspoon salt
teaspoons soda
⅔ cup cold water
cups flour

shortening and add sugar , creaming until smooth. yolks until light, and add reamed mixture, with the , and spices, and salt. Dis- da in cold water, and add to mixture; blend well. Beat es until stiff, and fold into Add flour, and mix until Roll out to ¼-inch thick- a lightly floured board. Cut with 3½-inch cookie cutter, and press a raisin into the center of each. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake on a greased cookie sheet in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for about 10 minutes.

There's something very social and heartwarming about entertaining friends in your own home And entertaining needn't be expensive, nor does it necessarily mean a lot of work!

Eleanor Howe's cook book, "Easy Entertaining," will give you the secrets of doing just that —entertaining without fuss and bother, and to fit your budget.

You'll find in "Easy Entertaining" plans for almost every kind of party. Send 10 cents in coin to "Easy Entertaining," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Barbecue Sandwiches.
(Filling for 3½ to 4 dozen buns)

2 pounds beef
2 pounds pork
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 teaspoon white pepper
¼ teaspoon red pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1½ tablespoons salt
¼ cup flour
1½ cups tomato puree or condensed tomato soup
1½ quarts meat stock
3 large onions (sliced)

Cook the meat until tender in enough water to cover. Drain, and grind coarsely. Combine seasonings and flour. Add tomato puree and the meat stock, and cook for 5 minutes. Brown the onions lightly in butter or bacon fat, and add to the sauce with the coarsely ground meat. Serve hot on large, round buns.

Chocolate Fudge Cake.
(Serves 25)

1 cup shortening
3 cups light brown sugar
3 eggs (slightly beaten)
3½ cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ teaspoons soda
¾ cup sour milk
⅔ cup cocoa
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually, blending well after each addition. Add slightly beaten eggs and mix well. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, and soda. Add to the creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Blend cocoa and boiling water. Add to the cake batter with the vanilla, and mix just until the batter is smooth. Pour into 3 8-inch square pans, which have been greased and lined with wax paper. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 30 minutes.

Meat Loaf.
(Serves 25)

4½ pounds beef (ground)
1½ pounds pork (ground)
¾ cup quick cooking tapioca
3 eggs (beaten)
½ cup onion (minced)
2 tablespoons salt
¾ teaspoon pepper
¾ teaspoon sage or poultry seasoning
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes

Combine ingredients in the order given, reserving about half of the tomatoes. Pack into 2 long, narrow loaf pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 1½ hours. At the end of the first 45 minutes, pour the tomatoes which were reserved for this over the top of the meat loaf, and continue baking.

Tomato French Dressing.
(Makes 1 quart)

1 can condensed tomato soup
¾ cup vinegar
1½ cups oil
¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 teaspoon paprika

Place all of the ingredients in a mixing bowl and beat until blended. Store in refrigerator in a quart jar.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

HOLLYWOOD is all agog over a contest that's to take place on August 25th at the RKO studios. The participants are Jack Oakie and George Bancroft, and the event is—of all things!—a table-setting contest!

It all started when a Los Angeles department store persuaded ten prominent men about town to set tables as each thought they should be set. Oakie and Bancroft saw the exhibit, and the argument was on, each being perfectly sure that he could out-do the other if ever —heaven forbid—he had to set a table First thing they knew, they d arranged the contest, the only rules are that they'll use modern American glassware and keep expenditures down to $40. The loser will set a table and serve dinner for 16 of the winner's friends.

VIVIAN LEIGH

Vivian Leigh and Laurence Olivier are to be co-starred in a story based on the romance of Lord Nelson and Lady Hamilton, an Alexander Korda picture Remembering what a superb picture he made of "Henry the Eighth," it seems certain that his version of the famous love story of the famous admiral will be one of the year's best pictures.

Phyllis Kennedy ought to succeed if anybody should—first she broke her back, and later she accepted advice that wasn't very good and lost a grand opportunity—and now she's started toward the top again.

In 1933 she was dancing with a troupe in Denver, and fell and fractured her spine. Doctors said she'd never walk again. Two years later she was dancing once more. She was engaged for chorus work in the Astaire-Rogers musicals, and her gift for comedy got her the role of the maid in "Stage Door." Warner Brothers offered her a contract, but she hesitated, let people tell her what to do, and the chance slipped away.

She's working now in "Honeymoon for Three," and Lloyd Bacon, who's directing, is helping by building up her role. Watch her—she's bound to get ahead this time!

Douglas Fairbanks Jr may have been something of a playboy some years ago, but now he's nothing if not a solid citizen Married happily, and the proud father of a three-year-old daughter, he's not only the star of Columbia's "Before I Die," but its co-producer as well That means being on the set early and late, whether he's appearing before the cameras or not.

The girls of Hollywood are wearing red, white and blue these days. Penny Singleton appeared at a benefit in a cotton evening gown having a white skirt and a bodice that was red and blue; Anita Louise, told to wear a novelty necklace in "I'm for Rent," chose a silver chain from which were suspended miniature flags of the 23 American countries; Evelyn Keyes has a red, white and blue straw hat, and Frances Robinson's leather handbag has a flag on either side.

Uncle Ezra's Rosedale Silver Cornet Band rehearses longer than the actors on that popular radio program, just to achieve those peculiar off-key effects that drive music lovers mad. The reason the band has to rehearse so long to sound so discordant is that each man is an accomplished musician; "We work harder than Toscanini," declared Director Bruce Kamman, "Just to perfect a musical mistake!"

Paramount's going to do right handsomely by Joel McCrea—he's been assigned to the lead in "Botany Bay," a story by James Norman Hall, one of the authors of "Mutiny on the Bounty."

"Bottom Bay" is one of those highly dramatic tales, laid in the period just after the American Revolution.

Jean Hersholt's dream of years, a Hollywood home for aged and incapacitated film workers, is soon to be a reality. As president of the Motion Picture Relief fund, he and members of the organization's executive committee will soon begin looking for a site for the home. They have more than a half million dollars, earned by the stars who donated their services to the CBS Screen Guild program so that the money could go into the fund.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 1

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

PRAISING GOD FOR HIS BLESSINGS

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 103.1-5, 10-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.—Psalm 103 2.

We live in difficult and confusing days with much on every hand to discourage us. We look about us in vain for any encouraging sign. The result is that unless we exercise care the temptation will overtake us who are Christians to fall into the bitter, complaining attitude of the world, forgetting the benefits which God has bestowed upon us, forgetting His mercy and grace, and, in this hour of trial, telling the world by our life, if not by our lips, that we have lost our faith in God.

It is easy to praise God when all goes well, when we see His blessing upon us; but the Christian should recognize that praise is a vital part of his daily fellowship with God, an expression of his appreciation of all that God is and does for him. Psalm 103 has in all generations been a favorite of Christian people when passing through deep waters and fiery trials.

I. Praise for Personal Blessings (vv. 1-5).

Our relationship to God is a personal one, and His blessings are personal. Praise also is a personal soul exercise to which we need often to stir ourselves. We need to call on "all that is within" us to bless and praise the Lord.

"Forget not"—how prone we are to do that very thing. We remember the things we ought to forget and forget the things we ought to remember. We have become so accustomed to the many blessings of God that we accept them as a matter of course

Note that the chief of all blessings is the forgiveness of sin (v. 3). The spiritual is far more important than the physical, but that too is included. Only God can heal our diseases, whether by means or by direct intervention. He also meets with true satisfaction every right and normal desire of man, whether it be physical, social, mental or spiritual. That calls for praise from the depths of our beings.

II. Praise for Forgiveness of Sin (vv. 10-14).

We may "put on a front" when we deal with our fellow men, but there is no use in thus trying to fool God. He knows us for what we are—"frail children of dust, and feeble as frail." We are not able to meet our own little problems; how can we do anything with the sin question?

The mercy of God, high as the heavens, is revealed nowhere in such overflowing measure as in His dealing with the sins of "them that fear him" (v. 13) For them He has the pity of a father, but He has more, for He has the authority and power to cast our sins as far from us as the east is from the west, and how far that is no one knows.

Observe that His mercy is only for "them that fear Him." "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble" (James 4 6, I Pet 5:6, 7). Whosoever will may come and receive of Him abundant pardon. Why not come now?

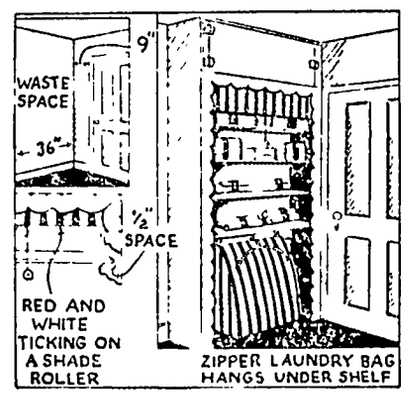
III. Praise for Everlasting Loving-kindness (vv. 15-18).

Man and everything that man makes or does is transient, and will one day pass away. What a fool that man is who lives only for the things of this world which are destined to wither like the grass! How tragic to come into eternity and to face God empty handed and condemned for one's own selfishness and folly, when He is willing to show unto us that "loving-kindness" which is not only for this life, but also for the life that is to come.

As we praise God for this great and blessed gift, shall we not be moved to go out and seek to win others to Him?

In closing this brief study of the One Hundred Third Psalm may we again suggest that in these bitter days which so sorely try the hearts of men, we lift our souls up to a high spiritual plane by praising God When Hardley Page was making a flight through the Orient a large rat was attracted by the smell of food and entered into the airplane. Later, when Mr. Page was in mid-air over a mountainous country where he could not land, he suddenly heard the sound of gnawing behind him. He knew that the rat might so damage his plane as to cause disaster. Then he remembered that a rat is not made for high altitudes. So he began to soar. Soon the gnawing ceased and hours later when his machine landed he found the rat lying dead beneath the engine. It is a blessed truth that Satan cannot endure the high altitudes of praise. He quickly departs from the soul whom he finds rejoicing in this high and lofty spiritual atmosphere. "Try praise," for "praise changes things."

HOW TO SEW
by Ruth Wyeth Spears



EVERY Homemaker knows how many steps could be saved if table linens could have a special closet in the kitchen or pantry. In one home that we know of space for such a closet was going to waste all because cupboard doors or drawers would conflict with the door shown here in the small sketch At the right you see how that space became an efficient linen closet after all—complete even to a smart laundry bag for soiled napkins and table covers.

The high compartment has a door of plywood. Below this are shelves with a curtain on a shade roller. The curtain runs up and down between the shelves and the scalloped board that frames the closet, as shown at the left. This board is ½ inch thick and four inches wide. The scallops were marked by drawing around a teacup and were cut out with a jig saw. I want to tell you how the laundry bag is made too. Watch for it, next week.

* * *

NOTE: As a service to our readers Mrs. Spears has prepared a series of homemaking booklets. No. 5, just published, contains 32 pages of clever ideas fully illustrated and a description of the other numbers. To get your copy send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for Book 5.

Name .....

Address .....

ASK ME ANOTHER?
A Quiz With Answers Offering Information on Various Subjects

The Questions

1. How long was a round of boxing when John L. Sullivan ruled the ring?
2. How long was Abraham Lincoln President before the Civil war broke out?
3. What is the largest stadium in America?
4. What universities compete for the Little Brown Jug on the gridiron each year?
5. What is a Pyrrhic victory?
6. Does each star in the American flag represent a particular state?
7. Do kangaroos ever roost in trees?
8. Do the Japanese ever say "no"?

The Answers

1. Until one of the fighters scored a knockdown over his opponent
2. Six weeks.
3. Soldier field, located in Chicago, Illinois, takes this honor. Its seating capacity will handle a crowd of 125,000 persons
4. The University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.
5. One gained at too great a cost.
6. No, the stars represent the states collectively, not individually.
7. Australia boasts of kangaroos that roost in trees. They are clumsy climbers, but have remarkable jumping powers and a tenacious grip. A family of tree kangaroos will frequently use one tree for their permanent abode.
8. No. And they never say "yes" as these two words do not exist in their language. If you asked a Japanese if he wanted something, he would reply, "I do," or "I do not."

Life's Canvas

We are not writing in the sand. The tide does not wash it out. We are not painting our pictures on the canvas and with a brush, so that we can erase the error of yesterday, or overlay it with another color today. We are writing our lives with a chisel on the marble, and every time we strike a blow we leave a mark that is indelible.—O. S. Marden.

THAT'S WHAT I LIKE ABOUT CAMELS. THEY BURN SLOWER AND HAVE A GRAND EXTRA FLAVOR
MY BUDGET LIKES THE EXTRA SMOKING IN CAMELS, TOO

EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR

In recent laboratory tests, Camels burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

GET THE "EXTRAS" WITH SLOWER-BURNING

CAMELS

THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

YOU ARE AN INFLUENTIAL PERSON

The merchant who advertises must treat you better than the merchant who does not. He must treat you as though you were the most influential person in town.

As a matter of cold fact you are. You hold the destiny of his business in your hands. He knows it. He shows it. And you benefit by good service, by courteous treatment, by good value—and by lower prices.

LULU WILKINS APPOINTED AS POSTMISTRESS AT GOODELL

Miss Lulu Wilkins has been appointed as Postmistress at Goodell. She took over duties of her new appointment Saturday There were ten applications filed for the office.

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

LOCAL DEAF PEOPLE ATTENDED CONVENTION AT COUNCIL BLUFFS

Leonard Lau and family and Glen Stokesbary were at Council Bluffs last week where they attended the Convention for the Deaf held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Council Blufffs School for the Deaf.

The convention was attended by a large crowd at all of the sessions. Mr. Lau was elected on the Board of Trustees for the state organization.

The convention will be held next at Fort Dodge in 1942, Mr. Lau reports.

THADA'S

A Good Store In A Good Town — Klemme, Iowa

SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

FLOUR SPECIALS

OMAR wonder FLOUR — THE BREAD FLOUR SO GOOD IT WINS CAKE PRIZES — $1.69

Mothers Best . . . $1.49

Silk Finish $1.19

VINEGAR, Pure Cider, per gal. 19c

CAKE FLOUR Dixiana, pkg. 19c

IVORY SOAP — 1 large bar, 1 medium bar — 11c

COOKIES Plain, per lb. 10c

COOKIES Fancy, per lb. 15c

Pork & Beans 1 lb. Cans 4 for 17c

BOLOGNA, Made at Fertile, Ia., per lb. . . 17c

COFFEE, Folger's 1 lb., 27; 2 lbs. 51c

School Supplies

We have a full line of School Supplies including: Pencils, Pens Ink, Tablets, Notebooks, Fillers, Rulers, etc. Be sure to see our Klemme High Notebook covers in school colors.

Kaufmann - -

The Germans have a nice name for a Merchant, they call him a Kaufmann, which means a man who Buys for the Community.

This is indeed a beautiful and expressive name, and reminds us that the Store Folks are Servants of the Customers in the Community where they reside.

This Store strives to serve its customers well by carrying a large stock of Furniture and Rugs, so that you will have a large assortment to pick from when you come to buy!

Our LOW PRICES too are a service to the Customers of this trade territory, our low expense makes the low prices possible.

We have just unloaded a carload of New Merchandise for Fall — Call and See it.

Arthur Wellemeyer

Hancock County's Largest Furniture Store
KLEMME IOWA

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth spent Sunday visiting at Cresco.

Mrs. Wayne Pavey, of Mason City, visited over the week end at the Wallece Pavey home.

The E. J. Arnold family are enjoying a new Chevrolet sedan which they purchased recently.

Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth visited last week from Wednesday until Saturday with her mother at Plymouth.

Mrs. Gertrude Carpenter and daughters returned home Monday after visiting in Des Moines last week at the Rev. Herlin home.

Saturday for dinner, Mrs. Naska Bock had as her guests Mrs. Lydia Bock and three children of Archbold, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reece spent Sunday at Nevada visiting with Mrs. Reece's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wildman.

Attorney Fred Blackstone and daughter, Miss Maude, of Garner, were business callers in Klemme Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helps and Mrs. Ernest Pringnitz and daughter, Beverly, were Mason City visitors last Wednesday.

Mr. M. R. Thompson, of Toledo, Ohio, was a business caller in Klemme last Wednesday. Mr Thompson is an official of the Central Iowa Telephone Company.

Mrs. Herman Paul and son, Milton, drove to Des Moines Sunday and returned home Monday evening, after visiting with relatives and taking in the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Allman, of Los Angeles, California, visited two days the past week at the H D. Ramsay home. Mrs. Allman is a sister of Mr. Ramsay.

Miss Jacqueline Kudje returned Sunday evening from Indianola, where she spent a week visiting with Lois and Edna Bowles, sisters of Coach Bowles of Klemme.

Leon Laird, who is attending school at Iowa State College, at Ames, came Monday and will spend this week visiting with friends around Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Fessler of Britt, visited with Mrs. Hulda Allabee, Sunday, and brought Norman Allabee home. Norman has been visiting at Britt.

Mrs. Tom Mitchell, of Swea City, came Wednesday and remained in Klemme for the balance of the week assisting in the care of her father, C. F. Keraus, who is seriously ill.

Ray Jorgenson, Jr. drove to Indianola, Thursday and visited with "Bodge" Bowles until Friday afternoon. Ray also made arrangements to enroll in Simpson College for the fall term.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kimball and Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Griggs left Saturday night for Northern Minnesota for a few days of fishing. They expect to return to Klemme today, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Priebe left Monday for Minneapolis to attend the Minnesota State Fair. Mrs. Gretchen Schlawin is staying with the Priebe children while their parents are away.

Mr. and Mrs. J N. Day drove to Clear Lake Saturday evening and were accompanied by Grandma Smith who will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews for a couple of weeks.

Lydia and William Bock, and their guests, Mrs. Lydia Bock and children of Archbold, Ohio, drove to Rockwell, Monday, where they were dinner guests at the Henry Schlichting home.

Miss Ethel Overholt returned Monday morning from Columbus, Ohio, where she went as a delegate from her sororiety to a journalistic convention. Miss Overholt is a student of Journalism at Iowa State College, Ames.

"Practice Safety Yourself—Others will follow you." Hancock County Safety Council.

Miss Ruth Johnson, registered nurse of Des Moines, is enjoying a month's vacation which she is spending visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, and sisters on their farms east of Klemme.

Mrs. Lyria Bock and three children, Esther, Paul and Margaret of Archbold, Ohio, came last week Thursday and visited until Tuesday at the home of Lydia and William Bock, and with other relatives in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Risser, of Des Moines, came Monday to visit for a week at the P. M. Wilson home. They are enjoying their summer vacation. Their son, Bobbie, has been at the Wilson home for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thieman and daughters, Viola and Luella, left Sunday morning for Wessington Springs, South Dakota, where they are visiting with relatives this week. Miss Viola is enjoying a week's vacation from her clerking duties at Thada's Store.

Cifford Lenz took his mother, Mrs. Chas. H. Lenz, and his daughter, Katherine, back to their home at Spooner, Wis., Saturday. Mrs. Levi Klotzbach also accompanied them and remained at Spooner for an extended visit. Clifford returned to Klemme Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kinkade, of Des Moines, came Saturday evening and are spending their ten day vacation visiting with Mrs. Kinkade's sister, Mrs. E. G. Schaeffer in Klemme, and with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Wilson at Storm Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reece and Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Schaeffer entertained a group of friends at the Forest City Country Club Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kinkade, of Des Moines, who are visiting at the Schaeffer home.

Lester Stille and family, and P. W. Johnson and family went to Lake Okoboji to attend the State Convention of the American Legion. The Stille family returned home Tuesday evening, while the Johnson family went to Spencer for a visit.

The Misses Nora Nora Wellemeyer and Helen Albers came home Friday from Cedar Falls where they have been attending summer school at the State Teachers College. The young ladies will enjoy a two week's vacation before returning there to resume their studies.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H Dulmes and Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje returned Sunday evening from a week's vacation trip which they spent in the Rocky Mountains region of Colorado, where they visited the Estes Park, Grand Lake, Denver and other points of scenic beauty. They enjoyed the entire trip and had good weather all the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chapman and son, David, and Wallace Beasley, returned to their home at Kansas City, after spending a week visiting in North Iowa at the R. A. Jorgenson home in Klemme and with Mr and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liebendorfer of Clinton, who were spending the week at a cottage at Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wellemeyer and daughters, Ruth and Nora, spent Sunday in Charles City, visiting at the home of Mr. Wellemeyer's sister, Mrs. Ruth Melcher. They attended the First Methodist Church where Ed Melcher, son of Mrs. Melcher and student at Coe College, appeared as a guest soloist. Ed. is a talented singer and is quite often called upon to sing on a Cedar Rapids radio program.

Sunday a number of relatives gathered at the home of Lydia and William Bock and enjoyed a picnic. Those present were Mrs. Lydia Bock and three children of Archbold, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bock and two daughters of Garner; Henry Schlichting and family of Rockwell; Mrs. Naska Bock and son, Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bock and children of Klemme.

Stitch and Chatter Club Will Meet

All members of the Stitch and Chatter Club are invited to attend the first meeting at the home of Mrs. Herman Paul, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 4th.

Methodist Young People

The fall practices will start this week for the young people's choir work. Be on time, at seven o'clock Thursday evening. The Adult choir members will not meet until the following week at seven-thirty, Sept. 5th. -- Director.

Choose a hot, dry day for ping pastures to kill weeds.

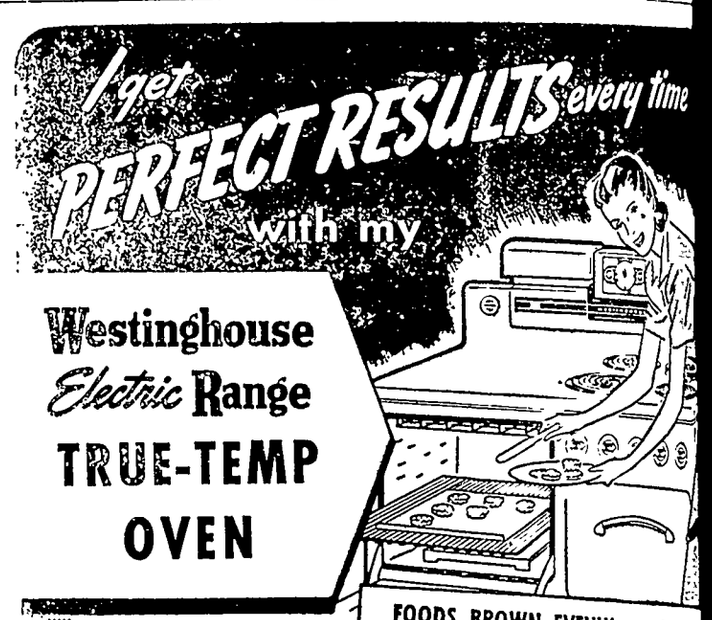
PLOW AND Plowin

The Oliver RADE PLOW . . . is a guaranteed p It is guaranteed to d better job of plowing t any other plow, regard of make, and under conditions!

Ask For A Free Demonstration.

FRED J. ARNOL

Phone 77-R2



I get PERFECT RESULTS every time with my Westinghouse Electric Range
TRUE-TEMP OVEN
FOODS BROWN EVENLY . . . ROASTS ARE JUICIER . . . WITH BALANCED HEAT
Balanced Heat means steady, even heat and the same temperature in all parts of the oven TWO Speed Heaters, a new Heat-Evener and other improvements make the big new Westinghouse TRUE-TEMP OVEN a joy to use. Come in and see it!
IT'S BIG!
Plenty of space for big oven meals, large roasts or a 32-pound turkey!
IT'S EASY!
The Single Dial Control sets temperature and turns on current at same time.
IT'S FAST!
It heats in a hurry at the snap of a switch. Preheats in less time than ever before.
IT'S CLEAN!
No dirt-catching cracks or crevices in the all-porcelain oven interior.
Only 5c A DAY BUYS IT! (Small down payment)
The Commander
Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY
CHECK FOR VALUE . . . CHOOSE A WESTINGHOUSE

Just To Remind You That NOW Is The Time To Get Your

STOVE FURNACE and BOILER REPAIRS

E. F. JACOBS, Hdw.

The Farm Service Store — Klemme, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

45 KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 4, 1940. NUMBER 14.

me School Attendance hes New High Record

CHOOL ENROLLMENT ABOVE HUNDRED MARK

s high school enroll- over the 100 mark for ime in history this year tal of 101 registered in classes. Barring with- the next few weeks, ill be a Class A school nament time rolls a- t spring, and basketball d fans are wondering to manage themselves new arrangement. ord enrollment is dis- ver the four classes as n, 29; Sophomores, 36; ; and Seniors, 20. nrollments including the n will be between 90 so the total number in high school will be con- above any previous rec-was given over to regis- d distribution of books, s started on Tuesday. n music and baseball nder way Tuesday with umber of candidates out f these activities.

KLEMME TEACHERS

ist of teachers which was in The Times last week have had the names of hnson and Gladys Grei- e roll.

hnson teaches this year No. 2, which is located 2 and 2 miles south of and is known as the School.

reiman, we understand, in the Ell No. 4 school s east of Klemme. This s closed last year.

Mrs. Einar Salling Left day On Six Weeks Western Trip

Mrs. Einar Salling left morning on an auto trip eks with California as ination and where they with their daughter, Baack, and son Law- uritzen, both in the Los vicinity. From Klemme to Ringsted where their Mrs. "Tick" Christiansen m for the trip. They ex- take plenty of time on nd will take in the many interest along the route. r Salling's absence Roy am and Leland Kueman after his cream route

GE LICENSES AT GARNER

R — Marriage licenses issued here for George Britt, and Bertha Hui- Woden; Glenn Broone, and Mary Spilman, 17, e and Jerry Psotka, 25, Irene Wellik, 19, Gar-

Progressive Circle

rogressive Circle of the Methodist Ladies Aid So- meet Friday afternoon, at the church with Mrs. Bridges as hostess. This he last meeting of the

Card of Thanks

sh to take this means of our thanks to our and friends for their sympathy extended to us e illnes and death of our and father, and also those who contributed

Ernest C. Henschen st L. Henschen, and Mrs. Otto Woiwood family, and Mrs. Walter Hen- and family 1tp

HANCOCK COUNTY NAMED IN 2 COURT ACTIONS

Milwaukee and Rock Island R. R. Firms File For $831.36

Suits to collect $831 36 from Hancock county have been filed against the county board of supervisors by two railroad companies, the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad company and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company.

The companies say Hancock county "illegally and erroneously exacted from them" amounts for taxes in 1934, 1935, 1936 and 1937. They claim the county failed to deduct from the total amounts of budgets all of the taxes to be derived from moneys and credits and other money capital taxed at a flat rate.

Through its trustees, Henry A Scandrett, Walter J. Cummnigs and George I. Haight, the Chicago Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific company seeks the return of $472.01, and through the trustees, Frank O. Lowden, James E. Greman and Joseph B Fleming, the Rock Island Company seeks $359.35.

Both suits named as defendants the Hancock county board of supervisors: Penn Eckels, Frank Schoun and George Klipping

REPUBLICAN WOMEN FORM DISTRICT GROUP AT FORT DODGE MEET

Mrs. Walter Pritchard, Garner, Named Delegate To National Convention

At the Republican Women's meeting held at Fort Dodge last Friday, the Eighth District Republican Women's Organization was formed, the third district organization to be completed in the state.

Mrs. W. S. Pritchard, of Garner, was named delegate to attend the National Convention to be held on September 30th and October 1st at Detroit, Michigan. Mrs. Foster, of Livermore, was named as alternate.

Hancock county was represented at the Fort Dodge Convention by Mrs. W. S Pritchard, Miss Christyne Callison and Mrs. Fern Peck Katter of Garner, Mrs. R. R. Roberts of Britt; Mrs. Chris Gilstrap of Crystal Lake, and Mrs. R. R. Reece, Mrs. John Chambers and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson of Klemme.

WILLIAM POWELL AND MYRNA LOY CO-STARRED IN "I LOVE YOU AGAIN"

Coming To The Avery Screen In Howling Comedy of Man Who "Forgets" He's Married

Designed expressly to make the world forget its troubles "I Love You Again," co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, scheduled to open at the Avery Theater Sept. 8, Sunday for three days. The film is the first in some time to present the popular Powell Loy "husband and wife" team minus the "Thin Man" tag, and is one of the most hilarious of their careers together.

The story, which makes for one comedy situation coming fast on the heels of another, deals with the amusing plight of a man who, through an accidental blow on the head, recovers from an eight-year attack of amnesia. When he regains consciousness, the world in which he is living seems changed. He has acquired a new personality, a charming wife who is about to divorce him, a bank account, the manager's berth in a large pottery factory and more than that, the reputation for being a model citizen and civic leader.

Klemme Well Represented By Young People In Colleges

A NUMBER OF KLEMME YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN ENTER COLLEGE

Quite a number of Klemme young people will leave this coming week and some have already left for college

Paul Schuldt and Nora Wellemeyer will return to State Teachers College at Cedar Falls.

Victor Greiman, Leon Laird and Howard Schoenwetter will attend Iowa State College at Ames.

Elsie Ward is enrolled this year at Iowa University, Iowa City

Dorance Grange and Marian Waterman will enter Junior College at Mason City

Marie Schmidt will be enrolled in Hamilton's business college at Mason City.

Rueben Grosshuesch will return to the Mission House College at Plymouth, Wisconsin.

Ray Jorgenson. Jr. will enter Simpson College at Indianola, wrere he will pursue an engineering course.

Miss Ethel Overholt will return to Iowa State College at Ames, where she will complete her last year's work in Journalism and Home Economics.

Dorothy Thompson will return to the Fletcher Junior College at Oskalcosa, Iowa.

A remarkable record is that five of Klemme High School's spring graduates are entering the higher institutions of learning this fall. They are Dorance Grange, Howard Schoenwetter, Elsie Ward, Marie Schmidt and Marian Waterman.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Martin T. Hinders and Anna To Thomas Hinders, Q C Deed, 8-23-40. $1. NW¼ 4-96-26.

Elizabeth and J I. Molloy To M. J Molloy, Q C Deed, 8-26-40, $1. E½ SE¼ Blk 16, all in Stubbin's Add. to Incorporated town of Britt.

Herman Grau To Edward E. and Charles G. Haes, Wty Deed, 8-29-40, und. ½ of E½ SW¼ 35-96-24 subj. to an annuity in favor of grantor of $200.

Chicago Joint Stock Land Bank by Receiver To Abe Mezvinsky, Receiver's Deed, 8-15-40, $18,000. S½ 7-96-25.

T. L. and Mariam Kinseth To Dale C. and Edna Petheram Wty Deed, 8-26-40, $2,000. Lot 6 & E½ of 7, Blk 13, Orig town of Kanawha subj. to unpaid bal. of mtge.

L. M Brouwer, Sherrif To Equitable Life Assur. Soc. of U. S Sheriff's Deed, 8-29-40, $14,321.30 E½ SW¼ 30-94-25.

Hancock Co. To Bert L. Frisbie Deed, 12-30-39, $44. Lots 25 to 32 incl. Carnalin's Add. to Corwith.

WINGS!

PRIVATE PILOTS LICENSE GOES TO TWO YOUNG KLEMME FLYERS

Ray Jorgenson, Jr. And Paul Schuldt Have Passed All Flight Tests

Ray Jorgenson, Jr. and Paul Schuldt, who have been taking flying instructions and schooling nearly all summer at the Midway Airport at Mason City, have both earned their Private Pilots License. Ray completed his tests on Friday and Paul on Saturday The Klemme young men were among the first to complete all requirements.

The two boys were enrolled in the Civil Pilots Training course under the Civilian Areonautics Authority. The course included a minimum of 40 hours of dual and solo flying and 72 hours of ground instruction, which included a course in Navigation, Theory of Flight, Engine Mechanics, Air Rules and Regulations, Meteorology, History and short subjects in parachute operation, signals, etc.

The boys were required to pass rigid physical and flight tests as well as written examinations. Thirty students were enrolled but not all were awarded licenses.

THERE WILL BE NO SERVICES IN THE KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

Rev. and Mrs. Grosshuesch, Mr. Albert Schmidt, Mr. Wm. Schmidt, Ruben Grosshuesch and Frank Grether, left Tuesday for Plymouth, Wis. Rev. Grosshuesch and Mr. Albert Schmidt will attend the Synod meeting at Plymouth. Mrs. Grosshuesch will visit with Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Grosshuesch at Sheboygan. Mr. Wm. Schmidt will visit with relatives at Manitowoc.

Ruben Grosshuesch and Frank Grether are returninng to the Mission House College to continue their studies.

There will be no services at the Klemme Reformed Church next Sunday.

KLEMME GOLF CHAMPION

Dr. A. H. Dulmes is golf champion of Klemme as a result of his 5 and 4 victory over R. R. Reece in the championship finals Sunday.

Dr. Dulmes gained the final round by defeating P. M. Wilson, while Reece triumphed over A. J. Kudje to get his chance at the honor.

Klemme Man Injured In Thirty Foot Drop In Hayfield Grain Elevator

PETIT JURY FOR THE SEPTEMBER 1940 TERM OF COURT

The following will report for duty, Tuesday, October, 1, 1940, at the Court House at Garner, at 10:00 o'clock a. m.

Elling Huling	Britt
Mrs. Wm. Kirkwood	Klemme
C. W. Dawson	Corwith
Herb Doege	Woden
Gerhard Johnson	Crystal Lake
John Henn	Meservey
Robert Bogh	Forest City
Bell Montgomery	Goodell
E. G. Beier	Garner
Emma Bogard	Corwith
Wm. G. Erdman	Kanawha
L. W. Cunningham	Forest City
Dott Taylor	Hayfield
D. L. Wilkie	Kanawha
Lela Davis	Kanawha
Clara Fosen	Kanawha
H. H. Betten	Kanawha
Martha Smith	Britt
Lyle Fox	Britt
E. L. Bedford	Britt
Delbert Redmond	Britt
Francis Redden	Britt
Mrs. Milburn Rydson	Britt
Mrs. Wm. Love	Britt
Dean Carson	Britt
Lawrence Boehnke	Ventura
Charles Wellik	Garner
Willard Brager	Ventura
Ruth Bemis	Garner
Marie Free	Garner
Lillian Terwilleger	Garner
Dena Stille	Garner

LOCAL HYBRID CORN DEALER ATTENDING CONVENTION THIS WEEK

Mr. A. G. Lau left today, Wednesday, to attend the annual DeKalb Hybrid Corn Dealers' convention at Lake Okoboji, Iowa, on September 5 and 6. On his way to the convention in company with other DeKalb dealers, he planned to make stops at several of the company's eleven production areas and processing plants as well as many of the experimental fields along the way.

Mr. Lau stated that the convention is an educational one for the 2,000 dealers who expect to attend it. The latest development in hybrid corn are discussed by corn breeding experts, C. L. Gunn and R. R. St. John.

Mr. Lau will have an interesting report to make of corn conditions noted after making the 500 mile trip.

MISS LAVONNE SHERWOOD HAS TEACHING POSITION AT ORAN

We have the name of Miss LaVonne Sherwood to add to the list of Klemme young people who have entered the profession of teaching. Miss Sherwood completed her college training this spring at St. Olaf's College at Northfield, Minnesota. Miss Sherwood completed her first two years of College training at Waldorf College, Forest City. This year Miss Sherwood enters upon her first year of teaching at Oran, Iowa. Oran is located east of Waverly.

KLEMME JOURNALISTIC STUDENT ATTENDED NATIONAL CONVENTION

Miss Ethel Overholt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Overholt, attended the national convention of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women in journalism, at Columbus, Ohio, August 22 to 24.

She was the alternate delegate from the active chapter at Iowa State College, Ames, where she will complete her last year of schooling this year, in Journalism and Home Economics.

Miss Overholt accompanied Miss Myrtle Marie Campbell, of Waterloo, who was the official delegate to the 3-day session.

Omicron chapter, which they represented, received an award for ranking first place in efficiency among all the active chapters.

ROY SMOCK SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL AT HAYFIELD ELEVATOR

Klemme Man's Hip And Leg Fractured In Thirty Foot Drop

Roy Smock, who is employed by the North Iowa Grain Company at Klemme, and who was assisting with work at the North Iowa Grain Company elevator at Hayfield last Thursday morning, fell into a grain bin and fractured his right hip and thigh bone. Mr. Smock was taken to a Mason City hospital where he is being treated for his injuries.

Smock had ascended to the top of a grain bin at the Hayfield elevator to watch the progress of grain being emptied out out of the bin so that repairs could be made. Smock was descending into the bin when a rung on the ladder gave away and he was pitched over backward into the bin, falling about twenty-five or thirty feet to the bottom of the bin which was partially filled with grain. In falling his body struck a 2x6 inch brace, breaking it into splinters and this impact was thought to have caused his injuries.

Workmen were forced to cut a hole through the side of the elevator in order to get Mr. Smock out of the bin and put him into an ambulance for the trip to the hospital.

Latest reports are that Mr. Smock is resting and that he will make a satisfactory recovery.

MRS. CLARA ANDERSON FILES DIVORCE SUIT IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Mrs. Clara Anderson has filed suit in Hancock county district court asking a divorce from Salmer Anderson of Kanawha, whom she married Jan. 11, 1923, according to her petition. The couple has two children, daughters 15 and 6, and Mrs. Anderson seeks custody of them and an allowance for their support.

G. S. CLUB MET AT BUNTENBACH HOME

Miss Elaine Buntenbach was hostess to the G. S. young ladies club at her home Friday evening, when she treated the girls to a chicken supper, after which bridge was played.

Ruth Wellemeyer and Wilma Swalve won high and low prizes, while Avis Barz won the travel prize.

NEWLY DEVISED SPRAY KEEPS APPLES ON TREES

Commercial apple growers in Iowa can keep their fruit from dropping permaturely by spraying them with a new synthetic hormone substance now available for the first time, says S. W. Edgecombe, Iowa State College extension horticulturist.

The chemical substance, which is mixed with water, has been found effective in keeping apples on trees about 2 weeks after they normally start falling. The result is not only less damaged fruit but larger, more fully ripened fruit. The best time to apply the spray is just when the apples begin to drop.

Edgecombe explains that the new spray prevents formation of the "abscission layer," a tissue which develops at the fruit stem and eventually separates it from the apple twig.

At least four commercial fruit dropping spray preparations now are on the market, Edgecombe says. Growers who wish to try one of them can get material through the Iowa Fruit Growers Association, at the State House in Des Moines.

"A Hospital cot preaches Safety a Lot." Hancock County Safety Council.

Labor Peace and Banishment of Strikes Is Record of Toledo Industrial Board

By LANSING CALLAWAY

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

EDWARD A. McGRADY, assistant secretary of labor was on his way to Toledo, Ohio. The time was 1935 and there was a strike in progress there.

To Mr. McGrady it seemed that there was always a strike in progress in Toledo; and that he was spending the greater part of his career commuting back and forth between that city and Washington. To a great many people in Toledo the same things were beginning to be apparent.

The industrial wrangling had begun in 1934, labor and industry had become almost literal armed camps and the name of the city was on the front pages from Boston to San Diego. Two men had been left dead in the city's streets, hundreds had been injured in fighting and hatreds were being aroused that forecast trouble for years to come.

But this time, after the immediate business at hand had been settled, Mr. McGrady wired his Washington office that he wouldn't be home right away. He was staying over in Toledo in the hope of getting to the base of the recurrent trouble and obviate the necessity of his constant excursions to Toledo.

What Mr. McGrady had in mind was that it seemed to be nobody's business or concern if the city's industrial life flowed smoothly or was threatened with disruption. During the days when a potential industrial break was forming, and might most easily be adjusted, no one did anything about it. The situation was allowed to drift. Even when some of the large and bitter strikes were in progress, there was no agency at work to get the city's life back to normal.

Record Is Impressive.

Mr. McGrady sought to change all this. How well he succeeded is shown in the figures released for this Labor day. In the last five years the city of Toledo has assisted in averting 165 potential strikes, in which 32,224 employees were involved. Included in this were 52 cases in which a strike definitely had been voted.

In addition the city government assisted in settling, peacefully and quickly 47 strikes in which the comparatively small number of 5,617 employees figured. Some of these strikes were called without the knowledge of the city administration, others in spite of efforts to avert them.

Also the city assisted in settling one lockout in which 100 men were involved, and it looked in on 42 other disputes representing 2,874 employees, but for various reasons was not able to contribute toward a settlement. Virtually all of the latter, however, eventually were settled by the parties directly involved, without "outside" intervention.

The grand total:

265 disputes handled; 41,478 employees involved.

Riots: None.

Savings in wages and potential losses to owners, stockholders: Millions

Scenes of strike violence like that shown above are things of the past in Toledo, O., since the Toledo Industrial Peace Board began to function five years ago in using "horse-sense" to adjust difficulties between labor and employers. Thousands of dollars have been saved to workers, employers and the city as a result. Edward A. McGrady, left, former assistant secretary of labor, who helped Toledo business men and labor representatives form the board in 1935.

Cost to the city, $6,450.

"If Toledo can do that, why can't any other city?" is a question sometimes asked and also, "Has Toledo discovered any secret technique in averting industrial disputes?"

Model for Others.

The answers, respectively, are that any other community can do likewise, and that Toledo has not discovered any method of "passing miracles" but rather has applied old-fashioned, garden-variety horse-sense to differences between men and management.

Briefly Mr. McGrady set up on that final visit to Toledo, back in 1935, what is known as the Toledo industrial peace board. It includes five men from the ranks of management, five from labor, and one full-time director. These 10 since have added eight others to their ranks, attorneys, judges and clergymen to represent the public.

The board is an integral part of the city government, but it has no authority to "crack down" on anyone. It issues no "publicity releases." It cannot vote on who is right or who is wrong It does not even express such opinions publicly.

Mr. McGrady set up the first board himself. He went to the Chamber of Commerce and he thumped the table. There was a great deal of reluctance. There was a lot of honest skepticism. But he got a promise of co-operation.

Then he went before the Toledo Central Labor union. Strangely enough he met the same reaction.

"You need not fear such a board," said Mr. McGrady. "It will not interfere in any way with your right to strike. Co-operation by labor and management with such a board will be entirely voluntary. What have you to lose by trying?"

The answer was that no one had anything to lose by trying. The two critical disputes involving thousands and thousands of men (Chevrolet-Toledo division, General Motors, March, 1935; and Toledo Edison company, June, 1935) had left the city exhausted, emotionally and industrially.

Solid Support.

Toledo's three newspapers gave solid support to the plan. Cautiously, each side watching the other from the sides of their eyes, the first meeting was held. McGrady presided and did most of the speaking. He promised to assign to the board as its full-time director Lee S. Harding, a federal mediator.

The functions of the board were outlined and it was decided to go ahead, although every one of the men at that first meeting since has confessed that he agreed with a great deal of suspicion.

But during the following six months the board assisted in settling seven disputes without loss of a single day of work. Five strikes that already were showing signs of being long drawn out struggles were settled.

There was no street fighting. No one was hurt. The vast Toledo industrial area was working full blast. Payrolls and production were on schedule. Workers had money to spend. Merchants were pleased.

The people of Toledo also began to sit up and realize that something new had arrived on the scene. Much to the surprise even of the board members, they too were finding their suspicions of each other allayed; confidence and reason were taking the place of animosity.

If a labor situation became menacing, the director of the Toledo Industrial Peace board offered his services to both sides. He sought a fair compromise and offered it for consideration. But he never ordered any side to do anything.

If the situation reached such a spot where the director felt he was not making progress, the entire board was called into session. The board offered its services, at times it even offered suggestions. While it never voted on whether a question was right or wrong, the important element was that within the city, at least, there was an agency charged with the task of keeping industry running and dissipating disputes before they reached the troublesome stage.

Public Prestige.

In March, 1936, Harding was recalled to Washington, but the Toledo city council decided the board was desirable, and decided to continue it as a regular part of municipal government, with a paid director.

On the recommendation of McGrady, board members engaged a newspaper man, Edmund Ruffin, as director. Ruffin had covered all of the previous strikes.

After being director for more than four years, Ruffin says he has no cut and dried procedure in approaching or working out disputes.

"I know many industrialists and labor officials, and I try to keep informed as to what is going on in the way of organization programs, negotiating of new and succeeding agreements," Ruffin explained. "If I hear of a deadlock, I may offer my services to both parties, or one or the other may call me.

"After I get into a dispute, I listen to an outline of viewpoint by each group, usually in a joint meeting. After that, I throw in general suggestions as may come to mind, or may offer some specific procedure to which all may agree.

Various offices in Toledo have received hundreds of inquiries as to how the Toledo board was established, how it operates and what it has accomplished.

These offices include the Toledo Chamber of Commerce, which has given quiet support to the board; the headquarters of the various labor organizations, which, from the start, have indicated their endorsement by co-operating; and also a group known as Toledo Associates, an organization of men whose chief purpose is to publicize Toledo's true industrial picture.

After One Year of War in Europe

The European war enters its second year on the first of September. During its first year it saw the complete disappearance of seven countries. Seven countries were overrun during the first year of the war, and two others lost land to invaders.

Following is a calendar of the principal events which occurred during the past year:

September 1—Germany invades Poland. Danzig "returns to the Reich."

September 3 — Chamberlain and Daladier announce their nations are at war with Germany.

September 17—Russia invades Poland.

November 30—Russia invades Finland.

March 13—Finnish-Russian peace treaty is signed in Moscow.

April 9—Germany occupies Denmark and invades Norway.

April 15—Allied troops land in Norway.

May 2—Allies withdraw from Norway.

May 10 — Germany invades Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg. Winston Churchill becomes prime minister.

May 14—Netherlands capitulates, and Queen Wilhelmina flees to London as her country falls.

May 28—King Leopold of Belgium surrenders.

June 2—British war ministry announces that four-fifths of the B. E. F has been evacuated from Flanders.

June 5—The German Somme offensive begins at dawn.

June 10—Mussolini announces Italy's entry into the war against the allies.

June 14—Germans occupy Paris.

June 17—Henry Philippe Petain, succeeding Reynaud as premier of France, asks Germany for an armistice.

June 22—In the same "Armistice car" at Compiegne where Germany sued for peace in 1918, French delegates accept German terms.

June 24—French delegates accept Italy's armistice terms.

July 3—British seize, destroy, or bottle up a major part of the French navy.

July 19—Hitler, addressing Reichstag, warns Britain to yield or be destroyed.

August 2—British arrest two prominent Japanese in London

August 15 — Germany launches mass aerial blitzkrieg on England. Greek cruiser sunk by unknown submarine.

St. Augustine, Fla., Celebrates Founding

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA —The oldest city in the United States will have its second childhood when it celebrates its 375th birthday on September 7, 8 and 9. Catholic clergymen from throughout the country will gather to commemorate this city's founding and the birth of Catholicism in America. It was here that the first mass in the U. S. was sung.

St. Augustine was founded by Menendez on September 8, 1685. The first mass to be said on American soil was then given by Father Frajales, who had accompanied Menendez from Spain Although several other cities claim to be the oldest, St Augustine was the only one to be continuous. Several others died, only to be resettled in later years

Three hundred players will take part in the fiestas and pageants Spanish senoritas, caballeros, British, French and Spanish soldiers will be arrayed in period costumes.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

BRITISH WILL TRADE ISLAND

Some of the most important conversations ever to take place with Great Britain in 150 years have been transpiring behind the scenes recently.

As this column has pointed out on several occasions, the support most desperately needed by Great Britain as of this moment is destroyers.

To this end, conversations between representatives of the two governments have taken this course:

If the United States will supply Britain with destroyers and small motor-torpedo boats, then the British will transfer to the United States any island possessions it desires any place in the Western hemisphere, and will also permit the United States the use of land, air and naval bases on any territory which it controls.

In addition to this, the British have told American plenipotentiaries that the United States can write its own ticket. In other words, if this country wants other concessions from Britain in return for naval support, it can have them.

These terms, transmitted to members of the Roosevelt cabinet and to high Roosevelt advisers, have been received most favorably. This includes the Republican members of the cabinet, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox. In fact, the opinion inside the administration has been unanimous.

However, the President himself has been loathe to move.

* * *

POLLS UNRELIALE THIS YEAR

Psychological Corporation, one of the leading public poll organizations of the United States, is warning clients privately about the reliability of public opinion polls under present unsettled conditions.

Psychological Corporation is headed by Dr. Henry C. Link, who is the originator of the "P. Q." or Personality Quotient, and other psychological tests. He is also connected with a number of national business concerns, including U. S. Rubber, Lord & Taylor, and Gimbels department store. Psychological Corporation set up the original Fortune poll and has conducted numerous polls in its own name.

Despite its long experience, however, P. C. will not conduct polls of general public opinion this year. Reason for this is that the war and public reaction to it have set up such rapid cross currents of opinion as to make established polling methods unreliable.

P. C. will continue to make any poll for which its services are employed, handling each job according to the individual requirements. But on polls where the war enters as a factor, or in regard to political opinion, P. C. will undertake them only on condition that definite predictions will not be made because of incalculable rapid shifts of opinion.

On polls not involving these factors, which it will conduct as it has similar ones in the past, P. C. makes no reservations. But it definitely is hedging on political polls and is frankly telling clients so.

* * *

GERMAN PARTNERS

Despite the intervention of Arthur V. Davis, chairman of the Aluminum Corporation of America, the justice department is going ahead with its grand jury proceedings against that company and the giant German chemical cartel, I. G. Farbenindustrie, for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in the production of magnesium.

Magnesium is an alloy even lighter than aluminum and is used in the manufacture of airplanes. It was in such demand by Germany for Hitler's airplane program, that Germany paid cash for American magnesium, even when she was desperately hard up for exchange.

Mr. Davis came into the Justice department and offered all sorts of co-operation to the government. But the department's anti-trust experts figure that it is too late. They have taken the position that when an American company co-operates with Germany to restrict production of an important metal, it hampers national defense by discouraging American industry in peacetime.

The magnesium industry, they figure, should have been developed sufficiently during peacetime so that it could be expanded very rapidly now in an emergency.

It is also their contention that the restriction of magnesium production in normal peacetimes discourages airplane manufacturers from experimenting with this very important alloy and learning to make full use of it.

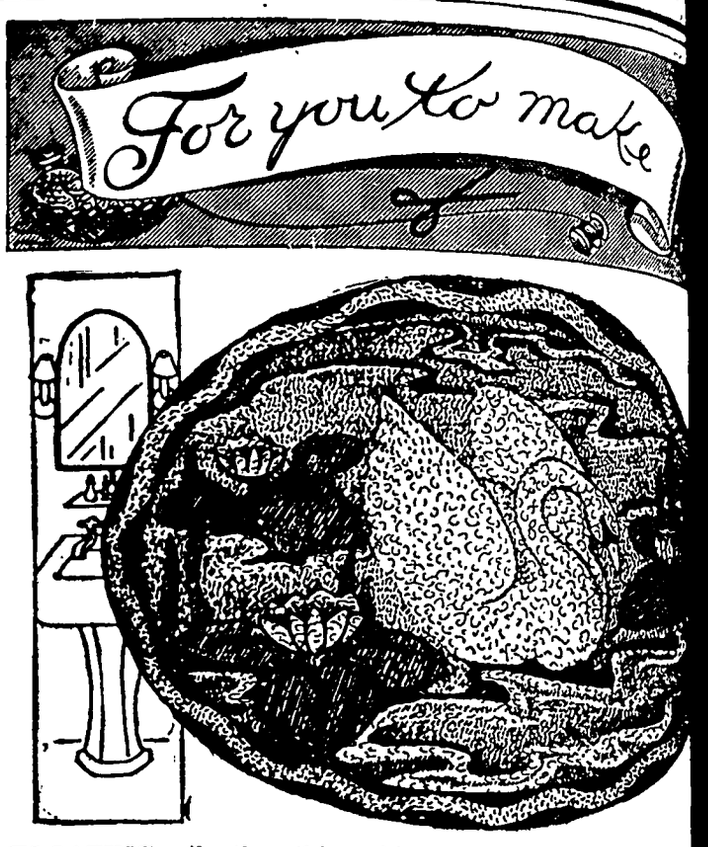
So the grand jury investigation, now in progress in New York, will continue.

* * *

ON CAPITOL HILL

That 41-page symposium of news articles and editorials on Jim Farley that Sen. Carter Glass, aged economy-minded Virginian, inserted in the Congressional Record cost the taxpayers $1,845. The insertion was the largest ever placed in the Record

Albert H. Losche, 14-year-old senate page, has joined the ranks of Washington authors. He has published a book of his senatorial experiences under the title "Washington Memoires."



FLOATING silently, this white swan, surrounded by colorful lilies, will add a note of charm to your bathroom as a useful hooked mat. Natural colors may be used or grays, black and white, if you prefer.

Order Z8541, 15 cents, is a hot iron transfer for the rug about 17 by 30. Directions for and instructions for making frames are included. Send to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City
Enclose 15 cents for each desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

AROUND THE HOUSE

A tablespoon of vinegar poured into glue that has become hardened in a bottle will soften it.

* * *

To cool a pie quickly as soon as it comes from the oven place it on a colander and the air can circulate under it so that it will cool quickly.

* * *

The broad side of a knife which has been dipped in cold water will flatten cookies so that they may be more easily rolled.

* * *

The pockets of kitchen aprons are constantly catching on door handles, nails, etc. Try putting the pockets in the center of the apron. The pockets can be reached by either hand and cannot catch on anything and tear.

* * *

Store salad oil in a dry, cold place. Keep coffee, tea, sugar, baking powder, spices, soda, cream of tartar and cereals tightly covered in a dry, dark place.

* * *

Lemon slices cut thin and sprinkled with chopped parsley, served alternately with plain lemon slices, add much to the attractiveness of a fish salad.

Scotsman Found He Was Running a Poor Second

For many months the Scottish wooer had come a village lass without cent himself Then he felt the time come for him to begin to Producing a well-thumbed book, he said:

"Maggie, I've been weig your good points, and I've up to ten. When I get to the I'll hae something to say

"Well, I wish ye luck, Joc maiden coolly responded, jerk of her head "An' I reckoning up your bad poi I've reached nineteen. gets to twenty, I'm marryi guson, the plumber."

Speed of Baseball

A speed of 139 feet per or 94 7 miles per hour is the est recorded speed of a baseball. This rate was re by the speed meter owned Cleveland Indians for a ball by Atley Donald, a member pitching staff of the New Yo kees, in the Cleveland stad August 30, 1939. The previ ord, established by Dee M the Philadelphia Athletics, feet per second.

A CYCLE OF HUMAN BETTERMENT
ADVERTISING gives you new ideas and also makes them available to you at economical cost. As these new ideas become more accepted prices go down. As prices go down more persons enjoy new ideas. It is a cycle of human betterment, and it starts with the printed word of a newspaper advertisement
JOIN THE CIRCLE READ THE ADS

Southwest Turns Back Its Clock Four Centuries to Honor the Exploits Of Coronado, Spanish Conquistadore

O SCOTT WATSON
(Western Newspaper Union.)

S year of invasions ace-loving countries, litzkriegs and con- is somewhat ironical section of the United e only major power directly involved in d World war, should rating with pageants r ceremonies the in- f American soil by forces from Europe. at invasion took place s ago—two and a half s before there was a States—and the coun- h these European in- et out to conquer was d by nomadic tribes es who were far from peace-loving people. also somewhat ironical leader of the invaders, eing honored this year as explorer, was regarded lure by the powers who forth He was Fran- squez de Coronado and Coronado Cuarto-Conten- ebration in Arizona and xico recalls the begin- 1540, of his epic journey the Great Southwest. vents which it memorial- an 44 years after Colum- covered the New World. Cabeza de Vaca and three ons, who had followed on his voyage of explora- Florida, began their long, ourney from what is now a back to Mexico City. re the only survivors of an 60 adventurers, who etrated far into what is United States in search From the Indians they ales of great cities to the where the houses were with gold. Their imagi- ired by these yarns, they repeated the stories ey finally reached Mexico 39 the Spanish viceroy in sent Friar Marcos de check on the reports De Vaca had heard. His was the Negro, Estevan, ad been with De Vaca all his wanderings and n, who pushed on ahead of a, sent back glowing re- f the great cities which ead and their treasures. Marcos pushed on to see self these great cities.

a hilltop in what is now xico he looked down upon valled cities gleaming in light and his imagination ansformed these into the of the legendary golden Cities of Cibola. Without ng to investigate further, r hastened back to Mex- his story stirred the gold the Spaniards anew. Sev- the leaders in New Spain for the honor of leading edition to conquer this new y and recover the treas- the Seven Cities of Cibola ancisco Vasquez de Coro- as finally chosen as the commander for the venish arms had completed nquest of Mexico and the of Spanish chivalry rallied onado's banners. On Feb- 23, 1540, his army, com- of 250 horsemen, most of members of the nobility, 200 oldiers and 1,000 Indians— s and servants of the Span- aliers—moved out of Com- to march north. They ccompanied by great herds le, sheep, goats and pigs d and their camp supplies, ons and other provisions loaded on the backs of a nd horses and mules in pack trains.

onado's expedition entered is now the United States southern end of the Hua- mountains in the region of zuma pass and Yaqui s in Arizona. But his huge with its pack trains and of animals proved cumber- and delayed the explorer's unduly, so with a force of troops Coronado moved on , north and east, into what w New Mexico.

Spanish leader soon ed that he was doomed to pointment. For instead of g the Seven Cities of Cibola their golden streets and jewel-studded houses, he only the seven villages of uni Indians in western New co. While they were impos- size, with great houses ris- ve stories high and built of e, stone and wood, there was old whatsoever in them. ing eastward, Coronado to the largest city in what o become the United States. s the pueblo of Pecos, which 500 warriors who boasted they had never been defeat-

t awed by the glitter and

Don Diego de Vargas, played by an actor in the Santa Fe Fiesta, kneels in the Plaza of ancient Santa Fe to give thanks for the reconquering of New Mexico. (Santa Fe railway photo.)

mystery of the Spanish arms, the warriors of Pecos decided not to try to resist the invaders Instead they welcomed Coronado into their town with drums and pipes of peace and gifts of turquoise and native-woven cloth. But again there was no gold or other treasure to reward the white men for their long journey Later the Indians of Pecos began to regret their hospitality to the strangers, so one of them, nicknamed the Turk, was persuaded to lure these gold-hungry white men away to the northeast by promising to show them the Gran Quivera, a city of silver and gold.

On to Gran Quivera.

Instead of starting directly for the Gran Quivera, Coronado seems to have marched south and eastward to investigate other Indian pueblos. He next turned east and pushed on into what is now the state of Texas where he marched for weeks over arid deserts and trackless prairies, constantly harassed by hostile Indians who were more dangerous foemen than the peaceful inhabitants of the pueblos.

After circling around in the Staked Plain region of the future Lone Star state, he turned north to seek the Gran Quivera and near the present site of Wichita, Kan., found—not the treasure houses of gold which the Turk had promised but a land where the only human habitations were skin tepees and grass lodges. It is believed that Coronado got as far east as the Palo Duro canyon in the Texas Panhandle and during his wanderings he was the first white man to cross such rivers as the Canadian, the Red, the Cimarron and the Arkansas.

As night falls on the first day of the Santa Fe fiesta, the giant effigy of "Zozobra, or Dull Care," is burned as the climax of the fireworks display. (Santa Fe railway photo.)

Disappointed again in his search for cities of gold, Coronado started back toward Mexico. His return journey took him through southwestern Kansas, across the "panhandle" of Oklahoma, thence westward across northern New Mexico to the Seven Cities of Cibola (the Zuni towns) again, and on westward through northern Arizona. The first white man to see the wonders of the Grand canyon were members of a detachment of Coronado's army who gazed in awe upon that vast emptiness.

Retreat to Mexico.

For two winters Coronado made his headquarters at Tiguex, an Indian pueblo located near the present town of Bernalillo, N. M. Returning there in the fall of 1541 from his vain quest for the Gran Quivera, he found his main army disgruntled and homesick for Mexico. In the spring of 1542 he suffered a severe injury and while he was on his sickbed, his captains signed a petition to return to Mexico. They finally obtained his reluctant consent and soon afterwards the indomitable leader set out on the return journey over the route he had traversed with such high hopes two years earlier.

Although Coronado's expedition was, in the eyes of his contemporaries, a sad failure because he had not brought back the gold and other treasure that was expected of him, history has written his expedition down as one of the greatest land explorations of all time. Moreover, it gave Spain a claim to a vast new territory in the New World and established in the Southwest a civilization, many traces of which still survive after the passage of four centuries.

Half a century after Coronado's expedition, another led by Don Juan Onate came into the valley of the Rio Grande and, establishing settlements all along the river, he set up his first capital at San Gabriel, six miles north of Espanola at the mouth of the Chama river. Some time between 1606 and 1610, Don Pedro de Peralta, the third governor of Spanish New Mexico, established the city of Santa Fe and this ancient city, which has been the seat of government of province, territory and state under old Spain, Mexico and the United States, is the scene of one of the most important events of "Coronado year," although it has been observed every year for two centuries.

It is the Santa Fe Fiesta, one of the oldest continuously observed celebrations held in the United States. It commemorates the reconquest in 1692 by Don Diego de Vargas of the vast territory which had been lost to the Spanish authorities in the great Pueblo revolt of 1680. Held on August 31, September 1 and 2, the first day of the fiesta is given over to gaiety with the populace and visitors in Spanish costumes, native orchestras playing in the Plaza and dancing by the Indians from the pueblos near by. In the evening there is a picturesque ceremony, the burning of a giant effigy of "Zozobra, or Dull Care," and the crowning of the fiesta queen

Sunday morning is devoted to time-honored services in the ancient cathedral and in the afternoon the colorful pageant of the re-entry of De Vargas and his armored conquerors into the capital is held in the Plaza. That night there is a candle-light procession to the Cross of the Martyrs overlooking the city. On Monday the children hold their costume and pet show in the Plaza, in the afternoon there is more pageantry through the streets of the city and the climax of the fiesta comes that night with native dances and songs on the balconies of La Fonda, the leading Santa Fe hotel, dancing in the streets and finally El Baile de Los Conquistadores (the Ball of the Conquerors) at La Fonda.

Thus for three days, Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico, turns the clock back two and a half centuries just as the whole Southwest has been turning its thoughts back all this "Coronado year" to the days of that great explorer and his mail-clad conquistadores.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

HERBERT MARSHALL'S first talking picture was "The Letter," in which he played Jeanne Eagel's lover, whom she killed. Now he's playing in it again, but this time he's the husband of the heroine, played by Bette Davis. He prefers his current role.

"I'd rather be a betrayed, but live, husband, than a dead lover!" he commented.

Incidentally, two of the most interesting photographs that have come this way recently are of Bette Davis and her stand-m They're dressed alike, posed alike. If anything, the stand-in is a little prettier than the talented Bette, but she suffers sadly by contrast Those photographs show the difference between an expert and an amateur, and they're worthy of any girl's careful study.

Twentieth Century-Fox finally got the screen rights to the play "Tobacco Road," which has been running in New York for years. RKO wanted it too—it's rumored that the price was more than $100,000. Unless all censorship bars are let down, considerable rewriting will have to be done.

Although the two girls have been on the same lot for more than a year, Dorothy Lamour and Mary Martin didn't meet until recently, when they were rehearsing dance numbers with LeRoy Prinz. The Sarong Siren was brushing up on her rhumba for "Moon Over Burma," and the "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" girl was rehearsing intricate tap routines for "Love Thy Neighbor," in which she appears with Jack Benny and Fred Allen.

According to Ray Milland, "The greatest gift an actor can get is a chance to play with Claudette Colbert."

Here's the record that proves it. One of Milland's first pictures was

CLAUDETTE COLBERT

"The Gilded Lily," made six years ago; it gave him a good start toward his present success. A young man named Fred MacMurray got his start in that picture, too; he was so scared that he shook when he was making tests, and Miss Colbert kidded him out of his panic.

Melvyn Douglas was a polite but sinister "heavy" until he worked opposite her in "She Married Her Boss" and surprised everybody but himself by proving to be an excellent light comedian. "I Met Him in Paris" gave the public another light comedian, Robert Young, who until then had been a serious young man on the screen. Clark Gable had been slipping at the box office until he and the charming Claudette made the hilarious "It Happened One Night."

A giant gorilla has been worrying the executives of the zoo at Bristol, England; it costs $48 a day to feed him, and they feared that they'd have to destroy him to save his rations.

A giant gorilla has also been worrying Producer Jack Moss of Paramount—he needed one for "D. O. A." (Dead on Arrival) a mystery thriller featuring Ellen Drew, Rod Cameron, and various others. He's cabled to Bristol to ask how much he'd have to pay for Alfred, the gorilla, and what could be done about transporting him with a trainer to this country. Seems that Hollywood zoos can't offer anything big and scary enough to suit his purpose.

After finishing a picture most stars make a great to-do about escaping Hollywood and its crowds to get away to some quiet place. But after finishing "The Howards of Virginia," Cary Grant rushed straight to Broadway, and Martha Scott headed for a crowded and fashionable hotel in Santa Barbara, Calif. Hats off to them! The stars who declare that they wish the public would let them alone are likely to rage and storm if people don't notice them—Garbo excepted, of

New Autumn Suit Silhouette Registers Rigorous Changes

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

BEST dressed women have long since proved through experience the wisdom of investing in a new suit at the very start-off of the autumn season In a smart suit and a goodly supply of eye-thrilling accessories you have an investment that will yield a hundred per cent to the good right through until fur coat time and then likely as not you will be wearing your suit under your coat on many a wintry day.

The call for a new suit (with accent on new) becomes positively imperative this particular fall because lines have undergone such drastic change they make a last-year model look hopelessly passe. The new silhouette somehow contrives to give the impression of being narrow and straight though as a matter of fact it does not at all times entirely eliminate pleats and other devices that insure free and easy movement. As to jackets, they are slimmed and lengthened to give the new long-torso look.

Just now the world of fashion is all agog concerning the handsome, neat and trim black silk suits made either of faille or bengaline or smart moire. The charming suit centered in the picture is tailored of black moire. The skirt is interesting because it is skilfully manipulated to preserve the coveted slender line so indicative of the new trend, at the same time that unpressed pleats are introduced. Also the long-torso contour, which is a major fashion law this season, is interpreted in the smartly tailored jacket The fastenings of gold buttons are especially significant, in that they confirm the report that gold jewelry and gadgets are to return this fall and winter. There's important news too, in the hat this fashionably attired young lady is wearing in that it is one of the dramatic profile shapes that's the latest, according to expert millinery advice.

The suit to the left flashes important highlights in more ways than one. To begin with, the material of which it is made is a finely ribbed woolen and all the fashion notes will tell you that ribbed weaves abound in the fabric realm this fall. Again this model gives accent to the longer jacket vogue. The slenderizing narrow skirt is also made a feature in this instance. It is one of the very new side drape types. And now for the most telling fashion stroke of all which this mode registers—jet buttons fasten it!

The new tweeds for fall are gorgeous. The challenge is going to be whether to buy an all black suit such as the new style program proclaims for fall or to go in for colorful tweed with all your might. The ideal course of action is to acquire both, black for the more formal, dignified moments, and a carefree vividly colorful plaid contrasting a monotone skirt for nonchalant going about. Make it an all-plaid suit for that matter for the suit of plaid looms up on fashion's horizon in no uncertain way. The practical thing to do is to buy a plaid suit, also a monotone skirt that picks up one of the colors in the plaid. This will give you welcome changes that tune to time and event. For the model pictured a vivid plaid is selected for the long-torso jacket, the same topping a narrow skirt done in monotone.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Long Gloves

In this picture below-the-elbow sleeves and long gloves meet in just the right spot to look fashion-correct. These American-made slip-ons of velvety soft mocha make a dramatic contrast to the natural Russian lynx jacket. While the gloves' extra length and their exquisite finish give them an extravagant air, the fact that they are American made means long wear and washability, thus keeping them in the practical class.

Military Headgear From New Zealand

The picturesque headgear of the Australian and New Zealand soldiers is influencing much of the new millinery shown by London hat designers These styles have high pinched crowns and wide brims. Some of the brims are simply flat and straight, while others turn up at one side and fasten under the chin with a military locking strap.

Ladylike Fashions Keynote for Fall

The new autumn style program places the emphasis on dignity and conservatism in dress. The majority of frocks arriving are simply fashioned carrying their style message through an entirely new silhouette that narrows skirts into easy natural lines, modifies shoulders in bodice, blouse and jackets, lengthens sleeves to below elbow or to wrist.

The early call is for blacks and browns and rich greens in suit or ensembles. Hats are not freakish and they are styled to fit snugly and they are tuned to the type of hairdress you adopt.

Materials say quality at a glance. The dresses in the new collections are designed along simple wearable lines, glorified with fetching details that bespeak their newness.

And when all is said and done, you are going to be charmed with the new order of things in that good taste is evidenced all the way through heightened with dramatic touches of color in jewelry and gloves and other accessories that add fascination to the entire scheme of costume design for the coming months.

Jersey for Dress The Coming Season

When you dress up this coming season, you will probably put on jersey, but you may not recognize it as such, it will be so changed. Afternoon dresses are being made of uncut velvet jersey and dinner gowns of ribbed crepe jersey. Evening gowns will be shown in thin chiffon gauze jersey and a two-faced iridescent jersey, each side a different color, while shiny white velvet jersey will be seen in wedding gowns.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Demro and daughter, of Nashua, have been responsible for saving four people from drowning in Cedar River Mr. Demro made his first rescue 30 years ago.

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 4-5.

"Gold Rush Maisie"

with Ann Sothern and Lee Bowman.

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6-7. (Double Feature).

"Girls Of The Road"

with Lola Lane and H. Mack.

ALSO

"TWO-FISTED RANGER"

with Charles Starrett.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 8-9-10.

"I Love You Again"

with William Powell and Myrna Loy.

Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 11-12.

"Way Of All Flesh"

with A. Tamiroff and Gladys George

Added Attraction

New seedings of red clover clipped when in blossom this fall will go through the winter in better shape and produce more hay next year than if not clipped.

Around Iowa

oOo

No Fish—No Pay

Fishermen of near Waverly may have a regular fisherman's paradise in a pond belonging to Charlie Thompson of Shell Rock. Tackle and bait will be furnished the fishman and a small sum is to be paid the owner—if and when any fish are caught.

-oOo-

Long Walk

Tom Gaunaway, 81 years old, has spent the past 55 years "on the road". He is now in Osceola, but is wanting to get to Mt. Ayr where he thinks a farmer for whom he worked 15 years ago might find a place for him.

oOo

Modern

In his spare time, Vernon Schroeder, Sheldon rural route mailman, has been working with the people along his route getting it up to government specifications. Schroeder donated the paint and labor and the patrons bought the needed posts and supports which were necessary.

oOo

Fair.

The Taylor County Fair Board is hoping to get "out of the red" by asking for contributions of one to five bushels of corn from county residents. Rain, which no doubt the local residents were glad to get to assure them a crop this year, cut down the receipts of the fair to a great extent.

-oOo-

Follows.

Mary and her lamb didn't have anything over on Curtis Schmidt, Pomeroy, when he discovered a deer following him the other day.

-oOo-

Lost and Found.

The loss by four fishermen of a string of 30 fish was H. R. Page's Van Horne, gain. Using only an ordinary pole, imagine his surprise when it started to bend and something started a vigorous tugging at the line. By that time a large crowd had gathered to see what kind of a "speciman" was making all the confusion.

oOo

Harvester.

Nels Nelson, 90. knows all the ins and outs of harvesting. He has used all the methods for harvesting grain from the cradle to the modern machines. Mr. Nelson assisted with the harvesting on his farm near Mason City this year.

-oOo-

Removed.

It was necessary for Mrs. Doris Maxon, Greene, to make a trip to Rochester, Minn., to have a chicken bone removed from her throat recently. She is recovering.

-oOo-

Pennies.

Bloomfield residents really thought they were seeing "pennies from Heaven" when a jar containing 5,000 coins dropped to the pavement and broke. Not a single penny was lost in the scramble either. E. O. Spilmann, local jeweler for whom the pennies were intended, spent hours counting the 6,500 which a soon-to-be-married couple used in paying for their silver.

-oOo-

Furnace Found.

Workmen digging a basement under the Hamburg Methodist Church came upon the foundation of the old buuilding. Going in farther, they ran into an old cast iron furnace. When exposed to the air, it was discovered that the old cast iron had little rust on it; even the galvanized pipes were in fairly good shape. It is not known just how old the furnace is, as the present building was constructed in 1902.

-oOo-

Forgot.

Mrs. Frank Waggoner, Vallejo, Cal., must have been rather surprised to get a letter from her husband addressed to Carol Couch her maiden name, at Adel, Iowa. Mrs. Waggoner is visiting her mother in Adel.

-oOo-

Big Game Hunter.

Mrs. Frank Eyraud, former Ocheyedan resident, has proven her skill as a hunter already this season, by bagging a 140-pound deer near Lebec, Calfornia.

oOo

Airplanes.

Airplane pilots of near Sumner have been asked to choose routes which will cause the least disturbance among the turkeys of that vicinity. It is reported, that the turkeys are unable to distinguish between the planes and hawks and when a plane flies low, the birds are badly frightened.

-oOo-

Swimming.

In attempting to save his son, Lewis, Jesse Clark, Knoxville, was caught in a strong current of water in a small stream which drew both of them through a large culvert. They were injured when thrown against a barbed wire fence on the opposite side.

-oOo-

Four Killed.

Four horses belonging to Eben Caldwell, of near Corydon, were killed when struck by lightning recently.

Freshen a loaf of stale bread in the following way: Wrap it in a very wet cloth for about 1 minute, then place it in a 350 degree moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve warm. (Be sure to remove cloth before placing loaf in the oven!)

Use a hot knife blade for cutting fresh bread, a wet knife for cutting soft cake, and a very thin sharp knife for slicing cookie dough.

PULLETS DO BEST IN CLEAN HOUSE

Pullets should have a clean poultry house waiting for them when they come in off the range this fall, reminds H. L. Wilcke, poultryman at Iowa State College.

The birds are brought in by the time they are developing a red comb, and not later than when a few eggs are found on the range, Wilcke says. They need to be housed by themselves, and not with old hens likely to harbor disease and parasites. Old hens "dominate" the pullets, affecting production slightly.

Scrape and Scrub

To get the poultry house into condition, all equipment is removed out into the sunlight. The floor and walls of the house are scraped thoroughly and scrubbed with lye water (1 to 16 parts). The inside of the building then is disinfected with a good standard disinfectant and left open, if possible, for a week or ten days. It is then disinfected again, left to dry, and is ready for occupancy.

Don't Scare Them

If pullets are allowed to become producers before taken off the range, they may begin molting when housed, says Wilcke They also may be thrown into a molt if frightened by children or dogs, because they are somewhat flighty after being on the range.

Molt can be avoided during this starting period by keeping up the body weight of the birds. This might be done by feeding a moistened fattening mash, not to exceed 2 pounds per 100 birds per day.

CLIPPING RED CLOVER INSURES BETTER CROP

Clipping new seedings of red clover, that blossomed this fall will enable them to go through the winter in better shape and will insure bigger crops of hay next year.

Paul Burson, Iowa State College extension agronomist, who offers that suggestion, points out that "an unusually large proportion of the 1940 red clover seedings will blossom this fall because of the heavy August rains"

If seedings of red clover are allowed to mature seed their first year, much of the plant nutrients need to carry the plant over winter is wasted. and the clover may not enter the second year in condition to produce maximum yields.

At the Illinois Experiment Station, clipping new seedings when in blossom has increased hay yields in some cases doubling the crop, Burson says, and has boosted second-year seed crops from 13 to 50 per cent.

Most of Iowa's red clover seedings will head from now until mid-September, which means that the fields should be clipped by Sept. 15, Burson says. Under no condition should the fields be clipped too close or too late.

To remove lumps from brown sugar, place it on the oven for a few minutes to heat slightly. The lumps can be easily pressed out with a spoon, or they may be removed by rolling the rolling pin over the sugar on the bread board.

"The Best Time to practice Safety is all the Time." Hancock County Safety Council.

The largest reproduced or enlarged photograph in the world hangs in the south corridor of the Iowa State Capitol building. A picture of the 168th infantry upon its return from the World War, the picture is 26 feet long and 8 feet high.

Frank Senneff P.E.
Senneff & Black
LAWYERS
Garner

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

WEAR
Welch
STANDARD
OVERALL
EVERY GARMENT
Ask Your Dealer

School Days Here Again

. . . and that means school children need wholesome, ishing food for their meals and lunches.

MILKMAID BREAD . . . .

. . . will provide them with health-giving vitamins they need for their school work.

MILKMAID BREAD is baked in Garner FRESH day and delivered FRESH to your Grocer in KLE EVERY DAY. Ask your Grocer for Garner Bakery ducts which include:

Sliced Wheat Bread
Whole Wheat Bread
Rye Bread
Raisin Bread
Country Style Bread
Rolls of all kinds
Doughnuts, etc.

MILKMAID BREAD . . .
BAKED IN GARNER . . .
SOLD IN KLEMME . . .

—Your Patronage Is Appreciated—

Garner Bakery

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lehman Garner,

We Can't Sell What we haven't got!

There is an old adage among merchants which says: "Your Out List is your strongest Competitor." Yes, many a sale is lost because the merchant does not have the item on hand when the customer calls.

The Wellemeyer Store takes pride in offering the buying public a large and well sorted stock of Furniture and Rugs.

If we can please you, we know you will return again and again to buy from the Store where you have been well served.

We are well prepared for the "Fall Rush" of business, and the carload just received, crowds our floors to the limit with New Furniture and Rugs.

- Call and see this new Merchandise

Arthur Wellemeyer

Hancock County's Largest Furniture Store
KLEMME IOWA

Sweaters-- For School!

We are featuring a large line of all kinds of SWEATERS for school . . . come in and pick one of these:

- Wool Sweaters
- Spun Rayon Sweaters

All the newest colors in Zipper, Pull-Over and Button styles at from $1.95

and up to $5.00

Gildner-Paulson

Clothing & Shoes Garner, Iowa

K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6

COFFEE "Perko", per lb. 15c
COFFEE "Dripo", per lb. . .

TOILET SOAP HASKIN'S Hard Water 6 bars....

WHEATIES 2 pkgs. for 22c
CORN STARCH 3 pkgs. for .....

Plain Cookies Per lb....

JAR COVERS Mason, dozen 19c
JAR RINGS Presto, 6 boxes .....

Table Salt Measuring Glass FREE With 2 boxes at

SOAP, Blue Barrel, 3 bars 25c
COCOA, Mother's 2 lb. box at .....

MEAT DEPARTMENT

BACON Whole or Half, Lean, per lb. . . .

SAUSAGE, Pork Per lb. at 12½c
LARD, Home Rendered, 3 lbs. .....

Klemme Food Market

MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSEN, P

kerchiefs in a salt espoon of salt per
-makes laundering handkerchiefs ben in the machine.

To keep a coffee pot clean, boil a strong soda solution in it.

Feeding moldy flax is risky.

DALY
EY-AT-LAW
uth of Postoffice
0—GARNER

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

MUST SELL OUR
CARS and TRUCKS
er what you have in mind, we are sure you can find TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. ns in late models. You take no chances when you Come in and look them over.
arner Motor Sales
CHEVROLET
LE

THADA'S
Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

LS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

NAR wonder FLOUR $1.69
EAD FLOUR SO GOOD
JINS CAKE PRIZES-

2 cans . 29c | PICKLES, Sweet Bulk, 10 for 05c

ES WHOLE, peeled in syrup Quart can 14c

UTTER at .... 22c | MARSHMALLOWS 2 lbs. for 25c

eft marvelous new suds Lg. size 23c Giant size 59c

AX, No Rubbing g ..... 59c | CORN FLAKES, Kellogg's Fancy Pickle Dish FREE with 2 pkgs . 23c

Dress Specials
ent of regular $1.00 Dresses just received, Sizes
SPECIAL FRIDAY & SATURDAY—
79c each

Seeds of black mustard, evening primrose and purslane weeds have been known to live in the soil for 50 years. Other instances show that seeds of pigweed and peppergrass may live 40 years, and buttonweed and Canada thistle 20 years.

AVERY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr and Mrs. Peter Trampel were visiting at the John Trampel home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs George Johnson. of Iowa Falls, were calling at the Leon Sherwood home on Saturday afternoon

Mrs Carl Pearson and son, Ca., are at Albia caring for Mrs. Pearson's mother who suffered a stroke a week ago

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Closson, of Fairbolt, Minn, spent a few days at the Fred Bachman and Robert Roths homes

Rev. and Mrs Harvey Nelson and son, Byron, of Luverne left for their home Tuesday morning after visiting at the Verner and Tom Nelson homes since Saturday

Mrs Martin Kartzens and children spent Wednesday at the Will Waddingham home

School opened Monday in the following schools Prairie Queen Miss Lydia Pearson, Wayside, Miss Bertha Johnson, Riverside, Miss Evelyn Arnold, Center, Miss Eula Veenstra

Mrs. Clarence Bachman and son, Delbert, were callers at the Leon Sherwood home Friday forenoon

Betty Ann Kramer was visiting at the John Bachman home at Concord for a few days

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Paster

Klemme Church:-

Woman's Society of Christian Service organization meeting on Thursday, 2 p m at the church

Worship Service 10 00 a m

(Dr Roadman president of the Morningside College will preach).

Sabbath School 11 00 a m.

4th Quarterly Conference, Monday evening, 7 45 Preceding the business meeting. Rev Buthman will preach and everyone is invited

Epworth League 7 30 p m

Liberty Church:-

Sabbath School 10 15 a. m.

Dr Roadman will preach at 11 20

4th Quarterly Conference will to held Monday evening with Klemme

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

NO SERVICE AND NO SUNDAY SCHOOL, SUNDAY

The pastor and elder, Albert Schmidt, will attend the meeting of the Northwest Synod at Plymouth Wis.

IOWA FARM FOLK TO HAVE FESTIVAL

Participants From All Over The State In Competition On Sept. 6th and 7th

Strength and skill of Iowa farm folk go on display at Iowa State College Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6-7, in an athletic event that surpasses any other in the state for size.

In addition, talented farm musicians, dancers, even comedians will entertain an audience numbered by thousands, as a folk festival program is held on the same dates.

Large Attendance

The double program will bring close to 6,000 persons to the college, it is anticipated, as the second annual Iowa Farm Sports Festival is held here

The gigantic affair, which is held under the auspices of the Ia. Farm Bureau Federation, will see individual and team champions crowned in 28 athletic divisions.

Championship also will be awarded in such non-athletic events as checkers and hog-calling

Prizes will go to the oldest Farm Bureau members present, and the largest member family

List of Events

Athletic contests will be conducted in the following divisions: Archery, badminton, baseball, base ball distance-throwing, basketball free-throwing, bowling, chair quoits, clock golf and darts.

Also dashes, field events, football distance-kicking, football distance-passing, golf and putting, horseshoe pitching, nail driving, relay races and rifle shooting.

Other divisions are softball, shuffleboard, swimming and diving, tennis, table tennis, trapshooting, tug o' war volleyball, woodchopping and wrestling.

Genius Thomas A. Edison's 9-day diary - the only one he ever kept. Written at the time the great inventor was working on some of his most important experiments. It is filled with pungent, witty comment upon all sorts of things, from dreams to what causes dandruff Don't miss this appealingly human and vital historic document printed for the first time anywhere, in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American

PASTURES NEED VACATION TO PREPARE FOR SPRING

Livestock that has been allowed to pasture new stands of clover and grasses should be removed from the pasture before Sept. 10 and kept off until next spring, according to Paul Burson, Iowa State College extension agronomist.

Burson points out that this procedure has two advantages. It gives clover an opportunity to grow and build up good reserves, thus protecting the plants against winterkilling, and provides more and earlier pasture next spring Bluegrass also benefits when it is allowed to maintain adequate root reserves.

Despite the extent of the chinch bug outbreak in the southern half of Iowa this summer, chinch bugs may not cause nearly as much trouble next year. Whether Iowa has chinch bugs in 1941 depends upon weather conditions during the winter and during the spring migration period.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pringnitz and son Roger, visited at the Albert Lange home, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abele attended the Kraft Reunion held at Renwick Park, Sunday.

Paul Ridder, who has spent the summer visiting at the Emil Beier and Ben Ridder homes, returned to his home in Waterloo, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pringnitz and daughter, Ruth Marie, and Mrs. Otto Pringnitz were dinner guests at the Avron Kreitlow home Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pringnitz and daughter, Beverly, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helps, visited with relatives at Clarion, Sunday.

James, Ralph, and Alice Ridder, of Waterloo, spent the latter part of the week at the Ben Ridder home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates were dinner guests at the Ben Ridder home Thursday.

Billie and Byrnes Lemke drove to Wisconsin, Saturday to visit with their sister, Miss Helen Lemke, who is spending her vacation there.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Huenemann visited at the Richard Ax home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ridder, of Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder and Mrs. August Ridder were visitors at the Juluis Ridder home at Fairmont, Minnesota, Saturday.

Miss Gloria Haefner spent the week end visiting at the Clarence Cook home near Kanawha.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ax and family visited at the Charles Ax home, Sunday.

Verne Greiman, son of Mr. and Mrs Ben F. Greiman, had the misfortune Saturday of having the tractor which he was driving tip over on him, pinning him under the tractor and breaking his right arm.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ridder, Waterloo, came Wednesday and spent a few days visiting relatives in this vicinity. They returned home Monday

Mr and Mrs. Harold Ridder, of Nora Springs, were callers at the Ben Ridder home, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beire, and Walter Ridder, were dinner guests at the Mrs. August Ridder home in Klemme, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Trumbell, of Mason City, were dinner guests at the Harry Pringnitz home, Sunday.

The national cash farm income, including Government payments, probably will be around $8,900,000,000, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports on the basis of its monthly analysis of the farm income situation. This is about 360,000,000 dollars or 5 per cent higher than in 1939 and would be the second highest for any year since 1930.

The value of a good, heavy stand of alfalfa as a smother crop to control Canada thistle, horse nettle and perennial sow thistle cannot be overemphasized.

To control pea aphids in alfalfa, present in parts of the state, use a brush drag once or twice daily, advises Dr. C. J. Drake, state entomologist. This improvised drag 20 to 30 feet long, will knock the insects off the plants and control the pest to a certain degree.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—HEAVY HOG BARB Wire, while the supply lasts, at $3 45 per roll. Jacobs Hardware 1tc

FOR SALE—A GOOD TENNIS Racket and Case, $1.50. Times Office. 1tc

FOR SALE—ONE 18 INCH JOHN Deere Tractor Plow. Northern Implement Shop. 1tc.

FOR SALE — GOOD LIVING Room Suite, $30. (Consists of Pullman davenport which makes up into double bed, two chairs to match.) Also other miscellaneous furniture. R. A. Jorgenson, Klemme. 1tc.

FOR SALE—USED TIRES AND Tubes, all sizes and makes. Many good tires at bargain prices. Herman Paul. tfc

FOR SALE— LEATHER, CORD and Cover Fly Nets at Kimball's Leather Store. J12tfc.

RUBBER STAMPS—A 2 LINE stamp with your name and address for 60c. Times Print Shop.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc.

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

WANTED—CUSTOM WORK FOR Two-Row power binder, $1.75 per acre J A Chambers. S-4-11-18c

CAR OWNERS—LET US INSTALL a Fyr-Fyter in your car - why take chances any longer? The cost is small, Elmer Ax, Distributor 1tp

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

$2.00
TRADE-IN Allowance for your OLD IRON on a new, lightweight,
Automatic
Electric
Iron
●
Call at
Our Office for a Demonstration
●
Central States
Electric Company

T GOES FARTHER
T LASTS LONGER
T COSTS ONLY—

LOWE BROTHERS STANDARD BARN PAINT

LOWE BROTHERS STANDARD BARN PAINT is a very high quality paint. Farmers in all parts of the country have found that it covers more square feet per gallon than paints generally used on barns. It holds its color and protects your farm buildings from the weather for years.

Stop in the next time you are in town ::: let us show you how little it can cost to keep your farm buildings bright and new-looking with LOWE BROTHERS STANDARD BARN PAINT:

Ask us for new book, "Modern Color Styling for Your Home." Gives the latest ideas on color trends.

E. F. JACOBS, Hardware
Klemme, Iowa
rm Service Store"

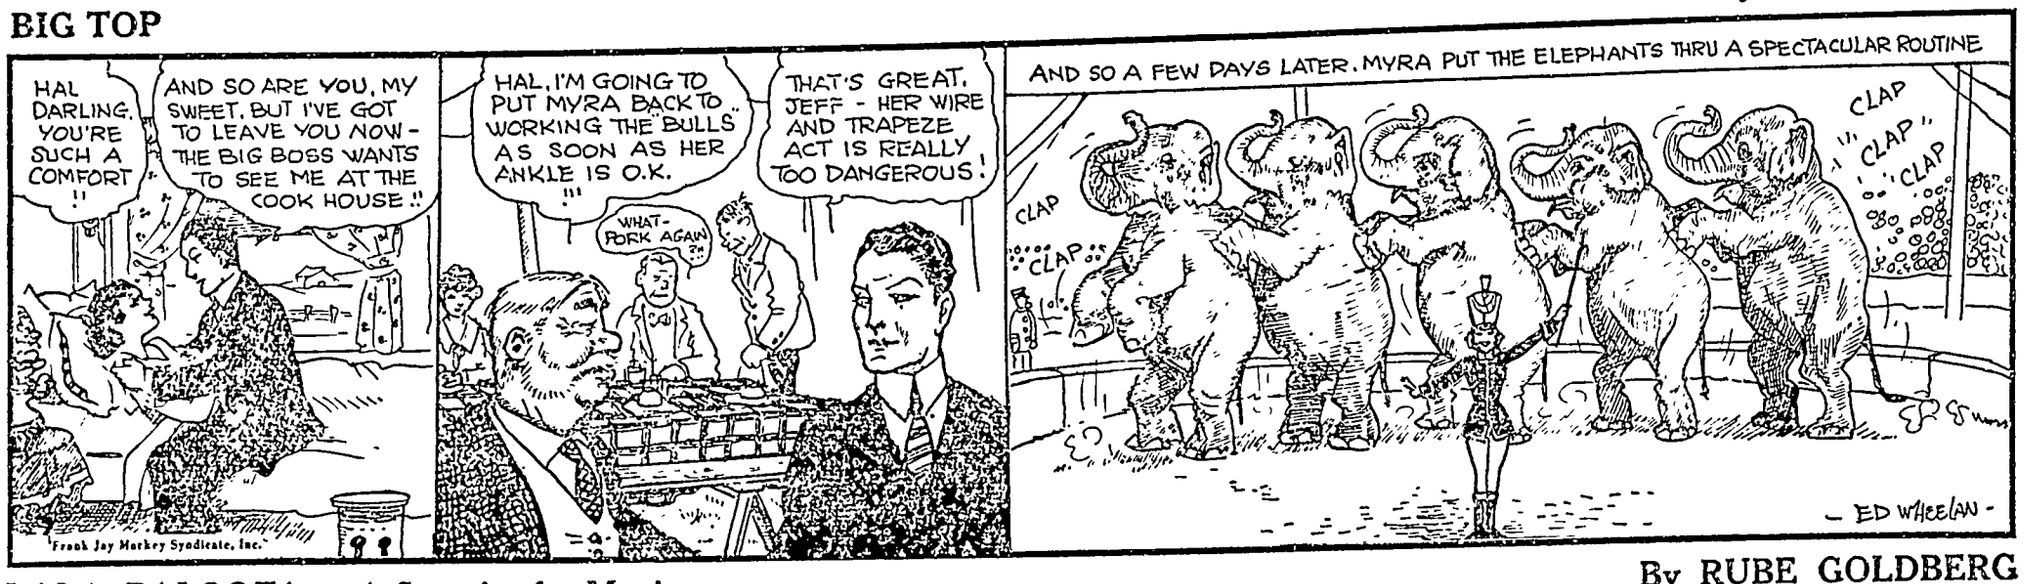
Coal-Coal-Coal
Why Not Fill
That Coal Bin Now?
AND BE READY FOR WINTER!
●
Present prices are lower than winter prices, and also, there is always a possibility of shipments being slow when real winter weather comes.

We have plenty of good coal on hand and would appreciate your order if you are not already supplied.
●
FELCO
Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company
"The Farmers Elevator" C C. KILGORE, Mgr.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

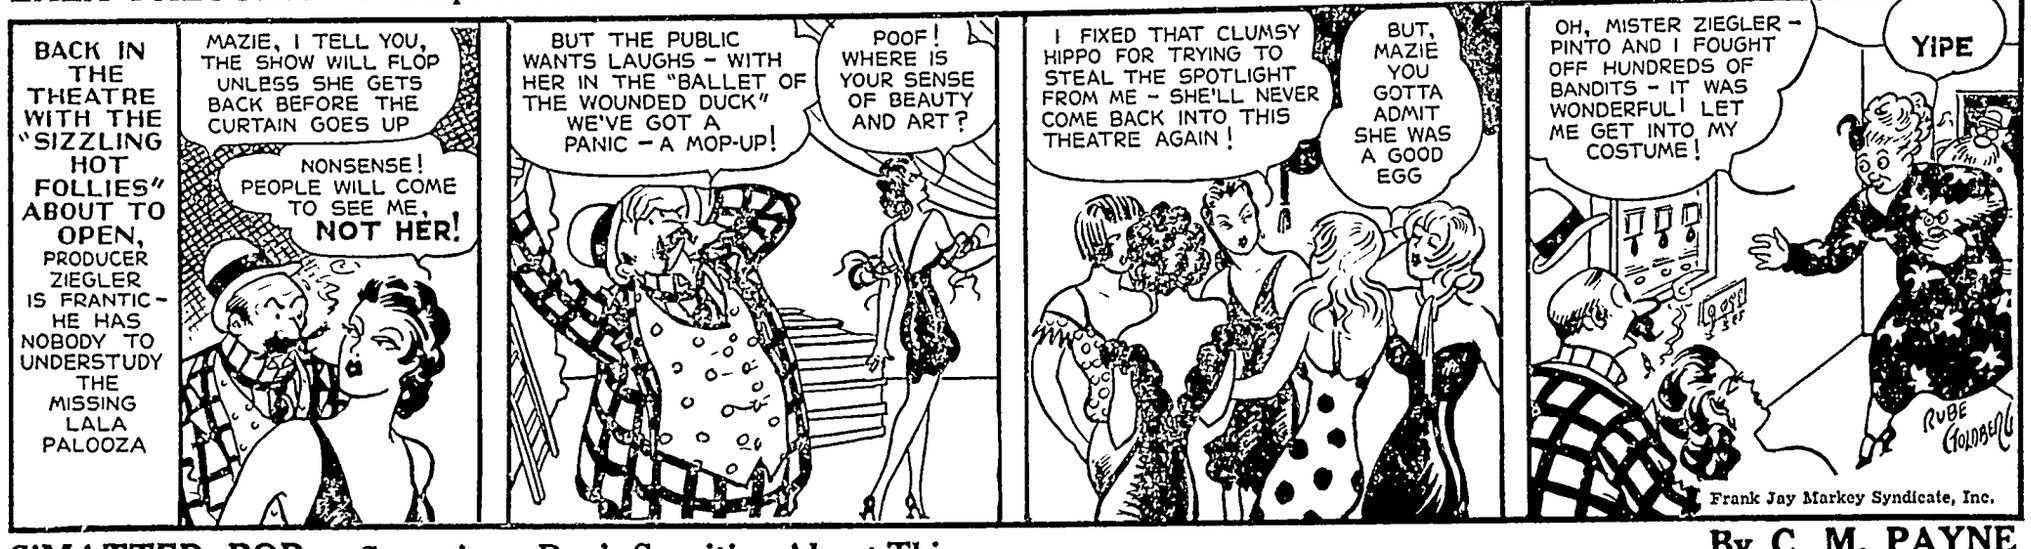
Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

BIG TOP By ED WHEELAN



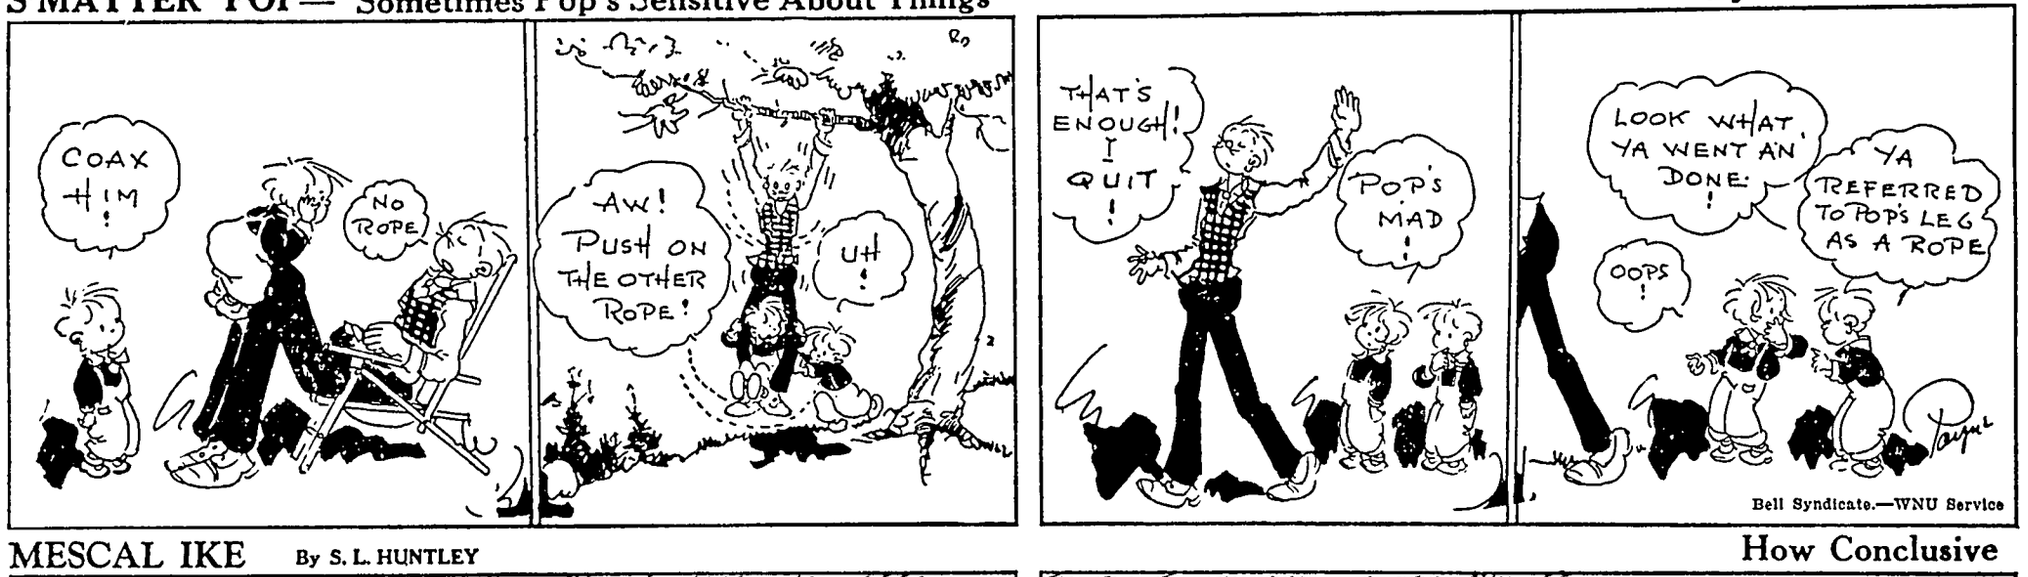
HAL DARLING. YOU'RE SUCH A COMFORT !!
AND SO ARE YOU, MY SWEET. BUT I'VE GOT TO LEAVE YOU NOW - THE BIG BOSS WANTS TO SEE ME AT THE COOK HOUSE !!
HAL, I'M GOING TO PUT MYRA BACK TO WORKING THE BULLS AS SOON AS HER ANKLE IS O.K. !!!
WHAT- FORK AGAIN ?!
THAT'S GREAT, JEFF - HER WIRE AND TRAPEZE ACT IS REALLY TOO DANGEROUS!
AND SO A FEW DAYS LATER. MYRA PUT THE ELEPHANTS THRU A SPECTACULAR ROUTINE
CLAP
CLAP
CLAP
CLAP
CLAP
- ED WHEELAN -
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

LALA PALOOZA —A Surprise for Mazie By RUBE GOLDBERG



BACK IN THE THEATRE WITH THE "SIZZLING HOT FOLLIES" ABOUT TO OPEN, PRODUCER ZIEGLER IS FRANTIC - HE HAS NOBODY TO UNDERSTUDY THE MISSING LALA PALOOZA
MAZIE, I TELL YOU, THE SHOW WILL FLOP UNLESS SHE GETS BACK BEFORE THE CURTAIN GOES UP
NONSENSE! PEOPLE WILL COME TO SEE ME, NOT HER!
BUT THE PUBLIC WANTS LAUGHS - WITH HER IN THE "BALLET OF THE WOUNDED DUCK" WE'VE GOT A PANIC - A MOP-UP!
POOF! WHERE IS YOUR SENSE OF BEAUTY AND ART?
I FIXED THAT CLUMSY HIPPO FOR TRYING TO STEAL THE SPOTLIGHT FROM ME - SHE'LL NEVER COME BACK INTO THIS THEATRE AGAIN!
BUT, MAZIE YOU GOTTA ADMIT SHE WAS A GOOD EGG
OH, MISTER ZIEGLER - PINTO AND I FOUGHT OFF HUNDREDS OF BANDITS - IT WAS WONDERFUL! LET ME GET INTO MY COSTUME!
YIPE
RUBE GOLDBERG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP— Sometimes Pop's Sensitive About Things By C. M. PAYNE



MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY How Conclusive

I'M LOOKIN' TO SEE WHAT A DREAM MEANT DREAMS
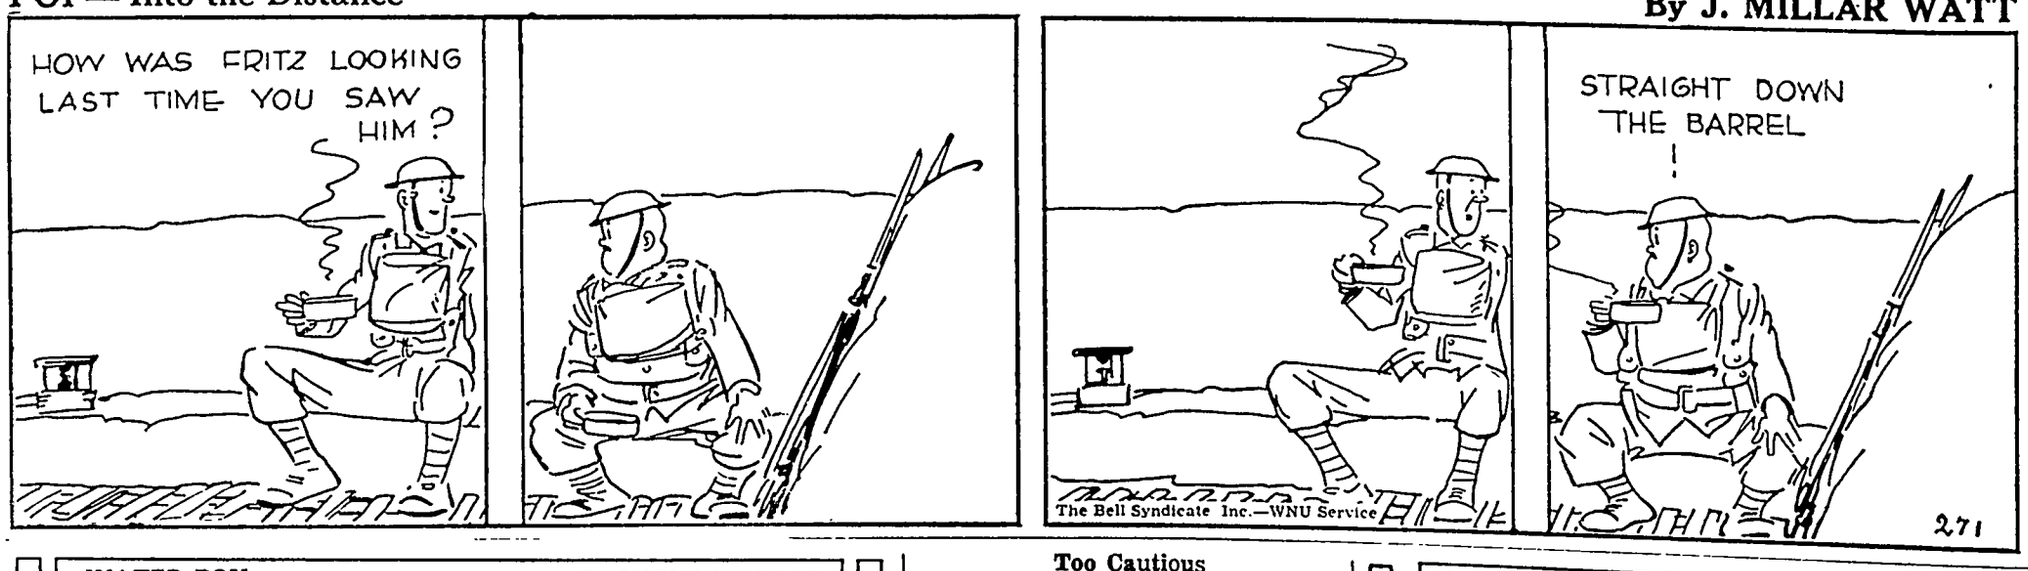
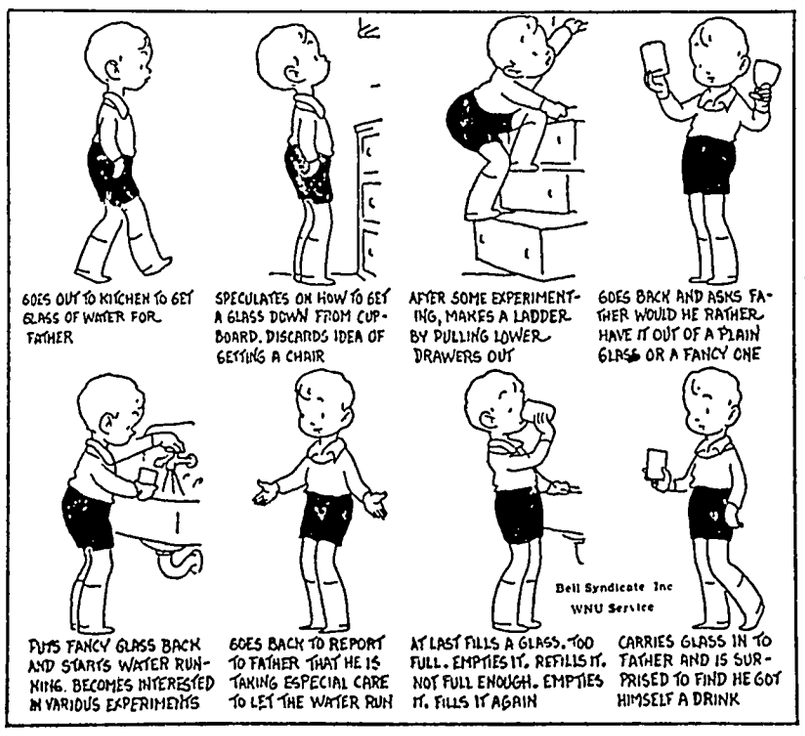
BOOK SALE
AW, PA! YUH DON'T BELIEVE IN DREAMS, DO YUH?
YO'R DURN TOOTIN' I DO!!
WHAT PROOF HAVE YUH EVER HAD OF A DREAM COMIN' TRUE?
LAST NIGHT I DREAMED I WAS A DADGUMMED BEAVER AN' THIS MORNIN' WHEN I WOKE UP ALL FOUR LEGS OF TH' BED WAS CHAWED OFF!
ART HUNTLEY
BOOK SALE

POP— Into the Distance By J. MILLAR WATT



WATER BOY By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



GOES OUT TO KITCHEN TO GET GLASS OF WATER FOR FATHER
SPECULATES ON HOW TO GET A GLASS DOWN FROM CUPBOARD. DISCARDS IDEA OF GETTING A CHAIR
AFTER SOME EXPERIMENTING, MAKES A LADDER BY PULLING LOWER DRAWERS OUT GOES BACK AND ASKS FATHER WOULD HE RATHER HAVE IT OUT OF A PLAIN GLASS OR A FANCY ONE PUTS FANCY GLASS BACK AND STARTS WATER RUNNING. BECOMES INTERESTED IN VARIOUS EXPERIMENTS GOES BACK TO REPORT TO FATHER THAT HE IS TAKING ESPECIAL CARE TO LET THE WATER RUN
AT LAST FILLS A GLASS. TOO FULL. EMPTIES IT. REFILLS IT. NOT FULL ENOUGH. EMPTIES IT. FILLS IT AGAIN CARRIES GLASS IN TO FATHER AND IS SURPRISED TO FIND HE GOT HIMSELF A DRINK
Bell Syndicate Inc WNU Service

Too Cautious

A lion escaped from a circus and ran wild through the countryside. Immediately a party was formed to hunt for the ferocious beast.

Before starting the sheriff took the members of the party into a saloon.

"Have a drink, boys, before we go on the hunt."

All accepted except Herman Schultbunder.

"Come on, take a whisky, Herman," cried the sheriff.

"Not me," answered Herman; "it gives me too much courage."

Can't Disprove It

Guest—Waiter, have you real turtle soup here? I have never tasted it in my life!

Manager of Restaurant—In that case we have some.

Hospitable

Jones (meeting an old friend on the train)—If you ever come within a mile of my house, I hope you'll stay there all night.

THE SPORTING THING By LANG ARMSTRONG

"My very first shot went into this silly little hole—now I can't knock it out ("Nazi Germany has pr... enameling of nails by wo... rouge and the wearing of sl... It brands these customs ... News item.)

To slaughter and to pill...
Is quite a proper cou...
One bombs the Red Cro...
Without the least remo...
To lie and trick and thi...

Is something big and f...
But polished na is and l...
They are a pagan sign...

II.

To tear up written treati...
Ah, that is quite okay;...
To break the solemn pro...
It's done by us each d...
To jump on little nation...
Is not wrong in the lea...
But lacquer on a lady—
It truly marks the beas...

III

Machine-gunning the age...
Is something done in str...
Great racial persecutions...
Just help to swell our ...
A blitzkrieg is a process ...

Most civilized and gay—
But fingernails when col...
They mark the heathen...

IV

To set the world on fire ...
Is quite a normal act,
To terrorize a planet
Is normal, it's a fact!
The U-boat and the bom...
We do not think unkind ...
But slacks upon a woman ...
Reveal a savage mind.

V

A gas mask on a baby,
Ah, there's a pretty si...
An ambulance when burn...
Is perfectly all right;
A child in bombproof sha...
Is nothing very sad,
But lip rouge on a woma...
Ach, Gott! but that is b...

* * *

Tokyo is terribly indi... cause Uncle Sam has de... to sell her any more gaso... tions that chase democ... dark alleys and run over th... chance they get can't see... earth could make a democ... furnishing the gas and oil...

* * *

HOME EMERGEN...

The way the Yanks are g... isn't it a good idea to for... giving those 50 destroyers ... land and give them to ... Carthy?

* * *

The question put by th... court to all those former le... be obviously, "Do you ple... or guilty?"

* * *

The treasury departmen... that there were only 50 A... in 1938 with incomes of m... a million dollars. And m... more surprised over it ... Americans with the income...

* * *

NEW VERSION

You are a guardsman ...
You are a guardsman ...
To stay in one state ...
Your chance isn't gr...
You are a guardsman ...

* * *

Quentin Reynolds calls ... De Gaulle "The Man Wh... Quit." He's one Gaulle, sa... Shore, whom Hitler would ... divide into three parts.

* * *

Nothing stumps Mayor L... of New York. Now he a... 200 housewives on how to ... run a home. "Never throw ... soupbone," he warns. ... economy." "Cook a pie," ... the mayor, "only when yo... roast on, so that you w... fuel." "Nonsense," cried ... Twitchell, the great pastr... "Never cook a roast un... have a pie on."

* * *

Nothing in years has mad... that our national safety i... secure as the recent newsp... newsreel pictures of three ... middle-aged United States ... men on their knees, aimin... rifles at cameras, and all u... caption, "Study United St... fenses."

* * *

PROOFS THAT IT'S A C... WORLD

Neville Chamberlain says ... for appeasement.

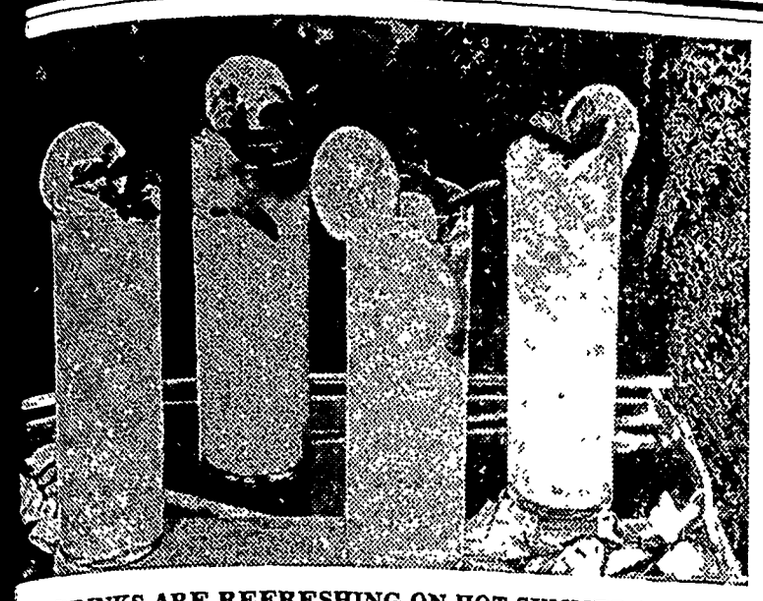
A Democrat has won the ... lican nomination for the pr...

Adolf Hitler is spending ... mer in Paris.

The Brooklyn baseball c... like a pennant winner.

Henry Ford has said "y... proposition from Presiden... velt.

The Foch peace car is now ... lin.



OL DRINKS ARE REFRESHING ON HOT SUMMER DAYS
(Recipes Below.)

Household News By Eleanor Howe

on the stickiest, hottest sum-ay, a good tart, icy drink will refresh you. Fruit drinks, in particular, are good; when you drink a frosty tumbler of lemonade or chilled orange juice, you not only feel cool-are cooler. Fresh fruit drinks y ward off the heat of sum-beverages provide the min-and vitamins the body re-and, because of the sugar for sweetening, are fairly food energy.

very easy to serve "soda foun-ecials" at home. Any combi-of fruit juices makes a de-l and refreshing beverage—ed some of the more tart such as those from lemons, y sour oranges, or rhubarb—ed to keep the beverage from too sweet and flat. Use slices nge or lemon, mint leaves, fresh or canned cherries or s, for garnishing. Ice cubes illing fruit drinks or iced tea be frozen from orange or lem-ce, to avoid diluting the bev-Mint leaves, bits of lemon r cherries can be frozen into ubes. For iced coffee, pour of the coffee into the freezing of your refrigerator, and . Then use the coffee cubes illing the drink.

ar syrup, used for sweetening, ily mixed throughout the whole and makes oother tast-moother tex-drink, than unmelted has been . To make ugar syrup, cups of sug-th 4 cups of water, for 10 min-Pour into clean, hot jars, and Store in refrigerator, and use eded.

ve crisp cookies or dainty nches with iced drinks for sim-fternoon or evening refresh-s.

Lemonade.

llow these three rules if you to make perfect lemonade: Use lemon juice and plenty of it; ten to the taste of each—not nuch sweetening for folks who t sour—sweeter for those with eet tooth; use ice and more ice. each person served, allow:
emon
o 2 tablespoons sugar or honey up cold water

tract lemon juice. Add sugar oney to taste. Stir to dissolve. water. Serve over ice in large es. Garnish with lemon slice im of glass. To make lemon make lemonade with carbon-water.

Simple Desserts for Summer nus" is an article you'll want ead. Watch for it in this col-n next week.

Sugar Cookies.

¼ cup butter
½ cup granulated sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1½ cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
eam butter, add sugar and egg. dry ingredients and add with extracts. Flour and sugar the d and roll the cookies on it. heavily with sugar, roll it in a , cut in cookie shapes, and bake moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 minutes.

Chocolate Chip Ice Cream.
(Makes 1 gallon)

cup sugar
cup flour
quarts milk (scalded)
eggs (separated)
teaspoons vanilla
teaspoon salt
cups semi-sweet chocolate (cut in bits)

mbine sugar and flour, and add ded milk slowly. Then cook low heat, stirring constantly. ove from heat. Beat egg yolks, blend with ⅓ cup of the hot ture, then add to the custard, to-er with vanilla and salt. Chill. into the freezing compartment of ice cream freezer. Pour in the stiffly beaten egg whites, assemble the freezer, and cover. Pack with mixture of three parts crushed ice to one part rock salt. Freeze, until turning becomes difficult. Remove dasher, fold in chocolate, and pack down the cream with a spoon. Cover, and allow to ripen for one hour before serving.

Is Father fussy about his food? Then you'll surely want Eleanor Howe's cook book, "Feeding Father." It has loads of recipes for the foods father likes best—recipes which have been tested and approved by homemakers as well as fathers! You can have a copy of this cook book by sending 10 cents in coin. Address your letter to "Feeding Father," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Pineapple Raspberry Punch.
(Serves 25)

6 cups crushed pineapple
6 cups raspberry juice
3 quarts gingerale
Crushed ice

Mix crushed pineapple and the raspberry juice thoroughly. Just before serving, add gingerale and ice.

Fool Proof Cookies.
(Yield 3 dozen)

2 cups flour
½ cup brown sugar
¾ cup butter

Mix and sift flour and sugar together. Then work butter into the mixture with the finger tips, forming a soft dough. Roll to ⅛-inch in thickness and cut with cookie cutter in any desired shape. Brush with yolk of one egg, beaten, and diluted with ¾ teaspoon water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) approximately 12 minutes.

Chocolate Freeze.
(Makes 4 large glasses)

4 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons cocoa
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup boiling water
2 cups milk (scalded)
½ teaspoon vanilla
Crushed ice
Whipped cream

Combine sugar, cocoa and salt. Add boiling water and cook for 2 minutes. Remove from fire, and combine with scalded milk. Pour into glasses filled with crushed ice, and serve with a spoonful of whipped cream garnishing each glass.

Blackberry Cocktail.
(Serves 4)

Mix together 2 cups blackberry juice, 1 cup orange juice, ¼ cup lemon juice, and 1 cup water. Add ¼ cup sugar syrup and blend. Pour over ice and shake thoroughly. Garnish with very thin slices of orange.

Sugar syrup—Boil 1 cup water and 2 cups sugar together for 1 minute.

Iced Coffee.

Make coffee a little stronger than usual. Cool, and serve in tall glasses filled with cracked ice. Top with whipped cream. If desired, cream may be poured on the ice before the coffee is added.

Iced Tea.

Rinse teapot with boiling water. Place tea in pot, allowing one teaspoon of the tea per cup. Pour freshly boiling water over the tea leaves and allow to steep, not boil, for 3 to 5 minutes. Pour tea over chipped ice, to cool it quickly. Serve in tall glasses garnished with lemon slices and sprigs of mint.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Tips on Wash Dresses

When purchasing materials for washable garments, make sure that buttons, belt buckles and shoulder paddings are of the sort that will stand up under frequent tubbings and that contrasting materials for trimmings, braid or bindings are also color-fast.

Double Duty Equipment

Ingeniously designed to do double duty are two new pieces of household equipment—a washer that behold comes a useful kitchen table when it isn't in action and an ironer that folds into a handsome hardwood cabinet, suitable for use in the living room.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

INVITING OTHERS TO WORSHIP GOD

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 96.
GOLDEN TEXT—O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together.—Psalm 34:3.

Worship is not only fitting, but altogether natural to the soul aglow with the love of God. Yet it is a sacred privilege to which we may call ourselves and others and in the doing of which we may be helped by an intelligent understanding of its nature and preparation for its practice.

What is worship? How does it differ from prayer, or from praise (which we studied last week)? While prayer, praise and worship belong together and often merge in one blessed art of devotion, we may possibly distinguish between them by saying that in prayer we are concerned with our needs; in praise, with our blessings; and in worship, with God Himself.

I. The Call to Worship (vv. 1-3).

This psalm has to do with collective rather than individual worship. It is not enough that man should worship God in his own soul, there is an added blessing which comes to us only as we worship with others. So we need to be called together for worship.

True worship centers in "a new song" that is the song of a regenerated heart. Worship is only a formality without life until there is a new song in the heart, and then it becomes life's greatest joy and satisfaction.

Real worship is a "day to day" matter (v. 2), not just something we put on like our "Sunday-go-to-meeting" clothes. Every day we are to worship, and as we do, we shall "declare his glory among the heathen"; among those nearest to us, but ultimately to all the nations of the earth. Worship leads out in a desire that its blessing may be shared with all the people of the earth.

II. The Reason for Worship (vv. 4-6).

Why should we worship God? He is "great" and is a God so good and gracious that He is "greatly to be praised." He made the heavens. "Honor and majesty" stand before Him like sentinels; "strength and beauty" fill the holy place which is "his sanctuary." The very words bespeak that glorious majesty and gracious loving-kindness which impel the heart to worship. They encourage us who need and seek strength and beauty of life to seek communion with Him who dwells eternally in such an atmosphere.

III. The Manner of Worship (vv. 7-10).

We have suggested that fellowship with God prompts us to worship. Some would feel that nothing more is needed, but experience tells us that, while we may worship anywhere, we are helped to do so by proper surroundings and circumstances. We are told to "come into his courts" (v. 8) and to worship "in the beauty of holiness" (v. 9), or, as the Revised Version puts it, "in holy array."

John Ruskin wisely said: "It cannot be questioned at all, that, if once familiarized with a beautiful form and color, we shall desire to see this also in the house of prayer; its absence will disturb instead of assisting devotion; and we shall feel it as vain to ask whether, with our own house full of good craftsmanship, we shall worship God in a house destitute of it, as to ask whether a pilgrim, whose day's journey led him through fair woods and by sweet waters, must at evening turn aside into some barren place to pray."

We are to give or ascribe unto the Lord praise and glory among our "kindred" (v. 7); that is, our own family, as well as in "his courts," His sanctuary. Note that one of the outstanding ways of worshiping is to "bring an offering" (v. 8), which means more than casually slipping a small coin in the "collection." If our "offerings" are liberal and regular the church will be able to send the news that "the Lord reigneth" to the whole world (v. 10).

IV. The Universality of Worship (vv. 11-13).

A world which has felt the blow of man's sin (Rom. 8:22) and has suffered from his wickedness and destructive violence will so rejoice in the righteousness of God's judgment that even the realm of nature will break into joyous worship. What a beautiful picture we see in these verses, how God's creation will lift itself up in praise, the sea in tumultuous joy, when "the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees shall clap their hands" (Isa. 55:12).

Can man then hold his peace? Must not "mortal tongues awake" and "all that breathe partake" in wholehearted worship of God? Who then will want to stand among "them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ" (II Thess. 1:7, 8), and with whom God can deal only in judgment of flaming fire?

PATTERN SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT

YOU can't just wear any old slip and expect your small-waisted frocks to have the smooth, suave, round-bosomed line they should have. Here's a design (1892-B) especially planned to do its part toward figure-flattery, and to fit as only a slip you make to your measure can fit. The top has bosom gathers to give you a little extra fullness. The waistline is dart-fitted so that it melts into your middle just beautifully.

These are simple details, very easy to do, but they make all the difference in the fit of your slip, and therefore in the fit of your frocks. There are seven easy steps in your detailed sew chart. Make yourself a whole wardrobe of slips like this, light and dark, of satin, lingerie crepe or taffeta, and some batistes and linens for your coming cottons.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1892-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 2⅜ yards of 39-inch material without-nap for built-up shoulders; 2¼ yards for strap style; 11 yards of shirred lace. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Strange Facts

All One-Sided
400 Trees Apiece
Bordering the U. S.

¶ One-sidedness in a person is shown not only in the use of the hand, but also in the use of the eye and the foot. In other words, a left-handed individual will normally use his left eye to look into a microscope and his left foot to kick an object out of the way.

¶ The quantity of wood that the average person utilizes during the course of his life—in house construction, furniture, musical instruments, motorcars, sporting goods, pencils, magazines, newspapers, books and other paper articles—is equivalent to that of about 400 large trees.

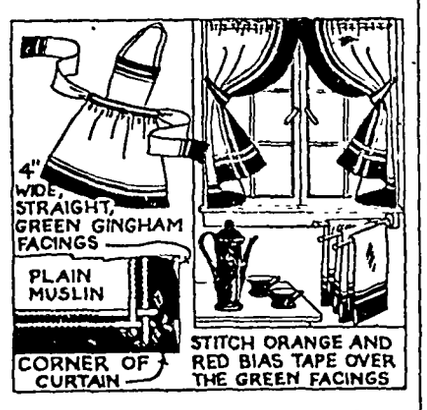
¶ When the moon is a crescent, the light that makes the whole disk faintly visible is earthshine, or the sunlight that is reflected by the earth. At that time of the month, earthshine on the moon is estimated to be 12 times as bright as the light of a full moon on the earth.

¶ Although the land area of Canada is nearly 500,000 square miles larger than that of the United States, almost 90 per cent of its population live within 200 miles of the American border.—Collier's.

HOW to SEW

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

KITCHEN showers are fun for everyone and, while they are always supposed to be a surprise, the prospective bride will be wise to give out a broad hint as to her color scheme. The dearest wish of one bride-to-be was a kitchen in gay Mexican colors. Her friends had a wonderful time selecting everything from pottery to peeling knife handles in tones of green, orange and red. One gift that was appreciated most of all was the apron, curtain and tea towel set sketched here.



4" WIDE, STRAIGHT, GREEN GINGHAM FACINGS
PLAIN MUSLIN
CORNER OF CURTAIN
STITCH ORANGE AND RED BIAS TAPE OVER THE GREEN FACINGS

This set was made from muslin flour and sugar bags. Muslin by the yard would do just as well, and I have shown in the sketch how the gingham facings and bias tape trimming were applied to add the correct touch of color. If you have never cut an apron without a special pattern, you will find directions in Book 4 along with ideas for more aprons and other fascinating things to make for almost nothing.

NOTE: As a service to our readers Mrs. Spears has prepared a series of homemaking booklets. Booklet 5 just published contains 32 pages of clever ideas fully illustrated; and a description of the other numbers in the series. Booklets are 10 cents each to cover cost and mailing. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York
Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.
Name .....
Address .....

Ask Me Another

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. In what famous song does the phrase "grapes of wrath" appear?
2. Who was known as the "Little Napoleon of Baseball"?
3. What plant produces two common spices?
4. Do cat eyes shine?
5. In the Bible version what musical instruments are mentioned as having caused the destruction of the walls around the ancient city of Jericho?
6. Does a woman's heart beat faster than that of a man?
7. The Roman hunt was blessed by what ancient goddess?
8. "Far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife" is a line from Gray's poem concerned with what?

The Answers

1. In the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."
2. John McGraw.
3. The nutmeg tree is the only plant whose seed produces two common spices, nutmeg and mace, the latter being the dried arillode, or fibrous covering, of the nutmeg kernel.
4. The eye of a cat acts as a mirror which throws off light, but it does not generate it.
5. Trumpets.—Joshua 6:20.
6. Under normal and comparable conditions, a woman's heart beats from 5 to 7 per cent faster.
7. Diana.
8. A country churchyard (elegy written in a country churchyard).

Good Counsel

To awaken each morning with a smile brightening my face; to greet the day with reverence for the opportunities it contains; to approach my work with a clean mind; to hold ever before me, even in the doing of little things, the Ultimate Purpose toward which I am working; to meet men and women with laughter on my lips and love in my heart; to be gentle, kind, and courteous; to approach night with weariness that woos sleep and joy that comes from work well done—this way I desire to waste wisely my days.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS
REPAIRS For Your STOVE FURNACE or BOILER
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All Makes
Have Your Dealer Order from Us
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COMPANY

Love of a Good Man

In the love of a brave and faithful man there is always a strain of maternal tenderness; he gives out again those beams of protecting fondness which were shed on him as he lay on his mother's knee.—George Eliot.

HOW ARE YOUR NERVES?
Cranky? Restless? Can't sleep? Tire easily? Worried due to female functional disorders? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound famous for over 60 years in helping such weak, rundown, nervous women. Start today!

Being Virtuous

Be virtuous and you will be eccentric, yet blessed.

HANDY Home Uses MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY JARS 5¢ AND 10¢

WNU—N 35—40

Full Life

He most lives who lives most for others.

TIME FOR A Cool, Mild "Makin's" Smoke!
WATCH THAT THERMOMETER CLIMB. I'M GLAD TO ROLL PRINCE ALBERT FOR REALLY COOL, TASTY SMOKES!
YOU BET! AND NO FUMING AND FUMBLING OVER LOOSE, SIFTY TOBACCO. THAT P.A. CRIMP CUT TWIRLS UP FAST AND NEAT!
Rollin' along with P.A.! Charley Frey (right) says further: "Prince Albert is the comfort smoke for me!" Elmer Meilinggaard (left) adds: "There's nary a bite in all that ripe, rich Prince Albert. And that Prince Albert aroma is something to write home about!" (P.A. is the pipe tobacco, too!)
70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy pocket tin of Prince Albert
In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned 86 DEGREES COOLER than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested ...coolest of all!
PRINCE ALBERT
THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE
Copyright, 1940, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

We doubt if little Marcene Baumann, Forest City, would care to repeat her performance of last week when she fell from a second story window of her home. She was badly bruised but otherwise little the worse for the occurrence.

School Days!

MR. FARMER:

If you need work done on your car . . . if you need a grease job . . . if you need tires repaired or the oil in the crank case changed . . . you can save time by letting your son or daughter leave the car here while they are at school.

You can rest assured that we will give your car the same attention as if you brought it here yourself. If special attention is required we will phone you.

The Garage That Is Close To The School

North Side Garage

A. C. Bird Phone 31

Mrs. Rosa Tanner and daughter, Francis, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kalkwarf and baby, returned Monday evening from a western trip. They visited the Rocky Mountain National Park and other places of interest, and also visited at Fort Collins, Colorado and Chanute, Kansas.

Miss Doris Johnson began work at the Runway Trap factory last week. Six people are now employed there: Clifford Lenz, foreman, Juanita Pavey, Mildred Thiemann, Mabel Thiemann, Ruby Wille and Doris Johnson. Mr. Thompson, manager, says he expects to keep the factory running on full schedule from now on.

Improvements are under way at two business places this week. At the Klemme Auto Company, the display room is being decorated in delph blue and ivory and the new 1941 Hudson cars will be on display this week. Art Wellemeyer has completed the building of a new loading platform and a stretch of new side walk at the rear of his store.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder concluded a month's visit with her daughter and family at Sheboygan, Wisconsin and returned home Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Ingle and sons brought her home. Mrs. Ingle and sons remained in Klemme for a week's visit and Mr. Ingle returned to his home Monday.

Auxiliary Meeting

The Klemme Auxiliary Unit will meet at the home of Mrs. J. C. Thomas on Thursday evening, September 12.

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers were at Mason City on business Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jost and Phyllis spent the week end in Wisconsin visiting with relatives.

Dorance Day drove to Des Moines on business, Tuesday evening.

Asa Gibbs is the owner of a new Chevrolet which he purchased about a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Christiance took in the air show at Midway Air Port at Mason City, Sunday.

Lloyd Wistey, of Clear Lake, was visiting at the Ed Jacobs home Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka and son, Billie, were at Fort Dodge on business Saturday.

Jack Hamm, of Indianola, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with "Bodge" Bowles at the R. A. Jorgenson home.

Miss Janita Pavey spent the week end at Marion, South Dakota where she visited with her grandmother, Mrs. Ebeling.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mitchell and Otho and Verle Keraus, of Swea City, spent Sunday in Klemme visiting with relatives.

Quite a number of people from Klemme and vicinity took in the air show at Mason City Sunday afternoon.

Ben Coobs and family went to McGregor Thursday and visited with relatives and friends until Sunday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka were dinner guests Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schoenwetter in Liberty township.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson and daughter, Lenora, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Larson and baby, spent Sunday at the Alvin Haupt home near Belmond.

Wes Schuldt, of Davenport, Ia., spent several days of the past week in Klemme renewing old friendships and looking after business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kilgore, son "Pete" and daughter, Ellen and Mr. Hollberg, father of Mrs. Kilgore, were visiting in Mason City, Saturday.

Duane Johnson, enrollee at the CCC camp near Bancroft, spent Sunday in Klemme visiting at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Henry Medaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Henschen and son, Will, of Garner, were visiting at the home of Mrs. Ernest C. Henschen, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Risser and son, Bobbie, returned to Des Moines Sunday after spending a week's vacation in Klemme visiting at the P. M. Wilson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kinkade returned to their home at Des Moines Monday evening, after visiting for about a week at the Dr. Schaeffer home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Buseman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rank Buss, of Hampton, went to Wisconsin last week for a visit with relatives.

Harry Gibbs and family visited with relatives at Watertown, South Dakota last week. They took Duane Ridder back to his home there after he had spent the summer at Mrs. C. A. Arnold farm.

Paul Grange and family returned last Wednesday evening from Estherville where they spent a couple of days visiting at the Fred White home. Mr. Grange also looked after business matters while there.

The Mission Festival which was held at the Klemme Reformed Church Sunday, was attended by a large crowd and the church was packed for the several sermons. There were many visitors here from out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kimball and Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Griggs returned last Thursday morning from several days fishing at Cedar Lake, Wisconsin. They report good luck fishing and had all the fish they could use.

Mrs. Lyle Burr and children, Carolyn and Bobbie, Mitchelville, and Mrs. Naska Bock, were dinner guests Monday at the Fred Greiman home, and were supper guests at the Edwin Bock home at Garner.

Mrs. A. G. Koerner, Mrs. Orville Stokesbary and Janis, and Mrs. Martha Bredbenner took Miss Novella Bredbenner to Allison Saturday. Miss Bredbenner will teach at Allison again this coming school year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arnold, Evelyn and Bruce, returned Wednesday afternoon from Des Moines where they spent two days taking in the State Fair. Wilbur and Roy Arnold took in the Fair on Monday and Tuesday.

"Pete" Kilgore arrived from Moline, Illinois early Saturday morning to visit over Sunday and Labor Day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kilgore and family. "Pete" returned to Moline Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown and son, Billie, and Emily Lou Johnson, of Oskaloosa, Iowa; George Johnson and son Duane, of Bancroft, were all dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Henry Medaus.

Mrs. J. C. Thomas took Miss Irene Harms to Logan, Friday, where Miss Harms will teach this year. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Gerald Koerner and son, Terry, who visited with relatives at Dow City.

John Lamont and Miss Ethel Overholt returned Tuesday from Iowa City, where they visited over the week end and Labor Day with Mrs. John Lamont, who is a nurse at the University hospital. Mrs. Lamont is also Miss Overholt's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Ing. Lauritzen and their son and daughter, of Sheboygan, Wisconsin, arrived Friday night to visit over Sunday at the Einar Salling home and with other Klemme relatives and with friends. The Lauritzens were driving a brand new Chevrolet sedan on the trip. They plan to make at least one trip to Klemme each year They started their homeward journey Monday morning.

CRADLE ROLL

Members of the Cradle Roll and mothers will meet at the Methodist Church Thursday afternoon, September 12th. Mrs. Stewart Hevilin and Mrs. Truels Steffen are the hostesses.

Treatments of potash on high-lime areas in north-central Iowa have brought considerable increase in corn yields

Arthur Wellem
FUNERAL DIRECT
—with long experienc
best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULAN
SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or
Klemme, Iowa

Coal is cheaper-

. . . it is cheaper to buy your winter's supply of coal NOW than to wait until later when prices are higher. Phone us your order and have your bin filled today at the lower prices! We have your favorite coal in stock:

- RED CLOVER
- BLUE DIAMOND
- RANGE COAL
- BERWIND BRIQUETS

•BERWIND BRIQUETS . . . we have the Genuine Berwind Briquets made from genuine Pocahontas Coal, ground up and treated. It's the cleanest fuel you ever saw. Try a load of Berwind Briquets.

COAL ON THE ROAD

We have in transit, a carload of each of RED CLOVER and BLUE DIAMOND. Phone us your order if you want it off the car.

Federal

North Iowa Grain Co.

H. F. JOST, Manager Klemme, Iowa

School Days

AND . . . OUR MESSAGE TO PARENTS . . . .

You can feel perfectly free to send your boy or girl here with your car for servicing while they are at school. You can save time by having them bring your car to us. You can rest assured we will give your car the same careful attention that we would if you were here yourself.

COMPLETE GREASING AND OILING . . . .

We are equipped to give any car a complete grease job. We use only the grease recommended for the several parts of your car.
For the very best . . . . change to PENNFIELD MOTOR OIL. Costs a few cents more, but worth it. Ask the car owner who uses PENNFIELD.

TIRES AND TUBES . . . THREE BRANDS

We carry FIRESTONE, U. S. and GOODYEAR Tires and Tubes. Now is the time to buy as the war in Europe will advance prices rapidly. See us today if you need TIRES and TUBES.

After School Drive In For A Tankful Of White Rose Gas

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station

HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa

Referee's Sale

Public Auction

TUESDAY, SEPT. 24, 1940

THE UNDERSIGNED REFEREE WILL OFFER F SALE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, THE FOLLOWI DESCRIBED REAL ESTATE:

Lots Numbered 1 and 2 in Block Number 11 of Klemme's First Addition to the town of Klemme, Iowa, as shown by the recorded Plat thereof; and the West 100 feet of the North Half of Out Lot 3 in Klemme's First Addition to the Town of Klemme, Iowa; and commencing at the Northwest corner of Out Lot 3 of Klemme's First Addition to the town of Klemme, Iowa, running thence East 100 feet along the North line of said Out Lot 3 for a point of beginning, thence East along the North line of said Out Lot 3 300 feet for a second corner, thence South to alley line for third corner, thence West along said alley line 300 feet for fourth corner, thence North to place of beginning.

And the South Half of the Northeast Quarter and the North Half of the Southeast Quarter and the East Half of the Southwest Quarter of Section Number 12, in Township Number 94 North, Range Number 24 West of the 5th P. M. and the South Half of the Northwest Quarter of Section Number 7, Township Number 94 North, Range Number 23 West of the 5th P. M. all in Hancock County, Iowa, known as the Berend Swalve land and located on Highway No. 69, between Klemme and Goodell, Iowa.

TERMS OF SALE: 10% of the purchase price upon day of sa and the balance March 1, 1941, at which time Referee's Deed said real estate will be given and Abstract showing merchantab title. The Referee reserves the right to reject any bids. Sale wi be subject to approval of the District Court of Hancock County Iowa. Sales of tracts above described will be held at 2 o'clock i the afternoon of the 24th day of September, 1940, on said respe tive premises.

F. E. Blackstone

REFEREE Garner, Iow

1941 HUDSON

IS HERE TODAY

A BIG NEW STYLE IDEA! Symphonic Styling
Brilliant new design . . . and, for the first time in low priced cars, a wide choice of interior color combinations that harmonize with exterior colors . . . AT NO EXTRA COST.

SAFEST CAR EVER BUILT!
Patented Double-Safe Hydraulics (two-way stopping from the same foot pedal); Patented Auto-Poise Front Wheel Control, for extra safety even if a tire blows . . . and other unique safety features.

VALUE WITHOUT EQUAL!
Longer Wheelbases, Roomier Bodies, Still Easier Riding and Driving, New Improved Type Synchronized Silent Mesh Transmission . . . 1941's Best Investment in All-Around Value.

Hudson Offers Fine Automobiles In Every Popular Price Class . . . AT NEW PRICES STARTING AMONG AMERICA'S LOWEST . . . New Hudson Six and Super-Six (in the lowest and low price fields); New Hudson Commodore Six and Eight and Commodore Custom (in the moderate price field). MORE CAR for LESS MONEY In Every Popular Price Class

$695 for new 1941 Hudson Six Coupe, *delivered in Detroit, including Federal taxes, not including state and local taxes, if any. Low time payment terms. Prices subject to change without notice.

Car illustrated is new Hudson Six De Luxe 4-Door Touring Sedan, $846. Optional equipment and accessories extra.*

AMERICA'S SAFEST CAR

Before you choose your new car, come in . . . discover how much more your money will buy in a 1941 Hudson!

Klemme Auto Company

THE KLEMME TIMES

E 45 KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 11, 1940. NUMBER 15.

ty Township Farmers Capture pionship In Ames Meet

TOWNSHIP
M WINS TROPHY OR HANCOCK COUNTY

rd Pulling Tug-Or Team Pulls To Victory

-war team, composed en- Liberty township men, eir way to victory at the tate-wide Farm Bureau vents held at Ames last nd Saturday, bringing them a State Championy and placing Hancock the spotlight.

berty township team won to go to the state by deall comers at the recent hletic event. The State s are trained and coachctor Huenemann and the e team are: Ben F. Greil Katter, Glenn Lange, ast, Bernard Greiman, man, Dale Griffen and rower The team is light, rful and will average on170 pounds per man.

on their first victory at turday morning when ed the Butler County ver the lot. They tackled nty in the afternoon and sy victory over these n, and ten minutes later ed to pull in the final lk county, which they the championship. The eam was the lightest in ts at Ames. Tama had on their team that over 300 pounds, another 90 and all the others well e 200 pound mark.

NDUCTED FOR AUGUST KATTER HURSDAY AFTERNOON

County Resident for 60 Buried in Ell Township

rites for Mrs. August 3, were held at 2 o'clock me and at 2:30 Thursday at the Zion Reformed rs. Katter, who had spent in Hancock county, died me Tuesday evening.

ev. William Huenemann, the Zion and Peace Rehurches, had charge of Burial was in the Ell cemetery.

rers were Emil Blumer, aus, G. A. Wittenberg, Greiman, Victor Huene- Wilson Katter.

pples growing on one found by Don Haloupek, ine, this year. Both apfully developed and in every way.

LIVESTOCK FEEDING PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

Fewer Animals To Use The Same Total Tonnage Grain During Season

Economists are predicting that farmers will have plenty of livestock feed for the coming feeding season.

Writing in the Iowa Farm Economist, extension and research publication at Iowa State College, the experts say the total tonnage of grain feeds will be only slightly smaller than last year. The total corn supply will be smaller, they say, but the supply of oats is much larger.

Less Stock

The number of animals to use the grain will be less this winter than it was last year; the total supply of feed per animal will be about the same.

It appears now that a large amount of the 1940 corn crop in Iowa may be of high moisture conten and less suitable for storing than the crops of other recent years, the economists believe. As a result, farmers may reseal most of their 1938 and 1939 corn and feed the new corn.

There will be some increase in hay-eating animals, but the hay supply per animal will be the same as last year because of one of the largest crops on record

Flax Crop Large

Prospects now are for a large supply of high protein feeds. The flax crop probably will be the largest since 1924, and much linseed oilmeal made from domestic flax is used in this country Because of a decrease in foreign exports, there will be an even larger supply this year. Soybean meal and cottonseed cake and meal supplies also will be large.

DIVORCE ACTION AND DAMAGE SUIT FILED IN DISTRICT COURT

Among new cases which have been filed for hearing in Hancock county district court are a divorce action and a damage suit.

O. E. Rosenkranz of Davenport asks $355 48 damages from Hancock county, charging that criminal negligence of J. A. Gilbert, an employee at the county home or highway 18, caused an accident July 31. The plaintiff says Mr. Gilbert drove out in front of his car on a tractor when the road was slippery from a recent rain.

Fern Gram asks a divorce from Harry Gram and charges cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple was married Nov. 11, 1923, and separated in February this year.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Hancock County To Wm. Moldenhauer, Deed, 12-30-39, $16. Lots 5, 6, 7, Camelm's Add. to Corwith.

Hancock County To Wm. Baughman, Deed, 12-30-39, $7. Lot 4, Blk 5, Orig Town of Corwith.

Tena Boeckholt To Farmers Coop. Elevator Co, Kanawha, Wty Deed, 9-5-40, $125. Beginning at a point 133 feet E from NE corner of Blk 17, Orig town of Kanawha, thence E. 100 feet, thence S 144 feet, thence W 100 feet, thence N144 feet, to point of beginning.

Grace and Peter Lauwerke, Jr. To Lewie Lauwerke, Wty Deed, 3-1-40, $1. All that part of SE¼ S of CRI & P Ry 24-97-25.

Olaf and Josephine Rodberg To Orvin Vaage. et al, Q C Deed, 8-5-40, $1. Und. one tenth int. in S½ NE¼ 1-97-23.

Oliver and Carrie Brager To Willard C Brager, Wty Deed, 6-14-40, $1. Und. one-half int in Nfrl½ of NEfrl¼ and NEfrl ¼ 1-96-23

GOVERNMENT TAGGED BIRD IS FOUND TUESDAY BY KLEMME YOUTH

Glenn Lewis found a tagged bird at his farm home southeast of Klemme Tuesday morning. The bird, which appeared to be a member of the Swift family, bore an aluminum tag with the number 39-35-475 on one side, and on the inside it bore a request to mail to the Biological Survey, Washington, D. C.

The bird had been in the barn loft and fell down when hay was pitched down a chute.

CONVENTION OF HANCOCK-WINNEBAGO COUNCIL WILL BE HELD AT FOREST CITY

Sessions In The Morning, Afternoon And Evening

The Rev. W. M. Hubbard, of the LeMars Methodist Church will be the principal speaker at an annual convention of the Hancock-Winnebago County Council of Christian Education to be held all day Friday, Sept. 13, at the Swedish Baptist Church in Forest City.

Theme of the program will be "Christian Education for Christian Living." There will be sessions in the morning, afternoon and evening, as well as a luncheon at noon to be served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the host church.

Registration at 9 a. m. will be in charge of Mrs. Roy Quintus, of Garner, secretary of the conference. Miss Hulda Nelson will lead the worship, and Mrs. Lloyd Olson will give a vocal solo. The Rev. William Everts will speak on "Making Christian Education Effective" at 9:30 a. m. Group conferences at 10:00 a. m. will be as follows: children's division in the charge of the Rev. Von B. Elbert, of Corwith; young people's division in charge of Mrs. J. A. Chambers, of Goodell; and adult division in charge of the Rev. O. E. Schaal, of Garner. J. A. Chambers, president of the conference, will have charge of the business session at 11.00 a. m., and an address, "The Constant Lure," by the Rev Hubbard will close the morning session.

Afternoon features will be worship led by Supt. George D. Eaton of Forest City; special music; Committee reports; address, "The Larger Task," by the Rev. Hubbard; and a continuance of the morning group conferences. Mrs. J. Lee Lewis will have charge of children's work in the afternoon. An address by the Rev. W. A. Thompson, of Garner, in the evening will close the conference.

SMALL MOUTH BASS PLACED IN IOWA RIVER LAST WEEK

Two-hunderd and fifty small mouth black bass were placed in the Iowa River west of Klemme at the Lemke bridge last week Wednesday by Mr. Spinner, an employee of the State Conservation Commission.

The bass were fingerling size, about four to five inches in length. The bass were placed in a number of places along the river, east of Goodell, near Belmond as well as other points along the river as far south as Iowa Falls. This is the first time game fish of any kind have been planted in the river near Klemme.

Western states are not sufficiently stocked with cattle to make a large liquidation probable this fall.

Iowa River Will Be Straightened For Highway Improvement

4th ANNUAL REUNION OF THE STROMER DESCENDANTS

The fourth annual reunion of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stromer descendants was held Sunday, Sept. 8. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fernon Griggs, east of Miller.

At the noon hour, a bounteous picnic dinner was served. After which a picture of the group was taken.

It was decided to hold the next year's gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Priebe, of Goodell.

The afternoon was spent in visiting.

Those in attendance Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Julius Priebe, Mrs. Elizabeth Stromer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt, Arlene, Irene and Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Huenemann, Miriam, Lois, Abigail, Rachel and Eunice Ruth. Mr. and Mrs. Erin Priebe and Eleanor, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goll and Buelah, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Bienert and Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt and Luverne, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stromer and Bernita.

This year one more member has been added to the group, Jay Ray Griggs.

Other visitors present in the afternoon were: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Griggs and son, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burk and son, Kay, of Goodell, Mrs. Anna Stille, and Paul Daniels of Miller.

MUSIC MOTHERS CLUB WILL MEET FRIDAY AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

The Music Mothers club will hold their first fall meeting at the Klemme School Auditorium this week Friday afternoon. Everyone interested in promoting music in the school should be present.

It should be noted that the Music Mothers club will meet on the second Friday of each month.

Honest.

The distressed look on Mrs. Charles Willey's face caused F. C. Dunker, both of Humboldt, to question the reason. He was informed she had just lost a purse with quite a sum of money in it. Whereupon Mr. Dunker pulled the purse out of his pocket and returned it to Mrs. Willey. Last 4th of July, Mr. Willey found a billfold, which he returned to its rightful owner, Evidently, the Golden Rule still stands.

WORK ON NEW ROAD AND RIVER STRAIGHTENING BEGAN FRIDAY

A contract has been let by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County to I. O. Florence Company of Thompson, Iowa, to straighten both the road and river south of Klemme near the Riverside school.

The present road which curves from the "White Hill" going south toward the school, then curves to cross the river north of the Church farm The river bed will be straightened for about a quarter of a mile near that point. The new road will then go straight south and connect south of the river and continue on the road past the Church farm. Likewise the road near the Riverside school will go straight west to connect with the new north-south road.

Frank Schoun, supervisor for the Klemme district, was instrumental in getting this improvement started. The improvement will include new grading and the building of two new bridges.

NEW CLAY PROCESS FOUND FOR SORGHUM

Research workers at Iowa State College have described a new short cut in making sorghum which has enlarged the capacity of the syrup mills and created a better product.

Lard, used with a bit of the right kind of Iowa clay, is the secret. The clay, which must be selected by test, is tossed into the vat of raw, cold juice to clarify it. After the juice has been boiling a short while much foam will form on top A small spoonful of lard added then will settle the foam quickly and allow boiling to proceed rapidly. The lard will not react unless the juice is previously treated with clay.

The clay directly underlying the topsoil in some parts of the state works best. The test is as follows: add a tablespoon of wet clay to a pint jar of juice and shake well. If the clay settles quickly, leaving a milky solution with only a small amount of green color, the clay is satisfactory.

Clarence Baughman, Pleasantville, may not have intended to follow in Nero's footsteps, but as he was taking part in the "old fiddlers' contest" at the state fair, where he won first place, his barn burned. Several tons of hay were destroyed, but no livestock.

Funeral Services Held Monday For Frederick Ridder

red H. Ridder, retired Klemme business died Saturday night at a Mason City valescent home where he had been for past few weeks. Mr. Ridder had been ll health for the past three years.

uneral sevices for Mr. Ridder were Monday afternoon in charge of the lemeyer Funeral Service at the Klem- Methodist Church, Rev. Wm. Zabilka vering the sermon. Interment as in the mme Cemetery. Following is the obit-y.

Obituary

rederick Herman Ridder was born on ober 9th, 1872, at Lippe Detmold, Gerny, the third of a family of seven chilborn to his parents, Adolf and Julia kameyer Ridder.

t the age of two years he migrated to erica with his parents, and the family led on a farm near Flood Creek, Iowa.

fter compleating his rural school educa-, he attended the Charles City College.

t the age 24, Mr. Ridder came to Klemthis was in 1896, when the town of mme was young, 7 years old to be ex- The "Ridder Repair Shop" was built and was equipped to do Blacksmithing, se Shoeing, Wagon Work, Engine Work,

Mr. Ridder was a natural born mechanic, neat, careful and accurate in his work, repair shop was known far and wide the best repair shop in Northern Iowa.

After 27 years, he disposed of the repair shop but continued to do plumbing in this community.

In 1901, Mr. Ridder made the complete installation of the original water works system in Klemme.

He was a member of the Town Council when the Sanitary Sewerage System was estabished in Klemme.

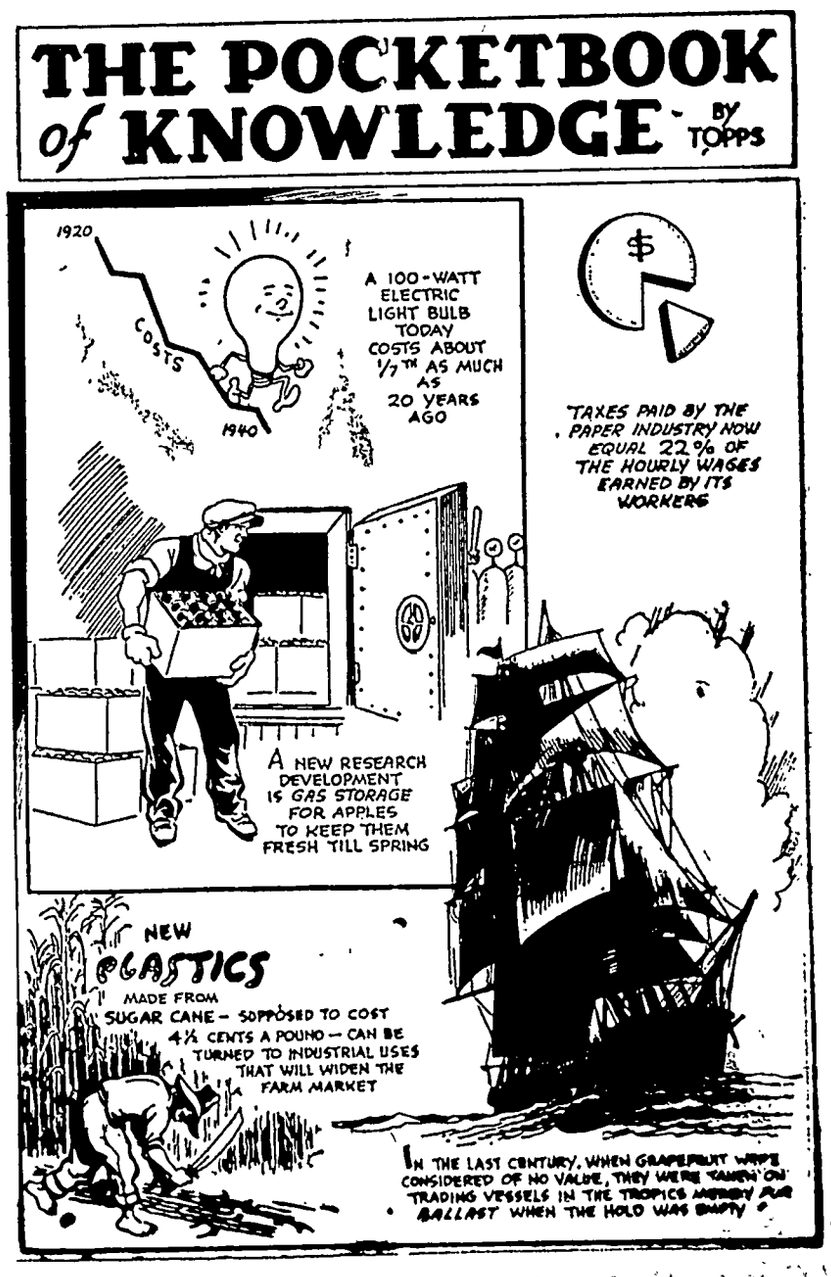
He was a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank until his health failed.

On Nov. 22, 1899, Fred H. Ridder and Frances Lau were married, they have lived in Klemme during all of their married life, 41 years. To this union three children were born: Viva, Mrs. Sam Harvey, Mason City, Iowa; Levi Ridder, Klemme; Neota, Mrs. Walter Beatty, Elmhurst, Illinois.

In March 1937, Mr. Ridder suffered a stroke which brought on a lameness to the left side of his body and after being an invalid for 3½ years, he pased away to the Great Beyond, his end came Saturday night Sept. 7, 1940.

He reached the age of 67 years, 10 months and 29 days.

He leaves besides his wife and children, five grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Emil Kohlstedt, Colville, Wash.; two brothers Julius Ridder, Fairmont, Minn.; Adolph Ridder, Watertown, South Dakota, and many more distant relatives and friends.



THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE
BY TOPPS
1920
1940
COSTS
A 100-WATT ELECTRIC LIGHT BULB TODAY COSTS ABOUT 1/7TH AS MUCH AS 20 YEARS AGO
TAXES PAID BY THE PAPER INDUSTRY NOW EQUAL 22% OF THE HOURLY WAGES EARNED BY ITS WORKERS
A NEW RESEARCH DEVELOPMENT IS GAS STORAGE FOR APPLES TO KEEP THEM FRESH TILL SPRING
NEW PLASTICS MADE FROM SUGAR CANE — SUPPOSED TO COST 4½ CENTS A POUND — CAN BE TURNED TO INDUSTRIAL USES THAT WILL WIDEN THE FARM MARKET
IN THE LAST CENTURY, WHEN GRAPEFRUIT WERE CONSIDERED OF NO VALUE, THEY WERE TAKEN ON TRADING VESSELS IN THE TROPICS MERELY FOR BALLAST WHEN THE HOLD WAS EMPTY

Airmail Marks Twentieth Anniversary Of First U. S. Transcontinental Service

By WILLIAM PITTMAN
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

CHICAGO. — American aviation will lace up its Seven League boots on September 8 to observe the twentieth birthday of transcontinental airmail.

Giant strides have been taken during those twenty years. Mail planes have increased in size from small converted army planes with open cockpits to 25-ton luxury liners. Transcontinental flying time has been cut from 82 hours to less than 14.

Airports throughout the country will celebrate the anniversary of the event which revolutionized communications and travel in this country. While rapid progress has been made, great improvements have already been planned for the future. United Airlines, for example, will put a score of 25-ton luxury liners into service next year, They will cruise 228 miles an hour with their loads of 40 passengers, crew of five, baggage, mail and express.

Transcontinental airmail was born when U. S. Airmail Route No. 1 was opened on September 8, 1920. The 400 pounds of mail wouldn't fit into the plane, so the overflow was stuffed into a suitcase and strapped onto a wing.

Night flying was too dangerous, so at dusk the mail was transferred to a train. The following morning it was again picked up by a waiting plane.

The first pilots who blazed the trail across the continent had to work hard to make the trip in three days. Their single, 400-horsepower engines weren't too reliable, and the meager instruments on the dash didn't always give accurate readings. No radio beam guided the plane, lights on airfields were unknown, and weather reports were very sketchy.

Congress wasn't very impressed by this dual method of carrying the mail, and seemed inclined to discontinue the service. Seven pilots who volunteered to "save the air mail" by flying it across the continent paved the way for the world's first airway lighting system. The first flight ranks among the top in sagas of transportation history.

Historic Flight.

Just before dawn of February 22, 1921, a pilot headed east from San Francisco. After fighting bad weather to Reno, he turned the mail over to a fresh pilot in a fresh plane. By nightfall the mail was in North Platte, Neb., where it was picked up by Jack Knight.

He flew the mail to Omaha, following the lights of bonfires set by public-spirited farmers. Tired and ready for a rest, he learned that his relief pilot had been unable to reach Omaha, due to bad weather.

Although very weary from his flight and entirely unfamiliar with the route ahead, he decided to "take the mail through." Knight took off into the blackness of the night almost without flying aids. He picked his way from point to point, alternately studying a railroad map with the aid of his flashlight and peering through snow flurries at lights below. He pinched himself and slapped his face to keep awake

The demonstration flight almost ended at Iowa City when Knight, about out of gasoline and unable to locate a bonfire which was supposed to have been set for him, considered a forced landing in the darkness. At the last moment he spied a red flare. He landed near the marker to refuel and shake the hand of the night watchman who had heard his engine and had placed the guiding light on the airport.

Knight flew on, reaching Chicago at dawn. Other pilots, flying in relays, carried the mail to New York, completing the first coast-to-coast flight in 33 hours.

The flight was a complete success. Congress appropriated money for continued airmail service, and lights were installed at several of the most important airports. Nine years were to pass, however, before the lighting system was completed.

Passenger Service Started.

The United States government began turning airmail service over to private contractors in 1926. The first passenger service from coast-to-coast was inaugurated on September 1, 1927, just seven years after the first airmail trip was made. Passengers who dared to make the trip would crowd into the front cockpit —two was the maximum—where they were unable to move around or even communicate with the pilot.

Weather came to receive greater attention. In the pioneering days of the air mail, just about anyone who could guess at visibility and ceilings qualified as a "meteorologist." Pilots received telegrams from points ahead, telling them that the clerk or railroad station agent could see "pretty far," that the clouds were "high" or "medium," or, perhaps, that it was "raining pitchforks."

Aviation took a forward step when the United States government organized an accurate and efficient system of weather reporting. Today, expert meteorologists work 24 hour shifts at terminal stations, compiling their reports.

Many Improvements Made.

Other scientific help for the airlines followed rapidly. Engines and propellers were improved, new and almost human instruments appeared on the pilot's panel, and attention was focused on the importance of reliable schedules. The directional radio beam, furnishing a radio "highway" from coast to coast, and the automatic pilot with its uncanny ability to handle the controls of a transport plane, were developed after ceaseless research. The day of the ruggedly individualistic air mail pilot, flying by "instinct" and a few instruments, was over.

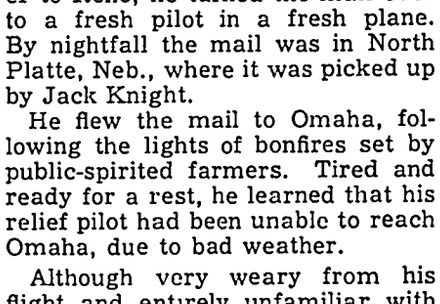
Pilots looked with distaste upon the first passengers who "intruded" into their machines. It didn't take long, however, before commercial aviation recognized the possibilities of passenger transport. The world's first stewardesses were employed in the spring of 1930. This experiment proved so successful that more were hired, until there are now more than 500 working on commercial airplanes in this country. At first the traditional meal on planes consisted of a sandwich, an apple and a cup of coffee; now the menus include everything from soup to a steak and dessert.

United Air Lines succeeded in reducing the cross-continent flying time in 1937 to less than 16 hours. Last month it was again cut by the Transcontinental and Western Air Lines to 13 hours, 40 minutes.

The celebration to be held on September 8 will do more than mark the twentieth anniversary of coast-to-coast air mail in America. It will mark the end of the period of air pioneering and the beginning of efficient, dependable aviation.

Twenty years ago Captain Jack Knight (inset) helped make the first transcontinental airmail flight. Assigned to fly several hours at night, he had to stay in the air until dawn because his relief pilot failed to meet him. The De Haviland plane shown at the top was commonly used as a mail carrier when the coast-to-coast flights were inaugurated. It had been built for service in the World war. The tremendous advance made in aviation since that time is shown by the new 25-ton United Air Line luxury liner which is pictured below. Twenty of these huge planes will be put into service next spring.

Dental Emblem



Commemorating dentistry's 100th anniversary as a scientific practice 10,000 delegates to the American Dental association's national convention in Cleveland, Ohio, on September 9-13, will be asked to adopt the official dental emblem pictured above. Already approved by the board of directors, the new emblem has its periphery of design formed by the Greek letter "delta" for dentistry and "omicron" for Odontos (tooth). Central figure is the single serpent of Aesculapius, father of medicine. Inset photo (not a part of the emblem) shows Dr. Wilfred Robinson, association president-elect.

Bahamas Prepare for Big Winter Season As Duke of Windsor Becomes Governor

By NORMA PRESCOTT

NASSAU, N. P., BAHAMAS.—A neat problem in economics as well as an interesting experiment in social relations awaits the new governor general of the Bahamas, the duke of Windsor and her grace the duchess in Nassau. Keeping the islands on the credit side of the British ledger depends to a great extent on the tourist trade, or, as they put it more delicately here, to the vacation society.

No matter what you call it, tourists are imperative factors in the decorative but non-productive life of the islands, and preceding governors and their wives have catered to them. Certainly the presence of England's No. 1 glamour boy and the former Wallis Warfield Simpson will be an added attraction not only to the sprightly international set but to curious, and wealthy, Americans. They will be hors d'ouvres to whet the appetites of tourists a bit skittery over ocean voyages these days.

Many estates which have been closed for the long summer season are being opened now. There's an influx of visitors now . . . would be more if the large steamers from New York came more often than once a week. As it is, plane accommodations are at a premium and the boats that DO come over, even the tiny combination freight-passenger ships, are filled to capacity.

They're expecting a big winter season. Hotels and guest houses are getting reservations 'way in advance of the ordinary season (January 1). New homes are going up and a super subdivision on Hog island, the Wintergren development for yachtsmen, has some 400 native laborers at work.

Ordinarily the social season opens here with a ball on New Year's night at Government House, the great green shuttered mansion at the top of George street where they've been painting and renovating frantically for days. Just last week the ERI Crest which embossed the tile of the swimming pool there during the governorship of Sir Bede Clifford, was removed and plain tile substituted!

Nassauvians tell you gravely that there will be no society goings on . . . "because of the war, don't you know." Perhaps no formal state balls and receptions but undoubtedly informal entertaining will be accelerated at the various clubs.

There will be no lack of entertainment, even if it is wartime, in the gay old island during the season. Just now, swimming and golfing are in favor, and that good old English institution, tea. It's grand here in the beautiful old patios—but so are the cocktail parties in walled gardens. Both Emerald Beach club and the Bahama Country club are open. The country club combines several sports and officials are positive the duke will be found there frequently. There are 27 palm fringed holes of golf, excellent tennis courts and of course the gleaming white beach and that gorgeous water.

Usually at this time the state ball room is thrown open to everybody who is anybody. Last year, because of the war, this party was omitted by Governor Dundas as it doubtless will be this January. Only definite social affair planned is the banquet for the governor general and her grace, to be given by members of the executive council and their wives. If there are any balls they will be charity balls for the Red Cross or for the blind soldiers, just as was the recent Red Cross benefit party . . a barn dance . . . at swank Emerald club on Cable beach.

Tin Shortage No Threat to United States Security

NEW YORK.—A searching study of military and domestic requirements for tin in the United States, by the magazine Steel, reveals that in spite of the fact that our consumption during 1939 was 70,460 tons out of a world consumption of 166,500 tons, almost 50 per cent, and that our domestic production was but 134 tons, we have little to fear from a tin shortage that could be caused by England's capitulation or inability to continue supplying our refined tin requirements.

About 43 per cent of the world's tin is refined under British political control. Ores and refined tin come principally from Malaya, Siam, Dutch East Indies, Bolivia and Nigeria. Some of the domestic tin comes from domestic detinning plants, but these are entirely secondary and might soon be partially or even completely exhausted.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

BRITISH BOMBERS

The long-discussed transport of American-made bombers to England by flying them across the Atlantic finally will get under way in a couple of weeks.

The exact date, route and number of ships is a secret. But the planes will be two-motor Lockheeds, known in England as Hudson middle-weight bombers, and they will depart from the big airport at Botswood, Newfoundland, which was enlarged expressly for this purpose.

Also, the first flights will be made by British crews who already are in Canada. These men are crack transport pilots and navigators trained in celestial navigation. American flyers, accustomed to piloting on radio beams, will not be used until later, possibly not before spring. They will have to undergo training on the route.

England is seriously deficient in long-range bombers, as it has had to concentrate wholly on fighting planes, pursuits, interceptors and divers, in order to keep control of the air over its islands. This lack of powerful offensive planes has handicapped Britain both in smashing at vital German areas and in crippling Italy, the weak sister of the Axis. One factor aiding the British is the lengthening of the night. This made possible the recent raids on northern Italy's industrial centers, and as the nights grow still longer these attacks will be increased.

* * *

YOUTH TRAINING

With the conscription bill undergoing heavy attack on Capitol Hill, the President himself is under fire on another phase of national defense.

In this case the criticism comes from his own advisers, who demand that he act. They want him to put through the non-combative phase of defense which he outlined last May. The program, as described by Roosevelt himself, consists of two parts, one devoted to training mechanics, cooks, and other non-combative craftsmen; the second to training fighting men for planes, tanks and guns.

To date all efforts have been concentrated on the second part of the program. Nothing tangible has yet been done about the first, the non-combative part.

The U. S. office of education, CCC and National Youth administration have prepared complete blueprints for training hundreds of thousands of youths in the many crafts needed by a modern army. The three agencies are ready to swing into action at once on these programs.

All they need is the money. But although members of congress repeatedly have urged Roosevelt to get busy, nothing has happened. In conferences he has readily agreed to the necessity for this training, but beyond that—zero.

Insiders blame the deadlock on two men, Harold D. Smith, penny-pinching budget director, and Sidney Hillman, labor member of the national defense commission.

Roosevelt instructed Smith to prepare budget estimates and Hillman to submit plans. But neither has complied. Smith, whose functions are wholly administrative, has raised policy objections that are none of his affair; while Hillman, timid about possible A. F. of L. and C. I. O. protests, has backed and filled.

Congressional leaders, under fire over the conscription bill, are sore at the delay on the non-combative training plan. They feel that if it had been submitted simultaneously it would have considerably eased the way for the military program.

Note—CCC, NYA, and Education office chiefs estimate the cost of the non-combative program at around $500,000,000. This would train 250,000 youths in the CCC, 300,000 in the NYA, and 225,000 in vocational schools supervised by the office of education, during an entire year.

* * *

FIR CONE

Sen. Charles McNary's plane trip to Oregon, for his vice presidential acceptance ceremonies, will be the first time he has traveled by air. Also it will be the first time in nearly a year that he has visited his beloved ancestral home.

Located a few miles from Salem, on the Mission Bottom road, the McNary farm was homesteaded by his pioneering New England grandfather, James McNary, 95 years ago. At that time it was a dense primeval forest and many of the giant old trees still remain.

* * *

WILLKIE BITS

Two outstanding oddities about Wendell Willkie are that he doesn't drive a car, does not own a car, and doesn't carry a watch . . . Everybody knows he went to Indiana university; few know he also attended Oberlin college in Ohio (1916).

He still thinks the Democrat platform of 1932, which he supported, is one of the best ever written.

Salary which Russell Davenport of Fortune sacrificed to join Willkie was $75,000.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT — SEWING CIRCLE

WITH her big roll-brim hat and new patent leathers, she'll look charming as a spring morning, when she steps forth in a breezy little day frock made over pattern No. 1942-B. It's very simple, very smart, with pretty neckline and short sleeves outlined by two rows of braid, and with braid and buttons to trim the front and back panel. The waistline is fitted and small, as princess waistlines are, and a big fluttery sash bow calls attention to the fact!

This dress is particularly pretty in plaid gingham because the front and back panels are cut bias. But it's also sweet in percale printed with red cherries or pink flowers, or in white pick, with bright rac braid. Certainly your ter will want it in more material, when she sees she looks in it! The gram design is so easy of girls can make it selves.

Barbara Bell Pattern No 1 signed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and Size 6 requires 2½ yards of terial; 6 yards of ric-rac. Send

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr.
Enclose 15 cents in coin
Pattern No..... Size..
Name .....
Address .....

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

To keep books on shelves cases in good condition them occasionally with camphor.

* * *

Keep the sifter holes boxes closed, otherwise will lose much of their

* * *

When separating the whites of eggs, over a funnel. The pass through, leaving the the funnel.

* * *

To sharpen dull needles, cut or stitch a through a piece of fine

* * *

Save left-over pieces of small sugar or salt bags. bags in cleaning the lavatory. The bag and both as a sponge and a agent.

Top the Mark
Balance your grain with Green Top Mineralized
—the economy way to See your local feed

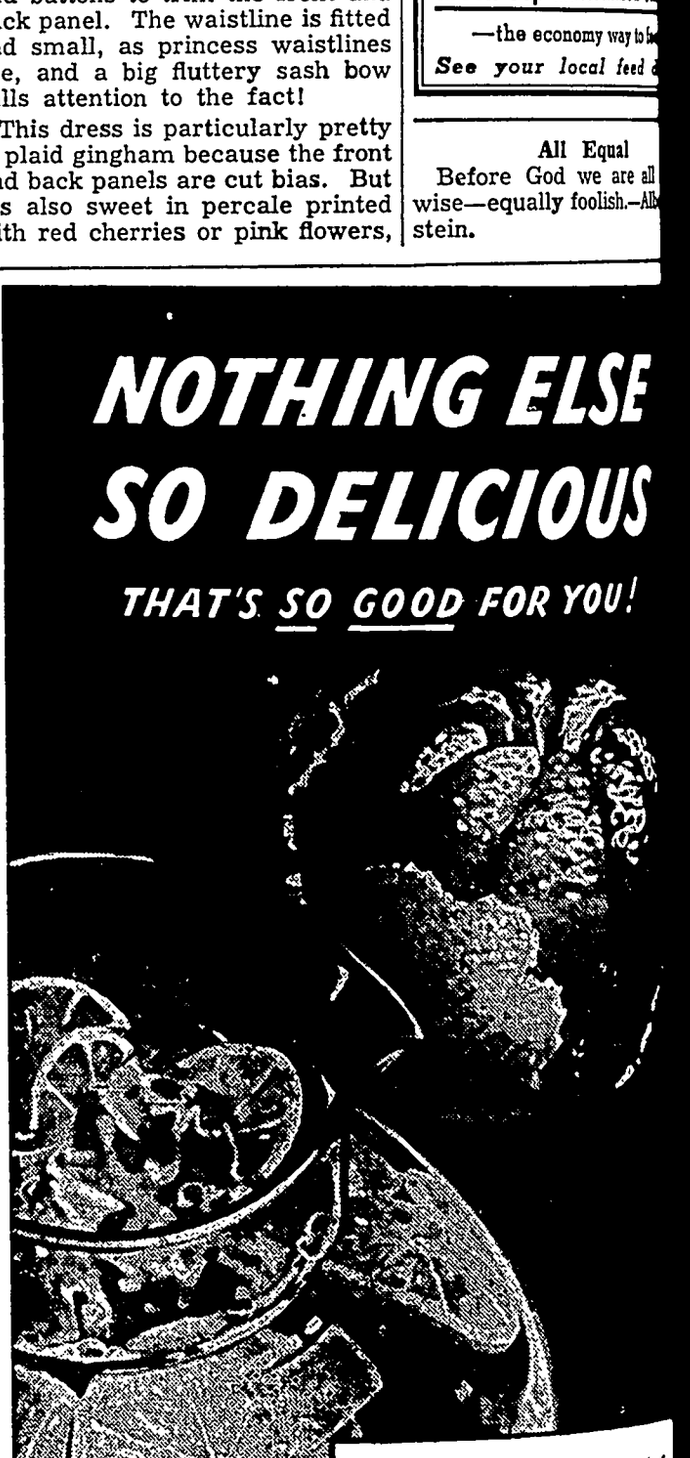
All Equal

Before God we are all wise—equally foolish.—Albert stein.

NOTHING ELSE SO DELICIOUS
THAT'S SO GOOD FOR YOU!



See how oranges help!
Fully half our families are getting too little vitamins and minerals to feel their best, say the Department of Agriculture.
It's easy to get more of these essentials —merely by making oranges your family's daily refreshment!
Peel and eat them. Keep ready a big pitcher of fresh orangeade. Or better yet,
Have big, 8-ounce glasses of fresh orange juice with breakfast daily. That gives you all the vitamin C you normally need. Adds vitamins A, B1 and G and the minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron.
Sunkist is sending you the pick of California's best-ever crop of wonderfully juicy oranges. Order a supply next time you buy groceries!
Copyright, 1940, California Fruit Growers Exchange
Sunkist
CALIFORNIA ORANGES
Best for Juice — and Every Use

ican Newspaperdom Joins in Honoring ohann Gutenberg, Who Gave the World the Invention of Printing From Movable Type

SCOTT WATSON
stern Newspaper Union.)

merican press dur-40 is paying hom-o Johann Guten-500 years ago in a shop in the free rasbourg, now in invented the art possible the mod-per.

g's invention—the of a technique for m lead individual ing individual let-can be arranged or the printing of sentences—makes for you to read this page.

celebrations honor-her of printing, in papers are actively , are being held dur-1940 throughout the misphere as the result tanding promotional uglas C. McMurtrie, f the Invention of niversary committee rnational Association House Craftsmen, an made up of 6,000 emen and superin-nd leaders of other groups.

cance of Gutenberg's n best be evaluated backward into the e the invention of here were books be-erg invented printing le types, but each of be laboriously hand-a scribe or copyist. e required to produce size of the average n a scribe completed had not the several pies that make up an y, but only one copy his efforts. The price e copy had to include years' salary for the cost of parchment on ook was written, and sive materials, plus an who owned a book s before Gutenberg, ject of curiosity to his Bibles were so ex-n few churches could py. Because of the costliness of books, popular education as today and many suc-ess men in the days nberg could neither ite. They had to call al scribes to perform tasks for them.

Born in Mainz.

utenberg, the invent-conomical process of hich made possible tion and the modern was born of aristo-nts in the free city bout the year 1400. youth he was forced z and seek refuge in about a hundred the Rhine, because ng of tradesmen and against the aristo-les in his native city. evidence that Guten-gaged in his printing in Strasbourg at ly as 1436. This fact to light in testimony at Strasbourg in 1439 ccasioned over a part-pute. In this court d in favor of Guten-ess for the inventor three years previous paid a sum of money what had to do with inventor stated his periments at Stras-had many principles t his disposal which re the success of his He had a counter-printing press in the t had been used for n vineyards for the grapes to make wine. which were being used ts of the period, would metal, and with slight serve as printer's year 105 A. D., the 'ai Lun, invented pa-though it took a thou-for the secret of pa-g to reach Europe, paper mills in all parts by the time of Guten-er gave the inventor ive material on which d did away with the parchment on which inted the costly man-ks.

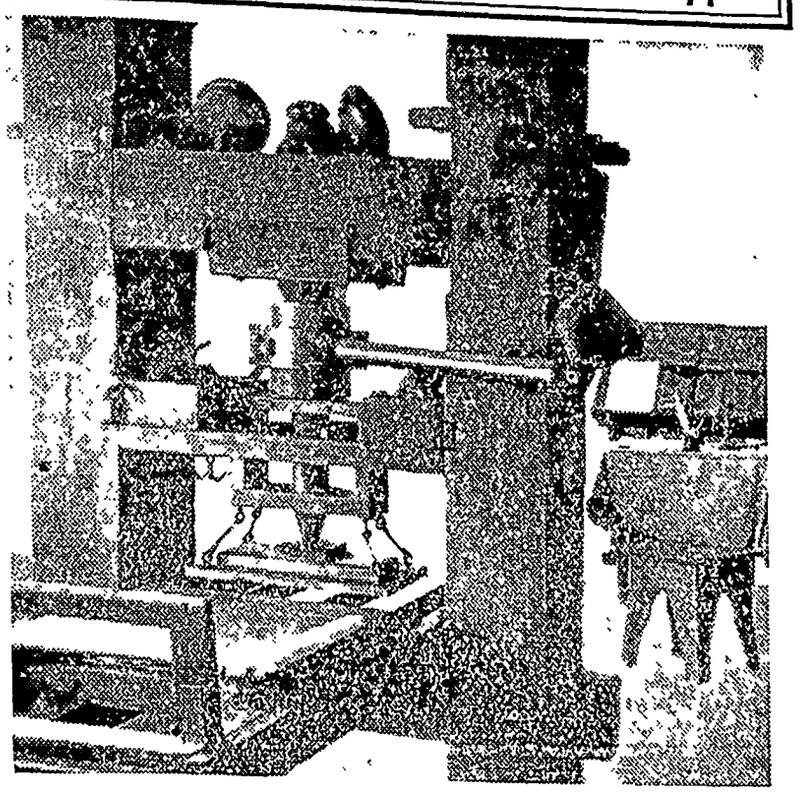
ese had also invented of wood block print-was known in Europe of Gutenberg. By d cumbersome proc-rtions of a wooden ng text or pictures or were to appear on a ut away. The carved block was inked with ink, a sheet of paper atop the inked sur-e text or pictures nted upon the paper the back of the sheet



The first printing press, such as the one used by Johann Gutenberg who 500 years ago invented printing as we know it today. Constructed almost entirely of wood, the inked form was placed on the drawer-board of the press in the foreground, a sheet of paper was placed over the types and the form pushed under the press. Pressure was applied by the turning of the iron bar and screwing the platen, or suspended flat surface, against the paper and types. Only 300 single-page impressions a day could be printed with this press. Modern newspaper presses can turn out 38,000 complete newspapers every hour.

with a padded block. It was much more practical for the Chinese, because of the thousands of symbols in their written language, to carve out an entire page and then dispose of it after using it, than to work out a system for the use of movable types. There is evidence that the Chinese had experimented with movable or individual types before the time of Gutenberg, but they had to abandon them because of the multiplicity of symbols in their language. There is no evidence that knowledge of these Chinese experiments with movable types reached Europe before the time of Gutenberg.

The Latin Donatus.

It is interesting to note that among the very first products of Gutenberg's printing press were 17 successive editions of the "Donatus," a Latin grammar, so called from the name of its author. This inexpensive printed book enabled schoolboys of the early Renaissance to speak and write the language which was then the universal language among educated people in every country in Europe. Contrary to popular opinion, he completed the printing of these editions of the Latin "Donatus" before he attempted to start work on his first famous Gutenberg Bible, which is sometimes erroneously referred to as the first printed book.

Earliest known portrait of Gutenberg, from a copperplate engraving published in Paris in 1584. (Courtesy Ludlow Typograph company.)

What is believed to be the earliest still existent specimen of printing produced by Gutenberg is the fragment of a German poem on the last judgment. It was printed about 1445 and of it there is preserved for posterity only two sides of one leaf measuring about three and one-half by five inches. Because of its subject matter, it is known to students of printing as the "Fragment of the World Judgment."

After Gutenberg had developed his experiments with printing to a stage of practicable perfection around 1440, he returned to his native city of Mainz. Following his return to Mainz, Gutenberg started making plans for production of his first Bible. All of the wealth left him by his aristocratic father had been used up on his earlier experiments and in order to carry out production of this Bible, Gutenberg was forced to make two large loans from Johann Fust, a capitalist of Mainz.

In 1455, the same year in which is believed to have been completed the famous Bible, Fust demanded repayment of his loans, plus interest. Gutenberg was unable to meet Fust's demands and as the result of a lawsuit which followed, Gutenberg was dispossessed of his work shop and printing equipment and the exclusive right to his invention.

Following the tragic court battle with Fust, Gutenberg is known to have set up another smaller printing shop and to have printed a Latin dictionary and at least one other edition of the Bible. The inventor, however, never prospered in this enterprise and in his last days he was dependent on a financial pension granted him by the Archbishop of Mainz, presumably for his work in pioneering printing.

After wresting the printing shop and equipment from Gutenberg, Fust took with him into partnership a lad named Peter Schoeffer, who had been one of the scribes of the manuscript books and later one of Gutenberg's helpers. The firm of Fust and Schoeffer was an outstanding financial success and went on to produce some of the most beautiful books of the Fifteenth century.

Friend Claims Press.

Following Gutenberg's death early in 1468, the press and equipment in his possession at that time were claimed by a friend, Dr. Konrad Humery, who had bought them for him.

No one knows where the father of printing is buried. There was a story that his body had been interred in the Church of St. Francis at Mainz, but a search for it several years ago proved unavailing.

Gutenberg's claim to the honor of being the inventor of printing with movable types has been questioned in the past and the claims of some rival contenders, based largely on legend, have been advanced. However, no competent historian today questions the specific documentary evidence on which rests the fame of Johann Gutenberg.

Although Gutenberg never received the financial rewards of the Edisons and the Fords and many other inventors of this modern era, he undoubtedly had the satisfaction in his last days of seeing mankind carrying on the work he had so successfully pioneered. In the twilight of his life he saw printers he had trained go into Italy and Switzerland to establish the first presses there.

The Seventeenth century saw the rise of the most powerful modern manifestation of Gutenberg's invention in the form of the printed newspaper. The very first printed newspaper in the world was started in Germany in 1612. A newspaper began publication in England in the year 1622.

America's first printed newspaper to go beyond one date of publication was the weekly Boston News Letter which first saw the light of day on April 24, 1704. The 24th day of the month appears to be a good one on which to start a newspaper for on January 24, 1775, there appeared Benjamin Towne's Philadelphia Evening Post, America's first daily newspaper. Towne's paper had previously been a weekly publication.

From these pioneers have descended the thousands of American newspapers, including this one, which have had and are daily exerting such a profound influence on the lives of everyone. Every word printed in these modern newspapers during printing's 500th anniversary year of 1940, is a monument to the inventive genius of Johann Gutenberg.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IT SEEMS that those year-old twins, Beverly and Barbara Quintanilla, are to play just one baby instead of two in Warner Brothers' "Four Mothers," and all because William Keighley used his head.

The script called for Priscilla Lane to be the mother of a one-year-old child. One of the laws that give directors gray hair is that an infant can't be kept under the lights for more than 20 minutes, and can't work more than two hours a day. So Keighley did some arithmetic and engaged twins for the role. He claims that the scheme has two advantages—it doubles the shooting time, and though one baby isn't in the right mood at the big moment, her sister may be full of ambition.

Members of the company of "Virginia" were sitting around on location, waiting for the shooting to start; off at one side, a young lady was crocheting. She seemed to be so expert that one of the extras, a local girl, asked if she'd teach her. The pretty crocheter was most affable about it; when the director, Edward H. Griffith, called the players together at last the pupil thanked her. "By the way," she said, "What's your name?" The crocheter replied "Call me Madeleine—Madeleine Carroll."

MADELEINE CARROLL

Maybe this is bribery—but Director Mitchell Leisen has told Ray Milland and Claudette Colbert, co-stars of his picture, "Arise My Love," that if they complete their roles ahead of schedule he will buy each of them a tailored suit. Director Sam Wood also became clothes-conscious and sent little Betty Brewer two sweaters and a plaid skirt for being such a good girl when Claudette's husband, Dr. Joel J. Pressman, took her tonsils out. Not to be outdone by all this generosity, Claudette is working between scenes on a blanket which will be a gift for the Ray Milland heir, little David Daniel.

Paulette Goddard danced three numbers with Fred Astaire for scenes in Paramount's "Second Chorus" and set a record that probably won't be broken in Hollywood for many years to come. Though she has never danced for films before, she did it so well that every dance photographed perfectly in one take, thanks to working like a dog at rehearsals.

Frank Capra seeks realism in his pictures. When Gary Cooper had to protest a decision to a baseball umpire in "Meet John Doe," Capra asked Pat Flaherty, former major league pitcher, what players usually say in such a case.

"You've never seen it printed, have you?" asked Flaherty. Capra shook his head. "Then you wouldn't want to use it in the picture, would you?"

So the protest will just sound like an angry speech by Donald Duck.

"The one, the only, the original Professor Quiz," who recently celebrated his 200th consecutive week on the air, has been broadcasting for four years—during that time he's received almost 2,000,000 letters, containing more than 12,000,000 questions—and has paid out more than $25,000 in prize money. He's not superstitious, but he refuses to go on the air without the battered old felt hat from which the questions are selected at the broadcast—it was borrowed years ago from a station manager in Charlotte, N. C., and is looked upon as the good luck charm of the show.

Donna Woods' fine soprano voice was going to waste in a mediocre girl trio, and the "Collegians" were a male trio that wasn't getting the breaks, not so long ago. But when they joined talents and became the "Smarties" things began to happen—they auditioned successfully on a Boston station, won several shows, then Horace Heidt heard them, hired them—and now they're known as "Donna and Her Don Juans," and featured with the Musical Knights on the Pot o' Gold and Treasure Chest programs.

Plan Back-to-School Wardrobe Of Style-Right Wash Apparel

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

STOP, look, listen, Miss Collegiate and Miss Teen-age and Miss Junior! This should interest you. It's all about assembling a back-to-school wardrobe within a minimum clothes budget that will turn you out looking the part of a fashion sophisticate. Well, here's letting you in on the secret—it's just a matter of planning your clothes collection in terms of swank wash apparel. Follow up this idea and you will have the joy and satisfaction of achieving a style prestige along with the best of your sorority group. As to economy, that's the best part of the story.

Modern wash materials are more amazing than ever. The handsome weaves with a suiting woolish finish, the crepes, the spun rayons (one of the marvels of the age), the eye-appealing rayon and other synthetic silks and satins (fit for a queen), the smart suede-finish cloths, the stunning corduroys, the handsome plaids and stripes (three cheers for 'em), the color-gloried prints are that convincingly good-looking they definitely outclass anything in the way of wash fabrics that has ever gone before.

As to this wide range of versatile weaves, their adaptability to every conceivable sort of all-purpose wear is astonishing—a miracle in modern times! Pajama costumes, slacks, shirts, house coats, swim suits, negligees, afternoon dress-up frocks, party gowns and "prom" formals, in short a schoolgirl's every need is met in the wash-apparel specialty shops and in departments devoted to washables these days.

Recently the National Wash Apparel association presented a highly fashion-significant style show in Chicago. The hundreds and hundreds of most intriguing college, school, career-girl and junior fashions, styled throughout, as they were, of swank wash fabrics, was nothing less than a revelation. We are showing three representative types from this gala autumn style revue in the accompanying illustration as a foretaste of the endless modes you'll be seeing in the new fall parade.

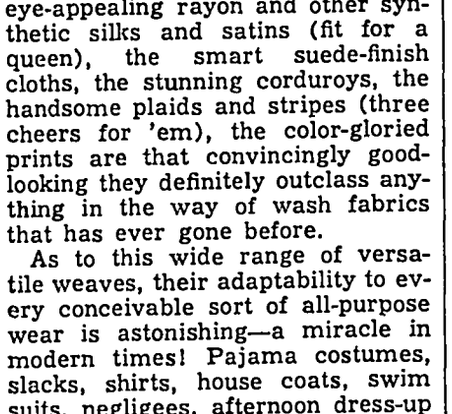
Plaids are going to be better than ever this season. The happy schoolfaring miss pictured to the left in the group, is wearing a gay Mexican checkerboard plaid. It is shirred at the shoulders, has a swing skirt which conforms to fashion's call for skirts that at least create the impression of slimness, whether they have pleats or not. There is smart color contrast in the leather belt and of course there are decorative pockets.

The attractive junior frock centered in the picture uses plain versus check in its makeup. The material is rabbit-woolish in its softness. The skirt brings soft-pleat fullness to the front in latest style-approved manner. Novelty breast pockets, a girlish neckline and a yoke back and front together with a soft wide belt are distinguishing style details. You can get this model in football brown, loyal blue and kick-off red.

Stripes are still the talk o' the town. See the clever use the designer makes of stripes as illustrated to the right. The skirt is of the bias-cut swing type. There is a double-action styling given to the back of the blouse. A leather belt and buttons in three colors give a telling style flourish. Touch-down green, football brown and college blue, the colors in which this model comes, are passwords that will admit this smart dress to college environs with acclaim.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Evening Snood



The popular snood is playing a dual role. Not only does it serve as a protector for windblown tresses during the day. The latest is the jewel-encrusted snood that you wear as here shown. An evening snood is to be coveted for it not only is a gay flatterer but it is a friend indeed in that it gives you a confident poiseful feeling that your hair will stay put.

Changes Fastening In Separate Skirts

Slide fasteners, modern miracles that they are, occasionally give a heavy look to the left side of separate skirts. To eliminate this difficulty one designer who specializes in clothes for the college girl plans to have all of her newest skirts fasten at the center of the back.

Longer Gloves Is Late Style Edict

For once in her life fashion is logical! With those youthful short-sleeved, chubby fur jackets which top the list of must haves this fall longer gloves are definitely the thing. Because while bare midriffs may be a smart whim in evening clothes, you don't want that effect between the end of your gloves and the beginning of your jacket sleeves.

American glove manufacturers have taken account of the important short-sleeved fur jacket fashion and have figured out that the eight-button length glove is perfect with most of these jackets. It's long enough to cover the exposed part of the arm, but not too long to be comfortable under the jacket sleeve. And you can have it in the classic slip-on type or, if you like to be a bit different, in a mousquetaire — the straighter-cut, closer-fitting glove with the buttoned opening.

And whichever style you prefer, you have a stunning range of fall colors to choose from.

Towering Turbans Reaching Skyward

Turbans are likely to reach skyscraper proportions by fall, if the new designs are any indication, for they seem to be draped higher and higher in every new collection. Some are brought up to a high peak in a triangular draping and some are elaborately twisted and looped to reach magnificent proportions.

New Hat Silhouette

Even hats are taking to the narrower silhouette in the new creations shown for early fall wear.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1 00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber

Flax does not harm soil.

Use of Frankincense

Two thousand years ago frankincense was one of the most valuable and sacred commodities in the world. Every altar and every funeral required this fragrant gum. Pliny wrote: "The heaps of odors that are piled up in honor of the bodies of the dead It is the luxury of man, which is displayed even in the paraphernalia of death, that has rendered Arabia thus happy" It was Arabia that had the monopoly of this rich trade, and there only, to the east of Aden, in that part of the country known as the Hadhramaut, was the gum produced.

A Clever Discovery

Pineapples are said to ripen four times as fast as nature ripens them when a Hawaiian pineapple producer treats the plants with acetylene before their normal flowering period The plant is either gassed in a sealed chamber or sprayed with acetylene-saturated water After five treatments of 12 to 18 hours, the pineapples are ripe enough for use.

When Father PAINTED The Parlor-

"When Father painted the parlor it cost only twice as much as George Lawhorn, the Klemme painter, asked—that is, not counting Father's time. There were the cleaning bills for the rugs, refinishing for the floor, the X-Ray for Father's elbow (when he fell off the ladder), and then we never knew there were so many different shades of white . . . and Mother hired Mr. Lawhorn to do it all over again."

Why take chances?

--PHONE 54--

Coal is cheaper-

It is cheaper to buy your winter's supply of coal NOW than to wait until later when prices are higher. Phone us your order and have your bin filled today at the lower prices! We have your favorite coal in stock

- RED CLOVER
- BLUE DIAMOND
- RANGE COAL
- BERWIND BRIQUETS

BERWIND BRIQUETS . . . we have the Genuine Berwind Briquets made from genuine Pocahontas Coal, ground up and treated. It's the cleanest fuel you ever saw. Try a load of Berwind Briquets.

COAL ON THE ROAD

We have in transit, a carload of each of RED CLOVER and BLUE DIAMOND. Phone us your order if you want it off the car

Federal

North Iowa Grain Co.

H. F. JOST, Manager — Klemme, Iowa

Auction Sale

LEGION HALL, KLEMME, IOWA

Saturday, Sept. 14th

1:30 P. M.

The following goods will be sold for cash to the highest bidder:

- Ford Truck with dual wheels, all-weather Tires, A-No. 1 shape.
- 15 Tons Kindling Wood, stove length.
- 1 Building, 10x20 feet.
- Building Material, Etc. consisting of Doors, Windows, Pipes, Fittings, Radiators, Brick Hollow Tile, Tools, Lumber, Lath, and Miscellaneous Items.

B. A. Reemstma, Auctioneer

Klemme

American Legion

Around Iowa

Collapse.

Pupils of the Kensitt school were disappointed last week. Part of the roof collapsed but school went on just the same. Two feet of water ran into the gymnasium after the accident.

oOo

Chickens Come and Go.

The Glen Behne family, Nora Springs, returned home one evening recently to find that their chickens - all 40 of them - had disappeared. After resigning themselves to the loss, they were very much surprised one morning to waken and find all of the chickens back in the pen.

-oOo-

No School.

It is impossible to reopen three Wright county rural schools this fall because of lack of pupils.

-oOo-

One Fish.

Members of the Soil Conservation Service, Marion, were entertained at a banquet recently, guests of three of the members. The menu – one baked lake trout, 26 pounds in all.

-oOo-

Hurts Eye.

Charles Mueller, Emmetsburg, recently lost the use of one eye when a screwdriver he was using slipped and pierced the eyeball.

-oOo-

Back To The Olden Days.

An ox team was used by Marshall Allen, of near Ames, to take a load of corn to town recently. The sight caused quite a bit of excitement.

-oOo-

Old Handbill.

A handbill advertising a "monster mass meeting for republicans of southwest Iowa" 44 years ago, was discovered in a column of a living room at the T. C. Murphy home, Red Oak, where changes are being made. It is believed that the bill was left inside the column by the contractors working on the house in 1896.

-oOo-

Good Businessmen.

New Sharon business firms were recently advised that not one of them would be found on the delinquent tax list this year.

-oOo-

Big Ones.

Instead of measuring his potatoes by weight this year, Harry O. Larson, Elkader, reports that 12 of them make a peck.

-oOo-

$1700 Found.

Three small boys playing in a Clarinda lot, found a paper sack containing $1,700, mostly in old bills. Relatives of Miss Sadie Jackson, recently deceased, believe that the money was put by her in some bedding, which was later taken outdoors to be aired and the money fell out. The money is being held for relatives of Miss Jackson.

-oOo-

It Worked.

Joseph Pearlman, Eldora, believes in really going out after business. In order to sell a number of blankets recently, he wrapped one of his employees, Indian style, and placed her in the window. Not only was a large crowd attracted, but a number of blankets were sold.

-oOo-

Caved In.

A large fill on the highway near Ute, caved in recently. The trouble was caused by the heavy rains in that vicinity. No one was injured.

oOo

Rewarded.

A medal will be given to Rex, a dog belonging to George Herrick, Bridgewater, by the Pet Owners' Research foundation at New York. Rexs' barking saved the family from burning last March. The dog will also be eligible for the canine hero of 1940 award to be given later in the year.

oOo

Likes Fair.

Mate Rice, 90, formerly of Monticello, visited the fair there again this year. Mr. Rice was one of the 36 men who donated $100 apiece to start the fair in Monticello years ago, and is the only living member of that group.

CORN STORAGE IS THE PRESENT PROBLEM NOW

College Revising Corn Crib Bulletin For Those Who Plan To Build

Because many farmers may choose to carry over their old corn and in view of large supplies, there will be a great demand for storage space this fall.

Walter Wilcox, agricultural economist at Iowa State College, points out that the government is offering 5 cents a bushel storage allowance to farmers sealing old corn. About half of all sealed corn in the country is stored in Iowa. Because old corn would put an added pressure on the market, and because the 1938-39 sealed corn is of excellent quality, it may be wise to reseal, according to Wilcox.

Pays Out Quickly

Iowa State agricultural engineers claim that a good corn crib and granary will pay for itself in less time than any other farm building. But each year many farmers pay for a good crib or granary and do not get it, because of damage to poorly stored crops. Such damage may mean loss of feed or market value of crops, even greater losses may be sustained if farmers do not have adequate storage facilities to carry over large surplus crops into periods of scarcity and high prices.

A good crib, the engineers say, provides protection from weather and rodents, and ventilation to insure properly dried corn. The structure should not be crowded by other buildings, by high trees or embankments, or by windbreaks, because such obstructions interfere with proper ventilation. And rodent control is more easily managed when barns and sheds are at a reasonable distance.

Not To Wide

The narrower the crib the better the circulation of air. provided open sidewalls are used. A width of 8 feet is considered the maximum for most of Iowa; the dimension may be decreased to 6 or 7 feet in the northeastern part of the state and increased to 9 feet n he extreme southwestern portion. Ventilators often are used to insure proper drying.

While useful in emergencies, wire or slat cribbing may be more expensive on a yearly basis because of loss from exposure and vermin.

Rats and mice damage both the corn and the building. Proper placing of concrete in foundations, walls and floors is the most effective way to keep them out. Wood floors only a few inches from the ground furnish harborage for the pests. If the crib is too close to the ground, rats in burrowing will pile moist earth against the floor joists and sills causing early rotting and failure.

Agricultural Engineers at Iowa State are re-issuing a recent extension bulletin, "Corn Storage Buildings," for information to farmers who plan to build cribs or granaries this fall

Legumes and grass to be put in a silo should be cut a little earlier than it would for hay.

"Don't be Heedless, Accidents are needless." Hancock County Safety Council.

TO REALLY ENJOY YOUR
AUTUMN VACATION
GO BY TRAIN

Autumn is the most delightful vacation season of the year, with Mother Nature arranging ideal weather conditions and variegated color schemes to please every taste Modern rail travel offers every known comfort and convenience. All main line Rock Island trains are air-conditioned and give you economy, safety and speed to make your journey completely carefree.

And you can NOW TRAVEL ON CREDIT. No money down. Pay later.

Your local Rock Island Agent will furnish complete details, or write

C. C. GARDNER, A. G. P. A.
721 Locust Street,
Des Moines, Iowa

HAVE YOUR TICKET ROUTED — Rock Island

Use of Word 'Hop' for Dance

Hop as a nickname for a dance is not a Twentieth century word As early as 1851 the word was used in Ohio. Speaking of the dances at a favorite rendezvous in Cincinnati in that year, the Cincinnati Gazette wrote: "The Burnett House hops are distinguished in these parts as the most select balls of the season"

Steel Prohibited for Bridges

Steel was prohibited in England for bridge construction as late as 1877

An Ancient Clock

One of the oldest clocks in the world is on the old Clock Tower in Venice, Italy It has been in use time since 1496 or for more than 400 years On its platform are two black giants who have struck the hours 24 times every day for nearly 4,000 000 times

Speed in Building Nests

The English sparrow can complete a nest in a few hours, while the South American oven bird requires about three months for the job.

McCormick-Deering

Corn Pickers

and BINDERS - -

HAVE BEEN BUILT AND SOLD IN THIS COMMUNITY FOR THIRTY-ONE YEARS!

. . . and of course improvements have been made in the development of this wonderful machine, and the repair service is second to none other built.

The McCormick-Deering Picker is now built in FOUR MODELS . . . either single or two-row . . . mounted or pull type.

LOOK OVER YOUR PICKER AND CORN BINDER FOR NEEDED REPAIRS . . .

Do yourself a good turn by checking over your old machines . . . and if in doubt please ring 41 or 40R2 and we will gladly drive out and help you check over the parts needed to give you first class service for another year Please do it now!

For Repair Service Phone Klemme 41 or 40R2 and ask for Ira Overholt

NORTHERN

Lumber Implement Store

J. I. Overholt, Manager — Phone

K. F. M. Specia

Friday and Saturday, Sept. 1

MONARCH Telephone Peas 2 cans 25c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

MONARCH Cream Style Corn 2 cans 21c — QUALITY for 70 YE

PEACHES Per Gal.

FLOUR, Pancake, Griddle Mix, pkg. .. 23c

WAFFLE SYRUP, Staley's, ½ gal. ....

MONARCH Coffe Per lb. 21c

NOODLES, Egg 2 pkgs. at 17c

MACKEREL Yacht Club, 2 cans ..

SPRY SHORTENING 1 lb. cans, 2 cans

KRAUT No. 2½ can at 11c

SOAP FLAKES, Big Four, giant size ....

MEAT DEPARTMENT

SAUSAGE, Pork Per lb. at 12½c

LARD, Home Rendered, 3 lbs. ....

BOLOGNA Home Made, lb. 17c

SIDE PORK Per lb. at .....

Klemme Food Mark

MONARCH STORE — C. A. LARSEN

SMALLER, DEMAND LARGER

growers can get ement from reports al turkey crop will consumer demand 1939, says A. D. State College poul- But the outlook for "mildly" improved. bles of turkeys are heavy consumption. perators, who failed to make much on last year's operations, may hestitate to put many birds into the coolers.

Commercial hatchings of turkeys were 19 per cent smaller for the first 6 months of this year than in 1939. Home hatchings have been larger, however, Iowa's turkey crop probably will be smaller than last year, when the state ranked fourth in turkey production.

"Knowledge plus Caution equals Safety." Hancock County Safety Council.

MUST SELL OUR

CARS and TRUCKS

tter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT ains in late models. You take no chances when you us. Come in and look them over.

arner Motor Sales

ILE CHEVROLET

REE MOVIES

—ON—

HYBRID CORN

Klemme High School Auditorium

nday Evening, Sept. 16

Beginning At 8:00 P. M.

ures Will Be Shown. A Talkie Comedy and "Pio- mpions." The main feature will be an educational showing the production of Hybrid Corn. Also and musical acts in extra attraction. ALL FREE!

SEED! FREE GIFTS!

shel of PIONEER Seed Corn and 9 other gifts $25 will be given away as attendance awards.

—Sponsored By—

d K. Josten — me, Iowa

Leonard Kallestad — Belmond, Iowa

cal Pioneer Hybrid Corn Representatives)

THADA'S

d Store In A Good Town — Klemme, Iowa

ALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

NAR wonder FLOUR — READ FLOUR SO GOOD WINS CAKE PRIZES - $1.69

BEANS 4 for ..... 17c | COCKTAIL, Del Monte, Tall can 14c

CAMAY The Soap of Beautiful Women — 3 bars 18c

..... 10c | COOKIES Fancy, per lb. 15c

IVORY SOAP 1 lg. bar 1 md. bar — 11c

rdwater, k's Castile ..... 25c | BAKING POWDER Calumet, Small size for 07c

ake Flour DIXIANA 3 lb. pkg. All Wheat or Regular — 12c

Staley's gal. ..... 25c | SYRUP, Staley's White, ½ gal. 27c yrup come in cans with special new non-drip outs.

LOCAL PIONEER HYBRID CORN DEALER WILL SPONSOR ENTERTAINMENT

Free Movies and Vaudeville Will Feature Show Sponsored By Josten

Edmund K. Josten, local Pioneer hybrid corn dealer, will sponsor a moving picture and vaudeville show to be held at the High School Auditorium on next Monday evening, September 16.

The entertainment is entirely free and Mr Josten expects a large crowd to attend In addition to the moving pictures, which are educational in nature, he has secured vaudeville numbers in addition Gerardi and his Accordion is one of the feature attractions, and the Radio Trio of Mason City will appear in several novelty numbers.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A GOOD TENNIS Racket and Case, $1 50 Times Office. 1tc

FOR SALE—ONE 18 INCH JOHN Deere Tractor Plow. Northern Implement Shop. 1tc.

RUBBER STAMPS—A 2 LINE stamp with your name and address for 60c Times Print Shop.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each Klemme Auto Company. tfc

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

GET PAID WEEKLY - LIBERAL terms to right man in choice territory as sales representative for Wisconsin's Greatest Nursery No delivering or collecting Healthy work with good pay in a business of your own Stock Northern grown, with liberal guarantee Company established over 30 years Write McKay Nursery Company Madison, Wisconsin. 3tp

WANTED -CUSTOM WORK FOR Two-Row power binder, $1.75 per acre J A Chambers. S-4-11-18c

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—A YEARLING HEIFER came to my place. Owner may have same by proving property and paying for costs of keep and advertising. LeRoy Johnson. 3tc

THE METHODIST CHURCH

William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:-
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League 7 30 p. m.

Any desiring children to be baptized or to affiliate with the Church are asked to be present.

All canned goods for the hospital is to be brought to the Church Sunday Also all the penny-shave-banks are due Sunday.

Liberty Church:-
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
Sabbath School 10.15 a. m.

Opportunity will be given for those who desire children baptized.

Bring all canned goods for the hospital, and bring penny-shave-banks next Sunday.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH

Calvin Grosshnesch, Pastor

10.00 a m. English Service.
11:00 a. m. Sunday School.
8:00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
8:00 p. m. Thursday.
Men's Chorus

Confirmation Class will begin Saturday, Sept. 14th, at 9 a. m. All pupils, beginning with the 7th grade, may enroll.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier and Mr and Mrs. Roy Schaefer, and Mrs. George Schoenwetter drove to Ames Saturday.

Billie and Byrnes Lemke returned home Wednesday after spending a few days at Hippens, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kimball and daughter, visited at the Emery Schaefer home, Monday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Herman Gast visited at the Kenneth Gast home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Stille and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bridges left on a fishing trip in northern Minnesota Mr and Mrs. Jack Steaman, of Waterloo, are taking care of the farm work for Mr Stille.

Mrs. D. H Hammon, of Garner, is spending this week at the Albert Lange home.

There will be an election of Sunday School officers at the Liberty church, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Monme Mitchell, of Mason City, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Volkman, Nora Springs, spent Sunday at the Will Lemke home

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange visited at the Otto Pringnitz home Sunday evening.

Virgil Stille drove to Excellsor Springs one day last week to bring his father, J. J. Stille, home. Mr. Stille had been taking treatments there.

The Liberty Farm Bureau meeting was held at Dist. No 1, Thursday evening The 4-H Girls had charge of the program and a play was given Ice cream was sold by the 4-H Girls.

A reception was held at the Elmer Weisbrod home Sunday at Fenton, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elberts. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs George Schoenwetter and family, Mr and Mrs. Arthur Schoenwetter, Elmer Ax, Mr. and Mrs Leslie Demerritt and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ludeke, of Meservey, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ax. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ax and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ludeke and family

CHECKING ELECTRIC FENCES FOR SAFETY

Fall brings a slack period when farmers have time to check up on their fences. And important among these in recent years have been electric fences, says Harold Beaty, Iowa State College extension agricultural engineer.

Electric fences have now gained "respectability," Beaty says, thru approval by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Fence controllers checked and approved by Underwriters' Laboratories may be expected to give high degree of faithful performance and safety protection.

Specifications

Requirements for approval include regulation of the "on" period and the "off" period. The allowance is ample to affect an animal which contacts the wire but also permits him to release himself after a short "treatment."

Amperage, too, is closely watched, because it is this, not the voltage, which may become dangerous to animals and human beings.

Warning Sign

An extensive group of standards prepared by the laboratories covers the framework of the fence controller, mechanical assembly, corrosion protection, supply connections, current-carrying parts, wiring, insulation, motor, grounding, protection and operating characterists.

One midwest state industrial commission requires a brightly painted sign at intervals of 200 feet to indicate an electric fence.

Prices of the better grades of beef cattle usually are steady during the fall months. September is the highest month, on the average, but October, November and December usually are not much lower.

For filling silos with sorgo and soybeans a half and half mixture is recommended.

Sneezes Hard.

Asa Berry, Lake Mills, has found out to his sorrow that it isn't safe to sneeze. A sneeze dislocated a vertabra in his neck recently.

WET SEASON INJURES AUGUST TOMATO CROP

Because of wet weather, tomatoes have been scarce in some sections during the past month, says W. H. Collins, extension horticultrist at Iowa State College. Some of the fruit has been rotting on the ground; many vines have failed to set fruit at all.

The wet season has forced vines into heavy vegative growth, thus cutting fruit production.

Many of the green tomatoes now setting probably will not ripen before frost, Collins, says. These may be saved in one of two ways: either pull the vines when the fruit has become green-ripe and store them in a sheltered place or pick the individual tomatoes and wrap them in paper. The fruit then can be used as it ripens. These methods of course ineffective if the fruit is too green.

How a winning sweepstake ticket made the dream of a London shopkeeper come true, but relatives and swindlers persecuted him death took his loved ones and, to find "just one friend," he fled his gloomy mansion with a pushcart —and landed in a prison camp. Read this amazing article in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

MARRIED SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening, Sept. 7th, Mr. Dale Rapp, of Garner, and Miss Pauline Kuper, Britt, were married at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Wm. Zabilka. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hanson accompanied the couple.

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 11-12.

"Way of All Flesh"

with A. Tamlroff and Gladys George.

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13-14. (Double Feature).

"The Captain Is A Lady"

with C. Coburn and Billie Burke.

ALSO

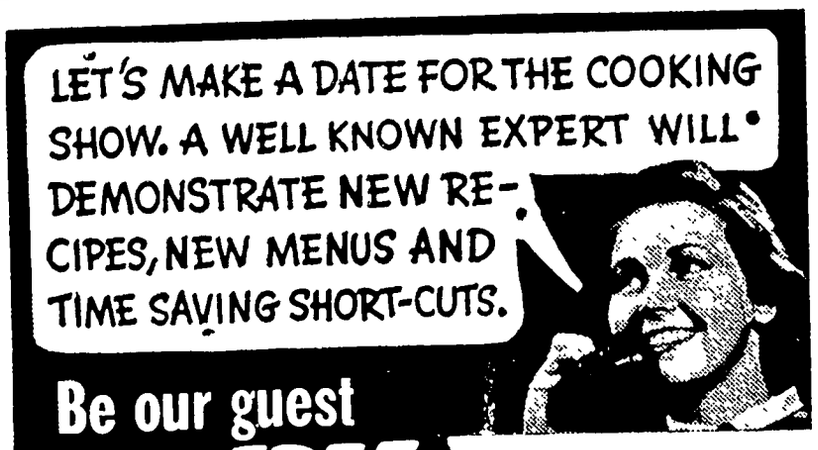
"CHARLIE CHAN'S MURDER CRUISE"

with Sidney Toler and Marjorie Weaver

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 15-16-17.

"Pride and Prejudice"

with Greer Garson, Laurence Olivier, Mary Boland and Maureen O'Sullivan.



LET'S MAKE A DATE FOR THE COOKING SHOW. A WELL KNOWN EXPERT WILL DEMONSTRATE NEW RECIPES, NEW MENUS AND TIME SAVING SHORT-CUTS.
Be our guest at our FREE COOKING SHOW—

Community Hall

Wed., Oct. 9

Lewis Radio Shop

Distributors of

SHELLANE COOKING GAS — A SHELL PRODUCT — Saves 3 hours drudgery a day

Davencrepes BY Humming Bird

with the Hidden Value Specifications wrap

THAT TELLS YOU WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

Here's hosiery that tells you exactly how it is made, and why it is so sheer, yet wears so long. Come in and let us show you these stockings that speak for themselves—on our counter, on the leg.

79c

98c

All the newest shades for Fall

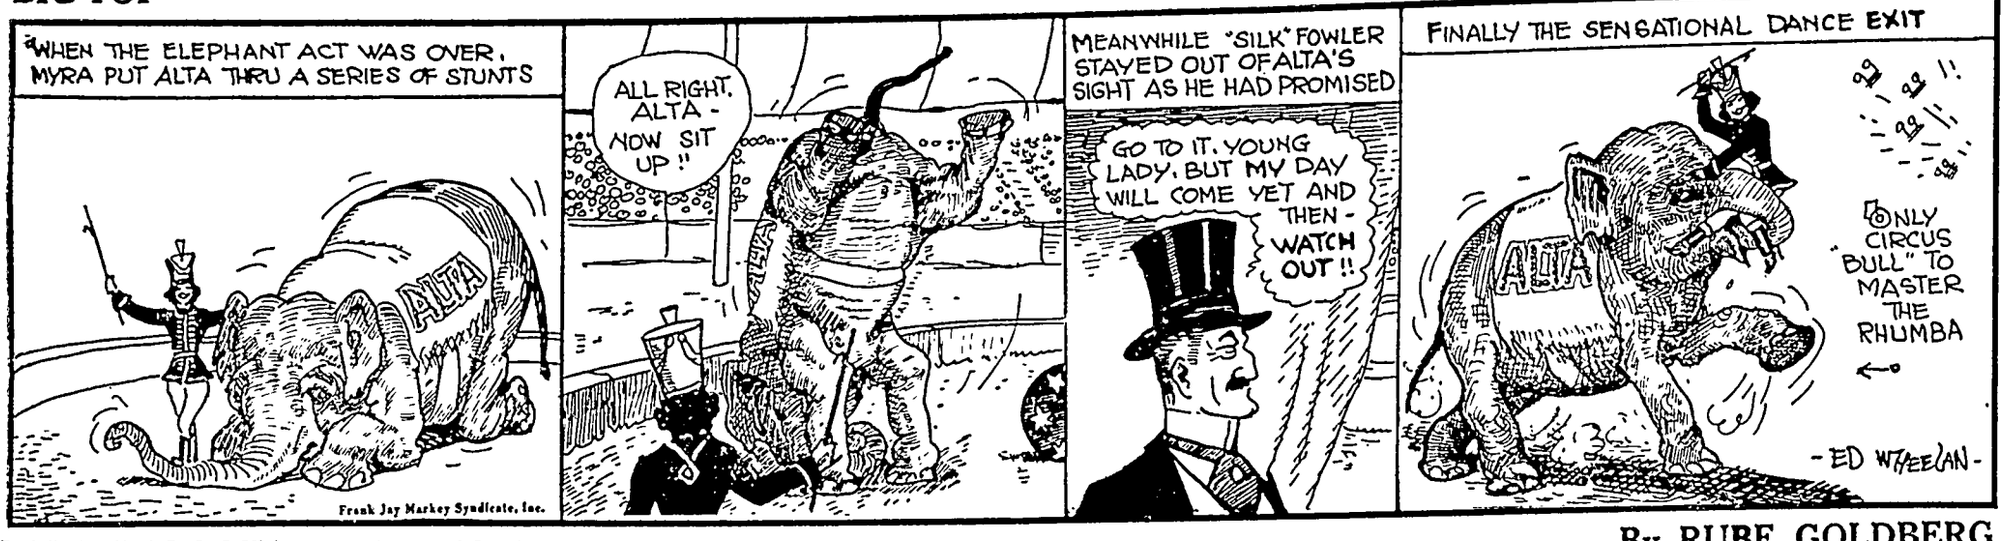
Gildner-Paulson

Clothing & Shoes — Garner, Iowa

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN



WHEN THE ELEPHANT ACT WAS OVER, MYRA PUT ALTA THRU A SERIES OF STUNTS
ALL RIGHT, ALTA - NOW SIT UP !!
MEANWHILE "SILK" FOWLER STAYED OUT OF ALTA'S SIGHT AS HE HAD PROMISED
GO TO IT, YOUNG LADY, BUT MY DAY WILL COME YET AND THEN - WATCH OUT !!
FINALLY THE SENSATIONAL DANCE EXIT
ONLY CIRCUS "BULL" TO MASTER THE RHUMBA ALTA
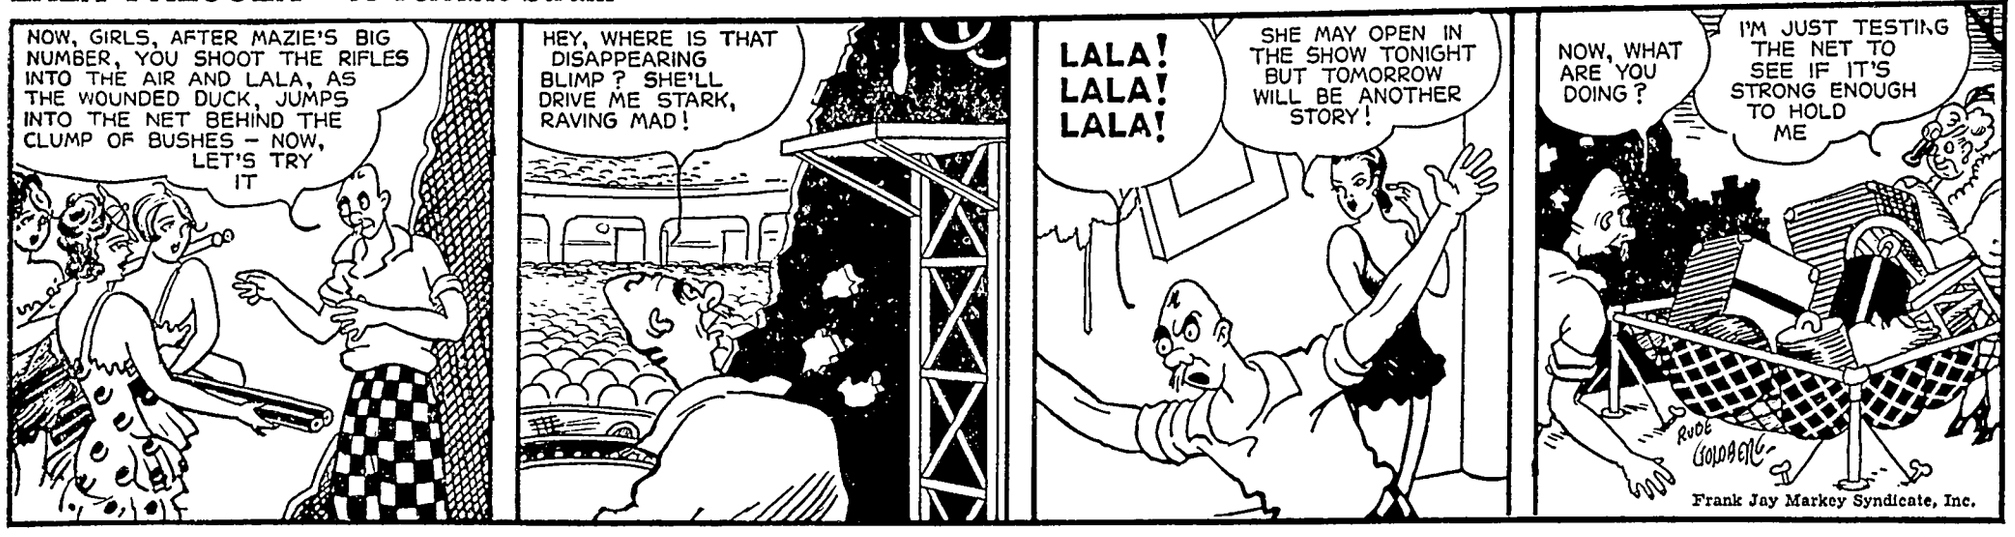
- ED WHEELAN -
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

LALA PALOOZA —A Terrible Strain

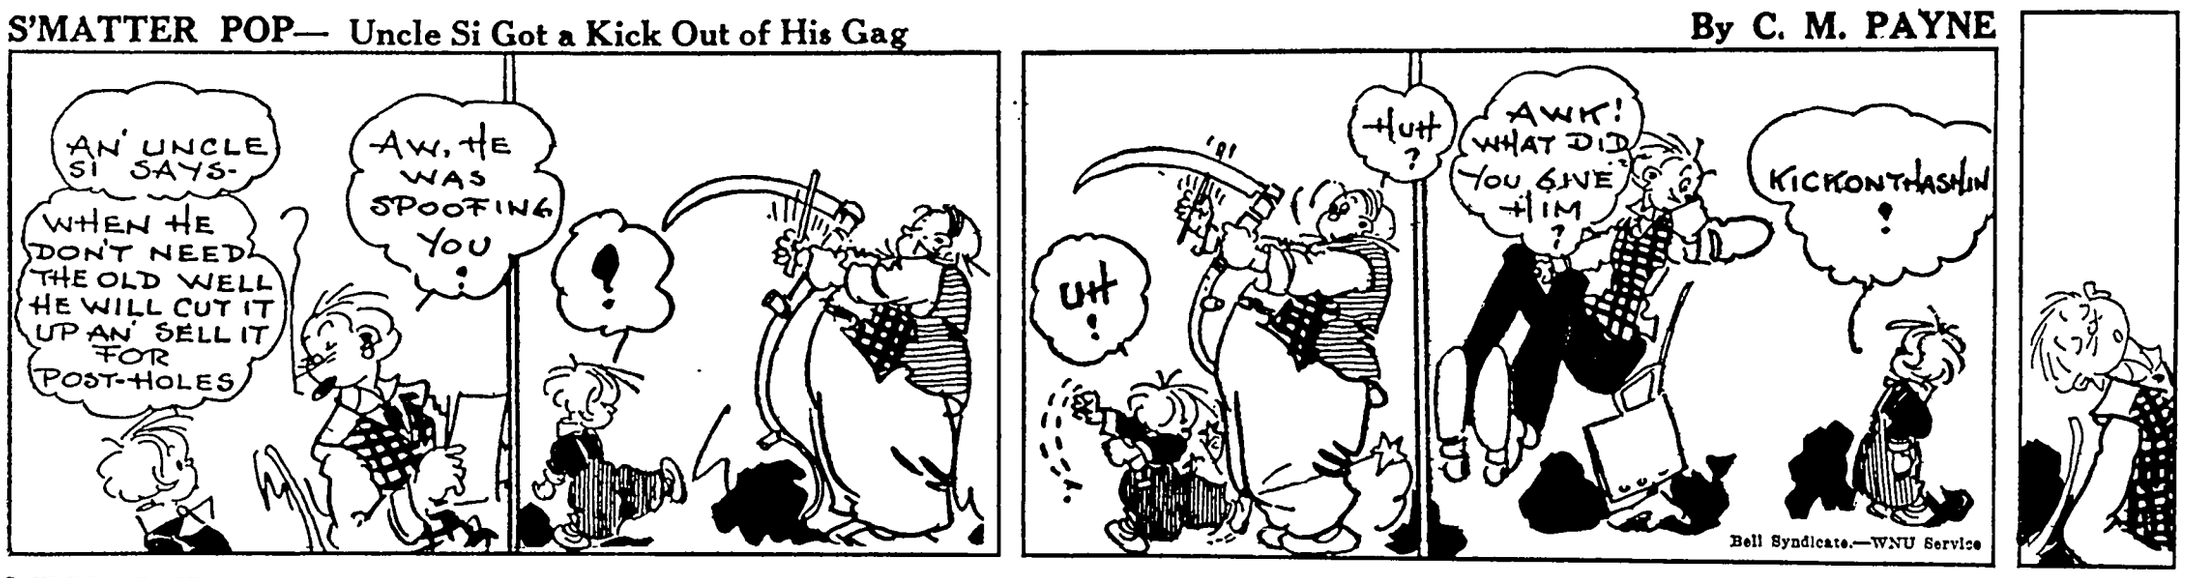
By RUBE GOLDBERG



NOW, GIRLS, AFTER MAZIE'S BIG NUMBER, YOU SHOOT THE RIFLES INTO THE AIR AND LALA, AS THE WOUNDED DUCK, JUMPS INTO THE NET BEHIND THE CLUMP OF BUSHES - NOW, LET'S TRY IT
HEY, WHERE IS THAT DISAPPEARING BLIMP ? SHE'LL DRIVE ME STARK, RAVING MAD !
LALA! LALA! LALA!
SHE MAY OPEN IN THE SHOW TONIGHT BUT TOMORROW WILL BE ANOTHER STORY !
NOW, WHAT ARE YOU DOING ?
I'M JUST TESTING THE NET TO SEE IF IT'S STRONG ENOUGH TO HOLD ME
RUBE GOLDBERG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP— Uncle Si Got a Kick Out of His Gag

By C. M. PAYNE



AN' UNCLE SI SAYS- WHEN HE DON'T NEED THE OLD WELL HE WILL CUT IT UP AN' SELL IT FOR POST-HOLES AW, HE WAS SPOOFING YOU !
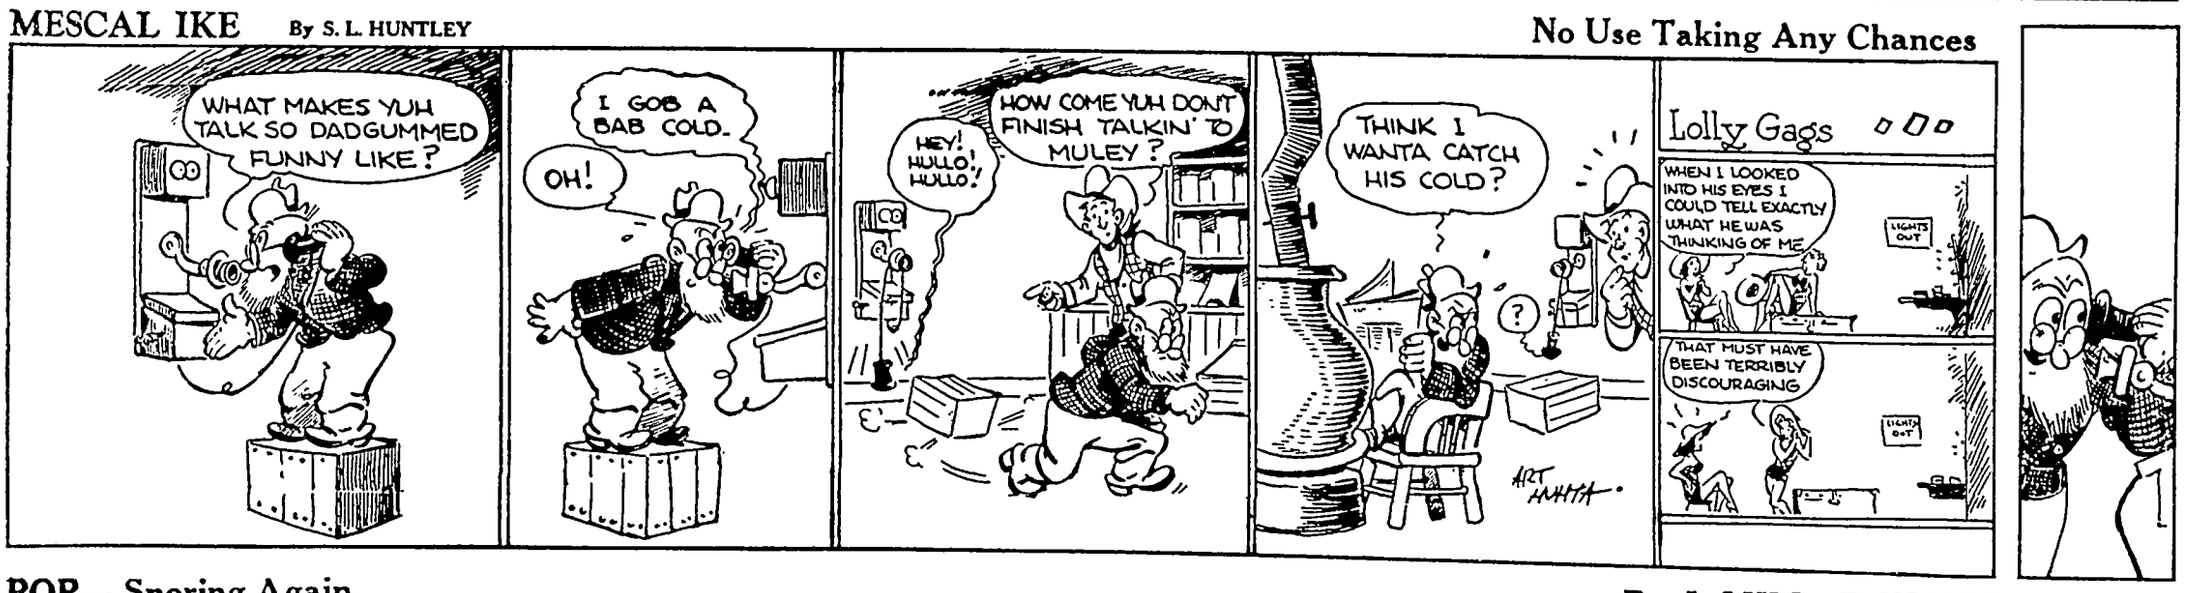
!
Utt !
Hutt ?
AWK ! WHAT DID YOU GIVE HIM ?
KICK ON THE SHIN !
Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY



No Use Taking Any Chances

THINK I WANTA CATCH HIS COLD ?
Lolly Gags
WHEN I LOOKED INTO HIS EYES I COULD TELL EXACTLY WHAT HE WAS THINKING OF ME
LIGHTS OUT
THAT MUST HAVE BEEN TERRIBLY DISCOURAGING LIGHTS OUT
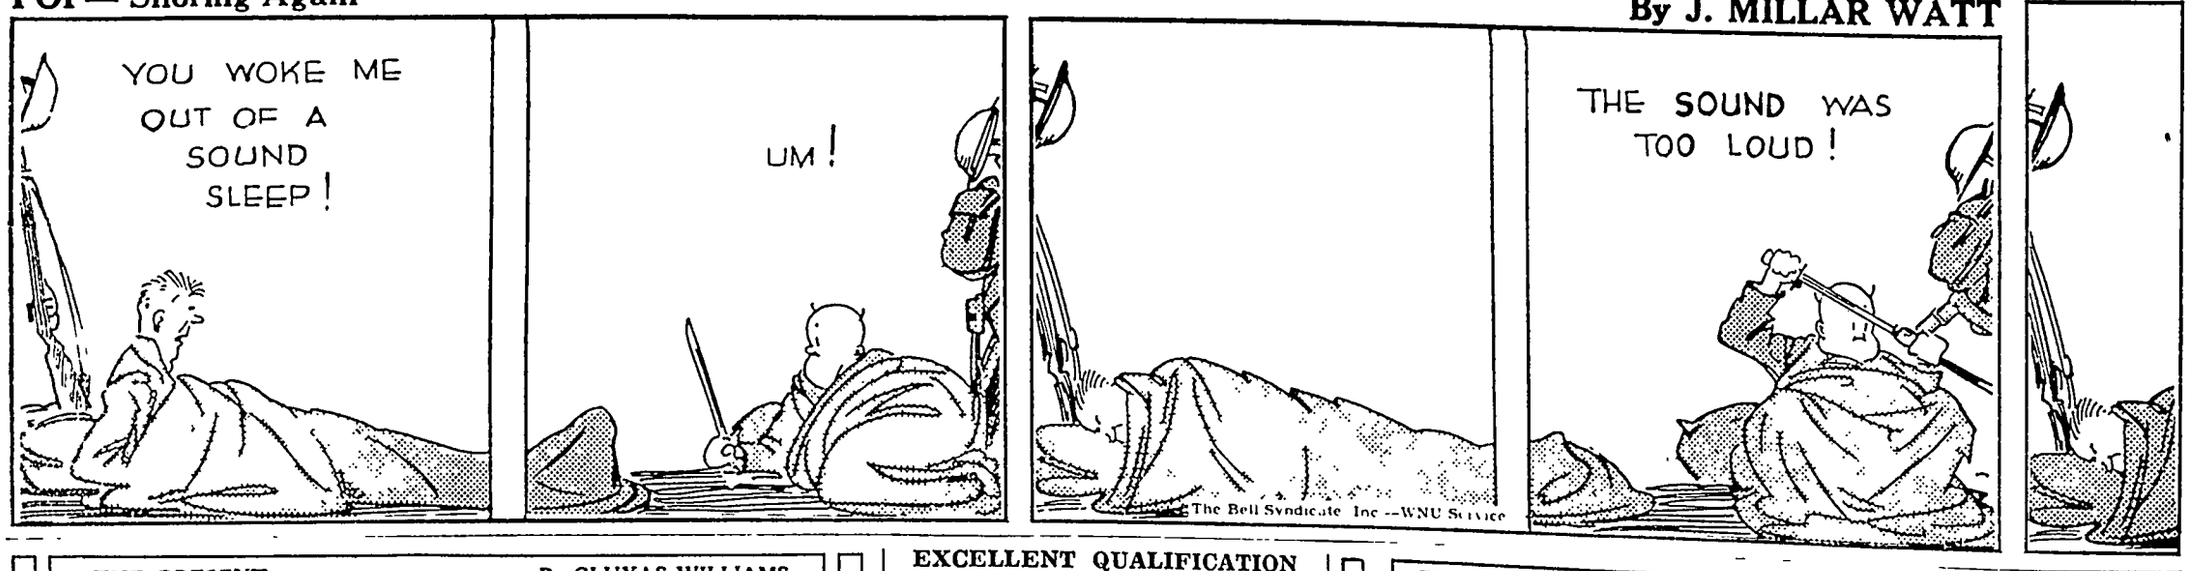
ART HARMAN

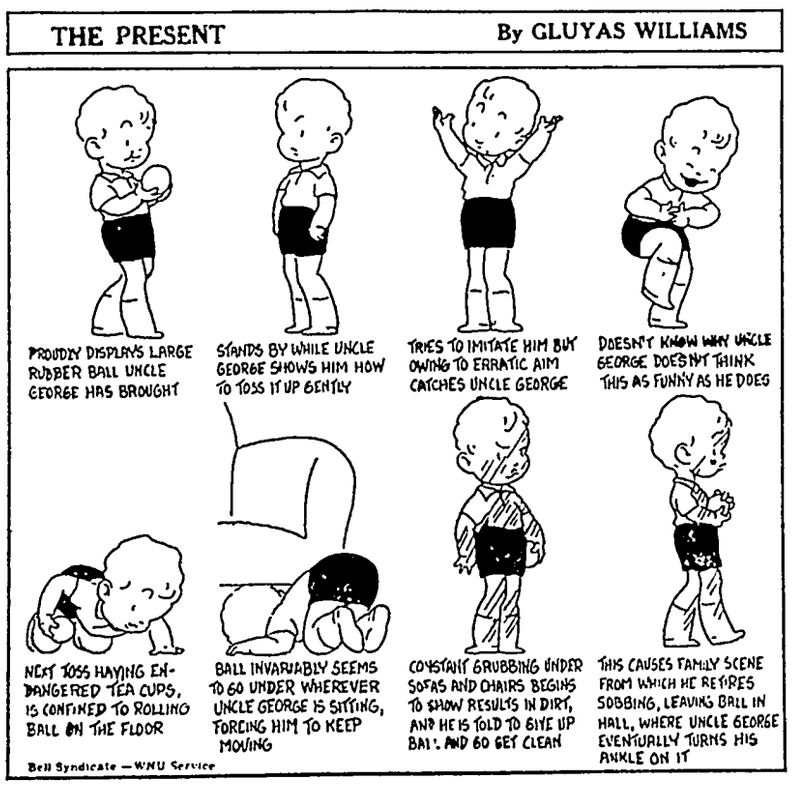
POP— Snoring Again

By J. MILLAR WATT



THE PRESENT

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



PROUDLY DISPLAYS LARGE RUBBER BALL UNCLE GEORGE HAS BROUGHT STANDS BY WHILE UNCLE GEORGE SHOWS HIM HOW TO TOSS IT UP GENTLY TRIES TO IMITATE HIM BUT OWING TO ERRATIC AIM CATCHES UNCLE GEORGE DOESN'T KNOW WHY UNCLE GEORGE DOESN'T THINK THIS AS FUNNY AS HE DOES
NEXT TOSS HAVING ENDANGERED TEA CUPS, IS CONFINED TO ROLLING BALL ON THE FLOOR
BALL INVARIABLY SEEMS TO GO UNDER WHEREVER UNCLE GEORGE IS SITTING, FORCING HIM TO KEEP MOVING CONSTANT GRUBBING UNDER SOFAS AND CHAIRS BEGINS TO SHOW RESULTS IN DIRT, AND HE IS TOLD TO GIVE UP BALL AND GO GET CLEAN
THIS CAUSES FAMILY SCENE FROM WHICH HE RETIRES SOBBING, LEAVING BALL IN HALL, WHERE UNCLE GEORGE EVENTUALLY TURNS HIS ANKLE ON IT
Bell Syndicate —WNU Service

EXCELLENT QUALIFICATION

"Are you an expert accountant?" asked the prospective employer.

"Yes, sir," said the applicant.

"Your written references seem all right, but tell me more about yourself."

"Well, my wife kept a household account for thirty days. One night after dinner I sat down and in less than an hour found out how much we owed our grocer."

"Hang up your hat and coat," directed the employer. "The job's yours."

Bachelors, Look Out!

Mrs. Neighbor—I've been looking for my husband for two hours.

Spinster—That's nothing. I've been looking for one for 20 years and haven't found him yet.

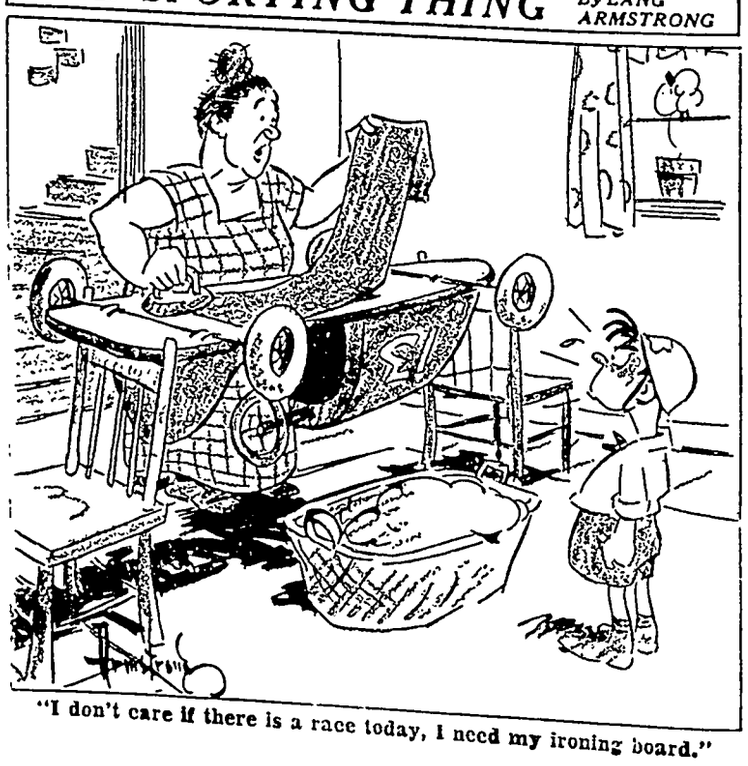
Life and Hope

"Can't the doctors extend any hope at all to the relatives of that very rich man?"

"No; they say he is likely to live for years."

THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG



"I don't care if there is a race today, I need my ironing board."

Pretty Flowers F... Crocheted Bas...

Pattern No. 6631.

FLOWERS in simplest stit... fill these easily crocheted ... ket edgings. Take your pi... pillow cases, towels or s...

Pattern 6681 contains a tra... pattern of 12 motifs ranging ... 5 by 15 to 2 by 4 inches; ... and directions for crochet, ... trations of stitches, mate... needed. Send order to

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dep... 82 Eighth Ave. New Y...

Enclose 15 cents in coins for ... tern No.....

Name .....

Address .....

CLASSIFIE... DEPARTMEN...

STOVE & FURNACE REPA...

REPAIRS For Your ST... FURNACE or ...

Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All ...

Have Your Dealer Order from ...

DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COM...

REMEDY

HOSTETTER'S BITTE... Pep Up —for the day and ... strenuous times ahe...

Faulty Work

Every piece of work whic... not as good as you can mak... which you have palmed off im... fect, meagerly thought, mgga... in execution, upon mankind, ... is your paymaster on parole, ... in a sense your pupil, every h... or slovenly or untrue performa... should rise up against you in ... court of your own heart and ... demn you for a thief.—R. ... Stevenson.

WOMEN IN "40" YOUR ...

Read This Important Messa...

Do you dread those "trying years" (38 ... 52)? Are you getting moody, cranky ... NERVOUS? Do you fear hot flashes, w... ening dizzy spells? Are you jealous of at... tions other women get? THEN LISTE...

These symptoms often result from fe... functional disorders. So start today and ... famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable C... pound. For over 60 years Pinkham's C... pound has helped hundreds of thousands ... grateful women to go "smiling thru" diffi... days. Pinkham's has helped calm ... nerves and lessen annoying female ... tional "irregularities." One of the most ... tive "woman's" tonics. Try it!

Limited View

Who stays in the valley n... sees over the hill.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and wo... irregular habits, improper eating ... drinking—its risk of exposure and i... tion—throws heavy strain on the w... of the kidneys. They are apt to beco... over-taxed and fail to filter excess ... and other impurities from the life-gi... blood.

You may suffer nagging backa... headache, dizziness, getting up nig... leg pains, swelling—feel constan... tired, nervous, all worn out. Other ... of kidney or bladder disorder are ... times burning, scanty or too fre... urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help ... kidneys to pass off harmful excess ... waste. They have had more than half ... century of public approval. Are rec... mended by grateful users everywh... Ask your neighbor!

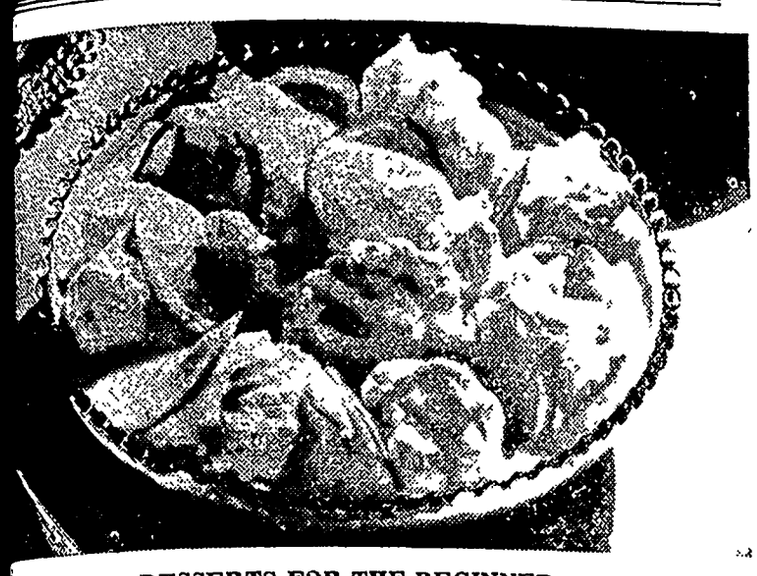
DOAN'S PILLS

WNU—N 38...

VIGILANC... COMMITTE...

ADVERTISING is a great rig... lance committee, establish... and maintained in your int... est, to see that the men wh... aspire to sell to you w... always be worthy of your tr...

Household News By Eleanor Howe



DESSERTS FOR THE BEGINNER
(Recipes Below)

fall fast creeping upon us, ides of the past few months gerly looking forward to the the vacation season. Then n proudly show to your friends ewly acquired relatives that e becoming not only a pro- hostess and homemaker, but first-rate cook.

aps you'll decide upon a tea r friends, serving dainty sand-, small cookies or tiny frosted But the families usually an- e a family dinner which tends ke the bride feel that they arrive with an extremely y appetite and a critical eye. n you plan your first family , select a menu that is not imple to prepare and easy ve, but one that will require few minutes in the kitchen. t the meal off with a bang! e a favorable impression right beginning of the meal. An zer that is fairly highly sea- small in amount; piping hot ll chilled, and one that whets ppetite instead of retarding it, nsure a successful meal. The ' natural curiosity will be ap- d, and they will settle back in chairs satisfied that the "new is a good one.

bride who can make a per- loating island need not dread roblem of company dessert. is nothing more delicious or ally welcome than the old fa- , especially when it is made range juice and combined with or segments of the fresh fruit. s not the only "easy-to-make" ner's recipe, but you will find he others will help you in se- g your company desserts. of them are suitable when you lam at a dessert luncheon, or an evening of cards.

Orange Floating Island.
(Serves 6)

eggs (slightly beaten)
teaspoon salt
tablespoons sugar
½ cups milk (scalded)
cup orange juice
egg whites (beaten stiff) cup confectioner's sugar
teaspoon vanilla
range segments or slices
mbine egg yolks, salt and sug- radually stir in hot milk and or- juice Cook boiling wa- minutes or mixture will metal spoon, ing constant- Cool quickly arge serving or sherbet es or sauce

s. To make the "islands": beat whites until stiff; gradually beat e confectioner's sugar and add anilla extract. Drop by spoon- onto custard. Chill. Garnish wafer-thin slices of the whole, eled orange or with orange seg- s.

Frozen Rice Pudding.
(Serves 6)

½ cup rice
quart milk
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
eggs (beaten)
teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon almond extract cup cream (whipped) ash and cook rice in boiling wa- or 5 minutes. Drain. Put rice, , sugar, salt, and nutmeg in top of a double boiler and cook inutes. Stir in slowly the beat- ggs and continue cooking 5 min- more. Add flavorings, chill and fold in the whipped cream. into freezing tray of automat- efrigerator. Set cold control to st degree and freeze.

ocolate Marshmallow Cake.
(Serves 6-8)

1½ squares unsweetened chocolate (1½ ounces)
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup water
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
⅔ cup sugar
2 eggs (beaten)
¼ cup milk

ook chocolate, 2 tablespoons sug- and water together until thick out 3 minutes), stirring constant- Cool thoroughly, and add va- . Sift together the flour, bak- ing powder and salt. Cream shortening, add ⅔ cup sugar, gradually, and continue beating until the mixture is very light and fluffy Add dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Pour batter into well-greased deep layer-cake pan. Cover with topping.

Topping — 1 egg white
⅓ cup sugar
8 marshmallows (cut in small pieces)
½ square unsweetened chocolate (½ ounce)

Beat egg white until foamy; add sugar gradually and continue beating until the egg white is very stiff. Fold in the cut marshmallows. Spread over cake batter; grate chocolate and sprinkle over the meringue. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 45 minutes.

Apple Seventh Heaven.
(Serves 5-6)

6 apples
¾ cup golden corn syrup
½ cup butter
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup nut meats (cut fine)

Pare and core the apples, and cut in eighths. Arrange in rows in a shallow, well-buttered baking pan. Heat syrup, butter, cinnamon and salt to the boiling point, and pour over the apples. Sprinkle with nut meats. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) for about 30 minutes. Serve warm or cold with top milk or cream.

Peach Cobbler.
(Serves 6)

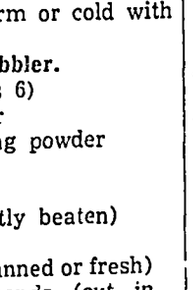
2 cups bread flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup lard
1 egg yolk (slightly beaten)
½ cup milk
6 peach halves (canned or fresh)
12 blanched almonds (cut in pieces)
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard. Combine beaten egg yolk, with milk, and add to lard mixture, forming a soft dough. Roll dough into two squares, about ¼ inch thick, and place on square in a greased square baking dish. Arrange peach halves on dough and add almonds, sugar, and cinnamon. Dot with butter and cover with second square of dough. Prick with fork and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for approximately 30 minutes. Cut in squares and serve with whipped cream.

Bavarian Cream With Jelly Garnish.
(Serves 6)

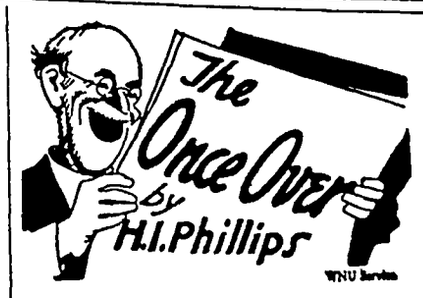
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
⅓ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon lemon extract
3 tablespoons lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ cups whipping cream
1 glass currant jelly.

Soak gelatin in ¼ cup cold water for 5 minutes. Make a syrup of the boiling water and sugar and pour over the gelatin. Add lemon extract, lemon juice and salt and mix thoroughly. Chill until mixture just begins to stiffen. Then whip and fold in ½ cup of whipping cream. Pour into ring mold and chill thoroughly. When ready to serve fill center of ring mold with whipped cream and garnish with dots of currant jelly.



Mothers have been busy during the summer vacation keeping the youngsters from getting bored and providing pleasing and refreshing meals for them. Father may have been pushed into the background so far as his personal interest in the meals is concerned. Why not secure a copy of Eleanor Howe's cook book, "Feeding Father," and select the menus and recipes he will enjoy? Send your 10 cents, in coin, to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan avenue, Chicago, Illinois, for your copy.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)



RARELY SEEN

A prison scene in which the inmates are not working in a shoe factory.

* * *

A cowboy picture in which none of the characters are named Tex, Buck or Gomez.

* * *

TEN CENTS AN 'ARTICLE'

A half dozen railroads have announced that porters will now charge 10 cents per "bag or article" at railroad terminals, turning over this money to the railroads and being placed on regular wages. Well, the rate is screwy and unfair to everybody. On the New Haven road, where it is being tried, we saw a woman give a brief case, a small cape and a demi-tasse bundle to a porter. She thought she was being generous when she handed him 20 cents. And you should have heard her when the porter demanded 30! (P. S. — During the argument a man who had given a porter a bass viol to tote handed him a dime, which was strictly regulation.)

* * *

The 10 cents per article rate is just going to make travelers hesitate to hand to a porter anything smaller than a concert grand, an iron stove or a parlor rug.

* * *

Mlle. Eve Curie has a word for it. She says the Atlantic may be America's Maginot ocean.

* * *

If Gibraltar falls a certain insurance company is going to have to change that calendar.

* * *

AND HOW!

"The new French constitution will give France an ultra modern version of democracy."—Marshal Petain. Wanna bet?

* * *

Hitler and Stalin may think they have their troubles, but look at Mussolini; he's written a play!

* * *

HOME NEWS

It was a funny noise that woke him—
He thought at first 'twas rain,
But found his wife was dusting
With a piece of "Cellophane."
—T. H. Miles.

* * *

Elmer Twitchell is a nervous wreck. The doctors can't make out whether it's liquor or seeing Charles Laughton as the Hunchback of Notre Dame.

* * *

Elmer Twitchell saw a sign over a store "To Lease for 99 Years" the other day and remarked, "I wouldn't touch it. Just about the time I got to making it pay, I'd have to give it up."

* * *

Do you remember away back when all we had to worry about was whether the Chinese war would last very long?

* * *

Quantity production of airplanes will be all right, provided they don't forget to tighten the left wing or fasten on the propeller.

* * *

THE LAST RETREAT

The thinning ranks that fought alone,
They gave their very latest breath
Like Alan Seegar of our own,
They kept their rendezvous with death.

Now reveille shall wake no more,
Nor enemy shall ever route
These victors over modern war
Forever in their last redoubt.
—Harcourt Strange.

* * *

ASSISTS

Simile: As jittery as a European travel folder in a foreign investment broker's mail.

* * *

My pet peeve: the announcers who make a cereal story out of a baseball game.
—Sam Michael Gevins.

* * *

One of the most trying moments in the life of any radio addict comes when the broadcaster announces he will now give the news of the momentous naval engagement and then takes time out to describe a chocolate bar!

* * *

There are so many nations trying to get into this world war that it may be necessary to announce a waiting list.

* * *

AND THEN THERE'S THE FAN WHO IS SO DISGUSTED WITH THE YANKEES THAT HE THINKS NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN MUST BE COACHING 'EM.

* * *

IT WAS THE FIFTH SCOTCH

As I was driving, free from care,
I hit a car that wasn't there;
It wasn't there again today,
They come and towed that car away.
—L. M. Prescott

* * *

James Fitzgerald wonders if Hitler keeps a scrap book.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 15

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE EVER-PRESENT GOD

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 139.1-12, 23, 24.
GOLDEN TEXT—If a man love me, he will keep my words; and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.—John 14 23.

"The Psalm of the Unavoidable God"—so Abingdon characterizes Psalm 139, but goes on to say, "It's main theme is 'God Cares.' He cares personally and individually." The omniscience and omnipresence of God, in the trying of the hearts of men, rightly brings fear to the ungodly, but to those who love and serve Him it can bring only assurance and joy.

The sublime concept of God here presented is an evidence of the divine inspiration of the Bible, for no human philosopher could ever have attained to or expressed such an understanding of the true nature of God. Only the infinite, all-knowing God, speaking through man, could give us this magnificent Psalm. It reveals that

I. God Knows Everything (vv. 1-6).

He is entirely unlimited in His true and eternal knowledge of things. Man is always limited in his knowledge of himself, of the world in which he lives, and of God, except as He reveals Himself. Our knowledge is not only partial, but progressive, going from one fact to another; but God knows all things perfectly and entirely from the beginning, yes, from all eternity.

One might well suppose that such a Being would be concerned only with the great and mighty forces of the universe, but we are told that He has an exact and intelligent understanding of and interest in even such simple details of life as our "downsitting and . . . uprising."

God is not so foolish as man. He does not put things and power above personality. He is interested in you and in me—is vitally, personally and blessedly concerned about each one of us. Knowing all about us, He builds a garrison of understanding love around us (v. 5; see Phil. 4 7 R. V.), and keeps His eternally powerful but tender hand upon us, if we permit Him so to do. Reader, have you submitted your life to His control through Jesus Christ our Lord?

II. God Is Everywhere (vv. 7-12).

In our humanity we are limited, not only in knowledge, but also in our ability to be in more than one place at a time. The Bible tells us what our reason would expect; that God, the infinite One, is everywhere at all times. This does not mean (as the pantheist would have us believe) that God is lost in nature, bound up in the rocks and trees, but that He is everywhere immanent in majestic power and love, sustaining all things, controlling and directing the destinies of His universe. He is not afar off, letting the world care for itself (as the deist would say),

"But here in present majesty,
As in His courts on high."

The man who would hide from God and flee from the Holy Spirit finds no comfort in these verses. He may attempt to hide in heaven or in the abode of the dead, but God is there. If he could ride with the speed of morning light (v. 9) to the uttermost parts of the earth, God is there before him. Darkness, which men think will hide their evil deeds, is like daylight to "Him with whom we have to do" (Heb. 4·13).

But why flee from a loving God? Why not come to Him in loving obedience, and then with the psalmist rejoice that we "cannot get beyond the circle of His love"? What a blessed truth it is that wherever these lines are read—in the home, the church, in a hospital, in a jail, in an airplane, in the depths of a mine, in darkness or in light, in the great city, or by one living alone in the wilderness—God, the infinite, all-knowing, eternal, loving God, is there. He is right at your side, reader. Turn to Him, count on Him, love Him, serve Him.

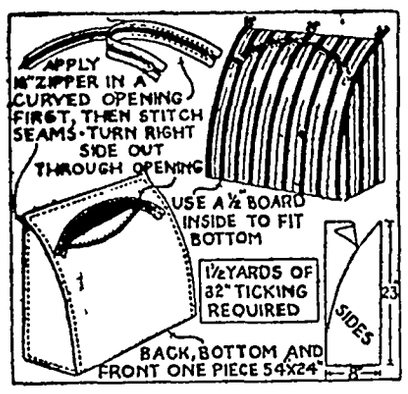
III. God Searches Man's Heart (vv. 23, 24).

Verse 3 of our psalm teaches that God searches the hearts of all men, but here we find the psalmist wisely inviting God to search his own heart. It is one thing to know a universal truth; it is another matter to make it personal. It is one thing to know that God, against my will, is pointing out to me the sin and rebellion of my heart; it is quite another thing to open my heart voluntarily to His searching scrutiny.

Why did the Psalmist ask God to search him? That in trying his thoughts any wickedness might be revealed and put away. That is the important point. It is not enough to know that sin is there. We must ask God to give us grace to put it out, that He may then lead us in the "way everlasting."

The Word of God points the way of righteousness in both heart and life. Who will decide this day to walk in that way—in fellowship with the all-knowing, ever-present Lord?

HOW TO SEW
by Ruth Wyeth Spears



APPLY 14" ZIPPER IN A CURVED OPENING FIRST, THEN STITCH SEAMS. TURN RIGHT SIDE OUT THROUGH OPENING
USE A ½ BOARD INSIDE TO FIT BOTTOM
1½ YARDS OF 32" TICKING REQUIRED SIDES
23
BACK, BOTTOM AND FRONT ONE PIECE 54X24"

BEHOLD this modern version of an old-time laundry bag. It is made of sturdy ticking in crisp red and white stripes. It hangs flat against the wall with ivory rings over brass hooks It closes neatly with a zipper and may be opened with one hand. The zipper is applied in a curve to make an ample opening, and the bag is held in shape with a board in the bottom. Surely you will want one of these and will want to make one or more for gifts. Christmas is not so far away, and here is something for a man, woman or child.

Everything you need to know to make this bag is given in the sketch. These directions are not in any of the booklets, so be sure to clip them. There is also an interesting laundry and shoe door pocket in Book 4. An easy-to-make garment bag illustrated in Book 1, and twin pockets for a pantry door in Book 3, solve the problem of what to do with clean and soiled tea towels. All these closet accessories make grand gift and bazaar items.

NOTE These homemaking booklets are a service to our readers and No. 5 just published contains a description of the other numbers, as well as 32 pages of clever ideas fully illustrated They are 10 cents each to cover cost and mailing. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York
Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.
Name .....
Address .....

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A Quiz With Answers Offering Information on Various Subjects

The Questions

1. Why is Colorado called the Centennial state?
2. To what type of road did a Scotch engineer give his name?
3. What two great Oriental cities were founded by the British?
4. What is the most widely used word in the world?
5. What is the line that follows "Lives of all great men remind us"?
6. What is the name given to the present royal house of Italy?
7. Which of the United States has the greatest water area, California, Minnesota, or Michigan?
8. What part of the human body is divided into the right and left auricles and the right and left ventricles?
9. What was the real name of "Bonny Prince Charlie"?
10. Does a horse sleep standing up?

The Answers

1. It was admitted into the Union in 1876, the Centennial year.
2. Macadam.
3. Hongkong and Singapore.
4. "Amen" is believed to be the most widely used word, being employed by 1,000,000,000 Christians, Jews and Mohammedans.
5. "We can make our lives sublime."
6. Savoy.
7. Minnesota.
8. The heart.
9. Charles Edward Louis Philip Casimir Stuart (1720-1788). He was also known as the "Young Pretender."
10. A horse sleeps comfortably while standing since there is a peculiar arrangement of the joints by which they lock, and relaxation is possible during sleep.

SOOTHES SUNBURN
MOROLINE
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER at 5¢

Man's Achievements

Five thousand years have added no improvement to the hive of the bee, nor to the house of the beaver; but look at the habitations and the achievements of men.—Colton.

IN A CIGARETTE AS MILD AS A CAMEL, IT'S GRAND TO GET EXTRA SMOKING. SLOWER BURNING TO ME MEANS MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF AND MORE PUFFS PER PACK
NANCY LOVE, noted aviatrix
EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR
In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to
5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!
CAMEL
GET THE "EXTRAS" WITH SLOWER-BURNING
CAMELS
THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

MERCHANTS

Your Advertising Dollar

buys something more than space and circulation in the columns of this newspaper. It buys space and circulation plus the favorable consideration of our readers for this newspaper and its advertising patrons.

LET US TELL YOU MORE ABOUT IT

Consumer demand for most farm food products is expected to be high for the remainder of the year, and prices are expected to be accordingly high.

Wood troughs are not recommended for feeding milk to chickens because they are hard to keep clean.

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone

Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS

Garner Iowa

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
•
RUSSELL
• PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penney MASON CITY

WEAR
Welch's
STANDARD OVERALLS
EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED
Ask Your Dealer

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Henry Smid and family, of Hampton, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with relatives.

Mrs. John Lemke is a patient at a Des Moines hospital where she is receiving treatment.

Frank Ward entered the Veterans' hospital at Des Moines last week for treatment.

Mrs. Herbert Bailey was at a Mason City hospital last Thursday for an examination.

Mrs. C. A. Arnold was at Fort Dodge last Wednesday afternoon on business.

Ccach "Bodge" Bowles spent the week end in Indianola visiting with his parents.

Mrs. P. M. Wilson visited at the Robert Risser home in Des Moines Monday

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka were entertained to dinner last Wednesday evening at the Wm. Ax home in the country.

Edmund Josten went to Hampton Tuesday to attend a meeting of Pioneer Hybrid corn dealers of this territory.

Miss Gladys Zabilka and one of her teacher friends of Luther, Iowa, spent the week end visiting at the Rev. Wm. Zabilka home.

Little Tally Epps is spending the week visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul.

Mrs. Herman Paul went to Des Moines last Thursday evening and visited with her daughters, Miss Vella and Mrs. Epps until Friday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman and Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje were in Des Moines Monday where the men attended the state bankers' convention.

Quentin Stille left last week on a fishing trip up north. Emil Patet is taking care of Stille's cream route. We expect to hear some tall stories when Quentin gets back.

Mrs. E. J. Schneider accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schneider went to Illinois last Thursday for a visit with Mrs. E. J Schneider's mother.

Dorance Grange, Marian Waterman and Marie Schmidt, who are students at Mason City Junior College and Hamilton's this year, spent the week end visiting with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson and son, Ray, Jr., drove to Indianola Sunday where Ray, Jr. is enrolled this year in Simpson College where he will continue his course in engineering.

Pres. Rodeman, of Morningside College, and Mrs. Rodeman, and Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Galbreth, of Mason City, were dinner guests Sunday at the W. Henry Galbreth home.

Virgil Pringnitz, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pringnitz, came home from the hospital Monday, where he had been to have his leg set. He expects to enter school next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Barz and Mrs. Lena Schroeder took Mrs. Cleo Ingle and sons back to their home at Sheboygan, Wisconsin, Sunday morning. The Klemme party returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Habbinga and two children of George, Iowa, visited at the Paul Grange home Monday and Tuesday. They were taking their son, Marvin, to college at Waverly.

Arch Wilson, of New York City, and Art Larsen, of Salsberg, Iowa, former army buddies of George Lau, called on him last Wednesday evening. Mr. Wilson was Y. M. C. A. man for 319th M. G. Bn.

The Klemme Times joins with many other friends in extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. August Baack, who celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversaries, Sunday, Sept. 8th.

"No sense or nonsense causes most Accidents." Hancock County Safety Council.

Mrs. Lewis Striebe, of Everett, Washington, visited several days the past week at the Henry Lewis home. Mrs. Striebe has been visiting with her parents at Forest City and with other relatives. The Striebe family were residents of Klemme several years ago.

Mrs. Ernest Gerardi and daughter, Gracka Marie, and Miss Marie Blank, left early Sunday morning for Two Harbors, Minnesota for a visit until this Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt, who are vacationing there in their cottage on the north shore of Superior.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Skow and Fred Skow, of Watertown, South Dakota, were supper guests at the J. N. Day home last Thursday, and were callers there again on Saturday They came to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Jake Gram at Cedar Falls. Mrs. Gram was the mother of Chris and Harry Gram, former residents of Klemme

Mrs. Russ Gray and son, Tom, of Rockford, Illinois, spent several days and the week end visiting at the Dr. A. H. Dumes home. Monday they left for Grundy Center and were accompanied by Mrs. Dulmes and son, Dick. Mrs. Gray is a sister of Mrs. Dulmes. Tom is a medical student in the Northwestern University at Chicago and will complete his studies next March, when he will go into his interneship.

AVERY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klover and son, Lester, and Mr. and Mrs. Arent Arends, of Kamrar, were visitors at the Mrs. August Trampel home, Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Roths spent Friday at the Fred Bachman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roths and Dean, Dale and Marlene, were entertained as dinner guests at the Rank Buss home in Hampton, Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Marshall and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Helps and family, were visitors at the Herbert Marshall home, Sunday.

Mrs. Carl Pearson and son, Carl, returned home Monday evening from Albia, where they had been caring for her mother, Mrs. Joseph Bates during the past week.

The U. B. Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs Jay Griggs, Friday afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waddingham and daughters, Janice and Donna, spent Tuesday at the Will Waddingham home.

Jule Cook assisted with cutting of beans at the Leon Sherwood farm Saturday.

Miss Anna Land, Mrs. Otto Kramer and Donna, Mrs. Alvin Land, and Mr. and John Land, of Sullivan Mo., returned to their home Tuesday morning after visiting at the Paul Kramer home since Friday.

"PRIDE AND PREJUDICE"

A Jane Austen story which tells of the "Bennet" family with its five daughters, their misguided, but well-meaning mother and their endearing and understanding father. The five daughters are played by Greer Garson, Maureen O'Sullivan, Ann Rutherford, Heather Angel and Marsha Hunt; their mother by Mary Boland, and the father by Edmund Gwenn, whose sensitive and understanding performance adds immeasurably to the film. "Mrs. Bennet" and the other matrons of the neighborhood spend much of their waking, and probably sleeping, moments, in thinking of devices to get their daughters married to eligible young men, and "Mrs. Bennet" has five.

When the children tramp in from play with muddy feet, don't think only of the living room rug. Mud also stains leather and should be removed from shoes as promptly as possible.

Wheat cannot become ... by Hessian flies if it is ... after recommended fly-free ...

"Stop Accidents before ... stop you." Hancock County ... Council.

W. D. DAL...
ATTORNEY-AT-LA...
First Door South of Post...
Phone 140—GARNE...

Arthur Welleme...
FUNERAL DIRECTO...
—with long experience ... best equipment.
•
PROMPT AMBULANC... SERVICE
•
Phone 23-R2 Day or ...
Klemme, Iowa

Referee's Sale

Public Auction

TUESDAY, SEPT. 24, 1940

THE UNDERSIGNED REFEREE WILL OFFER FO... SALE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, THE FOLLOWIN... DESCRIBED REAL ESTATE:

Lots Numbered 1 and 2 in Block Number 11 of Klemme's First Addition to the town of Klemme, Iowa, as shown by the recorded Plat thereof; and the West 100 feet of the North Half of Out Lot 3 in Klemme's First Addition to the Town of Klemme, Iowa; and commencing at the Northwest corner of Out Lot 3 of Klemme's First Addition to the town of Klemme, Iowa, running thence East 100 feet along the North line of said Out Lot 3 for a point of beginning, thence East along the North line of said Out Lot 3 300 feet for a second corner, thence South to alley line for third corner, thence West along said alley line 300 feet for fourth corner, thence North to place of beginning.

And the South Half of the Northeast Quarter and the North Half of the Southeast Quarter and the East Half of the Southwest Quarter of Section Number 12, in Township Number 94 North, Range Number 24 West of the 5th P. M. and the South Half of the Northwest Quarter of Section Number 7, Township Number 94 North, Range Number 23 West of the 5th P. M. all in Hancock County, Iowa, known as the Berend Swalve land and located on Highway No. 69, between Klemme and Goodell, Iowa.

TERMS OF SALE: 10% of the purchase price upon day of sa... and the balance March 1, 1941, at which time Referee's Deed ... said real estate will be given and Abstract showing merchantab... title. The Referee reserves the right to reject any bids. Sale wi... be subject to approval of the District Court of Hancock County, Iowa. Sales of tracts above described will be held at 2 o'clock i... the afternoon of the 24th day of September, 1940, on said respe... tive premises.

F. E. Blackstone
REFEREE Garner, Iow...

FIRST LOOK AT Westinghouse Electric Range WORK-SAVER FEATURES

NEW — 5-SPEED COROX UNIT
Heats 30% faster . . . uses 22% less current than famous Corox Units of other years! Easier to keep clean.

NEW — TRUE-TEMP OVEN
Balanced Heat for perfect results—one control sets temperature, turns on current at same time.

NEW — 5-SPEED ECONOMY COOKER
Makes inexpensive foods taste better. Cooks complete meal for 5 for about 1c.

COME IN! . . .
See this big value in a brand-new Westinghouse Electric Range with dozens of features you've always wanted. You can pay for it on easy terms —only

5c A DAY! • (SMALL DOWN PAYMENT)
The Commander

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY
RN-4234-224

CHECK FOR VALUE . . . CHOOSE A WESTINGHOUSE!

Listen To The Birdies Sing!

TWEET! TWEET! and SQUEAK, SQUEAK, CLANG, BANG!

When your car sounds like you have a cagefull of canaries . . . that's a sure sign you need a grease job right now! The tweets and squeaks are a warning of parts rubbing one on the other and that the cushion of lubricant is gone!
Before your car sounds like a flock of canaries, bring it in for a complete lubrication. We use only the very best lubricants and the special kind adapted for your car. A car that is kept well greased pays you dividends as it saves having parts replaced.

HOW ARE YOUR BRAKES?

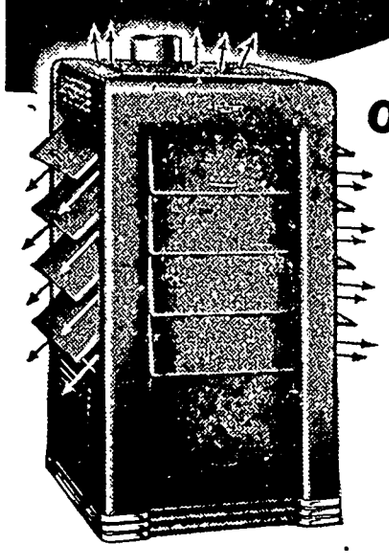
When you get a grease job . . . why not have our mechanics adjust your brakes? Good brakes is one of the best accident preventatives you can have. Keep your brakes adjusted and working properly at all times!

FALL Is Just Ahead . . .
How's Your Battery?

- PHONE 93 -

Klemme Auto Company
Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service Klemme, Iowa

Enjoy Heat that Concentrates on the "Living Zone" with a SUPERFEX Oil burning HEAT-DIRECTOR



• Come in and let us show you the finest oil heater that's made—the Superfex Oil Burning Heat-Director, made by Perfection Stove Company. Gives BOTH radiating and circulating heat, and has adjustable shutters to direct heat downward to warm the floor, assuring "living zone" comfort. Burns low-cost fuel oil. Porcelain enamel finish, beautiful and durable. Several sizes. Easy terms.

The Mark of Quality

E. F. JACOBS, HDW.
"The Farm Service Store" Klemme, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

e 45 KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 18, 1940. NUMBER 16.

me's New Community Building Ready For Dedication And Opening Next Thursday

ation Program Will Be Held In noon; Big Dance At Night

inent Speakers Be Here For cation Day

NEARS COMPLETION DATE IS SET FOR PEN HOUSE

per's Eleven Piece Or-ra Will Play For Evening Dance

ity life in Klemme and will take on a new as- week following the com- d dedication of the new on Thursday, Septem-

the enterprise and in- Klemme residents and m people and particular- embers of the Adam ost of the American Le- own will soon have the benefits of a modern building ted by the WPA work- e wages were paid from nds allocated to the pro- uilding is regarded as finest community struc- ny town the size of regulations require that supported agency serve nsor of any construction the town of Klemme ominal sponsor of the Legion post were the ers in the campaign ulted in the erection of ng.

s totalling approximate- were obtained through bscriptions from inte- sons in and near Klem- ld school building, aban- n the completion of a ol, was purchased for an idea of using the sal- ernal in the proposed building. A site for the nly one block from the

ee And Doughnuts

fternoon program is d to begin at 2:00 after which the Auxil- dies will serve free ee and doughnuts to ors.

istrict, was bought by for only $100 and was deeded over to the town. g approval of the pro- sal in Washington, D. C., WPA workmen was as the project on February nd demolition of the old lding was begun. Much aterial in the school as e heating equipment was nd now forms an inte- of the new building.

few finishing touches fore the new building is completed and a crew A workmen is expected te the job easily before tory program on Sep- th.

ogram Is Planned

or the program are still ative stage but it is at several high WPA of- d American Legion of- ll attend. The program held during the afternoon day's festivities will con- h a public dance in the the WPA officials who will be Ray Murray of Center, former Iowa sec- agriculture, who is now A adminstrative assistant quarters in Des Moines; nour of Des Moines, director of the WPA division of operations; and Roland R. Pyne of St. Paul, Minn., regional WPA engineer.

Paul Grange Mayor of Klemme, has tendered an invitation to L. G. Shaw of Sigourney, newly elected commander of the Iowa Legion, but his acceptance has not yet been received.

Has Many Fine Features

Visitors to Klemme next Thursday will see a community building which town officials expect will become a beehive of activity for many groups and organizations. Among the groups which will use the hall are the town council, the American Legion and Auxiliary, the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts. Several farm organizations have already made inquiries about the facilities which will be available.

The main part of the building is approximately 50 by 80 feet in size, in addition to the large lobby or entry way. Coming into the building from the street one goes up a stairway into the lobby in front. On the right hand side is a large check room and telephone booth. To the left is another room of ample size which was planned as a meeting place for the Town Council. From this room a stairway leads up into a spacious room above the lobby. This will probably be used as a meeting place for the Legion and Auxiliary, and also for meetings of small groups

From the lobby one enters the large auditorium finished in modernistic planking and beautiful electrical lighting. At the west end of the auditorium is a large stage. The entire auditorium is beautifully finished in every way with the very latest in modern equipment.

The large basement can be reached from three outside entrances or from the lobby above. The basement is most complete and contains a large kitchen, a large recreation and dining room, furnace room and showers, men's and ladies' toilets, and a ladies' powder room.

Recreation Center Here

The large basement will probably prove to be the popular meeting place as it is designed primarily for games and sports and will be the real recreation center of the building Plans for the future will include a bowling alley, rifle range, and other forms of sport and amusement.

Heat for the building is provided from the boiler and radiators which were salvaged from the old school. Eight radiators are spaced throughout the auditorium and stage, a similar number are located in the basement and single radiators have been placed in the council chambers and the meeting room.

In figuring the amount of contributions made by the town of Klemme during the operation of the project, the federal government valued the heating system at $585. Lumber salvaged from the old school was valued at $875 and the millwork, which includes the doors and windows(was appraised at $450. Other material and equipment costs borne by the town served to bring the total sponsor's contributions up to approximately $5,664.

The federal goverment, charged with the responsibility of employing workmen from the Hancock county relief rolls, will have expended approximately $11,000 for labor costs by the time the project is completed next week The WPA workmen received salaries ranging from $39.60 to $62.40 for 120 hours of employment each month. The salary range results from the wage classification system, based on the work experience of each man on the job There was approximately 25,000 man-hours of labor which went into this building.

In addition to the $11,000 spent by the federal government to pay the workmen on the project, the WPA contributed materials estimated at $1 730, thereby bringing the total government expenditures up to $12.730

R. E. McKee as the WPA-paid foreman on the project with H. R. Sexauer, WPA area engineer at Hampton, as his immediate superior. Dr D P Anderson of Klemme is commander of the Legion post whose members spent freely of their time and energy in planning and promoting the project.

FROST!

A light grost was noticeable in low places in this vicinity last Thursday morning, September 12 No damage has been reported thus far.

G. S. CLUB MET

The G. S C'ub met at the home of Miss Avis Barz Monday evening and bridge was played. Miss Bernice Tanner won high prize and Elaine Buntenbach won second high Miss Wilma Swalve was assistant hostess. Lunch was served at the close of playing.

Mrs. W. L. Thada Enjoying Trip In East and South

Mrs. W. L. Thada left last Wednesday morning for a visit with relatives at Cambridge, Ohio. She accompanied her nephew, Carl Bailey, of New York, who was driving back to his home. From Cambridge, Mrs. Thada will accompany relatives on a tour thru Tennesee and Kentucky before returning to Klemme via railroad. Mrs. Thada expects to be gone for about ten days or two weeks.

Large Crowd Attended Hybrid Corn Show

PIONEER DEALERS ENTERTAINED A LARGE CROWD AT FREE MOVIES

Crowd Of Five Hundred People Entertained by Ed Josten and L. Kallestad

About five hundred people attended the free moving picture and vaudeville show staged at the Klemme high school auditorium Monday evening. The entertainment was sponsored by Edmund K. Josten of Klemme, and Leonard Kallestad of Belmond, dealers for Pioneer hybrid corn in this territory.

Ernest Gerardi took charge as master of ceremonies and kept the program rolling at a lively rate. Vaudeville acts consisted of accordion selections by Gerardi, several numbers by the Three J's, harmony trio of Mason City; and novelty tap and dance numbers by Donna Robertson of Goodell. The balance of the program included three comedy movies and the story of Pioneer hybrid corn shown in Technicolor.

Mr. Josten and Mr. Kallestad are to be congratulated for bringing this fine entertainment to Klemme.

SHOWER HELD FOR BRIDE

Mrs W. F. Pavey was hostess to a miscellaneous shower held at the Methodist Church parlors last Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Wayne Pavey, a recent bride.

Games and stunts planned by Mrs. Galbreth were enjoyed and a nice two-course lunch was served. The bride received a number of nice gifts.

BOTTLING COMPANY SUED FOR $1.000 IN HANCOCK COUNTY COURT

A $1,000 damage suit against the Mason City Coca-Cola Bottling company was filed in Hancock county district court Friday by attorneys for Mrs. Harm Veer, as guardian and next friend of Pete Smidt, a minor.

The plaintiff charges that a bottle of soft drink manufactured by the Mason City company and sold on the afternoon of June 30 was unfit for drinking.

The case was filed on the last filing day for the September term of Hancock county district court which will open Sept. 23 with Judge M. H. Kepler of Northwood on the bench

HANCOCK COUNTY REA GETS $60,000 FOR LINES

Hein Receives Wire From Administration Telling of Allotment

V. L. Hein, project superintendent of the Hancock county Rural Electric co-operative, said Friday he received a telegram from the electrification administration at Washington, D. C., announcing that the co-operative will receive another allotment of $60,000 for 105 miles of line in Hancock, Kossuth and Winnebago counties.

FAMILY RE-UNION HELD SUNDAY AT THE IRA OVERHOLT HOME

A family gathering was held Sunday at the Ira Overholt home in honor of Mrs. Overholt's birthday. A large number of relatives were present and a fine dinner was served.

Out of town relatives who were present included Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Carr and children, Connie, Roddrick and Rodger of Hardy, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lough of Dawson, Minnesota; Mr and Mrs. E. E. Harkness of Palmerton, Pennsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Overholt of Palmerton, Pennsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Overholt, Mary Jo, Abbie and Martin of Keosauqua, Iowa; S. G. Overholt and sons, Owen and Roderick of Indianola; Mrs. John Lamont of Iowa City; John Lamont and Miss Ethel Overholt of Klemme.

New Church Society Now Organized

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The newly organized Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Klemme Methodist Church has elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Herman Paul; Vice President, Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Lester Stille; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Cecil Bridges; Treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Kilgore

The following were elected secretaries of the several new divisions:

Missions, Mrs. E. J. Arnold; Local Church Activities, Mrs. E. H. Patet; Student Work, Mrs. Clarence Lemke; Young Women's Work, Mrs. Earl Schaeffer; Children's Department, Mrs. C. A. Arnold; Literature and Publications, Mrs. C. A. Larsen; and Supplies, Mrs. Martha Bredbenner.

MINTON CLINE, 79, SUCCUMBS AT BELMOND HOSPITAL

Goodell Resident for 20 Years Was Ill Several Months

GOODELL—Minton Cline, 79, retired farmer here, died in the Belmond hospital Friday after an illness of several months. Mr. Cline had lived in Goodell the past 20 years.

He is survived by his widow and three sons, Roy and Lloyd, twins of Goodell and Bill of Ogilvie, Minn.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 12:30 at the United Brethren church of Goodell in charge of the Rev. Lloyd Patton. The body will be taken to Alden, Mr. Cline's former home.

Officers Are Named To Pilot Hancock County Agricultural Conservation Program For Next Year

LOCAL HYBRID CORN DEALER RETURED FROM 500 MILE TRIP

Attended Corn Dealers' Convention at Lake Okoboji

Mr. G. A. Lau has just returned from a 500-mile trip to Lake Okoboji, Iowa, where he attended the annual DeKalb hybrid corn convention on Sept. 5th and 6th. Information gained about the prospective corn crop by talking to some of the two thousand dealers from the various states who attended the convention indicate that the 1940 corn crop will be considerably smaller than that of 1939. Iowa, the banner corn state, will probably again lead all others in total production, even though its yields will be considerably under last year. Illinois prospects deteriorated considerably during August, particularly in the central part of the state. Some Illinois dealers from those areas reported that yields would be fully 50 per cent under last year. There were a few reports of almost complete failure Representatives from Indiana and Ohio were gloomy about their prospective yields. The men from Michigan, Missouri, Minnesota and Kansas expect yields to be below those of 1939. The only bright spots in the corn belt appeared to be Wisconsin and Nebraska. However, men from these areas expressed some concern about the maturity of the crop they have in prospect because of the cold rainy weather of the past few weeks.

Mr. Lau stated that he had an exceptionally interesting time at the convention. One of the major features there was a huge educational exhibit devoted exclusively to hybrid corn. This exhibit showed the latest development and experimental work being done by the association. Another interesting part of the program was the dedication ceremony of the association's eleventh processing plant at Jackson, Minnesota. This plant is said to be the most modern and efficient plant in the country. Main speakers on the program were C. L. Gunn and R. R. St. John, two of the nation's prominent corn breeders.

Mr. Lau is now taking orders for corn for 1941 planting. The seed supply is not as large as last year, and advises customers to mail or phone their orders if he does not call on them in the near future.

The Kossuth County Conservation League made use of "parachute troops" recently. However, their motive was peaceful — they were advertising their annual field day.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED HANCOCK COUNTY CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

Three Incumbents Named to Hancock County Committee

New officers of the Hancock county agricultural conservation committee announced Friday following township and county elections include all three incumbents: J. M. Townsend of Britt, chairman; Alfred Josten of Garner, vice chairman, and A. E. Rasmussen, also of Garner, third member.

Township officers chosen at a series of 16 elections and announced Friday by Mr. Townsend are as follows:

Avery—T. C. Nelson, delegate and chairman; Floyd A. Franklin, alternate and regular member; O. C. Evenson, vice chairman; E. J. Arnold, first alternate, and Henry Ludeke, second alternate Concord—Herman J. Puggel, delegate and vice chairman; C. D. Daniels, alternate and chairman; Chester Moe, regular member; E. W. Bradwell and Theodore Boehnke, alternates.

Ell—Henry A. Barz, chairman; Harry R. Gibbs, alternate and regular member; C. J. Wille, chairman; John E. Humphrey, vice chairman, and Roy E. Swanson, first alternate.

Liberty—Ben H. Katter, delegate and first alternate; W. L. Haberkamp, alternate delegate, and vice chairman; Lester Stille, chairman; A. G. Lau, regular member, and Ben H. Goll, second alternate.

Twin Lake—Sam A. Barber, delegate and chairman; Earl Ruka, alternate and vice chairman; Ole G. Eliason, regular member A. G. Ruka and William Pals, alternates.

HOME PROJECT WOMEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS

GOODELL—New officers for the year were chosen at an organization tea for rural home project club women of Avery and Twin Lake townships held at the home of Mrs. V. A. Cook.

Mrs. Cook was named chairman; Mrs. M. J. Kearney, publicity chairman; Mrs. Floyd Franklin, music chairman; Mrs. Herbert Marshall, health chairman, and Miss Gertie Trampel, 4-H club leader.

Home furnishings, including interior decorations, will be studied during the 1940-41 club year.

THE SWORD OF DAMOCLES

Housewives Aid National Defense Plans By Buying Synthetic Products for Home

By VINCENT CONVERSE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

NEW YORK.—The housewives of America, through their ready acceptance over the past decade of household articles made of synthetics and plastics, have made possible the building of a $400,000,000 "ersatz" industry which is now in a position to make priceless contributions to the national defense program.

This industry, though only a fledgling enterprise in 1929, today has plants and equipment capable of filling thousands of military needs. The development is seen by Dr. Howard E. Fritz, director of the rapidly-growing synthetics division of the nation's oldest major rubber company, as the direct result of the continued interest manifested in synthetic and plastic products of all kinds by American women from the day 10 years ago when many of the laboratory-created products made their first appearance.

From ladies' hosiery to a substitute for silk in army parachutes is the national defense step taken by duPont's nylon, a compound of coal and air.

New Language Developed.

The "language of synthetics" is rapidly becoming the "language of security" as well, it is brought out in a survey compiled by Dr. Fritz which lists the military uses to which many of the test-tube developments of the past few years are now being applied.

The ABCs of this new language are made up of such terms as ameripol, bakelite, cellophane, catalin, koroseal, lucite, nylon, tenite, and vinylite and a host of others which are well known to the ladies of the nation, he points out.

"Since 1929 housewives have been translating these bizarre words into practical everyday housewares—things like shower curtains, garment bags, tablecloths, draperies, tooth brushes, tumblers and thousands of other products," Dr. Fritz declares. "Now the fact that most of these widely accepted articles can be created through the magic of industrial research literally out of thin air, from scrap wood, salt and other common materials is of profound military importance. And without the acceptance of these products by the ladies, there would be no industry to supply new strategic needs."

Plastics Used in Planes.

Day by day the news bulletins reveal new cases where materials which first saw daylight in industrial laboratories are applied to the business of national defense, the survey states. Four aircraft companies are developing methods for molding entire plane bodies out of plastics in a single high-speed process expected, in the opinion of experts, to triple and quadruple plane body production.

A material compounded from coke, limestone and salt and called koroseal, which made its home debut as a coating for shower curtains because of its resistance to water, acids and deterioration, now has been found to have high military significance. In tests against mustard gas penetration and hydrogen gas diffusion, koroseal-treated fabrics were found to be superior to the best rubber-treated fabrics. This enables the onetime shower curtain to be used as protective wearing apparel as well as for covering for both lighter and heavier than air craft, it is emphasized.

Synthetic Parachutes.

Latest reports disclose that the filmy feminine stocking is beginning to figure in the military picture. The new synthetic yarn developed from coal and air by duPont and placed on the market recently in the form of nylon silk stockings has passed preliminary tests as substitute for silk in army parachutes. Further tests are now being undergone at Wright field.

"While a tooth brush seemingly has small military value beyond its hygienic function, two materials developed for it may now speed the preparedness drive," Dr. Fritz said. "When the Japanese invaded China in 1937, supplies of super-fine Chinese swine bristles were cut off, but industrial chemists quickly produced American-made synthetic bristles. These are now being used for many military purposes, while the cellulose acetate first used for toothbrush handles is being molded into gun

What used to be backgammon sets, tea kettle knobs and shower curtains now go into gas masks, as synthetics and plastics first used in the home help speed up the national defense program.

stocks in an efficient and rapid operation."

Inflammable Plastics.

From the coffee table to the aviation hangar is the transition experienced by a wide variety of laminated plastics and cast resins which have high non-inflammable qualities and are now being applied throughout aircraft construction. Furthermore, the chemical cousin of the backgammon set or breakfast tabletop may some day aid in repelling foes of the nation, for shaped cellulose sheets first used for these purposes are now being used to convey ammunition to guns in planes.

Similarly, tea kettle knobs and candid camera developing tanks made from phenolic resins are metamorphosed into noses for anti-aircraft shells and mouthpieces and containers for gas masks. And the hair brush that sometimes served to impress the importance of discipline on the juveniles of the house now becomes a deadlier weapon of chastisement as part of the highly accurate sights used on bombers.

Man-Made Rubber.

Perhaps the most dramatic transformation prescribed by the synthetics expert has been wrought by the koroseal shower curtain and its recently born chemical cousin, ameripol, which signifies a "polymer" or recombination of American materials.

One of the most cherished goals of the synthetic experts has been the ultimate production of man-made rubber. Now, due to the impetus given research into synthetic rubber by sales of koroseal to housewives and industry, Dr. Fritz' own organization, the Goodrich company, is manufacturing and selling the nation's first automobile tires made wholly from American materials. In these historic tires, ameripol is utilized in proportions varying from 50 to 100 per cent, marking, as is pointed out, a significant step toward complete freedom of the nation's most vital form of transportation from dependence upon continued imports of foreign-grown rubber through war-troubled seas.

Housewives Helped.

The development of this highly strategic material owes much, Dr. Fritz points out, to the interest displayed in its forerunner, koroseal, by American housewives. "Koroseal first saw the light of day," Dr. Fritz reveals, "from the Akron laboratory windowsill of young Dr. Waldo L Semon, now one of the most noted American research chemists. There it solidified for the first time in a beaker containing a heated mixture of ordinary coke, limestone and salt. For his private use the youthful chemist made a golf ball from the new substance, but it soon was being applied as a lining for the tanks of acid in which stainless steel is pickled, because it was found to be one of the most chemically inert of all substances. The metamorphosis from this point became startling, the leap from shower curtains to protective military appliances being made almost overnight

"The acceptance by housewives of this first material enabled the hunt for a material capable of replacing natural rubber for all its uses to go on. Synthetic rubber tires were the result, and they point toward the removal of one of the last big question marks on the blue prints being prepared in Washington and wherever industry is girding for the most concerted defense action this nation has ever taken," Dr. Fritz declares.

Made From Petroleum.

Ameripol is derived from petroleum, of which the United States has vast supplies By the modern

By continuing research which first produced koroseal-treated shower curtains for the home, Dr. W. L. Semon, noted chemist, evolved ameripol, combination of oil, gas and soap, now being used in the nation's first automobile tires made from American materials.

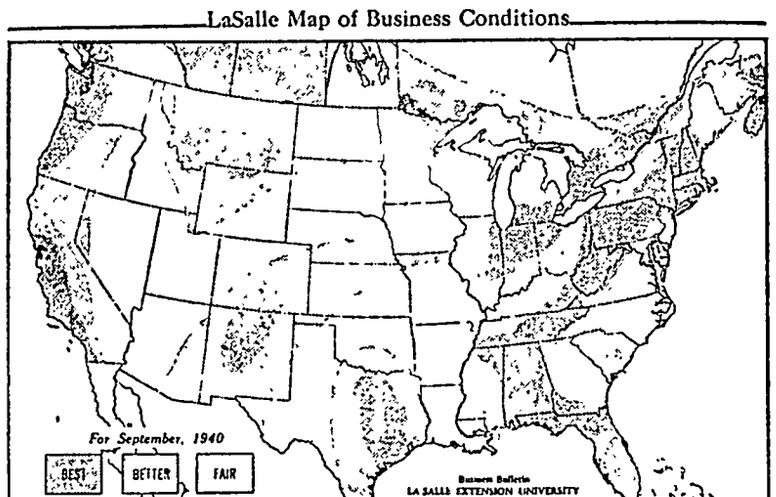
"cracking" process, a liquefied gas called butadiene is obtained which is combined with other ingredients by an exclusive process to form an emulsion of synthetic latex very similar to that produced by Nature herself. Standard Oil company is also building a plant in Louisiana to make synthetic rubber from oil.

This significant utilization of bountiful domestic materials to produce urgently needed products is continuing to expand, the survey brings out, due to the well-equipped synthetic manufacturing plants which have sprung up over the country since 1929 and the continuous expansion of research and production facilities made possible by revenues derived from sale of synthetic products to American home-makers.

Latest developments which further accentuate the importance of the synthetics and plastics industry to national defense include the synthetic production of camphor. For years the nation has largely depended on the Orient for its supplies of this medicinally and industrially valuable product But continued American research and production has now brought down the price of synthetically produced camphor that it is supplanting the imported commodity throughout domestic industry The same result is expected as synthetic rubber production is stepped up.

Business Holds Steady Near Peak

LaSalle Map of Business Conditions



The above map accompanying the September bulletin of U. S. business conditions issued by LaSalle Extension university, shows the relative trade conditions throughout the country. Volume of trade this fall promises to be close to highest on record after a summer which failed to show the usual season decline.

By L. G. ELLIOTT
President, LaSalle Extension University

Business activity has continued to expand and the rate of industrial production is moving steadily toward a new peak. If present trends continue—and they appear likely to do so—the volume of trade and industry this fall promises to be close to the highest on record.

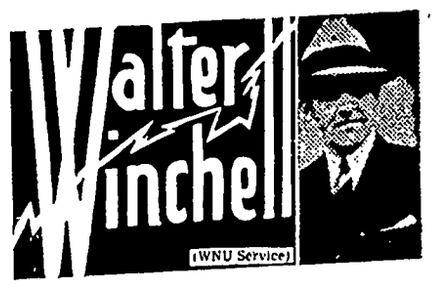
A most encouraging development of the last few months has been the upturn in employment and pay rolls.

Farm income this year will be the highest in several years and is estimated to reach close to $9,000,000,000.

Larger pay rolls in industry and higher farm income have been reflected in larger retail sales.

The steady growth of a great new industry—that of armaments, is becoming an increasingly important factor in the business situation

That the present trend is likely to continue is evident by the fact that new orders received by manufacturers have increased as rapidly as has production.



Man About Town

H. Hopkins, F. D. R.'s favorite friend, and Betsy Cushing Roosevelt (James' ex-wife) are expected to announce it after Election day . . . The duchess of the Bahamas sent a letter postmarked Bermuda to a Washington chum, topping her stationery thus: "St. Helena, Aug. 15th"

Who is that lovely lady Mr. Justice Frank Murphy is frequently seen Supreme courting along Park avenue? . . . Sterling Hayden, her new leading lad, is making Madeleine Carroll forget her French flier.

The nation's most radical congressman is in a federal tax jam. Two warrants are out—for distraint

Mrs. Betsy Cushing Roosevelt may have an interesting announcement in November.

(seizure of assets) . . . Uncle Sam is readying another indictment for tax tricks against a movie epic-builder.

Book-of-Month

Bessie Love, silent film star, is doubling between being an air-raid warden in London and evacuating tots . Helen Deutsch, Girl Friday to the N. Y. Drama Critics' Circle, will middle-aisle it next month with a medical man.

Sinclair Lewis is quitting the stage to teach novel-writing at the U. of Iowa. Later he will holiday indefinitely in Hawaii.

Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" will be the Nov. Book-of-the-Month selections . . . Dorothy Bigbee, the Diamond Horseshoer, and Mary Dowell, the ditto, have inherited hunks of airplane stock from Wall street "johns."

Dewey

Willkie promises intimates that if elected Dewey will be his attorney-general. That Dewey's "material" on New Dealers is "already in the files."

Al Capone is richer than ever . . . Hope Davis Kenrig, daughter of Richard Harding Davis and Bessie McCoy, is stranded somewhere in France. Her lawyer is Harding Cowan of 2 Rector street.

George Jean Nathan has bequeathed his letters and literature to a college after he goes to heaven

Jinx Falkenburg of the Jolson show is badly hurt in Philly after a fall. Her fall in Hawaii kept her in a hosp for ½ a year.

Pull

The wedding plan of Margie Whittington of the Ziegfeld shows and Bandsman E. Hines has been wastebasketed . . . Hoot Gibson's slugfest at the Atlantic Beach club was with a husband named Cummings . . . Peter Lind Hayes and Rita Lupino, Ida's kid sister, are cupiding.

P. Riedl, German air attache at the embassy in Washington, boasts that the reason he is kept there, despite recent attacks on his various activities, is his pull with the duPont family. Iss dot zo?

Haul

British and American authorities made a terrific haul of Nazi correspondence when the S. S. Exochorda decided to pause at Bermuda on August 9. The Nazis here relied on the N. Y. post office's official publication, called "Foreign Mails," which on August 7 stated that American Export Line ships would sail to Portugal with no stops.

Sherman Fairchild, the airplane instrument magnate, has proposed to Peggy Steele, the model, 10 times to date.

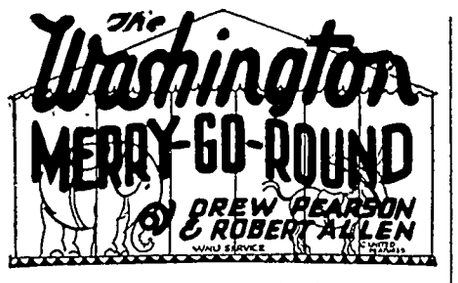
Snub

The U. S. minister to The Hague, George Gordon, and his wife returned on the S. S. Excalibur, which brought over the duke and duchess of Windsor . . . Some time ago a magazine reported that Mrs. Gordon once gave her old clothes to Wally . . . The duke and duchess tendered a reception on the boat. The passengers not invited were the Gordons.

Read

Walter Winchell

Every Week
In This Newspaper



WASHINGTON.—It is interesting to note the manner in which certain congressmen have consistently squelched attempts to investigate the state department's co-operation with the British tin trust and certain U. S. business firms to prevent the United States from acquiring sufficient supplies of tin.

With Japan now able to seize the Dutch East Indies and the Malays, the United States may have her tin supply cut off in a few weeks' time. Yet up until recently, the state department played in with the British tin monopoly, did nothing about the situation.

Now Sol Bloom, energetic chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, has introduced a resolution to investigate the tin situation. But he faces the vigorous opposition of Representatives Cochran of Missouri and Faddis of Pennsylvania, both Democrats.

Interesting fact is that Congressman Faddis comes from Pennsylvania's twenty-fifth district, in which is located the Standard Tin Plate company, which is tied up with Continental Can and long has done business with the British monopoly.

Also Representative Cochran comes from St. Louis, where the National Lead company operates the St. Louis Smelting and Refining company. National Lead owns part of Patino Mines, which is the keystone of the British tin monopoly. Until recently National Lead has lobbied against all efforts to establish tin smelters in the United States, thus making this country independent of the British tin trust.

* * *

JOIN THE ARMY

With the biggest ballyhoo in 25 years, the war department is entreating young men to join the army. By billboards, radio, movies, every conceivable publicity device, even including paper matches, the department is spending $28 a head to get recruits for the fighting forces.

And this will continue, regardless of the new conscription measure. This recruiting is for the regular army, to bring it up to a strength of 375,000. Conscription, on the other hand, aims to get roughly a million men for a one-year training period, to form a trained reserve.

The publicity drive is getting results. It yielded 23,444 in June, a new record for peacetime. The July figure surpassed the June figure, and August, in turn, surpassed July.

The cost of $28 a head for enlistments is low compared with other years. In 1930, the department paid $56 for each recruit; in 1931, the figure was $66. Today recruiting is on a "mass production" basis, also a lot of the publicity is obtained free of cost.

For instance, express trucks, railroads and chain stores are carrying posters free of charge, while 350 trade associations are making a gratis display of preparedness slogans. Radio stations are donating free time for transcribed "join the army" programs, and 15,000 billboards are pasted with recruiting posters at half price.

Most novel device is the mobile recruiting station, a truck and trailer specially designed to carry a recruiting sergeant and staff about the countryside, park in the town square, and sign up youngsters for the army. Twenty-seven mobile "stations" are built or building, two or three for each corps area.

Result is that voluntary enlistments are proceeding at the rate of about 8,000 a week, which should mean that the regular army will fill its quota of 375,000 men before snow flies.

* * *

GETTING TOGETHER

Bushy-browed John L. Lewis and shrill-voiced William Green still are glowering at each other, but the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. members of the Labor Advisory committee, appointed by Defense Commissioner Sidney Hillman are co-operating with real harmony.

Their weekly Friday afternoon meetings with Hillman are like a happy family. The labor chiefs address one another by first names and lean over backward to iron out differences between their organizations. Illustrative of the good feeling is their sly jesting about A. F. of L.-C. I. O. peace.

At last Friday's conference, R. J. Thomas, head of the C. I. O. United Auto Workers, happened to take a seat on the A. F. of L. side of the table. Wisecracked Dan Tracy, energetic A. F. of L. electrical workers' chief, "Aha, pulling a little peace stuff on us, eh!"

All the laborites joined in the laughter.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Friends of Henry Wallace think he may come back into the job as secretary of agriculture between election day, November 5, and inauguration day, January 20. This means Claude Wickard would step down again.

In the senate conscription debate Sen. Alex Wiley, Wisconsin, isolationist, gave this thought: "We don't have to take any ideas from the Nazis. They may have their blitzkrieg, but we have our intuition."

Casual Dress That Flatters the Figure

NOTHING is more in during the summer— ery season for that matt this type of casual frock tailored and classically This version (Design No. is ideal for women's figu cause it has a high-bust row-hipped line. And that tion of line is achieved so s merely by means of lo that narrow the waistli break into soft fullness abo below. Gathers on the sh are the only other detailin rest is just long, straight You can judge, therefor easy this dress is to make

But you can't really te a distinctive, comfortable, ing fashion it is until you on. Then you'll repeat it times, in silk print, rayon and street cottons like lin batiste.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 19 signed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40. Size 34 requires, sleeves, 5⅛ yards of 39-inch with short, 4¾ yards. Send orde

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr.
Enclose 15 cents in coins f
Pattern No..... Size...
Name .....
Address .....

"Black Leaf 40" KILLS LICE
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS.. OR SPREAD ON RO

For the Base
Slander meets no regar noble minds; only the base what the base only utter.

THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's N of Doan's Pi many years wide use, sur be accepted as of satisfactio And favorabl opinion supp of the able p who test the Doan's under laboratory co

These physicians, too, approve eve of advertising you read, the cli which is only to recommend Doa as a good diuretic treatment for of the kidney function and for the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of kidneys must constantly remov that cannot stay in the blood wi jury to health, there would be b derstanding of why the whole bod when kidneys lag, and diuretic tion would be more often employe Burning, scanty or too frequen tion sometimes warn of disturbed function. You may suffer nagg ache, persistent headache, attacks ziness, getting up nights, swellin ness under the eyes—feel weak, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better t a medicine that has won world claim than on something less known. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PIL

WNU—N

CREATING NEW WEA TO ORD

● Advertising creat wealth by showing pe and better ways of li as it creates new wealth tributes to the prosp everyone touched by the flow of which is set up. In this way, d see, advertising is a social force working in the interest of every every day of the year, bringing wealth to use and enjoy.

What Will Be Added to This?

★ ★ ★

BOX SCORE' OF PRESIDENTS OF UNITED STATES

His Name Was:	He Was Born	In the State of	When Inaugurated His Age Was	He Served from	He Served to	Length of Service Yr	Mo.	Day
orge Washington	Feb. 22, 1732	Virginia	57	April 30, 1789	March 4, 1797	7	10	4
n Adams	Oct. 30, 1735	Massachusetts	61	March 4, 1797	March 4, 1801	4	--	-- omas Jefferson	April 13, 1743	Virginia	57	March 4, 1801	March 4, 1809	8	--	-- nes Madison	Mar. 16, 1751	Virginia	57	March 4, 1809	March 4, 1817	8	--	-- nes Monroe	April 28, 1758	Virginia	58	March 4, 1817	March 4, 1825	8	--	-- n Quincy Adams	July 11, 1767	Massachusetts	57	March 4, 1825	March 4, 1829	4	--	-- drew Jackson	Mar. 15, 1767	North Carolina	61	March 4, 1829	March 4, 1837	8	--	-- rtin Van Buren	Dec. 5, 1782	New York	54	March 4, 1837	March 4, 1841	4	--	-- lliam Henry Harrison	Feb. 9, 1773	Virginia	68	March 4, 1841	April 4, 1841	--	1	-- n Tyler	Mar. 29, 1790	Virginia	51	April 4, 1841	March 4, 1845	3	11	-- nes K. Polk	Nov. 2, 1795	North Carolina	49	March 4, 1845	March 4, 1849	4	--	-- chary Taylor	Nov. 24, 1784	Virginia	64	March 4, 1849	July 9, 1850	1	4	5
llard Fillmore	Jan. 7, 1800	New York	50	July 10, 1850	March 4, 1853	2	7	26
anklin Pierce	Nov. 23, 1804	New Hampshire	48	March 4, 1853	March 4, 1857	4	--	-- nes Buchanan	April 23, 1791	Pennsylvania	65	March 4, 1857	March 4, 1861	4	--	-- raham Lincoln	Feb. 12, 1809	Kentucky	52	March 4, 1861	April 15, 1865	4	1	11
drew Johnson	Dec. 29, 1808	North Carolina	56	April 15, 1865	March 4, 1869	3	10	19
ysses S. Grant	April 27, 1822	Ohio	46	March 4, 1869	March 4, 1877	8	--	-- therford B. Hayes	Oct. 4, 1822	Ohio	54	March 4, 1877	March 4, 1881	4	--	-- nes A. Garfield	Nov. 10, 1831	Ohio	49	March 4, 1881	Sept. 19, 1881	--	6	15
ester A. Arthur	Oct. 5, 1830	Vermont	50	Sept. 20, 1881	March 4, 1885	3	5	15 over Cleveland	Mar. 18, 1837	New Jersey	47	March 4, 1885	March 4, 1889	8	--	-- 55	March 4, 1893	March 4, 1897
njamin Harrison	Aug. 20, 1833	Ohio	55	March 4, 1889	March 4, 1893	4	--	-- lliam McKinley	Jan. 29, 1843	Ohio	53	March 4, 1897	Sept. 14, 1901	4	6	10
eodore Roosevelt	Oct. 27, 1858	New York	42	Sept. 14, 1901	March 4, 1909	7	5	18
illiam Taft	Sept. 15, 1857	Ohio	51	March 4, 1909	March 4, 1913	4	--	-- oodrow Wilson	Dec. 28, 1856	Virginia	56	March 4, 1913	March 4, 1921	8	--	-- arren G. Harding	Nov. 2, 1865	Ohio	55	March 4, 1921	Aug. 2, 1923	2	4	29
lvin Coolidge	July 4, 1872	Vermont	51	Aug. 3, 1923	March 4, 1929	5	7	1
erbert C. Hoover	Aug. 10, 1874	Iowa	55	March 4, 1929	March 4, 1933	4	--	-- anklin D. Roosevelt	Jan. 30, 1882	New York	51	March 4, 1933	----------	----------
? ? ?	? ? ?	? ?	?	Jan. 20, 1941	? ? ?	?	?	?

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

VON'T be long now until some volunteer poet will be ding another couplet to that famous bit of doggerel led "The Presidents in Rhyme." Perhaps it has been long time since you recited it in history class or on Friday afternoon when everyone in school was asked to a piece." If you've forgotten how it goes, here's one of it, brought down to date:

nds the lofty Washington,
e, great, immortal one.
r Adams next we see,
erson comes number three.
th is Madison, you know,
on the list, Monroe.
h an Adams comes again,
xson seventh in the train.
en eighth upon the line,
rison counts number nine.
h is Tyler in his turn,
k the eleventh, as we learn.
lfth is Taylor that appears,
eenth Fillmore fills his years.
rce comes fourteenth into view;
n is the fifteenth due.
coln comes two terms to fill,
o errules the people's will,
nson fills the appointed time
t by an assassin's crime.
nt assumes the lofty seat,
who never knew defeat.
ns to him, then Hayes succeeds,
ly the nation leads.

comes next, the people's choice ascends a mourning voice
very hamlet in the land.
wretch with murderous hand own the country's chosen chief, ious millions mourn in grief.

term was then begun,
ade the number twenty-one.

me the "Man of Destiny," nd strong in policy,
Cleveland, whose first term
e politicians squirm
a election day rolled round was more popular found—

of intellectual mold,
cautious, manner cold.
his single term was over followed four years more of over

y then, the well-beloved, efficient pilot proved.
d assassin laid him low—e nation voiced its woe.

the interrupted term,
ddy" followed, staunch and firm,
g statesman, forceful, true,
illiant as a scholar, too.
ht the nation strenuous life,
t it from internal strife
ft, the jurist, reached the goal, iet years he held control.

oodrow Wilson, Princeton man, iteful years of rule began,
er him our armies brave
th a whole world's peace to save.
was won, but at what cost—ion soon this leader lost.

e was Harding's term begun,
th claimed him 'ere it was done.
alvin Coolidge, calm and cool,
our states a cautious rule.
erbert Hoover of Belgian fame
o the list the thirtieth name.
t a Roosevelt we see—eodore but Franklin D.

, the question is: when an- couplet is added to that jin- er November 5, what will Will a new name—that of ll L. Willkie—appear in the our Chief Executives? Or remain unchanged, so far addition of a new name is ned?

ne latter, then that will a new epoch in American y, because it means that, e first time, a President has successful candidate for a term. Before Franklin D. velt upset all precedents by g re-election after serving erms, only two other Presi- had ever tried it.

first was Ulysses S. Grant, d in 1868, re-elected in 1872 n unsuccessful candidate for Republican nomination in The second was Theodore velt, who became President , when President McKinley who was re-elected in 1904, to win the Republican nom- n in 1912 and was the un- ssful candidate of the Pro- ve or "Bull Moose" party t year.

n if Roosevelt is defeated in mber, he will have had the ction of being one of the 11 dents who have been elected twice. They were Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant, Cleveland, McKinley and Wilson. Nine (if Roosevelt completes his second term) served eight years—all of the above except Lincoln and McKinley, the victims of assassins' bullets. Grover Cleveland was a two-term President whose record is unique. He served one term, 1885-1889, was defeated by Benjamin Harrison, then beat Harrison when he was a candidate for re-election and served a second term from 1893 to 1897. William Henry Harrison had the shortest period of service as President, dying after one month in the White House.

If the Republican nominee is the successful candidate this year, he will add several interesting "firsts" to the history of the Presidency. For he will be

The first bearing the name of Wendell.

James has been the commonest first name of our Presidents, there having been five of them. John and William tie for second with three each and Andrew and Franklin third with two each. There has been one each of the following: George, Thomas, Martin, Zachary, Millard, Abraham, Ulysses, Rutherford, Chester, Grover, Benjamin, Theodore, Woodrow, Warren, Calvin and Herbert. There would have been two Thomases if Thomas Woodrow Wilson hadn't dropped the use of his first name and chosen to be known by the two beginning with the "W."

If the Republicans are victorious in November, Willkie will be

The first native of Indiana to become President.

Virginia still holds the title of "Mother of Presidents" with eight who were born in the Old Dominion. Ohio is a close second with seven, and New York comes next with four, North Carolina has given the nation three Chief Executives, Massachusetts and Vermont two each and New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New Jersey and Iowa, one each.

Although Willkie was born in Indiana, his legal residence is New York city. So, his election would add the seventh to the list of Presidents who have gone to the White House from the Empire state. Besides her four native sons, Arthur, born in Vermont, and Cleveland, born in New Jersey, were residents of New York when elected.

If Wendell Willkie wins—

He will be the first President of German descent.

The majority of our Presidents, 16 in all, have been of English ancestry. They were: Washington, John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Madison, William Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce, Lincoln, Johnson, Garfield, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, Taft, and Coolidge. Next most numerous—six—were the Scotch-Irish: Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Arthur, McKinley and Wilson. Four—Van Buren, Hoover and the two Roosevelts—were of Dutch descent; three—Monroe, Grant and Hayes—were Scotch; one, Harding, was Scotch-Dutch; and one, Jefferson, was Welsh.

Willkie's election would mean a new occupation represented in the White House, that of utilities executive. However, since his first training was in the legal profession, he would be the twenty-third who were lawyers before they became President. The list of these lawyer-Presidents — more numerous than any other profession—includes: Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan, Lincoln, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Incidentally, Willkie would be the first President who had never held public office before going to the White House.

In case the Hoosier candidate is successful, another name will be added to the list of our soldier-Presidents for his service as a captain in the field artillery in the World war would place him in the company of Washington, Monroe, Jackson, William Henry Harrison, Taylor, Pierce, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

Whether Roosevelt remains in the White House or Willkie moves in, the religious faith of its occupant will be unchanged for both are Episcopalians. There have been more Chief Executives of that sect than any other—nine.

The Presidents who were Episcopalians were Washington, Madison, Monroe, Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce, Arthur and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Those claimed as Presbyterians were Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Lincoln, Cleveland, Harrison and Wilson. The Methodists were Johnson, Grant, Hayes and McKinley. John Quincy Adams, Fillmore and Taft were Unitarians. Van Buren and Roosevelt were of the Reformed Dutch faith. Harding was a Baptist, Garfield a Disciple, Coolidge a Congregationalist and Hoover a Quaker.

Should the voters send Willkie to Washington to be inaugurated in January, he will be one of our "young Presidents," that is, under 50 and well under the average age of all Presidents when inaugurated—54. Willkie is 48, the same age as Franklin Pierce when he was inaugurated. Only three others have been younger—Cleveland, 47; Grant, 46; and Theodore Roosevelt, 42. The oldest President at the time of his inauguration was William Henry Harrison, who was 68. Four others—John Adams, Jackson, Taylor and Buchanan—were over 60.

Willkie would also be one of the "tall Presidents." His height of six feet one inch would place him third in the list. Lincoln was the tallest, six feet four inches. Washington was the second, six feet two inches. Madison's five feet four inches made him the shortest President.

Four of our Presidents—Jefferson, Jackson, Van Buren and Arthur—were widowers when they entered the White House and the wives of four others—Tyler, Fillmore, Benjamin Harrison and Wilson—died during the time they were President.

Tyler had the most children—seven by each of his two marriages. William Henry Harrison was next with 10 and Hayes next with eight. Washington, Madison, Jackson, Polk and Harding were childless. If Willkie is elected, he will be the only President with only one child—a son.

Star Dust

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IF YOU plan to be driving in Tucson, Ariz., early in October make sure in advance whether you'll be allowed to or not. For there'll be three days when it will be the only city in the United States without an automobile, truck, motorcycle or even a gasoline scooter on its streets.

And it's all because of the movies. "Arizona" will have what's known in the trade as its world premier in Tucson, and the city is planning quite a celebration—a governor's state ball, a three-day 1860 fiesta in the adobe city of Tucson, built for the picture, a rodeo with national roping and riding stars, and Indian pow-wows. Jean Arthur, William Holden, Warren William and all other members of the cast will be specially honored.

—*—

Some of the best stories about a movie are not heard until it is finished and the principals have gone on to other pictures. Here's one. Arriving at the set for "He Stayed for Breakfast," Columbia's new comedy starring Loretta Young and Melvyn Douglas, visitors found the set barred to outsiders. They were told that the players were working in an extremely small space where it would be impossible to watch.

MELVYN DOUGLAS

The real reason, disclosed later, was that Douglas was working in a woman's dressing gown. "I'll look silly enough on the screen," he explained, when asking that the set be closed.

—*—

When you see Hedy Lamarr and Clark Gable in "Comrade X" don't be puzzled if the story seems familiar. It's "Clear All Wires," which Spencer Tracy made seven years ago. The story of an American newspaper man's adventures in Russia, it's been rewritten to include incidents in the recent Soviet military ventures. Gable draws it as an assignment instead of "Osborne of Sing Sing," which he didn't like anyway.

—*—

June McCloy may win a bet with her husband if you like her well enough in "Glamour for Sale," in which she has the second feminine lead. Nine years ago she left Hollywood to make a name for herself as a night club singer, and succeeded. In 1936 she married and retired. Now she wants to return to the screen; she's bet her husband that she can make good within six months; if she can't, she'll go back to being just a wife. So she's working now in the picture starring Anita Louise and Roger Pryor. She has a chance at her specialty—she sings a torch song. But so does Anita Louise.

—*—

Denis Day became singing star of the Jack Benny show because an inflamed appendix kept him out of law school. An honor graduate of Manhattan college in New York, Eugene Denis McNulty won a scholarship that entitled him to try city government work for several months. He chose radio, and was doing production work at the city's broadcasting station, pending his entry to law school, when the appendix interfered just as his law classes were about to begin.

When he got out of the hospital it was to enter law school that year. He turned again to radio, got onto a sustaining program, and made a recording which Jack Benny's agent heard.

He was summoned to Hollywood; Benny was looking for a tenor to replace Kenny Baker, you'll remember, and they were auditioning literally by the hundreds. At the last minute young McNulty got the job, became Denis Day, and began carving out a nice career for himself.

—*—

ODDS AND ENDS

¶ Jon Hall recently celebrated three years of sitting in the same chair at the CBS Star Theater broadcasts. He began attending the broadcasts to hear his wife, Frances Langford, sing, and has never missed one since. If someone else sits in his particular chair in the clients' room, he says "I'm sorry. You're sitting in our good luck chair—I'll have to ask you to move."

¶ Norma Shearer and George Raft flew from New York to Hollywood on the same day, but not in the same plane—couldn't get accommodations.

THOUGHTS AT THE CLOSE OF SUMMER

The summer season is closing, and the great American public has only a few weeks more in which to:

1—Get its discomforts away from home.

2—Sleep on a mattress stuffed with anthracite coal in a bed that is a souvenir of the metal industry at its worst.

3—Become accustomed to mosquitoes in bedrooms, crickets in the closets, hornets in the sun porch, ants in the table linen and spiders all over the premises.

4—Drive from 100 to 500 miles in an overloaded flivver with poor brakes, no sunshield, one defective headlight and a constant aroma of something burning.

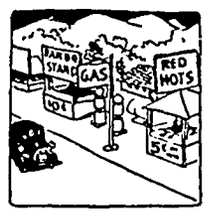
5—Spend days at a time in heated arguments over what the road signs mean.

* * *

6—Tour through endless miles of hot-dog, gasoline, tourist camp and souvenir doggie-and-doll zones in the insane belief that it all comes under the head of enjoying scenery.

7—Waste hours in country barns displaying "Antiques" signs so the little woman can look at spinning wheels she doesn't want, ox yokes she can't possibly use and early American shaving mugs that don't mean a thing to her.

8—Learn what America's doctors are prescribing for belly-ache this summer.



9—Spend two or three terrible nights in those piano boxes known as tourist camp cottages.

10—Determine how much the human system can endure in the matter of steamed clams, fried clams, clam fritters and clam chowder, not to mention lobsters, crabs, cucumber salads and the strange fish native to stranger communities.

* * *

11—Pursue the search for a hotel, lunchroom, drug store or drink fountain that doesn't cut its orange juice down to a point where it might more properly be labeled "Hydrant Juice."

12—Sample some of the world's worst coffee.

13—Find out where the worst chefs go in summer.

14—Make the annual discovery that there is no sense in trying to get any salt from a salt cellar at a shore resort.

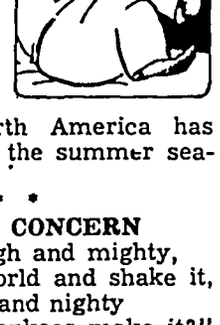
15—Discover that a change in courses makes no difference in your golf game.

* * *

16—Find out that 97 per cent of the instantaneous hot-water systems in the rural districts are out of order.

17—Observe once again that not one cook in a thousand can fry an egg without burning the bottom until the whole thing tastes like something cut from a hot brake band.

18—Experience incredible difficulty getting a room that is not located directly over the hotel garage, a new federal project involving steam shovels on a night shift, or one flight over the ballroom where the worst orchestra in North America has been engaged for the summer season.



* * *

THE MAIN CONCERN

With problems high and mighty,
To seize this world and shake it,
The question day and nighty
Is, "Will the Yankees make it?"

* * *

Night harness racing is to be held for 30 nights on the track built for auto speed racing on Long Island. A million dollars was sunk at this track to make it a motor speedway, and if the horses don't do so well you can attribute it to a major outbreak of what is known as the horse laugh.

* * *

Thumbnail description by R. Roelofs Jr.—"She loved beauty . . . and was never without a mirror."

* * *

Overheard by Seymour: "She must be a telephone girl; I said 'Hello' to her twice and got no answer."

* * *

TO LI HUNG GILES

Me no care what Confucius say,
But still . . . me lissen, anyway!
—Marjorie Lederer.

* * *

Elmer Twitchell would like to see a Gallup Poll taken to see whether there should be any more Gallop Polls.

* * *

Add similes: As bored looking as a member of a night club Hawaiian orchestra singing the words of a native love song.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Light colored painted furniture must be carefully washed to retain its luster. Wash it well first with warm water and mild soap suds to which a few drops of ammonia have been added (one teaspoon of ammonia for each gallon of water). Quickly rinse well with cold water. Wipe dry. Then polish with cloth into which a little furniture polish is rubbed.

* * *

Ammonia and water in equal proportions will remove varnish from furniture.

* * *

Add chopped parsley, minced sweet pickles or finely cut olives to mayonnaise used in summer salads.

* * *

To preserve the color of green vegetables cook them uncovered.

* * *

When preparing gelatin desserts, if left-over fruit juice is used instead of water, the desserts will be much richer.

* * *

Bake apples with only a small amount of sugar so that the characteristic flavor is not disturbed.

* * *

To remove a slight iron scorch mark from white clothes rub the scorched area lightly with peroxide. Then rinse it thoroughly in cold water. Peroxide removes the color from colored clothes, however.

* * *

Punches and fruit beverages improve upon standing. Place them in covered jars and store them in the refrigerator for at least 24 hours. A tart beverage is also more refreshing than a thick sirupy one.

* * *

A teaspoon of honey dropped into the heart of a cored apple when preparing apples for baking gives them a delicious flavor.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

REPAIRS For Your STOVE FURNACE or BOILER
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All Makes
Have Your Dealer Order from Us
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COMPANY

Cheerful Success

The men whom I have seen succeed best in life have always been cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces, and took the changes and chances of this mortal life like men, facing rough and smooth alike as it came.—Charles Kingsley.

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN
MOROLINE
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY
5¢ AND 10¢

Brotherhood

There is a brotherhood, not of equality nor of likeness, but of giving and receiving.—Ruskin.

ADVISES YOUNG GIRLS ENTERING WOMANHOOD

Thousands of young girls entering womanhood have found a "real friend" in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help them go "smiling thru" restless, moody, nervous spells, and relieve cramps, headache, backache and embarrassing fainting spells due to female functional irregularities. Famous for over 60 years. WORTH TRYING!

$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.

● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Eastern Star Will Meet

All members of the Eastern Star in this vicinity are invited to attend the first fall meeting of the chapter to be held at the Masonic Hall in Garner this week Friday evening. Several Klemme ladies are on the refresrment committee

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 18-19

"Safari"

with Madeline Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Sept. 20-21. (Double Feature)

"SHOWDOWN"

with Wm. Boyd and Russell Hayden.

ALSO

"Adventure In Diamonds"

with Isa Miranda and George Brent.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 22-23-24.

"The Return of Frank James" with Henry Fonda, Gene Tierney and Jackie Cooper.

"It Pays To Feed A Balanced Ration"

FARMERS GRAIN COMPANY

MILL FEEDS —— POULTRY FEEDS

Phone 198 BELMOND, IOWA

SHELL PRODUCTS GOOD YEAR TIRES

RUSLEY and YOHN SERVICE STATION

WASHING — GREASING

PHONE 93 GARNER, IOWA

BOCK SUPER SERVICE

DISTRIBUTORS OF DIAMOND PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

"There Are Hundreds Of Gasolines, But Only One 'D-X'— The Lubricating Motor Fuel"

"WHERE YOU RECEIVE THAT LITTLE EXTRA SERVICE"

PHONE 170 GARNER, IOWA RES. PH. 300

Mr. Bock features Diamond Petroleum Products for he knows these products offer the driving public more for their money.

This popular concern maintains a modern and complete super service station at Garner for the convenience of their many friends and render the best service. They feature Diamond high quality petroleum products, universally recognized for their high quality and lubricating value. Bock's. Super Service Station is a leader in this line and their products always satisfy, as evidenced by the increasing number of customers who are turning to them for service. You will reduce your motor troubles by depending on this company for gasoline, lubricating oil and grease.

The manager and his assistants are hustling business men and it is generally conceded that they "know their oil." Talk over your lubricating problems with these boys.

(Adv.)

Thompson Hydrid Corn Company

Located To Your Advantage
Phone 20 Belmond, Iowa

Many farmers have been amazed at the extensive machinery and equipment used by the THOMPSON HYBRID CORN CO. They have the experience and equipment necessary to produce the best and the most productive HYBRIDS and their hybrids have won numerous FIRST PRIZE yields over leading competitors.

Experience proves that THOMPSON HYBRID CORN produces better year after year The old idea of planting any seed corn that may be available has been replaced by the modern idea of securing THOMPSON'S Quality HYBRID CORN of selected quality and high germination; and admirably adapted to this locality. Klemme farmers are invited to visit THOMPSON HYBRID CORN CO. when in Belmond, and inspect this modern corn plant. If you are looking for increase production in 1941, place your order "Pride of the Corn Belt" corn.

Continuous growth is proof of satisfactory service.

(Adv.)

The Meservey Home Elevator

F. L. BROWN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

This is strictly a home-owned institution operated for the benefit of their many friends and customers.

Cooperation is the greatest word in the dictionary It is the power that builds cities, states and nations No enterprise can succeed without cooperation. Splendid cooperation has built the MESERVEY HOME ELEVATOR and has made it the successful enterprise that it is today.

This elevator has always enjoyed a splendid reputation and is in the market for unlimited quantities of grain. Spend your money with a home-owned concern. Money spent at home remains in your community and a portion of it will eventually come back to you.

THE MESERVEY HOME ELEVATOR has the equipment and facilities to handle your grain. Phone them at any time for quotations and the daily market reports. This company is founded upon clean business methods and has made a splendid growth.

A good elevator operated upon the lines followed by this firm is a great asset to any comunity, and this community may well be proud of this local enterprise

(Adv.)

AVERY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. John Trampel and sons and Mrs. August Trampel and family were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Peter Trampel home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Helps and Merlin and Lois, were entertained as dinner guests at the Robert Marshall home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stahl are the proud parents of a baby girl at their home since Monday. There are two other children in the family.

Miss LaVonne Sherwood, who teaches at Oran, was visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sherwood, over the week end.

Lester, Elfred, Edna and Lola Trampel, of Kamrar, and Miss Ruby Johnson, of Williams, were visitors at the John Trampel home last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Ed Becker, Mrs. Edgar Buss and Mrs. Harlow Helps and Lois assisted Mrs. Dwight Helps cook for silo fillers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Bell, of Goodell were entertained as dinner guests at the Wm. Bell home, Sunday.

Mr. Heiko Barkema and children were visiting at the Albert Esk home Sunday.

Miss Gertie Trampel and Mrs. Harlaw Helps and children assisted with the cooking for silo fillers at the Herbert Marshall home, Saturday.

Miss Maxine Bachman was entertained as a supper guest at the Clifford Montgomery home, Friday.

Six New Cars Delivered The Past Week By Local Car Dealers

The Klemme Auto Company is doing a good business in new cars. and the past week delivered six 1941 models, as follows: Lawrence Kuhl, St. Ansgar, a Hudson sedan M. V. Milton, Clear Lake, Pontiac sedan; W. H. Eggelston, St. Ansgar, Hudson sedan; Dewey Howell. Ventura, Hudson sedan; Andrew Wold, St. Ansgar, Hudson sedan and O. A. Rosel, St. Ansgar, a Hudson sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beatty and daughter, Joyce, returned to Chicago Wednesday morning, being called here to attend her father's funeral.

Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs Lester Buseman entertained as their guests the following: Mr and Mrs. Herbert Steenblock and Mrs Henry Bitters of Green Bay, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Loats and son, Harold, and Mrs. Harm Steenblock of Belmond.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

William Zablika, Pastor

Will all those who have the penny-shave-banks at home get them to the pastor as soon as possible.

Klemme Church:-
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League 7:30 p. m.

Liberty Church:-
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.

SEE

Col. C. H. Uhlenhopp

Auctioneer Livestock Dealer

ABOUT LISTING YOUR SALE THIS FALL OR WINTER

BELMOND PHONE 222

Col. C. J. Uhlenhopp is, without doubt, the best posted auctioneer on farm values in this section of Iowa. For many years he has been closely associated with livestock and farm values and general auction work. Mr. Uhlenhopp works and works hard for his patron's interest at all times and has been unusually successful in the auction ring. His long and creditable record at Belmond speaks for itself.

If you are planning a farm sale, phone, write or see Col. C. J. Uhlenhopp regarding your sale date. It will pay you well to secure a dependable auctioneer who is acquainted with farm values.

We consider Col. Uhlenhopp the best and leading auctioneer of the territory, and feel that you will be more than pleased with his services.

(Adv.)

WHERE COOPERATION PAYS

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Association

W. J. BARZ, Mgr.
Phone 28 Office, Garner, Iowa

Serving Western Cerro Gordo and Most of Hancock Counties

Quick Deliveries — Station And Tank Wagon Service

HERMAN PAUL, Local Dealer
Phone 38 Klemme

The firm is home owned for the benefit of the home community. They deal in high grade gasoline, high grade oils and greases.

They buy in large quantities and sell direct to the consumer, thereby in that way eliminate a large expense in the middleman's profit and are able to give you a better price than competitive concerns who sell through agents only.

By trading with them you are helping yourself.

You can readily appreciate the fact that thousands of dollars are placed in local circulation by this company which would otherwise never make the acquaintance of the people of Hancock county. They will see that you receive prompt efficent service and will prove to you that your patronage is appreciated.

(Adv.)

"WHERE YOUR BUSINESS IS APPRECIATED"

C. H. Schissel

Dry Goods, Groceries, Shoes
Phone 166 Garner, Iowa

Certain business houses are successful in a community because they consistently and faithfully supply constant needs to the public. This well known firm certainly comes under this classification.

C. H. Schissel knows that groceries, dry goods, shoes, fruits and vegetables are necessities which are wanted quickly and at any moment. They felt that success in this line would go to the firm that is able to supply the wants of the people at times of need at the lowest cost.

In studying the needs of the Garner community they have learned many things. Important among these is that as complete stock as possible must be kept on hand at all times.

Each customer must be given the same attention regardless of size of his purchase. These features have become a part of C. H. Schissel's business policy to please the public at all costs. Such service is bound to raep dividends.

(Adv.)

IF YOU STILL DEMAND THE BEST — EAT AT

Hull's Cafe

Phone 241 Garner, Iowa

Freezer Fresh Ice Cream A Specialty

COURTEOUS SERVICE MODERATE PRICES

Mr Hull invites you to come in and inspect his place and test the splendid food and service.

When meal time catches you in Garner, stop at Hull's Cafe and enjoy a good meal at a most reasonable price. Hull's Cafe is known for good food—a reputation sustained by the community as well as motorists and the traveling public. Here the management selects the food, scours the market and accepts only the best. You will find that the modern equipment and the utensils are kept clean. There is never a question of sanitary laws at the Hull's Cafe. The courtesy and attention of the attendants is a feature that receives more than passing notice from the patrons.

It is not necessary to order a whole meal—they serve excellent sandwiches, malted milks and other refreshments, and you are asured of the same attention for a lunch as well as for a well appointed dinner here.

(Adv.)

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Overholt and family are enjoying a visit from their son, J. L. Overholt and wife of Palmerton, Pennsylvania, who came Saturday evening to visit for a week in Klemme. They were accompanied by Mrs. Overholt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harkness also of Palmerton. Mr. Overholt is a chemical engineer for a large paint manufacturing company. He had been at Detroit to attend a convention. Mr. and Mrs. Harkness left Monday for the Black Hills to spend a week's vacation there before returning to Klemme, when tthe party will all return to Pennsylvania.

"Playing Safe bea
Harp." Hancock C Council.

Arthur We

FUNERAL DI
—with long exp
best equipment.

PROMPT AM
SERVIC

Phone 23-R2 Da
Klemme,

Paint This Fall With Devoe

2-Coat Painting System!

CUT HOUSE PAINT BILLS IN HALF!

The introduction of the new Devoe System has re ized exterior painting. Now two coats do a better job th coats have done before . . . and the new system outl ventional paints 2 to 1.

This new practice is based on the scientific fact special coats of house paint are needed for perfect res is the undercoat which comes in contact with the woo paint, and through controlled penetration seals the surf second is the topcoat, formulated to combat the destruc of the sun.

Devoe Chemists developed the principle of Controll tration. By doubling the life of exterior paint these m enabled you to cut your painting bills in half.

Barn Paint

Don't neglect your Barns, Corn Cribs, Machine She and Poultry Houses . . . and other farm buildings. Just re you have a REAL INVESTMENT there and it pays to your buildings by keeping them painted We have a prices on BARN PAINT. It will pay you to paint you Buildings this fall.

COMPLETE LINE OF PAINT FOR ALL PURPOSES . . .

We carry a complete line of INTERIOR Paints, Va Enamels, etc. Come here for your painting requirements.

Northern Lumber C

"Northco" Products

NOTICE!

of Change In Banking Hours--

Effective Monday, September 23, 1940, our Banking Hours will be from Nine o'clock A. M. to Twelve o'clock Noon and from One o'clock P. M. to Three o'clock P. M.

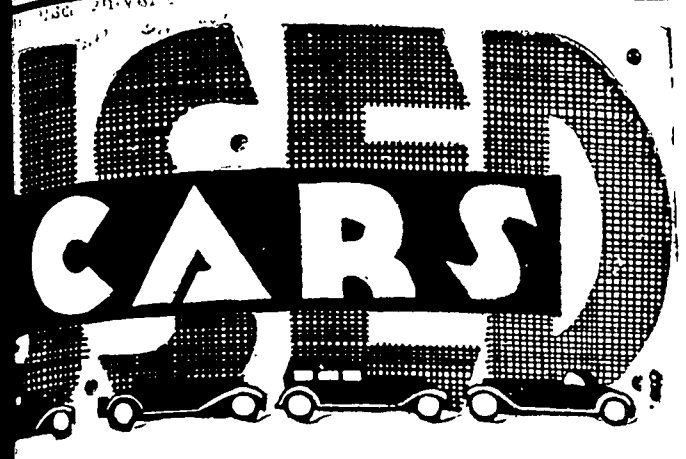
This change is made necessary because of the requirements of the Federal Wage and Hour Law.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION $5,000 MAXIMUM INSURANCE FOR EACH DEPOSITOR MEMBER

OLDEST BANK IN HANCOCK COUNTY

First National Ban

Established 1892



sult of having delivered a large number of New e past week . . . we have now a very fine selection D CARS that are mighty good and which we are t real bargain prices in order to move them quick-
Here is a partial list of extra good buys:

PONTIAC
Door, Extra Clean
this one today

HUDSON
or Sedan, Super Six Radio & Heater

HUDSON
Door, 112
a Clean Job

1939 HUDSON
Two Door Sedan
With Heater, Radio

1938 FORD V-8
Two Door Sedan
Complete reconditioned

1937 FORD V-8
Four Door Sedan
Radio and Heater

SPECIAL BARGAINS

In Cheap Transportation

UPMOBILE
DAN, special at only $40

ORD
DAN, yours for only $35

ORD
o Door Sedan, real buy at $60

- PHONE 93 -

emme Auto Company

Pontiac Sales & Service — Klemme, Iowa

E MUST SELL OUR
d CARS and TRUCKS

matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find
or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT.
rgains in late models. You take no chances when you
h us. Come in and look them over.

Garner Motor Sales

OBILE — CHEVROLET

F. M. Specials

y and Saturday, Sept. 20-21

et Soap SWEESHEART 4 bars for 20c

LAKES 2 pkgs. .. 22c | MALT-O-MEAL Per pkg. at 23c

Relish Dish FREE with above Corn Flakes
Glass Mug FREE with above Malt-O-Meal

FEE Butternut Brand 2 lb. 49c

ONI ..... 17c | POTATOES, Sweet, 6 lbs. for 23c

REFT Per box.... 23c

Naptha, bars for ... 18c | COCKTAIL, Fruit No. 1 tall can 15c

ten for CASH PRIZES
D DAILY BY OCCIDENT Flour
OCCIDENT NOW .... USE SALES SLIP TO ENTER daily RADIO STATIONS WNAX WMT KRNT

49 LB BAG $1.63

STAFF

Editor . . . Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor Lucille Hartbeck

On Wednesday, the high school students elected their class officers for the coming year Officers for the Freshmen are

President Verne Greiman
Vice Pres Corrine Merkel
Sec., Treas Larry Van Syoc

The Sophomore Class Officers are

President Betty Etchen
Vice Pres. Wayne Bird
Sec , Treas. Arlene Wille

The Juniors elected the following as their Class Officers

President . . . Bruce Arnold
Vice Pres. Ellen Kilgore
Sec , Treas. Luella Thieman

The Senior Class Officers are

President Allen Barz
Vice Pres Walter Greiman
Sec : Treas. Keith Stille

Parties seem to be in the air of the Klemme high school. The Freshmen had a roller skating party at Garner Friday evening, while the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors traveled to Clear Lake Baseball season is open at Klemme The boys played their first game at Kanawha Friday.

Corrine Greiman, of Garner, visited school Thursday and Friday

Starting next week a full-sized staff will be working on The Shamrock Times, and we hope to keep our column filled with good live news for the rest of the year

Reformed Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid Society of the Klemme Reformed Church will meet on Wednesday afternoon September 25th, with Mrs. George Lawhorn and Mrs. Richard Ax as hostesses

Progressive Club Notice

The Progressive Club members are urged to attend a meeting this week Thursday at the home Mrs Herman Bridges, to balance up the business for the past year.

County Auxiliary Meeting

A county-wide meeting of the Auxiliary will be held at Garner on September 24. at 2 30 p. m.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

The Ell Town Reformed church will celebrate its annual Mission Festival next Sunday

Our congregation will worship with them. Services at Ell Town are 11 00 a. m , 2 15 p m. and at 7:30 p m.

Our Mixed Chorus will meet on Thursday evening

Confirmation Class will meet on Saturday morning.

Farmers and Builders, Your Local Dealers Supply Concrete Blocks, Sand and Gravel FROM

Clear Lake Sand & Gravel Company

Quality Washed Sand & Gravel
EARL NOLL, Mgr.

and Certified Quality Cement Building Blocks

Your Local Dealer Can Supply Your Requirements For These Products

"No construction is better than the materials that are put into it" Any building is worthy of a suitable foundation. In order to build the best construction you should use care in selecting your Sand and Gravel. The CLEAR LAKE SAND & GRAVEL CO. specializes in Quality Sand and Gravel for every need, and any degree of fineness you may desire. They have the available supply, equipment and experience to render you the best Service on your Sand and Gravel requirements.

Freight and transportation are important items, dut to the weight of these materials The Clear Lake Sand & Gravel Co. is your logical source of supply They have the necessary screens and cleaning machinery to produce the finest products in their lines. If its Sand or Gravel, consult the CLEAR LAKE SAND & GRAVEL CO. or your local dealer, on your building problems or any matter pertaining to the use of Sand or Gravel. They are anxious to be of Service to you. (Adv.)

Installs New Walk

Henry Lewis has greatly improved his property at his produce store by having a new cement side walk built along the front of it the past week With a section of new walk along the west side of the Wellemeyer building and the new walk installed by Lewis, that block is now well improved as an approach to the new Legion-Community Hall.

With a new walk around the community hall, and with a new crossing between the Lewis property and the hall, that section of the town is now well provided with good walks.

Canning PEARS!

Per Bushel
$1.39
Friday & Saturday
at THADA'S

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Hancock County To Ida M. Benner, Deed, 12-30-39, $16. Lot 7, Auditor's Subdivision to town of Corwith.

Rev H R. Wrede, Exec. To Clarence Nelson, Executor's Deed, 8-5-40, $700. Lot 6, Blk 20, town of Garner

Bankers Life Co. To Paul and Lena Montag, Wty Deed, 7-29-40, $10,000 NW¼ 27-96-26.

Roy Bachman To Zelma Bachman, Q C Deed, 9-9-40, $1. Lots 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, Blk 3, Farman's Add. to Goodell, Lots 17 & 18, Blk 7, Orig. town of Goodell.

Mrs. Hauko D. and Hauka D Barkema To Mable Burgess, Q C Deed, 9-5-40, $1. Lots 13 & 14, Blk 7, Orig. town of Goodell and SW¼ NE¼ & NW¼ NE¼ & E½ SW¼ & E½ NE¼ all in 20-94-23

C. I. Suyder To Lee Price, Q C Deed, 8-31-40, $1 Lot 5, Blk 17, T8allman's Add. to ton of Garner.

Laura E. Snyder To Lee Price, Q C Deed, 9-4-40, $1. Lot 5, Blk 17, Tallman's Add. to town of Garner.

Red clover sometimes lives over for a third year, but it is so irregular in this habit that rotations should not be planned around such a possibility.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—ONE 18 INCH JOHN Deere Tractor Plow. Northern Implement Shop 1tc

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

GET PAID WEEKLY—LIBERAL terms to right man in choice territory as sales representative for Wisconsin's Greatest Nursery. No delivering or collecting. Healthy work with good pay in a business of your own. Stock Northern grown, with liberal guarantee Company estabished over 30 years. Write McKay Nursery Company, Madison, Wisconsin. 3tp.

WANTED—CUSTOM WORK FOR Two-Row power binder, $1.75 per acre. J A. Chambers. S-4-11-18c

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—A YEARLING HEIFER came to my place. Owner may have same by proving property and paying for costs of keep and advertising. LeRoy Johnson. 3tc

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

"You never miss the water till the well runs dry."

H. A. PECK

PHONE 262 GARNER, IOWA

Drilled Wells
GUARANTEED WORK

Repairing Waterwells and Drilling; Screen Jobs, Pumping Systems and Windmills

"When deeper and better wells are wanted H. A. Peck of Garner will drill them."

Water is even more important than food, and a dependable water supply is an absolute necessity to civilization. The foremost firm in this line is H. A. PECK OF GARNER. He has the experience, equipment and ability to properly handle any water problems.

If you require a deeper well or a new well, get in touch with H. A. PECK, and protect yourself and livestock with an ample supply Estimates are cheerfully furnished without obligation.

We know that. any dealings or service with H. A. PECK will prove highly satisfactory. (Adv.)

THE PLACE TO MEET AND EAT
DINE AND DANCE

Shady Beach

Alfred Gardarilli, Mgr.
Phone 613 Clear Lake

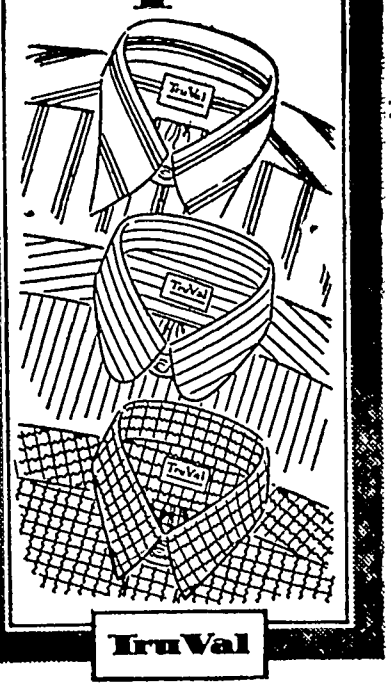
Chicken Dinners . Ribs, Beverages And Refreshments

"Juicy Steaks A Specialty"

We suggest SHADY BEACH for good food, recreation and enjoyment. For reservations phone 613, Clear Lake.

If you enjoy good food and dancing on a good floor to good music this is the place to go. You will like the courteous service and the congenial atmosphere which prevails. The management has spared no expense in providing every thing for your convenience, and enjoyment. Our Klemme folks always report a good time after visiting the Shady Beach. Why not get up a party and drive over to night? Remember the location, at Clear Lake. Turn in when you come to Shady Beach and you are assured of a pleasant evening. Follow the crowd to SHADY BEACH for the time of your life. (Adv.)

See Your Favorite Collar Style in . . .
TruVal SHIRTS
$1.35



TruVal

Do you like a round collar? Want the new wide-spread type? Prefer tabless tabs? Stick to the regular style? Whichever you like, you'll like it better on one of our Fall TruVal shirts! For TruVal, take it from us, knows how to make a collar! And all TruVal Fairflex collars, regardless of style, have been laundry-tested and approved by the American Institute of Laundering. They stay always fresh and smooth without starch.

Gildner - Paulson

Largest Clothing Stock In Hancock County
GARNER . IOWA

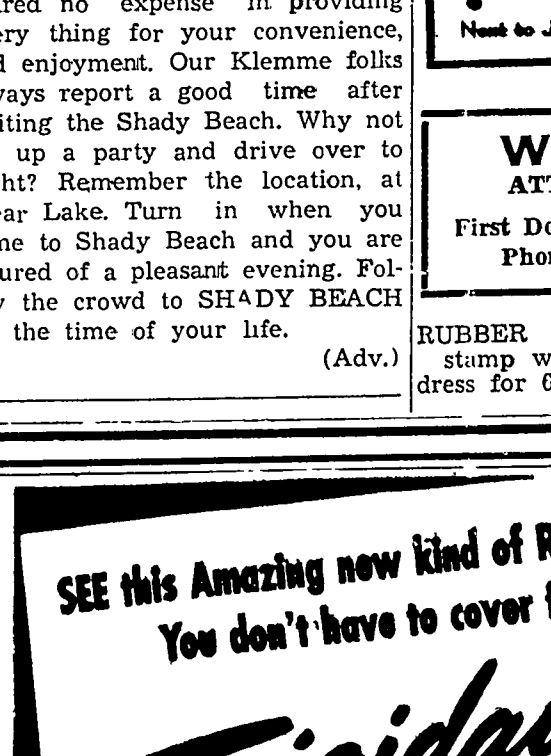
Photographs
LIVE FOREVER
RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

RUBBER STAMPS—A 2 LINE stamp with your name and address for 60c. Times Print Shop.

SEE this Amazing new kind of Refrigerator!
You don't have to cover foods!

Frigidaire COLD-WALL



...only Frigidaire has this great feature

NOW ONLY
$169.50
EASY TERMS

Has the famous Meter-Miser that cuts current costs even in hottest weather

The Frigidaire Cold-Wall is the only refrigerator that has chilling coils in the walls. Come in. See how this exclusive construction provides still, moist cold that guards precious vitamins and keeps foods days longer. You don't have to cover foods, or allow space between dishes for air circulation. Prices lower than ever before.

See our Midsummer Magic Demonstrations take the mystery out of refrigerator buying

Also see lowest priced 6 cu. ft. Frigidaire ever offered

Has many features of highest priced Frigidaires; Standard Model SV3 6 Now only
$114.75 Easy Terms

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN

FOLLOWING MYRA'S ACT WITH ALTA CAME CAPT OLSEN'S TRAINED SEALS -
COME, COME, OLAF - VAKE OP - CATCH DIS AN' I GIV YU FISH !!
FOR SOME STRANGE REASON THE SEALS MISSED NEARLY ALL THEIR TRICKS
BY YIMMINY, ALL DESE FALLERS ACT LIKE DEY BAN SICK !!
GEE WHIZ, WHAT'S TH' MATTER WITH THEM SEA LIONS, PA ?
I DONT KNOW, JUNIOR, BUT IT'S ONE OF THE POOREST EXHIBITIONS OF ITS KIND I'VE EVER SEEN !!
THE ACT WAS CUT SHORT AND JEFF BANGS HURRIED TO THE MENAGERIE TENT-THAT WAS TERRIBLE, OLSEN! GET BUSY AND REHEARSE THOSE SEALS !!
DONT BLAME SEALS, BOSS - DEY YUST BAN SICK - SOME ONE MUST GIVE DEM BAD FISH !!
ED WHEELAN-
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

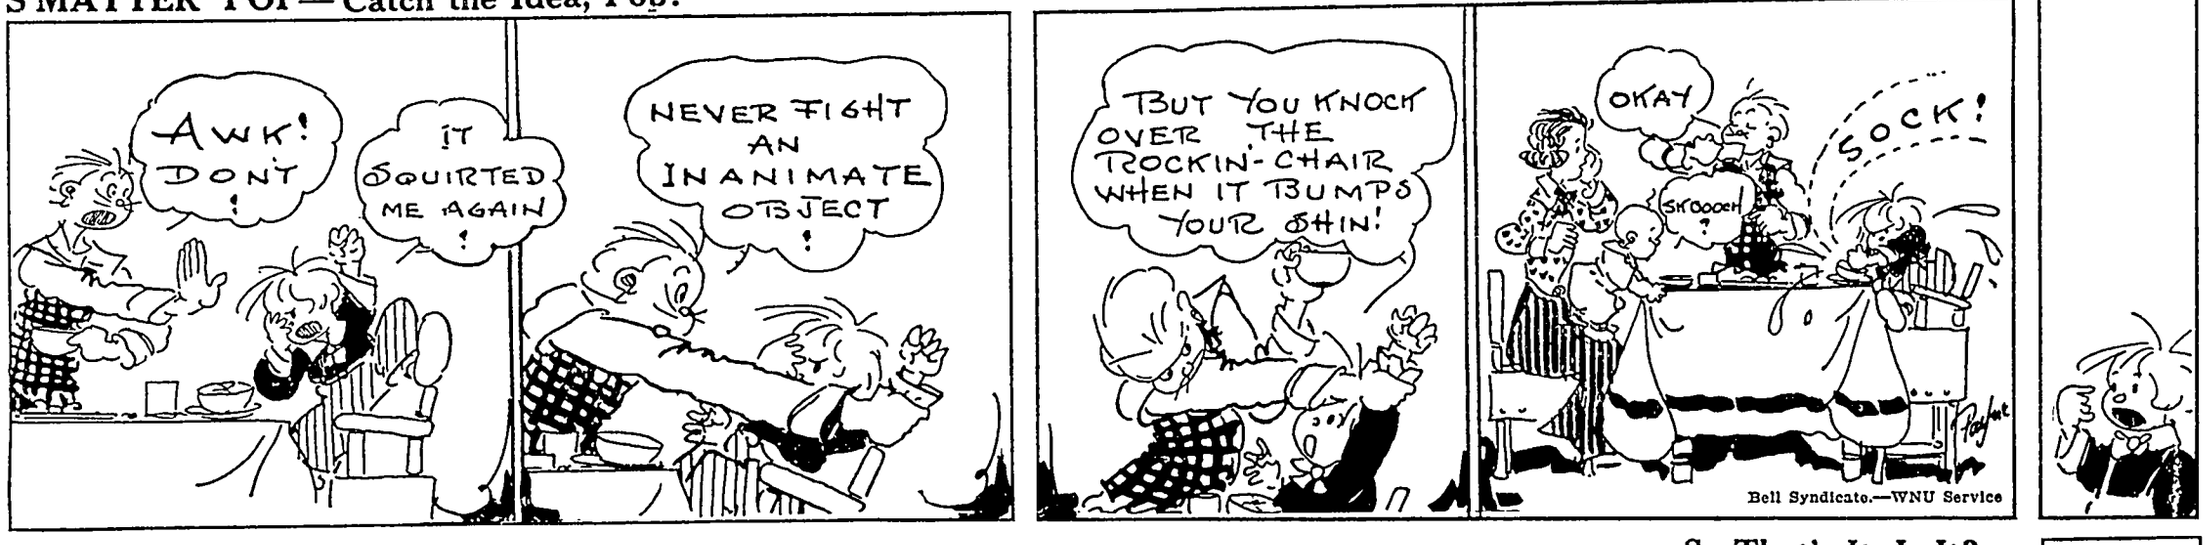
LALA PALOOZA —Looks Like a Brief Stage Career for Lala

By RUBE GOLDBERG

THE CURTAIN IS UP ON THE "BALLET OF THE WOUNDED DUCK" AND LALA'S BIG MOMENT IS AT HAND
SHE DOESN'T KNOW IT BUT THIS IS HER OPENING AND CLOSING NIGHT IN THE SHOW !
'T WILL LOOK LIKE AN ACCIDENT
ALL GREAT ACTRESSES LIVE THEIR PARTS - I FEEL JUST LIKE A WOUNDED DUCK ALREADY !
FIVE MINUTES, LALA PALOOZA !
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP— Catch the Idea, Pop?

By C. M. PAYNE



MESCAL IKE

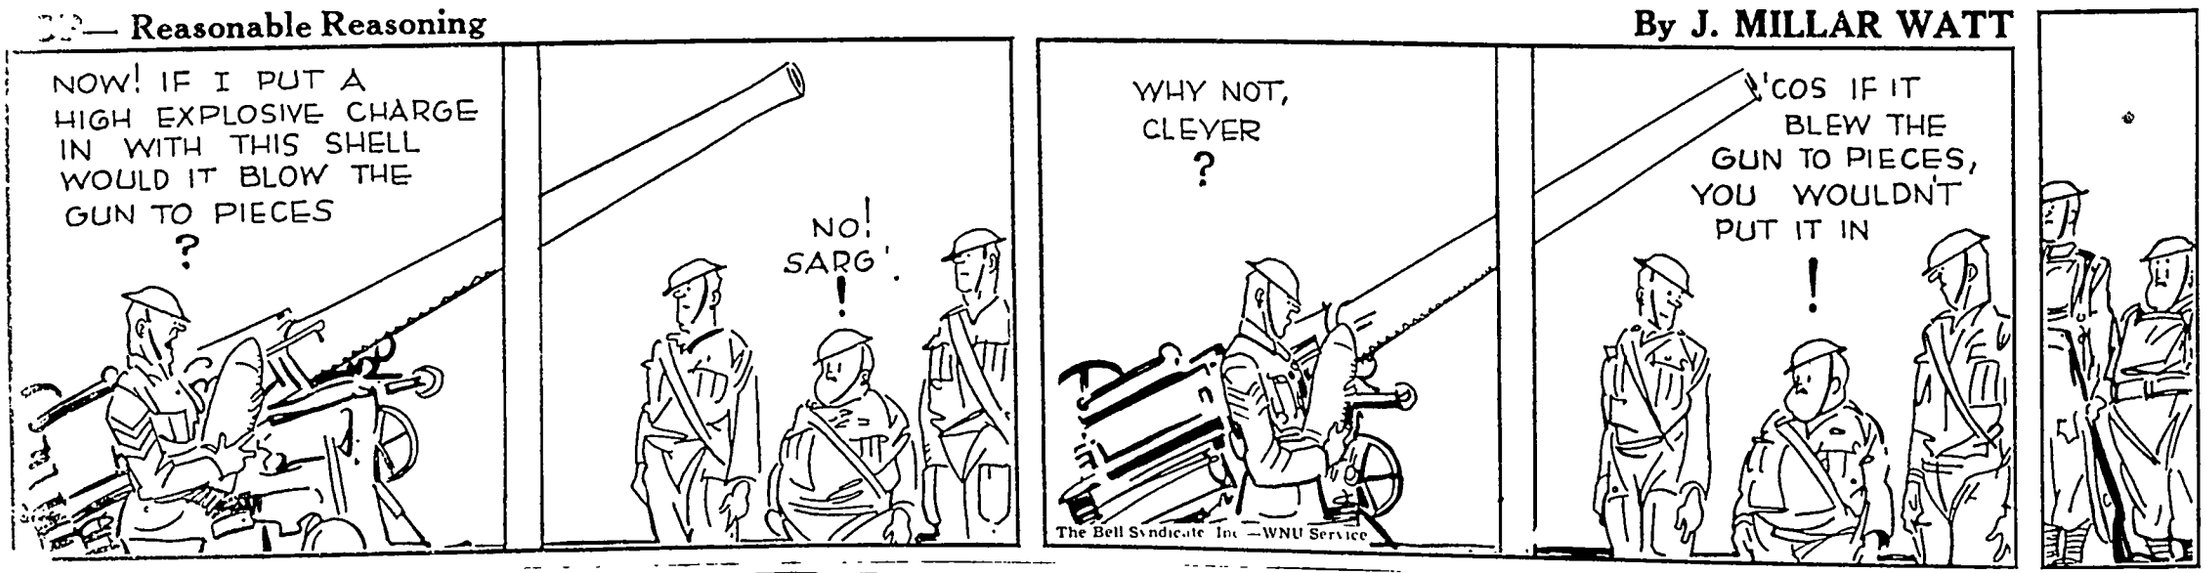
By S. L. HUNTLEY

So That's It, Is It?

WAL, HOW COME YUH TIPPED YO'R HAT TO HER THEN ?
THIS HERE'S MULEY BATES' HAT WHAT I'M BREAKIN' IN FER HIM AN' HE KNOWS HER!
REWARD WANTED!
ART HUHTA

?— Reasonable Reasoning

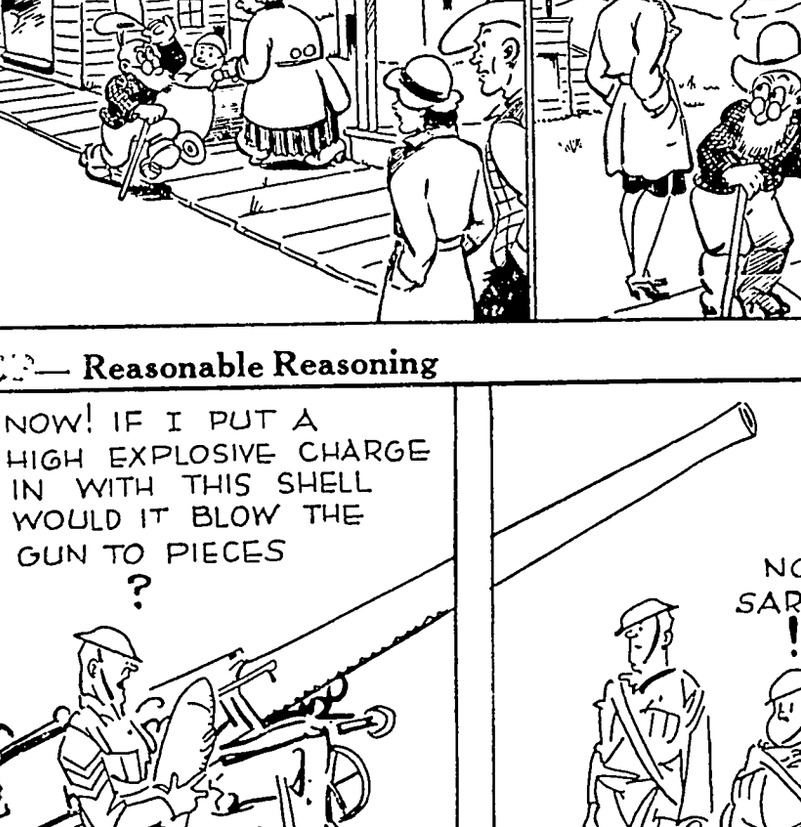
By J. MILLAR WATT



NOW! IF I PUT A HIGH EXPLOSIVE CHARGE IN WITH THIS SHELL WOULD IT BLOW THE GUN TO PIECES ?
NO! SARG'.
WHY NOT, CLEVER ?
'COS IF IT BLEW THE GUN TO PIECES, YOU WOULDN'T PUT IT IN !
The Bell Syndicate Inc —WNU Service

THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG



"If you're gonna insist on showing your scores to the boys, I wish you'd buy some targets."

HE'S DYING TO HELP

Uncle—Well, Anthony, I may as well tell you I have taken out a $50,000 life insurance policy in your favor. Could I do anything more for you?

Nephew—Nothing more on earth, Uncle

Yes—What Difference?

"Here, waiter, what kind of soup is this—chicken or tomato?"

"Can't you tell by the taste, sir?"

"No."

"Well, what difference does it make then?"

Improvement

Visitor—Do you think times are getting better?

Pastor—Oh, yes; decidedly. We are getting much better class of buttons in the collection plate now.

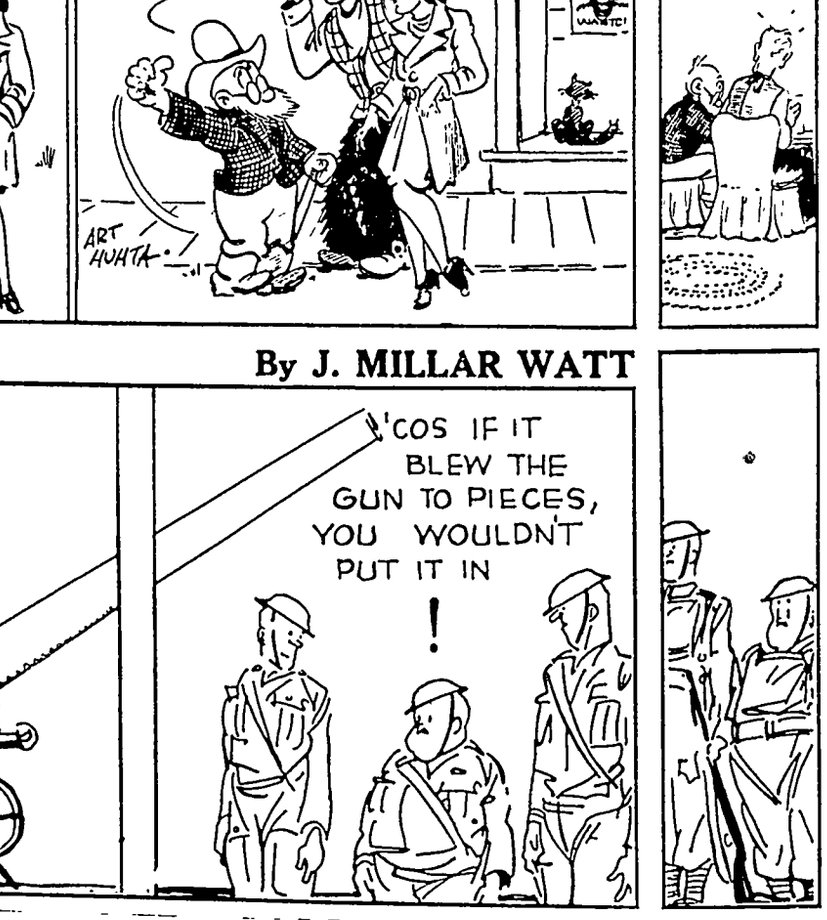
Wildcat Mine

Layton—Poor Dick; he lost all his money in a wildcat mining venture.

Phoebe—Mercy! I didn't know you had to mine for wildcats.

MOTHER'S HELPER

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



GOES INTO KITCHEN AND ANNOUNCES BRIGHTLY SHE IS GOING TO HELP MOTHER TAKES A DISH TOWEL AND SCRUBS A SAUCER FOR SEVERAL MINUTES
PUTS TOWEL DOWN AND GOES INTO BACK HALL TO GET AN APRON SAYS SHE CAN'T GET IT DOWN OFF THE HOOK, WOULD MOTHER MIND COMING ?
MOTHER DRIES HANDS, GETS THE APRON, AND RETURNS TO DISH PAN, WHILE SHE TRIES TO PUT IT ON UPON REQUEST, MOTHER DRIES HANDS AGAIN AND TIES APRON AROUND HER TAKES UP DISH TOWEL, PUTS IT DOWN AGAIN AND GOES OFF TO SEE HOW SHE LOOKS IN A MIRROR, WITH AN APRON ON RETURNS TO FIND MOTHER HAS WIPED DISHES AND IS BUSY PUTTING THEM AWAY. ASKS HER TO STOP A MINUTE APRON, PLEASE
Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service

Things to do

ONE mischievous Scotty [illegible] tainly enough—but [illegible] that's just twice as much [illegible] lightful new tea towel [illegible] formed, however, as these [illegible] disastrously inquire into phase of household work. [illegible] cross stitch bows and the [illegible] stitched day names done [illegible] colors will add a cheerful [illegible] these kitchen towels.

Pattern Z9193, 15c, brings you [illegible] Scotty designs for tea towels [illegible] extra matching panholder motif [illegible] order to

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City,
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

Deliciously safe home plate... hea[d] for growing boys... eas[y] prepare... least work... [t]ime... least money. Order, to[day] from your grocer.

Van Camp's Pork and BEAN
"Feast-for-the-Lec

Source of Ignorance

The fowl of ignorance la[ys] egg of pride.

O-Cedar It, Mom!
The soft O-Cedar lustre [cloth] saves weary hours of w[ork]
You can wash away the ugly [film] of fingerprints and dirt; you can [restore] dull and listless furniture and [woodwork] clean and sparkly; you can leave [it] soft warm silken lustre that STAYS [bright] that LASTS for weeks and for months . . . if you'll use genuine O-Cedar [Polish] your dampened cleaning cloth. [That's] your dampened cleaning cloth. T[hen] pleasant astonishing treat in store [for you] when you do.

O-Ceda[r] POLI[SH]
MOPS, WAX, DUSTERS, CLEAN[ING] FLY AND MOTH SPRAY

BUREAU O[F] STANDARD[S]

● A BUSINE[SS] organization which wa[nts] to get the most for t[he] money sets up standar[ds] by which to judge w[hat] is offered to it, just as Washington the gover[n]ment maintains a Bure[au] of Standards.

● You can have your o[wn] Bureau of Standards, [by] Just consult the adver[tis]ing columns of your ne[ws]paper. They safegu[ard] your purchasing po[wer] every day of every [year].

'TEA IS SERVED AT FOUR O'CLOCK'
(Recipes Below)

Household News By Eleanor Howe

tea party the thing of the sincerely hope not because nothing quite so comfy and as a good cup of tea. And make it even more delightsharing it with a few of your ea hour may be the time to utterly feminine, with lazy ions on the s of the he latest and even cute say- Johnnie ary Jane. ay be en- with mas-

, with the trend of the con- on leaning more toward cur- ents, politics, books and even s.

a party is one of the sim- ethods of entertaining, be- even though your resources limited, you can ask a few to drop in for tea.

ve a friend who quite often deas on Sunday afternoons. re highly successful, not be- of her lovely silverware or (because here I must confess ost of her china does not even ; they are successful rather, e her friends gather for the e of chatting with one an- Conversation flies fast and ly—but the group is held to- by one common bond, the .

most meager necessities include a tea tray, on which set and napkins are placed, from which to serve the tea, ing china, and well-polished e party is small you may, as , pour the tea, asking the to help themselves to cream on and sugar. If it is a party and it is necessary for constantly greet your guests y arrive, ask one of your to preside at the tea table .

tea that is served must be It not only must be fresh, ust be hot to be palatable and g. If the weather is warm ay like to serve both hot and a. Serve the iced tea in tall s which have been chilled pri- serving. Sliced lemon and red sugar are necessary ac- ies for iced tea. Place the es in an attractive ice bucket e ice tongs near by. As an bit of color and flavor, gar- he completed beverage with of fresh, cool mint.

ty sandwiches, hot buttered thin slivers of cinnamon toast mall English muffins are ap- ate to serve with tea. Popu- companiments to tea are sand- s made from nut bread, sliced hin, and buttered.

may like to use some of the sted accompaniments for your tea party, to give you that sought-after distinction as a minating hostess.

Hot Tea.

e teapot with boiling water. 1 teaspoon of tea for each d "one for the pot." Place tea pot, and pour freshly boiling over tea leaves. Cover and tea to steep 3 to 5 minutes, as d. Remove ball or bag con- g the leaves, and serve at Chicken Sandwiches With Cranberry Sauce.

t here and now we put in our or revolt against chicken sand- s that are bone dry! Have you putting a thin slice of canned erry sauce in with the chick- e eat cranberry sauce with en when it's served on a plate. not in a sandwich? Try a slice ned cranberry sauce in your n sandwiches the very next you make them and see if you agree there's a vast improve-ream Cheese Sandwiches.

reen pepper (chopped fine) unces cream cheese cup walnut meats (cut fine) easpoon lemon juice h of Worcestershire sauce and pepper move seeds from green pepper hop fine. Add cheese, walnut and lemon juice. Cream well er. Add a dash of Worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper to taste. Spread between slices of thinly sliced white bread.

Maids of Honor.
(Serves 12)

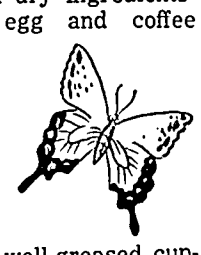
1 recipe of plain pastry
½ cup sugar
¾ cup almonds (ground)
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons heavy cream
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon almond extract

Line 12 very small tea cake tins or muffin tins with the pastry. Combine remaining ingredients in order given and fill pastry shells with this mixture. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for 10 minutes, then reduce temperature to 350 degrees and bake for 20 minutes longer. Cool, and remove from the pans.

Butterfly Tea Cakes.
(Makes 8-10 tea cakes)

1 cup cake flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg
¾ cup coffee cream
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ pint whipping cream

Mix and sift all dry ingredients Place unbeaten egg and coffee cream in a bowl and beat thoroughly. Add vanilla extract and pour liquid ingredients into the dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Bake in well-greased cupcake or muffin tins in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for 30-35 minutes. Cool. Then cut tops from cakes, and cut each top in half. Scoop a spoonful of cake from each one. Whip the cream and fill cavity with whipped cream. Arrange tops to form butterfly and serve at once.



Date Nut Squares.
(Makes 3 dozen 1½-inch squares)

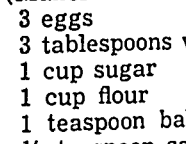
3 eggs
3 tablespoons water
1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup walnut meats (cut fine)
2 cups dates (cut fine)

Beat the eggs. Add water and gradually beat in the sugar. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt and blend with the first mixture. Fold in the nuts and dates. Spread in a shallow greased pan (about 10 by 12 inches). Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for about 20 minutes. Cool, cut in squares and roll in confectioner's sugar.

Danish Vanilla Fingers.
(Makes about 5 dozen)

¾ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ pound almonds (1 cup blanched and ground fine)

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually. Beat in the egg and vanilla. Blend well. Sift flour and salt together, and add to the first mixture. Stir in the ground almonds Turn dough onto a lightly floured board and knead until the mixture is smooth and no longer clings to the hands. Cut off small pieces of dough and shape in rolls about 2¼ inches long and a scant half inch thick. Place on greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 15 minutes.



Easy Entertaining.

Doesn't ham loaf with hot cheese biscuits sound inviting to you? It is so simple you can plan and serve the meal yourself, giving mother a day off to visit her friends or to do that much-needed shopping that she hasn't had time to do before. The menu and recipes for this deliciously simple and simply delicious lunch are given in Eleanor Howe's book, "Easy Entertaining," which you may obtain by sending 10 cents, in coin, to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

United Features WNU Service

WASHINGTON —Mr. Hitler hasn't liquidated England, but he has pretty well disposed of the predictions of military "experts" as to what turn the war will take and how soon this or that campaign will start or finish.

It is not Hitler alone who has made this war-casting business dangerous It is also the almost complete lack of dependable facts and the puzzling conflict of rival war bulletins from London and Berlin. Making a prediction carries even more hazards than sports writers' dilemmas on the outcome of an evenly matched football game or a prizefight There are no hotter spots

This column has had fair luck in this dangerous military field of crystal gazing. For a special reason, it is going to shoot the works on another guess with all fingers crossed, and the desk piled high with rabbits' feet.

Mr. Hitler is not going to dispose of England this year He probably is not even going to try a lightning-war invasion by land or, if he does, it will not succeed.

As Napoleon did, when he stood on the channel just before Austerlitz, he may suddenly shift the war to the south and smash Gibraltar and the Suez or something else unpleasant to the British empire, but I have a strong hunch that the record of 874 years since William the Conqueror is not going to be broken now by whatever name Hitler will take in history.

It is more than a hunch To risk an army across the great wet ditch of the channel, the Nazis must have clear command both of the air and those narrow seas and beach heads for a considerable distance inshore. The channel itself might be cleared by fixed shore batteries that would keep naval vessels at a distance, but British counter-batteries could make landings in force difficult if not impossible, unless the back country is completely dominated from the air

It isn't. I don't know why the Germans, with their supposed overwhelming air superiority, didn't use it to reduce British air-power to impotency—since any quick decision depended mostly on that They didn't Doubtless the reasons were good Most of their reasons have been good I'm not guessing about that I'm only guessing that in view of the rapidly advancing season of fogs and rough weather and all the other considerations I have mentioned, Mr Hitler is going to eat no meals in London, this year.

There are other guesses—maybe better ones One is that he actually prefers the fogs as a sort of natural smoke-screen for attack. Another is that with most of Europe in his clutch, he is prepared to offer the British empire a peace so firmly buttressed and asking so little of Britain that she can't refuse. I just don't happen to trail along with those guesses.

I didn't make my own guess for the chance of being right at the risk of being wholly wrong I made them because I know the barometric character of our public opinion. A good deal of our almost panic urge to prepare is due to our being told that out national life depends on the British navy; that it is in immediate danger of being lost, scuttled or transferred to Hitler; and, above all, the monstrous absurdity that the Atlantic ocean is no longer an obstacle.

I don't agree with these extreme views, but I do agree that our defenses are deplorably weak, that we must get into a position to defend ourselves with reliance on nobody else—and that we aren't doing it

My fear is that, if the present popular pressure is greatly relieved, by a demonstration that Hitler can't hop even the British channel—much less the Atlantic ocean—we are likely to lapse into a lethargy as dopey as our immediate past.

The whole of recent history should prove how silly and perhaps fatal that could be. Let's keep on going regardless of the momentary fluctuations of the news from Europe's war

* * *

REGISTER MEN NOW

The basis of any successful system of equitable selection is the universal registration and classification of our whole manpower into about seven groups in accordance with their relative ability for military training and service with the least possible interference with desirable domestic, educational, industrial and agricultural relations.

You can't do anything intelligently and scientifically in the way of determining quotas, exemption and deferments or final selection until you have that information.

To debate further steps before we have it is ignorant and futile.

I don't know how long it will take this fumbling, blundering generation to do that preliminary job In 1917, we did all that it requires in 90 days. I doubt if that record can be beaten or even approached In any event, that essential process if started now will overlap the election and leave us infinitely better prepared to decide.

The solution is easy. Quickly pass a simple bill authorizing the registration and classification of all men between 18 and 60.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 22

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE VOICE OF WISDOM

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 4.10-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life —Proverbs 4:23.

What to do and how to do it—these are the vital things which the book of Proverbs imparts. It deals with every condition of life, good and bad, in the revealing light of God's holiness and love Good advice may have its value, but we also need to know how to put it into practice Therein is wisdom distinguished from knowledge. A man may have an unbelievably great store of knowledge, and yet be a foolish man because he does not have the wisdom to use it.

Knowing that these notes are used by a great many boys and girls, as well as by their teachers, the writer would suggest an outline for next Sunday which can be remembered by everyone who has ever crossed a railroad track. What does the warning sign say? "Stop, Look, and Listen" Then what? If all is clear, go ahead. That is just what our lesson tells us. Stop, for someone has a message for you; look, at the two ways of life; listen, to the wise words of counsel. Then go straight ahead in the right way.

I. Stop (vv. 10-13).

Life moves on at a rapid pace. One of the devices of the devil to gain and keep his hold on us is to keep things moving so fast that we never stop to think, or to heed the counsel of others The wise man has something of importance to say to the young man whom he calls his "son" Let us stop and give heed to his warning, for we are assured that it will mean for us a long and happy life (vv. 10, 12).

Nobody but a fool would hasten past such a "stop" signal, nor thrust aside this opportunity for life-giving instruction (v. 13). Here is something far more important than mathematics, literature, or economics Here is life.

II. Look (vv 14-19).

There are really only two ways of life—"the path of the just . . . that shineth more and more unto the perfect day" (v. 18), and "the way of the wicked," which is only darkness and stumbling (v. 19). There is no middle way We cannot walk in both paths; it is "either—or." Young people should get hold of that fact, for in these days there is a constant attempt to blur the colors, making things neither black nor white, but gray; neither good nor bad, but just advisable or inadvisable.

The moral laws of God are not changed; right is still and will eternally be right, just as wrong is and always will be wrong. Wickedness is so wrong that it causes men to spend sleepless nights trying to entrap others (v. 16). But no one need go that way; just do not "enter" that path, "avoid it," and if by chance you have wandered into it, "turn from it" (v. 15). God will help you.

III. Listen (vv. 20-25).

Listening is important business, calling for real attention and application Especially is that true as one listens to the truth of God. It should be received by an attentive ear (v. 20), kept before one's eyes, and pondered in the heart (v. 21). Such listening is sure to bring results, and we find them enumerated in verses 22 to 25.

Life is assured to those who heed the words of God's messenger; not just a bare existence, but a healthy life (v. 22). God's spiritual children are not (or at least should not be) invalids or weaklings.

Keeping the heart right (v. 23) keeps the whole life right, and the way to be sure that the heart is right is to fill it with God's Word (v. 21). Then see how the whole life responds; the lips speak no forward (R. V. wayward) or preverse words, and the eyes look straight ahead along the shining path of the just.

Now that we have stopped to give attention to the Lord's word through His messenger, and looked carefully at the two ways of life, and listened to words of wisdom and guidance, what comes next? Do we stand idly by and commend ourselves for our wisdom, or do we sit down and take our ease? No. Being assured that the way is clear, we

IV. Go Ahead (vv. 26, 27).

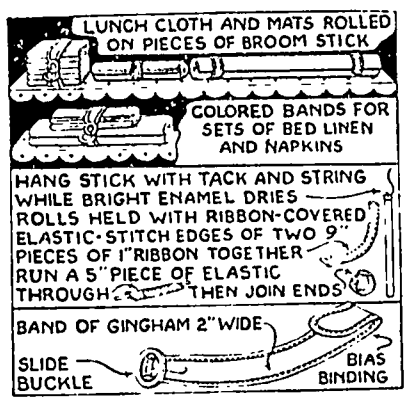
God wants His people to move on to greater glory and usefulness. At the Red sea, God told Moses, "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward."

"Move forward! valiant men and strong,
Ye who have prayed and labored long;
The time has come for you to rise.
For lo! the sun rolls up the skies"

Thoughtful, vigilant, lest he be led into a bypath on the right or left, turning his feet away from every evil path, the child of God goes forward, and as he goes the road becomes brighter and brighter with the glory of the presence of the Lord, shining more and more until that perfect day when he shall find himself at the end of his journey and at home forevermore in the Father's house.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears



LUNCH CLOTH AND MATS ROLLED ON PIECES OF BROOM STICK
COLORED BANDS FOR SETS OF BED LINEN AND NAPKINS
HANG STICK WITH TACK AND STRING WHILE BRIGHT ENAMEL DRIES
ROLLS HELD WITH RIBBON-COVERED ELASTIC-STITCH EDGES OF TWO 9" PIECES OF 1" RIBBON TOGETHER RUN A 5" PIECE OF ELASTIC THROUGH THEN JOIN ENDS BAND OF GINGHAM 2" WIDE SLIDE BUCKLE
BIAS BINDING

MODERN linen closets are tucked in spare corners all over the house, always as close as possible to the place that the linens will be needed Towels may be found in the bathroom, napkins in the pantry or kitchen and bed linens near the bed rooms.

I have sketched the whole story here of how one homemaker keeps her linen shelves in order. She likes to keep things in sets identified with colored bands and thinks it is more efficient to roll many pieces than to fold them. The best napkins may be banded in blue and white, luncheon mats may be rolled on a red stick with a red band and green may be used for the bridge table cloth. Linen holders like these would make attractive gifts, too. And speaking of shelves and drawers; girls adore the stocking case in Book 3, and the drawer pads in Book 4; and they make dainty gifts for any one. The table cloth case in Book 2 is another good linen closet idea.

NOTE: These homemaking booklets are a service to our readers and No. 5 just published contains a description of the other numbers, as well as 32 pages of clever ideas fully illustrated To get your copy send 10c coin to cover cost and mailing Send order to.

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....
Address .....

'Syncopation' Seemed to Cover Patient's Ailment

A patient who complained of digestive troubles was told by a specialist that he was drinking too much, and would have to knock it off.

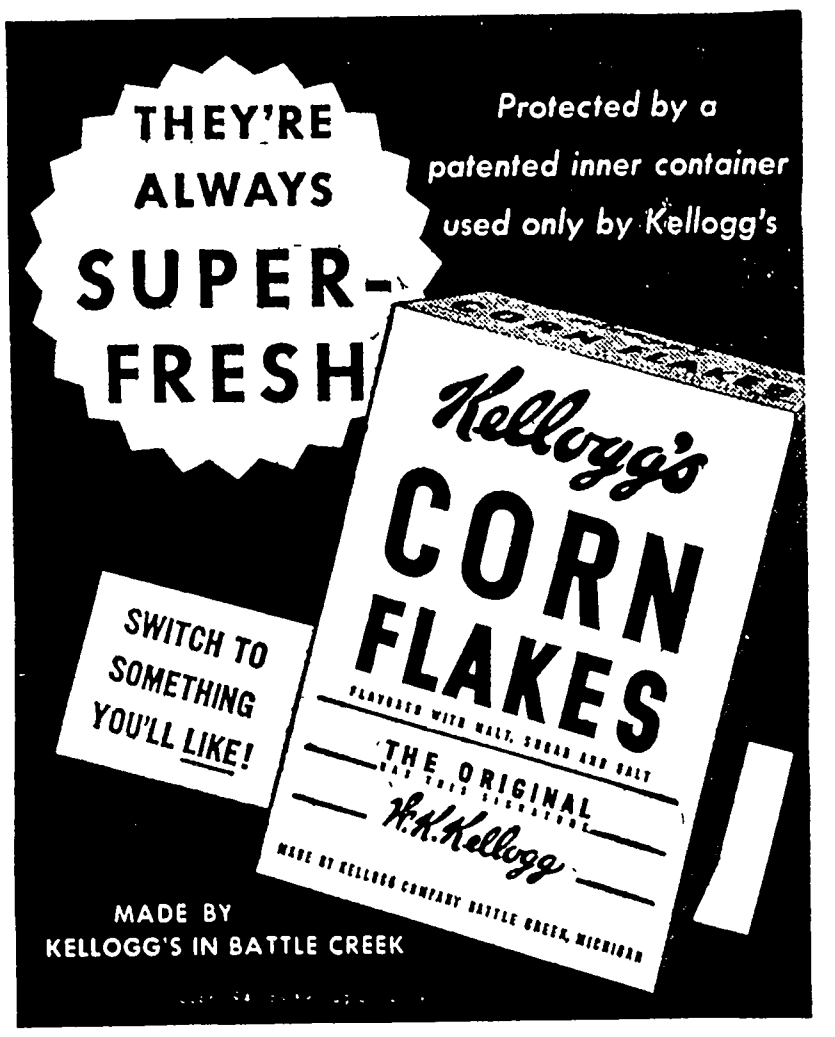
"Well," said the patient, "what am I to tell my wife?"

The doctor thought for a few minutes, then said: "Tell her you are suffering from syncopation. That will satisfy her."

The patient did as he was told. "What is syncopation?" asked his wife

"I don't know," said the husband, "but that's what he said."

When her husband had gone out the wife looked up the word in the dictionary, and found that it meant: "Irregular movement from bar to bar."



THEY'RE ALWAYS SUPER-FRESH
Protected by a patented inner container used only by Kellogg's SWITCH TO SOMETHING YOU'LL LIKE!
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
THE ORIGINAL
W. K. Kellogg
MADE BY KELLOGG COMPANY BATTLE CREEK, MICHIGAN
MADE BY KELLOGG'S IN BATTLE CREEK

Glorious Victory

A more glorious victory cannot be gained over another than this, that when the injury began on his part, the kindness should begin on ours.—John Tillotson.

H. W. Langbehn attempted to kick a sack of mail off the train at Hospers. He was taken to the hospital with a broken leg.

WEAR
Welch's
STANDARD OVERALLS
EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED
Ask Your Dealer

Arthur Swamley, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spitler, left for Fort Riley, Kansas. where he has enlisted in the coast artillery.

Mrs. Fred Ridder went to Mason City Wednesday afternoon and spent the balance of the week visiting at the Sam Harvey home.

Mrs. W. F. Pavey and Juanita, Mrs. Lena Schroeder and Irene Suckow were at Mason City Friday.

Mrs. T. F. Mitchell came from Swea City Thursday to spend several days in Klemme assisting in caring for her father, Mr. C. F. Keraus, who is ill.

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mrs. Mary Waterman of Klemme, and Mrs. Fred Mosfelt of Clarion, visited from Wednesday until Sunday at the Fred Radloff home east of Garner.

Mr .and Mrs. Louis Stahl are the proud parents of a fine baby girl at their home. Mrs. Otto Schlawin is caring for the new grand-daughter and her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet had as their guests for dinner Sunday, Rev. and Mrs. Fred Griewe and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gast of Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer. of Mason City, spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the R. A. Jorgenson home. They had just returned from a two week's vacation in Kansas and Nebraska.

Dr and Mrs. W. F Missman, acompanied by Dr. Byrnes Missman of Garner, left Sunday morning for Land O' Lakes, Wisconsin where they will spend a few days at their cottage doing some work on it and closing it for the season.

Mrs. Lawrence Gates and children returned from Goodell Sunday evening after spending a few days helping with the work at the parental Miller home. Mrs. Dan Miller is a patient at the Belmond hospital.

Mrs Fred Nagel is still at Grinnell. helping care for her daughter, Mrs. Ole Thompson, who was taken suddenly ill the past week. Mrs. Henry Jost accompanied Mrs. Nagle to Grinnel last Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth visited Sunday at the Rev. Galbreth home in Mason City. Rev. Galbreth has been on the sick list for the past few days and will be confined to his bed for a week. Sunday was Mrs. Galbreth's birthday, so Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth baked a cake for the occasion.

Andrew "Jack" Wellemeyer, of Springfield, Mo., came Thursday evening for a visit of a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wellemeyer. "Jack" is the manager of a large ladies ready-to-wear shop at Springfield.

Mrs. James Larson from west of Klemme entered the Belmond hospital last Wednesday and that evening underwent a major operation Latest reports are that Mrs. Larson is making a satisfactory recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mabie came Sunday evening from Whitten for a few days visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reece. Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Wildman of Nevada were dinner guests Sunday at the Reece home.

Glenn Stokesbary began work Monday as linotype operator on the Iowa Falls Citizen. Glenn, who is a graduate of the School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs, learned linotype work in school. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Stokesbary.

Lew Wesenberg, of Goodell, was in town Monday morning campaigning for the office of County Supervisor. Mr. Wesenberg is a candidate on the Democratic ticket. He plans to make a thorough canvas of the county before the November election.

Mrs. A H. Dulmes and son, Dick, returned Thursday morning from Grundy Center where they had visited for a couple of days. They were brought to Klemme by Mrs. Mary Mutch and daughter, Ada, who visited here for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lawhorn entertained the following at a six-thirty o'clock dinner Sunday evening: Dr .and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and daughter. The evening was spent playing cards.

Mrs. Ernest Gerardi and daughter Gracka Marie, and Miss Marie Blank returned Thursday evening from Two Harbors, Minn., where they had been for a few days visit with Mr and Mrs. Conrad Quandt at their cottage where Mr. Quandt is staying during the hay fever season.

"Tokie" Ahrenkeil, grandson of T. Blank of Klemme, is teaching this year at Whitten, Iowa. "Tokie" is coaching in the high school there, and this is his first year of teaching He was an outstanding basketball player in high school and later was a star on the Drake University squad.

Married.

The Mesquakie Indian tribe of near Tama, have now decided that perhaps the white man's marriage laws are good too. After 14 months and 1 day following repeal of the law allowing Indians to marry under tribal law, Rudoplh Ricardo Mitchell and Alvina Mae Wahpecanah, applied for a marriage license at Tama. It had been three years since an Indian had applied for a marriage license. Tribal custom of the Mesquakie is that a couple is married when they start living together.

Gilbert Walters, Shell Rock halted by what he thought a patrol car. He was mis Three bandits robbed him o

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, I

THADA'S

A Good Store In A Good Town — Klemme, Iowa

SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

OMAR wonder FLOUR
THE BREAD FLOUR SO GOOD IT WINS CAKE PRIZES
$1.69

(Ask us how you can save 15c taken from above price)
(Also about extra 15c reduction on 24½ lb. bags)

Bologna, Home Made Fertile Brand, lb. ... 17c
MATCHES 3 boxes 08c

Dreft marvelous new suds
Large size 23c
Giant Size 59c

IOWA MIRACLE BLEACH (5c Bottle Deposit) Per quart bottle 10c
IOWA MIRACLE BLEACH (10c bottle deposit) Per gal. bottle 34c

P AND G WHITE NAPHTHA SOAP
7 bars... 25c

RAISINS 2lbs. for 14c
CRACKERS, Soda 2 lb. box 16c

COOKIES FIG BARS Fresh, per lb. 10c

CORN FLAKES Kellogg's, 2 for 23c
WHEAT FLAKES Miller's, 2 pkgs. 23c

Fancy Pickle Dish FREE with above Corn Flakes
Repeating Target Gun FREE with above Wheat Flakes

I'LL MEET YOU AT THE MODERN COOKERY SHOW. I HEAR THERE WILL BE LOTS OF USEFUL HINTS ON MENUS AND TIME-SAVING METHODS.
AND I WANT TO SEE HOW SOME OF THESE NEW RECIPES ARE PREPARED. DON'T FORGET TO TELL YOUR FRIENDS TO COME, TOO.
Be our guest at our FREE COOKING SCHOOL

Community Hall, Oct. 9

Lewis Radio Shop

Distributors of

A SHELL PRODUCT SHELLANE COOKING GAS
Cuts 3 hours drudgery a day

BUILD IT OF BRICK!

Sheffield Brick & Tile Company

S. J. GALVIN, Mgr.

Located To Your Advantage
Sheffield, Iowa

For Permanency, Beauty, Durability And Low Cost, Specify Sheffield Clay Products

The Sheffield Brick and Tile Co. are manufacturers and distributors of clay brick and structual tile, being one of the largest concerns in this part of the country, serving in this capacity This business is conducted under the directions of men who have years of experience in the building trade and are well versed in the requirements of a comprehensive service.

If there is any good that may come of the terrific fires that this country has experienced it has surely taught the world one thing, as only those buildings which are made of bricks or tile withstood the ravaging of these fires.

Thus we cannot help but wonder how many of our readers are protected against fire. For the benefit of persons who are preparing to build, this company is prepared to make a valuable suggestion, which will not only safeguard, but will go a long way toward reducing the cost of insurance.

The thousands of buildings that we see throughout our travels show that they stand only because of the materials that have been built into them. You cannot imagine a skyscraper made out of wood but we do understand the lasting qualities of brick and tile. Their permanence as durable building material has never been equalled. Brick and tile do not decay, shrink or warp. Buy your drain tile and brick tile here.

(S. J. Galvin is the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Iowa).

(Adv.)

Personality Beauty Shop

MR. BRAGER, Prop.

Phone 118, Garner, For An Appointment Today

The Personality Beauty Shop is steadily gaining popularity. They feature only the highest type of permanent and finer waving.

Their permanent waves are without a peer. They are considered an authority on this work. The profession is one of importance and this Beauty Shop merits a tribute for excellent work. Mr. Brager made an extensive study of beauty culture from a scientific standpoint.

Beauty culture has advanced the most rapidly the past few years and The Personality Beauty Shop has and will keep abreast of the times.

Intelligent care of the hair is most essential to lasting beauty. Go there for a thorough treatment and you will indeed be pleased with the results. Their permanent waves are the talk of the Garner community. Nowhere can they be excelled. The Shop is fitted with refined and comfortable surroundings. Its atmosphere is one of dignity and art. Phone 118 for an appointment.

(Adv.)

Some Times One Knows!

. . . THEN AGAIN . . .
ONE DOESN'T KNOW . . . .

What we mean . . . you wouldn't know this is the middle of September by the weather we have had the past week . . . you might think it the middle of summer. But . . . you do know when you have a tankful of our WHITE ROSE GAS in your car. You can tell it's WHITE ROSE because of that sudden surge of POWER and that QUICK GET-A-AWAY.

AND THERE'S SOMETHING ELSE WE KNOW . . . .

We know you are going to be a mighty well satisfied customer if you have us fill the crank case with PENNFIELD MOTOR OIL . . . there are lots of good oils, but none better.

AND WE ALSO KNOW THAT . . . .

You will like our GREASE JOBS . . . your car thoroughly greased with the proper lubricants.

And we are also ready to serve you with:
Firestone Tires & Tubes
U. S. Royal Tires & Tubes
Goodyear Tires & Tubes
Tire Repairing
Mud Tires

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station

HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. — Klemme, Iow

Referee's Sale

Public Auction

TUESDAY, SEPT. 24, 1940

THE UNDERSIGNED REFEREE WILL OFFER FOR SALE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, THE FOLLOWING DESCRIBED REAL ESTATE:

Lots Numbered 1 and 2 in Block Number 11 of Klemme's First Addition to the town of Klemme, Iowa, as shown by the recorded Plat thereof; and the West 100 feet of the North Half of Out Lot 3 in Klemme's First Addition to the Town of Klemme, Iowa; and commencing at the Northwest corner of Out Lot 3 of Klemme's First Addition to the town of Klemme, Iowa, running thence East 100 feet along the North line of said Out Lot 3 for a point of beginning, thence East along the North line of said Out Lot 3 300 feet for a second corner, thence South to alley line for third corner, thence West along said alley line 300 feet for fourth corner, thence North to place of beginning.

And the South Half of the Northeast Quarter and the North Half of the Southeast Quarter and the East Half of the Southwest Quarter of Section Number 12, in Township Number 91 North, Range Number 24 West of the 5th P. M. and the South Half of the Northwest Quarter of Section Number 7, Township Number 91 North, Range Number 23 West of the 5th P. M. all in Hancock County, Iowa, known as the Berend Swalve land and located on Highway No. 69, between Klemme and Goodell, Iowa.

TERMS OF SALE: 10% of the purchase price upon day of sale and the balance March 1, 1941, at which time Referee's Deed to said real estate will be given and Abstract showing merchantable title. The Referee reserves the right to reject any bids. Sale will be subject to approval of the District Court of Hancock County, Iowa. Sales of tracts above described will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the 24th day of September, 1940, on said respective premises.

The Farm Lands above described will be sold first, and then the Town Property

F. E. Blackstone

REFEREE — Garner, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

E 45 KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 25, 1940. NUMBER 17.

Radio Shop To Sponsor A rn Cookery School, Oct. 9

HOME ECONOMIST TO NSTRATE MODERN CHEN TECHNIQUE

s Of This Community vited By Local Dealer

ys of preparing food ng old dishes, new ways me and money in the ew and tempting culin- ctions to serve to dis- g appetities, all these other secrets of the s art will be explained wis Radio Shop Shellane demonstration on Thurs- ber 9, at 2:00 p m. Klemme's New Com- ilding.

ge of this demonstration the foremost home econo- the county, Mrs. Mildred experienced and enter- alker widely known the United States. Her e here is sponsored by wis, distributor of Shel- ed gas and Universal monstration will bring to s of this vicinity an un- ortunity to hear and see e most unusual and able tors in the country and onally known for her of the sciences of food -making.

s has had many years as a demonstrator un- auspices of nationally our mills and appliance rers, and has staged her monstrations before thou- women in most of the big an cities

COOKING DEMONSTRATOR

MRS. MILDRED REES

In addition to studying home economics at the Boston School of Cookery and Columbia University, she has traveled widely during the past 15 years and has accumulated many practical ideas on the preparation and serving of food, which she will demonstrate here on the new 1940 Universal Shellane Ranges. Shellane will be used exclusively as fuel during the demonstration This is a pure petroleum gas available to homes beyond the gas mains. It is stored in cylinders outside the home and piped directly to the gas range in the kitchen. When one cylinder is exhausted the other supplies the range and the first is replaced.

IMPROVES RESIDENCE PROPERTY

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen have improved their residence property north of the new school building by having some walks built on and adjacent to their premises One walk, an extension from the school walk has been installed along the west side of their property, and a winding walk has been placed from their house to the street walk.

Musical Program

AT THE
KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Sunday, September 29
10:00 A. M.

MRS. ERNEST GERARDI, Director
Irene Becker and Mildred Thieman, Pianists

e	Mrs. E. A. Gerardi
g Song	Mixed Chorus
re Reading	Raymond Barz
ly Father Infinite In Mercy"	Mixed Chorus
Builder"	Men's Chorus
iful Savior"	Ladies' Chorus
ion Solo	Mr. E. A. Gerardi
s Perfect And Just"	Mixed Chorus
Harp Solo	Irene Becker
Lovely Are Thy Dwellings"	Ladies' Chorus
iful Dreamer"	Raymond Barz, Edwin Thieman, Ronald Barz, Milvern Barz
ion Quartet	Arlene Schmidt, Eloise Etchen, Mr. & Mrs. Gerardi
r Perfect" / This House"	Lorraine Buntenbach, Elaine Buntebach, Carmen Kluckhohn
ng The Bar"	Men's Chorus
ry	Eugene Haberkamp
l Extol Thee"	Mixed Chorus
ba Solo	Irene Becker
of St Mary's"	Mixed Chorus
mental Trio . . . . . Irene Becker. Mr. and Mrs. Gerardi
The Day Is Over"	Mixed Chorus
Bless America"	Mixed Chorus
ction and Doxology

Choir Personnel

SOPRANO

Elsie Thieman
Marian Irvine
Della Kaduce
Ruby Wille
Adela Wille
Wilma Swalve
Stella Thieman
Lillian Knoke
Lorraine Buntenbach
Gladys Frogg
Mrs. Harvey Barz
Mrs. E. Josten
Eloise Etchen
Helen Albers
Lucille Hartbeck
Irene Schmidt
Mrs. Albert Etchen
Mrs. J. Kaduce
Maxine Mau
Mrs. D. Day

ALTO

Mildred Thieman
Viola Thieman
Luella Thieman
Arlene Schmidt
Arlene Wille
Velma Kaduce
Mrs. C. Grosshuesch
Mabel Schuldt
Ecrtrude Grosshuesch
Avis Barz
Carmen Kluckhohn
Elaine Buntenbach

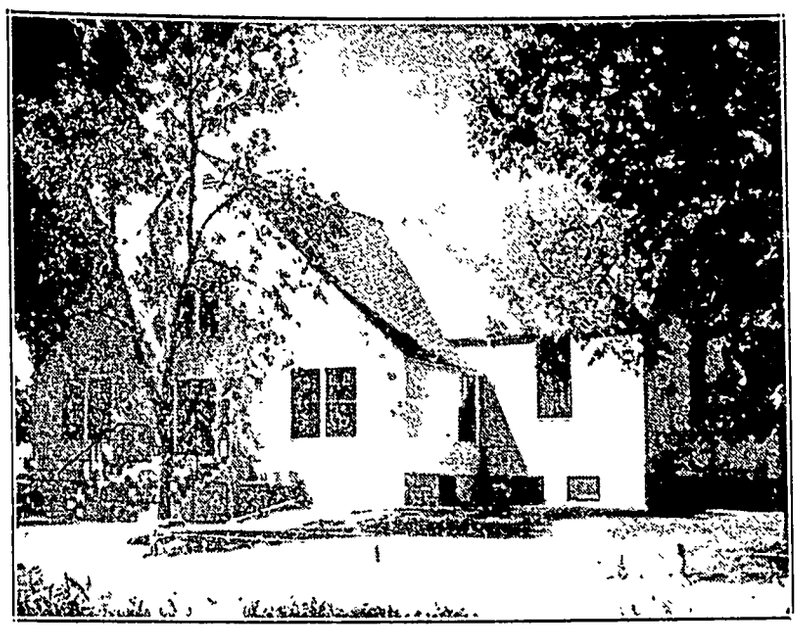
BASS

Harvey Barz
Ronald Barz
Milvern Barz
Mitchell Bock
Allen Barz
Fredrick Bell
Calvin Grosshuesch
Raymond Swalve
Leo Brinkman
Verner Lau
Roy Baack
Theodore Kaduce
Marvin Barz
LeRoy Bamman

TENOR

Paul Thieman
Raymond Wille
Aaron Wille
Henry Kaduce
John Kaduce
Eugene Haberkamp
Raymond Barz
Lowell Mau
Garland Brinkman
Harold Swalve
Edwin Thieman
Winton Etchen

Klemme's Community Hall



Formal dedication of Klemme's new $20,000 Community Hall will be held this week Thursday beginning at 2:00 P. M. when a program will be held after which the public will inspect the new building and be treated to hot coffee and doughnuts by the Legion Auxiliary. A dance will be held in the evening.

Dedication Program
OF THE
Klemme Community Hall
Will Be Held At The Hall On Thursday, September 26th
Beginning At 2:00 P. M.

Music ..... Klemme High School Band
Bernard Onerheim, Director
Invocation ..... Rev. Grosshuesch
Introduction of Guests ..... Commander D. P. Anderson
Music ..... Klemme High School Band
Bernard Onerheim, Director
Community Singing ..... Lead by Ira Overholt
Marimba Solo ..... Irene Becker
Greeting from W.P.A. ..... Mr. Pyne
Regional Director, St. Paul, Minn.
Presentation of Building ..... Mr. Armour
State Director, Fort Dodge, Ia.
Acceptance of Building ..... Paul Grange
Mayor of Town of Klemme
Community Spirit ..... W. C. Keraus
Pres. of Civic Club
Dedicatory Address ..... Ray Murray
Admin. Assistant of Iowa W.P.A.
Violin Solo ..... Jacqueline Kudje
Benediction ..... Rev. Zabilka

Free doughnuts and coffee by the American Legion Auxiliary

W. P. A. PROJECT FOR PARKING LOT IS APPROVED FOR KLEMME

Local officials were notified Friday that the proposed parking lot across the street west from the new Community Hall has been given an O. K. by the goverment and a force of workers will put to work on the project in a few days.

Will Be Well Lighted

The parking area will be adequately lighted. The Central States Electric Company are furnishing poles, lines. fixtures and labor for the entire lighting system.

Builds New Cottage On Wisconsin Lake Shore

Dr. and Mrs. W F. Missman returned last Thursday from Land O' Lakes, Wisconsin, where they spent a few days at their cottage on a lake near that town.

They had their old cottage torn down some time ago and now have a nice new cottage erected on their lake front property.

Dr. Byrnes Missman, of Garner, were with them and the two doc's managed to get m some fishing along with chopping down trees and doing other work around the cottage, which they closed for the season.

John J. Stille Funeral Will Be Held Friday

Funeral services for John J. Stille, 72, who died in a Mason City hospital Tuesday afternoon following an operation of nearly a week ago, will be held at the Liberty Methodist Church at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon in charge of the Wellemeyer Funeral Service. Rev. Wm. Zabilka will preach the sermon and interment will be in the Klemme Cemetery.

Mr. Stille. who has been in ill health for some time, leaves besides his wife, seven children, eleven grand children and other relatives.

The obituary will be printed in The Times next week.

Klemme Ladies Attended Meeting At Cedar Rapids

Tuesday the following ladies attended a meeting of the Iowa Womens Society of the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Cedar Rapids: Mrs. Alvin Goll, Mrs. Harvey Barz, Mrs. Walter Rosendahl, and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch. Mrs. Herbert Greiman accompanied them and went to Iowa City for a visit with her son, Dennis, who is a patient at the University Hospital.

Good Hunting Is Predicted For North Iowa Duck Shooters

TEACHERS WILL SPONSOR BENEFIT SCHOOL PROGRAM

A real ventriloquist will be in Klemme next Monday evening, September 30, when Carl Burgess will present his novelty show at the school gymnasium. Burgess performs his acts of ventriloquism with the aid of Andy, his wooden-headed stooge, whose only real competitor is Charlie McCarthy.

Mr. Burgess also features the wonder dog, Brownie, in a series of entertaining acts. He also presents a program of magic and mystery.

The music department of the Klemme school will furnish two or three numbers to complete the evening's entertainment and round out the program to a length of about two hours.

The show is being sponsored by the school faculty in an effort to raise funds to equip the teachers' rest room. The benefit will not be the teachers alone, however, as the room will also be used to accomodate students who are sick. A radio, which the teachers plan to buy as a part of the equipment, will also be used for class instuction.

PIANO STUDENTS ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

Friday evening, Sept. 20, the piano students of grade school age, entertained their mothers at a Music Social Hour at the home of Mrs. E. A. Gerardi. The following students played on the program:

Donna Robertson, Peggy Coobs, Maxine Barz. Lois Ann Lua, Helen Pringnitz Harry Pringnitz, Jr., Lois Stille, Velma Johnson, Donald Schaefer, Elizabeth Goll, Doris Clene, Dorothy Clene, Luella Priebe, Dean Jacobs, Donna Hevilin, Phyllis Kirkwood and Marvin Schmidt.

After the program a lunch was served and prizes were given to the winners of the contest held during the summer.

Donna Robertson and Maxine Barz were awarded first and second prizes. Peggy Coobs and Lois Ann Lau were very close and also received small awards.

SWALVE ESTATE SOLD TUESDAY AT AUCTION

The Swalve Estate, consisting of land, buildings and a town residence were sold at public auction Tuesday afternoon.

Sylvanuse Walker purchased the 240 acre farm and buildings for $85 per acre. Mrs. Dick Swalve purchased the unimproved 80 acres at $39 per acre, and Emil Patet purchased the town property for $2,265.

WATERFOWL HUNTING SEASON OPENS OCT. 16 TO DEC. 14th IN IOWA

Following Are The Regulations Governing Bag Limit, Etc.

Liberalized regulations for waterfowl shooting announced recently by the Department of Interior will give Iowa nimrods a longer hunting season, sunrise shooting and a longer post-season possession limit for waterfowl.

The hunting season in Iowa will open at sunrise on Otcober 16 and remain open to December 14, giving gunners 60 days of shooting. Limit on geese was set at 3 birds daily this season. Last year hunters were allowed 4 geese each day. Otherwise, regulations will be much the same as those in effect last season.

There will be a closed season on woodducks, Ross's geese and swans. Canvasbacks, redheads, bufflehead and ruddy ducks again will be afforded special protection. Hunters will be allowed to take not more than 3 in the aggregate of these species each day.

Bag limit on ducks is set at 10 with a possession limit of 20. Hunters will be allowed 3 geese per day or 6 in possession. Daily bag limit on coot is set at 25; while the daily bag of jacksnipe is limited to 15.

The daily bag limit on ducks again has been set at 10 while possession limit is 20. This year, though, waterfowl may be kept in possession for 20 days after the close of the waterfowl season.

Shooting hours will be from sunrise to 4 P. M. each day. Jacksnipe hunters, however, will be allowed to hunt snipe until sundown. The use of bait or live decoys remains illegal in waterfowl shooting.

The three-shell limit remains in effect and any automatic or repeating shotguns used must be plugged to conform to this ruling. All waterfowl hunters will be required to possess a Federal Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp. Known more familiarly as the "duck stamp," the stamps cost a dollar and may be obtained at your post office.

The State Conservation Commission is compiling a table of sunrise times for the open season. This table will be sent to newspapers, county recorders and conservation officers to inform hunters of sunrise times in their localities.

GOOD ADVICE!

University of Pennsylvania Celebrating Two Hundredth Anniversary of Founding

By GEO. L. SIMPSON SR.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

TWO centuries of growth are being marked by the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia this month with a week of celebration from September 16 to 21.

The celebration includes symposia and professional conferences, cultural and scientific exhibits, laboratory and clinical demonstrations, and convocations for the conferring of honorary degrees. More than 500 colleges, universities and learned societies are represented at the celebration by official delegates.

Among the recipients of honorary degrees are President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Sir Lyman Poore Duff, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, while the list of distinguished guests also includes 200 American and European scholars and leaders in various fields.

F. D. R.

The symposia and conferences, which constitute the program of the Bicentennial conference being held as a part of the September week celebration, are being featured by lectures and papers in six general fields—the fine arts, humanities, medical sciences, natural sciences, religion, and the social sciences.

The offerings in the field of the humanities are designed to bring out the continuity of culture, while in the other fields the objective is to reveal the trends of modern thought and the advances of science.

Former President Herbert Clark Hoover, Henry A. Wallace, the Democratic nominee for vice president, Hu Shih, the Chinese ambassador, Dr. Frank Baldwin Jewett, president of the Bell Telephone laboratories and president of the National Academy of Sciences; Dr. Elmer V. McCollum, co-discoverer of vitamin A, and Dr. Jacques Maritain, famous French author and philosopher, are a few of the many noted speakers on the program of the conference.

Many Graduates Return.

The symposia and conferences of the Bicentennial conference claims a major portion of attention during the first days of the Bicentennial week celebration. At the same time, the program has been so arranged as to provide an opportunity for all to attend the various other events scheduled for the same period as well as to view the special bicentennial exhibits, demonstrations and clinics, and to enjoy tours of the campus, according to Robert T. McCracken, chairman.

Hundreds of the university's graduates and former students are attending the opening of class reunions Wednesday and Thursday, while on the latter day Pennsylvania's undergraduates greet student delegates from colleges and universities throughout the country.

Ten thousand alumni and alumnae of Pennsylvania join in paying tribute to the university on Friday morning, September 20, at a bicentennial meeting in the dormitory quadrangle In the afternoon there is another impressive meeting, including a convocation of university council in Convention hall.

Addresses Given.

The morning program in the quadrangle includes addresses by Dr.

Franklin field, mammoth stadium of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, has been the scene of many historic football games. At right is pictured Robert T. McCracken, chairman of the bicentennial planning committee for the university's 200th anniversary, being celebrated this month.

Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, former United States Sen. George Wharton Pepper, an alumnus and trustee of the university, and Thomas I. Parkinson, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society of the United States, who is chairman of the National Alumni Bicentennial committee.

Presentation of the bicentennial fund; addresses by representatives of the student body; and selections by the university band and glee club feature the program. Ralph Morgan, president of the General Alumni society, is presiding.

President Roosevelt and Sir Lyman Poore Duff receive honorary degrees and deliver addresses at the convocation in Convention hall on Friday afternoon.

In addition, Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme Court of the United States, who is an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, is delivering an address, and the bicentennial poem is being presented by its author, Edward W. Mumford, secretary of the university.

Water Carnival Staged.

A bicentennial river pageant and water carnival is being staged Friday night on the Schuylkill river in Fairmount park. A fireworks display, crew races, and a parade of floats depicting various phases of the university's life make up the program. Many former university oarsmen are taking part.

The University of Pennsylvania traces its origin to a "charity school" for which a building was erected in Philadelphia in 1740. Nine years later, after the publication of Benjamin Franklin's "Proposals Relating to the Education of Youth in Pennsylvania," there was established an academy with which the charity school was combined.

Franklin served as the first president of the academy's trustees, and so successful was the undertaking that in 1753 a charter was obtained in the name of the "Academy and Charitable School in the Province of Pennsylvania."

Charter Granted in 1755.

In 1755 a "confirmatory charter" incorporating "The College, Academy and Charitable School" was granted by Thomas and Richard Penn, and the institution continued under that name until 1779, when the state legislative body changed the corporate title to "Trustees of the University of the State of Pennsylvania."

Later the rights and properties were restored to the trustees of the college, with the university still continuing, and in 1791 an act was passed amalgamating the old college with the new university and providing that the name of the institution be "The University of Pennsylvania," the corporate title it now holds.

The buildings first used by the university were at Fourth and Arch streets in Philadelphia. During a period of 15 months in 1777 and 1778 these buildings were used by British troops and the college was closed. At another time the buildings were occupied by soldiers in the Continental army.

Washington Attended Exercises.

In 1778 congress met in the Old College hall, and members of the congress, George Washington, and others prominent in early history of the country, attended the public functions and commencement exercises.

The university itself contributed many men who played distinguished parts in the making of a new nation. In the Continental congress, for instance, were Allen, Mifflin, John and Lambert Cadwalader, Peters, Bingham, and Smith of Pennsylvania, Hopkinson, Neilson, and Sargeant of New Jersey, Paca, Seney, and Hindman of Maryland, Williamson and Hill of North Carolina, and others

Signers of the Declaration of Independence included the following Pennsylvania men Benjamin Franklin, Robert Morris, George Clymer, James Wilson, Benjamin Rush, Thomas McKean, John Penn, Francis Hopkinson, William Paca, and James Smith.

Many Distinguished Graduates.

In the War of the Revolution the university contributed many graduates who distinguished themselves, among them being Maj. Gen. Anthony Wayne, Brig Gen John Cadwalader, Maj Gen. Thomas Mifflin, Dr. John Morgan, director general and physician in chief of the hospital of the American army, Maj. Gen. Philemon Dickinson, Maj Gen. J. P. G. Muhlenberg, Richard Peters, first secretary of war, Benjamin Stoddert, first secretary of the navy, and Lieut Col Tench Tilghman, aide and secretary to Washington

The university was also well represented among those who later sat in the Constitutional convention, the group of Pennsylvanians there including Benjamin Franklin, Robert Morris, James Wilson, Thomas Mifflin, George Clymer, Jared Ingersoll, John Dickinson, Thomas Fitzsimons and Hugh Williamson.

The university, of which Dr. Thomas S. Gates now is president, also has an outstanding record of leadership in the pursuit of new ventures in education.

First Medical School.

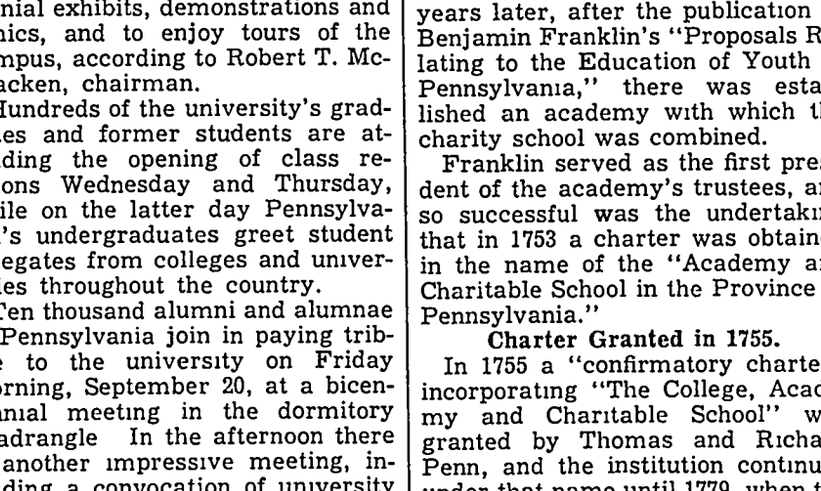
The first school of medicine in North America was founded at the university in 1765, and the first department of botany in this country had its origin there three years later. The first teaching hospital was established at the university in 1874

The Wharton school of finance and commerce, established at Pennsylvania in 1881, was the first university school of business, and in 1896 the first psychological clinic in the world was established at the university.

In 1910 the first department of research medicine was started in connection with the university's school of medicine, and in 1916 the first comprehensive graduate school of medicine was established.

The University of Pennsylvania has occupied three sites in Philadelphia in the course of its history, at one time being housed in a mansion built for the President of the United States. The university moved to the west bank of the Schuylkill in 1872 It is this tract of 120 acres which contains most of the 190 units of the university community.

U. S. Agriculture at Present Time



DOMESTIC CONSUMER DEMAND GOOD, FOREIGN DEMAND POOR FARMERS AVERAGING HIGHER PRICES FOR MILK OR BETTER CONSUMER DEMAND, PRODUCTION AT HIGH LEVELS EXPORTS DAIRY PRODUCTS INCREASING
WHEAT SUPPLY ESTIMATE INCREASED PRICES SUPPORTED BY GOVERNMENT LOANS
FEWER CATTLE ON FEED THIS FALL AND WINTER, SMALLER MARKETINGS GRAIN-FED CATTLE IN EARLY 1941
FEED GRAIN SUPPLY PER ANIMAL ON FARMS ABOUT SAME AS LAST YEAR
PRODUCTION OF APPLES SMALLER THIS YEAR, CITRUS FRUITS LARGER SMALLER PIG CROP THIS FALL THAN LAST, HOG PRICES DOING BETTER IN RECENT WEEKS
EXPORTS FARM PRODUCTS REDUCED BY EUROPEAN WAR
MARKETINGS OF LAMBS INCREASED, PRICES SUPPORTED BY IMPROVED CONSUMER DEMAND GOOD DOMESTIC OUTLOOK FOR COTTON CONSUMPTION, EXPORT PROSPECTS UNFAVORABLE PRICES SUPPORTED BY GOVERNMENT LOANS
TOTAL FARM PRODUCTION A LITTLE SMALLER THIS YEAR, BUT SUPPLIES MORE THAN ENOUGH FOR DOMESTIC NEEDS
FARM INCOME RISES SHARPLY THIS MONTH ESTIMATED TOTAL FOR YEAR 8.9 BILLION DOLLARS IS SECOND LARGEST IN DECADE
POTATO MARKETS TO IMPROVE AS LATE CROP IS SOLD PLENTY OF FRESH VEGETABLES AVAILABLE THIS FALL
SEPTEMBER 1940
BUREAU OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS

The above map, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, summarizes the present condition of agricultural activity and markets throughout the nation.

London Called World's Best Air Target

WASHINGTON.—Terse headlines of "London Bombed" are reminders that England's capital is in some ways the most difficult in the world to defend, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"Because London's clay soil forbids high skyscrapers, its growth has spread out laterally to cover 692 square miles, exceeding the combined areas of New York city, Chicago, and Philadelphia. Berlin is only half as vast a target, Paris less than a third as large.

"London's great lateral expansion means that a bomb dropped within a 15-mile radius of Charing Cross and the Towers of Parliament hits an urban population of 11,855 per square mile. For more than three miles around Westminster, the central core of London supports 37,580 people per square mile.

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

Talk

New Yorkers are talking about:—

The Lindbergh the Lindberghs are expecting in November . . . Vincent Astor's marriage soon to Mary Cushing, the former Roosevelt sister-in-law.

The way Orson Welles accompanies Dolores Del Rio to the beauty parlor and reads Shakespeare to her while she's being improved . . . The rumors that Sen. Rush Holt may be Mrs. C. Vanderbilt Jr.'s next —after her divorce is final . . . How only a few weeks ago the British "were hanging on by their fingertips, but now they're hanging on by their elbows."

Clare Boothe's new book, "Europe in the Spring"—a blast at the "Social Americans" she encountered in Paris, etc., just before the invasion. She names names.

Bombs

The three bombs allegedly discovered in the main A. T. & T. Bldg. recently, but hushed up. It is now being protected by many more guards and sandbags, as though this were London, Rome or Berlin . . The United States army's 250 Boeing fortresses which bomb accurately from 20,000 feet. If the English were as fortunate as Americans are, they could bring Hitler to his knees in no time.

The fist fight between Willie and Eugene Howard last week, which now keeps them from talking offstage.

The important mystery flights between Washington, D. C., and San Diego by Howard Hughes . . . The 190 planes quietly sent to Canada (to be flown to England) for the Norwegian gov't there!

Town Hall members' demand that Dr. Carl Eggers' Mrs. be removed from its board of trustees . . . because Dr. Eggers' name has been linked with Nazis.

Ex-French Premier Blum's new address: The Hotel Sevilla, Havana . . . The fact that Hitler is quietly grooming a dictator for France and that the present grand maneuver of the Red army means that Stalin is readying a new strike almost immediately.

Memos to a Girl Friday

R. B.: Check with the city desk on Westrick's alleged successor. I phoned it to Mr. MacDonald the other night, and he said he had assigned two of the Mirror's best reporters to tail him. Has the paper found out his present address? He checked out Saturday, but his sec'y "calls for his mail every morning" . . . Tell the boss the Jackie Coogan matter is not set, although Coogan told chums he was through with show business and was going to work in Honolulu for a pineapple firm . . Cap't Rieber, late of the Texaco outfit, has reconciled with his son since the recent jam over Westrick. I saw the cap't dining with that former silent film actress the other day . . Check with the morgue about Roosevelt's 1928 election for governor. Understand that a matter of 28,000 votes made a political career.

Swastika

Thank Allan Jones for the recording of "Falling in Love With Love," very tuneful, etc. . . . Did the wire services run anything about Swastika, N. M., changing its name to Brilliant? . Tip the art section (for excellent cheese-cakes) that Billy Rose and Buddy Desylva may have their own war over several of Billy's best-looking gals planning to quit the Horseshoe for "Panama Hattie" . . . Billie is hollering, but loud.

Kidnap

Carl Brisson, the actor, says the talk bout his receiving $5,000 from his father (the Danish prime minister) by way of Berlin is true up to point, but that he didn't get a penny of it. The U. S. took it—dunno know why . . . Remember Murray Levine, the Westchester lawyer, who lost his son in that tragic kidnap case? Mr. Levine now devotes much of his time to child refugee work.

Hero

Get me a copy of Fashion, the issue containing a piece by Mrs. John Gunther, an affectionate article called "Inside Gunther," on their forthcoming parting for at least five months Call Shipwreck Kelly Check if he is selling his stock in the Brooklyn Dodgers football team to a magazine executive Tell Zanuck Dean Jaggers' acting in "Brigham Young" is immense, and that I know that's no scoop.

Bodyguard

Ask the sports dep't for background about a bird named Stafford, former pugilist. Joe McNazi hired him as a bodyguard, and had him stay up (next to his bed) all night while the brave Joe slept. The routine kept him bodyguarding mornings, too, and Stafford wound up in the Manhattan Hospital for the whacky . The Bronx district attorney's office has the story . Tell the lady that Peter Greig, the wine importer, raised $2,300.

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

WNU Service

THE WAR BY RADIO

Dear Ed.—

Well, I have been following the war almost a year now by listening to radio broadcasts, and all I can make out is that it is a gigantic struggle between the breakfast food, nickel cigar, hair tonic, railroad watch, ice cream, salad oil, savings bank and soap interests.

* * *

I thought it was a fight between philosophies and systems, but what I mean is that you could never prove it to me by what comes out of my radio set. I have spent the whole of 1940 listening to the radio war news, and as the situation now stands the Nazis are better off in coconut-covered confectionery and part-Havana-leaf stogies, while the democracies are ahead in point on scalp oils, stop watches and the breakfast food that has four vitamins, from what I can grasp.

* * *

You wrote me that your radio has been on the bum and would I tell you what has been going on, so I am glad to give you my impression. Last night I hear that the Greek dictator, some fellow named Bounds, has had a conference with three Turkish leaders rich in proteins, headed by Meatena, over the sinking of a couple of Greek ships named Vim and Vigor. It looks like Greece may be taken over and divided between the Tastee Gum Drop alliance and the Open a Checking Account With Us for Any Sum From a Dollar Up bunch.

* * *

There is not much new from Africa. Mussolini has took Fruity Bars, Blue Owl and Fair Humor by direct assault, but the British are holding onto the Smoothier and Glossier Hair Area, and Berlin is remaining aloof. I don't know whether it is aloof of white or rye. The thing to watch is whether the British lose the Pure and Delicious Suez canal, which is rich in those qualities what gives you energy and ambition and a clear complexion, on sale at all leading drug stores, but pretty vulnerable from the air.

* * *

I don't seem to make much out of the situation in France. Petain, the marshal with that rich, creamy quality, has named a court to try six Frenchmen and a whopping stick of chocolate that comes in three sizes. The French government would like to leave Vichy and the watch that is the official timepiece of 11 railroads and move back to Paris and the soup that comes in 11 flavors at 10 cents a can. I don't know what will come of it all on account of I use a dollar watch and do not care for soup except vegetable, home made.

* * *

Personally, I think the situation is very confused and that no good will come of it for us, no matter what we smoke or eat, but I think congress should top stalling and pass a conscription law which has at least Vitamin C in it. I also favor letting England have 50 full-flavored destroyers and a case of Meatena in return for Bermuda, a year's supply of Dr. Whoziss's Tooth Powder and any good peachnut ice cream.

Yours,
Luke.

* * *

TOOT! TOOT!
("Railroads to Sell Tickets on Installment Plan."—Headline).

Oh, give a thought to Wilbur Gaines,
He travels on the choo-choo trains;
He travels far to see sights new—
And does it on an I. O. U.

He grabs a train to Buffalo
Without a thought about the dough;
He goes to Frisco or Pen Yan
And does it on the credit plan.

* * *

The Westinghouse Electric company is exhibiting "Sparky," a mechanical dog which sits up and begs at the odor of an all-hot. And there probably will be some man mean enough to feed it a mechanical frankfurter and roll.

* * *

A big laugh comes in a Broadway musical when Jack Haley, the comedian, during a scene in a haunted barn, is advised, "If you see anything suspicious, just call 'Oh, Alexander!' And Haley replies, 'Don't wait for the Alexander; just come in on the Oh!' "

* * *

MOVIE

He holds her hand . . .
Wedding bells . . .
Rockbound coast . . .
Citadels . . .
Knife in teeth,
He drives away
Savages
And she's okay.

Ruth Page.

* * *

Ima Dodo can't quite make out which is in the tougher spot, the British empire or the New York Yankees.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON & ROBERT

Washington

APPEASEMENT

It is no secret that months one of the foremo ers in Anglo-American ci the ebullient ard able Jo rick Kennedy, U S. amb the court of St James's felt that if war continued, ent capitalistic system wo that it would be better to semi-defeat now than lose

Until recently, however sador Kennedy has bee much alone Now, howeve have reached the war and partments of an appeasem inside high British financ and inside the admiralty

How far this appeasem tude prevails is almost i to ascertain However, putable fact is that suc have been made officially is the substance of what tain

1. British naval officers to the war, heartsick o vessels every day, strug perately to stave off inv wondering whether they ar er all, really fight on for t States, whether after the Britain is over, England, e invaded, will not be help ing the United States with intact ready to reap all nomic and strategic adv the war's aftermath.

2. Furthermore, even if able to prevent invasion British naval and milita gists doubt very much wh United States will be willi bombers and attack plan help next spring when the begin all over again

British Factories Dam

3. There has been mu damage to British factorie news indicates And as thi tion daily mounts into mill ish financial leaders figu take years for Britain to r economic empire Mean markets will be lost to t States This is the sentim prevailed among Dutch ba which led to the surrend land

4. Furthermore, there h talks in Wall Street by Naz emissaries which lead Bri ness men to believe that t States may make a deal wi So some British tycoons whether they should not do perhaps even get there fir

5 Finally there has be underground criticism o Minister Churchill for away British bases in the hemisphere But even mo tant, the admiralty was patient over the slowness ferring 50 destroyers which ish sea-dogs believe are of to the United States and w life or death for England. that these destroyers were when the British navy beli Willkie has virtually sa is fighting also for the sal United States, has caused sentiment in the admiralty

Churchill Will Fight

To get the other side o ture, however it should that none of this sentime in the mind of Churchill his cabinet The Churchil ment has made it clear i sations with the Roosevelt tration that it is working long-term co-operation United States

Furthermore it is prob about 90 per cent of the Br lic—perhaps even 99 per ce termined to see the war th the finish They do not tr and figure that any half-w would only put them in th desperate plight of France

* * *

WILLKIE AND PR

Gifted with a keen ne and not afraid to talk, Wen kie is popular with the covering him Now and t ever, he speaks his mind something written about Greeting one newsman barked, "You've been wri fiction about me"

"Well," replied the rep a grin, "you're quite a character."

Willkie laughed and said

* * *

STENOGS

In July of last year, th ment hired 430 "female" phers and typists. In Ju year, the number was trip The various defense age calling for stenographers that old-line agencies a some of their best and workers Executives retur August holidays find the in defense work at highe

The turnover is tremend Civil Service commission no less than 3,000 stenogra typists in a recent mon more thousands are mov the Civil Service lists.

When the lists were clos exam, at mid-August, th applicants had reached thi figure of 135,000

NOTE—Salaries paid by ernment are for sec or pher, $1,620, for jun or steno $1,440, for sen or typist, $1,2.0 jun or typist, $1,2.0

This 1940 Campaign May Seem Exciting But It's Pretty Tame Compared to the Riotous Harrison-Van Buren Race in 1840

ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WITH two such colorful personalities as President Roosevelt and dell Willkie as opposing idates and the third term supplying material for ed debate, this year's paign promises to be one of the hottest presiial contests in recent s. But it is doubtful if it be as exacting as the one h stirred America 100 s ago when Martin Van n was the Democratic inee and Gen. William ry Harrison was the mpion of the Whigs.

hough the campaigns of 1840 1940 are a full century apart, offer some interesting paral-

In both cases there has a crossing of party lines in e selection of presidential ice presidential candidates. 340 Harrison's running mate e Whig ticket was John Ty- a Democrat. In 1940 the ocratic vice presidential inee is a former Republican the Republican candidate for ident is a former Democrat. 1840 the Democrats, who had in power for 12 years, were g to keep a President in the e House for another four s. Opposed to them was a g, vigorous party which had defeated four years earlier. 940 the Democrats, who have in power for eight years, trying to extend that period years under the same lead- Pitted against them is a re- nated Republican party, ing to stage a comeback aft- wo successive defeats.

A 'Packed' Convention.

r a proper understanding of tumultuous 1840 campaign it ecessary to go back to the presidential race. Before nd of his second term Presi- Andrew Jackson had deter- d to make Vice President tin Van Buren his successor he White House. So "Old tory" arranged to have a inating convention held a r and a half before the elec- . By "packing" this conven- which was held in Baltimore May, 1835, with delegates h he controlled, Jackson dic- d the nomination of Van Bu- for President and Richard M. nson of Kentucky for vice ident despite the opposition of southern wing of the party. wing bolted the party and inated Sen. Hugh L. White of nessee for President and John r of Virginia for vice presi- t.

MARTIN VAN BUREN

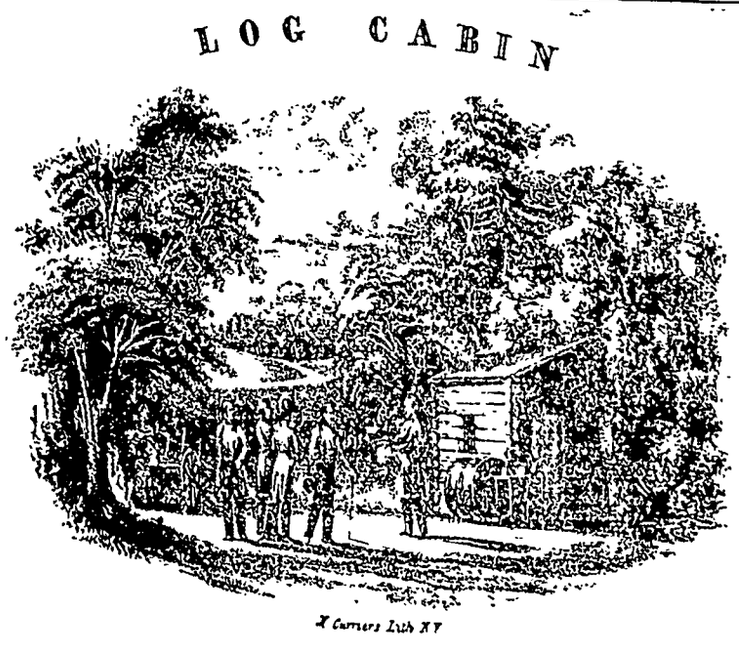
espite this defection in the y ranks, Van Buren and John- managed to win the election 836 because the Whigs were split. They had nominated . William Henry Harrison of for President and Francis nger for vice president, but e was another Whig ticket in field headed by Daniel Web- of Massachusetts for Presi- t and the same vice presiden- nominee, Francis Granger. the election Van Buren car- 15 states and received 170 toral votes, enough to win for over Harrison's 73 electoral es, Webster's 14, White's 26, the 11 of South Carolina h went to Willis P. Mangum North Carolina.

An Unhappy Administration.

an Buren's administration an unhappy one. He inherit- all of the difficulties growing of Jackson's financial policies. n came the panic of 1837 h resulted from a boom pe- eaused by the craze for in- al improvements. Despite e troubles and a growing dis- ion within the Democratic y, Van Buren managed to the nomination for re-election 840.

he Whigs again nominated rison and, in an attempt to at- t the dissatisfied Democrats heir banner, they chose for



LOG CABIN

H. Carmers Lith. N.Y.

OR

TIPPECANOE WALTZ.

COMPOSED AND RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED TO

GEN! Wm H. HARRISON,

BY

Wm C. RAYNER

TROY

Published by John C Andrews.

Title page of a campaign song of 1840.

Harrison's running mate the Democrat John Tyler. Harrison's military record was his chief recommendation as a presidential candidate. The son of Benjamin Harrison of Virginia, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, he had joined the army as an ensign at the age of 19, and had served against the Indians in Ohio under St. Clair and Wayne. In 1795 he was promoted to captain and placed in command of Fort Washington on the present site of Cincinnati.

Two years later he resigned his commission and was appointed secretary of the Northwest Territory from which in 1790 he was chosen a delegate to congress. When the territory was divided in 1801 he was made governor of the new Territory of Indiana and in that position won the victory over the Indians which gave him the sobriquet of "Old Tippecanoe."

At the outbreak of the War of 1812 he was appointed brigadier general, placed in command of the Northwest frontier and defeated the British and Indians at the Battle of the Thames at which the famous Shawnee chief, Tecumseh, was killed. Promoted to the rank of major-general, he resigned from the army in 1816 when he was elected to congress from Ohio. After serving three years in congress, he was elected a state senator in 1819 and five years later he was sent to the United States senate. In 1828 he was appointed minister to Colombia but he was recalled when Jackson became President.

A Candidate Minus a Platform.

In nominating Harrison for President in 1840 the Whigs failed to provide him with any platform of party principles for the very good reason that they had none except that of wanting to be in power. But, as it turned out, they didn't need a platform.

Despite the fact that there was great dissatisfaction with Van Buren's administration, largely due to the depression which followed the panic of 1837 and a growing feeling that Van Buren had become "too aristocratic" for the common people, the Democrats might easily have won the election. They were the party in power, had all the resources of patronage and their leader was known as the "Little Magician," a tribute to his astuteness as a politician.

But Van Buren's followers made several very bad political blunders and the Whigs were quick to take advantage of them. One of the Whig newspapers, which was not very enthusiastic about the party's candidate, printed the statement that "give him a barrel of hard cider and a pension of $2,000 a year and, our word for it, he will sit the remainder of his days in a log cabin by the side of a 'sea coal' fire and study moral philosophy."

Candidate of the 'Plain People.'

Despite the fact that Harrison lived as a well-to-do country gentleman at his home, North Bend, in Ohio, the Whigs industriously cultivated the idea that he lived in a log cabin, toiled in the fields as a simple farmer and was indeed one of the "plain people." In contrast to his simplicity was the palatial luxury in which the aristocratic Van Buren was said to be living at the White House.

Whig orators denounced the Democratic candidate's extravagance. They declared he was "maintaining a royal establishment at the cost of the nation. Will the people feel inclined to support their chief servant in a palace as splendid as that of the Caesars and as richly adorned as the proudest Asiatic mansion?"

Instead of defending their candidate from such exaggerated charges as this, the Democrats added fuel to the flame by the names they called Harrison—"a super-annuated old woman," "a pitiable dotard," "a granny," "a red-petticoat general," and "the hero of forty defeats." All of this, plus the Whigs depicting him as a great military hero and a simple farmer, served to endear Harrison to the "common pee-pul," especially the farmers and backwoodsmen.

The alliterative "Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too!" became their favorite slogan and when they weren't shouting that, they were chanting "Van, Van is a used-up man!" or "With Tip and Tyler, We'll Bust Van's Biler!"

A Stirring Symbol.

Not only did the Whigs have such effective slogans as those quoted above but they also had a striking symbol for their cause.

W H Harrison

They mounted log cabins on wheels and drew them through the streets with teams of white horses. At their rallies hard cider was freely dispensed—in fact, the campaign of 1840 has come down in history as the "Log Cabin-Hard Cider Campaign."

Never before—and never since—had there been such a noisy campaign and one so completely dominated by emotion. And so William Henry Harrison was borne into the White House on this flood of ballyhoo (even though that word hadn't yet been coined). But it was a hollow victory for the Whigs. Within a month after Harrison's inauguration, he died—and John Tyler, the Democrat, became President. Throughout his administration he quarreled with the leaders of the party that had elected him. So four years later they turned at last to Henry Clay but he was defeated by James K. Polk, the Democratic nominee, and the first "dark horse" in American political history.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THOSE little red schoolhouses at the cross roads—if there are any left—will soon be able to give concerts by some of the greatest musicians in the world, and their pupils will be able to see the musicians as well as hear them.

Rudolph Polk, vice president of Columbia Broadcasting System's artists bureau, recently announced the formation of Artists' Films, Inc., which will make 21 musical short subjects, and issue these one-reelers in groups of three, as concerts.

Contracts have been signed with Albert Spaulding, Jose Iturbi (that favorite guest of the Bing Crosby broadcasts), Mildred Dilling, the distinguished harpist, and several others. Commitments have also been made with several Metropolitan Opera singers, including Helen Jepson, Gladys Swarthout, Richard Bonelli and Frederick Jaegel, and at the moment efforts are being made to sign Lily Pons, Nino Martini, Mischa Elman, Josef Hofmann and Efrem Zimbalist. The first group is scheduled for release October 1.

JOSE ITURBI

—*—

The time has come when Frankie Burke wishes that he didn't look like James Cagney. The resemblance got him into movies a couple of seasons ago, when he played Cagney as a boy of 12 in Warner Brothers' "Angels With Dirty Faces." He went on from there, doing the same kind of role for other studios.

Now, as Wayne Morris' roommate in Paramount's "Quarterback," he's persuaded the director to let him forget the Cagney mannerisms; he wants to get parts because he can play them well.

—*—

Loretta Young is convinced that Mexican fans' appreciation of movie stars is more embarrassing than flattering. When she slipped into a theater to see her Columbia comedy "He Stayed for Breakfast," the film was stopped and the lights went on, so that the audience could see her in person. And she was wearing the old clothes in which she'd gone fishing.

—*—

Even if the names of directors of pictures don't mean a thing to you, you'd better make a note of one—Preston Sturges. He's no newcomer—a playwright, the author of "Strictly Dishonorable" among other hits, he's written plenty of movie dramas and had experience as a director.

His name should be remembered because he wrote and directed "Down Went McGinty," one of the funniest and best pictures that has been launched in some time. He didn't want any big stars or glamour players; Brian Donlevy, Akim Tamiroff, Frank McHugh and Muriel Angelus suited him fine. He just wanted to write and direct a comedy. He followed it with another, "The New Yorkers," a satire on advertising, and he's scheduled for plenty more.

—*—

Ronald Reagan and his wife, Jane Wyman, played a love scene for "Tugboat Annie Sails Again," and then worried about whether or not it was effective.

"When we kissed in that scene just now," Reagan said to Director Lew Seiler, "I was thinking about how hungry I was and what we'd have for dinner. Janie told me she was thinking about the same thing. In the love scenes we made before we were married, we'd kiss and forget to eat."

Seiler grinned. "You did better this time, thinking about food, than you did before, when you forgot to eat because you were making love," he replied.

—*—

ODDS AND ENDS

¶ Rochelle Hudson picked up such a tan during two months in Hawaii that she'll have to be bleached before she can play a pale miss of Manhattan in "Girls Under 21."

¶ Evidently "Before I Die" was too grisly a title for the new Douglas Fairbanks Jr.-Rita Hayworth drama; it's been renamed "Angels Over Broadway."

¶ Marjorie Rambeau has proved to be so able a successor to the late Marie Dressler in the character of "Tugboat Annie" that the series will go right on. "Tugboat Annie in Drydock" will be the next one to be made.

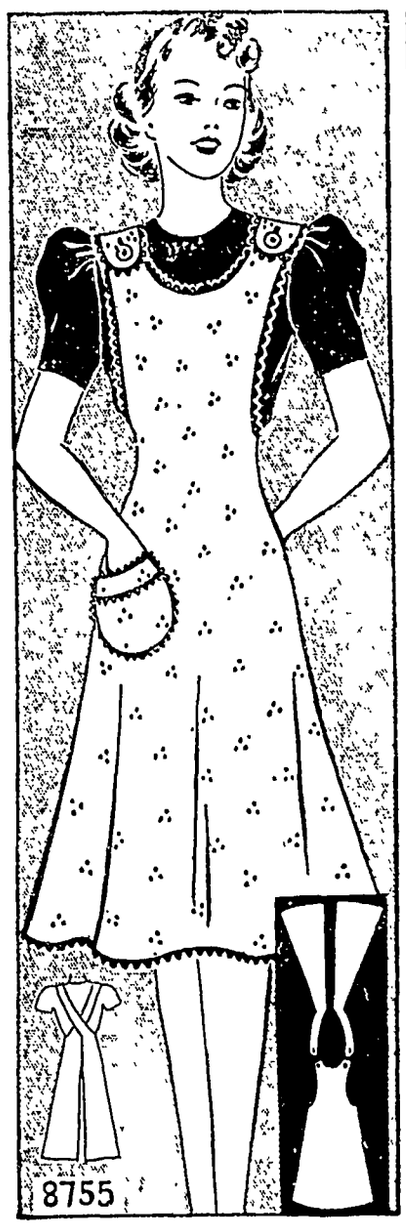
Pattern Department
SEWING CIRCLE



AS YOU see from the little diagram, this pinafore apron consists of merely three pieces, that practically put themselves together. What could be simpler and quicker to make? And 8755 is such a practical, satisfying household help, too. It protects the whole of your dress, top and skirt, and simply won't slip off the shoulders. If you're sick of sloppy-looking difficult-to-fasten aprons with cross-buttoning effects in the back, you'll welcome this slim trim, go-on-over-the-head design with cheers of joy, and make it up time and again.

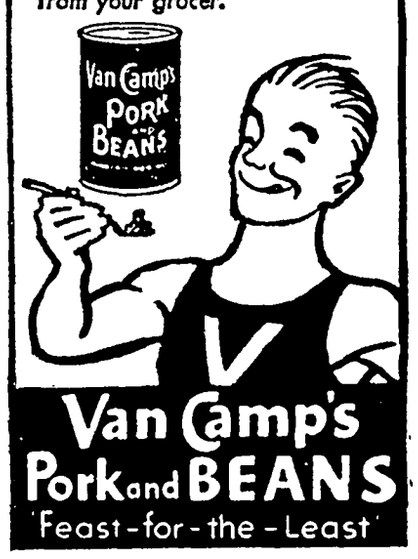
Choose polka dot percale, flowered calico, checked gingham or plain chambray for this (you can finish it in a few hours) and trim with bright ricrac braid.

* * *

Pattern No. 8755 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 2⅞ yards of 35-inch material. 8 yards braid or bias binding. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Deliciously vim-making
... quick ... easy to prepare ... saves kitchen time and trouble ... economical ... order today; from your grocer.



Van Camp's Pork and BEANS
Feast-for-the-Least

Force of Habit

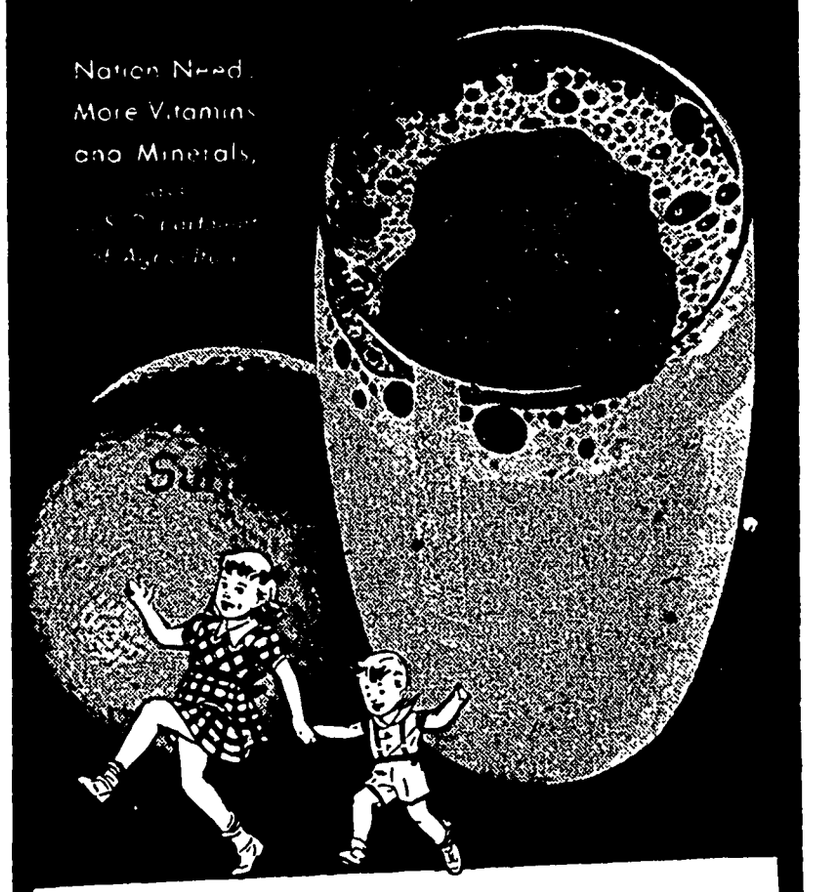
Great is the force of habit; it teaches us to bear labor and to scorn injury and pain.—Cicero.

The CURTIS HOTEL
MINNEAPOLIS
In Tune with Modern Times
Rooms with New conveniences and soft water private baths
One person - $2.00, $2.50, $3.00
Two persons - - $3.00 to $6.00
Excellent Cafes

Suspicion's Tongue

See what a ready tongue suspicion hath!—Shakespeare.

A BIG HELP TO HEALTH!



Note the benefits of delicious oranges

Government nutritionists say: Fully half our families get too few vitamins and minerals to enjoy the best of health! So make it your family rule to enjoy oranges every day.

Just peel and eat them for grand daily refreshment. Or keep a big pitcher full of fresh orangeade handy.

An 8-ounce glass of juice gives you all the vitamin C you normally need each day. Also adds vitamins A, B1 and G, and the minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron.

This season the wonderfully juicy California oranges are plentiful in all sizes. Those stamped "Sunkist" on the skin are Best for Juice and Every use! Order them next time you buy groceries.

Copyright, 1940, California Fruit Growers Exchange

Sunkist
CALIFORNIA ORANGES
Best for Juice—and Every use!

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

PLAY COURT WHIST—TALLY cards for sale at Times Office, 25¢ per dozen. tfc.

TO REALLY ENJOY YOUR
AUTUMN VACATION
GO BY TRAIN

Autumn is the most delightful vacation season of the year, with Mother Nature arranging ideal weather conditions and variegated color schemes to please every taste Modern rail travel offers every known comfort and convenience. All main line Rock Island trains are air-conditioned and give you economy, safety and speed to make your journey completely carefree.

And you can NOW TRAVEL ON CREDIT. No money down. Pay later.

Your local Rock Island Agent will furnish complete details, or write
C. C. GARDNER, A. G. P. A.
721 Locust Street,
Des Moines, Iowa

HAVE YOUR TICKET ROUTED — Rock Island

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Sheriff L. M. Brower To John Hancock Mutual Life Ins. Co., Sheriff's Deed, 9-4-40, $4,667.22, N½ NW¼ 11 97 23.

Fred Camelin & Margaret To Roy Whitbaker, Wty Deed, 8-8-40 $750. Lots 5, 6, 7 & 8, Blk 4, Stilson's Add. to Corwith.

August Haberkamp & Christina, To Harold E. Haberkamp, Q C Deed, 11-14-38, $1. S¼ NW¼ 1 95 24.

H. H. & Eva Vickerman To Aug G. & Gamena Lang, Wty Deed, 7-30-40, $1. E½ Lots 7 & 8, Blk 8 Brown & Hill's Add. to Britt.

Louisa Heginger, widow To Herman Heginger, Q C Deed, 4-1-40, $1. W 5 feet of Lot 4 and all of Lot 5, Blk 7, Orig. town of Goodell.

The Equit. Life Assur. Soc. of the U. S. To Frank and Emma Paca, joint tenants, Deed, 6-4-40, $1. E½ SW¼ 19 & SE¼ 19 95 24.

Inga H. & Peter Bostrom To Margaret P. Sporaa, Q C Deed, 9-14-40, $1. Orig. E¼ of Lots 3 & 4, Blk 11, Orig Garner.

Lucy V. & Charles C. To A. R. Janssen, Wty Deed, 7-31-40, $1. Lot1, Blk 5, John F. Kluver's Add. to Crystal Lake.

Russel & Gladys Slagle To Eva Richardson, Wty Deed, 8-28-40, $1. Lots 2, 3, 4, 7, & 8, Blk 8, Town of Stilson.

Mrs. Flora Van Oosting To Arie & Lenora Willemson, Wty Deed, 9-13-40, $3,300. Lots 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, Blk 1, ¼ E 25 feet of Lot 10, Blk 1 & Outlet in Blk 2, all in Van Cesting's Add. to Kanawha.

The Equit. Life Assur. Soc. of the U. S. To Lynn Volding, Deed, 6-4-40, $1 E½ NW¼ Sec. 17 & W½ NE¼ 17 97 25.

Paralyzed.

Skippy, a dog belonging to Pat Jarrett Monticello whose hind legs were recently paralyzed, gets around on some special crutches made by his master. Pat is now building a tiny cart to strap to Skippy's hind legs, then he can go wherever he wishes.

Little Stories About Your Neighbor

This Farmer Has Forty-Five Dogs!

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of stories that will appear from time to time about unusual things in our own neighborhood; tales that will be told as they are found by the writer.

Dog gone! Who ever heard of a farmer having forty-five dogs? Well, your neighbor "Steve" Steffen has that many dogs and oftentimes a lot more!

But "Steve" makes a side line specialty of raising thorobred dogs and finds a ready market for all he can raise. A trip to the Steffen farm, a half mile north of Klemme is both interesting and educational . . . especially if you are a lover of fine dogs, as this writer is.

Mr. Steffen at the present has a nice variety of pure red dogs. . Great Danes, Staffordshires and Scotties. The Great Danes are wonderful dogs and are as gentle as they are big. Next in this writer's favor, were the Scotties. Mr. Steffen has a fine a bunch of Scotties as we have ever seen. He specializes in the pure black variety. Those who like the Staffordshires can certainly pick out a color to suit them as "Steve" has a good assortment. In case you do not know what a Staffordshire is, we will inform you that the breed are more commonly known as pit bulls. These dogs are great lovers of children, are rather gentle in the household, but are real watch dogs.

Mr. Steffen has shipped dogs to far points in the United States, from East to West and from North to South. His customers are well pleased and "Steve" tries to give them just the dog they want.

Along with his regular farming and caring for his dogs, Mr. Steffen is making a good start on building up a dairy herd. He is going into the Holstein breed of cattle and hopes to have a nice dairy herd in a few years. He has also raised several fine colts the past two years.

LETTER ON LONG JOURNEY!

Rev. Wm. Zabilka mailed a letter from Klemme on May 29, 1939 to a party at Oakland, California However, the letter was undeliverable as the party had left without evidently leaving a forwarding address, so the letter was returned to Rev. Zabilka . . . but he did not receive it for a year and a half.

It is rather a mystery why the letter was in the mail for so long a time. The cancellation stamp shows it was mailed in Klemme May 29, 1939, and another cancellation at Oakland is dated Sept 14, 1940.

Maybe it's your wife who makes you sick. Maybe your midnight sneezing, or asthma, comes from your being "allergic" to her hair So says science, which has discovered at last ust what happens when you have "allergies," and has found some astonishing way they make you miserable. Read this popular article by Robert D Potter, Science Editor, in The American Weekly, the magazin distributed with next week's Sunday Herald-American.

Rev. Fred Griewe Assigned To Ardale Congregation

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet were at Hampton Sunday where they attended some of the sessions of the Waterloo Methodist Conference which was in session there Of interest to Klemme people is the news that Rev. Fred Griewe has again entered the ministry and has been assigned to a charge at Ardale. Rev. Griewe gave up preaching a few years ago because of ill health and for the past four years has been farming on his place near Walker. He has disposed of his live stock and field crops.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Overholt and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harkness, of Palmerton, Pennsylvania have concluded their visit in Klemme and returned to their home Sunday Mrs. Ira Overholt accompanied them on the trip east and will spend three weeks at Palmerton visiting with her son, J. L. Overholt and wife. While in the east she will attend the World's Fair at New York and will visit at other places of interest.

NOTICE OF PROBATE OF WILL STATE OF IOWA,
Hancock County, ss
IN DISTRICT COURT
No. 2397
TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED That an instrument of writing purporting to be the last Will and Testament of Fred H. Ridder Deceased, dated June 29th 1939, having been this day filed, opened and read, Wednesday; the 2nd day of October, 1940, is fixed for hearing proof of same at the Court House in Garner, Iowa, before the District Court of said County, or the Clerk of said Court, and at 2 00 o'clock P M. of the day above mentioned all persons interested are hereby notified and required to appear, and show cause if any they have, why said instrument should not not be probated and allowed as and for the last Will and Testament of said deceased.
Dated at Garner, Iowa, September 24th, 1940.
ELMER RAW
Clerk of District Court
(Pub. Sept. 25 Only)

Minister.

Rev. Carl Brown, Braddyville, recently retired from the ministry after 51 yeas of service.

Around Iowa

Delayed.

A small error caused a delay of two weeks for the Knoxville city council m passing its water plant improvement resolutions, which it took three and a half hours to read sometime ago. The filing stamp was not put on immediately following passage, and the resolution was sent back to the engineers for amendment minus the stamp. Now, the council will have to go through the whole procedure again.

-oOo-

Sewing Bee.

The Decorah physician who stitched A. T. Amundson's foot, must have thought he was taking part in a sewing bee It was necessary to take 150 stitches to close the wound, which Amundson injured while cutting beans.

oOo

No Bones Broken.

Mildred Gray, Spencer, suffered only pavement burns and bruises when a tractor and her bicycle met. Both the girl and the driver of the tractor report that the back wheel of the tracor passed over her.

-oOo-

Music.

Lockridge residents are going to have a treat next summer. Five hundred pounds of music was given to the band by the Fairfield military band There should be no reason for playing the same selection twice.

-oOo-

Helping Out.

Friends of little Phyllis Jackson, 5, of near Russell, are going to see that the little girl will be able to walk and run with her playmates again Recently her left leg was amputated above the ankle, following an accident caused when she hid in the weeds and got in front of her father's mowing machine. A collection is being taken up in order to provide funds for an artificial foot for Phyllis, also to provide for future adjustments in the foot.

Hardware Salesman Has Auto Accident East of Klemme

H. L. Arnett, hardware salesman from Sheffield was the victim of an auto mishap east of Klemme Tuesday morning near the bridge at the Barz farm.

Mr. Arnett lost control of his car when it skidded on the gravel and the machine left the road and turned over several times landing right side up m a pasture. Mr. Arnett escaped with minor injuries but the car was badly damaged.

First Ride.

"It was more fun than the Fourth of July," was Mrs. Annette Eastman's, Shell Rock, comment after her first plane ride. Mrs. Eastman is 99 years old.

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

Photogra
LAKE
FOREVE
RUSS
PHOTO ST
Next to J. C. Pen

Arthur Wel
FUNERAL DI
—with long exp
best equipment
PROMPT AMBU
SERVIC
Phone 23-R2 Day
Klemme, Io

K. F. M. Speci

Friday and Saturday, Sept.

MONARCH FOOD OF WHEAT pkg. 15c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

GRAPE NUTS FLAKES and POST BRAN FLAKES Large Size 2 Boxes For .....

PEANUT BUTTER Quart Jar 25c

HONEY 1 pound jar

P AND G WHITE NAPHTHA SOAP 7 Bars

CRACKERS, Soda Midget, 1 lb. box 15c

TOILET SOAP Sweetheart, 4 bars

RINSO Medium Size 2 pkgs.

DESSERT Clinton, 3 boxes 13c

COFFEE, Martha Washington, lb.

COOKIES FIG BARS 2 lbs. for

MEAT DEPARTMENT

VEAL CHOPS, lb. 23c

VEAL STEAK, lb.

VEAL ROAST, lb. 17c

VEAL STEW, lb ..

CHICKEN LEGS MOCK 3 for

Klemme Food Mark

MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSE

Egg Price Are Higher!

Why not feed the hens and pullets now for best egg production so you can get the advantage of these higher prices?

The FELCO WAY is the simple and easy way of feeding. Just scratch grain in one feeding hopper and Felco Laying Mash in another, and let the hens help themselves.

TRY IT! — You'll Like It

FELCO

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

"The Farmers Elevator" C C. KILGORE, Mgr.

TAX Reminder

THE SECOND HALF OF TAXES ARE DUE THIS MONTH—

September

Penalty of ¾ of 1 per cent attaches to the second half October 1st; on the first half 5.25 per cent, if not paid in September

PAY YOUR TAXES NOW AND SAVE THE PENALTY!

Roy L. McMillin

County Treasurer Hancock County, Iowa

Oil HEATERS Co

MOORE Twin Oil Burner
SUPER FEX Oil
DUOTHERM Oil

RAY BOY Coal
MOORE Coal
EVENOIL

Look Over Our Nice Line Of Used Ranges and Heaters

E. F. Jacods, Hdw.

"The Farm Service Store" Klemme, nnoor, Woodward, hopes

d luck days are over.
Claus finally won out rd struggle with pneu-weeks ago he dropped
nd-gate on his foot, me bones. Later, he overbalanced on his lling and hitting his stitches were neces-

OTICE

o announce that I onger connected in with the North Side

Repair
k-- ish to announce to tomers and friends

ill continue in busiwill do your repair
my home, or at m, as I have a com-of tools for all auto or work.

wing me accounts
at my residence Schuldt home) in st patronage has preciated. and I sofurther patronage.

C. Bird

Klemme, Ia.

DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM WILL BE SHOWN AT THE AVERY FOR 3 DAYS

A double feature will be shown at the Avery for three days starting Sunday "The Man I Married," which stars Jean Bennett and Francis Lederer, is adopted from the sensational modern novel, "I Married A Nazi" As the other half of the double bill, William Holden, who won stardom for his role in "Golden Boy" and Bonita Granville, the beloved brat, are co-starred in "Those Were The Days," a story of good old swish-swash college with a melodramatic background.

Bees.

Charles Brown, Anthon, drove his team into a swarm of bees. One horse was killed, one hurt and Mr. Brown also received a number of stings.

Don't Hang Up.

Sumner residents are learning that they cant hang up the receiver and expect to hear the voice of the party to whom they were talking. A new switchboard has been installed and several patrons have been fooled by the new system.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10 00 a m Morning Worship
A program of Sacred Music by the Mixed Chorus Offering for the benefit of the Chorus Treasury
11:00 a m Sunday School
Rev. Wm Huenemann will teach the Adult Bible Class.
Confirmation Class will meet Tuesday and Saturday

E MI'ST SELL OUR
d CARS and TRUCKS

matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find
or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT
rgains in late models. You take no chances when you n us. Come in and look them over.

Garner Motor Sales

OBILE CHEVROLET

THADA'S

od Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

ALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

0A Mother's 2 lb. box 17c

MAR wonder FLOUR
BREAD FLOUR SO GOOD WINS CAKE PRIZES
$1.69

sk Us Hew To Save 15c On Above Price)

ttle, 2 for .. 19c | CLEANSER, Lighthouse, per box 04c

OXYDOL Large size 21c Giant size.. 59c

Large bottles .... 13c | JELL POWDER Butternut, 6 boxes .. 25c

MEAL Quick or Regular Per pkg... 09c

(FREE Glassware In Each Box)

PAPER 40 foot roll at.... 09c

gna Fertile Brand, Home-Made, lb. 17c

pple Sliced in syrup Per quart 19c

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor .... Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman Eunice Larsen
Sophomore Audrey Mau
Junior Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior Shirley Johnson
Dramatics Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music Jacqueline Kudjo
Sports Henry Kaduce
Grade News Leonard Kaduce
Arlene Schmidt

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

Corrine Greiman, who attended school at Garner, started in the Freshman class Monday

The Freshman Home Economics girls had quite a time making jam, fruit butter, conserves and preserves last week None have spoiled yet!

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

The Sophomores are making scrap books for current events in world history class On Friday of each week, they discuss the contents in them Some of them are very amusing

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

The Junior class has started the unit on safety and many are connecting this study with the knowledge which will help them in taking their driver's tests

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The senior girls have finished the drapes for the home economics room.

The hobby shop for girls opened this week under Miss Ott's supervision, There will be a new project this year in the form of a knitting class

The seniors have been flashing their new class rings for about two weeks.

Who's the young man around town who picks up the girls and gives them a ride when they're suppose to be on a hike for physical education? And who are the girls that accepted?

The senior boys are wishing that those five girls hadn't taken physics They're not the only ones. The girls do too!

The geometry class has gotten off to a flying start

When studying walls in the home economics class the other day one girl believed another when she told her they used striped paint on the walls.

DRAMATICS

There is much stir in the junior class in connection with their play We wonder if it will live up to the high standard set by last years Junior play ????

MUSIC CHATTER

Under the direction of Mr Onerheim, progress has been made in mixed chorus, band, and glee clubs already this year. The bands first opportunity to give a concert will be for the dedication of the new community hall this Thursday Let's boost the band so the band can boost us!

Grades 1 & 2

There are fifteen pupils in our room this year They are Delores Thurman, Dwayne Hansen, Janice Carpenter, Larry Stille, Lucille Priebe, Maralee Ridder and Maxine Barz. The eight second graders are Harley Barz, Jacqulea Steffen Jo Ann Carpenter, Nancy Johnson. Peter Johnson, Richard Tigerman, Ruth Kimball and Sondra Bridges.

We have a new work and kindergarten table. We have some new books in our room too.

Harley's birthday was September 14th. He was seven years old. He brought treats to school on Friday.

We have been collecting pretty leaves, and we know the names of several of them. On Tuesday we went to the park to look at the trees.

Many of us have brought pretty flowers to school.

Grades 3 & 4

We have sixteen in our room this year. The following are in the fourth grade: Iris Rosendahl, Isabelle Gibbs, Marjorie Lau, Phyllis Hennager, Phyllis Kirkwood, Larry Ramsay, Maurice Trumbell, Ardel Rosendahl and Edward Kaduce. In the third grade we have Dorance Baack, Willis Bock, Richard Kaduce, Merlin Brinkman, Luella Priebe, Dolores Karjens, and Phyllis Stokesbary.

We have a new reading table and many new books. We have a new aquarium which we find interesting to use in studying our Science lessons. Several live specimens have been brought to our room to study: a frog, toad, tadpoles turtle, lizard and butterflies.

In history we are starting our study with a unit on Indian life. We enjoyed looking at the fine Indian articles loaned to us by Mrs. Earl Scheaffer Friday we made a class trip to the home of Roland Runge to see his excellent Indian collection. We enjoyed it very much.

Luella Priebe was the only one who had 100 per cent in spelling this week.

Grades 5 & 6

Reporters -- Phyllis Christiance and Mary Lou Netland.

We have twenty-nine boys and girls enrolled in our room. There are seventeen people in the fifth grade and twelve in the sixth.

In art classes this week we have been drawing pictures of barnyard fowls.

The following people had perfect spelling scores this week Sixth grade, Ruth Stokesbary, Roger B., Peggy, Roger R., Phyllis and Mary Lou, Fifth grade, Ruth Smith, Donna, Edward, Velma, Esther and Helen.

Moved.

H W. Goodrich, Cleghorn, recently had an unusual assignment He moved a 90 ton, 50 foot high, elevator some distance. Two caterpiller tractors were used, going at a rate of 5 to 6 miles per day.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—WELL IMPROVED 120 A. farm, 2 miles south of Duncan, known as the Fred Kohlstorf place Reasonable priced to close estate Write or see Frank D Fischer, Titonka. S-25, 3tp

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5 00 Times Office.

FOR SALE—GRAPES 75c & $1 Per bushel. Ben F. Greiman, Phone 525F79.

FOR SALE—ONE 18 INCH JOHN Deere Tractor Plow. Northern Implement Shop. 1tc.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

GET PAID WEEKLY—LIBERAL terms to right man in choice territory as sales representative for Wisconsin's Greatest Nursery No delivering or collecting. Healthy work with good pay in a business of your own. Stock Northern grown, with liberal guarantee. Company estabished over 30 years. Write McKay Nursery Company, Madison, Wisconsin. 3tp

WANTED—CUSTOM WORK FOR Two-Row power binder, $1.75 per acre. J A. Chambers. S-4-11-18c

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—A BUNCH OF KEYS IN key case Call at Times Office.

FOUND—A YEARLING HEIFER came to my place. Owner may have same by proving property and paying for costs of keep and advertising. LeRoy Johnson. 3tc

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Aug. 12th, 1940

Regular meeting called to order by the Mayor, with all members present.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

On motion the following bills were allowed:

Employer's Mut. Cas. Co
W. C. & E. L. Prem.	$ 45:00
B. O Onerheim
Bal. Band Salary	85.00
Martin Karsjen
Labor	5.55
Melvin Buseman
Labor	3.00
Wayne Buseman
Labor	3.75
Geo. Buseman
July Salary	75.00
Pittsburgh Des Moines Steel Co.
Tank and tax	1,173.00
Central States Electric
Power & Light	81.59
Klemme Times
Publications	15.69
Klemme Co-op. Grain Co.
Coal	5.19
League Ia. Municipalities
Dues	15.00
Lloyd Lau
Exp. & Dray	1.7?
Fred Missal, Co. Aud.
Used Power Mower	35.00
Henry Jahnke
Labor	17.70
Northern Lbr. Co.
Labor and materials	101.69

Hearing was held on the Budget Estimate and the Levies as published were certified to the County Auditor.

Meeting adjourned.

A. J. KUDJE
Clerk

Fox.

Gerd Null, Brunsville, collected a $1 bounty on a fox which he had run down with his car on the highway.

AVERY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shoafstall and son, Edwin, of Fairmont, Minnesota, came Tuesday and visited at the Ted Dutheride home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trampel and sons, Mrs. Paul Cavitt and son, and Miss Anna Trampel were shopping in Mason City, Saturday

Mrs. Virgil Waddingham assisted Mrs. Carl Pearson cook for silo fillers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jansen and family of Blairsburg, Mr. and Mrs. John Trampel and sons, Mrs. Paul Cavitt and son, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Trampel and Harmen, Anna and Arthur Conners, were visiting at the Henry Huisinga home at Titonka Sunday

Mrs. Jule Cook assisted Mrs. Leon Sherwood cook for silo fillers Friday.

Mrs. Robert Yohn was a visitor with her cousin, Mrs. Arthur Kramer and family of Garner for a few days.

Miss Gertie Trampel and Mrs. Oswaldt Evenson and daughter, Eva Marie, assisted Mrs. Harlow Helps cook for silo fillers Saturday.

Mr. John Bachman, of Garner, is assisting with work at the Leon Sherwood farm for several weeks.

Blank-Johnson Wedding

From the Appleton, Minnesota Press an account is given of the wedding of Frederick O Blank, son of Mr and Mrs. A. M. Blank of Sioux City, and Miss Bernys Rose Johnson, of Appleton. They were married at Appleton, Minn on Saturday evening, Sept. 14th.

29.

A count of 29 won a cribbage game for William Harris, Mystic, recently. Chick Hicks was in the lead until Harris got the perfect score -- a big event for anyone

How Are Your Plow Shares?

Very soon now Fall Plowing will be going full blast. It will pay you to investigate our methods of sharpening shares! You can have your choice of three different methods of re-sharpening: A three piece welded edge and point, a two piece welded edge and point, or the good old forge and hammer job that has been standard for generations. Our prices are no higher than they ever have been for this work and the job is sure to please you!

Fred J. Arnold

For Re-Sealing Your Corn This Year---

DO IT THE MOST ECONOMICAL WAY AND THE BEST WAY

By building your bins out of lumber you have a building that can be used for many different purposes if the time comes that you do not need it for corn storage.

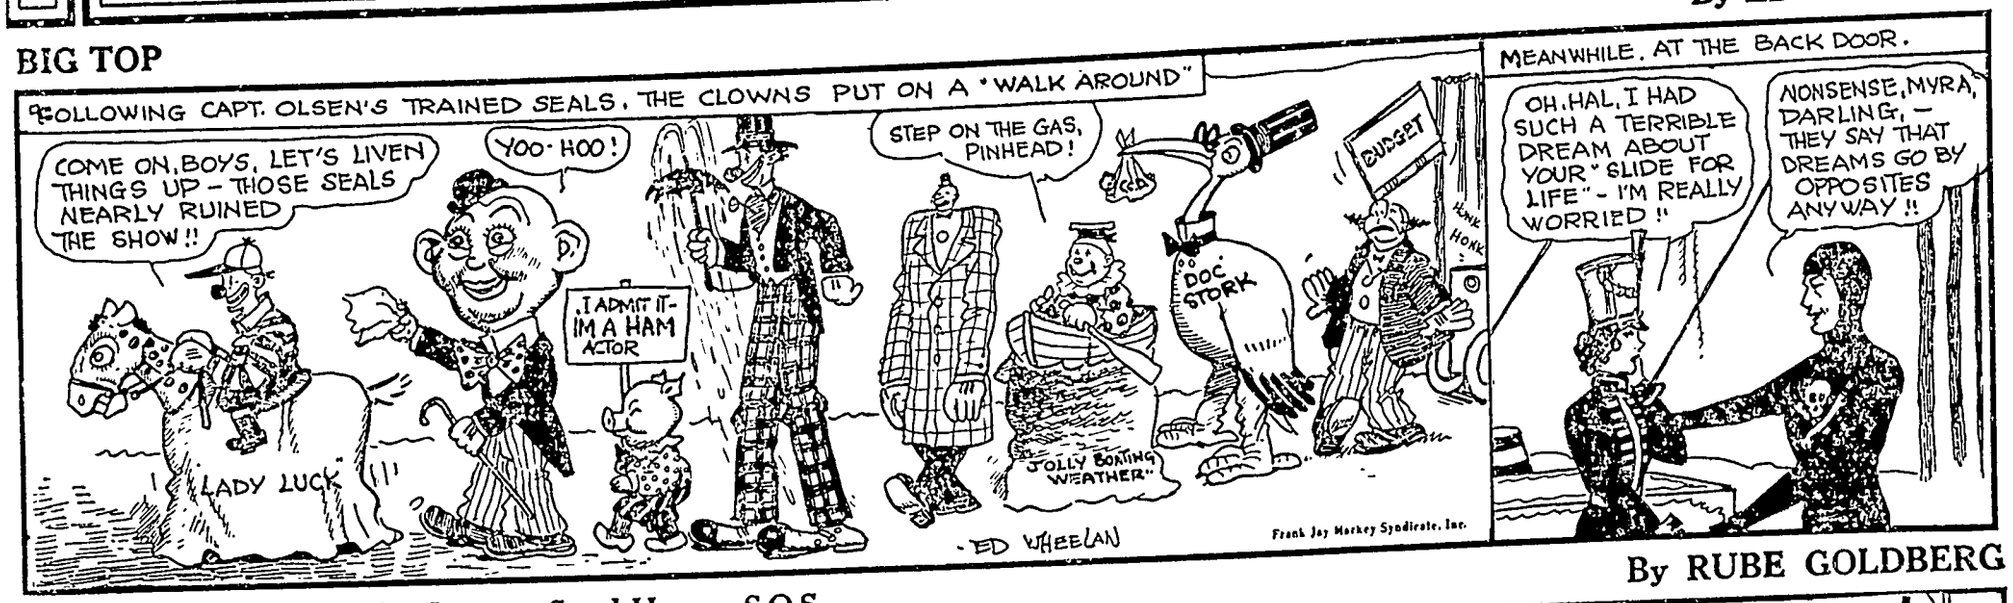
We can plan your bins so that you can build with that purpose in mind. A machine shed, garage or some other building can be built that way. Come in and let us talk it over. Using lumber is also the lowest cost!

Northern Lumber Co.
"Northco" Products

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN



FOLLOWING CAPT. OLSEN'S TRAINED SEALS, THE CLOWNS PUT ON A "WALK AROUND" COME ON, BOYS, LET'S LIVEN THINGS UP - THOSE SEALS NEARLY RUINED THE SHOW!!
YOO-HOO!
I ADMIT IT- IM A HAM ACTOR
LADY LUCK
STEP ON THE GAS, PINHEAD!
"JOLLY BOATING WEATHER"
DOC STORK BUDGET
HONK HONK
-ED WHEELAN
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
MEANWHILE, AT THE BACK DOOR.
OH, HAL, I HAD SUCH A TERRIBLE DREAM ABOUT YOUR "SLIDE FOR LIFE" - I'M REALLY WORRIED!!
NONSENSE, MYRA, DARLING, - THEY SAY THAT DREAMS GO BY OPPOSITES ANYWAY!!

LALA PALOOZA —Too Late to Send Her an SOS

By RUBE GOLDBERG

LALA OUGHT TO BE A HOWL AS THE WOUNDED DUCK
I CAN'T WAIT TO SEE HER FLY THROUGH THE AIR
I'M LIABLE TO BUST MY APPENDIX SCAR LAUGHING
I HOPE HIVES IS IN THE BALCONY WITH HIS CHAUFFEUR FRIENDS WHO PROMISED TO APPLAUD BANG BANG
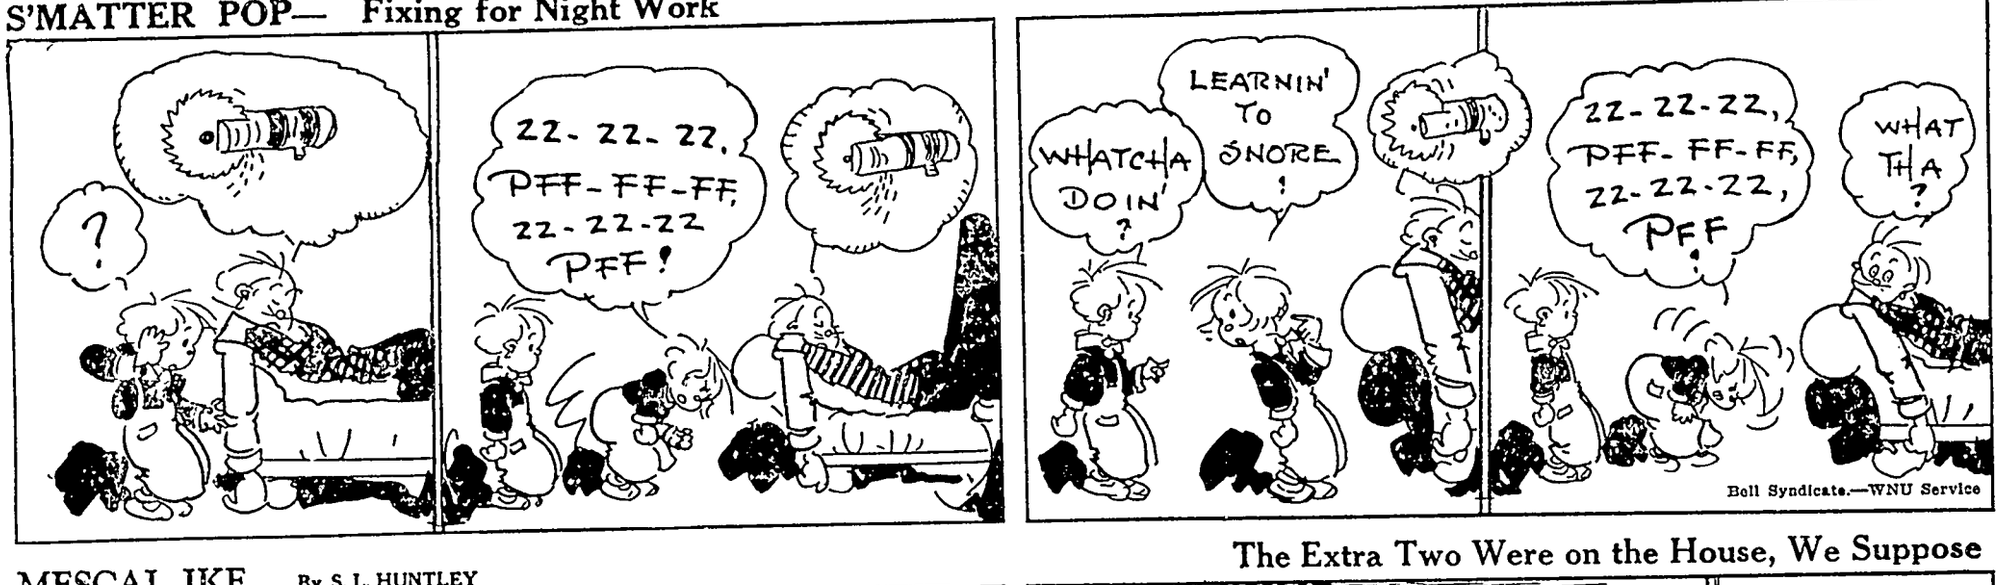
GREAT GUNS! THE NET'S BROKE - AN' SHE'S IN THE AIR!
RUBE GOLDBERG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

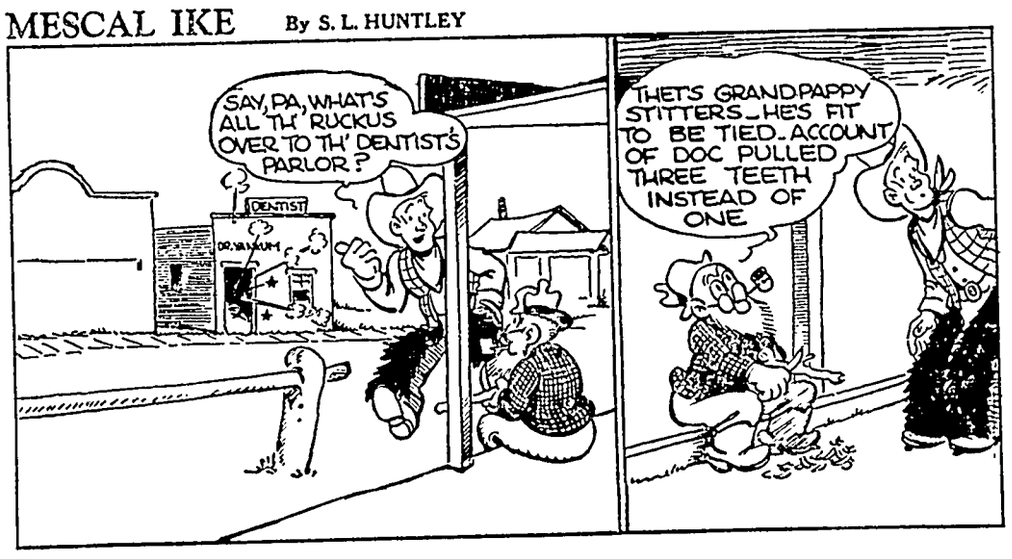
S'MATTER POP— Fixing for Night Work

By C. M. PAYNE



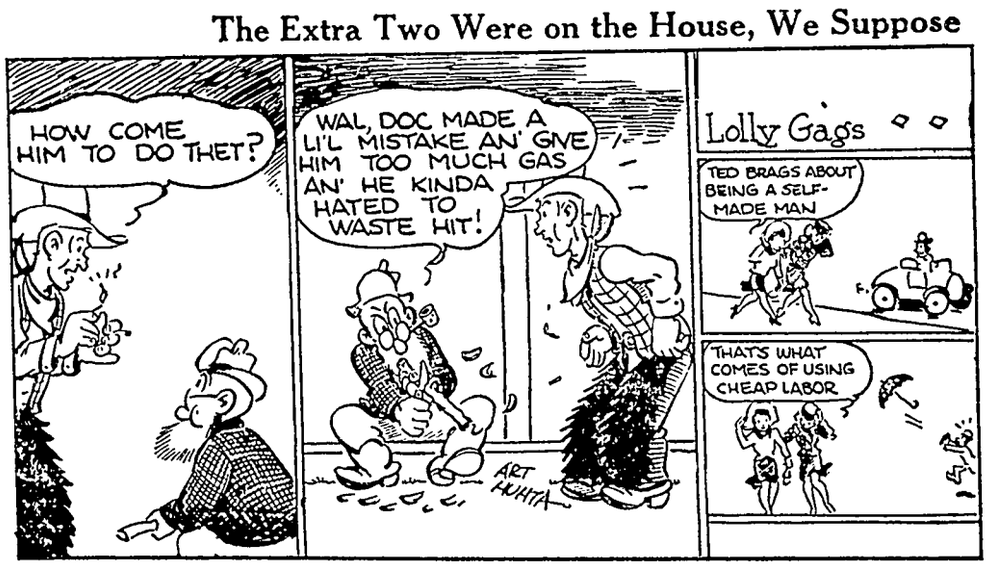
MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY



SAY, PA, WHAT'S ALL TH' RUCKUS OVER TO TH' DENTIST'S PARLOR?
DENTIST
DR. WILKUM
THET'S GRANDPAPPY STITTERS - HE'S FIT TO BE TIED - ACCOUNT OF DOC PULLED THREE TEETH INSTEAD OF ONE

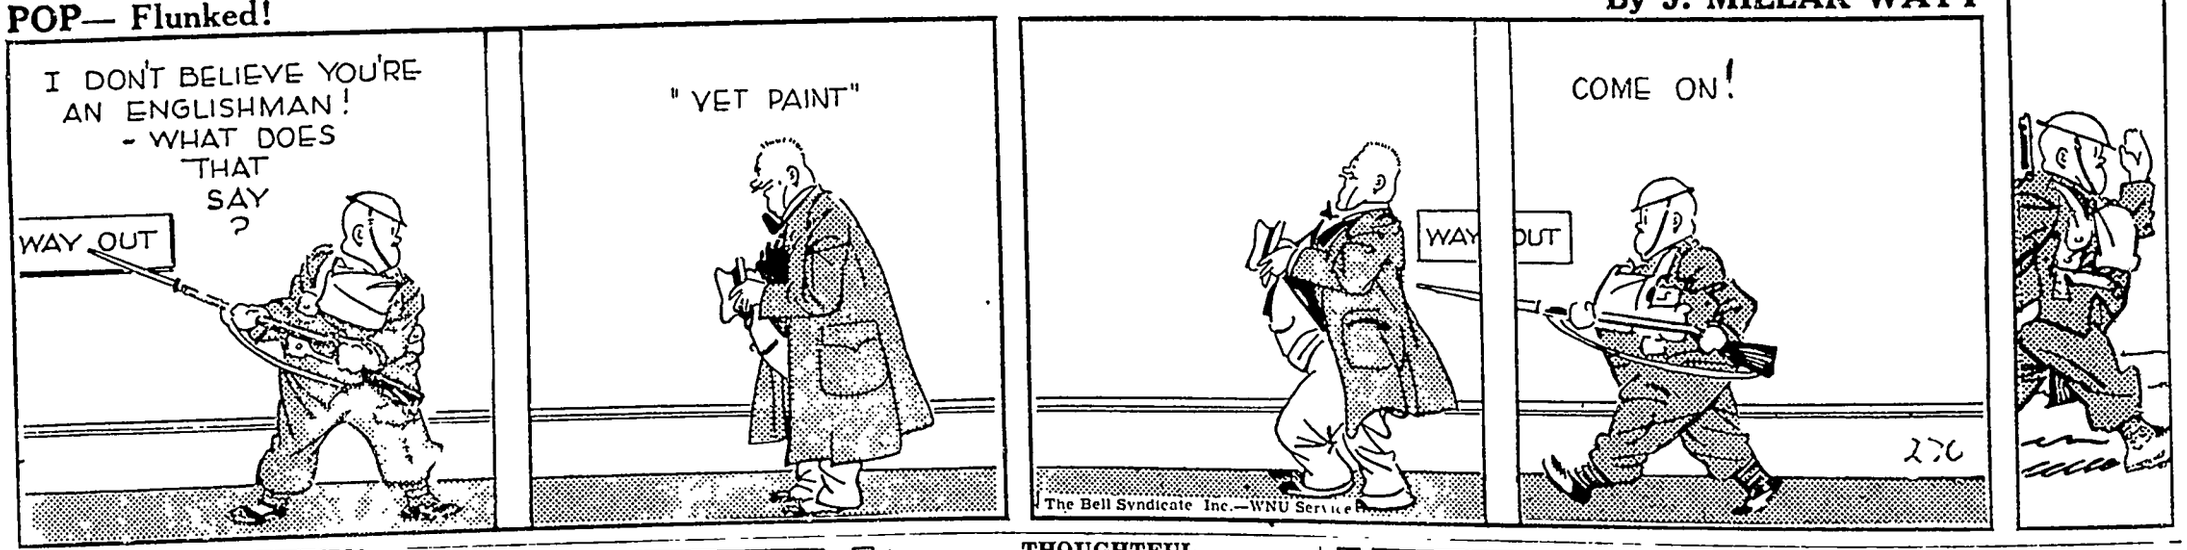
The Extra Two Were on the House, We Suppose



HOW COME HIM TO DO THET?
WAL, DOC MADE A LI'L MISTAKE AN' GIVE HIM TOO MUCH GAS AN' HE KINDA HATED TO WASTE HIT!
ART HUNTA
Lolly Gags
TED BRAGS ABOUT BEING A SELF-MADE MAN
THAT'S WHAT COMES OF USING CHEAP LABOR

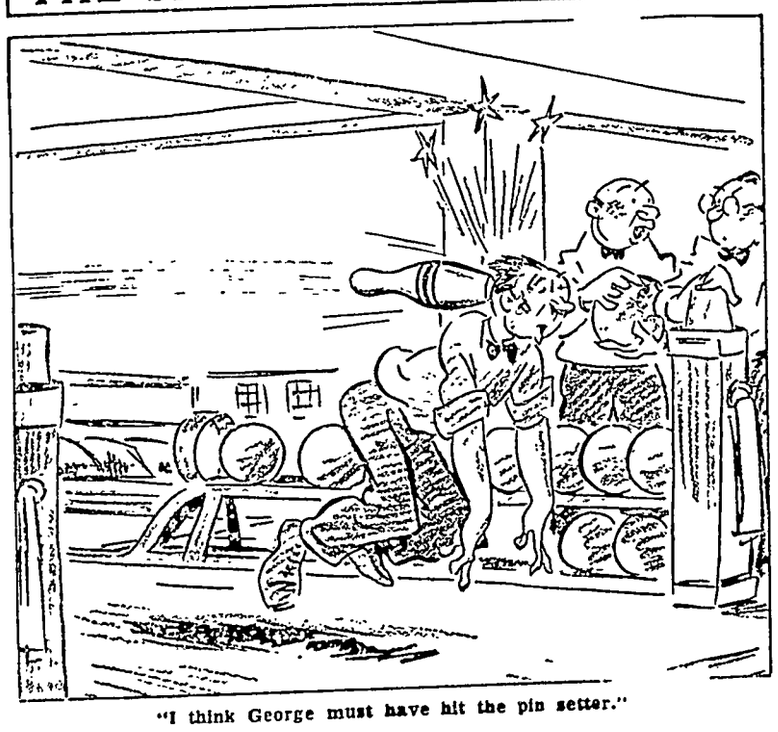
POP— Flunked!

By J. MILLAR WATT



THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG



"I think George must have hit the pin setter."

THOUGHTFUL

The man in the dock as looking particularly doleful.

"Please be lenient with me, your worship," he said, addressing the magistrate. "I have a good many dependent on me for their support. It would be only fair to consider them."

A soft light came into the magistrate's eyes as he listened to this plea.

"Children?" he inquired, a touch of kindness in his voice.

The prisoner shook his head.

"No, your worship. Detectives."

Penalty of Being Adored

First Guy—She treats her husband like a Grecian god.

Second Guy—How's that?

First Guy—She places a burnt offering before him at every meal.

Proof

"Anyone would think I was nothing but a cook in this house."

"Not after a couple of meals, they wouldn't!"

THE WORLD AT ITS WORST

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

THE NEW WEEK IN FASHION TRIED
HAVING BROKEN A BRIDGE DATE WITH SOME NEIGHBORS BECAUSE YOU WANTED TO SEE A CERTAIN MOVIE, YOU DISCOVER THAT THE BILL HAS CHANGED, THAT WILD HORSES COULDN'T DRAG YOU IN TO SEE THE CURRENT PICTURE, AND THAT YOU'VE GOT TO GO IN ANYWAY, TO AVOID SAID NEIGHBORS WHO HAVE JUST TURNED THE CORNER
Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

PATENTS

ORWIG & HAGUE
Patents, trade-marks, copyrights
Sixth Floor Crocker Bldg., Des Moines
Branch Office—Washington, D.

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

REPAIRS For Your Stove or FURNACE
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All
Have Your Dealer Order from
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR CO.

REMEDY

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS
Get a bottle today and be ready to
Your local druggist will supply you

Local Treasure Hunters Suffer Rude Awakening

Three times Rawlinson dreamt that concealed some in his flat was a quantity of able silver. The dream co longer go unheeded

That night he and Mrs. R son sought a hollow place walls. At last they hit u and after some manipulatio chisel and hammer, dislodge eral bricks There, hidden other side, lay—the valuable

Just as they were gloatin their find, there came a ring, and their neighbor b in.

"What the deuce do you by breaking up my dinin cupboard?" he gasped.

FOR MINOR BURNS MOROLI WHITE PETROLEUM

Our Patience

How patiently you hea groan, how glad the case your own.

WHY SUFFER Functio

FEMALE COMPLAIN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable C Has Helped Thousands!

Few women today do not have some functional trouble. Maybe you're YOURSELF getting restless, moody depressed lately—your work too much

Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound to help quiet unstrung relieve monthly pain (cramps, headache) and weak dizzy faintin due to functional disorders. For years Pinkham's Compound has help dreds of thousands of weak, run vous women. Try it!

Seed of Science

Men love to wonder and the seed of our science.— son.

To Check Constipat Get at Its Cause

If constipation has you do you feel heavy, tired and it's time you did something it. And something more tha taking a physic! You shou at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat the super-re food most people eat, the ch are the difficulty is simple don't get enough "bulk." "bulk" doesn't mean heavy It's a kind of food that isn't sumed in the body, but les soft "bulky" mass in the inte

If this common form of stipation is your trouble Kellogg's All-Bran regularly drink plenty of water. All isn't a medicine—it's a cr toasted cereal. And it will you not only to get regular keep regular. Made by Ke in Battle Creek. If your con is chronic, it is wise to c a physician.

By the Will

'Tis the will that makes tion good or ill.

Miserable with backach

WHEN kidneys function you suffer a nagging with dizziness, burning, sca frequent urination and get night; when you feel tired all upset . . . use Doan's Pi

Doan's are especially working kidneys. Millions are used every year. They mended the country over. neighbor!

DOAN'S PI

WNU—N

CREATING NEW WE TO OR

● Advertising cre wealth by showing nnd better ways of as it creates new wa tributes to the pro everyone touched by the flow which is set up. In this way, see, advertising is a social force working in the interest of every every day of the year, brings wealth to use and enjoy.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

United Features WNU Service

ENTY OF ISSUES

NGTON.—It is the clever- of fourth New Deal elec- to say there is no issue mpaign—that Mr. Willkie sed all of Mr. Roosevelt's policies, and that the only question is, who can deal Deal better.

s first and foremost the is- ether in direct defiance of oldest and most respected an traditions one man can taxing and spending and powers of this republic xpand those powers out of nizable semblance to them- d then to perpetuate him- resident.

the sole excuse given for s the greatest issue. The that Mr. Roosevelt must erpetual President because abilities and perform- ke him the one and only able American in the crit- The questions at issue t abilities? What perform- Mr Roosevelt's principal d policies lie in the fields ulture, labor, industry, finances, foreign relations recently, national defense. rmance in each field is a complete and utter wreck-have been spent on the blem The basic situation lus, price and income and, to refinanced farm debt, worse than it was even un- er. Federal refinancing of was not a New Deal dis-oyment of labor has not declined and while it will use of conscription and re- t, Mr. Roosevelt will cer- nt to claim no credit for ning war situation.

ial recovery has come to w large industrial corpora- e condition of the bulk of iness men is worse than finances are the worst all. Debt has reached ous heights, taxes—mostly or—are unbearably heavy increase. We are em- a spending program that ssibly be financed except ng our debt.

reign relations have been red that, except for Great we have not a friend on those with Britain are be- d as rapidly as the New s into an alliance and par- in an overseas war.

er neglect of adequate de- il it was too late to make but a hodge-podge slap- hicky rush at the effort at this moment hopelessly own.

are a few of the issues. as great as any ever pre- the American people.

them grows one greater of these separately. It is: an we continue an admin- with a record of such invari- e and dangerous failure?" dispensable man" is also he greatest issue of all just , in the face of public opin- res to go. He went most of nce when he "sold" part y. He is making the awful peace and war. It is the sue of complete adjourn- our democracy for a war ip in which men who have ll-bent for centralized per- presidential power for al- t years will realize their reams.

es? It is true that this sloganeering has gone so cause Henry Wallace to hat if you state these real are "giving aid and com- tler." If Hitler is an en- se are the constitutional scribing treason. We have parted far from our democ- dy if people will stand for of campaign.

* * *

OR AND WAR WORK

s to be a part of Demo- mpaign strategy to assure t, no matter what may his war situation, workers none of the "social advan- the past few years. It is rt of extreme New Deal to tell labor that the Re- party intends to use any that may come to deprive ll its hard-gotten gains. atter of cold fact, the dis- probably academic. The gain that labor could have full and continuous em- at good wages and much income.

get into full war effort e unions will enjoy a boom. is a great danger there. elf should hope that it will e kind of boom that hap- early 1918. Then employ- ing on helter-skelter cost- fit contracts didn't care r output was costing this They took no risk. Pro- was all that counted with they went out and bid up s of labor.

t of living rose faster than s of labor. The process to last increased the gen- ge of prices in the United 213 per cent

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 29

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE USE AND ABUSE OF WEALTH

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 11 24-31; Luke 16:11-13.

GOLDEN TEXT—Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven.—Matthew 6:20.

Money—its making and using—is a matter which constantly concerns all of us as long as we live in this world. It is the medium of exchange whereby the labors of one man may be exchanged for the labors of another, in the purchase of goods and services It may be used to send a messenger to the ends of the earth with the good news of salvation or, on the other hand, it may be the ready instrument to destroy both body and soul of those who abuse it. Man may have money, and be a blessing, or money may have a man, and be a curse.

I. The Right Spirit in the Use of Money (Prov. 11:24-26).

What a man does with his money is only a reflection of what he is in his inmost life. The spirit which withholds unless there is a return to itself in pleasure or profit is a selfish and ungodly spirit To attempt to present one's self before the world as a follower of Christ and to have that attitude toward what one possesses is to deny by one's acts the testimony of one's lips.

Not all "scattering" (v. 24) is commendable. It is possible to be careless and wasteful, and that neither honors God nor helps our fellow men. Then, too, a man may scatter liberally, as the farmer does when he sows seed, knowing that he will have a richer harvest for himself. That is only a different type of selfishness.

The man who knows "God, that giveth to all men liberally" (James 1:5), scatters not only his money, but his riches of mind and spirit in his life and service. He gives himself and what he has to God—and to man as he serves God—and rich is his reward. In sad contrast is the man who keeps his possessions, but finds that withal he has only barren leanness of soul and life.

II. The Good and Bad Use of Money (vv. 27-29).

The man who looks for good finds it, and the one who looks for trouble finds that, too. That is true in the use of money as well as elsewhere in life. One way to end up in certain disappointment is to put your trust in money, for, while it opens many doors, it cannot open the door to heaven, and, while it can buy most things, it cannot buy health and happiness. To seek good, seek the Lord and His righteousness, and you will "flourish as a branch." You may not have the riches of this earth, but you will prosper in those things which are of eternal value. You will be wise in the conduct of the affairs of your own house (v. 29) and life, because you are "wise of heart."

III. The Best Use of Money (vv. 30, 31).

One of America's leading business analysts and statisticians said some years ago that the best investment of funds was in the winning of souls to Jesus Christ. Had man expended the money which should have gone for that purpose, at the right time, we might have been spared the spending of billions of dollars for war in these latter days.

"He that is wise winneth souls" (v. 30 R. V.) "And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever" (Dan. 12:3).

The glory that awaits the believer in this life and in the life to come, as well as the judgment which inevitably must fall on the sinner (v. 31), should urge us on in the winning of souls. But even more than that, the love of God, and "the love of Christ" which "constraineth us" (II Cor. 5:14), should cause us to put ourselves and our money into His hands, to be used in the winning of souls. Could there be any better use of money?

IV. The Test of the Use of Money (Luke 16:11-13).

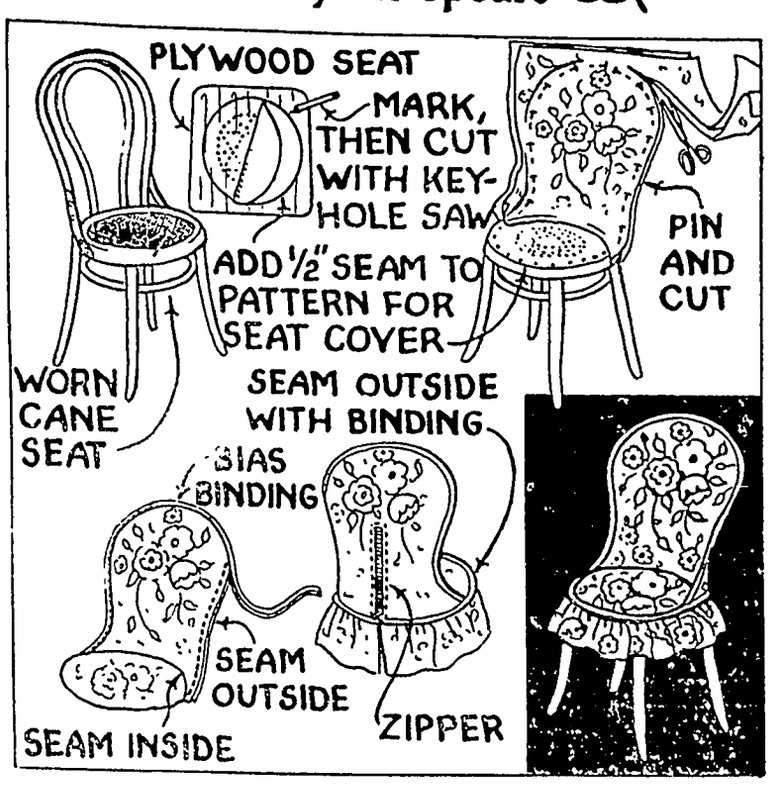
Ultimately each one of us must give an account to God of the manner in which we have lived. These verses and others indicate that one of the matters for which we must answer is the manner in which we have used or abused the money or other possessions with which God has blessed us.

We are stewards, and only as we demonstrate our faithfulness and wisdom in the use of the "unrighteous mammon" (v. 11); that is, the money of this world, can God entrust us neither here or in the world to come with His true riches.

Let us be very clear about this point today. It does make a vital difference to your spiritual life how you regard money. You cannot separate your life into compartments, with a spiritual Sunday religion and a do-as-you-please weekday, business or social life. The dollar you spend on Monday is of as much concern to God as the dollar you put in the offering on Sunday.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears



THERE were two of these old bent-wood chairs — both with cane seats gone and a badly scarred varnish finish "Get them out of my sight!" their owner said, "I can't stand the thought of wood bent and forced into unnatural curves" In the end she did get them out of sight and used them too. The trick was done with slip covers made, as shown here.

The one you see in the sketch became a side chair for the living room dressed in richly colored cretonne in soft red and blue-green tones with deep wine bindings. The legs of the chair were sandpapered and stained mahogany to tone in with the cover. The cane seat was inexpensively repaired with a ready made seat of plywood reshaped to fit by first cutting a paper pattern to fit the seat of the chair and then using the pattern as a guide as indicated here Next week I will show you how the other one of these old chairs was used.

* * *

NOTE As a service to our readers, 160 of these articles have been printed in five separate booklets No. 5 contains 30 illustrations with directions; also a description of the other booklets. To get your copy of Book 5, send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for Book 5.

Name .....
Address .....

Uncle Phil Says:

To Be Cut by Strangers

After a while friends get tired of handling temperamental persons "with gloves," and leave them to their "cruel" fate.

Men who like to hold office are particularly susceptible to swelled head. It is their affliction.

You Never Can Tell

The value of experience depends upon the dividends it pays.

All steps forward that have been taken in civilization have been by individuals. Collectivism is for those without ambition.

Some climb the ladder of luck, and some walk under it.

Are We Not Easy-Going?

Here in America men can waste millions of other people's money without going to jail

The age of discretion is when you don't want anything that might get you into trouble.

ASK ME ANOTHER ?

A Quiz With Answers Offering Information on Various Subjects

The Questions

1. What city is thought to be the oldest in the world that is still inhabited?
2. What American statesman was known as "the Great Pacificator"?
3. Buonarotti is the surname of what great Italian artist?
4. What is meant by the French phrase "Je suis pret"?
5. With what is the science of metrology concerned — weather, rocks and their formation, or weights and measures?
6. What is an eon?
7. What is meant by the Pentateuch?
8. Which of these colors has the highest light-reflecting quality: canary yellow, silver gray or white?
9. Who were Aramis, Porthos and Athos?
10. In speaking of a woman in charge of a post office, which is the correct title to use, "postmistress" or "postmaster"?

The Answers

1. Damascus.
2. Henry Clay was known as the Great Pacificator."
3. Michelangelo.
4. I am ready.
5. Weights and measures.
6. An immeasurable period of time.
7. The first five books of the Old Testament.
8. White.
9. The Three Musketeers in Dumas' novel "The Three Musketeers."
10. Either is correct, but "postmistress" is not official. The post office department recognizes only one title—postmaster.

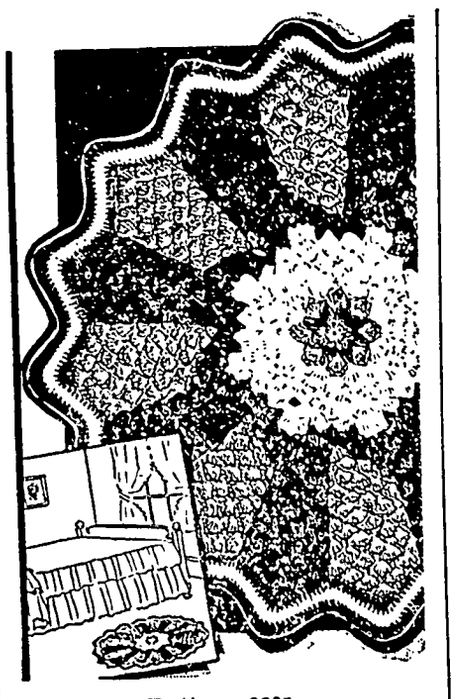
Cost of War

America's generosity toward its veterans may be gauged by a recent analysis of the costs of the Revolution, War of 1812, Mexican, Civil and Spanish-American wars. It shows that for every $100 spent during these wars, $160 was later expended for pensions and medical care. The study excludes the World war, the final cost of which cannot be estimated for years.—Collier's.

One-Day Honeymoon

That a bride may reject the bridegroom after the first day of the honeymoon is one of the strange marriage customs of the Todas tribe of southern India. The groom becomes an object of derision and is forced to leave the village. Only the bride has this privilege; the groom cannot refuse to continue the marriage. The tribe live in the Nilgiri hills, in the state of Madras; their language is quite distinct from other Indian dialects, and they have a religion entirely their own. Only a few of the tribe are left, and buffaloes are their standard of wealth.

Rug to Crochet in Simple Stitch



Pattern 6601.

CHOOSE three colors or two shades and white for this easy shell stitch rug crocheted in sections for easy handling. Use four strands of string, candlewick or rags.

* * *

Pattern 6601 contains directions for making rug; illustrations of it and stitches; materials required, color schemes Send order to

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents in coins for Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

Every One a Builder

Every man is the builder of a temple, called his body, to the god he worships, after a style purely his own, nor can he get off by hammering marble instead. We are all sculptors and painters, and our material is our own flesh and blood and bones.—Thoreau.

Mom! Keep O-Cedar Polish handy . . . for dusting, cleaning, polishing

Keep genuine O-Cedar Polish handy . . . then when sudden guests come, when the club meets, or when it's the usual time to clean and polish, you can do both easily, speedily (with O-Cedar Polish and the mop) and you leave behind a soft, silken O-Cedar lustre that's lovelier. Ask always for O-Cedar Polish (AND the O-Cedar MOP . . . it is big and thick and fluffy).

O-Cedar POLISH

MOPS, WAX, DUSTERS, CLEANERS AND FLY AND MOTH SPRAY

Self Advantage

No man can live happily who regards himself alone, who turns everything to his own advantage. Thou must live for another, if thou wishest to live for thyself.—Seneca.

Top the Market

Green Top Mineralized Tankage

and farm grains make market topping hogs.

Get a supply from your local feed dealer

Refuge in Foe

When fails our dearest friend, there may be refuge with our direst foe.

I LOVE THAT PRINCE ALBERT AROMA THAT P.A. CRIMP CUT TWIRLS INTO PLACE FAST AND SHAPES UP QUICK FOR TRIM, NEAT SMOKES, TOO!
COOL, MILD PRINCE ALBERT GUARANTEES SMOKING COMFORT AND RICH, RIPE TASTE. I'VE BEEN ROLLING P.A. FOR YEARS
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
FOR BURNING IN PIPE AND CIGARETTE TOBACCO

Copyright, 1940, R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co. Winston-Salem, N. C.

"SCORES EVERY TIME FOR MILD, RICH-TASTING ROLL-YOUR-OWN SMOKES!"

Carl Rinker and Tracy Powell talk Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco

Rollin' along with P. A.! Juanita Sikes knows what the boys are talking about—she, too, has a nose for good tobacco—the kind the boys are smoking and praising. "Prince Albert's goodness," says Carl Rinker (right), "comes through without harshness. It's prime, fully aged tobacco." "Yes, sir, there's no other tobacco like Prince Albert," adds Tracy Powell (center). "It's the National Joy Smoke!" (So say pipe-smokers, too!)

70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy pocket tin of Prince Albert

PRINCE ALBERT

THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned

86 DEGREES COOLER

than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested...coolest of all!

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swalve are the parents of an eight and one-half pound baby girl born to them Monday noon, September 23.

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 25-26.

"The Girl From Avenue A"

with Jane Withers and Kent Taylor.

Added Attraction!

Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 28. (Double Feature)

"Manhattan Heartbeat"

with Joan Davis.

ALSO

"The Bad Man From Red Butte"

with Johnny Mack Brown.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 29-30, Oct. 1 (Double Feature).

"The Man I Married"

Starring Joan Bennett and Francis Lederer.

ALSO

"Those Were The Days"

Starring William Holden and Bonita Granville.

Special
Added Attraction

Ernest Gerardi and the Three J's, radio stars from station KGLO, Mason City, on our stage FRIDAY and SATURDAY NIGHTS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth spent Sunday in Mason City visiting with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Galbreth. Rev. Galbreth, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is much better at this writing.

Mrs. James Larson returned to her home west of Klemme Saturday after being a patient at a Belmond hospital for about ten days where she received a major operation. Mrs. Larson is now making a good recovery.

Mrs. Herbert Bailey, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Ruth of Ames, drove to Rochester, Minnesota, Monday, where Mrs. Bailey enterd the Mayo Clinic for an examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barz and Mrs. Esther Barz and Milvern drove to Garden City, Minn. to attend a wedding of Ernest Palmby's son, Saturday evening. The party drove home again after the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kaduce, Jr. entertained the following to a fine Sunday dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Art Knoke, parents of Mrs. Kaduce, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jurgemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ewin Neuhring, Miss Viola Thieman and Raymond Barz.

Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch will leave Saturday for Fountain City, where on Sunday Rev Grosshuesch will speak at a Mission Feast. Services at the Klemme Reformed Church next Sunday will be in charge of the Mixed Chorus.

Mrs W. L. Thada returned Friday evening from her trip to the east and south. Mrs. Thada, who has been away on a ten day vacation, visited with relatives at Cambridge, Ohio, and from there accompanied them on a tour through Kentucky and Tennessee.

Mrs. Gerardi Entertained Mothers At Recital

Mrs. Ernest Gerardi entertained the mothers of her students at a recital held at the Quandt home Friday evening. A large crowd was present to hear the youngsters play.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Miss Elsie Kjar, of Rowan, spent the week end visiting in Klemme, at the Stub Lewis home.

Virgil Peterson, of Mason City, visited over the week end at the Dorance Grange home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen, Eunice and Junior, spent Sunday at the S. A. Isvik home at Jewell.

The First National Bank presents a nice appearance since the banking rooms were re-decorated the past week.

Henry Smid and family, of Hampton, spent Sunday in Klemme visiting with relatives and friends.

Carl Burgess is a skilled magician, too. Don't miss the novelty show at the high school Monday night. 1tc

Mr. and Mrs. George Lawhorn and Grandpa Freie drove to Cedar Rapids Saturday afternoon and spent Sunday visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and son, Duard, drove to Garden City Sunday and visited at the Henry Jahnke home.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernone McLaughlin and daughter, of Belmond, and Mrs. Daisy Lemke were Mason City callers Monday.

Brownie, the wonder dog, will be with Carl Burgess in his novelty show Monday night at the school. 1tc.

Novella Bredbenner, of Allison, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting with her mother, Mrs. Martha Bredbenner.

Mrs. Stanley Thada and Denny accompanied her mother, Mrs. Guldberg of near Thornton, to Mason City, Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Earl Schaeffer and Mrs. P. M. Wilson were at Mason City Monday. "Doc" attended a dental meeting.

Have you ever seen a real ventriloquist? Carl Burgess is one of the best. See him at the school Monday night. 1tc.

John Pannhoff and family spent Sunday in Algona where they visited with the Kelly Laudens. Kelly is the proprietor of a fruit and vegetable business at Algona.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka left Tuesday for Sioux City to attend the annual Methodist Conference which is in session there this week.

Bruce Arnold and Melvin Coobs were dinner guests of Billy Zabilka at the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka, Sunday noon.

Miss Anna Gibbs had her house repainted the past week which is a good improvement to her property and adds to the attractiveness of east Main Street.

L. W. Wesenberg, of Goodell, was in Klemme Thursday afternoon calling on the voters. Lew is a candidate for supervisor for the term beginning January 1, 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. John Day drove to Sioux City Friday morning, where they visited over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nissen. Mr. Nissen is a nephew of Mr Day's.

Do you like Charlie McCarthy? Then you'll like Carl Burgess and his novelty show at the high school Monday night. 1tc.

Fred Bell had a birthday Sunday and in honor of the event the following enjoyed a big dinner with him: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wille and family and Frederick Bell.

Penn Eckels, chairman of the county board of supervisors, was transacting business in Klemme Saturday afternoon. Mr. Eckels is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket.

Klemme friends of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Isvik of Cedar Rapids, will be interested to learn that Marvin is the manager of a farm store there and that he and Mrs. Isvik will be permanently located at Cedar Falls. Mr. Isvik has now been employed by his firm for a year.

Mrs. Virgil Cook is at Los Angeles, California, where she is making an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. H. F. Herrick. Mrs. Cook will probably remain in California until after the holidays.

"Bodge" Bowles was called to Des Moines Friday night as his mother, Mrs. Elmer Bowles, submitted to a major operation at the Methodist hospital at Des Moines Saturday morning.

Some remodeling was done at Speer's Cafe Monday which gave them more room near the front of the room when a raised floor used as a window display space was removed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ing. Lauritsen and children, Irene and Marvin, of Sheboygan, Wis., came Monday afternoon to spend a couple of days in Klemme and to be present at the sale of the Swalve Estate property.

Grandpa C F. Keraus, who had been seriously ill for several weeks, is greatly improved at this writing. Mr. Keraus is now able to be up in a wheel chair and has enjoyed being outside for a few days.

Puzzled.

Two sets of identical twins in the 2nd and 3rd grades at Van Horne have their teacher, Miss Jennie Ferris, very much puzzled.

Autumn Days and A New Car!

At no time of the year is the outdoors more inviting than during the Fall Season. It's a good time to trade in the "old bus" and enjoy the thrill of driving a brand new car. The 1941 models . . . now on display in our show room . . . are tip-top in performance and comfort.

HUDSON FOR 1941 IS HERE NOW . . .

You don't have to wait several more months for a 1941 car . . . HUDSONS are here RIGHT NOW . . . and we have already delivered several of the latest models. Buy a HUDSON and be a year ahead of the parade!

TRADE-IN ALLOWANCES ARE GOOD . . .

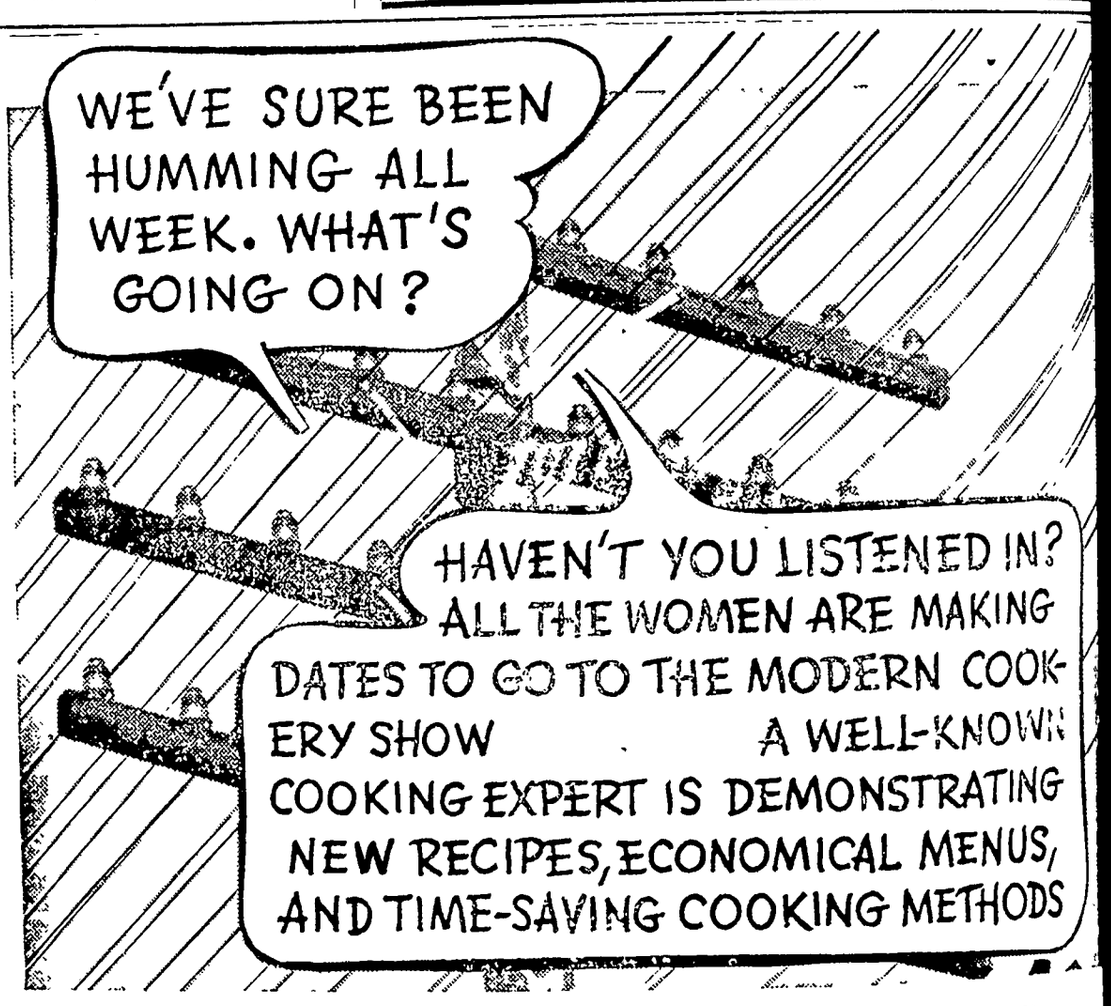
We are in a position to offer you a good trade-in allowance on your present car on a new 1941 HUDSON. Investigate our proposition before you buy ANY CAR. Dollar for Dollar you get far MORE IN HUDSON 1941.

See Us For Extra Good Values In Used Cars for Less Money . . .

- PHONE 93 -

Klemme Auto Compan

Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service Klemme, Io



WE'VE SURE BEEN HUMMING ALL WEEK. WHAT'S GOING ON?
HAVEN'T YOU LISTENED IN? ALL THE WOMEN ARE MAKING DATES TO GO TO THE MODERN COOKERY SHOW A WELL-KNOWN COOKING EXPERT IS DEMONSTRATING NEW RECIPES, ECONOMICAL MENUS, AND TIME-SAVING COOKING METHODS

It's October 9th!

Be our guest at a

FREE, MODERN COOKERY SHOW

MRS. MILDRED REES

This well-known authority on home economics will entertain the ladies of this community with a variety of cooking of all kinds. You will enjoy and profit by her demonstration.

Don't forget the time!

Thursday, October 9th

Don't forget the place!

2:00 P. M. Community Hall

See Next Week's Paper For List of Merchants Free Door Gifts

Lewis Radio Shop

DISTRIBUTORS OF

SHELLANE COOKING GAS Saves 3 hours drudgery a day

A SHELL PRODUCT

A Breathing Spell--

For Farm Folks!

Now that the bean hay is cut, the silo filled and the fall plowing under way, there comes a pause in the rush of farm work.

The Farmer himself gets busy repairing cattle yards and buildings so that his live stock will not suffer during the cold winds of winter

The Good Wife, too, has a most important job to do during this pause in the farm rush, she arranges the home for winter use, so that the family will be comfortable and keep well and be happy during the long nights of the coming winter.

The Wellemeyer Furniture Store is prepared to help you with this job of Fall House Cleaning. Maybe your wool rug is badly worn, or mayge the kitchen linoleum is "shot", or maybe the daughter of the household would like a nice new bed room suite for her room.

And the "Boys' Room," what a mess, I guess we better sell you a strong Steel Bed, with a good Coil Spring, a new mattress, or maybe a chest of drawers, mirror and linoleum rug for the floor. Everything must be nearly fool-proof in the "Boys' Room," at least until they grow out of the reckless age.

Yes, Our Furniture Store is full of Merchandise and we are willing and anxious to help with your problems of Fall House Cleaning!

Arthur Wellemeyer

Hancock County's Largest Furniture Store
KLEMME IOWA

THE KLEMME TIMES

ME 45 KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 2, 1940. NUMBER 18.

ge Crowd Attended Program Dance In New Building

UNDRED PEOPLE ND THE AFTERNOON DEDICATION PROGRAM

t W. P. A. Officials Take In Dedication Program

wd of some over five hunople attended the dedicagram and open house of s new Community Buildsday afternoon, and visitseveral departments of the icture nent W. P. A. officials wa and Minnesota were and took part in the pro-

, P Anderson, commander ocal Legion Post, presided eremonies and introduced ing and local officials. Inwere Harvey Sexauer, ton, WPA engineer; Rolne, St. Paul, Minn., regioneer for WPA; H. H. Ar- Des Moines, director of ork, R. E. McKee, Ames, endent of work on the lding project; Ray Murray Moines, assistant adminior the Iowa WPA; Paul mayor of Klemme; coun- C. A. Larsen, Julius Prie- d Lau, John Etchen and avey, W. C. Keraus, presithe Klemme Civic Club.

urray Gives Address

Murray, of Des Moines, of Buffalo Center and Secretary of Agriculture gave the main address of cation program. Mr. Murbject being "God Bless " which he concluded prayer written by himself. ray is a nationally known and teller of tall tales kept the crowd in an uplaughter with his funny nd tall tales, but swung seriousness of his talk nted out the things that yed in America today.

WPA officials on the proiked along the lines of the of the WPA. program, works and what it does, e building was formally over to Paul Grange as f Klemme, and the five nen present.

Keraus told of the co- which exists in this ity making it posible to many fine buildings in small community.

highlights on the program of music by the Klemol band; violin solo by ne Kudje; marimba solo e Becker; vocal solos by arz and Glenn Lewis. Both cation and benediction was Rev Calvin Grosshuesch. the program the Auxiliary rved hot coffee and doughthe visitors. The large ame early and many visitseveral departments of the before the program, while nspected the building after gram.

Dance In The Evening

mmense crowd was present evening when Gene Peipeven piece orchestra proe music. Many came to e music only, while the as crowded for each dance The evening crowd numpproximately 1,000 people. isk business was also reduring the evening in the nt dining room where as served continuously

Dance Saturday Night

ner dance will be held this Saturday evening when Karl's Dixieland Band will the music. Another large s expected for this dance.

Klemme Is Progressive

s address, Mr. Murray re- "Few if any towns in of comparable size have building as this." Another nt man was heard to make a similar statement. "Klemme has the best and most complete community building of any town I have ever been in, and I have been in a lot of community halls throughout Iowa and Minnesota

More Improvements

However, the local project is not yet entirely complete The parking ground west of the building will be greatly improved and well lighted and work will go right ahead on that project

The "lion's" share of credit for making the community hall a reality goes to the local American Legion Post, who have been tireless in their efforts to put the project across, after other organizations and groups had failed

LARGE CROWD WAS PRESENT TO HEAR MUSICAL PROGRAM ON SUNDAY

A large crowd was present at the Reformed church Sunday to hear the musical program by the Mixed Chorus. A number of musical specialty numbers were also presented and the program was one of the best ever to be presented in Klemme

The large group numbering over fifty voices, is under the direction of Mrs Ernest Gerardi They have received several requests to give concerts in other towns and are now planning a series of programs to be given in other churches.

The chorus will present a program Sunday evening at Hubbard, Iowa.

NEW MINISTER AT GOODELL U. B. CHURCH

GOODELL—The Rev H Knight of Morley is the new pastor assigned to the United Brethren church. The Rev Lloyd Patton, who served here the past year, was placed at Grand Meadow but did not accept as he has other plans.

REV. ZABILKA RETURNS TO KLEMME AND LIBERTY CHARGE

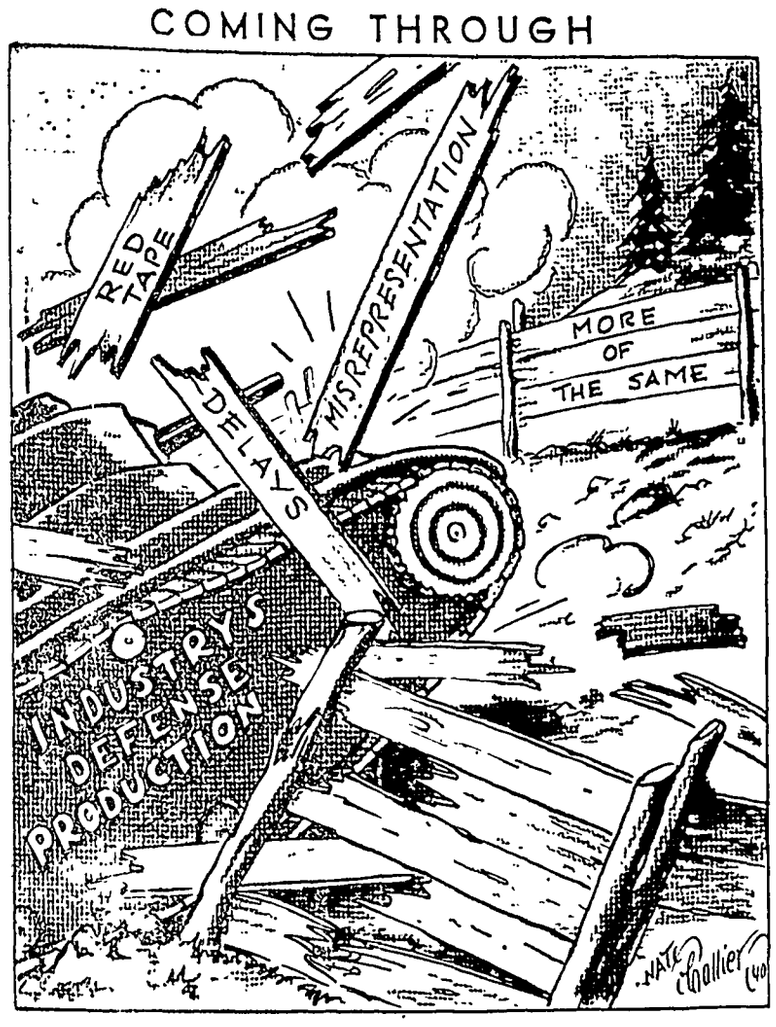
Several changes were made in Hancock County at the Methodist Conference held at Sioux City However, Rev Zabilka returns to Klemme but new ministers will be at Garner, Britt and Corwith

H. M. Hall as assigned to Garner; C. K. McNary to Britt, and A. J Barkley to Corwith

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all who so kindly assisted us during the illness of our husband and father; to those who contributed flowers and and expressions of sympathy in our bereavement we extend our heart felt thanks.

Mrs. J. J. Stille
and family. 1tc



Miscellaneous Shower

Monday evening, Mrs. Ed Buntenbach Mrs Sumner Trumbeli and Mrs Lloyd Lau had a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Mildred Rockow, at the Buntenbach home Miss Rockow is being married to Mr Wally Kreitlow, of Dows today. The wedding took place at the home of the Bride's parents and the Bridegroom's brother and Miss Elaine Buntenbach, of this city, acted as best man and brides maid

Monday evening court whist was played at five tables and high prize was won by Miss Avis Barz and Miss Bernice Tanner won the door prize After the playing, Miss Rockow opened the packages containing many nice and useful gifts for her home A lovely lunch was served by the hostesses.

A PIG AND A HALF WITH EIGHT LEGS IS A REAL FREAK!

Ben Mullin brought in a specimen for the circus this morning when he displayed what we might term "a pig and a half."

The freak pig was dead at berth It can best be described as being formed in the shape of a letter V. The pig had one head and a normal set of front legs and feet About the middle of the back it had another pair of legs and from there on it was two pigs . . . both back quarters having a pair of legs and feet like any normal pig.

Rolled cookies behave best when the dough is chilled in the refrigerator before the rolling. Cold hardens the fat in dough so that it rolls out easily on a highly floured board

FARMERS AND FISHERMEN WILL MEET IN KLEMME FRIDAY EVENING

A meeting of farmers who live along the Iowa River, and fishermen of this vicinity will hold a meeting at the new Klemme Legion Hall basement this week, Friday evening, October 4th, at 8.00 o'clock

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the possibility of improving the Iowa River near Klemme and Goodell and points between the two towns

The proposal to build a series of small, low dams along the river will be presented by Jack Stevens, deputy conservation officer of Clear Lake Mr Stevens will describe the construction of the peposed small dams and how they will benefit both the farmer and fisherman in that they will conserve a supply of water, will act as a means of flood control, and last but not least, provide ideal water to insure good fishing

Several farmers are showing a keen interest in the project and no doubt two or three dams will be built this fall WPA labor will be used in constructing the dams, which will be built of rock and the building will be under the supervision of the State Conservation Department On the proposed project there will be no expense to the farmer.

A local Farmer-Fishermen's club will be organized to sponsor the project and to lend support and help needed. All farmers and fishermen interested are invited to attend this meeting on Friday night.

—— Committee

Funeral Services Held Friday For John J. Stille

Funeral services for John J. Stille, 72, who died in a Mason City hospital last Tuesday afternoon following an operation of nearly a week before, were held at the Liberty Methodist Church at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon in charge of the Wellemeyer Funeral Service Rev Wm Zabilka preached the sermon and interment was made in the Klemme Cemetery

Pall Bearers were A J. Schoenwetter, E. G. Beier, Roy L. Schaefer, Vic Schoenwetter, Will Lemke and Arthur Knoke.

The Obituary is as follows

Obituary

John J. Stille was born February 1st, 1869, on a farm in Warren County, Missouri. His parents, William and Caroline Straatman Stille, were natives of Germany.

At the age of 5, his parents moved to Hancock County and lived on the farm known as Butterfield's Grove, here he attended the rural school nearby and completed his common school education, after which he attended the Academy at Garner, Iowa.

As a young man he was employed as a farm hand, and 50 years ago when the town of Klemme was platted, he was employed in the Henry Lau Warehouse selling farm implements and buying grain, during the threshing season, for many year, he operated the steam engine on different runs in this community.

In the spring of 1899 John J. Stille and Clara Gast were married. For a few years they farmed as renters, but later purchased a farm, in Liberty Township, which has been their home for 33 years.

John J. Stille was of cheerful disposition and seldom complained but for the last several years he walked with a cane because of a lameness caused by rheumatism, but other conditions developed to hasten his passing, which occurred Tuesday afternoon, September 24, 1940, at a Mason City hospital.

He reached the age of 71 years, 7 months and 23 days.

He leaves besides his wife, three daughters: Gertrude, Mrs. Elmer Schaefer, Liberty Twp, Fern, Mrs. Athur Carlson, Clear Lake, Iowa, and Lucille, Mrs. Cecil Bridges, Klemme Four sons: Quintin, of Klemme, George, of Spencer, Iowa, Kermit and Virgil, of Liberty Twp,, and also 11 grandchildren.

Mr. Stille's life reminds us of this quotation: "He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplishde his task."

Mr. And Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn Observe Silver Wedding Anniversary

COMMUNITY HALL IS SCENE OF GATHERING ON SUNDAY

Dinner Held At Noon Followed By Program In The Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn observed their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday when relatives and friends gathered at the community hall for a noon dinner followed by a program in the afternoon.

About sixty-five reatives were present and a special table was provided for the Kluckhohn family on which was a decorated wedding cake baked by Mrs. W. C. Keraus. Other tables surrounded the bridal table and all were decorated with vases of garden flowers.

The afternoon program opened with Mrs. Carold Larson singing "I Love You Truly," which was followed by a reading by Miss Carmen Kluckhohn, her subject being "Twenty-Five Years." Mrs Carold Larsson and W. C. Keraus sang "Down By The Old Mill Stream," followed by a reading, "Wanted, A Man," y Mrs. Aug. Baack. Harold Wicks gave a humorous reading, "Tax Payers."

Mock Wedding

Another humorous touch to the celebration was the staging of a mock wedding in which appeared the following characters: Mrs Fred Kluckhohn, Groom; Henry Lewis, Bride; Mrs. Fred Etchen, Best Man; W. C. Keraus, Bridesmaid; Wilma Swalve, Flower Girl Dorance Baack, Ring Bearer, and Mrs. W. F. Pavey, Preacher.

A history of the life of Mr and Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn was then presented by Arthur Welelmeyer Mr. Wellemeyer then presented them with gifts of silver.

The program closed with all singing, "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds."

The dinner and program was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. August Baack.

History

The following history was compiled by Arthur Wellemeyer:

The history of Clarence Kluckhohn begins before he was born The town of Klemme needed a winning baseball team. The older men who played on Klemme's first team were very good at the bat. but when it came to running the bases, they would sometimes fall down.

It happened that the Klemme team lost three games in succession, and the first mayor of our town, Mr. Henry Terhufen, was provoked and in his exasperation he called the team together and said, "The only way that Klemme will ever have a good and winning baseball team is to raise nine boys."

And as they story goes, that each man went home and placed a base ball on the clock shelf, so that the family could look at it and hope that Boy Babies would arrive in the town for the much needed Baseball Team.

And, sure enough, the town was lucky, on Dec. 31, 1891, Clarence Kluckhohn was born, the first boy to be born in the new town of Klemme.

There was great rejoicing in Klemme, and the people talked things over and finally had a committee of prominent citizens call on the parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kluckhohn, and instructed them how to raise the boy to be a great ball player. They said, "feed him plenty of meat and give him a base ball to play with while he is still in the cradle"

This was done, the base ball was taken from the clock shelf and given to the Boy in his crib, he started throwing right away, and as for his diet; - his dad was a butcher, and the choicest cuts of meats were always found on his table.

The boy did well on this special diet and soon became known as "Fat" Kluckhohn Later when he became a ball player, he lost his surplus fat and became all muscle and as hard as nails, but the nickname "Fat" stayed with him even to this day.

And because he was so hard, he chose the Hardware business as his life's work.

Mrs. Kluckhohn was an Indiana girl and her early history is not so well known, but pillows in her home testify to the fact that she must have known boys before she came to Klemme, in fact, one pillow has 15 boys' names embroidered on the top, and we sure don't blame the Indiana boys for wanting to keep their names before her.

Carrie Metzger arrived in Klemme March 1st, 1915, a certain young man met the train for weeks looking for her, but when she did arrive he was like the "little man who wasn't there."

The first night "Fat" called on Carrie, he peeked through the window to see his future wife and narrowly escaped a dish water bath which was coming out of the kitchen door of Kirkwood's Restaurant where she was working.

"Fat" did his courting in the building where Heinie Lewis now has his Produce Store, he could be seen going there early in the evening and leaving in the wee hours of the morning.

After a speedy courtship, they were married Stepmeber 29th of that same year, and went to housekeeping in an upstairs apartment on Main Street.

They are the parents of two fine men, Clarence Junior, and Eugene Conrad.

"Fat" is quite a joker and we have often heard him make the remark, that as soon as his wife reached the 40 mark, he would trade her off for 2 twenties, evidently she has not reached that yet, or else he talks one way and thinks otherwie.

Just yesterday I heard "Fat" humming a song, and this song, which no doubt expresses his true sentiment: "When I grow too old to dream, I'll have you to remember. When I grow too old to dream Your Love will live in my heart."

The Greeks have an adage which reads: "He is rich who is contented" and it seems to me that the richest years of one's life come after we have passed this 25 year mark in our married life.

In our Happy Childhood years we are always longing to be grown up.

And in those beautiful years of early married life, we are so very busy.—A business must be established, a home must be built, and the family of children need constant care and training.

But when we arrive at the 25 year mark, these hard tasks of our earlier years have been accomplished, and we look forward to many years of restful contentment.

A silver wedding, therefore, is a great occasion in the married life of each of us, and we congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn on having arrived, and we wish them God's richest blessings in the years to come.

NEWLY ORGANIZED CHURCH SOCIETY WILL HOLD MEETING THURS.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will meet this week Thursday afternoon, October 3rd at the church parlors at 2:00 o'clock.

All ladies of the congregation are urged to attend. Circles and Committees will be announced at this meeting and the year's program will be planned.

Mrs. E. J. Arnold is the leader, and Mrs. C. A. Larsen is in charge of devotions, while the following ladies are the hostesses: Mrs. John Etchen, Mrs. Floyd Franklin, Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn and Mrs. Frank Sandry.

Pennsylvania Colony of 5,000 Amish Considering Mass Trek to Maryland

By HERBERT ROTHERMEL
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

EPHRATA, PA.—The Amish people, one of America's oldest refugee groups from Europe's religious persecution, are considering moving from the Pennsylvania German country where for 250 years their forefathers have had sanctuary from the customs of the world, and defied the ways of its progress.

For these many generations they have lived much as did the first five rugged families of 200 people who fled to America from the German Palatinate on the invitation of William Penn, to found in the Appalachian foothills the colony of Plain People which now has grown to more than 5,000 members.

Buttons Too Worldly.

The horse and buggy still is their mode of transportation. The black, wide-brimmed, low-crown hat still covers the head of the men. Only the black poke bonnet is worn by the women. The men's suits still are made of thick, black cloth, and held together not with buttons (which are worldly) but by hooks and eyes. Married men still wear long Old Testament beards. The women and girls wrap themselves in black woolen shawls and wear long flowing gray skirts that sweep to the roads. The children are dressed exactly like their parents.

Their mode of living has not changed. Neither gas nor electricity has come to their home. Their stoves still burn wood cut from their own wood patches. Their food still is the wholesome but substantial fruits and vegetables from their own ground; their meats, sides and quarter sections from their own hogs and cattle.

Their farms are large and rich. Their crops are diversified. Crop failure is an unheard of happening. Horses and cattle are pure blooded, the storage bins are extensive and well stocked.

Fear Modern Education.

There has been only one threat of encroachment, but this threat has thrown terror into the midst of the Amish fathers and mothers, for the threat is education of the children. The Amish fear that with education will come discontent with the old way of life that so long has held them together.

Already one colony has been set up in Maryland. It is a long trek from the hills of Pennsylvania to the flat acres of Maryland's eastern shore, especially when the journey must be made by horse and wagon. But more and more families are visiting there and looking over the ground.

Cause for the migration began three years ago when school directors of East Lampter township, Lancaster county, ordered erection of a consolidated school, and the closing of 16 one-room school houses, mostly in the Amish district.

First protest came from the Amish when it was learned that the school was to be built with funds borrowed from the PWA. Then it was revealed that because the consolidated school building was to be further from their homes than the one-room buildings, the children would ride there by automobile bus. Finally the Pennsylvania legislature raised the age when children could quit school to 16 years.

Amish Never Borrow.

All this is opposed to Amish tradition. The Amish-man never borrows. He buys and pays for what he wants, or goes without. He won't ride in an automobile, for that is an invention of the devil. And his children, he believes, should not be educated beyond the three R's.

First there were appeals to the school board, then to the governor, afterward to the legislature and finally to Washington. Everywhere the Amish lost. Most amazing of all, the matter finally was taken to court. So far as is known this is the only time in history that an Amishman ever went to court as a prosecutor. Among other things with which the Amish will have nothing to do are courts.

But no progress was made. Came then the method the Amish have used in other trying times; they just ignored the whole matter. In this case they ignored the schools. Children were kept at home. Amish fathers were brought before justices of the peace and fined. They paid the fines and still the children were absent. Some of the fathers were sent to jail, but it made no difference to the determined parents.

These three little Amish maids are just leaving a one-room schoolhouse similar to those ordered closed in Lancaster county, Pa., upon the erection of a new township consolidated school.

The gentleman at the left is married, as shown by his whiskers. Unmarried men are smooth shaven. Taking pictures of the Amish is risky business sometimes, for although the Plain People will not cause anyone's arrest, they might take personal action when they feel aggrieved, and permitting their picture to be taken is against the law of the church.

Work Before Education.

Mediation settled some of the problems, finally. Several of the one-room school houses were reopened and in outlying districts the Amish bought school buildings themselves and hired their own teachers.

In one of the buildings there are 23 pupils. Each pupil is a Stoltzfus, the name of one of the first five families that came to America. The teacher? You guessed it. His name is Stoltzfus.

But still the Amish are not satisfied. They would rather have their children on the farm at an earlier age.

"The children should learn to work before they become accustomed to easier ways," old Elam Stoltzfus told me. "Work, work, work. It's the old way. The old way is best."

He pointed toward his own green fields, ripe with hay, winter wheat, and young corn. Guernseys were lowing in the meadow. Great Percheron horses stood in the barn yard. His finger stopped at the two high, Swiss-type barns, each many times larger than his house, a usual feature of the rich Amish farms in this district.

So more of the families are casting eyes toward Maryland. Maryland has a lower school age, and the governor has promised not to interfere with them.

Machinery Makes Laziness.

Not all will go. Some who have visited the new colony have returned. They say the soil is sandy and the fertilizer will leak away. Then they look at the children, some going off to the new consolidated school to hear radios, to see dances, where there are opportunities for vocational study, even to learn about tractors.

"Tractors," snorted Elam Stoltzfus. "I never knew one to give fertilizer or to foal.

"Work is what does it, work with the hands and the rich earth. Machinery makes people lazy. You don't need high school learning to plant corn and harrow potatoes, and our children don't become lawyers, or doctors, or even preachers. We do our own preaching and our own praying.

"A boy goes to the eighth grade. That's all the education he needs to become a farmer. The girls should learn to cook and preserve our vegetables and berries before that. Otherwise neither the boys nor the girls ever learn to work. They get worldly ideas.

"Why, I've heard stories recently about some of our boys being out driving on the roads after dark! There's no need for a man to do that. A youngster should be getting his rest for the day ahead, and a married man ought to be with his family."

Recently a group of Amish visited Pennsylvania's new governor, Arthur H. James. They said more of the children were being forced to the consolidated schools. They wanted the governor to re-open more of the old one-room buildings.

But the governor didn't give them much encouragement.

"You go home and behave yourselves, the way you always have," he told them with a chuckle, "or I'll come down there from Harrisburg and pull your whiskers."

Even in levity the remark didn't set well with the dour Amish.

So eyes are turned again toward Maryland. Meanwhile Pennsylvania, fearful of losing the families that have had much to do with making Lancaster very nearly the richest farming county in the nation, isn't quite satisfied either. Like the Amish, the great commonwealth itself doesn't know exactly what to do about it.

Bermuda Islands a U. S. Naval Base During Last War

WASHINGTON —The Great Sound of Bermuda, proposed site of a United States air base, is familiar to American travelers, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic society. "All cruise ships enter the sound and navigate carefully through its island-studded waters to reach the harbor of Hamilton, Bermuda's capital and chief port," says the bulletin.

"The largest and westernmost of three sea-lakes enclosed by the 150 islands of the Bermuda group, the land-locked great sound offers about eight square miles of sheltered water, varying in depth from 18 to 66 feet. Its greatest width is some 3½ miles. Two strings of islands extend into the sound from the southeast. The southernmost string cuts off a southern subdivision of the sound into Port Royal bay. The northern island chain, including a little 'fraternity row' named from Alpha to Omega, partitions off the ship channel into Hamilton harbor, which is in effect an eastward extension of the sound. Darrell's island, in the northern group, is base for Pan-American clipper planes.

"At the northwestern side of the sound's entrance stands Britain's little watchdog of the mid-Atlantic fortified Ireland island, with the barracks, half-mile dockyard, floating dock, and repair shops for the 'America and West Indies squadron' of the British navy.

"On January 16, 1918, Bermuda temporarily turned over two islands to the United States to serve as Base 24 for the U. S. navy in the World war. Agar's island, at the eastern entrance from the Great sound into Hamilton harbor, and the small island southwest became Uncle Sam's fuel and supply base, with occasional use also of White's island. Some of the American vessels were based at Ireland island with the British navy.

"The United States-Bermuda base was a stop-over for the American 'splinter fleet,' the 'peanut armada' of 120 wooden submarine chasers only 110 feet long which combatted submarine warfare in European waters.

"Without capacity for fuel for the entire transatlantic trip, the subchasers put in at Bermuda for supplies and repairs both going and coming. One of the six sub-chasers which the United States lost during the war ran aground and sank in the Great sound.

"A base in the Great Sound gives the United States a mid-Atlantic outpost 640 miles east of the nearest point on the American coast, at Cape Hatteras. Bermuda is 673 miles from Norfolk, 697 from New York, 668 from Boston, and less than 800 from Washington

Divorce 'Habit' Increasing in United States

DETROIT, MICH.—For a "Friend of the Court," Edward Pokorny has hard theories on some legal proceedings, particularly divorce cases.

Pokorny, who has been Friend of the Court of Wayne county for the past 22 years, stoutly insists that one separation, "except in the gravest of cases," is sufficient, and warns that "divorce is becoming a habit to some people." He is formulating a law, which he plans to present to the legislature, holding the quota of divorces to one per person.

"Divorce may be the so-called safety valve of society," he said, "but there comes a time when even a good safety valve must, of necessity, be shut off."

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

BRITAIN, U. S. WOO RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Behind-the scenes talks are still continuing between the state department and Russian Ambassador Oumansky with a view to putting relations between the two countries on a more even keel, and perhaps evolving a little teamwork in regard to Japan. But the talks aren't getting far.

Simultaneously, Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador in Moscow, has been doing his best to win the Russians over to the British side. If Stalin should mass his Red army near the Hitler sphere of influence in the Balkans, it might slow up the Nazi air attack upon England.

So Sir Stafford's negotiations in Moscow are a matter of life and death. However, they aren't getting far either. The Russians have been letting Sir Stafford go out on the leash just so far, then they bring him up abruptly.

Just what goes on in the mind of Stalin, or Hitler either for that matter, is like doping out what goes on in the mind of the Sphinx. But there are certain signs that Hitler is facing more and more toward the west and may have given up his old designs on the east—and Russia. There are also signs that Stalin believes this to be true.

For instance, the settlement of Germans in the new German-seized Poland has not been successful. The Germans don't seem to like moving into Slav areas. Furthermore, the Pan-German group seems to be dominant in Berlin.

For years there have been two schools of German thought in the Berlin foreign office and the war ministry, one believing that Germany's future lay in moving into Russia, the other that it lay in dominating western Europe. At present the latter group seems to be influencing Hitler.

Their plan is to create a peasant state in France and the other Latin countries of Spain and Italy. In France they have already removed all of the machinery from northern factories—lock, stock and barrel. And it is significant that the part of France which the Nazis left unoccupied is largely agricultural; so that it will be a long time before France ever is able to come back as an industrial country.

Note—Betting inside the diplomatic corps is that Hitler will move in on Russia when he gets ready, even if he does try to dominate western Europe first.

* * *

COUGHLIN BACK AGAIN

Father Coughlin is quietly planning to stick his oar into the presidential campaign with a new radio series to begin around October 15 But he is having a lot of trouble arranging contracts with stations.

Since the controversial nature of his talks bars him from the big networks, under the National Association of Broadcasters' code, the only course open for him is to buy time on individual stations for purely political speeches. This the radio priest is now trying to do.

But he is encountering a lot of coolness among station owners. They are at a loss just how to classify his fulminations, since his political support has been repudiated by Wendell Willkie, and he already is persona non grata with Roosevelt.

Note—Coughlin plans to broadcast by means of transcribed records over the individual stations. This is much cheaper than network broadcasting —a possible tipoff that the cash isn't rolling into his coffers as it once did.

* * *

CANADIAN PILOTS

One matter discussed by the joint U. S.-Canadian defense board at its first meeting in Ottawa was the training of Canadian pilots in the United States this winter.

Canada's severe weather makes winter training extremely difficult for aviators. As one Canadian board member expressed it, "Your worst weather conditions are better than our best." Also, Canada is seriously handicapped by lack of training planes and instructors.

The big pilot training program being conducted by the U. S. government has made it hard for Canada to obtain trainer planes and instructors here

So the Dominion is eager to set up a large school somewhere in the U. S. South or Southwest where Canadian youths could receive flying instruction this winter. If the necessary facilities can be obtained, Canada is ready to send 5,000 men south for training.

All the costs would be borne by Canada. The only thing desired by Canada is the privilege of establishing the school on U. S. soil.

Note—The U. S. army has trained military flyers from South American countries for several years, though only in very small numbers.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Both Annapolis and West Point, at the suggestion of the President, will graduate their 1941 classes next February instead of June.

The war department will shortly install a civilian as head of its press division—an important innovation. In the past, army officers have been assigned to this job.

Newest decoration in the office of Bill Green, A. F. of L. president, is a handsome silk flag, the gift of the American Flag association.

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

WNU Service

'SCHOOL DAZE, SCHOOL DAZE'

The public schools have opened again and millions of children give up playing outdoors and start fooling in the schoolroom.

* * *

They had a lot of fun during the vacation, but weren't anywhere near as idle as they will be when they get back to their studies.

* * *

Whether the children have been getting the right sort of education is now a question agitating many nations. That many of the weaknesses in social systems are due to emphasis on the wrong things in school is widely charged. France declares, through Marshal Petain, that its public school system was "a lie," and says that from now on schools will teach "respect of the human individual, the family, society and the nation."

* * *

France has blamed about everything else for its defeat, and it may be stretching a point to blame the schools, but this department thinks a little shaking up of the American public school system wouldn't do us any harm.

* * *

If Uncle Sam's schools are teaching American boys and girls respect for the family, society and the nation, a lot of the kids are not listening. (There we go preaching again.)

* * *

How about getting back to the old-fashioned days when school was opened with prayer and the national anthem, with teacher supplying the inspiration?

The schools are instructing the kids in dates that don't matter, historical episodes that they will never remember and various subjects which will be of little use to 'em. The only exam they pass quickly is the one which asks, "What was Jimmy Cagney's last picture?" "Name four night clubs most often mentioned in the press," "What six movie stars were divorced in the last 10 days?" and "Has mommer developed a system to beat bingo yet?"

* * *

The three Rs would seem to be Robinson, Rooney and Romero.

* * *

Of course, the schools may not be entirely to blame for the fact that little boys grow up into men who yawn as a veterans' parade passes, give a sloppy salute to Old Glory and say "So what!" when told that democracy is in danger.

* * *

The old folks at home have something to do with it. Pop never read the Declaration of Independence, and thinks Magna Charta is a new screen actress.

* * *

And mom is too busy between bridge, the screen scandals, bingo and her efforts to get the right face cream that she isn't much help to the kids either. (So we hear.)

* * *

FRATERNITY BROTHERS

"I'll take him on!" cries Paul McNutt;
Says Wendell, "Paul, my eye!"— Biff! Bang! They're merely brothers in Old Beta Theta Pi.

* * *

RIMES IN HEAVY TRAFFIC

Shed a tear for Margie White,
She signaled left . . . and then turned right.

—A. G. Odell.

* * *

Bandaged up is Gus Q. Bray—
He said he'd fix his brakes "some day."

—K. L. T.

* * *

Gatti Casazza died in Italy the other day at 71. He had been director of the Metropolitan Opera in New York for 27 years, and before that was director at La Scala. Gatti was a glamorous figure in the days when the world not only felt like singing, but sang and even paid money to hear others sing. He must have been pretty unhappy lately.

* * *

Kathryn Holhlman Frank defines an optimist as a man who kept his sunglasses in his hand during the last two weeks in August.

* * *

The explanation of the hour: He was going to get married anyhow this summer.

* * *

The new France is talking of adopting the "family vote" system of franchise, under which a man has as many votes as there are in his immediate family. The French have something there that we might copy on this side of the ocean. Imagine the rush of party leaders to take Pap Dionne to the polls!

* * *

New York has a new milk-bottle, shorter, lighter and "gurgle proof" whatever that may mean. If it still holds notes to the milkman it is okay with us.

Jacket and Ski... For School...

JUST as necessary as a pencil and a notebook, a smart start in school, this ... jacket-and-skirt duo is one that every 8-to-16 student ... have! Wear it with tailored ... or sweaters, as a suit, ... with scarfs, beads or lapels, as a frock Either ... sign No. 1233-B will be your ... in-day-out stand-by. It's ... make, and when home-sewn ... very little Flannel, wool crepe, ... and thin tweed are grand ... style. It looks especially ... in pastels or plaid and plain ... binations. With nipped-in ... flared skirt and a trio of ... it's just as becoming as it is ... and useful.

* * *

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 123... signed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14 and ... Size 10 requires 2¼ yards of 54-... terial without nap. Send order to...

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN D...
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. ...
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

INDIGESTI...
may affect the Heart
Gas trapped in the stomach or gullet may ... hair-trigger on the heart At the first sign ... smart men and women depend on Bell-ans ... set gas free. Not a laxative but made of ... acting medicines known for acid indigestion ... FIRST DOSE doesn't prove Bell-ans ... bottle to us and receive DOUBLE Money ...

World a Staircase
The world is like a stair... some go up and some go do...

"Black Leaf 40" KILLS LICE
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS.. OR SPREAD ON ROO...

Obligation Is Slavery
Obligation is thraldom, thraldom is hateful.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the ... of Harmful Body Wa...
Your kidneys are constantly ... waste matter from the blood ... kidneys sometimes lag in their ... not act as Nature intended—fail ... move impurities that, if retained ... poison the system and upset the ... body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging ... persistent headache, attacks of ... getting up nights, swelling, ... under the eyes—a feeling of ... anxiety and loss of pep and ... Other signs of kidney or ... order are sometimes burning, ... too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that ... treatment is wiser than neglect. ... Doan's Pills. Doan's have been ... new friends for more than forty ... They have a nation-wide repu... Are recommended by grateful ... country over. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILL...

WNU—N

MODERNI...
Whether you're planning ... or remodeling a room you ... follow the advertisements... ... what's new... and cheaper, ... better. And the place to ... about new things is right ... this newspaper. Its colu... filled with important ... which you should read ...

ID CUSTER ASPIRE TO BE PRESIDENT?

New Chapter in the Story of a Glamorous American

MO SCOTT WATSON
by Western Newspaper Union.)

ENTY-FOUR years go Cleveland, Ohio, as the scene of a meet- ique in American poli- he "Johnson Soldiers' ailors' Convention" of Although a relatively incident in President w Johnson's historic le with Thaddeus Stev- d the other radical Re- n leaders, this con- has particular inter- cause one of its pro- and outstanding fig- as a man whose name morous in our military as George Armstrong Cus- he Boy General With the Locks," "The Murat of erican Army" and the In- ghter par excellence until bullet ended his spectacu- eer in what is commonly as the "Custer Massacre." biographers are strangely concerning his part in the nd convention. Yet it was ortant milestone in his ca- For it was his first venture a path which, there is rea- believe, he hoped might m to the presidency of the States' story of that phase in the of George Armstrong Cus- here told for the first time.

Custer was an active pro- of the "Johnson Soldiers' ailors' Convention" is in- d by an editorial which ap- in the August 24, 1866, is- the semi-weekly edition of Greeley's New York Trib- Headed "The Johnson Sol- this editorial began: ra's Custer, Dix etc. urge fellow-soldiers in the late war to unite with them in a convention in Cleveland e the way for a Rebel-Cop- d triumph in the approach- ection "

Tribune was one of the anti-administration or- But, granting the bias of torial policy, Custer must been unusually active in on's behalf, else he would ve been singled out for spe- otice, as he was in the Trib- coverage of the convention.

Cleveland convention d in a big tent on the lake of the Ohio city on Septem- The first dispatch sent o the Tribune by its special pondent refers to Custer ntally, misspelling his thus oking around on the members of nvention, as they assembled for s, I saw many whose histories d me of their object in being here. ost prominent and conspicuous star His caliber is explained by mark of an Ohio delegate, who Custar is a man with a deal of ut very little brains." Custar has pporting the President vigorously s evidence before the Reconstruc- ommittee and his reward was a ion from Captain to Lieutenant- A Convention will be per- ly organized to-morrow morning. Granger and Custar are spoken ermanent President. So also is au and Steedman There are a seeking the position in case of rel. Mr Doolittle (senator from sin) will settle matters. Custar is n.

That Red Necktie!

as it turned out, "Custar" t. Gen. John E. Wool, a n of the War of 1812, as as the Mexican and Civil and the oldest major-gen- in the United States army, made temporary president. according to the Tribune spondent's next dispatch, Wool—poor foolish old man— the Convention to order On his at young, curly-haired Custer, who sily distinguished by a bright red e he wore Gen Gordon r was made permanent President Convention.

g Custer, too, was ambitious to he honor conferred on him but lly yielded at the suggestion of r Doolittle Custer felt hurt at this and called it ingratitude He felt e was the chief spirit of the Con- n, and the one who first originated cheme but Doolittle sleeked e's flaxen curls, and told him it e President's wish that an older hould be selected. So the quarrel s composed by putting Custer on mmittee to present the proceed- f the Convention to his Excellency ill give Georgie a chance to apply e vacant Brigadier Generalship in egular Army en though Custer was denied residency of the convention, ntinued to be one of its lead- pirits during the two days' ing The Tribune dispatches teedly ment on him—and by time its correspondent had ntly learned to spell his correctly! They also men- requently his red scarf, that t oriflamme which had been e forefront of many a thun- g cavalry charge during the war.

parently Custer was acting sort of secretary of the con- on, for there is also fre- mention of his receiving ages brought to the tent by telegraph boy." One of telegrams and the conven- ction which resulted from it ed a furore later. It came Memphis, Tenn., and it was,

GEN. GEORGE A. CUSTER
In this photograph, taken by Brady in 1865, Custer wears the picturesque costume of the "Boy General"—wide felt hat, blue flannel shirt and scarlet tie.

according to the Tribune correspondent, "signed by the Rebel Gen. N. B. Forrest of guerilla and Fort Pillow fame, Gen. Chalmers of Hood's old army and Col. Galloway of that notorious Rebel sheet, The Memphis Avalanche—stating that the late Rebel soldiers—the same who massacred negro soldiers at Fort Pillow, and again, more recently, on the streets of Memphis,—in mass convention sent greeting to the Johnson soldiers here, and said they had their sympathy."

This waving of the bloody shirt by the Tribune correspondent was prophetic of the repercussions from this incident which were to come almost immediately. According to Lloyd Paul Stryker in his biography of Andrew Johnson:

> Nothing could have done the Johnson cause more harm than this well-intentioned message The convention, upon receipt of this Southern message of good will, adopted a resolution thanking the Confederate soldiers for their words of "magnanimity and kindness ' This, in the minds of Thaddeus Stevens and his sycophants, was proof of treason The Forrest telegram furnished Sumner and his followers with new evidence ' that Johnson had gone over to the Confederacy "All other circumstances united," wrote Blaine, "did not condemn the convention in Northern opinion so deeply as this incident "

In his "A Complete Life of General George A. Custer," Capt. Frederick Whittaker, Custer's earliest biographer and his chief apologist, without referring directly to this aftermath of the affair, admits that Custer's first venture into politics, via the Cleveland convention, was an ill-advised one and he tries to excuse his hero for the error of judgment in this ingenious fashion:

> Nothing hurt Custer's political and military future like the movements of this summer, all of which were due to his generous impulsive way of doing things. Honest to the backbone himself, he could not imagine that others were less so and he fell, as it were, into the midst of a den of hungry political wolves who would have picked his bones clean had he staid much longer But he was saved from the consequences of his indiscreet utterances by being ordered to Fort Riley.

It is no doubt true, as Whittaker's statement implies, that Custer's activities during the summer and autumn of 1866 seriously impaired the prestige which he had gained as a successful cavalry leader during the Civil war. This should have warned him to keep away from civilian politics but, unfortunately for him, he failed to heed that warning. During the next 10 years the American public, which had once hailed George Armstrong Custer as the beau sabreur of the Union army, had good reason to applaud him in a new role—that of the foremost Indian fighter of his day. Why he, having added to his fame as a soldier, should have ventured again into the field of politics, which had once proved so sterile for him, is one of the paradoxes of a career that is filled with inconsistencies.

For that is what he did when he became embroiled in the famous Belknap affair in the winter of 1375. He volunteered to testify before the congressional committee which was investigating charges of graft against Gen. W. W Belknap, President Grant's secretary of war, thereby incurring the displeasure of Grant.

As the result of these latest "indiscreet utterances," Custer was deprived of command of the expedition which he was to have led against the hostile Sioux and Cheyennes in the spring of 1876 although he was eventually permitted to accompany its commander, Gen. A. H. Terry, at the head of his regiment, the Seventh cavalry. Disaster overtook him when his regiment was detached from the main column to locate the hostiles. For, at the Battle of the Little Big Horn on June 25, 1876, the Indians annihilated the five troops of the Seventh which Custer led into battle and inflicted heavy casualties upon the other six troops before they were rescued by Terry the next day.

Controversy Over Custer.

For more than 60 years a controversy has raged over this battle. Critics of Custer assert that he alone was responsible for the tragedy. They say that he was hungry for a victory which would regain for him some of the prestige he had lost in the Belknap affair and that he was determined to grab all the glory of such a victory for himself. So, they assert, he deliberately destroyed both the letter and the spirit of Terry's explicit orders and by bringing on a battle 24 hours too soon he not only brought disaster upon himself but he broke up a plan which would have insured defeat of the Indians.

Custer-defenders tell another story. They admit his desire for a victory but they deny that he disobeyed Terry's instructions for they read in them an interpretation which gave him considerable latitude of action and fully justify his departure from the letter of those much-debated orders.

In the heat of their dispute, they overlook an incident which may furnish a clue to one of the forces that motivated him. This incident suggests that, despite the unhappy results of his previous ventures into politics, he was contemplating still another and that his ultimate goal was Washington, D C , and the White House'

Accompanying Custer on this expedition was a party of Arikara or Ree, Indian scouts, many of whom, including a fierce warrior named Bloody Knife, had taken part in Custer's exploration of the Black Hills two years earlier. Before Terry's army left Fort Abraham Lincoln, Dakota territory, Custer held a council with the Arikara scouts.

Years later Red Star, one of the Arikara scouts, during an interview with O. G. Libby of the North Dakota Historical society, recalling the council, disclosed that Custer told the Arikaras "he had been to Washington and he had been informed that this would be his last campaign in the West among the Indians. He said that no matter how small a victory he could win, even though it was against only five tents of the Dakotas (Sioux) it would make him President, Great Father, and he must turn back as soon as he was victorious. In case of victory, he would take Bloody Knife back with him to Washington."

Later, during the march into the Indian country, Custer again talked with his Indian scouts. At that time, according to Red Star:

> He said he had made up his mind to go on this expedition to fight. He said he had been to Washington and had been given instructions to follow the Dakotas. Now that he was on the war-path, if he had a victory, he said, "When we return, I will go back to Washington and on my trip to Washington I shall take my brother here, Bloody Knife, with me I shall remain at Washington and be the Great Father But my brother, Bloody Knife, will return, and when he arrives home he shall have a fine house built for him, and those of you present will be the ones appointed to look after the work that will be placed in charge of Bloody Knife You will have positions under him to help in what he is to do and you can, when you wish to speak with me or send me word, gather at Bloody Knife s house and decide what the message will be Then he will send it to me He will be given the whole tribe of Arikaras to be head of. I will have papers made out for each of you here and you will have plenty to eat for all time to come, and you and your children.

In saying such things, was Custer merely "talking big" (army officers who knew him well say that he was given to doing that) in order to impress his Indian scouts and, by making such promises, did he hope to hold them steadfast if they should show an inclination to desert him at a critical time in the coming campaign? Or was he truly "showing his heart" to trusted Indian friends who would not likely betray his confidence.

There is, of course, no way of knowing which of these two possibilities is the more believable But they suggest other interesting speculations.

More than once the American people had elected a military hero President. They had sent "Old Hickory" Jackson, "Old Tippecanoe" Harrison and "Old Rough and Ready" Taylor to the White House. Why shouldn't they send "Old Curley" Custer, the conqueror of the Sioux, there—if he should win a great victory over the Indians?

Were such thoughts as these in the mind of George Armstrong Custer when he told his Arikara scouts that he was going to be their "Great Father"? Was he planning, in the event of victory, to enter the political arena once more and prove that he could win there as well as on the field of battle?

Those questions must remain forever unanswered. The lips of the only man who could have answered them were sealed by death on a barren hillside in Montana one hot Sunday in June in the year 1876.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

United Features WNU Service

COMMANDEERING POWER

WASHINGTON.—This column has been so busy kibitzing about the conscription of men under the selective service bill that it hasn't had much space for kibitzing about the so-called "conscription of industry" or wealth—the "commandeering power" added to the Burke-Wadsworth bill.

Of course, the whole idea of tacking this provision on a selective service bill is pure political hokum. It was put there to enable congressional candidates for re-election to say to their constituents:

"I wouldn't vote for conscripting men's lives until I had insisted on voting to conscript men's dollars."

The power to take over private property for public use is as old as English law. It was called the law of eminent domain. It is practiced almost every day in peace time and is called the process of "condemnation." The only real difference in war is that it is called "commandeering."

Any important difference in the proposed legislation is only in the method for determining whether the need is for "public use." In both cases a court must determine what must be paid the owner for his property. That must be so because the Constitution itself provides that private property may never be taken "for public use without just compensation."

In peacetime condemnation the court must adjudge both that the proposed use is "public" and what the compensation shall be. In this proposed legislation, whether the property is to be taken on a rental or ownership basis, the secretaries of war or navy can determine whether the use is "public" but it is—as it must be—left to the courts to determine just compensation.

* * *

In time of war or times like these where nearly every use in connection with armament is public, there isn't much to that distinction. The law is faulty, however, in vesting the commandeering power in the two secretaries. It should be in the President. That is another lesson of 1918. Both war and navy departments frequently commandeered the same supplies. President Wilson finally straightened that out by requiring all commandeering orders to be signed by the chairman of the war industries board.

Apart from that, the Smith or senate version of the commandeering amendment is good. The objectionable circumstance is the nature of the debate. There is no measure of "just compensation," for a human life deliberately drafted into military service is not the donation of anything to the public. It is the performance of an obligation to the public. "Just compensation," as required by the Constitution, for a dollar is a dollar. On no sustainable theory do the two relationships stand on the same ground. Neither condemnation nor commandeering are, as the politicos like to say, conscription of wealth. It is electioneering buncombe.

* * *

Finally, as our World war experience proved, while "commandeering" of some facilities like land, docks, warehouses and supplies generally will frequently be necessary as a convenient method of determining price, the "taking" of manufacturing plants for government operation very rarely happens—only once by the army at least in 1918.

The power to do so is useful for what President Wilson called "a club behind the door" in negotiation. The practice of doing so on a rental or fee-simple basis is useless and unnecessary. The government has neither the personnel nor the ability to move in and operate a private plant. The war department, for example, has all it can handle in fighting a war. If government has, as it did have in 1918, priority powers over power, fuel, supply and transportation, it has no need to take over a man's plant. If he doesn't behave, it can choke his operation to death in two weeks' time—as we threatened to do a few times in the old war industries board.

The threat was always sufficient. We never took over any plants. No matter how you slice it, this controversy is still boloney.

* * *

DRAFT LOTTERY

The next big news story on the domestic front will be the great national draft lottery. In the Civil war draft, names of young men in each county were written on separate slips of paper and put in a jury wheel at the courthouse The order in which men's names came out was the order of their going There was so much chance for graft and fixing in this method that, in 1917, we invented a new way.

Registration cards in each local board district were given a "serial number" after they had been thoroughly shuffled. Usually there were less than 3,000 cards in each district.

The first plan was to have 4,000—from 1 to 4,000—written on slips of paper and each put into a gelatin capsule. In the presence of a crowded and distinguished audience. The secretary of war drew out the first capsule. It contained the number 258. That meant that in each of the 4,200 odd local districts the man whose number was 258 was the first who would be called for examination

Word Jugglers

Ely Culbertson: "A dream of a Prince Charming often stands between a man and a woman; an ideal yardstick a woman picks up in her childhood and with which she clubs her husband" . . Jan Struther in her book, "Mrs. Miniver": "You cannot successfully navigate the future unless you keep always framed beside it a small clear image of the past" . . . R. Roelofs Jr.'s: "A straight line is the shortest distance between two points but it hasn't any interesting angles" . . . Suggestions for a Hitler's office wall from Time and Your Life: "Neighbors can make friends but only enemies can make allies" . . . "A man may build himself a throne of bayonets, but he cannot sit on it."

Story Tellers

A letter from a Britisher to his small son refugee-ed to the States will break the hearts of those who read it. In Good Housekeeping . The price of trying to be a good American is listed by Dale Kramer in "The American Fascists" (Harper's). He cites the shameful figures that in New York only 106 Fascists were prosecuted in 1939—against 127 who were fighting them! . Many mags are now covering the muddy ground of dictator stooges in the U S. and others on the bund-wagon. Most of the data isn't new, but it must never stop being news. The best way to put them on the spot is to put them in the spotlight.

Headliners

Bob Hope's eyebrow-lifter: "Motion pictures haven't developed a comedian" . . . What about a feller named Cholly Chaplin? . . . Dorothy Lamour's remarkable remark: "Men are not all alike" . . . Except, she means, when they're alone with a gel in a keb . . . Cary Grant's grunt: "I get mad when people stare at me when I eat" . . . Lissen, Cary. When people lose their interest in actors—actors invariably stop eating

Memos of a Girl Friday

Rudy Vallee and Francisca Sims, the Conover beauty, are more than a telephone conversation. Tells chums they may marry.

The Treasury Dept. and tax men have a wonderful stunt to trap tax evaders who gamble heavily at the tracks and who report not being able to pay . . . Those suspected have their photos taken by hidden candid cameras (usually in back of a coat lapel).

Montes and Fernandez, the Rainbow Room dancers, are delightful. But they may bust up because she wants to continue at the Met Opera House . . Andy Anderson's moider yarn, "Kill One, Kill Two" which is going big, got his atmosphere writing it during his spare time at a rear desk in the Associated Press "morgue" . Willson Woodside's story: About the two Italians meeting on a street in Rome. "How are you?" asked the first . . "Better, thank you," said the other . . "Better?" said the first . . . "Yes," was the retort, "better than next year!"

I suppose you know that Hitler is said to have warned Mussolini not to sink any British ships in the Mediterranean that Hitler has sunk in the North sea

The Ashland drug store on Madison near Thirty-second street, according to a customer, has this sign displayed above the soda counter: "Roosevelt or Willkie. McNary or Wallace. Winchell or Bernie. May the best man win. God Bless America!" . . Understand Mr. Jolson's investment in his new hit "Hold On To Your Hats" totals $82,000.

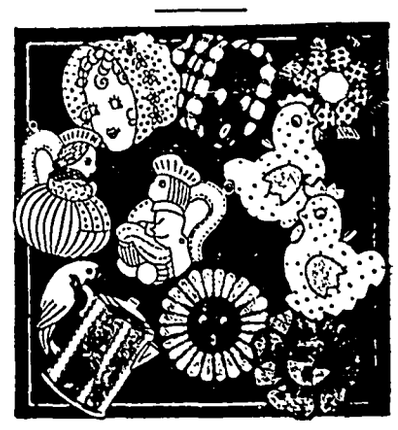
Much excitement over at WMCA. Seems that James Roosevelt's film, "Pastor Hall," opens at the Globe next week, and Mrs Roosevelt, his mama, had agreed to speak about it over that station between 8 and 8 30

Couldn't be cleared, however, because the commercial at that time is bought by Elliott Roosevelt! . Recently we reported a group in the U. S. would start a "Hate England!" campaign. Yesterday's Trib frontpaged: "Steuben Club to 'Expose' British in U. S."

Is this suggestion for Britain's counter-attacks on Berlin too terrible: "Brit'sh-kriegs"? . . . Verily well . . . The O'Keefe quote: "Willkie thinks it is high time FDR became a postage stamp!" brought this phone call from Harriet G. Walsh of Syracuse: "That," niftied La Walsh, "might be the only way he can be licked!"

Man About Town: The Barbizon hotel (for women) was in a ditheroo the other eve'g. Phone ops couldn't op and omigoodness it was awful: The reason—Franchot Tone was in the lobby calling for one of the guests Aida Alvarez, who did Spanish dances at La Conga, and M Rubin, the co-owner, will soon wed . Ethelyne Holt (she started a hat fad years ago after wearing a mannish fedora in a Camel ad) makes her operatic debut with Nino Martini in "La Boheme" on the thir tieth in Puerto Rico.

Pleasing Motifs for Pot and Pan Holders



Transfer Z8976

FOR our first fall needlework, what could be more appropriate than making some new pan holders? Gay flower faces, hen and rooster, Toby jugs and a parrot handle holder, etc. Why, even the smallest scrap bag would supply enough material, for some of these are pieced. Bazaars and gifts will take inexpensive toll of any you aren't needing yourself.

* * *

Transfer Z8976, 15 cents, gives motifs for ten holders. Send orders to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.

Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

When YOU dust use O-Cedar on your dustcloth. Dust and NEVER raise a dust

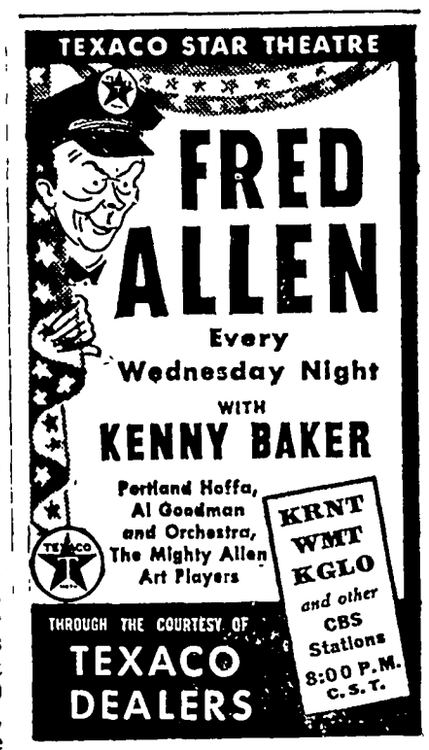
Here's the smart, easy, modern way to dust. Add one tablespoonful of genuine O-Cedar Polish to one pint of warm water; dip your dustcloth in that; dry it and use it. Now when you dust you pick UP the grit and lint and sandy dust. You don't raise clouds; you don't scatter the dust from table to chairs back to tables again . . . your cloth picks UP the dust, and your furniture is spotless. Ask for

O-Cedar POLISH

MOPS, WAX, DUSTERS, CLEANERS AND FLY AND MOTH SPRAY

Using Every Moment

Every moment may be put to some use, and that with much more pleasure than if unemployed. —Chesterfield.



Facts of
ADVERTISING

• ADVERTISING represents the leadership of a nation. It points the way. We merely follow—follow to new heights of comfort, of convenience, of happiness.

As time goes on advertising is used more and more, and as it is used more we all profit more. It's the way advertising has—

of bringing a profit to everybody concerned, the consumer included

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Pig.

A 50-pound pig was found at the bottom of a corn crib on the Sundgren farm near Boxholm recently. Apparently, the pig had been imprisoned in the crib since it had been filled. It had had plenty to eat but lacked moisture, except for what came through from snow or rain. The animal had burrowed his way up through the bottom of the corn to near the top

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone

Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

Made To Measure!

SUITS!

OVERCOATS.

A tailoring salesman for the National will be at our store all day with a complete line of 300 full sized samples to choose from.

Oct. 4th

Here's the opportunity you have been looking for, to select your Suit, Top Coat or Overcoat for Fall.

Come In Friday
October 4th . . .

Gildner-Paulson
Garner, Iowa

Good Watch!

If Corydon residents want to know the correct time, all they need to do is to ask Tom Opp. Mr. Opp has in his possession a 40-year old watch, which was put in order a year ago. Since that time, the watch has not been allowed to run down, nor has it been set. It was recently checked for accuracy and found to have the correct time.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF COUNTY WILL MEET ON FRIDAY P. M. AT BRITT

The Hancock County Republican Women's club will meet Friday, October 4th at 2:00 p. m. at the Liberty Memorial Building at Britt. All clubs of the county will attend and the meeting is open to all interested persons. The speaker will be Dudley Weible, of Forest City, who will talk on current issues. This is the first of a series of meetings the club will hold in the county.

COUPLES GRANTED LICENSES AT GARNER

GARNER — Marriage licenses have been issued here for Reno Harms, 23, Thornton, and Ione Tanner, 18, Garner; Everett Atwig, 24, Wesley, and June Hansen 20, Britt; Marvin Bredlow, 23, Goodell, and Viola Koehler, 25, Meservey.

BUILD IT OF CERTIFIED CONCRETE BUILDING BLOCKS

Clear Lake Sand & Gravel Co.

EARL MOLL, Mgr.

Northern Lumber Co. of Klemme
Local Dealer

For Permanency, Beauty, Durability and Low Cost, Specify, Clear Lake Sand & Gravel Co. Products

The Clear Lake Sand & Gravel Co. are manufacturers and distributors of Certified Concrete Blocks Sand and Gravel, being one of the largest concerns in this part of the country, serving in this capacity. This business is conducted under the directions of men who have years of experience in the building trade and are well versed in the requirements of a comprehensive service.

If there is any good that may come of the terrific fires that this country has experienced it has surely taught the world one thing, as only those buildings which are made of Certified Concrete Blocks withstood the ravaging of these fires.

The thousands of buildings that we see throughout our travels show that they stand only because of the materials that have been built into them. You cannot imagine a skyscraper made out of wood but we do understand the lasting qualities of Certified Concrete Blocks. Their permanence as durable building material has never been equalled. Your local dealers can supply you with Quality Washed Sand and Gravel or Certified Concrete Building Mlocks.

(Adv.)

Wild Cars.

Waukon has been having its share of cars running away. Recently, a car belonging to Mike Foley of Harpers Ferry, crossed a Waukon street backwards, ran up over a curb and crashed into the side of a brick building. The following day, a truck rolled down the same street, causing damage to things which got in its way.

DEMOCRAT RALLY AND FREE DANCE WILL BE HELD HERE WED. EVE.

F. J. Lund, Candidat For Congressman Will Be Main Speaker

Herman Paul, local chairman has announced a Democratic Rally and dance to be held in Klemme at the new Community Hall on next Wednesday night, beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

Besides the address by Mr. Lund, there will also be a number of feature entertainments including music by the Klemme school band; musical selections by the Katter Cowboys, and accordion selections by Ernest Gerardi.

Democrat candidates for county offices will be present and be introduced.

A free dance will follow the evening's program and everyone is invited Malek's orchestra will furnish the music.

The date is Wednesday evening, October 9th.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs Lew Abele and family visited Sunday. at the Martin Jensen home near Osage.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemke and children visited at the Wm. Lemke home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange and family and Mrs D. H. Hammon were dinner guests at the Lee Hammon home. Sunday

Mr and Mrs. Richard Ax and family and Bernetta Stromer and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pritchard visited at the Bill Hempel home near Clear Lake Sunday

Mr. and Mrs Will Lemke visited at the Rosco Baker home at Ames Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs Emery Schaefer visited friends at Clear Lake, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs Emil Beier and Mrs. Frank Ward visited Frank Ward, who is a patient in the Veteran's hospital at Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs Harold Abel visited at the Oscar Hartwig home near Kanawha, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs Otto Gast and Mr Geogre Gast, of Beltrama, Minn visited with relatives and friend in this vicinity the past week

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kropl visited at the Herman Gast home Sunday evening

The following boys returned home Sunday after a week's fishing trip in Northern Minnesota Floyd Greiman, Ronald Greiman Alfred Goll, Bernard Greiman Dale Griffen, Lawrence Greiman John Abele, Lloyd Zwald, Denni Schleusner and Glenn Lange. They reported good fishing and a good time.

The Gast re-union was held at the Kermit Stille home, Sunday Sept. 29th A large number o relatives and friends were in attendance.

U-DELT-EM BRIDGE CLUB MET

The U-Delt-Em bridge club held their first fall meeting last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred J. Arnold. Mrs. Henry Galbreth won high score while Mrs. Earl Schaeffer held low score. Lunch was served by the hostess.

They Ate Watermelon!

Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers raised a lot of watermelons this year and on Tuesday afternoon of the past week invited the Girl Scouts to a watermelon feast. Then on Friday afternoon the Klemme teachers had their fill of delicious melons at the Chambers farm.

AVERY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs Will Wadidnghani were entertained as dinner guests at the John Waddingham home Monday.

Mrs. Henry Nannega and sons, George and Clarence, were callers at the Henry Dirks home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. red Carolus and daughter, Joyce, of Galt, were callers at the Mrs. August Trampel home Friday forenoon.

Byron Nelson, son of Rev. and Mrs. Harvey Nelson of Luverne, spet the past week at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson.

Mrs. Peter Trampel and sno, Harmen, were business callers at Mason City, Tuesday.

A follow-up meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Marshall for distrists No. 1 and 2. The ladies are taking home furnishing this year. Fourteen ladies were present. Lunch was served after the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Folkerts and daughter, Gloria, were visiting last Sunday at the Mrs. Will Joos home at Buffalo Center.

Mrs. August Trampel and Gertie Johnnie and Elmer, Gilman Marshall, Clarence Tramel and Mr and Mrs. Henry Carolus and son were entertained as dinner guests at the Fred Carolus home at Galt Sunday

Mr and Mrs. Martin Karsjens and family were vistors at the Will Waddingham home Sunday.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

August and Christina Haberkamp To Raymond H. Haberkamp, Q C Deed, 11-14-38, $1. SE¼ N W¼ 12 95 24.

Hancock County, Iowa, To O. E Johnson, Spec Wty Deed, 6-2-39, $20 Lots 8 & 9, Blk 9 of Grandview Add to town of Kanawha.

O E. Johnson and Nora To Anna G Slcter, Q C Deed, 9-12-40, $35 Lots 8 & 9, Blk 9 of Grandview Add to town of Kanawha.

Hancock County, Iowa, To O. E Johnson, Spec Wty Deed, 6-2-39, $120 Lots 3 & S½ Lot 2, Blk 1, of Lucas Add to Kanawha.

Carrie and Alac Anderson To Mrs. Evelyn Anderson, Wty Deed, 9-27-40, $1. Lot 7, in Blk 8, Orig. town of Britt.

Mary L. Wichman To F. C. Griewe or Mathilda Griewe or the survivor. Wty Deed, 9-25-40, $2500 A tract conmmencing at a point 8 rods W of the NE corner of Lot 1 in Blk 1 of Seymour's Add to Concord. now Garner, running thence W 8 rods, thence E 8 rods, thence N 8 rods to place of beginning.

A B. Davenport and Alice To Donald Hodson, Wty Deed, 9-25-40, $100. W½ Lots 1 & 2. Blk 19, Orig. town of Crystal Lake

The Equitable Life Assur. Soc. of U. S. To Gail Becker. Deed, 8-26-40, $1 N ½ SE¼ Sec. 9 & S 100 A. of NE 9 94 23.

C J. and Anna Franklin To Oscar Nyhus, Wty Deed, 6-14-40, Lots 1. 2, 3, Blk 5. Miller Ind. Ellington Twp.

John Hancock Mutual Life Ins. Co To Walbert and Etta Bruns, Spec Wty Deed, 6-26-40, $1. NE¼ less 1 acre for school, 9 96 26.

Leslie Kendall and Cornelia V. wf, To National Life Ins. Co.. Q C Deed, 9-20-40, $1. E½ SW¼ 2 97 24, exc. RR.

N. H. Veldhouse and Laura M To V. A. Blomgren, Q C Deed, 9-19-39. $1. Lots 1 & 2, Blk 3, Grandview Add. to Kanawha

Hancock County To V. A. Blomgren, Spec Wty Deed, 6-2-39, $55. Lots 1 & 2, Blk 3, Grandview Add. to Kanawha.

To uncover "Death Valley Scotty's" secret hoard at last No. 1 mystery man of the desert castle has been spending for 40 years without even ta collectors finding where he gets his "millions"—now he's called to court t all about this myster in The American We azine distributed wit Chicago Herald-Amer

VOTE FOR

☒ Fern Peck Katte

Republican Candidate

For County Recorder

Tune-Up For FALL and WINTER Driving--

GET YOUR CAR IN SHAPE FOR COLD DAYS AHEAD . . .

Cold, frosty mornings are just ahead . . . . and with them comes a multiple of motor trouble if your car is not in proper condition.

Heed our warning . . . drive in today for a complete "TUNE-UP" of your motor . . . the result will surprise you and the cost is small. A few adjustments now, perhaps a set of new plugs and minor parts will put your motor in perfect condition for quick starting and ideal performance in the coldest weather.

LET US WINTERIZE YOUR CAR TODAY . . . .

Don't wait until freezing weather to WINTERIZE! Have the job done today . . we will go over your car from "cellar to attic" with Winter Lubricants, Prestone and Grease. Check every part to insure you real service during cold weather!

How's YOUR Battery Mister?
We Sell WILLARDS Here . .

- PHONE 93 -

Klemme Auto Compa

Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service Klemm

THADA'S

A Good Store In A Good Town Kle

SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY & SAT

OMAR wonder FLOUR $1

THE BREAD FLOUR SO GOOD IT WINS CAKE PRIZES-

(ask us how you can have 15c deducted from above

SWEETHEART SOAP
3 bars for 20c
4th bar for 01c

WHEAT FLAKES,
Repeating target rub ber gun free, 2 pkg

CAMAY The Soap of Beautiful Women 3 bars

CEREAL, Dixiana
White Wheat, 28 oz. . 13c

DILL PICKLES
Quart for .....

Pork & Beans Mrs. Grimes brand Lg. 1 1-4 lb. can CRACKERS, Soda

2 lb. box 15c

SCOURING PADS
Large, each .....

Fig Bars Fresh Cookies Per lb. at 1

Get the Facts and you'll get this

Fully-Fitted Frigidaire

Another startling GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Model SVS 6, the lowest priced 6 cu. ft. Frigidaire ever offered • Famous Meter-Miser Mechanism • Frozen Storage Compartment • 4 Big Ice Trays Automatic Tray Release on every Ice Tray • Automatic Interior Light • Automatic Reset Defroster, and many other features!

MODEL SVS 6

$114.75

See Our Midsummer Magic Demonstrations. They take the mystery out of refrigerator buying.

Model SVE 6...now only

$134.50

It has the famous METER-MISER that cuts current costs even in hottest weather

Come in and see proof-of-value that Frigidaire makes it possible for us to offer

- Every Ice Tray a Quickube Tray
- Double-Width Dessert Tray
- Sliding, Glass-Topped Hydrator
- Large Frozen Storage Compartment
- 10-point Cold Control
- Automatic Reset Defroster
- Lift-out Shelf
- All Shelves Stainless Chromium
- F-114—Exclusive, Safe Refrigerant
- Built and Backed by General Motors

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY

Wellemeyer
AL DIRECTOR
ng experience and uipment.
•
T AMBULANCE SERVICE
•
R2 Day or Nigh
emme, Iowa

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
•
RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

interize
OCTOBER!

DON'T GET CAUGHT FLAT-FOOTED AGAIN THIS YEAR . . .

Every fall we have customers tell us "Why didn't you tell us to WINTERIZE my car before this cold snap?" Well . . . we're telling you now to get your car WINTERIZED IN OCTOBER get ahead of that damaging cold spell that is just around the corner. Don't take chances . . Let us WINTERIZE your car today!

COMPLETE WINTERIZING SERVICE HERE . . .

Bring your car here for a complete WINTERIZING SERVICE, which include all of the following.

- Flush and Clean Radiator and Heater
- Install New Hose and Connections
- Fill Radiator with Anti-Freeze
- Clean Out Old Differential Grease
- Refill Transmission ant Differential with Winter Lubricants
- Drain Crankcase, refill with Winter Oil
- Lubricate Chassis with Winter Lubricants
- Check Your Battery

HOW ARE YOUR TIRES AND TUBES? . . . .

Now is a good time to trade in your old Tires and Tubes and have the benefit of Good Tires for Winter Driving. Get our prices on Firestone, Goodyear and U. S. Royals TODAY!

Now Is The Time To Install Snow and Mud Tires . . . .

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station
AN PAUL, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa

E MUST SELL OUR
d CARS and TRUCKS
matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT rgains in late models You take no chances when you us. Come in and look them over.
Garner Motor Sales
OBILE CHEVROLET

-Pressure... or Large Stock and Low Prices

A good, high-pressure salesman can sell a ot of merchandise from a small stock of goods by his convincing talk, house-to-house peddlers are good at that, but, if the customer is not satisfied, they will not sell him again.

The Wellemeyer Store is rather old-fashioned in it's selling policy, we don't try to talk anything onto you.

The Customer calls at the Store in need of Furniture, Rugs, Shades or anything else in our line — we try to help the Customer solve her problems, and we depend on our large, well-sorted stock, and our low prices to do the convincing.

We are very anxious that the Customer be pleased with the purchase, and, we have learned in the 33 years of our business life in Klemme, that the Customer is most apt to return again and again to the Store where he or she has been well served.

Arthur Wellemeyer
Hancock County's Largest Furniture Store
MME IOWA

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor ... Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor ... Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman ... Eunice Larsen
Sophomore ... Audrey Mau
Junior ... Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior ... Shirley Johnson
Dramatics ... Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music ... Jacquelline Kudje
Sports ... Henry Kaduce
Grade News ... Leonard Kaduce, Arlene Schmidt

Weeks Moral "There is no Disgrace in having to spend twice as much time to master an assignment as someone else"

"The Disgrace comes in giving up before you have mastered it."

FRESHMAN NEWS

We had a test in general science Wednesday Mr Galbreth gave it since Mr Onerheim was gone.

We also had a test in business training on the telephone Wednesday

The girls in home economics class prepared fruits for breakfasts Tuesday Each girl or group of girls made different things Fruits prepared were stewed apricots baked bananas, fried apples, baked apples, baked pears, apple sauce and shredded orange

The boys are still making drawing in manual training

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The sophomors in English are reading "Silas Marner" The story is about a linen weaver, and each day we have a test about we rea that day

We had a test in history Wednesday After it was over, the sophomores didn't look as merry as hey had before

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

Most of the Jolly Juniors" enjoyed the opening of the new community hall which was plainly registered on their faces Friday morning

By request I write this "How would a certain junior girl like to live in Crystal Lake"

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

Romeo has lost his class ring and not to Juliet either. He claims he lost it in one of his weaker moments It must have been because he doesn't know the girl

The upper classmen will take tuberculosis tests next week.

SPORTS

The Klemme high school baseball team was defeated by Thornton last Tuesday, 10 to 1, on the local diamond

Coach Bowles announced on Thursday at baseball practice that the basketball squad would start getting in shape for the basketball season. He said that the Shamrocks must be in good shape because they had twenty games scheduled for this season which included ten conference games

MUSIC CHATTER

Mr. Onerheim went to Ames last Wednesday to the Iowa Marching Band Convention. The freshmen in the Iowa State College band gave an unrehersed demonstration under the direction of Mr Hindsley. The new method will be practiced this year by the Klemme band. The field events were under the direction of H A Gruetzmacher, a former resident of Klemme

The performance of the band last Thursday was highly complimented They had the privilege of being the first band to play in the new community hall, which was quite an honor

GRADES 1 & 2

Monday morning we had a treasure hunt in our room. We found the following new toys for our play-corner. iron, ironing-board, and telephone.

During our science lesson we mounted pressed leaves. We have been bringing many different kinds of seeds to school.

The second grade dramatized two stories that they had been reading for the first grade.

Larry has been bringing some funny little animals made out of potatoes and matches. We read the poem "The Potatoes' Dance" by Vachel Lindsay

We are making booklets about "Our Home." We have made pictures of our families, the fun we have at home, how we help at home, etc.

GRADES 3 & 4

September 27th was American Indian Day We talked about the Indians at work, the Indian schools and Indian children. We read Indian stories.

Mr Galbreth visited our room Thursday and gave us an interesting talk about the Indians he saw this summer. He showed us many Indian squaws and Indian chiefs for Art

The following had 100 per cent in spelling Luella Priebe, Iris Rosendahl, Isabelle Gibbs and Marjorie Lau.

GRADES 5 & 6

The following people had perfect spelling scores this week: Evelyn Harold, William, Irene, Donna, Esther Clarence, Roger R., Phyllis, Roger B, Mary Lou, Carol, Elizabeth, Ruth Smith and Ruth Stokesbary.

We have a new health chart for our room

Helen brought some spider eggs to school last week. They hatched into tiny little spiders.

We had a vacation Thursday afternoon to attend the dedication of the new comunity hall. Some of the people in our room played in the band

Esther and Peggy were the reporters for this week.

GRADES 7 & 8

Ronald Brinkman brought a beautiful bouquet of dalhias. Robert Tiggerman brought a plant to school, also

We finished the first unit in history, "Discovery and Exploration"

Ruth Bell and Edward Barz received the highest scores in spelling

Friday night we had a skating party at Garner Mr. Roths took us in his truck. Everyone had a good time

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—WELL IMPROVED 120 A, farm, 2 miles south of Duncan, known as the Fred Kohlstorf place. Reasonable priced to close estate. Write or see Frank D Fischer, Titonka. S-25, 3tp

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7 50, like new for $5 00 Times Office.

FOR SALE --GRAPES 75c & $1 Per bushel. Ben F. Greiman, Phone 525F79.

FOR SALE—ONE 18 INCH JOHN Deere Tractor Plow. Northern Implement Shop. 1tc.

FOR SALE – 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each Klemme Auto Company tfc

FOR SALE- GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

WILL CORRESPOND WITH some one who can finish payments $8 month on small late style piano. Write Armstrong Piano, Mason City. 1tp

GET PAID WEEKLY—LIBERAL terms to right man in choice territory as sales representative for Wisconsin's Greatest Nursery. No delivering or collecting. Healthy work with good pay in a business of your own. Stock Northern grown, with liberal guarantee. Company estabished over 30 years. Write McKay Nursery Company, Madison, Wisconsin. 3tp.

WANTED—CUSTOM WORK FOR Two-Row Power binder, $1.75 per acre. J A. Chambers. S-4-11-18c

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—A BUNCH OF KEYS IN key case. Call at Times Office.

DATE SET FOR THE HANCOCK COUNTY CORN HUSKING CONTEST

The annual Hancock County Corn Husking Contest will be held October 18th at the J. N. Townsend farm just west of Britt.

The contest is sponsored by the Britt Commercial Club and those desiring to enter should contact County Agent Peterson at Garner.

Music Mothers' Club Will Meet Next Wednesday

The Music Mothers' club will meet on next Wednesday evening, October 9th, at 8:00 o'clock. All members and anyone interested are asked to present. Refreshments will be served.

ENTERTAINED AT ITALIAN DINNER

Mr. and Mr. Ernest Gerardi entertained Editor Earl Hall of the Mason City Globe-Gazette; Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grange and Mr and Mrs. R A. Jorgenson at an Italian dinner Thursday. Spaghetti, prepared in Italian style and served with a special gravy and grated cheese was the main feature of the dinner which was greatly enjoyed by the guests.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

William Zabilka, Pastor

Our churches in Klemme and Liberty will join with all the Protestant churchs of America next Sunday (Oct. 6th.) in observing the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper on that day This service is to be observed in every Protestant church in America on the same day, and to be used as a day of rededication of our lives to Christ and His work in these days of unrest and uncertainity.

The two Sabbath Schools as usual, and Epworth League at 7:30 p. m at Klemme. All Epworth League members are urged to be present Sunday for the election of officers and make plans for the new year.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

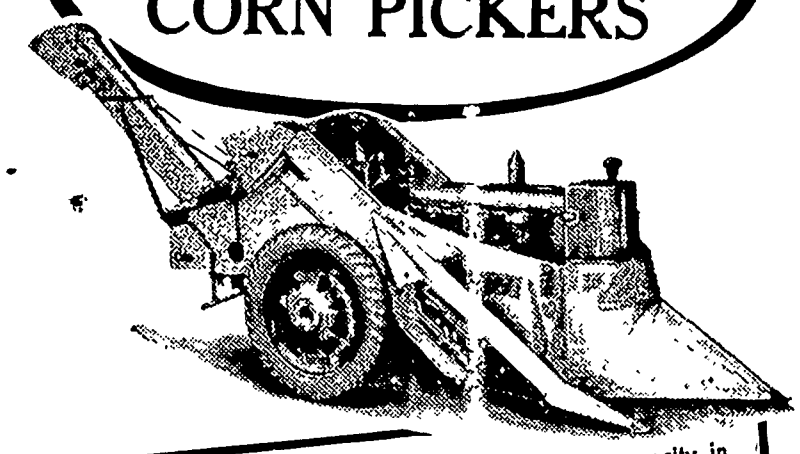
10:00 a. m. English Service.

11:00 a. m. Sunday School.

8 00 p. m. Thursday
Mixed Chorus.

Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

You Get ALL These Features in McCORMICK-DEERING CORN PICKERS



1. Extra - wide gatherers, with hinged, free - floating points, get down and leaning stalks.
2. Gatherer chains are quickly and easily adjusted.
3. Snapping rolls revolve at proper speed for modern tractor travel.
4. Snapping roll points extend close to the ground—a valuable aid in picking short corn.
5. Patented trash beater helps keep stalk ends, weeds, trash out of elevator and husking compartment.
6. Ample husking capacity in each machine.
7. Grain - tight construction avoids loss of shelled corn. All models have shelled corn saver with cleaning fan.
8. Pickers are simple to operate and adjust.
9. Farmall Pickers have quick-attachable features to facilitate mounting and demounting.
10. Adjustable hitch permits pull-type pickers to be used with different types of tractors.

NORTHERN
Lumber Implement Store
J. I. Overholt, Manager Phone 40R2

How Are Your Plow Shares?

Very soon now Fall Plowing will be going full blast. It will pay you to investigate our methods of sharpening shares! You can have your choice of three different methods of re-sharpening: A three piece welded edge and point, a two piece welded edge and point, or the good old forge and hammer job that has been standard for generations. Our prices are no higher than they ever have been for this work and the job is sure to please you!

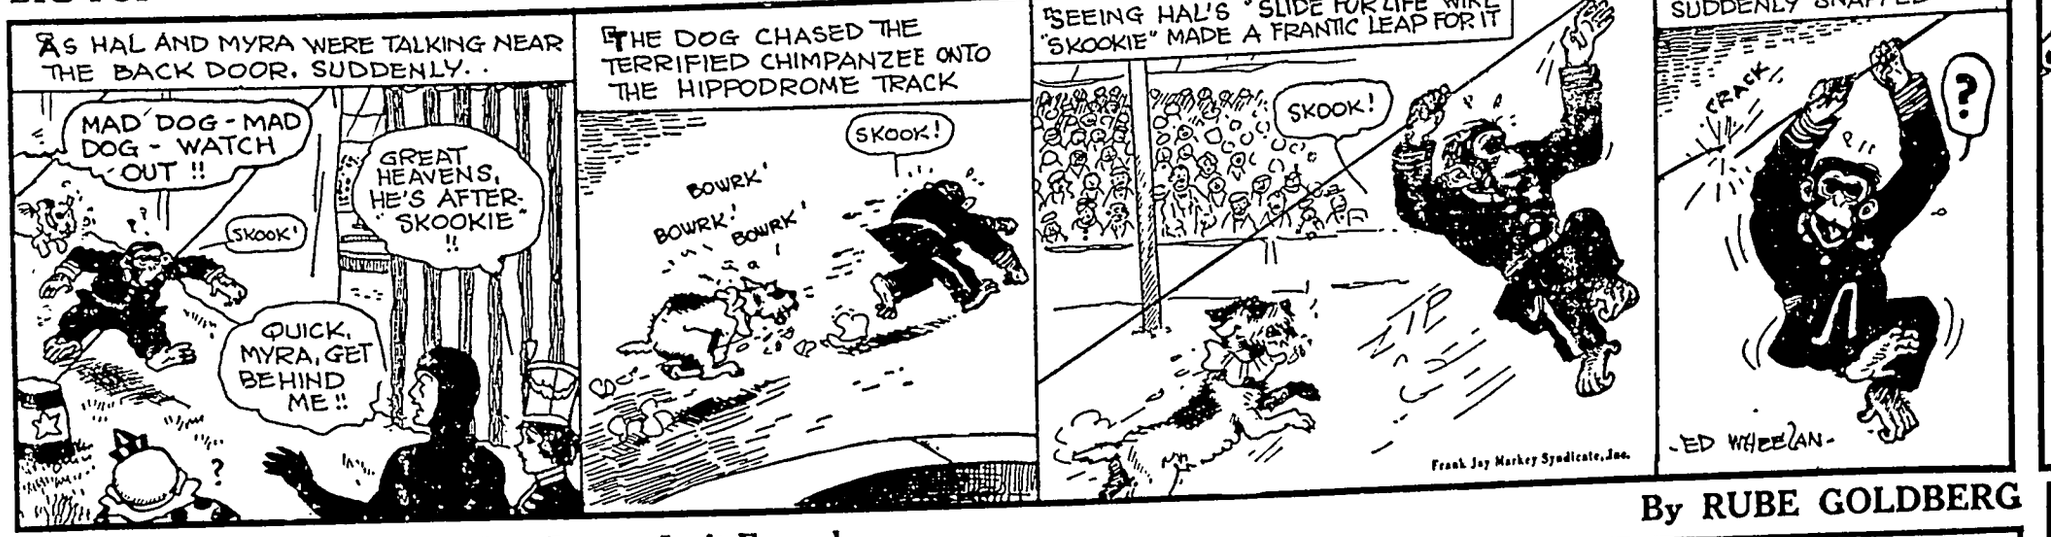
Fred J. Arnold

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

By ED WHEELAN

BIG TOP



AS HAL AND MYRA WERE TALKING NEAR THE BACK DOOR, SUDDENLY. .
MAD DOG - MAD DOG - WATCH OUT !!
SKOOK!
GREAT HEAVENS, HE'S AFTER SKOOKIE !!
QUICK, MYRA, GET BEHIND ME !!
THE DOG CHASED THE TERRIFIED CHIMPANZEE ONTO THE HIPPODROME TRACK
SKOOK!
BOWRK! BOWRK! BOWRK!
SEEING HAL'S "SLIDE FOR LIFE" WIRE "SKOOKIE" MADE A FRANTIC LEAP FOR IT
SKOOK!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
HALF WAY UP, THE WIRE SUDDENLY SNAPPED — CRACK
?
-ED WHEELAN-

By RUBE GOLDBERG

LALA PALOOZA —Maybe One Doctor Isn't Enough

UNAWARE OF THE IMPENDING DANGER, THE AUDIENCE HOWLS AS LALA APPROACHES THE DAMAGED NET
OH, MISTER ZIEGLER - I DID IT - I DID IT - I'VE KILLED HER!
THIS IS A FINE TIME TO REPENT!
SCREAM
THAT SCREAM DON'T SOUND AS IF IT'S PART OF THE SHOW IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE?
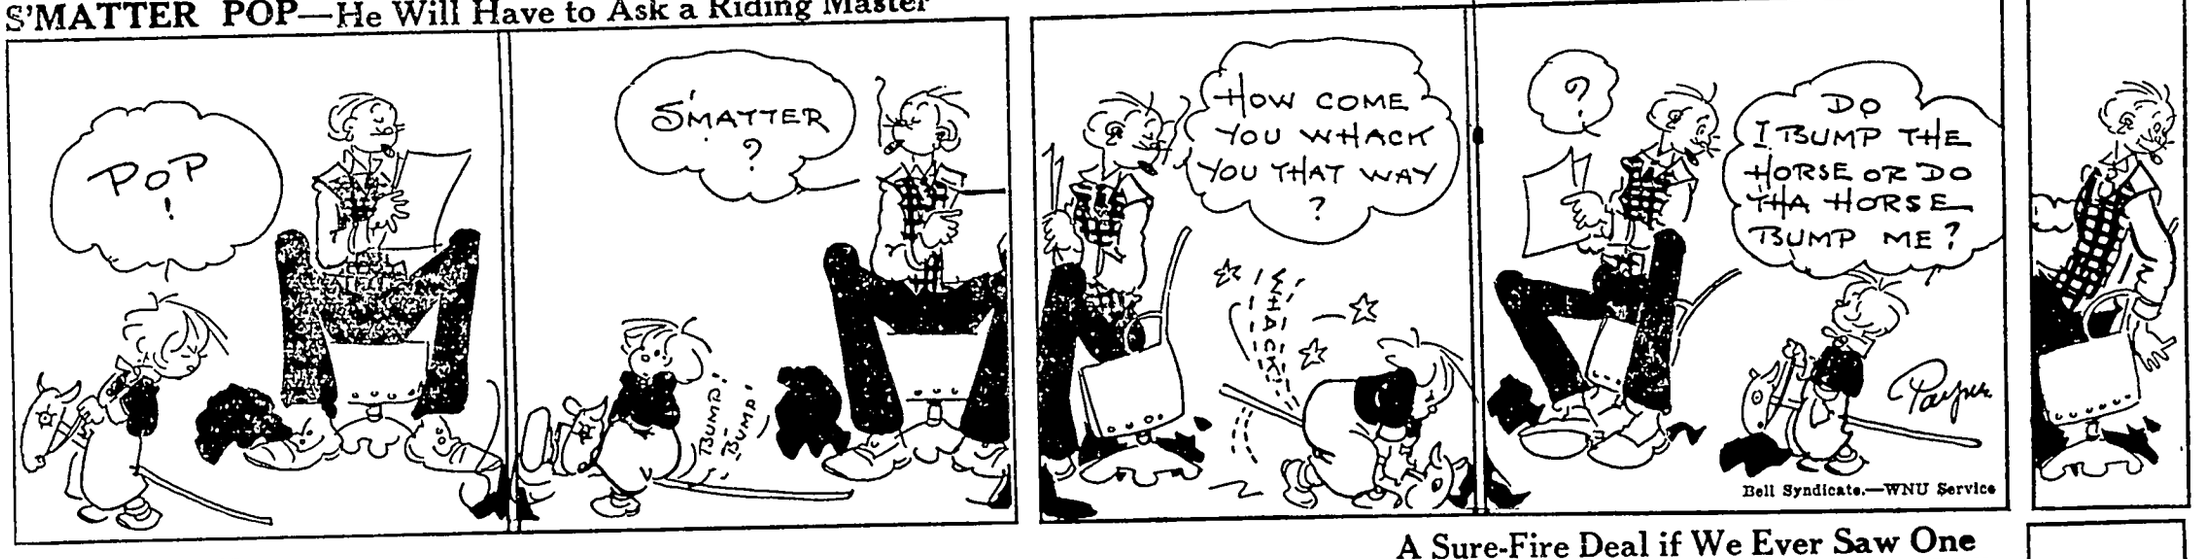
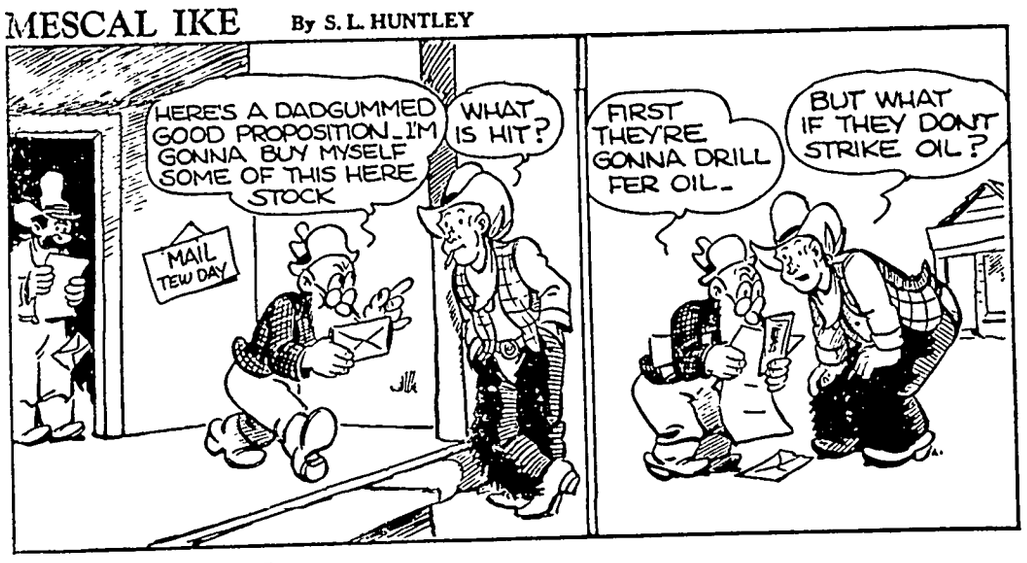
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

By C. M. PAYNE

S'MATTER POP—He Will Have to Ask a Riding Master

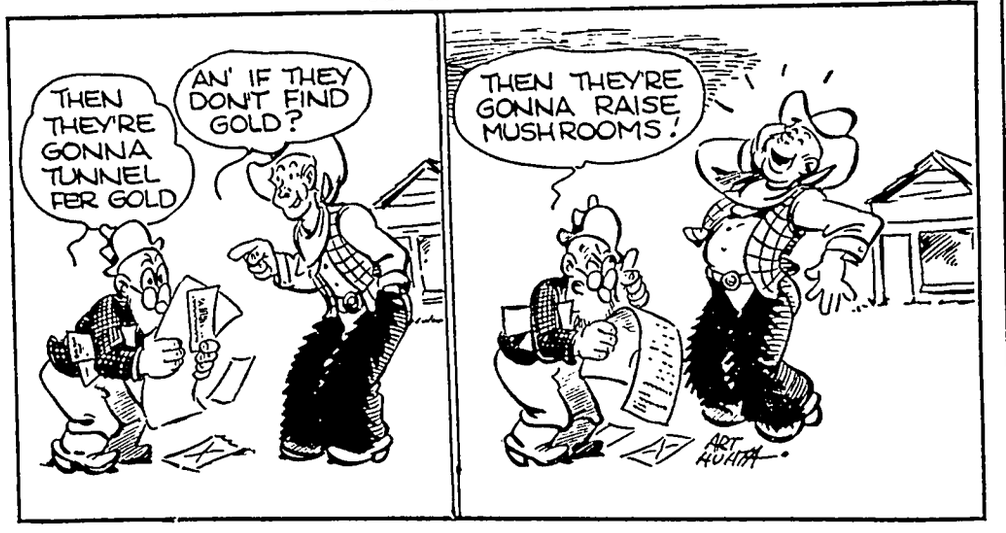


MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY



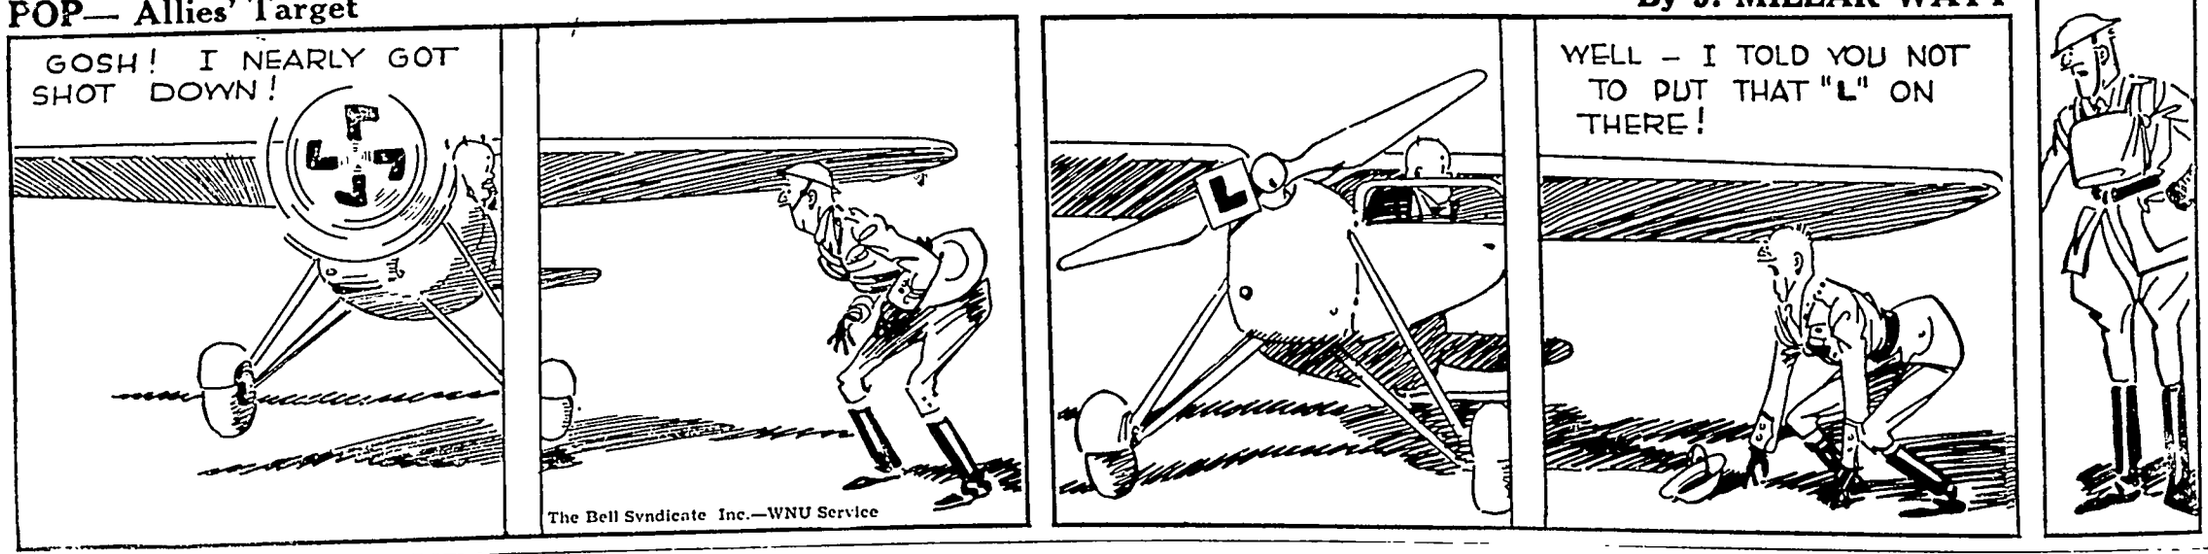
HERE'S A DADGUMMED GOOD PROPOSITION - I'M GONNA BUY MYSELF SOME OF THIS HERE STOCK
WHAT IS HIT?
MAIL TEW DAY
FIRST THEY'RE GONNA DRILL FER OIL -
BUT WHAT IF THEY DON'T STRIKE OIL?

A Sure-Fire Deal if We Ever Saw One



POP— Allies' Target

By J. MILLAR WATT



THE SPORTING THING By LANG ARMSTRONG

"He went and lost his new silk trunks."

FATHER GETS SQUELCHED

"Did you tell your teacher that I helped you with your Latin last night?"

"Yes, dad."

"What did he say?"

"Said he wouldn't punish me this time as it would be a shame to make me suffer for your ignorance."

Proper Spirit

Magistrate—You've committed six burglaries in a week.

Prisoner—That's right. If every one worked as hard as I do we'd be on the road to prosperity.

Careful, Mister

Bored Victim—So you didn't land him then?

Angler—You haven't been listening to me. I only had a fishing rod, not a crane.

Not Big Enough

Fair Traveler—Why do you punch that hole in my ticket?

Station Official—So you can pass through.

BATH TOY By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service
INSISTS ON HAVING HIS CELLULOID DUCK TO PLAY WITH, WHILE BEING DRIED AFTER HIS BATH
CALLS MOTHER'S ATTENTION TO FACT THAT HE HAS DROPPED IT, AND MOTHER FOR SIXTH TIME PICKS IT UP THINGS BECOME DIFFICULT BECAUSE HE REFUSES TO LET GO WHEN IT IS TIME TO DRY HIS HANDS
CRISIS COMES WHEN MOTHER WRESTS ONE HAND FREE, AND DUCK DISAPPEARS
THIS BRINGS MATTERS TO COMPLETE STANDSTILL UNTIL DUCK HAS BEEN RECOVERED FROM A FOLD OF BATH TOWEL
MOTHER REFUSING TO STOP NEXT TIME IT GOES ON FLOOR, BATH HOUR ENDS IN USUAL TURMOIL AS HE TEARFULLY STRUGGLES TO PICK IT UP

CLASSIFI DEPARTME

STOVE & FURNACE RE

REPAIRS For Your FURNACE
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and Have Your Dealer Order It
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR C

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

To improve the flavor o lamb, rub it with a mi salt, garlic, black pepper a joram before cooking.

* * *

Wilted green vegetables freshened by washing i containing a little vineg then left to soak in this for an hour before cookin

* * *

During the last stages o a cake a piece of grease on the top of it will allow side to cook through and k top from burning

* * *

Use potato water (a) wh ing stock; (b) when gravy, and (c) if you are maker, use it for mixing th dough

* * *

Remember that a crac can still be boiled succes a teaspoonful of vinegar i to the water or the crack is with salt.

* * *

Keep the comb clean b ing it regularly in warm s ter to which has been a little ammonia. The ammo aid in loosening the dirt, thoroughly and dry

* * *

When a wire basket is frying croquettes, dip the into the hot fat before pl the croquettes. The cr will not stick to it when d will be easy to remove.

THE AWFUL PRICE YO FOR BEING NERVO

Read These Important F

Quivering nerves can make you old, cranky—can make your life a nig jealousy, self pity and "the blues."

Often such nervousness is due functional disorders. So take fam E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compou calm unstrung nerves and lessen "irregularities." For over 60 ye giving Pinkham's Compound has b of thousands of grandmothers, mo daughters "in time of need." Try

Man a Knot of Roo

A man is a bundle of r a knot of roots, whose flo fruitage is the world.—Em

HANDY Home Use MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELL

One Road

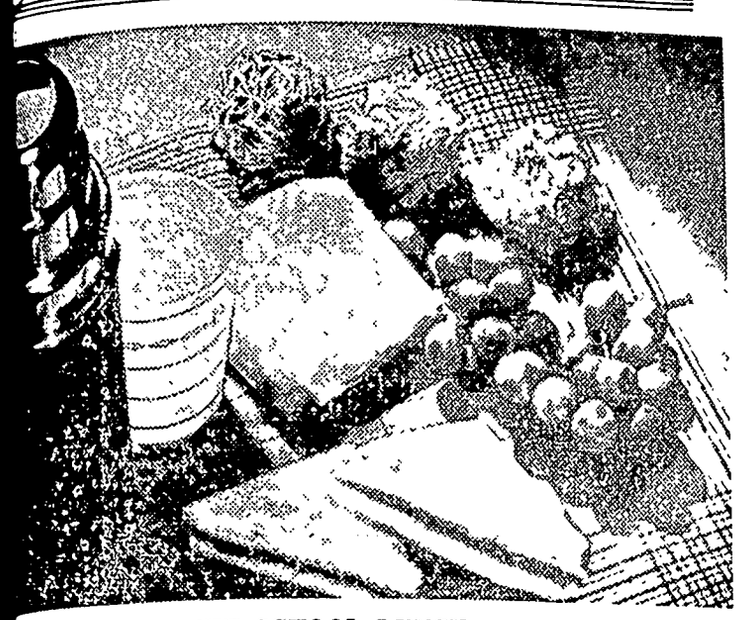
Of all the paths of life b the path of duty—leads t ness.—Southey.

BELAIR HOTEL
424 DIVERSEY PARKWAY AT SHERIDAN ROAD
WITH BATH FROM $1.50 DAILY
Immaculately kept rooms. 12 minutes to loop. Family unit, four persons - $5.00
Write for our free booklet and Chicago information.
CHICAGO

"All the Traf Would Bea

● There was a time in A when there were no set Each merchant charge he thought "the traffic bear." Advertising c the rescue of the co It led the way to the lished prices you pay you buy anything

Household News By Eleanor Howe



THE SCHOOL LUNCH
(See Recipes Below)

...r the children carry their ... school or dash home at ... a hurried meal, autumn ...ells bring a major problem ...enu planner. For the mid... must give plenty of nour... in a form that can be quick... ...sily eaten—and, in the case ...ry-away lunches, easily ...s well.

... cookies, sandwiches and ...ome form constitute stand... ...box lunches as well as the ...hild's home lunch. Cocoa, ...oups, custards and simple ...s help with the milk quota ...ome lunch. Cocoa, or a ...ake, as well as plain milk, can be carried with the school lunch in a vacuum bottle. For the box lunch, sandwiches ought to be carefully wrapped so that they will be fresh ...petizing Chopped meat ...d with a little butter or ...ise, hard-cooked egg deli... ...asoned, cream cheese, jams ...es, all make tempting fill...

...iquid foods may be put into ...ass jars with tightly fitting ... Supply paper cups for the ...; and as a novelty, put in ... straw, especially when you ...ocolate malt or iced cocoa. ...dwiches and softer foods ...e placed on top to prevent ...

...ly colored lunch boxes are ... because they are not only ... pack, and well-ventilated, ...ttractive to carry. Literal...king, you can pack every... them from "soup to nuts." ...h boxes should be kept im...ly clean by careful scald... ... day

...ay like to use this menu ...y when you have plenty of ...f left over from the Sunday ...

...leat Loaf Sandwiches
... Egg Olives
Custard
Chocolate Milk

...u might use a menu similar ...or colder weather:

...eam of Tomato Soup
Butter and Orange Marma... lade Sandwiches
Fruit Tapioca
Cookie

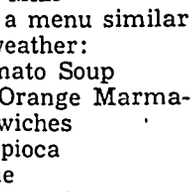
... is always an extra corner ...ch you can tuck a surprise. ... smaller children this will ...ght. It may be a few nuts, ... pieces of good candy, or ... be the little candy bridge ...u received yesterday. A ... lunch can become as tire... ... eat as it is to pack. Even ... be thinking of the little ... you can find to put into it, ... make this task more of a ... to you.

... a lunch box that will be ...ough to hold all the neces...ipment, but will not be too ... carry, and begin making ...ans for the school lunch. ... these suggestions may aid ... your plans for the school ...

...oups and Beverages.

... and beverages, if packed ...os bottles, will stay hot or ... the case ...e. The ...oups are ...st nutri... ...or they ... not only ... vegetables as well. Try ...of tomato, cream of pea, ...f spinach and cream of as...

... is quite a wide choice of ...es. For warmer weather you ...e to give the children pine... ...uice, grape juice, orange ...ilk or chocolate malt. When ...ther becomes cooler, hot ...e or cocoa are welcome bev...



Sandwiches.

... for sandwiches should be ...hin slices, with the butter ...ng spread way out to the ...he butter is easier to spread ...ed first; and the sandwiches ...e cut into convenient sizes ...g. Vary the kinds of breads ... use for sandwiches: plain ..., whole wheat, rye, brown ...eanut butter bread, orange bread, nut bread, cornbread, raisin bread, and rolls

For filling you may like to use these suggestions:

Chicken, with chopped celery and mayonnaise.

Cream cheese on raisin bread.

Chopped dates, nuts and orange juice.

Ground cooked veal, raw carrots and celery, with salad dressing.

Orange marmalade and peanut butter.

Cottage cheese, chopped olives and mayonnaise

Hard cooked egg, chopped celery and mayonnaise.

Meat loaf, sliced thin.

Bacon, mayonnaise and lettuce.

> Why not plan a little different party for your friends? Have a harvest home party, where your guests can gather for singing, games, and dancing.
>
> At the end of August, or the middle of September, many of the countries of Europe finished up the harvest season with the harvest festival. There the workers of the fields feasted, danced, and sang, as guests of the mansion Wreaths, fashioned of grain, flowers, nuts and corn were hung on the walls, to remain until the following year
>
> Miss Howe will tell you about a harvest party in her column next week which will contain many attractive suggestions

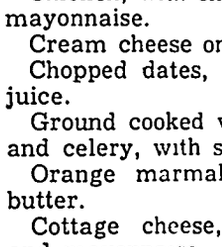
Spiced Blanc Mange.

2 cups milk
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ cup nut meats (broken)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Scald 1½ cups of milk. Mix all dry ingredients together and add the remaining ½ cup cold milk. Combine well. Add hot milk to the cornstarch mixture slowly. Return to double boiler and cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens Cook 5 minutes. Remove from flame, add nut meats and extract Turn into a wet mold and chill Serve with whipped cream if desired.

Desserts.

With the problem of packing desserts solved, there is a much wider choice than ever before. Rice pudding, small tarts, custards, oatmeal cookies, brownies, cup cakes, tapioca, cooked fruit, dates, figs, gingerbread, fresh or stewed dried fruits, and plain cakes are all to be selected to vary the school lunch.



Cream of Tomato Soup.

2 cups canned tomatoes
2 slices onion
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk

Heat tomatoes with onion, soda, sugar, salt and pepper. Rub through sieve; reheat. Place butter in top of double boiler and melt. Add flour and mix thoroughly. Add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Pour tomato mixture slowly into white sauce. Mix thoroughly, and serve.

Better Baking.

Wouldn't you like some good yummy chocolate nut gingerbread or some of those melt-in-your-mouth meringue cookies right about now? Or how about the delicious sounding lemon sunny silver pie? Shall I stop, or have I made you hungry enough to want to rush right out into your kitchen and whip up a batch of cookies, or one of those suggested above? You may have these tested recipes of Miss Howe if you will write, enclosing 10 cents in coin, to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and ask for her cook book, "Better Baking." You will like them all, for they have been tried in her own test kitchen.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ROSALIND RUSSELL, who considers Columbia her lucky lot, has been signed to play the feminine starring role in that studio's new comedy, "This Thing Called Love," a tale of a six months' trial marriage which goes on the rocks before it is well launched. Miss Russell will be seen as a brisk and competent insurance executive (and let's hope she won't over-act, as she sometimes does) and Melvyn Douglas, playing opposite her, will be a mining engineer.

A few years ago the beautiful Rosalind was borrowed by Columbia for the title role in "Craig's Wife," an unsympathetic part, as you'll probably recall, but in it she proved so conclusively that she could act that the picture gave her a place at the top. She scored another Columbia triumph as "Hildy Johnson" in "His Girl Friday."

ROSALIND RUSSELL

Two daughters of famous football coaches are up for roles in "Tillie the Toiler"; they are Marcia Shaughnessy and Annie Lee Stagg, and were suggested by no less a personage than Maude Adams, the famous actress, who coached them at Stevens college.

The 52.6 second kiss record set by Ann Sheridan and George Brent in "Honeymoon for Three" brought reactions of all kinds from here, there and elsewhere.

A Los Angeles laundry asked for the handkerchief used by Brent to wipe off Miss Sheridan's lipstick, offering to launder it for nothing. An inventor in Indianapolis asked Brent to be the first to try his new lipstick remover. A clock manufacturer inquired what kind of watch was used to time the kiss. A New York promoter telegraphed a $500 offer to the pair if they would officially open a "kissathon" by repeating the performance.

And then a woman's club in Topeka, Kan., passed a resolution recommending that endurance kissing be banned on the ground that it is unhygienic. And countless males between the ages of 17 and 60 wrote in, volunteering to take over Brent's next assignment of that kind for nothing.

When young Betty Brewer was working with him in "Rangers of Fortune" Fred MacMurray taught her to croon. Since then she has been rehearsing her sister and brother and a little neighbor girl in a quartet which she calls "Betty Brewer and Her Playmates," and it's so good that an advertising agency may put them on the air this fall.

As old as radio is the annoying production problem of performers kicking the microphone stand or striking it with their hands if they make gestures while on the air. If a grating sound comes from your receiving set, that's probably the reason.

Cecil B DeMille thought he'd solved the problem for his radio theater last year, by using a hanging microphone—but without a base stand to guide them, actors bumped their heads into the mike (Gluttons for punishment, these actors!)

Undaunted, C. B. went to work again. And this year when the cast assembled for the theater's first production, "Manhattan Melodrama," with Myrna Loy, William Powell, and, of course, Don Ameche, they found that a circular guard rail had been built under the mike. That suited them perfectly—they could rest their scripts on it.

ODDS AND ENDS

¶ "Most Inspirational Extra of the Year" is the title bestowed on Doris Davenport by the Hollywood Studio Club, because she rose from the extra ranks to the feminine lead in "The Westerner."

¶ Paramount will spend $250,000 on launching "North West Mounted Police" —all for advertising, publicity and an exploitation campaign.

¶ Susanna Foster, starlet of Paramount's "There's Magic in Music," was all ready to leave for a vacation in Kearney, Neb., when her dog, Rex, was struck by an automobile. She unpacked her trunks and abandoned her plans, to stay at home until Rex recovered.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for October 6

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

LUKE AND HIS GOSPEL

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1.1-4; Acts 1·1; Colossians 4·14; II Timothy 4:11a.

GOLDEN Text—It seemed good to me also to write . . . that thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed —Luke 1 3, 4.

Reading a book is a privilege and should be an illuminating and stirring experience. What a pity that so few read good books in our day! To study a book is a far more fruitful and interesting experience. Few are the books worthy of prolonged and repeated study. Therein do we find one of the great differences between books of men and God's Book —the Bible. Again and again we turn to its pages and find its truth inexhaustible, ever interesting, informing, and soul-stirring in its beauty and power.

In reading any book, we want to know who wrote it, what kind of a man he was, why he wrote, what he wrote about, and what kind of a book he wrote We recognize that the Holy Spirit is the real author of the Word (II Tim. 3:16; II Pet. 1 21), but He chose and used human writers As we begin a six-month study of the Gospel according to Luke, we properly ask about both the author and his writing.

I. The Writer—Luke.

Our information regarding Luke is found in the New Testament, in the introductory words of the books he wrote (Luke and Acts) and in the writings of his friend and coworker, Paul. There we learn of his

1. Nationality and Religion. His name, "Luke," is a contraction of the Greek name "Loukios" and, since we know from Colossians 4:11 and 14 that he was not "of the circumcision," we know he was a Gentile and evidently a Greek. When, where and by whom he was won to Christ, we do not know. We do know that this intelligent Greek, versed in all the philosophies of the perfection of personality, found in Christ the fulfillment of all his desires and dreams.

2. Profession—a Physician (Col. 4: 14. See also medical terms in all his writings). Luke wrote scholarly Greek; he was familiar with the life of a sailor (Acts 27); he joined with his scientific accuracy an esthetic culture often revealed in his writings.

3. His Friends. A man's friends indicate his character. Luke had a close friend and possibly a patron, "his excellency" Theophilus (Acts 1:1; Luke 1:3), evidently a man of standing and ability. He was also a close friend and fellow laborer with perhaps the greatest man of all time, Paul the apostle.

4. His Activities. Fellow missionary with Paul (Acts 16:11; 20:5, 6, and elsewhere), physician, preacher of the gospel, and author.

II. The Book—the Gospel by Luke.

To have written a book may be a doubtful distinction, but to have been used of the Holy Spirit to write such a book as this Gospel—what an honor and privilege! Following Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, we note:

1. Its Subject. "The Word" (Luke 1:2). He wrote about the perfect personality of Jesus Christ, but he, like John (John 1:14), recognized that it was the divine and eternal Word which became flesh in the perfect humanity of Jesus Christ.

2. Its Sources. He doubtless read what many had written (Luke 1:1). He also talked with "eyewitnesses" (Luke 1:2) and "ministers of the word" who had known the Lord. His sources were excellent and unimpeachable.

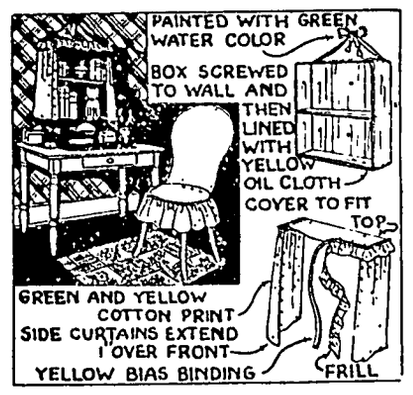
3 Its Method. He "traced the course" (for so does the R. V. properly translate Luke 1:3) of the material he gathered; that is, he did original research and investigation, always under the control and guidance of the Holy Spirit. This resulted in a placing of all things "in order." After gathering, sifting, investigating, the Holy Spirit saw that Luke put all things in proper order (see I Cor. 14:33, 40).

4. Its Purpose. Luke wanted Theophilus (and others who read his Gospel) to know with "certainty" (Luke 1:4) those things in which he was already instructed by word of mouth. Important matters must always be written down, carefully and in order. To pass things on by word of mouth inevitably results in change, conscious or unconscious. So desperately vital a matter as our eternal salvation calls for writings, exact and complete. Luke, who had a knowledge of all these things, was moved by the Holy Spirit to write, and thus we have this glorious Gospel which we are to study from now until the end of March, 1941.

A closing word. A 12-page booklet, Can America Be Saved? by the writer of these notes, will be sent free on request. Use the address above. A post card will do, but if convenient, enclose postage. Your comments or suggestions regarding the lessons will also be appreciated.

HOW to SEW

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS



PAINTED WITH GREEN WATER COLOR
BOX SCREWED TO WALL AND THEN LINED WITH YELLOW OIL CLOTH COVER TO FIT TOP
GREEN AND YELLOW COTTON PRINT SIDE CURTAINS EXTEND OVER FRONT YELLOW BIAS BINDING
FRILL

SCHOOL again, and this sketch shows a quiet study corner for one girl. It is all very gay in tones of golden yellow and green and was made almost entirely of things already on hand—even down to the hooked rug.

The hanging book shelf doesn't really hang at all. It is made of a box screwed to the wall, and if you never thought of slip-covering a book shelf, here is proof of how smart one will look, especially if it is matched with a chair covered in the same material. The legs of the chair are painted green and so is the old kitchen table which has now become a desk The yellow tone is repeated in the blotter and an old brass lamp and other desk things carry out the green and yellow color scheme. A shelf like this one would be attractive in almost any room, even the bathroom or the kitchen. This box was so rough that the oil cloth lining was necessary. A box of smooth wood could be painted inside.

* * *

NOTE One hundred sixty of these homemaking articles by Mrs Spears have been printed in five booklets, each 32 pages The stocking cat and doll on the shelf are in Book 3; directions for the hook rug are in No. 5; also descriptions of the other booklets Booklets are 10c postpaid and should be requested direct from Mrs Spears Send order to:

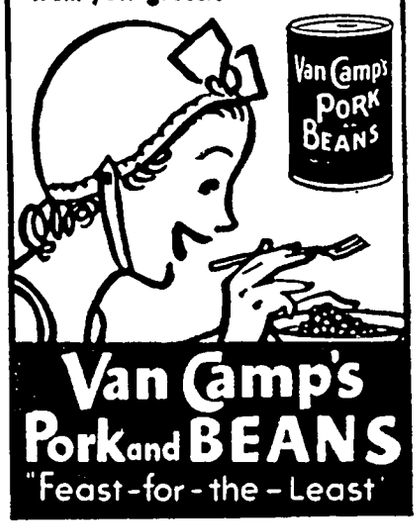
MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....

Address .....

Delicious for outings... saves hours of preparation... nourishing... economical... order today from your grocer.

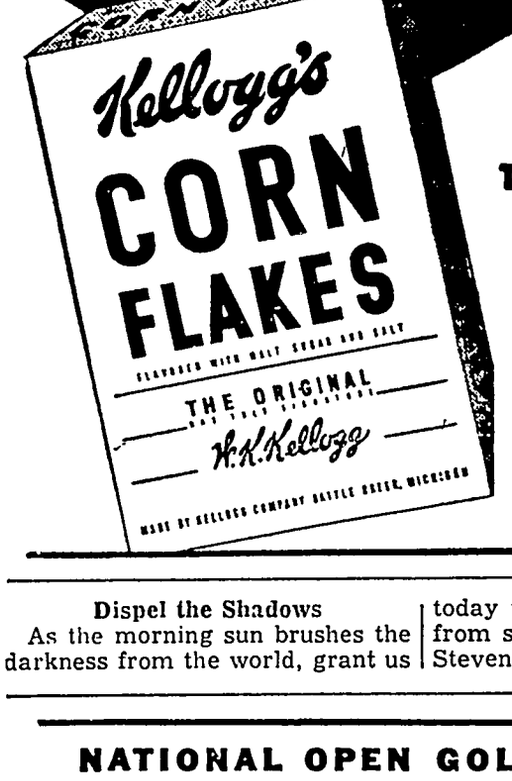


Van Camp's Pork and BEANS
"Feast-for-the-Least"

Led by the Nose

The devil leads him by the nose
Who the dice too often throws.

They tempt the children to consume a lot of extra milk!



SWITCH TO SOMETHING YOU'LL LIKE!

Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek

Copr. 1940 by Kellogg Company

Dispel the Shadows

As the morning sun brushes the darkness from the world, grant us today to brush aside the shadows from some unhappy heart.—R. L. Stevenson.

NATIONAL OPEN GOLF CHAMPION

★ Lawson Little SAYS— ★

I TURNED TO CAMELS FOR EXTRA MILDNESS—AND FOUND SEVERAL OTHER SWELL EXTRAS, TOO—INCLUDING EXTRA SMOKING. SLOWER BURNING SURE IS THE TICKET FOR STEADY SMOKING
EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR
In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!
CAMEL

GET THE "EXTRAS" WITH SLOWER-BURNING

CAMELS

THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 2-3.

"Private Affairs"

with Nancy Kelly and Roland Young

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 4-5. (Double Feature)

"GLAMOUR FOR SALE"

with Roger Pryor and Anita Louise

ALSO

"Queen of The Mob"

with Jean Cagney and Wm Henry

Sunday. Monday and Tuesday. Oct. 6-7-8.

"THE GHOST BREAKERS"

with Bob Hope, Pauline Goddard and R. Carlson.

LOCAL GIRL SCOUTS HOLD MEETINGS THE PAST WEEK

The two Senior Girl Scout Patrols met at the Mrs. Schaeffer home Tuesday at 4 o'clock and completed arrangements for their fall meetings. The last meeting of each month will be devoted to Handcraft, followed by games and refreshments. Lorraine B. and Gertrude G. will be hostesses for the October meeting. The rest of the meetings of each month will be spent with the Badge Leaders. Fourteen girls will study the following badges: First Aid, Musician, Weaving, Writer and Hostess.

The Forget-me-not Patrol met on Tuesday at 4 o'clock at Phyllis Kirkwool's. Mrs Quentin Stille supervised games. After play, the girls planned their October and November meetings. Five girls will begin badge work next week. Four girls will work toward completion of Tenderfoot and Second Class work. One girl will be hostess to the whole patrol the first Tuesday of each month. At the close of the meeting, Phyllis' mother served a fine lunch.

All business of the troop will be transacted by the Leader, Mrs. Schaeffer; Ass't. Leader, Elaine Buntenbach; the Troop Committee Chairman, Mrs. Ed Buntenbach, and Committee members: Mrs. Quentin Stille, Mrs. Art Kudje, Mrs. Ernest Lewis, and Mrs. John Chambers. They will meet the last Tuesday afternoon of each month.

DOUBLE-FOUR BRIDGE CLUB MET

The Double-Four club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin Barz where bridge was played. High score was won by Mrs R. R. Reece and Mrs: Lloyd Lau held second high score for the afternoon. Lunch was served after the games.

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Milo Patet and Asa Arnold returned Friday from Chicago where they sent a few days on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell, of Swea City, visited over Sunday with Klemme relatives.

The board of directors of the Klemme Creamery held a business meeting Saturday evening.

Merle Schaefer is now employed as mechanic at the North Side Garage of which Walter Rosendahl is the owner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitsell and son of Armstrong were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kingery, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bacon and chidren, and Miss Ruth Wellemeyer Titonka spent Sunday at the Art Wellemeyer home.

Mrs. Herbert Cole of Lohrville spent several days of the past week visiting at the Otto Schlawin home.

A group of relatives came to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell's home, Sunday, to help Fred remember that he was a year older.

Miss Thelma Chamers, who is teaching this year at Lamont, Iowa, spent the week end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, south of Klemme.

Miss Ruth Wellemeyer, who teaches this wear at Titonka, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr .and Mrs Arthur Wellemeyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemke have improved their residence property on east Main Street, further, by having a nice garage built the past week.

Miss Wilma Swalve concluded her work as clerk at the Klemme Food Market last Friday. She had been employed there for the past couple of years.

Mrs. Myrtle Johnson and son, Archie, of Balatin, Minnesota, spent Sunday and Monday visiting with Lew Lewis. Mrs. Johnson is Mr Lewis' neice.

Raymond Barz and Viola Theiman spent Sunday and Monday in Waterloo visiting at the Emil Barz home and taking in the Dairy Catle Congress.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt returned home Sunday from Two Harbors, Minnesota, where they spent a couple of months at their cottage on the north shore of Lake Superior.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen and children drove to Cedar Rapids Saturday afternoon and spent Sunday visiting with their daughter. LaVohn and husband.

Mrs. Bertha Schlei and son, Dale, and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Haupt, returned last Thursday from several days visit in eastern Iowa visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reece drove to Nevada Sunday to enjoy a birthday dinner which Mrs. Wildman staged in honor of Mrs. R. R. Reece, whose birthday was on that day.

The Neighborhood Sewing club met this Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn, who received a huge wedding through the mail, and invited them to celebrate with her.

The Elmer Arnold family and Billie Zabilka drove to West Bend Sunday morning and spent the day there, visiting the Grotto. They took a picnic dinner with them which they enjoyed in the Grotto park.

Hancock County was well represented at Iowa Falls Friday forenoon to greet the Willkie special. Several car loads of folks from Klemme and vicinity made the trip and both saw and heard Mr. Willkie.

The Klemme Times received word that Mrs. Herb Bailey underwent an operation Monday morning at Rochester, Minn. No word has been received since, but her many Klemme friends are wishing her a speedy recovery. Herb and daughter, Ruth, were both with her.

Dr. andd Mrs. D. P Anderson and daughter, Neva Ann, left Sunday morning for points east. They expect to visit Washington, D. C. and other points of interest in the east and south before returning to Klemme in about ten days.

The Klemme Legion will sponsor a dance at the new hall this week Saturday night. They have secured Henri Karl's Dixieland Band to provide the music. This is a high class orchestra and a large attendance is esxpected.

Mr. and Mrs Art Wellemeyer were at Titonka Monday evening visiting at the Donald Bacon home. Mr. and Mrs. Bacon have purchased an 80 acre farm between Titonka and Lake Mills and will move onto the place March 1st. They will remodel the present house on the farm to make it modern.

Immediately after removal from the oven, cookies should be lifted off the baking sheet with a spatula and allowed to cool on a cake cooler or wire frame.

Auction Sale!

Thursday, Oct. 10
at 2:00 P. M.

The Board of Supervisors of Hancock County will sell at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, at the County Yard at Britt, Iowa, on the above date, approximately

- 200 Pieces of Bridge Lumber
- A quantity of Tiling

Terms Of Sale Are Cash On Day Of Sale
By Order Of The

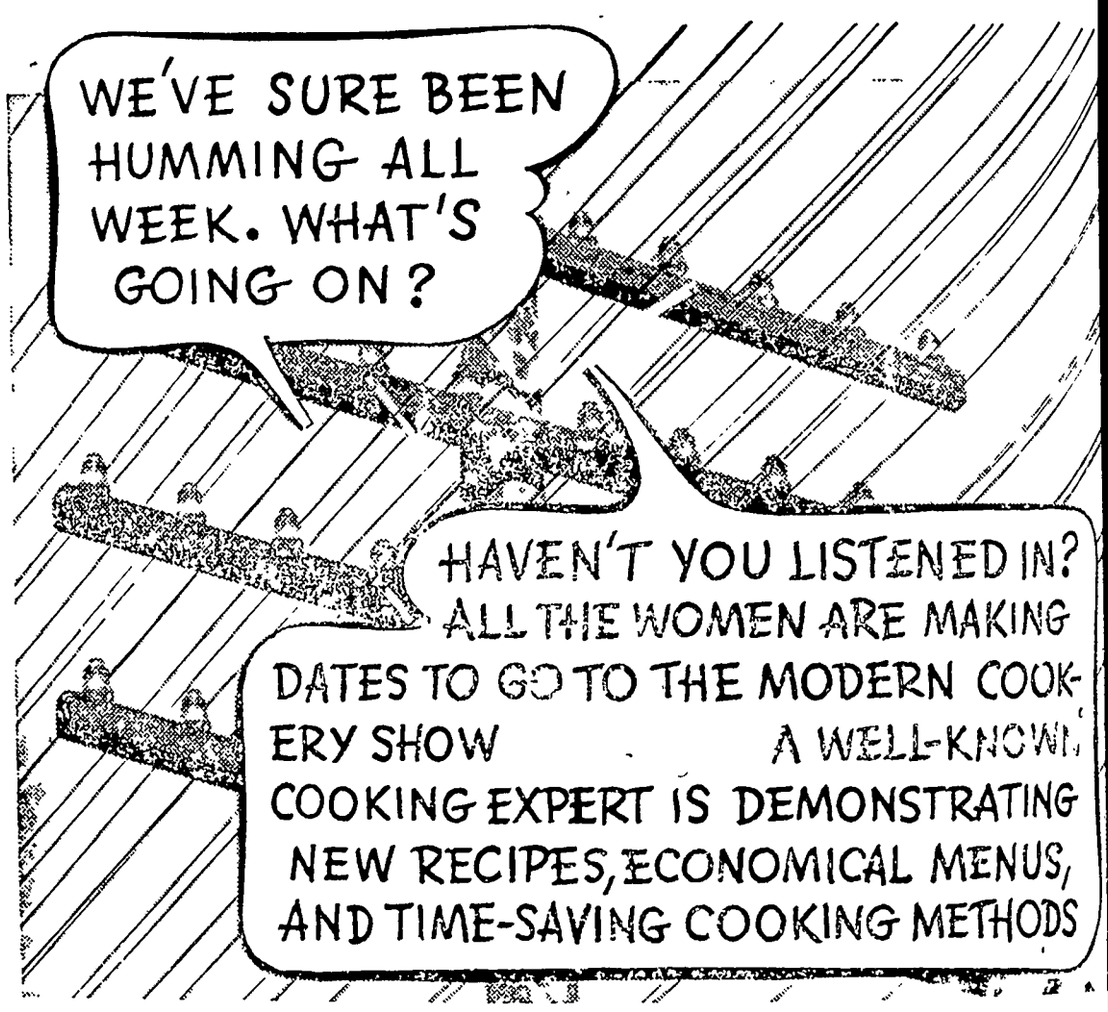
Board of Supervisors

DANCE Saturday Night October

Klemme Legion Hall

Henri Karl And His Dixieland Band

Admission 22c - 44c



WE'VE SURE BEEN HUMMING ALL WEEK. WHAT'S GOING ON?
HAVEN'T YOU LISTENED IN? ALL THE WOMEN ARE MAKING DATES TO GO TO THE MODERN COOKERY SHOW
A WELL-KNOWN COOKING EXPERT IS DEMONSTRATING NEW RECIPES, ECONOMICAL MENUS, AND TIME-SAVING COOKING METHODS

Wednesday, October 9
Community Hall, 2:00 P. M.

Be our guest at a

FREE, MODERN COOKERY SHOW

MRS. MILDRED REES

This well-known authority on home economics will entertain the ladies of this community with a variety of cooking of all kinds. You will enjoy and profit by her demonstration.

Free Attendance Gifts

The following merchants are co-operating and are giving away the following gifts:
KLEMME FOOD MARKET; 3 lb. can of Monarch Coffee
1 lb. can of Monarch Cocoa; 1 lb. can of Monarch Tea
THADA'S STORE; 4 pkgs. of 5 lbs. Tokay Grapes;
24 pkgs. Cooch's Macaroni; 24 pkgs. Cooch's Spaghetti
KLUCKHOHN'S STORE; 1 basket of Groceries
THE KLEMME TIMES; Inlaid Wood Desk Stationery Set
KLEMME CREAMERY; 300 Filter Pads
LEWIS RADIO SHOP; Revere Stainless Steel Kettle;
General Electric Iron, val. $8.95
THE WELLEMEYER STORE; Decorative Wall Plague
HANCOCK COUNTY CO-OP OIL STATION
5 gallons White Rose Gasoline

Everyone Invited---It's All Free

Lewis Radio Shop

DISTRIBUTORS OF

SHELLANE COOKING GAS Saves 3 hours drudgery a day

A SHELL PRODUCT

K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 4-5

MONARCH Coffee 3 lbs. 49c QUALITY for 70 YEARS

MONARCH Gellatine Dessert 6 pkgs. 25c QUALITY for 70 YEARS

CHOCOLATE, Bitter Sweet, Hershey's, 2 . 23c

SOAP, Hardwater, Peerless, 6 bars 23c

ELECTRENE With Electric Dish Washer Coupon per pkg. 23c

CALUMET, Baking Powder, per can . . . 19c

SPICES 3 boxes for 25c

CAKE FLOUR Swans Down pkg. 23c

GOLD DUST Washing Powder, pkg 18c

CANDY BARS 3 for 10c

CHOCOLATE Hershey's Baking per bar at 13c

CRACKER JACK 3 boxes for 10c

TOILET TISSUE 5 rolls for 26c

MEAT DEPARTMENT

BACON SQUARES Per lb. 10c

BACON NUGGETS Per lb. 13c

PICKLED PIG Feet, qt. jar 28c

CHEESE 2 lb. box 47c

Klemme Food Market

MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

THE KLEMME TIMES

ME 45 KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 9, 1940. NUMBER 19.

s Under Way To Build Dams In Iowa River

ARMERS AND ERMEN ATTENDED MEETING HELD HERE

rganization To Promote ervation In This Part Of The County

armers and fishermen in ory along the Iowa River th of Klemme to Goodell sent at a meeting held in mme Legion-Community ay evening.

ssibility of improving the er in this community was and discussed. W. W. iologist of the State Con- department, and Jack Deputy Conservation of- Clear Lake, were present gave talks on conserva- explained how the Iowa uld be greatly improved way that it would be a o both the farmer, land- nd the fisherman of this Mr Aitkin dwelled at the construction of low- ns and told of several tions for such dams. The will be selected by a e of land-owners and will be surveyed and gth determined so that ge will be caused by un- water and interference outlets in the area.

Organization Formed

hearing the proposition and discussed from all was voted to form a t organization and Harry from southeast of Klem- named president. Ben Lau, t Klemme river fisher- s named vice president, er Lemke, another fisher- husiast was named secre- treasurer.

rganization then voted to the membership dues at and extended an invita ll farmers and fishermen up. A membership drive organized to solicit mem- n both Goodell and Klem- rding to Mr Trumbell.

ing Committee Named

rumbell named four far d two business men to pro- h the proposed project to nder way this fall. On this e are Ben F. Greiman, ille, Jay Griggs, E. J. Ar- ul Grange and R. A. Jor-ommittee will locate sites l dams, have the sites sur- d then apply for PWA e on the construction. The ll be built of rock and which can be procurred in ty at little if any expense. lso planned to hold a meet- Goodell in the near future ream improvement started vicinity.

ing the business meeting, in presented several reels g pictures showing con- work, fish culture and ases of his work.

'S REPUBLICAN LUB FOR KLEMME LACKS FULL QUOTA

Women's Republican club mme desires a number of mbers in order to fill their before the next county Klemme is the only the county without a full ship, so local women are to get the club up to par p Klemme on the map. membership fee is only ive cents and this sum can en either to Mrs. R. R. r Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson. al club needs thirty more s. Will you help?

ADLE ROLL PARTY

Cradle Roll members of the t. Church will hold a the church at 2:00 o'clock. hechurch at 2:00 o'clock. e interested is invited.

KLEMME FIRE COMPANY HAD AN EARLY CALL THURSDAY MORNING

The Klemme Fire company was called to the Billy Velau farm west of Klemme at 4 00 o'clock last Thursday morning where three stacks of hay and a straw stack were afire not far from the farm buildings Lightning had started the blaze. The stacks on fire were directly across the road from the new farm buildings and might have been dangerous The hay and straw was lost but no other damage was done

Legion Elects New Officers

ADAM-SCHAEFER POST ELECTS OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

The Adam-Schaefer Post of the American Legion elected new officers for the coming year

J. C. Thomas will head the post as Commander, while Paul Grange is Vice Commander and Ernest Henschen, Second Vice Commander

Other positions filled were as follows Adjutant, P W. Johnson, Finance Officer, Ernest Lewis. Sergeant-at-Arms, Frank Schulz, Chaplin, Dr. D. P Anderson; Mess Sergeant, Jake Hess, and Graves Registration, Ben Coobs.

American Legion Auxiliary Notes

The local unit met at a special meeting Tuesday, Oct. 1. It was voted to change the time of the meeting to the first Tuesday of every month This is also the regular meeting night of the local Legion Post.

Mrs. J C Thomas, the local welfare chairman, reported five dollars had been sent to state headquarters to be used for a veteran's child the local unit has befriended for over a year.

She also reported two personal calls had been made to two veterans' families in the vicinity of Klemme She was accompanied by Mrs. H. Jost on these calls.

Plans were made for the county convention to be held in Klemme, Tuesday afternoon, Oct 29 Mrs. Hoker, the 8th district president, will be present at that time

The membership committee, Mrs. E. Helps and Mrs. Lester Stille, are trying to contact every woman eligible to the Auxiliary organization. Eligibility is based on the 1940 or 1941 membership of a Legionaire. Anyone caring to join may notify any Auxiliary member or come to the meeting the first Tuesday in November.

The unit was given a bundle of tea towels, neatly hemmed and marked by Mrs. Ben Mullin These were greatly appreciated and our thanks to her.

REFORMED MIXED CHORUS GAVE CONCERT AT HUBBARD SUNDAY EVENING

The Klemme Reformed church mixed chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Gerardi, presented a vocal and instrumental musical concert at the Reformed Church at Hubbard Sunday evening

A large crowd was present and the young people of Hubbard entertained the Klemme visitors after the concert with a lunch and social good time.

Several car loads of Klemme people also accompanied the chorus to Hubbard. The local organization will give a concert at Geneva next Sunday evening.

Music Mothers' Meeting Postponed Until Oct. 16

The Music Mothers' meeting will be postponed until Wednesday, October 16th. The meeting begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

Registration Information

The Selective Service law provides that on Wednesday, October 16, every male resident of the United States who has arrived at the age of twenty-one years and has not reached the age of thirty-six years of age shall register for possible military duty.

This will affect between 375,000 and 400,000 young men in Iowa.

No one will be exempt except members of the regular armed forces of the United States and the Federally recognized active National Guard, and officers and enlisted men of the army, navy and marine corps reserves.

Any one who is uncertain about his status should register, knowing it will be settled by his local registration board afterward.

Penalty for failure of one eligible to register may be severe for the law provides imprisonment of not more than five years or a fine of not more than $10,000 or both. Moreover, any one who aids or abets another to evade registration or service or any of the requirements of the law may be subject to the same punishment.

Registration will be done at the regular voting places in the precincts in which registrants reside. The county auditor will be in charge of all places in his county and a chief registrar at each place.

Since registration will be such a big job the state Selective Service headquarters asks all members of The American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans and all other patroitic organizations and all members of religious and civic groups to offer their service to county auditors to help on October 16th.

An Iowan who should register and is out of the state on that day should go to a registration place where he is and register, and his card will be sent from there to his own local board.

For college students, arrangements are being made with all of the colleges in the state to assist them in registering.

A person who is ill at home or in a hospital should get word to his county auditor who will give him full information as to how he may be registered.

When a man registers he will be given a registration certificate which he should guard carefully and keep with him at all times. If he should lose it or it should be stolen, he should go at once to his local board who will give him another certificate.

A board to classify registrants will be set up in each county, and in counties with more than 30,000 population there will be more than one board. Board members will serve without pay.

State Selective Service headquarters is at East First and Des Moines Streets, Des Moines, Iowa.

Any inquiry my mail, telegraph, telephone, or in person there will be welcomed.

The eligible young men of Klemme and vicinity will make their registrations at the Klemme City Hall, on October 16th.

REGISTRATION BOARDS FOR HANCOCK COUNTY
October 16, 1940, 7:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Goodell & Avery— Owen F. Conwell, Anson Avery and J. J. Cook.

Klemme & Ell— Edmund Josten, Paul Grange, Herman Paul and A. J. Kudjo.

Liberty— August Lau, Emil Blumer and Ben Katter.

Twin Lake— A. G. Ruka and Sam Barber.

Local Couple Married Thirty-Five Years Entertained By Children

THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING OBSERVED BY SWANSONS

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swanson, two miles east of Klemme, observed their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday, October 6th when their children and their families came to spend the day with them and all enjoyed a big dinner together Each family brought a basket of food for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson were married October 5th at Morris, Illinois and have lived here for the past twenty-eight years. Those present at the Swanson home Sunday were: Carl Swanson and family; Albert and Mary Swanson; Orville Bridges and family; Francis Lawhorn and family of Garner; Rueben Lemke and family; Leonard Swanson and family; John Etchen and family; Ethel and Phyllis; Truel Steffens and family; Ed Blanchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson were presented with a beautiful floor lamp by their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson have spent the past three winters in Florida and expect to leave soon for that state to spend the winter.

Supt. Galbreth Announces New Department Added To School System

FORMER KLEMME GARAGEMAN MARRIED GOODELL WOMAN

Ed Hughes, who a few years ago was employed at the Klemme Auto Company as mechanic, and who until a few months ago was the proprietor of a service station at Rowan, and Carrie Rief, of Goodell, were married at the bride's cousin's home at Cedar Falls on September 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are now living at Hampton where they have a service station and tourist camp.

Honored With Supper Party

MRS. G. W. KLUCKHOHN GIVEN SURPRISE BIRTHDAY SUPPER

Mrs. G. W. Kluckhohn was pleasantly surprised on her 80th birthday anniversary when her children and their families held a five o'clock candle light birthday supper in her honor at the Clarence Kluckhohn home, Sunday evening.

A large decorated cake, complete with candles, comprised the center piece for the table.

After the meal Grandma Kluckhohn received a number of gifts and bouquets of flowers.

Those present were Sadie Turgenson and son, Donald; Frank Kluckhohn and children, Kenneth, Franklin and Carmen; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keraus and sons, Otho and Verl; Mr. and Mrs. August Larson; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn and son, Clarence and Eugene; and Miss Elaine Buntenbach.

All enjoyed a fine time and Grandma Kluckhohn was immensely pleased with the surprise party in her honor.

W. S. C. S. Met Thursday

The Women's Society of Christian Service met Thursday afternoon at the church parlors with a large crowd present. Twelve new members signed up, and we ask others to call Mrs. Earl Schaeffer right away, so your name can be printed in the new yearly book The organization was divided into four Circles and they will meet on Thursday, October 17th to organize and select their officers. and plan the year's work. The hostesses for the four different Circles will be Mrs. C. G. Waterman, Mrs. Earl Schaeffer, Mrs. J. C. Thomas and Mrs. C. A. Larsen.

MANY NEW CARS DELIVERED BY KLEMME AUTO CO. PAST WEEK

The Klemme Auto Company have been doing a nice business in new cars the past week or two and report the following deliveries of 1941 model cars.

Dr. Storey of Thornton, a Hudson sedan; Matt Lamuth of Algona, a Hudson Eight sedan; C. A. Larsen, Klemme, Hudon tudor sedan; Louis Mackowsky, of Des Moines, Hudson tudor sedan; Harm Falk, St. Ansgar, a Hudson sedan; Miles Strahorn, Hampton, a Hudson Eight sedan.

Dorance Day and C. D. Fox, the proprietors, have also done a good business in used cars.

Will Move To Town

Mr. and Mrs. George Albers will retire from farm life and will move to town in the spring and their son Menno, will run the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Albers have purchased property in town and are now the owners of the residence where the Overholt family now reside. They purchased the property from Paul Grange the first part of the week.

KINDERGARTEN CLASSES SCHEDULED TO BEGIN MONDAY, OCTOBER 14

A Class of About Ten Pupils Is Expected For This Year's Work

Kindergarten classes will be resumed next Monday at the beginning of the second six weeks of school. All children in the school district who will be five years old by the first of January are eligible to attend, and a class of about ten is expected. Miss Porter, who has charge of the first and second grade work, will also direct the kindergarten.

Children in the kindergarten come early in the afternoon. This year the plan is to have them remain until three-thirty and be dismissed with the children in the first and second grades. Last year they were dismissed at three o'clock, but that led to some confusion in planning for those who had to stay for older brothers and sisters.

The purpose of the kindergarten is to give the children an abundance of pre-reading experiences that will make their reading and other school work more meaningful when they actually come to do it. The progress being made by the first and second grades is evidence that the year of kindergarten is a worthwhile investment of time and trouble.

GARNER STORE ROBBED EARLY THURS. MORNING

From $700 To $1,000 In Merchandise Was Taken From Gildner-Paulson

GARNER — The Gildner and Paulson clothing store for men here was broken into early Thursday and between $700 and $1,000 forth of merchandise and $35 in cash was taken, it was reported by the Hancock county sheriff's office.

Merchandise stolen included suits, overcoats, leather jackets, shirts, mostly large sizes.

The burglar or burglars made entrance from the rear of the building, tore a hole in a screen door, spread apart bars in an iron grille and unlocked two locks in order to get in. Car tracks in the gravel behind the store indicated that they used a car to carry away the loot.

Sheriff L. M. Brower is investigating the robbery.

Stitch and Chatter Club Meets

Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn was hostess to the Stitch and Chatter club Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 2nd. Mesdames Herman Priebe, Henry Lewis, C. A. Larsen, Ben Coobs, Aug. Baack were guests.

Lunch was served by the hostess at the close of a pleasant afternoon.

Republican Women Will Meet At Crystal Lake

The Hancock County Council of Republican Women will meet at Crystal Lake Saturday afternoon, October 12th. Wesley G. Lemke of Charles City will be the speaker. All ladies are invited to attend this meeting.

BRENDA JOYCE AND GEORGE MURPHY TO STAR IN COMEDY AT AVERY

This is a comedy of New York as lived belowstairs and abovestairs, by rich and poor, fabricated for purpose of laughter and with front-pages and society-columns of the newspapers as source of material used and treatment accorded it. Brenda Joyce as the debutante and George Murphy as the boy she marries are to the fore thruout. Charlie Ruggles as a capitalist who doesn't worry, Mischa Auer as the Russian butler, and Maxie Rosenbloom as the Finnish athletic coach supply most of the background comedy.

America's New Atlantic Bases Hem Caribbean

Safeguard All Approaches To United States and Panama Canal Zone.

By NORTON PHILLIPS
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WASHINGTON.—The air and naval bases in the Atlantic ocean and Caribbean sea acquired recently by the United States from Great Britain through negotiations led by the Marquess of Lothian, British envoy in Washington, sweep like an inverted questionmark from Newfoundland on the north, southwestward through Bermuda and the Bahamas, south to Jamaica, eastward to Trinidad and British Guiana, and northward again to St. Lucia and Antigua, according to a special bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"From Newfoundland, the northernmost base, to British Guiana, on the mainland of South America, southernmost of the bases, is an airline distance of approximately 2,700 miles," the bulletin says.

Newfoundland is one of the most important of the base locations, guarding the northern approaches by air and water to Canada and the United States. It extends for approximately 400 miles north and south across the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the widened mouth of the St. Lawrence river. Newfoundland's famous Botwood airfield used at one time by the Pan American transatlantic clippers, and recently by American-built war planes flown to England, lies about 2,000 miles west and slightly south from the coast of Ireland. It is 950 miles southwest of the southern tip of Greenland.

Lothian

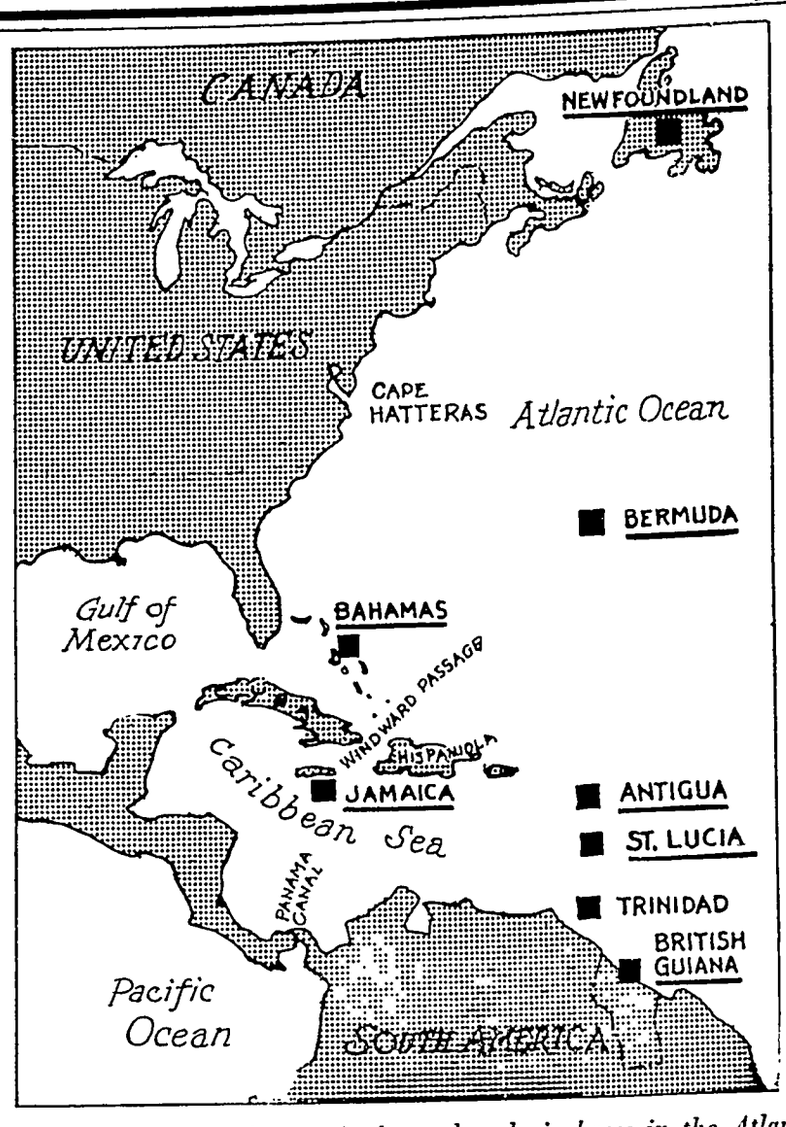
Portugal's Azores islands are 1,400 miles to the southeast, and Bermuda is 1,110 miles to the southwest. Newfoundland is of greatest importance as an air base in midsummer when a short period of good weather makes flying relatively easy across the North Atlantic.

Bermuda Near U. S.

The defense base at Bermuda, next to the south from Newfoundland, is within 1,000 miles or less of every important port on the Atlantic coast of North America, both in the United States and Canada. The English channel ports of Britain lie more than 3,000 miles to the northeast. The United States is only one-fifth as distant, since Cape Hatteras, N. C., is 640 miles west and slightly north.

Bermuda's subtropical cluster of more than 150 islands, enclosed within a living barricade of coral reef about ten miles in diameter, already serves as Britain's base for the British navy's "America and West Indies" fleet. Within the rim of coral reef the Bermuda islands are so grouped as nearly to encircle the land-locked waters of the Great sound, mentioned as the probable American base. Small islands around the Great sound's sheltered harbor are the actual bases for the British navy and the Pan American clipper planes.

Of the 28,000 residents on Bermuda's 19½ square miles, the white inhabitants are outnumbered in a population 55 per cent colored. A strategic factor is the problem of supplies; food, water, and other necessities are imported chiefly from the United States.



United States' newly acquired naval and air bases in the Atlantic ocean extend from Newfoundland to the mainland of South America, an airline distance of approximately 2,700 miles.

3,000 Islands in Bahamas.

The Bahama islands group, roughly 700 miles southwest of Bermuda, over which the duke of Windsor now presides, consists in all of more than 3,000 islands, islets, cays and rocks strewn over some 630 miles of ocean between Florida and Hispaniola (the island of Haiti and the Dominican Republic). The aggregate area is less than 4,500 square miles. All of the islands are low and of coral formation. The island nearest Florida is Bimini, about 60 miles east of Miami. The most historic is San Salvador (Watling island) on the eastern fringe, where Columbus landed in 1492.

Jamaica, 500 miles south of the Bahamas, and on the southern side of Cuba, is one of the vital base locations because of its nearness to the Panama canal which lies about 550 miles to the south. It is the only one of the bases squarely within the Carribbean sea; the others nearby lie on the outer fringe of that body of water. It is Britain's watchdog island beside the busy Windward Passage, shipping channel between the North Atlantic and the Panama canal.

Kingston is capital and chief port. With only 4,000 square miles, Jamaica supports 1,173,000 inhabitants, the second largest number of British subjects in the Western hemisphere—second only to Canada. Less than one-fifth of them are white.

The sheltered harbor of Kingston is seven miles long and more than a mile in width. It is a hub for Caribbean airlines.

Trinidad, close to the shore of Venezuela, serves as an "abutment" for the arch of the Windward and Leeward islands which enclose the Caribbean on the east. The island is 1,862 square miles in extent and has a population of 412,000. On the basis of production it is one of the most valuable of England's West Indian colonies.

The island has an enormous deposit of natural asphalt, Pitch lake, which covers 114 square miles and from which more than 100,000 tons has been exported in one year. The island also produces as much as 10,000,000 barrels of petroleum in one year, raising this comparatively small island at one time to eleventh in world production.

St Lucia, one of the Windward islands only 200 miles north of the island of Trinidad, has an excellent harbor. Its area of 238 square miles supports a population of about 65,000, mostly Negroes. This island is about 1,150 miles east of the Panama canal, and faces Dakar, the westernmost point of Africa, about 2,600 miles to the east.

Once Was French.

The island changed hands between England and France several times, so that the natives speak with a strong French accent. It has been English territory since 1814.

The southernmost of the defense bases will be located in British Guiana, Britain's only territory on the mainland of South America. It will give the United States a base some 1,450 miles east of the Panama canal and about equidistant from the canal and the hub port of the South Atlantic, Natal on the projecting "shoulder" of Brazil.

The chief port and capital, Georgetown, dominates the 270 miles of coastline. This narrow British strip of South America extends for nearly 500 miles up into the continent's northern highlands. Its area is 89,480 square miles. The colony has less than a third of a million inhabitants, nearly a half of them East Indians.

Antigua, in the northern half of the sweeping arc of islands that guards the eastern doorway to the Caribbean sea, is about 200 miles north of St. Lucia and 260 miles east of Puerto Rico. An irregularly shaped patch of land, it is the smallest of the West Indies islands offered to the United States for bases. It is only about 12 miles in length from east to west, with a total area of 108 square miles. It has a population of little over 35,000.

Although at one time Antigua's English Harbour was headquarters for England's Leeward Islands naval station when the island was comparatively rich and active, it is today merely a sleepy tropical outpost, off the regular tourist "beat."

Antigua is valuable as a strategically set watchdog on the route to the Panama canal. It is the center and seat of government of Britain's Leeward islands. It is situated less than 40 miles north of Guadaloupe, one of France's colonial possessions whose status following the German conquest of the motherland is still undetermined."

Export-Import Bank Authorized to Loan Half-Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON. — When congress recently passed a law extending the life of the United States Export-Import bank to 1947, and authorizing $500,000,000 additional loans, it gave sanction and approval to the queerest bank one could ever expect to find. It has no tellers, no cashiers, no cash, no vaults, no marble columns, or no safety devices, but yet this financial institution in the last six years has agreed to lend to countries all over the world nearly $437,000,000, has actually advanced $160,000,000, and has collected repayments of $61,500,000.

WARREN L. PIERSON

Asked how this could be done, Warren Lee Pierson, president of the bank, replied that the institution uses as much as possible existing American commercial banks — the kind where checks are cashed. These banks advance the funds and handle the documents.

Interest payments are shared between the Export-Import bank and the bank which handled the business.

The bank was founded in 1934 to assist in the marketing abroad of industrial and agricultural products, particularly cotton, and has slowly developed into one of the most potent forces in stabilizing the foreign trade of the United States, making it possible for the American foreign trader to compete in a world in which other governments direct and control practically all the foreign trade of their nationals.

Tax Commission Proposes Budget For Rearmament

CHICAGO.—A billion-dollar-a-year rearmament program for the United States which would not cost taxpayers a red cent now or in the future is the prospect held out by the National Consumers Tax commission

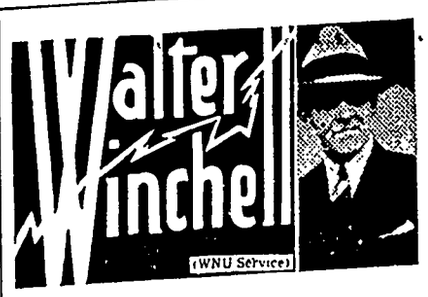
In a message to the quarter-million members in 45 states, Mrs. Melville Mucklestone, NCTC president, declared that "if our local governments would eliminate inefficiency and waste from the administration of their affairs, American taxpayers would be saved a sum so large that it would more than offset the $994,400,000 to be raised annually through the national defense act which went into effect July 1."

This seemingly too-good-to-be-true solution to a large part of the defense problem is an actual possibility, Mrs. Mucklestone said, for the simple reason that the local taxpayer is the same one who foots the national tax bill and therefore costs of defense measures.

"Experts agree that making our city, town, county, and other local governmental units thoroughly efficient and honest would cut from 10 to 20 per cent from our total local tax bill," the NCTC leader declared, "without curtailing essential governmental services."

Government Seeks Oil For Delicate Machines

TACOMA, WASH.—Although the increasing number of aeronautical instruments, watches, and other delicate mechanisms is causing a shortage in the supply of fishjaw oil, a government agency, in making a survey of the sources of such lubricants, has found one in the beluga, or white whale, found in large numbers near Cook inlet, 15 miles from Anchorage, Alaska, according to an official report.



YE SCRIBES

When Hi Moderwell was covering the Rome beat for a Chicago gazette he exposed some Fascist barbarisms. This so incensed one of them, he slapped Hi's face during a dance . . . Not wishing to cause any excitement, because his companion (the wife of a friend) expected an heir, Moderwell ignored the insult . . . The next day a Rumanian crisis forced him to fly to Bucharest. At once Rome was sprayed with talk that the American was a coward. That he had been slapped and then left Italy by plane, etc.

When Hi returned to Rome his best pals told him the only way to disinfect the ugly situation would be to fight a duel. The challenge became the topic of every European correspondent, but Hi had other ideas . . . He entered the explosive Fascist's lair, told him Americans do not fight with swords and then flattened him with a sock on the jaw . . . Then Hi challenged him to a duel with swords, pistols or anything else . . . The next day the duel was cancelled—because Moderwell was not a gentleman!

This legend concerns Ted Thackery, the Post's managing editor. Ted has the distinction of becoming the m. e. of a paper he once peddled in the Midwest . . . Then he came to New York, and because his boss paid him off in bigger compliments than wages, he developed a cynical attitude . . . As a result, he was demoted to a job on one of the publisher's other rags . . . He surprised the higher-ups by accepting it, and so they fired him. Very unfairly, he felt . . . Despite his years with the outfit, he was left penniless. He had the courage to perform this legendary exploit. He returned to the town where he was a noted figure, and on the same corner where he started peddling papers, he once more newsboy'd the paper of which he once was head man . . . The town buzzed with the tale and his shamefaced employer, rather than have "the story" confirmed, made him m. e. again—but of a branch publication in China.

During the exciting twenties Vic Watson, then city ed of the N. Y. American, assigned reporter Nat Ferber to expose crooked brokerage houses . These bucketshops were cleaning up, trimming the chumps, and to do this they had powerful underworld contacts, of course . . . That's just what Watson and Ferber suspected One day while they attended a hearing of a brokerage case, held in a deserted street late in the night, Ferber happened to look out a window and noticed that in every doorway a figure lurked . . . He thought fast . . . He phoned his paper to rush down every photographer on the staff—to take photos of every person on that street . . . When the flashlights popped the lurkers fled . . . The cameramen did a swell job—many photos matched several rogues gallery Rembrandts.

George Bernard Shaw's music: "People who read my Prefaces are repelled by what they choose to term my arrogance—their word for my habit of telling the painful truth. And people who read what other folks say about me are revolted by my callousness—the average journalist's word for the irritating way in which I keep my head while the rest of mankind are losing theirs . . . Thus, everyone who doesn't know me firmly believes me to be quite the most unpleasant person alive; and as a consequence all I have to do with people who meet me for the first time is to be just reasonably polite, in order to convey an impression of superhuman charm."

Sports writer Harry Grayson fears no man, and like most sports chroniclers, often wields the hammer with great effect. Harry's pride and joy is Harry Jr . . . One day Papa Grayson met a friend and amazed him by devoting the entire gabfest to raving about what a great guy Clyde Beatty was. "He's the most wonderful man I ever met," said Grayson.

"How do you figure that out?" inquired the listener.

"How do I figure it out?" yelled Harry. "Why, when I took my kid to his circus, Beatty let him go in the cage with the lions!"

Nunnally Johnson, who pens pieces between movies, had a quarrel with a colyumist over a trivial matter sometime ago. The latter recently patty-caked one of Nunnally's mag pieces. He wired the colyumist: "Many thanks. Your kisses are still exciting."

When the Japanese police arrested James Young of International News, they found a radio script in his papers . . . For several days they 3rd-degreed him about a gal named "Purina" . . . "Your Russian girl friend? A Portuguese dancer? One of your assistant spies? Who is Purina?" . . . He finally convinced them that the script was the opening radio program (produced a year before) of "The Inside Story of Al Jolson," in which reporter Young acted, "Purina" being a St. Louis sponsor's cereal

DEFINITIONS, THEN AND NOW

Ultimatum (1910)—A cop telling a horseless carriage driver that the next time he speeds at 15 miles per hour through a street filled with horses he'll be arrested.

Ultimatum (1940)—A dictator ordering a half dozen nations to surrender or else . . .

Raid (1910)—Usually a means of proving a saloon guilty of Sunday selling.

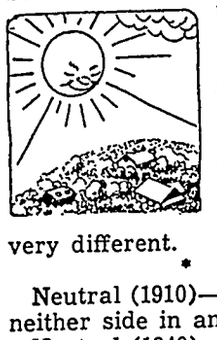
Raid (1940)—Another attempt to destroy a city or intimidate a nation.

Treaty (1910)—A solemn and binding covenant.

Treaty (1940)—Flypaper without the mucilage.

* * *

Fifth Column (1910)—A column between the fourth and sixth columns.



Fifth Column (1940)—A national menace.

Storm Troops (1910)—Soldiers caught in the rain.

Storm Troops (1940)—Something very different.

* * *

Neutral (1910)—Anybody who took neither side in any argument.

Neutral (1940)—An extinct nation.

Parachutist (1910)—A performer at a county fair.

Parachutist (1940)—An instrument of frightfulness employed to stab a foe in the back.

Tank (1910)—A heavy drinker; a feature at the Hippodrome.

Tank (1940)—One of the most devilish mechanisms ever devised by man.

* * *

Gas Mask (1910)—Something used by coal miners.

Gas Mask (1940) — Compulsory equipment for children at play.

Blackout (1910)—The finish to a Follies sketch.

Blackout (1940)—A city in complete darkness to avoid indiscriminate slaughter of men, women and children.

* * *

Mechanized Warfare (1910) — A scout on a bicycle.

Mechanized Warfare (1940) — An army operating in death-dealing motorized units.

Long-range Gun (1910)—A weapon capable of sending a shell about three miles.

Long-range Gun (1940)—A gun capable of projecting a shell 75 miles.

Axis (1910)—Something on which the earth turns.

Axis (1940)—Any powerful group of megalomaniacs on a binge.

Sabotage (1910)—Cutting the stirrups on a cavalry officer's saddle.

Sabotage (1940)—Stopping at nothing in the destruction of all implements and materials of war.

* * *

Bomber (1910)—A nickname for a prize fighter.

Bomber (1940)—A fortress in the skies.

Spitfires (1910) — High-tempered young women.

Spitfires (1940)—Airplanes of the R. A. F.

Blitzkrieg (1910)—A German waiter throwing somebody out of a rathskeller.

Blitzkrieg (1940)—Hell on earth.

* * *

Scuttle (1910)—A container for coal.

Scuttle (1940)—German naval policy.

Peace (1910)—The whole world living without military disturbances.

Peace (1940)—Any situation in which not more than 30 countries are at war.

* * *

COMMUNIQUES

According to communiques,
The fight was fierce the last few days.
They state the losses and the gains;
It seems they downed a lot of planes!

The Nazis state they lost eleven,
But Britain says 'twas fifty-seven!
The Germans claim just sixty-nine
Of Britain's craft—a sharp incline
From their admitted twenty-five.
How many men were left alive?

These facts the propaganda press
Is somehow very loath to stress;
And they omit the damage done—
From all reports, both sides have won.

—Mori Fremon.

* * *

"The French Empire remains intact."—Marshal Petain.

* * *

WANNA BET?

Bing Crosby has gone into competitive golf in a serious way and we can almost imagine him, sizing up a difficult shot and saying, "Caddie, does this call for a croon or a driver?"

* * *

Wendell Willkie, according to Harry James, is a candidate who ought not to mind people getting in his hair.

* * *

WILLKIE IS TRYING TO GET ROOSEVELT BEHIND THE DE-

Washington
NAZI CENSORSHIP

It's not being widely p but Nazi Germany already tight rein on all messages the state department to its in parts of Europe. In state department is unable municate at all with certain and communications to tions must be relayed thro lin.

The department has codes for transmission messages, but codes are the messages don't move.

If Mr. Hull wants to com with a member of the U.
matic staff in Paris he can directly, but must file to French capital of Vichy,
there, subject to the whi Petain government, the may be moved on to Paris

A short time ago, mess to be sent via Berlin, with that Nazi officials would the U. S. embassy there to message to Paris by cour

Both Brussels and Antw completely cut off, except Berlin, but oddly enough, R and Antwerp are open f communication Any messa
Washington to Norway's
Oslo, must be routed thro
holm.

Note—Though this has reduction in official messag rope, the total of cable clearing from the state de is breaking all records for chiefly because of heavy com tion with Latin America.

* * *

SMOKELESS POWDER SHORTAGE

Destruction of the Kenv powder plant was a far m ous blow to national defe anyone in high official circl ed to admit.

It now leaves the Unite with only two smokeless plants in the entire country Pont plant at Carney's Po and the government-owned ny arsenal at Dover, N. J.
from Kenvil. It produces very small amount of powd

Real fact is that powde are slow and cumbersome requiring a series of buil which the powder is gradua
Two new plants are being completion by the war dep
but they will not be finish next spring.

One of these is near Char
Ind., and will be operated duPonts, though built by ernment at a cost of $25,000,
other will be at Radford,
will be operated by the Powder company, though the government at the same

How serious is the powd tion was illustrated by the one day after the New Je plosion, the war departme
"speed-up" letters to both and Hercules, whereby they dered to increase powder pr from 200,000 pounds a day 000 pounds a day in the plant; and from 200,000 a da 000 a day in the Charleston plant This means that th will be bigger, but it does n they will be finished earlie

Day after the New Jers sion, also, the war departm
a confidential memo to th House on the seriousness of der situation.

Note—German intelligenc
unquestionably knew the e pacity of American powde ries, and how limited our production was—namely, pounds a year. They m known also that the destru one factory would throw ed States off its preparedne
ule more than any other s cident.

* * *

SECRET AIRPLANE CON

The public is not going to more information about contracts let by the war dep
The army is putting the li a military precaution.

Inside fact is that news contracts was released only the impression that the w not getting ahead. Secretary Stimson had stated on Augu contracts had been let for planes of the 4,000 author
June.

Just a month later, Septe
the war department release that told a different story.
of 33, the number of planes
ed for was 2,797

These figures were put o assure the public But from there will be no talking.
department is following the General Marshall, who say can't play poker with ev looking at your hand."

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The state department is ing to keep the muzzle on M sy" Harriman, forthright mi Norway. Apparently Mr. H
she will tell what really there.

Sen. Joe O'Mahoney po highest vote ever receive Democrat in the recent primary. With less than ha normal vote cast in this the Democrats figure they good chance to carry that November.

e Fishing Industry of New England, Founded by Basques in 1500, Is Oldest And One of Most Colorful in U. S. Today

LMO SCOTT WATSON
d by Western Newspaper Union.)

HEY say that in this machine age there is ittle romance and adre in modern business. amid many of the nagreat industries which lost much of their "colbrough mechanization, is one that is still largeed-operated and in which dividuality of those who that trade remains in- That is the great New nd fishing industry.

probably the oldest contin- operated industry in the States today for it goes early 450 years to that sumy about the year 1500 when ll group of Basque fisheret out from a little coastal in France in their small boat. They had little luck ir usual fishing grounds and days went by ventured farnd farther away from wahey knew. However, even waters lines and nets were rawn up empty. This was livelihood and it was necesthat they find a fishing which would yield them boatload before they rehome continued their search for lucrative fishing waters and many weeks they came to nge coast where trees were and flowers were bloom- They set their nets and cast lines and in an almost unably short time the boat lled. They set sail for home pon their arrival regaled fellow fishermen with stof their astounding luck in s "on the other side of the s was born an industry was to play its important the colonization and develnt of the New World and to e the archives of New Engwith many historic sea an indication of the potenealth of the early New Engfishing industry, Gosnold, navigator on the coast, t so many cod that one voyf six months yielded him pounds in money. Wherehe remarked, "What sport yield a more pleasing connd less hurt or charge than g with a hook crossing the air from isle to isle, over lent sterse of a calm sea."

ghty Capt. John Smith of ia paid tribute to the indusith these words, "Let not the ness of the word 'fish' dis- you, for it will afford as gold as the wines of Guiana otassie with less hazard and e and more certainty and y"

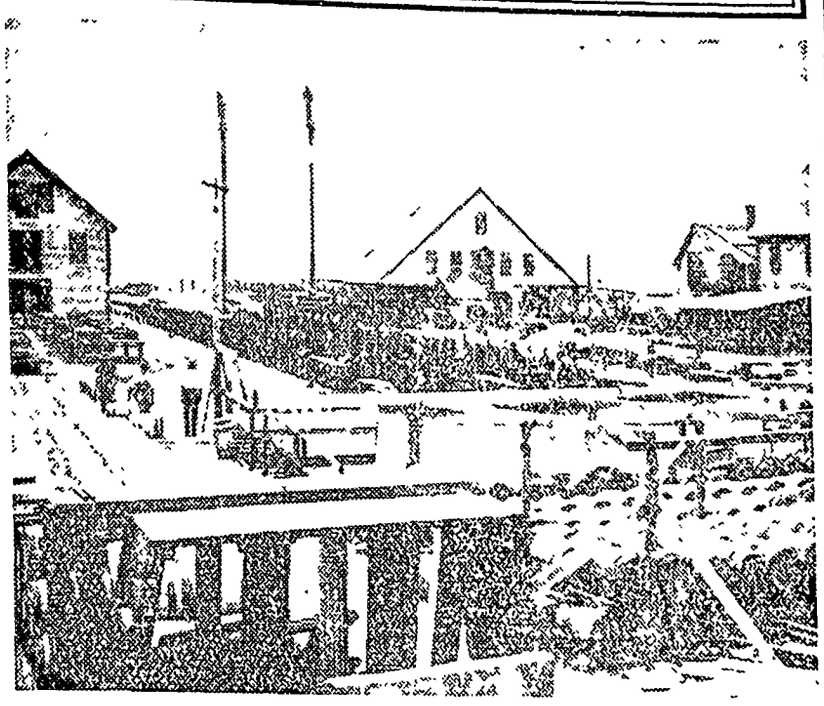
1504 the Basques were fishegularly along the New Engcoast. As word spread g other fishermen of the Old of this fabulous fishing d, the adventurous Basques joined by men of other na- When the explorer Verralanded south of the Piscariver near Boston he found ies carried on by French, ues and Portuguese.

toric records of Massachushow that by 1615 there were rench and Portuguese and nglish sails along the coast w England. In 1623 a fishessel attempting to land at tlement on the Maine coast unable to complete the landnd "the master thought it to pass into Massachusetts He left 14 men and red to his home port in Spain. year the same vessel red and left 32 men. Thus established the village of ester where much of the history of the Massachufishing industry was to be n.

1639 fish had become a um of exchange and were used as money. It was also o fishing that all the arts of ation flourished. In this year the General Court of achusetts recognized the ibutions its fishermen were ng to the development of the world by relieving them of ry duty.

1643 the citizens of the then village of Boston held a ration and the whole citizenturned out to pay honor to unching of the "Trial," first l to be built in that city. ned to carry on trade bethe Old and New worlds, "Trial" was forerunner of a line of elipper ships which colorful history for another ry or so. Loaded with a of salted and smoked fish, "Trial" set sail for Balboa Malaga. On her return trip rought wine, fruit, oil, iron, wool.

the beginning of the Eighteentury New England was ning its trade with the West



A typical scene on the piers at Gloucester, Mass., at the turn of the century showing mackerel ready for shipment.

Indies Clipper ships took cargoes of fish to the Indies and there exchanged them for sugar, molasses or rum. These products in turn were taken to Africa and exchanged for slaves which were sold to the Southern colonies or exchanged for tobacco.

Fish for Appeasement.

Meanwhile, Massachusetts was branching out in other directions. The first state in the colonies to have a mint, it coined what became known as the "pine tree" shilling pieces in 1652. Whereupon Charles II of England became displeased because he was not given a share of the profits. Massachusetts promptly sent appeasement in the form of "ten barrels of cranberries, two hogsheads of samp and 3,000 codfish."

Miss Reba Onigman has the distinction of being the only woman fish commission merchant in the world. She operates at the Boston Fish pier.

At the beginning of the Eighteenth century cod fishing was in a prosperous condition. The annual production was about 330,000 quintals and the value of the fish exported was about $700,000, there being 400 fishing vessels of about 50 tons each in Massachusetts alone. By 1731 more than 7,000 men were employed in the New England fisheries. A report of the Massachusetts fisheries made in 1837 shows what strides the industry was making. The total value of the cod and mackerel caught that year amounted to $3,208,866 and the number of vessels engaged in fishing was 12,290, while the number of men employed had risen to 16,722.

Today, the New England fishing industry has reached such proportions that the annual catches amount to 670,000,000 pounds in round figures with a value of $20,000,000. Products manufactured from the catch amount to an additional $24,000,000. Center of this great activity is Boston where the "Stock Exchange" of the New England industry has headquarters and where the great fish plants pack, ice and ship millions of fresh fish annually.

Activity at the Boston fish pier gets under way officially at seven o'clock in the morning when the auction opens. In a huge unadorned room with its ceiling running up the four stories of the building, the auctioneers stand on a railed platform in the center. Around the platform cluster the buyers and it is they who decide the fortunes of the "farmers of the sea." For, the prices they bid for the catch determine the earnings of the men manning the fishing boats, who operate on shares.

Heroes of the Pier.

Many of these men are direct descendants of the Basque, Portuguese and Spanish sailors who first made their way to the "other side of the sea" in the Sixteenth century. Many still live in the same sturdy houses of wood and stone built by their earlier ancestors. There is keen rivalry among them for fishing honors of the year. The crew of the boat that chalks up the biggest catch become the glamour boys of the Boston fishing world and are accorded the same admiration and popular homage as a big league baseball star or a college football hero

They live well, these men who take the ever-present dangers of the sea in their daily stride, and they live with the carefree gaiety of those to whom physical hazards are all in the day's work. Oddly enough, they eat little fish. Steak is a favorite meat, with plenty of vegetables and fruits, and woe to the cook whose pies emerge from the oven with other than a crisp flaky crust

When auction of the catches has been concluded the work of unloading the boats begins. Each boat on its trip out takes on a load of shaved ice in which to pack the fish as soon as caught. This method brings the catch into port as fresh as it came from the nets. Unloaded in huge baskets and transferred to carts, the fish are rushed into big packing and distribution plants. Here they are made ready for millions who, until modern methods of mass merchandising took fresh fish 1,500 miles inland, had little opportunity to enjoy seafood except in a smoked, salted or canned state. This method of distribution has also removed fish from the status of a "Friday only" food item and now many families far away from the seacoast enjoy fresh fish several times a week.

Meet Blue-Eyed Reba.

Exploring the activities on the fish pier you may be surprised to find a slender, blue-eyed woman in the thick of the auction or inspecting a basket load of fish swinging onto the pier from a boat, for in such an atmosphere one does not ordinarily expect to find a woman She is Reba Onigman, who is in her eighth year as the only woman fish commission merchant in the world. Miss Onigman will tell you that she is "in a business that stinks" However, she will add in the next breath that "there's romance in the fish business," and she would not "give it up for the world."

Miss Onigman's daily schedule might dismay a good many less hardy women. She is up at five-thirty o'clock and down on the pier by six. From then on she is "just one of the men." She sells her fish at the auction, inspects the catches that come in on consignment for her and operates in a quietly business-like fashion that has won her the respect of the weather-beaten men with whom she deals. Winter finds her clad in high rubber boots and a Sou'wester. In summer she looks as dainty and fresh as though she were just starting off for some purely social feminine activity. Her blouse is crisply fresh and more likely than not a blue bow is tucked away in curly black hair lightly frosted with premature gray.

Another colorful personality whom you may meet in a morning's round of the fish pier is the commission merchant who started off merely peddling a few packages of fish from door to door. Then he persuaded a captain or two to let him handle a day's catch. Today, he is one of the wealthy men of the industry

Thus, the fish industry goes Fortunes are frequently made within the space of a few short months. The men who are its keystones—the sturdy simple fishermen who still speak the language of their Portuguese, French and Spanish forefathers — still lead lives filled with the color and adventure which are the heritage of those who "farm the sea." The boats set forth with the early tide and slip back into port at sunset or dawn. The great industry which served as a foundation for this country's earliest trading continues to flourish and to provide the nation with one of its most important sources of food.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

EVER hear of a slendang? Well, neither has practically everybody else. Betty Field has, for in Paramount's "Victory" she's invading Dorothy Lamour's territory and wearing one. It's a sort of glorified sarong, and the first day after the first batch of photos showing the lady in it was released the studio received 27 requests for the garment.

Fred Allen and Jack Benny are supposed to be the battlers in "Love Thy Neighbor," but it seems to be Mary Martin, their co-star, who is really the victim. The famous feudists battle with words. As for Mary, her schedule includes being caught up on a derrick hook in a scene on a dock, being tossed into the ocean and having to swim with all her clothes on, being nearly strangled by Benny in one scene and manhandled by Allen in another.

Mary Martin

She does two dance routines, one of which involves a lot of struggling, and another shot finds her rolling around the back end of a wildly driven cab. Nice work for a girl who can keep audiences happy just by singing!

In Hollywood, Burgess Meredith, working in "Second Chorus" with Fred Astaire and Paulette Goddard, had not yet acquired a car. Nevertheless a sign on a fence at General Service studios carried the warning, "This place reserved for Mr. Meredith."

Burgess Meredith

That vacant space, amid the cars belonging to other stars, was too much for Miss Goddard. So she filled the vacancy with a brand new motor scooter, decorated with ribbons and equipped with a bottle of iodine, just in case of accident.

It's been quite a while since Brenda Marshall couldn't have any dress that she wanted, but the success that made that possible also stood in her way the other day when she fell in love with a frock and then couldn't have it.

The dress was designed for her to wear in Warner Brothers' "East of the River," and she liked it so much that she wanted to have it copied for her own wardrobe. But the production office turned thumbs down The reason was that she is a target for cameras wherever she goes. The dress might be copied by fashion bootleggers, and the style wouldn't be new when the picture is released.

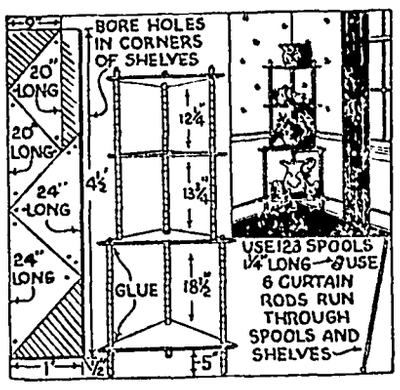
If the war news in your daily paper and on the radio means a lot to you you'll certainly want to see the new March of Time, "On Foreign Newsfronts." It shows how U. S. newsmen are covering the biggest news story in modern history—tells how men like H. V. Kaltenborn were forced to leave Germany. It records the story of this first year of World War II from the viewpoint of the men who report it to the American people, and shows why the United States today is the last stronghold of a free press, and its citizens the best informed in the world.

Apparently people who earn their livings by appearing in public just can't help being superstitious—even athletes are susceptible, as Babe Ruth used to prove when he never went out to left field or returned without kicking second base on the way.

Burns and Allen are no exception. Burns never approaches the microphone without touching his left toe to the bottom of Artie Shaw's music stand. Gracie always sits on the right side of the stage and has two chairs, one to sit on and the other for her script. This latter chair is always turned so that its back is to the audience. She's never missed this arrangement in seven years, and judging by her success it must be a good one.

Dinah Shore, lately with the Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin street, that solemnly spoofing swing program, and with the Revuers, will be on the new Eddie Cantor program that starts in October. A bachelor of arts from Vanderbilt university, she's taken her singing seriously since she was ten—now she's cashing in on her perseverance. A lot of people don't want to hear "Orchids of Remembrance" again unless she sings it, because of the way she did it recently on Westinghouse's "Musical Americana."

HOW TO SEW
by Ruth Wyeth Spears



A HOME Demonstration Agent wrote me the other day to say that many of the women in her group had made the spool shelves described in SEWING BOOK 3 and the end tables of spools in Book 5 "One member has an interesting collection of pitchers and would like to make a corner whatnot for them," the letter continued.

Well, here it is ladies! With the collection of pitchers all in place. The sketch gives all dimensions and instructions. The triangle shelves are cut from one board as shown at the left. The second shelf from the bottom needs six holes. All the others have three holes each. The design may be varied by using larger spools at the bottom for the first spool above and below each shelf. Use extension curtain rods to fit the holes in the spools. A little glue between spools makes the whatnot rigid. When finished, it may be stained or painted.

* * *

NOTE These homemaking booklets are a service to our readers and No 5 contains a description of the other numbers; as well as 32 pages of clever ideas with all directions fully illustrated They are 10c each to cover cost and mailing. Send order to.

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....

Address .....

AROUND THE HOUSE

To keep marshmallows moist, store them in the bread box.

* * *

For a little variety bake your pies in square or rectangular-shaped pans. Often they are easier to cut into equal portions from such a shape.

* * *

When using pastry flour in cooking use a little more than when using bread flour. Bread flour thickens a little stiffer than pastry flour.

* * *

A siphon of charged water is an excellent fire extinguisher, as the carbonic acid gas in the water helps to stifle the flames. The siphon can be tilted, and the fluid will carry to a considerable height such as the top of a blazing curtain.

* * *

An alarm clock will save much worry in cooking. Set the alarm for the time the cooking is to be completed—or as a reminder for inspection. Undivided attention may then be given to the other household interests.

* * *

Fat burns easily. It should therefore be handled carefully during the cooking. Even a small amount of fat in a frying pan will ignite if it is over-heated. A kettle of deep fat can quickly produce quite a blaze.

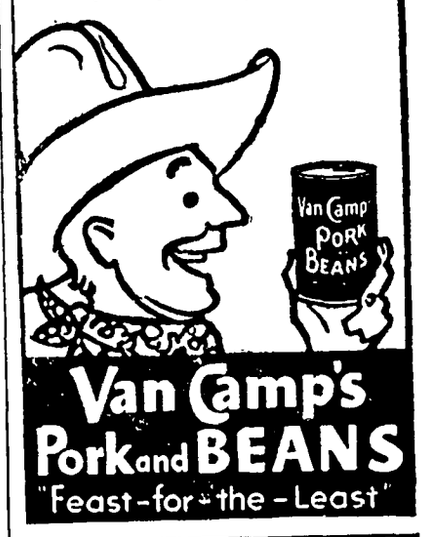
That wholesome, tangy outdoor taste... just heat and eat... delicious cold...healthful...economical... order, today, from your grocer.



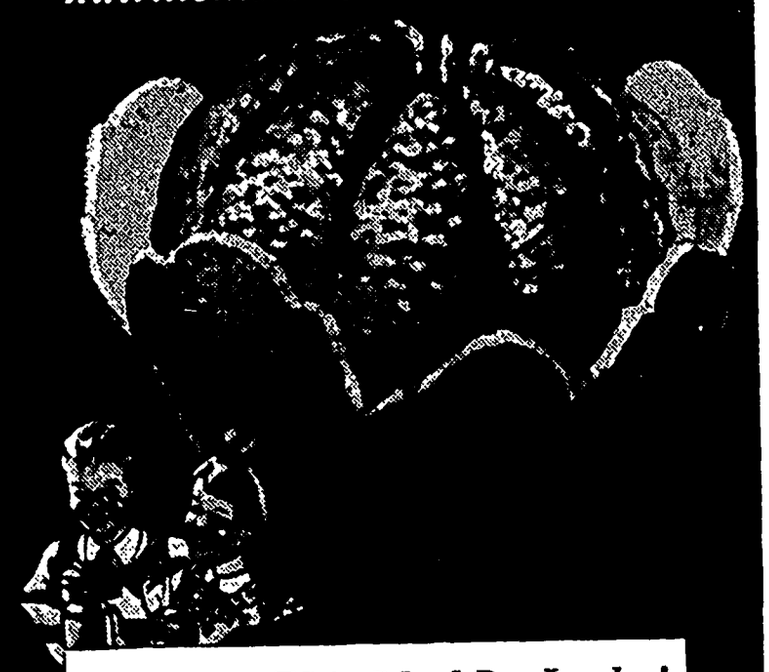
Van Camp's Pork and BEANS
"Feast-for-the-Least"

Beyond Help

Too late the bird cries out when it is caught.

Youngsters love them!

nutritionists recommend them



Put ORANGES in School Day Lunches!

Everyone likes to peel and eat an orange! Or to sip a glass of the fresh juice. Just to enjoy the delicious, fragrant taste!

And nothing else that's so delicious is so good for you! For, says the Department of Agriculture, hardly half the families in America get enough vitamins and minerals to permit the best of health.

And oranges are your richest everyday source of vitamin C and a good source of vitamin B_1. They also supply vitamins A and G, calcium, phosphorus and iron.

So put a healthful Sunkist Orange in every lunch box. Let health begin at breakfast with BIG glasses of fresh orange juice for all the family. Order a supply of Sunkist Oranges—the pick of California's best-ever crop of wonderfully juicy Valencias.

Copyright, 1940, California Fruit Growers Exchange

Sunkist
CALIFORNIA ORANGES
Best for Juice—and Every use!

THAT "WASTE" LINE

Gale, in the New York Journal.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

•

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

LAND OF PLENTY!

With an incredible richness and generosity, you have given birth to the perfumed orange groves of Florida and California, the weaving wheat and corn fields of the Mildlewestern plains, the white cotton fields of the South and the rolling expanse of the Eastern farmlands where tranquillity and peace nourish the American principle of individual initiative against collective regimentation.

In your bosom, you have stored for our welfare all the minerals which American genius gratefully receives and transforms into peaceful instruments by which we live the most abundant life known in the history of mankind.

You have given seed to and nutured our priceless heritage of freedom of religious worship, free speech, free assembly and a free, enlightened press. With your beneficence. we have learned tolerance from the tolerant.

Such soil, such land, we are thankful to be born on, eternally grateful to live on, and unyieldingly defiant to die on, if need be, to save our beloved land from the brutal rape which threatens to plunge the whole world towards a barbarism and slavery that staggers the imagination of civilized man. We are proud to be part of the firts line of defense of American liberties . . . to always stand militantly at the side of every true American against the inroads of doctrines seeking to destroy America's priceless heritage.

RURAL SCHOOLGROUND IMPROVEMENT PLANNED

In counties which adopt rural schoolground improvement projects, teachers, directors and county agents will meet this fall to plan next spring's activity, says J. R. Fitzsimmons, extension landscape architect at Iowa State College.

Eight districts in each participating county are chosen, and means of improving the schoolyards are carefully worked out. Next spring, at a field day in which both pupils and parents participate, the work of planting and laying out the newly designed grounds will be performed.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — A GOOD ASSORTment of used Ranges, Heaters and Parlor Furnaces. Jacobs Hardware Store. 1tc

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — OLIVER PLOW with Radex bottoms, only one year old, fine condition, at a bargain. Northern Lumber Implement Store. 9-tfc.

FOR SALE — CHESTER WHITE Boars, cholera immune. Ray Veldhouse, 1½ miles west, 1 mile north of Klemme. 2tp-9-16

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5.00. Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc.

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

FOR SALE—WELL IMPROVED 120 A, farm, 2 miles south of Duncan, known as the Fred Kohlstorf place. Reasonable priced to close estate. Write or see Frank D. Fischer, Titonka S-25, 3tp.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

Into River.

Earl Simbro, near Knoxville, had a narrow escape when a passing car crowded his car off the side of the road along the Des Moines river bank. The dirt gave way and the car rolled down the bank into the river. Simbro escaped unharmed.

Speed.

Four Chariton boys couldn't imagine why they were being stopped by a highway patrolman—they were going a mere 80 miles an hour, on the highway near Dyserville. The surprised driver asked, "What's the matter, officer?"

Lucky.

Earl Lavette, Chicago, may feel very happy that there was a holiday on Labor Day. Otherwise, he would have been on the airliner which crashed near Lovettesville, Va., recently. Instead, Mr. Lavette was visiting his parents in Clarion over the holiday.

Little Stories About Your Neighbor

Delicious Apples Grown In North Iowa!

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of stories that will appear from time to time telling of things of interest in your own neighborhood. These little stories may help you to know your neighbor better.

Delicious apples of finest quality in North Iowa? It is hard to believe that fine apples are to be found this far north, but a trip to the Ben F. Greiman farm . . . or should say orchard . . . north and west of Klemme will convince the most skeptical that it is a fact!

Ben F. Greiman is a farmer but as a sort of hobby a few years ago he began experimenting with fruit trees until today his hobby has become a profitable business.

In Mr. Greiman's orchard of some 280 trees are to be found really wonderful Delicious apples Ben has 28 Red Delicious apple trees that are bearing heavily this year . . . from four to five bushels per tree, so he should have an estimated crop of around 125 bushels of marketable Delicious apples.

Another fine apple grown by Greiman is the Harleson apple. Some folks like it better than the Delicious and it is a good winter keeper and will stay fresh until May. Ben has 19 trees of Harlesons and they also are bearing heavy. The Red Delicious and the Harlesons are the two principle apples in the orchard this year but Ben also has the Yellow Delicious, the McIntsh winter apple, Grimes Golden, Wealthy and Crab Whitney.

He has some nice pear trees and his Mendo pears are really giants. He also has Parker, Patent and Tate pear trees.

Besides the fine apples, Ben has also established a reputation for producing fine plums of all kinds as well as grapes. This year he had a good crop of Concord, Hungarian, Beeda and White grapes.

It is worth anyone's time to drive out to the Greiman farm and see the fine orchard with fruit comparable to that of the finest fruit shipped in from the south and west.

A New Style Corn Crib

Mr. Greiman is constructing a corn crib of a new design that he himself planned. It is built in the form of a silo, 16 feet in diameter and 16 feet high with the boards running up and down, slat-style, and firmly held in position with wooden hoops, made on a form on the ground. The crib is made of cottonwood timber from the farm and sawed into boards by neighbor Ben Katter The entire crib cost Mr Greiman only ten dollars!

Has Power Take-Off

Ben Greiman occasionally turns towards mechanics and a couple of years ago he built a power take-off for his grain binder. Mr Greiman's attachment is much simpler than anything on the market and can be built for much less. Ben plans to manufacture some of his power take-offs this winter as he has had a number of inquiries and requests for his attachment.

Besides being a good farmer, Ben is also a great sport fan and likes to hunt and fish.

Around Iowa

Horse.

A horse belonging to Charles Burchett, Grand River, will have to go on living minus its tail. Standing too near the threshing machine, the horse's tail became entangled in the belts and was jerked completely from the body.

-oOo-

Poetry.

Mrs. Ella Luick, Belmond, has received an invitation from Radio Center, New York, to exhibit any of her books or poetry at the World Fair on National Poetry Day.

-oOo-

Deer Yarn.

Friends of Lloyd Knudtson and Ralph Torgerson, formerly of Kensett and Northwood, didn't believe their fish story until it was proven with pictures. While on a fishing trip, they saw a deer swimming far from shore. Following it for sometime, they were able to lasso him and load him into the boat.

-oOo-

Not Recognized.

When John Otteson of Tacoma, Washington, returned to visit relatives in Decorah recently, even his sister did not recognize him. It had been 34 years since they had last seen each other.

-oOo-

Dreams.

Ruth Sears of near Greenfield, dreamed so realistically that someone was following her, that she jumped from a window of her home Only injury—two broken bones above the ankle of her left leg.

-oOo-

Letters.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Huggins, Clarinda, recently received four letters in one week from their daughter who is in mission work on the Isle of Cyprus. The last letter was written June 30, taking two months to get to Clarinda.

-oOo-

Cut.

A chip from an iron wedge, used in cutting down a tree, flew up and hit Donald Lawson, Waukon, in the neck, cutting his jugular vein.

-oOo-

Gone To Waste.

When a gasoline truck driven by Adolph Wenzel, and a car driven by Albert Dorr, Belmond, colided, 120 gallons of gasoline were spilled over the street. To rid of the gasoline, the fire company washed down the pavement.

-oOo-

Pins.

As Coy Mattley, of near Corydon, was shaking a small rug, a pin which was in the rug pierced her eyelid and went into the eyeball. No sericus effects are expected.

Lime sulphur and wettable sulphur are two entirely different compounds. Wettable sulphur is used as a fruit tree spray while fruit is on the trees, but lime sulphur is too strong. It is used in the spring before fruit appears.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experience and best equipment.

•

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

•

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

HORTICULTURIST PASSES ON FALL GARDEN TIPS

A few miscellaneous tips for gardeners come from C. V. Holsinger, horticulurist at Iowa State College.

Raspberries have made vigorous growth recently, and the new lateral branches now are lying on the ground. Holsinger says the tips of these branches will root if covered with soil. Neither red nor black raspberries should be pruned until well after frost, and it is best to wait until the middle of March.

Wait Until Spring

Strawberries planted this fall will require twice as much work as those planted next spring, and may not survive the cold season, Holsinger warns, Then, too, the fall-planted strawberries may not be large enough to produce fruit next year anyway.

There still is time to plant radishes, and they are at their best when developed just before freezing weather. The grower of course runs the risk of an early freeze.

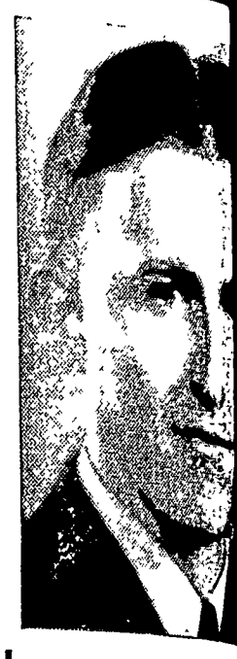
Care For Ground

At the end of the growing season, Holsinger suggests, root crops should be taken out of the garden and a dressing of manure applied to the ground. The ground then may be turned under and left rough through the winter. Next spring it will be in good condition 2 weeks before it could be worked under ordinary methods.

After peeling peaches. slice them directly into a fruit jar. Over each sliced peach. sprinkle sufficient sugar to sweeter that one peach Continue with each peach needed, then close jar slightly. The fruit will keep its nice fresh color, and will be thoroughly sweetened.

Sock-Darners.

So that the children's Lutheran Children's hom verly would never hav stockings with holes in years ago a group of ganized a "Stopf-Vere that time, it is estimate have darned 93,600 soc



VOTE FOR
× B. C. Be Democratic Candidat
Count
Attorn
YOUR VOTE WILL APPRECIATED

—— Your Support Appr
× Frank J. Schoun
Republican Candidate For
Supervisor
Term Beginning January 1, 1942
General Election November 5, 1940

VOTE FOR
× Fern Peck Katter
Republican Candidate
For County Recorder

Fall Necessities

IT'S HUSKING TIME AGAIN!

We carry a large supply of the old reliable brand of YANKEE DOODLE Husking Gloves and Mittens . . . none better. Also complete line of Leather Gloves, Husking Hooks, Bands, etc. Get your husking supplies here.

OUR LINE OF OIL AND GREASES . . . .

We have many satisfied customers who use our oil regularly ZENOIL for Autos and Tractors, AUTO KING Motor and Tractor Oil; Pressure Gun Grease; Cup Grease; Pressure Grease Guns and Parts. Save time! Try our Norse Picker Roller Compound.

ITEMS YOU NEED FOR YOUR CAR. . . .

We carry a line of Anti-Freeze at SPECIAL PRICES; Radiator Cleaner; Auto Polish and Wax and other items for your car.

HUNTERS! GET YOUR SHELLS HERE . . . . .

Just received a big shipment of SHOT GUN SHELLS all the popular loads, all popular gauges. Hunting Co Caps, Duck Calls, Shot Guns and Rifles. Nice line of Ri Cartridges in most calibres.

Jacobs Hardware

, DALY
NEY-AT-LAW
outh of Postoffice
40—GARNER

graphs
REVER
SSELL
O STUDIO
MASON CITY

ENJOY YOUR
tumn ation
Y TRAIN!
he most delight-
season of the Mother Nature ar-weather condi-
variegated color
lease every taste.
ravel offers every ort and conveni-
in line Rock Is-re air-conditioned economy, safety
make your jour-
ly carefree.
NOW TRAVEL
No money down.
ock Island Agent
complete details,
NER, A. G. P. A.
cust Street,
oines, Iowa.
Rock Island
ED

What?

An odd-looking animal has residents of Rockwell City wondering Rube Pate noticed it digging a den at a fast rate, and neither he nor Carl McVan digging with tile spades could gain on him They describe the animal as about the size of a tom cat, with long, dark gray hair streaked with brown, and a tail about as long as the animal. Even the local fur expert is baffled.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10:00 a. m English Service.

11 00 a. m Sunday School

8.00 p m Tuesday and Thursday Mixed Chorus.

Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.

Worship Service 10 00 a m
Sabbath School 11 00 a. m.
Epworth League 7 30 p m

Liberty Church:-

Sabbath School 10 15 a m
Worship Service 11 20 a m
Epworth League as above
Monthly Birthday Social Oct 14

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

MUST SELL OUR
CARS and TRUCKS
ter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT ains in late models You take no chances when you s. Come in and look them over.
arner Motor Sales
HLE CHEVROLET

THADA'S
Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa
LS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY
MAR wonder FLOUR $1.69
READ FLOUR SO GOOD WINS CAKE PRIZES
w you can have 15c deducted from above price)
ns 25c
SWEET POTATOES 6 lbs. for 19c
Rinso LIFEBUOY
reg. Pkg. 23c
Bar 06c
Box 21c
TOILET TISSUE 1000 Sheet Rolls 6 rolls for 25c
BREAD & BUTTER Pickles Large 12 oz. bottle Per bottle at 09c
RINSO Giant box at 59c
BUOY
Per bar . . . 06c
OL
. . 10c 01c
ORANGE & GRAPEFRUIT Juice, Blended Lg. No. 2 can 09c
OKIES FANCY Per lb. 15c

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman Eunice Larsen
Sophomore Audrey Mau
Junior Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior Shirley Johnson
Dramatics Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music Jacqueline Kudjo
Sports Henry Kaduce
Leonard Kaduce
Grade News Arlene Schmidt

Week's Moral "Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do which must be done, whether you like it or not Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, will breed in you a hundred virtues which the idle never know"—Charles Kingsley

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The senior girls began sewing this week, or at least cluting out objects

The manual training boys are making about as much noise as usual maybe more

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

The sociology class started listening to the series of radio programs broadcast every Monday a 2 15 from Iowa State College on vocations Some of the vocations included in this series are homemaking, farming, nursing, teaching dentistery, doctoring, military training and various other interesting topics

That certain junior girl mentioned in last week's news states quote "I would at the present rather live in Garner than Crysta Lake"

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

In biology, the sophomores are studying about differetn insects On Thursday we had a test

In algebra, we have been working problems about equations Friday morning we had a test on the different kinds of equation we had done

In world history we are studying about early Greek life, and this week we made a map locating the most important places in Greece

FRESHMEN CLASS NEWS

Friday afternoon the freshmen girls made breakfast beverages One girl at each table made one of the four beverages The ones concocted were tea, coffee, cocoa and hot chocolate.

The English I class has been studying myths. They even went so far as to write some themselves.

"Oxidation" is the tough thing of the moment in general science

Corrine Merkel read two very "odd" themes on "Why Jimmy Edmunson Likes To Act Up In Study Hall." They were written by sophomore boys.

What is that we hear about a certain sophomore boy who always sits across from that freshman girl?

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

ALLEN BARZ—Allen's quick tongue and ready wit has gotten him out of a lot of tight places. He is president of the senior class His rich baritone voice is often heard ringing through the halls -- usually at some girl His favorite sport is basketball, maybe because he is quite a whiz at it. His greatest dislike is physics. On Monday mornings from 9 00 a. m. until 10 30 a. m. you no doubt find him sound asleep in some corner of the gymnasium.

WALTER GREIMAN—Walt is the best pitcher on the team and vice president of the senior class At the present time he is flashing a red sweat shirt with his favorite number "13" on it. His bass voice went undiscovered until this year He's Klemme's hidden talent. One of his greatest weaknesses is blond-haired girls. He is pretty quiet compared to his little brother.

KEITH STILLE—Another whiz at basketball. Keith is the secretary of the senior class. His favorite study is physics. He's some more of Klemme's hidden talent Until this year he has kept his distance from anything musical, but now he is one of our leading basses in our mixed chorus. Last year he had one of the leading roles in the Junior class play. Keith is everybody's pal.

MUSIC CHATTER

Recordings were made Friday afternoon of the mixed chorus and band by Mr. Lewis. They will be used for corrective purposes and as a help in determining our weak points

A concert will be given by the band at the Democratic Rally on October 9th at 8 o'clock in the community hall.

Within a few more weeks the juniors will start practice on their play, "Hooray for Youth." All that is holding them back is that the books have not arrived.

SPORTS

The Klemme High School baseball team won its first game of the season by defeating Kanawha on the local diamond Thursday, by a score of 4 to 2

Leonard Kaduce went the route for the Shamrocks allowing 3 scattered hits. Lefty Berhow also pitched the entire game for Kanawha allowing the same number of hits The pay-off blow for Klemme came when W. Greiman doubled with two men on base.

Klemme will end their baseball season by playing at Hayfield next Thursday

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

Mavis Meyer, Edward Barz and Patricia Kluge gave some very interesting reports on Sir Walter Raleigh, King Henry VIII, Defeat of Spanish Armada and Queen Elizabeth.

We had a fire drill Wednesday morning. This was the first drill we've had this fall.

Tuesday each student received a candy bar because our room won the contest selling tickets for the program Monday night. Edward Barz and Jimmy Thomas earned free tickets because they sold the most

GRADES 5 & 6

We finished our science unit called "Unseen Enemies." This unit has been about disease germs.

The fifth graders have been making maps in history class showing the early territorial division of our United States.

We had a fire drill Wednesday morning

In art classes we have been learning how to print capital letters. We need to know to do this so we can print on posters. We also drew pictures of squirrles this week.

The following people had perfect spelling scores· Esther, Ruth Smith, Evelyn, William, Mary Lou Phyllis, Peggy, Roger R., Roger B. and Donald.

Shirley and Peggy were reporters this week.

GRADES 3 & 4

We took our first number drill in fourth grade. Our class score was fair.

Merlin and Maurice brought Indian beads to school. We have an arrow head and an Indian hatchet We studied about Indian food. We made Indian Pike bread, corn dumplings and Succotasch in the home economics room Friday After eating what we made, we were glad that we were not Indians.

Isabelle and Marjorie brought plants to school.

We are working on an Indian movie for art.

The following had 100 per cent in spelling· Luella, Iris and Larry.

Isabelle and Iris were our reporters for this week.

GRADES 1 & 2

We have a new playhouse in our room It is large enough to play in. Mr. Montgomery made it for us. Monday we wrote letters to him to thank him for making it.

Maxine invited all of us to come to her birthday party Friday night after school. She will be six years old Sunday.

We have brought many seeds to school. We found out that they were: goody seeds; fly-away seeds; jumping seeds; steal-a-ride seeds, or tumbling seeds.

The second grade have read three books this year. They are: "We Work and Play," "We Come and Go," and "Fun With Dick and Jane." The first grade have read their first pre-primer called "We Look and See." We have read a new big book to go with our first pre-primer.

Harley had a perfect score in our review spelling test. We had thirty-six words to spell.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs Monnie Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Volkman and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Felt and daughter, Phyllis, of Mason City, were dinner guests at the Wm Lemke home, Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Ed Schoenwetter and Mr and Mrs. Arthur Carlson and daughter visited relatives at Boone, Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ax drove to Algona Friday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Stromer and family, and Miss Nellie Stromer visited at the Herman Stromer home, Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Ben Goll and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Rosendahl and family, visited at the Aaron Stromer home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange and daughter visited at the Mrs. D. H. Hammon home in Garner Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kalkwarf and family, of Belmond, and Bernice and Robert Tanner drove to Waterloo, Sunday, to visit with their sister, Francis Tanner, who is attending school there.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abele were dinner guests at the Hilary Greiman hohme in Garner, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schoenwetter visited at the Amelia Arman home in Garner, Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Hempel spent the week end visiting at the Richard Ax home.

Mrs. Emil Beier visited at the Albert Reimer home in Garner, Friday

Mrs. D. H. Hammon returned to her home in Garner, Thursday, after spending a few weeks visiting at the Albert Lange home.

A large number of people from Klemme and vicinity attended the Schaefer re-union which was held at the Harold Ridder farm near Nora Springs, Sunday.

GOVERNMENT RENAMES BELOW-STANDARD LARD

Under a new definition by the government, all edible pork fat not up to standard will be termed "rendered pork fat" instead of lard.

State College economist discussed new federal rulings concerning lard in the September issue of the Iowa Farm Economist. They said "rendered pork fat" will include such parts as head fat, scraps and pressings. The new order will be enforced under the Meat Inspection Act, and goes into effect Nov. 1. Only high-quality cooking fat will be known as lard.

The economists said: "The new effort to stimulate lard consumption comes at a time when hog production is decreasing and the prices are rising. It may help release the brake on lard prices."

No Issue?

—The Kansas City Star.

WENDELL WILLKIE Says:

"Government employment has increased nearly 100 per cent. Government expenditures have increased nearly 200 per cent, now amounting to over nine billion dollars. Government borrowing has increased over 150 per cent. Here is a real political boom. Here is one activity in which the enterpriser has become both rich and powerful. But all this has been accomplished at the expense of the people, who have paid for it not only in taxes but in the losses which their enterprises have suffered as a result of this government activity."

Overloaded!

Hidden Taxes

More than 22 per cent of the total national income is taken by Federal, State and local tax collectors. Even tho a person does not pay taxes directly, taxes nevertheless are passed on to him hidden in higher prices for the things he has to buy. A person with an income of $80 a month pays indirect taxes of $9.67 a month, or 12 per cent of his income. One with an income of $150 a month pays $19.10 monthly in hidden taxes, or 12.7 per cent of his income. This is in addition to taxes paid directly.

Sowing alfalfa in orchards is not a wise practice, warns S. W. Edgecombe, extension horticulturist at Iowa State College. The alfalfa takes moisture from the soil and also provides an excellent breeding place for buffalo tree hoppers. Once these hoppers become thick in the alfalfa, they can seriously damage fruit trees.

Seed from ripened iris pods should be planted in the fall. It is essential that the seeds be covered at least one-half inch deep and be allowed to freeze. After the ground is frozen, a mulch is applied. Seedlings are transplanted in the spring.

There is some danger of poisoning livestock with Atlas sorgo or other sorghum plants growing heavily just after a drouth or frost. This danger does not exist when the plants are mature.

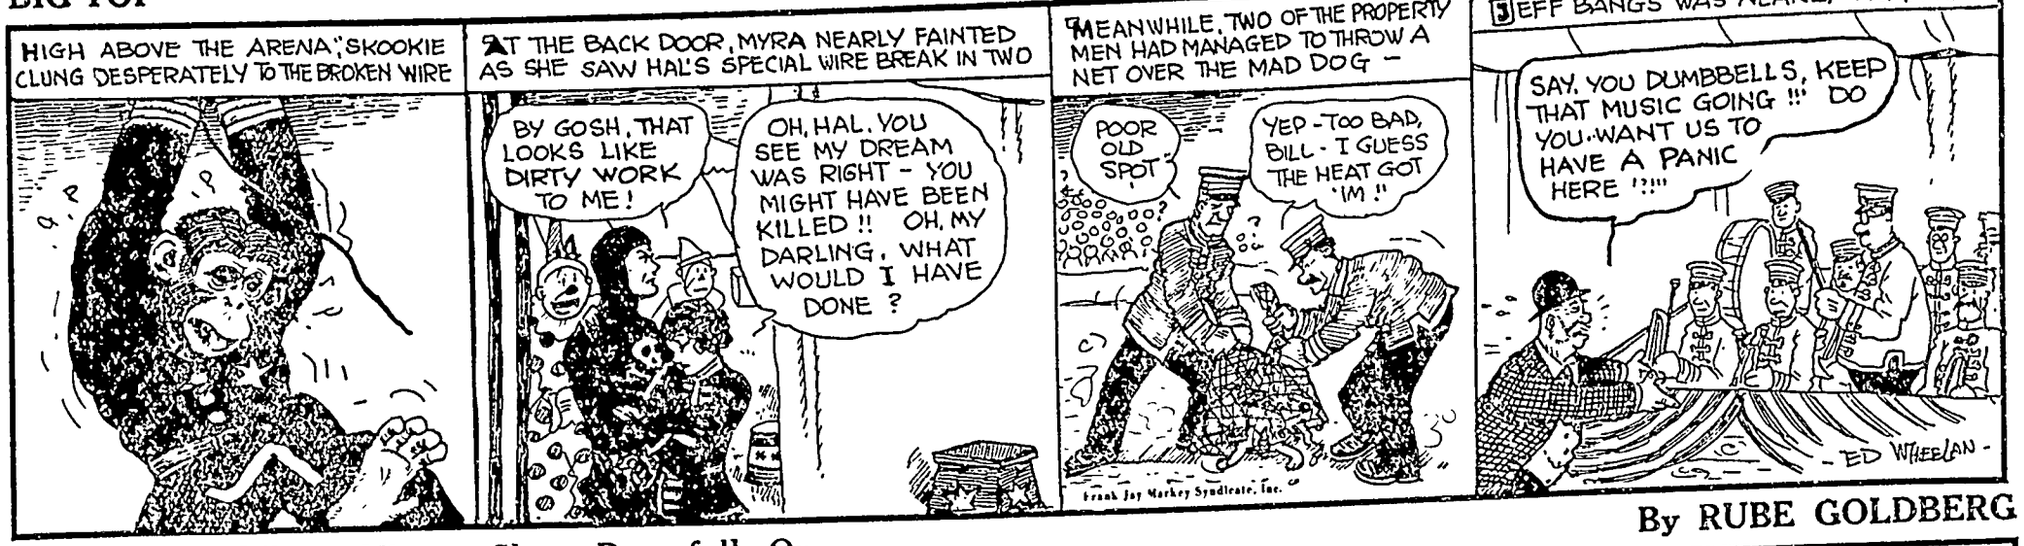
Though feeding lamb prices are higher than they were last year, the outlook for stronger consumer demand and somewhat higher feed lamb prices during the winter and spring than a year earlier.

Farmers who have been testing their cattle for Bang's disease should use care to see that their herds are not being reinfected by the addition of animals which are returned to the home lots and barns from summer pastures.

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN



HIGH ABOVE THE ARENA, SKOOKIE CLUNG DESPERATELY TO THE BROKEN WIRE
AT THE BACK DOOR, MYRA NEARLY FAINTED AS SHE SAW HAL'S SPECIAL WIRE BREAK IN TWO BY GOSH, THAT LOOKS LIKE DIRTY WORK TO ME!
OH, HAL, YOU SEE MY DREAM WAS RIGHT - YOU MIGHT HAVE BEEN KILLED!! OH, MY DARLING, WHAT WOULD I HAVE DONE?
MEANWHILE, TWO OF THE PROPERTY MEN HAD MANAGED TO THROW A NET OVER THE MAD DOG -
POOR OLD SPOT
YEP - TOO BAD, BILL - I GUESS THE HEAT GOT 'IM!
JEFF BANGS WAS NEARLY FRANTIC
SAY, YOU DUMBBELLS, KEEP THAT MUSIC GOING!!! DO YOU WANT US TO HAVE A PANIC HERE!?!"
ED WHEELAN
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

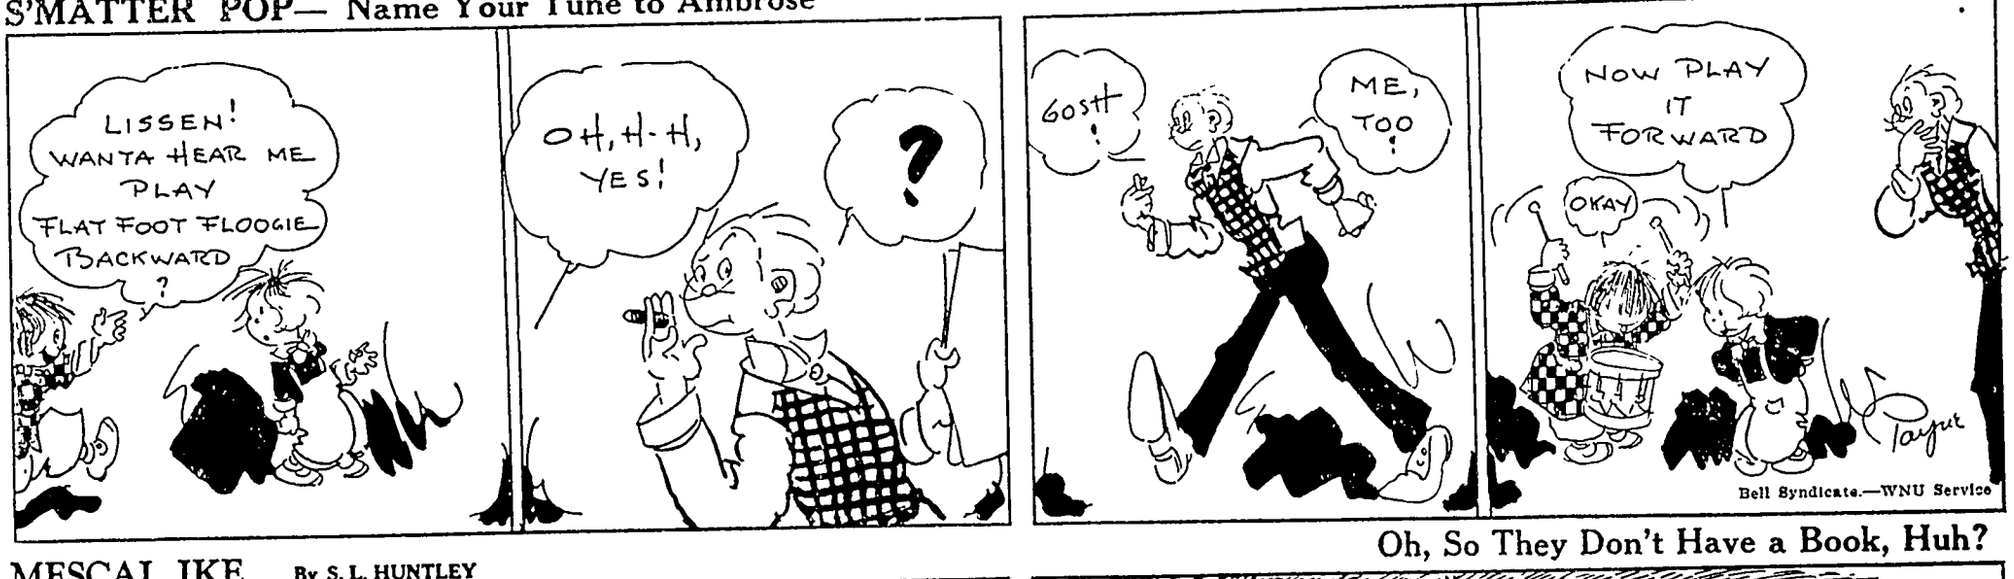
LALA PALOOZA —Vincent Sleeps Peacefully On

By RUBE GOLDBERG

I'M K HARRINGTON PFAFF M D - ADHESIVE COLLEGE, '97
COME BACKSTAGE QUICK, DOCTOR - THERE'S BEEN AN ACCIDENT!
LALA MUST BE HURT!
I THINK I FELT THE THEATRE SHAKE WHEN SHE LANDED
THIS IS LIABLE TO END HER STAGE CAREER
THAT'S GOOD
H' YA, BABE
HEY, DOC, KEEP MOVIN' - LALA MIGHT BE DYIN'!
I'M ALL RIGHT, BOYS - I LANDED ON VINCENT - HE WAS SLEEPIN' UNDER THE NET
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

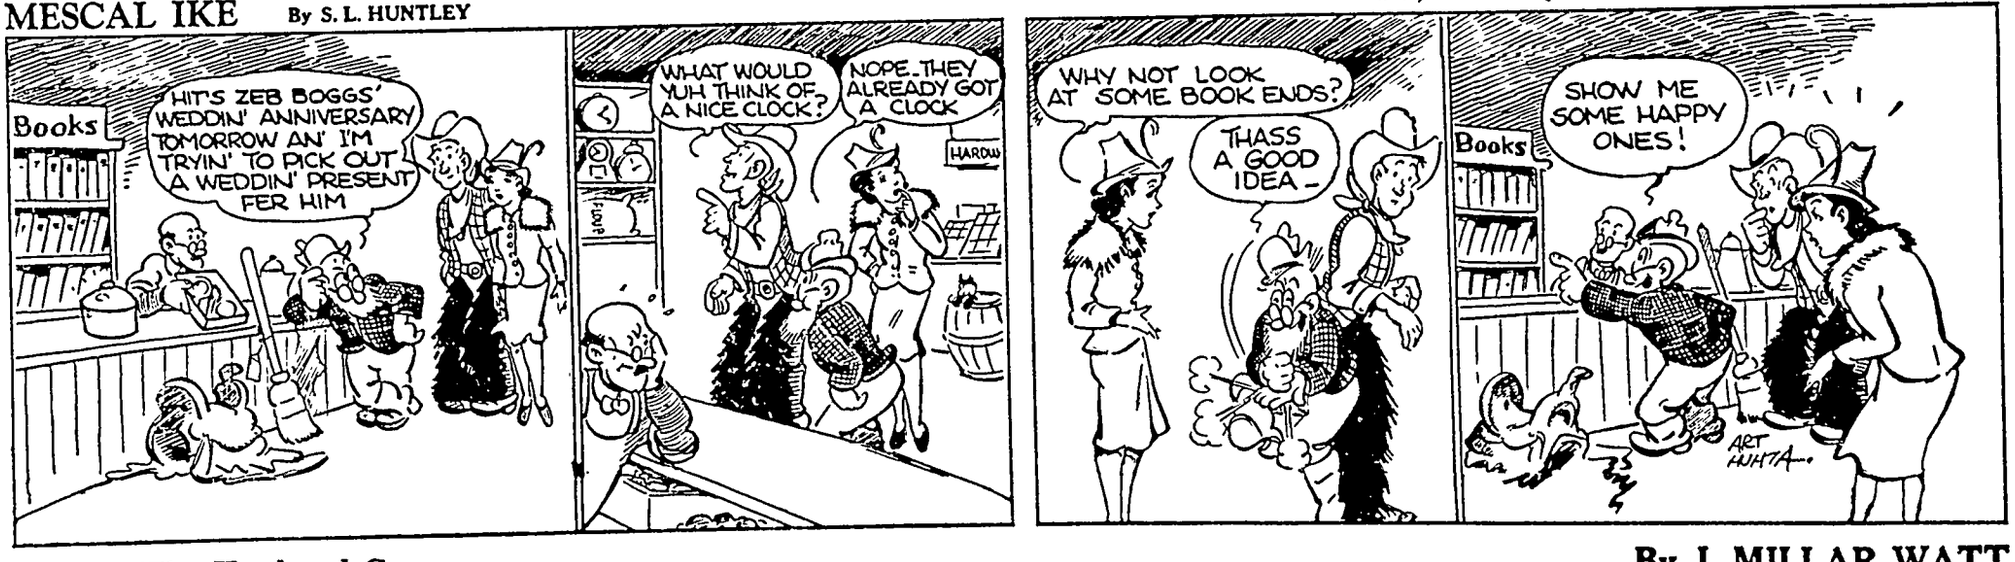
S'MATTER POP— Name Your Tune to Ambrose

By C. M. PAYNE



MESCAL IKE

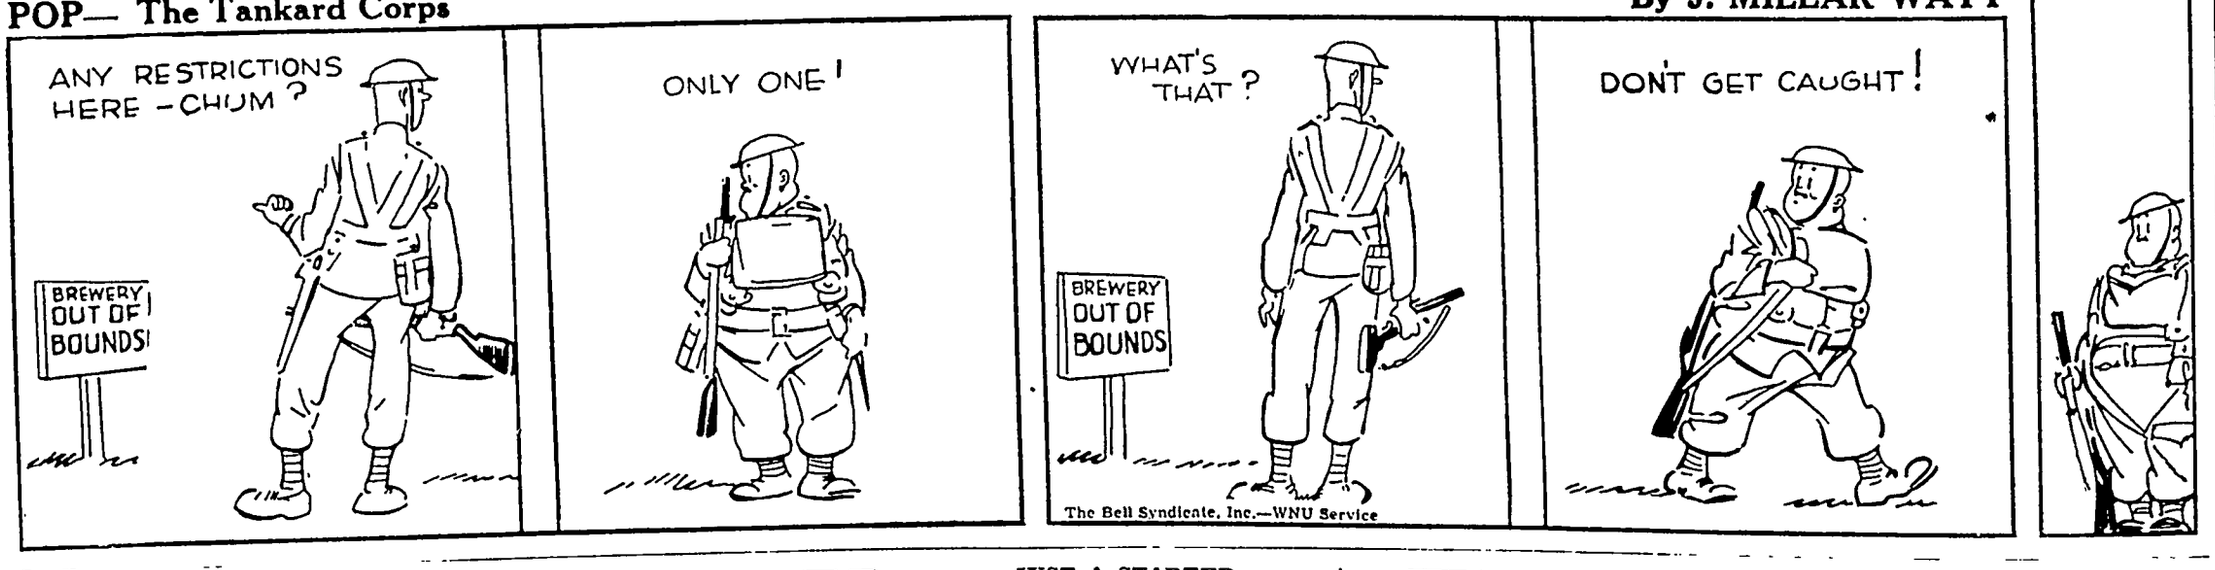
By S. L. HUNTLEY



Books
HIT'S ZEB BOGGS' WEDDIN' ANNIVERSARY TOMORROW AN' I'M TRYIN' TO PICK OUT A WEDDIN' PRESENT FER HIM
WHAT WOULD YUH THINK OF A NICE CLOCK?
NOPE - THEY ALREADY GOT A CLOCK
HARDW
WHY NOT LOOK AT SOME BOOK ENDS?
THASS A GOOD IDEA -
Books
SHOW ME SOME HAPPY ONES!
ART HUNTA.

POP— The Tankard Corps

By J. MILLAR WATT



THE MINUTE THAT SEEMS A YEAR

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

The Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service
AFTER INSISTING ON THE PERSONAL GUARANTEES OF THE CLERK, ASSISTANT-MANAGER AND MANAGER THAT THE WEDDING PRESENT YOU HAVE SELECTED WILL POSITIVELY BE SHIPPED THIS VERY AFTERNOON, YOU REALIZE YOU HAVE COMPLETELY FORGOTTEN THE ADDRESS IT IS TO GO TO

JUST A STARTER

The auctioneer held up a pair of antique silver candlesticks.

"Will someone give me a start?" he began.

"One dollar," came a reply.

"What's that?" queried the auctioneer.

"Ah," retorted the bidder, "I thought that would give you a start!"—Montreal Star.

Snappy Suggestion

Customer—I wish to buy an appropriate gift for a bride—something timely and striking.

Merchant—How about a clock?

Love Is Blind

Housewife—If you love work, why don't you find it?

Tramp—You ought to know, Madam, that love is blind.

Method

"So you've discovered a way to get your husband to dig in the garden?"

"Yes, I call it a sand trap."

THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

"Whadda ya mean—you're working on a new path to the front door?"

CLASSIFI DEPARTME

STOVE & FURNACE RE

REPAIRS For Your FURNACE
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any
Have Your Dealer Order
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR CO

REMEDY

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS
An aid to digestion—See your

Quickly Knit Ro
Decks Baby in S

Pattern 6752

FOR dress-up, out-of-do coziness indoors this la is the newest thing for b

Pattern 6752 contains instruc making set, illustrations of it and materials needed, photograph o stitch. Send order to

Sewing Circle Needlecraft D
82 Eighth Ave. Ne
Enclose 15 cents in coins fo tern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

SOOTHES CHAFED SKI
MOROLIN
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER

Essence of Friendshi
Sincerity, truth, faith come into the very esse friendship.—William Ellery ning.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLD quickly use
666
LIQU TABLE SALV NOSE D COUGH

Careless With Life
There is nothing of whi are so fond, and withai s less, as life.

WOMEN IN "4 YOUR
Read This Important Mes
Do you dread those "trying years 52)? Are you getting moody, cr NERVOUS? Do you fear hot flash ening dizzy spells? Are you jealous tions other women get? THEN L
These symptoms often result fro functional disorders. So start today famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege pound. For over 60 years Pinkha pound has helped hundreds of tho grateful women to go "smiling thro days. Pinkham's has helped calm nerves and lessen annoying fe tional "irregularities." One of the five "woman's" tonics. Try it!

Heart's Envoy
The tongue is the ambas the heart.—Lyly.

That Naggin Backac
May Warn of Disorde Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry irregular habits, improper drinking—its risk of exposure tion—throws heavy strain on of the kidneys. They are apt over-taxed and fail to filter and other impurities from the blood.
You may suffer nagging headache, dizziness, rettin leg pains, swelling—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. O of kidney or bladder disorder times burning, scanty or too urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's kidneys to pass off harmful waste. They have had more th century of public approval. A mended by grateful users ev Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PI

WNU—N

TEACHING A CH VALUE OF PENN
A child of a wise mother taught from early childhood come a regular reader of the tisements. In that way better than in any other can the taught the great value of penn the permanent benefit which from making every penny

HARVEST HOME PARTY
(See Recipes Below)

Household News By Eleanor Howe

ybody enjoys singing a song rvest home, even if they had a personal stake in g in the crops. At your har- me party, if you follow tradi- ou'll have cornucopias filled all fruits and garlands of or grasses grouped at the of your festive board. Little ressed in overalls and aprons amusing favors.

ner in the dell, blindman's uss in corner, and the never forgotten game of charades, ch the participants can give ll in dramatic acting, are tra- l juvenile game favorites that ely to give the grown-up con- an equally good time. You ant to do a little bit of folk g, with the old time fiddler, nist, and even an accordion- ing off "country" songs.

n it comes to refreshments, ay decide upon anything from picnic spread to cookies and eshing beverage. A fruit pie most appropriate happy end- your harvest home feast. Just to you homemakers if you rouble keeping the delicious n a pie; quick cooking tapioca e used as a thickener, thus ating the traditional hazard of runaway juice.

Doughnuts and hot spicy cider are always an attractive and favorite combination to serve at a party of this type. Or you may like to use the old bucket for serving punch.

Cherry Pie.

tablespoons quick-cooking pioca
p sugar
easpoon salt
blespoon melted butter
. 2 can sour cherries (2½ ps) up cherry juice and 2 table- oons water (to make 1 cup) cipe pastry
bine quick-cooking tapioca, salt, butter, cherries, and juice; let stand about 15 min- Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry rolled ⅛ inch thick, g pastry to extend 1 inch be- dge of plate. Fold edge back n rim. Fill with cherry mix- Moisten edge of pastry with ater; arrange lattice of pastry across top. Flute rim with . Bake in a hot oven (450 s) 15 minutes, then decrease moderate (350 degrees) and 0 minutes longer.

Rich Drop Doughnuts.
(Makes 1½ dozen) s lespoons sugar lespoons shortening (melted)

s flour aspoon salt
poons baking powder
aspoon nutmeg lespoons milk
eggs until very light, and lly beat in the sugar. Add shortening. Sift together the salt, baking powder and nut- nd add to the first mixture al- ly with the milk. Drop from poon into deep fat heated to egrees, and fry until well d. Drain on unglazed paper. le with confectioner's or pow- sugar.

Hot Spiced Cider.

quarts cider cup brown sugar
6-inch stick cinnamon
whole cloves
teaspoon allspice spices and sugar to cider; n kettle and let simmer over ot boil) for 15 minutes. Strain rve hot in small glasses. Add grated nutmeg, if desired.

Baked Ham.

whole ham
teaspoon whole cloves
½ cups sweet cider
½ cups brown sugar
½ cup orange juice
ham with a damp cloth and in an uncovered roaster, skin . Roast in a very slow oven egrees) allowing 25 minutes und of ham. About ½ hour the ham has finished baking rom oven. Remove skin and f all excess fat. Cook cider gar together to thick syrup stage. Add orange juice and pour mixture over ham. Dot with whole cloves. Return to oven and bake ½ hour longer, basting frequently with liquid in pan.

Old Fashioned Jelly Roll.

4 eggs
¾ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup cake flour
1 cup jelly

Break the eggs into a bowl and allow them to warm to room temperature. Then combine eggs with baking powder and salt. Set the bowl of eggs in a smaller bowl in which you have poured hot water. With a dover beater, beat the eggs, baking powder, and salt mixture until it is thick and light. Gradually beat in the sugar and continue beating until very light and fluffy. Remove the bowl from the hot water and, with a spoon or spatula, fold in the vanilla and the flour which has been sifted several times. Line a 10 by 15 inch jelly roll pan with buttered wax paper, and pour the batter into the pan. Bake for about 12 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Remove cake from pan and turn onto a towel which has been dusted with confectioner's sugar. Pull off paper and trim edges from the cake. Roll, and cool. When the cake has cooled, unroll it and spread with jelly which has been whipped to make it spread more readily.

Date Nut Cake.

3 cups raisins
2 cups dates (cut fine)
1 cup pecan nut meats (cut fine)
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup boiling water

Put fruit and nuts into bowl; dissolve soda in boiling water and pour over the fruit. Let stand while preparing the following batter mixture:

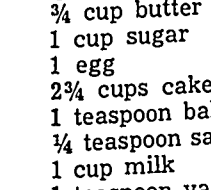
¾ cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2¾ cups cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Add egg and mix well. Add fruit mixture. Mix and sift all dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk and vanilla extract. Place batter in three well-greased layer-cake pans. Bake in a moderate oven (365 degrees) for approximately 35 minutes. When cool, put layers together with boiled icing to which chopped dates and raisins have been added. Then ice with the plain boiled icing.

Chocolate Nut Gingerbread.

⅔ cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
2 ounces chocolate (melted)
2 eggs
1⅔ cups cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup milk
½ cup nut meats (chopped fine)

Cream butter thoroughly and add the sugar slowly. Add melted chocolate and eggs, one at a time, beating well. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk, beating between each addition. Add nut meats. Bake as a loaf cake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for approximately 45 minutes. Serve with whipped cream, sprinkled with cinnamon, or with chocolate fudge icing.



Magic Fruited Macaroons.
(Makes about 30)

⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
2 cups coconut (shredded)
1 cup dates (chopped fine)

Mix together the sweetened condensed milk and coconut. Add finely chopped dates. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet, about 1 inch apart. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 10 minutes, or until a delicate brown. Remove from pan at once.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for October 13

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE BOYHOOD OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2 40-52.
GOLDEN TEXT—And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.—Luke 2:52.

One brief but revealing glimpse into the earthly life of our Lord is all we have from His birth to the time when he entered upon His public ministry at His baptism in the Jordan. How appropriate it is that he was permitted to live those years of His life behind the curtain of divine silence.

The incident in our lesson shows Jesus at the age of responsibility, and in His Father's house. This is preceded by one verse which reveals Him as the growing child, and is followed by another verse which tells of his advancement from boyhood into manhood. Luke, who is the only one who presents this story, thus fills out the picture of the divine-human personality of the One whom he purposes to reveal as the perfect and universal Saviour.

I. The Child Grows (v. 40).

Like every other child in the world (apart, of course, from any sin or blemish), Jesus grew during the first 12 years of His life on earth. One rightly regards that growth as the normal, happy development of every child, a time of physical development, or carefree play, of learning obedience in the household at Nazareth. A child should not bear the burdens of life nor be required to make its weighty decisions.

Jesus came into the world to die as the Saviour of sinful men, but for these childhood years we are glad that He just grew, waxed strong in body as well as in spirit, developing mentally, and that in it all "the grace of God was upon him." May our children have a similar opportunity and privilege!

II. The Boy Meets Life's Responsibilities (vv 41-51).

Soon enough came the day when as a "son of the law" Jesus reached the age of accountability and went with His parents to keep the feast of the Passover. He entered the temple, and there took over the responsibility for his own religious life, which until then had been borne by His parents. Such a day is of vital importance in the life of every boy and girl, and in the case of Jesus was of special significance.

Acting for Himself, He tarried in the temple. As a good learner, He asked and answered questions, at the same time amazing those who heard by His understanding. There His mother (who had shown her confidence that He was to be trusted to be where He ought to be) found Him after she had looked in vain for Him at eventide in their company on the road.

To Him it was the natural and expected thing that He would be in His Father's house, going about the business of God. He recognized the special relationship between Himself and the Father—His very own Father—and He began to assume the responsibility of His divine mission on earth.

He was about to turn the corner from boyhood and start toward manhood, but there were yet 18 years that He was to show His perfect submission to the will of God by His obedience to His parents. There is a real lesson there for every growing boy and girl.

III. The Youth Goes On to Manhood (v. 52).

The curtain is drawn again, and the boy Jesus develops into the man; yes, the man who was to bear on Calvary's tree your sins and mine. What do we know about these years when a boy with the consciousness that He must be about His Father's business went forward to manhood under the loving and watchful eye of the mother who "kept all these sayings in her heart" (v. 51)? Only what Luke tells us, but that is a great deal.

Jesus "advanced," the word being entirely different in meaning from the "grew" of verse 40. The child grows without any thought or purpose of doing so, but the boy pressing on to manhood has to beat his way forward, cutting a path through life to his goal.

The fact that Jesus did that should encourage every young man and woman who is doing the same in a difficult and hostile world, and cause them to seek the daily companionship and help of the Son of God and Son of Man who has passed that way before them.

The development here puts the mental first, then the physical. The latter is important, but must be under control of the former. Crowning them both is His growth in grace, fellowship with God and fellowship with men, the latter glorified and made useful by the former.

Here again we may learn of Him who, though the Son of God with power, was obedient to the limitations of the humanity He had taken, and yet advanced "in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man" (v. 52).

Strange Facts

All Wires Down
8 Per Cent Film
3-Weeks' Bath

¶ During the Pareshnath procession, staged yearly by the Jains in India, all telephone, telegraph and trolley wires crossing the line of march are temporarily removed so that the Great Indradwaja, a 50-foot banner, can pass without being lowered.

¶ The average motion picture, when released, contains only 8 per cent of the film that was "shot" during production. Although the 92 per cent that goes into the editor's wastebasket is not entirely wasted from a technical standpoint, it does sometimes contain songs, small parts in their entirety and even whole scenes that have been taken on expensive sets.

¶ Scientific studies reveal that the majority of people work more efficiently immediately after a change in weather, not only on a clear day following a storm, but also during a storm following several days of sunshine.

¶ The longest baths on record are those taken by the patrons of the mineral spring resort at Shirahone, Japan. Many of the bathers will lie in the large, shallow tanks for three weeks at a time, packing smooth stones on and about themselves at night to prevent turning over and drowning in their sleep—Collier's.

Loquacious Conductor Aimed to Make Self Clear

"Fare, please! Fare!"

The passenger paid no attention.

"Fare, please!"

Still the passenger was oblivious.

"By the ejaculatory term, 'Fare,'" said the conductor, "I imply no reference to the state of the weather, the complexion of the admirable blonde you observe in the contiguous seat, nor even to the quality of the service vouchsafed by this philanthropic corporation. I merely alluded in a manner perhaps lacking in delicacy, but not in conciseness, to the monetary obligation set up by your presence in this car and suggest that you liquidate."

At this point the passenger emerged from his trance.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT SEWING CIRCLE

SCHOOL girls will love to wear this pretty frock—and it's so very becoming to all of them! Flared at the skirt, wide at the shoulders, design No. 8763 fills them out, at the age when they shoot up like beanpoles. And the high-cut princess skirt scoops in gratifyingly at the waistline.

This pretty frock makes up charmingly in a combination of plaid and plain fabrics, as pictured, but it's very smart in one color, too. The two versions look so different that you'll really get two fashions out of this one pattern. Gingham, linen, percale and chambray are pretty for this. Make it up, later on, in wool crepe or challis.

Pattern No 8763 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years Size 8 requires ⅞ yard of 35-inch material for short sleeved waist portion, 1¾ yards for skirt. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A Quiz With Answers Offering Information on Various Subjects

The Questions

1. Approximately how long is the Panama canal?
2. How many innings was the longest major league baseball game ever played?
3. During what war did the British complete the conquest of Canada from the French?
4. Has the South Magnetic pole ever been reached by man?
5. What part of the edible portion of the average watermelon is water?
6. Which of the Harrisons, William Henry, or Benjamin, his grandson, served but one month of his term as President?
7. How are fortunes told in China?
8. How many people are killed in this country each year by lightning?
9. In case no candidate for President receives a majority of the electoral votes, how is the President chosen?
10. On what river is the Grand Coulee dam?

The Answers

1. Approximately 50 miles.
2. A 1 to 1 tie was played by Brooklyn and Boston in 26 innings in 1920.
3. Seven Years' war (1756-1763).
4. No. Sir Douglas Mawson came within a few miles of it.
5. Approximately 92.4 per cent.
6. William Henry Harrison, who died one month after his inauguration.
7. In China fortunes are told by reading the lines on the soles of the feet as well as the markings on the palms of the hands.
8. Some 2,000 people in the United States are either killed or injured by lightning each year. Of those killed, the annual average is about nine men to each woman.
9. By the house of representatives.
10. Columbia river.

O-Cedar POLISH

Maybe your furniture isn't old. Maybe it is lovely underneath . . . Why don't you O-Cedar it?

Why don't you go and get a bottle of genuine O-Cedar Polish . . . and hurry home and have a circus? First, it cleans the chairs and tables, cabinets, doors and floors, takes away the old worn look, the muggy blurry look, the ugly fingerprints . . . and leaves instead. the soft warm lovelier lustre of years ago a lustre that lasts. . and LASTS.

O-Cedar POLISH
MOPS, WAX, DUSTERS, CLEANERS AND FLY AND MOTH SPRAY

Loose Tongues

How can we expect another to keep our secret if we cannot keep it ourselves.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with herb laxative, combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gullet. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Time to Give

Give neither counsel nor salt until you are asked for it.

Top the Market
WITH
Green Top Mineralized Tankage
The efficient and economical method of producing hogs.
See your local feed dealer

Relying on Others

He who relies on another's table is apt to dine late.

D.W. (TOMMY) Tomlinson, FAMOUS STRATOSPHERE FLIER
GIVE ME THE SLOWER-BURNING CIGARETTE EVERY TIME FOR EXTRA MILDNESS. I LIKE ALL THE OTHER EXTRAS IN CAMELS, TOO
EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR
In recent laboratory tests, Camels burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to
5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!
CAMEL
GET THE "EXTRAS" WITH SLOWER-BURNING
CAMELS
THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

DANCE

Wed. Night October 16

Klemme Legion Community Hall

Gene Pieper's 11 Piece Orchestra

Admission 33c - 66c

The average price paid for 4-H baby beeves at the 1940 State Fair was $130 per head, representing an increase of $25 per head over the price of $105 paid at last year's state show.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 9-10.

"Untamed"

with Ray Milland and Patricia Morrison.

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 11-12. (Double Feature)

"You're Not So Tough"

"Dead End Kids" and Nan Grey.

ALSO

"HIDDEN GOLD"

with Wm. Boyd and R. Hayden.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 13-14-15.

"Elsa Maxwell's Public Deb. No. 1" with Brenda Joyce, Mischa Auer, Chas. Ruggles and Gecrge Murphy.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Hancock County To G. L. Sevrens, Deed, 12-30-39, $20. E 30 ft. of Lot 13 & S 24 ft. of Lot 14, Blk 3, Orig. town of Corwith.

Roy L. McMillin, Treas. To First Baptist Church of Corwith, Tax Sale Deed, 4-6-39, $775.19, Orig. E½ except E 30 ft. of Lot 13, Blk 3 and E½ except S 24 ft. Lot 14 Blk 3, town of Corwith.

Charle and Lena Nedved To Edward Formanek, Wty Deed, 9-5-40, $75. N½ of S 2 rods of E½ SE¼ 21-96-24.

Niva G. Nichols To S. Annie Nichols, Deed, 9-7-40, $1. NE¼ E½ W. frl½ of NW¼ in 83-21 Story County, E½ NW¼ W½ NE¼ 11-95-23.

S. Annie Nichols, Trustee of John Cokayne Copestake To S. Annie Nichols, Trustee's Deed, 9-25-40, $1. E½ NW¼; W½ NE¼ 11-95-23.

Bertha Harrimun Warnock To H. H. Marriman., Wty Deed, 4-24-40, $350. Lot 5, Blk 2, Van Oosting Add. to Kanawha.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. LuVerne Drake, of Waterloo are the parents of a seven pound baby boy at their home. They named the baby Mark LuVerne. The baby's mother will be remembered as Estelle Hanson, first and second grade teacher here for several years.

Alvin Nuehring And Estella Milnes Married

Of interest to Klemme people will be the announcement of the marriage of Alvin Neuhring and Estella Milnes. Alvin is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Neuhring of Rockwell, while the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Milnes of Mason City. The marriage took place September 22,

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Orville Stokesbary is on the sick list this past week, being confined to bed with rheumatism.

Wes Schuldt, of Davenport, came Friday to look after business matters here for a few days.

Glenn Bowles spent the week end in Indianola visiting with his parents.

Dale Schlei is the owner of a new tudor deluxe Ford which he purchased about a week ago.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka and son, Billie, and Melvin Coobs ,were visiting in Fort Dodge, Sunday.

Wayne Buseman is now an enrollee in the CCC camp at Bancroft.

C. A. Larsen and family drove to Buffalo Center Sunday where they visited with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City visited Sunday afternoon and evening at the R. A. Jorgenson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell and Otho and Verl Keraus of Swea City spent Sunday in Klemme visiting with relatives.

Milton Paul spent the week end visiting with his sisters at Des Moines and with friends at Waterloo.

Mrs. A. L. Kingery spent the past week visiting her brother, Mr. Whitesell and family on their farm near Armstrong.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder, Mrs. Henry Barz and Avis, Mrs. Esther Barz and Mrs. Edmund Josten were Mason City visitors, Friday.

Virgil Petersen, of Mason City, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with his Junior College classmate, Dorance Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Josten drove to Iowa City, Sunday, where Mrs. Josten entered the University hospital clinic for an eamination.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson drove to Hampton Sunday to see their son, Ralph, who is a patient in the hospital there.

Mrs. Rank Buss of Hampton visited several days the past week with Mr. and Mrs. George Buseman.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell have purchased the house in northeast Klemme which was owned by Henry Jost. The Bell family have resided there for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C Thomas and son, Jimmie, and Roger Ridder, drove to Rowan Sunday for a visit with Mr. Thomas' mother, Mrs. Julia Thomas.

Henry "Butch" Schroeder, of Chicago, came last Wednesday to spend about a week in this community looking after his business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Priebe returned Saturday from a week's visit with relatives and friends at Wessington Springs and Lane, South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemke entertained Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lemke and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemke and children, Sharry and Larry for dinner, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs Emil Patet accompanied Mr .and Mrs. Victor Waldeck, of Hayfield, down to the Cattle Congress Thursday. The party returned Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul will move into Mrs. Gruetzmacher's apartment on Main Street, November 1st. Mrs. Gruetzmacher is now living with her aged mother, Mrs. Haefner.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kingery were at Iowa Falls today, Wednesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Kingery's uncle, who was killed accidently in a timber near there.

Mrs. Fred Ridder accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harvey of Mason City to Chicago Sunday where they went to visit Miss Enid Harvey and Walter Beatty and family.

The Misses Eleanor Richmond and Edwina Gouse, and John Hamm of Des Moines, and Ray Jorgenson, Jr. of Indianola, visited Sunday evening at the R. A. Jorgenson home.

Ralph Larson is a patient in the Hampton hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis last Thursday morning. Mr. Larson is making a good recovery at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grange and son, Dorance, and Virgil Petersen, of Mason City, drove to Ruthven, Sunday for a visit with relatives. Mr. S. S. Grange, father of Paul, returned to Klemme with them for an extended visit.

Mrs. R. C. Ludeke, of near Garner, and former Klemme resident, is a patient at a Des Moines hospital where she underwent a major operation over a week ago. Her condition was critical for a time but we understand she is improving at this time.

Mrs. Ira Overholt returned Monday from her visit of about ten days at the home of her son at Palmerton, Pennsylvania. While in the East, Mrs. Overholt visited many places of historical interest and also attended the World's Fair. Mr. Overholt drove to Mason City Monday morning to meet her.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Pavey and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pavey drove to Garrison and Mt. Auburn, Sunday. They enjoyed dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pavey at Garrison, and then visited in the afternoon at the E. M. Pavey home at Mt. Auburn. Jim is a brother of W. F. Pavey and E. M. Pavey is his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet were at Algona Sunday visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sawyer. A pre-birthday dinner was celebrated for Mr Patet whose birthday is October 9th, and for Mrs. Sawyer's whose birthday and wedding anniversary both fall on October 10th A baked fish dinner with all the trimmings was enjoyed by all. Mr and Mrs. Victor Waldeck, of Hayfield, were also present.

A big crowd attended the dance at the Legion-Community Hall last Saturday night when Henri Karl's band furnished the music. Another big crowd is expected when Gene Piepper's orchestra comes here on October 16. This is one of the best orchestras on the road and should draw a big crowd. Piepper played here the night of the dedication.

K. F. M. Special

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 11-1

MONARCH COFFEE 3 lbs. 49c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

MONARCH Red Salman 2 cans 47c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

SWEET CORN ROYAL CREAM STYLE 4 cans for 2

CLOTHES PINS 2 pkgs. at 18c

TOMATO SOUP 2 tall cans 1

CAMAY The Soap of Beautiful Women 3 bars with comb 2

ROLLED WHEAT Per pkg. at 17c

CRACKED WHEAT Per pkg. at 1

PEAS Monarch Early June 2 cans for 25

SALT & PEPPER Shakers filled with pepper 2 for only 19c

KELLOGG CORN FLA with Relish Dish 2 for .....

FIG BARS 2 lbs. for 1

MEAT DEPARTMENT

VEAL STEAK Per lb. at 23c

VEAL CHOPS Per lb. at .....

BACON CUDAHY'S GOLD COIN Whole or Half Slab, lb. 1

VEAL ROAST Per lb. at 18c

VEAL STEW Per lb. at .....

Klemme Food Marke

MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSEN, P

Don't Wait Until--

Thanksgiving!

The Turkey has nothing to do with our automobile business . . . but we just want to remind you that cold weather is now here and it is time to WINTERIZE YOUR CAR! Don't wait until Thanksgiving . . . that may be too late and may cause serious damage to your car.

WINTERIZING SERVICE . . . .

Now is the time for a complete WINTERIZING SERVICE . . . flushing radiators, inspecting or installing new hose, filling with Anti-Freeze, complete Winter Lubrication, Inspection of Electrical Equipment, etc.

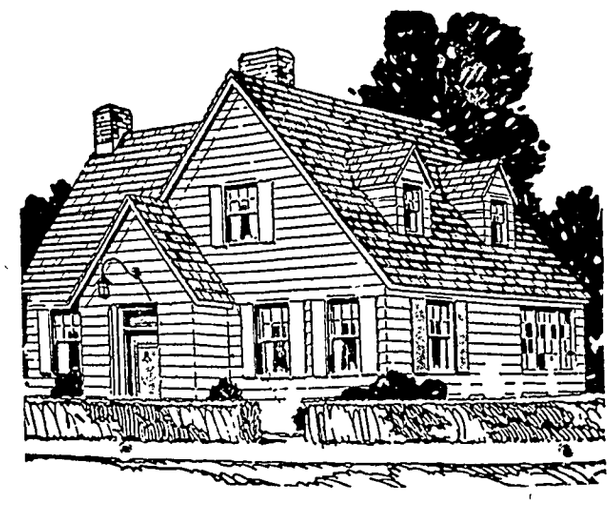
HOW IS YOUR BATTERY MISTER?

Remember . . . a poor battery will give you a lot of trouble in cold weather starting. Better install a new battery today . . . We handle both the Willard and Grant Batteries . . . built to give you satisfactory service and guaranteed.

- PHONE 93 -

Klemme Auto Company

Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service Klemme, Iowa



- Paint This Fall! -

With
DEVOE & REYNOLD'S

"Two-Coat System" Paint

FALL is really the ideal time to do your outside painting, either for your house or farm buildings . . . and the ideal paint to use is Devoe & Reynold's "TWO-COAT SYSTEM" Paint which consists of a special under-coat paint and then the regular paint for the second or top-coat. This system will give you a job that really lasts and costs no more than old-fashioned methods. Come in and ask about it. We have the Undercoat Paint for both HOUSE and BARN Paint.

Barn Paint

If you want a good Barn Paint . . . at a low price . . . . we have it. We also stock the highest grades of Barn Paint. See us for BARN PAINT!

Everything In Paints

We carry a complete stock of Devoe & Reynold's Paints, including inside paint, wall paint, floor paints, all kinds of varnish and a complete line of brushes, etc.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PAINT
NOW IS THE TIME TO SEE US . . .

Northern Lumber Co.

Home Of Northco Mill Work Northco Portable Buildings

THE KLEMME TIMES

UME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 16, 1940. — NUMBER 20.

More Days Added To Open asant Season In Iowa

ALS MOVE UP SEASON WEEK END SHOOT

t Census Shows Greatest mber In North Iowa Since 1936

MOINES — A seven-day heasant hunting season be- Nov. 12 and including a d of shooting was announc- day by the state conser- commission.

servation officials said plentiful supply of birds" possible the expanded which apparently is the in modern Iowa pheas- istory. The season has three days long in recent easant "census," they said, the greatest number of north and central Iowa since the system of sci- y counting pheasants first pted in 1936.

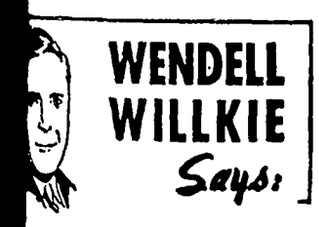
eason will open Tuesday ov. 12, and will close at the afternoon of the fol- Monday, Nov. 18.

aw sets Nov. 12 to 14 in- as pheasant shooting dates 41 counties. The com- however, also is granted to alter the dates and territories in the interest taining the "biological bal- a game species.

day's announcement al- closed that hunters may three male birds a day ay not have more than their possession at any me during the season. sentiment had been ex- d to allow the shooting female bird a day.



k you to send me to Wash- as your uncontrolled repre- e who will work only for servation of our democratic life But among the people ould not vote for me are ntrolled by the corrupt and ng party machines that are aught in the Machine

ing some of our major cit- n proud that these machines their best to defeat me. rica, in order to be strong, clean. America, in order ong, must have the full func- of the democratic process, m the control of corrupt po- achines."

Less Than Half

0 the sale of American farm s to foreign countries ed to $1,496,000,000. With al reciprocal trade treaties teen countries in force in ur sale of American farm s had dropped to $683,000,000 han half of the 1930 figure.

arm Imports Increase

7 this country imported 68,- pounds more meat than we d, while in 1932 we exported 00 more than we imported. our markets for American oducts were protected.

overnment Guaranteed

overnment corporations have ding bonds amounting to $5,- 00, all of which is guaran- the government, but is not ed by the New Deal as a the government debt.

ypical of New Deal.

surance inquiry in Massa- revealed that relief was be- to some families having up to $4,000.

HOGGING DOWN CORN DECREASING IN FAVOR

Hogging down corn still has some things to be said in its favor, but Iowa farmers are using less and less of their total acreage in this manner, says, A. L. Anderson, of Iowa State College.

It seems likely that the percentage of the state's corn acreage used for hogging down will be about the same as last year—3½ per cent—Anderson says.

"While hogging down is decreasing, the practice still has something in its favor;" he says, "it saves labor and the fertility is returned to the land directly"

Some Advantages

Other advantages which the specialist mentioned included the fact that hogs are kept under more sanitary conditions when they are not so closely confined. The cornstalks, too, are in better condition for next year's crop and less storage space is needed for corn.

A disadvantage to hogging down is that is is quite wasteful in wet weather, and the ground becomes hardened from tramping Pigs that are used to hog down corn often are marketed at the months of low hog prices - in November and in December. But this is offset, in part, by lower production costs.

"Hogging down doesn't work so well for the two litter per year plan of hog raising," Anderson says,"The early farrowed spring pigs are marketed before they can harvest much corn and the fall pigs are too small to use the corn in the field."

Machine Picking Increases

Anderson states that one of the chief reasons for the decline in hogging down corn is the increased use of mechanical corn pickers. He lists adoption of hybrid corn with its more rigid stalk as another factor in the decrease.

OVER THREE HUNDRED LADIES ATTENDED THE COOKING SCHOOL HERE

The cooking demonstration sponsored by the Lewis Radio Shop and the Shellane Gas Service held at the Legion-Community Auditorium last Wednesday afternoon drew a packed house. Approximately three hundred ladies had registered.

Shellane bottled gas cooking was ably demonstrated by Mrs. Mildred Rees. who is widely known thruout the Unted States for her work

Mr. Lewis had on display a full line of appliances which he carries in his store.

LOCAL YOUTH ENLISTED IN NAVY TO STUDY RADIO WORK

Edward Everette Evenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Evenson, route one, Klemme, has been accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Naval service and has been transfered to the Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill.

Edward enlisted in the Navy Service to pursue a course in Radio work. He is a graduate of the Goodell High School and attended Waldorf College at Forest City.

WODEN MERCHANT NAMED CHAIRMAN OF HANCOCK CO. DRAFT

GARNER—W. W. Dirksen, Woden merchant, has been named chairman of the Hancock county draft board, it was announced Friday. Edmund Andregg, Britt farmer, was chosen secretary and treasurer. Other members of the county draft board, which has headquarters at Britt, are Gus Okrueg, Goodell farmer; Frank Sennoff, Britt attorney, and Dr. George A. Bemis, Garner physician.

Rapublican Women Of Two Counties Will Meet In Klemme Saturday

REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF TWO COUNTIES TO MEET HERE SATURDAY

Herman Knutson, Mason City, Will Be The Main Speaker

A meeting of the Republican women of Cerro Gordo and Hancock counties will be held at the Klemme Legion-Community Hall on Saturday afternoon, October 19 beginning at 2 00 o'clock.

Herman Knutson, of Mason City, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Senneff, of Britt, will show the Willkie movies and all of the Hancock county republican candidates have been invited to be present and speak.

Everyone is invited to attend and bring their friends. Local Klemme ladies will serve lunch following this meeting.

DINNER PARTY HELD IN HONOR OF VISITING SISTER AND HUSBAND

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson entertained a number of friends at a bridge party at their home Sunday evening in honor of Mrs. Jorgenson's sister, Mrs. Everett Mendell and husband of Lincoln, Nebraska. After dinner, bridge was played at five tables. High scores were won by Mrs. P. M. Wilson and Dr. Dulmes; A. J. Kudjo won the travel prize and Mrs. Mendell was presented with a guest prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Mendell left Monday for Mason City for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer and husband. They then planned to drive to McGregor and thence south along the Mississippi river to see the scenic wonders found in Iowa. They will visit with their nephew and neice, Mr and Mrs. Bob Liebendorfer at Clinton, Iowa. From there they would continue the river drive to St. Louis and then turn west through the Ozark region and back to Lincoln.

Home Project Group Meets

A study of egg production and marketing was made by ladies of Liberty township district No. 5 at a follow-up meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Richard Ax. The lesson was taken from the experiences of the Livingstone family and their problem of increasing the income from their farm to meet additional expenditure demands.

The ladies spent the recreational period in a shower for Mrs. Aaron Stromer, who received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served following the meeting. Mrs. Clarence Lenz is leader of the group.

WOMEN ENLIST IN VOTE DRIVE FOR WILLKIE

Twenty years ago American women were preparing for their first vote in a presidential election.

Miss Martin

In Detroit, two thousand women voters from 40 states, representative of 3,000 clubs under the banner of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, gave testimonial to their 1940 political preparedness, and their enthusiasm for the 1940 magnetic Republican standard - bearer-Wendell Willkie.

With Miss Marion E. Martin, women's division director, Republican National Committee as their leader, Republican women workers were lined up for an intensive October "doorstep drive" to carry the plea for Republican Party candidates to every household in the country.

"Get every vote in the ballot box" is the rallying slogan, adopted by over one million workers in the "Women for Willkie" campaign.

In that Detroit meeting was the nucleus of the great army of workers, none of whose names evinced more interest and acclaim than a group of five distinguished wives—Mrs. Wendell Willkie, Mrs. Charles L. McNary, Mrs. Robert A. Taft, Mrs. Arthur H. Vandenberg and Mrs. Frank Gannett.

Cost of New Deal

At the assessed valuation, it would take all the property of Illinois, Indiana and two-thirds of Wisconsin—farms, buildings, mines, crops, railroads, utilities, automobiles, stocks, everything that has value—to have paid the cost of the New Deal government for 1939.

Little Left

Out of each dollar earned in America, 54c is spent for food, shelter and clothing. Taxes, either hidden, direct or both, take another 27c. The remaining you may spend for church contributions, recreation, or what you will. In 1910 taxes took only 5c of each dollar.

Klemme Folks Enjoy "Springtime Treats" This Fall!

The warm fall days we have been having, and with no killing frost, was the means of treating many Klemme folks. Several reported that they have been enjoying both strawberries and raspberries the past week. Some have had fresh sweet corn, peas and beans.

Mrs. Fred Nagle went in for heavy-bearing grapes and picked several bunches that had from 80 to 90 grapes on each bunch.

Klemme Couple Married Saturday Morning At Estherville, Iowa

ORCHARDISTS LEARNING TO SET TREES APART

It has taken commercial fruit growers many years to recognize that fruit trees must be planted a long distance apart, says Sam Edgecombe, horticulrist at Iowa State College.

Old orchards in Iowa were planted with the trees 20 feet apart and the rows 20 feet apart, Edgecombe says. A little later the trees were planted 20 to 30 feet apart.

"But after those dry years it seems wise to plant the trees from 33 to 40 feet apart," he reports.

Roots Found Large

Interesting work done on the penetration of tree roots in the soil has revealed that trees have a much better root system than was formerly believed.

"It has been shown that a 33-year-old Delicious tree will have roots down as far as 16 feet and out 15 feet from the tree trunk," the horticultrist says. "A tree that is 20 to 30 years old may have roots going out 40 to 50 feet in all directions."

Dry Years Fatal

He states that mingling of roots from trees is of little concern when water supplies are ample, but during dry years the roots absorb all the available moisture in the soil as far as their roots penetrate, and when this is exhausted and the surface moisture is too low to maintain the trees they begin to die.

"Fewer trees per acre tends to lessen the drain on the subsoil moisture during normal years," Edgecombe says. "This tends to leave larger supplies of moisture available to the trees when surface moisture supplies are normally low."

RABBITS INJURING FRUIT TREES AGAIN THIS FALL

Rabbits have declared open season on young fruit trees again this fall and orchardists should take care to protect their young trees now. This warning comes from C. V. Holsinger, extension horticulrist at Iowa State College, who says rabbits sometimes damage trees early in October.

Hundreds of thousands of young fruit trees were destroyed by rabbits, the horticulrist declares.

Best Protection

Wrapping the young trees from the ground to the lower branches is the best form of protection. Ordinary newspaper or common wrapping paper will be effective. Holsinger says that in no case has he ever seen rabbits eat through paper to get at the bark. More durable wrapers may be devised well down in the soil. If wire is of copper or brass it usually will be effective until the trees are able to take care of themselves. Veneer wrappers are used by some orchardists, Holsinger says, but mice often get between these and the tree and girdle the trunk.

DEMOCRAT RALLY HERE DREW ONE OF THE LARGEST CROWDS

The Democrat Rally and free dance given at the Legion-Community Hall last Wednesday evening drew one of the largest crowds that had attended any rally in this county. The large hall was packed to hear the speaker, meet the several candidates and to attend the free dance after the meeting. Malek's orchestra furnished the music.

APPLES OR NUTS

A Whitney Crab apple tree on the Emil Sevcik farm near Vining bears apples wihch not only look like butternuts, but taste like them. The tree began a shoot from an apple tree near a butternut tree. Another apple tree on the Sevcik farm is quite unusual—it is 75 years old and still bearing apples.

MISS JUANITA PAVEY BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. JOHN CLEMENTS

Rev. Fred Ortmeyer Performed Ceremony At Methodist Parsonage

Miss Juanita Mae Pavey and Mr. John Clements, both of Klemme, were united in marriage at the Methodist Parsonage at Estherville, Iowa, Saturday morning, October 12th at 9:30 o'clock, the Rev. Fred Ortmeyer performing the ceremony. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roben, of Estherville, brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Clements.

The Bride wore an olive green dress and black fur jacket with black accessories. The Bride's Maid wore a rust colored dress with black accessories. The Groom and Best Man both wore the conventional dark blue suits.

Mrs. Clements, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Pavey, was raised in this community and is a graduate of the Klemme High School. She is a member of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Clements is the son of Mrs. Emma Clements of Estherville. For the past few years Mr. Clements has been employed as mechanic at the Northern Lumber Implement Shop.

The young couple will make their home in Klemme, and for the present are staying at the W. F. Pavey home.

FUNERAL HELD MONDAY FOR MOTHER OF KLEMME MAN

Funeral services were held Monday at the Lutheran church at Garner with the Rev. H. R. Wrede in charge, for Mrs. Fred Meyer, 70, who died Friday at a Mason City hospital. Burial was made in the Concord Cemetery south of Garner. Her six sons served as casket bearers.

Her husband, Mr. Fred Meyer, preceded her in death five years ago. Mrs. Meyer is survived by one daughter and six sons. William Meyer, employee at the Wellemeyer Store, being one of the sons.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HAD DINNER AT CHURCH, SUNDAY

The Loyal Workers Sunday School class of the Klemme Methodist Church enjoyed another one of their family get-to-gethers and dinners Sunday, held in the church basement dining room.

After the dinner officers were elected for the coming year and Mrs. Busse was named teacher. Elmer J. Arnold is the president; Thos. C. Nelson, vice-president and Mrs. E. J. Arnold is secretary and treasurer.

MISS BUNTENBACH HOSTESS TO G. S. CLUB MONDAY EVENING

Miss Elaine Buntenbach was hostess to the G. S. club at her home Monday evening where the evening was spent in playing bridge.

Miss Lenora Larson won high score for the evening and Miss Carmen Kluckhohn won second high score.

Lunch was served by the hostess after the games.

OPERATIONS

Three members of the Helgen family, Emmetsburg, have undergone operations during the past few weeks.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stanley are the parents of a baby girl born to them Sunday, October 13th. The Stanleys live with the Orris Lundy family on the Buntenbach farm two and a half miles east of Klemme.

New Pittsburgh-Harrisburg Turnpike Marks Beginning of Superhighway Era

By HERMAN CROCKETT
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

HARRISBURG, PA. — Passenger automobiles speed along at 105 miles an hour. Their occupants, unaware of an excessive rate of motion, travel on a curveless ribbon of concrete that goes through mountains instead of over them—a highway without intersections or railroad crossings, without billboards or hazards of snow, ice, and fog.

A dream of the future? Hardly.

Pennsylvania will dedicate such a highway and open it to public travel sometime this fall. It will be 160 miles long, connecting the city of Pittsburgh in the western part of the state with Harrisburg, the capital, near the east. And plans are being made to extend it an additional 112 miles to Philadelphia.

The road eliminates all the mountain hazards between the Ohio river and Delaware tidewater. It will reduce, by hours, travel from the Midwest to the eastern metropolises. For truckers it will save as much as 15 hours time and an estimated $30 between two points, compared to use of the present roads.

Since the beginning of the westward march of civilization across the United States, the formidable mountain ridges of the Appalachians have imposed natural barriers on travel and transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and the Middle West. Pennsylvania's two major east-west highways solved the problem in a limited way previously. The Lincoln highway crossed the mountains directly on steep grades; the other, the William Penn highway, followed the winding Juniata river to its headwaters, crossing one mountain and descending to Pittsburgh through rolling hill country. Both routes have obvious limitations, the former having many grades as steep as 8 and 9 per cent, and the William Penn having a few steep grades with many curves and a longer route between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Always there has been the dream of a better and shorter road, one that would not add hundreds of miles to the journey by going around the mountains.

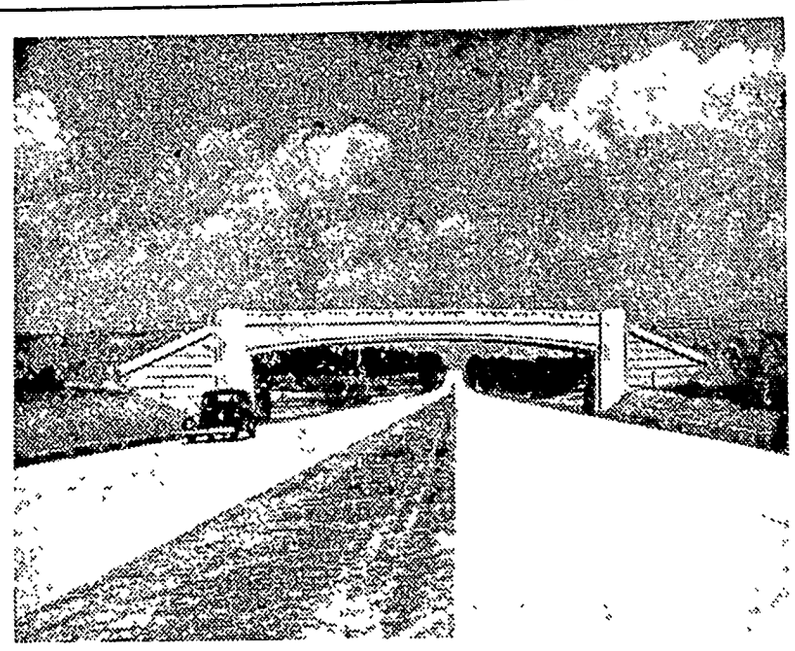
Follows Abandoned Railroad.

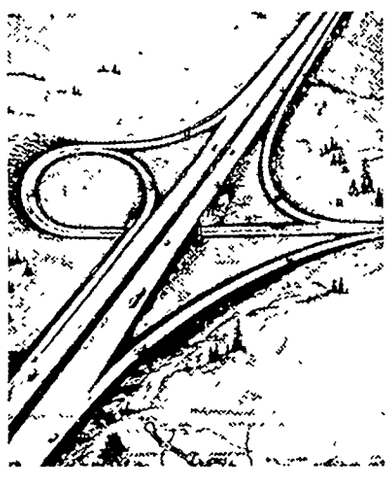
The new turnpike follows the line of the old South Penn railroad, a project never completed. It is a four-lane concrete shaft with east and west traffic separated by a 10-foot center parkway. Seven tunnels through the mountains, prepared for the railroad, are used to eliminate grades.

In all, there are seven miles of these tunnels. Every device to insure safety, comfort and speed has been installed. Huge fans will constantly supply an adequate amount of pure air. The tunnels will be electrically lighted.

On the open pike all crossroads are carried either underneath or overhead. Direct cross-flow is avoided by means of looping ramps, or cloverleaf intersections. All interchanges are so located that approaching traffic can look down on them and readily picture the layout. There will be no traffic lights. Deceleration and acceleration lanes are provided at each interchange. These are 1,200 feet long and are set parallel to and continguous with the paving.

Carved out of the mountains as a single project, the road is not a merger of previous roads, linked together. It is all new. The severest grade anywhere is 3 per cent, that is three feet rise to 100 feet of length. Wherever curves have been necessary the road has been banked to accommodate high speeds. Test runs have shown a speed of 105 miles an hour as not dangerous.





Pictured above is a section of the new Pennsylvania Turnpike's 110-mile straightaway.

Seven tunnels permit the highway to pass through, rather than over or around, the Appalachian mountains, thereby eliminating one of the barriers that has confounded transcontinental traffic ever since the first western march of the pioneers.

The diagram above shows a cloverleaf intersection which enables vehicles to enter or leave the highway without disrupting the normal flow of traffic.

The superhighway cost $70,050,000 and was financed by a grant of $29,000,000 from the PWA and $41,000,000 in revenue bonds purchased by the RFC. Tolls are to be charged ($1.50 for passenger automobiles), but the highway will in time pay for itself and then become a free road, part of the state's highway system.

Built in Two Years.

Less than two years have been required to complete this ideal speedway, although previous attempts to span the mountains go back to the early 1800s. During that time more than a score of attempts were made. First surveys for a railroad were authorized by the Pennsylvania legislature in 1837, but it was not until 1854 that that body empowered a company to raise funds and chartered the Marysville, Landisville and Broad Top railroad. In 1859, the name of the proposed railroad was changed by legislative enactment to the ambitious title, "Pennsylvania Pacific railroad," which was retained until 1863, when it was again changed to the "South Pennsylvania railroad," or "South Penn," as it was popularly called.

The project was revived and dropped several times during the next 20 years, but beyond keeping the charter alive, little was done until 1883 when William H. Vanderbilt took over the company. Then, in that roaring decade of the 1880s, when probably one-fifth of the nation's present railroad mileage was constructed, the old South Penn right-of-way, now followed by the turnpike, became the battleground of financial titans.

The greatest of all South Penn ventures began in New York in 1883, when the Pennsylvania railroad threatened to enter into competition with the New York Central by building a parallel line up the west shore of the Hudson river. In retaliation, William H. Vanderbilt, New York Central chief and one-time associate of J. P. Morgan, organized a company to build the South Penn road paralleling the Pennsylvania railroad's lines in its home state.

Carnegie a Backer.

The biggest backer was Andrew Carnegie, Pittsburgh steel king, who contributed $5,000,000. Carnegie welcomed the new line, for he had fought the "Pennsy" unsuccessfully for years to win lower rates for transporting his Pittsburgh steel to the seaboard.

"What do you think of it, Carnegie?" asked Vanderbilt.

"I think so well of it that I and my friends will raise $5,000,000 as our subscription," Carnegie replied.

"All right," said Vanderbilt. "I'll put in another $5,000,000."

Forty millions in stocks and bonds were floated, bought eagerly by the public. Vanderbilt organized the American Construction company, and then gave it the contracts. Surveys were resumed under the direction of Oliver W Barnes, engineer, and a corps of 300 men. Ten-foot contour maps covering 1,000 square miles were drawn, and 5,000 miles of lines were run. In the fall of 1883, a definite line was adopted, and contracts for the tunnels and largest bridges were let.

Three thousand laborers poured into the mountains. Within two years, bridge piers for the line studded the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg; long cuts gashed the hilltops; mammoth fills scarred the valleys, and the towering peaks of the Alleghenies had been pierced by nine tunnels.

Then in the fall of 1885 when the job was half finished, the incredible order "stop work" went out. Engineers packed up their transits, laborers dropped their tools. The roadbeds, tunnels, and bridges were abandoned to the ravages of time.

Railroad Sold Out.

In financial circles behind the scenes, the death warrant of the South Pennsylvania railroad had been written. Alarmed by the prospect of a destructive railroad rate "war," J. P. Morgan forced Vanderbilt and his backers to sell out to the Pennsylvania railroad.

Following the World war, came troublous days for the railroads. America was taking to a new mode of travel. Automobiles were being turned out by the millions for a people who went pleasure-bent on trips that took them but hours where their forefathers had spent months. Also came great freight buses that carried the manufactured goods of the nation to the East over hard-surfaced roads. And the demand for better roads and more speed increased. In 1934, William A. Sutherland, then general manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association, revived the idea of a road over the mountains; this time a highway instead of a railway.

For many months he carried the fight alone. But in 1935 a resolution to survey the possibilities of the proposal passed the legislature. Financing was a big problem, but the federal government finally looked upon the plan with favor, and assistance came from financial agencies set up by congress. The old South Penn line with its already-built tunnels was chosen.

Perhaps in the minds of the federal authorities was more than a road for industrial use; the road has definite military possibilities. In case of emergency it will be a major transportation artery. Men, munitions and other material could be moved across the Alleghenies with the speed so necessary to modern warfare. Just recently a motorized battalion of the Pennsylvania National Guard, in a test run across the still uncompleted road, left Harrisburg and set up a "defense area" near the important Bedford steel sector, 135 miles away, in just five hours. It was definitely a blitzkrieg movement, the fastest registered in any nation in any time.

Principally, however, the road is for scenic and commercial uses.

"Naturally, we shall exclude billboards," said Walter A. Jones, the turnpike commission chairman.

Asked how this policy would be enforced, he said, "First, we own a right-of-way 200 feet wide at the narrowest point If, despite our disapproval, some enterprising company erects billboards, we shall plant on our own land such shrubs and trees as are necessary to hide the signs."

Even the oil stations will be under the supervision of the commission. A contract has been let to a leading company, but the 10 stations being erected are the property of the commission. Nine of the units will have one-story buildings. The tenth unit will feature a two-story building

Educator Discovers Vocation Guidance Slighted by Schools

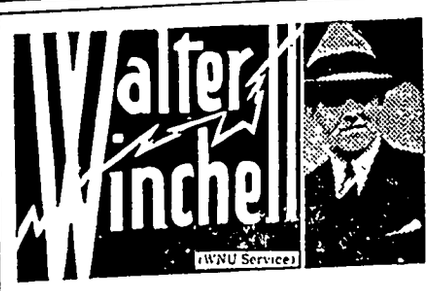
NEW YORK.—Only 6 per cent of the 23,032 public high schools in the United States provide educational counselors or vocational guidance officers on full time or more than half time, according to a recent study by Clarence E. Lovejoy of Columbia university. For every 3,100 high school pupils in this country, there is only one faculty adviser, he says.

"Parents should howl vocally and write letters to their local newspapers if they live in cities which are lax in providing vocational guidance and educational counseling. If the school board has not appropriated funds for these activities, or if the school superintendents or principals are not supplying them to the taxpaying residents, it is time to bring pressure."

"High school boys and girls need advice as well as information in selecting their colleges," Mr. Lovejoy declares. "They look to their principals and teachers for this guidance. Most high schools either shirk giving advice, or they give bad advice, which is worse than none at all. Educational counseling, whether in high schools or colleges, means talking with students and parents, planning students' programs, approving or advising changes, examining unsatisfactory progress, discussing fields of specialization."

Child Accident Rate Increases in October

CHICAGO.—October and May are high frequency months for accidents among elementary and high school students, the National Safety Council reports in its statistical yearbook for 1940. The report shows kindergarten to be the safest grade, with only six accidents per 100,000 student-days resulting in absence from school for one-half day or more or requiring medical attention.



THE VILLAGE NEWS-PRESS
(Prop. and Editor. W. Winchell)

Mrs. Roosevelt sure told off the radicals after the Newspaper Guild held its affair. It was one of those off-the-record gabfests, and she spoke her mind plenty. Wish we could jot down what Mrs. FDR said but tain't allowed. But she said plenty—to their faces.

Ex-Magistrate Overton Harris sure oughta know better'n to argue with a cop about getting a ticket. Happened in a West 57th Street restricted area . . "I could break you for this!" the ex-judge threatened. Hell, there's nothing deader than an ex-anything, say we.

Heard a mighty good joke over at Bub Martyn's Cuba place. It was a take-off by Milt Gross, the picture drawer. Seems that a movie man with an accent told an actress who applied for a part: "You got eyes like "Hedy" . . . "Heavens sakes alive!" said the lady, "Hedy Lamarr?"

"Naw," said the movie man, "Hedy Cantor!"

Hear tell Miss P. Hopkins Joyce, the famed wife, is being signed up to go on the radio and give a series of gossip scoops. Ye ed ain't worried. Peg can't write gossip as well as she can make it. Ha, ha.

Mrs Jack Oakie, who nearly passed on to the Pearly Gates on acc't of her ailment, has been advised by her doc to completely rest for several months or else face serious consequences. The former Venita Vardon certainly shouldn't go around worryin' her well-wishers that way.

Met up with Romo Vincent, the show-actor at Mario's Hurricane cabaret. He told ye ed about the oddest clause he's ever seen in a contract. In the one he had in a restaurant in New Orleans the clause stated: "You shall not go on before the salad."

Ye ed can remember all the way back in this village when Tiffany & Co. were ring and stone peddlers in the 1930s and considered it beneath their dignity to put their name outside their store Wal, next month they open a new one on 57th and 5th, and have their name almost everywhere. My, oh my, and lands sakes alive! How the mighty have fallen

---

Our esteemed and jovial rival, Franklin Pierce Adams, said that he made up a joke which he sees is now a campaign button. The one about Willkie for President—of Commonwealth & Southern Fact is that a photograph of that button ran in the New York Mirror on the editoral page and was a stale joke weeks before The Mirror editor ran it.

Russ Davenport quit Fortune to help Mr. Willkie, and wrote a piece for it about his man. So J. Chamberlain (formerly a book critic) of the paper wrote one for Roosevelt. Sort of a battle page. Wal, Russ took a dig at Johnny in his. Said something about not having the time to read a book as he was busy making a President. The rest of the staff decided to go buy Russ a copy of Mortimer J. Adler's "How to Read a Book."

Here's one for that feller from New York to end his Sunday night talk with: "—who is glad to live in a land where confidence in a presidential candidate means a button in your lapel instead of a bullet in your back."

NOTES OF A NEW YORKER

Two years ago Martha Scott arrived in New York from Jamesport, Mo., with $50 to carve herself a niche in the Thittir. Carleton Alsop was a socially prominent radio producer . . . He gave Martha the role of Alice Blair in one of his WOR serials because she needed a job to eat and because the script called for an unknown youngster out to achieve fame and happiness in the Big City . . . The hero of the strip drama was a man-about-town author patterned after Alsop's personality . . . The struggling Alice of the continuity eventually married the dashing hero.

Just as the struggling Martha Scott, promoted from the hungry Rehearsal Club days—through her playing in the stage and screen "Our Town" and "The Howards of Virginia"—was married the other day in a Fifth Avenue church to the popular Carleton Alsop.

One of the Roosevelt boys was in La Conga the other night and a drunk started getting chummy. "My father and your father," he hiccoughed, "yoosh'd to be clashmatesh. Sho I want you to know we're for your pop" . . . The Roosevelt boy straightened the chap's coat.

"Yoosh don't have to hold me up," he sulked.

"I'm not holding you up," replied the President's son. "I'm just straightening out the Willkie button in your lapel."

THE SOLDIER OF FLUSHING BAY

("World Fair Site Proposed for Military Training Camp.")—Headline.

Where Futurama drew the crowds
From Maine to Timbuctoo,
That's where I'd train to battle for
The old Red, White and Blue;
The Trylon and the Perisphere
Will do to mark the spot
Where I got flat feet marching on
An exposition lot.

II

Where General Motors stood I'll let
My army life take root;
By Railroads on Parade I'll fight
And do it all on foot.

Where millions flocked on pleasure bent
And marveled merrily
I'll drill and drill for Uncle Sam—
And think of Gypsy Lee!

III

Where "Streets of Paris" once held forth
I'll master arts of war;
(If they would only leave 'em there
It won't be such a bore);
Where crowds filed to the midway sights
I'll drill on soldier grub;
Baked beans and stew won't taste so bad
Served near the "Terrace Club."

IV

I'll learn to swing a rifle near
The "Living Pictures" gay,
And capture lovely models in
My fancy twice a day;

I'll do guard duty many nights
In weather vile or nice,
Consoled by distant memories
Of "Beauties Cased in Ice."

V

I'll stand maneuvers any time
In wintry weather tough
Upon the spot where dancers
With soap bubbles did their stuff;
In fancy I'll hear officers
Cry "Ready for a raid!" . . .
We've orders for a state of siege
Around the Aquacade!"

VI

From Standard Brands to "Gas" and "Coke,"
From "Norway" to "The Coast,"
I'll learn to be a soldier boy
Within this army post;
Where stood the famous "Court of Peace"
I'll learn the blitzkrieg way,
And chase that ritzy Borden cow
Right into Flushing bay.

VII

Most training camps are dullish spots—
There's little color found;
A World's fair site should be a camp
Where glamour doth abound.

All wars are dark and deadly things . . .
Say, kid, do you suppose
The next one could by any chance
Be run by Billy Rose?

* * *

INSOMNIA

The final feline riot wanes, the mournful mutts are mute
And now nocturnal quiet reigns, unbroken, absolute;
The ultimate drunk has vanished in the milkman's rumbling wake,
And now I'd get some sleep but for the noise the sparrows make.

—T. F. Finnerty.

* * *

BOARDER-LINE CASES

The guest that I
Consider fun
Arrives on Fri.—
And leaves on Sun.

The guest that I
Award no Praise
Arrives on Fri.
And stays . . . and stays.

—Nan

* * *

Ice and coal wagons are being used as substitutes for tanks in the militia war games. Which explains a letter to one mother from a boy at camp which contained the paragraphs:

"Trapped big force of enemy tanks today. Just hung out a sign that we wanted ice."

* * *

SOLIDARITY

Bathrobe workers have just won a pay raise. Had it been refused, the slipper, pajama and shaving cream workers were to have walked out in sympathy. The support of the song writers might, as a matter of fact, gone to them, too.

* *

TOO MUCH MAKEUP

Although I'm ready to agree
My gal is far from sainted
I'm positive she couldn't be
As bad as she is painted.

—Avery Giles.

Washington
'TIN-DOGGLING'
Unless the Roosevelt ad tion shakes itself free of and really does something it may have a major scand hands

Months have passed sinc
tion first woke up to the fac supply of tin was desperat
During that time, Japan h down closer and closer to lays and the Dutch East In chief tin supply, and now gates of French Indo-China

Meanwhile, the plan to se smelter in the United Stat Bolivian ore and to save a d ocean haul half way ro world, still is clutched in t hand of Jesse Jones

Jesse now is going through the same routine that the partment followed four mo
—asking American metal co
how much tin they would sm process they could use, e
May several companies state department they were co-operate. Phelps Dodge, can Metals, American Sm Refining and Vulcan Det.
From them the state de had secured all necessary tion. But after it had finis national defense commissi into the matter all over ag ing virtually the same que

Now, at long last, the t lem has come before Jess who as federal loan admi passes upon the $2,000,0 which is to be spent on cons the tin smelter. And Jess has gone into all the aforem red tape still again.

The tin situation is mad more difficult by the fact though one of the busiest Washington, Jones declines gate authority, wants to k
the details.

Jones is now secretary
merce, a department which Hoover once made one of t important in the governme
Jesse also insisted upon kee hands on the vital job of loan administrator. This ma next to Roosevelt, the most ful man in the government—most sought after.

Result is that state depart ficials, national defense com ers and tin experts have b time waiting for a chance Jesse Jones And after t to him they have to wait for go through all the details—p ly.

Meanwhile the threatened nese conquest of Asiatic tin proceeds. Meanwhile also t ed States lacks enough tin on hand to last a full year

Note—Present molasses-li tiations regarding tin have nickname "Tin-dogging."

* * *

BETTING LOWDOWN

"The Republican," spr.gr terprising G. O. P monthly some interesting advice on place your money in the ele

At its request, and wi
surance of complete freed opinion, C. M. Oehler, a r specialist, prepared a bettin sheet." In offering it the m warns, however, that condit change abruptly.

"Election bettors must ta consideration," says the publ
"the possibility that a major gency' may burst into bloom
October or very early in ber and may be a decisive in the outcome." With this it presents the following how to bet Willkie money:

"Cinch bet"—Vermont,
Maine, New Hampshire, Iow
Dakota, Massachusetts, No
kota, Minnesota, Michigan,
87 electoral votes.

"Give odds"—Rhode Isla
braska, Pennsylvania, New Ohio, Wisconsin (?). Total, toral votes.

"Even money"—Indian
York, Illinois. Total, 90 e votes.

"Ask odds"—Oregon, W
Connecticut, Delaware, Ca
Idaho. Total, 45 electoral v

"Ask long odds"—West V
Montana, New Mexico, Ke
Colorado, Missouri, Maryland
Washington. Total, 67 e
votes.

"Don't bet"—Nevada, Ok
Tennessee, Arizona, Virginia
Carolina, Florida, Arkansas,
ana, Alabama, Texas, Georg sissippi, South Carolina. To electoral votes.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Assistant Secretary of Sta believes Spanish is the com guage for Americans. Is ha children learn it.

The Liberty league, morib
the last several years, las quietly folded up completel few remaining employees w off and told the league was up the ghost Chief reason was the Hatch "purity-in-p act. Jouett Shouse, league who in its heyday drew a $ year salary, is supporting
But is not taking an open the campaign

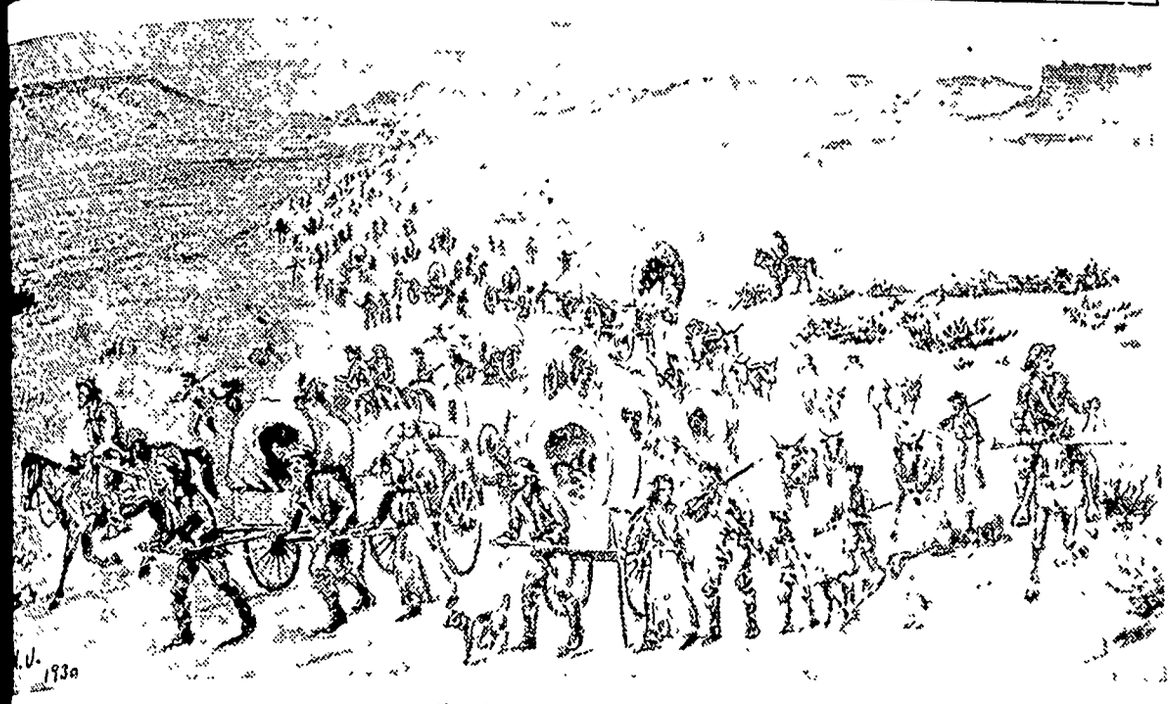
Minnesota's ... has a leading role in ... labor end of the ...

97, William H. Jackson, Pioneer Photographer, Looks Back Over His 80 Years' Recording (and Making) History



...arch of the Mormon "Handcart Battalion" over the Oregon Trail. From the painting by W. H. Jackson.

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

...WO recent events have brought into the limelight again one of the most remarkable Americans living today. One was the announcement from Scottsbluff, Neb., William H. Jackson, 97-year-old photographer-painter-...rian, had given to the Oregon Trail Memorial associa... a collection of 100 paintings and water colors, represent... Mr. Jackson's work of the last 40 years and based upon ...hotographs and sketches of the Old West from 1866 to ... The other was the publication by G. P. Putnam's Sons, ... York publishers, of Mr. Jackson's autobiography under ...ighly-appropriate title of "Time Exposure."

...obiographies of men who ...a part in pushing the ...ier westward are no ...es. But it is doubtful ...y of them have had a ...r, more distinguished ...more interesting career ... the author of "Time Ex...re." It began away back ...3 when he was born near ...ittle town of Keeseville, ..., the son of a blacksmith ... carriage-builder, who, ... after the daguerreotyp... process was discovered in ... began experimenting ... a camera of his own.

...s fact was prophetic of his ...future career, for, as he re...lit. "Parts of the first cam...era owned by a Jackson ... into my hands as a toy ... I was a very small boy. I ...t any real idea what the ...ox was intended for; but I ...e feel of a camera almost ...e I could walk. It may sound ...n, yet I can't help believing ... this childhood experience ...d to direct my life. An un...ed influence was my moth...gift with pencil and water... I can hardly remember ...me when I didn't draw pic... It was something without ...ning—and is still without an ... For that fact Americans ...d be grateful. Had it not ...for the camera and the pen...aint brush and palette of ...m H. Jackson we would not ... nearly so clear an idea of ...ld West as we do.

Started at Fifteen.

...he age of 15, young Jackson ...d his artistic skill to good ...nt. He began making win...cards for merchants, plac...announcing church sociables ...osters for political rallies. ...he got a job as a retoucher ...e leading photographer in ... N. Y., where the Jackson ... was living, and learned a ... deal about the new art of ...graphy. A similar job in ...nd, Vt., increased his knowl... of the subject but the out... of the Civil war brought a ...e in his occupation.

...kson enlisted in the Rutland ... Guard, was mustered into ...al service in 1862 and be... a soldier in the Army of ...otomac. Even in the army ...d time to continue his draw...most of it on small cards. ...t practice has brought me a ... fame—which is, I regret ...y, quite undeserved," he ...s. "Somehow or other the ...d has grown up that I am ...nventor' of the picture post ... I don't know who really ...ed the first picture postal ...erman or an Austrian, I ... but I am not the man." ...ever, he has plenty of other ...s to distinction without that. ...kson's experiences during the ...cluded the battle of Gettys... although, as he frankly ..., his was a minor part. His ...ent was assigned to guard ...baggage trains behind the ...so he missed the actual fight... ...ut afterwards his outfit es... ...d 2,300 Confederate prison... ...o Fort McHenry near Balti... . Incidentally, 75 years lat... ...ckson was one of four of its veterans—two Union and two Confederate soldiers—who flew over the battlefield in an airplane, broadcast from it their reminiscences of that historic conflict and strewed roses over the graves of their fallen comrades in the National cemetery there

He Goes West.

Mustered out of the Union service at the end of his enlistment, Jackson returned to Vermont, took up again his work as an "artist" in F. Styles' "Vermont Gallery of Art," became engaged to a charming young girl and when that engagement ended in a lovers' quarrel, he decided to follow the advice so often attributed to Horace Greeley—"Go West!" ("Horace Greeley's advice was far too obvious to be startling," he observes succinctly. "Go West? Of course go west. Where else?") He arrived at St. Joseph, Mo., the "jumping-off place" for the frontier in 1866 and for the next three-quarters of a century his life was to be intimately bound up with the history of the West.

WILLIAM H. JACKSON

Jackson secured a job as a bull-whacker with a wagon train that was departing from Nebraska City up the Missouri river for the Montana mining camps. That was the last year of "covered wagon" migration across the Plains (the railroad was already pushing west and would soon supplant the prairie schooner) and Jackson's first trip over the Oregon trail was made in company of 300 Mormons and other immigrants who banded together for protection against hostile Indians. (In after years, Jackson was to go over the trail, or parts of it, in other forms of transportation—train, automobile and airplane).

In Wyoming he left the Montana-bound train, went to Salt Lake City and, after three months there, joined a mule train for California which brought him at last to Los Angeles, "a town of less than 5,000, which had in 1867 all the charm it lacks today . . Los Angeles was honestly quaint, rather than merely blatant." Soon afterwards he started east again—this time with a party of nine persons starting out on the perilous task of driving a band of 200 wild mustangs back across the mountains and plains to the Missouri river settlements.

This three-months' trek ended at Julesburg, Colo., where the horses were loaded on a train and shipped to Omaha. Here Jackson obtained a job with some local photographers whom he later bought out. In the spring of 1868 his brother, Ed, came on from Troy to join him and the firm of "Jackson Brothers, Photographers" started business in the little frontier city. Later Ed withdrew from the firm and William became the sole proprietor of the business.

Photographer of the Frontier.

During the next 12 years Jackson firmly established his reputation as the foremost photographer of the American frontier. Loading his bulky apparatus for making pictures by the old wet plate process on pack mules or horses he traveled far and wide over the plains and mountains of the West, securing thousands of negatives ranging in size from stereoscopic views to huge ones measuring 20 by 24 inches.

Some of his greatest work was done while accompanying the expeditions known officially as the "United States Geological Survey of the Territories" which began in 1869 under the leadership of Dr. F. V. Hayden and continued for the next nine years. During this time he took pictures of Indians which are priceless historical records of the red man in his native state, untouched by the white man's so-called "civilization," and views of the magnificent Western scenery never before pictured and, in some cases, never before visited by white men.

In fact, the list of Jackson's "firsts" is an impressive one. He took the first photographs in what is now Yellowstone park—and the showing of these pictures had much to do with the establishment of the national park there. He took the first pictures of the cliff dwellings in the Southwest and of the famed Mount of the Holy Cross in Colorado. (Incidentally, it was one of Jackson's photographs of this mountain which inspired one of Longfellow's best-beloved poems.)

The full record of his amazing career is too long to be condensed within the scope of this article. Some of his activities and adventures can only be hinted at—his work as a photographer for various railroads, his 18-months' picture-taking trip around the world for Harper's Weekly, including a 3,500-mile trip by pony sledge across Siberia in the middle of winter; his career as head of the Detroit Publishing company which made post cards and other pictures in color. (Its collection of nearly 40,000 negatives are now in the Ford museum at Dearborn, Mich.) In 1929 he was named research secretary of the Oregon Trail Memorial association. The next few years found him—now nearing 90—going over the old trail again, snapping pictures, this time with a "vest pocket" camera, and doing some more painting.

Three times William H. Jackson has tried to "retire"—once at 60, again at 81 and "finally" at 92. But it was no use—in 1935 the department of the interior commissioned him to paint a series of murals for its new building in Washington and he did it. Two years later he was again busy taking pictures. It came about thus

In 1937 the surviving members of the G. A. R. met on Riverside drive for what was to be their last Memorial day parade. When Comrade Bill Jackson didn't show up, some of the aged Boys in Blue shook their heads sadly—"Too bad Bill can't be here." But a few minutes later they saw him—running up and down along the street with press photographers, taking pictures of the parade!

William H. Jackson spoke truly when he said of his picture-making career: "It was something without beginning—and is still without an end."

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

...ated Features WNU Service

PILOT TRAINING

WASHINGTON.—Five weeks ago I questioned the value and efficiency of the civilian pilot training program, which is a plan to train 50,000 pilots for military and naval service by farming the students out to civilian pilots in groups of from 10 to 40 to be trained at so much a head. I said that it was not properly supervised, was dangerous and unlikely to produce many military and naval pilots who would not have to start all over again in the primary training of the armed services.

I wrote that after seeing the plan in process and talking with experienced and impartial training experts upon whose judgment I rely. From other such men that column received indorsement, but by some interested in that program I was told with various degrees of indignation that I did not know what I was talking about.

Wayne Parrish, editor of American Aviation, has watched this development closely, has recently made a study of it and has not, as a recent gossip column implied, the remotest political interest. In an editorial in the September 15 issue, he goes a lot further than did my column and even hints at the very odorous condition which may result in a congressional investigation.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Hinckley wangled a total appropriation of $37,000,000 to finance this program. It was presented as a defense move to train 50,000 pilots—perhaps for Mr. Roosevelt's 50,000 phantom planes.

The record is not clear as to whether congress was told that nothing in the plan commits any trainee to any kind of military service, but Mr. Parrish reports that prospects are assured that there is no such obligation and told just to forget that part of it. Out of 77 graduates of the secondary course, 76 didn't seek military training.

* * *

No military or naval authority is very clearly on record, but privately neither branch believes that a satisfactory substitute for the service primary courses can be given in this haphazard fashion.

Those who doubted the wisdom of the transfer of the independent CAA to the political department of commerce, do not feel much encouraged by these developments nor by the increasing sabotage of the inspection service of the old CAA, which hung up so remarkable a record of air safety on the transport lines.

Veteran inspectors are being submerged, weeded out or resign in disgust to make places for less experienced men.

It is hard enough to understand how military and naval pilots can be trained by a slapped together hay crate organization of civilian pilots, but harder still to see how a safe and uniform course of instruction can be given in so many independent "schools" by instructors themselves of a wide variety of experience and training without an inspection service rating almost perfect efficiency. Many of the so-called "private flying specialists" who are "directing" this loose jointed organization for training military and naval pilots were examined and failed to qualify under the old inspection service as inspectors.

In this new "specialist" rating, they receive higher pay than experienced inspectors—$5,600 a year, as compared with $3,200, $3,800 or $4,600; the latter figure being the highest rate in the old inspection service. This and similar policies are stripping that service of competent men.

Much worse faults of carelessness and monkey business have been reported, but I have been unable to confirm them. What this situation needs is a congressional investigation. Maybe it will get it—but not until after the election.

* * *

DEFENDING BRITAIN

While I was in Chicago recently the "Defend America by Defending Britain" committee staged a mass meeting—largely of Gold Coast intellectuals—in the Coliseum. It was harangued by several eminent breast beating war criers. All they ask now is to strip our inadequate army air force of 50 of its flying fortresses and detach from our navy the mosquito torpedo boats which congress recently prevented the President from sending to Britain.

How this kind of thing could be done lawfully—even under the attorney general's phoney opinion by which the destroyers were detached without even consulting congress—doesn't appear. These people don't care. They don't even worry about that, because they know the President doesn't care either.

* * *

After the terrible rolling we got for listening to our Anglophiles in 1917, I never expected to live to see the day when anybody would be dumb enough on the one hand and have nerve enough on the other, to defy the great weight of American public opinion and try to push us into another world war to make the world safe for anything but our own country. This Eastern Seaboard propaganda, apparently fully financed by somebody, is threatening to get away with it.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

SAYING that the first feature-length film made by the March of Time is important is like saying that the history of our country is important. "The Ramparts We Watch" is living history; the nonprofessionals who appear in the story that is played out against the background of the stirring events of 1914-18 are just people like all of us, thinking and talking as we do now.

Since the film was released in a limited number of cities a new ending has been given it, one so dramatic that the picture is made doubly effective. Despite protests of the German embassy, sections of the Nazi propaganda film, "Feuertaufe," ("Baptism of Fire") have been incorporated at the end of the picture.

The Nazi film, designed to "soften" countries such as Norway, Holland, Belgium and France which Germany was about to conquer, was seen by the March of Time as a warning of what free countries were up against today. But UFA, German state film trust, imposed impossible demands for censorship. Then it was learned that the British government had confiscated English language copies of the film at Bermuda. Full title to the film was transferred by the British government to the March of Time.

In this German film, a Stuka bomber dives on a railroad station—and you seem to be in it. Warsaw is razed, the German war machine moves relentlessly. Your daily newspaper's headlines come alive for you.

—*—

Jeanette Nolan was the victim of one of the worst things that can happen to a radio actress, the other day. Of course, the worst thing is missing a broadcast. The next worst is an attack of hiccoughs.

Jeanette Nolan

It happened to Jeanette just before she was to broadcast on the Court of Missing Heirs. She drank water. She held her breath. People beat her on the back. And still she hiccoughed.

Finally Director John Loveton had an inspiration. "Just heard that John didn't show up for rehearsals at 'Meet Mr. Meek,'" he remarked casually. By John he meant John McIntyre, Jeanette's husband. She was so frightened that she forgot her hiccoughs.

—*—

The American Federation of Labor had decided tentatively to produce a motion picture based on the life of the great labor leader, Samuel Gompers, who for many years headed the A. F. of L. Paul Muni is slated for the leading role. It is said that Mr. Muni will be paid $25,000 for his work. The picture will in all probability be made in New York city.

Paul Muni

—*—

Most of the big stars of Hollywood are married or past 35, but among those who will qualify for the draft are John Howard, Orson Welles, Broderick Crawford, James Stewart, Lew Ayres, John Carroll, William Holden, Bob Preston, Eddie Albert, Jeffrey Lynn and Dennis O'Keefe. Wayne Morris still doesn't know whether he's married or divorced.

—*—

Thursday night will soon become more important than ever so far as radio is concerned. You can hear Fred Waring, "Good News," the Aldrich Family, Bing Crosby, Rudy Vallee, and after October 10 Westinghouse's Musical Americana will join the ranks.

—*—

How would you like to stand by and see somebody fireproofing the clothes that you were going to wear a little later? That's what happened to Ray Milland, William Holden and Phil Brown, of Paramount's "I Wanted Wings," recently. The picture is being filmed at the government flying field at San Antonio. Brown, a flying cadet, crashes in a basic training plane, and the other two rush in and pull him from the flaming wreckage.

—*—

ODDS AND ENDS

¶ The Record Players, a company of actors headed by Wendell Holmes (of radio's "Big Sister" and "Myrt and Marge,") is being formed to record the great plays of the ages and distribute them to schools and cultural groups throughout the nation. At first a limited number of recorded plays in album form will be distributed free. Holmes' idea is to make the world's famous plays available to every home or group having a phonograph, and to open a new field for actors and actresses.

¶ Paulette Goddard is resting up after "Second Chorus."

YOU CAN AFFORD FAST RELIEF FROM PAINS OF RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS HEADACHE

1¢ A TABLET NOW BUYS GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN

In 2 seconds by stop watch, a genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate and is ready to go to work. See for yourself this way, why Bayer Aspirin acts so quickly.

Millions now enjoy modern speed method and save money they once spent for high-priced remedies. Try it.

You may be surprised at the speed with which Bayer Aspirin brings relief from headache and pains of rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia. Among the fastest, most effective ways known, Bayer Aspirin not only brings relief from such pains very fast . . . but this quick way is very inexpensive. It may save the dollars once spent on high priced remedies.

Once you try it . . . actually feel its quick relief, you'll know why thousands make sure they get no substitutes for Bayer Aspirin by always asking for it by its full name . . . never by the name "aspirin" alone.

BAYER

Demand BAYER ASPIRIN

Self-Made

Every man must live with the man he makes of himself; and the better job he does in molding his character, the better company he will have.—Hudson Maxim.

MOROLINE 5¢ WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

Growing Pains

Heartaches are sometimes just growing pains the Lord sends when He thinks we have not courage enough.—Grace Livingston Hill.

"Black Leaf 40" KILLS LICE

OUR "Cap-Brush" Applicator makes "BLACK LEAF 40" GO MUCH FARTHER

JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS.. OR SPREAD ON ROOSTS

Clearer Vision

Each year more sand escapes from the hourglass of life, and this leaves a clearer vision.—Van Amburgh.

THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

WNU—N 41—40

BUREAU OF STANDARDS

• A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.

• You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.

Where Wendell Willkie Once Washed Dishes

—"Acme Newspictures"

Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, washed dishes as a youth in this Aberdeen, S. Dak., restaurant, using experience he gained when working his way thru college. When asked about his job as a dish washer Willkie said he worked in the Aberdeen restaurant "long enough to get a raise." Candidate Willkie has returned from a campaign tour during which he visited 18 western states. As a young man he worked as a harvest hand on farms in several of these states, an experience which contributed to the sympathetic attitude he holds toward the problems of the farmer and the laboring man.

A Garner Women's club debated for an hour and a half on the most dreaded disease among women, and decided it was lock-jaw!

Photographs

LIVE
FOREVER

RUSSELL

PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

- with long experience and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 16-17.

"Sporting Blood"

with Robert Young and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18-19, (Double Feature)

"The Lone Wolf Meets A Lady" with Warren William and Jean Muir.

ALSO

"Light of The Western Stars"

with R. Hayden and N. Beery.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 20-21-22

"HE STAYED OR BREAKFAST"

with Lorretta Young and Melvin Douglas.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—COAL BURNING Parlor Heater, circulating type In good condition and cheap. Klemme Co-Operative Grain Co. O-16tc

FOR SALE—LATEST KIMBALL Spinet Piano priced quick resale, Write Armstrong Piano Co, Mason City 1tp

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — OLIVER PLOW with Radex bottoms, only one year old, fine condition, at a bargain. Northern Lumber Implement Store. 9-tfc.

FOR SALE — CHESTER WHITE Boars, cholera immune. Ray Veldhouse, 1½ miles west, 1 mile north of Klemme. 2tp-9-16

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5.00. Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each Klemme Auto Company. tfc.

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc

FOR SALE—WELL IMPROVED 120 A, farm, 2 miles south of Duncan, known as the Fred Kohlstorf place. Reasonable priced to close estate Write or see Frank D Fischer, Titonka S-25, 3tp

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

DOUBLE FOUR BRIDGE CLUB MET

The Double Four bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Orville Bridges, Friday afternoon, with Mrs. John Etchen winning high prize and Mrs. Lloyd Lau second high. Lunch was served at the close of the afternoon games.

DANCE Sat. Night October 19

Klemme Legion Community Hall

Kelly's Orchestra

MIXED DANCE Admission 22c - 44c

Little Stories About Your Neighbor

One Way To Keep The Boys On The Farm!

Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of stories that will appear from time to time telling of things of interest in your own neighborhood. These little stories may help you to know your neighbor better.

This week we have the story of one of our farmers who had a problem to solve: "How to keep his sons on the farm and still make a living on a quarter section of land for a family of five?"

That was the problem in a nutshell for Ben Katter, Liberty township farmer living about three miles northwest of Klemme. Mr and Mrs. Katter and their sons live on the old homestead of the Katter family. Their two sons, Duane and Cecil, have both graduated from high school, while the third son is now in the grades. To keep the older boys busy got Mr. Katter thinking and he cast about for something the boys could do when farm work was slack and finally decided on buying a saw mill and turn some of the cotton wood trees and other trees in the neighborhood into usuable lumber. It was more or less of an experiment and a gamble, but the saw was purchased and put into operation, using the farm tractor for power.

Everything did not go so smoothly and it was soon found out that a certain amount of skill was needed to operate the saw successfully, but Ben and his sons practiced on their own logs and soon mastered the art of turning logs into lumber.

The neighbors heard of the project and began bringing in timber to saw and soon the Katter company was handling all the work they could between farm jobs Since last December and up to the present time they have sawed out about 125,000 feet of lumber, mostly demension material.

A short time ago they cast about for more thmgs to do and made up a chicken crate out of cottonwood they sawed. The sample was shown to a few prospective poultry dealers with the result that orders for coops are pouring in and the Katters will have to install more machinery to handle the new business. They have already made and sold some over six hundred chicken coops that have been sold to firms in Garner, Waterloo, Strawberry Point, and other places. At present they have a stock of about two hundred coops on hand to fill any rush order

Mr Katter and his sons are planning to buy more equipment and will build a place to install their machinery. At present most of the equipment is out of doors.

The largest piece of machinery is a 48 inch saw which can cut out a board 22 inches wide This saw will handle most anything from a large timber down to a lath. They also use a 16 inch swinging saw for cutting off lengths and have a smaller table saw They have a 12 inch planer for smoothing up material, and also have an electric drill used in building crates

Duane and Cecil are both good mechanics and take a delight in their work, and are looking forward to expanding their business in the future as there seems to be a good field in manufacturing crates of various kinds. Although this section of the country seems to be far removed from the "timber country" and a saw-mill seems like a pipe-dream, never-the-less the Katters have available a good supply of cottonwood which is ideal for crating material, and this saw mill "in the corn belt" may prove far from a pipe dream!

Around Iowa

Apple Pie.

Lois Reittmger, Dyserville, reports that each apple on an apple treel on his place is big enough for a pie.

-oOo-

Scared Stiff.

When little Gwen Egel called out "Hi, Grandpa!" she nearly scared Charles Egel, Irvington, out of a year's growth. Mr. Egel was at the top of a windmill, and just behind him was three year old Gwen. He managed to get her safely to the ground.

-oOo-

New Definition.

The freshman class of Corwith was really stumped on the word 'pedagog." No one knew the meaning. Finally, a student said he had seen one at the state historical building in the museum,—stuffed. That really "put the teachers in their places."

-oOo-

Re-United.

Mrs. Howard Lane, Waterloo, recently met her twin sister for the first time. Neither knew of the other's existence until a short time ago.

-oOo-

Married.

Leland A. Ames, Waterloo, and Bonnie M. Hood, Newton, were in Traer recently wanting to be married. Arrangements were well under way when it was discovered that the license had been obtained in Waterloo. Members of the would-be wedding party said they had thought Traer was in Black Hawk county.

-oOo-

Plenty of Change.

Ralph Farlor, Winterset, should have no trouble in making change for some time yet. For a number of years he has been saving small change, and recently paid for a monument with two syrup pails full of small coins. Roy Gilbert, Indianola, spent some two hours counting the money before giving a receipt in full for the monument. Farlow still has another can containing $75 in pennies.

Wise Guy (boarding a street car): "Well, Noah, is the ark full?"
Conductor: "Nope, we need one jackass; come on in."

CORN HUSKING

Mitchellville, Iowa, is preparing for the 1940 state corn husking contest, which will be held on Friday, October 25 The old time corn huskers of 70 years of age and over are to come with the old wooden peg they used years ago.

U-DELT-EM BRIDGE CLUB MET THURSDAY

The U-Delt-Em bridge club met with Mrs. A H. Dulmes last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. George Lawhorn won high prize and Mrs. Thade second high. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Miss Novella Beier visited at the Wilbur Haefner home, Sunday.

LaVonne, Beverly and Shirley Beier were dinner guests at the Wilbur Haefner home Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Weisbrod, of Fenton, called at the George Schoenwetter and Emil Beier homes Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gast and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gast drove to West Point Saturday and visited at the Henry Johnson home returning home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates, of Clear Lake, visited at the Ben Ridder home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange visited at the James Verba home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Borchers were dinner guests at the Emil Beier home Sunday.

Mrs. D. H. Hammon, Rastus, Doris and Lois Hammon were dinner guests at the Albert Lange home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ax were Clear Lake business callers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abele were dinner guests at the Lew Abele home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Abele and family attended the First Baptist Church services at Mason City Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaefer and Daisy were Mason City visitors Friday.

A recent postcard from a truthful vacationist at a seashore resort read: "Having a wonderful time! Wish I could afford it."

The MARQUETTE to CHICAGO

FAST
COMFORTABLE

Every car is air conditioned, clean, comfortable. Individual reclining chairs in the spacious Luxury-lounge cafe-parlor car—delicious meals only 50¢, dinner 65¢, also tray and buffet service.

Forget nervous strain and traffic hazards Let us do the speeding, train travel is cheaper than driving.

Eastbound	Central Time	Westbound
12:10 pm Lv	Mason City	Ar.
12:42 pm Lv	Charles City	Ar.
1:05 pm Lv	New Hampton	Ar.
1:40 pm Lv	Calmar	Ar.
2:06 pm Lv	Postville	Ar.
2:47 pm Lv	Marquette	Ar.
4:38 pm Ar	Madison	Lv.
5:39 pm Ar	Janesville	Lv.
7:40 pm Ar	Chicago	Lv.
	Union Station

Westbound equipment includes Sleeping Cars, Cafe-Parlor Car, breakfast, Luxury Coaches.

Overnight service in both directions on THE SIOUX Lv Mason City 9:45 pm returning leave Chicago 7:00 pm

Ask your local Agent for further particulars about train schedules and rates

The MILWAUKEE

—— Your Support Appreciated

Frank J. Schoun

Republican Candidate For

Supervisor

Term Beginning January 1, 1942

General Election November 5, 1940

VOTE FOR

Fern Peck Katter

Republican Candidate

For County Recorder

"WHAT'S NEW FOR 1941?"

NEW STYLE... NEW SAFETY... NEW VALUE... ALL IN THIS NEW HUDSON

Symphonic Styling

Brilliant new design... and, for the first time in low priced cars, a wide choice of interior color combinations that harmonize with exterior colors... AT NO EXTRA COST.

SAFEST CAR EVER BUILT!

Patented Double-Safe Hydraulics (two-way stopping from the same foot pedal); Patented Auto-Poise Front Wheel Control, for extra safety even if a tire blows . . . and other unique safety features.

VALUE WITHOUT EQUAL!

Longer Wheelbases, Roomier Bodies, Still Easier Riding and Driving, New Improved Type Synchronized Silent Mesh Transmission . . . 1941's Best Investment in All-Around Value.

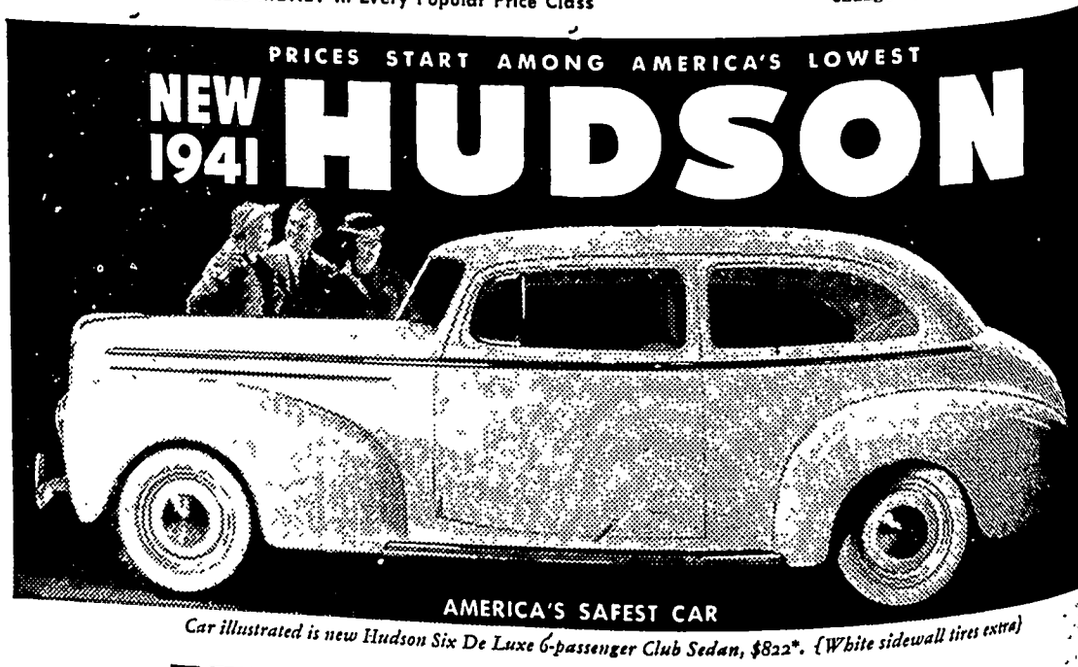
$695

for new 1941 Hudson Six Coupe, *delivered in Detroit, including Federal taxes, not including state and local taxes, if any Optional equipment and accessories extra. Low time payment terms. Prices subject to change without notice.

Hudson Offers Fine Automobiles In Every Popular Price Class . . . New Hudson Six and Super-Six (in the lowest and low price fields); New Hudson Commodore Six and Eight and Commodore Custom (in the moderate price field). MORE CAR for LESS MONEY In Every Popular Price Class

PRICES START AMONG AMERICA'S LOWEST

NEW 1941 HUDSON



AMERICA'S SAFEST CAR

Car illustrated is new Hudson Six De Luxe 6-passenger Club Sedan, $822. (White sidewall tires extra)*

Klemme Auto Co.

emme Times
GENSON, Publisher

The Post Office At
as 2nd Class Matter

ONE NUMBER — 12

IPTION RATES

County $1.50 per year
(c $1.00 per year)
cribers $2.00 per year
wa $2.50 per year

•

tions for papers go-within the county are ntinuing yearly sub-be discontinued only rom subscribers or at discretion. All other will be discontinued
ter expiration, if not t time for payment
nded if arrangement
ubscriber.

SCHOOL

rural school in Hanad a unexpected one-recently. Some one he school house one everything in such
it was impossible to e following day.

EUNITED

n, blind man of Du-dog were reunited
Belmond. The dog
over while the John-Belmond. Johnson, dog would not live,
be killed. Dr. Coe
's life and he is his master.

npers!

just received a pment of Seat
nd Tall Clothes

re the famous
Basket Products.

Most Beautiful Line."

emeyer
URE STORE

MUST SELL OUR
CARS and TRUCKS
tter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find
TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT.
ains in late models. You take no chances when you
s. Come in and look them over.
arner Motor Sales
ILE CHEVROLET

E. M. Specials
and Saturday, Oct. 18-19
R SILKO 49 lb. bag at $1.15
for ..... 09c | ONIONS 10 lb. bag at 15c
RINSO Reg. Size 2 pkg. for 38c
UTTER ..... 25c | SOAP, Laundry Swift's, 8 bars 18c
KE FLOUR DIXIANA 2 pkg. for 25c
AP 4 bars .. 20c | GRAPENUTS 2 pkgs. for 29c
mme Food Market
IORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop

Klemme Girl Scouts Sponsored Bridge Party

The Klemme Girl Scouts, under the direction of Mrs. E. G Schaeffer, their leader, sponsored a bridge party at the basement of the Klemme Legion-Community Hall Friday evening Bridge was played at twelve tables and the girls served a lunch following the games.

Mrs. C H Schissel, of Garner, won high score for the ladies, while A. L. Kingery was high for the men George Lawhorn and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson held second high scores and Mrs. Galbreth won the door prize.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10:00 a. m English Service
11:00 a. m Sunday School
8:00 p. m. Evening Service
Offering for Benevelance.

Sunday we will observe the 215th Anniversary of the Reformed Church, as well as the 100th Anniversary of the Evangelical Church. Rev S Birkner, of Geneva, will be our guest speaker at the evening services

8 00 p. m Monday.
Adult Bible Class Rev. S Birkner will be the speaker.

8 00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class

8 00 p m Thursday
Mixed Chorus.

Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.

Worship Service 10 00 a m
Sabbath School 11 00 a m.
Epworth League 7 30 p m.
Epworth League weiner roast social at Liberty church Friday evening.

Liberty Church:-

Sabbath School 10 15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a m.
Epworth League as above
E. L. and E. L. Social as above

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor .. Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor .. Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman — Eunice Larsen
Sophomore — Audrey Man
Junior — Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior — Shirley Johnson
Dramatics — Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music — Jacqueline Kudje
Sports — Henry Kaduce
Grade News — Leonard Kaduce, Arlene Schmidt

Week's Moral "The fellow who stops on the ten yard line to congratulate himself never makes a touchdown"

MUSIC CHATTER

The band gave a concert at the Democratic Rally Wednesday evening.

There will be a change in the schedule for all music students soon

DRAMATICS

The play books arrived Wednesday, which caused great excitement among the juniors. Thursday afternoon the parts were assigned by Mr. Galbreth Since the cast includes ten girls and there are only nine in the class, Betty Etchen will play the extra part Practice will get under way the first part of next week

SPORTS

The baseball game with Hayfield which was scheduled for Thursday was postponed until Friday on account of rain

Mr Bowles said the Klemme basketball squad would meet for its first practice Monday afternoon

The boys think they have SECRETLY picked out their choice for cheers leaders but its already out

EXTRACTS FROM A SENIOR'S DIARY

Monday Seniors had such a busy week end that they let their physics assignments go Quite a perty in class today as a result Threatened tests.
Monday Night Seniors studied hard.
Tuesday What a test ! ! ! !
Wednesday What a test ! ! ! !
Thursday Now that the tests are over, I don't know whether we feel better or worse.
Friday We still haven't heard the verdict.

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

MARJORIE LEMKE Marjorie is quite the jitterbug She sings in girls' glee club and the mixed chorus. Her ability to learn and remember is stupendous. Marjorie plans on being a school teacher, of all things. Latest reports are that she is taking the part of an "old hag" in the English literature class play, but this isn't any reflection on her looks It is her acting ability.

JOHN SCHWICHTENBERG All his freshman pep has stayed with him in his old age. Last year he drove a Model T to school, but after going through the ice on the river with it a couple of times last winter, he has graduated to a Model A His voice hasn't been discovered as yet, but wait until Walt Disney needs a new Donald Duck. His favorite expression is, "Mess my hair up and call me Willkie" Now John, what's the matter with Willkie?

IRENE BECKER Irene is editor of the paper She has a great musical talent but plans on being a nurse. Her talent on the marimba carried her to the state musical contest and made Klemme known throughout the state. She's a very good student Her favorite hobby is reading the "Mission House Mirror" You ought to see her run for IT when she hears IT'S in the library. Her greatest like is the black-curly headed football player at the Mission House. Her greatest dislike is spinach.

P. S. I hear this paper is read by everyone at the Mission House.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

This week the sophomores are having their six week's test. On Thursday afternoon we had biology, and Friday morning we had history and algebra.

Our seats were re-arranged in biology, and some aren't as pleased as others.

Thursday, Jimmy and Merle Edmunson, from the sophomore class, moved to Hayfield. A certain freshman girl will probably be lonesome now.

FRESHMAN NEWS

All the tests were puzzling, and the grades! We wish someone could convert the teachers into writing easier six week's tests.

The freshman class is minus one girl member Edna Mae Edmunson is going to join Hayfield's forces this week.

Her brothers are leavinng, too That bothers many a freshman girl. Maybe we'll have a quieter study hall

The fire alarm rang during our Home Ec test. That gave us a little time out.

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

Herbert Schwartz, Herbert Mueller, Patricia Kudje, Wesley Suckow, Edward Buntenbach, LaVonne Hammitt, Ruth Bell, Robert Tiggerman, Ronald Brinkman and Mavis Meyer have been neither absent nor tardy this six weeks.

Patricia Kudje was the only one to earn a perfect score in the six weeks spelling test.

We made a large color wheel during art class so that we could use it to study color.

The boys have been practicing baseball for a game with Kanawha this week.

GRADES 5 & 6

We have been having some unit tests this week We had our six week's spelling test, too. Those who had perfect scores in the spelling test were William, Ruth Smith, Phyllis, Roger Ridder, Clarence, Roger B., and Ruth Stokesbary.

In science we are working on a unit called "Our Tools for Chewing."

Donald and Evelyn Edmunson moved to Hayfield. They moved here from Hayfield last year.

During our reading period on Thursday we listened to the story "By The Shores of Silver broadcast from Iowa City.

Irene and Elizabeth were reporters.

GRADES 3 & 4

Merlin, Isabelle and Marjorie brought flowers to our room this week.

We brought many Indian articles for our history self. We learned how Indians tanned hides and made their clothing. In art we tanned make-believe deerskin. We will make Indian dresses for our dolls.

Fourth grade took their second number drill. The score was fair.

This was National Letter Writing Week. We wrote many letters We mailed a friendly letter.

We observed Fire Preventation Week by reading safety stories, and learning how to guard against fires.

We finished our journey across the Lincoln highway in geography.

In science we are studying about insects.

Our room had perfect attendance for the last six weeks except for the following absences: Maurice, Ada, Dorance and Merlin.

The following had 100 per cent in spelling: Isabelle Gibbs.

GRADES 1 & 2

Larry brought a pretty rose to school. Nancy brought a bouquet of flowers too.

We have three new chairs in our room. We now have twenty chairs.

As an activity concerning our lesson in science on ripened fruits, we made apple sauce Dwayne and Richard brought apples to school. Nancy, Jacqulea anl Larry washed the apples. All of us helped peel them. We cooked the apples in the Home Ec. room where Jo Ann and Harley had charge. Peter, Sondra and Maralee dished out the sauce when it was cooked while Maxine and Janice served it. Delores, Dwayne and Lucille washed the dishes.

Jacqulea's seventh birthday was Wednesday. She brought treats to school.

BROKEN BONES

Anna Roupe, 16-year old Eldora girl, has had her share of broken bones. During her 16 years, she has had 33 fractures.

Home Has Been Remodeled

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson expect to move back into their own home again this week. Mr Thompson has been doing a lot of remodeling during his spare time the past summer and fall and now has everything about completed.

Husband: "I miss the old cuspidor since it's gone."
Wife: "You missed it before—that's why it's gone."

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

—VOTE FOR—
[X] Ella Mae Foster
of Britt, Iowa
Democratic Candidate For Recorder
of Hancock County

Your Support Appreciated——
Clifford S. Schaper
Democratic Candidate For
Supervisor
Term Beginning
January 1, 1941
——General Election Nov. 5, 1940

Need Any Coal?

If you do not need fuel now, you are going to need some very soon.

HOW ABOUT THESE?

FELCO LUMP ..... Eastern Kentucky
FELCO EGG ..... Eastern Kentucky
TIP TOP ..... Eastern Kentucky
RA-JA-DA ..... Arkansas Anthracite
SOUTHERN ILLINOIS .. .. Stove Size
EASTERN HARD COAL . .. Chestnut Size

Your Coal Orders make us GLAD, and a load in your bin when cold weather comes will make you GLAD . . . . Give us an order and

LET'S BOTH BE GLAD!

FELCO

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company
"The Farmers Elevator" C C. KILGORE, Mgr.

THESE BRISK COOL MORNINGS SHOULD REMIND YOU . . . .

Winter-Proof Your Car NOW!

It's time to give your car a complete Check-up and put it in shape for quick starts and efficient operation during colder days ahead.

Don't wait until trouble catches up with you —get your car ready for winter NOW! Let us prepare your car for trouble-free WINTER DRIVING NOW!

WHAT YOUR CAR NEEDS NOW:

1. Change to LIGHT Motor Oil.
2. Light Grease in Transmission.
3. Flush Radiator and add Anti-Freeze.
4. Install Winter Thermostat.
5. Check Radiator and Heater Hoses.
6. Fill Battery.
7. Set Generator ahead.
8. Complete Winter Lubrication.

—WARNING—

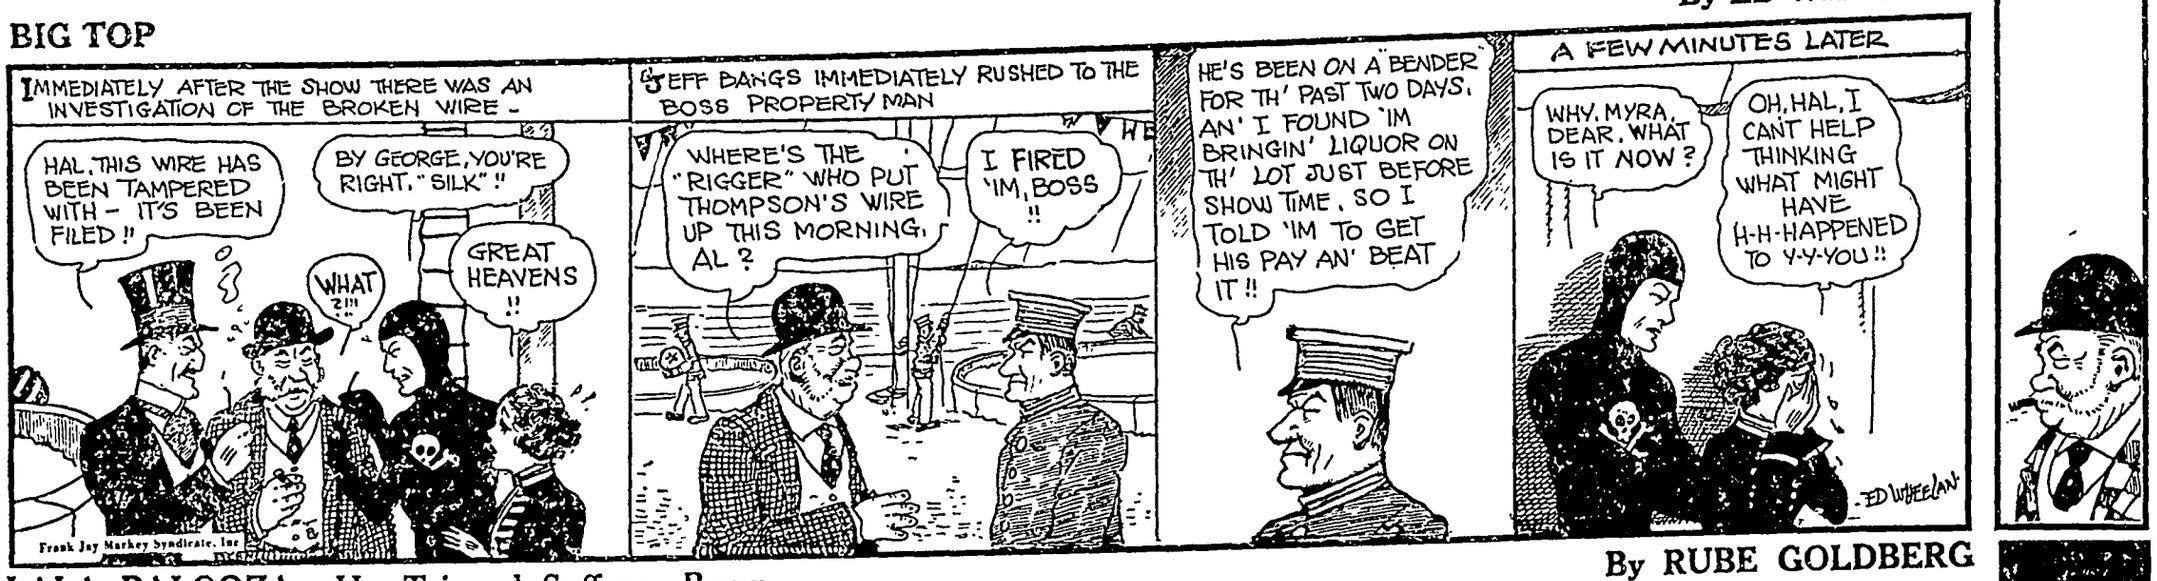
WEATHER REPORT: For October and November: Cool, changing to Cooler, followed by a Cold Spell and much Colder for North Iowa. Cntinued Cold in northern section.

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station
HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN



IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE SHOW THERE WAS AN INVESTIGATION OF THE BROKEN WIRE - HAL, THIS WIRE HAS BEEN TAMPERED WITH - IT'S BEEN FILED !!
BY GEORGE, YOU'RE RIGHT, "SILK" !!
WHAT ?!!
GREAT HEAVENS !!
JEFF BANGS IMMEDIATELY RUSHED TO THE BOSS PROPERTY MAN
WHERE'S THE "RIGGER" WHO PUT THOMPSON'S WIRE UP THIS MORNING, AL ?
I FIRED 'IM, BOSS !!
HE'S BEEN ON A "BENDER" FOR TH' PAST TWO DAYS, AN' I FOUND 'IM BRINGIN' LIQUOR ON TH' LOT JUST BEFORE SHOW TIME. SO I TOLD 'IM TO GET HIS PAY AN' BEAT IT !!
A FEW MINUTES LATER
WHY, MYRA, DEAR, WHAT IS IT NOW ?
OH, HAL, I CAN'T HELP THINKING WHAT MIGHT HAVE H-H-HAPPENED TO Y-Y-YOU !!
ED WHEELAN
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

LALA PALOOZA —Her Triumph Suffers a Bump

By RUBE GOLDBERG

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, THERE WAS AN ACCIDENT IN THE BALLET NUMBER BUT LALA CAME OFF WITHOUT A SCRATCH - GIVE THE LITTLE LADY A BIG HAND
'RAY FOR LALA!
GOOD OLD IRONSIDES!
SHE'S AS STRONG AS A CUP OF TURKISH COFFEE
FOR SHE'S A JOLLY GOOD FELL-OW ZOK
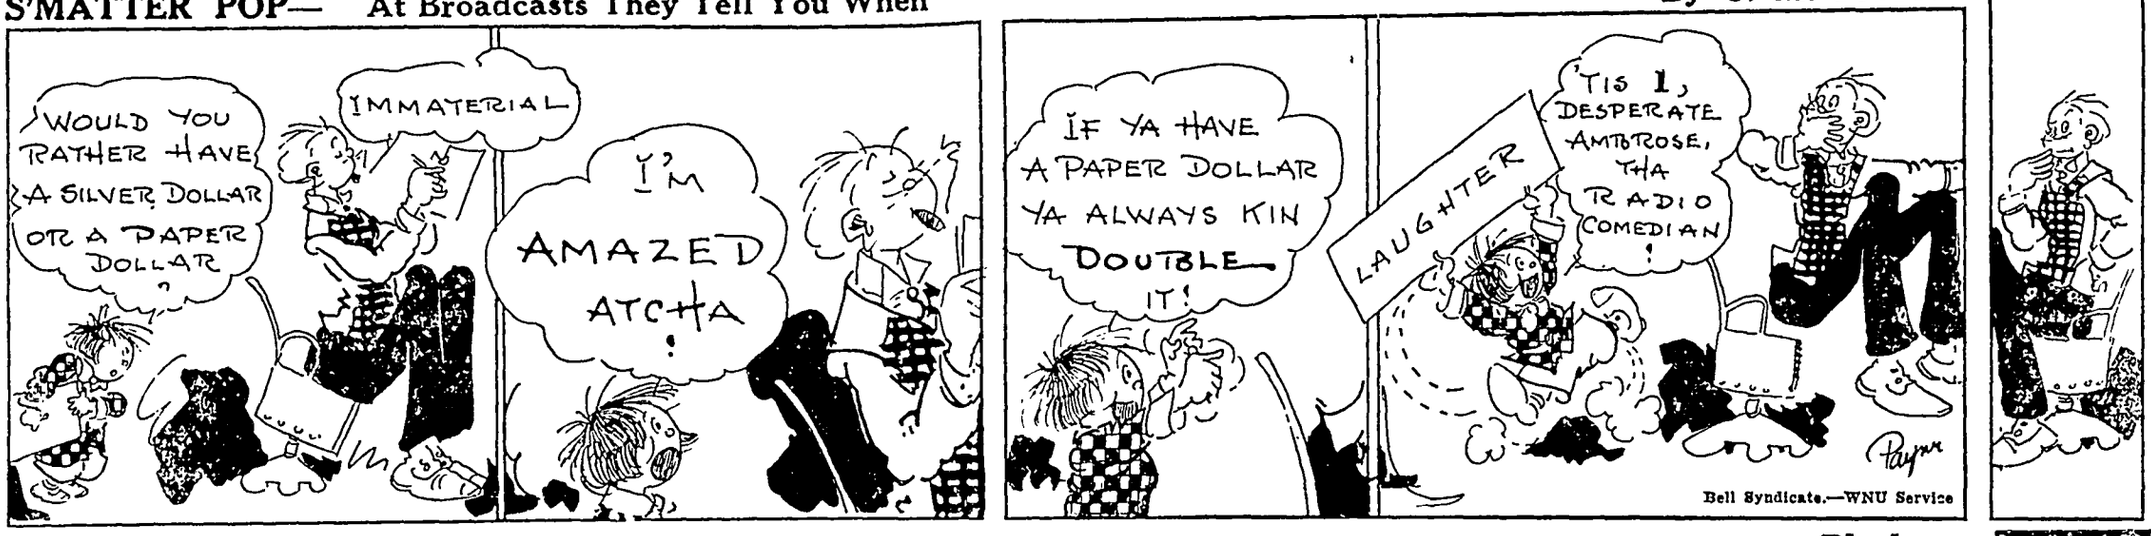
EXIT
RUBE GOLDBERG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

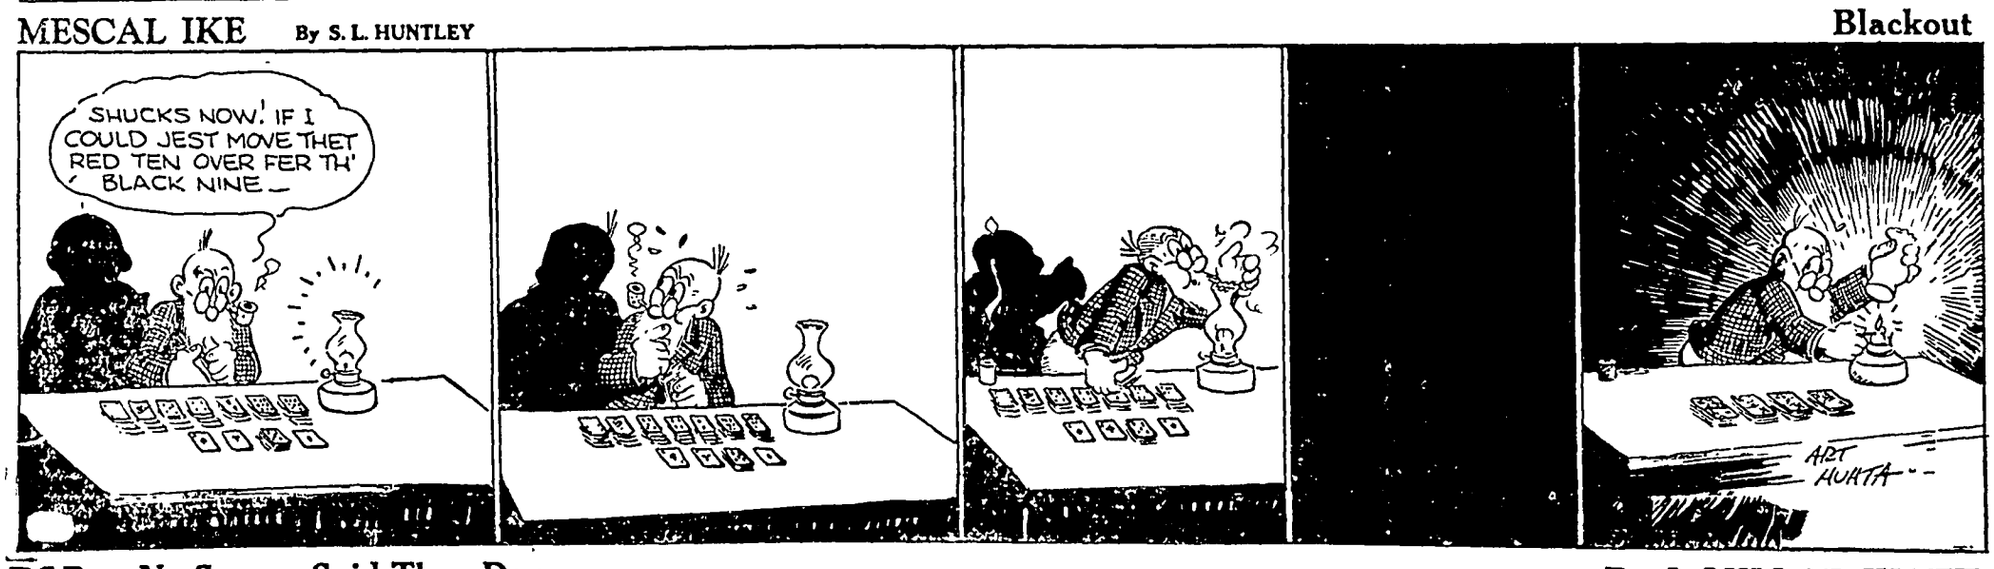
S'MATTER POP— At Broadcasts They Tell You When

By C. M. PAYNE



WOULD YOU RATHER HAVE A SILVER DOLLAR OR A PAPER DOLLAR ?
IMMATERIAL
I'M AMAZED ATCHA !
IF YA HAVE A PAPER DOLLAR YA ALWAYS KIN DOUBLE IT!
LAUGHTER
'TIS I, DESPERATE AMBROSE, THA RADIO COMEDIAN !
Payne
Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service

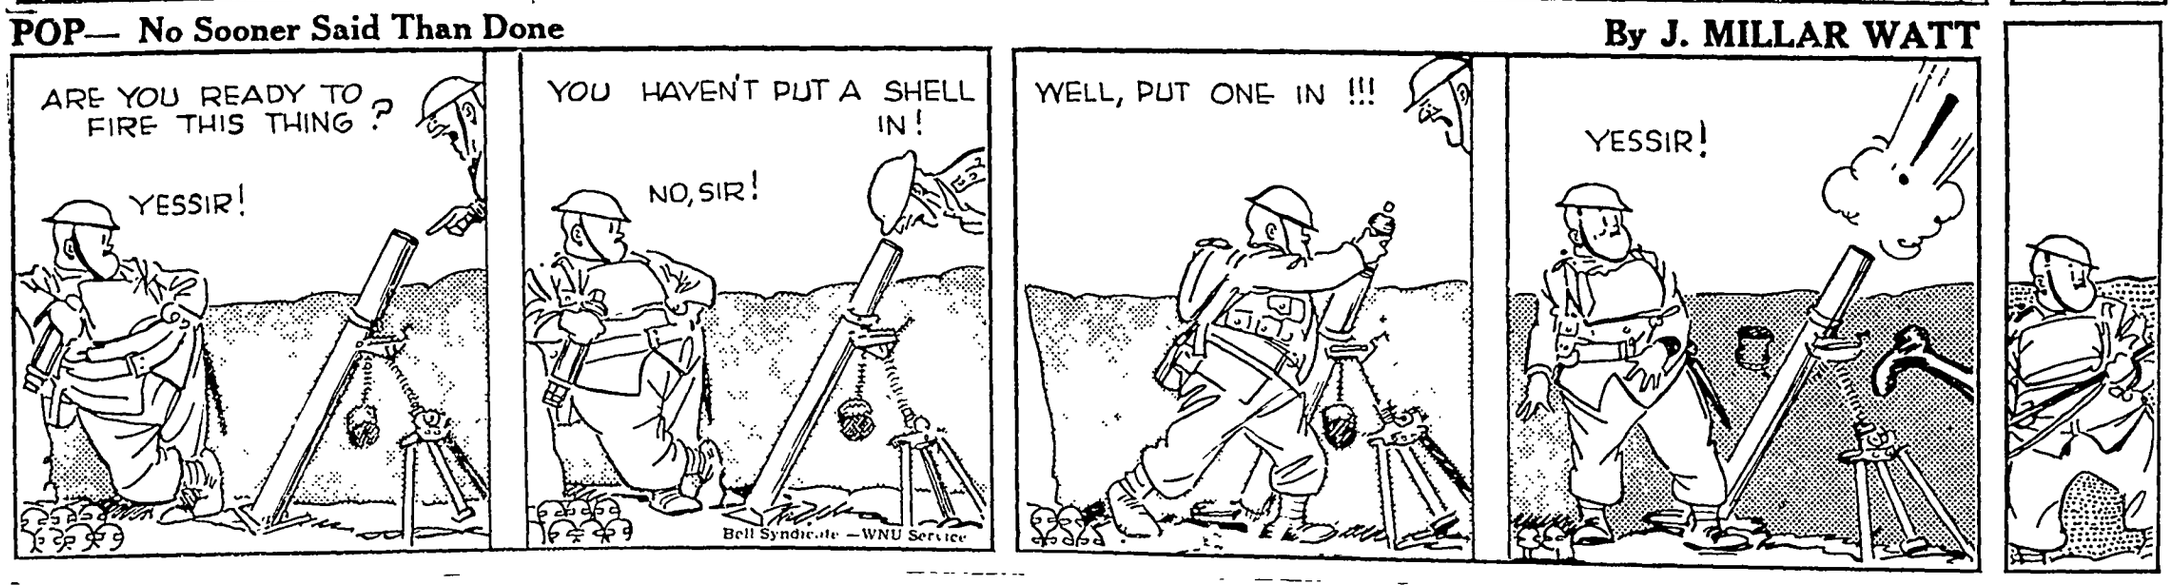
MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY



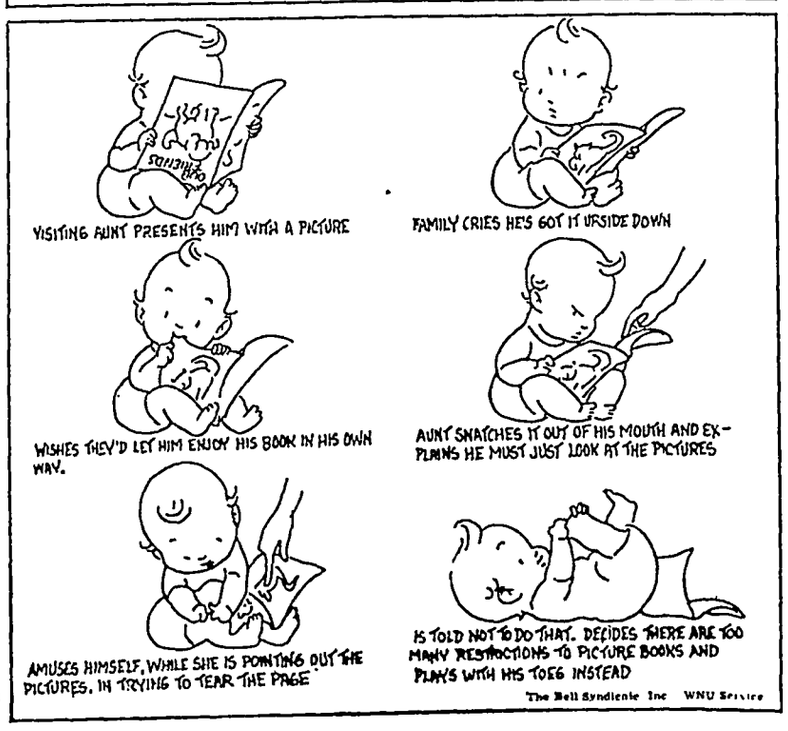
Blackout

POP— No Sooner Said Than Done

By J. MILLAR WATT



PICTURES By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



VISITING AUNT PRESENTS HIM WITH A PICTURE
FAMILY CRIES HE'S GOT IT URSIDE DOWN
WISHES THEY'D LET HIM ENJOY HIS BOOK IN HIS OWN WAY.
AUNT SNATCHES IT OUT OF HIS MOUTH AND EXPLAINS HE MUST JUST LOOK AT THE PICTURES
AMUSES HIMSELF, WHILE SHE IS POINTING OUT THE PICTURES. IN TRYING TO TEAR THE PAGE
IS TOLD NOT TO DO THAT. DECIDES THERE ARE TOO MANY RESTRICTIONS TO PICTURE BOOKS AND PLAYS WITH HIS TOES INSTEAD
The Bell Syndicate Inc WNU Service

A PILL'S A PILL

Old Lady (to druggist)—I want a bottle of canine pills.

Druggist—What's the matter with the dog?

Lady—I'll have you understand my husband is a perfect gentleman.

The druggist, in a profound silence, put up some quinine pills.

But Money Buys

Professor—I tell you that knowledge is power.

Student—Not any more, professor. A low-browed pugilist can make more in a single fight than a college professor can make in a year.

Understanding

Mrs. Peck—She's very pretty, but she never says a word. I can't imagine why all the men are in love with her.

Mr. Peck—I can.

Writers' Cramp

Tommy—Dad, what is meant by "writers' cramp"?

Dad—It's being cramped for money, my son. All writers suffer from i'

THE SPORTING THING By LANG ARMSTRONG

He's been reading one of them Chamber of Commerce circulars again

Booklets in Loose Leaf Ring Binders

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

WHENEVER I make a trip to New England I like to bring back something to remind me that there have been about 15 generations of homemakers in America since John Alden and Priscilla set up housekeeping in Plymouth colony. This time my treasure was the pair of ancient flat irons you see here in use as book ends for my work-room library of loose leaf binders. Setting them up reminded me that I have been wanting to show you my method of fastening booklets in ring binders.

I use ¾-inch wide gummed tape. Pieces 2½-inches long are folded in half. The fold end is stuck together and punched. These tabs are placed on the rings of the binder and booklet stuck between the open ends. We are inveterate booklet collectors on all sorts of subjects. Frequently we cover binders with fabrics or interesting papers so they look attractive on the shelves in any room.

* * *

NOTE: Here is a good suggestion for keeping the series of sewing booklets which Mrs. Spears has prepared for her readers. There are five booklets available and a new one is published every other month. No. 5 contains directions for 30 different homemaking ideas, including new fall curtains, useful holiday gifts, and description of the other booklets in the series. When you write for your copy of Book 5 be sure to enclose 10c to cover cost and mailing. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for Book 5.

Name .....

Address .....

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIR

REPAIRS For Your STOVE FURNACE or

Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All

Have Your Dealer Order from Us

DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COMPANY

Hasten Slowly

Hasten slowly, and without losing heart put your work twenty times upon the anvil.—Boileau.

INDIGESTION

may affect the Heart

Gas trapped in the stomach or gullet may act like a hair-trigger on the heart. At the first sign of distress smart men and women depend on Bell-ans to set gas free. No laxative but made of the fast acting medicines known for acid indigestion. If FIRST DOSE doesn't prove Bell-ans better return bottle to us and receive DOUBLE Money Back.

Effects of Praise

Praise makes good men better and bad men worse.—Thomas Fuller.

ADVISES YOUNG GIRLS ENTERING WOMANHOOD

Thousands of young girls entering womanhood have found a "real friend" in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help them go "smiling thru" restless, moody, nervous spells, relieve cramps, headache, backache and embarrassing fainting spells due to functional irregularities. Famous for over 60 years. WORTH TRYING!

Co-operation

Heaven ne'er helps the men who will not act.—Sophocles.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use 666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH

"All the Traffic Would Bear"

● There was a time in America when there were no set prices. Each merchant charged what he thought "the traffic would bear." Advertising came to the rescue of the consumer. It led the way to the established prices you pay when you buy anything today.

Household News By Eleanor Howe

LET'S SWING INTO FALL
(See Recipes Below)

hree cheers! It's fall again! Now e time to perk up your home a to scan through Dame Fashion's s notes, and to dress up your e a bit with new and old-time rites each season comes we always its call by planning foods suit- for serving at that particular of the year. We try to rush ng by setting forth very crisp, and fresh vegetable salads. ughout the summer, when ap- es wane, cooling beverages and foods are most popular.

t with cooler weather that is at last, appetites pick and the family is more than y to discard their favorite light- heals for something more sub- tial that will provide new en- for school and fall activities.

ny of the foods we serve are e that your mother served, and mother before that time, but can give new flavor to them, and attractive ways of serving, a 1940 style.

* * *

tiny sprinkling of ginger over beef gives it a yummy flavor. at loaf may be baked in a ring and served with parsley po- balls in the center.

ur a bottle of gingerale over for baking, and baste occa- lly.

en using jelly or jam as a fill- or layer cake, spread each lay- ry thinly with soft or creamed r first. This keeps the jelly m from soaking into the cake.

you add a few drops of mint ct to whipped cream it makes licious topping for chocolate

Apple Pie.

up shortening up boiling water
cups flour
spoon salt
easpoon baking powder
5 tart apples (peeled and ced) up sugar
cinnamon or nutmeg
ce shortening in a warm bowl, oiling water over it and cream thoroughly with a fork. Place flour, salt and baking powder in flour sieve and sift gradually into the creamed shortening and water mixture. Mix ghly. Make up into a dough d chill.

nake apple pie, divide pastry, t and line pie plate with first Peel and slice the apples, ar- in alternate layers with sugar nnamon, or nutmeg. Top with and bake in a hot oven (450 s) for 10 minutes; then reduce eat to 350 degrees and bake imately 35 minutes longer. warm with a wedge of cheese.

Golden Carrot Ring.
(Serves 5-6)

ablespoon onion (minced) ablespoons butter
up soft bread crumbs
ggs (well beaten)
cups milk
ups raw carrots (grated) easpoon salt
h pepper

n the onion in the butter. Re- rom fire, and add crumbs. n a mixing bowl, and add ten eggs. Mix well. Add arrots, salt and pepper. Pour ll greased ring mold and a moderate oven (350 de- or about 40 minutes. Turn ated platter and serve im- ly.

Stuffed Ham Steak.
(Serves 5-6)

soft bread crumbs seeded raisins (chopped)
alnut meats (broken)
rown sugar
oon dry mustard utter (melted) slices smoked ham (½ inch loves ne the crumbs, raisins, ar, mustard, and butter to ressing. Place one slice of shallow baking pan, and ressing on the ham. Place slice of ham on top. Stick ves into the fat. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) for about 1 hour

Dutch Cream Cookies.
(Makes 4 dozen)

½ cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
¼ cup sour cream
¼ teaspoon soda
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon lemon extract

Cream butter and add sugar. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Dissolve soda in cream and add to mixture. Add flour to make a dough which can be easily handled. Chill over night. When firm, slice into thin slices. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 10 to 12 minutes.

Date Butterscotch Pudding.
(Serves 5-6)

2 cups brown sugar (light)
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1 egg
3 tablespoons butter
½ cup dates (chopped)

Combine brown sugar, cornstarch, salt, and cold water. Add boiling water and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from range and pour over slightly beaten egg. Cook about a minute longer. Add butter and dates Pour into sherbet glasses and chill before serving. Serve plain or garnished with whipped cream.

Cinnamon Apple Salad.
(Serves 5)

2 cups granulated sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1½ cups water
Red vegetable coloring
5 medium sized apples (peeled and cored)

Bring sugar, cinnamon, and water to the boiling point and add sufficient vegetable coloring to tint mixture bright red color. Drop apples (peeled and cored) into boiling syrup and cook until apples are tender but firm. Remove and chill.

Serve on bed of water cress and fill core of apple with diced celery and chopped nuts. Serve with roquefort dressing.

Scrambled Eggs and Mushrooms.
(Serves 5)

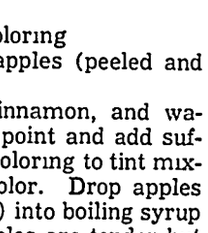
2 tablespoons butter
6 eggs (slightly beaten)
½ cup milk or mushroom liquor
1 cup canned mushrooms (sliced)
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

Heat butter in frying pan over low burner. Combine eggs, milk or mushroom liquor, sliced mushrooms and seasonings, and pour into frying pan. As mixture cooks, stir with a spatula, forming creamy flakes. Cook for about 5 minutes, or until eggs are firm but tender.

Bacon Baked Spaghetti.
(Serves 6-8)

½ package spaghetti
6 slices bacon
⅓ cup raw onion (cut fine)
2½ cups tomatoes
1 cup cheese (grated)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Boil spaghetti until tender in boiling salted water. Drain. Cut bacon in small pieces and fry until light brown in color. Butter casserole, and place alternate layers of spaghetti, bacon, onion, tomatoes, and cheese in the casserole. Season each layer with salt and pepper, cover top layer with grated cheese and dot with butter. Bake approximately 30 minutes in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees).



Household Hints.

Have you ever stopped to realize that every single one of us includes several hundred ordinary, homely household tasks in our daily routine?

Miss Howe has just given you a few of her time-savers and hints; but she also wants to share her favorite home-making trade secrets with you. All you have to do is write to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, for her book, "Household Hints," and enclose 10 cents in coin.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for October 20

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission

THE MESSAGE OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

LESSON TEXT—Luke 3 3, 8-17, 21 22.
GOLDEN TEXT—Bring forth, therefore fruits worthy of repentence.—Luke 3 8.

Four centuries of silence! God made a loving appeal to His people through Malachi, the prophet (see lesson of June 23), but they failed to respond, and for about 400 years no prophet had appeared with an authoritative message from God. But now "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets" was ready in the "last days" to speak by "his Son" (Heb. 1·12).

Before the Lord should come, however, the prophet Isaiah (40 3-5) had declared that a voice was to come out of the wilderness to cry, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord" The great honor of that ministry did not fall upon the religious or political leaders mentioned in Luke 3:1, but "the word of God came unto John in the wilderness." When God calls a preacher, something vital and interesting is about to happen.

I. The Preacher—His Call and Character.

It is significant that the call of God for this ministry passed by the mighty of Rome, which was politically powerful, holding sway over the world of its day It is doubly significant that it passed by Jerusalem, the religious center of the Jewish nation. God was not looking for influence, prestige, or position. He was looking for a man, and He found him, though He had to seek him in the wilderness. Where is God's man for our day?

The character of John is revealed to us by Scripture as unique and rugged. He was a striking figure as he came suddenly out of the wilderness, but the outstanding qualification of John was that he was humble and obedient to God's will. Upon such a man the power of God may fall in all its fullness.

II. His Message—Its Nature and the Reaction (vv. 3, 8-14).

Repentance, as evidenced by baptism, this was John's word to his day. He did not grant them absolution from their sins, but in repentance they were to look forward to the cleansing from sin by the washing of the blood of Christ who was to come. John was the forerunner of Christ. His message of repentance was a preparation for the coming message of redemption.

The reaction of the people is expressed in the question, "What must we do?" Much more would be accomplished for Christ in our day if that were the response of people to the preaching of the truth. Instead of criticizing or commending the preacher, or the sermon, let us ask, "What shall I do about it?" and then let us do it.

The answer of John was that each one should, by his works, show the reality of his repentance in the details of his daily work and life. Of course, the all-important thing is that a man should believe in Christ, and by faith receive Him as Saviour, but that faith must show itself in daily living or it is meaningless, and, in fact, nonexistent. The world is full of those who need to answer our Lord's own question, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" (Luke 6 46).

III. His Ministry to Jesus—the Baptism and Heavenly Response (vv. 15-17, 21, 22).

The forthright honesty and the humility of John appeared in his immediate correction of the people's mistaken idea that he was the Christ. He made clear that his baptism with water, indicating their change of mind concerning sin, would only have real meaning as the coming One—his Lord and ours—would change their natures by the baptism of fire and of the Spirit.

Jesus, who knew no sin of which to repent, took the place of a penitent sinner and was baptized by John. Thus He, the sinless One, entered upon His public ministry and His work of redemption by taking the place of fallen humanity. What infinite grace and condescension!

As He prayed, after John had baptized Him, the heavens opened and the Holy Spirit, taking the form of the gentle dove, rested upon Him. God the Father spoke forth heaven's estimate of our Saviour; He was declared to be the "beloved Son" of God, in whom the Father was "well pleased."

This attestation of His divinity and recognition of His spotless life and character was for Him, but not for Him alone. It speaks to us, even as it has spoken to all men through the centuries, of the One who is Saviour and Lord. "He is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them. For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens" (Heb. 7:25, 26).

PATTERN SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT

PICTURE yourself in this suave, lovely afternoon frock with fluid, sculptured lines which make every step a poem! Your figure will look slim at the waist and hips and prettily rounded above the nice flat diaphragm! You can brighten the high neckline with a blazing gold necklace, or snowy pearls, or pin one of the extravagant new chatelaines at the point of the shoulder yoke!

This need not be just a pleasant imagining, because if you write at once for pattern No. 1209-B, you can have the dress easily finished before a week is up. In rayon jersey, flat crepe or thin wool, it will give a definite feeling of fall chic.

Barbara Bell Pattern No 1209-B is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38 Size 14 (32) requires, with long sleeves, 4⅛ yards of 39-inch material without nap, short sleeves, 3¾ yards Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Strange Facts

More Japs Here
Choice of Nationality
All Ways to 'Home'

¶ Contrary to the impression created by our numerous Chinatowns, Chinese laundries and chop suey restaurants, America has only half as many Chinese as Japanese residents. Incidentally, 20 per cent of the Chinese and 40 per cent of the Japanese are women.

¶ When a baby is born of a Turkish mother and a French father, while aboard a British ship in American territorial waters, his parents may claim for him any one of the four nationalities.

¶ The average-sized Atlantic coast oyster strains its food from about 18 gallons of water a day; a species of Mexican squash stores enough moisture at one time to keep itself alive for 15 years.

¶ Homing pigeons in the service of the United States army signal corps have not only been trained to fly as far as 60 miles in darkness, but also to locate their "home," or loft, when it is mounted on a truck and moved many miles every 24 hours.—Collier's.

Various Smiles

There are many kinds of smiles, each having a distinct character. Some announce goodness and sweetness, others betray sarcasm, bitterness, and pride; some soften the countenance by their languishing tenderness, others brighten by their spiritual vivacity.—Lavater.

Ask Me Another

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. What term is applied to two places on opposite sides of the earth?
2. During which war was the U. S. secret service established?
3. What is a misanthrope?
4. How long does something that is ephemeral last?
5. Which is nearest the center of the earth, the equator or the North pole?
6. The President of the United States may make treaties with other nations provided how many senators concur?
7. "Don't tread on me" was a slogan inscribed on what?

The Answers

1. Antipodes.
2. Civil war (July 2, 1864).
3. A hater of mankind.
4. One day.
5. The North pole. (The earth is slightly flattened at the pole.)
6. One half of senators present when treaty is considered.
7. Early American naval flags.

Easy Cutout Figures For Indoor Garden

IF YOU'RE one of those who loves flowers about throughout the year, you're sure to want these designs to make your indoor garden more attractive. Neat boxes concealed behind these cutout figures make charming flower pot holders which do away with the muss of indoor gardening.

These are easily constructed from plywood with a few nails or screws, and number Z8703, 15c, brings cutting guides for the entire group of figures shown, as well as for the boxes to hold your plants Directions, of course, are included Send orders to.

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired Pattern No..... .....
Name .....
Address .....

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

For Best Results—After putting water and soap into washing machine, let it run for a minute or two to dissolve soap before putting in clothes.

* * *

When sweeping a room open all the windows and sweep toward the center of the room. This prevents the dust from settling on the woodwork and the walls.

* * *

To make peanut butter spread easily, add a little boiling water, and then a speck of salt for better flavor. Mix until creamy with a fork. Add some chopped raisins to peanut butter and use as filling for Graham bread sandwiches for the children's lunches.

Always say KELLOGG'S before you say Corn Flakes

SWITCH TO SOMETHING YOU'LL LIKE!

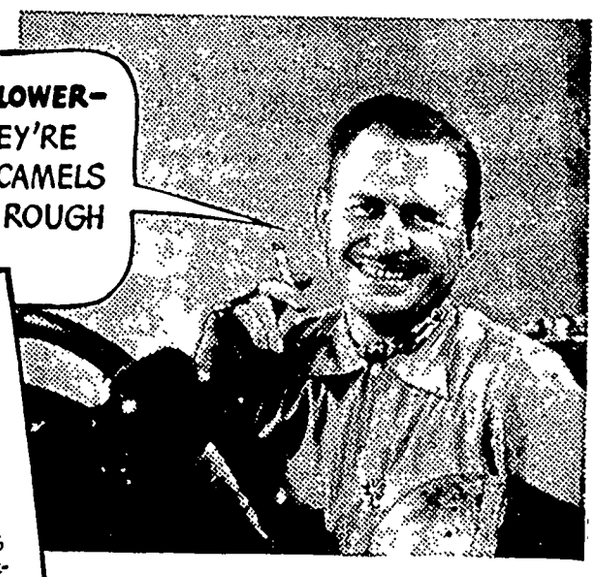
MADE BY KELLOGG'S IN BATTLE CREEK

Copr. 1940 by Kellogg Company

What Time Brings
Time is the nurse and breeder of all good.—Shakespeare.

Compressed Fury
Beware the fury of a patient man.—Dryden.

WILBUR SHAW—AUTO RACING CHAMPION



I SMOKE A LOT; SO I STICK TO THE SLOWER-BURNING BRAND—CAMELS. THEY'RE EXTRA MILD AND EXTRA COOL. CAMELS ALWAYS TASTE GOOD—GOOD THROUGH THE LAST EXTRA PUFF

EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR

● In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

GET THE "EXTRAS" WITH SLOWER-BURNING

CAMELS

THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Herman Heginger To W. H. and Leona V. Tanner, Wty Deed, 10-1-40, $1. W 5 ft. of Lot 5 and all of Lot 6, Blk 7, Orig town of Goodell.

Anton Christensen To Edward and Martin Christensen, Q C Deed, 5 13-39, $1. Lots 8 & 9, Blk 6, Orig. town of Woden.

Victoria A. and Martin Friedow To J E. Stille, Wty Deed, 9-4-40. $400. Lots 3 & 4, Blk 2, Gruetzmacher Bros. & Hanson's Sub-div. of Outlot 6, Klemme's 1st Add.

Mrs. Augusta Russ To J. W. Pollock, Q C Deed, 9-25-40, $1 Lot 1, Blk 5, West Side Add. to Corner, correction of deed Book 13, page 86.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

LORRETTA YOUNG AND MELVIN DOUGLAS STAR IN COMEDY AT AVERY

Lorretta Young and Melvin Douglas in a new comedy "He Stayed For Breakfast" coming to the Avery on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, Oct. 20-21-22. Deals with the experience of a Communist organizer in Paris whose flight from the police following his firing a bullet at a banker takes him to the apartment of the banker's wife under circumstances which impel her to shelter him for a number of days and nights during which time they fall in love with each other. His stay is complicated for both of them by visits from her husband, whom she is in the process of divorcing, and a newspaper publisher who has believed himself next in line.

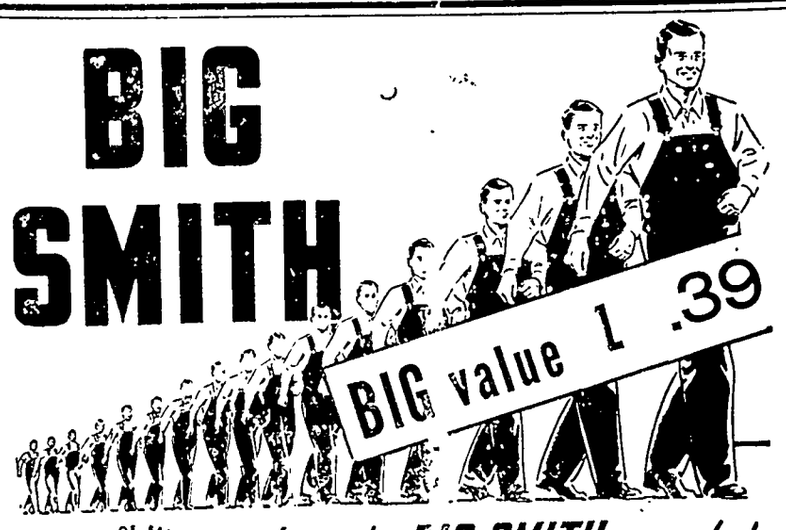
Closed?

The estate of Daniel P. Clapp, Tipton, which was closed 45 years ago, has been re-opened.

THADA'S
A Good Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

BIG SMITH



MADE OF FAMOUS CONE deeptone DENIM SANFORIZED SHRUNK

Join the BIG SMITH parade!

There's a swing these days to BIG SMITH because there's extra wear in every pair. Every modern utility and service feature has been built into these great overalls for your protection, comfort and appearance. It does not matter how tough your job is, BIG SMITH will give you a Big Boost. Famous for the way they fit!

OMAR wonder FLOUR
THE BREAD FLOUR SO GOOD IT WINS CAKE PRIZES
$1.69

(ask us how you can have 15c deducted from above price)

P&G AND WHITE NAPHTHA SOAP 7 bars 25c

PEAS, Large and Tender Fairmont Pack No. 2 cans, 2 for 19c

CORN, Cool Spring Brand Cream or Whole 2 No. 2 cans for 19c

OXYDOL Lg. size 21c Giant size 59c

DILL PICKELS Per quart at . . . 14c

SALMON, Pink 1 lb. cans, 2 for ... 31c

CAKE FLOUR Per pkg. 23c

BAKING POWDER, Calumet 1 lb. can .... 18c 6 oz. can for 07c

SCOURING POWDER Lighthouse Per can at 04c

THIS COUPON AND 5c
(Plus 5c Bottle Deposit)
Entitles You To A Quart Bottle of IOWA MIRACLE CLEANSER
WHEN PRESENTED AT Thada' Store

IOWA MIRACLE CLEANSER is unexcelled for use in the laundry, kitchen, bathroom, or sickroom. Iowa Miracle Cleanser is Concentrated, therefore insuring you maximum economy and efficiency.
BLEACHES — REMOVES STAIN — SOFTENS WATER

ATTENTION FARMERS—We carry a full line of the "Fairfield" Wonder Gloves and Mittens for husking corn. Make this your Glove and Mitten Headquarters!

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Gandma Schlawin enjoyed dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Griffen west of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer, of Mason City, were visitors at the R. A. Jogenson home, Sunday.

The Speer Cafe installed some new booths and other equipment the past week.

Marvin Stokesbary went to Garden City, Minnesota for a Sunday visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson were at Mason City on business Tuesday afternoon.

Henry Smid and family, of Hampton, came Saturday evening to spend Sunday in Klemme visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Galbreth were entertained to supper Saturday evening at the Rev. Galbreth home in Mason City.

Mr and Mrs. W. F. Pavey and Glenn Lewis were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pavey, Sunday.

Mrs C. A Arnold and Miss Minnie Lenz spent Friday in Mason City visiting at the home of Dr and Mrs. C B. Tice.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen and son, Junior, drove to Monona Sunday where they visited with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jost and Phyllis were at Carrol Sunday where they visited with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Marvin Isvik, of Cedar Rapids, came Monday to spend a few days in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen.

The Music Mothers club will meet this Wednesday evening at the school house with Mrs. J. C Thomas and Mrs. Paul Mueller as hostesses.

Miss Harriet Gibbs, who is employed at the Locke Studio at Mason City, spent Sunday visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Harry Gibbs southeast of Klemme.

Charlie Carlson left Tuesday morning for Wisconsin where he will visit with relatives: with Gus Carlson, James Carlson and Clarence Bredlow.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Bliss and nephew, Bruce Brown, all of Ames, came Sunday and visited over Monday at the E. J. Arnold and Mrs. C. A. Arnold homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schlawin and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schroer were dinner guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Henry Boland south of Klemme, Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. T M. Mitchell, of Swea City, and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes were entertained to dinner Sunday at the C. G. Waterman home.

Mrs. C. A. Arnold and Miss Minnie Lenz visited at the John Strate home and with other friends in Garner the other day. The Strates are leaving soon to spend the winter in California.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka entertained the Methodist ministers and their wives of this district at dinner Monday. The ministers held a business meeting in the afternoon.

Paul Stromer returned home Saturday from a Mason City hospital where he underwent a major operation. Paul is recuperating at his home in Liberty township and is making a satisfactory recovery.

The Klemme Auto Company sold and delivered several new cars to Klemme folks the past week. Those driving new Hudson cars are Henry Jost, Henry Lewis and Sam Larsen.

Quite a delegation of Klemme people drove to Goodell Thursday evening and enjoyed a fine chicken supper served by the ladies of the United Bretheran Church. The ladies served some over two hunderd and fifty people.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Wildman of Nevada, and Mrs. Esther Barstow of Ft. Dodge, were dinner guests at the R. R. Reece home Sunday. Mrs. Reece served a birthday dinner in honor of her mother, Mrs. Wildman.

Ralph Larson came home from the Hampton hospital Saturday and is recuperating from an appendix operation. Reports are that Ralph is making a good recovery but will not be able to any farm work for some time.

Harvey Ericson and family have enjoyed a visit from his sister and also his father who returned to their home in South Dakota Monday after a visit here. The Ericsons live in the tenant house on the Mrs. C. A. Arnold farm.

M. and Mrs. Everett Mendell, of Lincoln, Nebraska, came Sunday afternoon for a visit at the R. A. Jorgenson home in Klemme and at the Lyle Liebendorfer home in Mason City for a week. Mrs. Mendell is a sister of Mrs. Jorgenson and Mrs Liebendorfer.

Coach Glenn Bowles, of the Klemme high school, officiated a high school football game at Britt last Friday evening. Saturday morning he accompanied some Britt people to Iowa City where they took in the Iowa-Wisconsin football game.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Marshall and daughter, drove to Des Moines Saturday afternoon and took in the WHO Barn Dance Frolic broadcast in the evening. Sunday they spent the day sight-seeing around Des Moines and returned home Monday.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lawhorn drove to Arcadia to see Mr. and Mrs Meinchow and son. Mrs. Meinchow will be remembered in Klemme as Georgia Ford. Grandpa Freie stopped at Williams and spent the day at John Bruand's.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barz and family; Miss Viola Thieman; Mr. and Mrs. George Thieman; Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Neuhring and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Josten were all dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Fred Neuhring.

Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Anderson and daughter, Neva, returned last Thursday from an extensive trip east They visited the many places of interest at Washington, D. C and saw a great many places of historical interest around there They enjoyed their trip very much though the east and Colonial South.

Mrs. Herb Bailey of Klemme, and daughter, Miss Ruth of Ames, returned home Thursday from Rochester, Minnesota, where Mrs. Bailey recently underwent a major operation at the Mayo hospital. Miss Ruth remained with her mother at Rochester. Mrs. Bailey is making a good recovery at this time.

Bob Schneider, who has been working on a cattle farm in Missouri for the past five months, came home Saturday for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schneider. Bob left again Tuesday from Atlantic, Ia. taking a shipment of Angus cattle to Maryland. Bob may remain in Maryland as he has a position offered him there on a cattle farm near Worton, Maryland.

Strange discoveries about twins and their problems. One set had 23 cavities in their teeth, each in the same place, another pair acted, thought and dressed alike though separated, the old twin sisters who saw and heard each other, and the twin traffic cops who nearly drove the motorists crazy. Read all about them in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Herald-American.

RECORD

It would hardly be safe to be at the muzzle end of Bob McQueen's gun. The 15-year old Decorah boy has won 69 medals and other cups and trophies in the last two years. At every meet, he is the youngest contestant by about a decade.

RALPH C. LUDEKE
of Garner, Iowa

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR County AUDITOR
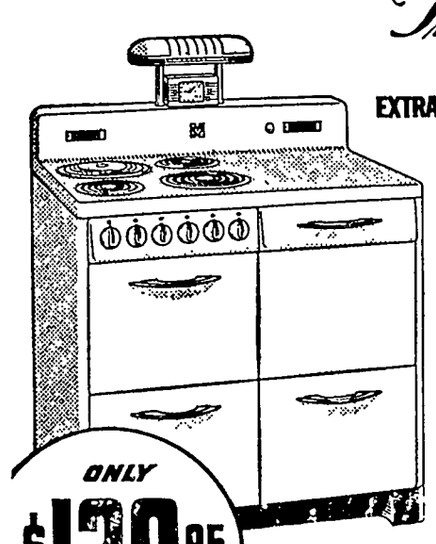
Your vote at the General Election, November 5, 1940, will be appreciated.

NEW ELECTRIC RANGE IS BIGGEST VALUE IN HOTPOINT HISTORY

The President ELECTRIC RANGE
EXTRA VALUE Features at NO Extra Cost



AT LAST, you can have these top-quality range features at an amazingly low price!

- All-Porcelain finish, inside and out. Easy to clean.
- 3 Large Utility Drawers for pots and pans.
- All Purpose Oven with 5 Measured Heats.
- 3 New Calrod Surface Cooking Units (each with 5 Measured Heats).
- New 6-Quart Thrift Cooker with Flavor-Seal Lid.
- CLEAN as electric light.

ONLY $129.95 Not Including Timer F.O.B. CHICAGO

The President ELECTRIC RANGE

THE NEW Hotpoint ELECTRIC RANGE with Measured Heat

A Gift FOR YOU!
Banish Menu Cares Forever with this Remarkable New Hotpoint Menu-Maker
ACTUALLY plans your meals. Contains 32 balanced menu suggestions. Quick and easy to use.
LADIES: Tear out this ad, bring it to our store today, and get your Menu-Maker as a GIFT!

New CALROD Units Cook with Measured Heat
EACH unit provides 5 precisely Measured Heats. Cooks faster or slower as needed, but always economically. Coils are self-cleaning. New quickly removable reflector can be cleaned like a pie tin.

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY

Klemme Butter-
Used In Cooking School Recipes!

The Klemme Co-Operative Creamery wishes to take this means of thanking Ernest Lewis of the Lewis Radio Shop, the Shellane Gas Service, and Mrs. Mildred Rees, demonstrator, for using a product in their cooking school that is produced in this community and manufactured by us . . . we refer to KLEMME CREAMERY BUTTER, which was used in the recipes demonstrated by Mrs. Rees.
We know that BUTTER will not only make food taste a lot better, but it makes healthier boys and girls. Help yourself to more Butter! It will help you to better health!

Your Grocer Sells Klemme Creamery Butter . . . .

Klemme Co-Operative Creamery Company

PAUL MUELLER, Mgr. KLEMME, IOWA

THE KLEMME TIMES

UME 45 | KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 23, 1940. | NUMBER 21.

cock County Farm Bureau gram Outlined For Year

M COVERS MANY SES OF FARM AND URAL COMMUNITY LIFE

conomics Under The Direc- of Miss Ruth Willits

Hancock County Farm program is a long-time pro- requiring careful planning ar It has been based on s affecting the people liv- he farms and in rural com- and on information made by the Iowa State Col- e Experiment Station, and ted States Department of ure. The program involves; efficient management and tion of our agricultural s. (2) the economic dis- of farm products in order parity for the farmers prices he receives for his and the prices he pays gs he buys. (3) a county- me project. (4) boys and H club work and rural eople's group activities. (5) ity activities for the pro- of better community life ated to the development r rural-urbin relations. (6) tion activities for the de- nt of greater cooperation e effective group action.

ell-Balanced Program

hief aim is a well-balanced to promote the best in- f every farm home and ity. The educational phases program have always re- rimary emphasis. In carry- the educational activities nty farm bureau, in accord- th the state statute, has ed a cooperative relation- th the Iowa State College, United States Department culture through the Exten- ervice. The county farm has developed the required tion and has furnished a ial part of the necessary . Additional funds have rovided through county, Federal appropriations. The Bureau leaders have given r service Membership has en to all farmers and other in the county and the same n true of the various educa- ctivities.

Hancock county plan of r 1941 was developed by a committee consisting of leaders, committee chair- d other leaders in the coun- cted for this purpose. The n is flexible and can be d as emergencies arise. The n includes. County Agricult- anning committee work, soil and management plots, and meadow improvement nagement recommendations; nprovement test plots, small improvement development, demonstrations, top work- it trees, spray card service, rop disease control, weed and seed analysis service.

Many Different Projects

stock production projects tivities will include: follow- rk on swine improvement eetings on feeding, manage- cross breeding, swine and ion disease; beef cattle feed- eetings and tours; cow test- sociation work, dairy breed- hool, cream scoring, animal s and parasite meeting if ded and vaccination schools. cultural economics projects tivities will include, farm s management, presentation agricultural outlook material etings, assist the Farm Debt ry Committee and the Ten- urchase Committee and the tion Credit Association and her finance associations of rm Security Administration. the Livestock Marketing ittee in conducting tours, gs and so forth.

home economics project has been started and is Home hing II "Keeping The Home Well Furnished and Attractive" and is being conducted by Miss Ruth A. Willits, home demonstration agent Th elessons included with this project are· (1) Farm family and the world today (2) window treatment (3)solving home furnishing problems in rural homes (4) wall hangings and pictures (5) buying home furnishings up-to-date. Some of the sub-projects to be studied by the women are "Musical Moments from Latin America," Choric Reading training school, bird study meetings, cooperate with Christmas Seal sales in rural communities, and study means of securing adequate library service for rural people

Boys and Girls 4-H Clubs

The 4-H boys and girls in livestock clubs will enroll in baby beef, market pig, market litter, poultry, dairy, lamb, purebred sow and litter, purebred heifer, western lamb feeding, colt or corn clubs throughout the county Other activities of boys' clubs will be grain judging, judging of livestock demonstrations, conservation and fire preventation, and electricity.

The 4-H girls clubs of Hancock county will study "Clothing" as their major project with sub-subjects of music, health, conservation, courtesy and good grooming Some of the activities of the girls' clubs will be Rally Day, Fun Night, training schools for leaders and older club girls, county camp, health examinations, achievement days, style show, demonstrations and conservation.

A poultry management, feeding and marketing program will be set up with meetings over the county on the various phases of poultry and egg production.

Township farm bureaus will be assisted with programs and meetings. The Rural youth organizations will be assisted with their activities which include regular monthly meetings, district social meetings, camp, training schools, etc.

The newly organized young married couples group will study problems within their own fence lines such as production and management and discuss problems beyond their individual reach of state, national and international natures.

The program will of course include many community activities in cooperation with school, civic clubs, luncheon clubs, churches, etc, in an effort to get the principles and objectives of extensive education, farm bureau program and United States Department of Agricultural programs before the public.

Greiman Named On Draft Board

KLEMME FARMER NAMED TO SERVE ON THE COUNTY DRAFT BOARD

Ben F. Greiman, Liberty township farmer and Democratic candidate for Sheriff, has been named on the Hancock County Draft Board to succeed Gus O'Krueg who has resigned.

Homer Maylen, of Kanawha, was named to succeed Edmund Andregg, of Britt, who also has resigned.

Besides Greiman and Maylen, the other members of the Draft Board include W. W. Dirksen, Frank Senneff and Dr. G. A. Bemis.

The Board meets every day and serve without pay.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Stokesbary entertained the following guests Sunday· Her mother, Mrs. A. B. Peterson and daughter, Hulda, of Lake Mills, also a brother and his wife, Gordon Peterson and sons, Glenn from Iowa Falls, and Lyle from Cedar Rapids, and Ted Webner.

LET HIM TAKE IT!

George Kelch Will Reprent County In District Husking Contest

GEORGE KELCH, OF WESLEY, WINS COUNTY CORN HUSKING CONTEST

George Kelch, of Wesley, was the winner of the Hancock County corn husing contest held at Britt last Friday on the J. M. Townsend farm. Mr. Kelch picked a load of 2358 pounds of corn with a net weight of 2307 pounds. Deductions for gleanings and husks were taken for each load of corn The contest was conducted in co-operation with the Britt Commercial club who gave prizes to the first four placings.

Nine of the 13 huskers had no deductions at all from their loads for husks. Herman Bode, of Corwith, had the least deductions of gleanings, which was 11 pounds of gleanings or 33 pounds deductions.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN'S CLUB MET SAT. AT THE LOCAL COMMUNITY HALL

The Republican Women's club met Saturday, Oct 19, at the Legion-Community Hall in Klemme An estimated crowd of seventy persons attended the meeting

The County officers were introduced and responed with a few remarks Mr H. Knutson, of Mason City, was the guest speaker. Mrs. Frank Senneff, of Britt, showed colored pictures she had taken of Mr and Mrs. Wendell Willkie while at Iowa Falls a few weeks ago. Lunch was served by the Klemme club ladies.

Mrs. R. R. Reece is the local president.

Britt club ladies brought along a very attractive banner, which read, "No Third Term."

HALLOWEEN PARTY TO BE HELD AT METHODIST CHURCH IN KLEMME

Circle One of the Methodist Church W. S. C. S. invites the public to come to a real old-fashioned Halloween Party, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 29th, at the church basement. Come any time after seven-thirty and enter into the fun of such a party. Bring along a few nickels and pennies to enjoy the various games and refreshments. Don't forget the date, Oct. 29, the GHOSTS will be waiting to greet you!

Bob Schneider left Sunday for Atlantic, Iowa, from which point he left Mnoday morning for the state of Maryland. Bob was taking a herd of pure bred cattle to a farm in Maryland. He has a position there and may remain in the east. Mr. and Mrs. Schneider took him as far as Ames where he took a bus for Atlantic.

OPEN SEASON ON DUCKS GOT OFF TO A GOOD START HERE WEDNESDAY

The first day of the open season on ducks, got off to a good start here Wednesday morning when many local hunters took to ponds and streams for early morning shooting.

Most hunters reported that ponds afforded good shooting and altho but a few reported shooting their limit, most hunters were able to bag several ducks.

Shooting was reported better in ponds and along streams than hunting at Clear Lake, East Twin Lake and Eagle Lake.

GARNER WOMAN HOSTESS TO REPUBLICAN LEADERS FRIDAY

Mrs. W. S. Pritchard, of Garner, was hostess at a dinner Friday for the Committee Women and Republican Presidents and Secretaries of the county organization, at a one o'clock luncheon at her home Friday.

About forty ladies attended and plans were presented for the work ahead in the closing weeks of the campaign.

Mrs. R. R. Reece, Mrs. Emil Patet and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson were representatives for Ell township.

Methodist Circle Met Thursday At Thomas Home

Circle Three of the Women's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. J. C. Thomas Thursday afternoon for a social time. Mrs. Gerald Koerner was elected President of this Circle and Mrs. Cecil Bridges is the Secretary and Treasurer. A nice lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting of Circle Three will be held at the country home of Mrs. Wm. Ax on Nov. 21st.

J. T. BIRTHDAY CLUB MET FRIDAY

The Monthly Birthday club met at the home of Mrs. Harvey Barz on Friday afternoon. Miss Elaine Buntenbach was a guest. Mrs. R. R. Reece won high prize and Mrs. Cecil Bridges second high. A nice lunch was served following the games.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lauen are the proud parents of a nine and one-half pound baby boy, born on Thursday, October 17th. Mother and baby are at the home of Mrs. Herman Paul and are doing nicely.

County Treasurer McMillin Gives Report Of Year's Business

He Stands for Peace

This is how Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, looked in 1917 when he volunteered for service as a private in the army one month after the United States declared war. After four months of intensive training he was commissioned a lieutenant, then spent a year in training camps in this country and served several months under fire in France.

Having first-hand knowledge of the horrors of war, Mr. Willkie has made this solemn pledge to the American people:

"If you elect me president I give you my word of honor I will never send an American boy to the shambles of the trenches of a European war."

More Jobs, Less Taxes Is Willkie's Pledge

"It is absolutely impossible," Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, declares, "for a government to go on supporting a growing number of unemployed. Somebody has to pay the bill. And that bill is going to be paid by those who have jobs.

"The average income per individual in the United States last year was only $540. The average tax paid per individual was $110. One-fifth of our national income goes for taxes. And the biggest item on the tax bill, aside from defense, is relief for the unemployed. Taxes don't anywhere near cover it. So the New Deal borrows the money.

"In seven and one-half years it has borrowed $22,000,000,000. This can't go on indefinitely. The one and only remedy for this increasing public debt is jobs.

"Now what makes jobs? Business makes jobs. Little business, big business, corporations, partnerships and small companies. Under our system if we are going to have jobs we have got to have employment Measured by the standard of our growth (1900 to 1929) we are short about 700,000 enterprises, short 700,000 employers"

"The New Deal has helped make unemployment by picking on business. Under the New Deal the employer who puts up money to make a profit has been in the dog-house I am not interested in profits as such. I am not interested in employers as such. But I am interested in both employers and profits as a means of making jobs for those who are unemployed, better jobs for those employed"

On High Authority

A Democratic candidate for President, in an address delivered in New York on Nov. 3, 1932, said something which can hardly be improved upon as an answer to the New Deal's prize argument for the third term "A great man," he declared, "left a watchword that we can well repeat — 'There is no indispensable man'." The "great man" referred was Woodrow Wilson and the speaker was Franklin D. Roosevelt!

COUNTY AUXILIARY MEETS HERE FRIDAY

The Klemme unit of the Auxiliary will entertained all the other Auxiliary units of the county at the Legion-Community Hall at Klemme, on October 25th. The meeting is called for 2 p. m. Lunch will be served.

Harry Braymen, Coin, received a broken jaw when he was kicked by a colt.

HANCOCK COUNTY SHOWS GOOD RECORD FOR YEAR

Roy L. McMillin, Co. Treasurer, Gives The Following Information

Over 90 per cent of the 1939 taxes show paid before October 1, 1940.

Our total tax to collect for the year amount to $599,299.91; Collections to October 1st, $539,436.40; Delinquent taxes collected, $7,328.39, Drainage Assessments collected, $36,902.37, Penalty and Interest, $1,045 26.

Automobile and Truck License fees, $81,287.95, and Fees to County on License plates, $2,130.00.

We show outstanding Bonds as follows: Primary Road Bond account payable out of Gasoline Tax, $120,000.00, and Bonds Issued by County on Poor Fund, $9,000.00.

The collections to date are a little above those of last year and with the October collections it will boost the total to near 93 per cent. The taxes that are not paid before November 15 are published on the tax list for sale December 2nd.

The Automobile plates for the year 1941 have been delivered to the office Color is black on white background. They have also sent us the new registrations for 1941. These are being written in advance for the first time so that when you come in for your new plates all we do is put the number and the date on the registration and collect the fee, in this way you get better service and save chance of errors.

The Gasoline Tar received from the State department for Tax on Gasoline sold in Hancock County to October 1, 1940 amounts to $48,618.30. This amount is credited to the Road Construction Fund.

The Permanent School Fund shows a balance of near $15,000.

This money is available for farm loans up to 50 per cent of the appraised value of the land. The rate is 4½ per cent.

The report from the State Auditor's office has just been received by the County Treasurer. They report the following:

Total receipts to be accounted for by County Treasurer for year 1939, $1,251,569.62.

Total NET cost of County Treasurer's office including the Automobile department for year 1939, $2,509.66.

Converted.

Elmer and Art Torgerson, of near Madrid, had practically forgotten all about an umbella missed three years ago. Recently a man from Missouri, accompanied by a minister, called on them, telling them he had stolen the umbrella, and was determined to pay for it. As a compromise, the money was given by the Torgersons to the minister to be used in some good purpose, and everyone was satisfied.

-oOo-

No Fire.

A passerby thought the Frank Wright home, Monticello, was on fire. The fire department was called, but nothing exciting happened. Mrs. Wright reported, "I knew the house was full of smoke all the time, I didn't like the smell of some musty clothes, so I decided to fumigate."

-oOo-

Poor Investment.

Ralph Lahey, Monticello, had no time to "realize anything on his investment" of $22 recently. Shortly after he had taken possession of a calf bought at a sale. It broke loose and was killed by a car.

-oOo-

Confederate.

A hat was found on the lawn of the Hampton jail yard following a recent jail break. Believing the hat to belong to an accomplice of the jail breaker, the owner of the hat was sought. At the same time, the Methodist conference as taking place. Rev. E. C. Allen, formerly of Central City, reported a hat lost. Yes, it was the same hat.

Intensive Preparations by Army Insure Proper Accommodations for Conscripts

By FRANK M. DAVIS
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Adequacy in the provision of shelter, hospital, and sanitation facilities is the keynote in army preparations for the induction of selectees made available for military service by the Burke-Wadsworth Act.

Both the National Guard and the selective service inductees will be brought into the federal service by increments, in order that full preparations may be made prior to their induction. By the time any particular group is brought in, all necessary construction will have been completed and adequate facilities provided to insure healthful and comfortable living conditions.

This principle will apply particularly in regard to clothing and hospital equipment. The present War Department procurement objectives will also insure a sufficient amount of material so that the training of the new troops can be conducted on the latest and most modern equipment.

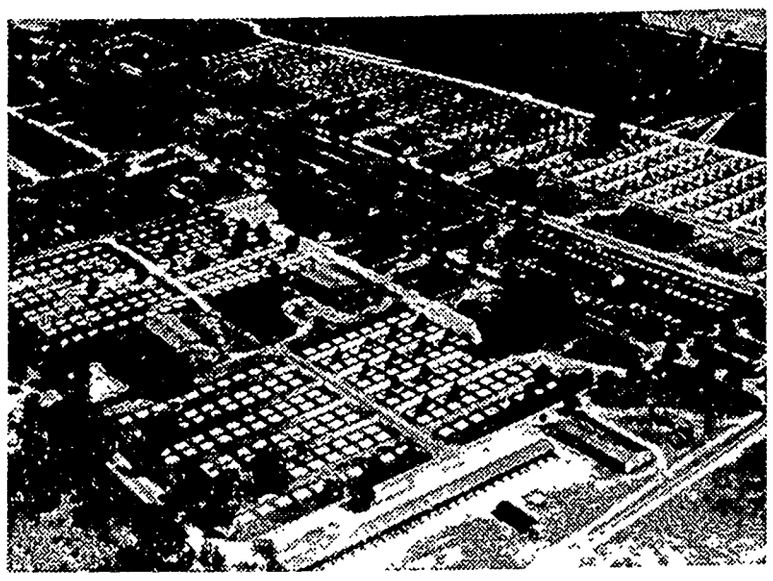
The selective service system of mobilizing the manpower of the nation in case of an emergency has been a subject of continuous study since the last war. The idea of selective service which was put into effect at that time proved to be sound, and since then all plans have been devoted to smoothing out the wrinkles and making minor improvements in the system.

The procurement of the manpower authorized by the Burke-Wadsworth act is under the control of the director of selective service appointed by the President. The director has established a national headquarters and works through the governors of the states, who have appointed local boards composed of civilians—one board for approximately every 30,000 people. These local boards are charged primarily with the classification and examination of registrants as to availability for service. It is felt that members of such boards who are familiar with local conditions, who, in fact, are neighbors of the registrants, are much better qualified than any other agency to classify and judge the individuals who should be selected as the representatives of their communities in the army. The knowledge which the members of these boards have of each individual's status as to dependents, his work or profession, and his health, will go far toward insuring a fair and democratic operation of the system.

Army Requisitions States.

The army first exercises direct influence under the selective service act in requisitioning the various states for quotas of men to fill necessary military requirements as determined by the war department.

When a local board has been called upon by the state in which it is located to furnish a quota of selectees upon a certain date, the board will fill the quota by calling and assembling the necessary number of registrants in the order that their registration numbers are drawn by lot in Washington—provided, of course, that the men have been classified as available for immediate military service. The local board will give each man a physical examination and will accept for immediate service only those who are physically fit.



A typical army camp to which neophyte-soldiers may be assigned is Camp Dix, N. J., pictured above, which was a training base during the World war. Extensive construction work is being carried on in this and similar army camps throughout the country so that facilities for housing the conscripts will be adequate when the influx begins. Right—"C" Battery of the 68th Coast Artillery maneuver an anti-aircraft gun at Potsdam, N. Y. Conscripts will be instructed in the manipulation of such weapons under the army's training program.

First-class Private Vernon G. Fleury of the Seventeenth Signal Service company, Washington, D. C., samples the new "C" ration issued to the army for field service. It consists of vegetable and beef stew, which may be eaten either hot or cold, biscuits, sugar, and concentrated coffee.

Before they are assigned to army units, the selectees will go through a careful sorting and selecting process. During the World war, before the problem of sorting manpower was solved, considerable time and effort were wasted because men were not properly distributed among the units in accordance with their military qualifications. For instance, one division was disrupted as many as four times by the transfer of men of certain qualifications to other organizations. The confusion and loss of time caused by failure to sort out personnel before assignment during the last war has caused the attachment of considerable importance to this phase of induction at the present time. Under the selective service act, a heterogeneous assortment of manpower will be received by the army. The accomplishment of the sorting process before the assignment of the men to organizations will lift a great burden from the tactical units which are concerned primarily with training. Consequently, the local board will send the group of selectees it has assembled, not to an army training camp, but to an induction station.

Induction Stations Important.

The basic purpose of an induction station is to give a detailed physical examination to the selectees; formally induct them into the military service, and then pass them on to the reception center. The induction stations will perform functions similar to those of the ordinary recruiting stations, and they will be so located as to expedite the processing of the selectees. Approximately 100 of these stations are distributed throughout the United States. It is planned to pass the selectees through the induction stations and on to the reception centers the same day that they arrive. If they arrive late in the afternoon, they will be kept overnight. If the induction station is located in a city, they will be cared for either at the station, or will be lodged in armories or hotels. If any of the men are found to be disqualified by physical defects at the thorough examination which will be given at the induction station, they will be furnished transportation back to their home towns at that time.

When they arrive at the reception centers, the selectees will have their first real contacts with the army. Their records will be completed, uniforms will be issued, an opportunity given to obtain government insurance policies, vaccinations and inoculations will be administered, and the men will be carefully sorted and classified for their first assignments in the army. Each man will be given a general classification test and will then be interviewed by an officer to determine the military duty to which he is best adapted. Information will be obtained as to the man's age, birthplace, home, parents, dependents, and education. It will be ascertained what foreign languages he speaks, if any; it will be determined what work he has done in civil life; and what previous military experience he may have had. If he appears to have been a trained specialist in some branch of a civil trade, that fact will be noted. He will be given an opportunity to express his choice in athletics, hobbies, and the nature of service he desires. This information will give a clear picture of the man's suitability for any particular military assignment.

Remain Three Days.

The selectees will remain at the reception center only long enough to be sorted and classified, which, it is anticipated, will require on an average, two or three days.

There are two possible systems by which the selectees might be trained by the already existing units. One would be to distribute them at once throughout the various small organizations; companies, batteries, etc., and have them absorb the fundamentals, working side by side with the older men. The other system would be to segregate them more or less under centralized control while they are put through the intensive period of training in the fundamentals under the supervision of specially qualified instructors. The war department has made a careful study of the matter particularly in the light of the developments of the present European war, and has decided that the latter method—that is, keeping them together until they are thoroughly trained in the fundamentals—is far superior.

Compared to School.

The training phases which these men will pass through might be compared to the grade school, high school, and college periods through which the majority of American youths pass. For 13 weeks after joining his organization, the selectee will—in a military sense—be in the grade school phase. The training he will receive is designed to harden him gradually without making severe physical demands at first, but developing eventually the ability to endure prolonged and arduous physical exertion. He will be taught to march, use his weapons, and care for himself and his means of transportation in the field. Tactical exercises will be limited to those of the platoon and company. At the end of this period, the selectee should be thoroughly versed in the fundamentals of the soldier and should be in prime physical condition.

The so-called high school phase will be devoted to battalion training, which will call for the combined use of the different weapons and equipment found in the battalion. It is only when the battalions are well-trained that the selectees will pass on to what has been spoken of as a college course and participate in regimental exercises and in maneuvers involving the co-ordinated use of the combined arms.

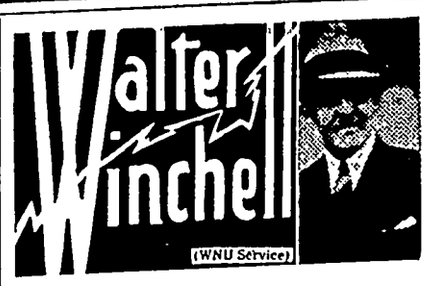
Not only is it intended to turn out well-trained soldiers, but it is expected to improve the men who come under army supervision, physically, mentally, and morally. Judging from past experience, the majority of the selectees will thrive on the army diet and they will enjoy working, playing, and living with men from all walks of life, who, like themselves, are known to be strong, healthy, and intelligent, while the well-regulated life which they will lead in the army will give them ideas of promptness, neatness and teamwork

Officers Attend Classification Course

WASHINGTON. — To insure the possibilities of a soldier conscripted into the United States army being assigned duties for which he is best qualified by previous experience, the war department is completing a special course conducted for 48 selected regular army and reserve officers.

The classification system will follow the soldier throughout his military service so that, when he returns to civil life, he may be more easily placed in a job suited to his abilities. Both the civil service commission and the United States employment service are co-operating.

The officers assembled for the classification course were already specialists in this work. They have now been distributed throughout the army to supervise all classification activities.



Things I Never Knew 'Til Now

(About K. Rockne & Football)

The reason most football players wear silk trousers is because it's hard for an opponent to get a grip on them. Twenty-five years ago, football was considered so "brutal" that the legislatures of half a dozen states passed a law making it a penal offense to play the game . . . "Old Siwash" isn't something the radio gagmen thought up—it's actually a college. (It's square monicker is Knox college, and it's in Galesburg, Ill.) . . . When Knute Rockne was captain of the Notre Dame football team, he invited his mother to see him play against University of Chicago. Rockne played more brilliantly than ever, making long runs and spectacular pass catches. After the game Knute proudly asked what she thought of the spectacle. "It was marvelous!" she said breathlessly. "That cheer-leader who turned the pinwheels was wonderful!"

As a tribute to Red Grange, the Illinois football team has never reissued his number, the famous "77," to any of its players . . . The winner of the Minnesota-Michigan game each year gets possession of a little brown jug which cost 18 cents! (Imagine 22 grown boys fighting over that!) . . . Will Rogers once kiddingly asked Rockne if he thought his son could make the "Fighting Irish" team if he went to Notre Dame. "No doubt he could," replied Rockne, "but he might have to change his name to Rogerski or Rogeoli."

South Bend, Indiana, the home of Notre Dame, is the only town in the country with a statue honoring a football player. The player honored isn't the great Knute Rockne, as you'd suppose, but George Gipp (his star pupil) . . . Rockne has a more practical memorial. Twenty-two head coaches around the nation are men who were taught their football A, B, Cs by him . . . Rockne's big ambition was to have his son, Knute Jr., follow in his footsteps. Last year, the lad became a candidate for halfback on the Notre Dame team. During a scrimmage, his leg was fractured and it's been so weakened that he may never be able to play football.

Rockne, who knew every trick in the book of psychology, could turn defeat into victory between halves in the locker room almost every time. During the first half of one game, the Notre Dame team played very poorly, and the half ended with a score of 7—0 in favor of their opponent. In the locker room, the Notre Dame lads burst into a cold sweat, fearing what Rockne would say. He said nothing during the entire rest period. When the second half was called, he got up and merely said, "Let's go, girls!"

Rockne, who played the flute, always insisted on taking the instrument with him to every Notre Dame game. (He had a superstition that it brought the team luck.) . . . The Navy mascot goat inherits the job, which is passed down from father to son . . . President Woodrow Wilson was once Princeton university's football coach. (He also coached at Wesleyan.)

K. R., who had a nimble wit, was at a loss for words only once in his life, according to Warren Brown. After the Southern California game in 1930, J. P. McEvoy, the humorist, and several newspaper men gathered in Rockne's dressing room and got into a discussion of art and literature with him. Rockne took exception to one of McEvoy's arguments. "That's just as silly as my setting out to imitate Mencken," said Rockne. "Can you imagine me trying to imitate Mencken?" . . . "Why, yes," replied McEvoy.

Notes of a Newsboy

America now realizes that the road to isolation ends where it always ends, with the enemy on your doorstep. Ironically, the only way to get into this kind of trouble is to run from it . . Czecho-Slovakia thought she had isolated herself from Austria . . . Poland thought she had isolated herself from Czecho-Slovakia . . . Norway thought she had isolated herself from Finland . . Holland thought she had isolated herself from Norway and Denmark . . But each had merely isolated herself from the help that would have saved her . . . European advocates of isolation today wear the medals of the dictators. Their own countries have disappeared.

The newsstand owner at 49th and Broadway with a sensayuma: He pinned an FDR button on Willkie's picture on Life's current cover—but right on Wendell's lapel! Irving Edelson, the cab driver, who dashed into a flaming building the other day and saved two colored children, will be honored by the mayor and police commissioner with The Valorous Deed Medal Comforting Thought: The world will never belong to the Axis—because each member of the Axis thinks the world belongs to him.

DRAFT QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—A bugle drives me nuts. Can I get exemption on account of I am allergic to brass musical instruments? Otto.

A.—No, but it may be possible to put you in some division where you can sit up all night and not have to be called at daybreak.

* * *

Q.—I am for an adequate defense. I believe conscription necessary. I love my country and am willing to fight for it. But I have always lived home and put everything up to my parents in any emergency. As I am not used to taking on responsibilities myself, could I send my father? J. K. K.

A.—You think of the darnedest things.

* * *

Q.—I have been working nights for the last four years and sleeping days. This has completely changed my habits. I can't keep awake any more by daylight. Unless this war is to be fought after dark what good will I be in the army? Anxious.

A.—You will be assigned to scout work in dark glasses.

* * *

Q.—I have as much courage as the next fellow and I would never fail my country in a pinch. The draft is all right, but what bothers me is that I do not look good except in a blue suit. Will there be any branch of the service where clothing colors are optional? Duke.

A.—You know how the Democrats are. A way will be found to make you happy. Maybe you can wear army pants and a dinner jacket.

* * *

Q.—I hate Hitler. I despise dictators. I am a 100 per cent American. The Western hemisphere must be protected. Roosevelt is my hero. We must show the world nobody can attack us. But I tried sleeping on a cot once and I can't do it. Where does this leave me when the draft call comes? Muggsy.

A.—Don't let it get you down. Modern war is so terrific nobody can sleep anyhow anywhere.

* * *

Q.—I am a young man 21 years old with no dependents. I am sure to be drafted. But I have been studying those pictures of army tents and I do not see any wall plugs for my radio. Must I buy one of those portables? Joe.

A.—It can be arranged to put you in a company which has a crooner for a top sergeant.

* * *

Q.—I reached my twenty-fifth birthday last week without ever going anywhere on my feet when I could do it in the old man's auto. As I understand it, the draft army may have to walk. I talked this over with my folks and my mother persuaded dad that he should let me take his auto to camp. But he refuses to pay for the gasoline any more. Can I have him arrested for obstructing the draft? Dutiful Son.

A.—You can settle this some way. How about asking mother to pay for the gas?

Q.—I am 32 years old and have been married six years to a woman who never stops talking. We have five children all of whom take after their mother. Her father and mother live with us, and an aunt who has dropped in for a two months' visit has brought her dog with her. Isn't there some way this draft can be speeded up? And if so, why must I first be examined to see if I come up to specifications? This is an emergency, both from my standpoint and the government's. Charlie.

A.—Protect yourself in the clinches and be patient. We wish you luck.

* * *

YOU CAN'T WIN

A man will have to be this fall
A creature of great craft;
For women, opportunists all,
Have Leap Year and the Draft!
—Nan Emanuel.

* * *

TO RENT—Cedarhurst. Wooded surroundings, six rooms, one and one-half baths. Franklin 1194.—New York Times.

Well, even the forest primeval doesn't make it any easier to use half a bathroom, does it?

* * *

BLESSED IGNORANCE

One sort of knowledge
Good to lack
Is what is said
Behind your back.
—Richard Armour

* * *

"Seven of the largest oil companies in Rumania were seized by the government. They were all operated on British or American capital. The government said it was not confiscating the properties and intended only to control them."—News item

Wanna bet?

GENER
HUGH JOHNS Says

Louis Ferari

Washington,
WAR PROFITEERIN
Very timely is Leon Hen warning to producers of raw als not to profiteer prices
Timely, too, is the Brookin tution's report on the same

One of the worst evils is flation. In 1914 to 1918 it i average American prices to cent of their pre-war level.
fect in human suffering is ing, and it does not cease guns or for many years.

For an example of only o lesser evils, compared with ing power of 1913 dollars, gering costs of the war to more than doubled by reason inflation alone. That means burden of that mountainous all our people was also doub greater evil is that starting high peak of war prices, there an abrupt and ruinous and gradual decline in values, pri wages back to about the pre-el. After the Napoleonic, C World wars that process, case, took 14 years.

Of course, any such pro simply a slow destruction of all values in a nation. Our p gyrations from flash-booms and continued depression w by-products of this massive re ment. It profoundly change gravely threatened both our e ic and political systems. Inde old threat is not yet remove new and similar menace appe

So much for the brief menti few of the terrible hang-over of war-time price inflation.
terbug joyride of the actual debauch, while it is going on, a feverish appearance of pros
—but it is prosperity for p few. Some wages go up with and some go up first, but them lag grievously. All peo pendent on fixed revenues—s salaries, pensions, interest ings and almost all wages—a real sufferers.

The most piteous of these are the families of soldiers front. All these people—and are by far the majority of u their cost of existence doub multiplied while their means it remains the same. It all a to a serious nationwide cut in salaries and income. This i tressing and hideously unfair produces an even more dan result for a warring nation.
stroys morale both at home among the soldiers at the fron poleon said that in war the ra the value of moral strength the physical as 3 to 1."

In most great wars this te force has been either little or inadequately handled. I World war, our war industries was presented with the proc rising prices too late to preve but it did halt it in its tracks later turned the trend down
That experience proved that w flation can be prevented and gested the only way to do it.

The Brooking's report adv
some methods and Leon Hend described others. The shortco of both parcels of suggestions is that they are theoretical, e mental and uncertain, and,
that they are aimed at only prices of certain commodity g or piecemeal price regulation can't be done that way.

There is only one way to d
job. That is, by fiat, to put a c over the whole price structure thereafter to permit increas particular cases only on a sho of necessity. That's what our war experience proved.

* * *

BLUFF AND APPEASEME

This comment column bos
when it touches foreign affair getting to be pretty tough. I be in total defense. I didn't rec begin to believe in that. I have preaching it since the day this umn started in predictions, a curate as any, of just why we going to need it and long befor government besturred itself to i ment its constantly growing ag sive attitude to make its fig words seem more than bluff.
body can justly call the five urging of this column "app ment."

The difference between that ing and what is going on tod that what I advocated was a ment to keep us out of war.
is a good deal of evidence—a is growing—that strong influenc this country and perhaps even government itself—regard this lated and, therefore, unplanned somewhat panicky armament ference as preparation for pa pation in war.

* * *

We are not ready for war or for adequate defense. I have for this reason, and many ot that we should not bluff ourselv far out on a limb of premature gression that we could not avoi ing further, and perhaps over brink without seeming either sil cowardly. But there has bee halt or delay in the march in direction. In the meantime, shrewdest, best financed, open shameless propaganda to go fu in that direction has increas both volume and tempo.

ttempts to Solve Farm Problems Are Older Than the Nation Itself; They Began in Philadelphia 155 Years Ago

LMO SCOTT WATSON
ed by Western Newspaper Union.)

CH matters as controlling the ravages of injurious insects and crop sites, prevention of soil on, control of animal diseases, improvement gricultural implements, nsion of crop rotation promotion of soil manent may seem to be tly modern farm prob. But, as a matter of they are as old as the ed States itself. More 155 years ago—even be- Washington's first inral—an agricultural so- was formed in Philadelto study and suggest the ion of these and other sing farm problems. And, ve it or not, that organon is still in existence!

is the Philadelphia Society romoting Agriculture, oldest organization in America. Its bers today continue to add to m of agricultural knowledge d its pioneer founders a cenand a half ago. The story e origin and development of society is one of the most roic chapters of agricultural ry.

th the Revolutionary war essfully concluded and the pendence of this country rec- ed by the nations of Europe, rs throughout the states exged their implements of war he plow. They endeavored to note a fondness for the pur- of peace which alone, they , would strengthen the young n.

e man who galvanized these into action for the progress American agriculture was e John Beale Bordley. To adelphia came Bordley aft- e war from Maryland, where had played a distinguished in the life of the colonies. adelphia was then the capital he new republic and as such the significance of Washingtoday Representative leadfrom all the states were there ing form the new governt. The city was a center which ideas might be ad throughout the land.

rdley had been judge of the iralty court in Baltimore, but up this post when the Revonary war broke out to dehimself to his farms. He rested himself in a variety of cultural pursuits—stock raisfruit growing, tobacco cul- and farm house construction. n the supplies of the Contial army grew scarce, he d his cattle and sent the beef Washington. He contributed ther ways to the success of Colonies. He carried on exments in agricultural pracs and became an apostle of cultural progress. He had the lts of his experiments printas broadsides and fastened e on trees where they might easily seen.

our Signers of Declaration.

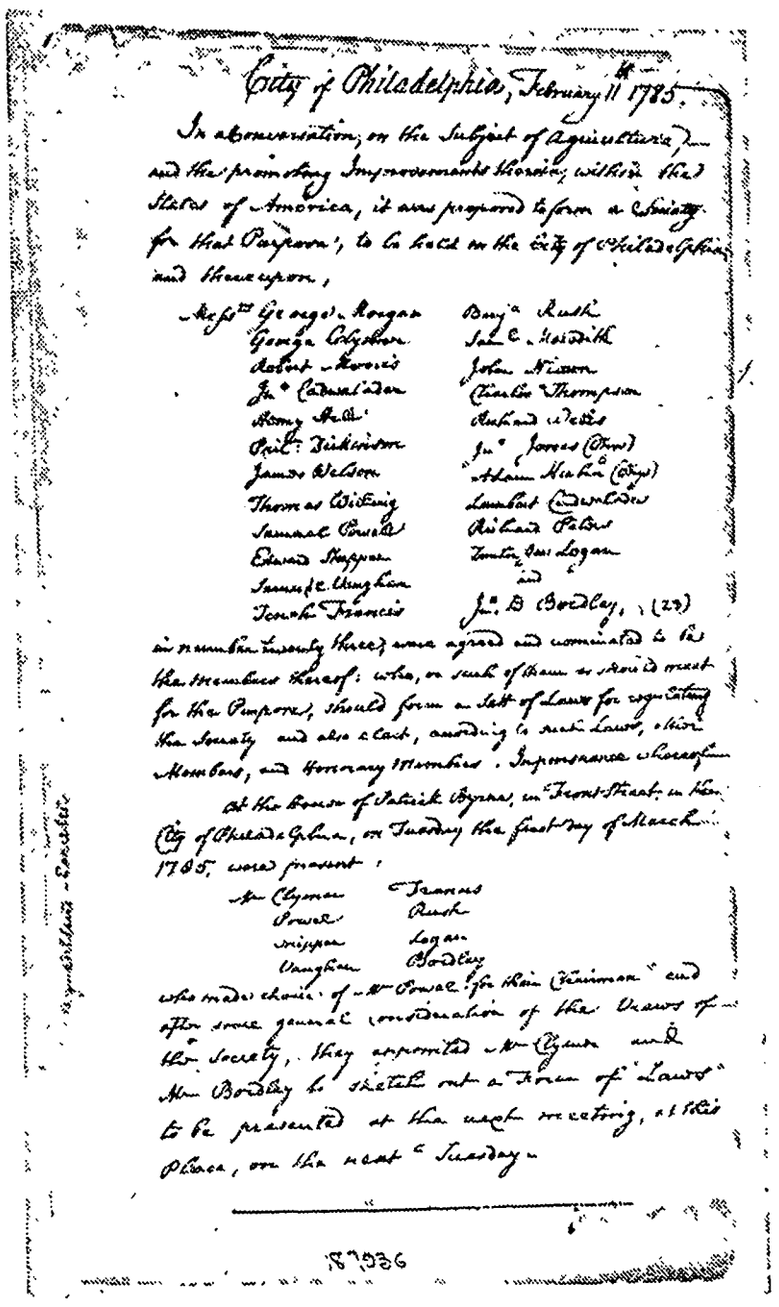
e associated himself with intial people in Philadelphia, ong whom he found many who red his views on the necessity increasmg the knowledge of iculture After discussing the ject with many of these men, called a meeting on February 1785 Twenty-three attended became charter members of Philadelphia Society for Proing Agriculture. Among these e four signers of the Declara- of Independence — Robert rris, James Wilson, Dr. Benin Rush and George Clymer. re were seven who had borne ns in the Revolution, including cers such as Gen. John Cadlader, Col. George Morgan and . John Nixon.

oon after the society's organiion, two weekly newspapers— ll and Seller's Gazette and mphrey's Mercury—a new pa- giving special attention to agultural matters—offered their operation by publishing artis on its meetings and activi-.

t one of the earliest meetings n March 22, 1785—the first conbution on an agricultural subt was offered. It consisted of letter from John Singleton of lbot, Md., to his old neighbor, . Bordley, about the chinch g and how to control it.

Sponsored Essay Contests.

Because of Judge Bordley's adnced age he declined any of- e in the society when the permanent organization was made. nce the group elected Samuel well as president, Tench Fran- as treasurer and Timothy ckering of Salem, Mass., secary of state in the national vernment, as secretary. Carter's hall became the regular meeting place.



First page of the No. 1 Minute Book of the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture, showing the names of the original 23 members.

The society's first major undertaking was the sponsoring of essay contests on agricultural subjects for which substantial prizes were awarded. First prize, in some instances, was a piece of plate valued at $200. Other prizes included gold and silver medals.

In the light of present-day agriculture, the subjects of these essays seem surprisingly current. Apparently they were pressing enough even then to merit special attention. One of them was "The best method of recovering worn-out fields to a hearty (healthy and productive) state within the power of the common farmer." Prophetic as was the vision of the pioneer agricultural leaders comprising the Philadelphia society, they could not foretell the damage which erosion and poor soil management were to inflict on future American farming.

JUDGE JOHN B. BORDLEY

Were these pioneer farm leaders alive today, they would more than ever preach the necessity for an ever-increasing program of soil conservation and fertilization that would put back into the land the vitally needed nitrogen, phosphorus and potash so wastefully drained away. They could take comfort in the fact, however, that the means of restoring fertility today are amazingly improved over what they were a century and a half ago. Practical results on millions of American farms have demonstrated that the intelligent use of fertilizer will increase crops and replenish the soil's depleted supply of plant food.

The campaign to promote soil conservation which the Philadelphia society sponsored so long ago has enlisted effective support from the United States department of agriculture, from soil scientists, teachers, experimental stations, county agents and fertilizer manufacturers who are constantly interpreting to farmers the latest discoveries concerning soil fertility.

As with soil improvement, the society encouraged and spurred the development of many other important projects. Among these were the improvement of transportation and communication so vital to the development of agricultural markets, through the building of roads and canals; encouragement of education in veterinary medicine; the holding of cattle shows and expositions; the development of experimental farms; and the introduction of lime and clover.

In 1786 John Bordley submitted plans and descriptions for a seed drill to plant wheat in clusters and clumps. About the same time the society gave serious consideration to the development of a threshing machine to replace trampling by horses and the use of a hand flail.

Discuss Experiment Farms.

In 1791 a project was proposed that would vitally influence the future progress of American agriculture. A Mr. DuPlaine offered his services in the "management and culture of a small farm for the sake of making experiments in husbandry." The society resolved that "Although they highly approve of the plan for an experimental farm, it would not be convenient at present to carry the same into execution." Today every state has its experimental farms and stations which provide the farmer with an ever-widening knowledge of the soil, of crops and their plant food needs.

Of outstanding eminence among early leaders of the society was Judge Richard Peters, who became president in 1805. The minute books of the organization's meetings in that year show that a new type of mold board for a plow, developed by Thomas Jefferson, was shown to the members. At the same time, Hoxie's auger for boring post holes, a crude threshing machine invented by Deneale, and Henry Clymer's harrow for Indian corn were discussed.

In the following year President Peters undertook a long series of contributions to the work of the society on the improvement of cattle. Later he presented papers on subjects ranging from Barbary sheep, obtained for him in northern Africa by General Eaton, to crop rotation and the natural succession in forests.

In the summer of 1822 the society sponsored the first of a series of cattle shows and agricultural exhibits which, in a way, might be called the forerunner of the modern International Livestock exposition in Chicago

Thus through the years has this unique organization functioned to help popularize new ideas for the betterment of American agriculture. There have, of course, been periods of inactivity and years for which no records are available, but by and large the group has succeeded in keeping alive the purposes of its founding fathers.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

"THE Howards of Virginia" has been released, and people are trying to concoct new bouquets to throw at it. One of New York's best film critics, Bosley Crowther, wrote, "Never, to our recollection, has the screen pictured in more magnificent detail the period of American history preceding and including the Revolution."

Even if American history doesn't mean much to you, you'll want to see the picture. Frank Lloyd has done a masterful job of directing, Martha Scott, Cary Grant, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and the rest of the cast give excellent performances, and the life of Colonial Virginia has been magnificently reproduced.

MARTHA SCOTT

There's an old saying in show business: "Always be kind to the property boy. He may be the boss tomorrow."

Edward Arnold, Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck and James Gleason were reminiscing on Frank Capra's "Meet John Doe" set at Warners'. Gleason told of starring 30 years ago in his father's company at the old Morosco and Burbank theaters. Then Capra joined the group, and reminded them that among the players in that company were Marjorie Rambeau, Lewis Stone and others still prominent.

"Did you ever see them?" asked Gleason, in surprise.

"I should say I did," laughed Capra. "I saw them every night. I used to sell newspapers to them."

The special effects department at Paramount could have been forgiven for going stark, staring mad recently when an order came in for a flock of sheep that "look like Jack Benny." The sheep were needed for a dream sequence in "Love Thy Neighbor," in which Fred Allen, Benny's mortal enemy, puts himself to sleep by counting sheep.

Allen insisted that finding the sheep should be easy. "All sheep look like Benny," he insisted, "Benny looks like a sheep anyway."

The sound man on Dorothy Lamour's "Moon Over Burma" had a problem too. He had to fake the sound of elephants crashing through a forest. It was simple enough to record the footsteps of Miss Lamour, Preston Foster, Robert Preston and a group of natives, but the four-ton pachyderms ran so quietly that the noise didn't register. However, movie audiences expect elephants to crash through jungles, so these are going to crash, even though it's done artificially.

For once the cast of a motion picture seems to be taking the title seriously. The title is "This Thing Called Love," and it's influencing Rosalind Russell, Binnie Barnes and Gloria Dickson.

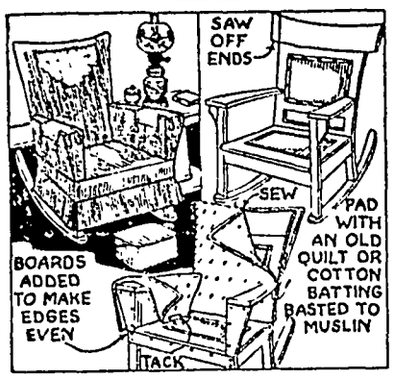
Three days after the picture had gone into production Miss Barnes announced her plan to marry Mike Frankovitch, radio commentator. Rumors circulated to the effect that Miss Dickson and her husband, Perc Westmore, would become reconciled. Nobody knows yet what will happen to Miss Russell, but just before the picture was begun she caught the bridal bouquet at her sister's wedding, and the day preceding that a fortune teller predicted that she'd be married within a year.

Ellery Queen, the famous detective of many books whose adventures have also made a successful radio series, is going to make his screen debut. He will be the hero of a series of pictures to be produced by Larry Darmour for Columbia Pictures. Ralph Bellamy has the title role

ODDS AND ENDS

Phyllis Hamilton, of Warners' "The Lady With Red Hair," in which the ladies wear costumes of the 90s, has solved the bustle problem—carries her knitting in hers . . . Warners' swapped Bette Davis to Samuel Goldwyn, for "The Little Foxes," in return for Gary Cooper, for "Sergeant York" . . Bing Crosby's brother Bob has his first film lead in RKO's "Malvina Swings It" Denver as it was 50 years ago has been recreated for Paramount's "The Roundup" . . . The cadets at Randolph Field, Texas, chose Veronica Lake as the girl they would prefer to be lost with on a stratosphere flight.

How to Slip-Cover Your Old Rocker



By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

ONE day there came a letter with a rough sketch of the old rocker at the upper right. The last line of the letter said, "I will remove the rockers if you say so, Mrs. Spears, but I would like to keep them." Well, why not? There is nothing smarter now than things Victorian. Old oil lamps with flowered globes are being wired for electricity so, why not redesign this rocker along simple lines? Cover it with plain rep in a nice shade of blue perhaps, and give it a matching foot stool and a hem stitched linen chair set all ked out in tassels?

ere is the result of that idea d the diagram shows all the ps that led up to it. Almost y old chair may be transformed a slip cover if a little work done first to build out or to saw off projections Padding is also portant, and open spaces under arms may be covered by stretching the padding tightly and tacking, as shown here

* * *

NOTE: Directions for making the footstool are in Sewing Book 3 The hemstitched chair set is in Book 4 All the steps in fitting and making slip covers are illustrated in Book 1 Booklets are 32 pages each, and will be sent to any address upon receipt of 10c to cover cost and mailing Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....
Address .....

Secret of Greatness

It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Ancient Grenadiers

The hand-grenade is a weapon at least 2,000 years old. The Chinese used them about 300 B. C. in fighting savage tribes of the south. These ancient grenades consisted of bamboo cylinders, filled with gunpowder and fragments of metal. They were hurled at the enemy and exploded on striking the ground, scattering destructive fragments.

Delicious energy builders...just heat and eat ...or serve cold...saves money...order, today, from your grocer.

Van Camp's Pork and BEANS
"Feast-for-the-Least"

Yet a Diamond

Better a diamond with a flaw than a pebble without one.—Chinese.

Top the Market
Balance your grain with
Green Top Mineralized Tankage
—the economy way to feed.
See your local feed dealer

General's Glory

The blood of the soldier makes the glory of the general.

The CURTIS HOTEL
MINNEAPOLIS
In Tune with Modern Times
Rooms with New conveniences and soft water private baths
One person - $2.00, $2.50, $3.00
Two persons - - $3.00 to $6.00
Excellent Cafes

Speech of Eyes

The eyes have one language everywhere.

GET VITAMINS YOU NEED...
AS YOU REFRESH YOURSELF!

Oranges can help you to feel your best

When you want refreshment, eat an orange! Or help yourself from the big family pitcher of fresh orangeade! "Hits the spot"! you'll say.

But that's not all. Oranges add needed vitamins and minerals to your diet. And fully half of our families, says the Department of Agriculture, do not get enough of these health essentials to feel their best!

The best way to be sure of getting all the vitamin C you normally need is to drink an 8-ounce glass of fresh orange juice with breakfast every morning. You also receive vitamins A, B1 and G and the minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron.

There's nothing else so delicious that's so good for you. So order a supply of Sunkist Oranges next time you buy groceries. They're the pick of California's finest oranges.

Copr., 1940, California Fruit Growers Exchange

Sunkist
CALIFORNIA ORANGES
Best for Juice—and Every use!

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Experiments at Iowa State College have shown that heifers coming with second calf increased 33 per cent in production when given a 6-week dry period, and 29 per cent when given a 2-month rest

L. W.
Wesenberg
of Goodell, Iowa

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR County
Supervisor
Term Beginning Jan. 1, 1942

RALPH C.
LUDEKE
of Garner, Iowa

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR County
AUDITOR
Your vote at the General Election, November 5, 1940, will be appreciated.

TYRONE POWER STARRED IN "BRIGHAM YOUNG" AT THE AVERY

In most motion pictures the plot is keyed to build up to one tremendous climax. Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Brigham Young," by Louis Bromfield, which is coming Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday at the Avery Theater in Garner, has many spectacular sequences, any one of which would make a thrilling climax for most pictures.

"Brigham Young," which has been called the great American motion picture, is the story of the historic Mormon trek westward. Tyrone Power is starred in the pictue which features Linda Darnell in the leading feminin role, and Dean Jagger as Brigham Young.

The size and scope of "Brigham Young" can be judged by the epic scenes is contains. Among them are: the crossing of the Mississippi in the dead of the winter by thousands of Mormons fleeing before guns; the massacre at Nauvoo, Ill., when masked raiders pillaged the city and struck down defenseless hundreds; the historic trek of 20,000 people across endless miles of waste land; the plague of millions of crickets during the first year at Great Salt Lake, and the miracle of the sea gulls which arrived in time to devour the insects and rid the Mormons of their pestilence.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—PURE BRED HAMPshire Boars. 2 miles south, 2 miles east of Meservey. Heiko, Floyd & Vern Janssen. 5tp-20

FOR SALE—IMPROVED 80 Acres, Also one bull and spotted boar. A. S. Harris. 1tp

FOR SALE—COAL BURNING Parlor Heater, circulating type. In good condition and cheap. Klemme Co-Operative Grain Co. O-16tc.

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — OLIVER PLOW with Radex bottoms, only one year old, fine condition, at a bargain Northern Lumber Implement Store. 9-tfc.

FOR SALE — CHESTER WHITE Boars, cholera immune. Ray Veldhouse, 1½ miles west, 1 mile north of Klemme. 2tp-9-16

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5 00 Times Office.

FOR SALE - 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each Klemme Auto Company. tfc

FOR SALE - GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc

WANTS

WANTED—MAN TO SELL WELL known line of products in local territory Merchandise on consignment. No cash investment or signers required. Car needed. S. F Baker & Co., Keokuk, Ia. 23-3tp

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxers at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

VOTE FOR
A. C. Taylor
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR
State Representative

Ink Spots And Spatters

By Jergie

I-S-A-S

AN ARMY OF CAPTAINS . . . .

Looks like the new U. S. Army will not lack for officers as about every young fellow we meet on the street is wearing one of those buttons: "I Want To Be A Captain, Too!"

. . . and while we are on the subject, here's another piece of literature that's going the rounds, entitled "Captain E. Roosevelt." Here 'tis:

I am a dashing Captain
In the good old U. S. A.,
For papa is President
And always has his way.
He thinks his sons are just too good
To carry a gun and pack;
To march and train and drill with boys
From down across the track.
So while those boys are slaving hard
For just one buck a day,
I'll put my feet upon a desk
And draw a Captain's pay.

I-S-A-S

WHO NOMINATED WHO?

And there's another piece of literature going the rounds entitled "Think." It goes like this:

"Who nominated Hitler?"
—Hitler
"Who nominated Mussolini?"
—Mussolini
"Who nominated Stalin?"
—Stalin
"Who nominated Roosevelt?"
—F. D. R.
"Who nominated Willkie?"
—The People

. . . so that should take care of the political situation for this week, so we will go in for more serious thoughts. Which brings to light the story that Art Wellemeyer, our home town furniture dealer deluxe likes to tell:

"There was a certain Klemme bride very much concerned at finding twin beds in the hotel room. Said she to her new hubby "Gee, Honey, I certainly thought we would get a room to ourselves!"

I-S-A-S

AND HERE'S ANOTHER ONE TO THINK ABOUT . . .

Our scout was nosing around at the local mouse trap factory one day and observed a couple of cats there. Asking the boss why the cats, he was informed that the cats were there to catch mice! And that is the heighth of something or other.

. . . and here's one that they like to tell around the hospital and which was published in the Belmond Independent a couple o' weeks ago. If they can get away with it, we will take a chance. Here is the way the story appeared in the Independent:

Convalescent Poker

Stop us if you're heard this one. Two gamblers were convalescing in a hospital endowed by a very strict religious denomination known for its opposition to gambling in any form Thinking they had better keep in good practice during their illness, the gamblers asked the superintendent for two or three days in succession if they might have a deck of cards. Each time they were refused point blank and with considerable disdain, Finally in desperation, they asked the superintendent if they might have fifty-two of the case report cards.

This request was readily granted and the gamblers set about to devise their own game of draw poker. Instead of going by suits and numbers, they elected to have the information contained on the card to determine its vaule.

After dealing the usual number of cards, drawing and betting, one of the gambers said, I"ll check, what have you got?"

"Two pairs; pair of adenoids and pair of tonsils," replied the other, "What are you holding?"

"Four enemas," replied the first gambler.

"Take the pot, you'll need it," admonished the second.

IN THE ARMY

Walter, Frank and Warren Will, brothers of Eagle Grove, have recently enlisted in the army.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zwald and daughter, Winola, were dinner guests at the Herman Gast home Sunday.

District No. 5 held their follow-up meeting at the Ben Goll home Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson, of Rockwell, were supper guests at the Emery Schaefer home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaefer drove to Unionville Sunday and took Ed Suckow home, and also visited relatives at Centerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Schaefer and family visited at the Mrs. Elizabeth Smid home, who is very seriously ill, suffering from a stroke at her in Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abele visited at the Oscar Hartwick home near Kanawha, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange drove to Garnaville Friday and spent a few days visiting at the Ray Lange home and returning home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gast visited at the Herman Gast home Sunday evening

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Weaver and family visited at the Richard Ax home Sunday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs. Emil Beier visited at the Elmer Schaefer home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pringnitz and daughter, Ruth Marie, and Mrs. Otto Pringnitz drove to Albert Lea, Minn, Sunday and visited with relatives.

The Liberty Standard Bearers will meet at the Ben Reimer home October 26, and then at that time a new society will be formed. All girls try and be present.

Mr Ray Buckley was seriously injured Saturday when a horse kicked him in the head. Several stitches were taken to close the wound.

A large number of guests were present at the Robert Hanson home Sunday. They enjoyed a birthday dinner in honor of Jay Hanson's 4th birthday.

The Schoenwetter re-union was held Sunday at the Emil Pringnitz home in honor of Mr. and Mrs August Schoenwetter A large crowd was present at the affair

Correction To Girl Scout Notice, October 16

The Girl Scout Benefit Bridge Party was sponsored by the Troop Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Buntenbach; the Leaders, Mrs Earl Schaeffer and Miss Elaine Buntenbach; and the Klemme Girl Scouts. (Mrs. E. G. Schaeffer)

ONE HUNDRED EIGHTY-FOUR MEN REGISTERED HERE FOR SERVICE

One hundred eighty-four men between the ages of 21 and 36 registered for selective service at the Town Hall in Klemme on Wednesday, October 16th.

The greatest rush was during the morning hour. The local board was assisted in their work by high school teachers and students from the typing classes, who worked in shifts throughout the day.

Vote For

Frank J. Schoun
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR
Supervisor
Term Beginning Jan. 1, 1942
Your support appreciated

This year's crop of ... million head, ... was the ... record

Frank Senneff F.E. B...
Senneff & Black...
LAWYERS
Garner

W. D. DA...
ATTORNEY-AT-L...
First Door South of P...
Phone 140—GAR...

VOTE FOR

Ben F.
Greima...
FOR Sheri...
You vote and support will ... ly appreciated.

VOTE FOR
☒ Fern Peck Katter
Republican Candidate
For County Recorder

THADA'S STORE
SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

Free! Saturday, Oct. 26
Pancakes, Syrup, Sausage and Coffee!

Above will be served all day SATURDAY and as long into the evening as there is anyone to feed. Come in and get your fill. We will serve Dixiana Pancakes, Nash's Coffee, Staley's Syrup and Decker's Sausages.

DIXIANA PANCAKE FLOUR
Plain or Buckwheat
3 lb. pkg. 2 pkgs. for 25c

NASH'S COFFEE
1 lb. tin at 29c
Special 2 lbs. for .....

COMBINATION DEAL 2pkgs. Dixiana Pancake Flour, 1 lb. Nash's Coffee

Staley's Syrup
HALF GALLON CANS
Crystal White 28c
Golden 26c
Waffle 32c

TEXAS GRAPEFRUIT
Large No. 96
Special, 9 for 25c

HEAD LETTUCE
Extra Nice
Special, 2 for 15c

Decker's
FRESH COUNTRY STY... SAUSAGE
Special per pound
21c

FLOUR SPECIAL
Mother's Best
Friday Price per sack $1.55

On SATURDAY ONLY we will ... each customer a coupon good for 25c on ... purchase of a sack of MOTHER'S BEST ... making the cost for Saturday only:
$1.30 Per Sack

APRICOTS whole unpealed Qt can 18

Come in and see our New POTTERY and GLASSWARE. Priced from 10...

ME REFORMED CHURCH
Grosshuesch, Pastor

n. German Service
n. Sunday School.

Tuesday
People's Bible Class.

Thursday
Chorus.

ion Class will meet on Saturday.

LETTER

Pocahontas, received his sister in Deny, with a Swastika amp on it. However, censored from the e new couple next ery devoted. He kisses me they meet. Why that?"

don't know her well

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League 7:30 p. m.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
Epworth League as above

FARM BUREAU WOMEN WERE ENTERTAINED AT THE CHAMBERS HOME

Mrs. J. A. Chambers was hostess to a meeting of Farm Bureau women of Avery township at her home Friday.

A good attendance was reported for this all-day meeting

COUNTY EXAMINIATIONS TO BE HELD AT GARNER

Uniform county examinations for prospective rural teachers will be given at the court room of the Court House Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 23, 24, and 25

ANCE Sat. Night October 26

Klemme Legion Community Hall

s Silver Moon Orchestra

DANCE Admission 44c - 22c

E MUST SELL OUR

CARS and TRUCKS

atter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find
r TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT gains in late models. You take no chances when you us. Come in and look them over.

arner Motor Sales

BILE CHEVROLET

F. M. Specials

and Saturday, Oct. 25-26

ARCH
ream of Wheat ox 15c
for 70 YEARS

TOKAY GRAPES 3 lbs. for 17c

POTATOES, Sweet 8 lbs. for 23c

SORGHUM Waconia, gal. 73c

EY 2 Jars at 25c

AN 21c

TREAT Per can 23c

EE FOLGER'S, Drip or Reg. 1 lb. 25c; 2 lbs. 49c

SS ing 31c

SALA DRESS Salad Dressing Per pint 18c

AP Blue Barrel 3 bars for 23c

MEAT DEPARTMENT

AK 23c

VEAL ROAST Per lb. 18c

PS 23c

VEAL STEW Per lb. 12½c

hme Food Market

ORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor ..... Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor ..... Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman ..... Eunice Larsen
Sophomore ..... Audrey Mau
Junior ..... Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior ..... Shirley Johnson
Dramatics ..... Gertrude Grosshuesch
Mnsic ..... Jacqueline Kudjo
Sports ..... Henry Kaduce
Grade News ..... Leonard Kaduce, Arlene Schmidt

Week's Moral: "Doubt whom you will, but never yourself"
—Bouvee

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

HAROLD SWALVE Harold plays a cornet in the senior band and also sings tenor in mixed chorus and boys' glee club He has always been one of the shortest boys in the class, but the last year he caught up with some of the bean poles and passed others One of his greatest pleasures is dancing at which he excels We're all anxious to see how his new haircut looks.

RUTH STILLE Ruth plays clarinet in the band and sings soprano in the glee club and mixed chorus Usually Ruth is a very mild tempered person until you get her started on politics I really believe the senior home ec girls have just about reformed her By the way I hear she gets into little wars every once in a while with the commercial teacher over politics That's all right Ruth, more power to you

FRED BELL Next year Fred plans on being a farmer, so any girl wanting a good job as a farmer's wife, apply to Fred Fred also plays a cornet in the band and his bass voice is often heard booming out in mixed chorus. He and his freshman heart throb are starting all over again They say practice makes perfect He is another whiz in physics class.

GERTRUDE GROSSHUESCH Gertrude is well on her way to ward being another Alec Templeton She has sung in glee club all four years of school The seniors like to have her set up to their for an example because it allows them so much lee way She claims she has one of hardest lives to live in town because she has such mean brothers Now Eddie you must leave Gertrude alone

DRAMATICS

Can you imagine!!!

Betty Lass, a maiden lady in her forties with a nervous temperament and a whining voice?

Ellen Kilgore, slow and rather stupid?

If you can't, come to see the Junior Class play, "Hooray For Youth," Garland Brinkman provides the "hooray" which gives the play its name.

NURSES, WOO!! WOO!!

Shirley Johnson, Irene Becker and Gertrude Grosshuesch acted as the nurses when the tuberculin tests were given They cleaned the arm where the injection was to take place These girls were asked, as they plan to take nurse's training next year, they hope, if they haven't gotten cold feet by now

MUSIC NEWS

Certain members of the senior band are starting advanced books.

The Music Mothers of the school have given an addition to the band It is a mellaphone and is very essential to the horn group. It is hoped that the mothers of any students in school and others interested in the music welfare of the school will kindly give their support to this organization. Many students have expressed the desire that their mothers would attend the meetings. They are held the second Wednesday of every month, and everyone is welcome to attend. Mr Onerheim outlined his program for the coming year and explained the system he uses at the meeting last Wednesday evening.

SPORTS

The Klemme High School baseball team closed its baseball season by defeating Hayfield by a score of 8 to 6. The game went nine innings, and in the ninth inning Klemme scored three runs.

Leonard Kaduce pitched the entire game for Klemme and Al Hamilton pitched all the way for Hayfield.

The team won two more games than they expected to this season

Basketball practice started this week.

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

I wonder where and when those five basketball boys got those real fancy haircuts?

Tuesday the tuberculosis tests were given. Thursday the doctors came back to check them.

Wednesday the seniors, who took advanced typing last year, helped down at the town hall registering those eligible for conscription They worked in shifts all day

All the groans you heard in the halls Thursday were from the results on the report cards.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

Tuberculosis tests were given Wednesday afternoon. Everyone in the junior class went down stairs willingly and happily; the boys especially, probably because of the local school nurses, but the adventure included a round trip ticket and the journey up-stairs was much slower than the one going down.

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

In English the sophomores are reading short stories this week and then we are supposed to write a story of our own.

In algebra this week we finished equations, and are starting on graphs.

Thursday we received our report cards. Everyone was anxious to see his results

In history, we are studying about Greece in ancient times.

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

Those report cards certainly reminded us that a little more studying this six weeks wouldn't hurt any!

Thursday afternoon, the home economics class made cereals. Friday they made pancakes and French toast, after spending the preceding days of the week learning new WRINKLES on how to make them.

Some of the freshmen think that the extra half-hour of study hall was just what they needed to catch up on their studying.

Is it true, or is it just a passing rumor, that one of the freshman girls has been secretly studyin. SHAKESPEARE?

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

The eighth grade English class has started a "Good Oral English Contest." Patricia and Edward are the leaders. LaVonne, Herbert Mueller, Ewald and Junior Buntenbach are on Patricia's side which is winning

Betty Lou Sietesma visited our room with Mavis Meyer On Tuesday we also took tuberculin tests

Mavis has been appointed librarian for the coming month.

The eighth grade earned a score of 6 in self-testing drill 2. This is an average sore. The seventh grade earned a score of 5 on self testing drill No. 1 which also is an average score.

GRADES 5 & 6

We have been making drawings for our science unit showing the structure and parts of a tooth.

The fifth graders made a class rating of seven on their self-testing drill. The sixth graders made a rating of six on their second drill!

William brought an orange tree to school. We have had a pretty rose in our room this week Shirley brought it for us.

The following people had perfect spelling scores: Esther, Harold, Velma, Phyllis, Mary Lou. Elizabeth, Carol, Dean ,Roger R., and Ruth Stokesbary.

In sixth grade reading we have been studying the story "Acihlles, Famous Leader of The Greeks," taken from Homer's poem, "The Iliad." We are studying Greek civilization in history.

Ruth Smith and Arlene were reporters for this week.

GRADES 3 & 4

We built an Indian tepee in our room. Maurice brought the poles. We covered the tepee with make-believe deerskin which we made from wrapping paper. We learned about Indian clothes, and plan to dress our dolls like Indians. We also learned about how the Indians made fire.

We had two absent from our room this week. Phyllis missed Monday, and Maurice was absent Thursday.

The fourth grade made a frieze in art showing the Indians of the plains. Third grade made a frieze showing the Pueblo Indians.

The following had 100 per cent in spelling: Luella, Dorance, Marjory and Iris.

Our reporters for this week are Larry and Ardel.

Grades 1 & 2; Kindergarten

Kindergarten began this week with an enrollment of ten. They are: Neva Ann Anderson, Sharon Lee Bridges, Norman Hansen, LuVern Heginger, Ronald Karsjens, Elaine Neuberger, Miriam Priebe, Garry Smith, Donna Waddingham, and Billy Waddingham.

The following people were neither absent nor tardy for the first six weeks of school. Lucille Priebe Harley Barz, Jacqalea Steffen, JoAnn Carpenter, Peter Johnson and Richard Tiggerman.

Maxine brought some pictures to school that were taken at her birthday party.

Reformed Ladies Aid

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid of the Klemme Reformed Church will be held at the church, Wednesday, October 30th Hostesses will be Mrs. Fred Becker and Mrs. Don Christiance.

Goodfellowship Class Meets

The Goodfellowship class of the Methodist Church met for a dinner and social time Sunday at the church. After dinner a short program was given with election of officers for the ensuing year. Henry Galbreth was elected President, and Mrs. F. Ward Secretary and Treasurer. Mrs. Gertrude Carpenter was elected teacher

W. S. C. S. Circle Met At The Home of Mrs. Waterman

Circle One of the W S. C S. of the Methodist Church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C G. Waterman. A business meeting was held and Mrs. Waterman was elected President with Mrs. W H Galbreth as Secretary and Treasurer. Lunch was served by the hostess.

A chinch bug survey of Iowa will be conducted in November by Iowa State College entomologists. Bunches of bluestem grass will be collected and the bugs will be counted to get figures on the relative degree of infestation.

TO REALLY ENJOY YOUR

Autumn Vacation

GO BY TRAIN

Autumn is the most delightful vacation season of the year, with Mother Nature arranging ideal weather conditions and variegated color schemes to please every taste.

Modern rail travel offers every known comfort and convenience. All main line Rock Island trains are air-conditioned and give you economy, safety and speed to make your journey completely carefree.

And you can NOW TRAVEL ON CREDIT. No money down. Pay later.

Your local Rock Island Agent will furnish complete details, or write

C. C. GARDNER, A. G. P. A.
721 Locust Street,
Des Moines, Iowa

HAVE YOUR TICKET ROUTED Rock Island

Thirty-eight short courses have been booked by Iowa State College for the 1940-41 college year, reports R. M. Vifquain, short course chairman. Nearly 19,000 persons attended short courses during the past year.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experience and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 23-24.

"I Married Adventure"

Mrs. Osa Johnson
Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 25-26.

"BLACK DIAMONDS"

with Richard Arlen and Andy Devine.

ALSO
—ON OUR STAGE—
Jack Chase and his Bar 20 Ranch Stage Shows. Featuring Rex, the Wonder Horse.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 27-28-29.

"BRIGHAM YOUNG"

with Tyrone Power, Linda Darnell, Dean Jagger, and Jane Darwell.

VOTE FOR

Ella Mae Foster

Britt, Iowa

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR

Recorder

of Hancock County

I have always lived in Hancock County. Educated in the public schools of Iowa, the State Teachers College of Cedar Falls, taught school a number of years, have held several clerical jobs in the town of Britt, took the Government Census of 1940 in Britt. I am a widow of a World War Veteran, whom many know thru his work in the American Legion while serving as County Commander of Hancock County. I am also a member of the American Legion Auxiliary at Britt. I am well qualified for the office and will appreciate your support.

Your Support Appreciated——

Clifford S. Schaper

Democratic Candidate For

Supervisor

Term Beginning

January 1, 1941

——General Election Nov. 5, 1940

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

BIG TOP — By ED WHEELAN

COME, COME, SWEETHEART, CHEER UP! NOW PROMISE ME THAT YOU'LL FORGET ALL ABOUT MY NARROW ESCAPE " PROMISE!"
I P-P-PROMISE !!!
MEANWHILE, IN CLOWN ALLEY....
BOYS, NO "RIGGER" WOULD THINK OF FILING A WIRE UNLESS HE HAD ORDERS AND WAS A CROOK AT HEART!!
YOU SAID IT, "DAD" !!
YEH, BUT WHOSE ORDERS, "DAD" ?
--AND IN HER DRESSING TENT, MYRA, FORGETFUL OF HER PROMISE, SOBBED ALOUD -- OH, HAL IF ANYTHING SHOULD EVER HAPPEN TO YOU, DARLING, I'D JUST DIE - THAT'S ALL "
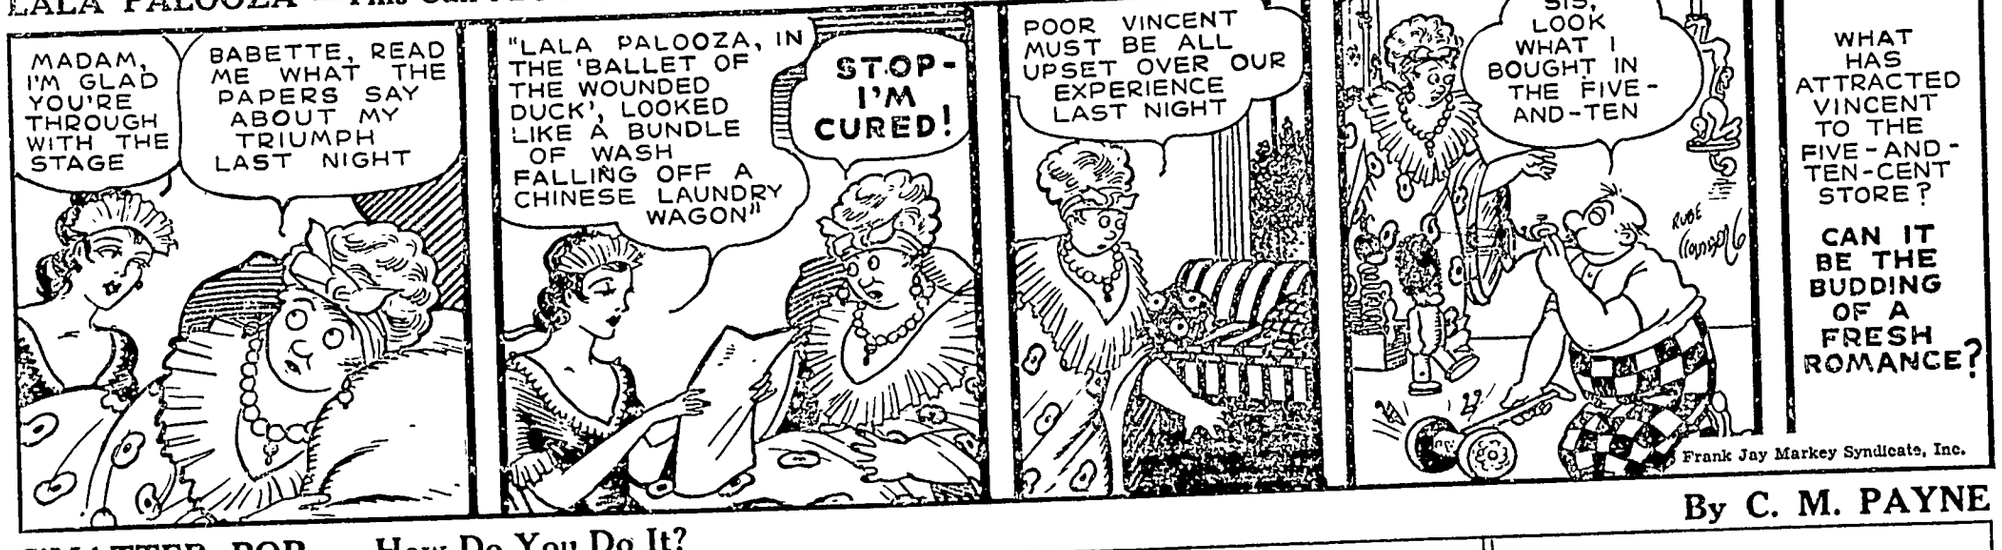
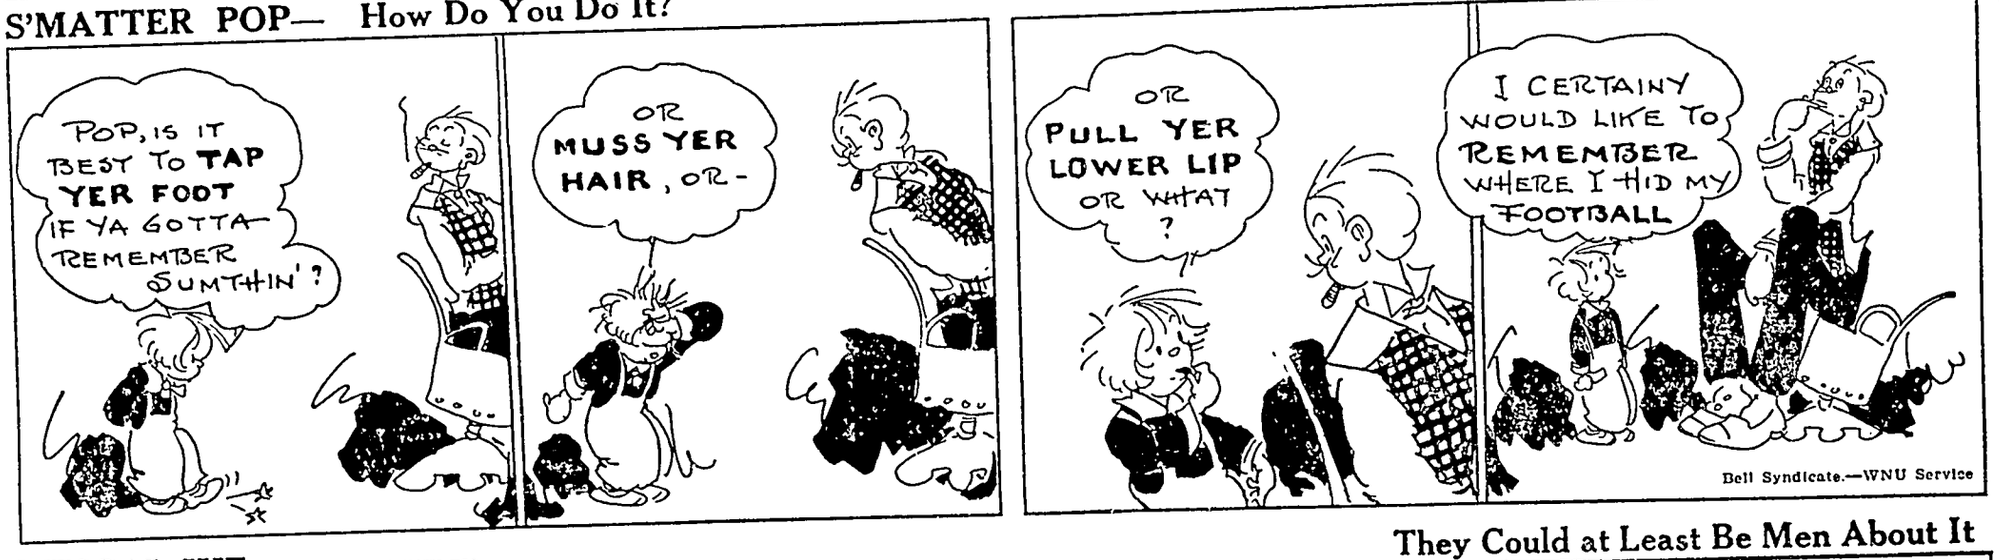
GEE WHIZ, LADY, WHAT'S TH' MATTER ?!!
SOB SOB
?
- ED WHEELAN -
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate Inc.

LALA PALOOZA —This Can't Be Second Childhood — By RUBE GOLDBERG



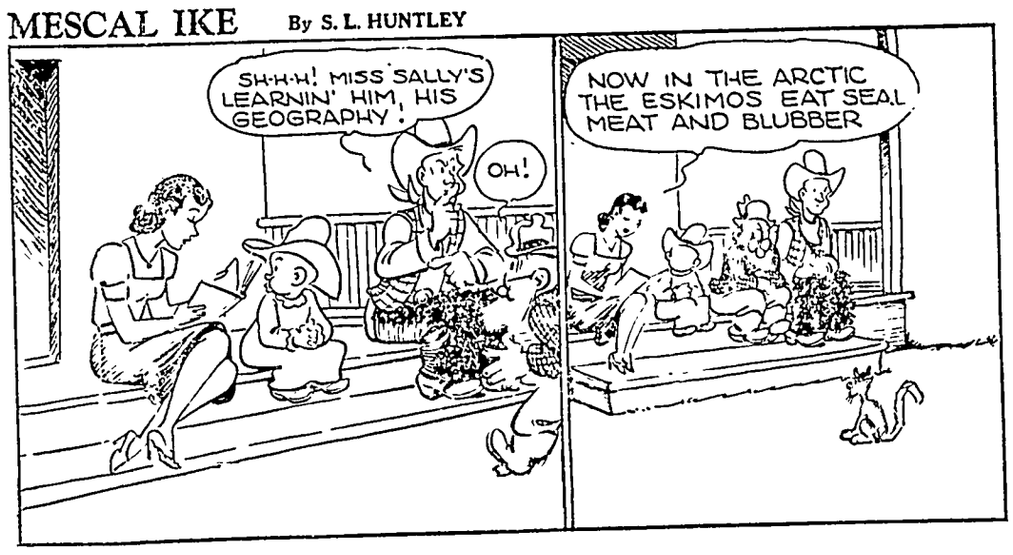
MADAM, I'M GLAD YOU'RE THROUGH WITH THE STAGE
BABETTE, READ ME WHAT THE PAPERS SAY ABOUT MY TRIUMPH LAST NIGHT
"LALA PALOOZA, IN THE 'BALLET OF THE WOUNDED DUCK', LOOKED LIKE A BUNDLE OF WASH FALLING OFF A CHINESE LAUNDRY WAGON"
STOP - I'M CURED!
POOR VINCENT MUST BE ALL UPSET OVER OUR EXPERIENCE LAST NIGHT
SIS, LOOK WHAT I BOUGHT IN THE FIVE-AND-TEN
WHAT HAS ATTRACTED VINCENT TO THE FIVE-AND-TEN-CENT STORE?
CAN IT BE THE BUDDING OF A FRESH ROMANCE?
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP— How Do You Do It? — By C. M. PAYNE

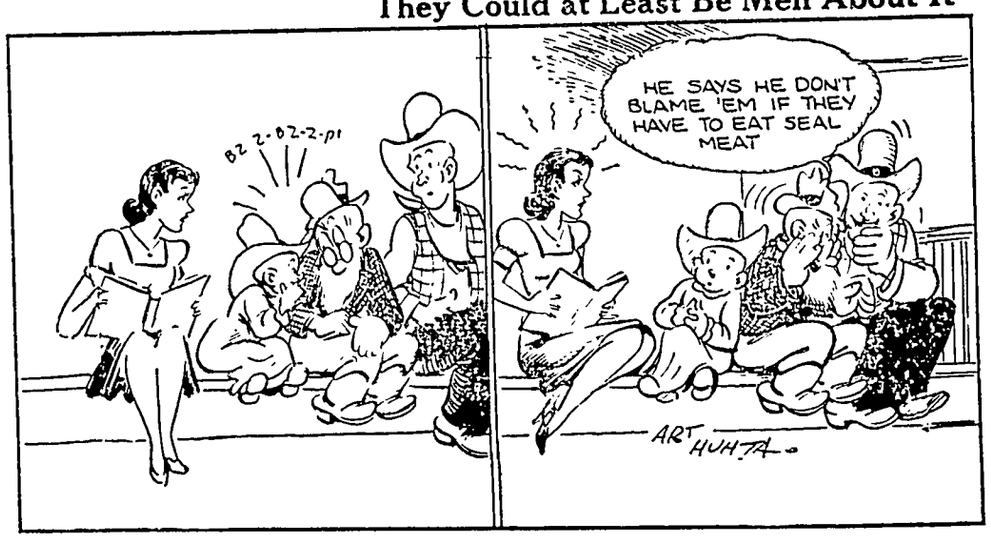


POP, IS IT BEST TO TAP YER FOOT IF YA GOTTA REMEMBER SUMTHIN'?
OR MUSS YER HAIR, OR-
OR PULL YER LOWER LIP OR WHAT ?
I CERTAINY WOULD LIKE TO REMEMBER WHERE I HID MY FOOTBALL
Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service

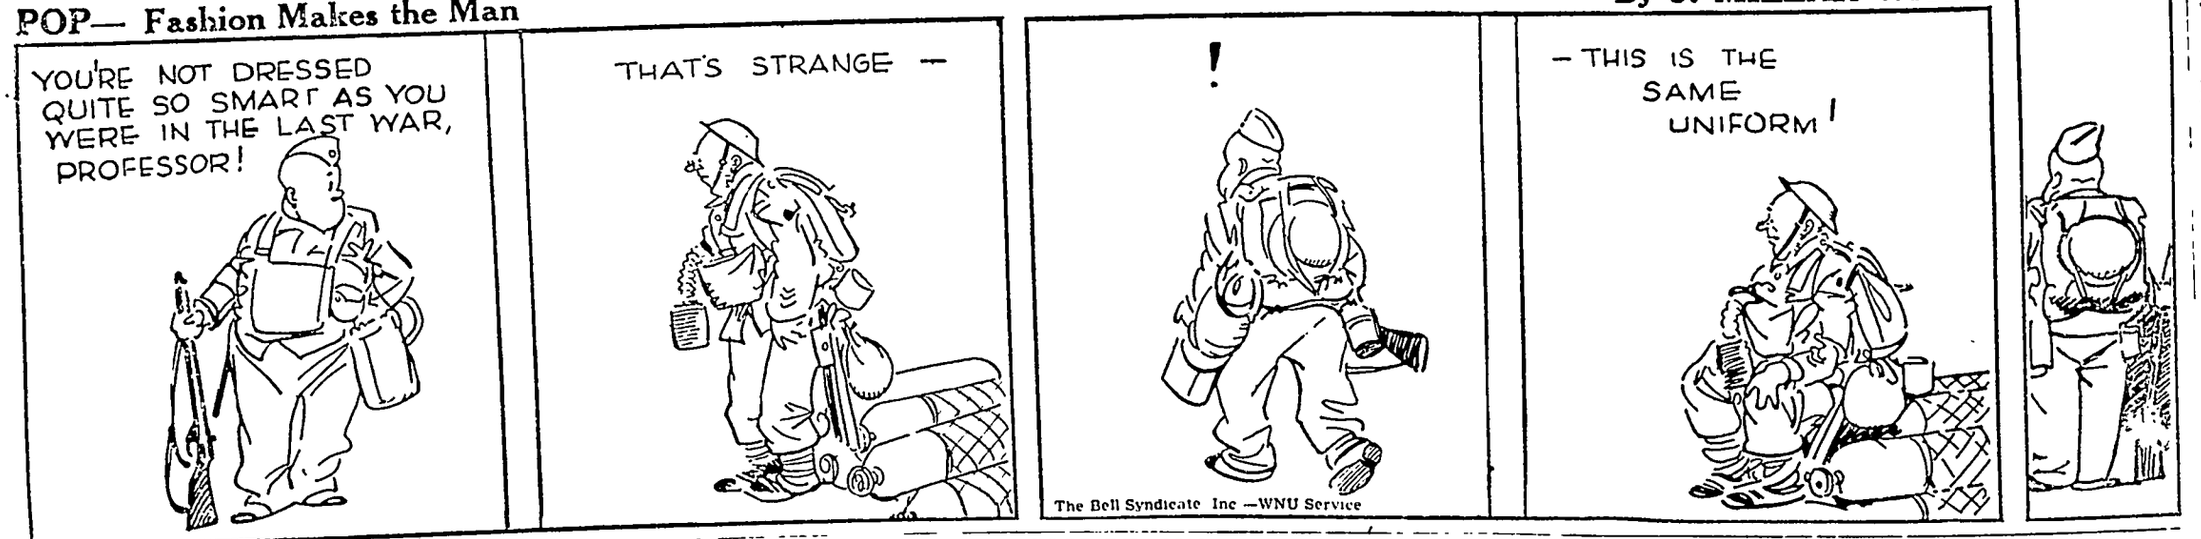
MESCAL IKE — By S. L. HUNTLEY



They Could at Least Be Men About It

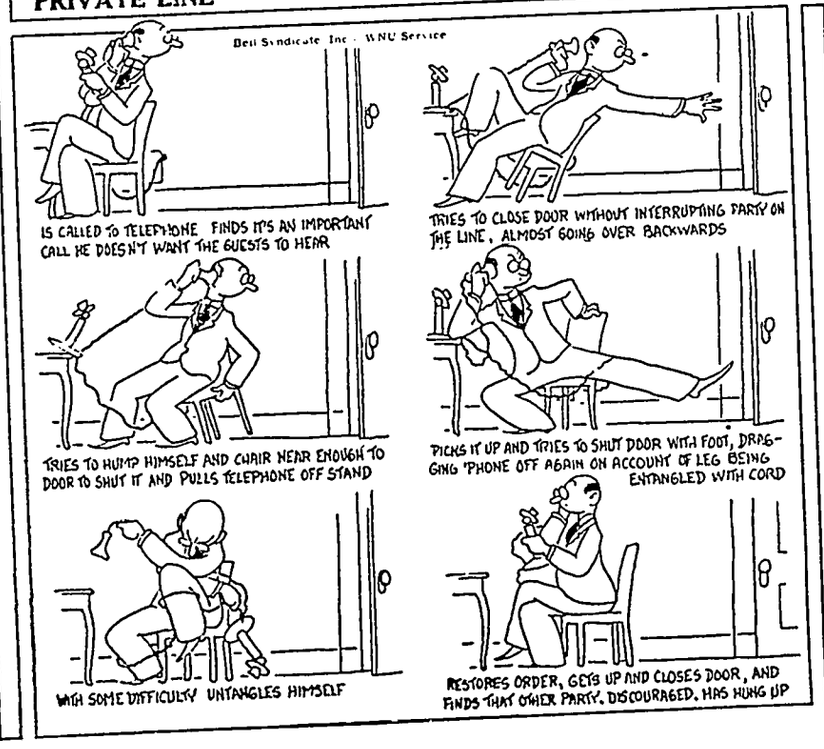


POP— Fashion Makes the Man — By J. MILLAR WATT



YOU'RE NOT DRESSED QUITE SO SMART AS YOU WERE IN THE LAST WAR, PROFESSOR!
THAT'S STRANGE —
!
- THIS IS THE SAME UNIFORM!
The Bell Syndicate Inc —WNU Service

PRIVATE LINE — By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



Bell Syndicate Inc. - WNU Service
IS CALLED TO TELEPHONE. FINDS IT'S AN IMPORTANT CALL HE DOESN'T WANT THE GUESTS TO HEAR
TRIES TO CLOSE DOOR WITHOUT INTERRUPTING PARTY ON THE LINE, ALMOST GOING OVER BACKWARDS TRIES TO HUMP HIMSELF AND CHAIR NEAR ENOUGH TO DOOR TO SHUT IT AND PULLS TELEPHONE OFF STAND
PICKS IT UP AND TRIES TO SHUT DOOR WITH FOOT, DRAGGING 'PHONE OFF AGAIN ON ACCOUNT OF LEG BEING ENTANGLED WITH CORD
WITH SOME DIFFICULTY UNTANGLES HIMSELF
RESTORES ORDER, GETS UP AND CLOSES DOOR, AND FINDS THAT OTHER PARTY, DISCOURAGED, HAS HUNG UP

GOOD REASON

The sergeant was asking the recruits why walnut was used for the butt of a rifle.

"Because it has more resistance," volunteered one man.

"Wrong!"

"Because it is more elastic."

"Wrong!"

"Perhaps it's because it looks nicer than any other kind," volunteered another, timidly.

"Don't be an ass," snapped the sergeant. "Simply because it was laid down in Regulations."

A Genius

Marget—Hang it, man! If your car has been stolen, why don't you communicate with the police?

Target—I'm not worrying about the car. I'm wondering how they got the thing to go!

It Smells

Editor—This isn't poetry, my dear man. It's nothing but an escape of gas!

Hopeful Poet—Something wrong with the meter?

THE SPORTING THING — By LANG ARMSTRONG

"Better let me carry the towel, boss—you ain't as fast as you used to be

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

REMEDY

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS
A good general tonic, beneficial in ... cence and an excellent stimulant to the ...

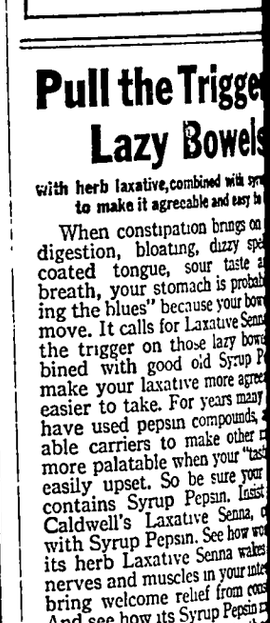
STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

REPAIRS For Your ... FURNACE or ...
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All ...
Have Your Dealer Order from ...
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR CO.

PATENTS

ORWIG & HAGUE
Patents, trade-marks, copyrights
Sixth Floor Crocker Bldg., Des Moines
Branch Office—Washington, D. ...

Crocheted Doilies Dress Up the Ho...



AS EASY to crochet as it i... ly, this set of doilies ... favorite pineapple design ... your favorite, too. You'l... them just the thing for hu... or buffet set.

* * *

Pattern 2608 contains direct... making doilies; illustrations of t... stitches; materials required. S... der to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft D...
82 Eighth Ave. New ...

Enclose 15 cents in coins fo... tern No.....

Name .....

Address .....

Pull the Trigge... Lazy Bowels with herb laxative, combined with syr... to make it agreeable and easy to ...

When constipation brings on ... digestion, bloating, dizzy spe... coated tongue, sour taste a... breath, your stomach is probab... ing the blues" because your bow... move. It calls for Laxative Senn... the trigger on those lazy bowe... bined with good old Syrup P... make your laxative more agree... easier to take. For years many ... have used pepsin compounds, ... able carriers to make other m... more palatable when your "tas... easily upset. So be sure your ... contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist ... Caldwell's Laxative Senna, o... with Syrup Pepsin. See how wo... its herb Laxative Senna wakes ... nerves and muscles in your inte... bring welcome relief from cons... And see how its Syrup Pepsin m... Caldwell's medicine so smooth a... able to a touchy gullet. Even ... children love the taste of this ... family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldw... ative Senna at your druggist's. ... Try one laxative that won't ... violent distaste, even when yo... after a full meal.

Counsel Needed

Arms are of little avail... unless there is a good co... home.—Cicero.

Relief At La... For Your Co...

Creomulsion relieves pro... cause it goes right to the s... trouble to help loosen a... germ laden phlegm, and a... to soothe and heal raw, t... flamed bronchial mucou... branes. Tell your druggist t... a bottle of Creomulsion wit... derstanding you must like ... quickly allays the cough o... to have your money back.

CREOMULS... for Coughs, Chest Colds, ...

WNU—N

Happiness a Tw...

All who joy would ... share it—happiness wa... twin.—Byron.

Miserabl... with backac...

WHEN kidneys function ... you suffer a nagging ... with dizziness, burning, sc... frequent urination and go... night; when you feel tire... all upset . . . use Doan's P...

Doan's are especially ... working kidneys. Millions ... are used every year. They ... mended the country over. ... neighbor!

DOAN'S P...

...shington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

...ON THE BATTLEFRONT

...PS: Chunky Representative ...e Bender of Ohio doesn't know ...er to be sore or to laugh. ...G. O. P. chairman of Cuyahoga ...y, which includes Cleveland, he ...ed a number of requests for ...much-publicized "Willkie kits," ...mpact got up by the Willkie ... containing material to organ... ...e of these clubs. Bender wrote ... national committee headquar... ...n Chicago, directed by Execu... ...Director John Hamilton, for a ...y.

...ch to Bender's surprise he was ...ed that if he sent a check he ... receive the 100 kits he want... ...Bender sent the check and a ...ays later a large box arrived ...aining 100 kites, huge contrap... ...that sail through the air with ...reatest of ease and with the ... of Willkie and McNary so ... as to be easily seen from the ...d.

...—The Willkie kit contains a ...about the nominee, a pledge, ... sheet for signatures of those ...g to form a club, and pieces ...py campaign literature.

...IS: To those who followed ...t turbulent night of the Dem... ...c convention, Francis W. ...n will be remembered as the ...ing speaker who nominated ...m Timmons, veteran Wash... ... newsman, for vice president. ...ing Lima, Ohio, lawyer, Dur... ...a candidate for congress.

...r Senator Charles McNary's ...anee speech, Durbin wrote ..."Congratulations on your ... It was the best New Deal ... I've heard in a long time. ...re a grand fellow and I'm ...to see you in such bad com...

...w days ago Durbin received ...llowing telegram from Mc... ..."Thanks for your kind let... ...When you come to Washington ...e delighted to see you."

* * *

...UTCH EAST INDIES

...reason President Roosevelt ...is naval advisers are not ... perturbed about Japan's ... a formal alliance with Hit... ...d Mussolini is a confidential ... U. S. naval experts have ...of the Japanese navy.

... reveals that Japanese war... ...ave on hand only enough oil ...ut 2½ months of warfare.

...n gets its oil chiefly from ...ma and the Dutch East In... ...aving almost no supplies of ...n. That, of course, is one ... she covets the Dutch East ... However, naval surveys ...ow that the capture of these ... will not be as easy as might ...ected.

...the Dutch islands of Java ...matra have been preparing ... threat of Japanese invasion ... years. About 20 Dutch sub... ...s are stationed in these wa... ...us about 300 bombing planes, ...of them purchased in the ... States. Finally, the islands ...l fortified with carefully con... ...big guns.

...t is that military experts be... ...he Dutch could hold out ... Japanese naval invaders for ...ur months. And during this ...apan's oil supply, if embar... ...y the United States, might ... exhausted.

...may be one reason why the ...e have made haste slowly ... contemplated plans for in... ...of the Dutch East Indies. ...id not want to move until ...re sure first that Britain was ...sperate position in its fight ...tler; and second, that the ... States was worried about ...and did not want to get its ...reoccupied in the Pacific.

* * *

...RMY SPECULATORS

...rmy has changed its method ...ring land for new govern... ...ants. Hereafter the nego... ...will be carried on in a "gold... ...l."

...state speculators long have ...ore spot m army plans for ...d airport sites by snapping ...ns and kiting the price of ...property

...d-hitting Assistant War Sec... ...Robert Patterson has insti... ...new procedure whereby the ...fter making the necessary ...ial surveys, will announce ... that on a given date rep... ...ves will appear to buy or ... specified amount of land. ...n believes that if property ...know that the government ... market, they will not give ...o profiteering speculators. ...Tried out in Union Center, ...ere 13,000 acres are being ... for an ammunition loading ... employ 6,000 people, the ...dfish bowl" method proved ...l.

* * *

...LANES FOR WHISKY

... speak about "all aid to ...hort of war," don't over... ...American consumption of ...hisky. It is an actual fact ...s. imports of whisky from ...uring the first nine months ...ar exceeded the U. S. ex... ...military aircraft to Britain. ...re the figures: We sold ...$23,231,000 worth of planes. ...sold us $26,209,000 worth of ...In fact, whisky is the larg... ...item of our imports from ...tain.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for October 27

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

CHRISTIAN MOTIVES FOR ABSTINENCE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1 13-16, 2 40; 4:4; 6 21, 25, 43-45.

GOLDEN TEXT—For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.—Romans 14 17

Life is our most precious possession. No intelligent person will waste its fleeting moments, nor defer to a later season the living of his life to the best advantage. We live now—today.

Nor is any thoughtful one ready to let life slip by without its finest and richest return of usefulness and blessing, not only to himself, but to others. International Temperance Sunday affords us an opportunity to show our young people that those who indulge in intoxicants cannot live such a life

We suggest that a satisfying life is

I. Useful (Luke 1 13-16)

John was to be born into a life of such blessed usefulness to God and man that he was to be a "joy and gladness" to his parents, "great in the sight of the Lord," and instrumental in turning "many of the children of Israel . . to the Lord."

Such a life is worthy of emulation on the part of every young man and woman. What is the secret of it? Undoubtedly, fine Christian parentage had much to do with it. We note that God began preparing this great character a generation before he was born. Other elements also entered in, such as rearing and training, but most important of all was the fact (v. 15) that he was not to be driven by the false stimulants of this world, but by the infilling of the Holy Spirit of God No "wine nor strong drink," but being "filled with the Holy Ghost"—there, young people, is the secret of a happy and useful life.

II. Normal (Luke 2 40).

These words stress the fact that Jesus developed normally—physically, mentally, and spiritually. Let us emphasize the need of letting children develop and grow normally, for we live in a day of constant high pressure, when even the life of a child is not permitted to grow in its God-intended peace and according to the normal processes of nature. Give your boys and girls time, and encourage them to grow normally.

Obviously, the use of strong drink can only hinder, make abnormal, or destroy such normal growth. Let's rule it out altogether and let our people grow and wax strong in the Lord.

III. Well-Balanced (4:4; 6.21, 25).

Making a life is more important than making a living. The bread of this world is not enough, we must have the satisfying portion of fellowship with God. This we find in His Word. Nothing material, social or mental will fully satisfy the soul of man. His heart cries out for a message from God.

Intoxicants make men to laugh when they ought to weep, give them a false satisfaction which is followed by an inexpressible hunger. They are unbalanced individuals.

Why not be among those who, knowing God and His Word, are intelligent enough to laugh at the right time, weep at the right time, and who know how to choose that which truly satisfies for time and eternity.

IV. Fundamentally Right (6:43-45).

There is a false optimism which would have us think we can sow to the wind and avoid reaping the whirlwind. Men are encouraged to think they can waste their time and their substance, taking into their bodies the destructive elements of intoxicating liquors, and somehow come out all right. Young people are lured by clever advertising to think it is socially correct and smart to indulge, and that there will be no evil effects. Such an obvious falsehood should not fool any keen young man or woman.

The roots of an evil life bring forth corruption, for the heart of a man who follows after sin cannot bring forth that which is good. The kind of a person you are in your heart, the things you do when no one sees, the seeds you sow in indulgent and profligate living — these determine character and destiny for time and eternity.

Just so, fine, noble and upright thoughts and actions will bring forth delight to God and man—well-balanced — normally developed — not only without a regret at the end of life's road, but finding there God's approval.

He Did

Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.—Daniel 6:16.

Think It Over

For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul; or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul.—Matt. 16:26

Ask Me Another

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. What name is given to an animal having no backbone?
2. In the Northern hemisphere winds of a cyclone blow in which direction?
3. At the deathbed of Lincoln who said: "Now he belongs to the ages"?
4. Who was the central character in the story "The Man Without a Country"?
5. From where do we get quinine?
6. What is a Falangista?
7. In the Arabic saying, what are the next words after "He who knows not and knows not that he knows not is a fool—" teach him, shun him, or wake him?
8. Which of the following might have an estuary—a river, a mountain, or a desert?
9. Do ants have "cows"?

The Answers

1. Invertebrate.
2. Counterclockwise.
3. Edwin M Stanton.
4. Philip Nolan.
5. From the bark of the cinchona tree
6. A member of the Falange Espanola Tradicionalista, Spain's sole political party.
7. "Shun him."
8. A river (a narrow arm of the sea at the lower end of a river).
9. Some species keep aphides, which they stroke to produce a sweet substance to which ants are partial. These ants collect the aphides and keep them in herds, even raising earthen sheds over them and fighting in defense of them.

Why Let Yourself Get Constipated?

Why endure those dull headachy days due to constipation, plus the inevitable trips to the medicine chest, if you can avoid both by getting at the cause of the trouble?

If your constipation, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, the "better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran

This crunchy toasted breakfast cereal is the ounce of prevention that's worth a pound of emergency relief It helps you not only to get regular but to keep regular, day after day and month after month, by the pleasantest means you ever knew.

Eat Kellogg's All-Bran regularly, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

The Shame

Poverty is not a shame, but the being ashamed of it is.—Thomas Fuller.

MINOR SKIN IRRITATIONS 5¢ AND 10¢
MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

Justice Arrives

Justice, even if slow, is sure.—Solon.

Patterns

SEWING CIRCLE

THIS type of two-piecer will be much in evidence on every campus this coming semester. The tailored blouse has the new, larger collar with long points that fits correctly over your suit revers. It's made with action back, and has link cuffs like the boy friend's. The skirt of design No. 8768 is smartly flaring and tailored, and you should wear a narrow leather belt with it.

For the blouse, flat crepe, washable flannel, spun rayon and linen are smart; for the skirt, tweed, flannel, serge or corduroy. You'll be amazed to see how easily both halves of this two-piecer tailor, even if you're no expert. Your pattern includes a step-by-step sew chart.

* * *

Pattern No 8768 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 2 yards of 39-inch material without nap for short-sleeved blouse, 2¼ yards for long-sleeved, 1⅞ yards of 54 inch material without nap for straight skirt, 2 yards for bias. Send order to

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Strange Facts

Roving Banks
Prison Board Bill
Odd Sugar Sources

¶ About a century ago when some states allowed banks to move from town to town at will, many went into hiding so their notes could not be presented for redemption in gold. One of them, the Bank of Morocco, was found by detectives, after a year's search, in a cabin in a dense Indiana forest.

¶ Although Michigan enacted a law in 1935 requiring prisoners who are financially able to pay for their maintenance (about a dollar a day) the state has only been able to collect this payment from two of the approximate 20,000 persons who have passed in and out of its prisons during this time.

¶ Of the hundreds of different kinds of sugars, some of which are bitter and poisonous, many are made from such odd substances as seaweed, cottonmeal, chicory, dahlias, artichokes and ivory nuts. —Collier's.

A Penny a Tablet Now

buys famous BAYER ASPIRIN's Fast relief from muscular pains

The quick modern way to ease headache, and neuritic and rheumatic pain.

We feature the fact that Bayer Aspirin costs only 1c a tablet, to drive home the point that there's no reason even for the most budget-minded person to accept anything less than genuine fast-acting Bayer Aspirin.

For at the most, it costs but a few pennies to get hours of relief from the pains of neuritis, rheumatism or headache . . . and get it with the speedy action for which Bayer Aspirin is world famous.

Try this way once and you'll know almost instantly why people everywhere praise it. It has rapidly replaced expensive "pain remedies" in thousands of cases.

Ask for genuine "Bayer Aspirin" by its full name when you buy . . . never ask for "aspirin" alone.

BAYER

Demand BAYER ASPIRIN

Hope Against Despair

Hope is a lover's staff; walk hence with that, and manage it against despairing thoughts.—Shakespeare.

WHY SUFFER Functional
FEMALE COMPLAINTS
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Thousands!

Few women today do not have some sign of functional trouble. Maybe you've noticed YOURSELF getting restless, moody, nervous, depressed lately—your work too much for you—

Then try Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help quiet unstrung nerves, relieve monthly pain (cramps, backache, headache) and weak dizzy fainting spells due to functional disorders. For over 60 years Pinkham's Compound has helped hundreds of thousands of weak, rundown nervous women. Try it!

Thrust Out

"Will I ever?" No you will never while you ask that question.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use
666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH DROPS

Learn to Stoop

Where you cannot climb over you must creep under.

IT IS A JOLLY WORLD

Revised Reply

"I suppose when you proposed to Jane she said that it was so sudden."

"No. She said: 'The suspense has been awful.'"

We know a mean man who, when his wife asked him to buy her a car, told her that she should be satisfied with the splendid carriage nature gave her.

No Charge!

"How long are you in jail for, my man?"

"Two weeks."

"What's the charge?"

"Charge? Why everything's free."

It's the Thing!

"What are you going to do when you're as big as mummy, dear?"

"Slimming exercises."

An Old One

Talent Scout—I'm looking for fresh faces.

"Well, don't look at me. I've had this one for years."

The cynic says that women live longer than men because paint is such a good preservative.

No Sale

"There's an old-clothes man at the door."

"Tell him we've got all we need."

"Grade 'A' smoking joy for roll-your-owners!"

That's how milk route foreman "Tony" Perry rates Prince Albert in "makin's" smokes—mild, tasty, fast-rolling!

NO FUSSING OR FUMBLING WITH PRINCE ALBERT. IT'S CRIMP CUT TO LAY FLAT AND ROLL UP FAST AND FIRM!
GIVE ME P.A. FOR COOLER, TASTIER SMOKING JOY. IT'S MILDER, EASIER ON THE TONGUE. AND P.A. SMOKES STAY LIT!
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
LONG BURNING PIPE AND CIGARETTE TOBACCO

Copr., 1940, R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Rollin' along with P.A.! Charley Denton (left) says: "P.A. smokes draw as easy as your wagon rollin' down-hill. And that's choice tobacco—you can tell it by the taste!" "Sure enough," "Tony" Perry (right) comes back, "and Prince Albert keeps my tobacco bill down—I get around 70 plump, pleasant smokes out of every tin. Besides, P.A. stays fresh as the morning's milk!" (That's a tip to pipe-fans, too!)

70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy pocket tin of Prince Albert

In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned

86 DEGREES COOLER

than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested... coolest of all!

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

Your vote will be appreciated——

Fred C. Missal

Republican Candidate For

Auditor

•

——General Election November 5, 1940

Fireman's Hallowe'en Dance!

Thurs. Night, Oct. 31

Klemme Legion-Community Hall

Henry Karl's Orchestra

Adm. 25c - 50c

•

——RE-ELECT——

Elmer Raw

Republican Candidate For

Clerk of Dist. Court

Hancock County, Iowa

Your vote and support appreciated——

•

Your Support Appreciated——

—•—

Penn Eckels

Solicits Your Vote For

Supervisor

Hancock County, Iowa

—•—

——Term Beginning Jan. 1, 1941

An EXPERIENCED Civil Authority is the People's GREATEST PROTECTION!

Experience has been, and will continue to be the greatest teacher of Police Technique. Dealing with all types of people, under all conditions; the value of a Police Officer is measured by the extent and character of his experience.

VOTE FOR

L. M. (Dutch) Brower

Republican Candidate For

Sheriff

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Miss Shirley Forbes, of Mason City, spent Saturday visiting at the Paul Grange home.

Robert Risser, of Des Moines, visited over night Thursday at the P. M. Wilson home here.

Miss Margaret Ott, Domestic Science teacher, went to Cornell Saturday to attend Home Coming.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell, of Swea City, were visiting at the C. F. Keraus home Sunday.

Martha Bredbenner spent the week end visiting with her daughter, Novella, at Allison.

Halloween party at the Methodist Church, October 29th. Everybody is invited to come.

Mrs. Hulda Allbee spent Sunday visiting her sister, Mrs. Lew Fessler at Britt.

Mr and Mrs. Emil Patet drove to Colesbury, Sunday where they attend the funeral services held for a cousin of Mrs. Patet.

Mrs. Charles Papousek, of Belmond, visited in Klemme Thursday afternoon at the Ed Jacobs home.

Miss Ruth Bailey, of Ames, spent the week end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bailey at their farm southeast of Klemme.

Rev. Wm. Suckow, of Postville, spent Monday evening visiting his mother, Mrs. Henry Suckow, at the Herman Paul home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pringnitz and daughter, Beverly, were dinner guests at the Henry Helps home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mueller and Mrs. Lenz and Delores, of Garner, were Sunday guests at the Chris Riebe home.

"Butch" Schroeder, "Sam" Larsen, Charlie Fritzel and Lou Weaver returned the latter part of the week from a fishing trip in northern Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thieman and family, Edwin Thieman and family and Alvin Thieman and family, were dinner guesst at the Herman Thieman home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barz, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barz and Mrs. Esther Barz spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Barz and family at Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Braund, of Williams, came Saturday to spend Sunday visiting at the Henry Freie home. Mr. Freie has been ill the past week and confined to his bed.

Ray Jorgenson, Jr., who attends Simpson College at Indianola this year ,spent the week end in Klemme visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman and daughter, Marian, and Mrs. Mary Waterman, drove to Belle Plaine, Sunday, where they attended the funeral services held for a relative.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smid was very ill suffering from a stroke. Her children were called home because of serious condition, but at this writing is very much improved.

Miss Glenna Gruetzmacher, who teaches in the high school at Winthrop, Iowa, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her mother, Mrs. Frank Gruetzmacher and other relatives.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder and Miss Marian Irvine drove to Traer to spend the week end with Miss Irvine's parents. Sunday, being Mrs. Schroeder's birthday, she was surprised with a big birthday cake, baked and decorated in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pavey entertained her sisters, Miss Marjorie Woodhouse and Mrs. G. E. Shirley and husband, of Mason City, for dinner Sunday. Mr. Shirley is manager of the Holland Furnace Co. at Mason City.

Mr. J. W. Butcher, father of Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn, and Mr .and Mrs. L. A. Cheadle, of Oxford, Indiana, came Saturday and stayed until this morning at the Fred Kluckhohn home. Mrs. Cheadle and Mrs. Kluckhohn are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Durham have moved into the P. M. Griesemer house in south Klemme recently vacated by the Edmunson family. The Durhams have been living in the upstairs rooms at the Tom Roths residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blank and children, of West Bend, Worthie and Carol Usher, of Rowan, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Ahrenkiel, of Goodell, were all Sunday guests with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blank and Marie, Sunday.

Mrs. Matt Edmunson and children, who have resided in the P. M. Griesemer house for the past year, moved to Hayfield about a week ago. The Edmunson family lived at Hayfield before coming to Klemme to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schomberg and Leonard Schomberg, of near Alexander, and Mr. and Mrs. John Kaduce, Sr. and family from north of Klemme were entertained to dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaduce, Jr., east of Klemme.

"Bill" Lemke, of Mason City, spent Sunday visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lemke and family in Liberty township. "Bill' works at refigeration and air-conditioning with a Mason City firm.

Ira Overholt, manager of the Northern Lumber Implement Store is a patient in the University hospital at Iowa City where he is receiving treatment for a kidney ailment. Mrs. Overholt and John Lamont took Mr. Overholt to the hospital last Thursday and returned home Sunday. Mr. Overholt may remain at the hospital for a week or more. They report his condition was much better when they left Iowa City.

Rev. Sam McConnell, of Monmouth, Illinois, a former minister at the U. P. Church in Garner, visited at the R. A. Jorgenson home Friday afternoon. Rev. McConnell delivered the morning sermon Sunday at the Garner Presbyterian Church.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Photographs LIVE FOREVER
RUSSELL PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

Corn Cribs!

—•—

THE CORN CROP IS GETTING ABOUT READY TO BE CRIBBED . . . .

Do you have enough crib room? If not we would advise you to make your wants now, no matter from whom you buy your material!

We have slat cribs as well as wire on hand, but its pretty hard to guess at what a community is going to need so we ask you to make arrangements for your crib material before its too late.

If you want some cribs built, don't wait too long, lumber is getting pretty hard to get. Our supply is fair and we will try to take care of your wants, but if you are going to be short of room we would appreciate your letting us know a little ahead of time.

We have a pretty good supply of post and poles if you want to build some thing cheap. We have a small supply of boards for floors for $40.00 per M.

Northern Lumber Co.

"Northco" Products

VOTE STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN

WENDELL L. WILLKIE

CHARLES L. McNARY

BOURKE B HICKENLOOPER
Lieutenant Governor

EARL G. MILLER
Secretary of State

JOHN M. RANKIN
Candidate for Attorney General

C. B. (Chet) AKERS
Auditor of State

W. G. C. BAGLEY
Treasurer of State

MARK G. THORNBURG
Secretary of Agriculture

CARL REED
Republican Candidate for Commerce Commissioner

T. G. GARFIELD
Republican Candidate for Supreme Court

RALPH A. OLIVER
Candidate for Re-election Judge Supreme Court

CHAS. F. WENNERSTRUM
Republican Candidate for Supreme Court

The Wilson Administration has redeemed its 1938 pledges . . DESERVES YOUR VOTE of Confidence.

Elect these men to office on November 5 and you return to office an administration which has:

- ★ reduced property taxes by $3,000,000.
- ★ reduced statehouse payrolls while giving you better state government.
- ★ enabled 3,000 farmers to OWN corporation-controlled farms.
- ★ gave Iowa a farm-to-market road program without added taxation.
- ★ increased by 5,000, people receiving Old Age Assistance. Help for the blind and child welfare increased.
- ★ restored simple honesty in state government, adhered to an "open door" policy.

Preserve Good Government Vote for Willkie and Wilson

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF IOWA

THE KLEMME TIMES

UME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 30, 1940. — NUMBER 22.

ter Activities Being Planned Community Hall By Legion

Y MAY BE IN-
LLED FOR USE OF COMMUNITY READERS

Working Projects Will Be de Possible For The Younger Boys

ecent meeting of the Klem- rican Legion, that organi- scussed plans for winter for the new Klemme Le- munity Hall. Several of were discussed and defi- s were made for the putt- effect of a small library hall. Commander J. C. appointed Adjutant P. W. of the Legion, and Mrs. ohnson, president of the , to proceed with plans uring books.

l Have Wood Work

r plan to be carried out f installing a work shop asement and Paul Grange k Bamman were named committee to make neces- ngements.

atet and Asa Arnold will and instruct in wood moulding painting and s. Probably one night each l be set aside for the s who wish to come to for this interesting work. ject will be for the young- n the community, and al- lans are not yet complet- e will be given when the ruction will be given. who want to help along ect, may donate tools for shop. The gift will be ppreciated.

AN LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

lemme unit was hostess successful meeting of the rganization, Friday, Oc-

Hoker, the 8th district was the guest of honor. units were represented, unit president gave a re- the work being done by t. Klemme reported 39 This gives us over our 1940.

Hoker gave a very inter- d instructive talk. The child welfare and com- ervice and urged all units harder for their to pro- n in the past.

ning room, under the su- of Mrs. Lester Stille, utifully decorated with ers and Hallowe'en colors. l table with attractive fa- s set for the six unit s, Mrs. Enfield, the coun- ent and Mrs. Hoker. avey headed the very ef- itchen committee.

lbert Etchen played the the advancement and re- of colors, as well as the Anthem.

Etchen, Sargent at Arms, r bearer. Mrs. Enfield led ledge of Allegience to the dia Bock, local chaplin, invocation. Special music nished by Ernest Girardi accordion.

splendid co-operation of it member helped make of the finest county meet- ear.

cial meeting of the local be held Monday evening, the Legion-Community members are urged to be This will take the place egular meeting and the before Armistice Day.

ION DANCE

d Mrs. W. F. Pavey enter- large number of friends ception and dance held at emme Legion-Community nday evening in honor of Mrs. John Clements, who ently married.

W. S. C. S.

METHODIST CIRCLES MET LAST WEEK WITH GOOD ATTENDANCE

Circle Four of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. C A. Larsen last Friday afternoon. A good crowd was present for the meeting.

Mrs. C A. Larsen was elected president, Mrs. A. J. Kudje, vice president and Mrs. Gertrude Carpenter, secretary and treasurer.

A nice lunch was served after the business meeting and Mrs Larsen was assisted in serving by her daughter, Mr Marvin Isvik of Cedar Rapids.

Circle Two met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Schaeffer and a large number of ladies attended.

Mrs. Quentin Stille is the president, Mrs. John Waddingham, vice president, and Mrs. John Etchen, secretary and treasurer.

Lunch was served by the hostess after the business meeting.

LEGION AND AUXILIARY WILL HOLD JOINT MEETING ON NOVEMBER 11th

The Klemme Legion and Auxiliary will hold a joint meeting on Armstice Day, November 11th. All veterans and auxiliary members and their families are invited and a supper will be served.

"Little Ole" has been engaged for November 6th. Listen to KGLO 3:15 to 3:45 p. m.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS
Sept. 9th, 1940

Regular session held at the Town Hall with all members present.

On motion minutes as read were approved.

On motion the following bills were allowed

Geo. Buseman Aug. salary	$75.00
W. F. Pavey Labor	20.30
Henry Keeper Labor	7.00
Wayne Buseman Labor	3.30
Melvin Buseman Labor	1.50
Henry Jahnke Labor	2.40
Herman Schuldt Labor	6.50
Lloyd Lau Gravel & Dray	41.88
Grane & Co. Fittings	35.56
Ed Colby Welding	8.00
Central States Electric Co. Light & Power	79.28
Tom Roths Labor & use of truck	10.05
Klemme Times Publications	2.25
P. O. Dept. Stamps	1.50
First State Bank, Ft. Dodge Int.	5.25
Etchen Auto Co. Labor & Oil	8.75

Application of L. A. Ridder for renewal of beer permit approved

Meeting adjourned.

A. J. KUDGE, Clerk

NOTICE

The American Legion has been asked to help fill out Selective Service Questionaires. They will be glad to help anyone, and will be at the Community Hall, Monday, Nov. 4, Thursday, Nov. 7, and Friday, Nov. 8 from 7 o'clock in the evening. —Commander

And Why Not!

New York World Telegram.

Final Steps In Selective Service Prepared By Board

BRITT MAN DRAWS FIRST DRAFT NUMBER IN HANCOCK COUNTY

The first draft number drawn at Washington, D. C. Tuesday noon was No. 158, and that was also the number held by Chester Harold Moore, of Britt.

The second number to be drawn m the Washington lottery was No. 192 and in Hancock County that number was held by Herbert L. Ollenburg, of Garner. The third number to be drawn was No 105 and that number was held by George William Tech, Kanawha.

The final number was drawn and recorded in Washington at dawn this morning.

The next step in the draft will be taken by local boards who will send out questionaires in the order of the draft numbers drawn. Then the next step will be an appearance before the draft board for physical examination, for service or rejection.

Still No Swimming Pool.

Greenfield finds it necessary to hold another election before it can erect a swimming pool in the city. Two elections have already been held. The latest vote was sufficient but it was found that the petition which started the action was not properly worded.

Chicken Story.

Last Easter, Jerry, David, and Bob Greer, were given some colored baby chicks. Rats ate all but two. One of the remaining is really making news though — she started laying eggs when only four months old. At five months, she decided to set. Now, she has eleven baby chicks.

Honest.

A little boy who attended the recent Spencer fair had a chance to prove his honesty — and did. A concession stand owner had given him an "empty" box. Later he returned, and said, "There's a lot of money in that box you gave me mister." Opening the box, the man found $40 in currency.

Spree.

An Iowa Falls boy recently went on quite spree. During one week, he stole six cars, damaging some. His reason: he thought it was fun to drive!

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Jennie M. and Wm. Clare Wallace To Paul C. Kirchgatter and Cecelia M., Wty Deed, 10-12-40, $1. S½ SE¼ 20 & E½ NE¼ 29 94 26.

I. C. Hastings To Emma K. Hastings, Wty. Deed, 12-24-40, $1. S. 50 ft. Lot 2, Blk 11, Tallman's Add to town of Garner.

NOVEMBER 6th SET AS THE MEETING DATE FOR THE KLEMME W. S. C. S.

The regular meeting of the Klemme W. S. C. S. will be held on Wednesday, November 6th instead of November 7th. The meeting will be held in the parlors of the Methodist Church with Mrs. J. A. Chambers as the leader. Mrs. C. C. Kilgore will be in charge of devotions.

Hostesses for this meeting are Mrs. Tom Nelson, Mrs. Henry Busse, Mrs. Clint Stokesbary and Mrs. R. W. Elder.

TALLY HO CLUB MET

The Tally Ho club met with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz Friday evening of last week. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes were guests. Mrs. Dulmes won high score for the ladies and Martin Barz won high score for the men. A delicious lunch was served.

Twins.

Twins played quite an unusual part in the wedding of Joseph Stork, Breda, and Eileen Christiansen, Omaha. The Wedding attendants were the bride's twin sister and the bridegroom's twin brother. Rev. Buehler, who performed the ceremony, has a twin sister, and the bride's mother is also a twin Moths.

15,000 bushels of corn were recently turned over to the government by Otto Albert, Reinbeck. After attempts to get rid of meal moths which had infested the corn proved unsuccessful, Albert decided to give the corn up.

Mystery.

It must have been ghosts that started a fire in a truck belonging to the Oldfather Feed Mills, Strawberry Point, last week. The truck had been parked a half a day, and no one was in the cab. Only the cab was damaged in the fire.

Season For Trapping To Start November 10th

Rally!

REPUBLICAN RALLY AT BRITT, FREE DANCE AT THE DUNCAN HALL, SAT.

A Republican Rally is scheduled for Britt on Saturday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Memorial Hall with W. G. Henke as the speaker.

On Monday night the Republicans will hold a free dance at the Duncan Hall beginning at 9:00 o'clock.

Everyone invited.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF COUNTY WILL MEET AT GARNER FRIDAY, NOV. 1

The last meeting before election of the Hancock County Republican Women's club will be held at Garner on Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Catholic Hall.

Mrs. H. G. Woodward, of Whittemore will be the speaker. Mrs. Woodward is President of the Kossuth Women's Republican club and also Vice Committee Woman.

All women are urged to attend this meeting.

BIBLE CLASS STARTED AT METHODIST CHURCH FOR ADULT MEMBERS

Rev Zabilka conducted the first of a series of Bible study classes for adults at the Methodist Church Monday evening. Rev. Zabilka expects to conduct a class once a month for adults who wish to study the Bible. All who are interested are invited to attend the new class.

TIME TO PLANT WALNUTS NOW, SAYS GUY RAMSAY

Walnuts, dried to the point where they make good eating, will not germinate well. Therefore, farmers who wish to plant walnuts should do so before they dry out, declares Guy. Ramsay, extension forester.

Ramsay strongly favors planting walnuts in their permanent locations right at the beginning. Walnuts make a surprising root growth the first year, and much of this is lost if the trees are transplanted, he points out.

He advises planting an inch or so deep, and spacing so that the trees will be 40 feet apart. It is not necessary to remove the hulls. If necessary, other types of trees can be planted between the walnuts.

The forester emphasizes that walnuts are not adapted to rough, stony ground. They should be planted on good soil—perhaps some irregular strip of bottomland on the farm that is difficult to use for other purposes, or in open spaces in the woodlot.

If squirrels are likely to dig up the seed, it might be wise, he says, to delay planting until early in the spring, storing the nuts in the meantime outside in boxes of moist sand to keep them from drying out.

DOUBLE FOUR CLUB HELD MEETING AT BUNTENBACH HOME

Mrs Ed. Buntenbach was hostess to the Double Four club at her home last Wednesday afternoon where bridge was enjoyed. High score was won by Mrs. Martin Barz and Mrs. Orville Bridges held second high.

The hostess served lunch after bridge had been played.

Mayhem.

Jack McQueen, Tama, will go around for sometime with a bandage over one ear. After a fight, it was necessary to take 16 stitches to put the badly chewed ear back into place.

TRAPPING OF MINKS AND MUSKRATS LAWFUL DURING 1940-41 SEASON

After a year's layoff, minks and muskrats will keep a watchful eye open for hunters when the trapping season opens Nov. 10 in Iowa.

A shortage of water last year, causing the water animals to bunch up, put the minks and muskrats under the protective arm of the state conservation commission. But this year they will be prey for trappers from Nov. 10 to Jan. 10.

Other animals open to the two month trapping season are badgers, raccoons, skunks, oppossums, and civet cats. Red foxes, gray foxes, weasels, ground hogs, wolves and coyotes are subject to a continous open season. The season is closed on beaver and otter.

For residents using not more than 15 traps a $1 license is required and for natives having more than 15 traps, a 15-cent tag per trap is required. Non-residents must have 25-cent tags fo every trap. A hunting license does not include trapping.

A permit is required to sell furs out of the state. Dens and houses of furbearing animals cannot be molested and it is illegal to kill beaver, mink, otter or muskrat with shotguns or spears. The use of ferrets is also prohibited and dogs can be used only 30 days after the opening of the season.

"BOOM TOWN" HAS FOUR BIG STARS IN ACTION DRAMA

Revealing the entire story of the thrilling drama of oil for the first time, with a story that is entirely one of action and with a star group that includes Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert and Hedy Lemarr, "Boom Town" will open at the Avery Theatre next Sunday for an engagement of three days.

"Boom Town" is a calvalcade of oildom as "Test Pilot" covered the dramatic story of testing thrills in the skies. It is a dramatic story of two friends who carry on through reversals and successes even when one marries the sweetheart of the other. The friendship breaks dramatically and is renewed just as dramatically when the unmarried friend breaks up an affair between his former sweetheart's husband and an adventuress.

Through this story run scenes of roaring gushers, flaming oil fires whiffed out with TNT, blistering fistfights, a head-first dive into a street of mud to escape a rain of bullets, the hero on a bucking mule, a thrilling hold-up, a scrap between two dance hall girls and thousands of other fast-action sequences.

U-DELT-EM BRIDGE CLUB HELD PARTY THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Henry Galbreth was hostess to the U-Delt-Em bridge club at her home last Thursday afternoon where contract bridge was played, followed by a lunch.

High score for the afternoon was held by Mrs. P. M. Wilson and Mrs. F. J. Arnold won second high. Mrs. R. R. Reece was a guest.

Collection.

Otis Terrill, Rippey, has a large collection of old farm tools and equipment. In fact, he has one instrument which he has been unable to recognize. His choice item is a five-foot Deering binder, used for 37 years and in good condition and good enough to run now.

Don't keep green bananas in the refrigerator. They ripen at room temperature.

Motor Scooter, First Used as 'Adult's Toy,' Now Plays Important Transportation Role

By NATHANIEL WAYNE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union)

NEW YORK.—A young man motored into New York one day not so long ago. He had started from Los Angeles for Chicago and when he arrived there decided since he was averaging 117 miles to the gallon, he had enough money left to go on to New York. When he arrived in New York, the trip had cost him $8 for fuel.

Naturally the lad wasn't driving a ten-ton truck, not even an ordinary passenger automobile. He was riding in a motor scooter, a vehicle that started out several years ago as a toy at an amusement park and has ended up as a machine that has the transportation industry agog.

Even the builders thought of them in the beginning as a frivolous adult plaything. The idea then was to install them in amusement parks. That was back in 1936. Much to the manufacturers' own amazement they soon discovered the scooters being used by Hollywood actors and actresses for recreation inside the studios during rest periods. And more or less youthful vacationers started riding them for sport in Florida winter resorts.

It wasn't necessary for this to go on for long without attracting attention. A few enterprising men soon established scooter stations and rented by the hour the power-driven, magnified children's toy. The proprietor of the establishment at Jacksonville Beach, Fla., stocked 50 for use on the 37-mile stretch of smooth, firm beach that appears there at low tide.

Original Model Redesigned.

However, it was not until the manufacturers redesigned the scooter and gave it more power and mechanical durability, that Business began to give it attention. While this has been less than three years ago, already more than 50,000 are in operation.

Telegraph companies have found that messengers can deliver twice as many telegrams, with greater speed by use of the scooters instead of a bicycle. Retailers have discovered that it offers a swift and cheap means for light deliveries. Garages are buying them to speed up deliveries of cars to owners who ask that their automobiles be sent to their homes. (The scooter is hooked on the rear bumper as a trailer.) Airfields are stocking them to eliminate the long walks between runways and hangars.

Above is the youth who started from Los Angeles and wound up in New York. His scooter is of the older type, set to carry baggage. The girl in the lower picture is riding one of the new streamlined models.

What is making the automobile industry think twice, however, is increased use of the motored gliders for non-commercial purposes Some notable cases of long-distance touring are being recorded. A 55-year-old Missouri man in 18 months traveled 28,000 miles in 37 states, Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Mexico, Cuba and the Bahamas. He towed a trailer containing a folding cot, blankets, clothing and a radio. He averaged more than 100 miles per gallon and his expenses were $1 a day.

Low Cost Operation.

Two boys of 15 and 18 made a six-week journey last year from Minneapolis to Monterey, Mexico, and returned, carrying bedding, tent, clothing and some tools. The total cost of the 4,600-mile trip was $88.51. They used less than 40 gallons of gasoline.

Retail sales agents of automobiles are asking, "how long has this been going on?" They also would like to know where it is going to take them. As yet, none of the larger manufacturers of automobiles are turning out motor scooters. That may be changed any day now.

Meanwhile there are about 10 specialist companies making scooters, and they are laying down a nation-wide sale organization this year. The improvement and business application begun in 1938, increased in 1939 and is being vastly accellerated since spring New models have gone in for streamlining and even more horsepower.

Telegraph companies are reported to be motorizing their messenger service, at least on the Pacific coast, and are expected to be using 4,000 scooters by the end of this year. The new type of machines are also doing service for parcel delivery companies, druggists, grocers, butchers, confectioners, automobile dealers, garages, printers, army and navy, police departments, postmen, and many others. In large industrial plants they transport tools, supplies and men, passing through gates and doors too narrow for motor trucks, and also do pickup work outside of the plants.

Export Sales Also.

Although no drive for export sales has been made scooters have been shipped to countries all around the world—from Alaska to Argentina and from northern Europe to South Africa, and to Hawaii, the Philippines, China, New Guinea, Australia, India, and Palestine.

Light pleasure and messenger models have a top speed of 35 miles per hour and travel 100 to 125 miles on one gallon of gasoline. The heavier parcel carriers can make 25 or more miles per hour and run 75 miles on a gallon. The weight is close to the pavement, the doughnut tires give non-skid traction and all have brakes for safe operation. The numerous models are suited to many uses, for convenient transportation over short distances or on tours of thousands of miles and for the carriage of loads up to 200 pounds. Lastly, they are priced from less than $100 to $275.

Power of the engines has been tripled in many models and now ranges from ¾ to 2½ horsepower. All the engines are of single-cylinder, air-cooled, four-cycle type and operate at high speed, delivering maximum power and torque within a range of 2,000 to 3,500 revolutions per minute. They are self-contained little power plants, complete with accessories and fuel tank, and are manufactured by four small-engine companies primarily for stationary power purposes and for driving lawn mowers, small agricultural implements and the like.

Engine Equipment.

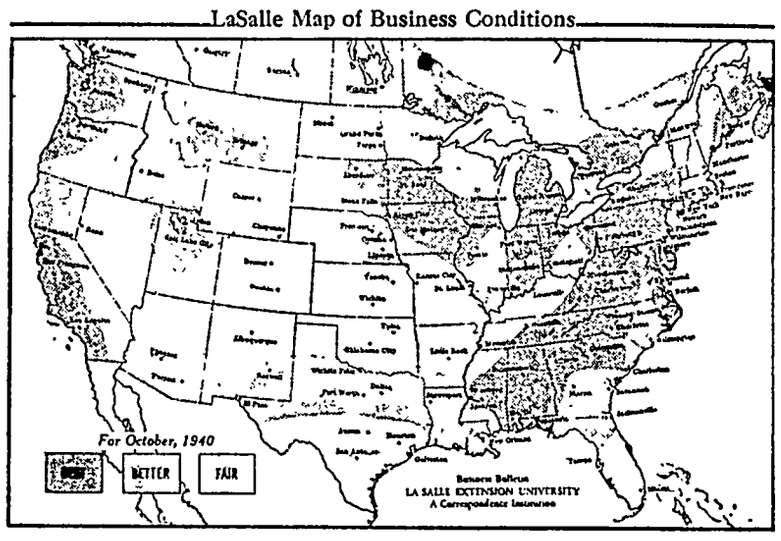
The engines are equipped with air cleaner, generator, starter, speed governor, flywheel air blower, fuel tank, and lighting coil to supply electric current for horn and lamps. Some models have driving-belt pulleys that give automatic change of speed through all ratios from low to high speed. One has a two-speed sliding gear transmission, and some have an automatic clutch that releases tension on the belt so the engine can idle when the scooter is standing still.

Arrangements for carrying two persons take the form of an extra seat on the scooter for tandem and of a passenger sidecar designed to harmonize with the scooter.

Engines are concealed in a ventilated sheet-steel hood mounted in front of and over the rear wheel on a unit drop frame made of pressed steel, channel steel, or steel tubing and having a broad, flat footboard. A wide, flat, comfortable coil-spring seat cushion is supported on the hood or on long springs extending up over it. A kick starter is provided on the side or front of the hood, and either a contracting or expanding brake on the rear wheel is operated by a pedal on the toeboard or by a lever or grip on the handlebar.

United States Scene, Month of October, 1940:

LaSalle Map of Business Conditions



Present business conditions are reflected in this map of the United States prepared by the La Salle Extension University of Chicago.

Spending for Defense Speeds Up Business

L. G. ELLIOTT
President, La Salle Extension University

Fall and winter business conditions will be the best in many years, as a result of the large amounts of money being spent for national defense. The total expenditures are large and under the governmental policy of spreading orders throughout every section of the country they directly provide more money for many communities. New opportunities for labor and for profitable business are being found in cities of the interior, in smaller towns, and in rural districts.

The upward trend has already carried business close to the highest level of a year ago. It is most strikingly indicated by the much larger volume of retail sales, the registration of more new passenger cars, the greater number of freight cars loaded each week, and the increased buying of both industrial and farm products. Unless adversely affected by unfavorable events abroad, the momentum of expansion will carry on for a considerable period.

Cash farm income, this year, is estimated at close to $9,000,000,000, which is about 5 per cent higher than last year. The increase represents an average annual gain of more than $75 per farm. The number of persons employed in manufacturing, and the amounts paid in wages, exceed those of last year by about the same percentage as does farm income. When higher purchasing power enables both city and rural consumers to buy more goods, trade increases and general conditions become more favorable.

Prices for farm and industrial products have been advancing moderately during the past few weeks, and for many commodities are close to the level of a year ago. Stable prices help maintain confidence and enable industry and agriculture to plan ahead more profitably. Periods of sound prosperity are those in which prices do not change too rapidly in either direction.

The steel industry continues to be the leader among those which are advancing steadily. It reflects the volume of orders from nearly every line of business and is, therefore, a good indicator of general conditions. The developing new industry—that of armaments, requires large amounts of steel and has already pushed operations close to capacity.

Not only are government purchases for defense becoming greater, but also private buyers have been increasing their orders in response to the improved consumer demand for manufactured products.

Britain Has Bought 1,001 U. S. Ships

WASHINGTON.—Acceptance recently by the United States maritime commission of a British offer of $4,640,000 for 19 of its 20 year old laid up vessels bring to 1,001 the number of American ships bought by Great Britain since the beginning of the war. Still other ships obtained by Canada may later be transferred to England.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

'CONSCRIPT' DOCTORS

National Guardsmen and the new draft army are going to have plenty of medical and dental service. Army plans call for a corps of 12,000 doctors and 2,287 dentists by July 1, 1941, who will be summoned from the Medical and Dental Reserve as the expansion of the army progresses.

At present the army has 1,196 physicians on active duty and expects to add another 2,700 from the mobilized National Guard. The remaining 8,400 will be secured from the Reserve Corps, the draft and volunteers. Dental vacancies will be filled the same way.

The 7,000 nurses needed for the Nursing Corps will be obtained chiefly through Red Cross registers. The nurses have warrant officer status and receive $60 a month, plus board, room and laundry. They cannot marry while in the service.

Animal medicine also will not be neglected, with 1,143 veterinarians to be added to horse-drawn units.

The army is strict about its medical and dental qualifications accepting only graduates of Class A colleges. Under a bill introduced by Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts, the army would be required to give commissions to graduates of Class B schools, but this is being opposed vigorously.

There are only two such schools in the U. S.: The Middlesex college at Middlesex, Mass., and the Chicago Medical school. Their graduates can practice only in Massachusetts and Illinois and the army refuses to admit them as physicians. It applies the same rule to chiropractors, osteopaths, naturopaths, neuropaths, and podiatrists.

The over-all medical ratio of the army is: For every 20,000 men a 1,000-bed hospital; with each 1,000-bed unit manned by 73 doctors, 120 nurses and 500 non-commissioned officers.

* * *

BALKAN MESS

Diplomatic dispatches from the Balkans indicate that Russia is not having a very good time in her dealings with the Axis.

The Russians are worried over the troops rushed by Hitler and Mussolini across her southern border in Rumania The Axis has taken over the Rumanian military system completely and even plans to conscript Rumanian troops

This came as a surprise to Moscow, which asked Berlin about it. This was the answer·

1. Nazi troops are needed in Rumania, first to protect the oil fields, since oil is all-important to Germany.

2. Italian and German troops may want to invade Turkey later in the year, and they want 60,000 men who could be rushed immediately from Rumania to Istanbul and the Straits.

The Nazis also explained that they were not taking any chances with Stalin's troops, because after Hitler had agreed to Russia having Bessarabia, Russia also seized Bukovina without even consulting anyone. Therefore, the Germans say they will station their own troops near the Russian boundary to see that this does not happen again.

The Nazis also explained that the Bulgarian and Hungarian armies still were itching for more territory, so Nazi troops have come in to protect the sovereignty of these small Balkan countries.

* * *

ARMY UNIFORMS

Young men who want to be officers in the new army are finding that the greatest obstacle is the cost of getting dressed. The army does not provide uniforms for its officers, and the cost at a tailor shop is enough to send them back home as conscientious objectors.

For an officer called in from Reserve, here is the list of minimum requirements. It does not include the "special evening dress," which would add another $105 to the total.

Olive drab blouse (coat) with "pink" slacks	$ 60.00
Overcoat	58.00
Garrison cap	8.50
Campaign cap	3.00
Sam Browne belt	10.50
Puttees	10.50
Field boots	18.50
Six shirts at $3.00	18.00
Breeches	25.00
Total	$212.00

This does not include a $16 saber, which has now been made optional. And it includes only one suit of blouse-and-slacks, whereas three or four actually are required.

The Quartermaster corps of the army estimates that $250 would be required to purchase a "modest outlay" for a young officer.

* * *

RATS AND WAR

Rats in America are getting a break as a result of the war in Europe. For the war has interfered with shipment of red squill from the Mediterranean area, and red squill is the most effective rat poison ever discovered.

It is a bulb, like an onion. You buy it in powdered or liquid form, and mix it with raw meat. Rats go for it, but they only go once. Department of agriculture recommends red squill, but supplies are being interrupted by war.

AXIS CONFERENCE

Mussolini—Well!

Von Ribbentrop—You took the word out of my mouth!

Mussolini—What explanation has Hitler to make to me?

Von Ribbentrop—Explanation for what?

Mussolini—He was to have licked England by August. I had his word for it.

Von Ribbentrop—Everything in a war can't be done according to schedule.

Mussolini—This is a fine time to tell me!

* * *

Von Ribbentrop—Germany can't help it if the British fail to give up in accordance with our expectations. Their slowness in surrendering is very disturbing to Herr Hitler.

Mussolini—If it disturbs Hitler, what do you think it does to me?

* * *

Von Ribbentrop—But there is nothing for us to worry about.

Mussolini—Did you ever try standing for any length of time with one foot in the middle of a desert, one in the middle of the sea and the other foot in the middle of Europe?

Von Ribbentrop—You are giving yourself too many feet.

Mussolini—Before I get through I may need 'em. I don't like the looks of things.

Von Ribbentrop—Why did you come into the war?

Mussolini—You know very well why I came in: You gave me a complete scenario, showing that France was finished and that England was as good as sunk.

Von Ribbentrop—Everything will come out as we promised. All we need is patience and a new plan.

* * *

Mussolini—Why can't you mop up England the way you did all those other countries? There must be traitors, fifth columnists and quitters there, too.

Von Ribbentrop—Yes, but England has 'em all in jail. Now lissen, Der Fuehrer says you have got to take Gibraltar. Are you ready?

Mussolini—Who? Me!

* * *

Von Ribbentrop—We must have the co-operation of Spain. We must move fast.

Mussolini — My troops never moved faster than they did when they were in Spain.

Von Ribbentrop—This time it's got to be in the right direction.

* * *

Mussolini—There are moments when I think maybe we are biting off more than we can chew.

Von Ribbentrop—You have my assurance this will be done on a 50-50 basis.

Mussolini—What do you mean by that?

Von Ribbentrop—Germany will do the biting; you can do the chewing.

Mussolini—The more you talk the more nervous I get.

Von Ribbentrop—Brace up! Don't you know Germany and Italy are super races? Don't you know they are the two greatest Powers on earth? Don't you know they are nations with a destiny? Don't you know they will rule the world?

Mussolini—I know it, and you know it . . . but does the world know it?

* * *

NEW LINE-UP

The Japs now join
The Nazi deals
And sing, "Heil, Heil,
The gang's all heels!"

* * *

General De Gaulle is making the mistake of assuming that the French realize what has happened to France.

* * *

A man showed up at an army recruiting station the other day with a portable radio. Yet there are people who scoff at the talk of a new and terrible weapon in modern war.

* * *

German submarine commanders must get instructions; "Proceed with the atrocity; we are ready with denials."

* * *

WHAT A LIFE!

This is his pain
And this is his sorrow:
It's hair today—
And gone tomorrow.
—Richard Avedon.

* * *

CANDIDATES FOR THE FIRING SQUAD

A man I'd smack upon the kisser
Is Crabby Cal, the Newsreel Hisser (Unless he takes to tactics new And hisses when I'm hissing, too.)

* * *

New York schools have stopped buying maps. Boundaries change so often that the schools draw maps on a blackboard and make erasures or additions as news from Europe comes in. "The class in geography will now look at yesterday's map and give all the errors."

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

When making iron holder in one layer of leather fro old glove, as it is a noncond of heat.

* * *

Lubricate the meat chopp electric mixer with salad oil, will prevent any disagre taste which might occur if re lubricating oil were used.

* * *

Half an hour is ample ti allow for baking of mediun apples.

* * *

Keep flowers out of draf much as possible; they are susceptible to a chill than hur

* * *

Glycerine will remove tea coffee stains from table linen. spots with glycerine and let a few minutes, then wash in the usual way.

* * *

Care must be taken to opening the oven door for five utes after the cake has been p in the oven. When removing drawing it to the front to see is baked evenly, be very ca as the least jar may cause cake to lose its lightness.

Now Speed at Lo Cost in Relievi

RHEUMATI PAIN

Use this famous quick today without thought price!

You may be utterly surprised at speed with which Bayer Aspi brings relief from neuralgia, he aches and pains of rheumatism neuritis. Among the fastest, effective ways known, Bayer A pirin not only brings relief fr such pains very fast . . . but quick way is very inexpensive may save the dollars once spent high priced remedies.

Once you try it . . . actually its quick relief, you'll know thousands make sure they substitutes for Bayer Aspirin always asking for it by its full name when they buy . . . never by the name of "aspirin" alone.

Demand BAYER ASPIRI

Giving and Taking

We should never remember benefits we have conferred, forget the favors received.—C

INDIGESTIO

may affect the Heart

Gas trapped in the stomach or gullet may set hair-trigger on the heart. At the first sign of smart men and women depend on Bell-ans set gas free. No laxative but made of the acting medicines known for acid indigestion. FIRST DOSE doesn't prove Bell-ans bottle to us and receive DOUBLE Money Back

Watch Your Kidneys

Help Them Cleanse the of Harmful Body Wa

Your kidneys are constantly waste matter from the blood stream. kidneys sometimes lag in their work not act as Nature intended—fail to move impurities that, if retained, poison the system and upset the body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging persistent headache, attacks of getting up nights, swelling, under the eyes—a feeling of anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder order are sometimes burning, too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that treatment is wiser than neglect. Doan's Pills. Doan's have been new friends for more than forty They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILL

Discontent

Discontent is the first step in progress of a man or a natio Wilde.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use

666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH

WNU—N

Common Sense

A handful of common sense worth a bushel of learning.

Harmar's Defeat' Was First Fruits of Military Policy Which Has Sacrificed Americans on Altar of Unpreparedness

LMO SCOTT WATSON
ed by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE month of October, 90, the present site of ort Wayne, Ind., was the of two significant mili- engagements. They not were the first of a series asters which overtook egular army during a ry of conflict with the ns but they marked the ning of a blundering ary policy that repeat- acrificed American lives e altar of unprepared-

e two engagements have down in history as "Har- Defeat" Thus, for a cen- nd a half, the name of the eneral-in-chief of the United army and the beginning of rmanent military establish- have been linked with the of failure and disaster.

ah Harmar, born in Phil- ia on July 25, 1753, had in the Revolution under ngton and Greene. His war , although not brilliant, had n honorable one.

he year 1784 the Continen- ngress, after having set the th of the permanent mili- orces of the new nation at en, asked four states "to n forthwith from their mili- 00 men, to serve for 12 s, unless sooner dis- ed" Thus was inaugurat- system of depending upon for providing the bulk of med forces, a system which epeatedly to prove such a l failure in war-time emer- s. Harmar was made lieu- -colonel commandant and ed command of the troops ugust 12, 1784. His rank him the senior officer in rvice of the United States, e automatically became ral-in-chief."

EN. JOSIAH HARMAR

r the adoption of the Con- on and the election of Wash- as President, Harmar was n command of the army by Henry Knox, secretary of With most of its domestic ms on the way to a solu- Washington's administration able to turn its attention d the Indian problem in the

The wave of emigration ad begun to pour into Ken- then seep north into the country, was bitterly resist- the Indians.

Arthur St. Clair, governor Northwest Territory, had in vain to bring peace to arried frontier by negotia- with the Indians. When efforts failed, Washington led to congress for money h to carry on a successful aign against the hostiles. hat body, jittery over the nary dangers of a large ding army," declined to the necessary appropria- So when General Harmar t for the West with an ex- onary force to whip the s into submission, it was ly inadequate for that task. ough it numbered more ,400 men, only 320 of these regulars and the remainder militia—three battalions of ians, one of Pennsylva- and one of mounted light from Kentucky. Not only he majority of these troops ed stuff for the stern task of them, but their equip- was deplorable.

was the army that was gainst the hundreds of Wy- Shawnee and Miami war- (their exact number is un-) who had repeatedly themselves formidable s, skilled in the type of re that had overwhelmed ock in 1756, and led by one greatest chieftains this con- ever produced. He was Turtle of the Miamis.

October 4 Harmar's army ort Washington (site of the t city of Cincinnati) and north. Near the St. Mary's 0 days later, Harmar sent l Hardin with a company of regulars and 600 militia to push on to the Miami villages at the head of the Maumee river. Hardin found the Indian towns on both banks of the St. Joseph deserted but the red men had left behind a number of cows and great stores of vegetables and grain, including 20,000 bushels of corn Hardin's men immediately began plundering and it was with great difficulty that their officers brought them under control.

On October 19 the general sent a detachment of 300 men under Colonel Hardin, at his request, to locate the encampment of the retreating Indians and bring them to battle.

Into an Ambuscade.

Five miles from the village, the soldiers came upon an abandoned Indian camp where Hardin deployed his forces but neglected to arrange for any real co-ordination of their movements. Three miles further on they discovered two Indians on foot, who tried to escape in the underbrush, and, throwing caution to the winds, the soldiers plunged forward in pursuit. The result was that Hardin's command was drawn into an ambuscade that had been prepared by Little Turtle whose warriors opened up with a fusillade of musketry that threw the soldiers into confusion.

At the first fire of the savages, the militia, with the exception of nine men, fled without firing a shot. These nine joined the little detachment of 30 regulars, led by Captain Armstrong and Ensign Hartshorn, who were standing their ground and returning the savages' fire, which was now concentrated upon them. The nine militiamen were shot down but the regulars made a brave resistance with their bayonets until 22 of the 30 had been killed.

The next morning Harmar issued a general order, berating "the shameful, cowardly conduct of the militia who ran away and threw down their arms without scarcely firing a shot" Next the commander ordered an advance against the Shawnee village of Chillicothe, to destroy that town and the supplies stored there.

This was successfully accomplished but Harmar was so disheartened by the evident demoralization of his army that he decided upon an immediate retreat to Fort Washington. The movement began on the morning of October 21 and by evening the army had gone into camp seven miles southeast of the present city of Fort Wayne. Then Colonel Hardin, still chagrined over his failure two days earlier, went to the commander and outlined a plan for snatching victory from defeat. Believing that the Indians would swarm back to their burned villages, he would make a swift night march with a picked force of men and fall upon the unsuspecting savages.

Harmar was dubious of the wisdom of the scheme but Hardin was so persistent in his pleading that the commander finally gave his consent. Accordingly late that night a force of 340 picked militiamen and 60 regulars, commanded by Maj. John P. Wyllys, set out for the Miami villages. They reached their objective soon after sunrise undiscovered by the Indians who were busily engaged in trying to salvage some of their property from the burned village.

A Plan That Failed.

The plan of battle was a good one and probably would have succeeded had it not been for an action characteristic of undisciplined troops. Major Hall, with a battalion of militia, was to take a circuitous route to the westward, cross the St. Mary's river at the ford and there, in the rear of the village, wait until they heard the noise of the attack by Major McMullen's battalion, Major Fontaine's mounted riflemen and the regulars under Major Wyllys. The latter would then move across the Maumee and drive the surprised savages against the guns of Hall's battalion

Hall reached his position unobserved. But one of his men disobeyed orders, fired at a lone Indian and alarmed the village before the other troops were in position. The aroused savages quickly discovered them and Little Turtle, quickly sensing that Hall offered no serious threat, concentrated his attention on the main body of troops Soon small groups of Indians were seen streaming away to the northeast and McMullen's militia and Fontaine's horsemen, pursued them, leaving Wyllys and the regulars unsupported.

Undaunted by this fact, the regulars advanced across the river and attempted to force their way up the river where a large force of Indians opened a hot fire upon them. Wyllys was one of the first killed and the others were driven back into the river which was soon literally choked with the bodies of men and horses. Meanwhile Major Fontaine was hotly engaged with another force of Indians who shot down the major and killed a number of his men. But immediately afterwards the savages were attacked in the rear by Hall's men.

There was a short fierce struggle, then Hall's, McMullen's and Fontaine's forces fell back in confusion to the ford across the Maumee where they joined the remnants of the regulars in their retreat. One of the horsemen, who had escaped from the field, bore the news of the new disaster to Harmar who immediately ordered a detachment of militia to march to the aid of their comrades. But, such was the demoralization of the militia that only 30 of them were willing to go. When Hardin arrived in camp and urged the commander to lead his entire force against the enemy, Harmar, having lost all confidence in his soldiers, refused to go. The next day he continued his retreat to Fort Washington where he arrived on November 4.

LITTLE TURTLE

(After the portrait by Gilbert Stuart, destroyed when the British burned the national capital in 1814.)

The Americans' loss was given as 183 killed and 31 wounded, although it is probable that some of these numbers were men who had deserted and made their way back to Kentucky. Harmar claimed that his men had killed at least 100 Indians and regarded his campaign as a success, despite the fact that a court of inquiry was appointed to investigate what the authorities considered a serious disaster. The court exonerated him of all blame and he was retained in the service as adjutant-general of the Pennsylvania troops. In this capacity he rendered good service in providing men for the army of Gen. Arthur St. Clair which suffered an even worse defeat the next year, and the army of Gen Anthony Wayne, which finally whipped the Indians at the Battle of Fallen Timbers in 1794. He resigned from the army in 1799 and entered the mercantile business in Philadelphia where he died August 20, 1813.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

United Feature WNU Service

Washington, D. C.

PUBLIC OPINION POLLS

This is a piece about these dopester polls that tell you all about elections before they happen. I don't believe in them. Their accuracy depends too much on their timing, the way they are conducted and the wording of the questions. They can have great effect to sway voters. The conduct of them is a private enterprise for profit. There is no assurance of bipartisan or neutral control of their conduct. As campaigns reach climaxes there are few Americans whose sympathies are not aroused. It is human nature for the wish to be father to both conviction and conduct—among poorly paid enumerators also.

These polls do not register secret ballot They do not even register a sample "yes" or "no." They are frequently built up on a series of more or less technical questions, sometimes so framed as to persuade a particular answer which the enumerator interprets. In view of their great influence, it seems to me that all polls require both investigation and regulation in the public interest. They certainly do not deserve to be swallowed whole.

I don't dispute their possible value (1) as some indication of shifts and trends in public thinking, and (2) as an even better indication when actual choice closely approaches, and the simple question is "Do you favor X or Y?"

But the folly of making conclusions on these polls is apparent. Most people don't have time to study them A flat statement such as Dr. Gallup recently made that his study showed 499 electoral votes for Roosevelt with 42 states and 32 votes for Willkie with 6 states, sounds almost as impressive as the 1936 election returns when Mr. Roosevelt carried 46 states.

But, however inaccurate, except as to trend, an examination of this and other polls shows a surprising reversal of popular opinion. In 1936, Mr. Roosevelt carried 27 4 million voters to Mr. Landon's 16 6 millions —almost 66 per cent or a majority of 10.8 millions. The poll of American Forecasts Inc.—a competitor of Dr. Gallup's—predicts 23.7 millions for Mr. Roosevelt and 21.2 millions for Mr. Willkie—a 53 per cent majority, or only 2.5 million majority.

Both poll conductors insist on a 3 per cent to 4 per cent margin of error as experienced in their own performances. Both also report very large "undecided" groups and Dr. Gallup says: "Supplementary surveys show that as many as 27 per cent of Mr. Roosevelt's current supporters are not definitely sure that they will vote for him." Consider the states shown on the Gallup poll with less than a 4 per cent majority (Dr. Gallup's claimed margin of error) for Mr. Roosevelt—all of which are shown on the Dunn Survey as safely for Willkie. Consider also that the American Opinion Forecast Inc. poll is 2 per cent less favorable to Mr. Roosevelt than Dr. Gallup's Consider both of these.

I come to no such conclusions. I don't trust these polls either way. This is going to be a very close election. The Democrats are dumb if they are lulled by this sweet news. The Republicans are quitters if they become defeatists because of any such cheap stuff.

* * *

The political practice about these modern polls is like Shylock with Portia, to praise them when their forecast is favorable and curse them otherwise. I can escape that charge. I have long regarded all these "sampling" polls as a public evil capable of vicious abuse. They won't tell their exact method. They resist investigation that would reveal more than their "general principles." These are not enough to determine whether in the science of mathematics they stand even on a sound formula of probabilities.

They refer to their record of accuracy. Sometimes it has been remarkable, but since they do not claim accuracy within 3 or 4 per cent and many an election has turned on less than that, it is not very convincing—especially since they are very coy in reporting the actual number (not the percentage) of "undecided" answers by location. That clouds their whole result

* * *

There is a survey in this country based on a different method than "sampling." It is called the Dunn Survey. It has been conducted for years by a scholarly, retiring sort of fellow It is not a poll taken by part-time agents on a theoretically selected sampling. It is scientific analysis of several factors. There has been no attempts to commercialize or publicize it. It has been far more timely, or at least it has forecast results far sooner, than other polls

* * *

It is too early for this column to repeat its 1936 stunt "Landon may carry four states, he is only sure of two," but I don't think we are going to hear any more of the Gallup poll after this election than of the Literary Digest poll after 1936 This, of course, is my own opinion.

If it becomes appropriate to eat these words, I shall do it as gracefully as possible, but I didn't have any literary indigestion last time and I don't expect to suffer gallupping consumption in 1940

Man About Town

New Yorkers Are Talking About: Jolson's plan to get custody of the child from Ruby Keeler . . . The J. Cromwell-Doris Duke "distance" which intimates insist will be Renotarized after November 7 . . . The famed Tune Pan Alley patriot's daughter who was ousted bodily from a cocktail party, for declaring: "I wouldn't mind a fate like Unity Mitford's if I could be near Hitler first! That man's voice thrills me!"

The phony romance between Babs Hutton and Bob Sweeney, the golf ace. It was strictly a cover-up for Bob's visits from England—the buying of munitions and recruiting of Americans as RAFliers . . . The alleged real reason why Willard Hershberger, the Cincy "Reds" catcher, committed suicide. A certain woman, who not only took his heart and kicked it around, but all his savings . . . Paul Harrison's hilarious quote: "Errol Flynn says if all the French could fight like Lili Damita, they'd have won the war."

They're Also Talking About: The fact that Mrs. Wm. Rhinelander Stewart, wife of the president of Stage Magazine, is the ex-Mrs. of Allan Ryan, whose present squaw is fashion editor of it . . . The Zorina-Balanchine sitcheeayshun: They are supposed to be living out the lease on their apt—her escort six nights in a row being the son of a man who used to be a newspaper executive himself!

The forthcoming film by the producer of " . . . one-third of a nation" which will be called: "Listen, Louella" . . . The way DuBetty DuBarry DuAllen and Ron Graham of that hit are Du-ing the spots together . . . Lucius Beebe's fury with El Morocco. Over the way owner Perona sold opening night tables instead of holding them for tardy-arriving cufftomers from the press. Lucius is supposed to have vowed never to go in there again, so helpim . . . The hushed-up fact that Raymond Paige and Mary York are married.

More Talk: The number of Japs attending N. Y. universities, who are registered with ranking military titles at Jap army headquarters. Your Uncle Samson knows all about it, don't worry, lady . The concern of Life and Time over the legend that Henry Luce was shelving Willkie. That's why Life had Wendell on its cover and that's why Time will have . . . The laugh of the week: About the boys who for six years have been buying drinks for an actress at a Forty-fifth street bar and taking her out. Only the other day she was discovered to be a he!

The betrothal ring on Mrs. Robert Sloan's finger. Put there by Jim Fownes of the glove tribe. Her late groom was counsel for the Doherty interests . . The attraction at Radio Franks for J. Dempsey—Dottie Darling, who thrushes there . . . Col. Batista's loan of 50,000,000 smackers from the U. S. And his soon due visit to Washington . . The legend that a pal of Lord Beaverbrook's has been flying back and forth to Italy and Germany doing biz directly with Hitler and Duce. Supposed to be pro-British, and maybe he is, but chums allege that Ben Smith, the Wall Streeter, is betting his coin on the Axis to win . . . The newspapers which will soon start Latin-American columns to build better-will.

This Is New York

The droopy stares of the gals who make pancakes in store windows. Oblivious to the oglers . . . The honky-tonk atmosphere of Broadway. Hot dogs, orange juice, penny arcades being enjoyed by out-of-towners. They can get the same thing at any small town fair . . . The congested night spots glutted with fugitives from the headlines. But war would be a relief after the atrocity that is night-club conversation.

The toes of clouds catching the tips of skyscrapers as they roll along chased by the wind . . . The shoeshine boy at City Hall with a sensa yuma. Offers a free shine, but demands a five cent tax . . Shabby looking Wall Street. Many of the buildings are dated, the streets narrow and old-fashioned. Yet Wall Street is the dollar sign of this country . . .

The Plaza, sleepy with silence at midnight. With only an occasional neigh of a cabbie's horse to shatter the murmur of nothing . South street with every doorway and alleyway draped with snoring derelicts.

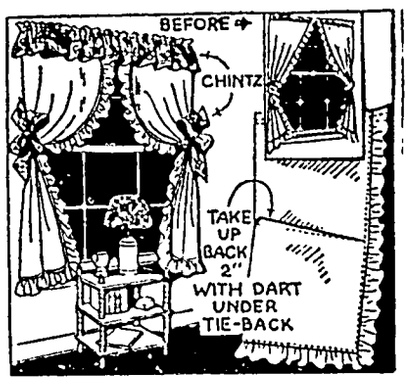
The train announcers who speak as though they thought no one was listening to them . . The pretty showgals and chorines in the drug store luncheonettes. You can buy an ice cream soda and feast your eyes on a Ziegfeld line free . The Forty-ninth street and Sixth avenue (Radio City) synagogue — leased from three affable Irishmen, Hurley Bros. and Daly, who own the saloon downstairs.

The subway sentries who show around more people than dictators But they always say "sorry."

Frilled Curtains Give Glamour to Windows

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THE newest frilled curtains give a full, lavish effect. If they make your old curtains look a bit dejected, like those shown here at the right, don't be discouraged. The window at the left uses those same curtains with a dash of glamour added. This economy trick saved a certain young matron enough money to buy a number of smart new accessories for her living room.



She discovered that a diagonal dart, which took up the curtains at the back, threw more fullness to the front, thus giving the new high drape a smart line. Tiebacks and valance were made of flowered chintz in rose and plum tones, lined with plain plum colored chintz. One yard of each kind of chintz was required for each window

* * *

NOTE: The chintz covered lamp shade and the spool table also add interest to this window. Full directions for making a shade like the one illustrated are in SEWING, Book 1. Directions for the spool table are in Book 5, also descriptions of the first four booklets in this series There are 32 homemaking projects in each number; for which there is a service charge of 10c each to cover cost and mailing. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....

Address .....

Suitor's Slight Slip Gave Her Pop an Opening

Reggie had courted the daughter of the house for many months now, and finally came to the conclusion that it was time to declare himself. He found no great difficulty in obtaining the young lady's consent. However, he dreaded the ordeal he expected when asking for her father's approval. Then he hit upon the happy thought of writing to him. Here let it be known, his spelling wasn't so hot!

"Dear Sir," ran the note, "I wish to ask for the hand of your daughter, the flour of the family."

Back came the father's reply: "Is it the flour of the family or the dough you're after?"

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Read These Important Facts!

Quivering nerves can make you old, haggard, cranky—can make your life a nightmare of jealousy, self pity and "the blues."

Often such nervousness is due to female functional disorders. So take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help calm unstrung nerves and lessen functional "irregularities." For over 60 years relief-giving Pinkham's Compound has helped tens of thousands of grandmothers, mothers and daughters "in time of need." Try it!

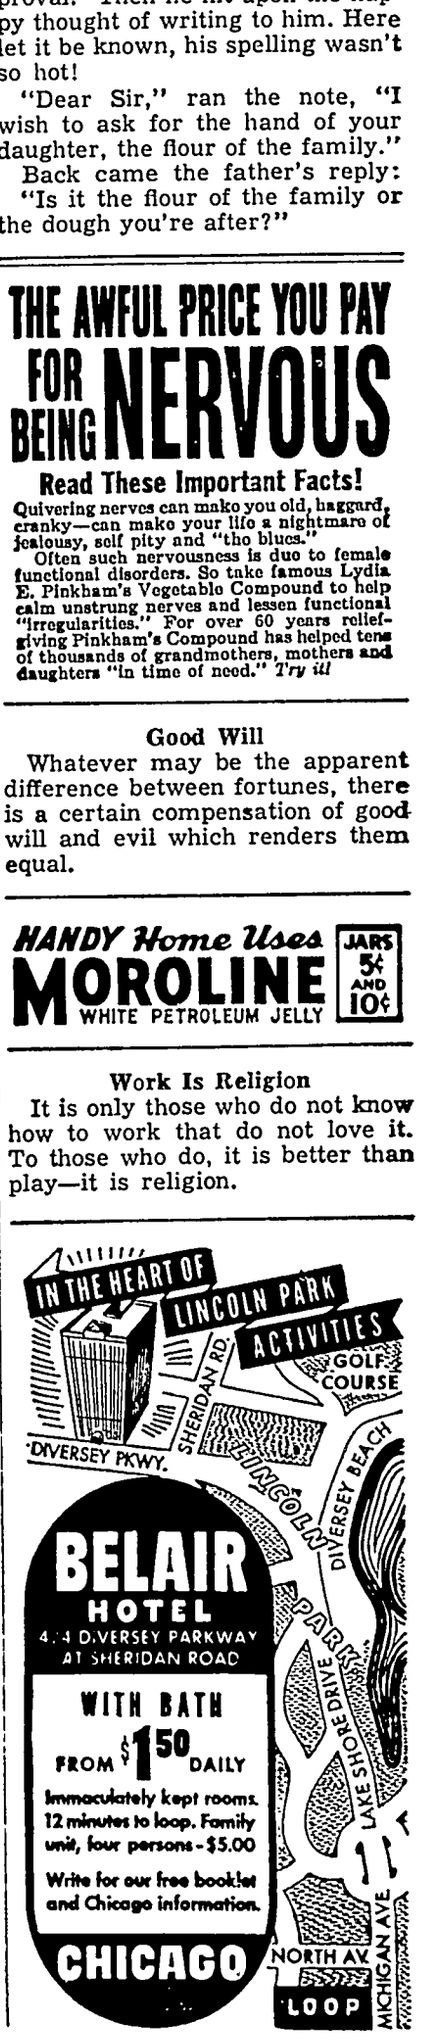
Good Will

Whatever may be the apparent difference between fortunes, there is a certain compensation of good will and evil which renders them equal.

HANDY Home Uses MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY JARS 5¢ AND 10¢

Work Is Religion

It is only those who do not know how to work that do not love it. To those who do, it is better than play—it is religion.



K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 1-2

MONARCH Coffee lb. 20c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

MONARCH Cream Style CORN 2 cans 19c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

CAKE FLOUR Sno Sheen, box 22c

COCONUT, Fancy long thread, lb. 21c

CAMAY Soap with Comb — 3 bars 21c

MOLASSES, Baking Yacht Club, qt. . 14c

GREEN TEA Japan, per lb. 20c

BOX CANDY Chocolate Covered Cherries 1 Pound Box 19c

CORN MEAL, F & S Quaker's 5 lb. bag 18c

BANNER OATS, Quick or Regular Per box 19c

MEAT DEPARTMENT

PICNIC HAM, Shankless and Tenderized Per lb. 14c

BOLOGNA Home Made Per lb. 17c

CHEESE Cudahy's Swiss, American, Pimento ½ lb. Package 15c

Klemme Food Market

STORE — C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

USED CARS

Here Are Real Buys!

1 1939 PONTIAC TUDOR
Tudor; New Tires

1 1938 STD. FORD
Tudor; Good Heater and Tires

1 1937 DELUXE FORD
Sedan; Radio and Heater

1 1937 STD. FORD
Tudor; Very Clean

1 1936 FORD
with Trunk; Motor Re-conditioned

1 1937 HUDSON
4-Door Sedan; Radio and Heater

1 1936 HUDSON
Sedan; Re-conditioned Motor

Low Special Prices!

1929 FORD Sedan $34

1930 CHEV. Tudor $79

1931 OLDS Coupe $72

1929 HUP. Sedan $41

We will fill each of these Used Cars full of gas at time of Delivery!

- PHONE 93 -

Klemme Auto Company

Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service — Klemme, Iowa

Once, I Could Vote, Too!

Once, like you, I was a free man! A Frenchman!

Politicians made speeches to me, too! They spoke about our impregnable democracy.

They told me what they were doing to protect my standard of living and my working conditions.

They promised my family safety through preparedness.

But they weren't honest with me! They let me down!

I found that out when I had to give up my job to go to war—at the same time that I found out you couldn't stop tanks with bodies, that you couldn't halt bombs and yon couldn't buy peace with promises.

Now they are holding trials to find out whose fault it was. But I know—

It was MY fault!

I voted for the easy way.

I voted for the beguiling voice.

I voted for the politician, not the man.

I was one of a nation of free men who did not prize freedom. Today I am not free.

I repeat, it was my fault. But it was I who paid the penalty. I, with my womenfolk and my children! I, who thought I was prepared for war.

Free men of America, already you may be pledged to a conflict for which you know you are not prepared.

Remember my mistake! Weigh the man against the politician before you vote.

Do not vote for a politician—VOTE FOR A MAN WHO WORKED WITH HIS HANDS.

Do not vote for a voice—VOTE FOR A MAN.

Do not vote for the easy way—VOTE FOR A MAN WHO CAME UP THE HARD WAY.

VOTE FOR WILLKIE

Pour boiling water on oranges and let stand 5 minutes. This makes the white lining come away from the skin and the oranges are easier to prepare.

Rolling Logs.

Harvey Hoyt, Hubbard, while cutting timber, was crushed to death last week when a large log rolled over him.

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 30-31

"Young People"

with Shirley Temple and Jack Oakie.

Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 1-2. (Double Feature)

"Son of Roaring Dan"

with Johnny Mack Brown and Bob Baker.

ALSO

"ANGLES OVER BROADWAY"

with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Rita Hayworth.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 3-4-5.

'BOOM TOWN'

with Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert and Hedy Lamarr.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—PURE BRED HAMPshire Boars. 2 miles south, 2 miles east of Meservey. Heiko, Floyd & Vern Janssen. 5tp-20

FOR SALE—COAL BURNING Parlor Heater, circulating type. In good condition and cheap. Klemme Co-Operative Grain Co. O-16tc.

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5.00. Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc.

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

WANTS

WANTED—MAN TO SELL WELL known line of products in local territory Merchandise on consignment. No cash investment or signers required Car needed. S. F. Baker & Co, Keokuk, Ia 23-3tp

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—ELECTRIC VACUUM sweepers and electric floor waxrs at one dollar per day. Wellemeyer. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr and Mrs Monnie Mitchell, Mr and Mrs McAdams of Mason City, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Volkman, of Nora Springs, spent Sunday at the Kill Lemke home

Mr and Mrs. Elmer Weisbrod and barby of Fenton visited at the George Schoenwetter home, Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Adee, of Clarksfield, Minn., were overnight guests at the Ben Ridder home, Wednesday Rev. and Mrs. Adee are formerly of Imgrant, Wis. where Rev. Adee officiated at the weddings of Mr and Mrs. Ben Reiner and Mr and Mrs. Ben Ridder

Mr and Mrs. Fred Gates, of Clear Lake, were callers at the Ben Ridder home Tuesday

Rev Will Suckow, of Postville, visited Tuesday at the E. G Beier and Chas Bredlow homes and with other relatives.

Mr and Mrs. Jim McHugh and daughter, of Waterloo, spent Sunday at the August Lau home.

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Kupler and Miss Lydia Beier, of Waterloo, and Mrs. August Ridder were dinner guests at the Ben Ridder home Thursday.

Mrs. Albert Lange and daughter, Mary, visited at the Mrs. D. H Hammon home in Garner on Thursday.

Mr and Mrs. Ben Reimer were visitors at the Ben Ridder home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Stromer are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Friday, Oct. 25. The little miss has been named Marian Viola.

Melvin Pannhoff, son of Mrs. Dick Pannhoff, had the misfortune of getting his hand into a buzz saw while cutting wood.

Will Lemke was a Mason City visitor Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs. Henry Smid and daughter visited at the Emery Schaefer home Sunday evening.

The Adult Sunday School class of Liberty held a dinner in the church basement Sunday. There were about 30 present. All brought well filled baskets of food. A business meeting was held. Emil Beier is the teacher.

If lights are used in poultry houses to boost egg production this winter, these lights should be suspended from the roof in a way that most of the illumination falls on the floor and only a little hits the roosts.

Freak.

A. W. Heide, Delmar, recently found a stalk of corn with a potato growing on the roots.

oOo

Corn Jungle.

Malvern Boy Scouts, volunteer firemen and neighbors assisted in finding Larry Davis, 2-year-old boy of Malvern recently. The small lad was lost in a 165-acre corn field for several hours.

-oOo-

Returns.

Scott Kimes, now of New Virginia, returned to Wheatland recently to visit old friends. After being absent from the town for 69 years, he found few who remembered him.

Gift.

The Griswold Fire D received $50 recently from an insurance comp carried insurance on se dences endangered by fire in that town.

-oOo-

Falls!

Garry Mumm, of near recently fell out of a s window of his home mother rushed out, to coming around the house and unhurt.

-oOo-

Collapses.

One wall of a grain e Lost Nation collapsed letting about 4,000 bushe fall to the ground.

NOTICE!

We Will Not Be Held Responsible- - -

. . . for costly freezeups that may claim your car among their victims if you do not soon prepare for fall and winter driving Events of past years prove that it is DANGEROUS to operate an unprepared car in Northern Iowa this late in the season!

WE WARN YOU AGAIN AS WE HAVE WARNED YOU BEFORE . . . .

. . . that it costs you LESS to prepare than to repair! So, drive in this week for anti-freeze radiator solutions and a fall lubrication. We have a full supply of

PRESTONE ANTI-FREEZE
EN-AR-CO ANTI-FREEZE
RADIATOR ALCOHOL
WINTER GRADE MOTOR OILS
WINTER GRADE GREASE

Take advantage of the present good weather by driving in for a thorough "Winterizing" of your car which includes cleaning your radiator, flushing, filling with anti-freeze, change to lighter oil, fall lubrication, battery inspection, and tire check-up.

"Where you get SERVICE with a SMILE!"

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station

HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. — Klemme, I

SALE

Of Household Goods

As we are moving into a smaller house we will dispo of surplus household goods at public auction at re dence one block south of Park on

Saturday, Nov. 2

Sale Begins at 2:00 P. M.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS, ETC.

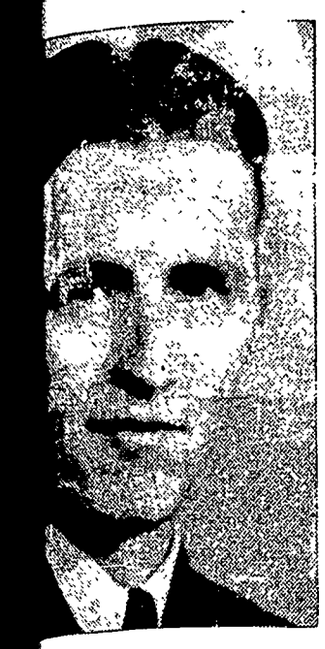
1 Piano in good condition
2 Three-quarter size Beds with Mattresses.
1 Buffet
1 Day Bed
1 2-Burner Oil Stove
1 Kitchen Table
1 Baby Bed and Mattres
1 Brooder Stove
2 Gallon Jugs
2 Stone Crocks
1 Auto Seat
1 Clothes Reel
8 Bu. Winter Apples

And Other Articles

TERMS: The terms of this sale are cash. No propert to be removed until settled for.

Mrs. Herman Paul

B. A. Reemstma, Auctioneer — Alvin Keeper, Cle



VOTE FOR

B. C. Berge

of Garner, Iowa

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR

County Attorney

YOUR VOTE WILL BE APPRECIATED

WE MUST SELL OUR

Used CARS and TRUCKS

No matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find CAR or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. bargains in late models. You take no chances when you with us. Come in and look them over.

Garner Motor Sales

MOBILE CHEVROLET

To The Voters:

Because of the various duties I have to perform, including service on the Hancock County Draft Board, my time is limited and it will be impossible for me to call on each in the county, much as I would like to do so. Therefore, I this means of bringing before you a few facts regarding my fications for public office:

1. Life-long resident of Hancock County.
2. A farmer and a heavy tax payer.
3. Former Director of the Hancock Co. Oil Co.
4. Former Trustee in Liberty Township.
5. Former Supervisor of Hancock County.

If elected to the office of Sheriff of Hancock County, I will without fear or favor, standing for what I honestly believe right and fair. It shall be my endeavor to serve in an efficient economical manner at all times. Your vote will be greatly appreciated at the General Election on Tuesday, November 5th.

Ben F. Greiman

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

Sheriff

YOUR SUPPORT APPRECIATED

Clifford S. SCHAPER

Democratic Candidate For

HANCOCK COUNTY

Supervisor

Term Beginning Jan. 1, 1941

General Election November 5, 1940

'NO WAR' IS WILLKIE PLEDGE TO NATION

Addressing an audience of his fellow townsmen at Rushville, Indiana, Wendell Willkie made the following unequivocal declaration:

"I shall never lead the United States into any European war.

"I believe completely that the United States should help Great Britain short of war, but when I say short of war, I mean SHORT OF WAR."

Commenting on the charge of Henry A. Wallace that the Republican Party is "the party of appeasement," Mr. Willkie said:

"If appeasement means working out compromises with dictators; if Mr. Wallace intended to apply that to the Republican Party, he was 100 percent wrong, because if I am elected President of the United States there will be no appeasement with any dictator.

"But if Wallace meant to say the Republican Party is the party of peace, then he spoke the truth, because I shall never lead the United States into any European war."

YOUNG PEOPLE'S BIBLE CLASS OF THE REFORMED CHURCH ELECT OFFICERS

The Young People's Bible class of the Klemme Reformed Church, held their annual election of officers for the coming year The following officers were elected President, Mitchell Bock, Vice-President, Milvern Barz, Sec and Treas., Della Kaduce.

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor . . . Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor . . . Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman . . Eunice Larsen
Sophomore . . Audrey Mau
Junior . . Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior . . Shirley Johnson
Dramatics . . Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music . . Jacqueline Kudjo
Sports . . Henry Kaduce
Leonard Kaduce
Grade News . . Arlene Schmidt

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

Mavis Nuehring and LaVohn Christie returned to school this week. Mavis had tonsilities and La Vohn found chicken pox very annoying

The Hallowe'en party has caused a lot of mysterious doings this week.

We're heard that the SHAKESPEAREAN studier has decided it was to complicated.

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

In history we are studying the early history of Italy Many people catch up on their sleep in this class it seems.

In English we are reading the short stories we wrote, and are filling out a notebook about the library.

What is this about a certain sophomore boy being kidnapped?

In biology we have been studying inverterbrates.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

Although the junior class members are not of age to vote -- we voted in sociology class Friday

ROOSEVELT	9
WILLKIE	8

Roosevelt will be our boosted president

P S. Prof Burce Arnold --- Knows all, sees nothing

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The senior home economics girls have come to the conclusion that none of the candidates of the major political parties are any good so we nominate none other than Mr Bowles for president He must be at elast thirty-five and we've never seen him downed for something to say.

We have a Sir Walter Raleigh right here in school When the roads were muddy a couple of weeks ago, a young man was seen carrying a fair maiden across the puddles He isn't any freshman either

The seniors got out of physic class Wednesday when Mr. Hamilton gave a talk We thought we'd get out of class again Friday when Mr Ranney gave a talk on prison conditions, but they fooled us and moved classes up a period.

Mr. Clay of the Clay Studios of Marion City came this week to show the seniors class pictures.

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

DELLA KADUCE· Della was chosen by the student body last year to represent Klemme at the band festival. She sings soprano in glee club and mixed chorus Her favorite song is "My Man." Now of course, none of us know who this must mean Plans on being a rural school teacher if her romantic inclinations don't get her before then. Della is one of those very few, who has gone twelve years to the same school.

HENRY KADUCE. Another Kaduce, but they're only cousins Henry, better known as "Hank," is on the sport column of the paper Henry devotes his extra-curriculem to baseball. In study hall Henry occupies a place at a table full of girls. The girls have named it, "Hank's Harem" and does he like it! In the future he plans to go in for tooth advertisements; he has the whitest teeth! Says it comes from drinking milk.

DOROTHY BAACK: She has quite a technique for getting into the dances, but she doesn't disclose her secrets. Dorothy sings alto in the mixed chorus and glee club. She also plays a clarinet in the band. She has one great talent: the ability to flop her eyelashes. Not at the students either. With this talent we predict Dorothy the most likely to succeed of the '41 class.

EDNA SPITLER: Edna plays saxaphone in the band and sings soprano in mixed chorus. She's another one of the unlucky seniors that have a brother or sister in the freshman class to keep tab on them. In Edna's case, I think the proposition should be reversed.

P. S In last week's "Who's Who" something was said about Ruth's being convinced that Willkie was our man, but at the last minute I have just been informed that she isn't!

!! SPORTS !!

Coach Bowles thinks that the basketball boys know most of the fundementals of basketball, such as passing, shooting and dribbling. This leads us to believe that it won't be long before the boys will get some real good workouts by scrimaging.

MUSIC NEWS

Any one interested in beginning on an instrument should see Mr. Onerheim, as the school has a few instruments that can be used. They are rapidly disappearing, so requests should be made as soon as possible He is especially interested in starting those from the sixth to tenth grades.

All beginners taking lessons will have private and group lessons, intermediate students will have group lessons, and advanced students will have sectional practice beginning soon.

The mixed chorus has been working on the following pieces for a probable musical Christmas program "This Night," by J. B. Konig; "Today There Is Ringing," by F. M Christiansen, "O Darkest Woe," a German Chorale composed in 1628.

Miss Glayds Zabilka was a visitor at girl's glee club Thursday afternoon

DRAMATICS

When that little blue-eyed Swede appears in her pajamas in the third act, it causes quite a stir.

Since the juniors have started play practice, the people around town believe it must be New Year's every night

Grade News

KINDERGARTEN; GRADES 1 & 2

Beverly Kay Netland started to school this week. She is in the kindergarten class.

Janice's birthday was Tuesday She was six years old. She brought treats to school.

The first grade have read another pre-primer, called, "We Work and Play." The second grade have also completed another book called "Our New Friends."

We have been making Hallowe'en posters and pictures. Some of us are getting Hallowe'en stories ready to read.

GRADES 3 & 4

We had a fire drill Monday.

Edward won first in the arithmetic race this week. We were learning the multiplication of 7's

In geography and science we are studying the seasons. Tuesday we went on a field trip. We found many signs of fall, and collected many leaves and seeds. We saw a flock of birds going south.

Merlin, Ardel and Maurice brought empty bird nests to school.

Larry Stille brought his turtle and frog to visit our turtle this week. We had fun watching them play in the aquarium.

We want to thank Mrs. Earl Schaeffer for the Indian book and Indian articles she sent to our room.

Isabelle treated us to candy bars on her birthday Wednesday. We wish her many more happy birthdays.

Maurice treated our room to big delicious apples Friday.

We had 100 per cent in Spelling: Iris, Isabelle, Marjorie, Larry, and Phyllis Stokesbary.

Maurice and Edward were reporters this week.

GRADES 5 & 6

We have been making Hallowe'en posters this week in art classes.

Friday morning, Mr. C. D. Ranney was here at eleven o'clock. He gave us a lecture on "Life Behind Prison Walls." He showed us a collection of prison whips and an electric chair.

During our citizenship period, Friday we chose a jury for our court. Those chosen were Clarence, Carol, Donald, Harold, Edward, Roger R., Phyllis, Elizabeth, Donna, Peggy and Ruth Stokesbary.

The people who had perfect spelling scores were Edward, Donna, Velma, Ruth Smith, Delores, Darwin, Clarence, Phyllis, and Roger B.

The reporter for this week was Elizabeth Goll.

GRADES 7 & 8

LaVonne Hammitt and Junior Roths won a contest writing the names of the states from memory

During civics class Friday we had a debate about presidential candidates.

We completed the second unit of work in history. Patricia Kudje Edward Barz, and Herbert Mueller received the highest scores in the final test.

Ruth, Ronald, LaVonne, Patricia and Edward Buntenbach earned perfect scores in spelling.

REPUBLICANS IN CONGRESS AID DEFENSE

McNary and Martin Blocked Adjournment Effort Before Program Was Complete.

PREVENTED LONG DELAY

Two Leaders Paved Way for Needed Action Providing Arms.

New Deal efforts again to force an adjournment of Congress recall to mind that last June President Roosevelt brought pressure to send the national legislative body home. He declared he could see no good reason why Congress should not adjourn "except for the no doubt laudable purpose of making speeches."

This move was fought and blocked by House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr, and Senate Leader Charles L. McNary, now the Republican nominee for Vice-President. With other Republicans in Congress they believed it was the duty of Congress to be on the job in such critical times.

To the far-sighted statesmanship of these two Republican leaders now can go much of the credit for the legislation setting in motion the long delayed national defense machinery. Had Congress adjourned in June when Mr. Roosevelt wanted to get rid of the legislators, there would have been a further delay of months in getting national defense preparations going and the country would be in a far more difficult situation.

For since that time Congress has enacted most of the legislation authorizing and appropriating money for the war ships, tanks, guns, and airplanes which Mr. Roosevelt now boasts are "on order." In addition Congress enacted the Conscription Act and the bill authorizing the President to mobilize the National Guard. It also passed the Alien Registration law and a bill taxing excess profits and liberalizing certain laws necessary for the expansion of industry.

Martin and McNary remain opposed to the adjournment of Congress because they believe the legislators, under our system of representative, republican government, should stay on the job when there is business to be done. They do not believe in "one man government" here any more than they approve of it in Europe.

For instance, the two Republican leaders contend that Congress should complete passage by the Senate of legislation amending the National Labor Relations Act, already adopted by the House. This, they assert, would be a real contribution to economic recovery at home. The New Dealers, however, want to end the Congressional session in order to carry on their political campaigns. Their attitude is that recovery and national defense can wait until next year—and that is what they have been saying for seven years.

Iowa produces 2,194,000 tons of alfalfa hay this year to give the state fourth rank in the nation in tonnage of this crop.

Arthur Wellemeyer

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experience and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

W. D. DALY

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

The MARQUETTE to CHICAGO

. FAST
. COMFORTABLE

Every car is air conditioned, clean and comfortable Individual reclining chairs in the spacious Luxury-lounge coaches; cafe-parlor car—delicious hot luncheons only 50¢, dinner 65¢, also off-the-tray and buffet service.

Forget nervous strain and traffic hazards. Let us do the speeding, train riding is cheaper than driving.

Eastbound	Central Time	Westbound
12:10 pm Lv.	Mason City	Ar. 8:00 am
12:42 pm Lv.	Charles City	Ar. 7:15 am
1 05 pm Lv.	New Hampton	Ar. 6:39 am
1:40 pm Lv.	Calmar	Ar. 5:45 am
2:06 pm Lv.	Postville	Ar. 5:11 am
2:47 pm Lv.	Marquette	Ar. 4:12 am
4:38 pm Ar.	Madison	Lv. 2:03 am
5:39 pm Ar.	Janesville	Lv. 1.09 am
7:40 pm Ar.	Chicago Union Station	Lv. 11:00 pm

Westbound equipment includes Sleeping Cars, Cafe-Parlor Car serving breakfast, Luxury Coaches.

Overnight service in both directions on THE SIOUX. Lv Mason City 9·40 pm, returning leave Chicago 7 00 pm.

Ask your local Agent for further particulars about train schedules and low fares 6101

The MILWAUKEE ROAD

RALPH C. LUDEKE

of Garner, Iowa

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR

County AUDITOR

Your vote at the General Election, November 5, 1940, will be appreciated.

VOTE FOR

A. C. Taylor

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR

State Representative

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Ink Spots And Spatters

By Jergie

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE!

It is the duty of every citizen to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote. That is the way you have a direct vote in conducting our government. No matter for whom you vote . . . go to the polls and vote . . . it is your duty.

I-S-A-S

A MOST WONDERFUL FALL . . .

North Iowa certainly has been blessed with exceptionally fine weather this fall. Up until the time this is written we have not had a hard freeze. Flowers have been abundant, a most unusual thing this late in the fall in Iowa Those who have gardens have enjoyed fresh vegetables and berries all during October. North Iowa certainly has been the Garden of Eden this fall.

I-S-A-S

THE WRITER WAS PASSENGER NUMBER ONE . . .

A couple of weeks ago, the "natives" came out of their houses like bees out of a hive to see if perhaps Hitler was about to bomb the town from the skies!

The plane which circled over Klemme was piloted by Ray Jorgenson, Jr., who was giving his dad, this writer, a ride as first passenger. Ray, Jr. has received his Pilot's License so decided to give the Editor a few thrills! He did!

We have had a number of plane rides and we are quite "air-minded." We had perfect confidence in the son's flying ability and are all set for another joint around the clouds.

Aviation is gradually becoming introduced to Klemme as we now claim three young men as flyers. Paul Schuldt and Ray Jorgenson, Jr. both completed a primary course in flying and each youth now has a Private Pilot's License Another young Klemme man, Dorance Grange, has several hours of flying time to his credit. Who knows but what Klemme may yet have an airport?

I-S-A-S

LET'S BUILD US A NEW COURT HOUSE!

Heard it rumored around that a movement is on foot to build a new court house at Britt. We think the idea is no good. Britt tried it once and got beat!

Klemme has been doing things the past few years and if we should take it into our heads that we want a court house . . . then we'll just build ourself a nice cozy court house . . . just like that. Why not? We have built two fine new churches, a brand new school house North Iowa's finest community hall dug the deepest well in North Iowa, paved the Main Drag, improved the city water system, etc. . .all in the past few years.

So . . . if a new court house is to be built . . . Klemme will build it! Maybe we will cabbage onto the county hospital, too!

NEWS

Dick Van Whye, LeMars, must explaining the black eye he got have had a rather difficult time recently. Van Whye's dog discovered a jack rabbit, jumped a fence to nose him out. The next thing Van Whye knew he was lying on the ground—knocked there by the rabbit. The rabbit also fared badly in the deal as it was knocked unconscious.

Willkie To Win, Polls Indicate

Nationwide Trend Points To Sweeping Republican Victory.

Wendell Willkie and Senator Charles L. McNary are riding the crest of a Republican trend that will take Mr. Willkie to the White House and will elect Senator McNary as the next Vice President of the United States.

This view is confirmed by all polls of recent weeks, including the Gallup poll, which have indicated a surge of voters to the Republican standard bearers and wholesale desertions from the ranks of supporters of the New Deal Third Term candidate.

The indications are also that this trend against the New Deal will be further accelerated and reach overwhelming proportions by the time the voters go to the polling places on November 5 to cast their fateful ballots.

Most significant of all prognostications on the outcome of the election is probably that made by Emil Hurja, noted statistician, who was the political analyst for the Democratic National Committee, under the Chairmanship of Jim Farley, from 1932 to 1937, and who in 1936 predicted with uncanny accuracy that Roosevelt would carry all but two states in the last national election.

Mr. Hurja now predicts with equal positiveness that Wendell Willkie will win on November 5 by a majority of from 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 of the popular vote, carrying the electoral vote of the states in New England and the Eastern Seaboard, the Middle West and the farm belt, more than enough to insure his election.

Mr. Hurja even goes further, declaring his belief in the possibility that Willkie may win by landslide proportions, securing a majority of from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 of the popular vote. Says Mr. Hurja of the trend Republicanward: "This swinging of the political pendulum from the Democratic to the Republican side is noticeable in each of the eight geographical regions of the United States and it is sharply revealed in the reports of each of the several other polls now busy sampling opinion on a nation-wide scale.

"The marked sweep of the pendulum Republican-wise is the outstanding characteristic of the present campaign from a poller's point of view. And the swing itself is occasioned by this fact: the percentage of voters who intend to change party allegiance this year is much higher among those who voted for Roosevelt in 1936 than among those who voted for Alf Landon."

The Dunn Survey, compiled by Rogers C. Dunn, statistical analyst of New York, who has been engaged in making polls of political trends for the past six years, flatly forecasts that Wendell Willkie will win 27 States, with a total of 334 electoral votes or 68 more than the 266 required.

Said Mr. Dunn: "Should the trend toward Mr. Willkie continue, as is believed to be likely, the outcome of this election by States is expected to be similar to the pattern of the Presidential election of 1920, when the Republican candidate received 404 electoral votes."

Startling are the results of polls made by the New York Daily News, a pro-Roosevelt newspaper, which has Willkie leading in a state-wide poll of pivotal New York State with 50.6 per cent of the vote to the Third Term candidate's 49.4 per cent. This is the first time in the history of the Daily News forecasts, which have been very accurate in previous elections, that have shown the Republican Presidential nominee leading in the state.

Newspaper polls taken in Illinois, Ohio and other states also show Willkie leading and all indicate the marked Republican trend.

But polls are really not needed to substantiate the marked swing to the Republican ticket. It is evidenced by the steadily mounting enthusiasm of Republicans in every State, the tremendous receptions Mr. Willkie, Senator McNary and other Republican candidates and speakers have received wherever they have appeared and the growing realization by the electorate that the decision to be rendered on November 5 is literally to determine the future of the Republic.

Your Interest Charge

Interest paid by the United States Treasury on the Federal debt for the year ending June 30, 1940, was over $1,040,000,000. This was $8 for each man, woman, and child in the United States and a $40 interest burden alone on each family of five.

THIRD TERM? NO!

On November 5th the voters of the United States will affirm their approval of the sound judgment of the delegates to the Democratic national convention of 1896 when they adopted this plank in their platform:

"We declare it to be the unwritten law of this Republic, established by custom and usage of one hundred years, and sanctioned by the greatest and wisest of those who founded and maintained our government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the Presidential office."

Vote For A Dynamic America

Vote for an America of Opportunity, Progress, Prosperity, and Preparedness---led by men who believe in American destiny, American ways and ideals---men rich in experience, determined in their patriotism, defenders of all regardless of race or creed.

For President

WENDELL WILLKIE
Republican Candidate for President.

For Congressman

FRED C. GILCHRIST

For Governor

GEORGE A. WILSON

Vote For Economy and Efficiency In Iowa

Vote for men who have brought order and efficiency to Iowa government — men who believe the citizen is entitled to a full return for his tax dollar.

Vote for the men who show a record of accomplishment: State property tax slashed $3,000,000 in 1941; highest cash balance in Iowa history; $170,773 saved by reorganization of state bureaus with an improvement of essential services; stabilized farm values; inaugerated a farm to market road program totaling $3,280,000 without added taxation; saved taxpayers $100,000.00 by the car dispatcher system; and fulfilled every promise.

FOR STATE SENATOR

* * * * * * * * *

Raiph R. Stuart

FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

W. S. Pritchard

Vote For Character and Ability

CHARACTER — ABILITY — EXPERIENCE are three essential qualifications of any candidate worthy of holding public office. They are the three qualities you should be sure of before you give any man or woman your vote.

The Republican candidates for office in Hancock County are men and women of integrity, able to discharge the duties of the offices they seek, and with wide experience in public and private business.

Give them your support on November 5th.

For County Auditor
FRED C. MISSAL
For County Treasurer
ROY L. McMILLIN
For Clerk of the District Court
ELMER RAW
For Sheriff
L. M. (DUTCH) BROWER
For County Recorder
FERN PECK KATTER

For County Attorney
CLARK E. LOVRIEN
For County Coroner
KENNETH F. BOUGHTON
For Member Board of Supervisors
For term Beginning January, 1941
PENN ECKLES
For Member Board of Supervisors
For Term Beginning January, 1942
FRANK J. SCHOUN

VOTE
STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN

Hancock County Republican Central Committee.

VOTE FOR

W. S. Pritchard

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR

State Representative

QUALIFIED BY BACKGROUND . . .

Including many years on Iowa farms and a lifetime spent in Iowa—much of it right here in Hancock County!

QUALIFIED BY EXPERIENCE . . .

As both farmer and business man, thereby able to appreciate the problems common to all residents of Hancock County!

QUALIFIED BY CHARACTER . . .

A home man who has been devoted to the ideals of his home, his town, his county, his state and his country. A contributor throughout his life to worthwhile community projects; a taxpayer; and a Hancock County booster!

THADA'S

Good Store In A Good Town — Klemme, Iowa

SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

CAMAY The Soap of Beautiful Women — 3 Bars 17c

SAUER KRAUT, Jack Sprat — Quart Can 2 cans for 19c

IVORY SOAP — 3 Large Bars or 5 Med. Bars 28c

SALMON — 1 lb. can, 2 for 33c

Canned Goods Specials

NO. 2 CANS

BOYSENBERRIES

BLACK CHERRIES in Syrup

2 cans for . . . 29c

COOKIES Fig Bars, lb. 10c

PEFRUIT Large Texas 9 for 25c

SPHAGHETTI 6 boxes for 25c

MEAL Quick or Reg. Box at 09c

(FREE Glassware in Each Box!)

Plays Politics With Defense

Willkie Charges New Deal Incompetence Leads To War.

Wendell L. Willkie, returning to Philadelphia where in response to an unprecedented popular demand he was made the Republican nominee for President in June, warned the American people that they are drifting toward war under a government which is incompetent to build an adequate defense in these perilous times

Wendell Willkie

After citing specific instances of unpreparedness and incompetence, Mr. Willkie declared:

"We must stop this drift toward war. We must stop this incompetence. Fellow Americans, I want to lead the fight for peace. I know how to lead that fight. I will lead this nation back to work. The first step toward peace is to put a job in every home. The second step toward peace is to mobilize American industry for the production of armaments.

"There is a false notion that our defense problem is a recent problem; that it came upon us suddenly The fact is that the New Deal has known for years that we were faced with this problem. The third term candidate told Congress in January, 1936, that America must save itself from foreign quarrels and foreign attack thru adequate defense. Today —nearly five years later—attack is closer than ever and America is still unsafe; our defense is still inadequate.

"What is the reason for our unpreparedness? The New Deal has not lacked information. Thru the state department and the army and navy, its total knowledge regarding foreign powers and military developments has been as good as any in the world. The New Deal has not lacked money. In these five years it has spent a total of 49 billion dollars. What then has it lacked? It has lacked the ability to get things done. It has lacked a fundamental understanding of the forces of production. It has lacked a fundamental regard for the forces that make democracy strong.

"The reason for our failure to build a modern defense system is that the New Deal theorists and the New Deal politicians blocked the creative forces of our people. They could have provided new jobs for thousands of young men by building American aircraft production up to defense requirements. Instead, they kept those thousands idle on the relief rolls. Relief was politically more attractive than defense.

"You know and I know that the system of free enterprise can outstrip any dictator on earth. The slave labor of modern Europe cannot compete with free men, well fed, well housed, and working reasonable hours. I have earned my bread both as a worker and as a manager. I know what free men can do. Given a chance to work, American labor and American industry can outstrip the world.

"So long as money and political power remain its only remedies, the Roosevelt administration will be incompetent to achieve defense. The able men on the national defense advisory council are handicapped because the third term candidate has kept all the power in his own hands. The longer the United States remains incompetent to defend itself, the closer we are drawn toward war. We must stop that drift toward war. We must stop that incompetence. I want to lead the fight for peace. I plead with you to join me in building a new America, so strong, so full of hope, that we can keep the peace that we want, the democracy that we want, and the liberties that we want."

WENDELL WILLKIE Says:

"In failing to establish recovery, the New Deal has failed the farmer. Factory payrolls and farm income rise and fall together. When farm income is up, farmers buy more manufactured products, and thereby increase employment. It is equally true that city workers buy more farm products when their incomes are increased.

They Climb Together

"I have pledged myself to win recovery for America. This pledge is just as important to the farmer as it is to the business man. And I know how to fulfill it. I will, with your help, bring this nation of ours together"

"I-DON'T-VOTE" AMERICANS NUMBER 49 PER CENT OF TOTAL

"What difference does it make whether I vote or not? There are millions of voters . . and I'm only one."

That is a common excuse that some Americans make for failing to vote. And as a result, literally millions of Americans each year forego the most cherished privilege of American citizenship . the privilege of participating in free elections.

Don't be an "I-don't vote" American. If you are a non-voter, you are failing to do your part to preserve Freedom in America. The people who don't vote each year are frequently numerous enough to hold the balance of power.

Your vote is all-important. Every American's vote is all important. It is the most sacred right of American citizenship.

Machine politicians—the Kellys, the Flynns and the Hagues will get out the city vote. Unfortunately far too many rural voters often stay at home on election day. Next Tuesday voters in the rural communities of America can demonstrate their real power and swing this election away from the city bosses — IF THEY GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE FOR WENDELL WILLKIE.

Wendell Willkie says:

"There has been a lot of talk about the danger of changing administrations in an emergency. The closer Mr. Roosevelt gets us to war, the more people say that we should not change horses in the middle of the stream. Well, for one thing, what are we doing in the middle of the stream; how did we get there—the man who got us in, is not the right one to get us out."

"By the simple laws of economics we must expand the domestic market and the foreign market."—Wendell L. Willkie.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10 00 a. m. English Service.
11·00 a. m Sunday School.
8·00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class.
8 00 p m. Wednesday
German Bible Hour.
8.00 p m. Thursday
Mixed Chorus.
Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.
Junior and Senior choir practice Thursday evening.
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League 7:30 p. m.

Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
Epworth League as above
Sub-Dist. Epworth League Rally next Monday evening at the Liberty Church Weiner roast supper 6·45, followed by games and program Each one bring your own bread or buns and 10c. A fine program has been prepared. Let's have the largest delegation.

AVERY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Helps and children spent Saturday at the Robert Marshall home.

Mrs. Oswald Evenson was visiting for a few days at Fertile with her mother, Mrs. Westcott, who is ill. Mr. Westcott is also seriously ill at an Iowa City hospital.

Byron Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Nelson of Luverne, spent a few days at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ludeke and son, Paul, of Meservey, were visiting at the Verner Lewis home Monday evening.

Walter Schlichting was combining beans at the Verner Nelson farm Friday and Saturday.

Dave Ross has been at his farm doing some carpenter work and painting. He built a new sun-porch on the east side of the house and other improvements.

Mrs. Robert Roths and children Mrs. Fred Bachman and Mrs. Verner Nelson, and Ardene, spent Tuesday evening at Thornton.

Mr and Mrs. Frank Brozik and family, of Britt, were Sunday dinner guests at the Harlow Helps home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson, Miss Isabelle Gibbs and Mrs. August Ridder were entertained as dinner guests at the Verner Nelson home Sunday.

A millionaire's constant quest for youth. The huge fortune dumped into his lap as a college boy turned him into a "Dollor Duke," smashed his marriage and drove him to practical jokes to catch up on the fun he had missed. Read how he finally turned to a younger and less serious wife, as told in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Fish.

Two Mason City girls went fishing recently -- which is nothing new, of course. When they started to leave for home, and pulled up the stringer they found a 22-inch pickerel which had swallowed another fish they had just caught.

Photographs LIVE FOREVER

RUSSELL PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

Cuts Thumb.

Fay Weatherhead, Hamburg, will cut no more pumpkins for a while at least. Last week, as he was cutting pumpkins one of his thumbs was practically cut off.

Balancing the hog ration with some protein will insure better nutrition and better health

Lamps!

We have just received a new shipment of

Table Lamps

See Them At

Wellemeyer's

Facts About New Deal Spending

How Big is the Federal Debt Mortgage on America?

The National Debt of $42,000,000,000
EXCEEDS the total value of ALL Farm Land, Buildings and Live Stock in America by $6,000,000,000

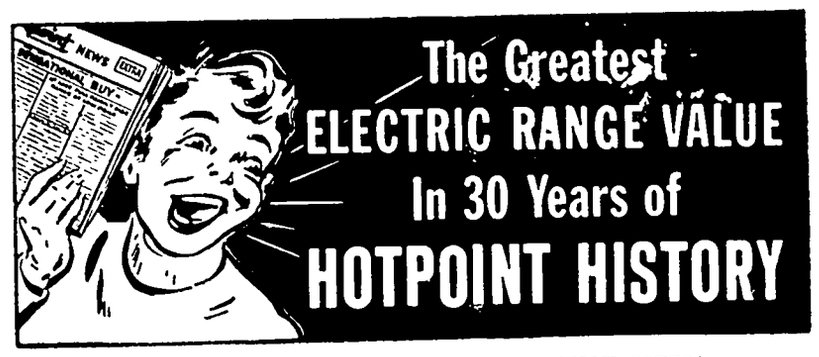
New Deal waste and extravagance has placed an intolerable burden of debt on Americans for years to come. Not one promise of economy has been kept.

DO YOU WANT THIS TO BE STOPPED?

Vote to Lift America's Mortgage

VOTE REPUBLICAN!



The Greatest ELECTRIC RANGE VALUE In 30 Years of HOTPOINT HISTORY

THE NEW Hotpoint ELECTRIC RANGE with Measured Heat

Extra Value FEATURES at No Extra Cost!

BESIDES providing an easier method of cooking, Hotpoint offers you these great features at amazingly low cost.

- All-Porcelain finish, inside and out. Easy to clean.
- 3 Large Utility Drawers for pots and pans.
- All Purpose Oven with 5 Measured Heats.
- 3 New Calrod Surface Cooking Units (each with 5 Measured Heats).
- New 6-Quart Thrift Cooker with Flavor-Seal Lid.
- CLEAN as electric light.

Gift! End menu cares with this remarkable new Hotpoint Menu-Maker

ACTUALLY plans your meals. Contains 32 balanced menu suggestions. Quick and easy to use.

LADIES: Tear out this ad, bring it to our store today, and get your Menu-Maker as a GIFT!

New CALROD Units Cook with Measured Heat

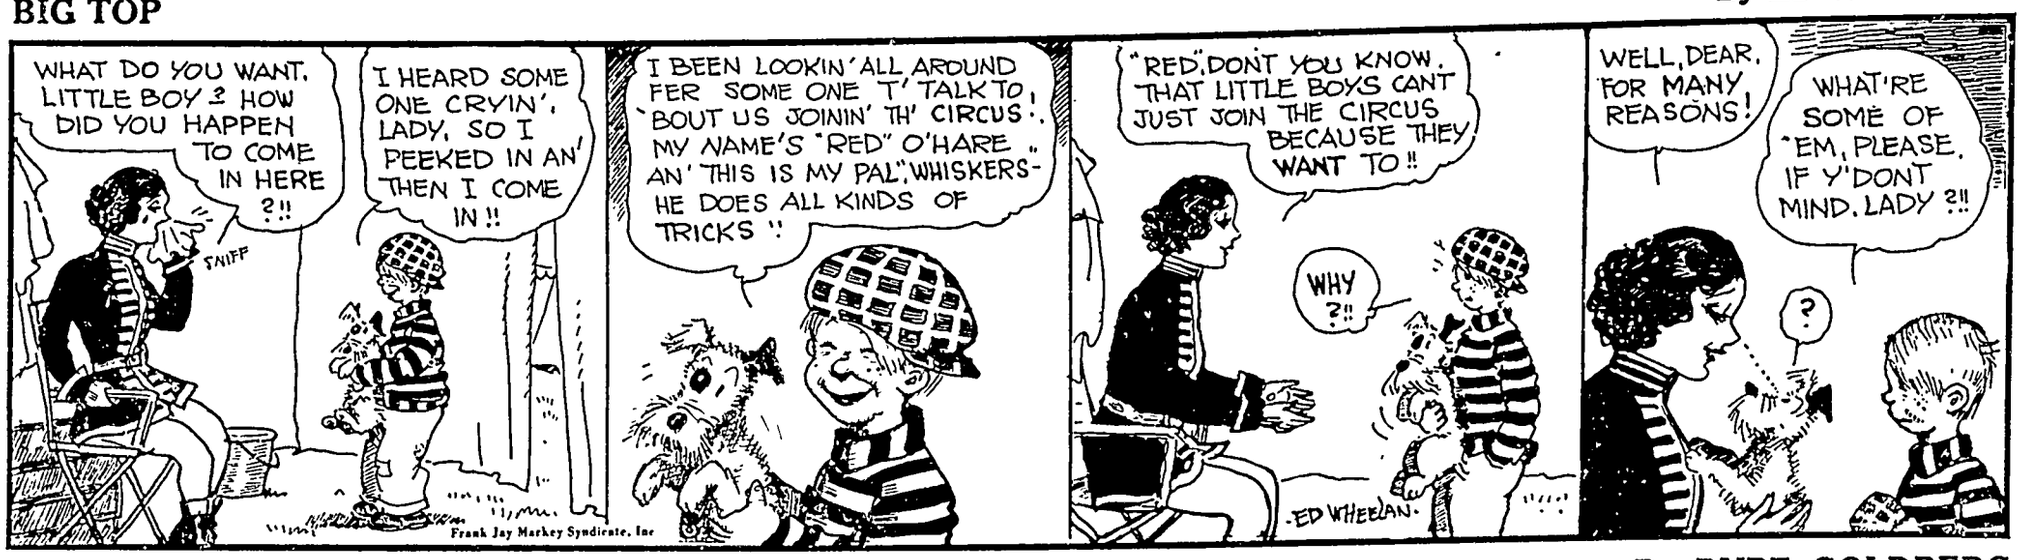
EACH unit provides 5 precisely Measured Heats. Cooks faster or slower, as needed, but always economically. Coils are self-cleaning. New quickly removable reflector can be cleaned like a pie tin.

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

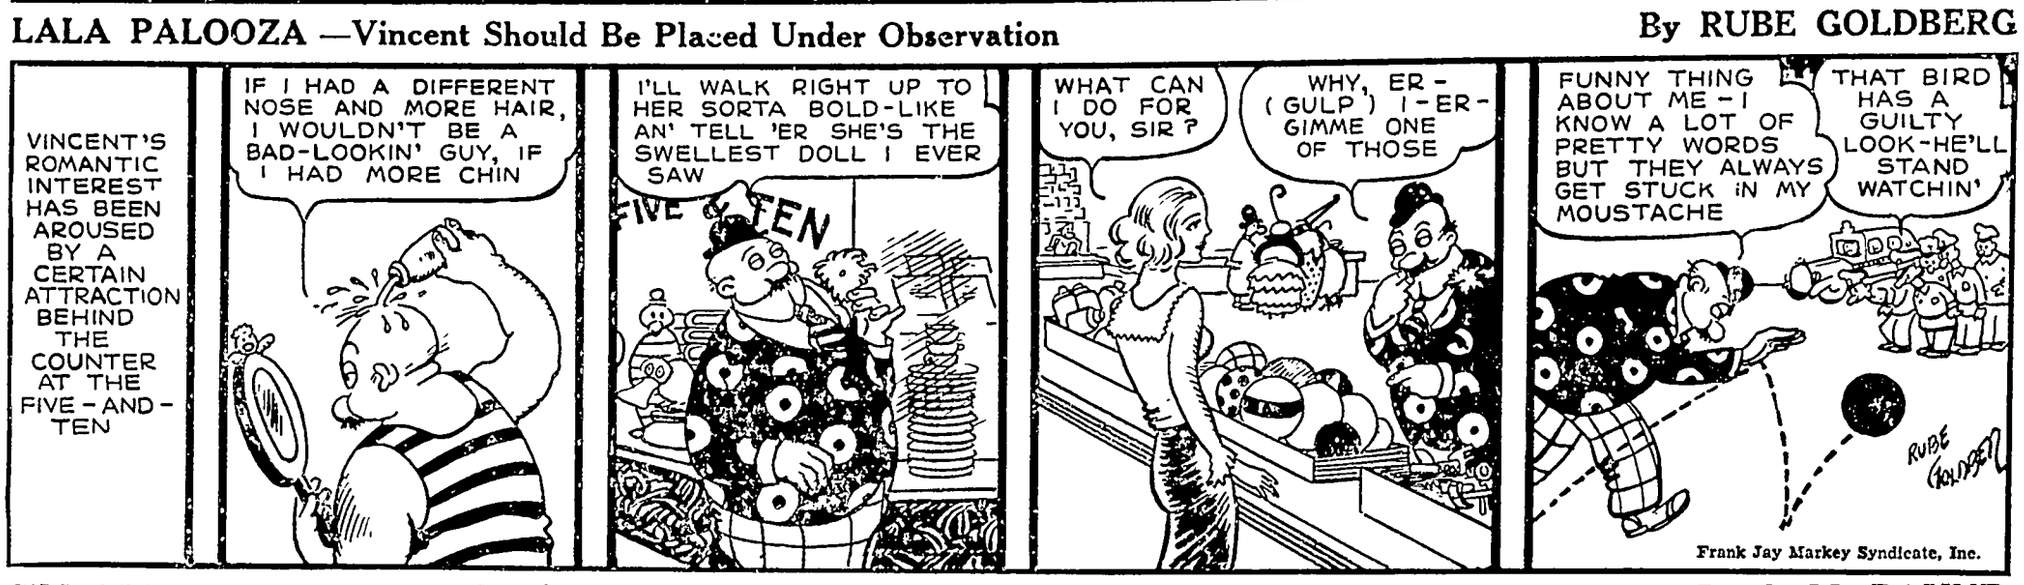
By ED WHEELAN



WHAT DO YOU WANT, LITTLE BOY? HOW DID YOU HAPPEN TO COME IN HERE ?!!
SNIFF
I HEARD SOME ONE CRYIN', LADY, SO I PEEKED IN AN' THEN I COME IN !!
I BEEN LOOKIN' ALL AROUND FER SOME ONE T' TALK TO, 'BOUT US JOININ' TH' CIRCUS. MY NAME'S "RED" O'HARE AN' THIS IS MY PAL, WHISKERS- HE DOES ALL KINDS OF TRICKS !!
"RED", DON'T YOU KNOW, THAT LITTLE BOYS CAN'T JUST JOIN THE CIRCUS BECAUSE THEY WANT TO !!
WHY ?!!
WELL, DEAR, FOR MANY REASONS!
WHAT'RE SOME OF 'EM, PLEASE, IF Y'DON'T MIND, LADY ?!!
?
ED WHEELAN
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc

LALA PALOOZA —Vincent Should Be Placed Under Observation

By RUBE GOLDBERG



VINCENT'S ROMANTIC INTEREST HAS BEEN AROUSED BY A CERTAIN ATTRACTION BEHIND THE COUNTER AT THE FIVE-AND-TEN
IF I HAD A DIFFERENT NOSE AND MORE HAIR, I WOULDN'T BE A BAD-LOOKIN' GUY, IF I HAD MORE CHIN
I'LL WALK RIGHT UP TO HER SORTA BOLD-LIKE AN' TELL 'ER SHE'S THE SWELLEST DOLL I EVER SAW FIVE AND TEN
WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU, SIR?
WHY, ER- (GULP) I-ER- GIMME ONE OF THOSE
FUNNY THING ABOUT ME - I KNOW A LOT OF PRETTY WORDS BUT THEY ALWAYS GET STUCK IN MY MOUSTACHE THAT BIRD HAS A GUILTY LOOK - HE'LL STAND WATCHIN'
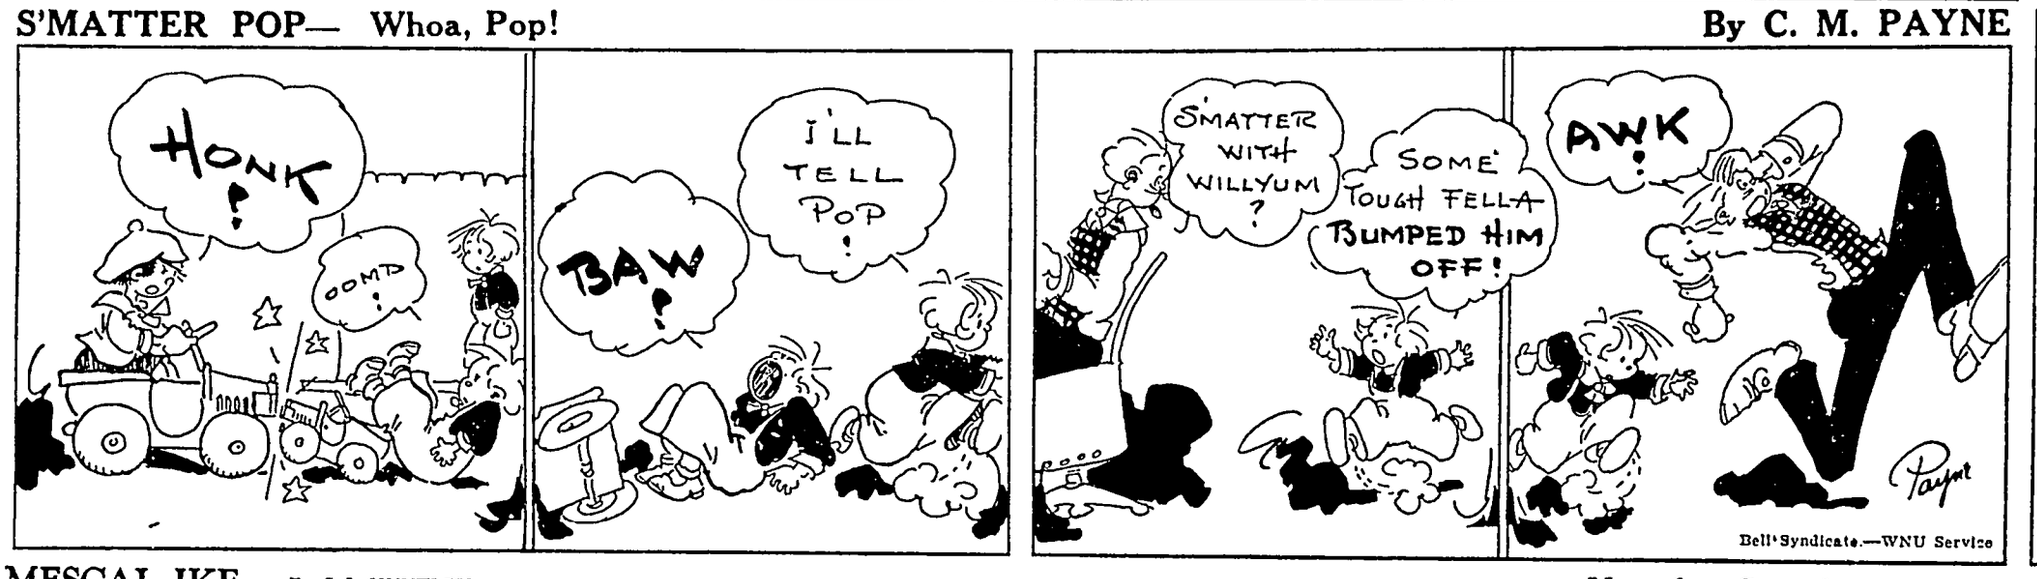
RUBE GOLDBERG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP— Whoa, Pop!

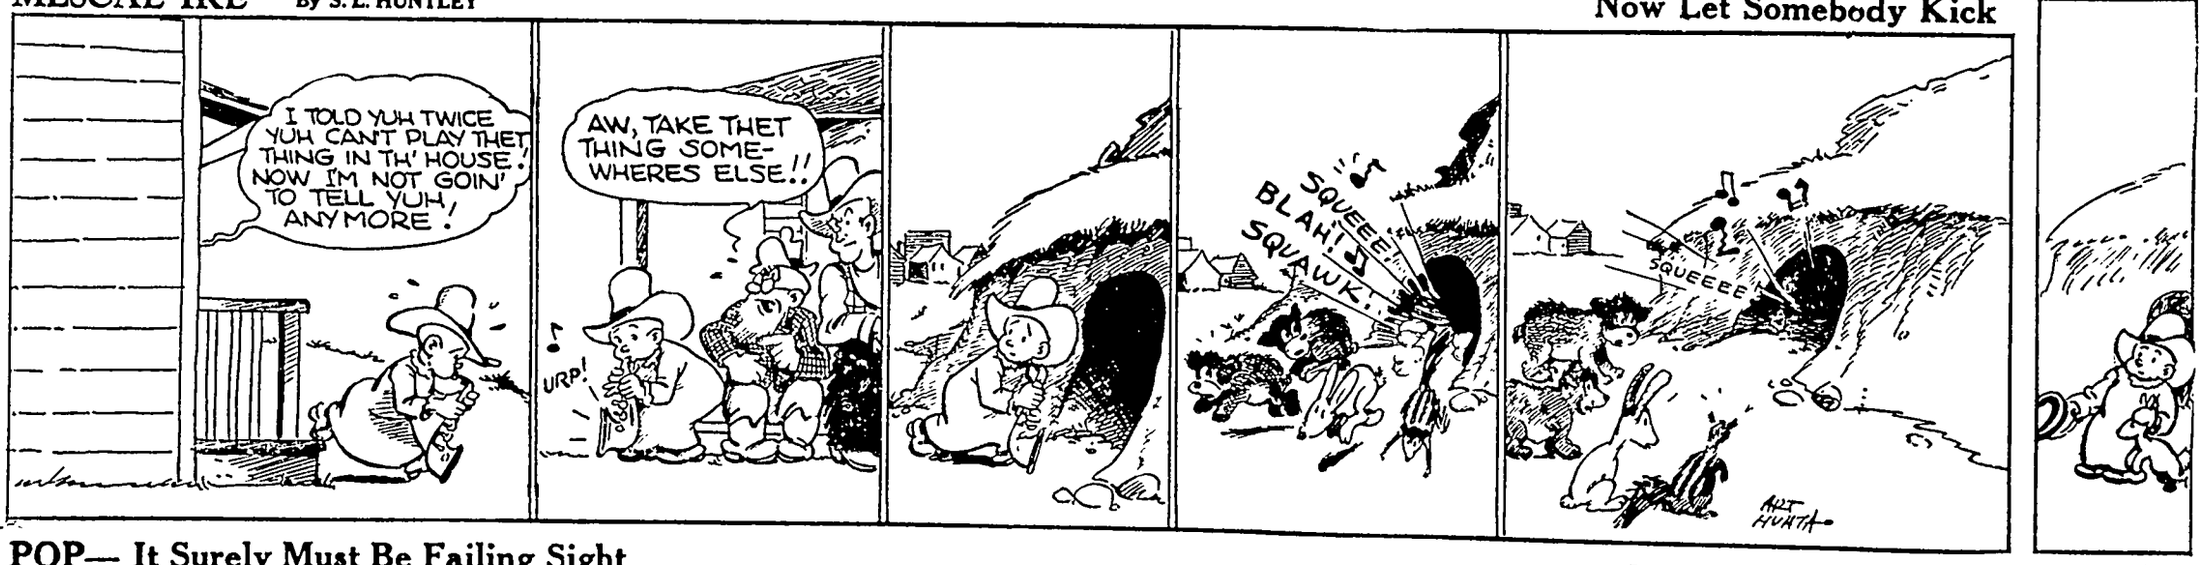
By C. M. PAYNE



MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

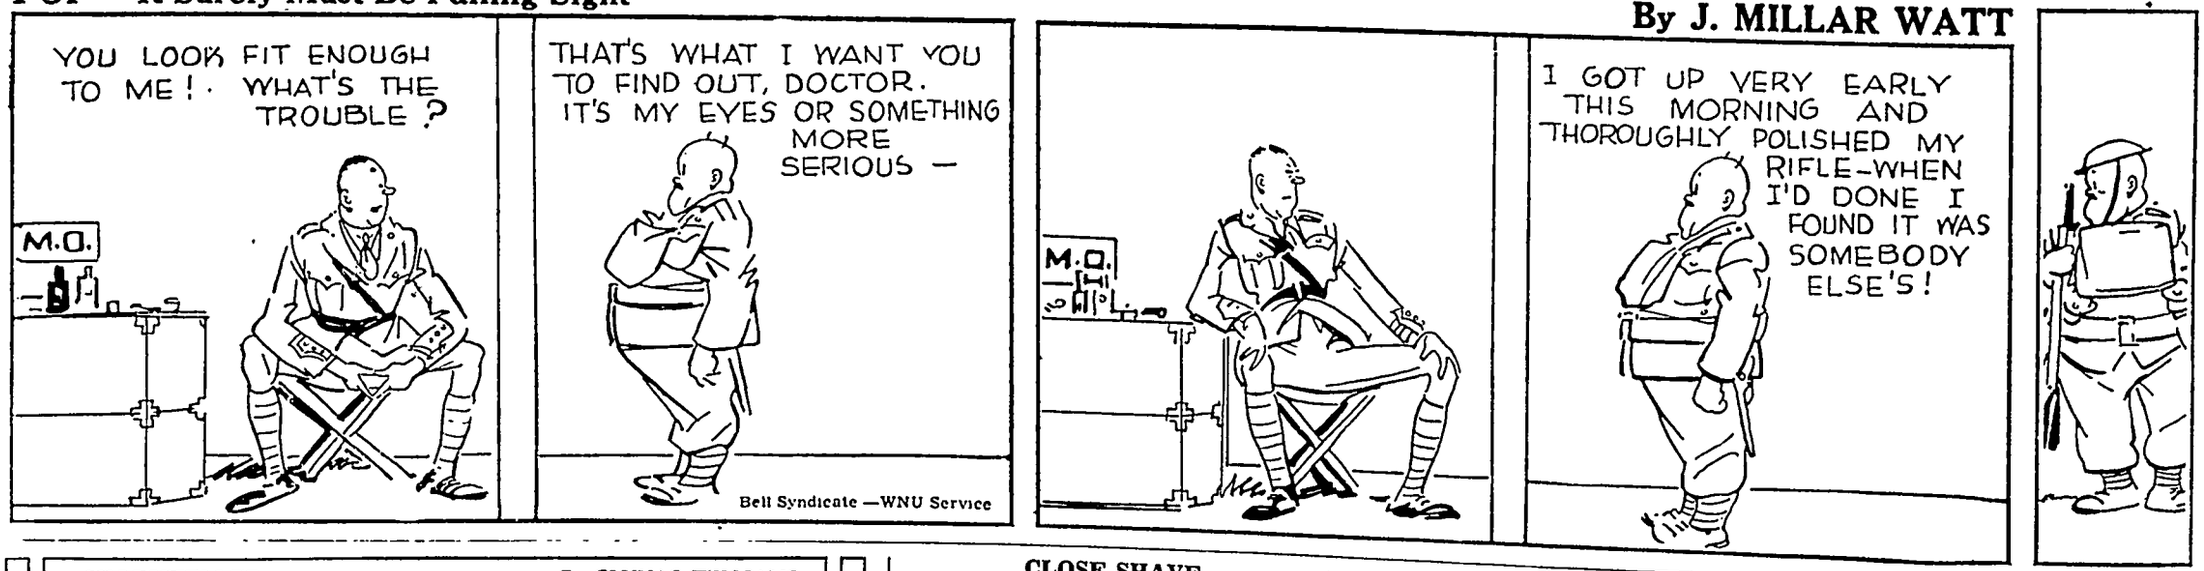
Now Let Somebody Kick



I TOLD YUH TWICE YUH CAN'T PLAY THET THING IN TH' HOUSE! NOW I'M NOT GOIN' TO TELL YUH ANYMORE!
AW, TAKE THET THING SOMEWHERES ELSE!!
URP!
SQUEEE! BLAH! SQUAWK!
SQUEEEE
ART HUNTH

POP— It Surely Must Be Failing Sight

By J. MILLAR WATT



YOU LOOK FIT ENOUGH TO ME! WHAT'S THE TROUBLE?
M.O.
THAT'S WHAT I WANT YOU TO FIND OUT, DOCTOR. IT'S MY EYES OR SOMETHING MORE SERIOUS — Bell Syndicate —WNU Service
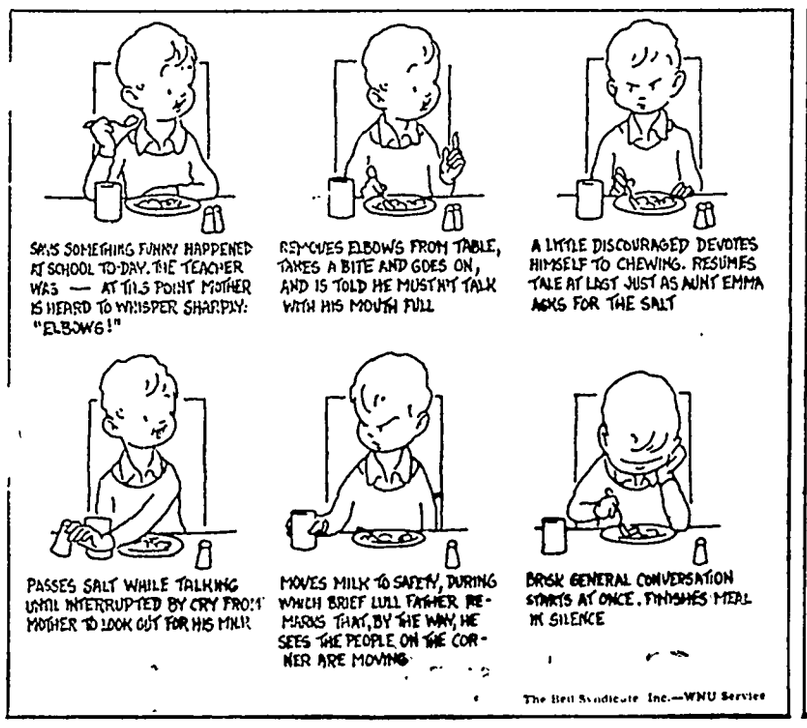
M.O.
I GOT UP VERY EARLY THIS MORNING AND THOROUGHLY POLISHED MY RIFLE-WHEN I'D DONE I FOUND IT WAS SOMEBODY ELSE'S!

STORYTELLER

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



SAYS SOMETHING FUNNY HAPPENED AT SCHOOL TO-DAY. THE TEACHER WAS — AT THIS POINT MOTHER IS HEARD TO WHISPER SHARPLY: "ELBOWS!"
REMOVES ELBOWS FROM TABLE, TAKES A BITE AND GOES ON, AND IS TOLD HE MUSTN'T TALK WITH HIS MOUTH FULL
A LITTLE DISCOURAGED DEVOTES HIMSELF TO CHEWING. RESUMES TALE AT LAST JUST AS AUNT EMMA ASKS FOR THE SALT
PASSES SALT WHILE TALKING UNTIL INTERRUPTED BY CRY FROM MOTHER TO LOOK OUT FOR HIS MILK MOVES MILK TO SAFETY, DURING WHICH BRIEF LULL FATHER REMARKS THAT, BY THE WAY, HE SEES THE PEOPLE ON THE CORNER ARE MOVING
BRISK GENERAL CONVERSATION STARTS AT ONCE. FINISHES MEAL IN SILENCE
The Bell Syndicate Inc.—WNU Service

CLOSE SHAVE

The fog was very thick, and the chief officer of the tramp steamer was peering over the side of the bridge. Suddenly he saw a man leaning over a rail only a few yards away.

"You confounded fool," he roared. "What on earth do you think you are doing? Don't you know my ship has the right of way?"

Out of the gloom came a sardonic voice.

"This ain't no ship, captain. This is a lighthouse."

Ages When Young

Scene—An excursion train.

Ticket Collector—That child looks more than three years old.

Mother—I know he does, but he's had a lot of trouble.

Caught

Kindly Old Lady—My poor man, was there no one to stretch out a hand to you?

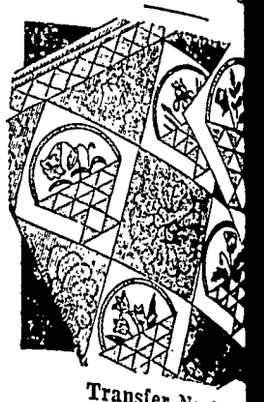
Ex-Convict—Yes, mum, that's how they got me

THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

"And just where did we get those nice new feathers?"

Flower Basket Q... One of Rare Be...



Transfer No. 2762

THE Flower Basket quilt ... of the most beautiful and ... tile designs you could im... Parts of the flowers may ... pliqued and the rest done ... line, or if you desire, the ... may be done entirely ... broidery.

* * *

The transfer, 2762, 15c, gives ... cutting pattern for the pieced ba... well as 20 different flower motif... fit in these baskets. You will fi... more uses for these flowers, too, ... are ideal for luncheon cloths, ... and other linens. A quilting de... comes on this transfer. Send o...

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W ... Kansas City

Enclose 15 cents for each p... desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

To Fit the Crime

A magistrate was so del... recently in finding before ... schoolteacher who had brok... speeding law that he ordere... to sit down and write "I mu... break the speed limit" one ... sand times. In Woburn, Ma... number of habitual drunks ... were haled before the judge ... not imprisoned. He ordered ... to be placed in an aluminum ... cage and trundled through ... town behind a decrepit ... That cured them.

In a prison unruly convic... cently were clothed in pink ... panties and paraded before ... fellow convicts, and after ... they obeyed all prison laws.

CLASSIFIE... DEPARTMEN...

SALESMEN WANT...

SALESMEN WANTED in Iowa to se... cost monthly payment Accident and ... insurance. Liberal comm. Americ... public Ins. Co., Walnut Bldg., Des M...

STOVE & FURNACE REPA...

REPAIRS For Your S... FURNACE or ...
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All ...
Have Your Dealer Order from ...
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR CO...

Good Breeding

Good breeding, as it is c... . . . is different in almost e... country, and merely local; an... ery man of sense imitates ... conforms to that local good b... ing of the place he is at.—Che... field.

Beware Cough... from common colds

That Hang ...

Creomulsion relieves promptly ... cause it goes right to the seat of ... trouble to help loosen and ... germ laden phlegm, and aid n... to soothe and heal raw, tender, ... flamed bronchial mucous m... branes. Tell your druggist to sell ... a bottle of Creomulsion with the ... derstanding you must like the w... quickly allays the cough or you ... to have your money back.

CREOMULSIO...
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronc...

Living Well

A wise man keeps on good te... with his wife, his conscience ... his stomach.

"Black Leaf 40" KILLS LICE
"Cap-Brand" Nicotine makes "BLACK LEAF" GO MUCH FARTHER
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS... OR SPREAD ON ROOS...

"All the Traffic Would Bear"

● There was a time in Ameri... when there were no set price... Each merchant charged wh... he thought "the traffic wou... bear." Advertising came ... the rescue of the consum... It led the way to the esta... lished prices you pay wh... you buy anything toda...

HALLOWEEN PARTY SUGGESTIONS
(See Recipes Below)

Household News By Eleanor Howe

oween provides a good excuse unusual party. The theme ay select should be the basis which the party is built. Magic Party," "The Haunt- use," Buried Treasure Hunt," Witches' Rendezvous," "The Gambol" are all suggestive for the party you may be g for All Hallows' eve.

alloween party without deco- just isn't a party. They e so simple that it takes very ime to put them up; pump- cornstalks, and lighted jack- erns. Or you may decorate itches, owls, black and or- crepe paper streamers, black ay crepe paper moss dripping he ceilings, or ghosts standing oky corners with eerie lights upon them.

invitations should, of course, icative of the type of party e giving.

Halloween the ghosts will ance, nomes and goblins will sing nd prance;
n your masks and costumes gay,
e Haunted House be on your way.
oor will be open till the clock olls eight,
ke my advice and don't be late."

keeping with Halloween we not forget the traditional and pranks. The chamber rors, with g chains, hands ning the , and dark s should e guests in- spirit of the Bobbing les, fortune telling and guess- mes are all old favorites. suggestions may bring to your others that may be old-time ween games.

, but not least, a party is rightly ended without proper hments. If it is a small group, supper may be served; and a large group, simple, but us refreshments will finish the g with the necessary zip!

Orange Date Cake.

cup shortening
cup brown sugar
egg (well beaten)
cup sour milk
cups cake flour
teaspoon soda
teaspoon baking powder
teaspoon salt
cup dates whole orange

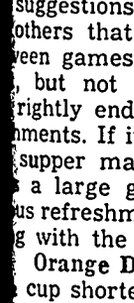
m shortening, add brown sug- ly, and beat well. Add beat- and sour milk.

and sift flour, soda, baking r, and salt. Grind dates and together through food chop- nd add alternately with the dry ingredients. Bake in a an in a moderate oven (350 s) for 50 minutes.

lloween Ice Cream Clowns.

e a ball of ice cream on a cookie and use raisins, tiny gumdrops or can- died cherries to make the eyes, nose, and mouth in the ice cream. Place an ice cream cone up- side down on the ice cream for a cap, and place a whipped cream on the cookie the clown's neck.



Pumpkin Ice Cream.
(Makes 1 quart)

p sugar
aspoon cinnamon aspoon ginger of salt coffee cream yolks (beaten)
p pumpkin (canned) aspoon orange rind (grated) p pecan meats
p whipping cream

bine the sugar, cinnamon, gin- d salt. Mix well. Add the slowly and scald over boiling Mix beaten egg yolks and in, and add to the cream mix- ith the orange rind. Return t, and cook for 5 minutes, constantly. Chill, fold in the nutmeats and whipped cream, and pour into the freezing container of an ice cream freezer, filling it not more than ⅔ full. Assemble and cover the freezer. Surround with a mixture of 3 parts of crushed ice to 1 part rock salt. Next turn the crank slowly and steadily until turning becomes difficult. When the mixture is frozen, carefully remove the dasher and pack down the cream with a spoon. Replace the cover, draw off the water, and replenish the ice and salt. Let stand for an hour.

Orange Sauce.

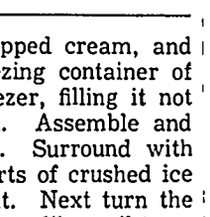
1 tablespoon cornstarch mixed with 1 tablespoon cold water
5 tablespoons sugar
5 tablespoons hot water
5 tablespoons orange juice
½ teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon butter

Make a paste of the cornstarch and cold water. Add sugar and hot water and cook for 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Add fruit juices and butter.

Goblin's Dessert.
(Serves 4 to 5)

2 eggs (separated)
7 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon butter (melted)
⅛ teaspoon salt
¾ cup orange juice
1¼ cups stale bread (cut in pieces)

Beat egg yolks until very light, and gradually beat in the sugar. Add butter, salt and orange juice. Pour over the cubed bread. Beat egg whites until stiff, and fold into the first mixture. Pour into buttered baking dish and bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) for about 30 minutes.



Ginger Snap Pie Crust.
(Makes 2 crusts)

Make 3 cups ginger snap crumbs by rolling ginger snaps on bread board or crumbling through food chopper. Combine with ¾ cup melted butter and blend lightly. Then press mixture into pie plate, shaping firmly all around, and place in refrigerator to chill until firm.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie.
(Makes 2 pies)

3 tablespoons gelatin
½ cup cold water
6 eggs
2 cups sugar
2½ cups strained pumpkin
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cloves
1 cup whipping cream

Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Separate eggs and beat egg yolks. Then combine 1 cup of the sugar, the strained pumpkin, milk, salt, and spices with the egg yolks and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from fire, add gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, stir in the remaining cup of sugar and fold in the beaten egg whites. Pour filling in the chilled ginger snap pastry shells and chill in refrigerator until set. Before serving decorate pies with whipped cream faces, using chilled pastry tube.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

BETTER BAKING

Most of us are prone to be a little inactive and unambitious during the warm summer months. Our appetites for heavy, hot foods become dull and we readily accept and enjoy cool, refreshing salads and beverages. Just as we put on heavier clothing when the temperature drops, so do we discard using salads as the main dish and dessert of the menu.

Miss Howe's book "Better Baking" includes many fine recipes, tested in her own kitchen. It will prove not only an incentive for "better baking" but also for better and more satisfying meals.

You may secure this book, "Better Baking," by writing to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, enclosing 10 cents in coin.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ACTORS usually dread working with children on the stage or in pictures because children, like animals, invariably "steal" scenes. One cute gesture, one little smile from a child can make an Academy Award winner look like a piece of furniture, so far as audiences are concerned.

Nevertheless the members of the cast of "Shepherd of the Hills" were delighted to have four-year-old Virita Campbell in their midst while they were on location in the San Bernardino mountains. On location hours are usually very long, the rule being to shoot from daybreak to sunset to take full advantage of the natural light. Which means that actors, stars and all, get up at 5:30 or thereabouts.

But in the eyes of the state labor law Virita is an infant, so she can't start to work until 8 a. m. Consequently the actors who worked with her got two extra hours of sleep every morning. They brought pressure to bear on Director Henry Hathaway to extend her part so that it would last for the entire six weeks.

Deanna Durbin's new picture, "Spring Parade," is a honey, chiefly because she, S. Z. Sakall and Henry Stephenson are in it. The story is just another of those Old Vienna things, but Henry Koster did a good job of directing, the entire cast—it includes Allyn Joslyn, Reginald Denny, Robert Cummings and Franklin Pangborn—is good, and there are some lovely new songs. The grown-up Deanna is charming and sings beautifully, of course—and as the setting is what old Vienna always is in the movies, she sings an arrangement of the "Blue Danube."

DEANNA DURBIN

Practically all the men stars in Hollywood were fired from perfectly good jobs before they turned to the movies. Preston Foster suspects that Nelson Eddy got the one he lost. Foster was working on a Philadelphia newspaper, selling classified advertising. He got extra jobs singing in the chorus and in minor roles in the La Scala Opera company. One day the boss dropped in at a matinee, and there was Foster singing when he should have been out selling advertising!

Meanwhile Nelson Eddy was working as a shipping clerk for an iron works company in the same city. He had a habit of bursting into song when he was working hard. The foreman couldn't stand it, so he fired the singer, who promptly got a job on the Philadelphia paper that hadn't appreciated Foster's singing—the job was selling classified advertising.

Robert Taylor was washing the inside of a windshield in a service station in Beatrice, Neb., when the rag slipped out of his hand and into the lap of a lady. He fled, not waiting to be fired.

One of the nicest stories ever told about Hollywood has as its hero the late Grover Jones, author of many a successful movie scenario.

Some years ago he and his wife, who were childless, went to The Cradle, in Chicago, to adopt one. The superintendent showed them hundreds of babies.

"How about that one?" asked Jones, pointing to a child with crossed eyes.

"That poor baby," said the superintendent. "He's been here longer than any of the others. Nobody wants him."

"We'll take him," said Jones.

Today the child, after being given every advantage of medical treatment, is straight-eyed. And three years ago the Joneses had a little girl of their own.

The popularity of a radio program can be judged by its Crosley rating, or by the price tickets to its broadcasts bring. They're not supposed to be sold, of course, but there is a well-organized group of neat, polite young men who beg people going into the broadcasts for their extra tickets. Westinghouse's "Musical Americana" is now in the top rank, along with a few other regular, sponsored shows; its tickets bring 75 cents. Tickets to Toscanini's first broadcast brought as high as $50.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 3

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

JESUS DECLARES HIS MISSION

LESSON TEXT—Luke 4:16-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.—Luke 19:10.

Ready for service! It's an exciting and auspicious occasion when the one who has prepared for a life work is ready to set forth on his mission. Joy and sorrow mingle; encouragement and opposition both appear and become his constant companions. Recognizing God and following His Word is of greatest importance on such a day.

The mission upon which Jesus entered on the day of our lesson was important far beyond any service of man, for, while He set out upon an earthly ministry of doing good, it led to the cross where He wrought out deliverance for the captives of Satan. That day found Him back with His own people in the synagogue in His home town.

I. Prophecy Fulfilled (vv. 16-22).

It is significant and appropriate that Jesus' declaration of Himself as the fulfillment of Isaiah 61:1, 2 was made in the synagogue on the Sabbath day. He met with the people in the house and at the time set apart for God's worship. He opposed spiritual deadness, the misinterpretation of the truth, the distortion of religious principles; but He was not, as some would have us believe, a religious free lance who despised the established worship of His people.

Having been prepared by the years of silence, and more particularly by the baptism and the temptation in the wilderness, He appeared at the synagogue in Nazareth to declare Himself as the fulfillment of prophecy.

Those who teach that Jesus was only a young Jewish teacher with a new philosophy of life have evidently not read the Scriptures. He knew Himself to be God's Son come into the world to bring the good news of salvation by His own blood to poor, sin-captive, blinded and bruised humanity. He is the Saviour!

Look at Isaiah 61:1, 2 and note that Jesus stopped reading before the end of the sentence. "The day of vengeance of our God" will come when Christ returns. This is the day of grace. Sinners are urged to accept God's love now, and thus to escape the terrible day of judgment.

II. Faith Recognized (vv. 23-27).

The Jews gloried in the fact that they were the chosen people of God and insisted it was through the exercises of their formal worship that God's blessing must be received. Now this one whom they erroneously call "Joseph's son" (v. 22) comes to disturb them in their self-satisfaction. Seeing their rising resentment, He declares by striking words and example that the benefits and blessings of God come through faith and not because of any racial relationship.

The glory of Christianity is that its grace and power are to be received by faith and are fully and freely available to the simplest and poorest of men. Race, position, wealth, education, have nothing to do with it. All too often they are a hindrance, although they ought rather to be a help.

Every reader of these notes, regardless of age, education, wealth or any other condition or circumstance of life, stands on an equal footing before God and has a full and unlimited opportunity to take right now, by faith in Christ, all that God has for him—salvation, spiritual strength and usefulness, joy, peace, and all the other blessing of God. Will you do it?

III. Truth Rejected (vv. 28-30).

Like a torch cast into gunpowder, His words set off all the explosive power of narrow bigotry, national pride, jealousy, and they were all "filled with wrath" (v. 28).

They rejected not only the truth of His words, but they rejected Him who is the Truth (John 14:6). Note it carefully—in rejecting or neglecting His Word, you reject and neglect Him.

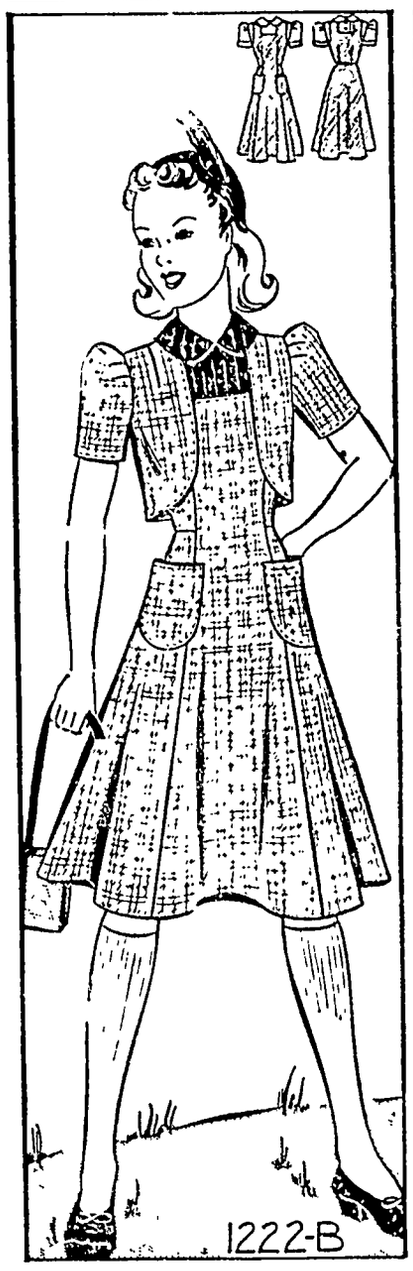
Observe that until the time had come for Him to be "delivered" (Rom. 4:25) into the hands of wicked men to be crucified they could not touch Him. There is no more majestic scene than that in verse 30 where the Son of God turned at the brow of the hill and, walking through the midst of the crowd, went His way.

What have I to fear at the hands of wicked and gainsaying men as long as I follow this all-powerful Son of God? He that is for us and in us is greater than he (the devil) that is in the world (I John 4:4). We follow the victorious Christ, who quietly but majestically walks through the ranks of His helpless enemies and goes 'His way." Will you join us—today?

Be Temperate

Woe to them that rise up early in the morning that they may follow strong drink, that continue until night, till wine inflame them.—Isa. 5:11.

Patterns
SEWING CIRCLE



FOR all school-girls, in the grades and on up through college, the jumper-with-blouse outfit is the very best and most popular of classroom fashions. Every smart shop shows it. Every smart girl wants it. Here it is in a design (No. 1222-B) that can be quickly and economically made at home—with dart-fitted waistline, stitching for trim, and a very youthful, sufficient tailored blouse.

Add the bolero to it, and make a little suit! Several blouses and one jumper and bolero go a long way toward outfitting any girl for school, and giving her the variety she craves. Corduroy, velveteen and flannel are smart for the jumper and bolero, linen, flat crepe or batiste for the blouse.

* * *

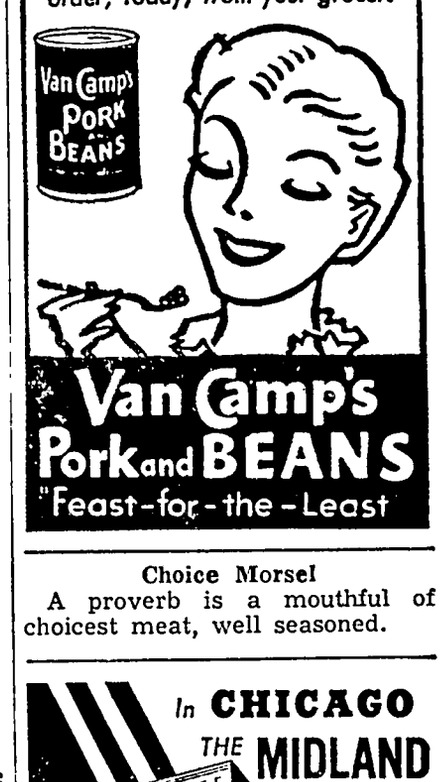
Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1222-B is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 10 requires 2⅛ yards of 54-inch material without nap for bolero and jumper; 1¼ yards 39-inch material for the blouse. Send order to.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No. ..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Laurels for Animals

Not only do the animal stars in Hollywood receive much fan mail and many requests for their autographs (paw or nose prints), but they also are awarded trophies, or Oscars, for outstanding performances. Such silver cups are owned by Charmaine, the female donkey that won her laurels in "The Fighting Sixty-ninth," and by Skippy, the male dog that became famous in the part of Asta in the "Thin Man" pictures.—Collier's.

Delight your unexpected guest
...delicious...least work...least time...least money...healthful...
order, today, from your grocer.



Van Camp's Pork and BEANS
"Feast-for-the-Least"

Choice Morsel

A proverb is a mouthful of choicest meat, well seasoned.

In CHICAGO THE MIDLAND HOTEL
$2 And Up
ALL ROOMS WITH TILED BATH OR SHOWER

● In the heart of Chicago's famous "Loop" you will find the MIDLAND HOTEL . . . one of Chicago's newest hotels . . . modern . . . fireproof . . . all rooms with bath and shower . . . convenient to business, theaters, shopping . . . Restaurant, cocktail lounge and health club on the premises.

GARAGE IN CONNECTION

$2.00 And Up SINGLE ● $3.00 And Up DOUBLE

MIDLAND HOTEL
172 West Adams Street at La Salle
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

First Step

One must catch the bear before he puts the ring in his nose.

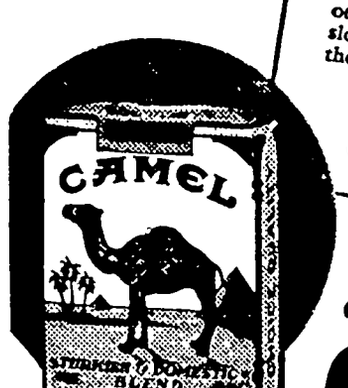
JACQUELYN BODDIE
FAMOUS AUTO STUNT DRIVER

THOSE EXTRAS IN SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS MAKE A GRAND DIFFERENCE TO ME. MY THROAT LIKES THE EXTRA MILDNESS—AND MY POCKETBOOK LIKES THE EXTRA SMOKING

● EXTRA MILDNESS
● EXTRA COOLNESS
● EXTRA FLAVOR

In recent laboratory tests, Camels burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!



GET THE "EXTRAS" WITH SLOWER-BURNING
CAMELS
THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Your vote will be appreciated——

Fred C. Missal

Republican Candidate For

Auditor

——General Election November 5, 1940

YOUR SUPPORT APPRECIATED

Frank J. SCHOUN

Republican Candidate for

HANCOCK COUNTY

Supervisor

Term Beginning Jan. 1, 1942

General Election November 5, 1940

——RE-ELECT——

Elmer Raw

Republican Candidate For

Clerk of Dist. Court

Hancock County, Iowa

Your vote and support appreciated——

Your Support Appreciated——

Penn Eckels

Solicits Your Vote For

Supervisor

Hancock County, Iowa

——Term Beginning Jan. 1, 1941

An EXPERIENCED Civil Authority is the People's GREATEST PROTECTION!

Experience has been, and will continue to be the greatest teacher of Police Technique. Dealing with all types of people, under all conditions; the value of a Police Officer is measured by the extent and character of his experience.

VOTE FOR

L. M. (Dutch) Brower

Republican Candidate For

Sheriff

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Ira Overholt was at Mason City Monday morning.

Oscar Carlson, of Clear Lake, was calling on old Klemme friends Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Glen Bridges and Mrs. Fred Ridder were visiting in Mason City, Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Missman were entertained to supper at the P. M. Wilson home Friday evening.

Circle Three of the Methodist Church cleared $18 at their Hallowe'en Party Tuesday night.

Mrs. Fred Ridder returned to Klemme Sunday evening after a visit in Chicago and Davenport.

Miss Marie Stille, who teaches at Malcolm, Iowa, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stille

Mrs. C. A. Arnold, Miss Minnie Lenz and Mrs. Erickson and daughter, LaVohn, were Mason City visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth spent Sunday in Plymouth visiting with her mother, Mrs. Hodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Echard Ziedler's new house received the finishing touches the past week and is now ready for them to move in.

Mrs. Mata Juhl and son, Martin, and Miss Hattie Hanson, of Thornton, visited Sunday at the Henry Jost and Fred Nagel homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and son, Duard, drove to Marshalltown Saturday evening where they spent Sunday visiting with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clements were entertained to dinner Monday evening at the Ira Overholt home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arbic, of Duluth, Minnesota, spent the week end visiting at the Henry Jost home.

Miss Ruth Bailey and friend, of Ames, spent Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bailey southeast of Klemme.

Rev. and Mrs. Zabilka were called to Oskaloosa, Iowa, Tuesday by the serious illness of Mrs. Zabilka's mother.

Miss Gladys Zabilka, who teaches at Luther, Iowa, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka.

A. C. Bird has purchased a garage at Galt and he and Mrs. Bird will move there soon. Mr and Mrs. Bird have been residents of Klemme for several months and reside in the Wes Schuldt home

Mr. and Mrs. Gunder Halverson, of Corwith, called at the Times office Tuesday evening. Mr. Halverson recently purchased the Corwith Hustler. He also has a weekly paper at Williams.

Miss Mable Schuldt took a car load of Klemme school teachers to Cedar Falls Friday evening. They took in the home coming football game Saturday, and returned to Klemme Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pavey drove to Plymouth last Friday evening to attend a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Shirley. Mrs. Frank Woodhouse and son, Raymond, came to Klemme with Mr. and Mrs. Pavey to visit over the week end.

Roy Smock returned home from a Mason City hospital Tuesday morning. Mr. Smock had been confined in the hospital for several weeks following an accident in which his leg was fractured. He was brought to his home in Klemme in the Wellemeyer ambulance.

Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth, Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son, Dick, and Mrs. C. G. Waterman were Mason City visitors Friday afternoon. Marian Waterman and Marie Schmidt accompanied them home. Both girls are attending school in Mason City this year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reece and Mr. and Mrs. P. M Wilson drove to Des Moines Sunday. The former spent the day visiting with Mr. Reece's sister, while the Wilsons spent the day visiting their daughter, Mrs. Robert Risser, husband and son.

Marvin Isvik drove up from Cedar Rapids late Saturday evening for a visit at the C. A. Larsen home. Mrs. Isvik, who has been visiting with her parents for two weeks, accompanied her husband home to Cedar Rapids Sunday afternoon.

Milton Paul spent Sunday visiting Cedar Falls and Waterloo. At Waterloo he visited with Mr. and Mrs. LuVern Drake and baby. Before her marriage, Mrs. Drake, was Miss Estelle Hanson, Klemme school teacher. The Drake family were former residents of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lewis accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son, Dick, drove to Grundy Center Sunday morning. Mrs. Dulmes and Dick visited with Mrs. Mary Mutch, while Mrs. Lewis remained for a week's visit with her mother.

Ira Overholt returned Saturday evening form Iowa City where he had been a patient at the University hospital for about ten days, receiving treatment. Altho Ira is still a bit on the wobbly order, he is making good progress toward complete recovery and was able to be back at his work at the Implement Store Monday.

George Albers is having his residence in Klemme re-shingled and re-painted. The house which he recently purchasd from Paul Grange, is having a new roof of blue shmgles and the house is being painted white which makes it very attractive in appearance. Mr. and Mrs. Albers expect to move to Klemme after the first of the year.

"WOMEN AT WORK"

When a cement walk was to be put down in front of a Little Sioux church,, only one man showed up. However, this didn't keep the work from being done—the women got busy and did it.

Considerable fewer cattle will be fed this fall and winter than last, on the prospect that supplies of feed grams will be smaller and corn prices higher. Iowa State College economists say this will mean smaller marketings of grain-fed cattle in the first half of 1941 than in the same period this year. Also a higher level of prices will prevail provided consumer demand for meats is well maintained.

Health authorities report that a single pork chop contains enough vitamin B to supply an adult for one day.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

DANCE

Sat. Night Nov. 2

Klemme Legion Community Hall

Huck Schaffer's Orchester

MIXED DANCE Admission 44c - 33c

Fred C. Gilchrist

Republican Candidate for Congress

HIS RECORD PROVES HIS WORTH

Congressman Gilchrist is an outstanding example of one who stands with farmers and is endorsed by farmers and farm leaders. A Republican in politics. Has been commended by both Republican and Democratic leaders on the House Agricultural Committee of which he is a member. Author of the Iowa Grain Storage Act which was the first law of its kind and which furnished a basis for the Federal program for sealing corn upon farms. He supports low interest rates for farmers, moratorium and refinancing plans against foreclosures, benefit payments for soil conservation, parity prices and corn loans. Has always favored Farm to Market Highways, Rural Electrification plans, and Old Age Benefits He believes that the American market belongs to American farmers and that they have profit prices and cost of production for their labor. Farmers and laboring men know his record and approve it.

HIS CONSTANT, EFFECTIVE SERVICE MERITS YOUR VOTE.

VOTE FOR

☒ Fern Peck Katter

Republican Candidate

For County Recorder

DO NOT FAIL TO VOTE TUESDAY, NOV. 5, 1940

A Ballot marked in the following manner will be greatly appreciated——

For County Treasurer

Roy L. McMillin

I want to thank you for past favors, also for any support you may give on November 5, 1940.

15,000 Shot Gun Shells!

Realizing that there is bond to be a great shortage in ammunition of all kinds, we have stocked up on Shot Gun Shells in a variety of gauges and loads and have 15,000 shells on hand. We advise you to lay in your supply now as our prices are right. Buy your ammunition now while you can be sure of getting it!

HUNTING SUPPLIES

We still have a good assortment of Shot Guns and Rifles. Buy today if you want a gun as the present stocks are low and some time items are off the market.
We carry Hunting Caps and Coats, Gloves, Duck Calls, Thermos Bottles, etc. Everything for the hunter.

E. F. Jacobs Hardware

"The Farm Service Store" Klemme, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

UME 45 | KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 6, 1940. | NUMBER 23.

sevelt Elected But Iowa Republican Ticket Named

NTIAL RACE IN COUN- WAS NIP AND TUCK AFFAIR

son Has Slight Edge Over ntine In This County

y's election set a new ord for the number of ast when the total reach- according to Auditor Mis- stated this was between 800 more than had ever t.

and Roosevelt staged a ttle in this county, while Wilson took a bit strong- over Valentine. Here are county results:

For President

cNary	3632
t-Wallace	3514

For Governor

Wilson	3626
Valentine	3313

alance of the state ticket a Republican majority omfortable margin.

epresentative in Congress, Gilchrist lead over Frank 82 to 2337.

tate Senator Oscar Johnson wha, piled up 3577 votes is Republican opponent . Stuart of Hampton, who 2570 votes.

Another Close One

S. Pritchard, Republican osed out A. C. Taylor, t, in the race for Repre- e by the close score of 3152, a slim margin of 27 elected a complete set of ficials on the Republican rom Governor on down the a's electorial votes went to and this is the first time ry that Iowa has been by having a man in the esident's chair.

IOWA GOES GOP

CT LAST RITES OR MRS. YOUNG IN CHURCH AT GARNER

NER—Funeral rites were 9 o'clock Monday morning St. Boniface Catholic church s. Rudolph Young who died ason City hospital Friday ollowing a major opera-

Rev. M. J. Manternach of- and Carl W. Bohn was rge of arrangements. earers were Joe Steinberg, lood, George Klesel, George Lee Swaney and Louis r. Father Manternach had of short rites at the grave Boniface cemetery.

ARM BUREAU NEWS

arm Bureau meeting was t the Arnold school last Fri- vening. The pupils of the with Evelyn Arnold, the , gave a very interesting e'en program. Mr. J. J. had charge of the business g.

committee consisting of V. A. Cook, Mrs. C. A. Ar- nd Mrs. E. J. Arnold had of the refreshments stion.

ntaneous combustion by an l mop in a clothes closet, was ause of a fire in a property ging to J. E. Shaw Van, at on.

supplies during the remain- f 1940 will be slightly smaller a year ago, because laying are smaller and contain a r percentage of pullets.

To Attend Convention

E. A. MOWRER, OF THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, TO BE MAIN SPEAKER

West Des Moines Band, Under The Direction of Earl E. Josten Will Give Concert Fri.

Teachers of the Klemme Public Schools will attend the State Teachers' convention in Des Moines Thursday and Friday of this week, and students will enjoy a vacation for those two days

The program for the convention appears to be one of the strongest ever presented in the eighty-six years of state convention history The major attraction among the speakers is probably Edgar A Mowrer, foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, who speaks Thursday evening at the Coliseum. Mr Mowrer has been an eye-witness of the present war, and his reports both in the newspapers and over the radio are familiar to many people in this country.

Another program which should throw a great deal of light on the present European situation is the one to be presented by Gregor and Edna Ziemer. Ziemer was formerly headmaster and dean of the American School in Berlin. He will give an address entitled "2010 Days Of Hitler." His wife, who is an accomplished musician, will give a program of European concert music

Other speakers to be heard on the convention program are Dr. Edwin A Lee of Columbia University, Dr. A. L. Sacher of the University of Illinois, Dr. J B. Edmunson of the University of Michigan, and Miss Jessie Parker, Iowa State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Of interest to many Klemme people will be the band concert at the third general session at the Coliseum Friday evening. The music will be furnished by the West Des Moines High School band under the direction of Earl E. Josten, a former Klemme boy.

TALLY HO CLUB

The Tally Ho club met Tuesday evening at the Martin Barz home where bridge was played, followed by a lunch.

High scores were won by Mrs. Stanley Thada and Orville Bridges.

Infant Son Died At Birth

An infant son born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hanson at the W. A. Hanson home four miles east of Klemme, died at birth. The baby was buried Monday afternoon.

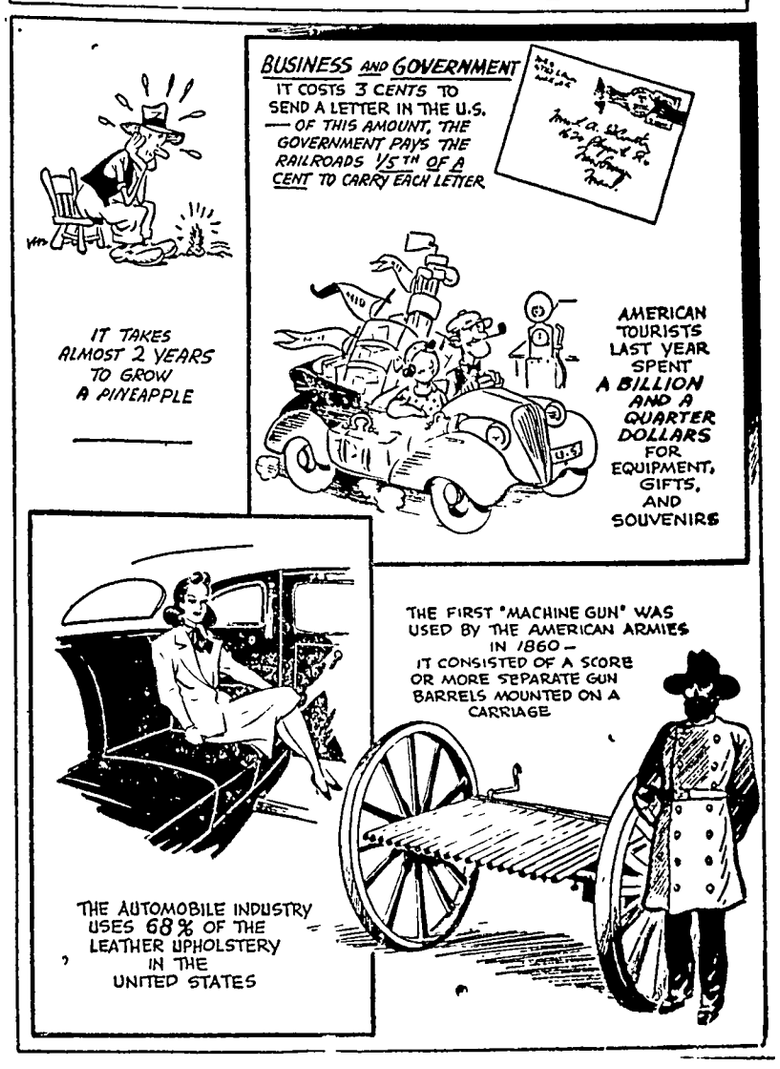
Use Leaves For Fertilizer

Instead of burning the leaves this fall, why not use them for fertilizer? All that's necessary is to pile up the leaves, either above ground or in a pit, using alternate layers of soil to introduce bacteria Well rotted leaves are an excellent source of fertilizer and organic matter.

Gassed.

When an automobile backed into the Anamosa Power Pel gas truck, it broke a spigot, spilling about 200 gallons of gasoline onto the street. Nearly 100 gallons were saved with buckets. It was necessary for the fire department to get to work and wash down the street.

Approximately half of the sealed corn in the United States this year has been stored on Iowa farms.



THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS
BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT
IT COSTS 3 CENTS TO SEND A LETTER IN THE U.S. — OF THIS AMOUNT, THE GOVERNMENT PAYS THE RAILROADS 1/5TH OF A CENT TO CARRY EACH LETTER
IT TAKES ALMOST 2 YEARS TO GROW A PINEAPPLE
AMERICAN TOURISTS LAST YEAR SPENT A BILLION AND A QUARTER DOLLARS FOR EQUIPMENT, GIFTS, AND SOUVENIRS
THE FIRST "MACHINE GUN" WAS USED BY THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN 1860 — IT CONSISTED OF A SCORE OR MORE SEPARATE GUN BARRELS MOUNTED ON A CARRIAGE
THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY USES 68% OF THE LEATHER UPHOLSTERY IN THE UNITED STATES

503 Voters Took Advantage of Voting In Ell Twp.

ELL TOWNSHIP WENT STRONG FOR REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

Willkie Lead With 324 Votes Over The President With 172

The biggest vote in the history of Ell Township and no doubt the same is true of the county, state and nation, was recorded Tuesday. 503 ballots were cast in Ell Township.

Following is the vote cast in Ell Township·

For President

Willkie-McNary	324
Roosevelt-Wallace	172

For Governor

George Wilson	298
John K. Valentine	182

(All other state offices carried with a substantial Republican majority.)

For State Senator

Ralph R. Stuart	228
Oscar E. Johnson	191

For Representative

W. S. Pritchard	273
A. C. Taylor	166

For County Auditor

Fred C. Missal	324
Ralph C. Ludeke	151

For County Treasurer

Roy L. McMillin	355
Anna Orthel	92

For Clerk

Elmer Raw	333
Dean T. Hughes	100

For Sheriff

Dutch Brower	257
Ben F. Greiman	211

For Recorder

Fern Peck Katter	354
Ella Mae Foster	124

For County Attorney

Clark Lovrien	240
B C. Berge	209

For Coroner

Kenneth Boughton	292
W L. Tindall	126

For Supervisor

Penn Eckels	269
Cliford Schaper	154

For Supervisor

Frank J Schoun	306
L. W. Wesenberg	161

American Legion-Auxiliary Armistice Day Program

The American Legion and its Auxiliary are sponsoring an Armistice Day Program in the School Auditorium, November 11th, at 10.45 o'clock in the morning.

This entertainment is open to the Public and it will be appreciated if the business places will close for at least the time of the program.

Following is the program as outlined by Mrs. Lester Stille, Vice President and Program Chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Advancement of Colors	Eloise Etchen
Pledge Allegience to The Flag	Audience
Invocation
National Anthem	Audience
Musical Selection	H. S. Group
11 O'clock	30 seconds of Silent Prayer For World War Veterans
Address	Frank Senneff, of Britt
Song "God Bless America"	Audience

Republican Candidates For County Offices Victors In General Election

Attraction At Local Hall

TEN PIECE ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY HERE SATURDAY EVENING

Vance Dixon's ten piece orchestra has been secured by the Legion dance committee to play for the dance at the Klemme Legion-Community Hall on Saturday evening, November 9th.

The Legion is making preparations to entertain a large crowd for this dance.

KELCH, DENHART, IS SHOT ACCIDENTALLY

Rifle Is Discharged As Youth Prepared For A Hunting Trip

BRITT—Albert Kelch, 23, was accidentally shot Sunday afternoon as he was preparing to go hunting. He picked up his gun, a 22 caliber rifle, which accidentally discharged the shot going through the left lung just missing the heart. He was taken to a hospital at Mason City where he is in a serious condition.

Mr. Kelch lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kelch, near Denhart.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Chester Liddle To Minnie Lau and Martin, hus., Q C Deed, 4-29-40, $1. Lots 1 & 2, Blk 14, Tallman's Add. to town of Garner.

Mrs. Mary Rayhons, widow To Alfred Thomas Petersen, Wty Deed 11-1-40, $135. Lot 5, Blk 10, Tallman's Add. to Garner.

Elizabeth Steinhoff To Thora Schubert, Wty Deed, 11-140, $2,300. NW¼, Blk 6, Stubbin's Add. To Britt.

E. C. Halverson To George Schimmel, Wty. Deed, 10-28-40, $550. Lot 6, Blk 9 Incorporated town of Britt.

G. B. Lawhorn and Sarah L. wf To Ray E. Love and Shirley, Wty Deed, 10-25-40, $3,000. W½ Lots 7 & 8, Blk 6, West Side Add. to town of Garner.

Visited In Minnesota Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schneider, of Klemme; Mrs. Adolph Wenzell, of Belmond; Warner and Bill Butts, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Sandburg and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hanson and son, Robert, all of Goodell, drove to Fairmont, Minnesota, Sunday for a visit with Miss Olive Butts, who teaches English in the high school there. All enjoyed the visit very much.

Correction

In a news item last week The Times stated that Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bird expected to move to Galt soon. Although Mr. Bird has purchased a garage at Galt, he will drive back and forth and they will continue to reside in Klemme, and they do not contemplate moving out of the Wes Schuldt house where they now reside.

BIRTHDAY CLUB MET

The Birthday club met at the home of of Mrs. Cecil Bridges last Friday afternoon. Bridge was played. Mrs. W. C. Keraus won high prize and Mrs. Martin Barz won second high. A lovely lunch was served. Mrs. Stanley Thada was a guest.

STORES WILL CLOSE

Klemme business places will be closed on Armistice Day from 10:30 a. m. until Noon, during the program at the school house. As this is a Legal Holiday, several places expect to be closed all day.

—Paul Grange, Mayor

COUNTY CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE NAMED BY REPUBCAN PARTY

L. M. "Dutch" Brower Polled The Largest Number of Republican Votes

The Republican Party named all of the county offices for the coming 2 years with L. M. 'Dutch' Brower leading the field in the total number of votes, 4593 against his Democratic opponent, Ben F. Greiman, who totalled 2329 votes.

Here's the final tally on county offices:

For Auditor

Fred C. Missal	4345
Ralph C. Ludeke	2425

For Treasurer

Roy L. McMillin	4528
Anna Orthel	2060

For Clerk

Elmer Raw	4188
Dean T. Hughes	2273

For Sheriff

L. M. "Dutch" Brower	4593
Ben F. Greiman	2329

For Recorder

Fern Peck Katter	3675
Ella Mae Foster	3166

For County Attorney

Clark E. Lovrien	3327
B. C. Berge	3090

For Coroner

Kenneth Boughton	3855
W. L. Tindall	2589

For Supervisor

Penn Eckels	3652
Clifford Schaper	2871

For Supervisor

Frank J. Schoun	3302
L. W. Wesenberg	2770

MUSIC MOTHER'S WILL MEET

All who are connected in any way with the music of the schools, are invited to a Music Mother's meeting to be held at the school house next Wednesday evening, November 13th, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. A. J. Kudje and Mrs. C. G. Waterman will be hostesses.

COMEDY "HIRED WIFE" COMING TO THE AVERY SUNDAY

Here is a comedy that will keep ripples of laughter over the audience for the entire show. It is a comedy of matrimony and business, situation and circumstances, a story of today and New York, and with no purpose save to amuse.

Rosaland Russell is seen as a secretary to a cement manufacturer, played by Brian Aherne, who fancies himself in love with a model portrayed by Virginia Bruce. Benchley is cast as the lawyer who councels him to a marriage of convenience, and Joan Carroll entertains as a South American who furnishes a fourth corner of the triangle. Complications which confront all parties in their attempts to arrive at a settlement of their problems are of the sort to be expected, but the pattern of their occurrence is not.

DINNER AND BRIDGE PARTY MONDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Galbreth and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman entertained sixteen friends to a six-thirty dinner at the Garner Cafe. After the dinner, they returned to the Waterman home, where bridge was played. Mrs. A. J. Kudje won high and Mrs. Ed Jacobs second high for the ladies, while A. L. Kingery was high, with Geo. Lawhorn second high for the men.

Colorful Incidents Surround Registration Of Nation's Manpower for Peacetime Draft

By JOHN L. NUGENT

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—America's first peacetime draft registration was marked with hundreds of interesting and colorful incidents as some 16,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 35 listed essential information regarding themselves for use by military conscription authorities.

Good nature, lighted by the usual American wise-crack, coupled with an undertone of dead seriousness characterized the progress of the registration in all parts of the country. Minor crises arising from misunderstandings or errors cropped up in many sections, but all were swiftly ironed out. No acts of violence were reported.

The registration gave a panorama of life—a bit of the heroic, the dramatic, the comic and the routine. Below are presented some of the highlights and sidelights of the event that marked the first step toward raising the strength of America's armed forces through the selective service act.

* * *

Roy Beadle had to answer only one question when he registered in Portland, Ore. His wife was a precinct registrar. "I know all the answers to these other questions," she said, "but did you put the cat out?"

* * *

When two Chinese laundrymen, Wong Sam, and Chnio Ho, of Philadelphia, sat down to register, they presented a 100-page notebook to the registrar. It contained their histories in Chinese characters—just to be certain they could answer all the questions.

* * *

"Do you mean to say you don't know your wife's maiden name?" asked a Chicago registrar. The young man shook his head. "Nope," he answered, "I've never met her folks."

* * *

School teachers acting as registrars at Nehant, Mass., drew lots for the distinction of registering John Roosevelt, youngest son of the President. Miss Mary Shea won the honor.

* * *

Draft officials announced that some men between the ages of 21 and 35 will not be registered for several months or even years. Inmates of prisons will be registered on the day of release, but not before.

* * *

Two hours after registration opened, one lad rushed up to County Judge Jarecki in the Chicago election board's office with: "What do I do now, judge? I've already lost my card!"

* * *

What's in a name? One registrar complained that an applicant had scribbled so badly she couldn't read his name.

"Can't help it," said the man. "First name's Ignatius. Never could spell it."

* * *

The first man to sign up in Superior, Wis., was Woodrow Wilson Franklin, 23, who said he was named after the World War President who proclaimed the 1917 draft.

* * *

The New York Giants football team were thrown for a loss when 25 of them entered a school to register. Marching in a body from their hotel, they were stopped by a line of anemic, narrow-shouldered clerks. Meekly they fell in at the end of the line.

* * *

Forty midgets from the New York World's fair had to stand on chairs to register. They all said they wanted to be airplane machine gunners.

* * *

Patriotism must be especially strong in Philadelphia. A 71-year-old man wanted to register . . . and a boy who was to be 21 on the following Saturday. First the registrar said, "Too old," then, "Too young."

* * *

One Oak Park, Ill., registrant demanded two cards, one for his Oak Park home and the other listing him as a resident of Wisconsin. "I'd like to use the Wisconsin address so I can get my fishing license as a resident," he explained. "It's cheaper that way."

He got one card—from Oak Park.

* * *

Children acted as guides to draftees at a Philadelphia school. They showed the men the way to the various classrooms where registration was being held.

* * *

Several women reported to registration places in South Philadelphia, Pa., thinking they had to register, too.

* * *

Several 36-year-old New Yorkers found out they were only 35 and eligible for the draft. Their birth certificates were based on the Julian calendar of Russia, but the 13-day lag of the Gregorian calendar used in the U. S. made them only 35

* * *

There is little doubt about the constancy of Charles H. Burkhardt's love for his fiancee, Florence Heywood. When he registered in Chicago he listed Miss Heywood as the one person who will always know his address.

Warren Pershing, son of General John J. Pershing, is shown as he registered in New York city for the draft. The son of one of America's greatest and most loved soldiers, young Pershing was one of 16,404,000 young men between 21 and 35 years of age who took their first step in military conscription plans by listing essential personal information for selective service officials.

Old memories were brought back for 10 Chicago registrants. Rushing into one of the classrooms when the school was opened, they squeezed themselves behind the little desks and sang "School Days," while looking attentively at the blackboards.

* * *

Registration was temporarily postponed in Evanston, Ill., when officials ran out of ink. One man had to drive to the city hall for another bottle before the work could be resumed.

* * *

A band played lustily in front of Indian Creek school near Aurora, Ill., when the first man reported to register.

* * *

Registration called out three of Minnesota's highest officials. Gov. Harold E. Stassen, 33, Lieut. Gov. C. Elmer Anderson, 28, and Senator-Designate Joseph H. Ball, 34, had to report to register.

* * *

Surprisingly few of the top-flight movie heroes were young enough to register. Some of the leading actors who were older than the draft requirement limit of 35 years were Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Spencer Tracy, Ronald Coleman, Cary Grant, Buck Jones, George O'Brien, James Cagney and William Boyd.

But prominent among Hollywood names registered were those of Robert Taylor, James Stewart, Cesar Romero, Orson Welles, Broderick Crawford, and William Holden.

* * *

Other movie registrants included Lew Ayres, Henry Fonda, John Payne, Don Ameche, John Carradine, Tyrone Power, Laird Cregar, George Sanders, Eddie Albert, Herbert Anderson, William Lundigan, Jeffrey Lynn, Dennis Morgan, Wayne Morris, Ronald Reagan, Ray Milland, William Henry, Lee Bowman, John Carroll, Douglas McPhail, Tony Martin, Robert Young, John Garfield, Artie Shaw, Skinnay Ennis, John Mack Brown, Dick Foran, Franchot Tone, Lon Chaney Jr. and Noah Beery Jr.

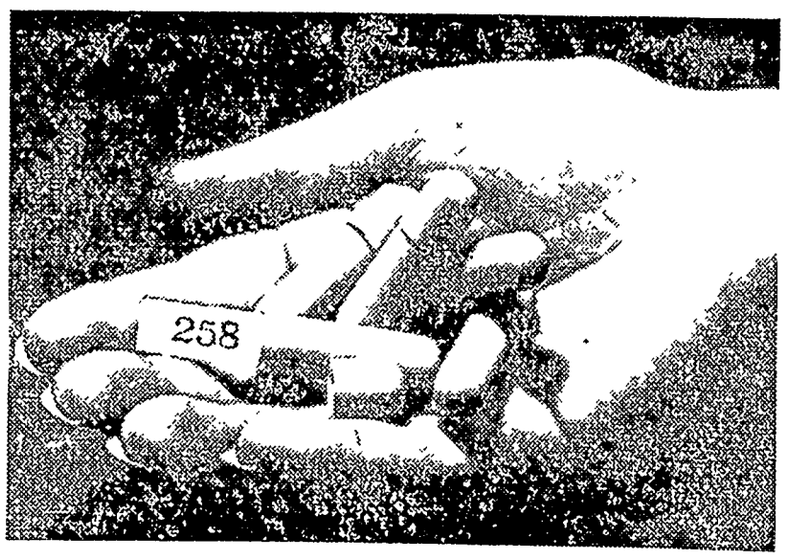
* * *

A number of children grouped in front of one Chicago school and sang, "You're in the Army Now" so loud it could be heard for blocks.

* * *

Officials had a hard time writing in the name of one registrant who was born in the Philippine islands. His name is Hermonegildo Sobrevilla Pagulayan.

Here's Next Step in Conscription



Here are actual samples of the capsules used in the national lottery to determine order numbers for prospective conscripts under the selective service act. Number 258, as shown above, was the first number drawn during the wartime lottery in 1917. Numbers are printed on white cardboard and inserted inside the capsules.

Now that registration is over, 16,404,000 young men between the ages of 21 and 35 are asking, "What's next?"

For many of them, draft registration means the beginning of 10 to 15 years of obligation for military service. For many it may be months or even years before their "number" will be called, requiring them to fill out the detailed questionnaire and report for service.

More than 6,500 local draft boards throughout the country are preparing to give each man a number. Every registrant will be informed by mail of his number, but each local draft board will also print and post the entire list of names and numbers. Registrants are required to find out their number, even if they are not notified by mail.

Lottery Drawing.

The order in which men are to be called into service will be determined by the lottery drawing held in Washington between October 26 and November 2. Numbers are placed in capsules pictured above, which are then drawn one-by-one to determine the order in which the men will be called.

For example, if the first number drawn is 97, then each man numbered 97 in each draft district will be in the first group summoned. Within a few days he will receive an eight-page questionnaire which must be filled out and returned.

Answers furnished by these questionnaires will form the basis for classification of the registrant. Health, responsibilities, occupation and religious convictions are factors which will determine whether the registrant shall be subject to immediate or deferred call.

How soon any given registrant may be called depends upon the position of his serial number in Washington. The law limits the number who may be inducted into service in any one year to 900,000 men. Present plans call for the drafting of 400,000 men by March 15, 1941.

Every man who registered has several definite duties and obligations he must perform. He must always carry his certificate of registration. He should watch for his serial number and the order number assigned to him after the drawing in Washington.

Every registrant must notify the local draft board of any changes in his address, employment, dependents, citizenship and physical condition. He should also keep in touch with his local board to see that he does not miss any notices to report for questioning or examination.

Most U. S. Presidents Have Short Life Span

WASHINGTON.—Why would anyone want to be President? The mere fact that there's only one living ex-President should be enough to scare anybody off.

From George Washington down through Calvin Coolidge, Presidents have lived for an average of 13 years after the date of their inauguration to the nation's highest official position.

Star Dust

STAGE—SCREEN—RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE question of who owns Dorothy Lamour's hair has become a burning issue. It isn't the hair that Dorothy had left when her famous long locks were removed, but the tresses that fell to the floor when she won the victory to have her hair bobbed.

She bobbed it for Paramount's "Moon Over Burma," you'll recall. Instantly the studio's publicity department requested the make-up department to save the shorn locks; they knew that thousands of requests for a lock of Dorothy's hair would pour in.

The requests poured, all right. But—when the head of the publicity department sent for the hair, the make-up department replied that it was in the possession of Dorothy's mother, Mrs. O. L. Castleberry. Mrs. Castleberry had protested bitterly against the shearing, and to appease her Dorothy had taken her the long and lovely locks.

Now the question is—does the studio own those locks, or are they the rightful property of Mrs. Castleberry, who refuses to give them up.

—*—

Humphrey Bogart just goes from bad to worse, so far as his work is concerned. Years ago he made a hit in his first important role in the stage play, "Cradle Snatchers," in which he played the very juvenile escort of Mary Boland. Jeanette MacDonald's husband, then known as Raymond Guion, was another very youthful and capable member of the cast.

HUMPHREY BOGART

But the movies have turned Bogart into one of our most sinister villains. In his new picture, "High Sierra," he's more villainous than ever. One of his milder acts is to crack the heads of two "goons" who cause trouble in his "mob."

—*—

Two years ago the Song Hit guild of New York set out to prove that amateurs can write hit songs. The guild's record proves what a grand idea that was.

In less than 18 months 18 unknown authors and composers received accredited publication, advance royalties and contracts equal to those given established professionals. The list of their songs includes the popular "Can't Get Indiana Off My Mind," "I'm on the Verge of a Merge," and "What Ev'ry Young Girl Should Know," featured a while ago on the Hit Parade.

The Song Hit guild is now conducting its third nation-wide search for talent. If you're interested, send your manuscript to the Song Hit guild, 1619 Broadway, New York city, at once. An advisory board headed by Paul Whiteman, Guy Lombardo, Billy Rose and Kay Kyser passes on all songs, and writers requiring such help are invited to collaborate with hit songwriters like Hoagy Carmichael, Jimmy McHugh and others of equal note.

—*—

Radio artists are reviving an old parlor game as a means of whiling away off-time in the studios, but they play it with radio programs instead of the titles of books or songs. Turning to the radio page of a newspaper, they run the titles of radio programs together to make a story in sentences like this—"Blondie, Meet Mr. Meek, Light of the World!"

—*—

Marjorie Anderson is calling her new home on the outskirts of Philadelphia "The house that shadows built." Married, mother of a two-year-old daughter, and wife of a successful construction engineer, she commutes to New York for her work on Mutual Broadcasting System's Shadow program, and has earned enough to pay the rent for a year, landscape the grounds, and furnish the house.

—*—

ODDS AND ENDS—Bill Stern is lining up Robert Taylor, Mickey Rooney and Claudette Colbert for guest appearances on his "Sports Newsreel of the Air" if his program moves to the coast for December . . . Bing Crosby's son Gary will follow in his dad's film footsteps, it's reported . . . Penny Singleton, who broke into films as a dancer, dances for the first time in four years in "Blondie Goes Latin" . . . Fred Allen is willing to give $20 for a penny, if it's the righ penny he left an 1887 penny, valued at $20, on his desk, and the maid, needing another penny to pay the milkman, picked it up. So the $20 penny is now in circulation as just another penny.

DICTATOR'S MENU

("Correspondents could see the dictators dining in the train, but could not see what they were eating."—News item.)

Benito—I'll bet they'd like to know what we're eating.

Adolf—Public curiosity is a queer thing.

Benito—Maybe we should announce the menu.

Adolf—Let 'em guess. What kind of soup is this?

Benito—English beef soup.

Adolf (indignantly) — Now look here

Benito—You'll like it. I had two Englishmen boiled in it especially for you.

Adolf (skeptically)—You and who else?

* *

Benito—You'll like the fish course.

Adolf—What kind of fish?

Benito—Brenner Pass pickerel.

Adolf—I thought we were going to have man-eating shark. I love it. Some of my best friends are man-eating sharks. What about that Suez shad I asked you to get?

Benito—Ahem. It was out of season.

* *

Adolf—Now for the meat course. What is it?

Benito—Lamb.

Adolf (excitedly)—Lamb! Lamb for Adolf Hitler?

Benito—I ordered lion, of course. But there was some mistake. I feel as out of place with lamb as you do.

Adolf—Take it away! It's a wonder you don't serve breast of dove.

Benito—How about a little turkey?

Adolf—I've been after that all year.

Benito—Do you care for tripe?

Adolf—It depends on who prepares it.

Benito—Well, if anybody can prepare tripe I can.

* *

Adolf — Haven't you any frogs' legs?

Benito—If anybody has frogs' legs you should. How about a helping of spinach. It is full of iron and is great for your strength.

Adolf—Spinach may be all that it's cracked up to be, but I wish I knew what vegetables those British were eating.

* *

Benito (suddenly)—Ah, I forgot! We're having lobster. I love lobster. It looks so warlike. Do you like it boiled or broiled?

Adolf (fiercely)—I eat it shell and all!

Benito—Do you really like it that way?

Adolf—No, but it makes me seem tough.

* *

Benito—Now for the dessert. Do you like cake?

Adolf—Me, a cake eater!

* *

Benito—Do you care for raspberries?

Adolf—No, but you and I stand a swell chance of having to stand for 'em!

* * *

SUMMARY BY EITHER SIDE

I

Vote for my man
And unseat, oh,
Adolf, Josef
And Benito,
Satan, rickets
And all evils
Such as dandruff
And boll weevils!

II

Moths and heartburn,
Tonsilitis,
Grippe, hay fever—
How they blight us!
Tyranny and boils
They grieve you . . .
Vote for my man—
They will leave you!

* * *

"The Japanese government has entered into this triple alliance for peace and the development of the world."—Premier Konoye.

Tweet! Tweet!

* * *

Representative Starnes of the Dies committee says more than 600 Bund members or sympathizers, all aliens, are known to have jobs in eastern industrial plants making war munitions and supplies. And probably the Bund attitude is that it's pretty good, for a start.

* * *

ANTI-VEGETABLE-PLATE STUFF

It always seems to be incredible
A radish is considered edible.
—Shirley Mae Williams.

* * *

Nothing seems to me less valid
Than cucumbers in any salad.

* * *

TOUGH GOING

It is going to be pretty hard, it seems to us, for even the Japanese to voice a salute such as "Heil, Yomawatcaskuo."

And both Hitler and Mussolini will look silly wielding a Japanese fan.

* * *

Major Quisling is designing a new flag for Norway. Some people are so sweet and considerate.

Washington,

EMBARGO ON JAPAN DE

The group inside the which favors a complete s of Japan's raw materials especially her oil, includes tary of War Stimson, Secre the Navy Knox, Secretary of Ickes, and Secretary of the ury Morgenthau—also certain rals in the navy. Perhaps it nificant that the strongest ad of complete embargoes agai pan are the three Republican bers of the cabinet—Stimson and Ickes.

On the other hand, the sta partment plus some of the ad favor a go-slow policy towa pan. They believe in applyi embargoes gradually, or a Ickes describes it, "cutting dog's tail by inches."

The state department concu cutting off Japan's oil would lyze her fleet after her prese months' supply was exhauste they also believe it would for pan to move into the Dutch Indies immediately in order more oil.

Last week one argument ov point and over general naval in the Far East developed hot debate between the navy, side, and Hull and Welles other. It took place at the House, in front of the President did most of the listening.

Hull and Welles contended we stopped Japan's oil suppl would certainly attack the East Indies, and that the U States could not possibly affo have ships in that area because might be needed in Atlantic w Welles pointed out that the Ger might seize the Azores or the F naval base at Dakar, West A which would menace South Ame

To this, Admiral Leahy, now ernor of Puerto Rico and o Roosevelt's closest naval adv replied:

"Gentlemen, we don't hav worry about Dakar and the A now. The British fleet can still vent Germany from taking t But a few months from now it be different. By next spring even this winter, the war may gone against the British in the iterranean, and then we'll have oceans to defend. Now we only one."

* * *

U. S.-BORN JAPANESE

Only insiders are aware of it, the new nationality act slaps another embargo on Japan.

It plugs up a hole in the old i gration laws which permitted A ican-born Japanese to go to Ja serve several years in the Japa army, then return to the U. S. and resume citizenship. This been quite common among the Japanese population in Ha where many Japanese parents sider it their duty to the emp to send their children to Japan military service.

That the new law is specific aimed at Japan—and her Axis lies—is shown by the fact that the act was originally written, one who enlisted in a foreign a automatically forfeited citizens This would have expatriated Am cans serving with the Canadian British armies.

The bill actually passed the ho in this form, but then the sen immigration committee did so editing. As finally passed, citiz ship is not lost if no oath of a giance is taken. Canada and B ain do not require the oath of Am cans. Japan and her Axis pals d

Note—The new law also provi that American parents of child born abroad must have resided the U. S. at least 10 years prior t birth in order to transmit citiz ship. This is aimed at expatria who retain their citizenship, with its obligations on the government protect them, but don't think enou of the United States to live in it.

* * *

ARMY PROMOTIONS

Any lowly recruit in the new c script army has a chance to come an officer within the sin year of training.

There has been a lot of confus about this, and editorials have be written complaining that this is possible. But Gen. George C. M shall, chief of staff, wants it kno that the army is still democratic.

Marshall points out that after first nine months of service, recruit has a chance to qualify the "candidate schools" to train cruits for commissions. The schools will be organized during last three months of the year service.

In other words, as Napoleon it, "Every soldier carries a ma shal's baton in his knapsack."

* * *

POLITICAL CHAFF

Democratic Rep. Bill Schulte Indiana won a lot of kudos for hi self from both the A. F. of L. a C. I. O. for his "prevailing wag amendments to the bill for the co struction of barracks for draftee Liberal Rep. Frank Havenner San Francisco got an unusual ser off when he departed to open h campaign President Roosevelt se him a "good luck" telegram a Speaker Sam Rayburn a letter ha ing him as one of the most valuab members of the house.

...is Example of 'Art Serves Commerce' Linked Together the Names of Two Men, Both Famous in Annals of the Frontier

...LMO SCOTT WATSON
...d by Western Newspaper Union.)

...ECENTLY a New York art gallery held the first public exhibition ...ollection of paintings of ...al historic interest. Not ...were these canvases the ... of George Catlin, the ...us painter of Indians, ...ssociated with them is ...er man's name, well ...n on the frontier. He ...Col. Samuel Colt, inven... ...f the six-shooter which ...d such an important ... in the winning of the ...

... linking of the names of two frontier notables came ... in this way: At the begin... of the Mexican war a de...ment of American dragoons ...mbushed by a Mexican pa... and the only man who ...ed was a Captain Thornton ...hot his way to freedom with ...ce of Colt revolvers.

...en Gen. Zachary Taylor ... of this, he was much im...ed and asked for more in...ation about these weapons. ... Sam Walker of the Texas ...ers, who was guarding Tay...lines of communications and ...had influenced Colt to de... a .44-caliber revolver in ad... to the .34-caliber which he ...been manufacturing, told the ...ral that the only thing wrong ... the revolvers was that there ... not enough of them.

...ereupon Taylor sent Walker ...ashington to make known to ...President the need of his sol... for more weapons of this ... The result was an order on ... for 1,000 of his guns, which ...t once supplied. More than ... Colt, who was an early-day ...er-salesman," put over as ...er a publicity campaign as ... modern press agent could ... devised.

...t was not the sales of his ...lvers to the army that made ... Colt," writes Jack Rohan in ..."Yankee Arms Maker: The ...redible Career of Samuel ..." (Harper and Brothers), "It ... the manner in which he cap...zed the victories of the Amer...s over numerically superior ...es. The revolvers in use at ...aca de la Palma, Monterey ... Buena Vista were few and ...between. But those few, when ... Colt got to spreading the ...y around the world, account...for the defeat of the Mexicans. ... the latter, glad of any ex...e for their humiliation, cheer...y corroborated his claim!"

...oon after the close of the Mex...n war came the discovery of ...d in California. Emigrant ...ns began streaming across ... Western plains, heading for ... new diggings in California or ... the rich lands of the Oregon ...ntry. The result of this epic ...gration was the inevitable ...sh with the Indians who had ...eady learned to fear and hate ... land-hungry white men.

...am Colt, the Yankee arms...

Catlin, the Artist, Shooting Buffalo With a Colt Revolving Pistol—"I gave five shots to the right and left, four of which were fatal to the heart and all in less than half a minute."

pictures of village and hunting scenes, of Indian games and ceremonies, of the scenery of the plains and mountains. Although Catlin went among the Indians on this peaceful mission, it was still a dangerous business So "just in case"—he went armed, and the guns which he carried were made by Sam Colt Catlin's "North American Indian Portfolio," published in London in 1844, was proof of his ability to make the kind of pictures of wild life in the West that would appeal to men likely to purchase Sam Colt's product. So he commissioned the artist to paint some pictures for him in which Colt guns would be prominently displayed in scenes illustrating their usefulness in hunting or Indian-fighting. The result was a dozen such canvases, painted between 1854 and 1857, which Colt used for display and from which lithographs were made for advertising promotion.

After they had served that purpose, the paintings were hung on the walls of Colt's residence, "Armsmear," in Hartford, Conn. Later they were relegated to an unused room on the third floor of another Colt home in Newport, R. I. It was only recently that they emerged from this obscurity and were placed on public exhibition in the New York gallery, there to be hailed as a rediscovered "find" of American "primitive" art.

For with the passing years the fame of George Catlin has grown. Before his death he presented to the Smithsonian institution more than 500 of his paintings. Some of these were destroyed or injured in a fire which swept the institution in 1865 but the remainder of the collection now housed there is valued at more than $1,000,000. There is no way of estimating what the paintings which he made for Colt are worth but some clue may be obtained from this fact:

Some time in the sixties the English firm of J. M'Gahey made lithographs from the six paintings and these lithographs were distributed by the Colt company as advertising. Last year Goodspeed's of Boston, the noted dealer in rare books and prints, offered for sale a set of these six lithographs, plus two others which were pictures of Colt's manufactory and armory, and placed a price of $250 on the eight.

In commenting on these prints Goodspeed said: "Until recently the set of six drawings which George Catlin made for the Colt Fire Arms Manufacturing company was known to us by title alone. We had never owned a set and we remember seeing only one listed by another dealer. These six lithographs are, by all evidence, very rare and this is the only set we have offered in 40 years of book and print selling." If the lithographs are valued at $250 it is safe to estimate that the original paintings are worth easily ten times that amount

No doubt George Catlin would be surprised if he could know what a high value is placed upon his work today Born at Wyoming, Pa , in 1796 the son of a lawyer-father, his boyhood, according to his own statement, "was whiled away, apparently, somewhat in vain, with books reluctantly held in one hand, and a rifle or fishing pole firmly and affectionately grasped in the other."

His father was ambitious for him to become a lawyer, too, so he obediently studied for that profession and began practicing in Philadelphia. But, being a lover of the outdoors, he found his office duties irksome. He began painting as a recreation but had no idea of making it his life business.

GEORGE CATLIN

Then one day on the streets of Philadelphia he saw a party of Indians who were en route to Washington for a conference with the "Great White Father." He was delighted with their picturesque dress and their splendid physiques and then and there was born in him a determination that "the history and customs of such people preserved by pictorial illustrations are themes worthy the lifetime of one man, and nothing short of the loss of my life shall prevent me from visiting their country and of becoming their historian"

Although Catlin was married by this time, neither the opposition of his wife nor arguments of other relatives could dissuade him from his purpose He set out for the Indian country and lived among the Indians for eight years during which time he sketched or painted 3,000 full-length figures, made 33 portraits in oil and gathered together a collection of Indian costumes "and other manufactures from the size of a wigwam down to the size of a quill or a rattle."

With these pictures and curiosities which he had acquired at such a cost of time, work and danger he traveled throughout the United States and exhibited them in all of the leading cities Everywhere he went he attracted crowds Then he crossed the Atlantic and exhibited in England, Belgium and France where King Louis Philippe was so much interested in his work that he proposed to buy the entire collection for the French nation Then came the Revolution of 1848 and, fortunately for America, the sale fell through.

Catlin returned to the United States and later visited South America and Central America to paint the Indians of those countries. Although his last years were spent in poverty, he presented to the Smithsonian his entire collection, so that future generations of his fellow-Americans might enjoy the record of an era that was rapidly passing. He died in Jersey City, N. J., on December 22, 1872, at the age of 76.

Catlin, the Celebrated Indian Traveler and Artist, Firing His ...olt's Repeating Rifle Before a Tribe of Carib Indians in South Amer...a

...aker, was quick to realize the ...portunity which this situation ...fered him and his product. By ...emonstrating the superiority of ...s revolver and the repeating ...fle, which he had recently in...ented, over the Indians' bows ...nd arrows he could sell large ...umbers of his weapons to the ...estward-faring emigrants. Al...ough advertising was still in its ...fancy, Sam Colt knew that "it ...ays to advertise" and he also ...new that one of the best ways to ...ut across an advertising mes...ge was through the medium of ...ictures.

"Two decades earlier an artist ...amed George Catlin had ascend...d the Upper Missouri and lived ...mong "48 of the wildest and most ...emote tribes," making paintings ...f everything that would illustrate ...he life and the country of those ...ribes—portraits of the chiefs,

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

United Features WNU Service

Washington, D. C.

COMMUNITY CHESTS

In these critical days there is so much hot stuff in war and politics to write columns about that one is tempted to neglect things less dramatic but at least of importance to America equal to the clash of empires and the fall of states.

Hugh Johnson

The national Community Chest drive is now under way all over this country It is the most sensible and scientific method for practical charity ever developed There was a time when this country went drive-crazy Well meaning people, whether they were simply riding a worthy hobby or backing a far worthier cause, could always drum up a house-to-house gimme campaign, or post pretty girls rattling dime-in-the-slot cans on every street corner.

* * *

The average American is always willing to give something if he has it. By the old helter-skelter method, he couldn't know exactly for what he was giving, how the money would be used, or whether there were not far better uses for his contribution. Also, these "drives" became so frequent that many people either were fed up with the constantly repeated annoyance of solicitation, or simply couldn't afford to give any more. The earlier bird got the dough regardless of its merits

The community chest idea was an answer to most of these problems. In many cities it is the only "drive" permitted. In nearly all cities it at least combines in one, all "drives" for the worthiest established charities. It is conducted under the most responsible sponsorships there are. This year both the President and Mr. Willkie will start the effort. The funds collected will be divided by the best-informed authorities among the institutions where they are most needed, and will go the furthest to meet human needs.

* * *

It is, of course, more heart-warming to give directly to some person or group whose suffering you can see, but none of us can give enough to meet all the needs of our neighbors. None of us separately can judge relative needs. Few of us have the time or training to manage and regulate our giving. For these reasons, indiscriminate giving is always wasteful and sometimes far from fair. The Community Chest method cures all these faults and shortcomings in the best way.

The tremendous sums of public money being expended for relief and charity greatly restrict the flow of gifts, for two reasons. The tax burdens necessary to support them reduce the incomes of potential givers. The billions spent by government make some people believe that there is no longer necessity for private giving.

* * *

The fact is that the necessity is greater than ever. Low interest rates have cut the revenue of many endowed charities in half or worse. Public doles can never cover the area of need. Finally, no warm-hearted American can ever feel quite satisfied with charity enforced, or to leave his humanitarian impulses to acts of congress. If there had been far more voluntary sharing through past years, there would be less regimented sharing today—with all the political evils that entails.

The demands upon us all are great and the woes of the world will greatly increase them. It will be well for us to remember that there are still great woes in our own country and that there is nothing in the least selfish in the motto: "Charity begins at home."

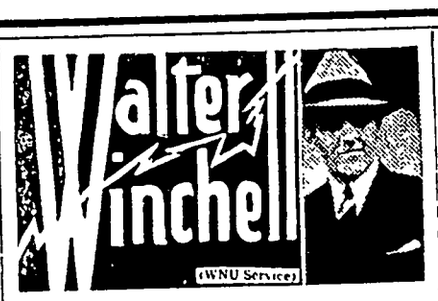
NAVAL BASE AFTERMATH

The acquisition of naval bases was highly popular. It was said in defense of the President's method of obtaining them, that if he had consulted congress, the deal would not have been permitted. Present evidences of popular approval of this result, as far as the bases are concerned, make this conclusion highly doubtful. Be that as it may, there is no doubt on earth that congress would ratify the result today with scarcely a dissenting vote.

It should do so It is of extreme importance If the only restraint on the executive in dealing with the laws of the Constitution of the United States is the possible unpopularity of the result, we have surely succumbed to what Westbrook Pegler calls the "what-the-hell" philosophy of laws, morals and obligations. Anything goes if it succeeds regardless of law or principle

* * *

A sovereign nation can do anything it wants and dares to do. It is answerable to nobody. It can declare war or it can authorize acts of war without a declaration. In taking such action, it may be breaking treaties, but, under our Constitution, a treaty of the United States is on equal footing with a law of the United States. A duly enacted statute, so far as our municipal law is concerned, can break or repeal any prior treaty, just as it can break or repeal any prior law



Man About Town

The Big Parade: Millionaire C. V. (Sonny) Whitney, who, intimates insist, will soon be back in circulation . . . The newest of the serious romancers, Eddy Duchin and Carol Bruce . . . Jay Carlisle, whose merger with Marcelle Edwards is a Reno-go, and Virginia Langdon, his next? . . . Isabel Jewell of the moom pitchers and Bob Musel, the reporter, who are cheek-to-cheeking . . Gladys Glad, more beautiful than ever, and groom M. Hellinger, who is hardly . . . Congressman Warren G. Magnuson of Seattle and Trudy Burke of the Ed Wynn show —having their own New Deal . . . George White and divorcee Doris Donaldson . . Judy Canova and her rumored new marriage name (in the near future) Johnny Diggs of H'wood . . Critic John Mason Brown—peacocking because of the new baby boy via Medical Center . Lady Brinsley-Plunkett, who will sell her Rolls-Royce for a measly $8,000 . Harry James, who says he's been studying Milton Berle's new nose for weeks, but still can't tell on which comedian he's seen it before!

Memos of a Midnighter: Could the Hotel Pierre's sleeping beauty (who took an overdose of sleeping pills and is still unconscious) be Mary Rogers, the Powers model? She hasn't reported for a fortnight Gloria Swanson's son is at the Republic Aviation plant at Farmingdale, learning how to build planes . Editor Frank Carson, a great newspaper man, has quit journalism after 40 years for his Arizona ranch . . . The nearest thing the town has had since Coal Oil Johnny is a handsome young character named Homer Hines. A racetracker. He and his two assistants, H. Crump and Chas. Scott, hoss trainers, are the biggest spenders in years. More spectacular than free fireworks. Simplee wundaful! . . . What's Billy Rose cooking up with the owner of Roseland and the Gay Blades Ice Rink? . . . Harper's fiction editor, George Davis, wants to marry Gypsy Rose Lee.

Modern Vignette: Busby Berkeley is one of Hollywood's top directors, who came to town to see the premier of his recent clicker, "Strike Up the Band." He stopped at the Plaza, if you please, and after two days of being bored stiff with conferences, meetings, etc., he phoned Prop. Proser at The Beachcomber . . . "How about rounding up some of the old gang, I'd love being with you all once more before I go back to the Coast?" he said . . . Proser phoned the "mob," including every available showgirl on Broadway, to come to "a party" . . . You never saw such a crowd of lovely lookers . . Everybody had a wonderful time, as did the guest of honor, whom nobody met . . . In the excitement, a captain thought Berkeley was a lonely sucker. He ushered him quietly to a rear table to get him out of the way . . Busby was served two Zombies, chow-mein, and the check —which he paid and then went home . . . He didn't want to interrupt the fun!

Broadway Rhythm: The Skouras-Newins indictment (for allegedly bribing Judge Manton), is coming up for trial on the 28th. The G-Men are seeking "Mrs. Newins." If she talks, they say, several famed lawyers may wind up in the clink . . . Alois Fabry, brother of the Esquire cartoonist, and Sally Sawyer of Vogue will be threaded next month . . . Wythe Williams reports that the planned radio program for National Defense is in abeyance until after the voting. The valid reason being: "political commercial commitments have consumed full time" . . . Jack Sterling and chormie Dot O'Neill are oof-ly clubby . The Gypsy Markoff-G. Schirmer Jr. idyll merger talk, which someone planted in the gazettes, put the "insiders" in stitches. Veddy fuddy . . . "Boyd's Daughter" which got the boyd from the critics, cost the Schuberts 20 Gs.

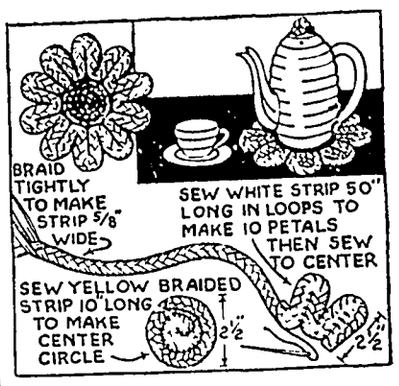
It happened in West 52nd Street early one recent morning . . Two garbage-wagon heavers paused to lean against a taxicab while a cooperative taxi driver tuned up the volume on his radio which was giving the news roundup from the foreign correspondents When they ended, one garbage collector jumped back onto his truck, rubbed his hands, and to his partner (who was lifting a refuse can) yelled: "Go ahead, Berlin!"

Sounds in the Night: At the Hickory House: "See that blonde? That's his reputation" At the Enduro: "Why Grandma, what big guys you have!" . . . At the Pago-Pago: "It's difficult to tell which is more questionable—her conduct or his intentions" . At the Brown Derby "She's making a name for herself, all right You oughta hear what the rest of the cast calls her" At Armando's "He's a friendly fellow You know, the kind guys slap on the back and gals usually manage to slap on the face."

Daisy Hot Dish Mat An Appropriate Gift

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

IT WAS the flower handle of the tea-pot lid that suggested this daisy mat. I had been thinking of making a hot dish out of firmly braided strips of cotton cloth. I wanted it to be thick and sewn firmly like a rag rug, so that it would stand frequent scrubbings. The design had to be novel and gay so that it would be appropriate for a Christmas gift or would attract attention if used to sell at



BRAID TIGHTLY TO MAKE STRIP 5/8" WIDE
SEW WHITE STRIP 50" LONG IN LOOPS TO MAKE 10 PETALS THEN SEW TO CENTER
SEW YELLOW BRAIDED STRIP 10 LONG TO MAKE CENTER CIRCLE
2½ 2½

a church bazaar. All the directions you need to make one are right here in the sketch

Cotton flannel or heavy cotton knitted material are good to use for the braided strips. Cut the strips two inches wide if the goods is heavy or wider if light weight. Braid tightly and then use No. 8 white cotton thread to sew, as shown. A set of these mats are pretty on the table; and mats for oval dishes may be made by sewing two daisies together.

* * *

NOTE: There are directions for a hot dish mat made of cable cord in SEWING, Book 4. Books 2 and 8 also contain directions for many gifts and novelties. These booklets are a service to our readers and each contains 32 pages of illustrated directions for things to make for the home. Send order for booklets, with 10c coin for each copy desired, direct to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....

Address .....

Our Coast Line

According to United States coast and geodetic survey figures, the continental United States, her territories, possessions and dependencies have a total general coast line of 16,900 land miles. If, however, all inland shores reached by tidal waters up to the point where such waters narrow to a width of three miles is included, the total coast line amounts to approximately 40,300 land miles.—Pathfinder.

FREE 4 cups of GARFIELD TEA

You'll like the way it snaps you back to the feeling of "rarin' to go" fitness and internal cleanliness. Not a miracle worker, but if temporary constipation is causing indigestion, headaches, listlessness, Garfield Tea will certainly "do wonders." FREE SAMPLE! 10c — 25c at drugstores

For Prompt Relief from Headaches without opiates or quinine GARFIELD HEADACHE POWDER 10c - 25c

FREE Stamped, addressed envelope brings liberal FREE SAMPLES. GARFIELD TEA CO., Inc. Dept. 2 41st at 3rd Ave. B'klyn, N. Y.

See doctor if headaches persist

Untarnished

Character must be kept bright as well as clean.—Lord Chesterfield.

WOMEN IN YOUR "40s"

Read This Important Message!

Do you dread those "trying years" (38 to 52)? Are you getting moody, cranky and NERVOUS? Do you fear hot flashes, weakening dizzy spells? Are you jealous of attentions other women get? THEN LISTEN—

These symptoms often result from female functional disorders. So start today and take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over 60 years Pinkham's Compound has helped hundreds of thousands of grateful women to go "smiling thru" difficult days. Pinkham's has helped calm unstrung nerves and lessen annoying female functional "irregularities." One of the most effective "woman's" tonics. Try it!

Leadership

One good head is better than a thousand strong hands.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1 00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

GRASSHOPPER BAIT SAVED LARGE SUM

Farmers in Lyon, Sioux and Plymouth counties who used grasshopper bait where it was needed this year saved $104,000 in crops. If all farmers had used the bait where crops were infested, an extra $100,000 could have been saved, reveals Harold Gunderson, extension entomologist at Iowa State College.

An annual grasshopper survey recently concluded showed that infestation of adult hoppers has been greatly reduced by wet weather and a resulting fungus disease. In some areas the disease killed up to 35 per cent of all adult hoppers.

The survey was conducted by Gunderson and A. Cooke Anderson, of the Bureau of Entomoloy, U S.D A. Gunderson said this is the first year since 1932 that the entire western tier of Iowa counties has not been "loaded" with grasshopper eggs.

In November a chinch bug survey will be conducted by collecting bunches of bluestem grass driving the bugs out with heat and counting them to get figures on relative degree of infestation.

Oscar Johnson Wins

Defeated Stuart By Over 1,000 Votes

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 6-7.

"Argentine Nights"

with the Ritz Brothers and the Andrew Sisters.
Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8-9. (Double Feature)

"Golden Gloves"

with Jean Cagney and Richard Denning.

ALSO

"South To Karanga"

with C. Bickford and J. Craig.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 10-11-12

"Hired Wife"

with R. Russell, B. Aherne, and V. Bruce

Around Iowa

Divorced.

Clark L. Carroll, Glenwood, and Eunice E. Carroll, Pacific Junction, were married on October 7. Just 11 days ofter the wedding, divorce proceedings were started.

-oOo-

Different.

Jake McCune, Belle Plaine, fixed up some apples this year to give to his children and grandchildren. Before the apples started to ripen, he cut the children's names out of paper and glued them to the apples. When they became ripe, the papers were washed off and the names appeared just as he wanted them.

-oOo-

Sally Rand.

Laurence Bertem, Ireton, pulled a Sally Rand stunt last week when his clothes were torn off by a cornpicker. Unlike Sally, he was badly bruised during the performance.

-oOo-

Surprised.

Marion Michelsen, Harlan, was very much surprised to see a deer leap out in front of his car. The car had a dented front fender and smashed headlight after its encounter. The deer diappeared so quickly, he doesn't how its feeling.

-oOo-

After 30 Years.

For the first time in 30 years, the four living Mayhew brothers were reunited last week near Villisca. Their ages range from 65 to 88 years.

-oOo-

Rare.

Frank Mattes, Odebolt, shot three surf ducks last week. These ducks, which are coast birds, are rarely seen in that section of the country.

-oOo-

"Whipped."

H. H. Hodapp, Sioux City, recently severely injured one of his eyes when it was struck by the end of a whip which he was "cracking."

-oOo-

"In The Ointment."

As J. W. Crain, Fayette, was driving along last week in his car the engine suddenly stopped. After looking things over, the man called to his assistance took a fl from the vent hole on top of th vaccum tank Mr. Crain then went on his way rejoicing

-oOo-

Loses Toe.

Ray Sawvell, National, accidently shot the second toe of his right foot last week climbing over a gate while hunting.

-oOo-

No Smokng.

Every six months, Sidney Mayor Vernon Johnson goes on a "no smoking" strike. Each October 16 at 9:30 p. m., for the past 25 years Johnson has put aside all tobacco until the next April 17 at 9:30 a. m The mayor explains that he does it to show which is boss, he or the tobacco habit.

-oOo-

News Goes Far.

Recently the Sidney Argus-Herald printed a feature page with history stories and news items. One copy was sent to Miss Eva Batcheldor in South America, another went to Mrs. Ross Shearer in Yokahama, Japan.

-oOo-

New Angle.

When B. C. Dalva, and Joseph Johnson, Jewell, went out to pick their corn, imagine their surprise to find that someone had beat them to it. Dalva found one pile which had been left, and he invites the culpits to "come back in the daytime to get it and we will help you carry it out of the field."

-oOo-

New Town Hall.

Corwih has recently sold their town hall which had served them for 50 years. A different building has been bought and remodeled.

-oOo-

Travels Slowly.

T A. Rubow, Eldora, received a letter last week from his sister in Berlin, Germany. The letter was mailed last January 10.

-oOo-

Cut.

Jerome James McDermott, 18-month-old son of Ambroose McDermott, Cascade, died as a result of cutting the jular vein in a fall. The child had a cup in his hand, which broke.

-oOo-

Votes.

An applicant for an absent voter's ballot in Grundy county is still very partial to his former home county. He has not spent a week in the county or in the state for 30 years, yet still votes in Iowa.

-oOo-

Fined.

Gerard Roekers, Sheldon, was recently fined on two different driving charges. The fact that he is a brother-in-law of Chief of Police Mulder, did not help in getting him out of the fines.

-oOo-

Pipe.

Harley Stockwell, Seymour, attempted to climb a fence, fell, striking his face. His pipe was jammed back into his throat, cutting a deep gash and breaking two front teeth.

We can never replace a friend. When a man is fortunate enough to have several, he finds that they are all different; no one has a double in friendship. —Schiller.

Silence is the best expression of scorn.—G. B. Shaw

LABORATORY WANTS SEED TESTS EARLY

Seed-Testing Fees Increase As Capacity of Lab Is Enlarged

The Iowa State College seed laboratory is urging farmers and seedmen to submit samples for testing early in the fall and winter Dr R. H. Porter, head of the laboratory, says this is being done to distribute the work of testing more evenly.

Last year more than 18,000 samples were handled, and the burden on the laboratory has become increasingly great, according to Dr Porter. For this reason there has been an increase in the fee for testing seed.

Fee Schedule

Also, the detailed testing of poorly cleaned samples that obviously should not be sown without cleaning is being discouraged Hence forth a proportionately larger fee will be charged for such service as well as for dockage tests.

The scheduled for seed-testing fees for residents of Iowa include the following listings:

Purity and germination of field crop seeds, including bluegrass orchard grass and reed canary grass, 30 cents. Germination of corn and small grains, 30 cents Purity and germination of legume mixtures, brome grass, redtop and wheat grasses, 50 cents. Purity and germination of grass mixtures, 75 cents. Checking for noxious weed only, 10 cents. Germination only of all seeds, 15 cents.

Credit Possible

Farm bureau offices and seedmen may establish an account by a deposit or credit arrangement but individuals will be required to pay in advance, says Dr. Porter.

The installation of three new germination cabinets with automatic control of humidity and temperature has increased the capacity of the laboratory for fermination tests.

Dr. Porter points out that even with the increase in fees the costs of testing seed samples are only partially covered.

With the approach of the winter wheat and rye-sowing season farmers have been on the lookout for European bindweed in their seed. It is especially prevalent in these two crops because they often are used as a smother crop in bindweed control. The wheat and rye seeds also should be checked for germination, reminds Dr. Porter.

Chinese as Fishermen

The Chinese use 120 different methods of fishing, the most ingenious being accomplished by the use of a boat with a white board hanging over one side and a net propped up on the other. For some unknown reason, says Collier's Weekly, the fish leap at this board, gleaming in the moonlight, and land in the boat. Powerful leapers that would clear it are stopped by the net.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m.
Monthly Birthday Social next Monday evening.

Watch Dogs.

John Peterson. of near Madrid, has a new type of "watch dog" on his turkey farm. He recently purchased a number of buffalo which he believes will scare away prowlers who have been depleting his stock.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—USED MODEL A Coach, in good running condition. Wellemeyer tfc

FOR SALE—200 BUFF ORPINGton and White Rock choice Pullets. Clarence Neuberger, Ventura. 1tp.

FOR SALE— SPOTTED BOARS and one Shorthorn Bull. A. S. Harris. N6-27pd

FOR SALE—PURE BRED HAMPshire Boars. 2 miles south, 2 miles east of Meservey. Heiko, Floyd & Vern Janssen. 5tp-20

FOR SALE—COAL BURNING Parlor Heater, circulating type. In good condition and cheap. Klemme Co-Operative Grain Co. O-16tc.

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5.00. Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

WANTS

WANTED—MAN TO SELL WELL known line of products in local terriotry Merchandise on consignment. No cash investment or signers required. Car needed S. F Baker & Co, Keokuk, Ia. 23 2-

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS -AUTO REPAIR ing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone

Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS

Garner Iowa

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10:00 a. m. English Service.
11:00 a. m. Sunday School.
8:00 p. m. Tuesday & Thursday Mixed Chorus.
Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

Gets Limit.

Clark Smith, Plainfield, recently plead guilty to the charge of "slapping, beating, and kicking his wife." He was fined $100 or 30 days in jail—he is now a boarder in the Waverly jail.

Little griefs make us tender; great ones make us hard.—Chenier

Silver Dollars.

When the silver dollar the employees of the Al papers, as part of Natio paper Week. began c many residents asked t and the newspaper offic were genuine They wer that the money was o. k.

It is a good thing to and a good thing to be but it is a bet'er thing loved by many friends. (Euripides

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insur
Is A FYR-FYTE
Sold & Serviced B
ELMER A

50%

. . . YES, 50 per cent of ALL CORN planted in Han County in 1941 will be—

De Kalb Hybrid

We still have some of this famous Seed Corn avail in 404-A, 240, 421 and 410.

Orders by telephone or mail will have prompt at tion!

A. G. Lau, Dealer

Klemme Phone 25F45 Garner Rout

Fuel bill cut 23%
WITH STORM SASH
Before they installed Storm Sash the J. Farnsworth's, Point Place, O., spent $110. for fuel. The next winter they spent $85. They saved 23% and quickly paid for the Storm Sash.
You, too, can get unusual savings, even temperatures and be free of drafts and foggy windows.
Call and let us make an estimate of the cost and give you an estimate of the amount you can save in your home. You can buy Storm Sash through F.H.A. with no down payment.
DAYTON, OHIO "Storm Sash quickly pai for itself. Now m small son plays o the floor withou danger from drafts —E. M. Beche
MANCHESTER, N.H. "W steamed window with Storm Sash They cut my fue bill from $150 t $80 a season." —W D. Caswe FLINT, MICH. "I save $40 in one winter Now we don't have to move our furni ture around to get away from drafts." —Louis W. Bonda

Northern Lumber Co.

"Northco" Products

Check Up For Cold Weather!

NOW is the time to get ready for that cold weather ahead . . . Get the items today that you will need:

- Oil Burning Heaters, all sizes
- Coal Burning Parlor Furnaces
- Furnace Pipes and Furnace Repairs
- Storm Sashes Re-glazed Here

If you want a real good used Heater or Parlor Circulating Furnace, come in today and see the good BARGAINS we are offering.

FOR YOUR HOME:
Felt Weather Stripping
Brass Weather Stripping
Storm Door Paper
Glass Cloth
Cello Glass
Thermometers

E. F. Jacobs Hardware

FOR YOUR CAR:
Winter Motor Oil
Winter Grease
Anti-Freeze
Door-Tite
Radiator Compound
Wax and Cleaner

F THE WISE

es not make new he advances
will soon find him-
. A man should dship in constant
Samuel Johnson

. DALY
NEY-AT-LAW
outh of Postoffice
40—GARNER

The best kind of friendship has a way of bridging time and space.
—(H. R. Hawesi)

Will Remember.

Bill Kelling, Waverly, isn't likely to forget the week of October 14 for awhile First his car caught fire and he burned his wrists badly putting out the blaze The next day, his young son was lost for several hours.

In 1939 some 4,200 persons were killed in farm work accidents.

RIGHT! THIS IS THE "STREAMLINED AGE"... EXCEPT WHERE YOUR SHIRTS ARE CONCERNED

● Cars, washboards, boats, waffle irons . . . most everything you buy today is streamlined. But you're not!

And we recognize that fact. So we carry shirts that fit you properly . . . TruVal. Full cut, guaranteed against shrinking below the marked size, and made with the genuine Fairflex collar . . . laundry-tested by the American Institute of Laundering, TruVal shirts are our idea of plus value. Stop in and see our new selection today.

uVal
HIRTS
.35

Gildner - Paulson
ing - Shoes
Garner, Iowa

MUST SELL OUR
CARS and TRUCKS
atter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find
r TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT
gains in late models. You take no chances when you us. Come in and look them over
arner Motor Sales
BILE
CHEVROLET

THADA'S
d Store In A Good Town
Klemme, Iowa

IALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

APER, WRAP IN roll FREE roll at 25c
BOLOGNA, HOME MADE Fertile Brand Per lb. at 17c
PEFRUIT Large, No. 26, Texas Per dozen 28c
E, Pork 2 lbs. 29c
POTATOES, Sweet 7 lbs. for 19c
cials On GoochS' Products
8
CARONI
SPAGHETTI
SOUP RINGS
ALPHABETS
SEA SHELLS
e GOOCHS Items come in Cellephane One Pound
2 bags for 29c
OUR PANCAKE DIXIANA, 3 lb. pkg. 2 pkgs. for 25c
LE BLEACH e deposit) rt at 10c
MIRACLE BLEACH (10c bottle deposit) Per gallon 34c ke Flour SWANS DOWN Per pkg. 23c
Dress Goods Special!
SS LENGTHS — NEW FALL FABRICS
3½ To 4 YARDS FOR
$1.75

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor — Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor — Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman — Eunice Larsen
Sophomore — Audrey Mau
Junior — Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior — Shirley Johnson
Dramatics — Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music — Jacqueline Kudje
Sports — Henry Kaduce
Leonard Kaduce
Grade News — Arlene Schmidt

WEEK'S MORAL

Twelve Things To Remember

1 The value of time
2 The success of preservance
3 The pleasure of working
4 The dignity of simplicity
5 The worth of character
6 The power of kindness
7 The influence of example
8 The obligation of duty.
9 The wisdom of economy
10 The virtue of patience
11 The improvement of talent
12 The joy of originating Marshall Field

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

LOUISE ALBERS Louise sings alto in the glee club and mixed chorus Louise as a rule, is a pretty quiet girl, but she does come out with the most unexpected "cracks" at the most unexpected times. Her greatest like is men and politics Her greatest dislike is commercial law (That has nothing to do with the teacher)

ADALA WILLE Adala giggles more than any girl I know. She plays cornet in the band, sings soprano in glee club and mixed chorus Her greatest like is laughing

JACQUELINE KUDJE In home economics, she usually gets the answer after three or four guesses She makes a habit of entertaining no less than four men at a time She thinks there is safety in numbers Jackie is very talented in music. She sings alto and plays the violin, piano, and cornet Jackie is a very good student I think she has a special technique with the books or teachers Jackie is a staunch Republican. Hooray!!!

EVELYN LEWIS Evelyn isn't feeling so good since that certain garage man went back to Missouri Evelyn started on the trombone but when she found out it took more than "Six Lessons from Mr Onerheim" she gave it up Right now the home economic girls are getting in on all the names of her boy friends because she is making a belt with all their names printed on it

FETTY NEUHRING Betty's almost too quiet for her own good When some of the noiser girls get started in home ec. she hasn't got a chance She hasn't gotten more than five words in all year Betty just returned from a short vacation She tried to tell us that she was sick, but we all know she was just trying to get out of school.

This winds up the Senior Class and so next week we will start in with the juniors. There probably won't be very much about each one because there is so much one knows about them that can't be printed!

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

Wednesday the sociology class was asked to write a paper on propaganda. Billy Zabilka wrote the following article:

Propaganda

In my daily report on politics in this newspaper, the gallop poll is showing an increase for Wendell L. Willkie. Roosevelt has not made jobs for the unemployed, as he had promised He asked for another term so he can give those unemployed work. I now ask you, how many years does a president need for giving jobs to the unemployed? Willkie can do it if you elect him as President of this United States. Roosevelt has this defense program going, but how? It is way back of time and not up to the schedule.

The President's son wanted to get in the army, so as to say, a Roosevelt is not afraid to go to war, but what has he done? He has made a monkey out of himself, because he became a Captain in the Air Corps, right away. Your present President has asked for another four years, which would make twelve years, while Wendell L. Willkie needs only one term.

I now close by saying, Vote for Wendell L. Willkie, as he works for the higher things in life

Mr Kingery would like to know whether Billy is a Democrat or a Republican.

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

In history class Friday morning the sophomores voted for Roosevelt and Willkie. Willkie received 20 votes and Roosevelt, 11.

In English class this week we have been rearranging the books in the library.

In algebra, we are on the chapter subtracting signed numbers.

Wednesday night, the school had its all high school Hallowe'en party and it took some time to decide who some were.

FRESMHAN CLASS NEWS

The freshman class is for WILLKIE!!! From the 26 freshmen voters, Roosevelt received 8 votes. If we had our way, Wilson would be our Governor, and Ben F Grieman our sheriff It's the opinion of many, that Verne's campaigning swayed the class.

T'was the night before Hallowe'en, and what a time. The games were fun, the costumes silly, and the refreshments delicious, even if the refreshment committee didn't use that pie recipe of harvest apples and glue, as was suggested by the freshman representative.

Noon on Wednesday found the home economics room filled with freshman girls and the aroma of scrambled eggs and bacon After finishing the study of breakfasts they decided to top it off with a breakfast.

The freshman class even has a few Wallace Berrys, in it, we found out in English, when we dramatized parts of "Treasure Island"

Barbara is fast becoming farm minded She keeps referring to cows.

Miss Ott didn't seem to appreciate the freshman girls' suggestion for her costume

Corrine, we wish you could teach Jesse not to throw things.

The freshman quite agree with the Senior Home Ec. girls that Bowles would make a good president.

DRAMATICS

Miss Michalek has announced that November 15th is the date set for the junior class play "Hooray For Youth."

The third act seems to have its likes and dislikes. It is said that two of the junior girls have definitely stated it as their dislike

SPORT NONSENSE

Allen Barz can sing the "Baptist Sunday School" about as good as he can play basketball.

Billy Grosshuesch has developed a new shot from one corner of the gymnasium. Klemme and especially other towns, better be equipped with plenty of nets. They'll need them if Bill gets going!!

Garland Brinkman also tried a new style, and it wasn't even a funny haircut Evidently he thought he could shoot better if he would cut one finger off. One night when he was chopping wood, he tried it! He didn't get it cut off, but he can't shoot at all for awhile.

MUSIC NEWS

The mixed chorus will present the musical numbers at the Reformed Church service next Sunday evening.

Sectional rehearsal will begin next week.

Music ensembles will also begin next week.

Junior Buntenbach has joined our band. He plays tenor saxophone\ We hope that some more of you will come and help us out.

The members of the saxophone quartette have been chosen. They are as follows: Patricia Kudje, 1st E-flat alto saxophone; Junior Buntenbach, 1st tenor saxophone; Edward O. Barz, 2nd E-flat alto saxophone, and Edna Spitler, baritone saxophone.

Members of the small groups are chosen on their dependability, interest and last but not least, their musicianship. Let's all try and make at least one of the groups.

SCHOOL PARTIES

The Hallowe'en party, which was held Wednesday evening in the school gymnasium was a great success. The place was swarmed with witches, ghosts, comic strip characters, and what have you? It was well attended and everyone had a grand time. taking part in all entertainment planned for them.

Every person should join in these parties whole-heartedly, and nearly everyone in the KLEMME SCHOOL seems to be willing to do, including the faculty members. To me, a successful school party seems to be a showing of school spirit and cooperation from the student body.

I hope in the future we can continue to show our school spirit in not only parties, but in other future activities of the school.

—Assistant Editor

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

During art class we finished our Hallowe'en posters. Many of them are very attractive

The geranium plant we have in our room has two dark red blossums. Patricia and Jeanne brought fresh cut flowers to decorate our room.

The Des Moines Register and Tribune sent us the word list and rules for the annual spelling bee. Each individual received a copy Friday we had a spell down using the word list. Patricia and Ruth stood up the longest.

Ewald, LaVonne and Ruth earned perfect scores in spelling this week.

GRADES 5 & 6

We finished our health unit, "Our Tools For Chewing," this week. We had the unit test on Friday. The people from Miss Potter's and Miss Michalek's rooms came in to show us their Hallowe'en masks. Miss Potter's room sang a Hallowe'en song and Harley Barz spoke a Hallowe'en piece We enjoyed having them come.

Perfect spelling scores were earned by Elizabeth, Dean, Roger B., Clarence, Phyllis, Roger R., Ruth Stokesbary, Delores, Edward, Darwin, Ruth Smith, Helen, Irene and Donna.

George Allen Anderson visited in our room on Thursday.

Roger Ridder and Irene Menage were reporters.

GRADES 3 & 4

We made eleven pumpkins into jack-o-lanterns. On Hallowe'en Day we lighted them. We bobbed for apples, roasted marshmallows, and popped corn. We wore funny clothes and masks.

We want to thank Mr. Waterman for the seven gold fish he gave us. It is interesting to watch them eat.

Third grade geography is studying about neighborhoods of long ago. We are learning about the early cave men.

Fourth grade took their number drill.

We had 100 per cent in spelling: Larry, Isabelle and Luella.

Dorance and Willis were the reporters for this week.

KINDERGARTEN GRADES 1 & 2

Last Friday we made a tour of the school building. This was to help the kindergarten boys and girls get acquainted

We brought large paper sacks to school. We made macks from them for our Hallowe'en party.

We had our party Thursday afternoon. We chose committees to help plan for it. We played games and had orange jello and cookies to eat. Ronald brought a surprise for our party. It was fancy-shaped cookies. Miriam and Lucille also brought a surprise of Hallowe'en candy.

Maxine and Neva Ann brought some pretty flowers. Many of us brought pumpkins to school, which we made into jack-o-lanterns.

About one-third ounce of potassium iodide to a hundredweight of ground limestone is all that is needed to make iodized limestone The potassium iodide in that amount would cost only 30 or 50 cents. Therefore, high prices should not be paid for limestone so treated, says Dr. K. W. Stouder, extension veterinarian at Iowa State College.

Mystified.

The discovery of a car in the midde of the Cedar river near Rochester has Cedar county officals mystified. The car had been driven across refuse from a nearby quary and then into the river. However, they are unable to determine how it was driven nearly 40 feet for the bank.

Iowa's 1940 hay crop will total 6,106,000 tons as compared with 4,814 000 tons in 1939.

Thank You!

●

I wish to take this means of expressing my sincere thanks to the voters of Hancock County for electing me to the Office of County Recorder.

●

Fern Peck Katter

Thanks

For the fine support given me in the General Election.

It shall be my endeavor to serve you economically and efficiently as your Supervisor.

Frank Schoun

From the bottom of my heart . . .

I Thank You!

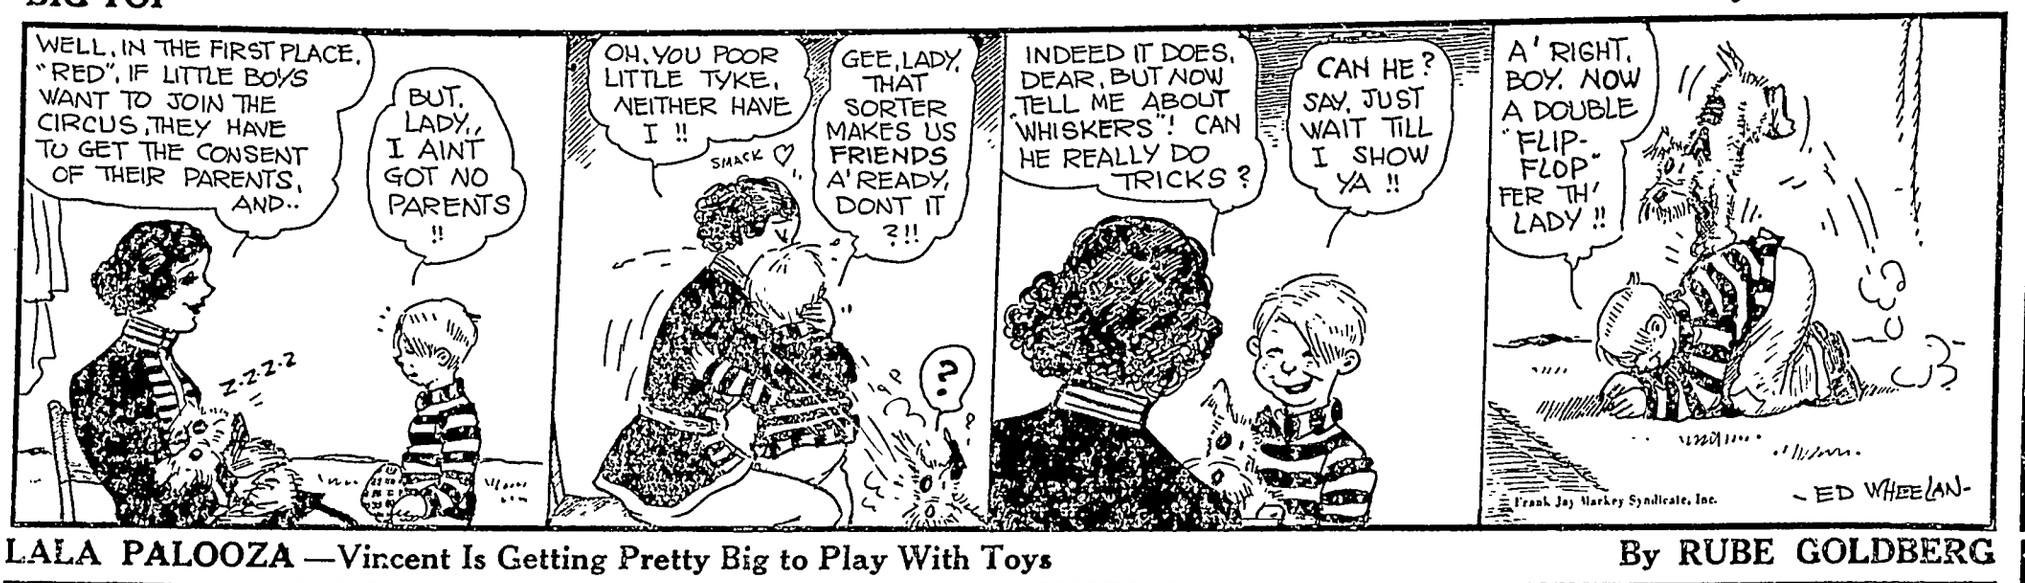
For your fine vote of confidence

Fred C. Missal

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

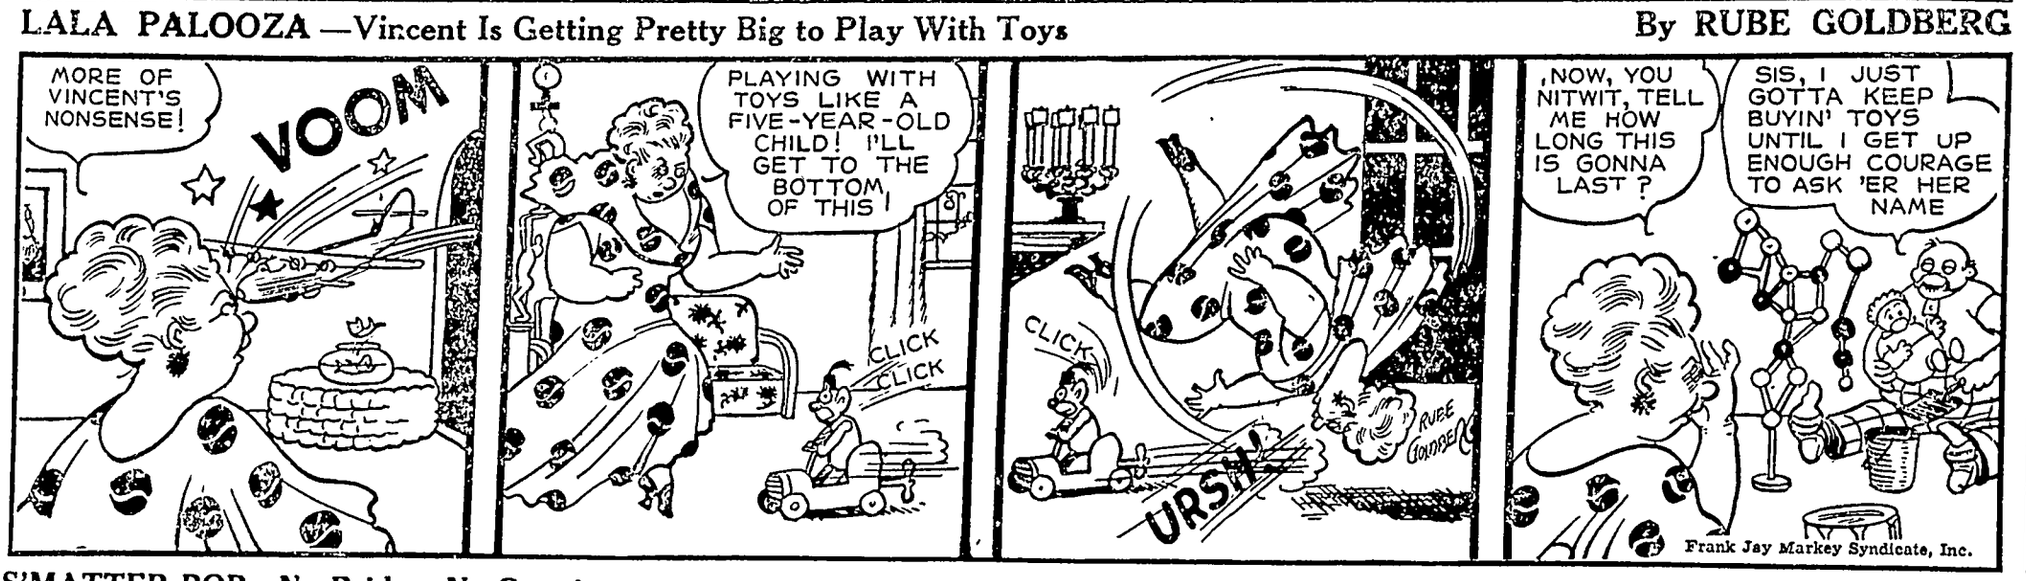
Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

BIG TOP — By ED WHEELAN



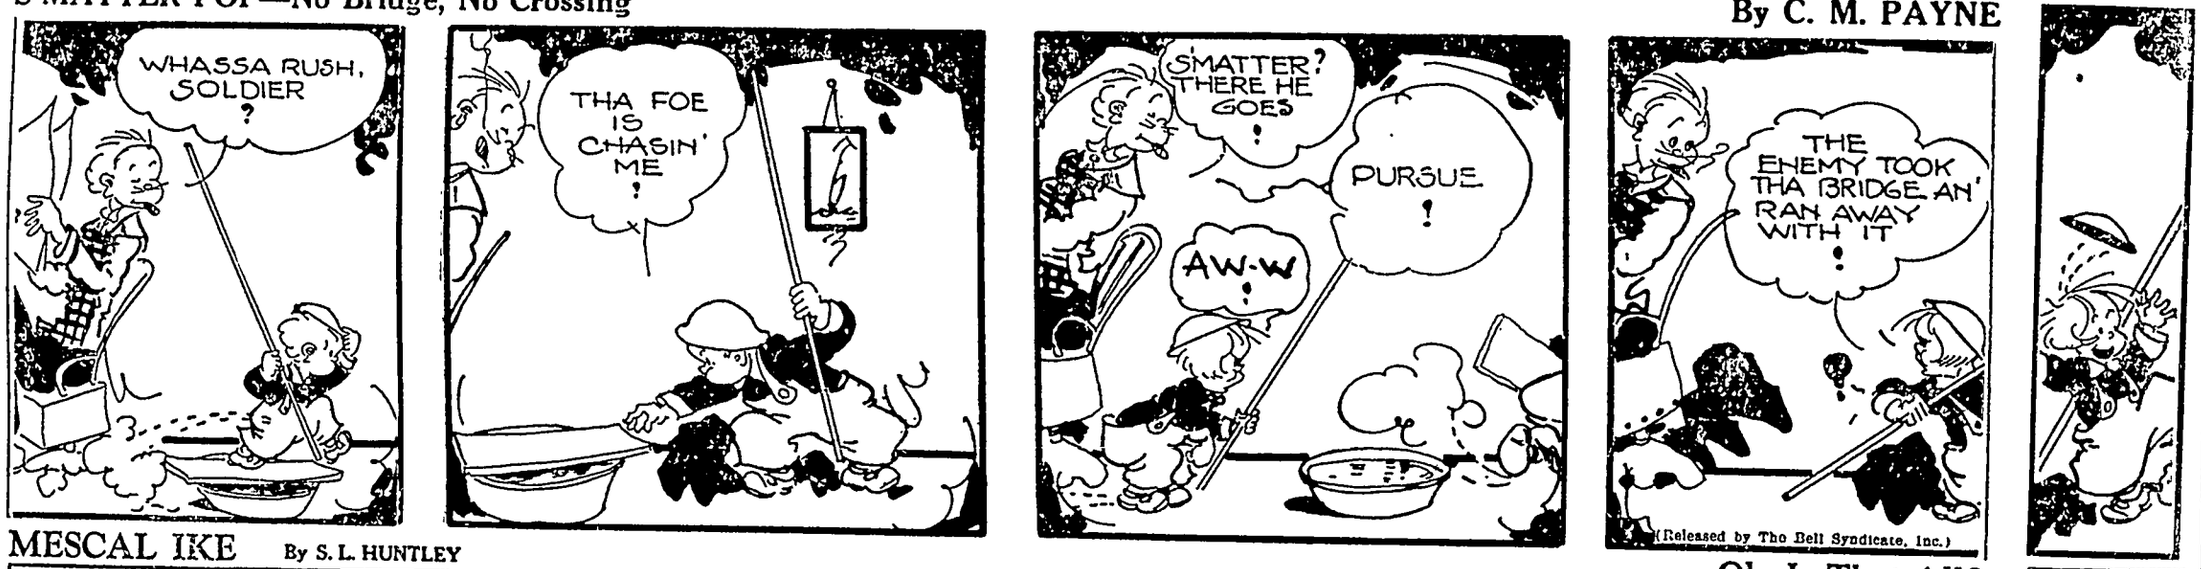
WELL, IN THE FIRST PLACE, "RED", IF LITTLE BOYS WANT TO JOIN THE CIRCUS, THEY HAVE TO GET THE CONSENT OF THEIR PARENTS, AND..
BUT, LADY, I AINT GOT NO PARENTS !!
Z-Z-Z-Z
OH, YOU POOR LITTLE TYKE, NEITHER HAVE I !!
SMACK
GEE, LADY, THAT SORTER MAKES US FRIENDS A'READY, DONT IT ?!!
?
INDEED IT DOES, DEAR, BUT NOW TELL ME ABOUT "WHISKERS"! CAN HE REALLY DO TRICKS ?
CAN HE? SAY, JUST WAIT TILL I SHOW YA !!
A' RIGHT, BOY. NOW A DOUBLE "FLIP-FLOP" FER TH' LADY !!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
-ED WHEELAN-

LALA PALOOZA —Vincent Is Getting Pretty Big to Play With Toys — By RUBE GOLDBERG



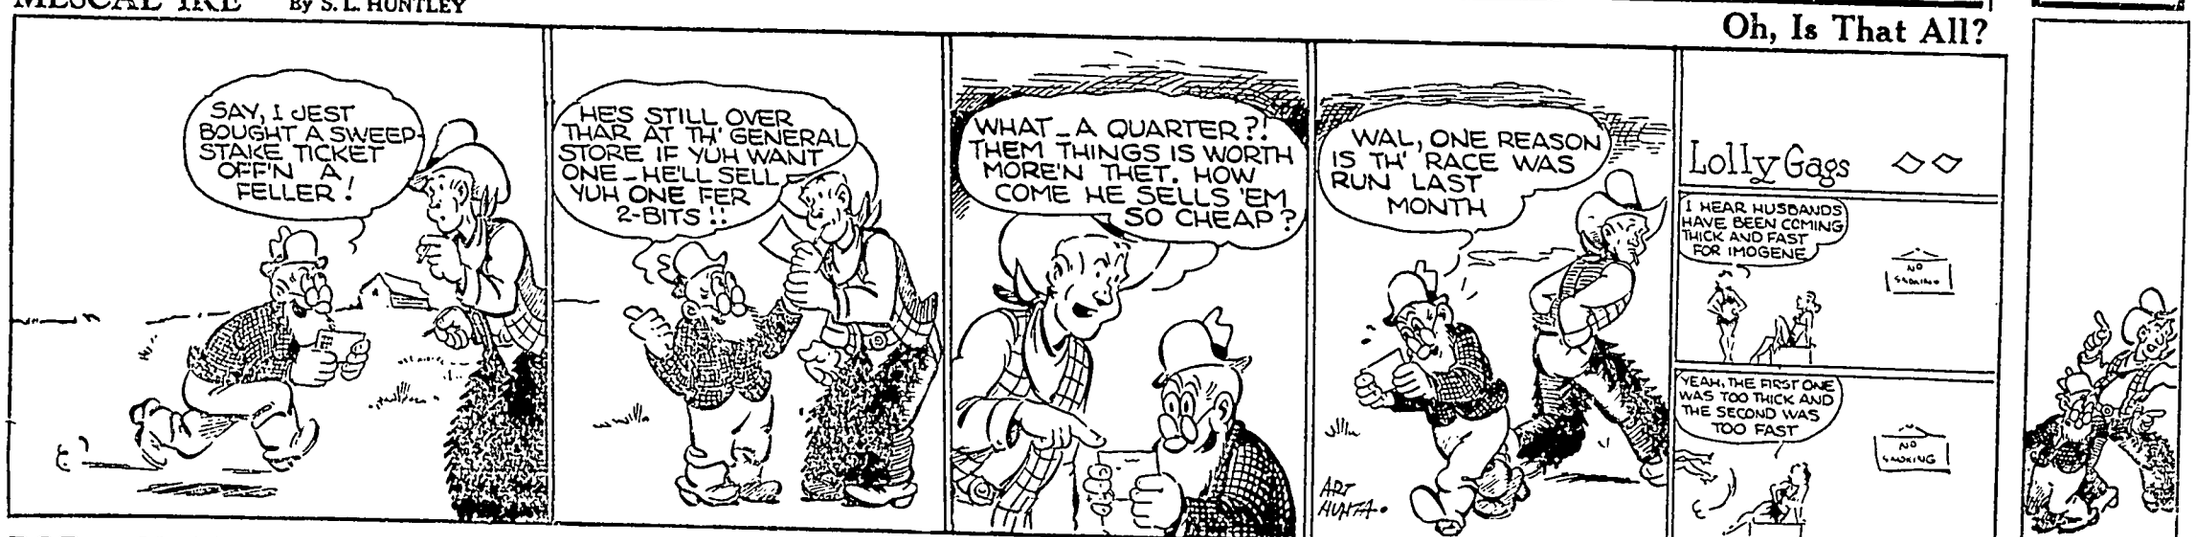
MORE OF VINCENT'S NONSENSE!
VOOM
PLAYING WITH TOYS LIKE A FIVE-YEAR-OLD CHILD! I'LL GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THIS!
CLICK CLICK
CLICK
URSH
RUBE GOLDBERG
,NOW, YOU NITWIT, TELL ME HOW LONG THIS IS GONNA LAST ?
SIS, I JUST GOTTA KEEP BUYIN' TOYS UNTIL I GET UP ENOUGH COURAGE TO ASK 'ER HER NAME
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP—No Bridge, No Crossing — By C. M. PAYNE



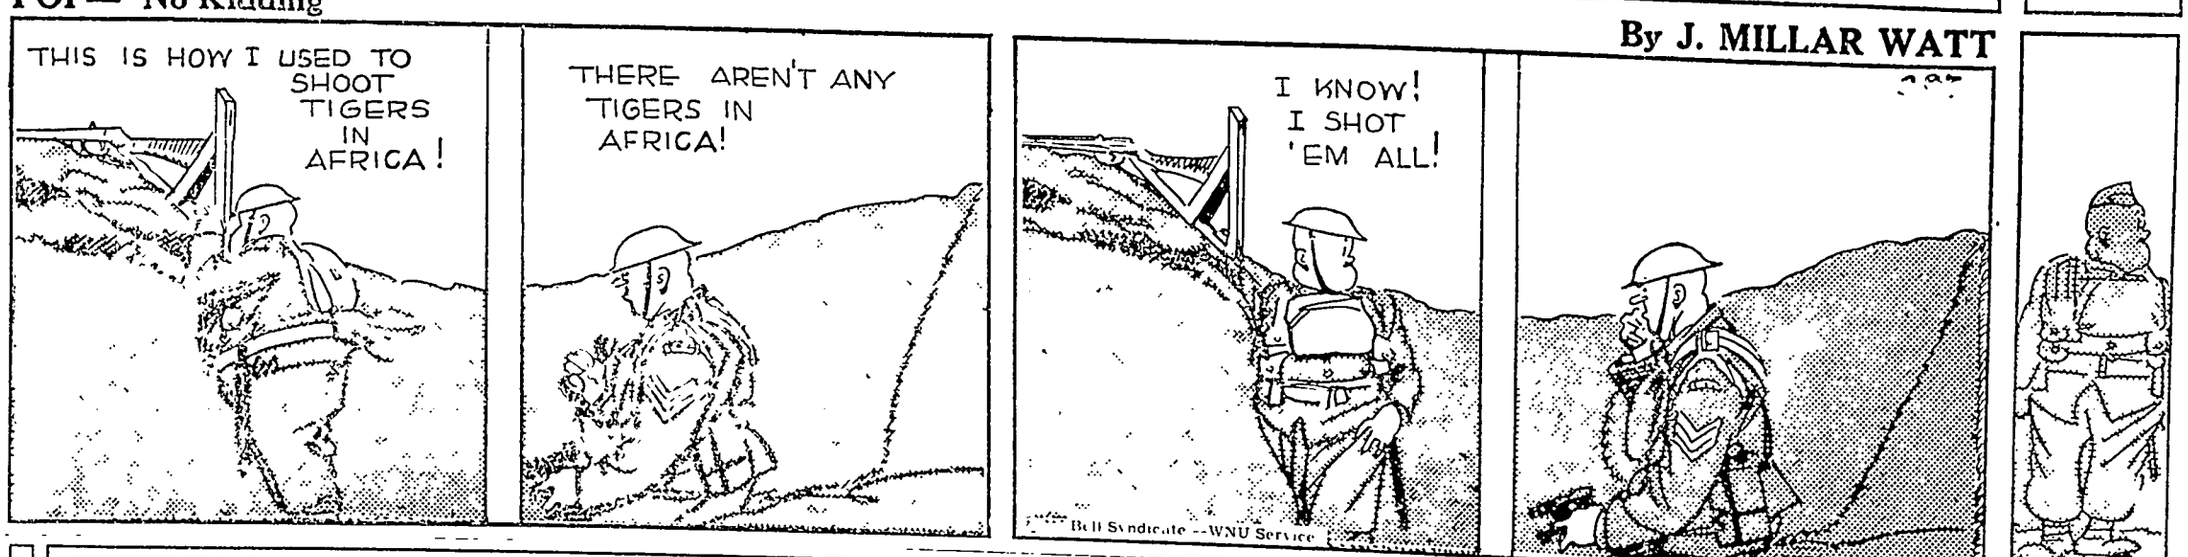
WHASSA RUSH, SOLDIER ?
THA FOE IS CHASIN' ME !
S'MATTER? THERE HE GOES !
PURSUE !
AW-W !
THE ENEMY TOOK THA BRIDGE AN' RAN AWAY WITH IT !
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY



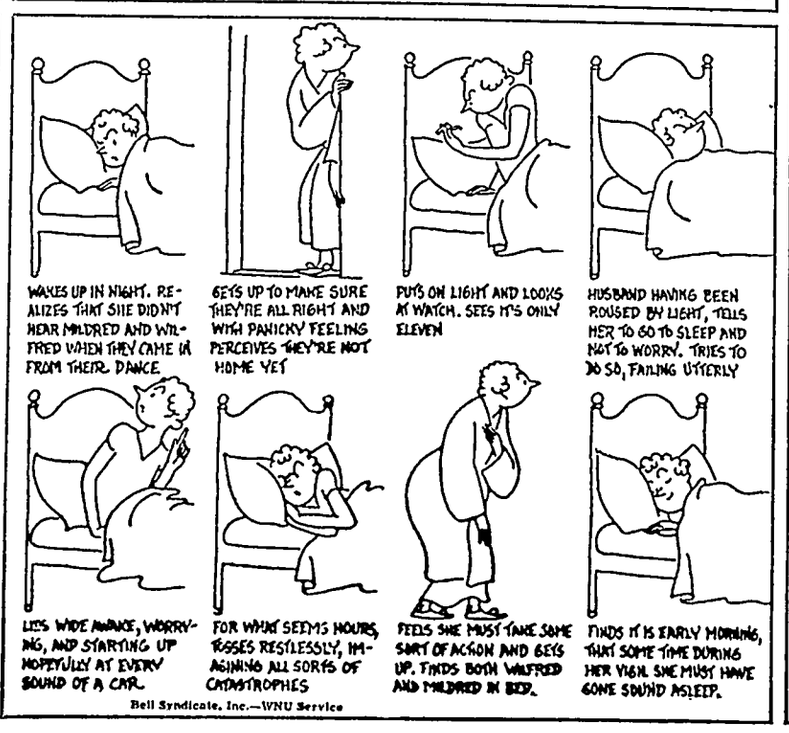
SAY, I JEST BOUGHT A SWEEP-STAKE TICKET OFF'N A FELLER!
HE'S STILL OVER THAR AT TH' GENERAL STORE IF YUH WANT ONE - HE'LL SELL YUH ONE FER 2-BITS!!
WHAT - A QUARTER?! THEM THINGS IS WORTH MORE'N THET. HOW COME HE SELLS 'EM SO CHEAP?
WAL, ONE REASON IS TH' RACE WAS RUN LAST MONTH
ART HUNTA.
Oh, Is That All?
Lolly Gags
I HEAR HUSBANDS HAVE BEEN COMING THICK AND FAST FOR IMOGENE
NO SMOKING
YEAH, THE FIRST ONE WAS TOO THICK AND THE SECOND WAS TOO FAST
NO SMOKING

POP— No Kidding — By J. MILLAR WATT



THIS IS HOW I USED TO SHOOT TIGERS IN AFRICA!
THERE AREN'T ANY TIGERS IN AFRICA!
I KNOW! I SHOT 'EM ALL!
Bell Syndicate --WNU Service

MIDNIGHT WORRIES — By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



WAKES UP IN NIGHT. REALIZES THAT SHE DIDN'T HEAR MILDRED AND WILFRED WHEN THEY CAME IN FROM THEIR DANCE.
GETS UP TO MAKE SURE THEY'RE ALL RIGHT AND WITH PANICKY FEELING PERCEIVES THEY'RE NOT HOME YET PUTS ON LIGHT AND LOOKS AT WATCH. SEES IT'S ONLY ELEVEN HUSBAND HAVING BEEN ROUSED BY LIGHT, TELLS HER TO GO TO SLEEP AND NOT TO WORRY. TRIES TO DO SO, FAILING UTTERLY LIES WIDE AWAKE, WORRYING, AND STARTING UP HOPEFULLY AT EVERY SOUND OF A CAR.
FOR WHAT SEEMS HOURS, TOSSES RESTLESSLY, IMAGINING ALL SORTS OF CATASTROPHES FEELS SHE MUST TAKE SOME SORT OF ACTION AND GETS UP. FINDS BOTH WILFRED AND MILDRED IN BED.
FINDS IT IS EARLY MORNING, THAT SOME TIME DURING HER VIGIL SHE MUST HAVE GONE SOUND ASLEEP.
Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service

SPENDTHRIFT

Little Sandy arrived home from school completely out of breath. His father asked him what was the matter.

"I ran all the way home behind a streetcar and saved a nickel," Sandy replied proudly.

"Not bad, my boy—not bad!" said his father. "But why didn't you run home behind a taxi and save a quarter?"

First Course

Proprietor—Didn't the waiter give you a menu, sir?

Neglected Patron—Certainly; but I ate that an hour ago.

Must Have Been Ill

"Where have you been for the last four or five years?"

"At the 'varsity, taking medicine."

"And are you quite better now?"

Nothing Lasts Forever

"Does your wife tell you everything?" "She probably will if we live long enough!"

THE SPORTING THING — By LANG ARMSTRONG

"George just couldn't wait to try out his new waders."

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS
For Your FURNACE
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any
Have Your Dealer Order from
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR Co.

REMEDY
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS
Your grandparents USED IT

SALESMEN WANTED
SALESMEN WANTED in Iowa to cost monthly payment Accident and insurance Liberal comm. public Ins. Co., Walnut Bldg., Des

True Taste
True taste is forever gro learning, reading, worshiping ing its hand upon its mouth cause it is astonished, casti shoes from its feet because it all ground holy.—Ruskin.

ONLY 1c
A TABLET T
EASE PAIN O
NEURITIS FAST
With Genuine Bayer Aspi

Get this Famous Quick Re today without thought of pri

We feature the fact that Bayer A pirin costs only 1c a tablet, to dr home the point that there's reason even for the most budge minded person to accept anyth less than genuine fast-acting Bay Aspirin.

For at the most, it costs but few pennies to get hours of re from the pains of neuritis, rheum tism or headache . . . and get it wi all the speedy action for wh
Bayer Aspirin is world-famous.

Try this way once and you know almost instantly why peo everywhere praise it. It has rapid replaced expensive "pain remedies in thousands of cases. Always a for genuine "Bayer Aspirin" by its full name when you buy . . . never ask for "aspirin" alone.

BAYER

Demand BAYER ASPIRIN

Secure Knowledge
There is no wealth like knowledge, for thieves can steal it.

The Pleasant Way to Correct Constipation

Why let yourself in for all the discomfort of constipation—and then have to take an emergency medicine—if you can avoid both by getting at the cause of the trouble?

If your difficulty, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, the "better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy toasted cereal—a natural food, not a medicine—has just the "bulk" you need. If you eat it every day, it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular, month after month, by the pleasantest means you ever knew!

Eat All-Bran often, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Good Principle
My principle is to do whatev is right, and leave consequence to him who has the disposal them.—Thomas Jefferson.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use 666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH DROPS

MORE FOR YOUR M

● Read the advertisements. They are more than a selling aid for business. They form an educational system which is making Americans the best-educated buyers in the world. The advertisements are part of an economic system which is giving Americans more for their money every day.

Household News By Eleanor Howe

THE COVERED DISH CHURCH SUPPER
(See Recipes Below)

sit here thinking about church s, my mind wanders back l years to the suppers I at- in my old home town. There lways a feeling of congeniali- hospitality and fellowship. The church supper was some- hat couldn't be, and wouldn't ssed.

y times it was a covered dish . There was usually a great y of food. The menu was di- up into the main dish, the sal- e bread and butter, and the t. Each lady of the church ade responsible for one item menu; and she, no doubt, pre- her own favorite recipe.

you pass a table containing a ng assortment of foods with- anting at a taste of hing? Can cide wheth- not you he cocoanut pie which aped with whipped m, or the oking chocolate cake with the fudge icing, when you know ou are entitled to only one des- Of course not! Instead of hav- ch a wide selection of food for ered dish supper, why not plan l-balanced menu so that every- ets exactly the same?

Hot Water Cheese Pastry.
(Makes 30 tarts)

cups shortening
up boiling water
ps general purpose flour aspoons salt
aspoon baking powder
ps American cheese (grated)
ce shortening in warm bowl, boiling water over it and cream oughly with a fork. Place flour, and baking powder in flour and sift gradually into the ed mixture. Add cheese. Mix oughly. Make up into dough then chill in refrigerator. When to bake remove from refrig- r, divide dough and roll out. into rounds and bake.

Tuna Cracker Pie.
(Serves 4 to 5)

blespoon onion (chopped) blespoons green pepper opped) blespoon butter
blespoons flour
n condensed chicken soup blespoons milk
n condensed cream of mush- om soup n (7-ounce) tuna fish kers for bottom and top of pie ok the onion and green pepper utter until soft, but not brown.

Then add flour and mix well. Add the chicken soup and cook until thickened. Stir in the milk. Add this to the cream of mushroom soup. Put the tuna fish in a iner and pour a cup of hot water it to take off the excess oil. n add flaked tuna fish; heat to d flavors. Cover the bottom of ll casserole with crackers nd) and put tuna mixture into casserole.

or top. 12 crackers
½ cup hot milk

ak the crackers in the milk un- oft. Then arrange crackers on of pie and bake in a moderately oven (375 degrees) for 20 to 25 utes.

Chocolate Fudge Cake.
(Serves 25)

1 cup shortening
3 cups light brown sugar
3 eggs (slightly beaten)
3½ cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ teaspoons soda
¾ cup sour milk
⅔ cup cocoa
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon vanilla

eam shortening and add sugar dually, blending well after each ition. Add slightly beaten eggs mix well. Sift together the flour, ing powder, salt, and soda. Add he creamed mixture alternately the milk. Blend cocoa and boil- water. Add to the cake batter the vanilla, and mix just until batter is smooth. Pour into 3 8-inch square pans, which have been greased and lined with wax paper. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 30 minutes.

Macaroni and Cheese.
(Serves 90-100)

8 pounds macaroni
4 pounds cheese (grated)
2½ gallons white sauce (medium)
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2½ cups butter
3 quarts soft bread crumbs

1. Cook the macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain and rinse in cold water.

2. Grate the cheese, and add to white sauce, with the prepared mustard.

3. Combine the macaroni and the cheese sauce. Place in greased baking pans

4. Melt the butter and mix lightly with the crumbs. Sprinkle over the macaroni and cheese.

5. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for about 30 minutes.

Clam Chowder.
(Serves 50)

1¼ quarts carrot (chopped)
1¼ cups onion (chopped)
3 quarts potato (chopped)
7½ cups celery (chopped fine)
5 quarts clams
5 quarts water and clam liquor
Salt and pepper to taste
5 quarts milk
1⅞ cups flour
1⅞ cups butter
1 cup parsley
2 tablespoons paprika

1. Chop the vegetables in small pieces and place in large kettle.

2. Chop the clams and add together with the clam liquor, water, salt and pepper. Cover and cook about ½ hour, or until vegetables are tender.

3. Scald milk.

4. Make a smooth paste of the flour and water. Add half of this flour paste to the clam mixture and half to the scalded milk.

5. Cook each, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens.

6. Combine and add butter, parsley, and paprika. Serve very hot.

Chocolate Nut Drop Cookies.
(Makes 4 dozen)

¼ cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup cocoa
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup nut meats (broken)

Cream butter and add sugar slowly while beating constantly. Beat egg and add. Mix and sift all dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk. Blend thoroughly. Then add vanilla and nut meats. Drop by spoonfuls on well-greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 12 minutes.

Baked Sweet Potatoes.
(Serves about 25)

20 medium sized sweet potatoes
2 teaspoons salt
3 cups cream or rich milk
2½ cups brown sugar
¾ pound marshmallows

Peel potatoes and boil in salted water until tender but not soft.

Slice potatoes in half and place in a glass baking dish Add cream and sprinkle with brown sugar Bake approximately 10 minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees) or until sugar has melted and caramelized with the cream. Then arrange marshmallows on top. Return baking dish to oven and brown marshmellows.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Miss Eleanor Howe's book of "Household Hints" is just what the title implies. It is a book written to help you homemakers in doing the ordinary things about the home in less time, and to add a bit of interest to those menial tasks.

Before your fall housecleaning and refurnishing campaign gets under way, send for a copy of this clever, helpful book.

You may secure your copy by writing to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, enclosing 10 cents, in com.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST D D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 10

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission

THE GOLDEN RULE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 6 27-38.
GOLDEN TEXT—As ye would that men should do unto you, do ye also to them likewise —Luke 6 31

Hiding in a dark cellar will not stop the sun from shining; it will only deprive us of its warmth and life-giving power. Likewise the failure of mankind to receive and practice the great principles of Christian faith does not alter nor weaken them, even though it does deprive humanity of their blessing.

It may seem foolish to some to observe an Armistice Sunday in the midst of a world at war, to talk about the golden rule in a selfish world where men hate one another, but the fact is that now is the time to really proclaim the solution of God for man's problems Then too, let us remember that the failure of mankind as a whole to receive the truth of God does not hinder us from receiving it as individuals. Our relationship to God is an individual matter, even though we also belong to a race or nation. Our lesson presents

I. A Great Christian Principle (vv. 27-31).

The magnificent breadth of this principle of Christian consideration has often been lost sight of in argument over the detailed interpretation of verses 29 and 30. Surely there is not in mind here any casting to the winds of an intelligent appraisal of the needs of those to whom we give; nor is there any thought of a self-glorifying turning of another cheek in physical combat. It does not teach that our nation may not defend itself against those who attack us. At the same time we must note that it means much more than most of us are willing to read into its words.

What does it mean? It means that in the spirit of Christian love we will give of ourselves and our substance in "large handed but thoughtful charity." It means love for our enemies—no small withholding even from unreasonable people. It means doing unto others what we would have them do unto us. It "requires that we should sell to others as we desire that others sell to us . . . that we buy of others as we desire others to buy of us . . that we talk about others behind their backs as we desire that others should talk about us . . Are we doing it?" (Dr. John W. Bradbury).

The Golden Rule is not the Gospel. No one is saved by living according to it; in fact, that is quite impossible apart from faith in Christ.

II. Its Divine Foundation (vv. 32-35).

The so-called golden rules of men lack the divine element of grace and are all in the negative. Confucius said, "Do not do to others what you would not want them to do to you." Others spoke similarly, but Jesus, building on the divine love which does good to even the evil and the unthankful (v. 35), gives a positive admonition of gracious consideration of others.

We are the children of the Most High God (v. 35) and are to live in accordance with His standards and, what is of equal importance, by His grace and strength. Even Christians are prone to live as their neighbors live (vv. 32-34) until they see how much better God's way is, and realize that He gives enabling grace for a daily walk in that better way.

III. Its Practice and Reward (vv. 36-38).

Jesus has already admonished His followers to love and serve both friend and foe. The manner in which that is to be put into practice is further developed by urging them to be merciful, not setting themselves up to judge the conduct of others, but rather giving liberally to them in a spirit of love. This does not forbid judging on the part of those whose official duty it is to judge, nor does it set aside the exercise of sound judgment (Isa. 56:1 and I John 4 1), but it does forbid unauthorized and unkind judgment.

"But will all this pay?" asks Dr. Bradbury (in "The Gist of the Lesson") and answers· "Indeed it will

The measure that we use in measuring out to others is the very measure God will use in measuring in to us. The reason many of us get so small a blessing from God is that we use such a small measure in our beneficences and blessings to others" (see Phil. 4·19, noting vv. 15-19, II Cor 9·8, noting vv 6, 7; and I John 3.22, noting vv. 16-21) "One of the most fundamental conditions of prevailing prayer is generosity in giving A stingy man cannot be a mighty man of prayer (Prov 21. 13)" Read these verses with care, and they will bring a real blessing to your life

Giving and Receiving

Give, and it shall be given unto you good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.—Luke 6:38.

PATTERN SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT

YOUNG as a giggle, gay as a football tea when the home team wins, this shorty coat and full skirt form a very important chapter in the school life of every junior who knows her fashions—and her public. And every junior who knows how to thread a needle can have two or three versions, inexpensively and easily, by making this new design (No 8772) for herself.

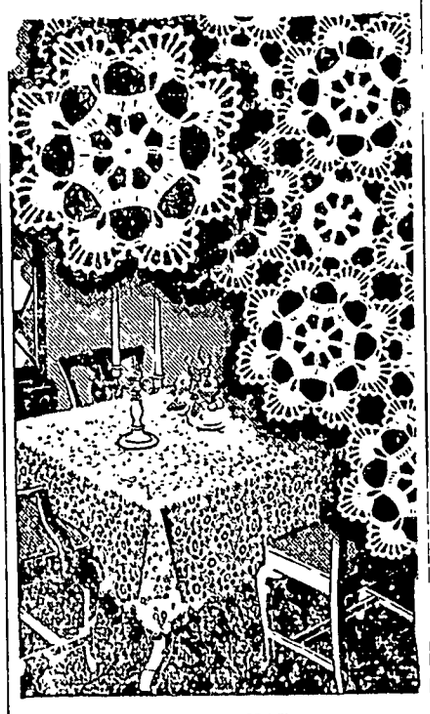
And she couldn't choose a smarter style! The casual coat has an inverted pleat in the back, and is trimmed with saddle-stitching. The collar turns back in becoming, pointed revers Gathered onto a wide belt, the skirt is delightfully full. Corduroy, flannel, wool crepe and thin tweed are smart for this

* * *

Pattern No 8772 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19 Size 13 requires 1½ yards of 54 inch material without nap for short sleeved jacket, 1⅝ yards for long sleeved, 2⅝ yards for bias skirt, 1¾ yards for straight Send order to

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Crochet Table Cloth Of Peacock Plumes



Pattern 6757.

BEGINNERS, make an impression with your handiwork! This medallion, Peacock Plumes, so easy to crochet, will make you as proud as the peacocks who inspired it.

* * *

Pattern 6757 contains instructions for making medallions, illustration of them and stitches; photograph of medallions; materials needed. Send order to·

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York
Enclose 15 cents in coins for Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

Ask Me Another
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. What does Old Bailey mean to a Londoner?
2. What is the island where Columbus first landed now called?
3. What is a petard?
4. Does any law prohibit the total destruction of U. S. coins?
5. In ancient times what people worshiped Apis, the sacred bull?
6. How many different peoples claimed the discovery of America prior to the voyage of Columbus?
7. What insect is sometimes called the mud dauber?
8. What bird has been chosen as the "official bird" of seven states?

The Answers

1. The chief criminal court of England.
2. Watling island.
3. A firecracker.
4. No. There is a federal statute against cleaning and polishing coins because of the resultant abrasion.
5. The Egyptians.
6. Ten—The Arabians, Basques, Chinese, Danes, Dutch, Icelanders, Irish, Portuguese, Venetians, and the Welsh.
7. Wasps.
8. The meadow lark.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with herb laxative, combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gullet Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Cipher-Key

How much lies in laughter; the cipher-key, wherewith we decipher the whole man.—Carlyle.

FOR MINOR BURNS MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

Frank Mirror

Your looking glass will tell you what none of your friends will.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Cunning Fool

A cunning woman is a knavish fool.

Top the Market
Green Top Mineralized Tankage
and farm grains make market topping hogs.
Get a supply from your local feed dealer

Fair Gifts

Riches, understanding, beauty, are fair gifts of God.—Luther.

This exquisite Spray Pin accents your charm and loveliness at a saving unmatched elsewhere

For only 35 cents and two labels from delicious Van Camp's Products you can own this beautiful 24-carat gold-finish Spray Pin, set with three brilliant-cut red stones; contrasting leaves finished in green gold. Just tear out and mail this order blank, today, with 35 cents and two labels from Van Camp's Products.

Van Camp's Pork Beans

Van Camp's PORK and BEANS

TEAR OUT AND MAIL THIS ORDER BLANK TODAY

Van Camp's Inc.
Dept.W, Box No. 144, New York, N. Y.
I am enclosing 35 cents and two labels from delicious Van Camp's Products. Please send me the exquisite Spray Pin as illustrated.
NAME
ADDRESS
CITY STATE

35¢ AND TWO VAN CAMP'S LABELS

Certain Wealth

Not to be avaricious is money; not to be fond of buying is a revenue; but to be content with our own is the greatest and most certain wealth of all.—Cicero.

"WE'RE OUT OF THE WOODS ON TASTY, EASY-ROLLED 'MAKIN'S' SMOKES!"
Russ Hughes and Ray Yaekel give Prince Albert a double-barreled cheer
EVEN FALL BREEZES DON'T SCATTER PRINCE ALBERT. THAT CRIMP CUT LAYS RIGHT AND ROLLS UP SMOOTH AS A GUN-BARREL
P.A. NEVER SMOKES HOT OR SCRATCHY. IT'S COOLER, MILDER, RICHER, AND TASTIER IN EVERY PUFF —MELLOW!
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
Rollin' along with P.A.! The hunters bold pause for a happy spell with the prince of rolling tobaccos—Prince Albert. Says "Russ" Hughes (left) to "Ray" Yaekel (right): "P.A.'s a sure shot for trim, firm smokes that smoke smooth, even, and stay lit!" "P.A. saves a man money, besides," "Ray" comes back. (Ditto for pipe-smokers, too!)
70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy tin of Prince Albert
In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned
86 DEGREES COOLER
than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested —coolest of all!
PRINCE ALBERT
THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE
Copyright, 1940, R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

How the Sultan's last love gift cost his showgirl sweetheart her life. Lovely Lydia Hill, who nearly climbed the throne of Johore, didn't need the wealth its ruler showered on her but when he sent her to buy a coat to keep her warm in England's air raid shelters, a Nazi bomb ended her royal romance differently than 300,000 subjects had prophesied. In The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald-American.

Swamp Fire.

Last week, 100 acres of swamp land, north of Graettinger, were destroyed by fire. It is believed that the fire was sarted by a discarded cigarette.

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Bob Risser, of Des Moines, spent Wednesady evening visiting at the P. M. Wilson home.

"Bill" Bowles, of Indianola, visited with his brother, "Bodge," for a few hours Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Koerner are enjoying a new Ford sedan which they purchased last week.

Oscar Carlson, of Clear Lake, visited with old Klemme friends last Thursday.

Thursday, Mrs. John Bock, Mrs. Rosendahl and Mrs. Lena Schroeder spent the day at Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clements spent Sunday at Estherville with his mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Eckard Zeidler are enjoying their new home, as they moved into it this past week.

S. S. Grange returned to Ruthven the past week, so as to be back for voting.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schneider have received a letter from their son, Bob, who is now located at White Hall, Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Christiance, of Thornton, were supper guests Sunday evening with Don Christiance and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nagel, and Henry Jost drove to Doughtery, Sunday, and visited at the C. A. Bielefeld home.

Miss Vella Paul, of Des Moines, spent Sunday in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mitchell and Otho and Verl Keraus, of Swea City, spent Sunday in Klemme visiting with relatives and friends.

Grandma Suckow enjoyed visiting with Grandma Gobeli near Meservey last week from Tuesday until Friday evening.

The Ed Buntenbach family are enjoying the use of a new Buick sedan which they purchased last week.

Mrs. Gerald Koerner is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. George Rule, of Dow City, Iowa, who came last week.

John Jorgenson, of Guthrie Center, Iowa, visited for a coupe of hours last Saturday afternoon with his uncle, Jens Jorgenson at the R. A. Jorgenson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schlawin, Grandma Schlawin and Mrs. Gretchen Schlawin went to Lohrville, Thursday and spent the day with the Herbert Cole family.

George Lau enjoyed a visit last Wednesday from his old World War buddy, Walter Gauger of Charles City, who enjoyed dinner with George.

Miss Novella Bredbenner and her friend, Miss Marie Ann Huebsch, of Allison, spent the week end visiting at the Martha Bredbenner home.

Mrs. Mary Mutch, who had spent the past week in Klemme, visiting at the Dr. Dulmes home, returned to Grundy Center Sunday afternoon with her daughter, Miss Ada Mutch.

Mr. and Mrs. Ten Haken and daughter, Margaret, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, came Friday and visited until Saturday at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home. Mrs. Ten Haken is a sister of Dr. Dulmes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Pavey drove to Waseca, Minnesota, Sunday, and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wm Franks. Then later went to Albert Lea and visited with Mrs. T. W. Pavey and son, Herschel Brock.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wildman, of Eldora, came Saturday evening and spent Sunday visiting at the R. R. Reece home. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Wildman, of Nevada, came for the day.

Mrs. W. L. Thada entertained several friends at a Turkey dinner Sunday evening at the Garner Cafe. Afterwards, they returned to the Thada home where various games were played during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje entertained to a six o'clock dinner Saturday evening, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son, Dick, of Klemme, and Mrs. Mary Mutch and daughter, Ada, of Grundy Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul moved their household goods into the Mrs. Frank Gruetzmacher apartment on Main Street last Thursday. On Saturday they held a sale to sell surplus goods. A good crowd was present at the sale.

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Schaeffer accompanied by "Bodge" Bowles, Asa Arnold, and Miss Marian Irvine, took in the Iowa-Purdue football game at Iowa City, Saturday. They returned to Klemme Sunday evening. Dr. Byrnes Missman, of Garner, also took in the game.

PAYS TO HOLD TURKEYS UNTIL WELL FINISHED

Only well-finished birds will bring turkey raisers profit over a long time period, says Ralph Baker, poultry marketing specialist at Iowa State College.

"Well-finished, tender young birds make the consumer come back for more," declares Baker. "Birds in poorer condition are not so much in demand and so the producer must take a lower price for them."

Finish on young turkeys is shown by a good covering of fat on the back and over the breast and lack of short pin feathers. The young hens usually finished ahead of the toms and in most cases should be sold sooner.

"Some buyers insist on buying the entire group at once and will not take the toms if they do not get the hens," Baker points out.

This means that the hens are being sold after having passed the point where they make the most efficient use of their feed or that the toms are sold before they are properly finished, thus putting on the market birds which might be a better product 2 or 3 weeks later.

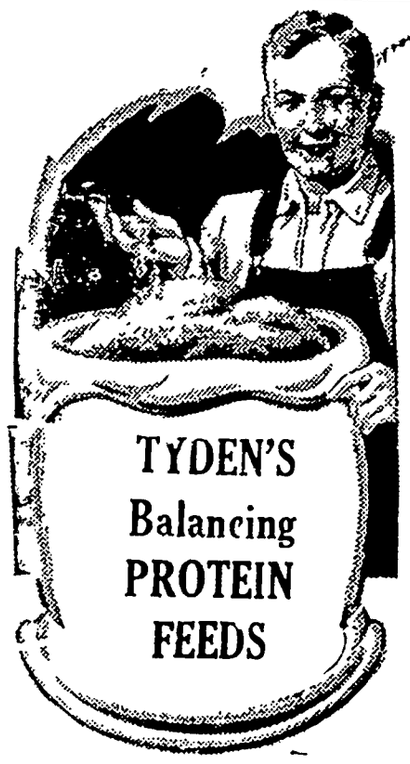
Good management is the best way to treat hog flu. Rest, dry beds, comfortable quarters and plenty of water all help. Soft, easily digested food is recommended, but hogs should not be overfed when suffering from flu.

The 1940 pig crop in Canada is he largest on record.

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL
Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:
Church School .... 10:00 a. m.
Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor .. 7:00 p. m.
Forum Clinic ..... 8:00 p. m.
Recreation ..... 9:00 p. m.
Wednesday:
Bible Study ..... 8:00 p. m.
Thursday;
Choir Practice ..... 8:00 p. m.

Photographs LIVE FOREVER
RUSSELL PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON C



Vital Aid To Livestock

Gives Your Money's Worth from Corn and Grains you feed

TYDEN'S Balancing PROTEIN FEEDS

Give your cattle, hogs, lambs and poultry the tremendous benefits of feeding a complete balanced ration by balancing your grains with TYDEN'S BALANCED PROTEIN. It can be a vital aid in helping you get your money's worth of feeding value from the grains you feed in speednig up gains economically.

Visit our plant to see our methods of making and feeding TYDEN'S PROTEINS.

Klemme Food Market

C. A. LARSEN, Local Dealer KLEMME, IOWA

K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8-9

P AND G WHITE NAPHTHA SOAP 7 bars 25c

CORN FLAKES Mil'er's, pkg. 09c
TOILET PAPER 5 rolls for 26c

RAISINS SUNMAID, Puffed Seeded, 2 boxes 21c

ONIONS 10 lb. bag at 15c
COOKIES, Plain 2 pounds for 19c

RINSO 2 boxes 38c

COCKTAIL Fruit, Qt. at 24c
SUGAR, Powdered 3 lbs at 19c

TOILET SOAP TRILBY 4 bars 23c

MEAT DEPARTMENT

Pork Sausage Fresh, Armour's Star Country Style, per lb. 22c

PORK SAUSAGE, Smoked Armour's Star, Country Style, lb ... 22c
PORK SAUSAGE, Fresh Armour's Star, LINKS, per lb. 22c

By Request, We Are Repeating the Following
Picnic Ham Shankless & Tenderized per lb. 14c

Klemme Food Market

... STORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

DANCE Sat. Night Nov. 9

Klemme Legion Community Hall

Vance Dixon's 10 Piece Orchestra

Adm. 44c - 33c Tax Included

WARNING!

Cold Weather Ahead!
WINTERIZE NOW!

Don't take chances where there is so much danger and money involved. Come in today for a complete check-up and make sure of a worry-free Winter of driving. The cost of a complete WINTERIZING job is surprisingly low and the job we do is guaranteed right.

The lubrication, battery, radiator, heater, and hose connections, brakes, motor, spark plugs and starter all need attention to make sure of SAFE DRIVING this Fall and Winter. We'll CHECK your CAR from A to Z.

WINTER ACCESSORIES FOR YOUR CAR . . .

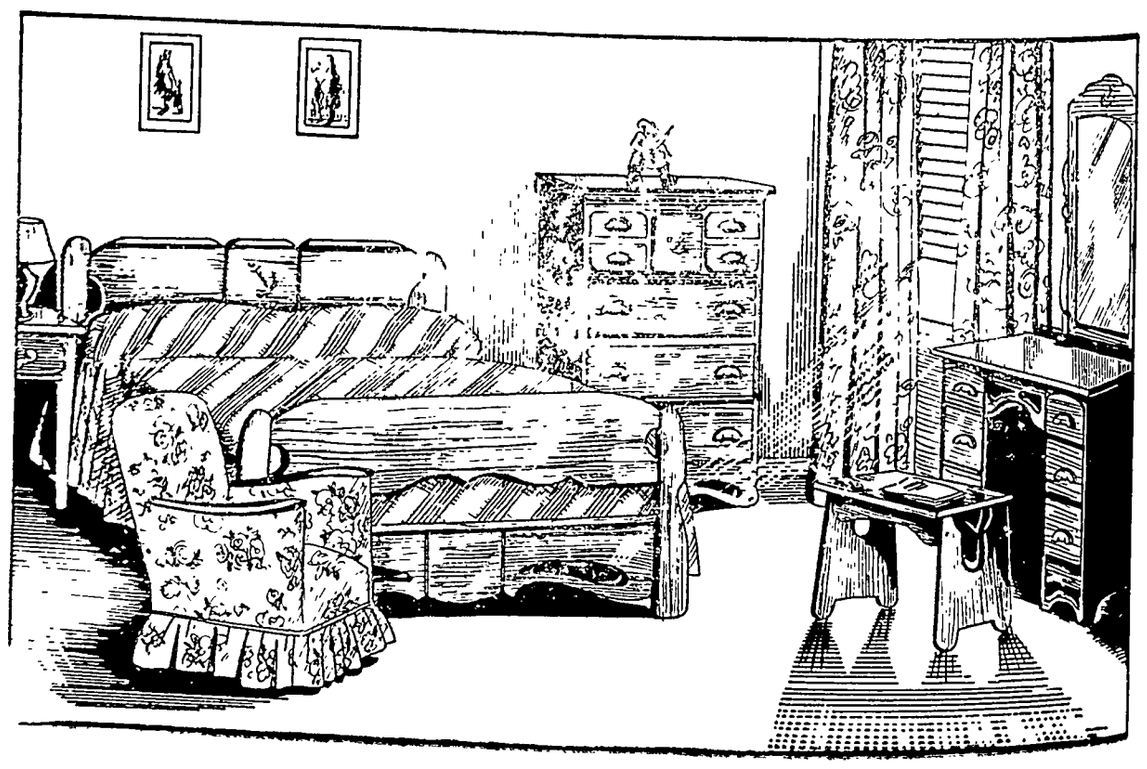
Remember . . . we carry a complete line of Winter Accessories for all cars . . . Heaters, Defrosters, Radiator Covers, Frost Shields, Willard Batteries.

Need New Tires? Now Is The Time To Buy. Get Your Snow and Mud Tires Here At A Saving!

- PHONE 93 -

Klemme Auto Company

Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service Klemme, Iowa



The Above Four-Piece Suite Sells For $69.00

We have 23 different Bed Room Suites on our floor ranging in price per suite from---

$39.00 to $165.00

WELLEMEYER

Best Known; Most Widely Advertised Furniture Store in Hancock County

Klemme - Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

LUME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 13, 1940. — NUMBER 24.

sketball Jamboree Will See Eight Teams In Action Wed.

D ANNUAL BASKETBALL N NIGHT FOR NOV. 20 HERE

cal Faculty Will Play The ference Faculty All-Stars lid will pop off the current ball season in a big way Wednesday evening, Novem- when Klemme entertains ond annual Seven Eagles ence Jamboree. The north the county will again op- he south, but this year will be just three games in- of the round robin style of last year.

en will oppose Goodell in t game of the evening, Hay- ill play Kanawha in the and Crystal Lake will with Klemme in the final nce contest. An added game will probably be better as inment than as an exhibi- basketball, has been added ature attraction this year. lemme faculty will play a icked from other faculty the county. The local peda- will use Janitor Montgom- complete their quintet.

jamboree will bring toge- wo sectional winners of last nd strangely enough, the gs has placed them together onents in the last of the games. Crystal Lake won tional tournament held at City last year, while Klem- s winning the one at Dows. eams have a good supply of s, and fans will watch this with interest, as it may be ex of conference strength year.

ission for the jamboree will een and twenty-five cents. st game is called for seven- Officials are M. R. Field Paul McLaughlin, both of lale.

JURY CHOSEN OR THE NOVEMBER 1940 TERM OF COURT

M. F. Edwards To Be On h For Last Time At Garner

ty-two petit jurors for the nd final term of Hancock district court have been and were announced Thurs- County Clerk Elmer Raw. term of court will open 8, with Judge M. F. Ed- of Parkersburg on the It will be a farewell ap- ce for Judge Edwards, who ring from the bench Jan. 1. ll preside until Dec. 2, when Henry N. Graven of Mason ill take his place here. following are to report for Monday, December, 2nd, t 10:00 o'clock a .m.: or Schoenwetter, Liberty, ; Emma Zrostlik, Liberty, Buelah Christenson, Twin Goodell; Wm. Schlei, Twin Goodell; Roland Clement, on Garner; Pearl Borg, Ell- Forest City; P. J. Johnson, l, Crystal Lake; Orville y, Crystal, Crystal Lake; d Gouge, Magor, Corwith; J. Bush Magor, Corwith; Bunk, Erin, Britt; Henry Har- n, Erin, Kanawha; E. R. Gee, Corwith; Jacob Kurtzleben, am, Woden; Harold Pringle, on, Hayfield, Robert Kellogg, am, Britt; Leonard Procha- Garfield, Britt; Mildred Ren- Garfield, Garner; H. A. Ben- ritt, Britt; Miles Vercellus, Britt; Delmar Anderson, Britt; Oscar Erickson, Britt, J. R. Howlett, Amsterdam, wha; Agnes Yeakel, Amster- Kanawha; Etta Stewart, Am- m, Kanawha; Alfred Schroe- Amsterdam, Kanawha; Ray , Concord, Garner; Ella t, Concord, Garner; Carl z Concord, Garner; Ida r, Concord, Garner; Miza , Orthel, Britt; Wm. Tegt- , Orthel, Britt.

HAS PARTY IN HONOR OF NIECE

Mrs. Lloyd Lau entertained two tables of bridge Monday afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss Laura Hollatz of Ventura. Mrs. Edna Thada won high prize and Mrs Ed Buntenbach second high. A lovely lunch was served, and Miss Hollatz was presented a guest prize.

Junior Class Play Nov. 14

JUNIOR CLASS WILL STAGE THEIR PLAY HERE TO-MORROW NIGHT

Thursday Of This week Chosen By Juniors To Give Their Play

"What's wrong with the younger generation?" This leading question keeps popping up with amazing regularity throughout the years One who is perhaps better qualified than most others to supply the answer is Hilda Manning, well-knowned playwright, whose comedies of youth have become well loved throughout the country And Miss Manning's opinion is as follows. "The kids are just about the same as ever, no better, no worse -- just kids."

And this point is very aptly proved in Miss Manning's latest play, "Hooray For Youth!", a comedy in three acts which the junior class will present at the high school auditorium Thursday night of this week. This latest in the long list of Miss Manning's successes has already won for itself enthusiastic praise wherever it has been shown, and the juniors are confident it will reach one of the high-water marks in local play history.

The juniors and their director, Miss Michalek, have worked under considerable difficulty in preparing this play and were not able to state until just before the Times went to press that the play could definitely be given his week One of the parts had to be shifted right at the last, and the person taking that part has had only three days to prepare it. It was considered best to put on the play this week, however, as the local program is crowded for the next few weeks.

The play will be given Thursday instead of Friday in order to avoid conflict with other local interests that night. Seats are being reserved at Wilson's Pharmacy Boost the juniors. They deserve your help.

Shamrocks Ready To Open Basketball Season Next Week In Jamboree

The Klemme Shamrocks will get into action twice next week, and local basketball fans are looking forward to these opening encounters with enthusiasm. Coach Bowles has been drilling a thirty-two man squad composed of six seniors, six juniors, ten sophomores and ten freshman, but has temporarily cut the squad to eighteen for intensive drill in preparation for the jamboree Wednesday night and the game at Ventura Friday night, where only first teams will play.

Dorance Grange, last year's captain, was the only regular lost thru graduation. The team will be built around Barz, Stille, seniors, Brinkman, Bock, Coobs, Schulz and Zabilka juniors; and Grosshuesch, Jacobs and Kaduce, sophomores Plentiful freshman and reserve material is on hand, and the boys on the inner circle will be pushed hard to keep their jobs.

A tough schedule confronts the wearers of the green and white this year, and Coach Bowles is willing to promise only an average season. The general run of fans, however, are more optimistic as they remember the fine showing of last years' team in a year when they were slated to lose most of their games. The schedule is as follows.

Klemme High School Basketball Schedule 1940-41

Nov	20, Jamboree	Here
Nov	22., Ventura	There
Nov.	26, Goldfield	There
Dec.	3, Garner	There
Dec.	6, Woden	Here
Dec.	10, Belmond	There
Dec.	13, Kanawha	Here
Dec.	17, OPEN
Dec	19, Crystal Lake	There
Jan.	7, OPEN
Jan	10, Hayfield	Here
Jan.	14, Meservey	There
Jan.	17, Goodell	There
Jan.	21, Thornton	Here
Jan.	24, Woden	There
Jan.	29-Febr 1, County Tourn't.
Febr.	4, Goldfield	Here
Febr.	7, Kanawha	There
Febr.	11, Meservey	Here
Febr.	14, Crystal Lake	Here
Febr.	18, OPEN
Febr.	20, Hayfield	There
Febr.	25, Swaledale	Here
Febr.	28, Goodell	Here
March	5-8 State Sectional Tourn't

Funeral Held Sunday For Former Resident Of Liberty Township

ALBERT REIMER, GARNER, DIED THURSDAY AT A MASON CITY HOSPITAL

Burial Was Made In Liberty Township Cemetery

Funeral services for Albret Reimer, 83, Garner, who died early Thursday morning at a nursing home in Mason City, were held at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home, and at 2:30 o'clock at the Garner Methodist church.

The Rev. H. M. Hall conducted the services at the church and interment was in the Liberty township cemetery.

Mr. Reimer had been in failing health for the past three weeks and entered a Mason City hospital two weeks ago.

Obituary

Albert Carl William Reimer, son of Albert and Dorothey Reimer, was born in Pommer, Germany on June 8, 1857 and grew to manhood in his native country where he also spent three years in the army.

At the age of twenty-four years he came to Alba Dodge county, Wisconsin, where he worked on a farm for several years. He was married to Miss Augusta Bredlow on April 8, 1886 and the couple began housekeeping on a small farm where they resided for three years.

In 1889 Mr. and Mrs. Reimer came to Hancock County, Iowa, and purchased land in Liberty township, the place now farmed by their son, Ben. Here they went through all the hardships of the early pioneer and lived on their farm until 1916 when Mr. and Mrs. Reimer retired and moved to Garner where they have since resided.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Reimer; Emil who died in infancy; Elizabeth, Mrs. E. G. Beier; William; Carl; Ben; Malinda, Mrs. E. J. Blumer. There are four grandchildren: Marcele and Mildred Blumer, and Lois and Iola Reimer.

Mr. Reimer was a member of the Lutheran church in Germany, but became a member of the Methodist church from the Grace Methodist church. He was always active in an official capacity in church and community life.

Besides his wife and children, and grandchildren, he leaves other relatives and friends who mourn his passing.

METHODIST CIRCLES NAME DATES FOR MEETINGS

Circle No. 1 will meet Friday afternoon, November 15th at the home of Mrs. A. G. Koerner. The time is 2:00 o'clock.

Circle No. 2 will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn next week, Thursday afternoon, November 21 at 2:00 o'clock.

Red Cross Drive!

PLANS MADE FOR ANNUAL RED CROSS ROLL CALL DRIVE

East Half Hancock County Red Cross Chapter Outlines Intensive Campaign

/GARNER—Plans for conducting the most intensive Red Cross roll call drive ever undertaken by the Garner chapter were outlined Thursday night at a meeting of 50 workers from the eight townships and five towns included in the Garner chapter.

The meeting followed a 7 o'clock dinner served by women of the St. Paul Lutheran church at the church parlors.

Mrs. J. E. Tierney, chapter president, presided, and program features were a talk by John Droz of Charles City, president of the Floyd county branch; invocation by the Rev H R. Wrede, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church; a vocal solo by Milo Hall, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Kischer. community singing led by County Auditor Fred C. Missal and accompanied by Mrs. Kischer; and a talk by Cholm Houghton, roll call chairman for his third successive year.

Mr. Houghton announced that the Garner chapter was one of 12 chapters in Iowa which won national honor roll ranking for last year's campaign. The chapter rose from fifty-eighth to seventh place in Iowa for percentage of population enrolled during the 1939 drive.

In charge of the work this year will be Mrs. D. E. Keat and Miss Jean Steiff, Madison township, Miss Wilda Clement, Ellington; Mrs. C. D. Daniels and Mrs. John Love Concord; Mrs. N. E. Brear and Miss Doris Reed, Garfield, Mrs. Ben V. Greiman and Mrs Ralph Upmeyer, Liberty; Mrs. Elmer Schneider, Miss Mildred Thiemann and Miss Elsie Thiemann, Ell; Mrs. Josh Montgomery, Twin Lake, and Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg, Avery.

Town drives will be undertaken by Mrs. William Van Haaften at Miller; Mrs. George Lawhorn, Mrs. Sumner Trumbull, Miss Irma Merritt, Mrs. A. L. Kingery, Mrs. W. H. Galbreth, Mrs. E. E. Lewis, Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and Mrs. R .A. Jorgenson, Klemme; Mrs. A. C. Taylor and Miss Thelma Hardman, Hayfield; Mrs. T. H. Burgess, Goodell.

Mr. Missal, County Clerk Elmer Raw, Miss Dorothy Hampel, Mrs. Martin Hagen, Miss Eleanor Carr, Mrs. Ross Utt, Mrs. W. G. Williams, Mrs. George A. Bemis, Mrs. R. J. Cory, Mrs. Chester Stille, Mrs. W. S. Pritchard, Jr., Mrs. Vern Pringle, Mrs. L. M. Wood, Mrs. Lee Swaney, Mrs Truman Glassel and Mrs. E. G. Greiman, Garner.

Klemme Red Cross Officers

The Klemme Red Cross, which is associated with the Garner Red Cross for the east half of the county, has it's own organization. Mrs. Sumner Trumbull is President; Mrs. Ernest Lewis, Vice President, and Mrs. George Lawhorn is the Secretary-Treasurer. The Board of Directors are Mrs. W. H. Galbreth, Mrs. A. L. Kingery, Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson.

Broken Legs.

For the second time in two years, Robert Blankers, Archer, has a broken leg.

TERRIFIC BLIZZARD HIT NORTH IOWA FOR THE FIRST STORM MONDAY

Roads Were Blocked, Schools Closed For The Afternoon

Iowa's first real taste of winter came Monday with a furious rain and sleet storm coming from the northwest on a high wind which turned into snow, piling up drifts and blocking traffic in all sections of Iowa. Temperatures dropped to a near zero mark in most sections of the state, hitting a 4 degrees above in Klemme.

Supt. Galbreth closed the local schools at noon and many children were taken home before the full force of the storm struck. School was opened again Tuesday with a fair attendance, as roads were being opened again to traffic.

PHEASANT HUNTING GOT OFF TO A POOR START ON OPENING DAY

Tuesday was the first of the open dates for shooting pheasants in Iowa, but got off to a very poor start in North Iowa because of the high wind and cold weather, following Monday's blizzard.

A few of the more hardy members of the nimrod clan braved the elements and took to the fields in quest of the highly colored. ringneck, but with none too good results.

Funeral Services Held For Miss Anna Griewe

Funeral services were conducted today (Wednesday) at the Klemme Methodist Church for Miss Anna Griewe, 58, who died at Mason City early Sunday morning following a brief illness

The rites were in charge of the Wellemeyer Funeral Service and Rev. Wm. Zabilka conducted the services. Casket Bearers were Lawrence Gates, Franklin Kluckhohn, Milo Patet, Carold Larson, Donald Turgeson and Loren Gast. Interment was on the family lot in the Ell Township Cemetery where her parents are buried.

Following is the obituary of Miss Griewe.

Obituary

Anna Marie Griewe was born January 15th, 1882, on a farm in Liberty township. The fourth of a family of six children born to her parents, Henry Griewe and Mary (nee) Ell.

She completed her rural school education in Liberty township and completed a course in normal training at Charles City college.

She taught in the rural schools of Hancock County for ten years, taught in the Klemme school one year.

After this she changed employment and took up store work for a number of years and was employed in the Wellemeyer Store, at first as Bookkeeper and later as saleslady in the Dry Goods and Ready-To-Wear department.

Then for two or more years she was assistant in the silk goods department of the Damon-Igoe store at Mason City.

For the last several years she worked at various office jobs in Mason City.

She was a member of the Methodist Church at Klemme and continued her membership here, even though her work took her to other towns.

Anna Griewe was thrifty in her habits, always appeared to be in good health, until early Sunday morning, November 10, 1940, when she suffered a severe stroke, which in a few hours ended her career.

She reached the age of 58 years, 9 months and 26 days.

She leaves of her immediate family, three sisters: Mrs. Albert H. Jahnke, Garden City, Minn.; Mrs. Arthur Wellemeyer, Klemme, Iowa; Mrs. Fred W. Ortmeyer, Estherville, Iowa. Two brothers: Fred C. Griewe, Aredale, Iowa and John E. Griewe, Garner Iowa, and many more distant relatives and friends.

Resignation

There is no flock, however
Watched and tended,
But one dead lamb is there!
There is no fireside, whosoe'er defended,
But has one vacant chair!

Let us be patient! These severe afflictions
Not from the ground arise,
But oftentimes Celestrial benedictions
Assume this dark disguise.

There is no Death! What seems so
Is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian
Whose portal we call Death.

——Henry W. Longfellow

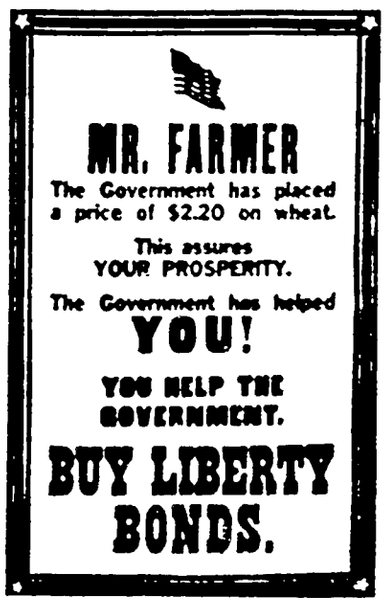
Words, Slogans, Played Important Role During Hectic War Years of 1914-1918

By JAMES R. MOCK
and
CEDRIC LARSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

We had gone to war—World war I. We had decided to send our boys over to France to save democracy. But even as indignation against Germany had surged higher and higher in those last tense days before 3:12 a. m., April 6, 1917, no one could say just what the American people would do after their eloquent leader had urged them into war.

The great majority of Americans, it seemed, wanted to fight, but people wondered anxiously how large and how determined the minority might be.

In the World war of 1914-18, words and slogans played an important role in the struggle of the nations for victory. Just how important that role was, has been the subject of a book, "Words That Won the War," written by James R. Mock and Cedric Larson. The accompanying article is a condensation of that book and is presented because of interest now centering around another European war. When opinions are expressed they are the opinions of the authors and not necessarily of this newspaper.



MR. FARMER
The Government has placed a price of $2.20 on wheat.
This assures YOUR PROSPERITY.
The Government has helped YOU!
YOU HELP THE GOVERNMENT.
BUY LIBERTY BONDS.

The authors of the book, "Words That Won the War," point out the two above examples of information work done in the World war of 1914-18, as appeals that are "not too academic." Ideas of this type appeal directly and do their selling lesson quickly without any subtle reasoning.

Minorities are dangerous when the fate of civilization is hanging in the balance. How could we count on the millions of Germans, Austrians, Hungarians, Poles, Russians and other "aliens in our midst"? Wasn't there something very disquieting in the widely quoted opinion of Dr. Ales Hrdlicka that the Melting Pot had failed to melt? How many people still believed there was such a thing as being too proud to fight? How many remembered the President's statement that there was no essential difference in the expressed war aims of the belligerents? What of enemy spies, of whom there were said to be 100,000 or more at large, and their allies, the pacifists, Socialists and labor agitators? What about the success of Wilson's campaign slogan, "He kept us out of war"? What about warnings against entanglement in Europe's quarrels which still echoed in countless homes?

And what, above all, about the unknown thousands of Americans who might not feel very strongly one way or the other but thought Europe was a long way off and might find it too much bother to make the sacrifices which a modern war demands of the entire population?

We had pledged "our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor," but could we fulfill that pledge? When a peaceful nation, jealous of individual liberty and proud of its freedom from militarism, attempted to mobilize its men, money, resources, and emotions for one mighty effort, even a rather small minority could bring disaster. "Widespread co-operation" was not good enough when the nation's life was at stake. Nothing less than complete solidarity would do.

U. S. Not Unified.

America was not unified when war was declared. The necessary reversal of opinion was too great to be achieved overnight. The agonizing question in official Washington, the question on which hung the fate of the country's entire wartime effort, was whether the inner lines at home would hold as effectively as the lines in France.

The committee on public information was assigned the staggering task of "holding fast the inner lines." The story of how it fulfilled that mission is a dramatic record of vigor, effectiveness, and creative imagination. The committee was America's "propaganda ministry" during the World war, charged with encouraging and then consolidating the revolution of opinion which changed the United States from antimilitaristic democracy to an organized war machine. This work touched the private life of virtually every man, woman, and child; it reflected the thoughts of the American people under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson; and it popularized what was for us a new idea of the individual's relation to the state.

Committee's Creation.

President Wilson created the committee on public information by executive order dated April 13, 1917, and appointed George Creel as civilian chairman, with the secretaries of state, war, and navy as the other members. Mr. Creel assembled as brilliant and talented a group of journalists, scholars, press agents, editors, artists, and other manipulators of the symbols of public opinion as America had ever seen united for a single purpose. It was a gargantuan advertising agency the like of which the country had never known, and the breathtaking scope of its activities was not to be equalled until the rise of totalitarian dictatorships after the war.

News was the life-blood of the committee on public information (CPI)—news from the front, from training camps, from the White House, from farms and factories, from workers' homes, from every place that had a story to tell regarding the American people in the war.

Press Co-operation.

As George Creel and many other people have repeatedly emphasized, press co-operation with the CPI and its support of the war rested on a "voluntary" basis, but with impressive legal authority behind it. This authority was gradually extended, by congressional and presidential action, as the war progressed, and by the time of the Armistice the government's potential control of the press was nearly complete. A self-denying ordinance by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Creel was all that stood in the way of an attempt to impose a harsh, rigorous, and thoroughgoing censorship.

Even before the CPI, an agreement for voluntary censorship had been reached by representatives of the press and of the departments of state, war and navy. Then, on April 16, 1917, 10 days after declaration of war and three days after creation of the CPI, Mr. Wilson backed this up with a warning proclamation regarding "Treason and Misprision of Treason," stating, among other things, that the courts had found to be treasonable "The performance of any act or publication of statements or information which will give or supply, in any way, aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States."

President Wilson had favored adequate censorship power all along, but for the first 53 days of the war (that is, from April 6 to May 28) selection of news was very largely a matter of the editor's individual discretion. He was subject to laws against treason and his good sense normally told him what might and what might not be published. Then on May 28 came the "Preliminary Statement," in which the CPI codified rules but still depended upon existing laws for its authority.

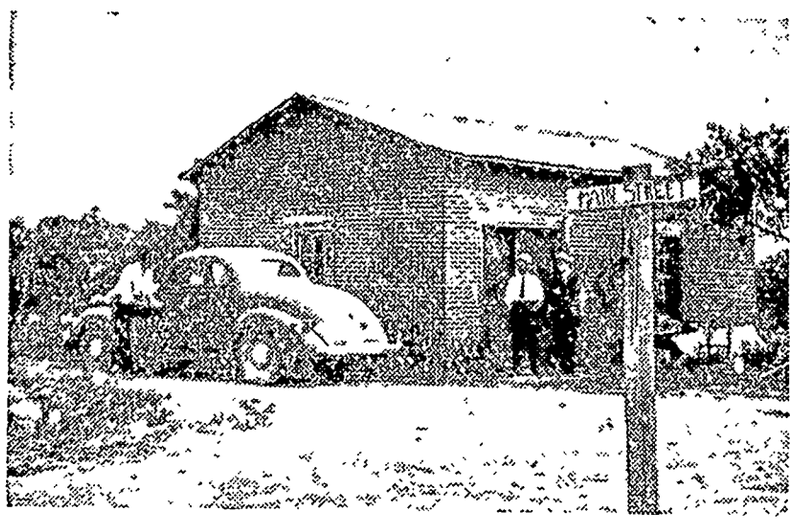
News Classifications.

"Dangerous" news included stories of naval and military operations in progress; movement of official missions; threats and plots against the life of the President; news regarding secret service and confidential agents; movements of alien labor. Naval information in the forbidden category included the position, number, or identification of Allied or American warships; certain data pertaining to lights and buoys; mention of ports of arrival or departure; any details of mines or mine traps, signals, orders, or wireless messages to or from any warship; all phases of submarine warfare; facts regarding dry-docks. Forbidden military information included any relating to fixed land defenses; movements of American or Canadian troops; assignment of small detachments; concentration at ports; aircraft and equipment that was, or might be, in the process of experimentation.

In general, editors were warned against feeling that because facts were generally known in a local district it was therefore safe to give them publication. Editors were also charged to examine, with the same care that they devoted to news, the contents of advertising copy, and even paid reading notices. And of course everyone was to guard against indiscriminate publication of maps, charts, and pictures.

So the fighting with printer's ink was carried on vigorously on many fronts during the war, with George Creel as editor-in-chief.

Every Citizen Holds High Public Office In Dellview, Nation's Smallest Town



This is Main street of Dellview, N. C., a duly incorporated town with a total population of eight. The building houses the town's one industry, Henry Dellinger's woodwork shop, which is also used as the town hall. At the left Chief of Police Tom Dellinger may be giving a parking ticket to the town's only male resident who doesn't hold office—although that is unlikely as it is his son.

DELLVIEW, N. C.—Stray dogs with a taste for chicken are responsible for the existence of this duly incorporated town, the smallest census enumerators have found anywhere in the United States. Its city directory contains only one sirname, Dellinger. Its population, which has not varied during the 15 years of its existence, is eight.

Dellview was created by act of the state legislature in 1925. At that time three Dellinger brothers operated a large chicken farm. But due to the inadequacy of the county dog laws—or, at least, to the inadequacy of their enforcement—dogs from nearby farms played havoc with the business. Hardly a night passed that squawks from the hen houses did not disturb the Dellingers' sleep. Hardly a morning dawned that feathers were not found scattered over the Dellingers' farm.

It was then that brother Davis P. Dellinger, who practiced law in nearby Cherryville but owned an interest in the farm, came to the rescue. As a member of the legislature he did not want to impose on his rural constituents stricter dog laws than they desired but as a chicken raiser he wanted relief. So he conceived the idea of incorporating the farm as a town and the bill passed the legislature without a hitch.

All that was necessary then was to pass town ordinances against dogs running at large, make the farming Dellingers town officers and arm them with shotguns.

Ten years ago fire destroyed the chicken business and the Dellinger farm was put back in crops. But Dellview remains an incorporated town, complete with municipal government even if it doesn't contain but two families—Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dellinger and their son Rebort, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dellinger and their daughters Vilma, Marie and Gladys.

Persons of Voting Age Show Large Increase

The number of persons of voting age in the country has increased by 11,234,376 in the last decade, according to the figures of the U. S. census bureau, although the total population gain was only 8,634,835. The reasons for this, census experts believe, are a declining birth rate and a lengthening of the life span due to medical advances and modern sanitation practices.

Washington, D. C.

GERMAN MORALE SUFFERING

U. S. observers acquainted with the morale of the German people are getting bullish about Britain, in view of the heavy R.A.F. bombings of Germany.

These officials point out that German conquests on land, even if they should be extended beyond the Balkans into Egypt or even to India, do not relieve the problem of the 80,000,000 Germans who must continue to take punishment from British bombing.

It has been proved already that the military genius of the Germans is in land movements. They have no strength at sea, and they have failed to gain complete mastery in the air, though at times they have come close to it. This leaves the British with an air force growing daily stronger by arrival of Canadian and American planes, to bomb the great German cities in an attempt to break civilian morale.

German conquests abroad do not relieve the distress of people in such heavily populated centers as Berlin, Dresden, Leipzig, Hamburg, and Munich. So long as these people must spend cold winter nights in the cellars, with no rest, there can be no real victory for Germany.

* * *

ROOSEVELT BORROWS

The other day Postmaster General Frank Walker called at the White House with William Knudsen and other defense commissioners to sell the President the first 100 new "National Defense" stamps, which come in one, two and three-cent denominations.

"This is a strictly cash on the line proposition, Mr. President," said Walker. "Have you got six dollars?"

Roosevelt reached for his billfold. It contained one five-dollar bill, no more. "Hmmm—short a dollar," he mused.

Borrowing, as Shakespeare said, may "dull the edge of husbandry," but on the other hand not everyone gets the chance to lend the President of the United States a buck. Everyone in the room grabbed for his wallet simultaneously. But Walker was the first to produce the dollar.

Grinning, Roosevelt promised to repay Walker on "my next payday."

* * *

NEW ARMY TANKS

The United States army is now building a tank which will be the equal of any which the Nazis sent against France with their famous panzer divisions.

These new war monsters each will carry one 75-mm. gun. This is the famous field artillery piece which the French army used during the World war, and which the American Expeditionary force later adopted. It has now become the standard field artillery for more than half the armies of the world.

However, not until the German divisions rolled into Flanders, did modern armies conceive of mounting guns as heavy as this in tanks. But from now on, even the medium tanks built for the U. S. army will carry one French 75, plus a 37-mm. gun, plus four machine guns. This tank will weigh between 25 and 30 tons.

Note—It is impossible to estimate the cost of the mobile fortress carrying a 75-mm. gun, and the war department is not even troubling to ask for estimates. At least three of the companies will proceed with production on a "cost plus fixed fee" basis, and when the tanks begin to come off the assembly lines (which will not be before next May) Uncle Sam will pay the bill.

* * *

JEFF DAVIS VS. LINCOLN

Of all his predecessors, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson has chosen the portraits of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, and Robert Todd Lincoln, son of the martyred President, to adorn the wall facing his desk. Both Lincoln and Davis served as secretary of war.

Mr. Stimson sits at a great, flat carved red mahogany desk, which has been in the war department more years than anyone can remember, and which is ornamented by two round globe hghts on either side, designed to burn kerosene in the days before gas and electricity. These have now been revamped for incandescent bulbs.

A grim note is Stimson's side table, a somber black piece used by Gen. Phil Sheridan as a court martial desk. This supports a huge silver cup, a tennis trophy won in previous years by Mr. Stimson, and a mantel clock, which is wound by a key, and strikes the hours and half hours in deep sonorous tones.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Proudest boast of Sen. Homer T. Bone of Washington is a bet he won over a Civil war maneuver during the Union army's siege of Vicksburg. Though his opponent was a participant in the action, Bone was right and won the wager.

* * *

George T. Summerlin, who gets $9,400 a year as chief of the state department of protocol, saves $91 a year by rolling his own cigarettes. His job includes entertaining visiting dignitaries.

THE DICTATOR AT HOME

Dictator (returning home after a bumptious day)—Hail!

Wife—Hail my eye! Remember you're not at the chancellery now.

Dictator—Do you realize to whom you are speaking?

Wife—I'm the only person who does!

* *

Dictator (still unable to shake off the dictator mood)—My smoking jacket, please!

Wife—You know where it is, don't you?

Dictator—Get it for me at once, Ella.

Wife—Get it yourself. You're no cripple.

Dictator—I warn you, you are exhausting my patience.

Wife—Aw, cut out that line, Toots!

Dictator (wincing)—Toots!

Wife—You never used to object to me calling you that.

Dictator—That was away back before I . . . before, I, er . . .

Wife—Before you got all those uniforms, emblems and ideas for salutes. You were a nice boy in those days. Little did I ever dream you'd turn out like this.

Dictator—There you go belittling me again!

Wife—I'm not belittling you.

Dictator—Yes you are. (He lights a cigar.)

* *

Wife (sternly)—Put out that nickel stogie! You know better than to smoke in the living room.

Dictator—I'll smoke where I wish. This is my house.

Wife—Lissen, you either put that roman candle out or you go out on the back porch and smoke it. And no back talk!

Dictator (who knows when he is licked)—Oh, all right, but I want it understood that my action is not to be misinterpreted as a sign of weakness. I am not establishing a precedent. I know my rights and . . .

Wife—Aw, Joe, pipe down! You sound so silly.

* *

Dictator—I resent your studied attempts to undermine my self-confidence. It's not very nice of you.

Wife—You've got me wrong, Joe. All I want you to understand is that you can't get away with all that boss of the universe stuff with me. I knew you when.

Dictator—You ought to be proud of me.

Wife—Why?

Dictator—Look what I've done! Look where I've risen! And all on my own ability.

Wife—Gee, but you've got a swelled head. Don't I get any credit? Who designed that emblem? I did. Who thought up that color scheme for the shirts? Me. Who sat up with you night after night studying history and trying to point out Napoleon's mistakes?

Dictator—Have we got to go over all that again? You helped me, I admit. But I had to have brains.

Wife—Baloney. All you had to have was a radio and your nerve.

* *

Dictator—Let's not argue. Is my steak ready?

Wife — What makes you think you're getting steak?

Dictator—I told you I wanted steak tonight.

Wife—So what? You're getting cold roast beef.

Dictator—I will not have my orders ignored with impunity. I will not be treated so contemptuously. I will not permit my authority to be disrespected.

Wife—If you knew how funny you looked talking that way, you'd cut it out, Toots.

Dictator—Don't call me Toots. Do you know what millions of people are calling me? They are calling me their hope, their idol, their peerless leader!

Wife—Yeah. And do you remember what the boys used to call you back in your boyhood days?

Dictator—What?

Wife—Peewee!

* *

Dictator—This is too much. I'll go down to the palace where the boys respect me for what I am.

Wife—Okay, as long as you don't bring 'em up here.

* *

"Eight types of Near Beer Being Tried in Germany."—Headline. So that is victory!

* * *

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Away back when the word "defense" generally referred to football?

* * *

Marshal Petain is for a back-to-the-farm movement. The Man With the Hoch.

* * *

ALLIANCE

Three howling dogs got out one day
Into such blustery weather
That lest they be blown off the map
They tied their tails together.

H. Langeler.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

In cleaning gas ovens, a little ammonia in the water cleaning will be made easi the ammonia prevents the from turning brown.

* * *

It's time to clean the fur on your coat. Heat cor in a shallow pan and, with gers, rub the meal well in fur. After two days, shake brush lightly with a soft If the fur is very soiled, This is very effective on the fur so often used on e wraps.

* * *

Never throw away bone from a roast or shoulder. them on in cold water cooked several hours, a very soup may be obtained wi addition of diced vegetable

* * *

To remove spots from var floors, rub quickly with a dipped in warm water and soap suds. Wipe thoroughl repolish at once. Water re finish from varnished floors, it only as suggested.

* * *

Try combining a cup of ping cream, whipped just e to hold its shape, with six spoons of apple butter, adde tablespoons at a time, bl well after each merger. H fluffy mound of this yellow ture on your favorite cup ca

* * *

If your carpet sweeper sq apply oil on a feather or f small oil can. Use the oil bearings and around the w Then run the sweeper over a to catch any surplus oil so it drip on your rugs.

Quick Action f
SORE THROA
FROM COLDS
NOW!
Amazing relief of pain symptoms begins in big hurry when you u
Bayer Aspirin this w

Follow these 3 steps as pict

1. For sore throat from cold, dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in ½ glass of water and gargle. Pain is eased very quickly.
2. To relieve headache, body discomfort and aches, take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets and drink a glass of water. Repeat in 2 hours.
3. Check temperature. If you have fever and temperature does not go down—call your doctor.

Both aches and raw throat lieved this convenient way. S hours of discomfort.

At the first sign of sore throat f a cold follow the directions in pictures above—the simplest among the most effective meth known to modern science to fast relief.

The Bayer gargle will a you—easing throat rawness hurry. And the Bayer Aspirin t internally quickly relieves the o painful cold symptoms.

Try this way. You will say unequalled. But when you bu sure you get the fast-acting Bayer product you want. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by its full name.

GENUINE BAYER ASPI

To Know Happiness

For to love and to be love to know happiness, is to pos beauty, is to be rich in the th that make life beautiful.

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN
MOROLINE
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

"Black Leaf 40" KILLS LICE
"Cap-Brush" Applicator makes "BLACK LEAF 40" GO MUCH FARTHER
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS... OR SPREAD ON ROOS

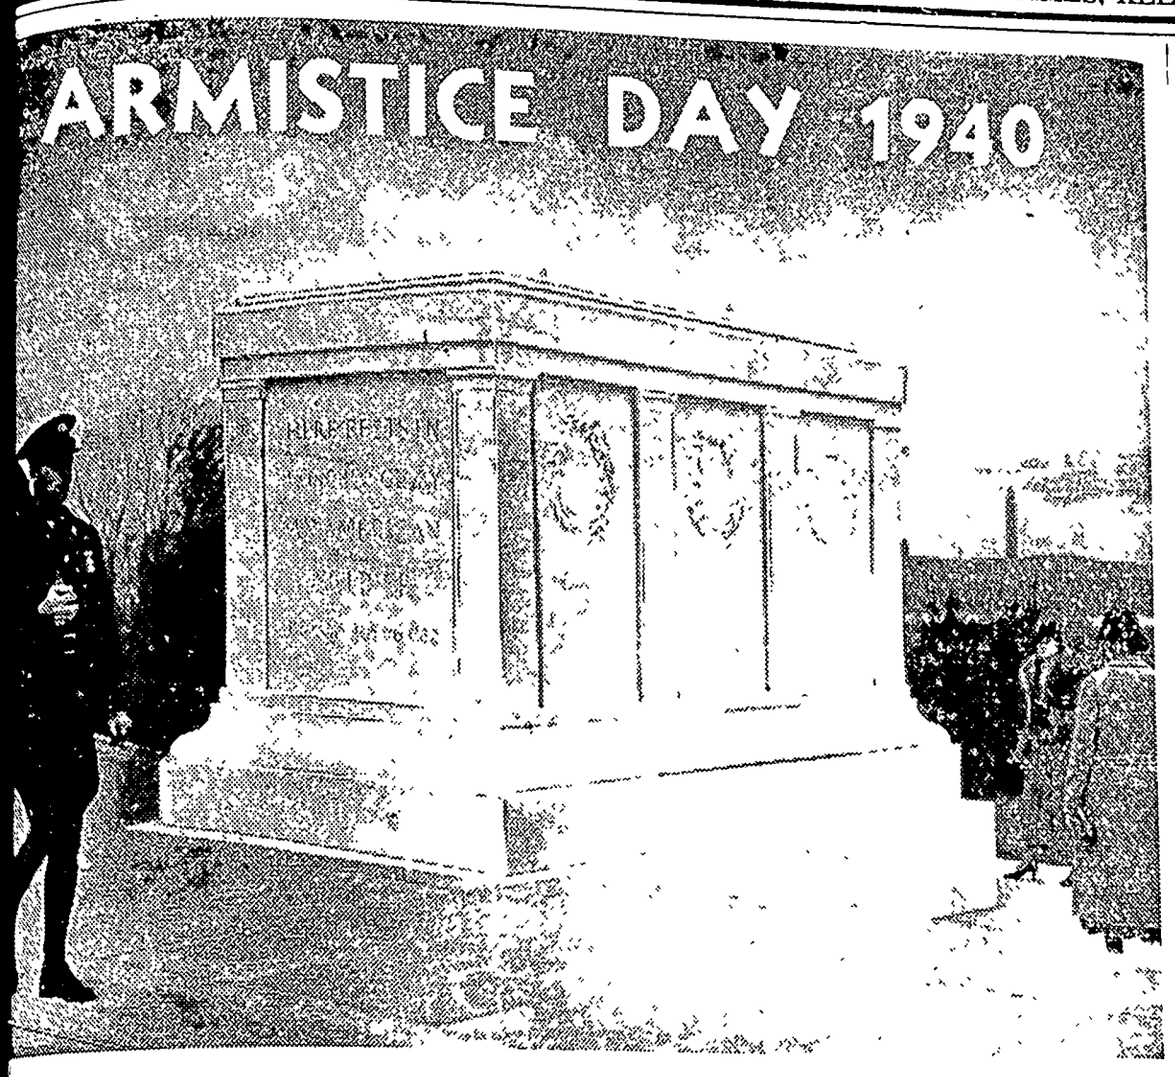
WNU—N

Desired Power

Grant me the power to things too simple and too s for words.

MORE FOR YOUR

● Read the advertisements. They are more than a selling aid for business. They form an educational system which is making Americans the best-educated buyers in the world. The advertisements are part of an economic system which is giving Americans more for their money every day.



By ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union)

A world aflame with war, the thoughts of Americans on Armistice Day, 1940, inevitably turn to that November day 22 years ago when World War I ended. In Arlington onal cemetery near Washington stands the symbol of our icipation in that conflict—the Tomb of the Unknown Sol-. One of our greatest patriotic shrines, it is not only a norial to those whose graves in foreign soil are marked known," but in a larger sense it is also a monument to 50,000 who gave their in that earlier fight nst the threat of dicta- l power.

nong them were a few unknowingly, erected norials to themselves h seem destined to be as ring as the white marble e tomb in Arlington. For were the soldier poets before a bullet or shell ment wrote "Finis" to careers, composed some f deathless verse which ow and always will be ciated with their names. 1936, when Frederic W. Ziv iled an anthology of poems oets who were killed in 1914 918, his book, "The Valiant e," contained the work of 59 g Englishmen and Ameri- . All of these 59 are known few poetry-lovers; perhaps of them are familiar names tudents of literature; but to English-speaking world gen- ly four of their names have me as familiar as the names mous bards who sang in ear- and more peaceful times. y are two Americans, Alan ger and Joyce Kilmer, an lishman, Rupert Brooke, and nadian, John McCrae. lthough each of the four wrote siderable verse, in each case e is one poem which is in- ably and invariably asso- ed with the name of its au- . To think of Alan Seeger is nk of "I Have a Rendezvous Death," which was prophet- f the fate of the poet if not of fate of the poem. Seeger was oung Harvard graduate who studying in Paris at the out- k of the war in 1914 and who sted in the French Foreign ion. Wounded in action, he was perating in a French hospital n he wrote the poem which de him famous. It was

ve a rendezvous with death
ome disputed barricade,
n spring comes round with rustling shade apple blossoms fill the air.
ve a rendezvous with death
n spring brings back blue days and fair

ay be he shall take my hand lead me into his dark land close my eyes and quench my breath, ay be I shall pass him still.
ve a rendezvous with death
some scarred slope of battered hill, n spring comes round again this year
the first meadow flowers appear.

knows 'twere better to be deep owed in silk and scented down, ere love throbs out in blissful sleep,
se nigh to pulse, and breath to breath,
ere hushed awakenings are dear.
I've a rendezvous with death midnight in some flaming town, en spring trips north again this year,
I to my pledged word and true,
hall not fail that rendezvous.

Back in service again, in 1916, ger was invited to write a em and read it at the Memorial y ceremony in Paris which had en arranged for the American lunteers who had died for ance. Seeger worked feverish- to finish the poem in time. emorial day came but it ought no word to Seeger that application for leave of ab- nce to go to Paris for the cere- ony had been granted. Later was learned that a careless rk had confused Memorial day th the other American patriotic liday of Independence day and d obtained the leave of absence that date.

But Seeger was not destined to joy his leave on Independence y, for he had a "rendezvous th death" which he could not il to keep. On July 4, 1916, there s a burst of German machine n fire at Belloy-en-Santerre and one of the men who went down in the hail of death was the young soldier-poet

There is a touch of pathos in the fact that Alan Seeger will keep his rendezvous with death for all eternity in an unmarked grave. Several months later his regiment returned to Belloy-en-Santerre to find that the entire landscape had been so changed by bombardment that not even the "scarred slope of battered hill" where he died could be recognized and all efforts since then to identify the site of his burial place have been unsuccessful.

Like Seeger, Rupert Brooke wrote a poem that was prophetic of his death and that contributed most to his fame Those who knew this young Englishman remember that, so striking was his physical appearance and so buoyant were his spirits, it was "like a wind from heaven" when he entered a room. Harriet Monroe called him "the lyric Apollo" and his brother-poet, William Butler Yeats, said he was "the most beautiful young man in England." But the world remembers him as the writer of this exquisite sonnet:

THE SOLDIER

If I should die, think only this of me,
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is forever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed,
A dust which England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave once her flowers to love, her ways to roam,
A body of England's, breathing English air,
Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home.

And think, this heart, all evil shed away,
A pulse in the eternal mind no less,
Gives somewhere back the thoughts by England given,
Her sights and sounds, dreams happy as her day,
And laughter learnt of friends, and gentleness,
In hearts at peace, under an English haven.

Out of the horror of the Battle of Ypres came another poem which has made the name of its author famous. He was Lieut. Col. John McCrae, commander of the medical department of Canadian Hospital No. 3, a McGill university unit. Innumerable times during the 16 days of that battle McCrae watched the burial of the dead and saw the white crosses erected over their graves. Then in the spring he saw the poppies trying to cover the tortured earth with their scarlet glory and he wrote

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place While in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Unheard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunsets glow,
Loved and were loved—but, now, we lie
In Flanders fields!

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you, from falling hands, we throw
The torch—Be yours to bear it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies blow
In Flanders fields.

McCrae's poem was translated into every language spoken by the Allied forces. It became a symbol of the determination to "carry on" and before its author's death in January, 1918, this Canadian soldier's neighbors, the Americans, as well as thousands of his fellow-Canadians and other citizens of the British empire had heeded his injunction to "take up our fight" McCrae was stricken with pneumonia at his post of duty and died in a hospital in Boulogne. He was buried in the cemetery at Wimereux, on a sunny slope, facing the sunset and the sea, where red poppies grow among the white crosses, one of which marks the last resting place of John McCrae.

The second American soldier-poet who died in France and whose name is best remembered because of one poem was Joyce Kilmer. It is a curious fact, however, that it was written before he became a soldier and it was not a war poem. A graduate from Columbia university in 1908, Kilmer held various journalistic jobs before joining the staff of the New York Times in 1913. In that year Harriet Monroe's Poetry. A Magazine of Verse printed the poem which was to make Kilmer famous. It was

TREES

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree;

A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast,

A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair,

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Kilmer was paid $7 for this poem—a few years ago the manuscript of it was sold for $600. At the outbreak of the World war Kilmer was more sympathetic to the German side than that of the Allies because the former was more unpopular in this country. But he quickly changed after the sinking of the Lusitania and he wrote a poem about this event which was widely reprinted in both America and Europe. Called "The White Ships and the Red," it portrayed the arrival of a new ship among the ghostly hulks of the thousands of vessels that lie on the floor of the sea—only this ship, the Lusitania, was not white but red with blood.

Joining the legion of the lost, the Lusitania declares:

My wrong cries out for vengeance,
The blow that sent me here
Was aimed in hell. My dying scream
Has reached Jehovah's ear.
Not all the seven oceans
Shall wash away that stain:
Upon a brow that wears a crown
I am the brand of Cain.

Soon after America entered the war, Kilmer, although married and the father of three children, enlisted in a famous New York regiment—the "Fighting Sixty-ninth." He became a sergeant and although he had opportunities for promotion, he turned them down because they would have involved leaving his regiment for training elsewhere. "I'd rather be a sergeant in the Sixty-ninth than a lieutenant in any other regiment in the world," he wrote a friend.

And it was as a sergeant in the Sixty-ninth that he died—on July 30, 1918, during the five-days' fighting for the heights near the Ourcq river. He had volunteered his services to the major of the battalion leading the advance because his own battalion was not in the lead. Having discovered a German machine gun nest in the woods ahead, he was sent with a patrol to determine its exact location. Two hours later, when the rest of the battalion advanced into the woods, they found Kilmer lying, bent over a ridge, as if still scouting. When they turned him over they found that he was dead. He was buried near the spot where he fell beside his lieutenant who was also killed.

BALLAD OF BARDS AND ACES.

I wonder in what star-flowered nook
Young Alan Seeger sings his song—
In what Elysium Rupert Brooke
Breathes forth his music all day long.
For from a world that fights with Wrong
Does Byron dream of Freedom's sway,
And Keats and Shelley join the throng;
Where sings each bard of yesterday?

Say, where does brave Resnati soar
Above the haunts of earthly men;
Or where, beyond the cannon's roar,
Great Guynemer rides forth again?
Does Lufbery sweep some heavenly glen
Like Phaeton of ancient day,
And Vernon Castle meet them then,
Where flies each ace of yesterday?
—John M. McGough in the New York Times.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

United Features WNU Service

Washington, D. C.

WRITER'S FEUD

I think there is a new voice among political commentators in our country. It has not been silent in other fields Clare Boothe has made herself felt importantly in drama, literature and as a publicist. Only in her indignation about the war hysteria of recent political outbursts has she taken to the hustings.. She hasn't just taken to them. She has them.

Gen. Hugh Johnson

Her book, "Europe in Spring," is the most revealing on the fall of France. It wasn't political. It was poignant, but the terrible experiences from which it was derived didn't suggest to the poised Miss Boothe that she drag her own country unnecessarily into that bloody shambles. When she got back to this country, to find that another foremost American woman writer of great heart and mind, Miss Dorothy Thompson, had completely blown up emotionally, Miss Boothe began analyzing psychology

She showed from her correspondence in France that Miss Thompson had actually wangled permission from a French artillery battery to fire three shells at the Germans.

* * *

Miss Boothe was indignant. By all the laws of war, Miss Thompson was a non-belligerent, an American, a sniper in uniform—perfectly protected against reprisal. If any one was killed, it was murder, no less —such a deed as the intellectual Dorothy would never dream of in her normal mind.

That aroused Miss Boothe to make one of the most effective speeches yet delivered on our war hysteria. With no personal feeling whatever, she used this incident as an example of the mass madness into which we are being whipped.

* * *

ELLIOTT 'RESIGNATION'

As this column said, in criticizing Elliott Roosevelt's appointment, it is inconceivable to me that Elliott gave a thought to its destructive implications. Elliott resigned in order to register for the draft, giving as his reason the injurious effect of his appointment on the selective service program In my opinion, that was a courageous and proper thing to do. It is harder to acknowledge an attempt to retrieve an error than it is to bull it through.

But it is much manlier and, in this case, more patriotic. I believe that the resignation was in good faith and that it relieves Elliott from any criticism except his original misinformed judgment.

Not so much can be said of General Echols' "refusal to accept" the resignation.

As a matter of law, Echols has no more to do with that than I have. A resignation goes to the appointing authority, who alone can accept or reject it. That authority is the President, here represented by the war department, not Echols.

The success of the draft depends absolutely on popular confidence in its administration. In this respect it differs from any other department of the war effort.

Experience has proved over and over again that you can't get away with conscription in an Anglo-Saxon country without an almost religious popular and patriotic faith and zeal.

I believe more blame is due to regular air corps officers in not properly advising Elliott in the first instance than to Elliott himself. That blame still continues in General Echols' rejection of the resignation "on my own responsibility." He has no responsibility. This rejection is pure bunk. It will fool nobody.

If these regular officers had a purpose either to serve or please the President in the original appointment or in this false move, they are doing the reverse of both.

* * *

Washington Highlights:

"Price chiseling" on materials for the defense program is under a broad investigation at the present time, according to word from Chairman Burton K. Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) of a senate interstate commerce subcommittee. The committee is co-operating with the national defense commission and the department of justice. The investigators would scrutinize the entire price field carefully and also check into the reasons for industrial bottlenecks that might eventually hamper the defense program.

Senator Wheeler says that there "isn't going to be any witch hunt though, and nobody who is co-operating need be afraid of it."

* * *

Renewed efforts to bolster America's defenses in the Far East were revealed by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox recently. He stated that the army has ordered substantial reinforcements, including two airplane pursuit squadrons, to the Philippine islands.

Meanwhile, preparations have been made to start work on the United States military base at Newfoundland. The base will be located somewhere on the southern coast, but its actual position will remain a military secret.

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

New York Newsboy:

When Irene Kuhn, who has covered everything from fires to murders, began her exciting career, a wise newspaperman gave her this counsel. "Get around town—find out what people are talking about. Give your readers a little daily jolt on something they are gabbing about at home, perhaps, and can gab about some more. Controversial stuff—so they can argue. The big idea is this: Make half of them happy and half of them sore."

Newspaper men and free-lance writers have a tough struggle to make a living. The pen may be mightier than the sword, but hunger is mightier than both. The best description of a scribbler's plight came from a soap king named Lord Leverhume—when he gave a job to an unlucky novelist. "I don't think you will regret going into business," said Leverhume, "literature is a very nice ornamental walking stick, but it's a poor crutch."

He was one of Marshal Foch's assistants in the first World War, and was presented with the Croix de Guerre with 13 palms when it ended In the second World War he was the only plane manufacturer who thought more of his country than of profits and he did his best to aid the cause of France . . . He was out of the country on a Government mission when the Battle of France came to its tragic end . . . He refused to take advantage of the opportunity to flee to the United States . . . Instead, he returned to France —where he was promptly jailed . . . The charge: Trying to escape . . . His friends are trying to aid his cause, but Justice is looking the other way these days. His name: Paul L. Weiller.

Typewriter Ribbons: Cosmo Hamilton's: He shut himself into his room to work until the fingers of dawn turned up the veil of night . . . D. Boone's: There was a time when Maine was thought to be the pulse of the nation, but there have been indications during the last couple of elections that it is just a hardened artery.

The Village News-Press
(Prop. and Editor, W. Winchell)

Ye ed just read in John McManus' piece about Johannes Steel getting off a pretty good saying, "The Vichy-washy French government." By heck, that's taking the words right out of ye ed's desk.

What the City Slickers Are Talking About: How George Abbott and Marcy Wescott, who once were smitten, hardly talk now, mostly because of a part in his new show "The White Haired Boy" Samson Rapaelson's new play about New York drama critics. Seems that Sam is going to make a composite character about the sinful goings-on between an actress and a critic who is a married man My goodness . . . Betsy Berkeley of Billy Rose's girl-factory, and Bill Kelly, the cameraman, who flew down to Washington to become cameraman and wife . . . Bob Ritchie and his writer, Fred Finklehoffe, almost coming to blows over the casting of their new play "Hiya—Gentlemen" . . . The new baby girl over at Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grafton's house, who has been named Abigail Alice . . . The one about the Nazi spy over here who just got fired by Mr. Goebbels because he was sending inaccurate information he pilfered out of New York colyums.

Old Guth McClintic won't have any truck with the Fifth Columnists in our midst. Guth has a sign posted on his office door where he hires showfolks. It says: "No Communists or Nazis Need Apply, Only Folks Who Are Loyal Americans." That's tellin' 'em!

The Village News-Press hears about a lot of famous draft dodgers who are using pull to get jobs in the Sikorsky plant.

Ye ed was criticized recently for suggesting that school children stop saluting Our Flag with the outstretched arm like the Nazis do. Seems as how the school board considered it a good idea, however, according to the stories in the papers. They ordered pupils to salute the way the soldiers and sailors do—fingers to their temples when the Flag passes by.

Miss Zorina, the actress, has left the bed and board of Mr. Balanchine, her husband, by moving into the Ritz Towers hotel.

Joe Kennedy, our ambassador to London, isn't at odds with our President. Joe will resign and become chairman of the defense commission. This ought to set at rest the talk that Joe and F. D. R. have fallen out.

By the bye, ye ed is to be exposed again in a book soon. The writer is a banker we writ up recently as being a big bum. This is to tell all our subscribers anytime they read or hear anything about us it is most likely true.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

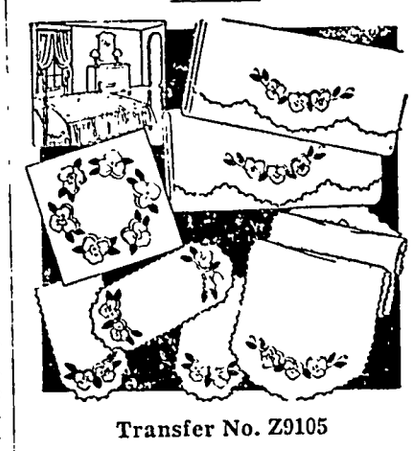
STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

REPAIRS For Your STOVE FURNACE or BOILER
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All Makes
Have Your Dealer Order from Us
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COMPANY

SALESMEN WANTED

SALESMEN WANTED in Iowa to sell low cost monthly payment Accident and Health insurance Liberal comm American Republic Ins. Co., Walnut Bldg., Des Moines.

Bedroom Ensemble of Appliqued Pansies



Transfer No. Z9105

A NEW note is attained in this captivating pansy bedroom ensemble. For, besides the usual scarf, vanity and pillow slip motifs, there is a circle of pansies just right for a quilt block.

Yellows or lavenders, of course, would be most suggestive of real pansies, but any pastel to harmonize with your bedroom could be used. The illustration indicates be used. Use applique or embroidery.

* * *

Briefly—from this one transfer, Z9105, 15c, you can make a complete group of linens for the bedroom—and a lovely matching spread. Send order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

INDIGESTION
may affect the Heart

Gas trapped in the stomach or gullet may act like a hair-trigger on the heart. At the first sign of distress smart men and women depend on Bell-ans Tablets to set gas free. No laxative but made of the fastest-acting medicines known for acid indigestion. If the FIRST DOSE doesn't prove Bell-ans better, return bottle to us and receive DOUBLE Money Back. 25c.

Lasting Pleasure

No entertainment is so cheap as reading, nor any pleasure so lasting.—Lady M. W. Montague.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

As You Walk

Religion lies more in walk than in talk.

THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

SPECIAL BARGAINS

WHEN you see the specials of our merchants announced in the columns of this paper you can depend on them. They mean bargains for you.

● They are offered by merchants who are not afraid to announce their prices or the quality of the merchandise they offer.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

4-H FUN NIGHT TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 23rd

Annual Program Is Planned In Garner High School Gymnasium

An annual 4-H Fun night program will be held at the Garner high school gymnasium Saturday evening, Nov. 23, it was announced Friday by Hancock County Agent T. C. Petersen.

4 H boys and girls of the county and their parents and friends will attend the event. There will be contests and games followed by serving of refreshments. Honors won by 4-H boys and girls the past year will be awarded.

On the Fun Night committee are Mr. Petersen; Club Agent Paul Henderson; Miss Ruth A. Willits, home demonstration agent; Mrs. D E. Keat, county chairman of 4 H girls work; Miss Lucille Anderson of Woden; Mrs. Richard Schubert of Britt; Mrs. L. F. Weaver, county home project club chairman and Wiley Weaver.

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
•
RUSSELL
• PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

Avery
"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 13-14.
"Dr. Kildare Goes Home"
with Lionel Barrymore and Lew Ayres.
Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 15-16. (Double Feature)
"Mystery Sea Raiders" with Henry Wilcoxon and Carole Landis.
ALSO
"Leather Pushers"
with Richard Arlen and Andy Devine.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 17-18-19.
"STRIKE UP THE BAND"
with Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland and Paul Whiteman and his orchestra.

Ink Spots And Spatters

By Jergie

IOWA WILL CELEBRATE THANKSGIVING DAY, NOV. 28.

Despite President Roosevelt's proclamation that Thanksgiving will be observed on Thursday, November 21st, the State of Iowa, along with fifteen other states will stick to the good old rule and will eat turkey on the last Thursday of November. Iowa may be old-fashioned, but we still believe in the old tradition of sticking to historic dates. November 28 is still Thanksgiving Day in Ioway!

Governors in thirty-two other states have proclaimed November 21 as Thanksgiving Day . . . . . those who have an extra hankering for white meat can celebrate both dates if they wish.

I-S-A-S

BARZ FARM HAS HITCH-HIKING CHICKENS . . . .

A couple of weeks ago Evert Barz came to town in the evening in his dad's car and when he had parked against the curb, his attention was directed to a chicken roosting on the front bumper. Evert immediately backed up the car and headed for home . . . and the hitch-hiking chicken was safely deposited in the Henry Barz chicken house east of Klemme!

As a matter of precaution, Evert now takes a stroll around the car before starting out to keep off unwanted hitch-hikers from the barnyard!

I-S-A-S

ELL TOWNSHIP LEAD THE PARADE IN PERCENTAGE OF GOP VOTES . . . .

Ell Township, Hancock County, State of Iowa, lead the parade of Republican voters in the recent general election in the percentage of votes cast for Wendell Willkie and Governor George A. Wilson!

In breaking down the tabulated election results, this writer found that each precinct in Hancock County carried by Roosevelt, was also carried by John Valentine, for Governor on the Democratic ticket, with the exception of one township, Erin, which went for Roosevelt but was lost by Valentine

On the Roosevelt-Valentine side of the ledger we find Ellington, Madison, Crystal, Boone, Magor, Amsterdam and Twin Lake.

The Willkie-Wilson precincts included Bingham Orthel, Britt, Concord, Ell, Liberty, Corwith Precinct and Avery.

And here is the way the parade lines up in percentage for Willkie and the GOP:

For Willkie

Ell Township	65%
Concord Township	61%
Britt Township	54%
Liberty Township	55%
Avery Township	52%

The other townships which Willkie and Wilson carried were just above the 50% mark.

The election was close in Hancock County and Willkie barely nosed out Roosevelt, 3632 to 3513. Wilson for Governor polled 3626 votes against Valentine's 3313 . . . to keep Hancock in the GOP column.

Another side-light on the general election was the fact that the Republican Women's club of Ell Township turned out 100 per cent to cast their vote at the polls.

I-S-A-S

FIRST KILLING FROST IN NORTH IOWA, NOV. 7 . . .

Remember way back in August when we all predicted an early frost and were even then fearful of a freeze most any night? Which all goes to show it does not pay to worry.

North Iowa had a couple of light frosts that barely tinted the leaves on the more tender trees, but it was not until Thursday night, November 7th that a really hard, killing frost hit North Iowa. Even that failed to kill some of the flowers and more hardy vegetables. Even in Sunday's rain and chill there were many flowers in bloom in Klemme gardens.

North Iowa had one of the finest seasons of fall weather in the remembrance of many old timers and the ideal weather was not spoiled until Monday when a good old-fashioned blizzard and near zero weather came in with furry from the northwest.

Around Iowa

Wasps.

The young people of the Glenwood Baptist church were having a very enoyable time until Darrel Powers stirred up a wasps nest. Darrel was stung seven times on the leg.

-oOo-

Football.

Mrs. Robert Steele, 76, Montezuma, recently watched her first two football games this year.

-oOo-

Put Out.

Ben Fridholm, Madrid, believes that it is best to wear a raincoat to extinguish even a small fire. Last week as he was attempting to put out a fire on the cushion of a truck with a fire extinguisher, another local "firefighter" ran up with a bucket of water and doused it on the blaze -- and Ben. The blaze was put out. So was Ben.

-oOo-

School.

The "teach-a-phone" system installed in the Eagle Grove schools enables Clifford Orr, 9, to "attend school" even though he is confined to his bed with infantile paralysis. The apparatus consists of two small cabinets resembling radios, one in the school room and another at Clifford's bedside.

-oOo-

Injured.

A home-made gun was the cause of serious injury to John Harms. Primgbar, when it exploded. A piece of gas pipe formed the barrel of the gun and a saw handle made up the stock.

-oOo-

Making Money.

For the huge sum of 50 cents, a young fellow found himself the owner of a dark suit of clothes. which he preferred to a grey one, purchased at a church rumage sale in Waverly recently. Later, he returned and wanted to buy the grey suit, but it had been sold. The disappointed young man went on his way exclaiming, "I hurried to get back here in time, I took the other suit to Charles City and sold it for $5. I could have sold the grey one for $8."

-oOo-

Resident.

Mrs. Mel Stewart recently observed her 81st birthday in Beaman, Grundy county. Mrs. Stewart is believed to have resided in Grundy county longer than any other person now living.

-oOo-

Burned.

John Hyatt and Ivan Brown, Spirit Lake, were badly burned when a car, on which the were working, backfired.

Eastern Star Meets

The Eastern Star will meet Friday evening, November 15th at the Chapter room m Garner when degree work will be put on. Klemme ladies are hostesses for this meeting to which a number of neighboring Chapters have been invited.

Mrs. Laura Lenz, Iowa Grand Worthy Matron, of Mason City, will be present and will be presented.

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF THE RIGHT OF REDEMPTION FROM TAX SALE

TO: THEODORE ROGNESS AND MRS THEODORE ROGNESS PARTIES IN POSSESSION, KNUD LARSON AND MRS. KNUD LARSON; ADMINISTRATORS OF THE ESTATE OF KNUD LARSON DECEASED; ALL HEIRS, BENEFICIARIES OR DEVISES OR LEGATEES OF KNUD LARSON, DECEASED; AND TO ALL PARTIES CLAIMING ANY RIGHT, TITLE OR INTEREST IN THE REAL ESTATE HEREINAFTER DESCRIBED:

You and each of you are hereby notified that the following described real estate, situated in Hancock County, Iowa, to-wit:

South One-half (S½) of Northwest Quarter (NW¼ of Section 14, Township 97 North, Range 23, West of the 5th P. M. was sold for taxes of 1936, on the sixth day of December, 1937, to T. C. Rogness; that the certificate of sale thereof has been assigned and is now owned by Wm. Boyken, and that the right of redemption will expire and a Treasurer's Deed for said land will be issued. unless redemption from such sale is made within Ninety (90) days from the completed service of this notice.

Take notice and govern yourselves accordingly.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1940.

WM. BOYKEN
Owner of Tax Certificate
N13-3tp

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL

Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:
Church School 10:00 a. m.
Worship 11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor 7:00 p. m.
Forum Clinic 8:00 p. m.
Recreation 9:00 p. m.
Wednesday:
Bible Study 8:00 p. m.
Thursday;
Choir Practice 8:00 p. m.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10.00 a. m. English Service.
11·00 a. m Sunday School.
8·00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
8.00 p. m. Thursday
Mixed Chorus.
Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League at 7·00 p. m.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—CORN BELT CORN Picker in good working condition, 3 years old, runs good. Fred J. Arnold. N-13tfc

FOR SALE—DAVENPORT IN Fair Condition. Call Times Office for name of owner. 1tc

FOR SALE—USED MODEL A Coach, in good running condition. Wellemeyer tfc.

FOR SALE—SPOTTED BOARS and one Shorthorn Bull. A. S. Harris. N6-27pd

FOR SALE—NEW IDEA MANure Spreader. This machine needs no repairs, six years old Fred J. Arnold N-13tfc

FOR SALE—COAL BURNING Parlor Heater, circulating type. In good condition and cheap. Klemme Co-Operative Grain Co. O-16tc.

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5 00. Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

WANTS

WANTED—HIRED GIRL. Mrs Quentin Stille. N-13tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

Falling Timbers.

Earl Wamsley, Clarinda, received a severe head wound when a huge beam of native lumber fell on him. The beam was stored in the blacksmith shop where he was working and was evidently loosened by vibration.

Champion.

Mrs. Earl Wyman, Maloy, letting anyone get her re the champion corn husker, third consecutive time. Mrs man has won first honor contest this year was held Blockton.

SO YOU'VE TAKEN TO WEARING STRAIGHT-JACKETS!

• Well, we must admit it's the fanciest one we've seen. What! That's a shirt? Pardon us. We've sold thousands of shirts in our day, but never . . . oh, why go on?

Come here and let us show you a real shirt. TruVal. Guaranteed not to shrink below the marked size . . . made with the Fairflex collar that requires no starch, yet is always neat and unwrinkled, and made of quality cloth. Laundry-tested by the American Institute of Laundering, TruVal's a shirt that looks much more expensive than it really is.

TruVal SHIRTS 1.35

Gildner - Paulson
Clothing & Shoes
GARNER, IOW

THANK YOU!

I appreciate your vote a support at the General El tion.

It is my aim to serve you the best of my ability your Representative

W. S. Pritchar

THANK YOU...

I thank you most heartily for your splendid support in th General Election.

I assure you that I will always do my best to serve yo in an efficient and courteous manner.

Penn Eckels
SUPERVISOR

The Greatest
ELECTRIC RANGE VALUE
In 30 Years of
HOTPOINT HISTORY
THE NEW
Hotpoint
ELECTRIC RANGE
with Measured Heat
Extra Value FEATURES at No Extra Cost!
• All-Porcelain finish, inside and out. Easy to clean.
• 3 Large Utility Drawers for pots and pans.
• All Purpose Oven with 5 Measured Heats.
• 3 New Calrod Surface Cooking Units (each with 5 Measured Heats).
• New 6-Quart Thrift Cooker with Flavor-Seal Lid.
• CLEAN as electric light.
ONLY $129.95
Not Including Timer
F. O. B. CHICAGO
The President
ELECTRIC RANGE

Gift! End menu cares with this remarkable new Hotpoint Menu-Maker

ACTUALLY plans your meals. Contains 32 balanced menu suggestions. Quick and easy to use.

LADIES: Tear out this ad, bring it to our store today, and get your Menu-Maker as a GIFT

New CALROD Units Cook with Measured Heat

EACH unit provides 5 precisely Measured Heats. Cooks faster or slower, as needed, but always economically. Coils are self-cleaning. New quickly removable reflector can be cleaned like a pie tin.

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY

DANCE Sat. Night Nov. 16

Klemme Legion Community Hall

Bob Black and His Orchestra

Adm. 44c - 33c Tax Included

...RE
...Y YOUR CAR

SEE
Symphonic Styling

Brilliant new design . . . and, for the first time in low priced cars, a wide choice of interior color combinations that harmonize with exterior colors . . . AT NO EXTRA COST! And along with the year's big new style idea, enjoy the wholly different riding smoothness . . . the brilliant performance . . . that only Hudson owners know.

DRIVE
America's Safest Car

The only car with Patented Double-Safe Hydraulic Brakes. If hydraulics should ever fail (as they can in any car through leakage due to accident or service neglect), just push down farther on the same foot pedal . . . and stop! Just one of Hudson's many exclusive safety features! Forget the clutch pedal, too, with Hudson's Vacumotive Drive, only $27.50 extra, installed at factory.

...CES START AMONG AMERICA'S LOWEST
...HUDSON
...N SIX • SUPER-SIX • COMMODORE SERIES (SIXES AND EIGHTS)

...emme Auto Company

...E MUST SELL OUR
...d CARS and TRUCKS

...matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find ... or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. ...argains in late models You take no chances when you ...h us. Come in and look them over.

Garner Motor Sales
...OBILE CHEVROLET

THADA'S
...ood Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

...CIALS FOR FRIDAY & SATURDAY

...ES, Broad ...um ...gs, 2 for 25c
OATMEAL, Banner Quick or Regular Per pkg. 19c

...et Corn Whole Kernel or Cream Style No. 2 Cans 2 for 19c

...S, Dried, ... for 19c
RICE 4½ lbs for 19c

... & Beans 1 lb. cans 6 for 25c

...rries - Boysenberries ..., No. 2 cans for 29c
PINEAPPLE, Crushed, Buffet size 3 cans for 25c

...S Large and Tender No. 2 Cans 2 cans for... 19c

... Del Monte, ... for 31c
SAUCE, Beefsteak 8 oz. bottle 14c

...ley's Syrup ½ Gallon Cans
...lden 27c
...hite 29c
...affle 33c
SAUER-KRAUT Jack Sprat Qt. can, 2 for 25c
JELLO, Butternut 6 boxes for 25c

...all and Winter Dress Material
...SING OUT all new Fall and Winter Dress Materials. ...o 4 yard lengths, regular $1.98 values; SPECIAL FOR $1.49

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor ..... Irene Booker
Ass't. Editor ..... Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman ..... Eunice Larsen
Sophomore ..... Audrey Mau
Junior ..... Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior ..... Shirley Johnson
Dramatics ..... Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music ..... Jacqueline Kudje
Sports ..... Henry Kaduce
..... Leonard Kaduce
Grade News ..... Arlene Schmidt

WEEK'S MORAL Better suffe... defeat than have cause to be ...shamed of victory.

POLITICS
Author Unknown

Now that the bets are paid, things are starting to quiet down since the election At first it was a hard lump to swallow for the Republicans, but we stuck out our chins and took it with a smile So let's forget our party differences until 1944 and start to pull together for AMERICA and the KLEMME SHAMROCKS.

DRAMATICS

Bruce has hopes that he will not keep the nickname "STINKY" any longer than November 15th

There's more truth than fiction in this one "Curt Melton and Elwood Dodge having the same romantic ideas about Loretta Blair"

P S. I wonder who will win out? We know who does in real life

MUSIC

The mixed chorus sang for the morning worship service of the Reformed church Sunday morning

The band gave a fine performance at the Armistice Day program Monday morning They led in the community singing of "God Bless America" and other patriotic songs.

We have had several of the band instruments repaired This aids in the improvement of the tone quality of the band

SPORTS

Thirty-two boys have been working out for the past four weeks. The squad has been reduced to eighteen boys, so there will be more concentrated practice for the boys who will be selected

The Jamboree will be held Wednesday, November 20th at the Klemme gymnasium It will consist of the northern teams versus the southern teams. This will include Woden versus Goodell, Hayfield versus Kanawha, and Klemme versus Crystal Lake.

One of the main features of the Jamboree will be the Klemme faculty versus the faculty stars of other teams.

Klemme will play their first game in Ventura's new gymnasium on November 22. This game will follow that of the Plymouth girls and Ventura girls game.

WHO'S WHO IN THE JUNIOR CLASS

BRUCE ARNOLD Bruce is the president of the Junior class. In 1939 he represented Klemme at the "Brain Derby" held at Iowa City for high school students. There's one Junior girl that has a secret crush on him. Anyone wanting to know who it is inquire at the typing room on newspaper day, Friday, from 2 00 to 3 30

ELLEN KILGORE· Ellen has been ill for two weeks now, so it's rather difficult to write any current news about her. Ellen is an alto singer and not a bad one at that She also plays clarinet. Take it from one who knows the traffic is pretty thick around her place on Sunday nights.

LUELLA THIEMAN· Luella is a very good student in geometry. It's either her brains or the side of the room she sits on. Luella sings alto in the mixed chorus Boy. does she like her driver!!!! I guess we'll have to start having an information booth in school to keep everyone posted on the latest romances.

SENIOR NEWS

I bet those Senior home ec. girls make Mr. Bowles mad with their peanut showers.·

Mr. Kingery is even starting to use "pet" names for the girls in economics class.

The entire high school voted Tuesday. We had sample ballots obtained from the county auditor by Mr. Kingery.

The students in English literature will take turns leading class discussions on Tuesdays.

We have it from good authority that the bus isn't very crowded on Sunday nights, but that just makes it nice for some people.

I bet there's more than one person glad Mr Onerheim got a new car It does save shoe leather, but it takes gas.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

Who is the blond, blue-eyed freshman that thrills Freddie so by her letters to him?

The Juniors regret deeply the two-day school vacation which was enjoyed by everyone last week

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

In algebra this week we had a test on signed numbers.

In English we were assigned some written work on the "Almanac and Reader's Guide"

Tuesday in history class we voted by ballot for the Democrat and Republican Parties.

In biology we are studying about the simple vertebrate, the fish We had a test on this chapter Tuesday Monday we had a debate on the Democrat and Republican parties.

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

Evidently the freshmen didn't sway the country as to whom they should vote for.

Some tests this week! And who was it that composed this little verse?

I did not study,
My mind was blank,
I saw the test,
My heart sank.
The test came back,
My back was low,
I could have cried,
It hurt me so.
I say to you,
Who give these marks,
Go to the 5 & 10,
And buy new hearts.
We wish those teachers' conventions would come oftener.

"Next year," said one of the freshman boys, "I'll not soap windows on any other night than Hallowe'en It doesn't pay."

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

This week Miss Merritt has been absent because of illness. Mrs. Earl Schaeffer has been our teacher.

In history, we are studying the War of Independence.

If you want some clowns, apply at this room any week day.

Ruth, LaVonne and Ewald had a perfect score in spelling.

Patty Kudje was reporter this week.

GRADES 5 & 6

The sixth grade made a rating of seven on their third arithmetic self-testing drill. Roger Ridder and Phylus got star ratings.

We voted for President Tuesday afternoon. Willkie led nineteen to eight.

Esther, Delores, Velma, Ruth Smith, Donna, Dean and Ruth Stokesbary had perfect spelling scores.

There was a teacher's meeting at Des Moines on Thursday and Friday We had a vacation on those two days.

Ruth Stokesbary was our reporter.

GRADES 3 & 4

We have started a new class hobby, collecting postmarks. We have postmarks from eleven states and twenty-one towns in Iowa.

In art we made Indian necklaces from pumpkin seeds and bright pieces of paper.

Isabelle brought flower plants for our room.

Roporters for this week were Richard and Merlin.

We had 100 per cent in spelling: Isabelle, Marjorie, Iris, Phyllis Stokesbary, Dorance and Luella.

KINDERGARTEN GRADES 1 & 2

Sharon brought a pepper plant to school. It is very pretty.

During our science lesson this week Sondra read a story to us about "How A Plant Grows." We then planted corn, peas and bean seeds in glasses. We are going to watch the plants grow and see if the root or the stem starts to grow first.

We dramatized two stories this week. They were the "Three Little Pigs" and "Little Black Sambo."

COURT CASES FILED FOR NOVEMBER TERM

Irvin F. Bier vs. Clara Avery Bier Divorce, petition filed 9-14-40.

State Board of Social Welfare vs. Mrs. James Turner, et al, Foreclosure on certain town property, petition filed 9-17-40.

Frank W. Senneff vs. Mrs. Ole Jordanger, Judgment for legal service account, petition filed 10-17-40.

Universal Finance Corp. vs. Henry F. Sporaa, et al, Writ of replevin to repossess automobile, petition filed 10-21-40.

Julia Johnson, et al, vs. Lewis Halverson, et al, Partition action to sell certain real estate petition filed 10-29-40.

T B. Gardner vs. LeMars Mutual Ins. Ass'n., Asks correction on insurance policy and payment of loans, petition filed 11-2-40.

B. Raymond Weston vs Leo Sankey, et al Judgment on medical account, petition filed 11-5-40.

Anna Pals vs Lambert Barkema Automobile accident damage, petition filed 11-5-40

Gloria Fekkers, by her next friend vs. Lambert Barkema. Automobile accident damage suit, petition filed 11-5-40.

Roger Fekkers, by his next friend vs. Lambert Barkema. Auto accident damage suit, petition filed 11-5-40.

Engle Fekkers vs. Lambert Barkema. Auto accident damage suit, petition filed 11-5-40.

Marion Traas vs. Western Assurance Co. Judgment for loss and damage covered by insurance policy. Petition filed 11-6-40.

Prudential Ins. Co vs. J. B. Riekena, et al. Quiet title action, petition filed 11-7-40.

Edward Capesius vs. Chris Gronbach. Promissary note, petition filed 11-7-40.

Chas. F. Fenninger vs. Hancock Co. Ruarl Electric Co-Op. et al. Property damage judgment, petition filed 11-7-40.

R. R. Hibbs, Grand Keeper Records, etc, vs. Frank L. Hayes. Judgment on school loan, petition filed 11-7-40.

Century.

The Marion Methodist church celebrated its 100th anniversary recently. ,

Klemme Reformed Choir On KGLO

The Choir of the Klemme Reformed Church will broadcast a concert over KGLO beginning at 4:00 p. m. Sunday, November 17th.

Surprise Party Held For Recent Bride

A number of neighbors and friends staged a miscellaneous shower on Mrs. John Clements at the W. F. Pavey home Friday afternoon.

The ladies presented Mrs. Clements with a variety of gifts and the afternoon was spent in playing games after which a nice lunch was served.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Henry M. Wasem and Esther L., wf To A. C. Christenson, Wty Deed 10-9-40, $1. E½ NE¼ 8 97 25.

Emil C. and Nellie Nelson To Paul R. Wolford, Q C Deed, 11-4-40, $1. Lot 4, Blk 8, Orig. town of Britt deed made for correction.

Lizzie Enabit, widow To Verner Hamilton, Wty Deed, 10-30-40, $1. Lot 4, Blk 20, Tallman's Add. to Garner.

DOUBLE FOUR BRIDGE CLUB MET

The Double Four bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Don Christiance last Friday afternoon. Bridge was played at two tables. Mrs Sumner Trumbull won high prize, while Mrs. Ed Buntenbach won second high. A nice lunch was served.

STITCH AND CHATTER CLUB

The Stitch and Chatter club met at the home of Mrs. P. W. Johnson last Thursday afternoon where a group of ladies enjoyed the afternoon sewing and visiting. Lunch was served by the hostess.

EYES EXAMINED
GLASSES FITTED
Dr. Frank L. Knutson
CLEAR LAKE
• Our Prices Are Lower •

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

THE JUNIOR CLASS OF KLEMME HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTS

"Hooray For Youth"

—A Comedy In Three Acts—
Under The Direction of Claudia Michalek

Klemme H. S. Auditorium

Thursday, November 14, 1940

8:00 P. M.

—CAST OF CHARACTERS—
(In Order Of Appearance)

Aunt Effie, a spinster lady		Betty Lass
Curt Melton, a young business man		Robert Schulz
Hattie, a maid of all work		Shirley Johnson
Austin Madison Blair, Junior (Sonny)		Garland Brinkman
Austin Madison Blair, Senior		Billy Zabilka
Gracie Blair, Sonny's nine-year old sister		Phyllis Swanson
Dot Blair, fifteen, another sister		Lucille Hartbeck
Loretta Blair, eighteen, their older sister		Lorraine Buntenbach
Rhoda Campbell, Loretta's friend		Luella Thiemann
Elwood Dodge, a very young lawyer		Melvin Coobs
Nancy Turner	friends of Sonny and Dot	Maxine Mau
Gerald Turner (Butch)		Aaron Wille
Oscar Schultz (Ossie)		Charles Bock
Trowbridge Peters (Stinky)		Bruce Arnold
Marge Wilson		Betty Etchen
Kewpie Stark		Arlene Buseman
Viola Price, a young bookkeeper		Arlene Schmidt

Synopsis of Acts

The action of the entire play takes place in the living room of the Blair home, located in the small city of Harrisville, Ohio.

Act I - Late in the morning of an early summer day in the present year.

Act II - Several days later, Saturday. Late afternoon.

Act III -
Scene 1. That evening.
Scene 2. Late that night.

Produced by special arrangement with Samuel French Furniture through courtesy of Wellemeyer's

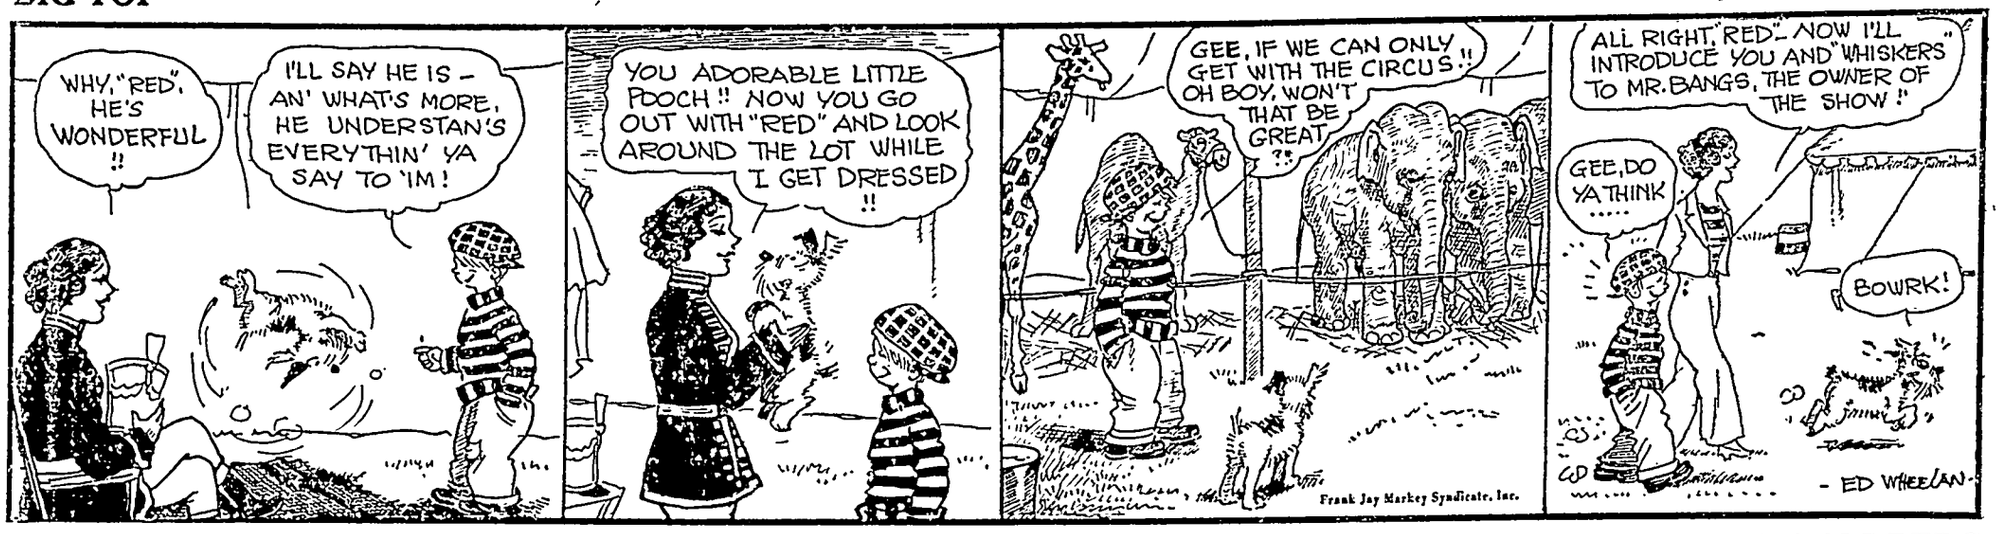
Admission 15c and 25c

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

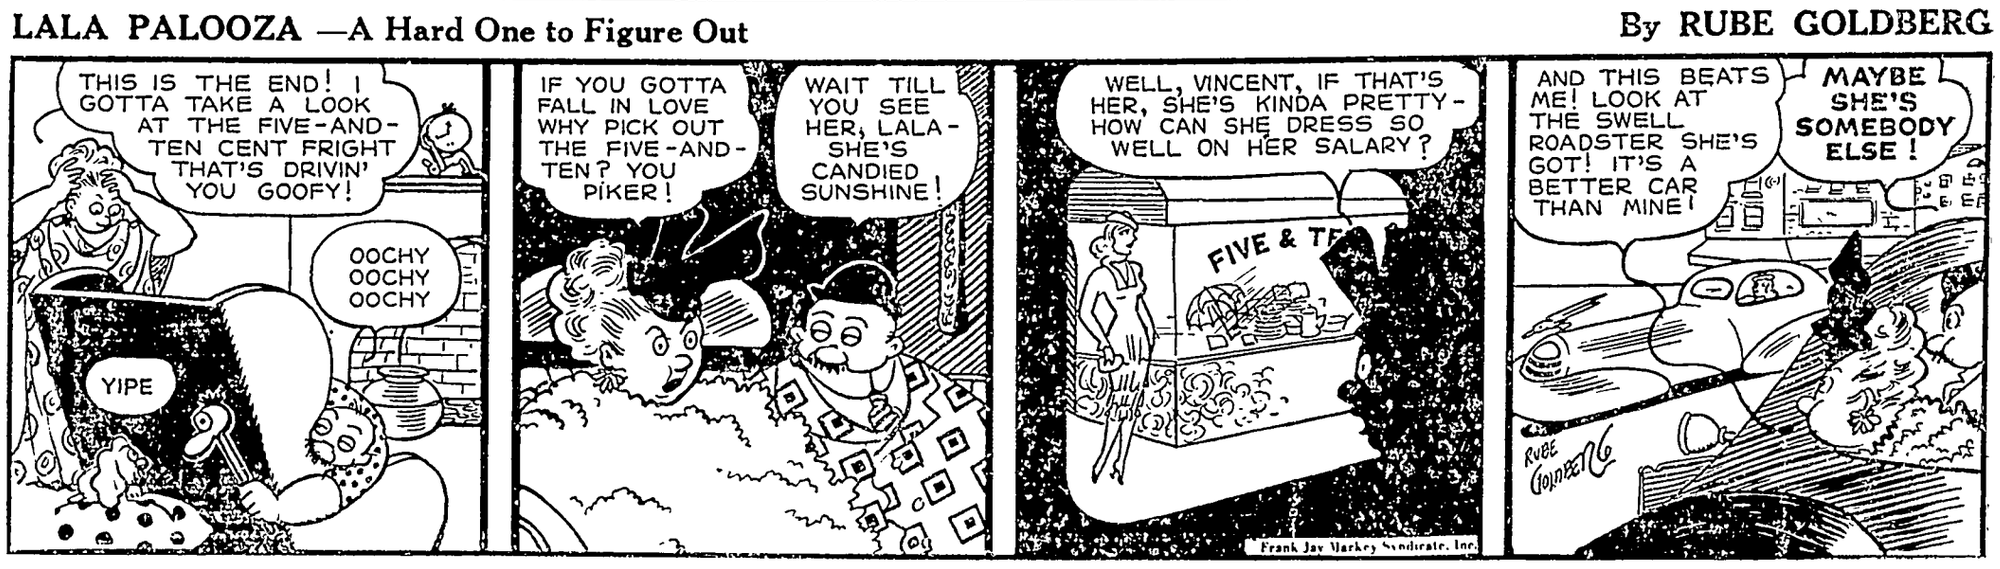
By ED WHEELAN



WHY, "RED", HE'S WONDERFUL !!
I'LL SAY HE IS — AN' WHAT'S MORE, HE UNDERSTAN'S EVERYTHIN' YA SAY TO 'IM!
YOU ADORABLE LITTLE POOCH !! NOW YOU GO OUT WITH "RED" AND LOOK AROUND THE LOT WHILE I GET DRESSED !!
GEE, IF WE CAN ONLY GET WITH THE CIRCUS !! OH BOY, WON'T THAT BE GREAT ??
ALL RIGHT, "RED" — NOW I'LL INTRODUCE YOU AND "WHISKERS" TO MR. BANGS, THE OWNER OF THE SHOW !
GEE, DO YA THINK .....
BOWRK!
- ED WHEELAN
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

LALA PALOOZA —A Hard One to Figure Out

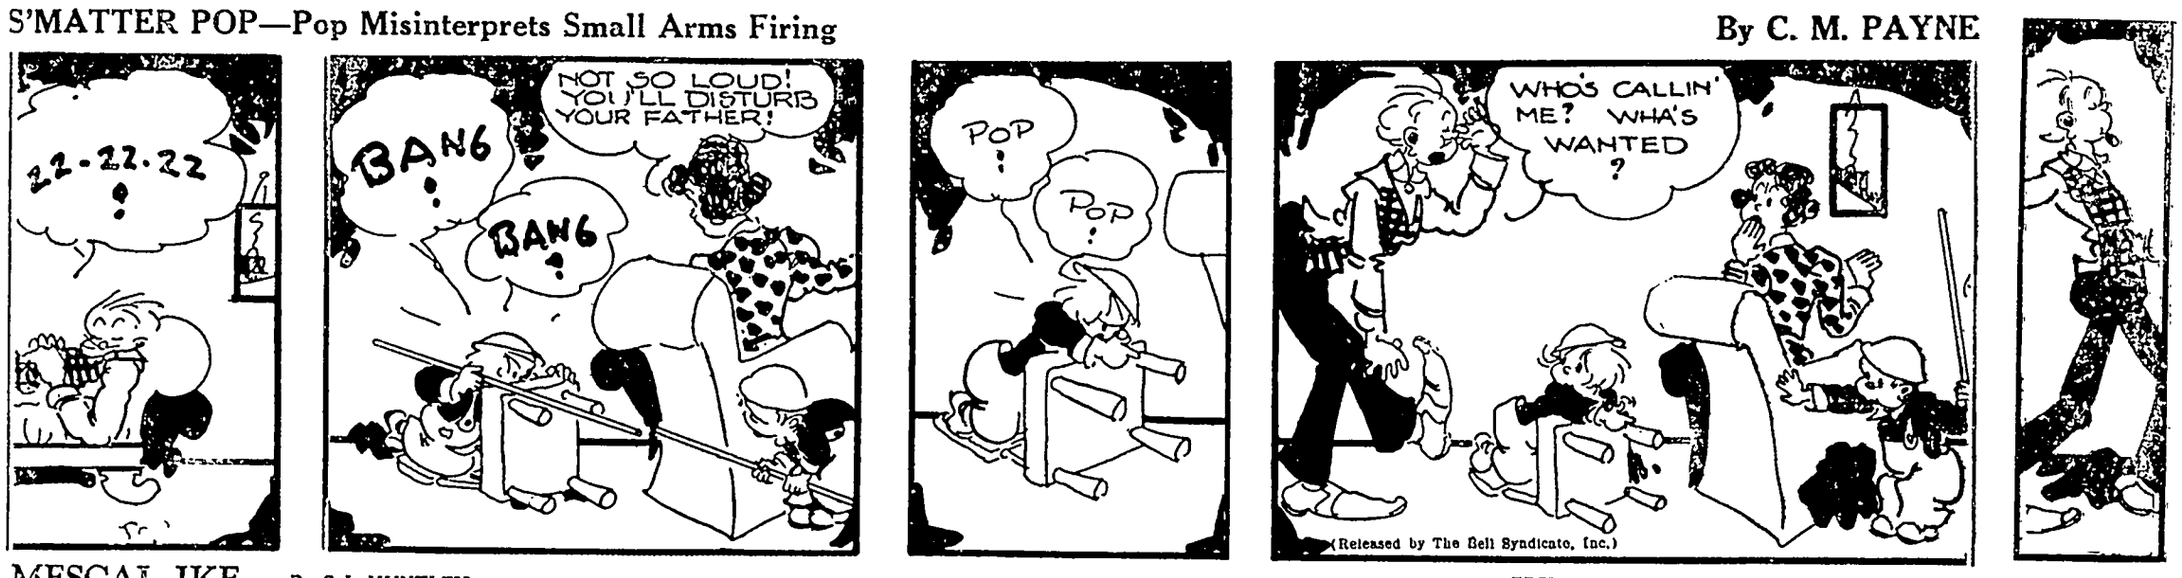
By RUBE GOLDBERG



THIS IS THE END! I GOTTA TAKE A LOOK AT THE FIVE-AND-TEN CENT FRIGHT THAT'S DRIVIN' YOU GOOFY!
OOCHY OOCHY OOCHY
YIPE
IF YOU GOTTA FALL IN LOVE WHY PICK OUT THE FIVE-AND-TEN? YOU PIKER!
WAIT TILL YOU SEE HER, LALA — SHE'S CANDIED SUNSHINE!
WELL, VINCENT, IF THAT'S HER, SHE'S KINDA PRETTY — HOW CAN SHE DRESS SO WELL ON HER SALARY?
FIVE & TE
AND THIS BEATS ME! LOOK AT THE SWELL ROADSTER SHE'S GOT! IT'S A BETTER CAR THAN MINE!
MAYBE SHE'S SOMEBODY ELSE!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP—Pop Misinterprets Small Arms Firing

By C. M. PAYNE

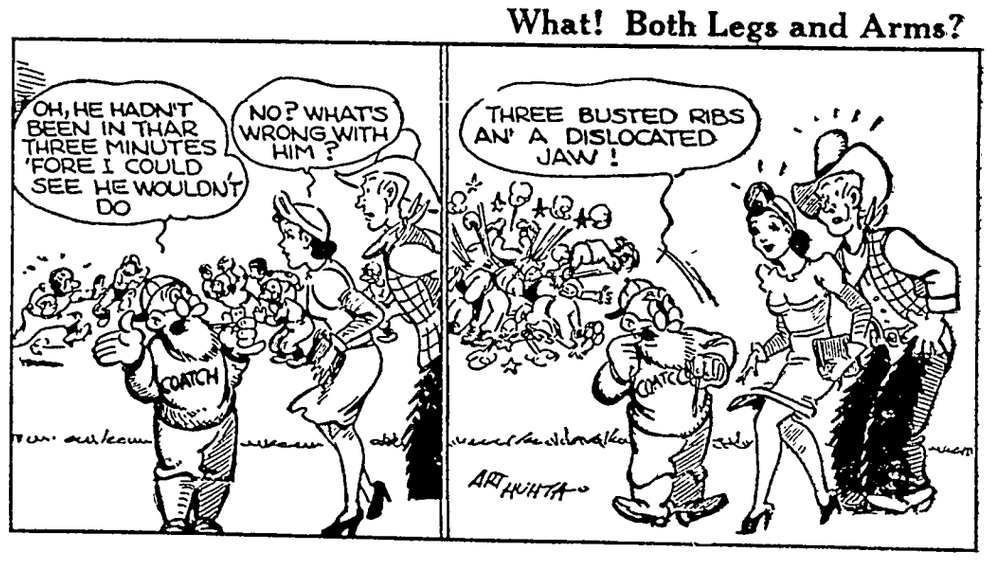


MESCAL-IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

HOW'S THE FOOTBALL PRACTICE COMING ALONG, PA?
WAL, WHAT WE NEED MOST IS A GOOD FULLBACK
WHAT'S TH' MATTER WITH THET FELLER WHAT SHOWED UP FROM FLAPJACK FLATS YESTIDDY?
OUCH

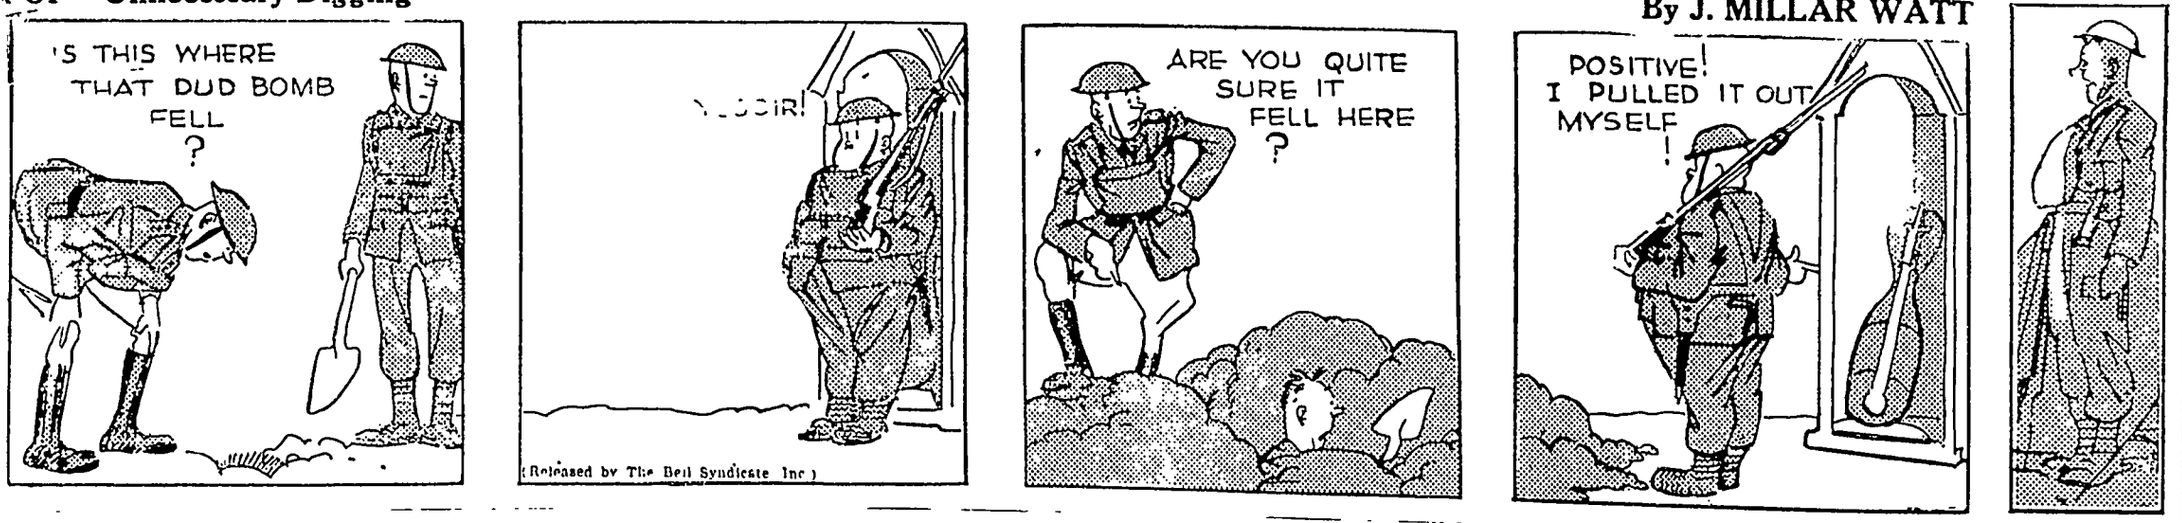
What! Both Legs and Arms?



OH, HE HADN'T BEEN IN THAR THREE MINUTES 'FORE I COULD SEE HE WOULDN'T DO
NO? WHAT'S WRONG WITH HIM?
THREE BUSTED RIBS AN' A DISLOCATED JAW!
SCRATCH
ART HUNTER

POP—Unnecessary Digging

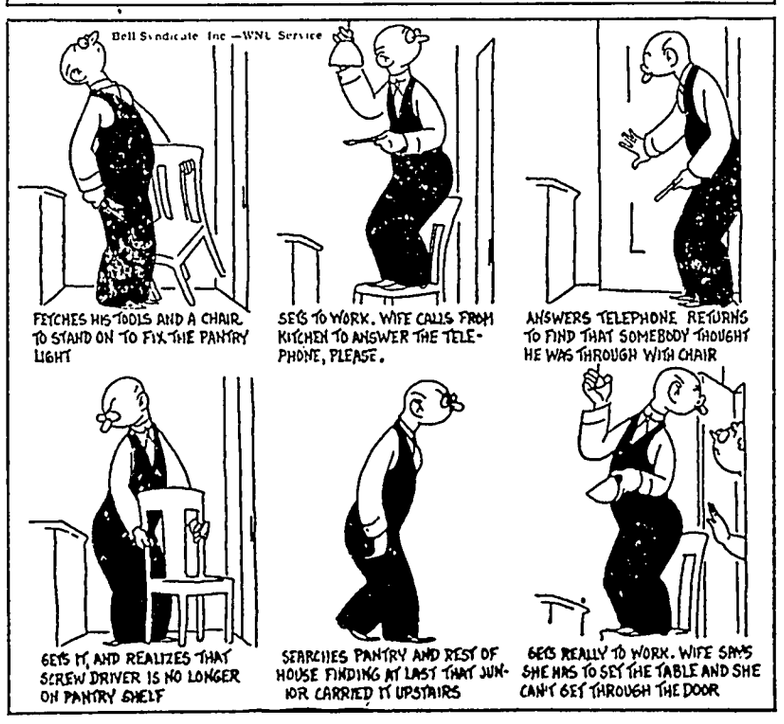
By J. MILLAR WATT



'S THIS WHERE THAT DUD BOMB FELL ?
YESSIR!
(Released by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)
ARE YOU QUITE SURE IT FELL HERE ?
POSITIVE! I PULLED IT OUT MYSELF !

WILLING SPIRIT

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



Bell Syndicate Inc.—WNU Service
FETCHES HIS TOOLS AND A CHAIR TO STAND ON TO FIX THE PANTRY LIGHT
SETS TO WORK. WIFE CALLS FROM KITCHEN TO ANSWER THE TELEPHONE, PLEASE.
ANSWERS TELEPHONE RETURNS TO FIND THAT SOMEBODY THOUGHT HE WAS THROUGH WITH CHAIR
GETS IT, AND REALIZES THAT SCREW DRIVER IS NO LONGER ON PANTRY SHELF SEARCHES PANTRY AND REST OF HOUSE FINDING AT LAST THAT JUNIOR CARRIED IT UPSTAIRS GETS REALLY TO WORK. WIFE SAYS SHE HAS TO SET THE TABLE AND SHE CAN'T GET THROUGH THE DOOR

THERE'S A POSSIBILITY

Barber—You are getting bald, sir Do you know what is causing it?

Feddup—I don't know, but I suspect that my hair falling out has something to do with it.

Struck Amidships

Sympathizer—Poor little fellow! Where did that cruel boy hit you?

Little Boy—Boo, hoo! We was havin' a naval battle and he torpedoed me in the engine room.

Sudden Attack

Harold—Were you ever bothered with athlete's foot?

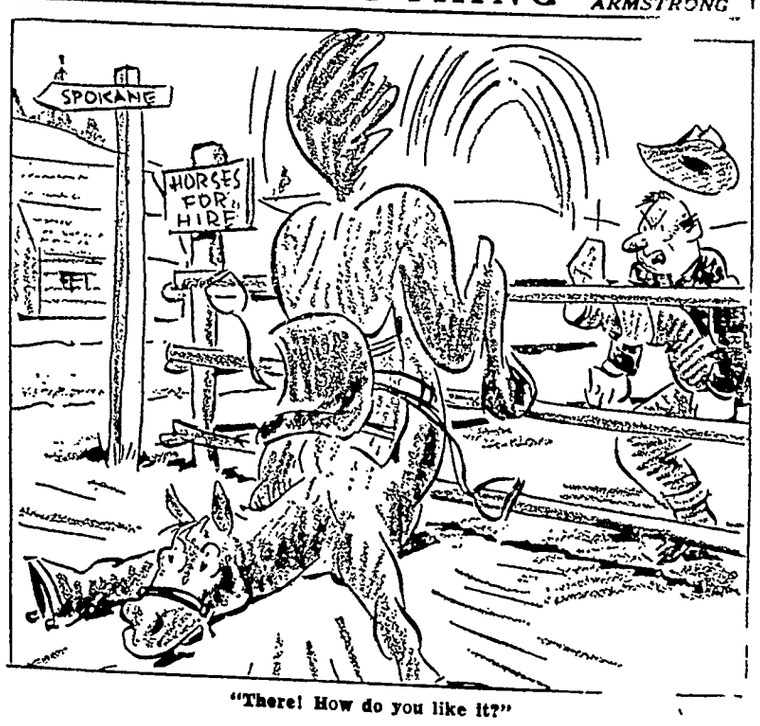
Edgar—Yeah, once when the football player caught me out with his girl friend.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Not So Cheap

Mrs. Tenderfoot—Will the operation be dangerous, doctor? Dr. Slicem—Now don't you worry about that. You can't buy a dangerous operation for $50.

THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG



"There! How do you like it?"

Transforming a Bo Into Smart Otto

By RUTH WYETH SPEA

PAD the top of a box and cover it; then add a sep cushion three inches thick. result will be a smart ott that either may match or co with the cover of your fa chair. The little feet ma drawer pulls keep the ott from looking like a box. A c seam where the skirt of the cover joins the top, and an in ed pleat at each corner of the also give a professional touc suggest tacking the slip c firmly in place as shown in sketch.

If down or feathers are use fill the separate cushion, mak inner cushion of ticking wi top and a bottom piece the si the box top; and a straight th inch piece around the sides. kapok is used for filling, this i cushion may be made of mu The cover of the separate cus has corded seams to match box slip cover.

* * *

NOTE: These directions should be cl from the paper as they are not ava in booklet form. However, comple rections for making slip covers an making corded seams are in SEW Book No. 1. No. 3 also contains val slip cover suggestions. These 32 booklets are 10c each. Send order t

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New Y
Enclose 10 cents for each bo ordered.
Name .....
Address .....

ADVISES YOUNG GIRLS ENTERING WOMANHOOD

Thousands of young girls entering wom anhood have found a "real friend" Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com pound to help them go "smiling thru restless, moody, nervous spells, an relieve cramps, headache, backache an embarrassing fainting spells due to fema functional irregularities. Famous for ov 60 years. WORTH TRYING!

Be a Pattern

Be a pattern to others, and t all will go well; for as a w city is infected by the licent passions and vices of great m so it is likewise reformed by t moderation.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use 666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROP COUGH DRO

Noble Thoughts

They are never alone who accompanied with noble thoug —Sir P. Sidney.

YOUR EYES TEL how you feel inside

Look in your mirror See if temporary co pation is telling on your face, in your Then try Garfield Tea, the mild, pleas thorough way to cleanse internally...wit drastic drugs. Feel better. LOOK BET work better. 10c — 25c at drugstores.

GARFIELD TE
For Prompt Relief from Headaches without opiates or quinine
GARFIELD HEADACHE POWDER
10c - 25c
See doctor if headaches persis
FREE! Stamped, ad dressed envelop brings liber FREE SAMPLES GARFIELD TEA CO., I Dept. 2 41st at 3rd Ave. N'klyn, N. Y.

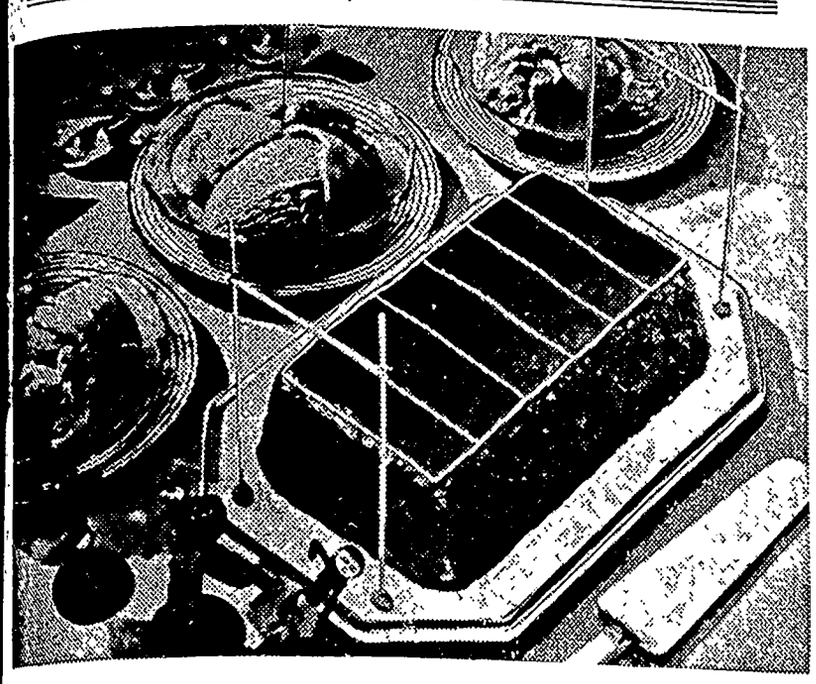
MERCHANT

•Your Advertising Dollar

buys something more tha space and circulation i the columns of this news paper. It buys space an circulation plus the favor able consideration of ou readers for this newspape and its advertising patron

LET US TELL YO MORE ABOUT I

Household News By Eleanor Howe



AFTER THE FOOTBALL GAME
See Recipes Below.

If you are entertaining the crowd after the game, you'll find substantial refreshments in favor; for the same crisp air that puts football players on their toes breeds keen appetites.

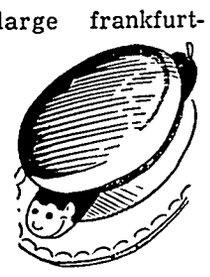
It's good social strategy to arrange everything buffet style and let the guests help themselves. You'll want a table that is festive, easy to handle, and yet casual. You may even want to set up card tables in the living room to make your guests comfortable after they have helped themselves from the buffet.

Natural colored linen, or rough homespun cloth will make a smart background for your serving table. Candles are often used very effectively, when serving buffet style, for they add both atmosphere and light.

If you double as hostess and chief cook, you'll enjoy the game twice as much if you plan a menu that can be prepared beforehand. Sandwich makings and a hot steaming beverage are a wise choice. Then wind up the feast with ice cream and chocolate cake.

Frankfurter Sandwich.

Boil or steam large frankfurters until tender and juicy. Slice thin on white or rye bread and serve with mustard sauce and hot potato salad. Garnish with pickle.



Hot Potato Salad.
(Serves 6)

6 medium-sized potatoes
4 slices bacon (minced)
1 medium-sized onion (sliced)
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
¼ cup water
½ cup vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Cook potatoes in jackets. Cool, skin, and slice. Pan broil minced bacon, then saute onion in bacon drippings until brown. Combine and heat water, vinegar, sugar, salt, and pepper. Add to mixture in frying pan, and mix with potatoes. Place in baking dish and heat in moderate oven (350 degrees) before serving.

Egg Meringue Surprise Sandwich.
(Serves 6)

6 slices bread
¼ cup butter (melted)
¼ pound sharp cheese
6 eggs
Salt and pepper
6 slices bacon

Trim slices of bread and brush one side with melted butter. Place buttered side down on a cookie sheet. Cut cheese into strips about ¼ inch in thickness. Arrange them, side by side, or fence-like on the bread. Separate eggs and drop one egg yolk in the center of each slice of bread. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Whip egg whites until stiff and dry, and pile high on top, completely covering the egg and cheese. Cut the slices of bacon into halves and place two halves on each sandwich right across the egg white. Place in moderate oven (350 degrees) and bake for 10 to 15 minutes, or until the egg white is brown and the bacon is crisp.

Silver Cake.
(Makes 1 loaf cake)

¾ cup butter
1½ cups granulated sugar
2¾ cups cake flour (sifted)
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 egg whites (stiffly beaten)

Cream butter, add sugar and beat well. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together, and add to sugar and butter mixture. Mix well, and place in refrigerator. When desired for use, remove mixture from refrigerator. Break up lumps with fork. Add milk and vanilla, and beat until mixture is smooth and creamy. Then fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased loaf cake tin, and bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) for about 50 minutes.

Chocolate Peppermint Frosting.

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1⅓ cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
8 marshmallows (cut in quarters)
Few drops oil of peppermint

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk, stir over rapidly boiling water 5 minutes, or until the mixture thickens. Add marshmallows, and stir until they begin to melt. Remove from heat and add peppermint. Cool. Spread on cold cake. This frosting covers tops of 2 9-inch layers or top and sides of loaf cake generously or about 24 cup cakes.

Vanilla Ice Cream.
(Makes 1 quart)

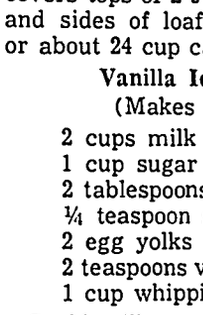
2 cups milk
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks (well beaten)
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1 cup whipping cream

Scald milk, reserving ½ cup. Mix and blend the sugar, flour, and salt, and mix to a smooth paste with the cold milk which was reserved. Add this mixture to the scalded milk and cook, stirring constantly until thick, in a double boiler for 15 minutes. Add egg yolks which have been well beaten and cook, stirring constantly, 3 minutes longer. Add vanilla and chill. Fold in the whipping cream which has been whipped, place in ice cream freezer and freeze, using 3 parts ice to 1 part rock salt.

Sausages in Pastry Blankets.
(Makes 8 sausage rolls)

1½ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking powder
⅓ cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water (approximately)
8 pork sausages

Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder. Blend in the shortening. Then add just enough water to form a dough, mixing lightly. Roll out and cut into 8 oblong pieces, each sufficiently large to wrap around one link of sausage. Place individual sausages (well pricked) on individual pieces of pastry; fold ends over and roll up. Place folded side down on a baking sheet. Prick crust with a fork. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for about 30 minutes. Serve very hot.



Better Baking.

The smell of baking cookies and cakes will soon be permeating the house. Fruit cakes will be baked, packed and stored carefully, until the time they are to be used for gifts. "Better Baking" includes fruit cake recipes which have been thoroughly tested in Miss Howe's own kitchens. This cook book also contains many good cookie recipes, from old-fashioned Ginger Cookies to Fudge Drops.

If you are planning on giving cookies and fruit cakes to your friends as gifts, it will be wise to write for "Better Baking" now. Start your baking early, and avoid the last minute rush. You may secure your copy of this cook book by writing to "Better Baking" care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclosing 10 cents in coin.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Tip on Molasses

Before measuring molasses for recipes dip the cup or spoon in hot water and the molasses will turn out more quickly.

Test for Custard

Baked custards should be tested with a knife. When knife comes out of the center of custard clean, then it is done.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 17

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JESUS' CONCERN FOR LIFE AND HEALTH

LESSON TEXT—Luke 7.2-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly —John 10 10.

Physical life and bodily vigor are secondary in importance to spiritual life and health. Most people do not believe that, but it is true. Nevertheless our physical well-being is of great importance, for it is evident that the spiritual and mental side of man can function in a physical world only through a physical body. That makes it a primary concern of man to keep his body alive and, what is more, keep it as well and strong as possible, an effective instrument for the service of God and man.

With his emphasis on the physical, man tends, when sickness comes, to seek the help of man in overcoming the difficulty. Soon they find that only God is sufficient for their need, and He whom they have hitherto ignored is appealed to in prayer. Men and organizations quick to grasp an opportunity to set themselves forward appear as so-called faith healers. We need to stress the fact that men may come direct to Christ who is concerned about their bodies and their health and that they may come without intermediary, simply by faith in Him.

I. The Outreach of Faith (vv. 2-8). Three things appear here and they each have value and importance.

1. Action (vv. 2-5). The centurion was a good man and so kind toward the Jews that he had built them a synagogue. (One wonders whether a Roman soldier of today would show such a spirit) He was compassionate, stirred by the illness of a slave. He had a need which no man could meet. Where should he turn? Someone told him about Jesus. Blessed and fruitful testimony! He acted in faith and sent word to the Master. He acted on his knowledge. Let your faith also become active.

2. Humility (vv. 6, 7). Socially and officially the centurion was far above Jesus, but he recognized His Lordship and knew himself to be unworthy that Christ should enter his house. True faith is humble. It has nothing to do with the brazen commanding of God which some seem to regard as such a magnificent evidence of faith. Watch for the mark of genuine and courteous humility if you would find men and women of faith.

3. Confidence (vv. 7, 8). There is nothing like this assurance of faith anywhere; in fact, Jesus said He had not seen it in all Israel. Knowing the manner in which his commands were carried out within the realm of his authority and recognizing Jesus as the Son of God, the centurion without hesitation accepted His absolute power over sickness. "Thank God! the centurion was right about that. Sickness is absolutely subject to the word of Jesus and so also are demons, sea and wind, and death itself (Luke 4:35, 36, 39; Mark 4:39; John 11:43, 44)" (Bradbury).

II. The Reward of Faith (vv. 9-15). First of all we note that faith in God brings not only the individual but those round about him a real

1. Blessing (v. 9). The faith of this man delighted the heart of Jesus with a great joy. He commented on it and commended it to those round about. The story of it has come down through the centuries to stir us and stimulate us to belief in Christ. Faith in Him brings blessing, not only to the immediate beneficiary and at the moment, but lives on in blessing to others. Do we have that kind of faith? We also note that it resulted in

2. Healing (v. 10). Faith gets results because it releases the omnipotence of God. The young man was healed at the word of Jesus, in response to the centurion's faith. In the closing verses of our lesson we see also the

3. Raising of the Dead (vv. 11-15). The mighty and compassionate Son of man met a poor widow from whom death had taken her only stay and comfort—a young man. She was apparently too deeply stricken to even call on Jesus for help, but one can almost feel her faith leap to His words, "Weep not." His divine voice then reached into the next world and called the young man back to life. The day that had started as the saddest and darkest in her life closed as the most blessed and joyful in her experience, because she had met Jesus.

Reader, have you met the tender, loving, omnipotent Jesus? He wants to be your Saviour, Lord, and ever-present friend. Will you let Him into your heart? Now?

A Wise Evaluation

What things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ. Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ.—Phil. 3:7, 8.

PATTERN SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT

HERE'S real lullaby luxury, for yourself and the lucky friends to whom you give it—this bedtime ensemble comprising a high-dance frock, and a sweet little bed waisted nightie that's lovely as a jacket. Send for design No. 1228-B, and make it up in fine, sheer batiste, chiffon, georgette or—if the cold wind sweeps through your bedroom—of challis or albatross. It will look as though you had squandered a shameful amount of your clothes allowance, but it will m reality cost very little.

This is an extremely easy design to make—the jacket is cut in two pieces and seamed on the shoulders; the nightie requires merely two long seams and a few gathers.

* * *

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1228-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 6⅛ yards of 39-inch material without nap.

Just out! Be among the first to enjoy it! Barbara Bell's new Fashion Book, with more than 100 new designs. Send 15c for it now! Plan your whole wardrobe this easy, budget-saving way, and revel in having individual versions of new styles that you won't see elsewhere!

Pattern, 15c. Pattern Book, 15c. One Pattern and Pattern Book ordered together, 25c. Send order to.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

It Must Be Admitted That Clerk Had No Snap of Job

The theatrical agent's new clerk entered the private room and said, "There's a lady waiting to see you, sir."

"Is she good-looking?"

"Yes, sir."

"Show her in."

Ten minutes later the clerk was summoned.

"Well," said the agent, gruffly, "you're a nice judge of beauty, I must say."

"Ah, but I had to be careful, sir. I've got to look after my job. For all I knew, she might have been your wife."

"Yes," said the agent, acidly, "she was."

ASK ME ANOTHER ?

A Quiz With Answers Offering Information on Various Subjects

The Questions

1. How long is the time from new moon to new moon?
2. What is the largest cave in the world?
3. Were other colored lights than red and green as stop and go signals respectively ever used?
4. Where is the mountainous district known as the Riff?
5. What is a chromosphere?
6. What baseball pitcher holds the record for the number of games won during his major league career?
7. Is prayer an inseparable part of all religious worship?
8. What does a Scotchman mean by a brae?
9. What birds drink by suction?

The Answers

1. Twenty-nine days, 12 hours, 44.05 minutes.
2. The Mammoth cave in Kentucky is the largest. It contains more than 200 miles of galleries and several quite large lakes, and three rivers flow through it.
3. As late as 1925 street traffic lights on Fifth avenue, New York city, flashed yellow for "start," red for "caution," and green for "stop."
4. Morocco.
5. A gaseous layer surrounding the sun.
6. Cy Young, with 511 victories.
7. The 150,000 Druses of Syria never pray, believing that it would be both presumptious and impertinent to ask the Creator to consider their own personal needs and wishes.
8. The slope of a hillside.
9. The pigeon is the only bird that drinks by suction, all others having to throw their heads back in order to swallow.

31 Presidents

Although Roosevelt is officially listed as the thirty-second President of the United States, only 31 men have actually held the office. The discrepancy is explained by the fact that Grover Cleveland is down in American history as the twenty-second and twenty-fourth President—the only President who served two non-successive terms, Benjamin Harrison's term intervening.—Pathfinder.

Joy the Mainspring

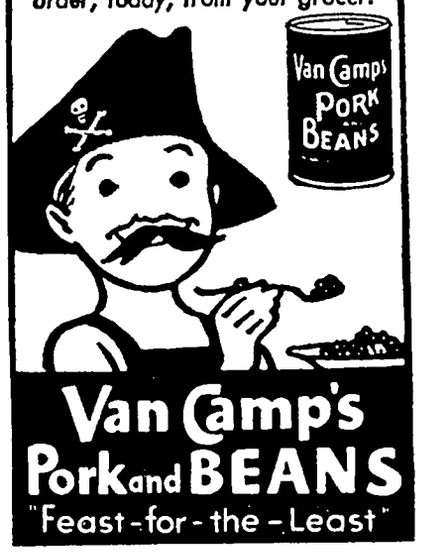
Joy is the mainspring in the whole round of everlasting nature; joy moves the wheels of the great timepiece of the world; she it is that loosens flowers from their buds, suns from their firmaments, rolling spheres in distant space seen not by the glass of the astronomer.—Schiller.

THE WIND IS FREE! USE IT!
SPECIAL OFFER You can buy the world famous 6 volt Parris-Dunn charger direct from factory at a big saving. Play your radio night and day, charges batteries for car, tractor, and your neighbors, also electric lights for your home. Approved by leading radio manufacturers.
Agents Wanted for 32 Volt Chargers
Deal Direct—ACT NOW
Parris-Dunn Corp., Dept. A, Clarinda, Ia.

Power to Do

When there's a log to lift, an old man will grunt and a young man pick it up.

For delicious pantry raids ... feast-for-the-least ... just heat and eat ... economical ... healthful ... order, today, from your grocer.



Van Camp's Pork and BEANS
"Feast-for-the-Least"

Most Blind

There's none so blind as they that won't see.—Swift.

TEXACO STAR THEATRE

FRED ALLEN
Every Wednesday Night
WITH KENNY BAKER
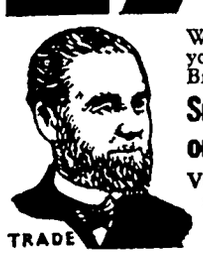
PORTLAND HOFFA, AL GOODMAN'S ORCHESTRA, THE MIGHTY ALLEN ART PLAYERS, JIMMY WALLINGTON
KRNT WMT KGLO and other CBS Stations
8:00 P.M. C. S. T.
PRESENTED BY TEXACO DEALERS

Go Around

Better go around than fall into the ditch.

EXTRA!



When you take Smith Brothers Cough Drops, you get Vitamin A at no extra cost. Smith Brothers—Black or Menthol—still cost only 5¢.
Smith Bros. Cough Drops are the only drops containing VITAMIN A
Vitamin A (Carotene) raises the resistance of mucous membranes of nose and throat to cold infections, when lack of resistance is due to Vitamin A deficiency.

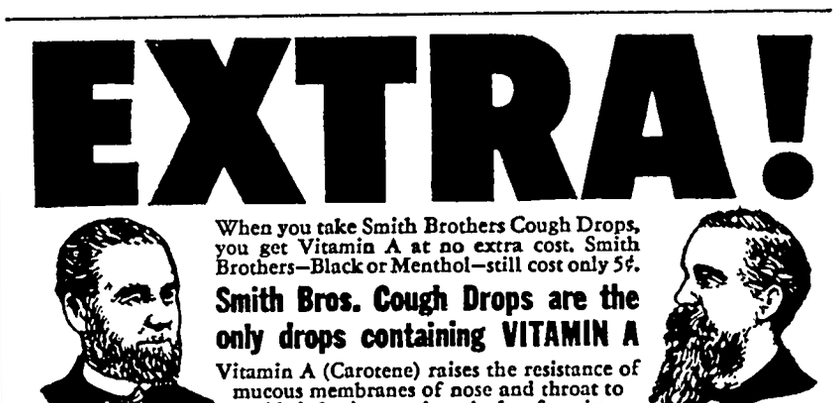
TRADE MARK

Knowledge

That jewel knowledge is great riches, which is not plundered by kinsmen, nor carried off by thieves, nor decreased by giving.—Bhavabhuti.

YES, SIR, SLOW BURNING IS THE GOOD WORD IN CIGARETTES. CAMELS ARE EXTRA MILD

THAT EXTRA FLAVOR IN CAMELS IS THE REAL THING FOR STEADY SMOKING



EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR

In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

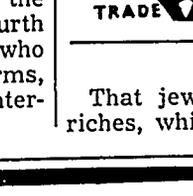
5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!



GET THE "EXTRAS" WITH SLOWER-BURNING
CAMELS
THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Stover

Flail-Action Mills

You will be pleasantly surprised at the ease of operation and the economy of Flail-Action Mills. We are mounting one of the mills on a trailer so we can more easily demonstrate on your farm with your tractor.

If you are in the market for a Mill, you owe it to yourself to see how this Mill will work for you. Ask for a FREE demonstration!

FRED J.
ARNOLD
Phone 77-R2

Furnace Damaged At Kilgore Home Because Of Storm

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kilgore, daughter, Ellen, and Gus Hollberg, who drove to Moline, Ill., Saturday, were caught in the storm on their return trip home Monday and were forced to spend the night at Eldora.

Tuesday morning, Mr. Kilgore telephoned "Sport" Bridges to start his furnace fire. "Sport" inspected the hot water system which did not seem to be frozen, as water could be drawn from each radiator. The fire was started but a frozen pipe somewhere in the system blocked the circulation and the pressure created blew a section of the boiler, flooding the basement with water, and a heating stove was installed until repairs could be made.

RURAL AND TOWN TEACHERS ARE INVITED TO A MEETING AT BRITT

A county-wide meeting of town and rural teachers will be held at Britt on Monday evening, November 18th at the Britt high school at 8:00 o'clock.

Dr Tallman, field representative of the Iowa Teachers Association, will be the speaker. All teachers are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gissel, of Anrew, visited at the E. F. Jacobs home several days the past week.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Griewe came from Aredale, Monday, being called here by the death of the latter's sister, Miss Anna Griewe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kingery were dinner guests Sunday at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home. The occasion was the doctor's birthday.

Miss Merritt was ill the past week and unable to teach. Mrs. Earl Schaeffer substituted for her in the class room.

Herman Schleusner, of Forest City, was a dinner guest Thursday at the Quentin Stille home. Mrs. Stille is Mrs. Schleusner's neice.

Mrs. Fred J. Arnold was ill all of the past week. "Bobbie" Arnold spent the week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Carr, at Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosendahl and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemke left in the snow storm Monday for warmer climate, as they are to be gone for about ten days, touring through the south.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kilgore and daughter, Ellen, and Gus Hollberg, father of Mrs. Kilgore, drove to Moline, Illinois Saturday to visit over the week end with "Pete" Kilgore and other relatives.

Miss Harriet Gibbs who is employed in the Locke Studio at Mason City, spent the week end and Armistice Day visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibbs and family.

Mrs. Herman Paul, Mrs. R. W. Elder, Mrs. E. G Schaeffer, Mrs. C. C. Kilgore and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka attended a Methodist District meeting at Algona last Thursday Mrs. E. G. Schaeffer was elected District Chairman of girls work.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje and daughters, Jacqueline and Patricia, and Mrs. Earl Schaeffer, drove to Ames Friday and spent the day visiting around the campus. Miss Jacqueline, expects to go to college at Ames next fall

Mr and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City visited Sunday afternoon and evening at the R. A. Jorgenson home Mr. and Mrs. Liebendorfer will open a new grocery store on South Federal avenue in Mason City next week.

Mr. and Mrs. August Ollerman and August Ollerman, of Glendive, Montana, spent last Thursday visiting at the Fred J. Arnold home. Just thirty-five years ago, these two brothers were both employed by Fred Arnold, Sr., so will be remembered by many of the older people of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jacobs, Mrs. P. M. Wilson and Sumner Trumbull, drove to Des Moines Thursday on business. Mrs. Wilson remained in Des Moines for a few day's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Risser and family. Mr. Wilson drove to Des Moines Sunday to bring his wife home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet moved over a week ago into the former Ben Swalve house, which they purchased and which was vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul. Wilbur Heninger and family, who are living in the C. F. Keraus apartment, will move into the Patet house the latter part of this week Mr. Heninger is employed at the Klemme Auto Company as mechanic.

Birthday Dinner

Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day, was four years old Saturday, November 9th, and so on Sunday, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Day had dinner with him at his home.

Pupils Enjoy Vacation While The Teachers Attend Convention

All of the Klemme grade and high school teachers were in Des Moines Thursday and Friday for the annual state convention. The Kemme students enjoyed a short vacation during that time.

ROONEY AND JUDY GARLAND TEAMED IN FAST MUSICAL AT THE AVERY

Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, heading a frolicksome juvenile group, provide music with laughs in "Strike Up The Band," gay musical romance of youth, coming Sunday to the Avery Theatre for three days.

Mickey and Judy, aided and abetted by June Dresser and other clever youngsters, many seen with then in "Babes In Arm" organize a swing band in high school. Their adventures range from staging a comical travesty on old-time plays, with "corny" songs, to smart ballroom work, modern song hits such as "Nobody" and "Our Love Affair," and a big climax in a radio studio where they win Paul Whiteman's prize with Gershwin's "Strike Up The Band," embellished by comical specialties.

Mickey plays an amazing drum solo m the "Drummer Boy" number by his orchestra. Paul Whiteman and his orchestra contribute "When Day Is Done" and "My Wonderful One."

Birthday Party Held In Honor Of Mrs. Herman Priebe

Mrs. Herman Priebe was honored at a birthday party at her home last Thursday afternoon when a number of relatives, neighbors and friends gathered to celebrate the event A social time was enjoyed and a nice lunch was served.

65 Years.

Mr and Mrs. Augustus Knox, Cantril, recently celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insurance Is A FYR-FYTER
Sold & Serviced By
ELMER AX

DID YOUR CAR GET CAUGHT IN OLD MAN WINTER'S—

Blitzkrieg?

. . . and that BLITZKRIEG BLIZZARD here on Monday was just a mild sample of the fury to come . . . so if you are not prepared for the worst, get set for a defense against some real WINTER BLITZKRIEG!

WINTERIZE TODAY FOR CAR DEFENSE . . .

Let us take care of your car defense program. We are prepared to defend your car against any WINTER HAZARDS:

We Are Headquarters For

- Winter Lubrication Service
- Radiator Covers, Frost Shields
- Winter Grade Gasolines
- Complete Line of Anti-Freeze

Let's Talk About

Snow Tires

NOW IS THE TIME to come in and get that pair of SNOW TIRES you have been wanting. We have a complete line of Snow Tires for cars and trucks . . . why fuss around with CHAINS when Snow Tires are so reasonable in price? Don't buy Snow Tires until you have seen our line featured at RIGHT PRICES!

Firestone, U. S. Royal
Goodyear Tires & Tubes

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station

HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa

K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 15-16

MONARCH TEA BALLS
Green or Black
12 for 10c
QUALITY for 70 YEARS

Waconia Sorghum...
Per Gallon 73c
Per Quart 22c

LUX TOILET SOAP 3 bars 18c

BROWN SUGAR 1 lbs. for 21c
MARSHMALLOWS 2 large pkgs. 25c

TOMATO SOUP SCOTT COUNTY 2 tall cans 14c

HERSHEY BARS Mild, Mellow Large size, 2 for ... 19c
RAISINS Seedless 4 lb. pkg. 32c

SPRY SHORTENING 1 lb. can 20c

MEAT DEPARTMENT

BACON NUGGETS Per lb. 14c
PORK CHOPS Per lb. 19c
BACON SQUARES Per lb. 12c
PORK STEAK Per lb. 19c
SAUSAGE, Pork Per lb. 12c
PORK ROAST Per lb. 19c

Klemme Food Market

STORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

Second Annual Seven Eagles

Conference Basketball

JAMBOREE!

Klemme High School Gymnasium

Wednesday, November 20

7:30 P. M. Admission 15c & 25c

North vs. South

WODEN	vs.	GOODELL
HAYFIELD	vs.	KANAWHA
CRYSTAL LAKE	vs.	KLEMME

Plus A New and Different FEATURE Game

KLEMME FACULTY (AND JANITOR) VS. THE CONFERENCE FACULTY ALL-STARS

- COME OUT and get a pre-view of Seven Eagles Conference competition in Hancock County's Second Annual Basketball Jamboree!
- You'll get your money's worth of good basketball in the first three contests! Each game will consist of two 10 minute quarters!
- You'll get your money's worth of laughs in the FACULTY FEATURE GAME! DON'T MISS IT!

OFFICIALS: M. R. Field and Paul McLaughlin, both of Swaledale, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 20, 1940. — NUMBER 25.

emme Shamrocks Will Help edicate New Gym at Ventura

HOME GAME
N THE SCHEDULE WILL BE ON DECEMBER 2nd

rocks Will Play Several New Teams This Season

ch "Bodge" Bowles and his me Shamrocks basketball have been honored by being ed to take part in dedicating ew gymnasium at Ventura they will meet the Lakers in ture game after a curtain in which the Plymouth girls meet the Ventura girls basketeam.

large crowd of fans are ex-d to accompany the team to ra this Friday evening, No-er 22 for the dedication event to watch the Shamrock comon work.

First Home Game Dec. 3

e first home game of the sea-ill be on Tuesday night, Der 3rd when Garner will in-the Shamrock's home court.
should be a good game as r is expected to have a fast this year, and the Shamrocks lost but one player from last s team.

New Teams On Schedule

mme's schedule this season include a number of new s: Goldfield, Meservey, Thorn-nd Swaledale. A couple of dates may also bring in other s to the local court.

GE CROWD PRESENT
OR THE K. H. S. JUNIOR CLASS PLAY THURSDAY

ooray For Youth," the Klem-School's Junior class play h was staged Thursday even-at the high school auditorium, played before a packed house.
e play was directed by Miss dia Michalek and the several acter parts were well played he various members of the r Class.

ss Michalek was presented utiful bouquet of roses. The ntation was made by the dent of the Junior class, Billy ka.

CLUB MET
DAY

ss Carmen Kluckhohn was s to the G. S. club at her Monday evening where
e was played.
h and second high scores won by Bernice Tanner and Buntenbach. Lunch was d by the hostess. Miss Lor-Buntenbach was a guest.

NA LOY WITH MELVYN
OUGLAS IN NEW COMEDY

rna Loy, perfect wife of "The Man" pictures, and Melvyn las, who made Garbo laugh Ninotchka" team for the first in "Third Finger, Left Hand," ous adventure in romance,
g Sunday to the Avery Thear three days. Miss Loy proves om a perfect wife, and keeps las in more trouble than she William Powell in "I Love Again."

invents a husband for ss reasons, and Douglas, in with her, shows up and pre-to be the mythical spouse
g away her other two suit-
She can't expose him, so takes by getting him into all man-troubles -- all of them are attorney, Lee Bowman, to arrange a divorce for her

he can marry her himself.
the end the warring ros, who got married so that uld be legally divorced dis-they were really in love ch other all along and, with ions ended, all ends merrily apply.

Reformed Choir Gave Concert Over Station KGLO Sunday

The Klemme Reformed church choir of some forty voices broadcast a concert Sunday afternoon over Mason City's radio station, KGLO, last Sunday beginning at 4:00 o'clock.

The concert was well given and was enjoyed by those who had tuned in the program. The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Gerardi.

Improves System

ELECTRIC COMPANY SPENT $4,000 TO IMPROVE SERVICE IN KLEMME

Central States Electric Co has just completed the reconstruction of their sub-station at the west edge of Klemme by the installation of a set of voltage regulators which will give the town better service.

These regulators are so built that when the heavy load comes on in the evening, the voltage will be boosted and during the daylight hours will be lowered so that the voltage will remain quite uniform at all times.

The total expense amounts to over $4,000 and is along in line with the policy of the company to improve its service and increase its capacity as the service is required.

STRAWS IN THE WIND

By THE W. C. T. U.

THE certainty of a national ground swell against the social effects of repeal is indicated by certain "straws in the wind."

Some of these are:

Definite and frequent statements by wet leaders that the industry must reform itself, or else—.

Increasing recognition by the public of the part alcohol plays in traffic accidents and deaths; plus a strong tendency toward enforcement of laws aimed at drinking drivers, with increased severity of sentences.

Isolated, but increasing, steps to close taverns charged in court with having helped cause delinquency of youthful defendants.

Increasing editorial and "Voice of the People" criticism of alcohol's social effects. This is considered to be very suggestive, as editorial comment, from a press in large part pro-repeal, is certain to be following, and not leading, a change in the public's thinking.

A projected current effort to reorganize the women's repeal group, which publicly led 1933's legislative fights, evidently in an effort to strengthen alcohol's public and legislative position.

A noticeable movement, despite financial needs, in the daily and weekly press toward further banning of alcohol advertisements

This winter's effort in Washington to prohibit beverage alcohol advertising by radio and the action last year of some chains and many individual stations in banning such advertising.

Growing strength of movements dedicated to national rebirth of spiritual and moral values.

Labor Saved Money.

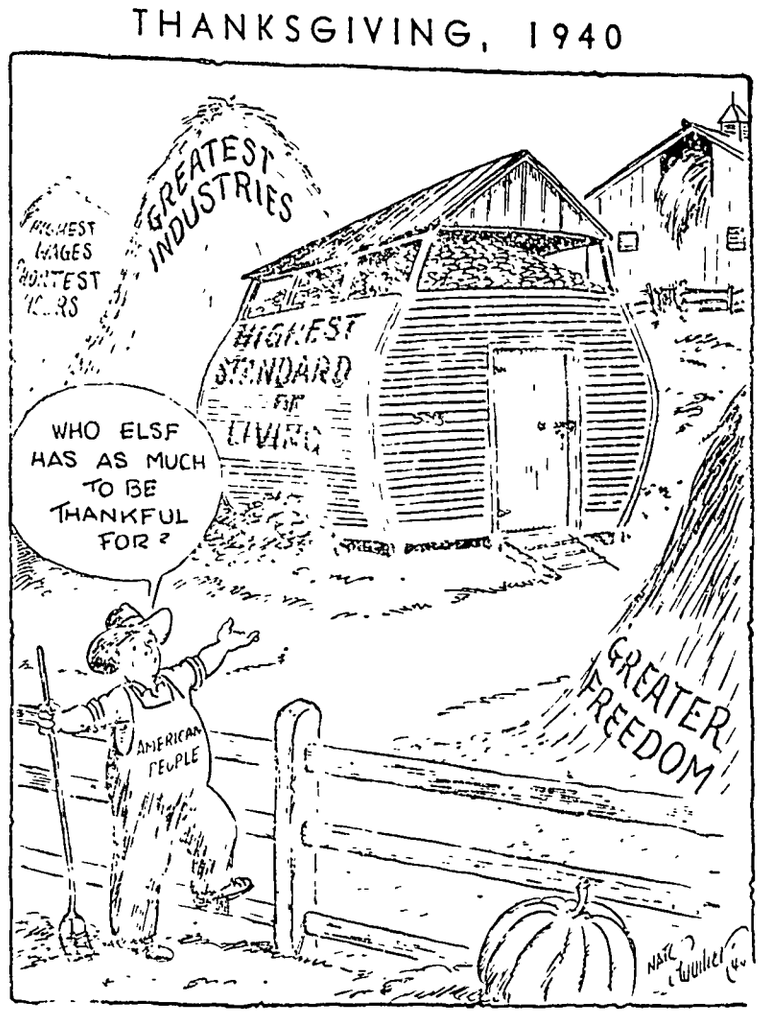
Clark Warburton, economist, who personally was opposed to prohibition, said in his book "The Economics of Prohibition," (published in 1932 by the Columbia University Press):

"The expenditure of the working class upon alcoholic beverages is probably a billion dollars less than it would be without national prohibition."

And that "during the first three years of prohibition the liquor bill was reduced about two billion dollars per year."

A Cause for It.

A "loose tongue" often puts one in a "tight" spot. What loosens the tongue to the undoing of its owner more quickly than beverage alcohol?



TURKEYS ARE AVERAGING HEAVIER THAN IN 1939

Consumers will buy a turkey this year that averages slightly heavier in weight than the turkey which they bought in 1939, says H. L. Wilcke, head of the Poultry Husbandry Department at Iowa State College.

"Turkeys this year are slightly heavier than last year despite the attempt of turkey breeders to develop a light-weight bird that would meet the needs of the average American family," Wilcke says.

The increased weight must be attributed to causes other than feed costs and turkey prices, as feed costs this year have averaged higher than in 1939 and turkey prices have been somewhat lower

"One of these causes may be the effect of the successful breeding program carried on through several years to produce turkeys capable of more rapid maturity and efficient utilization of feed," the specialist states.

Wilcke points out that the Bureau of Agricultural Economics expects that at the time of marketing hens will average 12 pounds each, compared with 11.9 pounds at the same time in 1939 and toms 18.1 pounds, compared with 17.9 pounds last year

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

I. C Hastings and Emma K. To H. F Dean, Q C Deed, 6-18-38, $1. S½ SW¼ 5-97-24.

Marie Lien To Carrie Lucas, Wty Deed, 10-9-40, $1. Lots 3 & 4, Blk 6, Grand View Add. to Kanawha

Carrie Lucas widow To Tom Delger, Wty Deed, 10-19-40, $1600. Lots 3 & 4, Blk 8 Grand View Add. To Kanawha.

Joseph E. Erickson and Charlotte To Jorden Ericksen Wty Deed 11-6-40, $1. Lots 16, 17, 18, Blk 1 Hanson & Severin's Add. to Kanawha.

August and Christina Haberkamp To Verner A. Haberkamp Q C. Deed, 11-14-38, $1. SE¼ NE¼ 2-95-24.

S. Annie Nichols, widow To Niva G. and S. Annie Nichols, Wty Deed, 11-11-40, $1. E½ NW¼ W½ NE¼ 11-95-23.

Thirteen.

Evidently the Marengo declamatory contestants are not superstitious about the numbeq "thirteen." There are that many entered in the preliminary contest.

Caved In.

A large plate glass window at a Belle Plaine hospital caved in, when both the front and back doors were opened, to air the building, creating a vacuum in the waiting room. Fortunately, no one was there at the time.

Recreation Leaders' School

A recreation leaders' training school for rural youth, 4-H ,church, and vocational agricultural leaders will be held at Iowa State College Dec. 16 to 20, according to Robert Clark, head of the Rural Youth Section of the Iowa State College Extension Service.

Cows on test in Iowa in Octobe made a record-breaking production of 3.1 pounds of butterfat per animal. Liberal feeding was chiefly responsible for the heavy production, report Iowa State College extension dairymen.

A FRANKENSTEIN MONSTER!

By THE W. C. T. U.

IN 1933 the U. S. government turned loose a Frankenstein monster by changing its policy toward alcoholic liquor.

Clustered along the six and one-half year path which marks this monster's unrestricted rush lie the bodies of traffic victims, the undernourished children, the impoverished families, the diseased wrecks, the rotten framework of liquor-controlled politics.

John Q. Public doesn't know all the facts. Yet, only six and one-half years after repeal, many nationally-known individuals and groups have voiced their strong convictions that liquor is to blame for a major part of these post-repeal social miseries. These leaders have studied the facts. They have no axes to grind and their conclusions are unbiased, honest conclusions.

National Safety Council.

This unbiased research group announced in late 1939 that liquor figured in 25 per cent of all of the traffic deaths involving drivers or occupants in automobiles.

A high toll to pay for trying to mix alcohol and gasoline! They just won't mix.

The Methodist Church.

Bishop Ralph Spaulding Cushman said: "The liquor problem is supremely the job of the church . . . We are not going to have a revival of religion in America until the churches face social evils like the liquor traffic. Churches of God, wake up!"

Boys' Court

Judge J. M. Braude of the Chicago Boys Court says that adolescent delinquency resulting from liquor is present in 40 per cent of his cases and that the percentage is increasing.

The superintendent of the Los Angeles public schools classifies the three major school problems as alcohol, gambling, and irresponsibility.

Economist.

Roger W. Babson, widely known evaluator of financial and spiritual life, said recently: "After repeal I realized the terrific danger of the commercialized liquor traffic. Not drinkers alone suffer, but the country and youth. Accessibility increases use. America's keenest minds are using the newspapers, magazines, movies, and radio to entice youth to drink whisky."

Ell Township Red Cross Workers Break All Of The Former Records

FRIENDSHIP GUEST NIGHT IS HELD BY EASTERN START CHAPTER, FRI.

Friendship Guest Night was held by the Eastern Star chapter at Garner last Friday evening, and there were members present from Mason City, Forest City and Clear Lake. Refreshments were served after the meeting by the Klemme ladies.

Mrs. Laura M. Lenz of Mason City, new grand worthy matron of Iowa was the guest of honor.

Miss Marian Waterman, of Klemme, was initiated into the order.

Red Cross Roll Call

KLEMME RED CROSS WORKERS REPORTED GOOD RESPONSE

Four Klemme Business Places Listed As 100 Per Cent Membership

The drive for Red Cross members and Red Cross contributions was put on in Klemme Monday afternoon in charge of Mrs. Sumner Trumbull as chairman; Mrs. Ernest Lewis as vice chairman; Mrs. Geo. Lawhorn as secretary and treasurer and assisted by the board members: Mrs. Galbeth, Mrs. Kingery, Mrs. Dulmes and Mrs. Jorgenson.

The ladies report that on Monday a total amount in memberships and contributions reached the sum of $85.10.

100 Per Cent Memberships

Four business places have the honor of being listed as 100 per cent in membership. They are the E. F. Jacobs Hardware, Hancock County Co-Operative Oil Association, the Klemme Schools and the First National Bank.

Over $1.00 Memberships

Mr. and Mrs. E. Salling, $5.00; Hancock Co. Co-Op. Oil Co., $2.00, and Walter Kimball, $1.25.

$1.00 Membership List

Sumner Trumbull, Harvey Barz, Marie Blank, F. J. Arnold, Edna Thada, Dr. Missman, Lau Implement, Kluckhohn Store, C. G. Waterman, Asa Arnold, Art Kudje, F. A. Arnold and Henry Jost.

Paul Grange, Northern Lumber Co., Viola Thiemman, Raymond Barz, Art Wellemeyer, Speer Cafe, R. A. Jorgenson, Geo. Lawhorn, W. H. Galbreth, Klemme Co-Op. Creamery, Walter Lemke, Klemme Co-Op. Grain Co., Mrs. D. P. Anderson, Rev. Zabilka, Mrs. Ed Buntenbach, Klemme Food Market, Jim Thomas, Cecil Bridges, Melvin Neuberger, Levi Klotzbach E. F. Jacobs, Dr. Dulmes, Julius Priebe and Mrs. J. E. Stille.

Lena Schroeder, Herman Paul, Ernest Henschen, Lydia Bock, Paul Mueller, Leonard Lau, Mrs. Lloyd Lau, G. A. Goll, Dwight Hummel, Rev Grosshuesch, D. D. Ross, Mrs. H. D Ramsay, Lewis Radio Shop, Ed Becker, Conrad Quandt, Dr. Earl Schaeffer, Jack Etchen, Ed Thompon and Ira Overholt.

Irma Merritt, Ruth Potter, Claudia Michalek, Marian Irvine, Miss Ott, Mr. Onerheim, A. L. Kingery, "Bodge" Bowles and Mrs. John Day.

Contributions

Orville Bridges, Mrs. N. G. Moberly, Mrs Henry Jahnke, Mr. Ed Schaefer, Mrs. Ernest Henschen, Sr., P. M. Wilson, Minnie Lau, Stanley Thada, Mrs. Ida Ridder, Mrs. Maxine Reece, Mrs. Ben Netland, Mrs. John Heginger, Mrs. Louisia Rosendahl and Herman Priebe.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smid, Mrs. Matt Smith, Mrs. Ewalt Jahnke, Mrs. Naska Bock, Mrs. Fred Bell, Mrs. Mary Waterman, John Josten, Mary Becker, Lenora Larson, Mrs. Henry Runge, Henry Lewis and Daisy Lemke.

You May Help The Red Cross

Those who wish to become members or want to subscribe to the Red Cross fund may still do so, Give or send your contribution to any of the above ladies and you will be given proper credit. The Red Cross needs your help more than ever this year.

FIRST RURAL TEAM IN COUNTY TO COMPLETE DRIVE

Set Up New Record By Tripling Number Of Members On Roll

A couple of records were made in Ell township. In the first place the three workers: Mrs. E. J. Schneider, chairman, and the Misses Mildred Thiemann and Elsie Thiemann, were the first to complete a rural drive in Hancock County. In the second place the three women almost trebled the total amount realized in the Ell township drive last year.

They turned in $54.25, which included 51 members and $3.25 in contributions. Those who bought $1 memberships are as follows:

Mrs. Fred Greiman, Mrs. Herman Stromer, Edwin Thiemann, Herman Back, Mrs. Ella Gilbert, Lester Hartbeck, Mrs. Alfred Josten, Mrs. Harry Meyer, Mrs. Roy Quintus, Mrs. Ray Ford, Harold Quintus, Edmund Josten, Oscar Swanson, C. J. Wille, John Swalve, Henry Barz, Mrs. Albert Barz, Mrs. Henry Wille, W. J. Anderson, W. H. Greiman, John Meinders, Curtis Greiman, Carl Swanson and Jake DeVries.

Mrs. Harm Menke, Mrs. Clark Lackore, Mrs. Oscar Greiman, Mrs. Charles Goll, Mrs. Lew Weaver, Addis Greiman, Clarence Greiman, E. J. Schneider Herman Thiemann, John Neuberger, Gladys Greiman, George Thiemann, Henry Thiemann, Alvin Goll, Edgar Buss, Paul Van Buskirk and Ralph Elder.

John Waddingham Albert Priebe, Albert H. Kraus, Verner Stromer, Mrs. Paul Goll, Mary Swanson, Goerge Albers, W. A. Hanson, Ray Hanson and Mrs. Fred Becker.

Those who contributed 50 cents were Marie Albers, Mrs. Fred Goll, Richard Bamman, Orris Lundy and George Menke. Those who gave 25 cents were Ray Waddingham Howard Baack and Roy Rutz.

CARE OF CUT WOOD MORE IMPORTANT THAN SEASON

Time of cutting has very little effect on the durability or strength of wood if the timber is properly cared for after it is cut , states G. R. Ramsey, extension forester at Iowa State College.

It is true, however, Ramsey points out, that posts, poles and other rough products cut in the late spring and early summer are more likely to be attacked by insects and fungi, because the wood is freshly cut at a time when insects and fungi are most active. Seasoning also proceeds more rapidly during the warmer months and may cause excessive checking.

If the wood is peeled when cut and piled openly on skids for seasoning, decay will be reduced to a minimum. If checking is an important consideration, it can be reduced somewhat by locating the piles in a shaded but dry place, Ramsey says.

Timber cut in late fall and winter, seasons more slowly and with less checking. When proper storage or handling is impracticable, winter cutting is best. Fungi and insects do not attack wood out-of-doors in cold weather.

Everybody's Thankful Except Tom Turkey And—the Guy That Prints Your Calendar

By BOB WUNDERLIN
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Thanksgiving Day (in most states of the Union) will be November 21st, this year.

Dig down deep into your old trunks up in the attic and find yourself a calendar of a few years ago. Then turn to the eleventh page—November. See that red number staring at you on the last Thursday?

No matter where a person lived in this country, he saw the same date marked with red. But this year that is different.

Some calendars place Thanksgiving on the 21st, and some on the 28th. Other companies, imbued with a deep desire to remain strictly nonpartisan, failed to mark either date, or else printed them both in red.

Printers were placed in such a dilemma only once before in this nation's history. That was back in 1705 when the scheduled Thanksgiving date was shifted around due to molasses. But more of that later.

For many years it has been the custom for the President of the United States to proclaim the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving day. For years it was an established date. Vacation plans, school holidays, and even big intersectional and traditional grid contests were arranged for this date.

Request for Change.

Then last year President Roosevelt surprised the nation by issuing his famous 'move it up a week" proclamation. It all happened this way: Lew Hahn, general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods association, wrote Harry Hopkins, secretary of commerce, a letter. The letter, ultimately handed to President Roosevelt, read:

"Retail merchants throughout the United States, who are, through the nature of their business, obliged to plan well in advance, are considerably disturbed at the moment over the possibility of the pre-Christmas period proving to be a week shorter this year than normal.

"It seems impossible to interest the general public in preparations for Christmas until the Thanksgiving day observance is out of the way, and, inasmuch as it is taken for granted that the President will issue his Thanksgiving day proclamation for the last Thursday of the month, November 30, this will mean that all the great volume of Christmas business will have to be transacted within the period of three weeks and two days.

"As of course, you know, the preparations which the American people make for the Christmas holiday play a tremendously important part in the economy of the nation.

"I think it is no exaggeration to say that from 12 to 15 per cent of the entire business of retail stores is transacted in the period between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Pre-Christmas Shopping.

"I have not sufficient temerity to seek to influence the President of the United States in connection with the Thanksgiving day proclamation, but it seemed to me that I should point out to you the situation as it is and to say that if any relief could be secured it would be not only good for business but for the public as well."

Mr. Hahn was just as surprised as you or I when the President announced that he intended moving Thanksgiving day ahead from the thirtieth of November to the twenty-third. He had had no idea of the move until notified by the newspapers.

These photos would have you believe that even the turkeys themselves are doing some right serious protesting about "dual Thanksgiving Days." In the above picture little Shirley Ann Vleit, four-year-old granddaughter of a Florida turkey farmer, last year staged a strike for her turkey pets. Turkeys at right went on similar strike against an Illinois farmer.

Mr. Hahn, a staunch Republican, is 58, a resident of Ridgewood, N. J., and is an enthusiastic golfer.

Store Executive.

In 1928 he was made president of a 29-store chain of department stores. In 1932 he was appointed to the industrial board of NRA. He also was on the Roper advisory board for the department of commerce. His work with the "brain trust" completed, he returned to his position in New York as general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods association.

That's the picture of the man whose letter persuaded Mr. Roosevelt to give the turkey one week less of life.

* * *

Those first Thanksgiving days were big events on the social calendar of pioneering New England. Our historians tell us that the first Thanksgiving was held in 1621, in Plymouth and were, for the main, gastronomic pow-wows held largely for shrewd diplomatic conferences with the ever-ready-to-go-on-the-warpath Indians. Pumpkin pie and plum pudding were the savory invitations that lured the redskin from his wind-swept tepee down to the festive laden boards of the Pilgrims.

No Official Date.

While the Pilgrims set aside this day to greet their "fellow-men" and give thanks for the crops, there was no official date set for the observance.

In Boston, 10 years later, hungry colonists lined the shore, eagerly scanning the sky-line for a sight of the ship that had left for England six months before. Food was low; moral was low; the governor's wit however, was running on full steam.

He gathered them together and in order to preserve what little food they had left, declared that there should be held a "day of fast" to seek the Lord by prayer and fasting that he might hasten the voyage of the life-saving ship bearing provisions.

Towards evening on the "day of fast" a tree-top observer gave a shout of joy. "A speck in the distance. Mayhaps a sail."

Mindless of the wind and spray that flew over them, the colonists gathered on the coast-line and shouted in joy as the speck grew larger and larger.

Hunger and 'Tummy-Ache.'

The next day the pangs of hunger in the stomachs of those settlers turned to the gnawing pains of "tummy-ache" as the governor ordered a spontaneous Thanksgiving day and handed out provisions enough for all.

That first Boston Thanksgiving day, incidentally, was held on February 22, over a century before the birth of George Washington, "the father of his country." Premature but prophetically enough, cause for Thanksgiving.

In the years that followed, Thanksgiving days were observed, but not annually. Several times there were lapses in between years. When Thanksgiving days were finally held, they were marked by some special reason such as good harvests, deliverance from small-pox, good weather, and prayer for deliverance of the danger to their frontiers.

In 1705, after Thanksgiving days had been pretty well established, the town of Colechester, in Connecticut, postponed Thanksgiving one week due to a deficiency of molasses. The shortage was tragedy since in those early days, molasses was a "symbol" of Thanksgiving day, just as Easter eggs symbolize Easter to the kiddies and candy striped canes represent Christmas.

Too Much 'Molasses.'

This postponement caused the older Puritans to lament the fact that Thanksgiving day was fast becoming, "so much a thing of molasses and other good eatables, and so little a day of solemn religious ceremony."

During the Revolution, continental congress appointed Thanksgiving days which variously fell in April, May, July and December. From 1784 to 1789 there were no Thanksgiving days, but in the latter year, congress recommended to George Washington that a day be set aside for Thanksgiving that Americans might give thanks to the Almighty that the Constitution of the United States had been adopted.

George Washington, in 1795, set aside December 18 as Thanksgiving day that "we might thank Him that the insurrection had been suppressed." There is no record as to what the dry-goods merchants of that era said or wrote to him.

In 1816, President James Madison urged congress to name a Thanksgiving day in honor of peace. In 1863 Abraham Lincoln received and acted upon a suggestion to make the Thanksgiving day an annual affair. He recommended the same to congress—and advised that it be held in November. It has been a November day ever since.

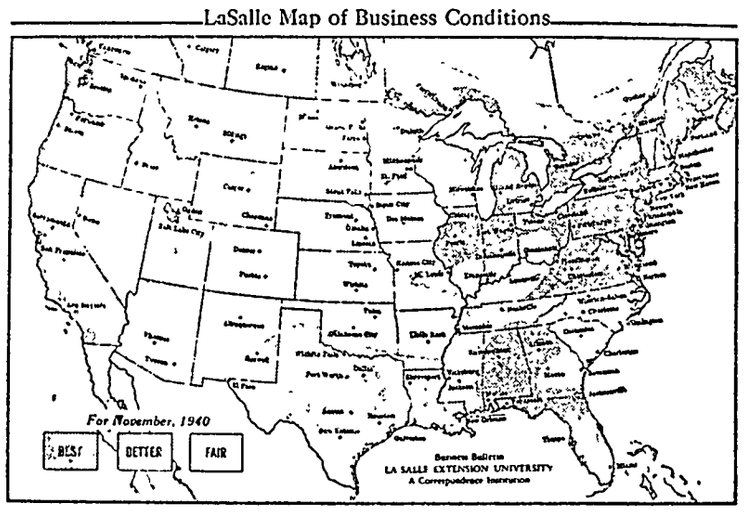
And so, on November 21 of this year, by proclamations of the President and the governors of the various states, 32,000,000 turkeys will end their days on platters, surrounded by steaming potatoes, gleaming cranberries, luscious pumpkin pie and all the trimmings that go along to make Thanksgiving day the feast that it is.

A few states will continue to observe Thanksgiving on November 28, while several, as they did last year, will observe two Thanksgivings.

Pity the poor turkey.

Expanding Business Creates More Jobs

LaSalle Map of Business Conditions



Current business conditions as they affect every area of the United States are reflected in this map prepared by La Salle Extension University of Chicago.

By L. G. ELLIOTT
(President, LaSalle Extension University)

More goods are being turned out by our mills and factories than at any other time in the last 10 years. The continued increase in business activity has pushed factory pay rolls and consumer buying steadily higher. They are now over 10 per cent above a year ago, and retail trade prospects for the next few months are promising.

Over 1,000,000 persons have been put back to work during the past year, and employment in industry is continuing to improve. The added purchasing power that is provided is increasing the demand for manufactured goods and farm products.

The increase has taken place in every part of the country and in most of the major lines of industry. The largest gains in recent weeks have been made in those industries which are most directly affected by the armament program and by large governmental expenditures. The trend is upward, and indications point toward further expansion.

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

Memos of a Colyumer's Sec'y

Dear Mr. W.: Paulette Goddard's pals are sure she will shortly file in Mexico . . . And I hear that Rosalind Russell and Fred Brisson, son of Carl Brisson, are completely out of this world . . . You are staying too late at the theater. The paper had to replate the 4-star edition to squeeze in your "Suzanna" notice, which got here 10 minutes after 1, instead of 10 minutes after 12 . . . In short, the City Desk says that you must leave the theater by 11 o'clock henceforth.

Virgil Thompson panned the opening Philharmonic Concert in the Trib the other morning. A friend of mine spoke of "the awful rap" to the manager, who replied: "That's nothing—we'll even things next week. We'll play some of Thompson's music!" . . The critic, you know, is a composer, one of his works being "Four Saints in Three Acts" . . . Monte Proser's new Copacabana started off with a zippy premiere, every part of the show clicking with a bang . The gal who posed for that lovely ballerina picture in Stage magazine's first number is 19-year-old Lorraine Gittman, a model. MGM wants her.

That magazine everybody suspects of being subversive is being investigated quietly—for backers, coin, etc . . . I've told the feature section about the sense of humor of the Sing Sing inmates. The mascot of their ball team is a black sheep . . I think you ought to run the scolding in that coast editorial—it put me in stitches.

The lad who posed for the General Motors ad used in all papers ("We Hope We Set a Boy to Dreaming") is Kingsley Colton of the Court of Missing Heirs radio program . . . Add lovely things: Yvette's version of "These Foolish Things," a Bluebird of a recording . . Frank Parker will get the singing lead in "The Ziegfeld Follies." Last time he was in a musical he was a chorus boy.—Your Girl Friday.

LONDONERS ARE TALKING ABOUT . . .

Eric Sevareid, crack young correspondent and commentator for the Columbia Broadcasting System, returned to the United States via Clipper last Sunday. He was in France when it fell and since then in London, where life is a commodity to be exchanged for nothing less than freedom, and death is something preferable to surrender. Mr. Sevareid will return to London after a brief breathing spell in N. Y. He made these notes on the clipper.

Ambassador Joe Kennedy's indigestion, which has not benefited from a steady diet of eggs and pills, a lack of sleep and the unending bombings. He has grown pessimistic about the world situation and doesn't want to go back to London . . . The boners Halifax continues to make in his speeches. Whenever he speaks of England's allies he invariably forgets to include the valiant Poles who have continued the struggle, and he never fails to include the phrase, "Christian civilization," which is a slap for India —where Halifax was once viceroy!

Churchill. He is far and away the most lucid mind and voice in Britain. Historians are convinced he will live in history as the greatest British orator, Pitt not forgotten. Churchill, for your information, is privately convinced that America ought to come into the war at once. He is tired of having to sell the U. S. on every new event and idea. Those are the prime minister's own beliefs, but there is no denying that the impact of American intervention would be terrific in France, where (despite the stuff you hear from Vichy) nine out of ten pray for British victory.

The American correspondents and their amazing esprit de corps. No phony heroics, no trivial struggle for meaningless "scoops," and best of all, lots of intestinal fortitude. Ray Daniell and his NY Times cohorts moved their office into the basement of the Savoy hotel some time ago. The Herald Trib boys are there now, too, pounding their typewriters under criss-crossed steel girders two stories underground. When things get dull Vic Oliver comes in to do a bit of entertaining and Bob Post orates on his favorite subject—the British navy Scotty Reston and Frank Kelly, who live in this basement to eliminate the 5-minute tram ride to and from work, sit and reminisce about home and family. But Larry Rue, old calloused Chicago Tribune hand, is probably not there. He likes to sit on the ROOF during a raid, caress a scotch and soda and hurl profanity at the night riders.

The split second timing that saved old Bob Casey's life twice in one evening. He and a friend stopped their cab one night to argue for 10 minutes in order to determine who should be driven home first. They reached a decision and started for the friend's hotel, arriving there just in time to see the inn erupt into the street. They collected their nerves at the nearest pub and set out for Bob's quarters. Same thing. A bomb got there less than a minute before them. That's really a little too close for comfort.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Little known fact regarding Britain's attempt to aid Greece was that this time, the British were not caught entirely napping. Several weeks before the Italian advance, they had smuggled one division of Australian troops into Greece, and they are now reported to be holding the passes in the rugged mountains of Macedonia.

However, the total Australian force is not much more than 20,000 men, a mere drop in the bucket compared with Italy's 200,000 troops now advancing from Albania.

Biggest help the British can give the Greeks, of course, is at sea. There have been no major engagements between the British and Italian fleets chiefly because the Italians have kept pretty well out of sight. But now, with the necessity of sending a constant stream of supplies to a large army, the Italians are sure to run into some major engagements with the British.

Unquestionably, if the Greeks should fall, it would be Jugoslavia's turn next. With the support of the Jugoslav army, the Greeks would have a real chance, for the Serbs are among the best fighters in Europe. However, the Balkans seem to be following the same policy of the Dutch and Belgians; that is, letting Hitler pick them off one by one.

* * *

LABOR TRUCES

Defense Commissioner Sidney Hillman's crack labor advisory board is making use of an old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" to overcome one of the most serious obstacles to preparedness—work stoppage.

Quietly, the board has adopted the rule of getting employers and workers together on a mutual agreement for the settlement of disputes before activity is begun on a defense project.

This new system ensures labor the protection of its rights, and at the same time safeguards the employer from loss through strikes or jurisdictional squabbles between rival unions.

Illustrative of the plan is the agreement arranged between the contractors building the new six-ways shipyard at Orange, Texas, for the Consolidated Steel corporation of Los Angeles, and the unions. It was negotiated by Charles MacGowen, able vice president of the A. F of L. boilermakers and a member of the labor advisory board.

Before a spade was put to ground, MacGowen secured from Harry Morton, contractor representative, an agreement guaranteeing payment of prevailing wages, time-and-a-half for overtime, double time for Sunday and holiday work, and no lockouts. In exchange, Morton secured from labor a no-strike guarantee and arbitration of jurisdictional differences.

* * *

U. S. BLANKETS

Cable dispatches have made no reference to it, but one factor credited by military authorities with helping to maintain the morale of bomb-battered Londoners has been several hundred thousand American blankets They have been a life-saver for the harried men, women and children crowded into dank, subterranean shelters.

Some time ago the British Red Cross cabled a frantic appeal for blankets for use in air-raid shelters. The American Red Cross decided to buy the durable and warm blankets used by the U. S. army, which average around $6 apiece in mass wholesale lots, but immediately ran into serious tangles.

One was the fact that the government was heavily in the market for blankets for the army and navy, and if the Red Cross also entered the market, prices would certainly skyrocket. So the Red Cross turned to the defense commission's business aces, who immediately called a conference of leading merchandisers from Macy's, Sears Roebuck, Filene's, Montgomery Ward and others.

By long distance telephone these experts immediately made a flash survey of U. S. mills, which revealed the discouraging fact that the mills didn't have 200,000 army-specification blankets on hand, even at $6 per blanket. But there were ample "seconds" available, blankets rejected by government inspectors. These could be bought at around $2 each.

And that was done. The British got blankets without delay and at a saving of $800,000. Simultaneously American mills cleared their shelves and the domestic market was undisturbed.

* * *

CAPITAL CHAFF

To keep step with the new civilian army, the war department has added a civilian adviser to its press section. He is Harold Jacobs, veteran newsman, borrowed from the wage-hour division.

Dies Committeeman Joe Starnes of Alabama has come to the defense of Rep. John Coffee of Washington, who is being accused by his Republican opponent of opposing the Dies investigation. Starnes sent Coffee a letter commending his support of the committee.

The Once Over

by H. I. Phillips

THE DICTATOR AT HO
(Continued)

Dictator (getting out of Draw me my tub!

Wife—Don't be funny. You enough to turn faucets.

Dictator—I'm not accusto having my orders disobeyed way.

Wife—Well, that's just to Quiet, please. I want to s little longer.

Dictator (from the bathr
Ella, where's my shaving cre

Wife—How should I know your shaving cream is? An yell so!

Dictator—I put it on the shelf and it ain't here. I've everywhere.

Wife (getting up and fin right on the second shelf)—Ri der your nose, yet you couldn
it. And you're the fellow always finding new outlets sea!

* *

Dictator (dressing)—I thi wear my blue uniform of a tion general today.

Wife—That funny getup!

Dictator (hurt)—I don t thi funny.

Wife—Of course not If y
you wouldn't wear it in all news reel pictures. Put on yo uniform of a cavalry colonel.
ain't so hot, either, but it fits.

Dictator—I'm wearing my uniform!

Wife—Okay. If you want t like a monkey, it's your own ness.

Dictator—The trouble with you don't know a good u when you see one. I know s do. I know class. I know d tion. (But he puts on the ta form.)

* *

Wife (at breakfast)—You'v egg on your chin, honeykins.

Dictator—Don't call me kins. These eggs are too soft how.

Wife—They're four-minute e Dictator—They couldn't hav boiled over three minutes.

Wife—Four minutes!

Dictator—Three minutes!

Wife—Four!

Dictator—Three! And wh
you laughing at?

Wife—I'm laughing at yo adequacy in debate. If you even win an argument over how do you get away with all arguments over the destiny
tions?

Dictator—Enough of this! I' ing down to the office where find some respect.

Wife—On your way home to stop at the butcher's and bri
some liver for the cat.

Dictator—I don't know that be coming that way.

Wife—You heard me. Liv
the cat.

Dictator—Oh, all right. Bu sen, have dinner early. I've big conference on about affa the Mediterranean.

Wife—Not tonight. We've a and bridge engagement at the geons.

Dictator—You'll have to call

Wife—That's what you thin made this date a month ag
we can't break it. Now run like a nice boy.

Dictator (hopelessly)—Gee, can't I ever have my own w anything?

* * *

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

The ultimate in dog love is ed by a woman who was try get another woman on the tele the other day. The wire s constantly busy. A protest complaint operator brought formation that the phone wa dently out of order. The w making the call finally motore to her friend's house and told the trouble.

"Oh, yes," replied her
"I've had the receiver off th for the last hour so Fido can g
nap. She's awfully nervous la

* * *

FAIR WARNING!

There is going to be a sensa the European war one of these when a bomber hits a legi target.

* * *

Ad similes: as servile as the government.

* * *

OLD TIMERS

"Charley's Aunt," a c which made grandpaw and maw laugh their heads off, ha revived on Broadway. We lo
"Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Ben
"Thru the Breakers," "The Train Robbery," "Bertha the tiful Sewing Machine Girl" a Byrnes Brothers in "Eight any day now

* * *

Description of a girlish ty
R. Roelofs Jr · Vogue on th side and vague on the inside

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WHETHER you celebrate Thanksgiving Day on November 21, because of the President's proclamation, or on November 28, in accordance with the tradition of its observance on the last Thursday in November, it won't be long now until you'll be "talking turkey." For, so strong is tradition, that no Thanksgiving Day dinner table seems quite complete unless there's a roasted turkey on it.

That's one day in the year when the turkey is our "national bird" even though the bald eagle officially holds that title and is thus recognized for 364 days of the year (365 this year). But on a Thursday in November the white-headed "king of birds" temporarily abdicates and his place is taken by a king-for-a-day—the turkey.

As a matter of fact, he might have been our "national bird" throughout the year—if Benjamin Franklin had had his way about it. Soon after the Declaration of Independence was signed, a congressional committee was appointed to choose an official seal for the new republic. Like most committees, this one immediately began squabbling over its task.

When some one proposed that the bald eagle should appear on the seal as a living symbol of the nation, there was immediate opposition and Franklin became the leader of the anti-eagle faction. He declared that the bald eagle was a lazy, cowardly, cruel carrion-eating cousin of the buzzard and therefore no fit object to put on the seal. In its place he urged that the honor be given to the wild turkey as a more temperate, humane and judicious bird.

Six-Year Dispute.

So bitter was the opposition to the eagle that it was necessary to appoint no less than six congressional committees to wrestle with the problem. After six years the pro-eagle faction won out and by vote of congress on June 20, 1782, the bald eagle was officially adopted as the symbol of American freedom and of the majesty of the new nation.

Not only was the eagle to be placed on the great seal of the United States but he was also to appear on the first coins issued. The designs of these were rather crude affairs and the eagle on them looked much like a turkey and a slightly tipsy turkey at that. Whereupon Franklin, still unreconciled to the choice of a national bird, wrote to a friend: "I am not displeased that the figure is not known as a bald eagle, but looks more like a turkey. For the truth, the turkey is in comparison a much more respectable bird, and withal a true native of America. He is besides (though a little vain and silly, it is true, but not the worse emblem for that) a bird of courage, and would not hesitate to attack a grenadier of the British guards, who should presume to enter his farmyard with a red coat on."

Two years later he was apparently still unreconciled to the honor paid to the eagle instead of his choice. The Order of Cincinnatus, an organization of army officers who had served in the revolution, had also adopted the eagle as its emblem. Franklin wrote to one of its leaders, declaring that a bird too lazy to fish for himself, who robbed the honest fish hawk on every occasion and who was so cowardly as to permit the little kingbird "to drive him out of the district" was by no means a proper emblem for the brave and honest Cincinnati of America," who by their badness had "driven all the kingbirds from our country." But apparently his letter didn't do much good for the eagle remained the emblem of this order.

Franklin was quite right in calling the turkey a "true native of America." That he was one of the authentic "first Americans" is proved by the fact that his bones in fossil deposits show that he is of prehistoric origin, and what appears to have been roosting places for domestic turkeys have been found attached to pueblos and cliff dwellings in excavated ruins of untold centuries ago.

It is a curious paradox that this native American bird should come to our Thanksgiving tables bearing a foreign name which gives the erroneous suggestion that he came from the European-Asiatic country of Turkey. Yet such is the case and here is how it came about:

The Spaniards who conquered Mexico found turkeys, both wild and domesticated, in that country as early as 1519 and it was no less a person than Cortez's own confessor, Fra Agapida, who wrote back to Spain from Mexico the following, "There is a bird, much greater in bigness than a peacock, that is found within the forests and vegas all over this country. It surpasses as food any wild bird we have found up to this time. The natives do shoot these birds with arrows and catch them in various kinds of springes and snares.

The first great seal of the United States, adopted by congress in 1782.

Specimens of this splendid fowl were almost immediately sent back to Spain and the Jewish merchants, who were the leading dealers in such commodities at the time, thought they looked more like peacocks than anything else. The Hebrew word for peacock was "tukki," from a Hindu word "toka," meaning "trailing skirt," and these merchants began calling them "tukkis" or "American tukkis." Soon the word "tukki" became corrupted to "turkey" and led to a confusion as to their origin, even though they were of American rather than Turkish nativity.

A Royal Gift.

From Spain the new delicacy from the New world spread to other parts of Europe and won instant favor. Turkeys were taken to Persia by Armenians, and to Batavia by the Dutch. In France —where the turkey was, and is, called "dinde" because they believed it hailed from India—the bird was first served for the wedding feast of the lively young Charles IX and Elizabeth of Austria. Twelve turkeys were considered fine enough for a royal gift from the merchants of Amiens to Charles. By the middle of the century, England met the bird, and in another 20 years it was being plentifully raised in various sections of Great Britain.

And now comes one of the curious paradoxes of history, in that this "native American" became an immigrant to the shores of his own land. In 1629 a letter, written to Governor Endicott in Salem, Mass., by his agents in London, assured him that "tame turkies shall be sent you by the nexte shippe." So in a short time the New England variety of the North American wild turkey was being mixed with his partly domesticated descendant from Mexico via England—thus completing a curious 100-year round-the-world tour.

It is probable that not one turkey in a thousand which will grace the Thanksgiving table this year will be a native wild turkey. For the original New England wild turkey (Meleagres Americana) is all but extinct in the part of the country where he first made his appearance on that festal board. The wild turkey of today (Meleagres gallapavo silvestris,) according to ornithologists, is found in greatly reduced numbers only from Pennsylvania and Ohio south to the gulf states and west to Arkansas. There is a smaller variety, the Florida wild turkey, in that state; in southern Texas is another, the Rio Grande turkey and in the Rocky mountain region, another, Merriam's turkey. All modern domesticated turkeys are derived from the Mexican wild turkey (Meleagres Mexicana) of the earliest days.

The First Thanksgiving.

But to get back to why the turkey occupies such a prominent place on our Thanksgiving day dinner table—of that first celebration, held in Plymouth in 1621, Edward Winslow wrote back to England as follows:

"Our harvest being gotten in, our Governor sent foure men on fowling, that so we might after a more speciall manner rejoyce together, after we had gathered in the fruit of our labours; they foure in one day killed as much fowle, as with a little help beside, served the company almost a week, at which time amongst other recreations, we exercised our Armes, many of the Indians coming amongst us, and amongst the rest of their greatest King Massasoyt, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five Deere, which they brought to the Plantation and bestowed on our Governor, and upon the Captaine (Standish) and others."

There is no doubt that among the "fowle" at this feast, enjoyed alike by the Pilgrims and the Indians, was the native wild turkey, for that bird had long been a staple in the diet of the red man. Incidentally, that familiar expression "talk turkey" dates from those early days and we are indebted to the Indians for it, too.

In one of the Thirteen Colonies (it cannot be stated positively which one, although from certain aspects of the incident the suspicion arises that it was in New England) an Indian and a white man agreed to hunt together for a day and then to divide the spoils. This they did and the division proceeded agreeably enough until only a crow and a turkey remained.

Thereupon the white man, volubly frank and seemingly generous in manner, said: "Now you may have the crow and I'll take the turkey; or I'll take the turkey and you may have the crow." But the red man was not so easily taken in by this glib proposal and replied indignantly: "Huh! Why you no talk turkey to me?" And ever since that time, so says the legend, when a person began to dissemble, to conceal his real meaning in a superfluity of words, to attempt to "put over" something on another, it became time for the other to advise him to "talk turkey," i. e. to be straightforward and get down to business.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE Pennsylvania State Board of Censors recently banned Paramount's "The World in Flames," which is as hard to understand as their banning "The Ramparts We Watch." The official ruling—"In the judgment of the board this picture has a tendency to corrupt and debase morals, and it is not proper."

The picture is a factual record of the past 20 years, and stresses the need of our nation's preparedness. It had its first public showing in Washington, D. C., before an audience of high officials of the federal government, and received the unqualified approval of such national defense leaders as the secretary of the navy and the secretary of war.

Henry Fonda's all in favor of living in glass houses. The room he likes best in his own house is the breakfast room, which is built entirely of glass bricks. The light seems to flow from the walls in cheerful, spirit-boosting doses, and he's found it the best cure for before-breakfast blues, even when he has to get up at the crack of dawn to be at the studio on time.

Henry Fonda

Fanny ("Baby Snooks") Brice strings right along with him. She had a huge hole cut in one of the walls of her San Fernando valley home and filled it with glass blocks—they let in plenty of daylight, but as they're non-transparent they don't make her feel like a goldfish.

It's news that Paramount won in the scramble to buy the screen rights to Ernest Hemingway's splendid novel, "For Whom the Bell Tolls"—the price was $100,000. It's a story of war-time Spain, with a love story even more beautiful and thrilling than the one in "Farewell to Arms." The hero's role is perfect for Gary Cooper, who's had long discussions with the author about it.

"Land of Liberty," the feature picture which was the contribution of the motion picture industry to the New York World's fair and the San Francisco exposition, will be distributed nationally by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Plans call for donating the net amount derived from the release of the film to welfare work among soldiers and sailors by the American Red Cross and similar organizations.

Bette Davis

The picture tells the history of America from the days before the coming of the white men to modern times. Included in the list of stars appearing in individual sequences of the story are Bette Davis, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert, James Stewart, George Arliss, Margaret Sullavan, Walter Houston, George Raft, and many other headliners.

It took a month for Paramount to persuade one of Detroit's huge automobile companies to let them use the interior of the plant to film scenes for "Reaching for the Sun," a story of the automotive industry. Joel McCrea and Ellen Drew are co-starred, and the cast includes Albert Dekker, Eddie Bracken and Billy Gilbert.

Just before Ray Heatherton went on the air for Westinghouse's "Musical Americana" somebody asked him who composed "Annie Laurie," which he was to sing. Somebody else piped up and said, "Robert Burns, of course." Heatherton would have won money on that question on a quiz program, for he happened to know that Burns was no musician, and didn't even write the words of the popular old song.

Furthermore, he knew its history—that it developed as the result of a romance between William Douglas, a young Scotsman, and the real Annie Laurie; because her hard-hearted father objected to the romance, Douglas went off to the Flemish wars without claiming her as his bride. The verses, composed by Douglas, were found by Lady John Douglas Scott, who was a distant relative of Annie Laurie's, and she altered the words and composed the music.

ODDS AND ENDS—Frances Langford's deep voice is attributed to the loss of her tonsils . . . The sponsors of the Tom Mix radio series will continue it, despite his death, as an inspiration to young Americans . . . "Boom Town" has been so successful that Metro is preparing "Leadville," starring Vivian Leigh, James Stewart and Clark Gable; it's laid in the Colorado mining camp in the 1870s . . If you belong to a Kenny Baker fan club, get ready to celebrate Kenny Baker Day on November 20th. Approximately sixty of the fan clubs have set that day aside as his, and will give him a plaque at his broadcast.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 24

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

ATTITUDES TOWARD THE GOSPEL MESSAGE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 8:4-15
GOLDEN TEXT—Take heed therefore how ye hear.—Luke 8 18.

"He that hath ears to hear, let him hear," cried Jesus as He taught the parable of the sower. Thus He reveals the heart of the lesson—that it is the hearing of the Word of God, and the manner in which it is heard that determines the destiny of men.

One may hear and yet not hear at all. Some who imagine themselves deaf have perfect hearing, but are so preoccupied with their own thoughts that they do not grasp what they hear. To be in such a state as far as spiritual things are concerned is desperately serious. Jesus cries to you, "If you have ears, hear the Word of God."

A parable is an earthly story relating common things of life to illustrate and present heavenly truth regarding the spiritual life. Parables are simple, but profound. A parable does not need interpretation, but it does need application. The parable of the sower, or rather of the four kinds of soil, presents the hearers of God's Word as being like four different fields.

I. The Wayside (vv. 5 and 12).

Through the fields of Palestine ran well-beaten paths, so hard from many footsteps that no seed could find lodgment and grow. The hearts of men are like that, with the world rolling its heavy wheels over the roads of our thinking. Sin and worldly pleasure add their bit, and the din and clatter of unwholesome or nonsensical radio programs cut their paths across our lives.

Little wonder that so much of the Word of God which we do hear is picked up by the devil's own birds and carried away. Let's break up the hard ground of our life's way-side.

II. The Rocky Ground (vv. 6 and 13).

Here we have the shallow soil on the rocky ledge, where seeds grow as if in a hothouse, but wither when the steady heat of the summer sun comes upon them.

Shallow hearers are those who receive the word with joy, are carried away with emotional enthusiasm, and seem to be most promising as followers of Christ until the real temptations and trials of life come, and then they are gone. They are like the soldier who enjoys wearing the uniform and marching in the parade past the reviewing stand with bands playing and flags flying, but who deserts his post when his company goes into battle. Surely none of us wants to be that kind of a hearer of God's Word.

III. The Thorny Ground (vv. 7 and 14).

The soil was good, the seed found its place to live and grow, but no one kept down the weeds, and they, as usual, got the best of the good seed.

Note carefully in verse 14 what are the destructive thorns and weeds in the spiritual garden. The very things people in our day most seek—riches and pleasure—are the things which choke spirituality. Watch them and root them out.

Observe also that the "cares" of this world are the weeds of the devil. How they do press upon us and hinder our spiritual growth. A man testified that while he had attended church for 20 years he had never heard a sermon because he was always thinking about his business. How about you?

IV. The Good Ground (vv. 8 and 15).

The harvest comes from the good soil, and how it does rejoice the husbandman as it brings forth even up to a hundred fold.

The hearers of the Word who are thus fruitful for God are "honest." They listen to really receive help and do something about what they hear. They have "good hearts"—a field plowed, prepared and weeded, ready to bring forth fruit. When they hear the Word they "hold it fast"—they are reverent, thoughtful and obedient to the Word. Then they have the "patience" to grow spiritually. It takes patient effort and devotion to do that, be sure of it (read Luke 21:19 in the R. V.).

In conclusion, we ask, "What then shall we do—sow only in the good ground?" No, let us ask God to break up the beaten soil of the wayside with the plowshare of His Word. Let us deepen the shallow soil, fight the weeds and thorns by His grace until they give up. Then let us go right on sowing the seed "in season and out of season" (read II Tim 4:1-5).

In all such labors your heart will sing with joy because here and there you will be privileged to minister to "an honest and a good heart" which will bring "forth fruit a hundredfold" to the glory of God and for the encouragement of His faithful seed-sower.

Do Not Guess

But let every man prove his own work.—Gal 6:4

You'll Find This Doll Fascinating to Make

THIS doll is as fascinating to make and dress as she is to look at. And what little girl or grown-up wouldn't be charmed with her gay clothes, yarn curls and easy-to-embroider features.

* * *

Pattern 2578 contains a pattern and directions for making a 14½-inch doll and clothes, materials required. Send order to.

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents in coins for Pattern No.....

Name .....

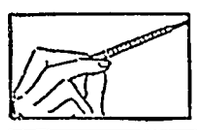
Address .....

Try FAST-ACTION Relief for Pains of COLDS Pictured Here

3 simple steps begin amazing relief in a jiffy

1. To relieve headache, body discomfort and aches, take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets and drink a glass of water. Repeat in 2 hours.

2. For sore throat from cold, dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in ½ glass of water and gargle.



3. Check temperature. If you have a fever and temperature does not go down—call your doctor.

Just be sure you get genuine fast-acting BAYER Aspirin.

At the first sign of a cold, follow the directions in the pictures above—the simple and among the most effective methods of relief known to modern science.

So quickly does Bayer Aspirin "take hold" of painful cold symptoms, welcome relief you can really feel often starts in a short time. It's amazing how fast it works.

Try this way. You will say it is unequalled. But be sure you get the fast-acting Bayer product you want. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by the full name when you buy.

BAYER

GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN

Without Fruits

To read and not to know, is to plow and not to sow.

Miserable with backache?

WHEN kidneys function badly and you suffer a nagging backache, with dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination and getting up at night, when you feel tired, nervous, all upset . . . use Doan's Pills.

Doan's are especially for poorly working kidneys. Millions of boxes are used every year. They are recommended the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

WNU—N 46—40

TEACHING A CHILD VALUE OF PENNIES

A child of a wise mother will be taught from early childhood to become a regular reader of the advertisements. In that way better perhaps than in any other can the child be taught the great value of pennies and the permanent benefit which comes from making every penny count.

The Klemme Times

R A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed. But time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

American Eagle.

After quite a tussel, Kenneth [illegible] Oxford Mills, caught an [illegible] American Eagle recently. [illegible] caring for it at his home.

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
•
RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

Avery
"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 20-21.
"Boys From Syracuse" with Martha Raye and Joe Penner.
Added Attraction

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22-23. (Double Feature)
"DULEY"
with Ann Sothern and Roland Young
ALSO
"The Great McGinty"
with Brian Donlevy and Akim Tamiroff.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 24-25-26.
"Third Finger Left Hand" with Melvyn Douglas and Myrna Loy.

Ink Spots And Spatters

By Jergie

PHEASANT HUNTING DE LUXE . . .

While most pheasants hunters braved sharp ,stinging winds and waded through deep snow, "Sam" Larsen came out with a new wrinkle that put delicious pheasant meat on his table with no effort on "Sam's" part.

"Sam's" system takes all the work out of getting the highly colored ring-neck.

Monday while riding along in the country in his car, enjoying the scenery and the comforts of a heated car, he got his bird! "Sam" just sits in his car while driving along and waits for a pheasant to crash through his windshield! The bird breaks out a large section of glass and Mr. Pheasant falls right into "Sam's" lap This process of hunting is simple, but perhaps expensive, but it gets results!

I-S-A-S

ABE LINCOLN NAMED TURKEY DAY DATE . . .

Thanksgiving Day has not always been observed on the last Thursday in November.

The Pilgrims are said to have originated the day of giving thanks but it is not certain just when it was observed. George Washington proclaimed Thanksgiving to be observed, but no definite date was set nor observed until President Abraham Lincoln had the date permanently fixed 74 years ago, to be observed on the last Thursday in November.

President Roosevelt upset the old tradition last year in the hope that it would benefit business and moved the day ahead one week. Some states fell in line, while others clung to the old tradition. As a result, the states which will celebrate Thanksgiving on November 28, will also, to some extent, celebrate on the 21st, such as banks, post offices and other institutions and employees who come under government direction, will celebrate on the 21st, and some on both the federal and the state date.

I-S-A-S

HUNTERS ARE BECOMING EDUCATED . . .

We have not heard of a single hunting accident in North Iowa this year, either during the duck or pheasant hunting season. Conditions were not ideal for pheasant hunting this year as the fields were covered with snow, ice and slush, which added to the hazards of hunting and made slippery going.

More and more hunters are beginning to stress saftey in the field and will not tolerate the hunter who is not careful. The reckless hunter has no place in a crowd of sportsmen.

RURAL SCHOOL PROGRAM

A Thanksgiving program will be given by Twin Lake No. 5 and 6, at Twin Lake No. 5, November 26. A turkey will be given away and lunches sold. Teachers are Marian Studabaker and Doris Pringnitz.

Circle Will Meet

Mrs. C. A. Larsen's circle will meet Thursday afternoon, November 21st, with Mrs. Clifford Montgomery.

Baptized

Ruth Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lauster, was baptized at the Klemme Reformed church on Sunday morning, November 10, by Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch.

BOX SOCIAL

There will be a program and box social at Union No. 9, six miles east of Klemme, on Thursday evening, Nov. 21. Lunches will be served, and the public is invited. Miss Frances Lee is the teacher.

Around Iowa

Votes.

Peter B. Buck, Des Moines, has lived and voted in the same precinct for 64 years. During all the time he has not missed a vote.

-oOo-

Admonished.

"You don't need to break into a funeral home — when they want you, they'll carry you in," was the advice given to Colwell Baker, Red Oak, after he had kicked in three panes of glass at a local funeral home.

-oOo-

Burned.

Clyde McKinnon, Clarinda, was severely burned when his clothes caught fire while he was burning leaves recently.

-oOo-

Empty.

When the old Buchanan county court house was torn down nothing could be found in either of the four corner stones of the building which was built in 1857. However things will be difficult if the new building is torn down later. One of the corner stones has been filled with memorials of 1939.

-oOo-

Fire Prevention.

In an effort to eliminate wiring defects in Storm Lake, the city council has appointed Ed Ibson to enforce the city's wiring ordinance.

-oOo-

Old Coins.

Ruth Currans,' Ruthven, garden is really making money for her. She recently found 25 coins, all ancient one-cent pieces, some dating back 100 years.

-oOo-

Electricity.

A home-made electrical device, which Nels Johnson, Hastings, fixed for himself to cure arthritis, was the cause of his death.

Iowa's Livestock auctions have been reduced from 195 in 1936, to a present total of 185.

Egg production the last half of this year is expected to be less than that of a year ago.

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL
Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:
Church School .... 10:00 a. m.
Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor .. 7:00 p. m.
Forum Clinic ... .. 8:00 p. m.
Recreation ..... 9:00 p. m.
Wednesday:
Bible Study ..... 8:00 p. m.
Thursday;
Choir Practice ..... 8:00 p. m.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10:00 a. m. German Service
Celebration of Lord's Supper.
Parts for the Christmas program will be given out. All children please be present.
11:00 a. m. Sunday School.
8:00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
8:00 p. m. Thursday
Mixed Chorus.
Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m.
Sub. Dist. E .L. Rally at Britt next Monday evening, Nov. 25th. Potluck supper at 6:30 p. m.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10 15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
E. L. and Rally as above.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE— DRESSED DUCKS and Geese Please order on or before November 25th. Mrs. Ernest Pringnitz, Phone 2F9 1tc.

FOR SALE—CORN BELT CORN Picker in good working condition, 3 years old, runs good. Fred J. Arnold. N-13tfc

STORM SASH AND COMBINATION Storm and Screen Doors, Storm Door Paper . . . everything for winter. Northern Lumber Company. , 1tc

FOR SALE—USED MODEL A Coach, in good running condition. Wellemeyer tfc.

FOR SALE— NICE CLEAN KINDling Wood. Northern Lumber Company. 1tc

FOR SALE— SPOTTED BOARS and one Shorthorn Bull. A. S. Harris. N6-27pd

FOR SALE—NEW IDEA MANure Spreader. This machine needs no repairs, six years old. Fred J. Arnold. N-13tfc

FOR SALE—COAL BURNING Parlor Heater, circulating type. In good condition and cheap. Klemme Co-Operative Grain Co. O-16tc.

WINTER COMPORT WILL BE assured in your home by insulating with Zonolite. Ask your neighbor how he likes Zonolite, sold by the Northern Lumber Company. 1tc

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7 50, like new for $5 00 Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc.

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

WANTS

WANTED—HIRED GIRL. Mrs. Quentin Stille. N-13tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

Falls.

Mrs. Vincent Daugetry, Bellevue, believes it isn't safe to shake a dust mop. Last week, as she leaned against the railing of a second-story porch, the railing gave way and she fell to the sidewalk. Her back was severely injured.

Clover or early-cut timothy is preferred over rich alfalfa for young calves, state dairy husbandmen at Iowa State College.

No Baths.

The Knoxville city cou[illegible] taking such stringent meth[illegible] collecting delinquent wate[illegible] that some of the residents [illegible] city will find themselves [illegible] water unless the bills are p[illegible]

Prices for the principal products during the sum[illegible] 1940 averaged considerably [illegible] than in the summer of 1939

HAVE YOUR CAR
WINTER-SURED
TODAY!

Be Prepared for Fall and Winter Driving

Make driving this winter safe, carefree and enjoyable by having your car Winter-Sured

You'll be surprised how little it costs

FALL AND WINTER AUTO SUPPLIES

Drive in today for a COMPLETE Winter Lubrication, Electrical and Motor Inspection that will insure you protection when winter days hit hard!

ACCESSORIES AND SUPPLIES FOR FALL AND WINTER . . .

We carry a complete line of Accessories for all makes of cars:

Hot Air Heaters	Willard Batteries
Hot Water Heaters	Grant Batteries
Anti-Freeze	Radiator Covers
Defrosting Fans	Tire Chains
Snow-Mud Tires	Fog Lamps
Fan Belts	Spark Pulgs
Seat Covers	Winter Oils

TIRES . . . if you need new Tires we advise you to buy now as prices will advance and a purchase NOW will save you money!

See Us Today For A Better Used Car For Less Money!

- PHONE 93 -
Klemme Auto Company
Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service Klemme, Io

You'll Be Thankful...

ALL YEAR IF YOU USE GARNER BAKERY PRODUCTS . . .

because the best of materials is used in all of our baking and delivered FRESH to your Grocer every day.
Your Grocer will have a variety of our Baked Goods your Thanksgiving Dinner!!!

AND WE THANK YOU . . . . . .

For buying our products from your Grocer the past year we hope for your continued patronage in the future. We shall always strive to give the best product possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lehman, Prop.

Garner Bakery
Milkmaid Bread Garner, Io

Automatic Electric Fountain Heater

Automatic thermostat heat control. Provides just the right amount of heat at all times for any fountain from 2 to 8 gallon capacity. Thermostat is adjusted to turn on at 55 degrees and shut off at 65 degrees. No bothersome adjustments. No fire hazard

An 8 gallon fountain requires only about 1 kilowatt of current for each 24 hours. Very economical Adjustable clips hold the fountain in place. Regularly furnished for 110 volt A. C. Complete with 8 feet of rubber covered drop cord ready to plug in.

NET PRICE
$3.65

Also complete line of Feeders and Poultry Supplies
E. F. JACOBS, HDW.

DANCE Sat. Night Nov. 23
Klemme Legion Community Hall
Kelly's Kellodians 7 Piece Orch.
Adm. 44c - 33c Tax Included

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF THE RIGHT OF REDEMPTION FROM TAX SALE

TO: THEODORE ROGNESS AND MRS THEODORE ROGNESS; PARTIES IN POSSESSION, KNUD LARSON AND MRS. KNUD LARSON; ADMINISTRATORS OF THE ESTATE OF KNUD LARSON DECEASED; ALL HEIRS, BENEFICIARIES OR DEVISES OR LEGATEES OF KNUD LARSON, DECEASED; AND TO ALL PARTIES CLAIMING ANY RIGHT, TITLE OR INTEREST IN THE REAL ESTATE HEREINAFTER DESCRIBED:

You and each of you are hereby notified that the following described real estate, situated in Hancock County, Iowa, to-wit:

South One-half (S½) of Northwest Quarter (NW¼ of Section 14, Township 97 North, Range 23, West of the 5th P. M.

was sold for taxes of 1936, on the sixth day of December, 1937, to T. C. Rogness; that the certificate of sale thereof has been assigned and is now owned by Wm. Boyken, and that the right of redemption will expire and a Treasurer's Deed for said land will be issued, unless redemption from such sale is made within Ninety (90) days from the completed service of this notice.

Take notice and govern yourselves accordingly.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1940.

WM. BOYKEN
Owner of Tax Certificate
N13-3tp

Start?

Mrs. Claude Richman, ld like to know how ed which burned the had hung on the pieces of clothing – but they haven't ll out yet!

To make pork chops go further and taste like more, have your butcher cut a pocket in each chop. Stuff with you favorite bread stuffing and bake in the oven.

Cash farm income from meat animals brought farmers $2,276,000 last year.

Sincere Thanks!

to take this means of saying "Thank You" to the Hancock County for re-electing me Sheriff at the Election, November 6th. It will be my aim to serving you in an efficient manner.

M. "Dutch" Brower

WE MUST SELL OUR

d CARS and TRUCKS

matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT bargains in late models. You take no chances when you th us. Come in and look them over.

Garner Motor Sales

OBILE CHEVROLET

THADA'S

od Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

e Have "Cooked Up" The Following

ecials For Thanksgiving

Holidays and Prices Are Good

, Sat., Mon., Tues., Wed., Nov. 22-27

SALADA Green or Black and 10c pkg. Tea Bags FREE 1-4-lb. pkg. 19c

RRIES at ..... 18c | NUT MEATS ½ lb. for 25c

LUX TOILET SOAP 3 Bars 19c

IN 2 for ..... 25c | PUMPKIN No. 2 can, 2 cans 17c

efruit Texas Sweet Dozen 24c

..... 14c | PORK & BEANS 1 lb. cans, 6 for 25c

RINSO Lgr. 21c Gt. 57c Reg. 2 boxes 19c

FLOUR own at ..... 23c | COCKTAIL, Del Monte Buffet size 3 cans for 25c

EBUOY 3 Bar 19c | SPRY SHORTENING 3 lb.CAN 51c | 1 lb.CAN 19c

ES for ..... 08c | CORN MEAL 5 lb. bag at 13c

LUX FLAKES Large 23c Reg. 2 Boxes 19c

the coupons delivered to you this past week by the Lever Soap Co. Soap coupon is good for 2 bars of Lifebouy Spry coupon is good for 10c on either 1 lb. or 3 lb. tin of NG THEM IN!

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman Eunice Larsen
Sophomore Audrey Mau
Junior Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior Shirley Johnson
Dramatics Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music Jacqueline Kudjo
Sports Henry Kaduce
Leonard Kaduce
Grade News Arlene Schmidt

DRAMATICS

"Hooray For Youth" was a great success from the action and talk of the large audience that came out to see the play

SPORTS

The basketball squad is getting ready for the Jamboree which is to be held Wednesday night

Coach Bodge' Bowles had a meeting of the basketball squad Friday noon He drilled the boys on all the fundamentals and drills we have been using in the gym

He gave reasons why some of the plays were failures

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

The Junior's are very much relieved that the play is over and we wish to thank Betty Etchen and Shirley Johnson for taking the vacant parts.

Phyllis Swanson's pigtails drew her many compliments Thursday evening after the performance The main one is that she looks like that little darling of the movies, Virginia Weidler.

Betty Etchen's low cut formal was one of the main attractions complimented by her many admirers. Her beautiful back was especially noticed by a blond senior boy!

Aaron Wille's spots on his face were not measles, but freckles painted on by Miss Michalek Flash! Flash! Betty Lass widely known as "Aunt Effie" wins the Academy Award for 1940 CONGRATULATIONS!

Maxine Mau's love did not alone hold Garland Brinkman, but the graceful way she swished her bustle.

The dashing young Romeo of the evening was Melvin Coobs, who strutted around proudly displaying his mustache

We can readily see why Luella Thiemann gained weight last week by continuously eating candy

We all agreed Billy Zabilka would make a good, natural, handsome Father.

The romance between Arlene Schmidt and Robert Schutz was not hard to put in action because things in reality are easily expressed.

Bruce Arnold as Trowbridge Peters (Stinky), a sophisticated boy, high-pitched voice displayed his talent and future on the stage

Shirley Johnson as Hattie just gave her practice for a future time as mistress of her own household Her powerful muscle to spank children is stupendous!

Arlene Buseman, Kewpie Stark, who was always late for the meetings in the play gave the excuse she had to help her mother with dishes. We wonder if that's the reason she tells Mr Kingery on Monday mornings.

Lucille Hartbeck, Dot, took her part very well though we noticed how her eyes kept following the dark brown-eyed boy with horn-rimmned glasses part of the time

Charles Bock, Ossie, seemed to like that one speech so well that he said it twice. It's okay Charley, the audience's eye was on your make-up.

WHO'S WHO IN THE JUNIOR CLASS

LORRAINE BUNTENBACH: If anybody happens to look at Lorraine twice she turns a million different colors, but the most prominent is a nice tomato red. Lorraine sings soprano in the mixed chorus and she has been drum major of the band for two years. Someday Lorraine is going to write a book on "How To Manage A Red-haired Sister." (She's had plenty of experience.) If Euclid could only see what she does to his theorems, we're sure he'd turn over in his grave. Her favorite job is taking care of her little brother (he could take her any day) on Saturday and Sunday nights.

MAXINE MAU: Maxine just moved here from Kanawha about a year ago, but in that time one can learn a lot about a person. She's patiently waiting for Garland Brinkman to finish up that love scene with her Do you have to be bashful Garland? Who is the senior boy with "those pretty brown eyes" that Maxine is always talking about? Has anyone ever noticed Walt's eyes?

GARLAND BRINKMAN It seems that Garland is always getting hurt, but the general opmion is that it is just to get sympathy out of the girls. All the geometry students wonder why it is that he always has to have help from us to get his assignments and then when it comes to taking tests he almost always gets A Everyone wants to know where Garland spends his Thursday nights? Of course we know its choir practice

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

In history this week we wrote a letter pretending we were a Roman boy or girl and told about our lives We also had to pick out a Roman character and write something about him called "Who Am I?" When reading this in class a certain sophomore boy said "Who Am I" and then gave the name of the person he had chosen

We found that trapping season was opened Thursday in school!

In biology we are studying amphibians

Who is that certain sophomore girl who likes a guy that fought in the Golden Club Tournament last year?

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

English on Friday found the freshman guls giving a radio programs!

The freshmen enjoyed the pictures on mammals, but they would have enpoyed it more if they wouldn't have had to take notes on it

The way everyone held their noses in English class Thursday would make anyone think they had colds. The way Doris Spitler made faces!!! She acted as if she were related to Boris Karloff Someone had caught two skunks.

Someone in general science has it down pat!!!!

The more you study,
The more you know,
The more you know,
The more you forget.
The more you forget.
The less you know,
So WHY STUDY?
The less you study,
The less you know,
The less you know,
The less you forget,
The more you know,
So WHY STUDY?
I've had experience!

It seems the writer of "Who's Who In The Senior Class" forgot to mention herself, so one of the freshman did her justice as follows

SHIRLEY JOHNSON: She just loves school, band, boys and PHYSICS. So the rumor goes, she takes her physics book to bed with her every night. This was straight from her sister. Shirley plays the glockenspiel in the band, sings in the glee club and mixed chorus, and is one of the reporters and typists on the school newspaper staff. She was the politician who gave those political speeches for WILLKIE a couple of weeks ago. What happened Shirley? Didn't the rest of the U S. agree with you? Better luck next time.

P. S. On Sunday nights a black Ford is often seen, parked in front of the Johnson residence. It couldn't be from BRITT could it Shirley? Or is it the guy with the Hudson car from KLEMME?

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

We attended a program presented by the American Legion on Armistice Day. In the afternoon we didn't have school because of the storm.

The seventh grade is studying per cents in arithmetic. They took self-testing drill No. 2 and earned a score of four which is average work. The eighth grade got a score of five

Ruth Bell and Patricia Kudje got perfect scores in spelling.

GRADES 5 & 6

This week we started on a new unit in science called "How Plants and Animals Get Ready for Winter."

In penmanship we made shields out of red, white and blue paper. On the white paper we wrote the Flag Salute.

The following people had perfect spelling scores this week. Esther, Ruth Smith, Velma, Mary Lou, Arlene, Ruth Stokesbary, Roger B., Peggy, Roger R., Dean and Phyllis.

We have been making soap carvings in art classes.

Phyllis Christiance was reporter.

GRADES 3 & 4

Jacqulea brought a snail for our aquarium. We want to thank her very much

We finished our Indian unit in history Next we are going to study about the Pilgrims.

Third grade reading class are enjoying their unit on fairy tales.

We had 100 per cent in spelling: Luella, Iris, Isabelle, Marjorie and Larry.

Delores and Phyllis Ada were the reporters this week.

KINDERGARTEN GRADES 1 & 2

The kindergarten class have new books called, "Before We Read."

Jacqulea brought two goldfish to school and a snail. We do not have a name for them yet.

Donna Waddingham entered in school Thursday. She is in the kindergarten. This makes eleven in this grade and twenty-six enrolled in this room.

Jacqulea and Sondra had perfect spelling scores this week. It was a review lesson and we had thirty-six words to spell.

WE ARE NOT

Out Of Coal!

. . . but we were pretty well cleaned out by the run after the Big Blizzard. Today we have on hand for immediate delivery:

- ARKANSAS ANTHRACITE
- PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE
- RANGE COAL

Before the end of the week we will have on track one carload of each:

- FELCO EGG COAL & - TIP TOP COAL

We also have more coal on the way and will soon have our bins full, so we can supply you in the usual way!

We Always Appreciate .... Your Business .....

FELCO

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

"The Farmers Elevator" C C. KILGORE, Mgr.

Thanksgiving Values

In spite of rising market prices, we have decided in our Garner store to maintain our original low prices on men's furnishings. We will not raise our prices until our merchandise must be replaced.

HEAVY FLANNEL SUEDE SHIRTS

98c

JACKETS

Heavy, 8-oz., blanket lined.

$1.95

BARNYARD JACKETS

98c

HEAVY WINTER CAPS

39c to98c

HEAVY WOOL SOX

Pair, 19c and up

SUEDE LEATHER JACKETS

Leather collars and leather cuffs; good heavy stock. Complete range of sizes, 36 to 50.

—$5.95—

HEAVY RIBBED UNIONS

Long sleeves, ankle length.

—98c—

WORK PANTS

Heavy covert pants. Others get $1.95 for these. Our price only —$1.49—

FIRST QUALITY OVERSHOES

Four-buckels; good heavy weight. Guaranteed First Quality.

Pair — $2.19

DRESS CLOTHING

Chieftain Suits . . $19.50
Overcoats . . . $12.85 and up
Dress Shirts . . 98c and up
Dress Shoes .... $3.95 and up

DRESS SWEATERS

$2.45 and up

Gildner & Paulson

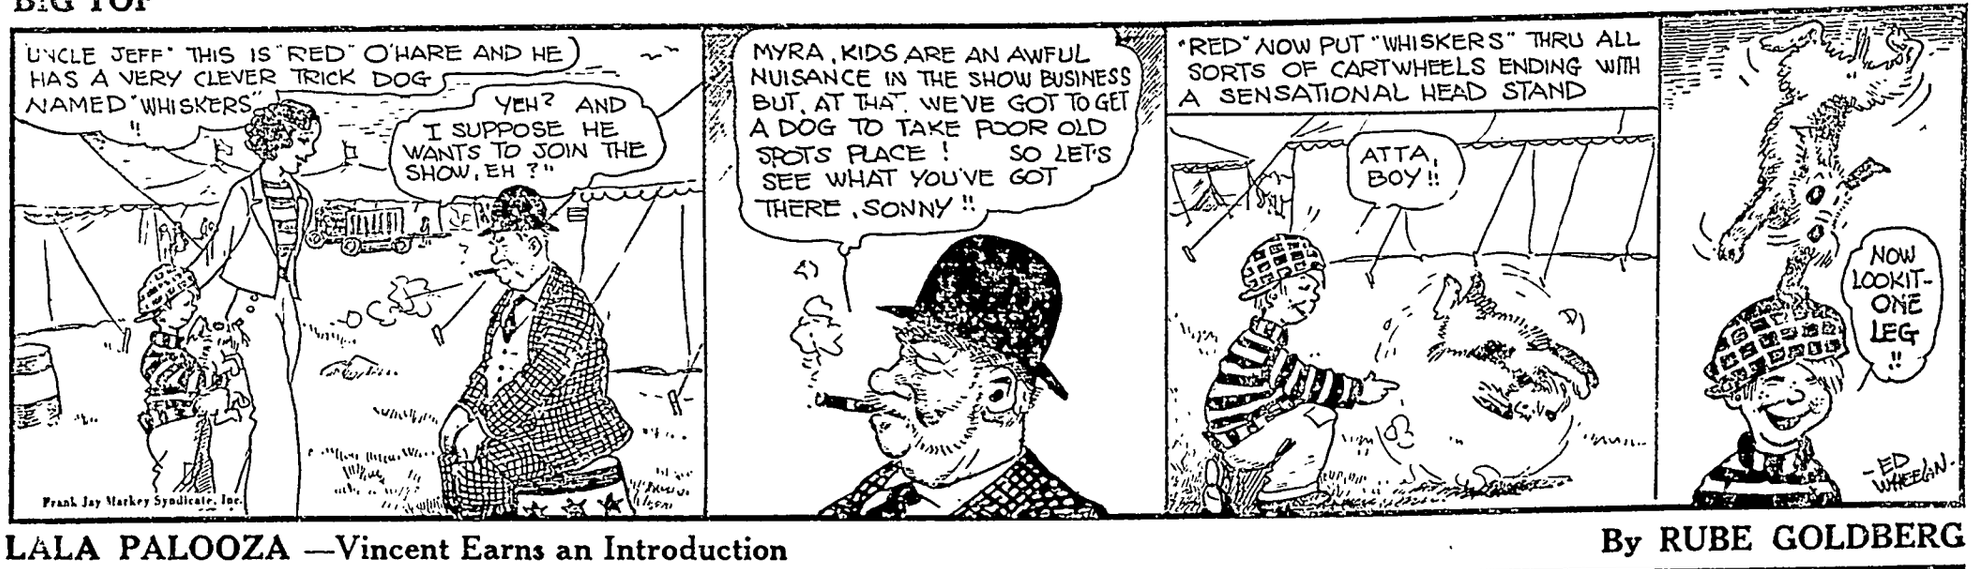
Largest Stock of Men's Clothing in Hancock County

PHONE 113 GARNER

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

BIG TOP — By ED WHEELAN



UNCLE JEFF" THIS IS "RED" O'HARE AND HE HAS A VERY CLEVER TRICK DOG NAMED "WHISKERS" YEH? AND I SUPPOSE HE WANTS TO JOIN THE SHOW, EH?"
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
MYRA, KIDS ARE AN AWFUL NUISANCE IN THE SHOW BUSINESS BUT, AT THAT, WE'VE GOT TO GET A DOG TO TAKE POOR OLD SPOTS PLACE! SO LET'S SEE WHAT YOU'VE GOT THERE, SONNY!!
"RED" NOW PUT "WHISKERS" THRU ALL SORTS OF CARTWHEELS ENDING WITH A SENSATIONAL HEAD STAND ATTA BOY!!
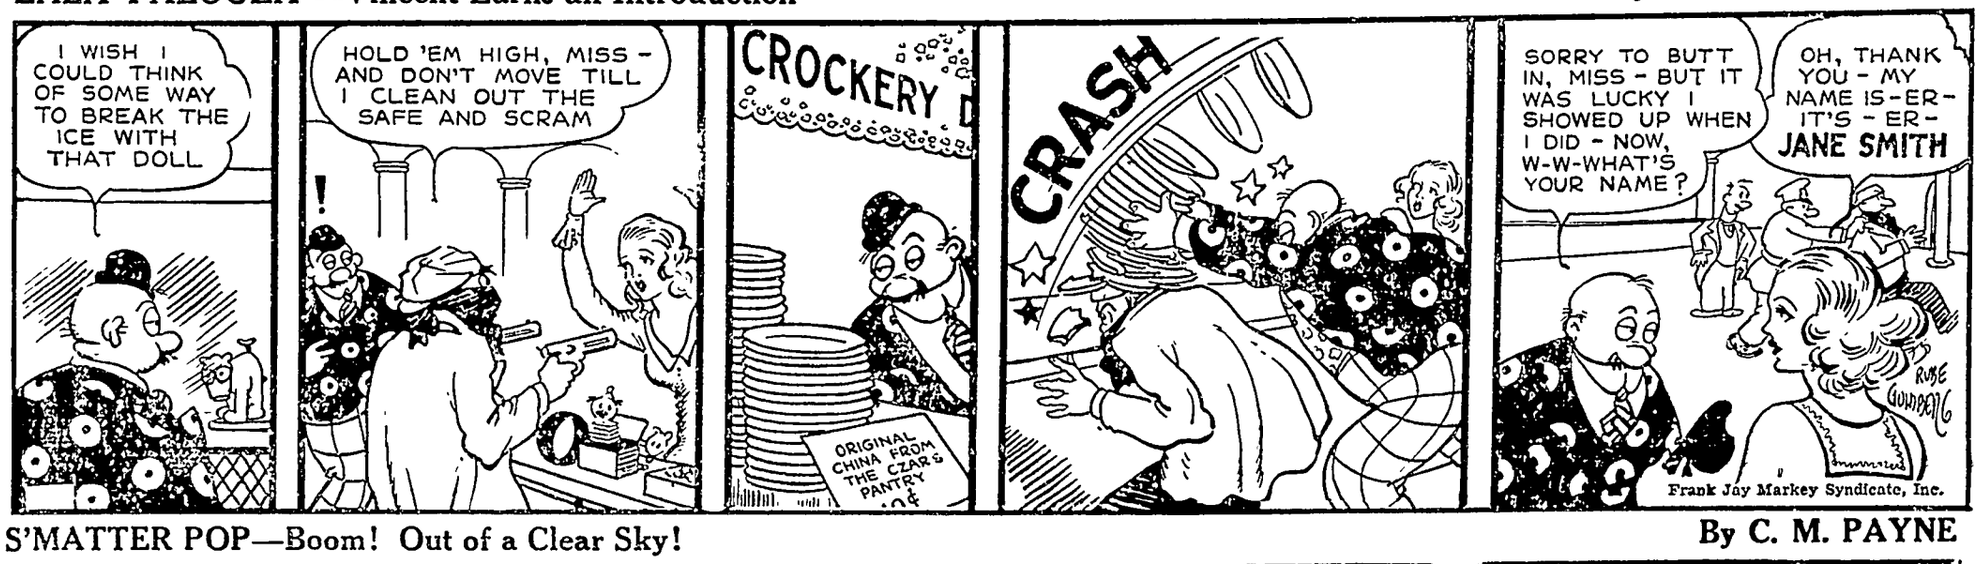
NOW LOOKIT- ONE LEG !!
-ED WHEELAN-

LALA PALOOZA —Vincent Earns an Introduction — By RUBE GOLDBERG



I WISH I COULD THINK OF SOME WAY TO BREAK THE ICE WITH THAT DOLL HOLD 'EM HIGH, MISS - AND DON'T MOVE TILL I CLEAN OUT THE SAFE AND SCRAM
!
CROCKERY
ORIGINAL CHINA FROM THE CZAR'S PANTRY
CRASH
SORRY TO BUTT IN, MISS - BUT IT WAS LUCKY I SHOWED UP WHEN I DID - NOW, W-W-WHAT'S YOUR NAME?
OH, THANK YOU - MY NAME IS-ER- IT'S - ER- JANE SMITH
RUBE GOLDBERG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP—Boom! Out of a Clear Sky! — By C. M. PAYNE

MESCAL IKE — By S. L. HUNTLEY — Time Out!

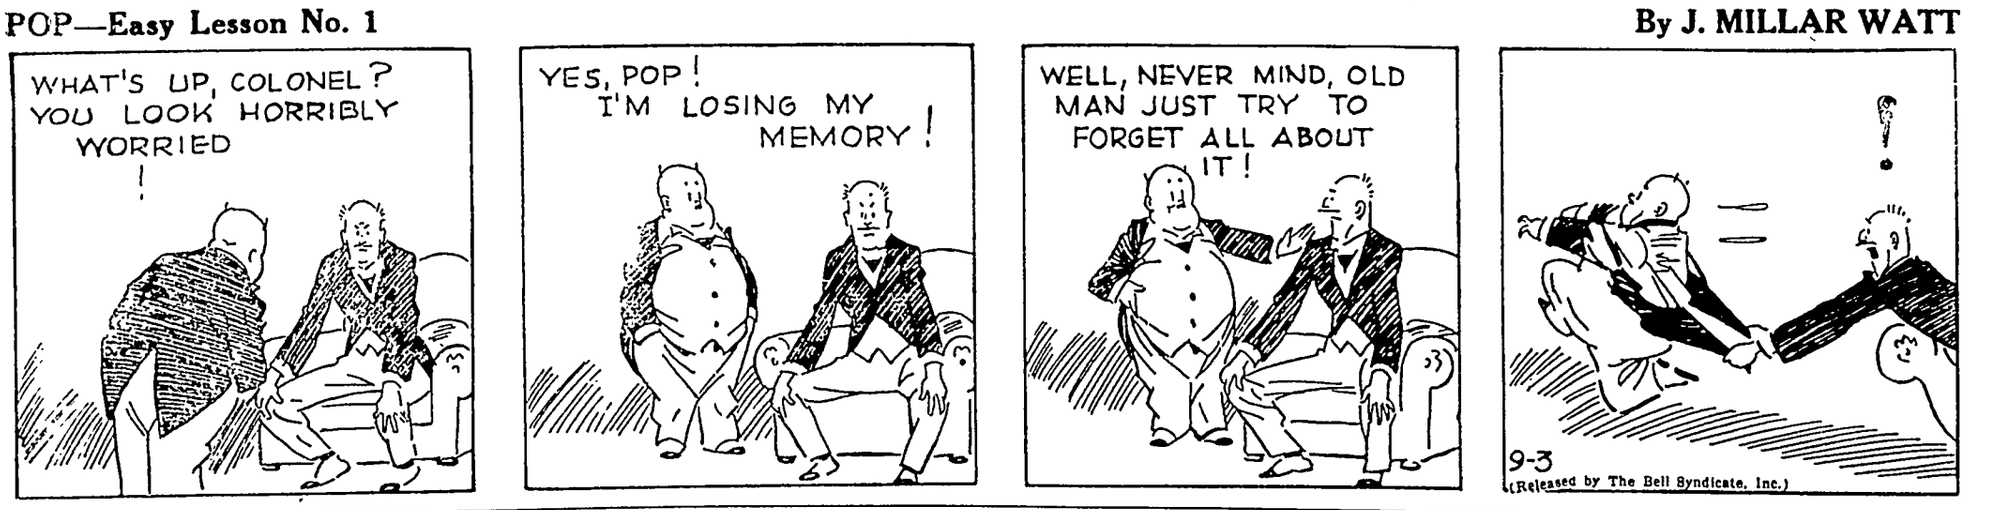
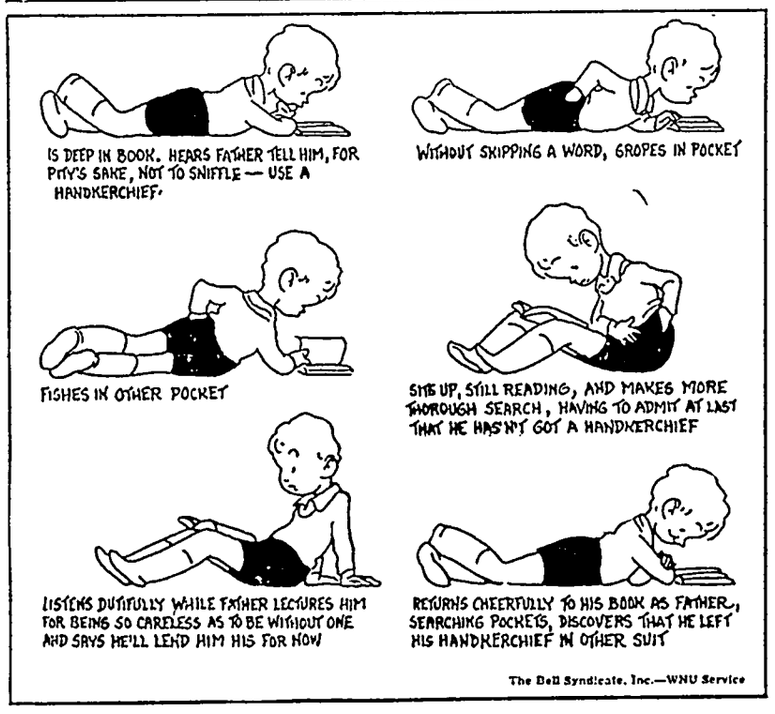
SAY, PA, TH' YOUNG'UN SAYS PASS HIM TH' BALL AN' HE'LL SHOW US A NEW PLAY HE THOUGHT UP
WE'LL SEE WHAT HE'S AIMIN' TO DO!
ALL RIGHT, MEN - LET'S GIT HIM!
!?
?!?!
ART HUNTLEY

POP—Easy Lesson No. 1 — By J. MILLAR WATT



WHAT'S UP, COLONEL? YOU LOOK HORRIBLY WORRIED !
YES, POP! I'M LOSING MY MEMORY!
WELL, NEVER MIND, OLD MAN JUST TRY TO FORGET ALL ABOUT IT!
!
9-3
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HANDKERCHIEF — By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



IS DEEP IN BOOK. HEARS FATHER TELL HIM, FOR PITY'S SAKE, NOT TO SNIFFLE — USE A HANDKERCHIEF.
WITHOUT SKIPPING A WORD, GROPES IN POCKET
FISHES IN OTHER POCKET
SITS UP, STILL READING, AND MAKES MORE THOROUGH SEARCH, HAVING TO ADMIT AT LAST THAT HE HASN'T GOT A HANDKERCHIEF
LISTENS DUTIFULLY WHILE FATHER LECTURES HIM FOR BEING SO CARELESS AS TO BE WITHOUT ONE AND SAYS HE'LL LEND HIM HIS FOR NOW
RETURNS CHEERFULLY TO HIS BOOK AS FATHER, SEARCHING POCKETS, DISCOVERS THAT HE LEFT HIS HANDKERCHIEF IN OTHER SUIT
The Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service

BOOMERANG

A man on trial for his life was being examined by a group of scientists. Suddenly one doctor jumped up and shouted at him:

"Quick, how many feet has a centipede?"

The man came back in a dry, dry voice:

"Gad, is that all you have to worry about?"

Art Discouragement

"Do cowboys every come to Crimson Gulch?"

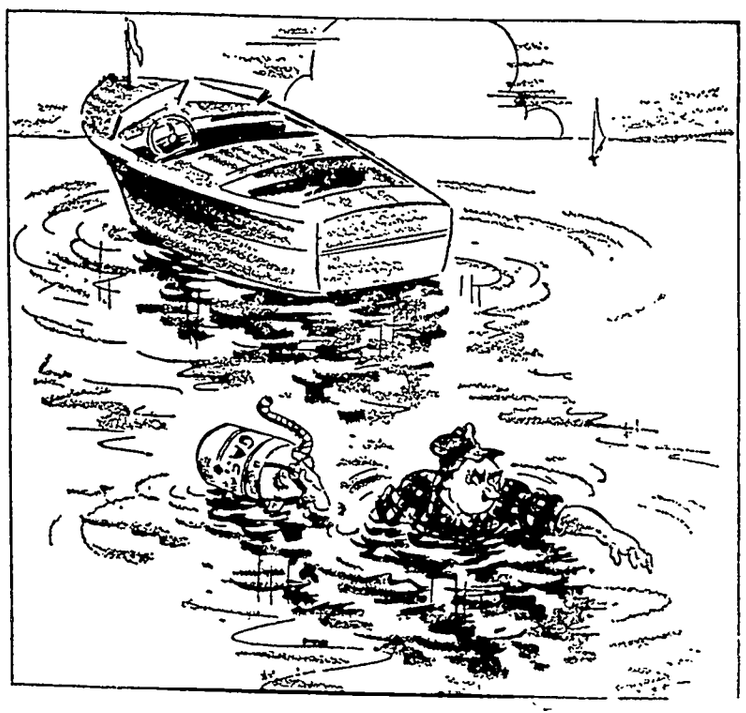
"No," said Cactus Joe. "They've got kind o' bashful. They don't feel able to compete in eloquence and grace with the kind of cowboys we're showin' at our motion picture theater."

Ain't It Wonderful?

Old Bach—I've found something to live for, something to fill my life, something to occupy every waking moment.

Miss Sweet—Yes, I know—bridge. It is a fascinating game.

THE SPORTING THING — By LANG ARMSTRONG



CLASSIFIE DEPARTMEN

STOVE & FURNACE REPA

REPAIRS For Your STO FURNACE or B
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All M
Have Your Dealer Order from U
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COM

REMEDY

HOSTETTER'S BITTE
A daily tonic — a real Stoma

SALESMEN WANTE

SALESMEN WANTED in Iowa to sel cost monthly payment Accident and H insurance. Liberal comm American public Ins. Co., Walnut Bldg, Des Mo

Making Your Own Hook Rug Desig

By RUTH WYETH SPEAR

ANTIQUE hooked rag rugs h a special charm because t designs show so much indiv ality. The women who made th marked out their own designs burlap, planned their own c schemes and dyed the rags draw a floral design, first mak circle and then a spiral line side which becomes a rose ovals with a triangle at the b become morning glories leaves from plants and trees come tracing patterns for leaf signs. An oval cut from pa makes a pattern for a center dallion.

When making your own hook designs, always leave a hem lowance at least two inches w to be turned under after the ru hooked, and be sure to over the edge of the burlap when Pin flowers and leaves cut ou paper onto the burlap, this and that. When you get an rangement that pleases, trac to make your pattern.

* * *

NOTE: Mrs Spears' SEWING Boo gives more rug hooking designs and ther suggestions about how to draw own flower designs. Also directions hook rug in the old-fashioned shell de No. 5 contains descriptions of the numbers in the series. To get your address:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New Yo
Enclose 10 cents for Book 5.
Name .....
Address .....

Correct Constipation Before—Not After!

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief Why let yourself suffer those dull lifeless days because of constipation, why bring on the need for emergency medicines, when there may be a far better way? That way is to KEEP regular by getting at the cause of the trouble.

If it's common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, a pleasant, nutritious, ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—goes straight to the cause by supplying the "bulk" you need.

Eat this crunchy toasted cereal regularly, drink plenty of water and see if you don't forget all about constipation. All-Bran made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

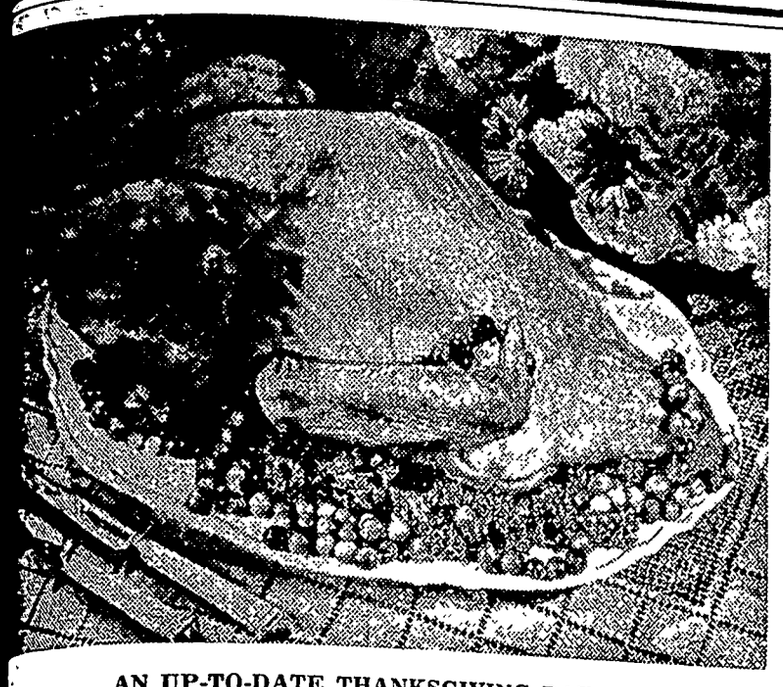
Profitable Walk

He who walks over his e finds a coin each time.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLD quickly use 666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DRO COUGH DR

"All the Traffic Would Bear"

● There was a time in Ame when there were no set pri Each merchant charged w he thought "the traffic wo bear." Advertising came the rescue of the consum It led the way to the es lished prices you pay w you buy anything to



AN UP-TO-DATE THANKSGIVING DAY!
See Recipes Below.

Household News By Eleanor Howe

It will soon be time for keeping open house, for the children will be home for the holidays, and friends will be dropping in at various and sundry hours. Great demands will be made upon your time, and even greater demands will be made upon your larder. Yet, you should be able to enjoy Thanksgiving with your family without becoming tired out. A well-planned Thanksgiving dinner will insure an enjoyable and unhurrying day. Here is a menu you may like to use for your Thanksgiving dinner this year:

Fruit Cocktail
Olives Celery Pickled Onions
Roast Turkey with Dressing
Giblet Gravy
Mashed Potatoes Baked Squash
Cranberry Salad
Hot Rolls Butter
Hot Mincemeat Pie
Coffee

In the days of the Pilgrim Fathers, and indeed not so many years ago, Thanksgiving was one day of the year devoted not only to giving of thanks, but also to feasting. Not long ago I heard of a menu that was served at a Thanksgiving feast. It consisted not only of roast turkey, but wild duck and several kinds of wild game. The vegetable dishes were innumerable, and even the desserts did not take a back seat when it came to quantity. With a menu such as this a good many hours were required for dinner.

The simplified, modern version of the Thanksgiving feast is now just as thoroughly enjoyed. For it now leaves time for conversation and entertainment; and the modern housewife enjoys this extra period of time for relaxation and visiting with friends and relatives.

Roast Turkey.

Allow ¾ to 1 pound of turkey per person served. Dress and clean. Rub the inside cavity thoroughly with salt. Fill body and neck cavities loosely with stuffing. Truss. Brush well with unsalted fat and place on rack in large open roasting pan. (Store overnight in refrigerator if desired). The following time and temperature chart may be followed:

Weight of Bird	Oven Temperature	Approximate Cooking Time
Under 15 lbs.	325°—300°	2½—4 hrs.
15-18 lbs.	300°—275°	4—5 hrs.
18-22 lbs.	275°—250°	5—8 hrs.

Dressing for Turkey.

3 cups soft bread crumbs
½ cup butter (melted)
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup parsley (chopped)
2 tablespoons poultry seasoning
Mix all ingredients thoroughly and use for stuffing the turkey. Note: The amount of dressing is sufficient for a 10-pound turkey. If a larger turkey is to be stuffed, the recipe should be increased proportionately.

Giblet Gravy.

Pour off liquid in pan in which turkey has been roasted. From liquid skim off 6 tablespoons fat; return fat to roasting pan and brown in it 6 tablespoons flour. Add 3 cups liquid in which giblets, neck, and tip of wings have been cooked; or if preferred, 3 cups milk may be substituted instead of the stock. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick; then season to taste with salt and pepper. Add giblets (cut in small pieces), heat well, and serve hot.

Cranberry Salad.
(Serves 10)

1 quart cranberries
2 cups water (boiling)
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ cup nut meats (cut fine)
½ cup celery (cut fine)
½ cup tart apple (cut fine)

Wash cranberries. Place in saucepan, add boiling water, and cook 10 minutes, or until cranberries are soft. Rub through sieve. Add sugar to the cranberry pulp. Return to saucepan and cook gently for 5 minutes longer, stirring frequently. Remove from range and add the gelatin, which has been softened in the cold water. Stir until dissolved and then chill until mixture just begins to thicken. Add nut meats, celery, and apple, and place in individual gelatin molds. Chill thoroughly, and serve in crisp lettuce cups.

Escalloped Oysters.

3 cups cracker crumbs (rolled fine)
½ cup butter (melted)
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 quart oysters
1 cup milk (approximately)

Mix cracker crumbs, butter, salt and pepper thoroughly. Spread layer of seasoned crumbs on bottom of buttered baking dish. Cover with half of oysters. Then add another layer of cracker crumbs, and the remaining oysters, and top with remaining cracker crumbs. Add sufficient milk to fill in all crevices and to bring liquid to surface of top cracker layer. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes to one hour. Serve very hot.

Honey Almond Sweet Potatoes.
(Serves 6)

6 small sweet potatoes
⅓ cup honey
¼ cup hot water
⅔ cup almonds (ground)
1 tablespoon butter (melted)

Cook unpared sweet potatoes in boiling salted water until tender. Cool, peel, and cut into halves lengthwise. Then place, cut side up, in buttered baking dish. Combine honey and water; add two tablespoons of this mixture and the melted butter to the ground almonds. Pour remainder of honey mixture over sweet potatoes and then top with the honey almond mixture. Place in a moderate oven (350 degrees) and bake 35 to 40 minutes, or until brown.

Zucchini Squash With Tomatoes.
(Serves 6)

3 medium-sized Zucchini squashes
3 slices bacon
1 medium-sized onion (cut in small pieces)
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
¼ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste

Wash squashes and cut into ½-inch slices. Cook in boiling, salted water 8 to 10 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Cut bacon into small pieces and heat until fat is rendered. Add onion and saute until brown. Add tomatoes and simmer for 5 minutes. Add squash and simmer 5 minutes longer. Add salt and pepper, and serve.

Household Hints.

With the holiday seasons approaching, you are going to have more to do; new household tasks, more social obligations, and larger meals to plan and to prepare You may often wonder where you will find the extra time to do these extra tasks.

Miss Howe's book, "Household Hints," is just the book to help you with these duties Her time-savers will fit right into your everyday routine, leaving you more leisure time for the new activities which will come up during the holiday season.

You may secure her book by writing to "Household Hints," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclosing 10 cents, in coin.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Eighteenth Century Bedroom

Walls painted a soft shade of gray-green are accented by the window and dressing table hangings of striped fabric in shades of gray and red. A cream-color carpet covers the floor.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT
SEWING CIRCLE

JUNIORS are simply mad about jumpers this season, and their great favorite is the pinafore jumper! If your clothes budget is just about used up and you're still pining for a pinafore jumper or two, send for design No. 8797, and make yourself this perfectly charming style at practically no expense. It's dee-vinely flattering to your figure, with soft front fulness in a skirt that sways and ripples gracefully with your every step, and a corselet waistline, topped by gathers.

The wide straps button across in the back, you see, making it stay put securely on the shoulders Make the jumper of plaid wool, corduroy, jersey or velveteen; the blouse of flat crepe, challis or jersey. Detailed sew chart included.

* * *

Pattern No 8797 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 13 requires 2⅝ yards of 54-inch material for jumper; 1⅞ yards 39-inch material for short-sleeved blouse, 2 yards for long-sleeved Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

ASK ME ANOTHER ?

A Quiz With Answers Offering Information on Various Subjects

The Questions

1. Who speaks the Romany language?
2. Can birds look at an object with both eyes at the same time?
3. Who asked "Am I my brother's keeper"?
4. The name Joe Miller is associated with—a bonehead play in baseball, a stale joke, or the man on the flying trapeze?
5. Where was "the shot heard around the world" fired?
6. How many vice presidents have later become President?
7. The Punic war was fought between what nations?
8. What mineral is called "fool's gold"?

The Answers

1. Gypsies speak the Romany language.
2. The owl is the only bird that can; all others have to use one eye or the other to see a single thing.
3. Cain.
4. A stale joke.
5. Concord.
6. Nine—six by death and three by election.
7. Rome and Carthage.
8. Pyrite.

AROUND the HOUSE
Items of Interest to the Housewife

To keep muslin curtains even when laundering them, put two curtains together and iron as one curtain.

* * *

To cook dried prunes, wash them well, cover with four inches of cold water and let soak over night. Simmer very slowly for one hour.

* * *

To shorten the baking time for apple pie 20 minutes, first cook the apples five minutes in a small quantity of water, then cool them and proceed as usual.

* * *

Use the rinsing water from milk bottles to water house plants. This water will make them healthy.

* * *

Powdered borax added to the water when washing fine white flannels helps to keep them soft.

* * *

Cream a little butter and prepared mustard together — brush onto slice of cold cooked ham and let heat quickly in oven. Serve with creamed potatoes and green peas.

* * *

To restore fireplace bricks to their natural color and keep them clean, wash them in a mixture of 2 ounces soda, 1 ounce pumice stone, 1 ounce salt mixed with water till it forms a cream.

Hang small household articles, used frequently, on screw-eyes placed on inside of hall or bathroom cabinet or closet. They are then out of sight but within easy reach.

* * *

Cottage or cream cheese moistened with orange juice makes a delicious filling for peach or pear salads.

* * *

While boiling milk, if a small pinch of baking soda is added it will keep the milk from curdling.

Beyond Shadow of Doubt It WAS the END!

A certain actor was fond of telling his friends what he would accomplish when he had a speaking part. He would show them some real acting.

Eventually he was booked for a coming production. He was to appear in a scene and say two words. "It is"

For three weeks he rehearsed nightly before his mirror, trying all sorts of gestures, expressions, tones, until he felt perfect.

The eventful night arrived when the curtain was to rise on the new play for the first time, and the actor impatiently waited his cue. It came. "And so this is the end?"

With his best tragedian air he stalked to the center of the stage, and in a voice of thunder cried: "Is it?"

Smiles

Best Bet

Magistrate's clerk—Why haven't you paid this fine?

Man—When I had the money to pay, my wife wanted a new hat.

"And you gave her the money for the new hat?"

"Yes, I thought you would be more lenient than she would if I refused."

All of November

"Here's my latest poem: 'Thirty days has September, April, June, and my uncle.'"

"How could your uncle have thirty days?"

"The judge gave him them yesterday."

Out First Shot

He was a raw recruit, and the sergeant called him in to help on a little repair job.

"Now you can't go wrong," he said, after explaining. "You take this hammer and I'll hold the wheel, and when I nod my head, you hit it!"

The recruit did. The sergeant is still in the hospital.

Airy Gifts

Mother-in-law—Why, Marie, any woman would be satisfied with the presents Percy says he gives you.'

Marie—So would I.

When you have money, you're a good guy while you halve it.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with herb laxative, combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gullet. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Double Benefit

Anything done for another is done for oneself.—Boniface VIII.

WHY SUFFER Functional

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Thousands!

Few women today do not have some sign of functional trouble. Maybe you've noticed YOURSELF getting restless, moody, nervous, depressed lately—your work too much for you—Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help quiet unstrung nerves, relieve monthly pain (cramps, backache, headache) and weak dizzy fainting spells due to functional disorders. For over 60 years Pinkham's Compound has helped hundreds of thousands of weak, rundown nervous women. Try it!

Inquisitive One

Shun the inquisitive person, for he is also a talker.—Horace.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Confidence

Confidence is a plant of slow growth in an aged bosom.

MOROLINE 5¢
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

No Results

He beat the bushes without taking the birds.—Rabelais.

Top the Market
WITH
Green Top Mineralized Tankage
The efficient and economical method of producing hogs.
See your local feed dealer

Undependable Luck

Luck is always against the man who depends upon it.

More Light on MILDER, FAST-ROLLED "MAKIN'S" SMOKES!
WITH THAT PRINCE ALBERT CRIMP CUT I CAN SPIN UP SMOOTH, FIRM 'MAKIN'S' SMOKES IN A JIFFY. THERE'S NO BLOWING AROUND—NO BUNCHING OR THINNING OUT!
P.A. HITS THE SPOT WITH ME FOR MILDER, COOLER SMOKES—EASY ON THE TONGUE, FULL OF GOOD, RICH TASTE!
"Gene" Boltin and Frank Simmons swap ideas on P. A.'s easy twirling—rich, mellow taste Rollin' along with P. A.! "Gene" Boltin (left) and Frank Simmons (right) are never in the dark on smokes that roll straight, firm, and draw right! According to "Gene": "I don't even have to pinch up the ends of Prince Albert smokes—and they stay firm!" Frank adds to that: "You don't have to keep relighting P.A. smokes." And Eileen Peebles smiles an O.K. on Prince Albert's famous fragrance. (Pipe-smokers! Join in that chorus, too!)
70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy tin of Prince Albert
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
CIGARETTE TOBACCO
PRINCE ALBERT
THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE
Copyright, 1940, R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.
In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned
86 DEGREES COOLER
than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested... coolest of all!

Stover
Flail-Action
Mills

You will be pleasantly surprised at the ease of operation and the economy of Flail-Action Mills. We are mounting one of the mills on a trailer so we can more easily demonstrate on your farm with your tractor.

If you are in the market for a Mill, you owe it to yourself to see how this Mill will work for you. Ask for a FREE demonstration!

FRED J.
ARNOLD
Phone 77-R2

MULCH IS HELPFUL ON STRAWBERRIES

Putting a straw mulch on strawberries as soon as the ground freezes—usually about mid-November—will prevent heaving and winterkilling of buds, says C. V. Holsinger, Iowa State College extension horticultrist.

Damage to buds is likely to be severe in winters when there is no covering of snow or mulch, Holsinger warns. And alternate freezing and thawing sometimes forces unprotected plants an inch or two out of the ground, resulting in severe root damage.

Even in the spring, when most of the mulch is removed it's a good idea to leave some mulch under the leaves to keep the berries out of the dirt, conserve moisture and reduce the amount of weed growth.

The most important precaution necessary in mulching strawberries is to use straw that is free from weeds or grain. Wheat straw is best, Holsinger says. If straw is full of weeds it may produce a weedy growth that will be hard to keep down next spring. Horse manure should never be used since it often contains undigested timothy and clover seeds. Farmers who have good, clean swamp or prairie hay can use it to good advantage as a mulch material.

Farmers of the Kellogg community are to buy a new fire truck.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Jack Etchen was at Garner on business Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gerardi were in Des Moines on business, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Gast were dinner guests Sunday at the Emil Patet home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clements were dinner guests Sunday at the Ira Overholt home.

Miss Elsie Kjar, of Rowan, was a dinner guest Sunday at the Ernest Lewis home.

Several of the Klemme teachers attended a county meeting held at Britt Monday night.

Mrs. Peter Josten visited with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Josten and Erick Josten Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jahnke, of Garden City, Minn., came Tuesday for a visit at the C. A. Larsen home.

The Friendly Folks sewing club met at the home Mrs. Fred Ridder Thursday afternoon. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Overholt have rented the Will Stille house in southwest Klemme where they expect to move soon.

Several Klemme ladies drove to Mason City Tuesday evening to attend a meeting of the White Shrine.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Shirley, of Mason City, drove over Sunday for dinner at the Wayne Pavey home and to hunt pheasants.

The American Legion Auxiliary entertained a large crowd at a public bridge party held at the community hall Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lauster had as dinner guests Sunday, Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch, and Mr. and Mrs. George Albers.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson were entertained to dinner, Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Missman.

Mrs. Fred J. Arnold was called to Mason City Monday where her mother, Mrs. Wilbur Carr of Garner, underwent a major operation.

Circle No. 3 of the Methodist church will meet Thursday, November 21 at the home of Mrs. Wm. Ax and Mrs. Lloyd Ax.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Grosshuesch, of Plymouth, Wisconsin, spent Friday and Saturday visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Grosshuesch and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Risser and son, Bobbie, of Des Moines, and Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson were entertained to dinner Saturday at the Dr. E. G. Schaeffer home .

Albert Schroeder, of Chicago, was in Klemme on a brief business trip, coming Friday and returning to Chicago again on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair West of Fort Dodge, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gilman, of Osceola, visited over the week end at the Sumner Trumbull home.

Sumner Trumbull was at Britt Monday afternoon to attend the funeral services of a mail carrier. Mr. Trumbull was one of the pall bearers.

Mrs. Dale Schriener and daughter, Marilyn, are at the E. J. Schneider home for a two week's visit, while Mr. Schriener is in Washington, D. C. on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Risser and son, Bobbie, of Des Moines, came Friday evening and visited until Sunday afternoon at the P. M. Wilson home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson and baby daughter of Ames, visited at the R. A. Jorgenson home, Sunday afternoon. Mr. Nelson is in charge of the areonautics expansion program at Iowa State College.

The Auxiliary card party Tuesday evening, Mrs. R. R. Reece won high for the ladies and Mrs. Edna Thada won second high, while A. J. Kudje won high for the men with Paul Mueller winning second high. A lovely lunch was served.

Dorance Grange and Marian Waterman, who attend Mason City Junior College, and Marie Schmidt, who attends Hamilton's School of Commerce, spent the week end visiting with their parents.

Mrs. Levi Klotzbach was confined to her home all of last week because of a badly sprained knee. Mrs. Klotzbach wrenched her knee when she slipped on some ice last week Tuesday.

Ted Davis and Leslie Whistler, of Council Bluffs, came Saturday morning for a visit until Sunday evening at the R. A. Jorgenson home and to spend a couple of days hunting pheasants. Mr. Davis is a brother of Mrs. Jorgenson.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka entertained members of the official board, their husbands and wives, at a party Tuesday evening. A social time was enjoyed after which a lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Day had the following dinner guests Sunday for a pheasant feed: Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews of Clear Lake, Grandma Smith, and Dorance Day and son, Gary.

Miss Irene Harms, who teaches at Logan, Iowa, came Friday evening and visited until Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C Thomas. Logan is in the southwest part of the state near Council Bluffs.

Jack Hamm and Bill Jammer, of Indianola, were week end guests of Ray Jorgenson, Jr., who was home from Simpson College. The young men enjoyed a couple of days of pheasant hunting around Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown and Bobbie, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown and Emily Lou Johnson. of Oskaloosa, came Friday evening and visited with Mrs. Henry Medaus until Sunday evening. Sunday afternoon, George Johnson was also a guest, visiting with his daughter, Emily Lou.

Ray Jorgenson, Jr. was twenty years old Sunday and in honor of the event his mother had a birthday dinner for him which was attended by Jack Hamm and Bill Jammer of Indianola; Ted Davis and Leslie Whistler of Council Bluffs and "Bodge" Bowles of Klemme.

TALLY HO BRIDGE CLUB MET TUESDAY

The Tally Ho bridge club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bridges Tuesday evening. High score went to Martin Barz, and Mrs. Harvey Barz won high for the ladies. A nice lunch was served.

BIRTHDAY CLUB MET

The Birthday club met last week Wednesday with Mrs. Ed Buntenbach as hostess. Mrs. Edna Thada and Mrs. Lloyd Lau were guests.

High score in the bridge games was won by Mrs. Dorance Day and second high by Mrs. W. C. Keraus. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess.

Klemme Folks On Trip To California To Visit Relatives

Wm. Stille and son, Lester, daughter, Mrs. Lee Anderson of Charles City, and grandson, La-Rayne Stille, left Monday in Mr. Stille's car on a trip to California. They will visit many points of interest on the way and Los Angeles will be their destination where they will visit another son of Mr. Wm. Stille, Donald Stille and wife.

Wm. Stille and grandson, La-Rayne, will spend the winter in California, while Lester Stille and his sister, Mrs. Anderson, expect to be gone for a couple of months and will return home by train.

Reformed Ladies Aid

The regular meeting of the Reformed Ladies Aid will meet at the church next week Wednesday, November 27th. Mrs. John Albers and Mrs. Dick Swalve will be the hostesses.

No Lights.

Thoughtlessness of some who shot a number of insul off some light pole caused Hu be without lights for awhil cently.

EYES EXAMINED
GLASSES FITTED
Dr. Frank L. Knutso
CLEAR LAKE
• Our Prices Are Lower

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackston
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iow

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insurance
Is A FYR-FYTER
Sold & Serviced By
ELMER AX

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Notice
1941 Automobile And Truck
License Plates

. . . will go on sale December 1st. To those wishing a small number, we MUST have your request before

December 1st

If we receive your request before then with CHECK ATTACHED we will do our best to fill the order.

Roy L. McMillin
County Treasures

K. F. M. Specials
Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22-23

MONARCH COFFEE
Drip or Reg.
lb. 21c
QUALITY for 70 YEARS

FREE!
Measuring Glass FREE with each pound of MONARCH COFFEE!

TOILET SOAP WRISLEY'S 3 bars.... 14c
FREE Blanket Coupon With Each Package

POP CORN Hybrid, 6 lbs. 23c
PEANUT BRITTLE 2 lbs. for 19c

Grapefruit TEXAS SEEDLESS Lg. size, 12 for 29c

COOKIES, Fancy Chocolate, 2 lbs. 29c
COCONUT Fancy, per lb. 21c

CAKE FLOUR SOFT-AS-SILK Box at 27c
Candle Lamp FREE With Each Box

NAPTHA SOAP Swift's Quick 8 bars for 17c
CHOCOLATE, Hershey's Bitter Sweet, 2 lg. bars for 23c

Specials For THANKSGIVING

We Will Feature For THANKSGIVING:
Dressed Poultry Fresh Fish
Fresh Vegetables Celery, Lettuce, etc.
Fresh Oysters Fresh Fruits
Pickles, Cheese, Baked Goods

Klemme Food Market
STORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

We are headquarters for Kitchen Equipment for....
Thanksgiving!

FOR YOUR KITCHEN . . .
First . . . . A New Skelgas Kitchen Range.
. . . and then everything to complete a modern kitchen: Large Roasters, Pyrex Ware, Aluminum Utensils, Oven Ware, Mixing Bowls, Kitchen Knives Food Grinders. . . and many other items that will make your kitchen work and preparing of food a real pleasure the year around.

YOU WILL BE THANKFUL TO HAVE THESE ITEMS . . . .

Make your dining room, and your table attractive with New Silverware, Glassware, Casseroles, Electric Table Lamps, Electric Toasters, Grills and Waffle Irons . . . items that are useful every day in the year!

We Carry A Nice Assortment of Novelty and Fancy Dishes, Table Accessories and Gift Items of all kinds.

E. F. Jacobs, Hdw.
"Your Farm Service Store" Plumbing & Heating

THE KLEMME TIMES

LUME 45 | KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 27, 1940. | NUMBER 26.

n Moving Picture Show In emme On Wednesday Nights

NG PICTURE SHOW LL BE GIVEN WEDNES- DAY NIGHTS IN KLEMME

rence Boehnke, of Ventura, W. D. Rasmussen, of Le Roy, sota, the men who have con- the open air movies in me for the past six years, nce that they will put on a show at the Community in Klemme every Wednesday beginning next week, Dec.

y have modern equipment se the R. C. A. sound system will show up-to-date, new es. "Spring Parade," starr- Deana Durbin, together with dy and short features will be e screen next week.

. Rasmussen also operates the e shows at LeRoy and Keis- Minn and is in a position to sh Klemme with high class es. See their ad elsewhere is issue.

y Gathering Held In Klemme Sunday family gathering was held at A. L. Kingery home Sunday his mother, brothers and s and their families came around Greene, bringing with baskets of food for a big din- Those present included: Mr. Mrs. V. L. Hardy and daugh- of Allison; Mr. and Mrs. L. Kingery of Greene; Mr. and Dick Ray, Greene; Mr. and Delmar Kingery, Allison; Mr Mrs. Merlyn Schrock, Greene; Eva Kingery, Greene; Mrs Broadwater and two sons, nder, Minn., and Mr. and Rudy Koehne, Ostrander, n.

rganization's ew Name

NDARD BEARERS NOW KNOWN AS THE G. M. A.

he Klemme G. M. A. (former ndard Bearers) met in the Lea- Room for their regular meet- Miss Potter and Ruth Stille program leaders, assisted by Elder, devotional leader, Miss Marjorie Lemke and Miss alek. The room was decorated screens containing yellow ese Scrolls. Miss Potter dress- yellow represented the Spirit he Roll of Yellow Silk. Ruth was also dressed in yellow senting a Spirit from the of Shades and she told the ese story of the creation of world. Following this, Mrs. read the Bible story of d Creation. Then Miss Ott and jorie, in yellow robes, read the ese scrolls about Ancient, yet ern Astronomy, the Great Wall, sics, Silk, Gunpowder and of arms, Compass, Porcelain, uty, Music, Sian University, r and the Printing Press. Mrs. eiffer conducted the candle- service and Miss Michalek the Story of the Filial Por- e.

fficers for the coming year President, Miss Michalek; Vice sident, Jacqueline Kudje; Sec- ry, Marjorie Lemke; Treas- , Eunice Larsen.

hursday evening, the Friend- Team composed of Marjorie nke, Jacqueline Kudje, Barbara nson and Eunice Larsen, went Forest City to help the Metho- girls organize their society er the new leadership of Mrs. ald McClement. The meeting held at the home of Mrs. Lyle lson. The September and Oc- programs were given and Forest City girls held their business meeting after which nksgiving games were played the hostesses served a fine ch.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Help to Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

Christmas Seal Sale Begins

34th ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE STARTED MONDAY, NOV. 25th.

On Monday, Nov. 25th, the 1940 sale of Christmas Seals got under way throughout Hancock County and the rest of Iowa.

The new date this year is midway between the two Thanksgiving holidays, Nov. 21 and Nov. 28. which have been proclaimed

The sale will again be conducted by mail. Those who receive them are asked to put $1.00 or what ever amount they wish to contribute to help fight Tuberculosis in the enclosed addresed envelope

A letter box will be placed in the H. Lau Sons store and anyone wishing to, may place the return letters with their money in this box, or mail direct to respective chairman. Martha Bredbenner is chairman for Klemme

Township chairmans are Mrs Herb Marshall, Avery, Mrs Verner Stromer, Ell; Mrs. Richard Ax. Liberty, and Mrs. John Chambers, Twin Lake.

The Christmas Seal enables everyone, rich and poor, to participate in the anti-tuberculosis campaign. Buy seals, in a spirit of gratitude, and with the knowledge that your act thereby helps to accomplish two great ends - it helps the helpless and it protects you and your family. Buy them liberally and look forward to next Christmas when we hope to report that more thousands of persons will be enjoying a happy and healthy Holiday Season - thanks to you and your purchasing Christmas Seals.

TURKEY PRICES UP AFTER LOSSES IN RECENT STORM

Price Was Below Last Year But Is Now Equal To The 1939 Figure

Turkey losses in the recent cold wave will cause a slight rise in turkey prices, but prices will not average much above those of last year, reports Ralph Baker, agricultural economist at Iowa State College.

The Extension Service sent out questionaires to Iowa county agents and turkey raisers after the storm.

Lost 15-20 Per Cent

"The replies indicate that from 15 to 20 per cent of the turkeys on farms in Iowa Nov 1 were lost in the storm," Baker said.

The economist estimated that Ia. raised 1,800,000 turkeys this year, of which some 30 per cent had been sold before the blizzard hit.

"This would mean that about 200,000 were lost," he said.

Nation's Loss

On the basis of Iowa's losses, Baker estimated that about 4 per cent of the nation's 33 million turkeys were killed in the cold wave.

Before the storm, turkey prices on the New York market were considerably below that of last year The prices rose suddenly following the losses, and now the price is just about at the level of this time last year.

The average Iowa farm price for turkeys in 1939 was $2.38.

Jefferson West lives on West Jefferson street in Corydon.

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE
BY TOPPS
STEADY SERVICE RECORDS- ONE LARGE OIL COMPANY REPORTS THAT THE AVERAGE EMPLOYEE HAS WORKED FOR IT SEVEN YEARS
INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH CAN NOW PRODUCE WATERPROOF WRITING PAPER
ONE OF THE MOST CURIOUS "ACTS OF CONGRESS" WAS ONE ENACTED IN 1861, WHEN A WOMAN (MARY E. WALKER) BY A SPECIAL ACT OF CONGRESS WAS ALLOWED TO DRESS IN MASCULINE ATTIRE
BEST BREAKFAST FOOD
SMACK!
IT WAS ILLEGAL TO KISS YOUR WIFE ON SUNDAY, ACCORDING TO AN EARLY NEW ENGLAND LAW
AS A RESULT OF INCREASED SALES, INDUSTRY HAS BEEN ABLE TO REDUCE THE PRICE OF TYPICAL BREAKFAST FOODS 50% IN THE LAST 30 YEARS

Rev. A. A. Depping Died Wednesday Following Stroke And Long Illness

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD ON MONDAY FOR A FORMER KLEMME MINISTER

Rev and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Priebe and Mr and Mrs. G. A. Goll and daughter, drove to Baxter, Iowa, Monday to attend the funeral services of Rev. A A. Depping, a former Klemme Reformed church minister.

Rev. Depping died Wednesday, November 20 at a hospital at Crost, Nebraska where he had been for some time following a stroke last July. He was nearly 57 years old.

Rev. Depping was minister here for six years, from 1919 to 1925, when he went to Wishek, N D, and latter to Ledyard, Iowa.

Services were held at the Bethany Reformed church at Baxter and addresses were given by Rev. Bosma and Rev. Wm. Huenemann. Burial was made in the Bethany Cemetery.

NEW AUTO PLATES WILL BE BLUE ON WHITE, SAYS MCMILLIN

The new 1941 auto plates which go on sale December 1st, will be blue on white, according to Roy McMillin, county treasurer.

The plates, which have been in storage at the court house, were made at the men's reformatory at Anamosa.

Mr. McMillin urges that those who want "pet" numbers should make their request and mail check before December 1st and he will try to fill the order.

Birthday Party

Lois, daughter. of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stille, was ten years old Sunday and in honor of the event her mother had a dinner for her Sunday which was attended by ten little girls. The afternoon was spent in playing games. Lois received a number of nice gifts from her friends.

Thanksgiving Dates Have Differed Widely

Thanksgiving in Canada comes in October, but in the United States is is a November holiday.

Some persons say Thanksgiving was started by the Pilgrims, but this is not entirely true. It grew out of harvet feasts which were held in several parts of Europe. The Pilgrims, themselves, seem to have joined the Dutch in an autumn feast during the 10 years they lived in Holland before sailing for the New World The Dutch feast was celebrated on Oct. 3. It marked the date Holland had obtained freedom from Spanish rule, but was of much the same nature as the "Harvest Home" feasting in England.

The Pilgrims, however, seem to have been the first white settlers on this continent to hold a harvest feast or Thanksgiving. One of the Pilgrims, Edward Winslow, told about it in a letter to a friend in England.

"Our corn did prove well, and . . . our harvest being gotten in our governor sent four men on fowing, so we might after a special manner rejoice together after, we had gathered the fruit of our labors."

Winslow went on to tell how the men had killed "many fowl" and how Chief Massasoit and ninety men were entertained at the feast for three days.

Another Thanksgiving was celebrated less than two years later. It was held much earlier in the year—on July 30—to mark the coming of a new boatload of Pilgrims.

In the years that followed, the Thanksgiving custom spread to other villages, but the dates were not regular. A boatload of food which reached Boston brought a Thanksgiving on Feb. 1631.

George Washington and some other early presidents of the United States named Thanksgiving days, but the feast did not become a regular yearly event until after 1864. President Lincoln started, in the United States, a regular yearly custom of observing Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of November.

Liberty Township Second Team To Complete Red Cross Drive

TEACHERS HELD COUNTY MEETING

A general meeting of the Hancock County Council was held at Britt Monday evening, Nov. 18, with Dr. Tallman giving the address. A report of the work done by the Hancock County Council was given by Mr. Winkleman of Garner, and pictures of Colorado were shown by Mr. Harvey of Britt. A business meeting was held following the general meeting.

District Court Of Honor Here

DISTRICT RALLY AND SCOUT COURT OF HONOR TO BE HELD IN KLEMME

W. R. Kine, of Clear Lake, was reelected chairman of the West District Committee at a meeting of the committee held in Garner Thursday night. Fred Missal, of Garner, was elected vice chairman, and Dr. E. H. Phillips, of Garner, was recommended to the Executive Board for appointment as Commissioner of the District.

It was decided that the District-wide Rally and Court of Honor will be held at Klemme on Monday evening, December 9th. The rally will be composed of a series of Scouting events in which the various troops of the district will compete. Those reaching a certain standard will receive a pennant award.

Preceding the district committee meeting, a Board of Review was conducted at which the following awards were approved· Second Class: Kay Elling, of Troop 19 Garner. Merit Badges: Donald Thompson of Troop 30 Clear Lake, Pioneering; Robert Welter of Troop 58 Corwith, First Aid, Personal Health.

Red Cross Roll Call Continues

MORE NAMES ADDED TO RED CROSS ROLL CALL SINCE LAST WEEK

Since the list published in The Times last week, several more names have been added to the Red Cross Roll Call, as follows.

$1.00 Memberships

Mrs. Hulda Wiles, Wayne Pavev, Mrs. Peter Josten, Miss Anna Gibbs and Martin Barz.

Contributions

Fifty cent contributions were received of Mrs. Elizabeth Stromer and Levi Ridden

Creamery 100 Per Cent

The Klemme Co-Operative Creamery Co. is on the honor list with a 100 per cent membership and has been awarded a 100 per cent Red Cross window sticker.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Peggy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coobs was surprised on her eleventh birthday anniversary, Saturday, when the pupils in her room and teacher, Miss Irvine, came to her home for a party. Games were played and a nice lunch was enjoyed. Guests were Lois Stille, Miss Potter and Lu-Verne Lewis.

ENJOYING TRIP THROUGH THE WEST

The Times received a post card Monday from Lester Stille, mailed Friday from Flagstaff, Arizona, stating they were enjoying the trip and that they were on their way to Grand Canyon and Boulder Dam. Wm. Stille and son, Lester, daughter, Mrs. Lee Anderson, and grandson, LaRayne Stille, are enroute to Los Angeles, Cal. for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Don Stille.

FIFTY-SIX PAID UP MEMBERSHIPS REPORTED FOR LIBERTY TOWNSHIP

List Of Members And Contributors Given By Roll Call Workers

Mrs. Ben V Greiman and Mrs. Ralph Upmeyer were the second rural team to finish their country compaign for the Garner chapter of the American Red Cross. The two women Thursday reported that they sold 56 memberships at $1 each and in addition collected $5.40 in contributions less than $1 in Liberty township.

The $1 memberships were purchased by Emil Beier, Elmer Schafer, Kermit Stille, George Schoenwetter, A. G. Lau, William Lemke, the Rev. William Huenemann, John Griffen, John Goll, August Kropp, Art Upmeyer, Joe Brcka, Elmer Haes, Kasper Kern, Ben Reimer, Albert Psotka, Henry Buzicka, Frank Zrostlik, George Brcka, Frank Kopacek, Aaron Stromer, Eliz Patacek, Ben Goll, Grace Pannhoff and Lester Stille.

Adolph Schlichting, Charles Bredlow, Ray Veldhouse, Joseph Schuldt, R. R. Lemke, Alfred Schlei, James Vrba, Emery Schaefer, Albert Lange, Herman Gast, L. Abele, Wilbur Haefner, Ben V Greiman, Richard Brouwer, Mrs. R. V. Upmeyer, Ray Haberkamp, Floyd Greiman, Henry A. Greiman, and Mrs. Ruth Katter.

J J. Lemke, Mrs. Dora Greiman, Mrs. Ben F. Greiman, Victor Huenemann, Albert Kehl, Wesley Lenz, William Haberkamp, Art Katter, Louise Katter, and Ben Katter.

Contributors of less than $1 in the Liberty township drive were Roy Schaefer, August Kropp, Henry Klinge, Jilji Wellik, Richard Ax, Mrs. Verner Priebe, Otto Lemke, Paul Stromer and Louis Griffen, each 50 cents; Kenneth Zwald, 60 cents, and Ras Christensen, 30 cents.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

L. M. Brower, Sheriff To Aetna Life Ins. Co., Sheriff's Deed, 11-16-40, $9,794.79. S½ 8-97-24.

Guy T. Swenson, et al To Freda A. Swenson, Wty Deed, 11-9-40, $1. Lot 5, Blk 12, Orig. town of Corwith.

Incorporated town of Britt, Iowa To Ernest C. Bartik, Resolution & Deed, 1-8-40, $29.95, NW¼ Blk 9, Stubbin's 3rd Add. to town of Britt..

A. A. Blair and Erma To T. C. Petersen, Wty Deed, 11-20-40, $1. E½ Lots 7 & 8, Blk 36, Garner.

Farmers Electric Co. To Hancock C. Rural Electric Cooperative, Deed and Bill of Sale, 5-5-39, all those certain rural electric distribution lines described including all service and connecting lines, equipment easements rights of way permits, franchises and description used or acquired for use by the grantor in connection therewith.

John A. Smith and Susan J. To Jessie Tuthill Tucker, Wty Deed, 11-12-40, $1. und. ½ int. in Lot 1, Blk 7 Anderson's Add. to Britt except E 14 ft. thereof.

IMPROVES LIGHTING SYSTEM

Art Wellemeyer has modernized the display window at his furniture store by installing new style florescent lighting. The new lighting is a fine improvement to "Hancock County's Largest Furniture Store," the slogan used by Mr. Wellemeyer in his advertising.

Hospitalized.

The Ralph Garnant family, of Kanawha, have had their share of hospitalization recently. Ralph was confined to the hospital with pneumonia, Mrs. Garnant recently underwent two operations, and son Loren, was operated on a short time ago.

Chemurgy Aids in Turning Farm Crops Into Materials Vital in Defense Program

By GREGORY WOOD
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—As Uncle Sam's defense program gains further momentum, America's farms will supply an increasing quantity of raw materials that will flow into factories and munitions plants as field crops and emerge in the form of essentially important supplies for our armed forces.

The man behind the plow is as vital to our preparedness drive as the man behind the gun. Agriculture will, of course, fulfill its primary job of providing foodstuffs for our armies and civilian population. It will also furnish man power to implement our fighting forces. And it will add one more important contribution—that of supplying products of the field to be fabricated into war materials.

Twenty-five years ago, when the first World war broke out, Chemurgy—the new science of transforming farm crops into industrial products—was not in existence. Today it has made such strides that the funds of both the federal government and great private industries are backing its development. One of its potent economic values is that it can help solve the ever-puzzling problem of overproduction and surplus farm crops.

War-time dislocation of ocean transportation has already interfered with our supplies of many standard imports, raising prices if not causing actual shortage as it did during the World war. Chemurgy may solve the problem of providing many of these at home.

Cornstarch Furnishes Glycerin.

Thanks to chemurgy we have already made ourselves self-sustaining in the output of many products we lacked during the World war. Take glycerin, for example. At the outset of hostilities we found ourselves virtually without it because imports from Europe were cut off. Glycerin vanished from soaps in order to conserve it for the production of munitions. Then science learned how to make glycerin from cornstarch. Today the supply is unlimited and the cost is lower.

Other important materials trace their origin to corn. Corn syrup is used in the production of rayon, the preparation of pharmaceuticals, in tanning and in the tobacco industry. Corn dextrins go into the manufacture of high speed printing inks, mucilage, explosives and plyboard glues. Cornstarch is used in the textile, paper and laundry industries

Yeast, dusting powder, dyes, and wall-board are other present or potential uses. A plastic made from gluten, a residue of corn, can be employed in making buttons, laminated wall-boards and waterproof varnish for paper Besides its purely industrial uses corn, or its derivatives, is used in the production of other food products, including jams, jellies and preserves, vinegar, salad oils, table oils, ice cream and cooking oils.

What has been done with corn is just one example of the possibilities that chemists forsee for numerous other farm products.

Typical of many products being produced through chemurgic processes are these automobile accessories made from soybeans. Dr. O. E. May, U. S. D. A. chemist, stands beside the display.

Milk, or its by-products, is now being used in the making of plastics and prints. Chemists claim they can make cheap but attractive draperies and rugs from skimmed milk. Clothing from casein is being manufactured by a process resembling the conversion of wood into rayon.

Cigarette paper, formerly imported from Europe, is being made from flax grown in Minnesota and California. All cigarette paper used to come from France, Italy and Belgium, where it was manufactured from linen rags gathered in eastern Europe. Now a plant operating at Pisgah Forest, N. C., is working day and night using 10,000 tons of flax fiber requiring the output of more than 75,000 acres annually.

Furfural made from oat hulls is now used in oil refining and in the processing of wood resin. Anti-freeze fluids and fuel alcohol come from cull potatoes. Glycerol from animal fats is used in the production of dynamite.

The production of synthetic rubber seems to be high on the road to success A half-dozen synthetic substitutes—said to be more durable than rubber itself—are already being manufactured, all of which promise to increase our independence of the supplies in the beleaguered Dutch East Indies. Alcohol is the base of several of these substitutes. Their successful commercialization would mean that the starch from millions of acres of corn would be consumed.

Cotton Vital for Defense.

There are scores of spots in the defense production picture where cotton, flax, soybeans, wool, molasses and animal fats will find a place. They are already extensively utilized in the production of automobiles and trucks and they will be similarly employed in the manufacture of tanks, gun carriages, anti-aircraft equipment, shells and other implements of war

Other novel developments are on the way or promised, wherein airplanes may come from the field instead of the mine. Radio cabinets and plumbing fixtures may be merely a mould of soybean cakes A leading motor car manufacturer is said to be about ready to equip his cars with a farm-plastic fender. We are told that an axe cannot dent this fender. It is only a step from fender to automobile body or airplane fuselage. Chemurgists say there are no insurmountable obstacles. The yield of perhaps millions of acres would be required for such a farm-grown, car, truck, or airplane.

While science is learning new industrial uses for farm products, it is likewise expanding its knowledge of soil chemistry One thing learned is that chemurgy can work profitably for farmers only if it is built on a foundation of high soil fertility.

Fertilizer Is Important.

Vincent Sauchelli, agricultural research expert of Baltimore, Md., in a recent address before the Farm Chemurgic conference in Chicago, had this to say:

"Chemurgy can succeed only on farm land where plant foods are returned to the soil in the form of commercial fertilizer at a rate which at least balances the amount removed each year by growing crops and live stock."

Mr. Sauchelli envisioned important results looking not only toward a higher farm income but a permanent productivity of the soil as the result of increasing knowledge of the soil.

"One of the most significant steps forward," he said, is that which helps the farmer learn more about his particular soil and its plant food needs. State agricultural experiment stations are prepared to assist farmers not only in soil tests to determine the proper fertilizer analyses for various crops, but also inform them on the placement of fertilizer to insure best results."

Whether our farm lands yield crops for industrial and defense uses or food for our armies, the problem of maintaining the productivity of the soil is simpler today than it was in the World war. Here, again, scientific research can be thanked. Twenty-five years ago American farmers faced a serious shortage of fertilizers. German potash leaped from $39 to over $400 a ton. Chilean nitrates grew dangerously scarce. The painful experience of that period brought some enlightening results.

Nitrates Made in U. S.

"Research and experimentation taught the United States how to make its own nitrates instead of importing them from Chile," says a statement of the Middle West Soil Improvement committee. 'Thus today it is possible to obtain nitrogen from the air in unlimited quantities to combine with various other materials in any form desired—such as ammonium sulphate, ammonium phosphate, ammonium nitrate, nitrate of soda, cynamid, urea and calcium nitrate, not to mention by-product sulphate of ammonia—for our sources of fertilizer nitrogen.

"We learned, too, how to get our own potash from deposits in the Southwest instead of Germany. Our supply of phosphorus (believed to be sufficient to last 2,000 years) and the means of recovering it were as well known during the first World war as today. While our resources of potash are not so large as those of phosphorus, they are believed to be ample for some generations to come."

All things considered, the American farmer's task in backing up our defense program is a man-sized job. And so important does the United States government regard this chemurgic movement that it has undertaken the establishment of four great regional laboratories, the first of which was completed recently at Philadelphia. Others are being provided at Peoria, Ill., in the heart of the corn belt, at San Francisco and New Orleans. Each will eventually have a staff of 250 who will make analytical and physio-chemical investigations, commodity surveys and chemical engineering studies, for the creation and marketing of new textiles, building materials, insulating materials and plastics.

One of the products on which chemurgic experts have been working recently is castor oil. For years chemists have been seeking a method of using it in paint and varnish manufacture, but castor oil has been of little use because it was sticky and slow to dry. Now these chemists have found they can "dehydrate" castor oil (remove moisture) thus leaving a pale oil that dries to a hard film and keeps its pale color after long exposure. Experiments under way in Texas, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi indicate that castor beans can be grown here.

Grabs the Bull by the Horns

It took a 1-100,000th second camera exposure to stop the action when Norman Person, Texas cowboy, tried to bulldog a steer in record time. He is shown competing in a steer wrestling contest during the recent rodeo at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Counterfeiting War Nets Real Dividends

WASHINGTON. — Great crowds are no longer easy pickings for passers of counterfeit money

Reports received by the secret service in Washington from San Francisco and New York indicate that those days are gone.

The San Francisco fair, which closed this fall, reported a total of $20 in counterfeit notes and $40.20 in counterfeit coins passed during the 1940 season. Gate receipts were $1,157,000. Visitors to the fair spent $7,754,000.

From the New York fair, which also locked its gates this fall, a total of $157 in counterfeit notes and $587.65 in counterfeit coins was reported for 1940. Gate receipts were $31,406,312. Visitors spent $37,040,209 on the fair grounds.

Frank J. Wilson, chief of the secret service, believes the reason for the low percentage of counterfeit reported at both fairs is that education is putting the nation on guard against spurious money.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

1,000 PLANES A MONTH

WASHINGTON.—The figure which defense commission experts have fixed privately for new factories for that new plane production program is $2,000,000,000. This is the program recently announced by William S. Knudsen.

Present plane deliveries to the army, navy and to the British are around 1,000 fighting ships per month. The army's production goal —3,000 planes a month by 1942, with a comparable increase in engine output—obviously means an enormous expansion of manufacturing facilities.

Some of the companies already are erecting new plants, in addition to previous enlargements. Curtiss-Wright and Glenn Martin have new facilities under way, Bell Aircraft is adding 400,000 square feet of space near Buffalo; Boeing at Seattle received $7,368,000 for a new plant, and Vultee $4,294,000 for the same purpose.

But all this is only a drop in the bucket if 50,000 planes per year are actually to be turned out. Production facilities will have to be tripled, if more than 4,000 planes, engines and armament for them are to come off the assembly lines each month.

* * *

PROBLEM TOWNS

The defense commission is getting its noisiest headaches from the demand of inland communities for defense industries. Hardly a day passes without a bombardment of demands that plants be located in certain localities. To this din has now been added a barrage of new demands by towns that have already been favored.

These defense boom towns, overrun with thousands of new residents, are confronted with serious housing sanitation, police and other problems and are hounding the commission for help. In some places the problem is so serious that the commission is considering recommending to congress a public works program which would give them the projects outright—that is, 100 per cent free.

An example of such a boom town is Charlestown, Ind., site of what may become the world's largest powder plant. A sleepy hamlet of 800, overnight Charlestown was transformed into a seething city of 5,000, with perhaps 15,000 in prospect by January as the new powder plant expands.

Naturally this boom brought thousands of workers, speculators, camp followers and others to Charlestown. Housing soon became non-existent, prices skyrocketed, and one enterprising realtor even started to subdivide an ancient cemetery into town lots.

The town has no sewer system, the tiny municipally-owned water plant is totally inadequate, and the community treasury is so broke that it can't even pay the salary of a town marshal, although a government payroll of more than $75,000 is now cashed every week at the town's bank. The boom has spread to Jeffersonville, 12 miles away, and to New Albany, 18 miles distant, where housing can't be had for love or money.

In this dilemma the town fathers turned to Uncle Sam, to the WPA, the U S. Housing authority, the Federal Housing administration, even the White House, and finally to Frank Bane, director of the state and local division of the defense commission.

At the President's orders, a plan has been worked out under which the defense commission, the state of Indiana and the town will set up a joint planning body to transform Charlestown into a community capable of meeting its problems.

* * *

INAUGURATION STANDS

The presidential inauguration is nearly three months off but already white-overalled carpenters are busy erecting stands and seats on Capitol Plaza. Reason for this unusual haste is—the defense program.

"If we waited much longer," explains David Lynn, veteran Capitol architect, "we wouldn't be able to get any lumber The erection of the great camps for the selective service trainees has caused a shortage in the lumber market. The government is buying up all the good lumber it can get for the cantonments."

The lumber shortage also will affect the seating capacity. There will be room for only 12,500 spectators—2,000 less than in 1937. Congress appropriated the same amount of money as four years ago, but with increased material and lumber costs the $35,000 isn't going as far.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The expanding war department now occupies no less than 11 buildings, or parts of them, in Washington, and a new big building is going up.

* * *

Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones is planning to reorganize the Business Advisory council he inherited from Harry Hopkins and make it a more forthright outfit Jesse plans to add a number of small business men to the group There is none on it now.

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

PSYCHOLOGY TEST FOR SOLDIERS

Tests in psychology for all men in the army are proposed by officers at Fort Dix, where such tests are now being applied to determine the fitness of soldiers in special situations. And just when it seemed that enlisting in the army might be the only way to escape those things!

* *

One of the questions is: "You are driving an auto at night. While driving you meet another auto which will not dim its lights, regardless of your signals. What would you do?" The question becomes particularly important if the gent in the other car happens to be a general.

* *

Another reads: "You are walking along a muddy road carrying a stone in one hand when an auto passes and splashes mud over you. Would you throw the stone? Answer yes or no." There's only one answer for a soldier to that one: "No. But don't depend on it."

* *

Professor Elmer Twitchell, this department's eminent psychologist, has prepared the following tests for volunteers and draft prospects:

1.—You are driving a limousine to the front. There are four young ladies with you. On the way you encounter two majors going to the front on foot. They both give you the thumb in the orthodox hitch-hiker manner. You explain that, as you have four girls with you, there is no sense taking them aboard unless they can dig up another major Go on with the story from there.

* *

2.—You have answered the draft summons and presented yourself for physical examination. You are found to be a perfect specimen, but the examiner is called to the phone, and in stumbling over a chair drops his papers and gets them mixed up. He returns to you and says: "Let's see; you're the one with defective eyesight and deafness in both ears, aren't you?" Which of the three answers would you make:

(a)—Right you are.

(b)—No, sir.

(c)—Yes, and my arches are all gone, too.

* *

3.—You are assigned to guard duty at night on a desolate post Vigilance bores you so you sit down and use a portable radio. While you are listening to the Pot of Gold program a superior officer comes along. Which would you think the best remark to make under the circumstances:

(a)—How do you suppose this radio ever got here?

(b)—Sorry, captain. I forgot where I was.

(c)—Let's both go home so we can win this dough in case our phones ring.

* * *

ELECTION RESULTS

An office-seeker, if defeated,
Finds his stock of friends depleted.

An office-seeker, if elected,
Has friends he'd not before suspected. Richard Armour.

* * *

It seems good to see America off the scold standard after election, thinks E. B. Jay.

* * *

A dictator is something that goes in one era and out the next.

* * *

Our idea of the complete football fan is the fellow who witnesses the game, listens to his portable radio description of it and then buys a paper to see what happened.

* * *

BORDER INCIDENT

The statesmen of (fill in the blank)
Took just a little nap,
And when they woke they couldn't find
Their country on the map.
—Richard Armour.

* * *

CAN YOU REMEMBER

Away back when babies were exempt as legitimate war targets?

* * *

When speed laws were as low as 40 miles an hour?

* * *

When wars could be stopped by ultimatums?

* * *

DRAFT REACTIONS

Drawings are a thing I hate—
I drew number One-Five-Eight!

* *

Lotteries they make me blue—
Now I'm known as One-Nine-Two!

* *

Never say my luck is fine—
I'm Eight Thousand-Six-Two-Nine!

* *

Number 158 in the First district, New York, was a Chinese. If by any chance he gets Secretary Stimson's laundry Strange Fac!

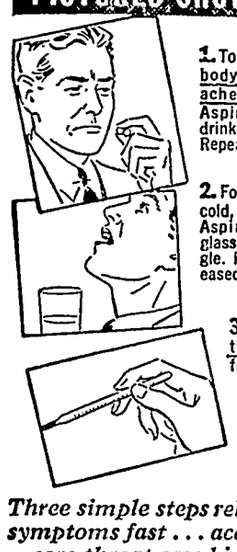
Jap Bride's Pledge 'Buries' Characters Gigantic Sun Trap

¶ Almost every Japanese wears, at her wedding, a sil over her forehead called a kakushi, or horn concealer, is a symbol of her pledge frain forevermore from jea animosity and disobedience.

¶ A writer of detective, ga and wild-west stories maint unique cemetery on his near Oceanside, Calif. It co the "graves," with appro tombstones, of the scores of acters whom he has killed novels.

¶ Still standing in a high p the Peruvian Andes is a ment to one of man's oldes most incredible beliefs. It sists of two towers, built on site peaks, between which, centuries ago, a primitive hung a gigantic net and tr catch the sun.—Collier's.

Full Speed
RELIE
FOR PAINFUL SYMPTOMS
COLDS
JUST USE QUICK-ACTI
BAYER ASPIRIN A
PICTURES SHOW BELO



1. To relieve hea body discomfo aches, take 2 Aspirin Tablets drink a glass of Repeat in 2 hours
2. For sore throa cold, dissolve 3 Aspirin Tablets glass of water an gle. Pain, rawne eased very quickl
3. Check t ture. If you fever and ten ture does down — if pain is not ly relieved your docto

Three simple steps relieve pai symptoms fast . . . accompan sore throat eased in a hurr

At the first sign of a cold, follow directions in the pictures abo the simplest and among the effective methods of relief kn to modern science.

So quickly does Bayer As act—both internally and as a gle, you'll feel its wonderful start banishing the pain of cold in a remarkably short ti Try this way. You will say unequalled. But be sure you ge fast-acting Bayer prod uct you want. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by the full name when you buy.

GENUINE BAYER ASPI

Being Contented

To the contented, even po and obscurity bring happ while to the ambitious, wealt honors are productive of mi

INDIGESTIO
may affect the Heart
Gas trapped in the stomach or gullet may ac hair-trigger on the heart. At the first sign of smart men and women depend on Bell-ans Ta set gas free. No laxative but made of the acting medicines known for acid indigestion. FIRST DOSE doesn't prove Bell-ans better, bottle to us and receive DOUBLE Money Ba

Misunderstood

Minds of moderate caliber narily condemn everything is beyond their range.—La R foucauld.

Watch Your Kidneys
Help Them Cleanse the B of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filt waste matter from the blood stream kidneys sometimes lag in their work not act as Nature intended—fail move impurities that, if retained, poison the system and upset the body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging back persistent headache, attacks of dizz getting up nights, swelling, puf under the eyes—a feeling of ne anxiety and loss of pep and stre
Other signs of kidney or bladde order are sometimes burning, scan too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that pr treatment is wiser than neglect. Doan's Pills. Doan's have been wi now friends for more than forty They have a nation-wide reput Are recommended by grateful peop country over. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILL

WNU—N

CREATING NEW WEAL
TO ORD
● Advertising create wealth by showing peop and better ways of livin as it creates new wealth tributes to the prosper everyone touched by the flow of which is set up. In this way, don see, advertising is a social force wh working in the interest of every one every day of the year, bringing u wealth to use and enjoy.

Era of Swift American Clipper Ships Engaged in China Tea Trade Was One Of Most Romantic in Maritime History

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IT WAS the year 1860—more than three-quarters of a century ago—and the place was London, England, at the docks. Men crowded the wharf, eyes searching the channel. They jostled each other, eager to be the first to announce the coming of the ship which they awaited.

In the windows of nearby buildings other men with field glasses kept watch. A rumor swept like wildfire through the crowd "She's coming, she's coming." But the rumor proved false and the watchers settled themselves to wait again. They were joined by scores of others until the dock was packed solidly with expectant humanity. Suddenly a cry went up. "Thar she be, coming down the channel. The beauty!"

Moving with infinite grace the clipper ship, Falcon, was coming into port, bearing the year's first cargo of tea from Foochow, China, to London. She had made the voyage in 110 days, beating her rivals, Ellen Rodgers, Robin Hood, Chrysolite and Ziba, into port and so won a fortune for her owners. Despite the fact the Falcon was heading for an English port, she was American-built and was one of the great line of clipper ships, constructed on American ways, which made sea history.

There is no more dramatic era of the sea than that of the clipper ships, an era which was recalled a few weeks ago by announcement of the Tea Bureau, Inc., that for the second time in history this country's annual imports of tea had passed the 100,000,000 pound mark.

During the Nineteenth century the arrival of the first cargo of new tea into port meant a fortune for its owner, and the clipper ship races bore all the elements of great sporting events. In fact, the races were recorded on canvas by noted painters of the day and have since formed the theme of many books both of an historic and fictional nature.

So great was the interest of both tea traders and citizens of London in the clipper races that they have been rivaled only by the famous English derby. It was, in fact, the clipper races which inspired another series of historic contests of our own time, the Sir Thomas Lipton yacht races. Often only the rise and fall of a tide separated the winner from her nearest competitor. Upon one occasion a race was won by a matter of 20 minutes. This was the contest between the Taeping and the Ariel, which became known as "the great race of 1866." It still remains a favorite topic of conversation in Mincing Lane, center of the London tea trade, and inspired both books and poems.

Record of Flying Cloud.

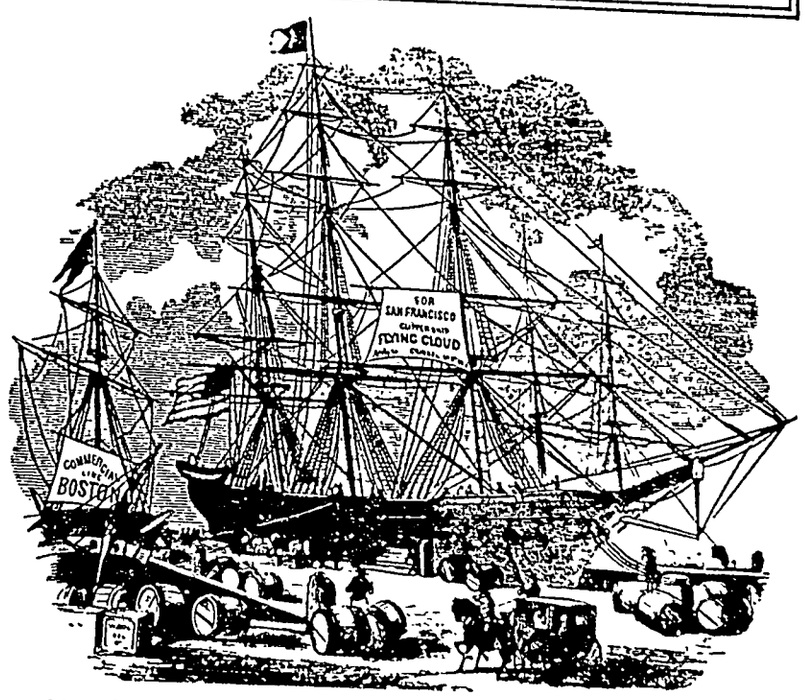
Greatest of all of the clipper ships was the American-built Flying Cloud, which established two records which were never equalled. The Flying Cloud was the second extreme clipper designed by Donald McKay, who is credited with being "the man who made the clipper ship famous." His advance production of a vessel of the extreme clipper class proved a notable contribution to America's prestige as a maritime nation.

The Flying Cloud was launched in 1851 and was a vessel of 1,782 tons. Although originally built for the firm of Enoch Train & Company of Boston, she was sold while still on the stocks to Grinnell Minturn & Company, of New York. Longfellow's well-known poem, "Building of the Ship" with its often quoted line, "Sail on, O Union strong and great," is said to have been inspired by the launching of the Flying Cloud.

As did many of the early California clipper ships, the Flying Cloud had to cross the Pacific to China to get a cargo home. She made Honolulu in 12 days. On one of those days, using skysails and studsails, she covered 374 miles. The Flying Cloud later accomplished the run around the Horn in 89 days and 21 hours, and three years later she beat her own record by 13 hours. These records were never equalled.

Inspired by Baltimore Clippers.

The early clipper ships were inspired by the swift privateers produced in Baltimore for the War of 1812, and came into being because of the demand of tea merchants for fleeter vessels to bring each season's new cargoes of tea. Isaac McKim, Baltimore merchant, is credited with being the first to conceive the idea of a three-masted full-rigged vessel built along the lines of the Baltimore clippers for use in the tea trade with China.



Most famous of all of the clipper ships, the Flying Cloud made records which were never equalled. (From Bettman Archive.)

In 1832 Mr. McKim had built a vessel of 493 tons and 143 feet long which he christened the Anne McKim. The vessel proved to be one of the fastest on the China run, but her carrying capacity was much smaller than that of slower vessels.

However, she well served her purpose since she inspired two enterprising marine architects, John Willis Griffiths and Donald McKay, to design a type of sailing vessel from which was evolved the extreme clipper.

The Anne McKim was followed by the Rainbow, designed by Griffiths and launched in New York in 1845. The design was so revolutionary that argument became hot as to whether she would float or sink. But she exceeded even the hopes of her designer. She started her maiden voyage to China in February and was back in New York in September, having paid her cost of $45,000 and returned to her owners, Howland and Aspinwall, an equal amount in profit. She did even better on her second voyage when she made the round trip so speedily that she brought back to New York news of her own arrival in Canton. Actually she made the round trip faster than any other ship could sail one way, 92 days out and 88 days back.

Interestingly enough, it was the arrival of a cargo of tea on a clipper ship in 1859 that paved the way for our modern system of chain store merchandising and distribution which has revolutionized both production and marketing. A bewhiskered young New Englander by the name of George Huntington Hartford purchased a few chests of tea from a clipper ship just in port with a new cargo, dealing directly with the owner of the tea instead of with a broker as was then the custom. At this time, despite its extensive importation, tea was still a luxury item beyond the reach of the average citizen, the many hands through which it passed before reaching the citizens being largely responsible for this high price.

Mr. Hartford put his tea up in small packages and sold it from door to door at a fraction of what it would have cost had the tea passed through the usual number of hands on the way to the consumer. The venture was so successful that he tried it again with a larger purchase of tea and thus gained the idea for the system of mass distribution and merchandising upon which the oldest and largest of the nation's food chains was founded. Within eight years after Mr. Hartford's original venture the price of tea had been brought down to within reach of the man earning a small livelihood.

Methods used in the distribution of tea proved so popular with the consumer that they were later translated into the sale of all other types of food products. Thus was established the system of moving goods direct from producer to consumer in large quantities, making possible substantial savings.

'Captains Courageous.'

Captains and crews of the clipper ships were as colorful as the ships themselves. Both played leading roles in the success of a voyage and the speed with which the ocean was spanned. Writing of famous ships of the clipper era, Richard C. McKay says, "A sailing ship is an exceedingly complex, sensitive and capricious creation, quite as much so as most human beings. Her coquetry and exasperating deviltry have been the delight and despair of seamen's hearts at least since the days when the wise, though much-married, Solomon declared that among the things that were too wonderful for him and which he knew not was 'the way of a ship in the midst of a sea'."

One of the most famous of all of the clipper ship captains was Robert H. Waterman, first commander of the Sea Witch. Captain Waterman was born in New York May 4, 1808. At the age of twelve he shipped on a vessel bound for China. He became mate on the Britannia under Captain Charles H. Marshall and speedily won a reputation for keeping his vessel in excellent shape as well as maintaining order among steerage passengers and crew. At the age of twenty-five he was made a captain and in 1843 took command of the Natchez, one of the full-pooped New Orleans packet boats which had been built by Isaac Webb in 1831.

Although the Natchez was known as an exceptionally slow ship, Captain Waterman made the voyage from Canton to New York in 78 days, during which he covered 13,955 miles. Upon his arrival in New York he was given an ovation which in those days was comparable to a typical New York welcome in honor of a trans-Atlantic pioneer in aviation.

The owners of the Natchez, Howland and Aspinwall, were so favorably impressed by his feat that they had built for him the Sea Witch, which was launched in 1846 and was one of the fleetest of the clipper ships. Among the stories growing out of Captain Waterman's feats in beating competing clippers into port with tea cargoes was one to the effect that he "carried sail too hard" and then put padlocks on the sails in order to prevent members of his crew from cutting it away.

Crews of the American clippers were a polyglot lot with frequently as many as seven nationalities represented on one ship. It was said of them that they "worked like horses at sea and spent their money like asses ashore." In any event, it was a commonplace occurrence before a vessel sailed for at least half and often times more members of the crew to be lifted aboard like sacks, as the result of too-prolonged celebrations on land. Once on board, however, they were speedily sobered up and for the duration of the voyage they rarely if ever saw any alcoholic beverages.

A Society Event.

Departure of the clippers was the occasion for a gathering of smart New York society at Battery Park, which was then a fashionable resort. When the vessels had finished loading cargo they would drop down to East river and anchor off the park, usually under their own sail as tug boats were both scarce and slow. New York society went to the park to hear the sailors sing their sea chanties which were an important part of sea life. Songs gave zest and cheeriness to life aboard ship. If the crew knocked off chanteying then something was definitely wrong and the captain started to worry. These songs originated early in the Nineteenth century with negro stevedores in Mobile and New Orleans, from whom the sailors aboard the packet boats learned them.

Rates these clipper ships earned from New York to Hong Kong seem almost incredible nowadays. In 1850 the Samuel Russell received $60 per ton of 40 cubic feet. This clipper was registered as 940 tons and being a sharp ship could not carry more than 1,200 tons but her freight cargo would still amount to $72,000. Today owners of vessels plying from New York to Hong Kong regard $12 a ton as a good price.

Opening of the Suez canal in 1869 rang the knell for the clipper ships since it gave the steamships an advantage they had not possessed when it was necessary to watch every pound of coal. As steamships rapidly replaced the clippers for tea cargoes, the latter drifted into the Australian trade, where wool gave them another opportunity. But the day of their glory was finished and their proud traditions waned until they were little more than worn-out freighters toiling through seas over which they had once held sway.

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

New York Symphony

The shiny look of the midtown area Saturday evenings, when it is drenched with humanity out for a good time, making the atmosphere laugh . . Ships from Nazi-dominated nations anchored in the Hudson river. A whiff of deep tragedy surrounded by the peaceful, visual rhapsody that is the Hudson river sector The maze of alleyways near the East river, reeking with mystery in the middle of the night, and wearing a blaring ugliness during the day The uptown gym urging that you learn jiu-jitsu, to help our defense program. The instructors are Japanese . The trees in the city's parks wearing their autumn make-up. Featuring a tapestry of colors that makes your eyes sing

---

The orgy of silence cloaking Riverside drive at midnight, sprinkled with lovers slipping into the deep quiet without hurting it . Starving actors making the rounds of booking agents housed in the million-dollar Radio City edifices . . The workers in the subway change booths gripped by the clutches of boredom, looking into nowhere The Times building electricks flashing the news of the world to a Broadway that makes news every moment

---

The cut-rate book shops that sell classics for two-bits and cheap song-sheets for the same price . The fame and fortune starved, drinking in and enjoying the jeweled first-nighters during intermissions. They seem to be happier than the first-nighters they long to be.

Old, posy-selling ladies, wearing their sadness uncomfortably, desiring to brighten your life with a few of their flowers The entertainers in the knick-knack nightclubs, whose make-believe makes other people happy, haunting the cafeterias after work, trying to make-believe they are gay Doormen in front of theaters wearing million-dollar uniforms with lead quarter jobs, shouting at no one in particular at the top of their voices The great gabfest continually going on between Greenwich Village intellectuals at musty bars When they get done with a subject, it's a nervous wreck . . The 14-karat lovelies who came to the city to sit on the success throne, and are grateful to get jobs as waitresses.

The coffee-pot philosophers, composed of cabbies, musicians, waiters and other night workers, who enjoy themselves thrashing out world problems over a cupacawfee during the 3-to-5 ayems . . . The skyscrapers and the sunrise tinted with colors of silent music. Nature's thrilling overture to a new day . . Cloudy-eyed successes sprawled across Lindy's chairs, discussing their worries and troubles. And the tourists, who see them and drool with envy—for "such a wonderful existence" . . . The fairyland skyline, ultra-thrilling when you see it from the ferry, wearing a shiny coat of moonglow . . . A lonely plane racing over the city, its landing lights looking like moving jewels against the night-time sky.

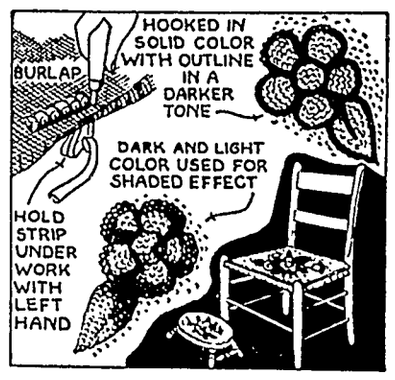
The movie theaters around town giving away all kinds of things to attract patrons—except entertainment . . . The sheer artistry with which bus drivers maneuver the gigantic things through the maze of downtown traffic . . . The so-whatty craze that afflicts almost everybody at this time of the year—guessing football results . . . The organ grinder with the monkey that is always in films about New York as something typical of the city, but we haven't seen one for years . The soapboxer down at Union square making the air shiver from his growls about the "recession." Remember how popular that word used to be? Why don't these bores get a new act?

Broadway at five ayem: When all its throbbing excitement has boiled down to a murmuring hush The new rubber tires on milk wagons, a blessing to light sleepers The antique shop on Third Ave. It has a picture of Ben Bernie in the window . . . The continuous sleight-of-tongue by auctioneers who blah-blah about a 10-cent item with as much fervor as if they were running for public office . . . The whacky intolerance of an uptown barber shop. They have a sign in the window announcing that they don't give haircuts to red heads Ever hear of anything dopier than that?

The castle-like Fifth Ave. library reading room filled with unemployed drinking knowledge Broadway's blood-stream—the amazing lights that decorate a sector filled with the cheapest kind of honky tonk establishments . The eerie quiet running wild throughout Central park during the wee hours It is the perfect atmosphere for love or crime Poverty-stricken human zeros draping the Bowery Probably all of them have a valuable novel locked in their lives

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears



BURLAP
HOOKED IN SOLID COLOR WITH OUTLINE IN A DARKER TONE
DARK AND LIGHT COLOR USED FOR SHADED EFFECT
HOLD STRIP UNDER WORK WITH LEFT HAND

WHEN I made the sketch in Sewing Book 5 showing the method that our Grandmothers used for making original hooked rug designs, I forgot that Grandmother did not wear silk stockings every day. There have been dozens of letters saying, "I would like to hook the flower designs for which you give directions in Book 5. Will you please tell me if I can use old silk stockings for those?"

Silk stockings may be used for hooked rugs but they do not wear as well as woolen materials. They are perfect for hooked chair pads, foot stool tops and wall hangings. All the popular stocking colors may be dyed soft green, red and brown tones, without first removing the tan color. "White dye" should be used first if bright colors are needed. After dyeing, cut a strip around and around the stocking spirally, making it from ¾ inch to 1½ inches wide according to how fine the work is to be. When your design has been marked as described in Book 5, draw the stocking strips through the burlap with a rug hook.

* * *

Flowers may be hooked in outline or in a shaded effect, as shown here. And here is good news for all of you rag rug enthusiasts Book 6 is now ready for mailing There is still another hook rug design in it, also a braided and a crocheted rug and dozens of other things that you will want to make Send order to

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 20c for Books 5 and 6.

Name .....

Address .....

AROUND THE HOUSE

Protect the mattress from tearing and from dust by a muslin mattress cover, and by placing a mattress pad between the spring and the mattress.

* * *

If cream is too thin to whip, try adding the unbeaten white of an egg.

* * *

Baking soda is one of the best known agents for cleaning glassware.

* * *

Mud stains leather and therefore should be removed from shoes as promptly as possible.

* * *

By boiling old mason jar lids in a gallon of water to which has been added a cup of vinegar you can remove that ancient appearance.

* * *

To clean a soapstone sink wash with ammonia and let stand for 12 hours. Then rub over with linseed oil and your sink will be lovely and bright. If grease accumulates again, rub over with a strong ammonia solution.

* * *

Use a clean sheet of wrapping paper to roll pies and pastry on. It saves a lot of cleaning up later.

* * *

Painting the top and bottom cellar steps white may save many falls.

* * *

To brighten aluminum utensils that have been darkened by water, fill with water containing one or two teaspoons of cream of tartar for each quart of water used, and boil until pan is brightened.

* * *

Apples peeled, cored and baked in pineapple juice make a new and tempting dish.

Full Coverage

Some years ago, an American life insurance salesman opened an office in Shanghai and, for some mysterious reason, it was jammed daily with clients clamoring for policies.

One morning, a few months later, he found his office wrecked—by his policyholders—because the death of a client a few hours before had "proved he was a faker."

The policies had been purchased in the belief that they were a guaranty against death.—Collier's.

MINOR SKIN IRRITATIONS
MOROLINE 5¢ AND 10¢
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

With a Friend

The first time I read an excellent book, it is to me just as if I had gained a new friend. When I read over a book I have perused before, it resembles the meeting with an old one.—Goldsmith.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO ABOUT
"4 o'clock SLUMP"
If that "washed out," sluggish feeling is due to temporary constipation, try Garfield Tea tonight. Cleanse internally this mild, pleasant way. Tire less quickly—feel, look, work better all day long. 10c—25c at drugstores.
GARFIELD TEA
For Prompt Relief from Headaches without opiates or quinine
GARFIELD HEADACHE POWDER
10c - 25c
See doctor if headaches persist
FREE
Stamped, addressed envelope brings liberal FREE SAMPLES.
GARFIELD TEA CO., Inc.
Dept. 3
41st at 3rd Ave.
B'klyn, N. Y.

Finds Opportunity

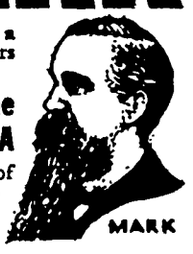
No great man ever complains of lack of opportunity.—Emerson.

Deserving Well

Who deserves well, needs not another's praise.—Heath.

DON'T BARK

...don't cough! Get pleasant relief from a cough due to a cold with Smith Brothers Cough Drops—Black or Menthol—5¢.
Smith Bros. Cough Drops are the only drops containing VITAMIN A
Vitamin A (Carotene) raises the resistance of mucous membranes of nose and throat to cold infections, when lack of resistance is due to Vitamin A deficiency.



Benefits to Our Readers

THE PUBLIC nature of advertising benefits everyone it touches. It benefits the public by describing exactly the products that are offered. It benefits employees, because the advertiser must be more fair and just than the employer who has no obligation to the public. These benefits of advertising are quite apart from the obvious benefits which advertising confers—the lower prices, the higher quality, the better service that go with advertised goods and firms.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

•

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Some 43 farmers in Washington County, Iowa, have organized a manure-spreader ccoperative and to date 20 spreaders have been obtained.

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insurance
Is A FYR-FYTER
Sold & Serviced By
ELMER AX

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Avery
"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 27-28.
Matinee Thursday, 2:00 p. m.
"Coming Round The Mountain" with Bob Burns and Una Merkel.

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 29 30. (Double Feature)
"So You Won't Talk"
with Joe. E. Brown and Florence Bobinson.
ALSO
"Yesterday Heroes"
with Robert Sterling and Jean Rogers.

Sudnay, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 1-2-3.
"Down Argentine Way"
with Don Ameche, Betty Grable, G. Greenwood and C. Miranda.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

The Children Society of Christian Service will hold their monthly meeting at the Liberty church, Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Stille and family were dinner guests at the Quentin Stille home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange and Mary visited at the Mrs. D. H. Hammon and at the Charles Ax homes in Garner, Sunday.

Walter Ridder spent Sunday visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. August Ridder in Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyers and family were dinner guests at the Emil Pringnitz home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates, of south Clear Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Emery Weaver and son, visited at the Roy Schaefer home Monday.

Mr and Mrs. Wes Haefner were dinner guests at the Wilbur Haefner home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lassohn and son visited at the home of Fred Schlichting near Klemme, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whitney, of Britt, visited at the Will Lemke home Snuday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Abele visited at the Herman Stille home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pringnitz and daughter, Ruth Marie, were dinner guests at the Lew Abele home Sunday.

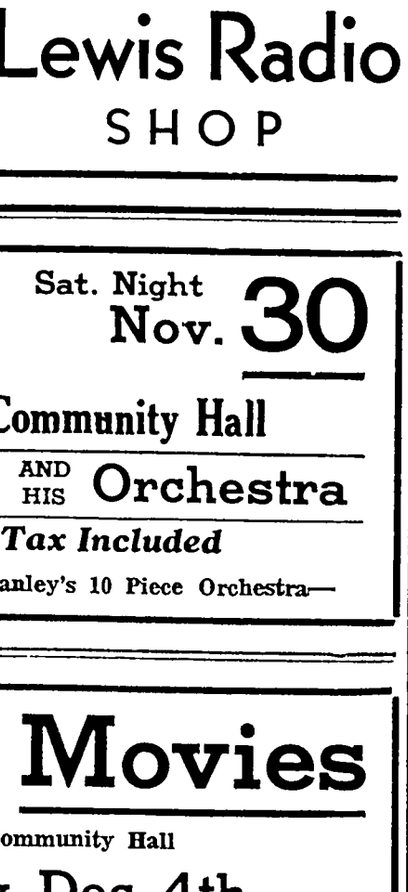
Mrs. Edna Zwald and daughter, visited at the Kenneth Zwald home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smid and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson visited at the Emery Schaefer home Sunday.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will be held at the Albert Lange home, Dec. 4th.

There will be practice at the Liberty church Sunday afternoon for those taking part in the Christmas program.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goll and family; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hempel and family, of Clear Lake; and Miss Dorothy Hempel, of Garner, visited Sunday at the Ben Goll home.



Pick "The Winner"
THE NEW
Electioneer
Model J-805
69.95
THAT'S-THE-BUY!
TOP ALLOWANCE
EASY TERMS
Alive with new features. This new G-E will bring in the campaign, news from abroad, music, drama programs...crystal clear, rich, full, golden. Best of all it's priced at a new low.
• Equipped for Frequency Modulation and Television Sound • Dual Beam-a-scopes • 14 inch Dynapower Speaker • Super Powered Chassis.
Golden Tone
RADIO

Lewis Radio SHOP

"DOWN ARGENTINE WAY" TO SHOW AT AVERY THEATRE FOR 3 DAYS

Filled to the rim with the gay and glamorous lure of the Argentine and spared with breath-taking dances and music, "Down Argentine Way" promises delightful entertainment for patrons of the Avery Theatre when it opens for three days.

Produced in Technicolor by 20th Century-Fox, this musical extravaganza has a superlative featured cast headed by Don Ameche, Betty Grable and Carmen Miranda, who makes her sensational screen debut.

Blending romance, comedy and muisc, the story of "Down Argentine Way" features a love-affair between Don Ameche and Betty Grable which runs an amorous course of 6,000 miles from New York to glamorous Buenos Aires.

Featured in the show are eight song hits, "Down Argentine Way," "Two Dreams Met," "Nenita,' "Sing To Your Senorita," "South American Way," "Bambu," "Mamae Eu Quero," and "Touradas Em Madrid.

Martin Becker, Lakota, was injured when the tractor he was driving upset, turning over three times.

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF THE RIGHT OF REDEMPTION FROM TAX SALE

TO: THEODORE ROGNESS AND MRS. THEODORE ROGNESS PARTIES IN POSSESSION, KNUD LARSON AND MRS. KNUD LARSON; ADMINISTRATORS OF THE ESTATE OF KNUD LARSON DECEASED; ALL HEIRS, BENEFICIARIES OR DEVISES OR LEGATEES OF KNUD LARSON, DECEASED; AND TO ALL PARTIES CLAIMING ANY RIGHT, TITLE OR INTEREST IN THE REAL ESTATE HEREINAFTER DESCRIBED:

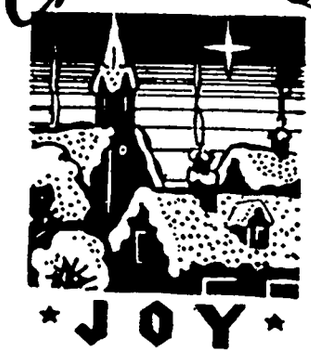
You and each of you are hereby notified that the following described real estate, situated in Hancock County, Iowa, to-wit:

South One-half (S½) of Northwest Quarter (NW¼ of Section 14, Township 97 North, Range 23, West of the 5th P. M. was sold for taxes of 1936, on the sixth day of December, 1937, to T. C. Rogness; that the certificate of sale thereof has been assigned and is now owned by Wm. Boyken, and that the right of redemption will expire and a Treasurer's Deed for said land will be issued. unless redemption from such sale is made within Ninety (90) days from the completed service of this notice.

Take notice and govern yourselves accordingly.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1940.

WM. BOYKEN
Owner of Tax Certificate
N13-3tp

Christmas


JOY

Send GREETING CARDS OF QUALITY
Reproductions of Famous Paintings
De Luxe Calendars
New Designs
Box Assortments
•
This Year's Offerings Are Supreme
•
Call in at this office and make your selection NOW!

C. S. C. S. Of Methodist Church Will Meet Dec. 8th

The C. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will meet on December 8th instead of Dec. 1st as previously announced.

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL
Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:
Church School .... 10:00 a. m.
Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor .. 7:00 p. m.
Forum Clinic ..... 8:00 p. m.
Recreation ..... 9:00 p. m.
Wednesday:
Bible Study ..... 8:00 p. m.
Thursday;
Choir Practice ..... 8:00 p. m.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

THANKSGIVING DAY
THURSDAY

10.00 a. m. Thanksgiving Service
Offering and Cookies for Indian School.
10:00 a. m. English Service.
11:00 a. m Sunday School.
1.30 Rehearsal for Christmas program.
8:00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
•
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—CHOICE BUILDING Lots in Klemme. Mrs. Bertha Schlei, Goodell route. N27-D4-18p

FOR SALE—SOME REAL GOOD Pure Bred Spotted Poland China stock hogs and gilts, cholera immune and guaranteed breeders at reasonable prices as I need the room. Phone 94 Britt, John E. Ostercamp. 2tp

FOR SALE—CORN BELT CORN Picker in good working condition, 3 years old, runs good. Fred J. Arnold. N-13tfc

STORM SASH AND COMBINATION Storm and Screen Doors, Storm Door Paper . . . everything for winter. Northern Lumber Company. , 1tc

FOR SALE— NICE CLEAN KINDling Wood. Northern Lumber Company. 1tc.

FOR SALE— SPOTTED BOARS and one Shorthorn Bull. A. S. Harris. N6-27pd

FOR SALE—NEW IDEA MANure Spreader. This machine needs no repairs, six years old. Fred J. Arnold. N-13tfc

WINTER COMPORT WILL BE assured in your home by insulating with Zonolite. Ask your neighbor how he likes Zonolite, sold by the Northern Lumber Company. 1tc

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5 00 Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc.

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc.

WANTS

WANTED—HIRED GIRL. Mrs Quentin Stille. N-13tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

No. Power.

The town of Sioux Rapids was really shut off from the world during a recent storm. The electric power was shut off for one day, causing many people to look for different devices for heating their homes.

Gift.

A group of Algona hunters made their Chippewa Indian guide very happy recently with a gift of a car. The Indan, Jim Ford of Hayward, Wisconsin, hitch-hiked to Algona after the car.

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

Milk.

A short ceremony was he week, recognizing the fact Mt. Vernon was the first to the state to have a state ap supply of milk.

Erwin Wiernerslage, of Waukon, lost his left hand he caught it in a . . corn sh

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
•
RUSSEL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON

We Thank You...

We want to take this Thanksgiving time of expressing our sincere thanks to the people of this community for their patronage and good will shown us during the past year.

It will be our first thought to give each and everyone the best of service, and we are hopeful that we may continue to serve your needs in the coming year with our quality Lumber, Building Materials, Mill Work and Farm Machinery and Supplies.

We Extend To All Our Sincerest Wish That This May Be A Most Enjoyable Thanksgiving Day.

Northern Lumber Co.

P/[illegible]. GRANGE, Mgr.
Building Material
IRA OVERHOLT, M
Farm Implement

Thanksgiving Time...

. . . that's the time we want to forget business long enough to take stock of the things we should be thankful for.

As folks of North Iowa, let's all be reminded of the finest crops in years . . . peace and happiness that is ours . . . and that we live in a most friendly community These are but a few of the things we, as a large group, should be thankful for.

As a home-owned business, this concern takes this opportunity of thanking each and everyone for their fine spirit of cooperation, friendliness and patronage extended to the management and the officers of this company during the past year.

We shall strive to give you the best of service, plus quality products during the months to come.

May Your Thanksgiving Day Be A Happy One . . . .

THIS STATION WILL BE CLOSED AT NOON FOR THE BALANCE OF THE DAY

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station

HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. Klemme, I

DANCE Sat. Night Nov. 30
Klemme Legion Community Hall
Ernest Gerardi AND HIS Orchestra
Adm. 44c - 33c Tax Included
—COMING — Dec. 10, Stan Stanley's 10 Piece Orchestra—

Klemme Movies

Klemme Legion Community Hall
Wednesday, Dec. 4th
Starring The Ritz Bros. and The Andrew Sisters In
"Argentine Nights"
Also Comedy and Selected Short Subjects
R. C. A. High Fidelity Sound System
BOEHNKE & RASMUSSEN, Operators
Show Starts at 8:00 P. M. Adm. 10c & 20c

Movik, 14, of Ottosen, ited with saving the lives children. Darlene not only children safely out of a house, caused by the ex- of a gasoline lamp, but to extinguish the flames blanket.

DOUBLE FOUR CLUB

The Double Four club met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Etchen.

High scores were won by Mrs Lloyd Lau, high, and Mrs. E. C. Buntenbach, second high. Lunch was served by the hostess.

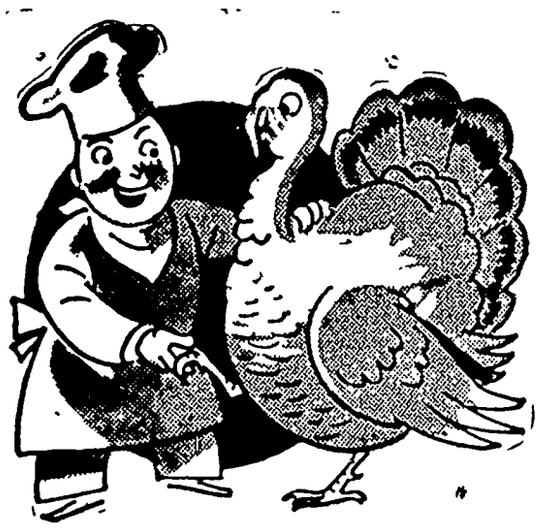
WE MUST SELL OUR

ed CARS and TRUCKS

No matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find CAR or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. bargains in late models. You take no chances when you with us. Come in and look them over.

Garner Motor Sales

SMOBILE CHEVROLET



OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS WANT TO SAY . . . .

Thank You!

It is fitting at this THANKSGIVING SEASON that we extend our sincere THANKS to our many friends for their loyality and patronage and the opportunities they have given us to be of service during the past year

In the months to come it will be our endeavor to express our appreciation by rendering friendly and helpful service and cooperation to the best of our ability.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY . . . .

Immediately after Thanksgiving is the time to make out your CHRISTMAS SHOPPING LIST. We will be glad to help you and you will find many suitable GIFTS that will be appreciated by every member of the family. Come in and look over our fine new stocks of merchandise.

Yours For A Happy Thanksgiving Day . . .

THADA'S

Good Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

Let's All Be Thankful!

Today, Thanksgiving, let us pause briefly and take inventory of the many things for which we, in North Iowa, should be thankful for . . . peace . . . good health . . . happiness . . . the best of crops in years and fine herds of live stock.

YOUR CREAMERY is an industry owned by the people of this community and which largely depends on the bountiful harvests with which are farmers are blessed . . . . so we join with them in extending thanks.

The management and directors take this opportunity of extending to each and everyone a sincere "Thank You" for your patronage and good will extended to us during the past season.

May Your Thanksgiving Abound In Happiness . . .

Klemme Co-Operative Creamery Company

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor — Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor — Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman — Eunice Larsen
Sophomore — Audrey Mau
Junior — Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior — Shirley Johnson
Dramatics — Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music — Jacqueline Kudjo
Sports — Henry Kaduce
Leonard Kaduce
Grade News — Arlene Schmidt

THANKSGIVING

I bring my humble offering,
I come to Thee, my Heavenly King,
I raise my happy voice and sing,
"The Father loves me so!"
And after all the shine and rain,
And after all the joy and pain,
I bring my happy song again,
For God is love, I know

They came and went - the flowers of May--
We felt the earnest summer day,
Eve after eve we kneeled to pray
Because He loves, we know,
And this Thanksgiving Day we come
To thank our Father, for our Home
Lies far above the starry dome,--
Thence all our blessings flow

B F M. Sours

SPORTS

Now that the jamboree is over the basketball boys think that they are physically and mentally fit to play a whole game at Ventura Friday night.

Allen Barz was in favor of watching the girls' game between Plymouth and Ventura Probably the rest of the squad wouldn't want to miss this either.

The school faculty put on quite a show when they played the All Stars last Wednesday night.

MUSIC NEWS

The band played two selection before the jamboree last Wednesday night The crowd joined in singing the song, "God Bless America."

The mixed chorus will sing at the Methodist church on Sunday Dec 1.

The first appearance of the music groups will be in a Christmas program, the date which will be announced later. Preparation and rehearsals are now being held in readiness for it. We hope to have a large crowd attending. Boost the band and the band will boost you!

The Music Mothers met on November 13 with Mrs Art Kudjo and Mrs Waterman as hostesses They also sold candy at the jamboree to raise money to help the musical organizations. They hope to have larger attendances in the future as the larger the attendance the more satisfactorily the organization.

SENIOR NEWS

Shirley Johnson, Della Kaduce and Johnny Schwitchenberg were elected as our 1940-41 cheer leaders

WHO'S WHO IN THE JUNIOR CLASS

MELVIN GOOBS. Melvin doesn't need to take a back seat for anyone when it comes to playing the baritone. Melvin took the part of that distinguished Romeo in the Junior Class play. The girls are going to get out a petition to have him grew a mustache and dye it black Confidentially, he thinks the best actress in the play was Phyllis Swanson.

LUCILLE HARTBECK Lucille is the friend of everyone in the geometry class Of course, no one knows why It couldn't be that she knows anything about it! Lucille carried her part very well in the play just as she does everything sh sets out to do If you ever have a joke that you can't get anybody to laugh at, just take it to Lucille because she gets a laugh out of everything

BETTY LASS It took Betty a whole day to wash out the mixture of cold cream and powder they put in her hair the night of the play. Betty gave a very good impersonation of what she"ll be like fifty years from now Everybody wonders why Mr. Kingery called her 'Bessie" not so very many days ago Don't tell me your reporters missed out on something Betty has been very good the last two or three weeks I think she knows it is about time for Santa Claus to come around.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

In English this week we were studying on the chapter review of the sentence.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Six weeks' tests again, and we've hardly got over the effects of the last one.

"The School Luncheon" chapter is being studied (?) by the home economics I girls.

The boys are making Christmas presents in manual training

We have just finished the "filing and finding information" chapter in business training this week.

Special Delivery to Mr Bowles sent by a freshman girl "You've got "oomph" but why in heaven's name did you use the wrong kind Wednesday night?"

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

The seventh grade has been writing friendly letters this week We wrote a letter to the seventh grade class in Dahlem, North Dakota. The class chose Ronald Brinkman to copy the letter.

Robert Tiggerman, Patricia Kudje, Herbert Mueller, Herbert Schwartz, Wesley Suckow and Ruth Bell have not been tardy o absent this six weeks.

Edward Barz earned a star rating, which is a perfect score, in self-testing drill No. 4.

GRADES 5 & 6

Edward brought a pomeranate to school and gave us each a piece Th pomegranate came from California. We thought it was good.

Mary Lou was the only person who had a perfect spelling score

Most of us have finished our soap carvings. We have carved buffaloes, dogs, penquins, elephants and rabbits.

Peggy and Norman were reporters.

Those neither absent nor tardy this six weeks were Clarence, Peggy, Ruth Stokesbary, Elizabeth, Dean. Esther, Ruth Smith, Delores, Edward, Helen, Velma, William and Darwin.

GRADES 3 & 4

Isabelle borught three snails for our acquarium. Now we have 4 snails, 3 fish and 1 turtle.

Iris and Maurice brought gourds to school. We want to make these into Indian rattles.

In history we are studying about the Pilgrims and the first Thanksgiving

Fourth grade took drill No. 4. We had an average score.

We invited the first and second grades to see our dramatization of our favorite fairy tale: "Hansel and Gretel." Larry was Hansel; Iris, Gretel; Isabelle, the fairy; Marjory, the mother; Ardel, the Father, Edward, the sandman, and the rest of the children were gingerbread boys and girls.

In health class we are keeping a progress chart of our weight. At the end of this six weeks we all showed an increase in weight and heighth

We had perfect attendance the second six weeks· Iris, Phyllis Kirkwood, Merlin, Delores and Luella.

We had 100 per cent in spelling this week· Luella, Merlin and Phyllis Stokesbary

Merlin and Richard were reporters this week.

KINDERGARTEN GRADES 1 & 2

The first grade completed their first workbook called, "We Think We Do."

In connection with our science lesson on squirrels, we walked to the park to look at the squirrel's nest in the trees. We saw three nests in the park.

Delores told us a story about her doll She called it "My Doll" This is the story "I have a doll She is a little doll. Her name is Dorothy"

Larry's story was called "My Kittens." This is the story· "I have two kittens. One is little. One is big The little one is Fluff The big one is Tommie."

We had our first vocabulary test in the second grade Sondra missed just one and Jacqualea missed two.

Miriam's birthday was Friday She was five years old. She brought treats to school.

We were invited to the third and fourth grade room for a dramatization. We liked it very much.

Lucky and unlucky loves of hero Tom Mix Adela Rogers St. Johns, celebrated Hollywood commentator tells of the ups and downs that followed each of his three romances and of the landslide of ill-fortune that ended in the crash that killed him. Read it in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American

---

Couldn't Wait.

Because Frank Fisher, of Manchester, couldn't wait for the pheasant season to open, he was fined $200 and costs or 60 days in jail.

EYES EXAMINED
GLASSES FITTED
Dr. Frank L. Knutson
CLEAR LAKE
• Our Prices Are Lower •

EVERYBODY

Thankful...

EXCEPT THE TURKEY!!!

We should all be thankful for good health, happiness, peace, and the wonderful crops in North Iowa

This establishment is very Thankful for your patronage and good will the past year.

And . . . you will thank us and you will be thankful throughout the year if you come in today and place your order for that

NEW 1941

Hudson Chrysler Plymouth

You Will Be Thankful, Too, If You Purchase That Used Car Here . . .

Klemme Auto Co.

DRIVE without ever touching the Clutch Pedal

Vacumotive Drive

. . . IN AMERICA'S SAFEST CAR

NEW 1941

HUDSON

HUDSON SIX • SUPER-SIX • COMMODORE SERIES (SIXES and EIGHTS)

PRICES START AMONG AMERICA'S LOWEST

KLEMME AUTO CO.

Thanks! Folks..

We just want to tell you we do appreciate your patronage.

FELCO

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

"The Farmers Elevator" C C. KILGORE, Mgr.

Fun for the Whole Family

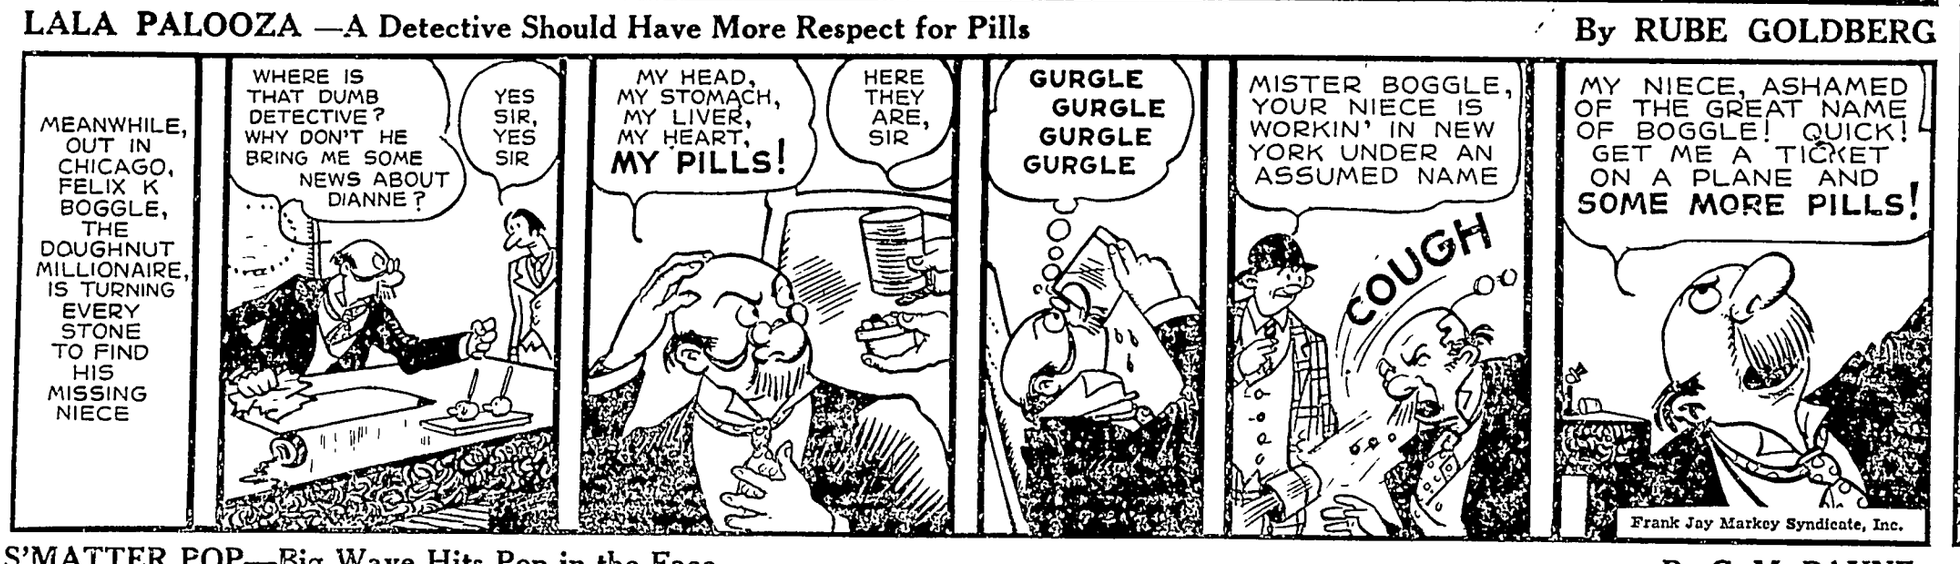
BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN

SAY THAT'S SOME DOG YOU'VE GOT THERE, YOUNG FELLER! I THINK I CAN USE YOU BOTH!!
GEE, THAT'S SWELL, MISTER BANGS,- WHEN DO WE START?
OH, I'M SO GLAD, "UNCLE JEFF" !!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
- ED WHEELAN
LISTEN, MYRA, WE DONT KNOW A THING ABOUT THIS KID EXCEPT THAT HE SAYS HE'S AN ORPHAN AND RAN AWAY FROM SOME FARMER IN BELLEDALE WHO MISTREATED HIM!"
I KNOW, UNCLE JEFF," BUT SOMEHOW I FEEL CERTAIN THAT "RED" IS ABSOLUTELY HONEST AND TRUSTWORTHY!
AT THE COOK HOUSE, MYRA INTRODUCED "RED" TO HAL
GEE WHIZ, SAY, YOU AINT HAL THOMPSON, THE WESTERN STAR, WHO PLAYED IN "CUPID AN' TH' COWBOY", ARE YA?!!
THAT'S ME, PARDNER- SHAKE !!

LALA PALOOZA —A Detective Should Have More Respect for Pills

By RUBE GOLDBERG



MEANWHILE, OUT IN CHICAGO, FELIX K BOGGLE, THE DOUGHNUT MILLIONAIRE, IS TURNING EVERY STONE TO FIND HIS MISSING NIECE
WHERE IS THAT DUMB DETECTIVE? WHY DON'T HE BRING ME SOME NEWS ABOUT DIANNE?
YES SIR, YES SIR
MY HEAD, MY STOMACH, MY LIVER, MY HEART, MY PILLS!
HERE THEY ARE, SIR
GURGLE GURGLE GURGLE GURGLE
MISTER BOGGLE, YOUR NIECE IS WORKIN' IN NEW YORK UNDER AN ASSUMED NAME COUGH
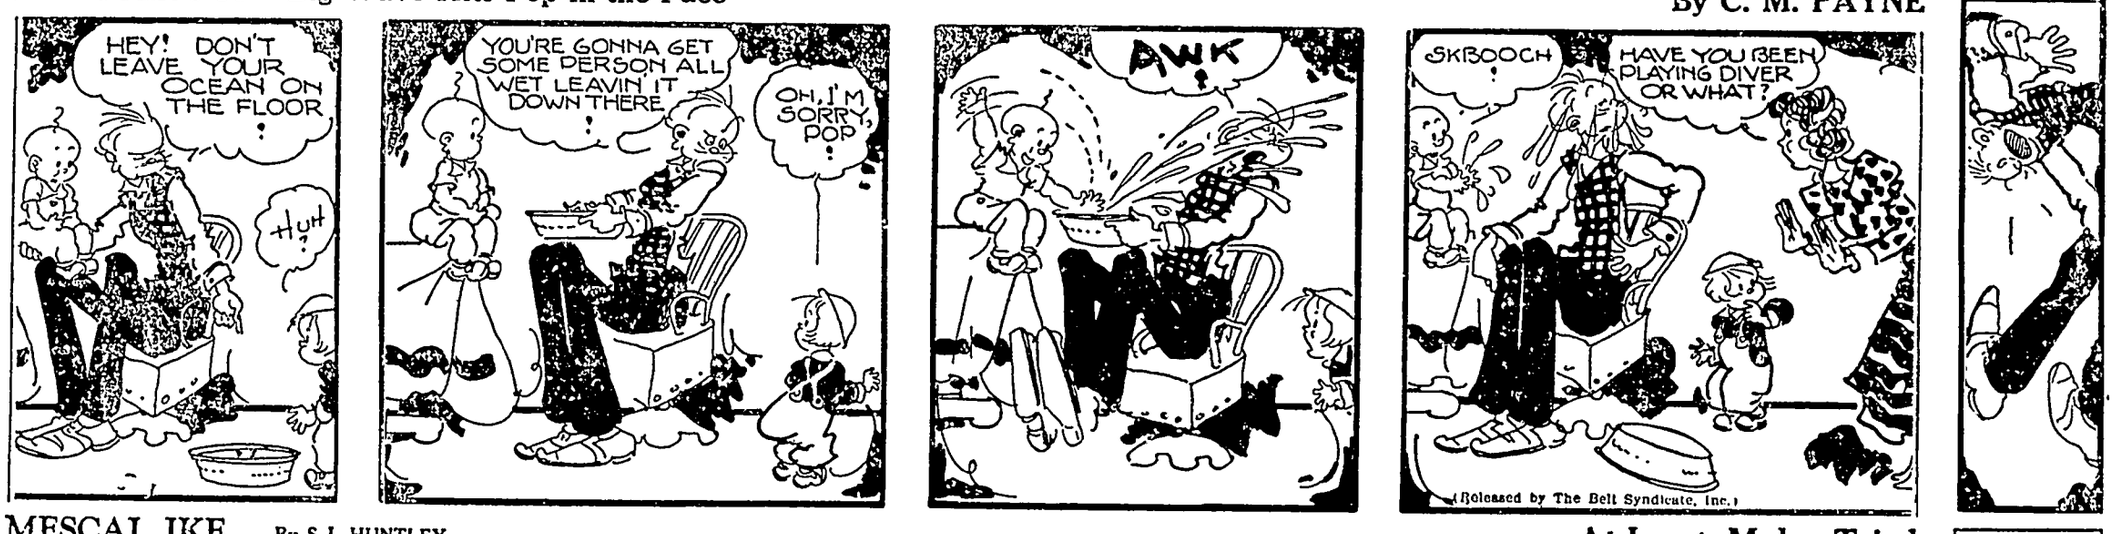
MY NIECE, ASHAMED OF THE GREAT NAME OF BOGGLE! QUICK! GET ME A TICKET ON A PLANE AND SOME MORE PILLS!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP—Big Wave Hits Pop in the Face

By C. M. PAYNE



HEY! DON'T LEAVE YOUR OCEAN ON THE FLOOR!
Huh!
YOU'RE GONNA GET SOME PERSON ALL WET LEAVIN' IT DOWN THERE!
OH, I'M SORRY, POP!
AWK SKBOOCH!
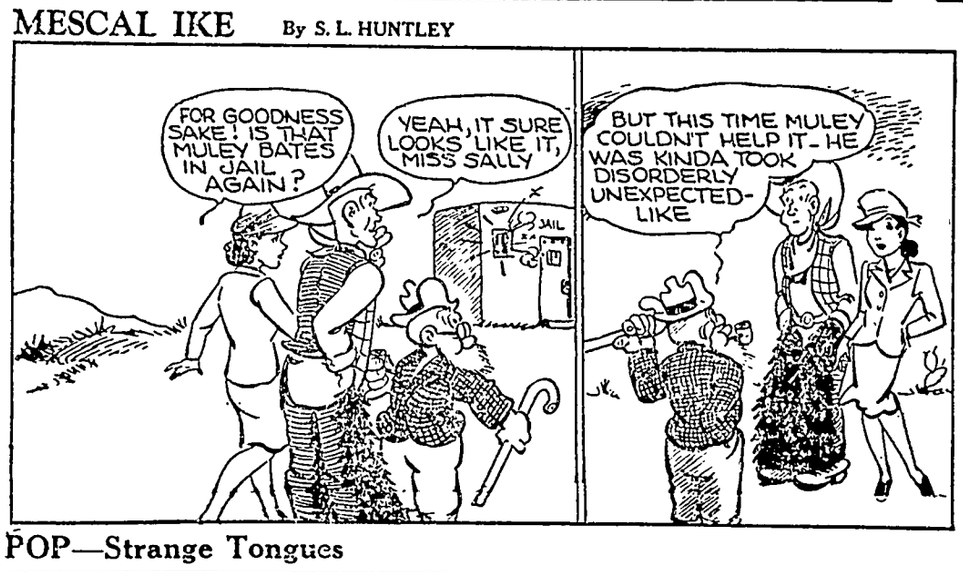
HAVE YOU BEEN PLAYING DIVER OR WHAT?
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY



FOR GOODNESS SAKE! IS THAT MULEY BATES IN JAIL AGAIN?
YEAH, IT SURE LOOKS LIKE IT, MISS SALLY JAIL
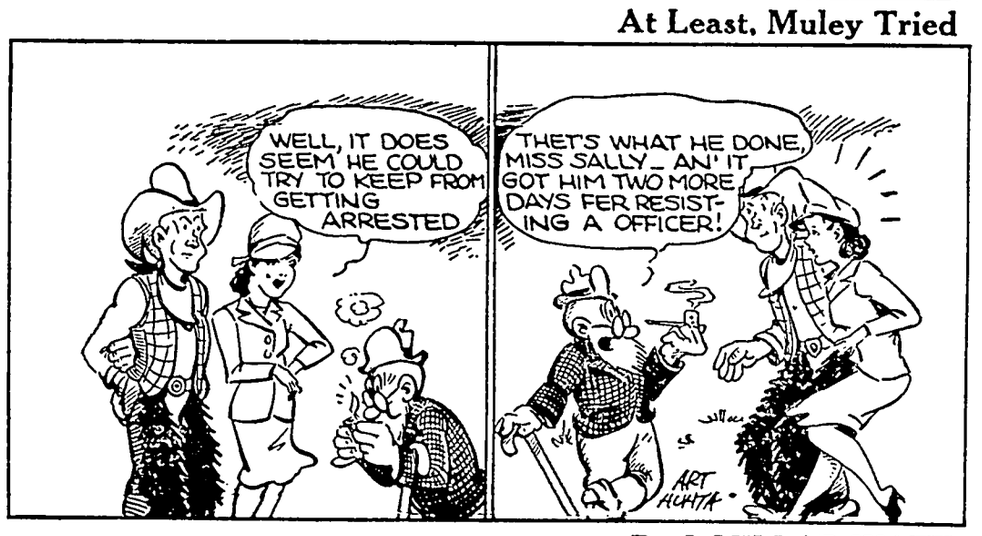
BUT THIS TIME MULEY COULDN'T HELP IT - HE WAS KINDA TOOK DISORDERLY UNEXPECTED- LIKE

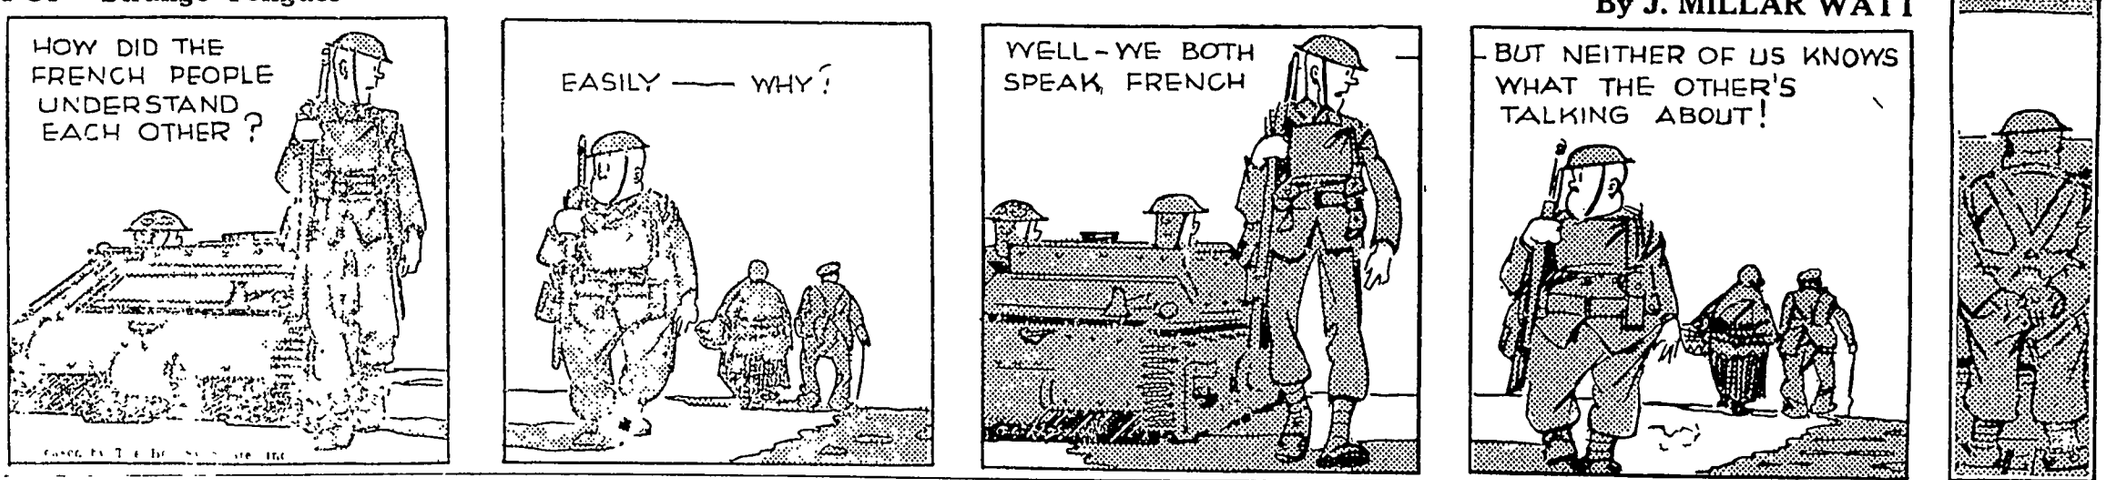
At Least, Muley Tried



WELL, IT DOES SEEM' HE COULD TRY TO KEEP FROM GETTING ARRESTED
THET'S WHAT HE DONE, MISS SALLY - AN' IT GOT HIM TWO MORE DAYS FER RESISTING A OFFICER!
ART ACHTA

POP—Strange Tongues

By J. MILLAR WATT



HOW DID THE FRENCH PEOPLE UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER?
EASILY —— WHY?
WELL - WE BOTH SPEAK FRENCH
BUT NEITHER OF US KNOWS WHAT THE OTHER'S TALKING ABOUT!

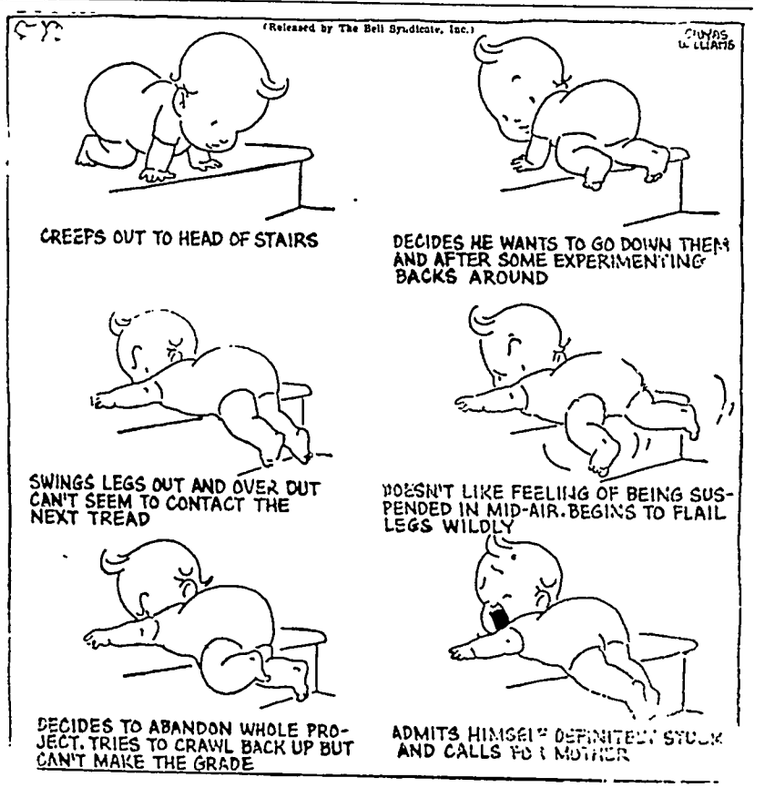
THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

"Hello, pet shop? What's best to do for moulting?"

STUCK

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
GLUYAS WILLIAMS
CREEPS OUT TO HEAD OF STAIRS
DECIDES HE WANTS TO GO DOWN THERE AND AFTER SOME EXPERIMENTING BACKS AROUND SWINGS LEGS OUT AND OVER BUT CAN'T SEEM TO CONTACT THE NEXT TREAD DOESN'T LIKE FEELING OF BEING SUSPENDED IN MID-AIR. BEGINS TO FLAIL LEGS WILDLY
DECIDES TO ABANDON WHOLE PROJECT. TRIES TO CRAWL BACK UP BUT CAN'T MAKE THE GRADE ADMITS HIMSELF DEFINITELY STUCK AND CALLS FOR MOTHER

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

PATENTS

ORWIG & HAGUE
Patents, trade-marks, copyrights,
Sixth Floor Crocker Bldg., Des Moines
Branch Office—Washington, D C

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

REPAIRS For Your STOVE FURNACE or BOILER
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All Makes
Have Your Dealer Order from Us
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COMPANY

LEARN RADIO

BE THE EXPERT RADIO Technician
in your community or get a good Radio job in a city. Inexperienced men learn quickly at home in spare time and make up to $50 a week. Full information FREE. Write National Radio Institute, Dept. OMN3, Washington, D. C. (Est. 25 years)

Panda Cuddle Toy Is Easy to Crochet

BLACK and white yarn—a crochet hook—presto—a life-like panda cuddle toy. Single crochet forms the exterior of this cute animal; cotton stuffing the interior buttons do excellent service for eyes.

* * *

Easy directions for this cuddly pal are Z9036, 15c. He is about 14 inches when finished, and will be a nursery favorite It takes but little effort to crochet him. Send order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Your Influence

Your mind has a great moral influence over the comrade at your right. So you see the importance of your own courageous thought.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Read These Important Facts!

Quivering nerves can make you old, haggard, cranky—can make your life a nightmare of jealousy, self pity and "the blues."

Often such nervousness is due to female functional disorders. So take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help calm unstrung nerves and lessen functional "irregularities." For over 60 years relief giving Pinkham's Compound has helped to of thousands of grandmothers, mothers and daughters "in time of need." Try it!

Dominion Over Self

You can never have a greater or a less dominion than that over yourself.—Da Vinci.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use
666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH DROPS

"All the Traffic Would Bear"

● There was a time in America when there were no set prices. Each merchant charged what he thought "the traffic would bear." Advertising came to the rescue of the consumer. It led the way to the established prices you pay when you buy anything today.

Household News By Eleanor Howe

FOR THAT EXTRA SPECIAL LUNCHEON
See Recipes Below.

When your children are in school, and your husband is at work, you find little pleasure in eating a solitary meal. And when you are rushed with household duties, you are apt to grab a quick sandwich, or a steaming bowl of soup, and then continue with the tasks that are still before you.

But, you can take advantage of the days when the family is away, and the work all finished, to entertain your friends at a one-o'clock luncheon, a dessert luncheon for the bridge club, or for just a friendly get-together. A good menu and an attractive table will give you the poise and enthusiasm necessary to serve your guests easily and graciously.

Oftentimes the most easily prepared food may be the most attractively served. A fluted orange cup makes a colorful container for many fruits, which may be varied with the season. The fruit must be cut into pieces of convenient size, free from seeds and skin, except for grapes. It should be thoroughly chilled and combined so that it is a neat arrangement. If a few pieces are crushed or wilted, the whole concoction will look careless and unappetizing. Remember, an appetizer should not be too sweet, for as the name implies, the first course should sharpen the appetite.

For the rest of the menu you might like to serve mock chicken legs, baked potatoes, crisp green salad, crescent rolls, and as an unusual dessert, chocolate mint roll.

Fluted Orange Cup.
(Serves 6)

3 oranges
1 banana
1 cup grapes
3 tablespoons sugar

With a sharp knife pierce to center of orange. Cut the orange in half, using zigzag strokes that meet to make the points of the seallops. Separate the 2 orange halves, and remove meat from shells. Cut orange meat into pieces. Peel, and cut banana into pieces. Combine orange meat, banana and grapes. Sprinkle with sugar. Chill. Serve in well-chilled shells, garnished with a sprig of mint, if desired.

Chocolate Mint Roll.
(Makes 1 11-inch roll)

6 tablespoons cake flour (sifted)
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar (sifted)
4 egg whites (stiffly beaten)
4 egg yolks (beaten)
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together 3 times. Fold sugar gradually into egg whites. Fold in egg yolks and vanilla. Then fold in flour gradually. Add chocolate, and beat gently but thoroughly. Turn into a 16 by 11-inch pan which has been greased and lined with paper and greased again. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes. Cut off crisp edges and turn onto a cloth covered with powdered sugar. Remove paper, roll, and cool. Unroll and spread half of mint frosting over cake and roll again. Wrap in cloth and cool for about 5 minutes. Cover with remaining frosting. When frosting has set, cover with bitter sweet coating, made by melting 2 additional squares of unsweetened chocolate with 2 teaspoons butter.

Mint Frosting.

2 egg whites (unbeaten)
1½ cups sugar
5 tablespoons water
1½ teaspoons light corn syrup
Green vegetable coloring
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract

Combine egg whites, sugar, water and corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat with a rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, and cook for 7 minutes, beating constantly, until frosting stands in peaks. Add coloring gradually to hot frosting to give a delicate tint. Remove from boiling water, add flavoring and beat until thick enough to spread.

Mock Chicken Legs.
(Serves 6 to 8)

1¼ pounds veal steak
1¼ pounds pork steak
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup flour
1 egg (beaten)
Cracker crumbs

Pound meats, after seasoning with salt, pepper and flour. Cut into 1½-inch squares, and place 6 pieces, 3 of each kind of meat, alternately on a skewer. Press together. Chill for 1 hour. Dip in beaten egg and roll in cracker crumbs. Brown on all sides in hot fat in a skillet. Pour 1 cup water over the "legs," and cover. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour. (The liquid will all cook away.)

Corned Beef Souffle.
(Serves 6 to 8)

2 cups milk
½ cup celery (chopped fine)
2 tablespoons onion (chopped fine)
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
3 egg yolks (well beaten)
3 egg whites (well beaten)
½ cup soft bread crumbs
½ tablespoon paprika
¼ tablespoon salt
2 cups cold corned beef (chopped fine)

Scald milk in a double boiler with the celery and onion for about 15 minutes. Strain and cool a little. Melt butter in a saucepan, add flour, then the milk, and stir until smooth, stirring constantly. When boiling, add the bread crumbs, paprika, salt and corned beef. Remove from fire and add the beaten egg yolks. Fold in the well-beaten egg whites, and pour souffle into a greased pan. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) for about 45 minutes.

Rice Butterscotch.
(Serves 5 to 6)

2 cups milk
⅓ cup rice
2 cups brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt

Scald the milk in a double boiler. Add the washed rice and cook until nearly tender (about 30 minutes). Meanwhile, melt the brown sugar, butter and salt, and cook for 10 minutes over low fire, until a syrup is formed, stirring constantly. Gradually turn this mixture into the rice and continue cooking until the rice is tender. Turn into wet molds and chill. Serve with cream and sugar, if desired.

Easy Entertaining.

Everybody loves a party, from the toddling youngster to the sophisticated adult. A hostess who can entertain her guests with something new in the way of party ideas is indeed popular. You do not have to wait for a birthday to warrant a celebration, for soon there will be many holiday events to bring a group together.

Miss Howe, in her book, "Easy Entertaining," gives you many new party ideas and suitable menus with tested recipes. You may secure your copy of her book by writing to "Easy Entertaining," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclosing 10 cents in coin.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for December 1

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission

AN EXACTING DISCIPLESHIP

LESSON TEXT—Luke 9 49-62.
GOLDEN TEXT—No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.—Luke 9 62.

Weak-kneed, watered-out, and "sickly" religious philosophies and activities have no right to call themselves Christian. Following Christ is not just a sweet sentimental impulse expressed in smooth words and formal religious exercises. It is a vital, virile, sacrificial faith which leads the true follower of Christ to be willing not only to die for Him, but also to live for Him in the face of opposition, hatred, yes, "through peril, toil and pain."

Let us put away these insipid imitations of Christianity which so often masquerade under its name and face our time with a call to discipleship which demands every fine, noble, manly and womanly quality. The lesson for today reveals that following Jesus (and please remember you are not ready to live for Him until you have been born again) calls for

I. Co-operation (vv. 49, 50).

The placing of the little child in their midst (vv. 46-48) and Jesus' words concerning true greatness revealed to John that he had been wrong in condemning the one who was working for Christ but who was not of their party. The true disciple recognizes that the man who truly loves and serves Christ is to be accepted in His name. We may not like his appearance, or his language, or his methods, or his friends, but we ought to love him and co-operate with him. Let us begin to practice that as well as to say we believe it.

II. Humility (vv. 51-53).

Gross discourtesy, evidently inspired by national hatred (the Jews and Samaritans had no dealings with each other), was shown toward the Lord Himself. His reaction gives us an example of humility, for He said not a word against them. The true follower of Jesus should expect such treatment from a hostile, devil-inspired world and emulate his master by showing love and

III. Patience (vv. 54-56).

The disciples wanted to show their power and authority by bringing the fires of destruction upon the enemies of Christ. That spirit has persisted in the church, the desire to call the fires of heaven (and possibly of hell) to destroy those who hinder or oppose us. Such is not the spirit of our God and His Christ, for He is "long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."

IV. Sacrifice (vv. 57, 58).

The writer dislikes to use the word "sacrifice" in connection with our life and service for Christ, for in reality we sacrifice nothing which is not more than replaced (read Matt. 19:29). But at the same time it is true that God does call upon us as Christians to hold nothing dearer than our devotion to Him.

Following Christ is more than singing glibly or carelessly, "I'll go where you want me to go, dear Lord." The one who starts out with Him is to count the cost (Luke 14:28-33). He must expect the same treatment as Christ (II Tim. 3.12) and be willing to take it gladly (John 15:20; I Pet. 2:21). We ought to make this plain to professed believers. Tell young people the truth and you will see that they are ready to respond to it. They are willing to give themselves sacrifically for causes of this earth—why not for Christ?

V. Devotion (vv. 59-62).

It has been said that Christ is either Lord of all or He is not Lord at all. Even the demands which love may present on behalf of our aged father must not be permitted to stand between the Lord and His disciple.

Christianity is considerate and courteous, and our Lord is not here suggesting any neglect of the duties or amenities of life. The point is rather that the Lord must have first place whatever else may call for second thought.

The blight on the life and service of most Christians is that almost anything and everything else is allowed to take first place and the Lord must be satisfied with second or third place. Sometimes one wonders if He is given any real place at all in some lives.

No one who puts his hand to the plough in God's Kingdom and then wants to defer following through until a more convenient season, or who wants to go back to "bid farewell" to someone who for the moment is more important than the Lord, is fit for His service. The way of joy and usefulness is the way of full and unconditional yielding to Him.

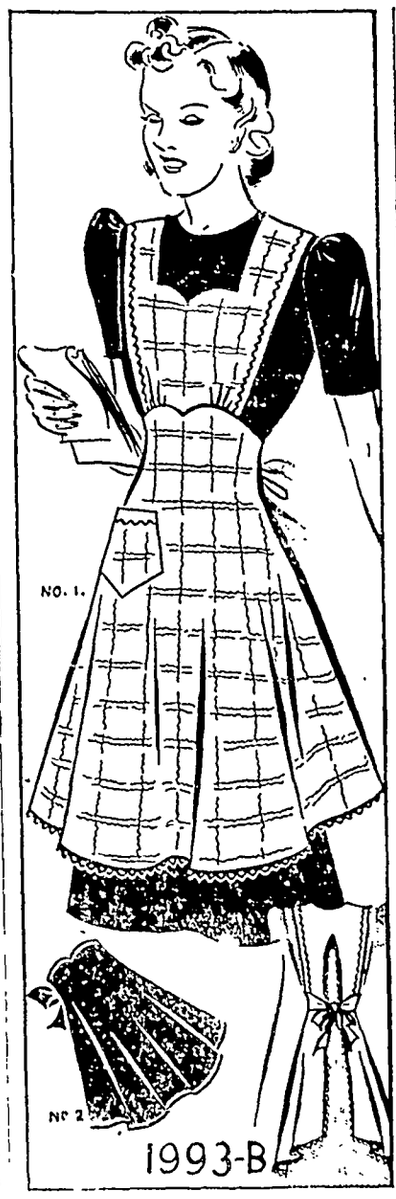
In Spite of Imperfections

He brought me forth also into a large place: he delivered me, because he delighted in me.—II Sam. 22:20.

The Main Issue

Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life.—Proverbs 4:23.

PATTERN SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT



TWO of the most useful aprons in the world are yours in this one simple pattern (No. 1993-B). One is the all-protective type that you rely on to keep your dresses clean while preparing supper. The other is the more or less decorative little tie-around that you wear when serving afternoon tea. Notice the special virtues of the coverall. It protects the top as well as the skirt of your dress; it goes over your head and ties in a jiffy. It's so cut that it can't slip from your shoulders.

Just leave off the bib part of the coverall, and you have the high-cut, saucy little tie-around. Batiste, gingham, linen, percale and seersucker are pretty apron materials.

* * *

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1993-B is designed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 34 requires, for #1, 2¼ yards of 35-inch material without nap and 6 yards rickrack; 1¾ yards for #2, and 3¾ yards trimming. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Ask Me Another
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Is it incorrect to refer to our flag as the "American" flag?
2. Is the Diesel engine a comparatively new invention?
3. What common name is given to thea Sinensis?
4. When does a newly elected President take office?
5. A man dressed sans souci would be dressed how?
6. What is verdigris?
7. Was India paper so named because it was first made in India?
8. What is an Igorot?

The Answers

1. According to the United States Flag association, it is not. However the official title is the "Flag of the United States."
2. No. It was invented by Dr. Rudolph Diesel of Munich, Germany, and put in operation in 1898.
3. Tea.
4. January 20.
5. Carelessly.
6. Green rust on copper.
7. No. It originally came from China.
8. A member of a wild Philippine tribe.

Haunts of Happiness

The haunts of happiness are varied, but I have more often found her among little children, home firesides, and country homes than anywhere else.—Sydney Smith.

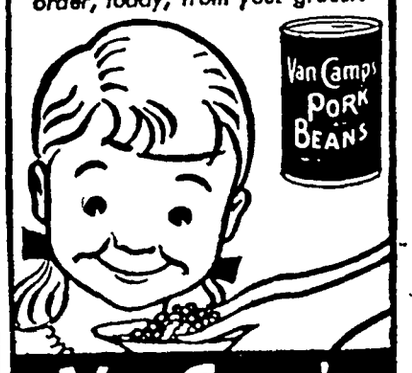
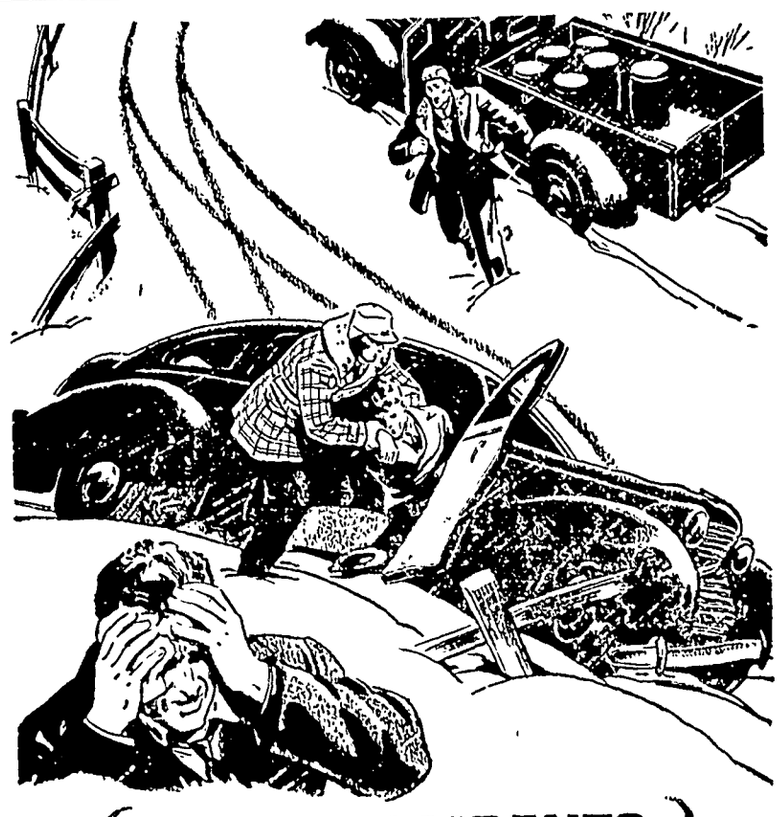
Delicious for parties and pleasure . . . saves cooking time and money . . . nourishing . . . order, today, from your grocer.



Van Camp's Pork and BEANS
"Feast-for-the-Least"

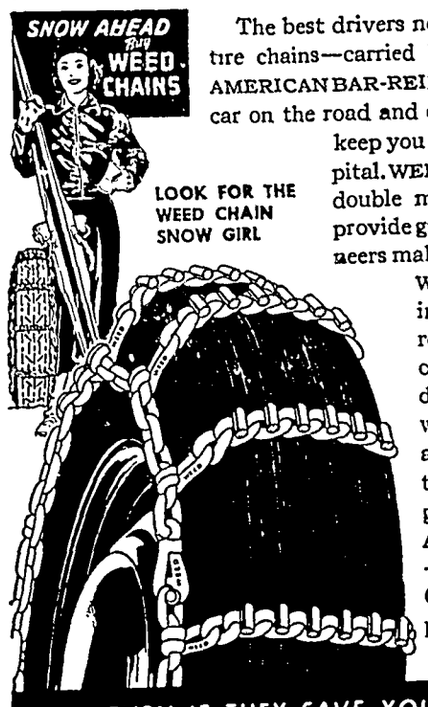
True Freedom

The only freedom which deserves the name is that of pursuing our own good in our own way, so long as we do not attempt to deprive others of theirs, or impede their efforts to obtain it.—John Stuart Mills.



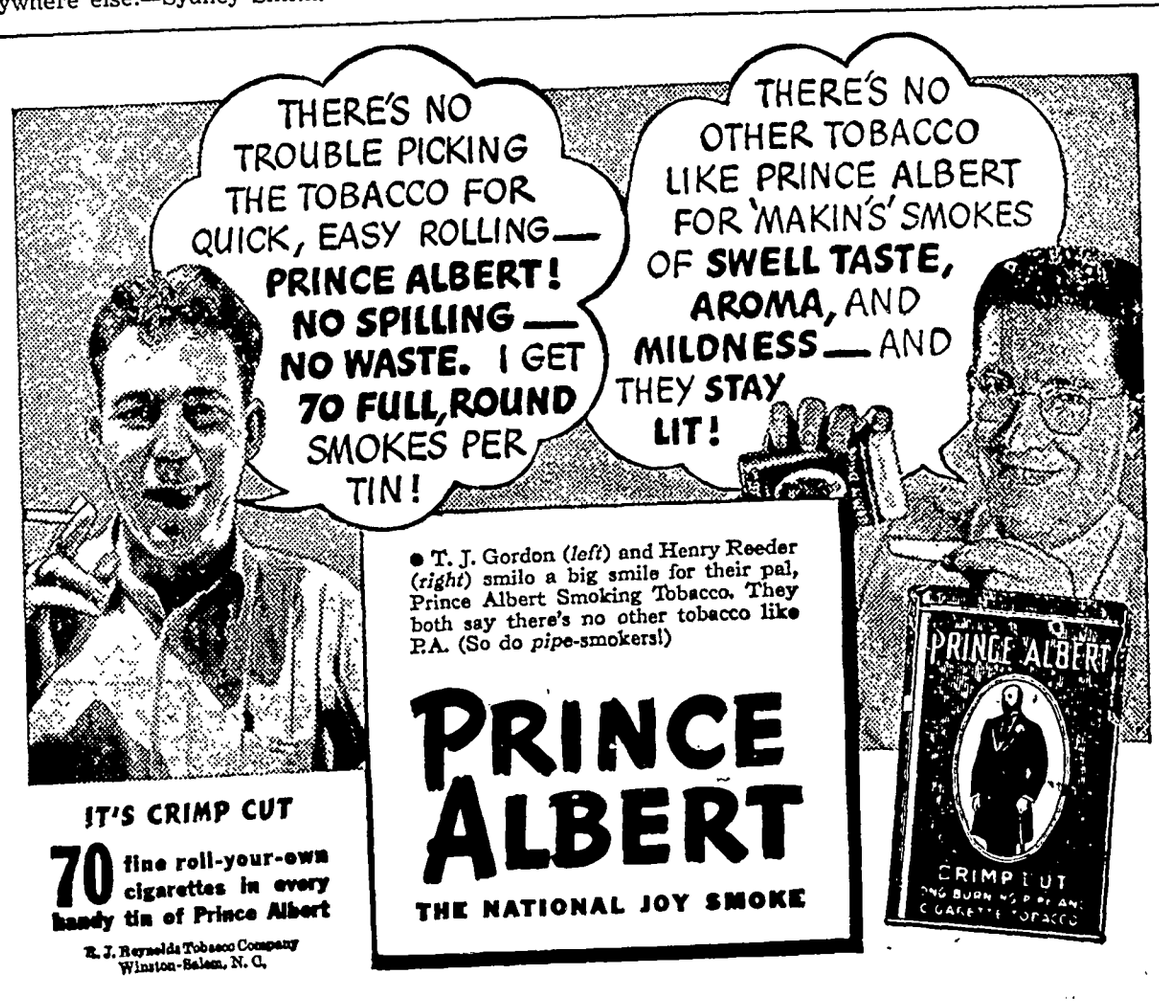
Driving ACCIDENTS DOUBLED in Winter

...JUST WHEN DRIVING IS MOST IMPORTANT!



The best drivers need WEEDS—the best buy in tire chains—carried by the best dealers. WEED AMERICAN BAR-REINFORCED CHAINS keep your car on the road and out of the repair shop. They keep you on the job and out of the hospital. WEED CHAINS give you more than double mileage. Their hidden values provide greater protection. WEED engineers make certain of results by testing WEED CHAINS continuously in the laboratory, and on the road. But the tens of thousands of car owners who wouldn't drive on a snowy, slippery, winter road without WEEDS are your best assurance that these chains are right. Get the genuine: ask for WEED AMERICAN CHAINS—Made by American Chain & Cable Company, Inc., York, Pa.

EVEN IF THEY SAVE YOUR LIFE BUT ONCE!
WEED American Bar-Reinforced TIRE CHAINS



THERE'S NO TROUBLE PICKING THE TOBACCO FOR QUICK, EASY ROLLING— PRINCE ALBERT! NO SPILLING— NO WASTE. I GET 70 FULL, ROUND SMOKES PER TIN!
THERE'S NO OTHER TOBACCO LIKE PRINCE ALBERT FOR 'MAKIN'S' SMOKES OF SWELL TASTE, AROMA, AND MILDNESS— AND THEY STAY LIT!
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT

● T. J. Gordon (left) and Henry Reeder (right) smile a big smile for their pal, Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco. They both say there's no other tobacco like P.A. (So do pipe-smokers!)

IT'S CRIMP CUT
70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy tin of Prince Albert

PRINCE ALBERT
THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Winston-Salem, N. C.

Pelicans.

Oscar and Oswald, pelicans, inseparable companions in life, were frozen to death last week near Storm Lake.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.

•

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

•

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

EVENING MUSICAL

Monday evening, Nov. 25, at 8 o'clock, a music program was presented by the high school students of Mrs. Gerardi.

The recital was given in the home of Mrs. Gerardi and consisted of piano duets, vocal solos, piano solos, six hands at the keyboard, Vibraharp solo and numbers for two pianos.

After the program a lunch of ice cream pie and musical cookies was served.

Turkeys have increased faster in numbers in Iowa during the past 10 years than any other farm animal.

K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 29-30

MONARCH JELLO 6 boxes 25c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

MONARCH CREAM OF WHEAT pkg. 15c — QUALITY for 70 YEARS

Blue Barrel Soap 3 Large Bars 23c

PEANUT BUTTER Quart Jar 24c

POTTED MEAT Libby's, 3 cans 23c

SOAP CASTILE 6 Bars for 23c

NOODLES 2 pkgs for 17c

WALNUTS Diamond No. 1; lb. .. 23c

GET VALUABLE COUPONS with each 24½, 49 and 98 lb. sack of
Miss Minneapolis Flour 49 lb. $1.57
IT'S DISTINCTLY BETTER!

Klemme Food Market

STORE — C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

A Big, Beautiful New Hotpoint
ELECTRIC RANGE
With Measured Heat

HERE'S a gift that mother will love. And don't forget when you give her a Hotpoint Electric Range, you give a cleaner, better method of cooking. Come on—pool your money this year for the present mother really wants—a new Hotpoint Electric Range.

The President
ELECTRIC RANGE

New CALROD Units
Cook With Measured Heat
EACH Calrod cooking unit provides 5 Measured Heats. Cooks faster or slower, as needed, but always economically. Coils are self-cleaning. Easily removable reflector can be washed like a pie tin.

SEE THIS GRAND CHRISTMAS VALUE AT THESE STORES

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Rev. Zabilka is the owner of a new Plymouth sedan which was delivered to him last week.

There is still time to join the Red Cross on make contributions. Help this worthy cause today.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pavey enjoyed dinner Sunday at the Woodhouse home in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson drove to Iowa City last Thursday where Ed entered the University hospital clinic for a physical examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mueller and son, Herbert, drove to Winthrop, Minn., Saturday for a visit over the week end with Paul's parents, Rev and Mrs. Mueller.

The Klemme Auto Co. reports new cars delivered the past week: A Hudson sedan to John Hartwig of Thornton, and a Hudson sedan to Max Schultz, Mason City.

Miss Irene Harms, who teaches at Logan, Iowa, will arrive in Klemme to spend the Thanksgiving vacation visiting at the J. C. Thomas home.

Mrs. Lloyd Lau entered the Park hospital at Mason City last Friday where she had an operation performed. She is making a good recovery at this writing.

Mrs. Einar Salling is a patient at the Mercy hospital at Mason City where she underwent a major operation last week Wednesday. Reports are that Mrs. Salling is making a satisfactory recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas and son, Jimmie, visited Sunday afternoon with relatives at Alden and Iowa Falls, enjoying supper with Jim's brother, J. D. Thomas and family at Iowa Falls.

Mrs. Bertha Schlei and son, Dale accompanied by Lowell Mau and Miss Rydson, drove to Des Moines Saturday evening to spend the week end at the Ralph Smedes home.

Milton Paul and Glen Bowles, jr., drove to Des Moines Saturday evening and Miss Vella Paul and Mrs. Ed Epps accompanied them to Klemme for a visit at the Herman Paul home.

Mr. and Mrs Emil Tiggerman, of St. Louis, Mo., L. H. Suckow, of Mason City, and Leichen Westenberger, of Forest City, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and son, Duard, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Etchen drove to Ardale Sunday afternoon for a visit at the home of Mrs. Lewis' and Mr. Etchen's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eichmeyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Henschen and son, William, of Garner, were visiting with her sister, Mrs. Henry Lau, Sunday afternoon. They gave Mrs. Lau a 2 pound lemon which Mr. Henschen grew in the basement of the court house.

Rev. and Mrs. Buthman, of Algona, were dinner guests Friday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka. Rev. Buthman, who is the district superintendent, was here to attend the quarterly meeting of the Klemme and Liberty Methodist churches.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son, Dick, and Miss Ada Mutch, of Grundy Center, left early Thursday morning for Adell, Wisconsin to spend Thanksgiving visiting with the doctor's parents. They returned home Sunday evening. Miss Tillie Boehnke, registered nurse of Ventura, accompanied them for a visit with friends at Milwaukee. They also visited Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Dulmes' sister, Mrs. Russ Gray and family at Rockford, Ill.

METHODIST BROTHERHOOD

Methodist men from Klemme, Liberty, Garner, Swaledale, Burchinal, Clear Lake and Thornton, gathered at the Methodist church at Garner Thursday night for an oyster supper and to form a Brotherhood. The speaker of the evening was Rev. C. H. Peterson of Forest City.

Return From Trip Through Southern States

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rosendahl and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemke returned home Friday evening from their tour of the southern states. They drove a distance of 4,535 miles and toured the states of Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas, Louisana and Arkansas. They drove thru the Texas Panhandle and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, also going thru a large cavern at Carlsbad, New Mexico, which was 850 feet below the surface of the earth. The party walked a distance of about 14 miles before again getting to the surface.

At DeRidder, La. they visited at the Paul Stille home, who are former residents of Klemme. The Klemme group saw many cotton fields, orange and grapefruit orchards, flowers in bloom and many other things of interest.

Woman's Society Of Christian Service

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will meet December 5th with Mrs. C. A. Arnold, leader; Mrs. Frank Sandry, devotions and hostesses, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. R. R. Reese, Mrs. E. J. Arnold and Mrs. W. F. Pavey.

Notice

1941 Automobile And Truck

License Plates

. . . will go on sale December 1st. To those wishing a small number, we MUST have your request before

December 1st

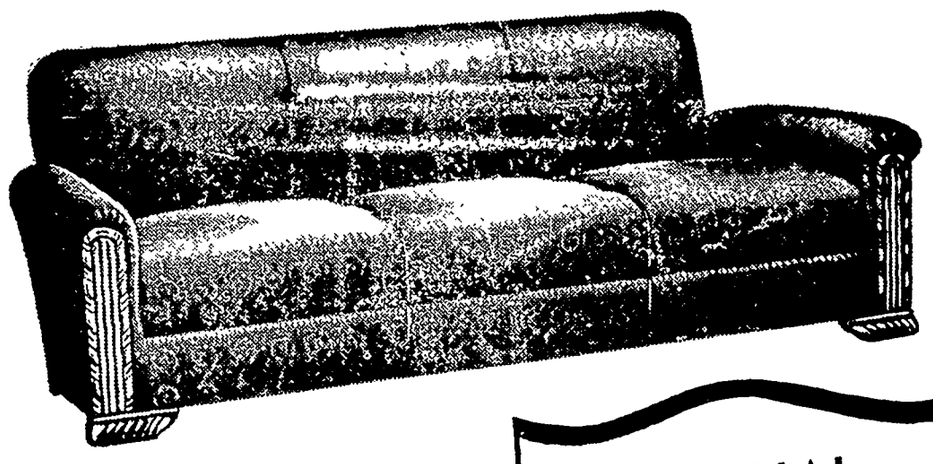
If we receive your request before then with CHECK ATTACHED we will do our best to fill the order.

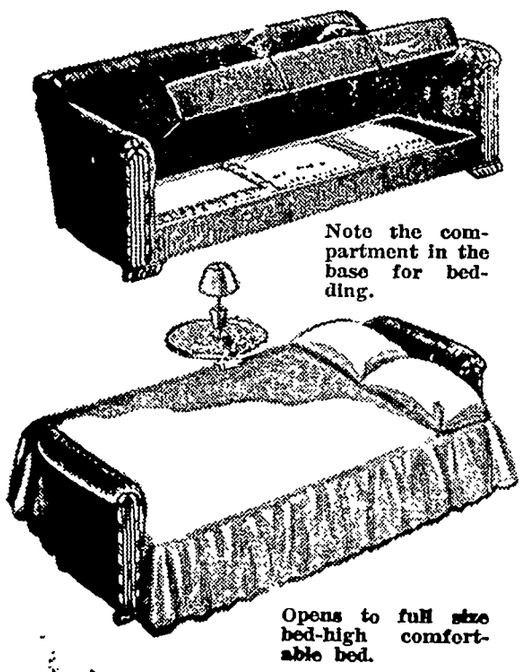
Roy L. McMillin
County Treasurer

IT PAYS TO USE WANT ADS

New Swing-Away SOFA BEDS

. . . with a Large Bedding Compartment!
Easily Opened Without Moving Away From Wall





Note the compartment in the base for bedding.

Opens to full size bed-high comfortable bed.

SPECIAL
Introductory SALE PRICE
$47.50

UPHOLSTERED IN VELVET
Provides you with the smartness of a period sofa that will fit into the decorative scheme of your living room, and at the same time, serve as a most comfortable bed as well.

EASE OF OPERATION NOW BEING DEMONSTRATED IN OUR STORE!

By All means see it tomorrow.

FREE SOFA BED MATTRESS
WITH EVERY PURCHASE OF A SOFA BED DURING THIS SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY SALE

Arthur Wellemeyer

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 4, 1940. — NUMBER 27.

emme Legion Will Play Santa Needy Children of Community

ONAIRES WILL REPAIR ALL OLD TOYS SENT TO THEM HERE

lp Make Some Boy or Girl appy By Giving Old Toys To The Legion

o you want to make some boy or girl happy this istmas? You can help the me Legion spread good cheer Christmas by giving them no r used toys, dolls, wagons, skates and other playthings. e Legion men of Klemme are g up a work shop where they repair and refinish all toys other items. A broken toy will repaired and repainted and help to make some child y.

yone in this community who old toys should get in touch J. C. Thomas, Dick Bamman, Grange, or any other Legion- immediately, so that your do- n can be repaired and bright- up before Christmas.

ready a number of toys and items have been turned over he Legion's Santa Claus work where they have been made ook like new again and will eady to pack into Santa's sled delivered to some boy or girl mightotherwise be missed on istmas Day.

his is a very worthy cause the ion is promoting and they ld be given whole-hearted co- ation by the community. nd those toys, sleds, wagons and other items to the Legion y. Help spread Christmas this istmas.

DY TO AID ON A NEW PROGRAM

ess Making Work To Be Undertaken By Co-Operating Agencies

dy families in Hancock Coun- e expected to take part in a ss-making program which is established by the United s department of agriculture, extension service, the AAA the surplus marketing associa-

w income families may apply the materials to make mat- es for home use, and the ap- tions must be made at the ock county Farm Bureau of- in Garner by Dec. 10, accord- to Miss Ruth A. Willits, home onstration agent who is in ge of the program.

ork centers will be planned other arrangements will be by a county committee ch includes Miss Willits, Co. t T. C. Petersen, Mrs. L. F. er, Mrs. Louis Schleusner, J. A. Chambers, Miss Marie en, Mrs. D. E. Keat, V. A. Byron Cory, Mary Kimber- J. M. Townsend, W. J. Ras- en, Penn Eckles, County Au- Fred C. Missal, Hugh Mullins, ty Superintendent J. R. Baggs Cholm Houghton.

KLEMME STREETS BEING DECORATED FOR THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

Klemme's Main Street will have a festive appearance when Christmas decorations and colored lights have been installed by Lee Ridder and his helpers on the decorating committee.

Art Wellemeyer and Paul Grange procured two large evergreen trees Monday for Main Street. Mr. Ridder has always had a nice lighting arrangement and this year again will be up to par.

Want To Get A Nice Pig?

LEGION MEN PLANNING FOR THEIR ANNUAL POULTRY PARTY

This year the Klemme Legion will have a bigger and better poultry party and tickets will go on sale soon. This year they will have a larger assortment of chickens, ducks, geese and turkeys, and will also have a nice fat hog on their list of premiums.

Special features will also be put on at the Community Hall and tickets will be sold for 10 cents each or three for a quarter. Watch the Times for dates and details.

LARGE BUILDING IS PURCHASED FOR NEW HATCHERY LOCATION

GARNER—F. W. Butz and son, Vern Butz, have purchased the large building which had formerly housed the Goodrich and Bethke produce plant and will take possession Dec. 2.

They plan to move their hatchery and feed store from the southwest edge of Garner to the downtown location as soon as improvements can be made.

The building faces nearly 90 feet of Garner's main street.

ANNUAL BAZAAR AND CHURCH SUPPER WEDNESDAY, DEC. 11th

The annual bazaar and supper will be held at the Klemme Methodist church next week, Wednesday, December 11th, afternoon and evening. The bazaar sale will be held during the afternoon and early evening. Serving of the chicken supper will begin at 5:30 o'clock.

Everyone is invited and welcome to attend.

Music Mothers

There will be no meeting of the Music Mothers club next week.

W. S. C. S. Notes

The W. S .C. S. ladies who are working on embroideried tea towels are asked to bring them to the meeting this week Thursday.

Free Movies!

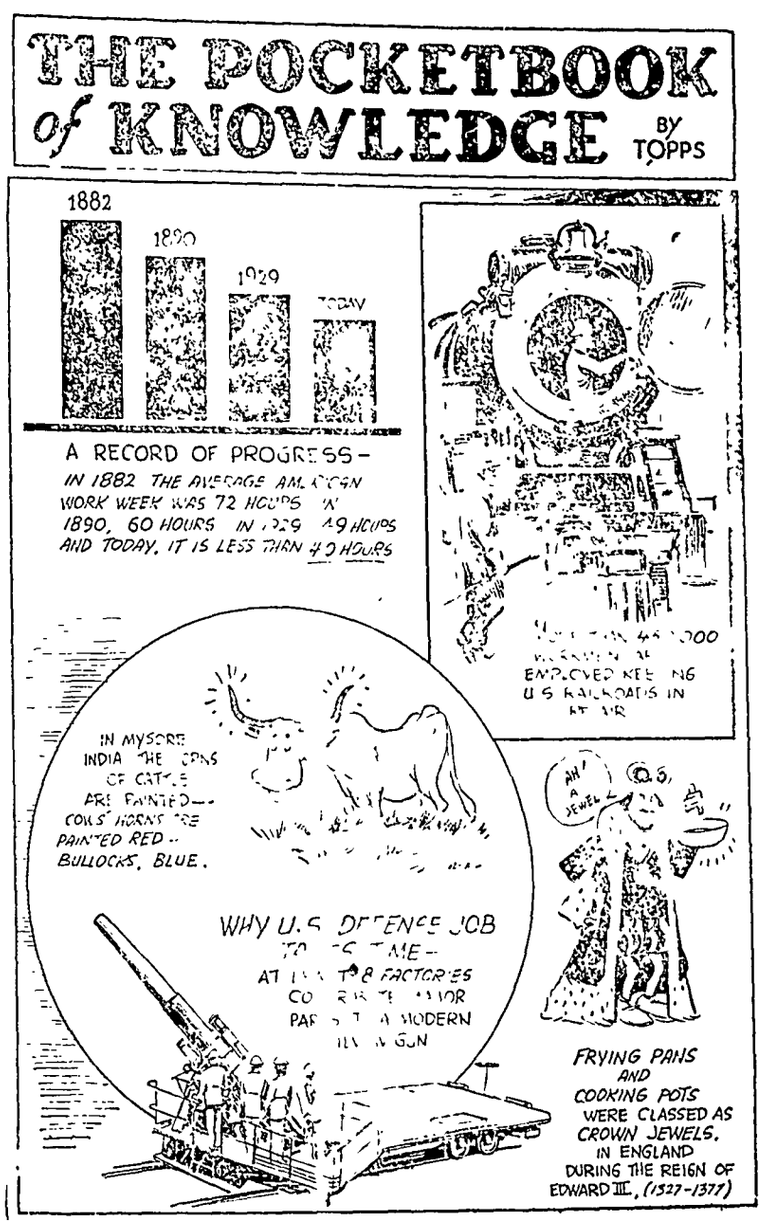
Every Saturday from now until Christmas the merchants of Klmme put on Free Picture Shows in the Community Hall.

The Shows will start at 2 p. m. and will consist of a feature and two shorts.

Saturday, December 7
"ON THE SPOT"
with Frankie Darrell

Saturday, December, 14
"ON WYOMING TRAIL"
a Christmas picture

Saturday, December 21
"MAKE A MILLION"
this is a grand picture



THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS
1882
1890
1929
TODAY
A RECORD OF PROGRESS—
IN 1882 THE AVERAGE AMERICAN WORK WEEK WAS 72 HOURS IN 1890, 60 HOURS IN 1929 49 HOURS AND TODAY, IT IS LESS THAN 40 HOURS
EMPLOYED KEEPING U.S. RAILROADS IN REPAIR
IN MYSORE INDIA THE HORNS OF CATTLE ARE PAINTED— COWS' HORNS ARE PAINTED RED— BULLOCKS, BLUE.
WHY U.S. DEFENCE JOB IS SLOW TIME—
AT TANK FACTORIES CONVERTED MOTOR
PARTS TO MODERN MACHINE GUN
Q.6. AH! A JEWEL
FRYING PANS AND COOKING POTS WERE CLASSED AS CROWN JEWELS, IN ENGLAND DURING THE REIGN OF EDWARD III, (1327-1377)

Republican Women Will Meet To Hold Eection Post Mortem

HANCOCK G. O. P. CLUB TO MEET AT GARNER

Plan "Post Mortem" Session At Garner, Saturday December 7

Republican club women of Hancock county will hold a "post mortem" meeting in Garner at 2 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 7, according to an announcement made by Miss Christyna Callison, county recorder and president of the Garner club, members of which will be hostesses at the county parley.

Mrs. V. A. Blomgren of Kanawha will speak on "Women's Accomplishments in America from 1840 to 1940," and instrumental music will be furnished by Patty and Jean and Jackie Senneff of Britt A social hour and refreshments will follow the program Anyone desiring to bring a guest, may do so as this meeting is called "Guest Day."

At the business meeting each club president will be asked to report on the year's activities and also to give what percentage of club members voted at the general election Nov. 5th.

The Republican Women of Ell township turned out 100 per cent strong at the recent general election Mrs. R . R. Reece is the president for Ell township club.

BLIZZARD PROVES WINDBREAK WORTH

Shelters Prevent Big Losses of Livestock In Iowa's Recent Cold Wave

Many Iowa farmers avoided losses of hundreds of dollars worth of livestock in the recent cold wave because of the protection afforded stock by windbreak shelters, report Guy R. Ramsay, extension forester at Iowa State College.

Ramsey is now sending out questionaires to farmers and county agents to determine causes and extent of livestock losses in the state because of the blizard.

"I have had some replies telling of remarkable instances where livestock was saved by efficient windbreaks," Ramsey said.

Evergreen Trees

Evergreen trees are the only ones that give adequate winter protection. In addition to helping prevent livestock from scattering in severe blizzards, windbreaks enable stock to be kept in condition on less feed.

"A good windbreak permits a farmer to keep his stock in lots during winter where otherwise he would have to keep them in barns," Ramsey said.

Spring planting of evergreen trees is recommended in Iowa However, if trees have been planted this fall, the roots need protection from livestock, poultry and rabbits.

Fences

Fences should be placed around windbreaks to keep livestock from browsing around the trees and trampling the young trees or packing the soil about the roots.

"Geese have been known to defoliage small evergreen trees," the specialist said, "And poultry will pack the soil while scratching and wallowing."

If the fence around the windbreak is not tight enough to keep out rabbits, each young tree should have a guard of closely woven wire or stakes or shingles placed around if for a few years.

A mulch composed of old straw is recommended for the trees during the winter.

Birthday Surprise Party Held For Mrs. Paul Van Buskirk

Sunday, Dec. 1st was Mrs. Paul Van Buskirk's birthday anniversary and in honor of the event thirty-five people came to her home to help her celebrate. Mrs. Van Buskirk received many beautiful gifts from her guests. After a social time was enjoyed a nice lunch was served.

NEW OFFICERS FOR HANCOCK COUNTY 4-H NAMED

Lincoln Goll From Garner President of Group In County

New officers of the Hancock county 4-H boys' club announced Saturday by Club Agent Paul Henderson are as follows:

Lincoln Goll, of Garner, president; Curtis Jante of Garner, vice president; and Alvin Swanson of Wesley, secretary.

The new president and 11 other 4-H boys have been chosen to attend the annual 4-H short course at Ames this month, Mr. Henderson said. Other delegates are Elwin Weaver, Eugene Fitzpatrick, Glenn Wille, Junior Ver Hoef, Eugene Schleusner, Clifford Howlett, Arnett Ostendorf, Edgar Dorow, Jack Greiman, Ronald Bredlow and Raymond Hobbs.

First Three Foes Tumble Before Shamrock Attack

DIVORCE IS GRANTED TO MRS. BEIR, OF GOODELL

A divorce was granted by Judge M. F. Edwards in Hancock county district court to Mrs. Clara Avery Bier of Goodell, from Irvin F. Beir. Several weeks ago Mr. Beir filed the divorce suit charging cruel and inhuman treatment, and Mrs. Bier filed a cross petition with the same charge.

It was Mrs. Bier's cross petition that received the divorce.

A property settlement was made which entitles Mr. Beir to $2,500 from the property held by the couple.

Red Cross Roll Call

MORE RED CROSS CONTRIBUTIONS SINCE LAST WEEK

Since publishing the list of the Red Cross contributions last week, two more names are added to the list to bring the total up to $91.85 for Klemme. Names to be added are Mrs. W. F. Pavey and Mrs Clarence Lemke.

More Members

As we go to press the local chairman lists three more $1.00 memberships as follows: Mrs. Ben Coobs, Dorance Day and C. D. Fox. This will bring the total to $94 85.

There is still time to join or to contribute to the Red Cross. Will you help boost the amount to $100.00.

FEAR STORM HAS CUT APPLE CROP

Loss Expected To Run From 50 To 100 Per Cent Over State

Iowa's 1941 apple crop fared worse than the turkey crop in the November blizzard which swept over the state, plummeting the temperatures to the zero mark.

S W. Edgecombe, Iowa State College extension horticultrist, estimates that next year's apple crop will be cut at least in half and may be a total failure as a result of the storm.

State-wide

Jonathon, Grimes and Delicious apple trees in the College orchard at Ames lost all this year's growth the cambium or growth-producing tissue being blackened and killed by the low temperatures. In many cases, the damage extended back to the 2 and 3-year old wood.

Reports received by Edgecombe from Harrison county, the center of Iowa's apple-growing region, indicate that many young trees were "blackened" down to within 2 or 3 inches of the ground. R. S. Herrick, secretary of the State Horticultural Society, said that his orchard at Winterset suffered great injury, and similar reports have come in from other parts of the state, indicating that the condition is state-wide.

Nursery Stock Hit

Much of the young stock which nurseries had not dug for next spring's business may have been rendered unsaleable, Edgecombe said.

He attributed the severity of the damage to the fact that the new growth had not yet "hardened off." It was still full of sap when the mercury took its nose dive and as a result was in no condition to withstand low temperatures.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Mildred Ruth Smith, et al To Rosa M. Tanner, et al, Q C Deed, 11-18-40, $1. SW¼ & S½ S½ of NWfrl¼, Sec. 3-94-24.

Charles H. Lackore and Matilda To John Klumker, Wty Deed, 10-17-36, $50. Lot 15, Blk 11, of Lackore and Howard's Add. to Hayfield.

SHAMROCKS GET OFF TO A GOOD START IN EARLY SEASON GAMES

Coach "Bodge" Bowles' Klemme High School Shamrocks took Ventura and Goldfield into camp in the first two games of a twenty-one game schedule to get the locals off to a successful start for the current basketball season.

Kemme-Ventura Game

Playing at Ventura the night of Nov. 22 in the first game to be played in the new gymnasium there, the green and white warriors took an easy 35 to 18 victory. The second team played a good share of the game, but the first stringers were in the battle long enough for Bill Grosshuesch to take scoring honors with twelve points. Lanky Elwyn Jacobs was second high for the locals, with six points. The entire team did a nice job of ball-handling.

Klemme-Goldfield Game

The following Tuesday night, the Shamrocks traveled to Goldfield to give their sectional tournament rivals a similar beating. The score was 36 to 12. This time Brinkman gathered in eleven points and Grosshuesch ten to set the scoring pace. Barz had hard luck locating the loop, but he turned in a brillant floor game that kept his opponents guessing how he could be in so many places at one once. Zabilka, Stille and Leonard Kaduce also came in for a big share of good playing, as they drove thru the opposing defense again and again for important points.

The second team also played at Goldfield, but failure to connect on field goals cost them the game. The score was 11 to 7 in favor of the home team.

Klemme-Garner Game

The Klemme Shamrocks continued their winning pace by downing Garner 20 to 13 in a thrilling game at Garner Tuesday night. It was a tight defensive battle all the way, with Klemme being held scoreless in both the first and third quarter.

With two minutes left to go, the Shamrocks went into their stalling game to protect a one-point lead, but they quickly turned on the offensive power when the breaks came and ran their advantage to seven points at the end of the game.

Bill Grosshuesch counted four points in the first half and five in the last half to ring up the high total of nine points for the evening. Barz and Brinkman had four each. For Garner Knoke and Stille each got a pair of goals to lead their team's efforts.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SPEND THE WEEK END VISITING IN KLEMME

Klemme young folks who are attending college were home for the week end to spend Thanksgiving with parents and relatives. Those who were home included Marilyn Back, Paul Schuldt and Nora Wellemeyer who are attending the State Teachers College at Cedar Falls; Dorance Grange and Marian Waterman who are attending the Mason City Junior College; Marie Schmidt who has completed a business course at Hamilton's at Mason City; Victor Greiman who is a student at Iowa State College at Ames, and Ray Jorgenson, jr. who attends Simpson College at Indianola; Miss Ethel Overholt, who attends Iowa State College at Ames.

DISTRICT COURT OF HONOR TO BE HELD IN KLEMME

The public is invited to attend the Boy Scout District Court of Honor to be held in Klemme on Monday evening, Dec. 9th.

All parents and friends are cordially invited.

Plan for 'Federal Union of Democracies' Would Unite English-Speaking Nations

By Frank Parker Stockbridge

(The author of this article has made a study of the "Federal Union" plan and his views on it are presented herewith. His opinions are not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

For a year and a half now people have been hearing talk about a Federal Union of Democracies. Now that the three great dictatorships, Germany, Italy and Japan, have ganged up together for the express purpose of putting all the democracies out of business, including our own, we are hearing more talk about getting together with the other English-speaking nations for the common defense. And now that the Presidential election is over, and folks in public life can talk freely without facing the charge that what they are talking about is a partisan affair, we are going to hear a great deal more about the Federal Union plan.

The people of the United States are already pretty solidly behind the proposal that we must give every possible aid to the British, in their gallant stand to preserve the democratic ideal against the dictatorial gangsters. Why, folk are asking, shouldn't we go even farther and do some ganging up ourselves? Suppose the people of the British Commonwealth of Nations and of the United States of America should agree to pool their interests and their resources and stand together against the aggressor powers, how far could Hitler, Mussolini and the Mikado get with their project of dividing the earth among them?

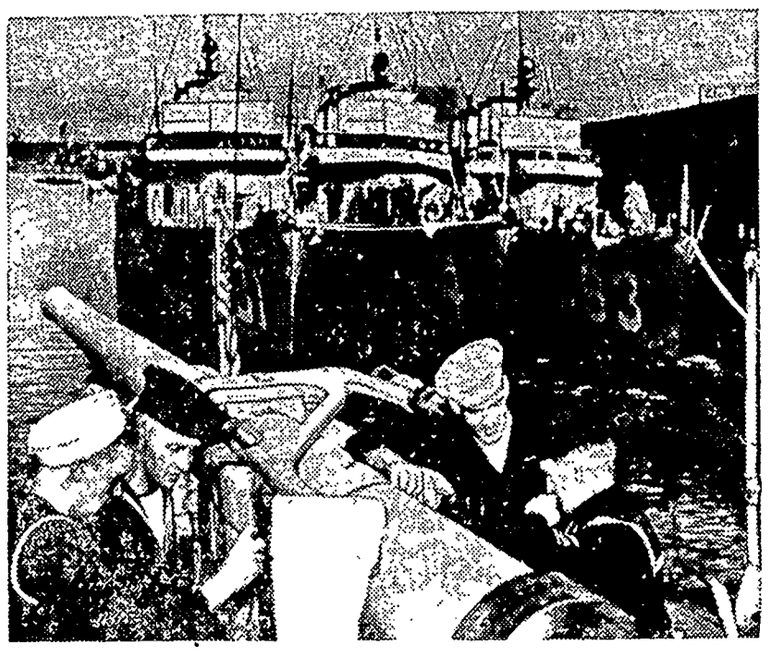
You'd be surprised at the seriousness with which that plan is being discussed all over the country, by men in high places and serious students of world affairs.

Plan Is 'Simple.'

It's simple, the Federal Union plan; as simple as the Federal Union under which our own 13 original little nations got together 150 years ago. The United States united with one another to be able to do jointly what none of them could do separately. None of them surrendered any control over its internal affairs, but in dealing with other nations they acted as a unit.

Suppose, now, the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa and Eire all agreed to form a Federal Union. They could do it by mutual agreement, without changing their present forms of government. It would not be an alliance or a league of nations. The trouble with alliances and leagues is that they don't work, while a real union does. It was because he had seen so many alliances and leagues fail that Clarence K. Streit, the American newspaper man whose book "Union Now" planted the Federal Union idea in so many people's minds, pointed out that the only way to save democracy was by a real union of peoples. Peoples, please note—not nations.

In a union of peoples, every citizen would have equal weight with every other citizen. If there were 50 members of the Inter-Continental congress, which would be set up provisionally until a more perfect union was formed, representation on a population basis would give the United States 27 members, the United Kingdom, 11, Canada and Australia 3 each, New Zealand, South Africa and Eire 2 each. The United States would have a clear majority over all the others put together. I point that out to make it clear that Federal Union is not a British scheme but a definitely American project.



Above—Gunners from the British navy are being instructed by American naval gunners in the operation of a secret device that is part of the guns aboard the over-age destroyers recently turned over to Britain in exchange for naval and air bases. Scenes like this might become common if the Federal Union of Democracies, described in the accompanying article, ever became an actuality, for according to Mr. Stockbridge, under this plan, "defense forces, air, sea and land . . . would be pooled."

What Do We Give Up?

All right, then; what do we give up and what do we get if we go in? First, the defense forces, air, sea, and land—except, no doubt, national militia, would be pooled under the Union government. Such a force would make potential enemies think twice.

Every citizen of any of the member states would be a citizen of the Union, as in America today—free to travel, settle, engage in business, work at a trade or develop the resources of any part of the enormous area included in the Union. Broader horizons and wider opportunities for all. Commerce would be free of artificial barriers between member states; the Union could set up barriers for all against non-members.

In the territory controlled by the Federal Union would be the bulk of the world's raw materials; in its factories would be most of the world's productive capacity. Its citizenry would include by far the highest technical skills in the world with the best-equipped research laboratories in which to develop and maintain their supremacy. It would control the strategic ports and seaways of commerce of most of the world. It could and should be the most powerful influence for peace ever created.

How the Federal Union would be governed would be for the convention at which it is formed to decide. The plan proposed would place the executive power in the hands of a premier and cabinet subject to removal by the legislative assembly. A proposal to establish what would be in effect, a world capital somewhere on this side of the Atlantic, perhaps even in the central part of the United States, has been made. There would be no more clash between the government of the United States and the Federal Union than there is now between the government of, say, Kansas, and that of the United States. Each would continue to function in its own sphere as before.

Membership Requirements.

The major requirement for membership in the Federal Union would necessarily be that of democracy. And as Clarence Streit defines democracy, it is a condition or system in which the majority controls but must respect the rights of every minority, however small—even a minority of one. For human rights are not conferred by the state, but are inherent in the individual, and must not be infringed by government.

It is too soon to make even vague predictions as to the prospects of the Federal Union plan. But a large and growing body of influential advocates of the plan is urging that our government call a preliminary convention of delegates from all the eligible nations, perhaps in Independence hall, where the Continental congress met and adopted the Declaration of Independence. The dream of a new declaration—a Declaration of Interdependence may not be too far from realization, once the people of the world recognize it as the surest path to permanent peace and prosperity for all.

It is not something which will be brought about by those who seek to make personal political capital out of arousing international hatreds and racial jealousies. It will be brought about, when it comes, by the peoples themselves, the ordinary folk of the democratic nations, the ones who have to fight wars and pay for them, who have most to gain and least to lose by uniting in a Federal Union.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Little-Known Metal Plays Defense Role

NEW YORK.—Behind the official secrecy that enfolds details of the national defense program a metal called beryllium is daily playing a more and more important role—a role so vital that army officials believe it may help break the "bottleneck" in the machine tool industry caused by a shortage of skilled workers.

Army ordnance men reveal that beryllium alloys have been successfully tested for use in mass production of parts for the new Garand rifles.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, board chairman of Pan American Airways, sponsored research in the metal—at a cost of more than $400,000 in the past seven years—and helped make possible the timely "graduation" of the substance from a laboratory toy to an instrument of commerce and defense.

Whitney saw huge potentialities in beryllium, largely in aviation because of the metal's resistance to fatigue and corrosion, its extraordinary light weight and electrical conductivity. The metal is only two-thirds as heavy as aluminum.

"Until recently," he said, "the great problem of beryllium was its high cost of production. Half a century or so ago the pure metal would have cost about $5,000 a gram. Today it sells in quantities at about $15 a pound.

Scientific Achievement.

"That is a scientific achievement which some day I believe will make possible beryllium's volume use in the hulls of seaplanes and ships, because it is non-corrosive."

A pinch of beryllium added to copper, aluminum, magnesium and other metals increases the fluidity of the mixture when it is melted so that the alloy fills every tiny crevice in a casting mold. Steel and other materials used for manufacture of gun parts must be subjected to long processes of forging, machining and finishing with cutting tools before they finally arrive in a rifle. This work needs skilled machine tool artisans.

As a result of these tests, the war department asked immediately for sample castings.

Beryllium alloys have the highest tensile strength known. Beryllium-nickel (2 per cent beryllium and 98 per cent nickel), for instance, has a tensile strength of 260,000 pounds to the square inch, but structural steel only 60,000 and stainless steel 90,000.

A beryllium-copper spring can be flexed 20,000,000,000 times before it will break, compared with 2 or 3 million times for one which is constructed out of steel.

Alien Fingerprinting Increases Work for FBI

WASHINGTON.—Fingerprint records of the some 3,000,000 aliens now being registered in the United States are adding materially to the work of the fingerprinting division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In addition to this increase, the division's regular work has increased steadily in recent months. At present the division has on file fingerprints of 13½ million persons. When the first returns of the alien registration started coming in, the division handled 16,500 sets of fingerprints to set a record for "busy days."

Fingerprints are being sent to the division from civic organizations whose members have carried out fingerprinting as a measure of personal security. There are more than 2,000,000 such sets in the files. In addition, all government agencies are fingerprinting job applicants.

In three months, the division has received 77,678 sets from the war department, 53,917 from the Civilian Conservation corps, 50,832 from civil service, 32,000 from the navy, 3,728 from the marine corps, 910 from the coast guard and 712 from the maritime commission.

All these are filed under an intricate mathematical system based on the shape of the markings on the finger tips. They are divided so only a few score of each type are filed together. The fingerprint expert thus is able to effect an identification of any set of prints in about three minutes.

In addition to the large active files, the division has inactive files for persons past 60. After a person has reached 90, his prints are transferred to the dead files, unless the division has been questioned on the individual.

Fingerprint files also are cross-referenced to a card system, so all information may be obtained easily by clerks. Some individuals have as many as 160 cards referring to different crimes. About 26,000 cards and fingerprints are marked with red tabs to indicate a fugitive from justice.

Live-Stock Show Attracts Entries From 35 States

CHICAGO.—Stockmen and farmers from 35 states and Canada have listed exhibits of live stock and crops for the 1940 International Live Stock exposition, the country's largest agricultural show.

The exposition is being held in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards November 30 to December 7. Cash premiums totaling $100,000, will be awarded.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson & Robert Allen

Washington, D. C.

WALLACE TO PLAY STRONG ROLE

For about 160 years, the vice president of the United States has been either a pure figure-head or else a trouble-maker in the family of his chief, the President.

Tom Marshall, vice president under Woodrow Wilson, is remembered only for his remark: "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

Charles G. Dawes, vice president under Coolidge, became famous when his alarm clock allegedly failed to go off and he arrived at the Capitol too late to change a tie vote.

Charley Curtis will only be remembered because of his social war to place his half-sister ahead of Alice Longworth at dinner. And Jack Garner will go down in history because of his private refrigerator and his covert opposition to Roosevelt.

None of these vice presidents was an active worker for the head of his administration; many of them deliberately hindered it.

Now, however, for the first time in recent history, we have a vice president who will be a right hand of the President. Wallace was trained under Roosevelt and can be counted upon to be a great asset, not a deterrent.

It is not supposed to be known yet, but already Wallace has discussed ideas with the President whereby he will work on three important problems. They are:

1. To act as liaison officer between the White House and congress. This is the most important job of all.

2. To act as a sort of ambassador-at-large in cementing Good Neighbor relations between the United States and Latin America, especially where congressional affairs are concerned.

3. To formulate plans for shifting the nation's industrial economy from armament to a normal basis, after the war is over.

* * *

PATRIOT BUSINESS MEN

Behind that irate outburst from the New England Shoe Manufacturers association at the army's new method of buying shoes was an untold story of how a group of business men working for the government saved the taxpayers about $6,000,000.

The manufacturers were indignant that the army, under Defense commission guidance, had scattered its orders for 4,000,000 pairs of shoes instead of giving this juicy business, as in the past, to a few big firms. But by this new method the army was able to obtain shoes at $1.50 a pair less than they cost during the World war.

A group of business executives, working devotedly in the procurement division, in the past six months not only have saved the government several hundred millions on defense supplies, but have not disturbed market conditions or caused consumer prices to zoom. The shoe deal was only one item in this remarkable record, but it is a typical one.

Because of the long battle in congress over the Selective Service act, the army was not sure until the very last moment whether it would need shoes for 400,000 regulars, or for 1,000,000 additional draftees. So it was September 16 before Brig. Gen. Clifford Corbin of the quartermaster corps rushed to the Defense commission with his requirements. The procurement aces were all ready for him.

For weeks they had quietly surveyed the shoe industry. They knew the capacity of every plant, from the giants capable of turning out thousands of pairs a day to the smallest factory in a Boston loft. Also, they had carefully studied World war experience, when the price of shoes had sky-rocketed as a result of the placing of big orders with a few firms.

So, discarding the army's system of asking for bids on the entire 4,000,000 pairs, the commission experts quietly asked every reputable manufacturer in the industry for a price on the number of shoes he was capable of producing. The results of this wily trading were remarkable.

During the World war, the army paid $4 a pair for shoes. Through the procurement division's method of negotiated contracts, distributed among 25 factories from New England to St. Louis, the army was able to get its 4,000,000 pairs of regulation shoes at $2.50 a pair.

Note—Chief of the procurement division is quiet-spoken Donald Nelson, the former Sears, Roebuck dynamo.

* * *

MORE G-MEN

Along with the speed-up in production of airplanes and tanks, there is a much less-heralded speed-up in the production of G-men.

J. Edgar Hoover is now turning out special agents of the FBI at the phenomenal rate of 40 a week.

Formerly, the Federal Bureau of Investigation had only 900 special agents, but a recent congressional authorization boosted the figure to 1,500. Hoover now has almost attained that mark, with 1,340 trained and 160 more to be produced.

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

UNITY

"The election certainly proved that a lot of people admired Willkie," he said.

"Now wait. It's all over and all we want now is unity. Right?" I said.

"Right. I suppose we should forget the violation of a tradition," he said.

"Lissen," I said. "Nothing matters now except that we all be unified. No more arguments, no more dissensions. Right?"

"Right. The election's all over. But I still think the budget question important," he said.

"There you go being partisan," I said.

"I ain't partisan," he said.

"Yes, you are. All that matters is that democracy worked and we are all brothers. Right?" I said.

"Right. In the popular vote Willkie was only a few million behind," he said.

"Nuts," I said. "If Roosevelt won by only two votes it would be final under our system and no sense beefing."

"Not at all. The popular vote showed an enormous switch against the New Deal policies," he said.

"Aw, go away! You just don't want unity," I said.

"Of course I want unity. It's the paramount need. But can't we still have it and talk reasonably?" he said.

"You're just another non-unity guy," I said. "You're too partisan. You're petty. You can't be big."

"Who can't be big?" he said.

"You can't. You're a worm, that's what you are. You ain't got no vision. You make me sick. All I'm asking is a little brotherhood and mutual respect, and you just stand there beefing," I said.

"For two cents I'd poke you one," he said.

"You and who else? You better go some place and learn to be tolerant, ya big dummy," I said.

"I am as tolerant as any man in this country, you big fakir," he said, taking a swing at me.

"Everybody in America is anxious for unity but you, you fathead," I said, socking him one on the chin.

"You just don't understand the spirit of democracy. You don't know what unity means, you poor sap," he said, sending a left to my ear.

A policeman came running up and separated us.

"What's the trouble?" the cop asked.

"Unity," I said.

The cop looked at us with disgust and impatience and walked away.

"Hell!" he said. "Everywhere I go I run into fights over THAT!"

* * *

THE LIGHTER VEIN AT TRAINING CAMPS

We're camping tonight on the old campground,
Camping tonight, my lady.
Tenting tonight, tenting tonight,
Tenting on the old campground;
There'll be fancy balls tonight,
Bridge and movies lily-white—
Tenting on the old campground.

We are camping tonight on the old campground,
Hostesses here to cheer us;
Tenting tonight, tenting tonight,
We're tenting on the old campground;
Cheerful seem our training tests,
For our folks are week-end guests—
Tenting on the old campground.

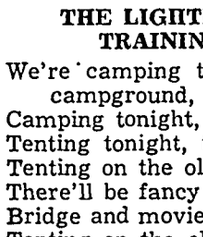
—Old Song Revised.

* * *

The draft army is to have no catch-as-catch-can entertainment this time. Recreation, diversion and good, clean fun are announced as a definite part of the army training plan, with hundreds of hostesses and junior hostesses bustling about the camps to see about getting up a dance, a bingo party, a bridge carnival or what have you.

* * *

The calls of "Squads right!" and "'Tention!" will be mingled with "May I have this dance?" and "Aw, let's play some more!"



* * *

Uncle Sam's policy this time will be based on the theory that an army camp should in no way resemble a concentration camp, and that the more amusement the boys have the better.

* * *

The hostesses may be no younger than 30 and no older than 50, but their junior assistants may get under the wire as young as 25, which assures a reasonable amount of glamour and oomph.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Lacquering brass articles will give them that well-kept look. To clean them either wipe off with soft cloth or gently wash them in warm water and soap suds and be careful not to remove the lacquer. The articles can easily be relacquered, however.

* * *

If you do much sewing at night a bridge lamp with arm extended right over your sewing will give you the best light. A shade of white or pale amber gives the most restful light.

* * *

The next time you make pumpkin pie, when pie is nearly done, cover top with marshmallows and return to the oven for 10 minutes. It gives a different flavor to the pie.

3 Simple Steps SPEED UP COLD RELIEF

Action begins in a short time. No long hours of painful discomfort.

Follow Directions in Pictures

1. To relieve headache, body discomfort and aches, take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets and drink a full glass of water.

2. For sore throat from cold, dissolve 3 Bayer tablets in ⅓ glass of water and gargle.

3. Check temperature. If you have a fever and temperature does not go down—if throat pain is not quickly relieved, call your doctor.

This modern way acts with amazing speed. Be sure you get BAYER Aspirin.

At the first sign of a cold follow the directions in the pictures above—the simplest and among the most effective methods known to modern science to relieve painful cold symptoms fast.

So quickly does Bayer Aspirin act—both internally and as a gargle, you'll feel wonderful relief start often in a remarkably short time.

Try this way. You will say it is unequalled. But be sure you get the fast-acting Bayer product you want. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by the full name when you buy.

BAYER

GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN

Underground Stream

The work an unknown good man has done is like a vein of water flowing hidden underground, secretly making the ground green.—Carlyle.

HANDY Home Uses MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY JAR 5¢ AND 10¢

Human Pity

More helpful than all wisdom is one draught of simple human pity that will not forsake us.—George Eliot.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—for breakfast. All-Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. Eat All-Bran regularly, and drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

BEACONS of SAFETY

●Like a beacon light on the height—the advertisements in newspapers direct you to newer, better and easier ways of providing the things needed or desired. It shines, this beacon of newspaper advertising—and it will be to your advantage to follow it whenever you make a purchase.

John James Audubon, Painter of Birds, Now Revealed as an Important Writer Who Was 'Witness to Our Heroic Age'

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

TO MOST Americans the name "Audubon" is synonymous with just one word—"birds." Three species bear his name, as does the society which is dedicated to the study, protection and preservation of those feathered denizens of America which were his life-long passion. We remember him also as the author-artist of a set of books which a fellow-scientist once called "the most magnificent monument that art has yet raised to ornithology." Yet there is another—and possibly a better—reason why John James Audubon should be remembered gratefully by his fellow-Americans.

That is because he was "a witness to our heroic age" and, as an appreciative and understanding witness, he was one of its best interpreters. Such is the theme of a new book, whose publication by the Houghton Mifflin company of Boston, was a major event of the 1940 publishing season. The book is "Audubon's America — The Narratives and Experiences of John James Audubon," illustrated with nearly a score of facsimiles of his prints and paintings in full color.

But more important than this inclusion of authentic reproductions of Audubon's paintings in a popular-priced book is the fact that his "narratives and experiences" in it are edited by Donald Culross Peattie. And Mr. Peattie, naturalist and author of such books as "Singing in the Wilderness" and "A Prairie Grove," is probably the one man in America today who is most competent to act as an appreciative and understanding interpreter of John James Audubon, a witness to and an interpreter of our heroic age.

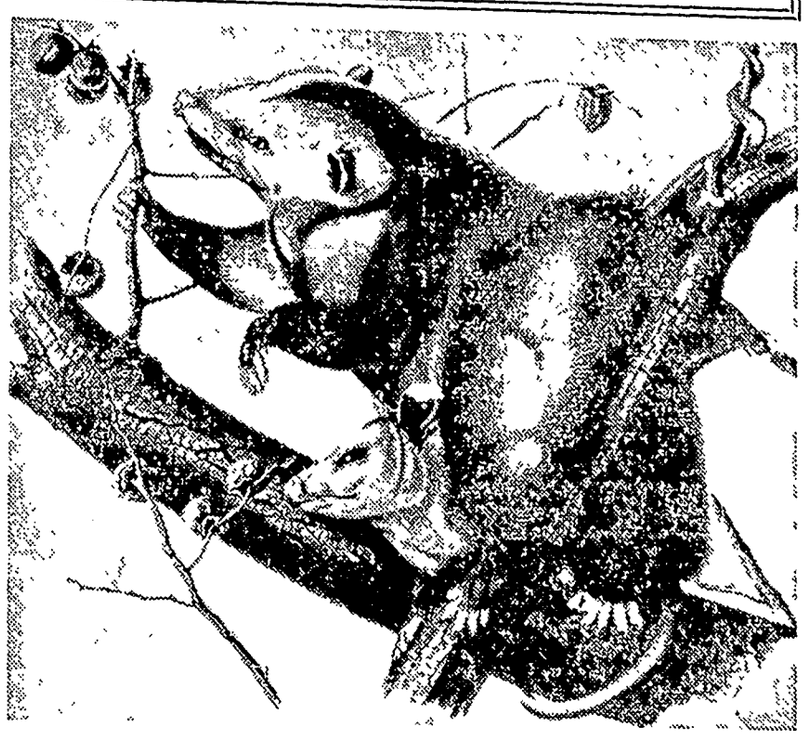
Some of the most charming prose that Mr. Peattie has ever written is included in "What Audubon Knew," which serves as an introduction to the book. It says in part:

"The source of history is the narratives of those who lived it . Now of all those who ever lived here, traveled and greatly adventured, none could bear more fascinating testimony than John James Audubon. He had the advantage of being a foreigner . So that he took nothing for granted, and in the perspective of a more mature culture, all things American struck him as fresh. He had the further advantage that he was a genius, and a genius of art at that, so that to observe, to depict what he saw, was habitual and instinctive.

"But Audubon had, too, a genius for the art of living. He lived with zest for the adventure and with personal ardors. He savored everything, even the unsavory. He saw almost everything, from 1803 to 1849, from Florida to Labrador, from New York city to Fort Union on the borders of Montana. He lived among Pennsylvania Quakers, in Kentucky among pioneers from Virginia, in New Orleans among Indians. He explored Maine and South Carolina, Texas and Florida.

Wide Variety of Experience.

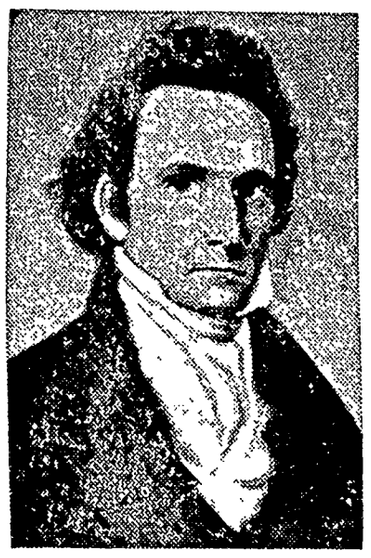
"In the nearly 50 active American years of Audubon's life, what other individual had such a variety of experience? No one, certainly, was at once so sensitive and so lusty. No one with his pen and his brush . . ."



THE VIRGINIAN OPOSSUM.

It is at this point in his essay that Mr. Peattie points out how Audubon's fame as an ornithologist, the renown which has made his name synonymous with the word "birds," has obscured his value to his fellow-Americans as "a witness of our heroic age." Moreover, his art as a painter has overshadowed his ability as a writer. For a professional writer he was, a man who wrote to sell and who did sell.

"I am not saying that he knew how to write history like the learned Parkman, or style like



JOHN JAMES AUDUBON
A self-portrait in oils, made at Beech Woods, Feliciana parish, La., in 1822 at the age of 37.

the choice Thoreau, or that he thought as an equal with Emerson," observes Mr. Peattie. "I am asserting only that while Cooper went to England while he wrote 'The Prairie' (an unreadably dull book, to my ears), Audubon was on the prairies. That where Emerson knew his Carlyle, Audubon knew his Mississippi squatters, that while Thoreau was traveling around Concord, Audubon was traveling around North America. While Parkman was writing history, Audubon was making and witnessing it."

Considering these facts, it seems strange indeed that until now no attempt has been made to bring together into one volume a general selection of the first-hand narratives of what Mr. Peattie calls "this shrewd and eager observer of all conditions and aspects of American men, manners and scenes." This has been due partly to the fact that Audubon's writings have been scattered through a wide assortment of volumes, many of which are to be found only in the larger libraries and are therefore known to only a few scholars and specialists in American history.

For these reasons Americans generally know little about Audubon, the writer, even though they may be familiar enough with Audubon, the artist, and what they do know about him as a chronicler of the period in which he lived is when he is quoted "in evidence for the unbelievable numbers of the passenger pigeons, or the destruction of the buffalo, or on some other point in natural history."

Therefore the great value of this book is that it "makes up in some measure for neglect of Audubon's precious testimony." For, as Mr. Peattie says, "as editor, I have preferred to bring him forward less as the naturalist than as one who knew river captains and roustabouts, pioneers and men of letters, Indians and scientists. This without, of course, slighting his natural history writings but reducing them to some reasonable proportion to the whole. That whole is the America of his day, America as he, and perhaps only he, knew it—Audubon's America."

How richly that promise is fulfilled is shown by a reading of the chapters which follow the introductory "What Audubon Knew," and Mr. Peattie's evaluation of "Audubon as a Witness." The titles of those chapters are indicative of the diversity of Audubon's experience, the catholicity of his interests and the scope of his "traveling around North America"—"Kentucky Days and Nights," "Hunters' Tales," "Pioneer Types," "Deep South," "Four Proud Fowl," "Down East for Birds and Subscribers" and "Out West With Buffalo and Indians."

To those who think of Audubon only in terms of birds, the amount of his writing about animals will be revealing. After completing his monumental work, "The Birds of America," he began work on "The Quadrupeds of America" and "into the new project the old master entered with all the zest, so he wrote his young friend Spencer Baird, that he had once felt for birds." So it is appropriate that this new book reproduces almost as many pictures of animals (seven in all) as it does pictures of birds (eight).

Not the least interesting feature of the book is a "Biographical Note" (a long "note" albeit, since it covers 22 pages!) which tells in interesting fashion the story of his life from the date of his birth, April 26, 1785, at the port of Les Cayes or Aux Cayes on the south coast of the republic of Haiti until his death in New York city on January 27, 1851.

This biographical sketch discusses the much-disputed story of his paternity and cites the fact that available documents prove conclusively that he was the natural son of Lieut. Jean Audubon of the French navy and a Creole woman of good birth, whose family name was either Rabin or Fougere. Says Mr. Peattie: "This should set at rest the preposterous claim that has recently (and only recently) been set up for him, that he was none other than the lost Dauphin, Louis XVII, majesty disguised as a wandering artist! This legend would be too far-fetched for notice if it were not, unfortunately, the one story about Audubon that sticks in many minds. Two women biographers of Audubon have recently taken it quite seriously, and thousands of words have been written in debate on this point. They can all be cut short by laying down a fact denied by nobody. The unfortunate little Bourbon prince had a deformed ear, while Audubon's ears were both quite normal. Who will seriously argue the point beyond this?"

THE SNOWY HERON, OR WHITE EGRET.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

United Features WNU Service

Washington, D. C.

DANGER OF 'INFLATION'

The greatest danger before us now is "inflation." In barnyard American all that means is high prices. Since they are not as spectacular as the bombing of workers' homes, they usually don't get attention before it is too late.

War inflation is about the deadliest bearing of war upon the poor. Wages in war never have advanced as fast as the cost of living. The price of anything is mostly the cost of labor to produce it. The higher they go, the higher the cost of living.

War inflation (high prices) is the worst bearing of war upon the helpless. Germany is bombing the homes of England's poor non-combatants and seeking to cut off the supply of milk to babies and food to adults. England is hell-bent on the same process—to blockade Europe and starve into submission even her most gallant defenders: France, Finland, Poland.

I do not counsel otherwise. We, ourselves, invented war frightfulness in our blockade of Southern ports and our destruction of food supplies in Georgia and the Shenandoah. It must make the wounds of Christ bleed again, but so it is and we must accept it

But let's not be blind to a similar war of starvation against our own people—high prices. If they go too high they will destroy the practical living value of every insurance policy, social security benefit, wage, salary or pension in the United States This is not because they will reduce those payments. They won't. But those payments will buy so little in a high price structure that they will become chaff.

I hear that Wall Street pundits say that it will be only a "mild inflation." I honor the sincerity of their opinions but I suspect their knowledge. Once you start this deadly process it is like a snowball rolling down hill. You can no more suffer it "gradually" than you can fire a gun gradually. It is a progress that feeds upon itself.

With much actual experience in war inflation, I have made a study of this thing for years—from the beginning of history. War price inflation always grinds the face of the poor, not only during hostilities, but for years thereafter. It lowers the buying power of their wages. It also doubles or multiplies the cost of war, not merely while it is going on, but for years thereafter in the toil, sweat and taxes in which workers and their children must pay for the vastly increased cost.

So far, we have only the symptoms of war inflation. But the germs are so plain that it takes no microscope to see them — terrific governmental spending and increased debt and deficit, capacity production, a sellers market and a desperate disposition for counter-bidding in a congested market with expense no object.

It has been said that high taxes will stop it. I shall write another column on that. It is crazy nonsense. Do high taxes of as much as 10 cents a gallon prevent the price of gasoline from going up as high as 18 cents in some states when it should be 6 cents? High taxes are not the answer. Mad as it may seem, I am for deficit financing of this war and not for higher taxes.

This may come strangely from me, who hates personalized power, but I am also for giving the President a complete power of priorities to stop competitive bidding and to ration production not to the longest purse, but to the most necessitous use. The latter can only mean skyrocketing prices. If necessary, I am for giving him complete authority over the price structure to prevent its rising above reasonable levels. Everybody knows it is high enough now for reasonable profit.

* * *

TWO PARTY SYSTEM

It is suggested that Mr. Willkie should be appointed to Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet and accept. I think not. We must stand united in preparing this country for defense, but that doesn't mean that we should give up the principal instrument of our democracy which we are preparing to defend—our two-party system.

We are not at war and even if we were, we would commit suicide for Americanism if we abandon the institution of political debate by responsible leaders of opposing schools of thought. For the present, Mr. Willkie is the titular leader of the party of almost half of the American people. That half is in opposition to many of the policies of this administration. He now acts as their anointed spokesman and advocate. If he abandons that part, he would certainly be derelict in the duty he owes to them for their trust.

* * *

Mr. Willkie so far gave away at the outset the greatest asset of his party—the strong opposition of millions to any involvement in Europe's quarrels—that I sometimes wonder at his decision to run and his Philadelphia acceptance.

There were preconvention candidates who did represent that opinion. He didn't challenge them on that vital point then. If his beliefs on that question were those of so many people in opposition to this administration's, he should have fought for them more openly.

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

Reporter's Memo to His Editor:

Washington, D. C.: The Greek victories are not being taken too seriously by you know who. Says it is "all a trap" to get the British fleet away from the Suez and then etcetera. Don't overplay streamers . . . The Molotov-Hitler minutes were in Washington three hours later. Russia will send about 15 divisions to Turk border to "keep the Turks from becomig too troublesome." Those are exact quotes . . . Time mag killed most sensational quotes of campaign rather than incense certain subscribers. Amazing . No secret down here in every lobby . . Steve Early's resignation plans off indef. That cop incident in N. Y. . . . People might think he was fired . . . Has big salaried job waiting . . . Flynn's call was for Sam Foley of Bronx—for Demo candidate mayoralty . . . Whiskers says positively no evidence of sabotage in any of those explosions. Whew!

Perkins' probable successor as sec'y labor may be George Harrison, pres. Brotherhood R. R. Clerks . . . Knudsen, Henderson and General Wesson of Ordnance Dep't at private demonstration of "Secret Weapon" to "stop" Adolf. Creator is Carleton Brown. Worked on it 21 years. Revolutionize mobile transportation. Terrific form of tank . . . Check with Arthur Loew, heir to all those double-features. He and his wife going to school last few months—up at Columbia U. . . . Taking course in motion picture and play production! No kidding . . . Raft invested 80 Gs in Florida race track . Frau Thomsen, wife of Nazi man here, depressed over snub of local hunt club Wasn't invited to affair for first time.

RAF damage to Berlin almost as great as in London, according to pouch-bearers. Goebbels, of course, will deny . . . Hamburg practically doesn't exist . . . Thurman Arnold was waving his resignation for weeks—but has made peace . . . Francis Biddle, U. S. solicitor-general, may inherit Bob Jackson's post as AG if Jackson beats an eastern senator to Supreme court as chief justice . . . Jackson won't accept an associate justice job . . Hotels jammed to capacity—many turned away during heavy rains. Clerks explain town crowded because of defense contractors. Most of the mob, the clowns say, are here trying to square themselves with New Dealers . . . Newspaper men saying Willkie sore at many of his original boosters, partic R. Howard, of all people!

More Tips for Ye Ed.:

Talk here Nathan Straus seeking chance at NY governorship . . . Check with him regarding Bronx hand bill matter. All I know on it Bases promoted for U. S. in Rio Platte practically set, despite denials . Lawrence Langner, Broadway producer, excited about his defense job here—doesn't miss white lights at all . . Nelson Rockefeller very popular with mob, say he's doing swell job putting in "the un-official fix" . . . Talk persists Frank Murphy would be happier at Dep't of Justice—not enough action on bench . . Big new job being angled by almost everybody for chief of propaganda post similar to one Creel had last war. Lowell Mellett leading field Check if Capone still at Mayo Brothers. Went many weeks ago—same trouble.

Ambassador Kennedy interview (on persuading Lindbergh to tell Chamberlain what he knew—which led to Munich pact) given me by Kennedy in Florida January, 1939. Every word okayed by him—we didn't use any of "off-record" stuff . . . Dr. Frank Nolan in attendance Helen Morgan illness on Coast—"the heart" . . . Did Seymour Weiss sentence (30 months) break? . Jesse Lasky depressed over critical response to "Quiet Please," says audience howl at it Wants me see it and tell whether it has chance. If not will close pronto Why don't you cover it—you might save him some dough—or all those jobs . At least five men expected to be FDR's running mate Rob't H Jackson and Wm. O. Douglas were two. So when Inner Circlers ask each other: "Why do you think the boss picked Henry Wallace?" reply is supposed to be: "You mean to say you never saw the pictures in the papers of him juggling those boomerangs?" . . . In short, Henry Wallace was the boomerang thrower who didn't boomerang on the President!

Inflation rumors laughed at . . . "Any one who performed miracles in 1933 (opening banks) can control money now," according to financial experts at Shoreham hotel ringside . Henri Bernstein, Parisian playwright, now in New York, expects to lose French citizenship Rene Kraus, author of "Churchill," was offered British passport acct of good propaganda work. He is Austrian Refused it However, he's flying to England next week Has assignment to do book on RAF Leaves pretty English refugee in U S.

Accessory Set for Sports or Campus

SPORTS accessories like this are much in vogue among smart young things, not only for sports, but also for campus and runabout. Design No. 1265-B includes weskit, calot and chunky mittens, all of which you can easily make for yourself—all, of course, except the feather in the calot! The weskit is drawn in to a tiny waistline by back-fastened side belts—just like its masculine prototype; all three gay little gadgets are trimmed with stitching. Take a brief glance at the diagram, and you'll see how easy they are to make.

Choose felt, flannel or suede for the set, and make it not only for yourself, in different colors, but also to tuck away for gifts. Step-by-step sew chart with pattern.

* * *

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1265-B is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Corresponding bust measurements 29, 31, 33, 35 and 37. Size 13 (31) requires 1 yard of 54-inch material, 1¾ yards of 39-inch material to line. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

WOMEN IN "YOUR 40s"

Read This Important Message!

Do you dread those "trying years" (38 to 52)? Are you getting moody, cranky and NERVOUS? Do you fear hot flashes, weakening dizzy spells? Are you jealous of attentions other women get? THEN LISTEN—These symptoms often result from female functional disorders. So start today and take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over 60 years Pinkham's Compound has helped hundreds of thousands of grateful women to go "smiling thru" difficult days. Pinkham's has helped calm unstrung nerves and lessen annoying female functional "irregularities." One of the most effective "woman's" tonics. Try it!

With Humor

Salt your food with humor, pepper it with wit, and sprinkle over it the charm of good fellowship. Never poison it with the cares of life.—Anonymous.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use 666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH DROPS

BUREAU OF STANDARDS

● A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.

● You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Owner Wanted.

A. D. Leaman, Nashua theatre owner, has in his possession a lost article which he is unable to use and wonder if the owner would not like same. It is a lower set of false teeth, which doubtless popped out during an exciting moment on the screen.

Goes Through

When the caterpilar tractor which they were driving, crashed thru a bridge near Oyens, Vernon Gardner and "Slim" Gellerman Lears, were uninjured.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insurance
Is A FYR-FYTER
Sold & Serviced By
ELMER AX

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

Avery
"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 4-5.
"Howards of Virginia"
with Gary Grant and Martha Scott.

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6-7. (Double Feature.)
"Wyoming"
with Wallace Berry and Ann Rutherford.
ALSO
"Charlie Chan at the Wax Museum" with Sidney Toler and Joan Valerie.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 8-9-10.
"Spring Parade"
with Deana Durbin, Robert Cummings and Mischa Auer.

Klemme Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mueller entertained to a turkey dinner on Thanksgiving Day, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Riebe and Mr. and Mrs. Lenz of Garner, and Ben Riebe and family of Thornton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson and son, Ray, jr. of Klemme, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City, enjoyed a turkey dinner Thanksgiving Day at the Joe Liebendorfer home at Hampton.

Miss Nellie Stromer of Waseca, Minnestota, spent Sunday visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Herman Stromer. Miss Stromer is a home economics county demonstrator in Waseca.

Ira Overholt was on the sick list the first part of the week and unable to be at the implement store.

Mrs. Quentin Stille was confined to her bed with a severe cold the first of the week.

John Lamont drove to Iowa City last Wednesday afternoon to bring his wife to Klemme. Mrs. Lamont who is a registered nurse and in charge of the eye ward at the University Hospital, will now remain in Klemme.

Mrs. Einar Salling, who has been a patient at the Mercy hospital at Mason City recovering from a major operation, was able to leave the hospital Sunday. Mr. Salling took her to Ringsted where she will remain for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Risser and son, Bobbie, of Des Moines, were Thanksgiving guests at the P. M. Wilson home. Mrs. Risser and Bobbie remained here until Sunday while Mr. Risser returned to Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thmopson returned home Saturday evening from Lowa City where they had been for about ten days while Mr. Thompson went thru the University Hospital clinic for a complete physical check-up. Ed has not been well for some time, but the trip thru the clinic revealed there was nothing serious.

Workmen are installing a new scale this week at the Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company. According to Manager C. C. Kilgore the new scale is of the latest type and will weigh loads up to 30 tons. The platform is 10x36 and will accomodate the largest trucks with room to spare. The old scale was a ten ton scale with an 8x10 platform.

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Schaeffer of Klemme, and Rev. and Mrs. C. Wilson of Storm Lake, were dinner guests Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kinkade at Des Moines. Mrs. Schaeffer remained in Des Moines until Sunday evening visiting with her sister, Mrs. Kinade, but Dr. Schaeffer returned to Klemme Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eckard Zeidler had a lot of company for dinner Sunday to dedicate their new home in northwest Klemme. They entertained to dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Velau; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jahnke; John Velau and family; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Buseman, al of Klemme and vicinity. Earl Kahler and family of Garner and Ray Grueben and family of near Mason City.

A large number of relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schlawin on Thanksgiving Day where they enjoyed a big dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schlawin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stahl and family, all of near Klemme; Mr. and Mrs. Menno Einhuis and family of Hayfield, and Mr. and Mrs Otto Lemke of Garner.

Klemme teachers who were home to spend the Thanksgiving vacation were Miss Gladys Zabilka, who teaches at Luther; Miss Irene Harms, who teaches at Logan; Miss Marie Stille, who teaches at Malcolm; Miss Ruth Wellemeyer, who teaches at Titonka; Miss Glenna Gruetzmacher, who teaches at Winthrop; Miss Novella Bredbenner, who teaches at Allison; Miss Thelma Chambers, who teaches at Lamont, Iowa.

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL
Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:
Church School .... 10:00 a. m.
Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor .. 7:00 p. m.
Forum Clinic ..... 8:00 p. m.
Recreation ..... 9:00 p. m.
Wednesday:
Bible Study ..... 8:00 p. m.
Thursday;
Choir Practice ..... 8:00 p. m.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10:00 a. m. English Service.
11:00 a. m. Sunday School.
1:30 Rehearsal for Christmas program.
8:00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mrs. Milton Weisbrod and children of Fenton spent the past week visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs. George Schoenwetter.

Mrs. Will Lemke is a patient at the Park hospital in Mason City.

The following were entertained at the Arthur Carlson home near Clear Lake Thanksgiving Day. Mr and Mrs. Kermit Stille and family; Mrs. J. J. Stille and son; Mr and Mrs. Cecil Bridges; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schaefer and family. Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Stille and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Stille and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Weisbrod and family were dinner guests at the George Schoenweter home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Hanson are the proud parents of a baby girl born Sunday, Dec. 1st ,at the Belmond hospital.

The following were dinner guests at the Mrs. D. H. Hammon home in Garner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lange and family. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hammon and family; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hammon Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pringnitz and son, Roger; Mr. and Mrs. Ole Eliason and son, Richard, and Rastus Hammon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stille and family spent Thanksgiving visiting at the Mrs. J. J. Stille home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zwald and daughter, Winola, were dinner guests at the Herman Gast home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Abele were Mason City shoppers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Schaefer and family were dinner guests at the Henry Smid home Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stille and family and Mrs. J. J. Stille and son, Virgil, were dinner guests at the Kermit Stille home Sunday.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Oct. 14th, 1940

Meeting called to order by the Mayor with all members present.

On motion, minutes as read were approved.

On motion the following bills were allowed:

Geo. Buseman, September salary	$ 75.00
Wayne Buseman, Labor	4.80
Melvin Buseman, Labor	1.50
Geo. Lawhorn, Painting	4.70
Treasurer of State, Sales Tax	6.94
Central States Electric Co. Light & Power	78.58
Klemme Times, Publication	3.43
John Heginger, Labor	5.00
Art Wellemeyer, Shades	1.00
Lloyd Lau, Gravel and mowing weeds	35.91
Northern Lumber Co. Lumber, Cement, etc.	156.45

On motion meeting adjourned.

A. J. KUDJE, Clerk

In 1939 4-H enrollment in the United States was 1,381,595.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—CHOICE BUILDING Lots in Klemme. Mrs. Bertha Schlei, Goodell route. N27-D4-18p

FOR SALE—SOME REAL GOOD Pure Bred Spotted Poland China stock hogs and gilts, cholera immune and guaranteed breeders at reasonable prices as I need the room. Phone 94 Britt, John E. Ostercamp. 2tp

FOR SALE—CORN BELT CORN Picker in good working condition, 3 years old, runs good. Fred J. Arnold. N-13tfc

FOR SALE— FIVE DUROC JERSey Boars. Mrs. C. A. Arnold, Klemme, Iowa. D-4tfc.

FOR SALE— ONE SHORTHORN Bull and Spotted Boars. R H and A. S. Harris, Meservey. D-4tfc

FOR SALE—NEW IDEA MANure Spreader. This machine needs no repairs, six years old Fred J. Arnold. N-13tfc

FOR SALE — "BIG GAIN" MINeral Stock Food for all livestock, also Poultry Concentrate. Kimball's Leather Store. 9-tfc

FOR SALE — STEEL WATER Tank, 2x2x4. cost $7.50, like new for $5.00. Times Office.

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc

FOR SALE— GOOD SECOND Hand Silo Filler, also Corn Binder in good shape. Northern Lumber Implement Shop. 1tc

WANTS

WANTED—HIRED GIRL. Mrs Quentin Stille. N-13tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

FREE TO THE FIRST FORTY Farmers who bring in their Harnesses for oiling we will give a $1 00 Stockmen's Pocket Knife Harnesses oiled for only $1.00 at Kimball's Leather Store, Klemme tfc

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio Lewis Radio Shop.

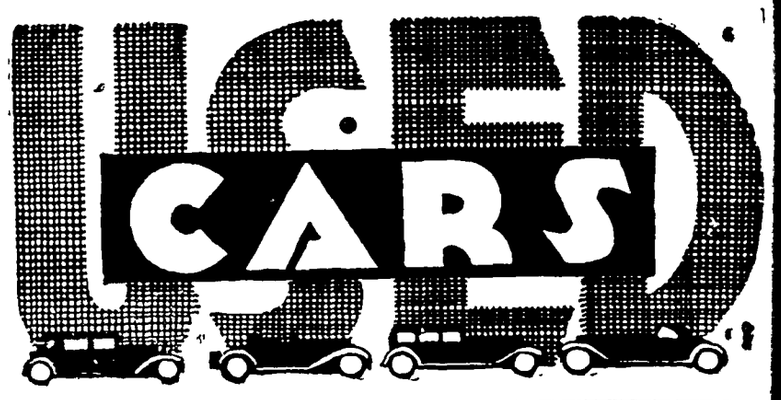
LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—LOG CHAIN, A FEW weeks ago Owner can have same by paying cost of this ad. 2t

The production of flaxseed in the United States for 1940 is estimated at 30.7 imillion bushels.

Save left-over griddle cake batter and use it for dipping chicken cutlets and other foods which are to be "breaded."

KLEMME MOVIES
Klemme Legion Community Hall
Wed., Dec. 11th
Baby Sandy, Hugh Herbert and Mischa Auer in all around picture the whole family will enjoy
"Sandy Is A Lady"
Also Comedy and Selected Short Subjects
Show Starts at 8:00 P. M. Adm. 10c & 20c



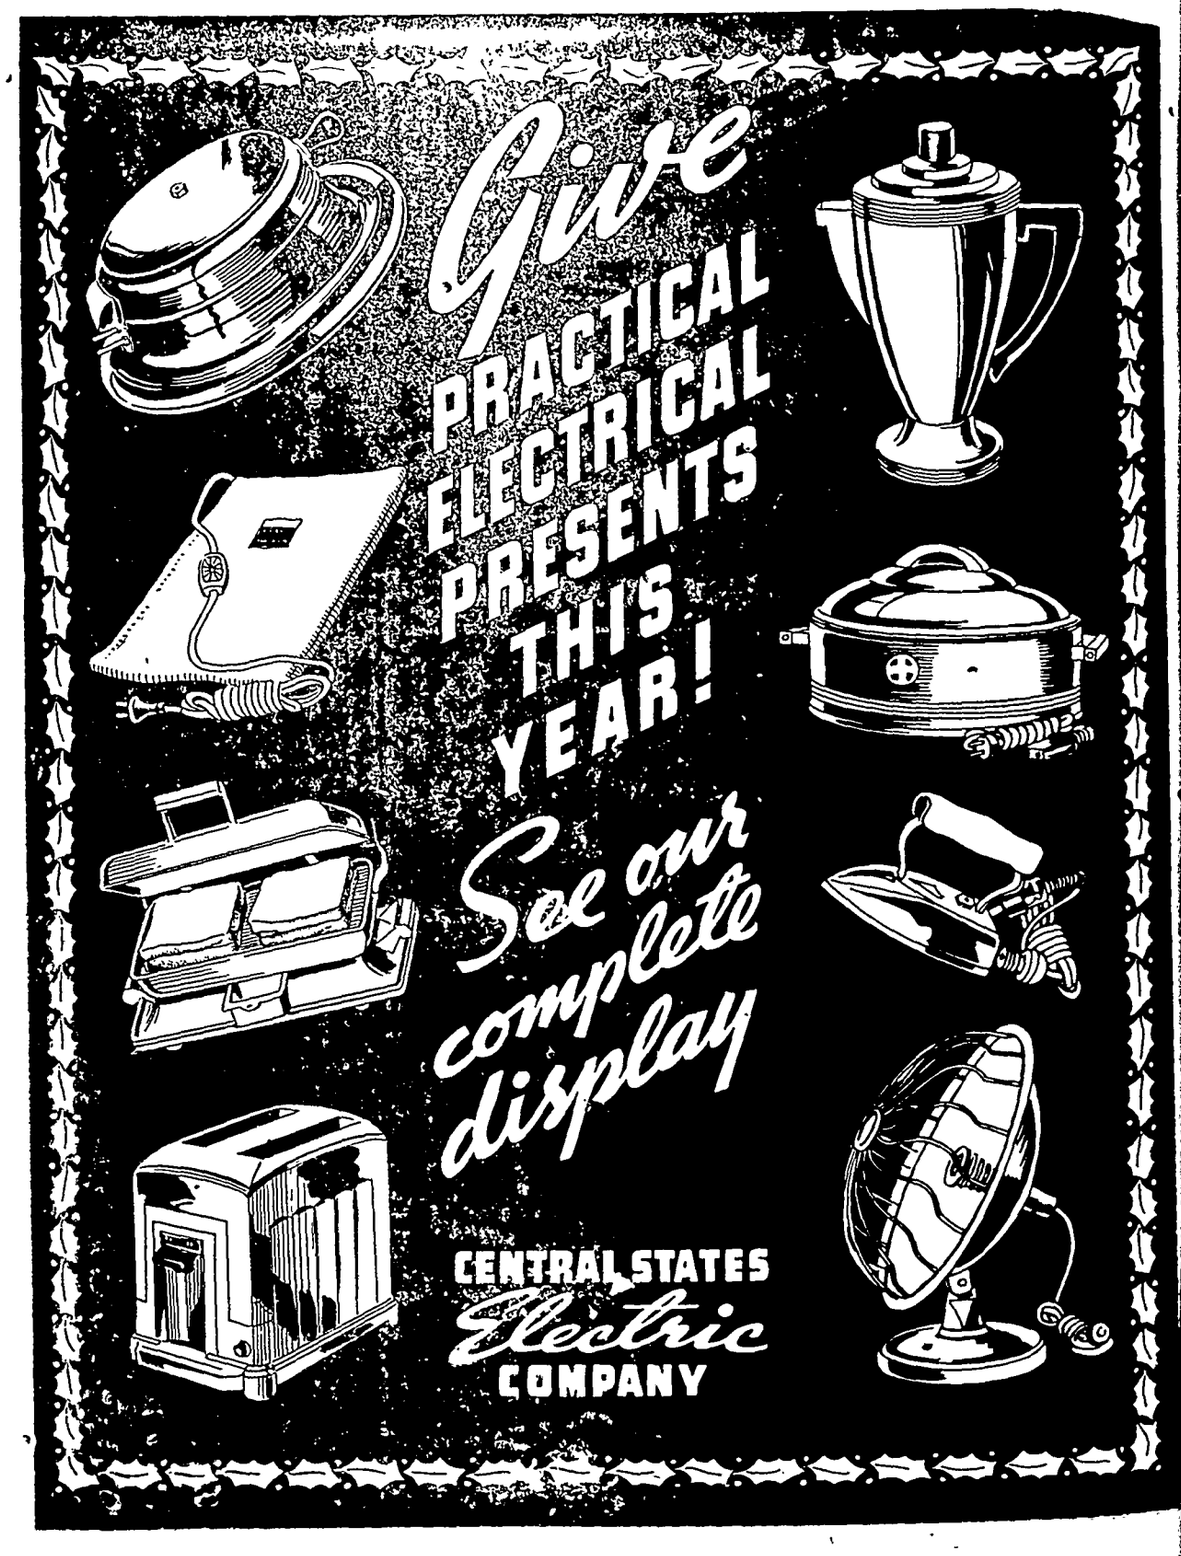
Here's your chance to get a really good used car for less. Come in and see our line of USED CARS today. We will allow a good trade-in on your present car for a better used car.

Hudsons
1937 Deluxe 4 Door Sedan. Good tires and heater
1940 Deluxe 4 Door Sedan. Air-conditioned, Air-foam Cushions.
1940 Deluxe 4 Door Sedan. Air-condtioned, Over-dive.

Fords
1938 Standard Tudor. Motor re-conditioned.
1937 Deluxe Fordor Sedan. Motor re-conditioned, radio heater.
1937 Standard Tudor Touring. Gas heater.
1936 Deluxe Tudor Touring. Motor re-conditioned.
1931. Deluxe Coupe. Good Tires.

Others
1939 Pontiac Tr. Tudor
1936 St. Chevrolet Tudor
1938 Pontiac Del. Sedan
1938 Master Chev. Tr. Tudor
1929 Chevrolet Tudor
1929 Hupmobile Sedan

- PHONE 93 -
Klemme Auto Company
Hudson-Pontiac Sales & Service Klemme, Iowa



DANCE Sat. Night Dec. 7
Klemme Legion Community Hall
Vance Dixon 10 Piece Orchestra
Adm. 44c - 33c Tax Included
—COMING — Dec. 10, Stan Stanley's 10 Piece Orchestra—

Save left-over griddle cake batter and use it for dipping chicken cutlets and other foods which are to be "breaded."

T PAYS TO USE WANT ADS

THADA'S

A Good Store In A Good Town — Klemme, Iowa

LET TISSUE
bassador
olls for 21c

IOWA MIRACLE BLEACH
(Plus bottle dep.)
Per quart at 10c

RANGES — TEXAS SWEET SEEDLES
Per Dozen 21c

DA CRACKERS
box 14c

MOTHERS COCOA
2 lb. box 18c

P AND G WHITE NAPHTHA SOAP — 7 bars 25c

RO SYRUP, Dark
al. at 33c
gallon at 52c

LIGHTHOUSE SCOURING
Cleanser
Per can 04c

oor Wax — No Rubbing, Self-Polishing
Second Pint FREE; Per Pt. 59c

NDER ROLLED OATS
E Glassware in box 09c

WRAP IN WAX PAPER
10c roll FREE with lg. roll 25c

ince Meat — OLD TIME Brand
3 pkgs. for 25c

Christmas Headquarters

be sure that Santa wont forget you, come in and visit complete display of toys for the children and wide as-tment of gifts for the whole family. Also everything in food line for the Holiday dinners to come, such as cake urs, nuts, dates and canned fruits for baking, fresh its, meats and a full line of all Frist Quality Canned ods.

2-Piece Set of Dishes FREE!

an extra special we will give FREE GIFTS to our custo-rs on Saturday Dec. 14 and Saturday, Dec. 21. With h $1.00 cash purchase or $1.00 paid on account, we will e Gift Coupons. See our show window or ask us how can get this set of dishes and other gifts FREE.

S! WE MUST SELL OUR

sed CARS and TRUCKS

No matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find CAR or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. ny bargains in late models. You take no chances when you l with us. Come in and look them over.

Garner Motor Sales

LDSMOBILE — CHEVROLET

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor — Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor — Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman — Eunice Larsen
Sophomore — Audrey Mau
Junior — Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior — Shirley Johnson
Dramatics — Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music — Jacqueline Kudje
Sports — Henry Kaduce, Leonard Kaduce
Grade News — Arlene Schmidt

WEEK'S MORAL

Employ your time well, if you mean to gain success and independence; and since you are not sure of a minute don't throw away an hour.

SPORTS

The Klemme High School basketball team seems to have got off to a very good start already this year They have defeated Ventura 35 to 18 and they defeated Goldfield last Tuesday night by a score of 36 to 12. The second team did n't do so well because they were defeated by the Goldfield seconds 11 to 7.

Klemme will play Garner on the Garner floor Dec 3 This promises to be a good game so every one should try to come and boost the team

WHO'S WHO IN THE JUNIOR CLASS

ROBERT SHULTZ He is better known as "Bob"

Sings bass in the mixed chorus

Thrills the Junior girls

Somebody says they have the dope on him down at Kanawha

The senior girls can't decide whether its a Dodge or Plymouth that he drives.

ARLENE BUSEMAN Sings alt in mixed chorus

Daydreams about "Nebraska."

Helps her mother like a good girl

She ought to give lessons on "How To Do The Schottise"

BILLY ZABILKA "William" to some people He's the man behind that "fence" on the basketball team.

Doesn't like to be kidded about being a preacher's son.

Gets good grades because he sits up in front and minds his own business (Part of the time)

Plays clarinet in the scenic band.

PHYLLIS SWANSON We hear that when she gets mad, she can spit out the Swede.

Looks very nice in pigtails and short skirts

Gives the boys a run for their money.

Loves school.

She allways has an answer.

Sings soprano in mixed chorus.

Would like to stay out of trouble but she just can't.

AARON WILLE Beautiful red hair

Tells pretty good jokes in study hall.

Keeps check on his sister, Adala

Got an A in economics without even studying (Or so he says.)

CHARLES BOCK Kinda likes the sophomore girls

Good student and plays basketball

Cliff's right-hand man.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

It seems that our junior reporter is beginning to slip on her class news We wonder why!!!

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

In history the sophomores are studying about German kingdoms in the middle ages. The sophomore boys were very much surprised to find that they couldn't quite stall long enough asking questions in history, so they would not have to take the test.

Some wonder why a certain sophomore girl goes to all the basketball games, and yells the most for a blond senior boy. What could this mean?

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

Dont' mention report cards to the freshman!

On Tuesday the Home Ec. I class tried their luck on quick breads It turned out to be mostly fried

The past few days have been spent in writing explanations for English

Mr Bowles, how can we be intelligent buyers if we aren't intelligent any other way?

Carroll really does resort to studying in study hall when he can't find anything else to do

Did you know this happened in General Science Mr. Onerheim? One of the girls said it did

The boy behind me snapped a rubber,
I turned upon him "you big land lubber"
From another side I felt a sting,
I whispered loudly, 'quite a bing'
The other side was sharply stung,
I looked darts and knives at the one.
The one in back gave me a poke
It had stopped to be a joke
Then they all snapped rubbber bands,
Curses to the ones who brought me to this land!
Teacher gave the boys a whack,
I sighed relief, and sat down on a tack

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

LaVonne Hammitt is the new librarian for the next six weeks.

We drew names for our Christmas party We have also made some plans for a Christmas program

Mavis Meyer, Patricia Kudje, Edward Barz, Ewald Grosshuesch, LaVonne Hammitt, Herbert Schwartz and Duard Lewis earned perfect scores in spelling.

GRADES 5 & 6

The following people had perfect spelling scores. Arlene, Roger R., Dean, Mary Lou, Ruth Stokesbary, Ruth Smith, Esther and Donna.

Our room enjoyed a birthday party at Peggy's home last Saturday. Shirley and Arlene had birthdays this week

Dennis Ridder visited in our room on Tuesday.

Both grades finished their history units this week.

Willis Anderson's side won in our good English contest. The contest ended Tuesday night.

GRADES 3 & 4

We helped Iris celebrate her birthday Monday. She treated us to big candy bars.

We drew names for Christmas gifts.

In geography we finished our Amazon unit and are ready to take a journey to the Congo jungle.

We had 100 per cent in spelling Iris, Phyllis Stokesbary, Merlin and Luella

We dramatized the story of the first Thanksgiving in Reading class

We are thankful for many, many things plus two days of Thanksgiving vacation this week.

Reporters were Richard and Merlin

KINDERGARTEN GRADES 1 & 2

The following boys and girls were neither absent nor tardy for the six weeks' Sharon, Ronald, Garry, Billy, Harley, Jacqalea, Richard and Sondra.

We chose a name for Jacqalea's goldfish and snail. We call the goldfish Sneezy and the snail Pokey Janice and Jo Ann brought a record to school which was a recording of their voices.

None of the boys were tardy to school this six weeks The girls were tardy eleven times.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Glenn Bridges is planning to entertain a number of children at a birthday party this week Thursday for her daughter, Sharon Lee, who will be five years old Running your car with molasses At last science finds a practical way to make gasoline and oil out of growing crops—and from sugar cane of all things. Read this interesting educational illustrated feature in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's issue of the Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Mrs. Bruno W. Moll, Sheldon, was attacked by a muskrat recently Fortunately, the muskrat teeth did not penetrate Mrs. Boll's overshoe

AGED GOODELL LADY DIED THIS WEDNESDAY MORNING

Mrs. George Ahrenkeil, 76, died at the home of her son, A. N. Ahrenkeil, at 7:15 this Wednesday morning, following a stroke and an illness of about a week.

Funeral services will be in charge of the Wellemeyer Funeral Service of Klemme and the rites will be conducted by Rev. Harold R. Knight at the U. B. church in Goodell at 2 00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Interment will be made in the Amsterdam cemetery beside her husband who preceeded her in 1931 She leaves one son, Anton, and three grandsons, Duain Bonwell, Allen Bonwell and Taalkeus Ahrenkeil.

"Meanest Thieves."

Thieves who recently took the mountings off monuments at the LeMars cemeteries, are now taking shrubbery from the graves.

EYES EXAMINED
GLASSES FITTED
Dr. Frank L. Knutson
CLEAR LAKE
• Our Prices Are Lower •

Go By Train

via

Rock Island

to the International
Live Stock Shows
at CHICAGO
Nov. 30 to Dec. 7

ROUND TRIP fares every day for coach, parlor car or sleeping car service — tickets limited to 60 days. (Berth or seat extra)

SPECIAL round trip coach fares on sale Nov. 29 to Dec. 5 with return limit of 10 days from date of sale. (Good on all scheduled trains except Rockets).

A bigger and better show every year. Don't miss the 1940 exhibit.

Ask Rock Island agent for details or address

C. C. GARDNER, A. G. P. A.
721 Locust Street,
Des Moines, Iowa

SPECIAL!

riday and Saturday ONLY!

Kwik-Way Streamlined
Electric Corn Popper

(Our regular $1.00 Value at)

79c

have the largest line of Sleds we have ever handled. one for Christmas today . . . all sizes, all styles and es in flexible type steering. Prices are right.

AS TREE LIGHTS
received an assortment of Mazda Tree Lights and ations.

New Low Prices

on Genuine General Electric Mazda

Lamps

15 Watt	10c
25 Watt	10c
40 Watt	13c
50 Watt	13c
60 Watt	13c
75 Watt	15c
100 Watt	15c
150 Watt	20c
200 Watt	27c
300 Watt	45c

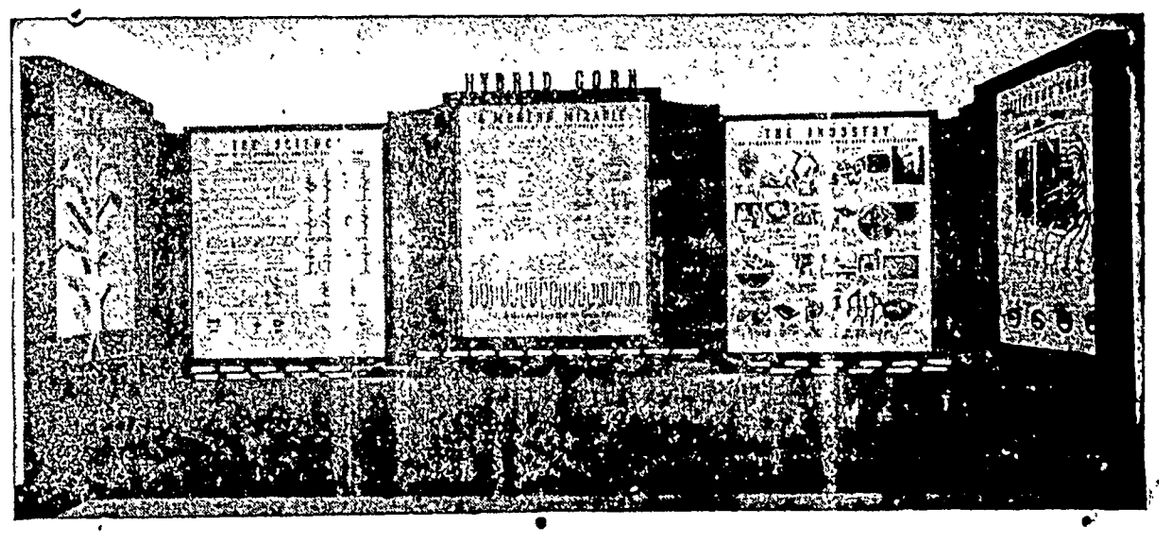
Buy them by the carton and have a reserve supply on hand.

ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES . . .
See us for anything you need in Electrical equipment. Our Prices are right.

E. F. Jacobs, Hdw.

Plumbing & Heating

Farm Service Store"



NEW SECTION ADDED TO THE MUSEUM AT CHICAGO

Section Covers Five Acres of Exhibits of Agriculture, etc.

The historic episodes in the progress of agriculture including the newest marvel, hybrid corn - pass in review in interesting exhibit form in the huge central section of the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, which opened to the public a few days ago.

The newly opened section comprises five acres of exhibits covering the fields of agriculture, transportation, mining, petroleum, metallurgy, graphic arts and other allied fields.

Recognizing hybrid corn as a headliner in current agricultural news, the museum has placed in a prominent postion just off the north entrance court, an attractive exhibit covering the genetics involved in hybridizing corn, the practical operations in the field and the product itself. Examples of prominent hybrids, family tree of a hybrid including inbred lines and single and double crosses, and unusual and colorful corn from all climes, all are incorporated in the dispay.

One especially interesting panel shows photographic illustrations of the steps in the development of inbreds, crossing operations, and growing and processing of hybrid corn.

The display took nearly a year in preparation and was carried out by Lester Pfister, the world famous hybrid corn breeder from El Paso, Illinois, at the invitation of Dr. Russell H. Anderson, curator of agriculture, textiles, and forestry, of the museum staff.

Other interesting exhibits in the newly opened section includes plows dating back to Babylonian types, grain drills, and a reaper exhibit of ten quarter-sized models ranging from the Boyce reaper of 1799 to the current models. Models of the early types of threshing machines, including the horse tread power, are also shown.

Another feature is an operating coal mine in which the visitor is taken underground and into coal workings where he sees actual coal faces and mining machinery.

Visitors wil enjoy the operating oil refinery model, foundry, print shop with old hand press as well as a modern high speed rotary press, operating minature railroad, airplanes and models, and full-sized locomotives.

More than three million people have visited the museum since its opening in 1933 in Jackson park, scene of the World' Columbian exposition in the restored Fine Arts building.

Admission is free and visiting hours during the winter season are 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. weekdays; until p. m. Saturdays and on Sundays from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m.

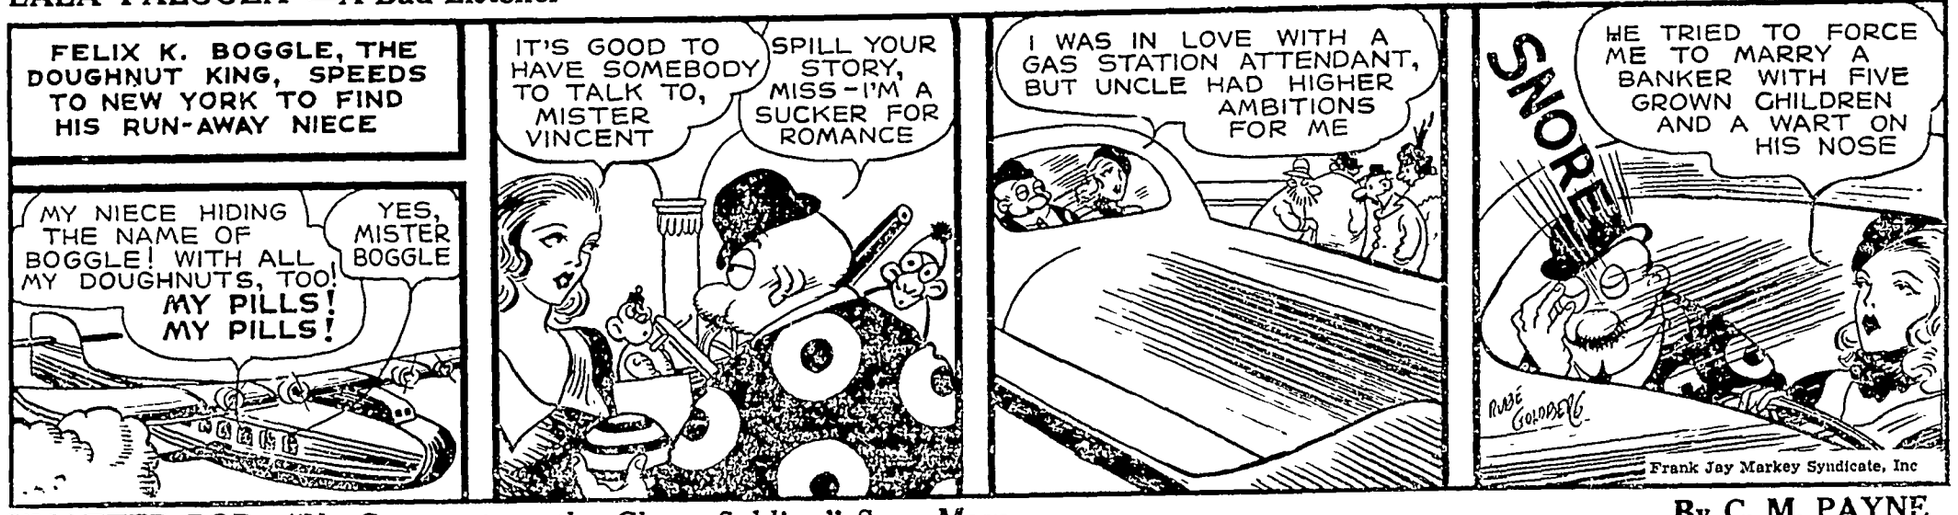
THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

BIG TOP — By ED WHEELAN

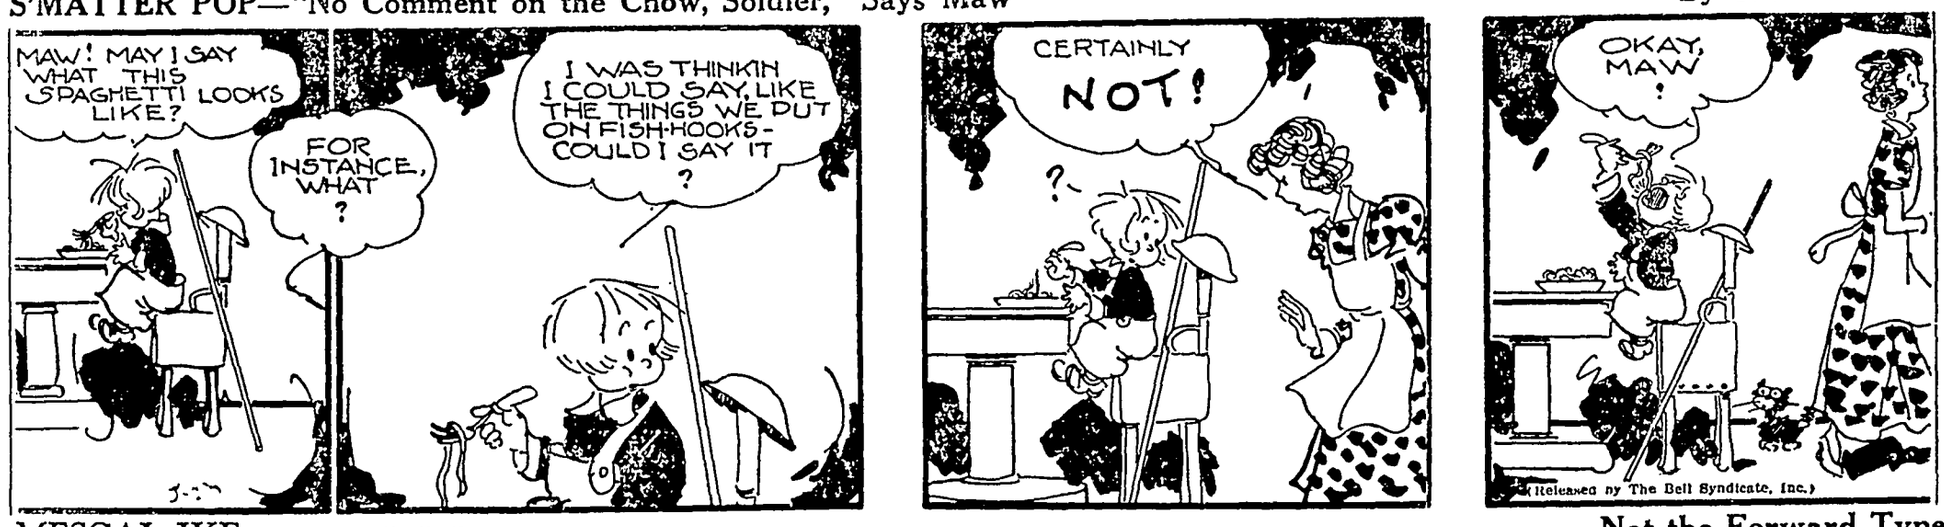
THE NEXT DAY, "RED" O'HARE WAS TURNED OVER TO "DAD" STERLING TO TRAIN AS A CLOWN -
THERE YOU ARE, "RED" - HOW DO YOU LIKE THAT MAKE-UP?
OH, BOY, - THAT'S SWELL !! HA-HA
HE'LL MAKE A FINE LITTLE JOEY, "FLIP" !!
SURE WILL, "BUTCH" !!
A WEEK LATER, "RED" AND "WHISKERS" PUT ON A BRAND NEW ACT WITH THE AID OF "PEEWEE", THE BABY ELEPHANT
CLAP
NICE WORK, BOY, WE'RE MAKIN' A HIT"
ED WHEELAN
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
THE BIG FINISH -

LALA PALOOZA —A Bad Listener — By RUBE GOLDBERG



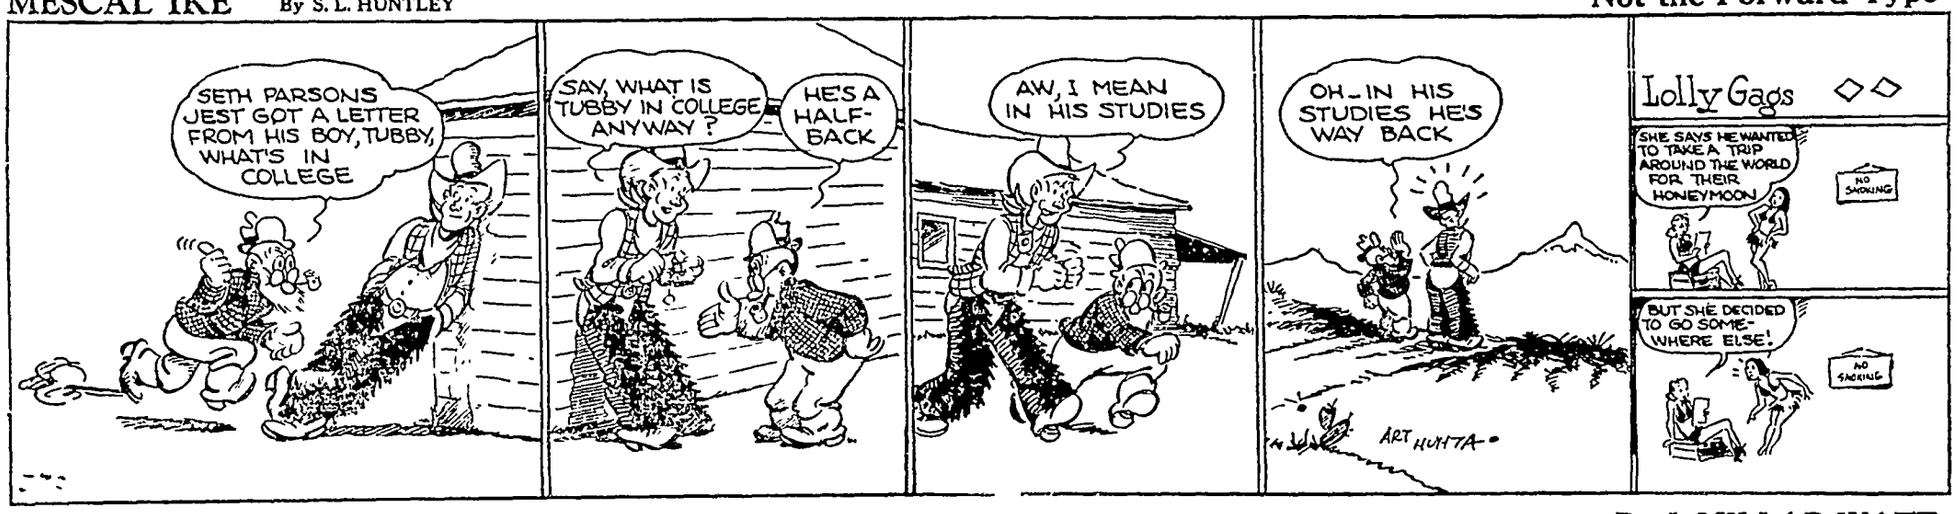
FELIX K. BOGGLE, THE DOUGHNUT KING, SPEEDS TO NEW YORK TO FIND HIS RUN-AWAY NIECE
MY NIECE HIDING THE NAME OF BOGGLE! WITH ALL MY DOUGHNUTS, TOO! MY PILLS! MY PILLS!
YES, MISTER BOGGLE
IT'S GOOD TO HAVE SOMEBODY TO TALK TO, MISTER VINCENT
SPILL YOUR STORY, MISS - I'M A SUCKER FOR ROMANCE
I WAS IN LOVE WITH A GAS STATION ATTENDANT, BUT UNCLE HAD HIGHER AMBITIONS FOR ME
SNORE
HE TRIED TO FORCE ME TO MARRY A BANKER WITH FIVE GROWN CHILDREN AND A WART ON HIS NOSE
RUBE GOLDBERG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc

S'MATTER POP—"No Comment on the Chow, Soldier," Says Maw — By C. M. PAYNE



MAW! MAY I SAY WHAT THIS SPAGHETTI LOOKS LIKE?
FOR INSTANCE, WHAT ?
I WAS THINKIN I COULD SAY, LIKE THE THINGS WE PUT ON FISH-HOOKS - COULD I SAY IT ?
CERTAINLY NOT!
OKAY, MAW !
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY — Not the Forward Type



SETH PARSONS JEST GOT A LETTER FROM HIS BOY, TUBBY, WHAT'S IN COLLEGE SAY, WHAT IS TUBBY IN COLLEGE ANYWAY ?
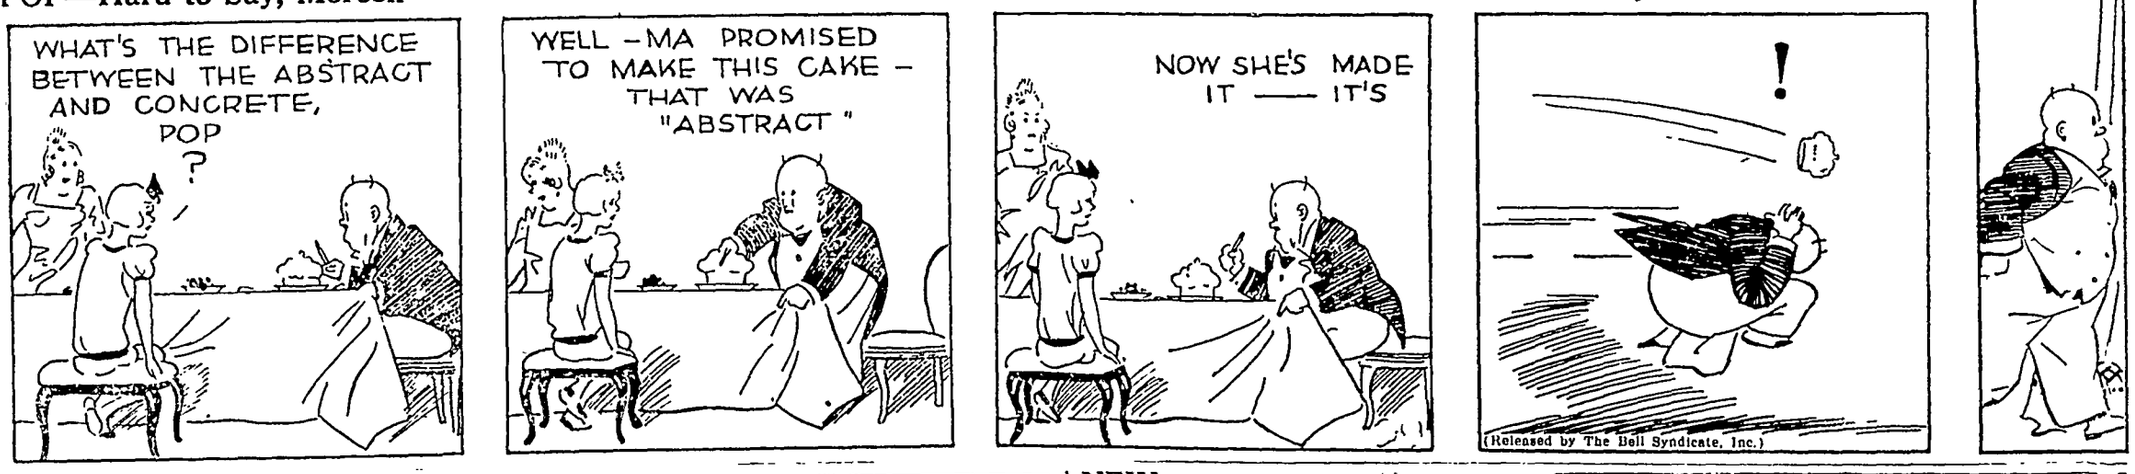
HE'S A HALF-BACK
AW, I MEAN IN HIS STUDIES
OH - IN HIS STUDIES HE'S WAY BACK
ART HUNTA
Lolly Gags
SHE SAYS HE WANTED TO TAKE A TRIP AROUND THE WORLD FOR THEIR HONEYMOON
NO SMOKING
BUT SHE DECIDED TO GO SOMEWHERE ELSE!
NO SMOKING

POP—Hard to Say, Moreen — By J. MILLAR WATT



WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE ABSTRACT AND CONCRETE, POP ?
WELL - MA PROMISED TO MAKE THIS CAKE - THAT WAS "ABSTRACT" NOW SHE'S MADE IT —— IT'S
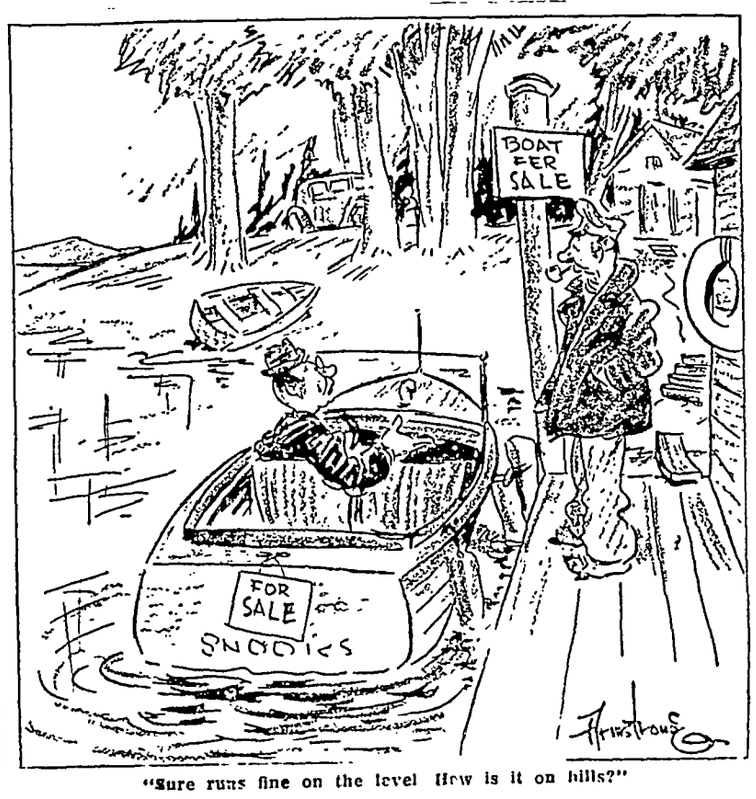
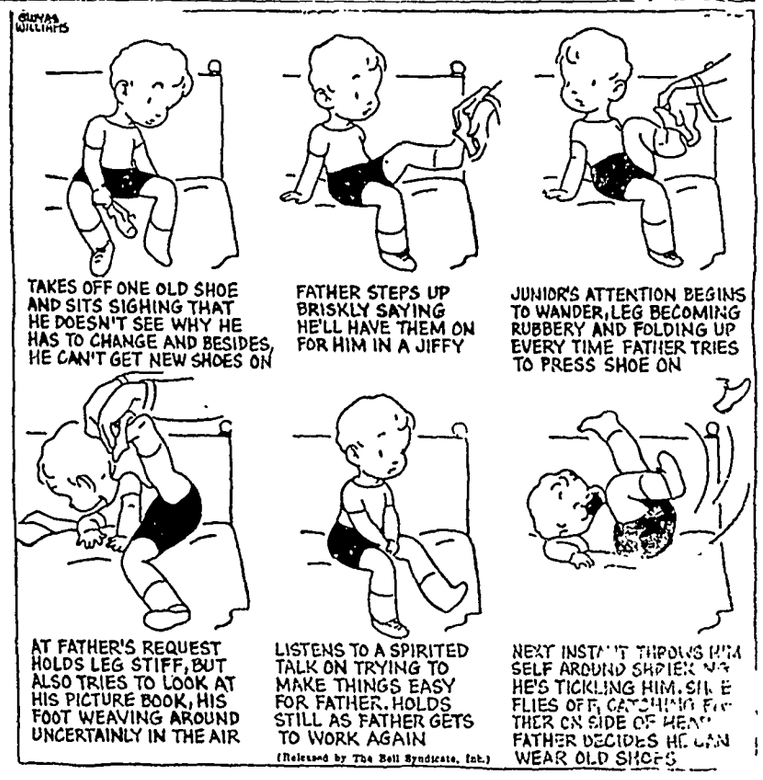
!
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

THE SPORTING THING By LANG ARMSTRONG



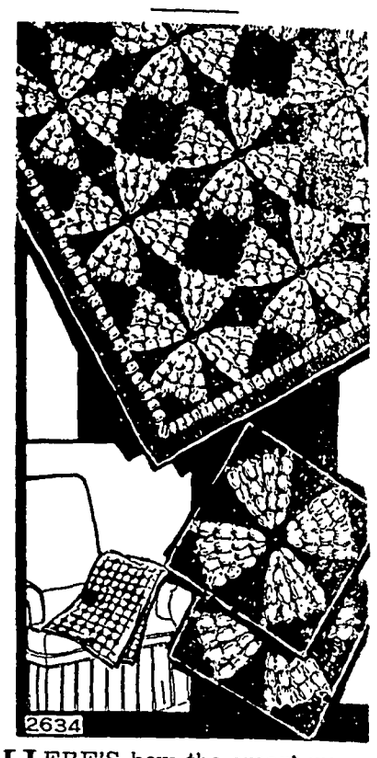
"Sure runs fine on the level How is it on hills?"

NEW SHOES By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



GLUYAS WILLIAMS
TAKES OFF ONE OLD SHOE AND SITS SIGHING THAT HE DOESN'T SEE WHY HE HAS TO CHANGE AND BESIDES, HE CAN'T GET NEW SHOES ON
FATHER STEPS UP BRISKLY SAYING HE'LL HAVE THEM ON FOR HIM IN A JIFFY
JUNIOR'S ATTENTION BEGINS TO WANDER, LEG BECOMING RUBBERY AND FOLDING UP EVERY TIME FATHER TRIES TO PRESS SHOE ON
AT FATHER'S REQUEST HOLDS LEG STIFF, BUT ALSO TRIES TO LOOK AT HIS PICTURE BOOK, HIS FOOT WEAVING AROUND UNCERTAINLY IN THE AIR
LISTENS TO A SPIRITED TALK ON TRYING TO MAKE THINGS EASY FOR FATHER. HOLDS STILL AS FATHER GETS TO WORK AGAIN
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
NEXT INSTANT THROWS HIMSELF AROUND SHRIEKING HE'S TICKLING HIM. SHE FLIES OFF, CATCHING FATHER ON SIDE OF HEAD. FATHER DECIDES HE CAN WEAR OLD SHOES

Beautiful Afghan Is In Easy Puff Stitch



HERE'S how the smart woman adds beauty to her home or makes a lovely gift—she crochets these squares in easy puff stitch and double crochet and soon has enough to join into this rich afghan.

* * *

Pattern No. 2634 contains directions for afghan; illustrations of it and stitches; color schemes; photograph of square; materials required. Send order to

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents in coins for Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

Our Humility

Humility is a means of progress. When we realize how little we know we shall yearn and strive to know more; when we feel how imperfect is our character, and not till then, we shall make earnest efforts after our improvement.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

REMEDY

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS Pep Up —for the day and the strenuous times ahead.

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

REPAIRS For Your STOVE FURNACE or BOILER
Prompt Shipment to Fit Any and All Makes
Have Your Dealer Order from Us
DES MOINES STOVE REPAIR COMPANY

Helpful Antagonist

He that wrestles with us strengthens our nerves, and sharpens our skill. Our antagonist is our helper.—Burke.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with herb laxative, combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gullet. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Facts of
ADVERTISING

• ADVERTISING represents the leadership of a nation. It points the way. We merely follow—follow to new heights of comfort, of convenience, of happiness.

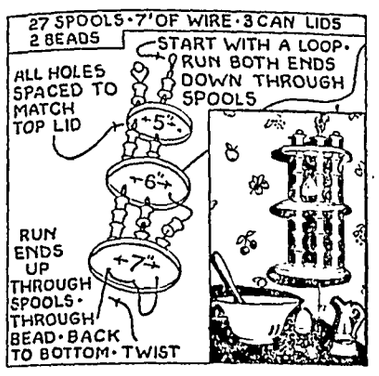
As time goes on advertising is used more and more, and as it is used more we all profit more. It's the way advertising has—

of bringing a profit to everybody concerned, the consumer included

Set of Shelves From Spools and Can Lids

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THE other day I went to a Hobby Show and there, hanging on the wall with a blue ribbon pinned on it, were the spool shelves from SEWING Book 3! Of course, I searched out the proud girl who had made them, and she told me that she had also made the end table of spools that is in



27 SPOOLS · 7' OF WIRE · 3 CAN LIDS
2 BEADS
START WITH A LOOP · RUN BOTH ENDS DOWN THROUGH SPOOLS
ALL HOLES SPACED TO MATCH TOP LID
4½"
6" 7¼"
RUN ENDS UP THROUGH SPOOLS · THROUGH BEAD · BACK TO BOTTOM · TWIST

Book 5. I felt most as proud as she did. All her friends are saving spools for her and her urgent need at the moment was, "something to make for Mother for Christmas."

Here is my suggestion. An adorable set of three corner shelves made of a lid from a tin candy box, one from a cracker can and a coffee can put together with wire, spools and two beads. These shelves were painted cherry red and hung up with a brass hook to hold salt and pepper shakers, vinegar cruet, and other things for making salads. Any homemaker will think of a dozen places where this handy set of shelves could be used. All the directions are here in this sketch.

* * *

There is time to make the hanging book shelves in Book 3, or the end table in Book 5, before Christmas, if you mail your order for these booklets today. Send order to

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 20c for Books 3 and 5.

Name .....

Address .....

Eerie and Hot Music

The theremin is the only musical instrument that is played without being touched, the hands of the musician creating electrical impulses at a distance of several inches; the kettledrum is the only drum that has a definite pitch and must be tuned to the key in which it is to be played.

The pyrophone is the only instrument that produces hot music, its glass tubes emitting musical tones as a gas flame is played up and down within them.—Collier's.

Top the Market

Balance your grain with

Green Top Mineralized Tankage

—the economy way to feed.

See your local feed dealer

From the Sword

The next great task of humanity is not deliverance by the sword, but deliverance from the sword.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION

for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

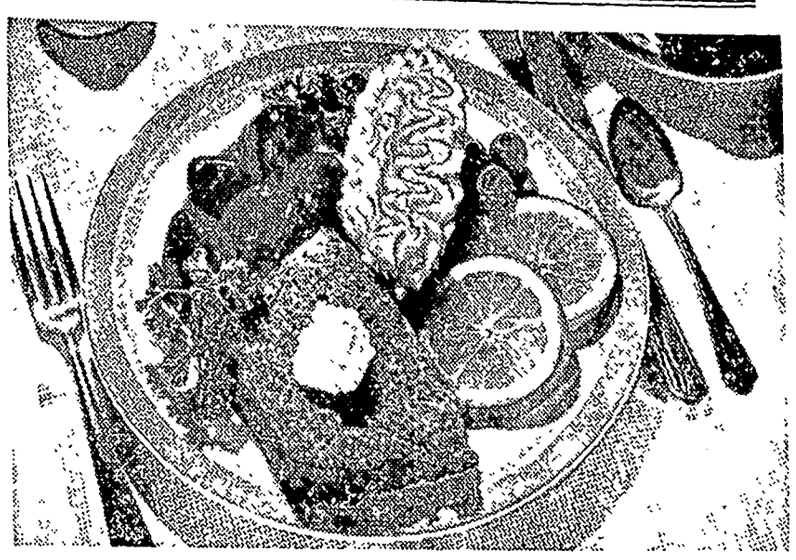
We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.

● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$



THE COMMUNITY SUPPER
(See Recipes Below)

So you're to manage the next community supper? And you're panicky about it! Of course it's a job to feed 200 people appetizingly and leave $25 profit in the treasury. But it can be done! If you must eye the nickels when serving church or club suppers, study the following eight-point program for "feeding the multitude":

(1) Pick a general chairman who can picture the job as a whole. (2) Appoint a responsible person in charge of each food (3) Arrange the kitchen conveniently for the different jobs. (4) Prepare as many foods ahead of time as possible (5) Have utensils ready and garnishes at hand. (6) Name a hostess to direct waitresses. (7) Plan a uniform method of serving. (8) Plan menus well ahead of time.

If the meat dish is different, the whole meal seems to have variety. And there's many a trick for serving thrifty cuts differently.

Take meat loaf, for instance. A ham loaf de luxe with a good mustard-horseradish sauce will "make" any meal. Beef stew can be thickened a little, ladeled into dripping pans, covered with rounds or squares or diamonds of biscuit, and when baked it appears crustily and temptingly yours. If you wish to make it more "de luxe" bake and serve in individual casseroles.

For something different, plan for meat balls with rice. You can serve buttered turnips, and a salad made of cabbage, celery, green peas and pimento which certainly sells the men this menu.

Now if pennies needn't be watched so closely and you want to do a fall or winter dinner up brown, here's a "ringer": Baked ham, raisin and cider sauce, raw vegetable salad, cranberry muffins, pumpkin pie, coffee, or milk.

Ham Loaf de Luxe.
(Serves 50)

5 pounds smoked ham (ground)
3 pounds veal (ground)
¾ cup green pepper (minced)
¾ cup onion (chopped)
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
8 eggs (beaten)
1 quart tomato soup (canned)
1 quart bread crumbs or uncooked cereal

Combine the meat, green pepper, onion and seasonings. Add beaten eggs, tomato soup, and bread crumbs or uncooked cereal. Pack into bread loaf pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1½ hours.

Beef Stew With Biscuits.
(Serves 50)

9 pounds beef round (cut into 1-inch cubes)
2 cups flour
1 cup hot beef drippings
3 quarts boiling water
½ teaspoon peppercorns
2 bay leaves
1 quart turnips (diced)
1 quart carrots (diced)
1 cup onions (sliced)
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut beef into 1-inch cubes. Dredge in the flour and brown in hot beef drippings. Place in kettle and add boiling water. Cook slowly for 2 to 3 hours. Add peppercorns and bay leaves. Add carrots and turnips 1 hour before serving. Add salt and pepper. If necessary, thicken with flour paste. Serve hot with baking powder biscuits on top.

Meat Balls With Rice.
(Serves 40 to 45)

4 pounds beef (ground)
3 pounds pork (ground)
2 onions (minced)
2 cups rice (uncooked)
2 cups cracker crumbs
4 eggs (beaten)
4 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk

Combine ingredients and mix well. Form into balls. Place in shallow roasting pans. Pour over 2 quarts tomato sauce or tomato soup. Cover pans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1½ to 2 hours, turning the meat balls several times during cooking Add water if necessary, during the baking

Easy Entertaining.

"Easy Entertaining" was written for homemakers who occasionally run out of ideas on what to serve at tea parties, fall and winter bridge parties, and many other kinds of parties. It is an aid to those who would like to serve something a little different, to give the occasion a festive air.

For your copy write to "Easy Entertaining," in care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclose 10 cents in coin.

Cider and Raisin Sauce.
(Serves 12)

1 cup sugar
¼ cup cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
1 quart cider
1 cup seedless raisins
6 small pieces cinnamon
12 whole cloves

Mix sugar, cornstarch, salt, cider and raisins together Place spices in a cheesecloth bag and add to mixture Boil gently for 15 minutes Remove spice bag and serve hot sauce over ham

Cabbage and Celery Salad With Peas.
(Serves 25)

4 No. 2 cans peas (2 quarts)
2½ quarts cabbage (shredded)
2 quarts celery (diced)
Pimiento (cut fine)
Salt to taste
Mayonnaise
3 heads lettuce

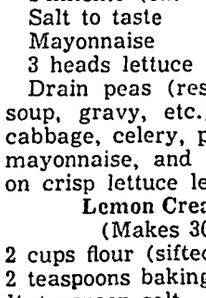
Drain peas (reserving liquid for soup, gravy, etc.) and chill. Add cabbage, celery, pimiento, salt and mayonnaise, and mix well. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Lemon Cream Scones.
(Makes 30 scones)

2 cups flour (sifted)
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
1 teaspoon lemon rind (grated)
2 eggs
¼ cup light cream
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon lemon rind (grated)

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and the 1 tablespoon of sugar together. Cut in butter and add 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Reserving 1 tablespoon egg white for glaze, beat remaining eggs well and add cream. Combine with flour mixture. Add lemon juice and stir until soft dough forms Turn out on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll dough to ¼-inch thickness and cut into 3-inch squares, then cut each square from corner to corner, making triangles. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Brush tops lightly with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle with mixture made of 3 tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) 12 minutes, or until brown. Before serving, spread with orange marmalade and reheat.

Cabbage and Carrot Salad With Peanuts.
(Serves 25)



5 quarts cabbage (shredded)
20 carrots (grated)
2½ cups peanuts (chopped)
2 cups salad dressing

Mix together the cabbage, carrots, peanuts and salad dressing. Chill thoroughly and serve.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

Add finely cut mint leaves to orange juice and chill. Just before serving add 1½ cups pale dry ginger ale to each two cups of orange juice.

* * *

For variety sprinkle some grated cheese over the top of raisin, apple or mince pie and heat for five minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Star Dust
STAGE · SCREEN · RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ELLEN DREW wasn't much good as a waitress when she worked at Brown's confectionery, in Hollywood, but she's worth her weight in gold to the place now as an advertisement for it.

For instance, practically everyone who comes in wants a Cinderella special; a note on the menu announces that it's named for her.

If you sit in Booth 5 you'll see a sign saying "At this booth, a customer offered Ellen Drew the screen test that has taken her to stardom" She'd been working in a dime store in Englewood, Ill., when she won a beauty contest conducted by the American Legion and went to Hollywood. She expected a film contract to follow, but it didn't. In two months she learned not to expect ever to get one.

But she made the test, and a contract followed She is starred in three Paramount pictures awaiting release—"D. O. A.", "A Date With Destiny," and "Texas Rangers Ride Again," and also in "Christmas in July," now being shown.

ELLEN DREW

—*—

Charles Grapewin, who was "Grandpa Joad" in the screen version of "The Grapes of Wrath," has been named to play "Jeeter Lester" in 20th Century-Fox's production of "Tobacco Road." Henry Ford will direct, and Nunally Johnson, who did the script for "The Grapes of Wrath," will have the task of fixing up "Tobacco Road" so that it will pass the censors.

—*—

Joan Crawford, looking very stunning indeed, went to the National Horse show, in New York, on the first night, and easily outshone most of the ladies of the city's Four Hundred She presented the cup for one of the special events. It's doubtful whether she saw much of the show, because there was always such a mob of autograph seekers around her that she was kept busy signing programs and odd bits of paper.

—*—

Bette Davis has shown once again that she's not afraid of competition; she's glad to have Mary Astor play the second feminine lead in "Far Horizon," though she says herself that the role is equal in importance to her own. Incidentally, Warner Brothers have taken up an option on a long-term contract for Miss Astor.

—*—

Keep your eye on Philip Dorn, a young actor from Holland who plays "Dr. Ditten" in "Escape." His next appearance will be as Hedy Lamarr's husband in "Ziegfeld Girl."

—*—

The latest word is that Charlie Chaplin's next picture will be a musical of the London music halls in the nineties, the place and time where he himself got his start toward fame and fortune. It will be in technicolor, and he will return to the character which made him famous.

—*—

Radio has one married couple with a record for anyone to shoot at. They're the "Uncle Ezra" and "Cecilia" of the air—Mr. and Mrs. Pat Barrett in private life—and they met when she was Nora Cuneen, touring the West with a musical comedy. One night the company's comedian didn't show up, and Pat Barrett stepped into the role, and into her life as well.

They've always worked as a team; before making their radio debut, 10 years ago, they toured in vaudeville. Even then they were doing character parts similar to their roles on the "Uncle Ezra" program.

—*—

ODDS AND ENDS . . . James Stewart is qualifying fast for the aviation service; he now has almost enough hours in the air to qualify for a transport license, entitling him to a commission in the air corps . . . The Bing Crosby program is to have more music and less conversation from now on, the conversation being what made it unique . . . George Carroll, considered one of America's most beautiful models, will be one of the glorified show girls in Metro's "Ziegfeld Girl" . . . Joan Bennett withdrew from "Topper Returns" because she didn't want to compete with the role of a disappearing ghost, played by Carol Landis.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for December 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

A GOOD NEIGHBOR

LESSON TEXT—Luke 10 25-37
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself —Luke 10 27

What shall I do? These words fall from the lips or pass through the minds of millions of men and women each day

Never does the question go more deeply than when it concerns man's eternal welfare, as it does in our lesson Always the question indicates that man is not able to decide for himself, and needs the guidance of someone greater and wiser than he. It should lead us back to God, for only He can fully answer it. The good neighbor story of our Lord tells us

I. What to Do to Have Eternal Life (vv 25-28).

The lawyer (a student of the law of Moses and hence a theologian rather than an attorney) was posing a question to try to entrap Jesus He was apparently not much concerned about eternal life and assumed that it could be obtained by doing something We know that eternal life is a gift (John 1 12. Rom 6 23), but if the man wanted to have it by doing, Jesus was ready to meet him In response to Jesus' question (v 26) the lawyer gave Him what the Jews regarded as the summary of the whole law

The man who can perfectly keep that law will have eternal life, declares Jesus But note that you must do it, not just talk about it And you must keep the whole law, "for whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he is become guilty of all" (James 2 10, R. V., see also Gal 3 10) We see then

II. Why It Cannot Be Done by Man (v 29).

The lawyer's effort to justify himself by diverting attention to the word "neighbor," which he felt needed definition, showed that he could not do the thing expected of him The reason for man's failure lies primarily in his own weakness and inability to do what God requires, but is also revealed in his pitiable and futile efforts to justify himself

The one who seeing his sinfulness and his utter inability to keep God's law casts himself on the Lord and is ready to receive the gift of eternal life; but the one who tries to defend his position and justify himself has shut the door on God's grace and mercy (see Luke 18:9-14) Let us see

III. How Christ Does It for and in Man (vv 30-37).

The parable of the Good Samaritan answers fully and finally the question, "Who is my neighbor?" by making it clear that anyone who is in need, regardless of race, social position, condition or religion, is our neighbor The priest and the Levite doubtless had plenty of excuses for not helping the wounded man, but let us remember that excuses, while they may count with men, mean only our condemnation in the presence of God.

It was the spirit of Christ that made the Samaritan show a compassionate and sacrificial interest in the needy man. Only Christ can make you and me like that; His love in the heart is the only "good neighbor program" that will ever work.

But Christ not only enables man to be a good neighbor, He is in fact the true Good Neighbor Himself; He is the Good Samaritan "Jerusalem is the city of God; Jericho represents the world The traveler is the race of humanity Man has fallen in the awful road which leads down; fallen among thieves and is naked, wounded, helpless and hopeless The failure of the priest and the scribe to help illustrates the inability of the law and the ordinances to save man out of his deplorable condition. The Good Samaritan is the Lord Jesus Christ. He came to the place where the lost are and He alone could have compassion on them. The wine typifies His precious blood He shed to save us. The oil is the type of the Holy Spirit, who applies the blood He takes care of fallen man found by Christ. The inn is typical of the church, where the Lord through His Spirit cares for His own The two pence are not typical of two sacraments, but speak of the reward which those receive who under the Holy Spirit care for souls. The promised coming again with a greater reward offered is the second coming of our Lord" (A. C Gaebelein).

Two truths stand out in our lesson. There is such a thing as being a good neighbor by the grace and blessing of God, and if we are followers of Christ we should be real neighbors. Then there is the One who is Himself our Friend and Brother, the One of whom we sing:

"He washed the bleeding sin wounds
And poured in oil and wine;
He whispered to assure me,
'I've found thee, thou art Mine.'"
—(A. J Gordon)

Ask Me Another
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Which of the following is an oblate spheroid — an egg, the earth, or a baseball?
2. According to tradition what great author of tragedies was killed by a tortoise, which an eagle let fall on his head?
3. George Washington's estate was valued at a sum that would now be how much?
4. What Greek philosopher was nagged by his wife Xanthippe?
5. Pilate's words "Ecce Homo" are translated to mean what?
6. What is mulled wine?
7. What is a blucher shoe?
8. What ship started for America with the Mayflower, but had to turn back?

The Answers

1. The earth. (Flattened or depressed at the poles.)
2. Aeschylus.
3. $5,000,000.
4. Socrates.
5. "Behold the man!" John 19:5.
6. Wine that is heated, sweetened and spiced.
7. One in which the quarters extend forward to the throat of the vamp
8. The Speedwell.

THE SMOKE OF SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS GIVES YOU—

EXTRA MILDNESS

EXTRA COOLNESS

EXTRA FLAVOR

AND—

28% LESS NICOTINE

than the average of the 4 other of the largest-selling cigarettes tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself.

CAMEL
THE SLOWER-BURNING CIGARETTE

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

Mrs. Hulda Allbee spent Sunday visiting with her sister, Mrs. L. Fessler at Britt.

Grandma Schlawin enjoyed dinner Thanksgiving Day at the G. Gol home.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder and Mrs. Martha Bredbenner were visiting in Garner Monday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka and family drove to Oskaloosa, Iowa, last Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Zabilka's mother.

Mrs. W. F. Pavey, Mrs. Wayne Pavey and Mrs. John Clements were Garner visitors Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Byrnes Missman spent Thanksgiving Day with his grandfather, Mr. Ely, at Belmond. Dr. Missman is a dentist at Garner.

Miss Mary Nell Jones, of Garner, was a Thanksgiving Day dinner guest at the Martin Brinkman home.

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Stores To Close

KLEMME STORES TO CLOSE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHTS HEREAFTER

Klemme Stores will close on Wednesday nights from now on for the balance of the winter.

Beginning next week Klemme Stores will be open only on Saturday evenings.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son, Dick, enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Mary Mutch at Grundy Center.

Miss Esther Potts, who attends Simpson College, was a dinner guest at the R. A. Jorgenson home Sunday.

D. D. Ross enjoyed a visit the past week from his daughter, Bernice, who spent over a week in Klemme.

Mr and Mrs. John Larson entertained their children and their families at a goose dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Glenn Bridges, Mrs. Levi Ridder, Mrs. Fred Ridder and Mrs. Herman Bridges were visiting in Mason City, Tuesday.

"Bodge" Bowles went to Indianola, Wednesday afternoon, to enjoy the Thanksgiving vacation with his parents.

Henry Ludeke, of near Meservey, was in Klemme on business last Friday. Henry and his family are frequent callers in Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jacobs and children enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Papousek and son at Belmond.

Thanksgiving Day dinner guests at the W. F. Pavey home were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pavey, Mr. and Mrs. John Clements and Melvin Coobs.

Mrs. Esther Barz and sons, Milvern and Edward, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Josten and Mrs. Lena Schroeder were Mason City visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clements drove to Estherville Friday evening to attend a party there where a club gave a shower in their honor.

Thanksgiving Day guests for a goose dinner at the Henry Lewis home were Clarence Kluckhohn and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Etchen.

All of the Barz relatives, with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Barz of Waterloo, were dinner guests Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mrs. Esther Barz.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smid and daughter, Geraldine, went to Hampton last Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving Day at the home of Henry Smid and family.

Mr. and Mrs Adriant Bielefeld and daughter, Paddie, of Dougherty, were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nagle.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Missman enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Missman's sister, Mrs. Clifford Gregory, at Des Moines.

Mrs. Fred Ridder visited over Thanksgiving at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs Sam Harvey and daughter, Enid, at Mason City.

Mrs. Arthur Wellemeyer and daughters, Ruth and Nora, and Mrs. Martha Bredbenner and daughter, Novella, were Mason City visitors Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Elder returned last Wednesday from Osceola, where they spent several days visiting at the home of their son, Clarence and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ptacek and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klockman of Thief River Falls, Minn., were over Sunday visitors at the Wm. Wenz home south of Klemme. Mrs. Ptacek is a sister of Mrs. Wenz, while Mrs. Klockman is Mrs. Wenz's neice.

Mrs. Lloyd Lau returned home Sunday from the Park hospital at Mason City where she recently underwent an operation. Mrs. Lau is making a good recovery.

Thanksgiving Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lawhorn and Grandpa Freie were the John Braund family of Williams, and the Lou Davis family of Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the Rev. Wm. Galbreth home at Mason City. They also visited with relatives at Plymouth.

Mrs. John Bock went to Mitchellville, Iowa, last Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving and the week end visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Burr and family. Mitchell Bock drove down Sunday to bring his mother home.

Cradle Roll Party

The Cradle Roll members and their mothers will have a pre-Christmas party in the Methodist church basement, Dec. 12. There will be a tree, decorations and a short program. Each child there will receive a package.

About FROGS --
and MATTRESSES

"You can't tell by the looks of a frog how far he can jump!"

And you can't always tell by the looks of a Mattress just how long or how well it will wear!

Now then Wellemeyer, doesn't know any thing about Jumping Frogs.

But, he should know considerable about Mattresses, because, during the last 31 years he has visited mattress factories many times and has seen the men at work, and thus he knows what's inside each of the 15 Mattresses in his Store.

Do Not Buy A Mattress From A Stranger, Trade With The Man Who KNOWS!

Arthur Wellemeyer
Hancock County's Largest Furniture Store
KLEMME IOWA

Storm Fronts
Sash and Zonolite

WILL SAVE YOU MONEY! Put on Storm Sash and your house will be free from window draughts. If you have a porch that needs inclosing let us give you an estimate to inclose it with Storm Sash. We have Screen Door paper and Wire Cloth for the screen doors, which will keep out the cold and cut your fuel cost.

If you are burning a lot of coal go into your attic and see if it isn't warm up there. ZONOLITE will keep this heat down in the room where it belongs. ZONOLITE will save you 20 per cent of your coal bill. We will put it in for you FREE OF CHARGE!

Give These Three Items Some Thought!

Northern Lumber Co.
"Northco" Products

K. F. M. Specials
Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6-7

BAKING POWDER, K. C. Large size, Per can at 19c

TOILET SOAP, Wrisley's SPECIAL! 4 bars for 18c

COFFEE Martha Washington Per lb. at..... 17c

PEANUT BRITTLE 2 lbs. for 19c

SUPER SUDS Per box at 21c

Cake Flour Swans Down Pkg. at.... 22c

COOKIES, Plain Per lb. 09c

COOKIES, Fancy Chocolate, lb. 14c

ARGO STARCH Corn or Gloss 3 pkgs. for 25c

MEAT DEPARTMENT

PORK CHOPS Per lb. 19c

PORK STEAK Per lb. 19c

PICNIC HAMS Sugar Cured & Shankless Special per lb. 15c

Klemme Food Market
MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

UNIVERSAL SIMMER-SAVE BURNER gives automatic, controlled boiling heat at "click" of valve . . . Eliminates pot-watching.

UNIVERSAL PRECISION OVEN gives automatically controlled oven heat distribution . . . guarantees oven cooking success.

UNIVERSAL IN-A-DRAWER BROILER WITH SAVORY SMOKE-PROOF BROILER GRID gives smoke-free, spatterless broiling.

DURING OUR PRESENT FACTORY COOPERATIVE SALE ONLY . . . THIS BEAUTIFUL, MODERN SHELLANE-UNIVERSAL GAS RANGE
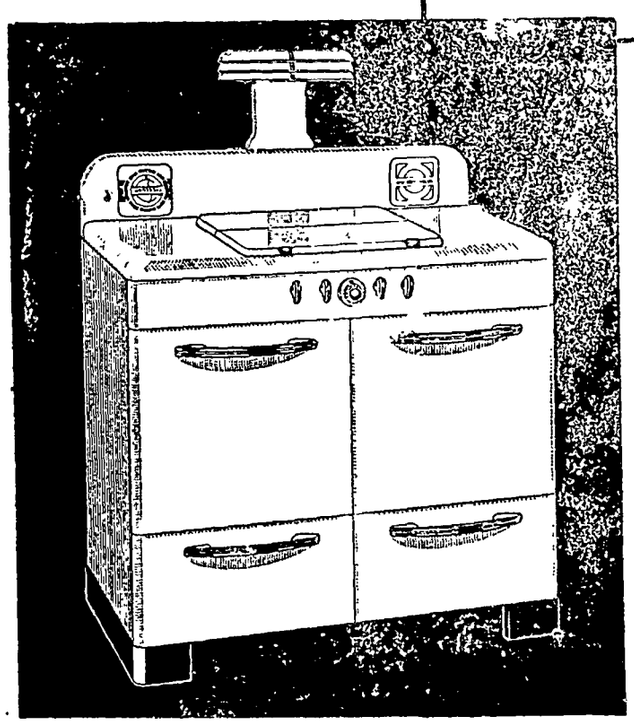
PRICED AT ONLY $119.00 Installed
Including Complete 11-piece Set of Aluminum Ware



Now SHELLANE Gas Service Costs No More Than Usual City Gas Rate!

Gone are the days—and good riddance, too!—when the country housewife was hopelessly shackled to her kitchen stove—held down and ground down by endless hours of useless drudgery—fighting ashes, soot, and dirt

Gone are those days because Shellane Gas Service now brings you all the conveniences of city gas service—and just as cheaply! For Shellane has been so sharply reduced in price that it now costs no more than the usual city gas rate.

Because Shellane is pure, natural gas, it burns without smoke or odor. Because it eliminates ashes, soot, and dirt, it eliminates kitchen drudgery—gives you three more hours of leisure a day It makes possible almost unbelievable cooking accuracy.

UNIVERSAL GAS RANGE SALE

Lewis Radio Shop

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 11, 1940. — NUMBER 28.

Free Movies In Klemme Every Saturday Before Christmas

GOOD PICTURE SELECTED FOR SECOND FREE SHOW SATURDAY

Merchants Are Saying "Thank You" By Holding Free Movie Shows

Free movies in Klemme every Saturday before Christmas will be the entertainment furnished to the people of this trade territory by the busness men of Klemme.

Come to Klemme Saturday, and bring your family and friends, enjoy a good picture show Free at the Community Hall, then after the show you will have plenty of time to do your Christmas Shopping.

The second show for Saturday, Dec. 14th, will consist of two short selections and the feature, "On Wyoming Trail." This is a show the whole family will enjoy. Remember the show begins at 2:00 o'clock.

The business men of Klemme appreciate your patronage and giving these free shows is their way of saying "Thank You, Folks."

Help!

HELP! THE LEGION NEEDS MORE TOYS

Unless the Legion gets more toys some child in this community is likely to be forgotten by Santa Claus on Christmas morning.

You can help make some child happy by giving the Klemme Legion men old toys which they will fix up and give out for Christmas. Sleds, wagons, skates, roller skates, mechanical toys, pull toys, dolls doll sets and other toys wlil oe appreciated. You can leave them at the Northern Lumber Co.

SERVICES FOR H. O. GRAU WERE HELD AT GARNER

Rites Are Conducted At Funeral Home With Music By Quartet

GARNER—Funeral rites were held Sunday afternoon at the Bohn funeral home for Herman Ole Grau who died at his home here Friday afternoon about nine months after the death of his wife.

The Rev. H. Milo Hall, pastor of the Garner Methodist church, was in charge of the rites, and music was supplied by a quartet composed of County Clerk Elmer Law, County Auditor Fred C. Misel, Otto Kloock and B .C. Berge, accompanied by Mrs. Kloock.

Burial was made at Concord cemetery, and pallbearers were Douglas Waller, Miles Waller, Jackson Waller, R. W. Waller, Verne C. Grau and Leon Hanson. Mr. Grau was born Jan. 12, 1871. He was nearly 70 years of age at the time of his death.

KLEMME COUPLE MARRIED SUNDAY EVENING AT REFORMED CHURCH

Miss Gladys Frogg and Mr. Everett Barz were united in marriage at the Klemme Reformed church at 7:00 o'clock Sunday evening, December 8th, with Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch officiating.

The couple were attended at the altar by Miss Grace Frogg, sister of the bride, and Mr. Milvern Barz, cousin of the groom. The Bride wore a blue silk dress while the Bridesmaid wore a brown silk dress. The groom and best man wore dark suits.

After the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Waterloo for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Barz is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Frogg of Crystal Lake, where she attended school. For the past year or more she had been employed as waitress in the Klemme cafes.

Mr. Barz is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barz and graduated from the local high school and since that time has been assisting his father with farm work.

We understand the couple will make their home in this community.

Reformed Ladies Aid Will Meet Next Wednesday

The Ladies Aid society of the Klemme Reformed church will meet at the church parlors next week, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 18th at 2:00 o'clock.

An election of officers will be held at this meeting. All members are asked to be present and to bring food for a pot luck lunch.

Army Plane Grounded

FOG FORCES PLANE DOWN AT THORNTON

THORNTON—Fog which blanketed this area forced an army plane to land in a field here Sunday afternoon. The landing was made without mishap and the plane continued to Minneapolis, its destination Monday morning.

Lieutenant Dion of Fort Sill, Okla., was flying an old type army training plane to Minneapolis where it was to be used for class demonstration in a high school course. It was to be used only in ground instruction, he said.

On passing near Thornton, Lieutenant Dixon said, he decided that he should not attempt to fly farther, because of the poor visibility. He landed his ship in a field on the Ellsworth Miles farm, a mile west of Thornton.

After landing his ship, he went to the Miles farm and said late Sunday that he would stay here until the visibility improved. He stayed in Thornton for the night.

The Music Department of Klemme High School
PRESENTS THE

Christmas Vesper Concert

Under The Direction of Bernard Onerheim

Sunday Evening, Dec. 15

KLEMME SCHOOL AUDITORIUM AT 8:00 P. M.

THEME: "Glory To God In The Highest"

Overture, "Christmastide"	E. De Lamater
High School Band
Lighting The Seven Candles
Introduction
Opening, "Silent Night"	Franz Gruber
The Christmas Gospel
"Today There Is Ringing"	F. Melius Christiansen
"O Darkest Woe"	German, 1628
High School Chorus
Overture, "The Three Graces"	Charles O'Neill
High School Band
Christmas Carols	Audience
"It Came Upon The Midnight Clear"
"Hark! The Herald Angles Sing"
"Silent Night"
"Joy To The World"
"Come Higher, Ye Faithful"
"Trepelo"	James Fulton
High School Band
"This Night"	F Melius Christiansen
"Lamb of God"	German, 1540
"A Carpenter Cut The Manger Wood"	F. Melius Christiansen
High School Chorus
Closing, "Premier"	J Olivadoti
High School Band

All seats are free and may be obtained from the Wilson Pharmacy beginning at noon, Wednesday, December 11th. No reserve seat will be held after 7 55 on Sunday evening, so come early.

Garner Couple Celebrated Their Golden Wedding Saturday

PARENTS OF KLEMME WOMAN CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Riebe Observed Anniversary Saturday At Garner

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Riebe, residents of Garner for more than one-half century, was observed Saturday at a banquet held at noon at the St. Paul Lutheran church parlors.

Mr. and Mrs Riebe, both natives of Germany, were married Dec. 7, 1890, in the home in which they now live in Garner, and the ceremony was performed by a pastor from St. Ansgar, since Garner did not then have a German Lutheran pastorate.

Twenty-five years ago the couple celebrated its 25th anniversary in the same house. The wedding was blessed by the Rev. George Koch at the anniversary celebration in 1915, and this ceremony Saturday was in charge of the Rev. H R Wrede.

Mr. and Mrs. Riebe are parents of two children, a daughter, Mrs. Paul Mueller of Klemme, and a son, Ben Riebe of Thornton, who were in charge of arrangements for the anniversary celebration.

There are also three grandchildren, two of whom were present Saturday. One grandson is now in the United States navy.

SHAMROCKS WIN ONE AND TAKE ONE LOSS IN WEEK'S PLAYING

The Klemme Shamrocks ran their string of victories to four, and then lost their first game of the season in their work during the past week.

The Woden cagers visited Klemme long enough last Friday evening to take a bad beating in both ends of a double-header. The local second team won by a score of 21 to 6, and the first team romped over the visitors for a 45 to 15 score To tell the truth, the second team played both games, as the varsity was in for little more than a quarter of the main event. Barz, Jacobs, and Bock each garnered eight points, and Kaduce accounted for seven

Thriller at Belmond

Tuesday night, Coach Bowles' warriors fought the tightest defensive encounter of their career, and lost a thriller to Belmond by a score of 12 to 11. The half-time score of 2 to 2 indicates just how hard it was to get baskets in that fray.

Belmond pulled away to an 8 to 2 lead early in the third quarter, but the Shamrocks closed the gap and were out in front by one point with a minute and a quarter of the game remaining. They held their lead for one minute, but a pass fell into the hands of Bachman, big Belmond guard, and he swished it thru for the deciding points.

Klemme's second team was more successful in the curtain-raiser, and racked up a 20 to 17.

Shamrocks Meet Bulldogs

This Friday night, the Shamrocks will tangle with the Kanawha Bulldogs on the local court.

U-Delt-Em Bridge Club Met On Thursday at Jorgenson home

Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson was hostess to the U-Delt-Em bridge club at her home last Thursday afternoon.

High score for contract bridge was won by Mrs. W. H. Galbreth and Mrs. Fred J. Arnold was second high. Mrs. A. H. Dulmes won a purse prize for having the most articles in her hand bag.

Lunch was served by the hostess after the games.

Obituary Of Mrs. Mette Ahrenkeil, Of Goodell

Mette Neilson was born May 28, 1865, in Stubbum, Denmark. The oldest of four children born to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Neilson.

Mette Neilson completed her common school education in the local schools of Stubbum, Denmark. And then attended the instruction classes of the Lutheran church, attaining membership by confirmation.

During her lifetime she lived in several different places, scattered, widely, and attended the local church of each community where she happened to be living, but she always held her membership in the Lutheran church of Denmark where she was confirmed.

At the age of 17 years, she migrated to America, and together with her parents, two brothers and one sister, settled in Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Her father was a carpenter and worked at this trade in Cedar Falls.

On October 18th, 1884, Mette Neilson and George Ahrenkeil were married at the home of the bride's parents in Cedar Falls. Four children were born to them, three sons and one daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ahrenkeil commenced housekeeping on a farm near Cedar Falls. Later they moved to Marshalltown where Mr. Ahrenkeil worked in a vinegar factory for five years. Since then, for about half a century they lived in Hancock county. Part of the time near Klemme, and part of the time near Goodell. The last few years were spent in retirement at her home in Goodell.

Her husband passed away in 1931.

Mrs. Ahrenkeil was an intelligent, mild mannered woman, a good housekeeper, a good mother, always kind and thoughtful with her friends and neighbors.

About weeks ago, Mrs. Ahrenkeil became ill, and was cared for at the home of her son. A. N. Ahrenkeil, Goodell, where she quietly slipped away to the Great Beyond on Wednesday morning, December 4, 1940.

She reached the age of 75 years, 6 months and 6 days.

She leaves of her immediate family, one son, A. N. Ahrenkeil, three grandsons, Duain and Allen Bonwell, and Taalkeus Ahrenkeil. One sister, Mrs. John P. Christains, Davenport, Iowa, and a host of more distant relatives and friends.

Red Cross Roll Call Now Finished In East Section

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Peter Steemblock, jr. & Maggie To John Watermiller, Wty Deed, 11-9-40, $2,500, N½ SE¼ of NE¼ 4-93-23.

C. E. Barnes and Gladys G., To Geo. A. Stokesbary and Ella B., Wty Deed, 11-16-40, $1. Lot 4, Blk 9, West Side Add. to town of Garner.

Ray Radloff & Anna To Edwin G. Greiman, Wty Deed, 12-2-40, $1, Lot 3 and S½ of Lot 2, Blk 1, Park Add. to town of Garner.

Harold E. Geddes & Rosa A. To Graret V. Geddes WtKy Deed, 11-30-40, $450. Lots 1 & 2, Blk 24, Orig. town of Hayfield.

Anton Lorenz To Mabel J. Nelson, Wty Deed, 9-21-40, $1. N½ Lot 15, Blk 8, Anderson's Add. to the Inc. town of Britt.

M. N. Michelson, single To Edd Tesdahl, Deed, 3-18-40, $1,200. Lot 11, Blk 9, Orig. town of Kanawha.

Dept. of the Northwest of the the Board of Home Missions of the Reformed church in the United States to Dick Barkema Wty Deed, 11-1-40. $1. W½ SE¼ 33-94 23.

TWIN LAKE CEMETERY WILL BE DISCONTINUED

The Bodies Buried Here Have Been Moved; Land To Be Sold

Hancock County was organized in 1858. Ten years later the court house was built at Concord, and possibly about 1875 Twin Lake township was organized, and shortly thereafter the township trustees purchased three acres of land near the exact center of Twin Lake township for use as a burial ground.

This was necessary at that time, because without Embalming and trails for roads and with horse-drawn conveyances, it was next to impossible to move a body far for burial, especially if death should occur in the winter or in the wet springtime.

This cemetery was enclosed with a woven wire fence and surrounded with stately pine trees, and was indeed a nice lay-out for a township cemetery.

The first burial was a pair of twin babies, children of Ashley and Emma Boughton, who died in August, 1885 and the father marked his lot with two little pine trees.

The next burial was five years later, in 1890, when Frank and Eva Ruka laid away their first-born, an infant son.

These are probabaly the only burials ever made in this cemetery at least, the township trustees have no record of any further burials.

And now, fifty years have elapsed since the last burial was made, and the trustees of today felt convinced that no family would choose to make further burials in this township cemetery, and their thought was that if the relatives were willing, they would move the bodies and sell the land and thus save the expense of upkeep on a cemetery no longer needed.

The families interested were contacted and permission was obtained for the removal of the bodies. The Ashley Boughton twins now rest beside their father on the family lot in the Belmond cemetery, and the little Ruka boy now rests with his parents in the Amsterdam cemetery near Goodell, Iowa.

This removal was completed on Dec 10th, 1940 and was done under the personal supervision of Arthur Wellemeyer, Funeral Director of Klemme, according to the rules of the State Board of Health.

And now, the Twin Lake township trustees propose to take such legal steps as are necesary to dispose of the land and discontinue the cemetery.

Red Cross Roll Call

Since the last publication of names, Eric Josten has contributed 75 cents to the local Red Cross.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL NOW COMPLETED FOR EAST COUNTY

New Records Set By Klemme, Ell and Liberty In Drive

Klemme, Ell and Liberty townships all played important parts in establishing a new record for memberships for the Garner chapter of the American Red Cross in the twenty-fourth annual roll call drive recently completed, according to Cholm Houghton, roll call chairman of the Garner chapter.

This year the Garner chapter wrote 858 membership cards and took in $943.05 in the eight townships and five towns in the east half of the county included in the chapter. Last year a record was made with 752 members and proceeds of $812.43.

Klemme made a new record with 78 members and total proceeds of $94.95. Workers were Mrs. Sumner Trumbull, Mrs. George Lawhorn, Miss Irma Merritt, Mrs. A. L. Kingery, Mrs. E. E. Lewis, Mrs. Henry Galbreth, Mrs. A. H. Dulmes, and Mrs R. A. Jorgenson. In Liberty township Mrs. Ben V. Greiman and Mrs. Ralph Upmeyer brought in 59 members, and in Ell township Mrs. E. J. Schneider and the Misses Mildred and Elsie Thiemann brought in 52 members.

Other statistics of the drive show these township results: Madison, 51, Ellington, 27; Concord, 61; Garfield, 57; Twin Lake, 74; and Avery, 28; and these town results: Garner, 313; Miller, 5; Hayfield, 19, and Goodell, 34.

Feather Party

LEGION AUXILIARY POULTRY PARTY TO BE HELD ON DEC. 18th

Wednesday night, Dec. 18th, at the Legion-Community Hall, the Legion boys will put on their annual Poultry Party. This party, which will be in the basement, will immediately follow the movie show, which begins at 8:00 o'clock.

The Auxiliary ladies will serve good hot coffee with doughnuts, free to those there.

A 250-pound hog, a turkey, a goose, duck, and a chicken will be given away. Bingo will be played for chickens, ducks, geese and turkey.

Get to town early, come to the movies and Poultry Party and have lots of fun.

The show on Wednesday night will be "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby."

Community Sing

The American Legion and its Auxiliary are planning a Community Sing on Sunday evening, Dec 22. This will be open to the public and no charge will be made. Details of the program will be in next week's paper, but it is the hope of the organizations to give the community an enjoyable evening to which everyone will be welcome.

Mrs. Stanley Thada Hostess To Double Four Club

The Double Four bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Stanley Thada last Wednesday where the afternoon was spent in playing bridge. High score was won by Mrs. Ed Buntenbach, while Mrs. Orville Bridges held the second highest score. Mrs. Clarence Lemke was a guest. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Present prospects are for a cash farm income in the United States including government payments of about 8.9 billion dollars in 1940. This is 5 per cent higher than in 1939, and will be the second highest for any year since 1930.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS — By Edward C. Wayne

Key Albanian Cities Fall as Greeks Continue to Drive Back Italy's Army; Turks Declare Martial Law in 'Crisis'; Murray Heads CIO as Lewis Resigns

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

BACK DOOR:
War in Reverse

Events on the Albanian and nearby fronts gave military experts what they considered proof that the grand British plan of conducting the war from now on will be to knock out Italy first, then turn attention to Germany.

Hence Europe was treated to a war in reverse. Although England was continuing bombing raids against military objectives on German and occupied European bases including Norway, chief attention was focused on Italy, both on the continent and in Africa.

To full reports on the Taranto affair were added the fall of Koritza, accomplished with British air aid, and further Greek successes were accompanied by word that British territorials were fighting side by side with Greeks in the snowy and mountainous terrain of the Albanian frontier.

Mussolini, after denying all British and Greek claims of victory, two days later was the first to announce to the world the fall of Koritza and that a major defeat had met Italian arms.

Gen. John Metaxas, handsome Greek leader, was hailed as the savior of the nation from the Italian menace, and the numbers of prisoners taken were succinctly summed up as "too many to handle."

MONKEY WRENCH:
In Diplomacy?

Germany's diplomatic maneuvers, usually believed forerunner to huge military operations, continued to be watched closely in half a dozen capitals, and wonder was expressed again whether perhaps Soviet Russia might throw a monkey wrench into the proceedings again.

Balkan resistance to Axis domination showed signs of crumbling, with Hungary first to give in to Nazi demands, and Rumania showing final collapse, though it was pointed out that the latter was already in Nazi hands.

At this moment, Russia stepped in with two moves, the significant character of which was evident, but the meaning of which was not at once ascertainable.

Russia recalled Schwarzkev, Moscow's ambassador to the Reich, and replaced him with another commissar.

Russia sent a warning to her little Slavic neighbor, Bulgaria, to be slow and careful about joining fully in the Axis plans.

Tass issued a flat denial, publicly, that Russia had had any hand in Hungary's joining the Axis.

These three moves were projected on the diplomatic screen for what they were worth, speculators wondering mostly about the "monkey wrench" angle. Dictator Josef Stalin has a record of throwing "monkey wrenches" into international affairs.

RUSSIA'S STALIN
Monkey wrench thrower.

They can't forget the famous "treaty of Tilsit" in the Napoleonic war, and many are still betting that in the last analysis Russia will prove the turning point in the upset of the Axis hopes—if they are to be upset.

TURKEY:
Again to Fore

Declaration of martial law by Turkey throughout all the European part of her nation brought her again to the fore as a major factor in developments on the southeastern front of the world war.

The Turks expressed their own attitude as follows:

"If the Germans are to aid Italy against Greece, Russia will not be willing to sit idle.

"However, even if Russia gives her consent, Turkey will defend herself.

"Bulgaria must be kept aloof from this newest move."

So Turkey, joining Russia in the warning to Bulgaria, evidenced that she was on the threshold of entrance into the war on the anti-Axis side.

The counter diplomatic move was coming from Von Papen, who was believed ready to offer Turkey a huge slice of France's Syrian territory if she would agree to remain aloof while the Germans go down through the Balkans and knock out Greece.

Observers felt there was little chance that Turkey would accept, fearing rather Axis domination of the Dardanelles than wishing a slice of territory she could take over herself any time she desired.

S.S.S.:
Stress, Strikes, Sabotage

The defense front in the United States moved into the second of the phases that always have confronted this nation in times of industrial stress.

After a series of incidents that were widely interpreted as sabotage, strikes broke out in key industries in widely separated sections of the country.

ROBERT JACKSON
He blamed the Reds.

Leading squabbles involved the Aluminum Company of America, a plant employing 7,500 workers, and the Vultee Aircraft corporation at work on government orders totaling $84,000,000.

Strike fever spread to Baltimore, where 2,000 city workers went out, demanding more money and pay for overtime, most serious public employees' strike in city's history.

The Aluminum strike was over company's refusal to discharge one employee who owed $12 back C. I. O. union dues.

The Vultee shutdown, also a C. I. O. matter, was blamed by U. S. Attorney General Jackson on "Reds." Workers were demanding raises of 50 to 75 cents an hour in pay.

Back of these scenes of labor stress stood the Dies committee, probing and publishing, charging the Nazis with responsibility for much and the Soviet agents with the rest of it all.

Jackson whipped back at Dies, stating he felt that the Dies group was accomplishing nothing but breaking down the public confidence in the ability of the G-men to solve crime and keep order and safety in the nation.

The C. I. O. closed its convention by electing Philip Murray to John L. Lewis' post, Lewis thus carrying out his "step-down" promise of the presidential campaign. The C. I. O. then announced it would attempt to organize the Ford Motor plant, and in the same breath asked governmental investigation of any affiliations the company might have with Nazi interests.

NAMES
. . . in the news

A report from New York indicated that Secretary of Labor, Frances Perkins, was resigning from President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Ralph W. Barnes, foreign correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, was found dead in the wreckage of a British bomber which crashed and burned near Danilov Grad, Jugoslavia.

OVERSEAS BITS

Mail—Lisbon air mail shipments were resumed, first flight carrying 3,000 pounds, a lot of letters.

Home—Stay home for Christmas is the German slogan this year, people being told that railroads will be needed for war purposes, and not for travel.

Surrender — Unconfirmed reports were that a first-line French battleship had surrendered to the British at Gibraltar.

Americanized—A veteran of the Argonne battle of American troops in France, seeing the Greco-Italian Pindus mountain fight, said the Greeks fought like the Yanks, from rock to rock and tree to tree.

Classes—W. L. White wrote from London that he couldn't understand Kennedy's statement that democracy was dead in England. He said all classes mix on equal footing when the bombs fall.

TWO MORE:
Destroyers

CHARLES EDISON
An honor for his father.

Down at Kearney, N. J., they launched two more destroyers for Uncle Sam's navy. The two new ones were called the Edison and the Ericsson, names that dovetailed nicely. The pair were named after Thomas Alva Edison, the greatest of inventors, and John Ericsson, who invented the famous Monitor warship in the Civil war. The Monitor, it will be remembered, defeated the Merrimac in the first battle between ironclads in the history of the world.

Tom Edison's son, Charles, is governor-elect of New Jersey. His mother sponsored the Edison destroyer. A great-great-grand-niece of old Ericsson sponsored the sister ship, Mrs. Ruth Wallgren. The architect of the Monitor was born in Sweden, where they haven't yet forgotten him.

French

These were two of the new American destroyers. England had obtained some 50 of the old ones, and was asking for more, like Oliver Twist. Meanwhile, France still had 50-60 destroyers, and also 50-60 submarines, and big ones at that. But one French battleship was out of the picture:

It was reported from Madrid that a big 22,000 tonner of the Paris class was sitting at Gibraltar. Over this Frenchman flew the white naval ensign of the British fleet, and on board there was a crew of typical Limies. Just how it got there, under foreign control, nobody seemed quite to know, but everybody admitted this Paris class-mate was a valuable sea prize.

DIPLOMATS:
In and Out

Two diplomatic travels caught public attention, one returning from Europe to the United States, Lord Lothian, and the other leaving the United States for France, new ambassador to Vichy, Retired Rear-Admiral Leahy.

Leahy, taking Bullitt's post after it was reportedly offered to and declined by General Pershing, was said to have been sent to France with friendly words from the White House, and offers of American aid to the destitute in occupied France during the winter.

It was not clear how this country planned to get the food to France in the face of Britain's final decision to continue a total food blockade, word of which was being brought back to this nation by Lothian.

The British ambassador, after a visit to his homeland to check up on war progress and Britain's war needs, was to ask this country for still stronger war aid.

Watchers figured that much of what Lothian wants for his country will be unobtainable until congress is in position to extend huge credits to London.

As the ambassador asked for wider aid to Britain, President Roosevelt announced army's newest and biggest bombers were earmarked for Britain in a trade for airplane motors, also in process of manufacture.

These bombers, with 3,000-mile range fully loaded with tons of bombs, will be used at once in sharpening the attack on German objectives, British war leaders said.

MISCELLANY:

Bombs — Two restaurant bombings, one in Philadelphia and the other in downtown Cleveland, were American repercussions of the Greco-Italian war, according to preliminary investigations.

T. B.—Medical men announced that Promin, new drug of the sulfanilamide group, was being tried out as an aid in combatting tuberculosis.

Birds—The Bronx zoo traded a touraco for a kea, swapping with the Washington zoo. A touraco is an African cuckoo and a kea is a New Zealand bird with the slightly odd penchant for breaking sheeps' backs with its beak.

Suicide—Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, U. of Chicago professor, suggested all the high school and college teachers of English commit suicide (academically), resign their jobs and allow some better method of education (like that at St. John's college, Annapolis) rush into "the vacuum."

Oil—A huge still at an Arkansas oil refinery was wrecked by a mystery explosion. G-men were called to investigate.

Roof—The roof of the Capitol at Washington being a bit weak, congress was moved out so that it could be repaired.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

MUSSOLINI NEEDS VICTORY IN GREECE

Upon the outcome of the war in Greece depend several things besides the question whether Hitler pushes on to Suez. Probably the most important is the war's effect upon the Italian people—especially in case of set-back or defeat.

For a long time, U. S. intelligence reports have indicated that Italy was the Achilles heel of the Axis and that the Italian people were none too enthusiastic about their partnership with Germany. Basically, the Italians always have sided more with Britain than with Germany. For years they had distrusted Germany, and for an equal number of years had done business with Great Britain.

Furthermore, the war has put a severe economic pinch on the Italian people. In return they have had no great victories and conquered no important territory. Hitler has been able to show new conquests to arouse the enthusiasm of the German people, but Mussolini has had nothing to show except Albania and British Somaliland.

Even the much-heralded advance of Marshal Graziani in Egypt now has bogged down on the sands of Sahara. So Mussolini needs a Greek victory and needs it badly. And if he doesn't get it, observers in Italy believe that dissatisfaction among the Italian people might become so great as to lead to a new dictator in Rome.

Note—Because of her vastly superior air force and more modern army, the odds are very much in favor of an Italian victory. Outcome of the war, however, depends on how much aid Greece can get from Britain, which cannot risk taking too many troops away from its Egyptian defenses; also whether Jugoslavia and Turkey come in.

* * *

HULL'S WORRIES

Deep absorption in the Greco-Italian war caused Secretary Cordell Hull to muff his lines in delivering his speech on foreign affairs for the newsreels.

Hull was supposed to speak three "takes," with a pause between the second and third. Instead he stopped after the first and began staring into space.

Recalled to the business at hand by the cameraman, he snapped his finger and exclaimed, "Sorry, I guess I've ruined everything for you boys. Would you mind starting over again?"

"Not at all, Mr. Secretary," grinned Tony Muto, Fox Movietone lens-shark. "But you sure had something on your mind."

"It's that situation in Greece," explained Hull. "I've been so concerned with it all day that I forgot for a moment that you boys were taking my picture. I promise to do better next time."

* * *

MAIL BAG

S.G.C., New Albany, Ind.—Roosevelt's speeches during the last part of the recent campaign were written by Judge Rosenman of New York, Irving Brant, and Robert Sherwood, famous playwright. However, Roosevelt's speeches, after being written in rough draft by others, are rewritten by himself. The Philadelphia speech was largely his own.

E.P., Springfield, Mass. — Secretary of State Hull did not attack John L. Lewis in his speech before the Press club, though it is true that a criticism of Lewis was contained in the original draft of the speech. When Frank Waltman, G.O.P. publicity chief, protested Mr. Hull's right to address the Press club, the secretary of state removed all political references from his text and merely discussed foreign affairs.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The plan still is in the discussion stage, but top-rung New Deal economists are seriously proposing that the WPA be abolished and replaced with a large-scale public works program for national defense.

The army is preparing for any eventuality no matter where it happens. It has quietly purchased over 7,100,000 yards of mosquito netting. Areas chiefly plagued by mosquitos are Alaska, Newfoundland, Greenland and Latin America.

Senator Charles McNary is one of the nattiest dressers in congress, also the best bean baker. The Oregonian loves to bake beans over an open fire, using bacon, molasses, sherry and 11 hours of simmering.

Out-going Vice President Jack Garner is the only man in history to have his picture hung at both ends of the Capitol. An oil painting of the former speaker hangs in the house lobby, and another portrait, by Howard Chandler Christie, has just been put up in the senate lobby.

Friends are kidding Henry Wallace about being disqualified for the job of vice president because, unlike Jack Garner, he does not "strike a blow for liberty." After eight years in Washington, Wallace does not drink.

At luncheon together the other day were Charlie Chaplin, Walter Winchell, Ernest Cuneo and Assistant Secretary of State Adolf Berle. Remarked Cuneo afterward: "I was a mere ego in a whirlwind of superegos. I practically had to blow a whistle to insert one word in the conversation."

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

WNU Service

THE LAST PAIR

Scene: Some desolate spot on this earth.

Characters: The last two survivors of a world war, a pair named Stoopey and Droopey.

Stoopey (as a hand grenade goes over his head)—Hah! You missed that time!

Droopey—I got the fellow behind you.

Stoopey—There's nobody behind me. Or behind you either. They've all been killed off.

Droopey—Gosh! has it got down to that? Are we really the only two left?

Stoopey—Yep.

Droopey—Well, who won?

Stoopey (sadly)—It's still a tie. I guess you and I'll have to fight it out.

Droopey—Hold on a minute . . . we oughta think that over. If I win you're left all alone. If you win I'm all left all alone. There wouldn't be any fun in that.

Stoopey—It might be an excellent idea. That makes everything a total loss. The complete end of a total war, see? No more arguments, no more back talk, no more alliances, no more trouble with anybody.

Droopey—That would be terrible.

Stoopey—But it would be what we have been working toward all along!

* *

Droopey—No; the winner would still have his hate left. What would he do with that?

Stoopey (thoughtfully—That's the hard part. A man would have to hate somebody. It would be part of his nature after all these years.

Droopey—Yeah. But there'd be nobody he could hate, except himself. You couldn't hate yourself.

Stoopey—There would be nothing else to do. And at this stage of hatreds it would be easy.

* *

Droopey—There must be some way out. Let's compromise. Let's call it off. You and I as the last two survivors can then hate each other and be quite happy about it.

Stoopey (suspiciously)—How do I know I could trust you? The first thing I know you might soften up and want to be friendly.

Droopey—There was a time when you wouldn't have thought that a bad idea.

Stoopey—I know, but this hate business has gone on so long it's become a habit. I'm an addict. So are you.

Droopey—Maybe you're right. O. K.! Stop worrying. If I give you my word to keep hating you 100 per cent I'll keep it. And I'll expect as much from you. (Wearily) Say, what was everybody fighting for, anyhow? I forget.

Stoopey—A better world. Everybody was determined to get it if it took the last man.

Droopey—And it damned near did!

* *

Stoopey (looking around)—Well, anyhow, we're near that new order, that new setup.

Droopey—Boy, you can have it! Capital gone, the economic system's gone, the bankers are gone, the critics are gone, barriers are gone, frontiers are gone . . . everything.

* *

Stoopey (his eyes falling on something in the wreckage) — Look. There's part of a broadcasting set over there. With just you and I left it's going to be awfully lonesome. We could put it together and still have the radio.

Droopey—What! and listen to EACH OTHER!

(He shoots Stoopey, who doesn't seem to care much.)

* * *

IS THERE NO LIMIT?

"God Bless America" is a pretty fine patriotic number, and it has become the American song of the crisis, but something should be done to protect it in the clinches. Night club comics sing it immediately following pretty raw interludes, masters of ceremony call for it after their most risque moments, and, believe it or not, in one Broadway picture and vaudeville house a fat, coarse, faded female blues shouter swings into it with a comedian, after they have both been giving a club-smoker atmosphere to the proceedings. And with an enormous American flag as their backdrop! It may be too much to expect them to see anything wrong about it, but isn't it time the audience started throwing things?

* * *

WITHOUT GAS MASKS

"Hitler and Molotov Talk for Three Hours."—Headline.

And they promised there would be no gas warfare this time!

* * *

Elmer Twitchell saw a friend of his going downtown the other night with his wife, his wife's mother and his wife's two sisters. "Under convoy," he muttered.

* * *

Mr. Green and Mr. Lewis want a labor peace no matter who gets hurt at it.

Ask Me Another
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. What bird is referred to in William Cullen Bryant's poem that ends: "Robert of Lincoln, come back again, chee, chee, chee"?
2. What did the United States acquire by the Gadsden purchase?
3. Who was the youngest President ever inaugurated in the United States?
4. What history-making document was signed at Runnymede?
5. Where does most of the world's supply of quinine come from?
6. What bird is an emblem of immortality?
7. What is the greatest depth under water that has ever been reached by a diver?
8. Do dogs eat as much as a man?

The Answers

1. The bobolink.
2. Part of Arizona and New Mexico (south of the Gila river).
3. Theodore Roosevelt at 42.
4. Magna Charta.
5. Java.
6. The phoenix (mythological).
7. Dr. Wm. Beebe went down 3,028 feet in his bathysphere in 1934.
8. Dogs often eat more food than their masters because they have much larger stomachs, that of a 40-pound dog holding three times as much as that of a 150-pound man.

ANOTHER BIG ADVANTAGE FOR YOU IN SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS

THE SMOKE OF SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS GIVES YOU NOT ONLY

EXTRA MILDNESS

EXTRA COOLNESS

EXTRA FLAVOR

BUT ALSO

28% LESS NICOTINE

than the average of the 4 other of the largest-selling cigarettes tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself.

THE SMOKE'S THE THING!

"And Thus It Was That Tatanka i-Yotanka, (Sitting Bull) Chief of the Sioux, Died"

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE scene was Soldier Field on Chicago's lake front, but on this particular occasion that huge stadium had been temporarily transformed into the "circus lot."

We sat in the shade of a dressing tent a little distance away from the "big top" while all around us surged and eddied the multifarious activities of the "world's greatest show" getting ready for an afternoon performance. And in that setting—which in time, distance and atmosphere was far, far removed from the Indian fighting days of the old Wild West—I took part in one of the most unusual interviews in all my experience as a newspaper man.

It was an interview with an Indian, and all of my questions and all of his answers were translated through the medium of that universal language of the Plains tribes, the "sign talk." The Indian was John Sitting Bull, the deaf-mute son of Tatanka i-Yotanka (Sitting Bull), famous chief of the Hunkpapa Sioux, and my finger-flipping, hand-waving "translator" was Col. Tim McCoy, adopted member of the Arapaho tribe and protege of Gen. Hugh L. Scott (in his time the white man best versed in the sign language). Today McCoy is one of the few white men who can carry on an extended conversation in that language.

I had brought with me a number of photographs, taken back in the eighties and nineties by D. F. Barry, famous for his pictures of the old-time Sioux. The eyes of John Sitting Bull lighted up when I showed him the picture of the four women standing in front of the log cabin, for one of these women was his mother. I asked him many questions about them and about his early life and one of these questions was answered in a singularly dramatic fashion.

"Do you have any recollection of the big fight on the Greasy Grass (Little Big Horn river in Montana) when Long Hair (General Custer) attacked your father's camp and he and all of his pony soldiers were killed?"

With a grim smile on his face, John Sitting Bull reached down and pulled up one of his buckskin leggings. Just above the ankle was a long white scar.

"That's why he remembers the Custer battle, although he was only four years old at the time," McCoy explained quickly. "When Reno's detachment of Custer's command struck the Hunkpapa lodges at the lower end of the village, the Indians were thrown into a panic at first. In all the confusion the little boy became separated from his mother. A bullet broke his leg, so he was unable to flee with the other children and their mothers. He crawled into some bushes and was found there after Reno's men had been driven across the river and taken refuge on the bluffs above. That scar is his reminder of the Battle of the Little Big Horn."

It might be mentioned in passing that the scar is more than John Sitting Bull's reminder of that famous frontier fight. It also helps refute one of the many lies which the white men have told about his father in relation to the battle. Stanley Vestal in his "Sitting Bull, Champion of the Sioux" (published by the Houghton Mifflin company in 1932) comments on that particular one as follows:

They said he was making medicine during the battle, "skulking in the hills" . . . They said he ran away from the fight . . that he was so excited that he forgot to take his small son with him, and that the child was therefore named The-One-Who-Was-Left. All this is poppycock.

The boy's name, properly translated, means Left-on-the-Battle-Field It was given him by Four Horns, Sitting Bull's uncle, in commemoration of the time when he himself had been left for dead on the field during a fight with the Crows, an event so famous that it was used to mark the year 1843 in the Hunkpapa calendar

The One-Who-Was-Left grew up to bear the name of his father, Sitting Bull According to his story, told in the sign talk and translated for me by Tim McCoy, it was the "men with red coats" (Royal North-West Mounted Police of Canada), who "live north of the boundary line" (indicated by reaching down as though putting stones on the ground at regular intervals, i. e., boundary stones) who conferred his father's name upon him. Later someone added "John" to that name, so he is now commonly known as John Sitting Bull.

Willing as he was to "talk" about his childhood days with his brother, Crowfoot, and his sister, Standing Holy, his attitude quickly changed when one event in his life was mentioned. His reluctance to recall it is quite understandable. For that event was the death of his father which took place just 50 years ago.

So one must turn to the pages of Stanley Vestal's biography of Sitting Bull for the true story of that tragic affair. It is told by a historian free from the usual white man's prejudices against the Indian, especially those prejudices which existed while Sitting Bull was alive. It is the story of an Indian patriot, made distrustful of the whites by broken treaties and unfulfilled promises, determined to maintain his authority as a chief of his people and to save them from losing all of their ancestral homes to the land-hungry whites.

The climax of this struggle came early in the winter of 1890. The Ghost Dance excitement which had swept the Sioux provided a convenient excuse for the government authorities to act. Professing to believe that Sitting Bull was about ready to lead an uprising of the fanatical Ghost Dancers, Lieut.-Col. W. F. Drum, commander at Fort Yates, was ordered to arrest the old chief at his home near the Grand river on the Standing Rock reservation. But Maj. James McLaughlin, agent at Standing Rock and the chief instrument of the Indian Bureau in its contest with Sitting Bull, persuaded the army officers to let him make the arrest with a force of his Indian police (among whom were some of Sitting Bull's bitterest enemies), with the troops in reserve, to be called upon if needed.

So on the night of December 14, 1890, a detachment of Indian police, led by Lieutenant Bullhead and Sergeants Eagle Man, Shave Head and Red Tomahawk, quietly entered Sitting Bull's camp and surrounded the log cabin in which he, his wife and his son, The One-Who-Was-Left, were sleeping Just before dawn they forced open the door, dragged the chief, naked, out of his bed and, none too gently, tried to help him get dressed

At first Sitting Bull made no effort to resist. But he soon became angry at the indignities he was suffering and refused to budge from the cabin, whereupon the policemen picked him up and, half-carrying, half-pushing, started him toward the door. By this time the whole camp had been alarmed and an angry throng of Sitting Bull's warriors came running from their tents with guns in their hands to resist the attempt of the "Metal Breasts" (police) to take their chief away Of the scene outside the door Vestal writes:

Sergeant Eagle Man, unusually noisy that night, kept shouting "Stand back! Make way! Get out of here!" and shoving against Sitting Bull's deaf-mute son, who—very much excited—pulled and shoved Eagle Man, making horrible noises in the darkness. And as the police forged slowly forward, the terrible wailing of women was mingled with the deaf-mute's unearthly gibberings.

A moment later Sitting Bull shouted to his followers, "Come on! Come on! Take action! Let's go!" Instantly Catch-the-Bear, chief soldier of the camp and commander of Sitting Bull's bodyguard, threw up his rifle and shot Lieutenant Bullhead in the leg. As the policeman went down, he twisted around and shot upward at Sitting Bull, who was trying to pull loose from his captors. As the chief reeled from the impact of the bullet, Sergeant Red Tomahawk shot him from behind and Sitting Bull dropped dead in his tracks.

For a little while there was a fierce melee of hand-to-hand fighting between the police and Sitting Bull's warriors. Then the fire of the "Metal Breasts" drove the warriors back into the timber and the police took refuge in Sitting Bull's cabin, bringing their dead and wounded with them.

Then, writes Vestal:

While they were moving the mattress to make a bed for Bullhead, the police found Crowfoot Sitting Bull's son, hidden there Crowfoot was a schoolboy of 17 winters A Metal Breast called out, "There's another one in here" The boy sprang up, crying, "Uncle, I want to live! You have killed my father! Let me go!"

They called to Bullhead where he lay, covered with blood, mortally wounded "What shall we do with him?" Bullhead answered, "Kill him, they have killed me" Red Tomahawk struck Crowfoot, the blow sent the boy sprawling through the door Those outside shot him dead They showed no mercy: their hearts were hot that day

A short time later, the troops, which had been sent from Fort Yates under the command of Capt. E. G. Fechet to support the Indian Police if needed, arrived on the scene and rescued the survivors in Sitting Bull's cabin.

Otter Robe . . . acted as interpreter for some of the soldiers He heard Sitting Bull's wives crying, went into the smaller cabin, and found them and some other women seated in a row on the bed They would not get up, and so the soldiers pulled them off Under that bed they found Sitting Bull's deaf-mute son and another lad. The soldiers searched these lads to disarm them, found that one of them had a jack-knife with a broken blade, and took that. It made Otter Robe laugh .

When the police and soldiers started back to the fort, there was a dispute among the Metal Breasts They did not wish to put Sitting Bull's body in the same wagon with their own dead But Sergeant Red Tomahawk had strict orders to bring in the chief dead or alive, and he said they must do it, there was only one wagon for the dead Then the policeman decided to throw the chief in first, and lay their dead comrades on top of him. This was done And thus Sitting Bull was carted like a dead dog toward the stronghold of his enemies, with four dead men riding his mangled, blood-soaked body over the prairie ruts.

Perhaps, even though half a century has elapsed since that cold winter morning, John Sitting Bull still remembers the scene in the log cabin as the "Metal Breasts" dragged Chief Tatanka i-Yotanka toward the door; perhaps he has an all-too-vivid recollection of his brother, Crowfoot, with hands uplifted, begging for mercy; perhaps he sees again in memory his father's last journey "over the prairie ruts."

So his reluctance to "talk" about the events of December 15, 1890, is quite understandable!

John Sitting Bull "sign talks" with Col. Tim McCoy.

The Indian women pictured above are (left to right): Has-Many-Horses (or Captures Horses), Sitting Bull's daughter; Good Heart, his younger wife; Four Times, his older wife, mother of John Sitting Bull; and Standing Holy, John Sitting Bull's sister. This photograph was taken by D. F. Barry in front of Sitting Bull's cabin on the Grand river, North Dakota, in 1890, and the women in it were identified (possibly for the first time in history) by John Sitting Bull in an interview with the author of this article in 1936.

Winchell

(WNU Service)

The New York Scene:

Faces About Town: The F.D.R. Jrs. practically necking at a ringside table (next to this colyum's) the other night just when several newspaper men phoned him to check this "reliable" tip: "We hear your wife is in a plane bound for Reno" . . . Count Vincent Orssich talking tactlessly for an alien . . . Prettiest of the Texas skyscrapers—turning every neck at the Stork club—lovely Mary Dowell, of Fort Worth . . . Tommy Manville growing old gracefully. He can dance only one chorus, and then retreats back to his coca cola and ringside table . . . Charlie Chaplin being greeted affectionately wherever he goes.

Sallies in Our Alley: George Jean Nathan, the critic, was asked his opinion of a young newcomer playwright. "The best thing I can say about his writing," Nathan'd George "is that it is legible" . . . Wilkie Mahoney, the scripter, says that for every genius in Hollywood there's a rotten movie on Broadway . A drunk displaying a gigantic Willkie button was yelling· "I won with Willkie! I won with Willkie!" in front of the Rivoli theater. One of the stem's gamblers asked him: "Whaddaya mean you won with Willkie? He came in second!" . . "So what?" hiccoughed the stew, "I had him across the board!"

Memos of a Midnighter: They are saying that Twentieth Century-Fox stopped growing when Shirley Temple didn't . . . Phyllis Ruth is Pretty-Face Shearer's successor in G. Raft's affections . . . Marjorie Logan, filing from golf champ Chapman, is the shadow of J. Carrott of Greenwich . . . The L. Carltons of the Post have a new Blessed Hevent . . . The Taft Bellmen's annual affair will attract the Broadway crowd. Satdee at the Park Palace on 110th . . . Doris Greb, one of the many omigoddesses in the Copacabana girl division, is the reason for the nightly attendance of Horacio Sanchez Alzagar. He is Macoco's nevview and one of the richest blokes in Argentina.

New Yorchids: The American Artists Group's contribution to quicken appreciation for contemporary art—Yuletide cards. Merely wonderful . . . Twentieth Century's "Chad Hanna," a Nunnally Johnson delight . . . Gloria Blake's thrilling trilling at the Beachcomber. A 17-year-young lark . . . Joey Adams' Loew's units, the talk of the circuit . . . The British Empire Circle's Grand Ball at Manhattan Center . . . "Big White Fog" by talented colored players at the Lincoln theater . . . And the marriage of words and music in the ditty: "The Girl Who Took a Second Look at Me."

Broadway Smalltalk: An Austrian baroness is to be evicted from a midtown hostelry because her kind friend, an aging banker, refuses to pay her rent any longer . . . George Davis, who was recently reported proposing to Gypsy Rose Lee, has quit Harper's Bazaar . . . The wiseguys will betcha that wheat will again be $1.50 in May, 1941 . . . "Meet the People," the revue in H'wood (it is a pet there) debuts in New York December 25 in a Shubert house . . . Jerry Cooper thinks the authors of those three Hollywood plays (which libel the movietown people) should be written up themselves in a show entitled: "Beverly Heels" . . . Park & Tilford, now celebrating their centennial, pensioned four vet workers with full salary . . . Allan Finn is now radio ed of Newsweek . . . French Vichymen are using U. S. society women (whose friends leave by clipper) to carry their confidential messages to Vichy. To escape censoring and control at Bermuda.

Manhattan Murals: The projectionist at Radio City Music Hall listening to Uncle Don on his portable radio while screening "Escape" . . . The two Japanese with miniature candid cameras slung over their shoulders. One took pictures (at night!) of a Fifth Avenue shop interior. Sunday eve'g about 6:45. Looked very comical . . . The eatery on 116th and 7th which advertises: "Don't Eat Until I Open!"

Midtown Vignette: Jean Harrington, the post-deb, tiffed with the Stork management recently and stayed away from the joynt for a few weeks. She walked in again Sunday midnight, waited for the balloons to fall an hour later. She caught a lucky one containing a $100 bill . . . The following day she gave a luncheon for several friends —at "21"!

Midtown Melodrama: Stage magazine's debut was a bit tardy for the darndest reason. The editors investigated the background of one of the four "pretty and promising" girls who were shown meeting all the celebrities—and discovered that one of them, a cute and dimpled thing, was too well-known about Sixth avenue as a Midnight Madonna . . . And so another had to be selected and new pictures made . . . She is so hurt—she has vowed to tell the wife of her "finger-man" next time she meets them in public.

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WALT DISNEY'S "Fantasia" has made its bow at last, and also made history. It is "a series of eight musical compositions, interpreted by Leopold Stokowski and the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra" with comments by Deems Taylor. It is also the most beautiful presentation of color and sound that the screen has ever offered.

The music was recorded by the orchestra, then Disney and his idea men listened to it, and on the screen we see what the music suggested to them. We have Mickey Mouse as the "Sorcerer's Apprentice," amazing prehistoric animals in Stravinsky's "Rite of Spring," delightful centaurs and "centaurettes" in Beethoven's "Pastoral Symphony."

WALT DISNEY

Disney selected the music carefully, to appeal to all tastes. He hoped to aid in popularizing classical music, an undertaking so ably begun by radio. Special RCA reproduction equipment is necessary to handle the innovations in recording.

The experiment is a magnificent one, into which Disney has poured more than two million dollars. Its success should be as great as the courage of its producer.

Fred Astaire has the longest motion picture feature devoted exclusively to dancing in the world, and it's getting longer all the time. The picture, right now, is being lengthened by two dance numbers which Astaire created for himself and Paulette Goddard in his latest Hollywood production, "Second Chorus." The addition of these two numbers makes Astaire's own picture run more than four hours, and probably the world will never see it; a stickler for originality, he has accumulated it from the thirteen screen productions in which he has appeared so far.

Mary Anderson is Hollywood's newest Cinderella. One of the girls who was tested for the role of "Scarlett O'Hara" and didn't get it, she did play "Maybelle Merriweather" in the famous Southern war picture, and then stayed on in Hollywood and worked for Warner Brothers. Now she has a difficult role in Richard Rowland's "Cheers for Miss Bishop." Only eighteen, she has a good start on what promises to be a highly successful career.

About a year ago lovely Joan Blaine, featured in the NBC serial, "Valiant Lady," was walking down Broadway when she slipped on the icy street and fell. A quiet young man picked her up, brushed her off, and disappeared in the throng.

"Just my luck," she told some of her friends later. "I didn't ask his name, and I'll probably never see him again."

Recently Rikel Kent, director of "Valiant Lady," told her she was acquiring a new man on the show. "His name is Lawson Zerbe," Kent told her. "You don't know him." Then Zerbe appeared for rehearsal, and—you've guessed it. Out of all the actors in New York, he was the quiet young man who'd come to her rescue nearly a year before.

Gary Cooper is dead set against anything that is unnatural; he insists on letting nature take its course before the cameras, which is why you never see him curl his lips and show his teeth when he's angry—watch him in "North West Mounted Police" and you'll see him as he is in real life. He's one of the few actors in Hollywood who depends on a mirror only when he's shaving, making up for work or combing his hair.

ODDS AND ENDS—James Melton and Irene Beasley used to sing for nothing on a small station in Memphis, Tenn., years ago, after a lapse of ten years they encountered each other in a New York night club, and discovered that they were booked to sing on Raymond Paige's "Musical Americana" on the same night . . . John Wayne and Ward Bond made a gallon of authentic moonshine the other day for a scene in "Shepherd of the Hills," using a real still, and when the scene had been shot the federal agent who represented law and order poured the "corn" on the ground, while various members of the cast lamented, but to no avail.

Things to do

Pattern No. Z9033.

SLEEPY, an oilcloth burro, is as lazy as he can be. He just nods and sleeps all day, and seems not to care what the children do with him. But he has three redeeming recommendations· a cute personality, ease of making, and his ability to part from fingerprints with the whisk of a damp cloth.

* * *

Z9033, 15c, brings outlines and directions for this 12-inch burro with the green yarn mane and red halter. Send order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

SALESMEN WANTED

SALESMEN WANTED in Iowa to sell low cost monthly payment Accident and Health insurance. Liberal comm American Republic Ins. Co., Walnut Bldg., Des Moines.

Before One's Conscience

The hardest of all ordeals for an honest man is to stand arraigned at the bar of his own conscience. He knows more than the keenest, the most vindictive enemy could urge for a verdict of guilty.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Charity by Knowledge

A man's charity to those who differ from him upon great and difficult questions will be in the ratio of his own knowledge of them, the more knowledge, the more charity. —Norman McLeod.

There's a Good Reason You're Constipated!

When there's something wrong with you, the first rule is: get at the cause. If you are constipated, don't endure it first and "cure" it afterward. Find out what's giving you the trouble.

Chances are it's simple if you eat the super-refined foods most people do: meat, white bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, you should eat a natural "bulk" producing food—such a one as the crunchy, toasted, ready-to-eat cereal, Kellogg's All-Bran. Eat it often, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

BUREAU OF STANDARDS

● A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.

● You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Buried.

A hen on the H. J. Sutton, Truesdale, farm was buried for three days in a snow bank during a recent blizzard. However, she fared very well during her confinement and improved her time by laying an egg.

Fires.

Two barns on the Ralph Huff farm near Mt. Pleasant were burned recently, each on different days. Causes of the fires are unknown.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE- P B. - C. W. BOAR Tried. 90 rods west of Avery Center school. Wm. B. Sandry. D11--13p

FOR SALE---CHOICE BUILDING Lots in Klemme. Mrs. Bertha Schlei, Goodell route. N27-D4-18p

FOR SALE-- FIVE DUROC JERSEY Boars. Mrs. C. A. Arnold, Klemme, Iowa. D-4tfc

FOR SALE - ONE SHORTHORN Bull and Spotted Boars. R. H. and A. S. Harris, Meservey. D-4tfc

FOR SALE - 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each Klemme Auto Company. tfc.

SERVICES OFFERED

FREE TO THE FIRST FORTY Farmers who bring in their Harnesses for oiling we will give a $1.00 Stockmen's Pocket Knife. Harnesses oiled for only $1.00 at Kimball's Leather Store, Klemme tfc

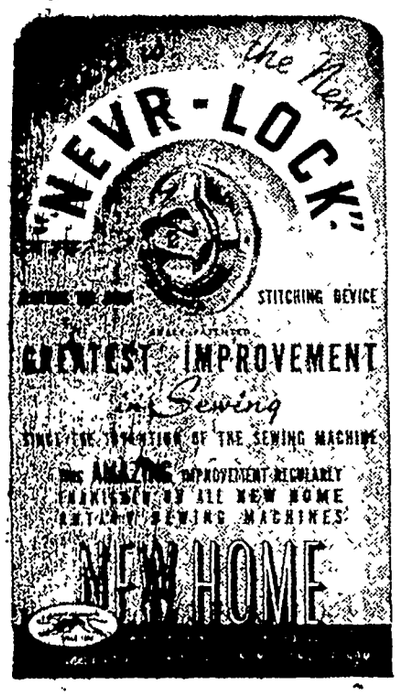
CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—LOG CHAIN, A FEW weeks ago Owner can have same by paying cost of this ad. 2tp

FOUND—TRUCK DRIVERS BADge, No. 4210. Call at Times Office. 1tc.



Wellemeyer

IT DOESN'T TAKE A

Barrel of Money

To Enjoy These Advantages of A FAIRBANKS-MORSE

Coal Stoker

In Your Home!!

1. Fire your furnace once a day or less.
2. No Dirt or Coal Dust. Stoker Coal is clean.
3. Save almost a third of your Fuel Cost. Stoker Coal is inexpensive and your furnace never gets too hot.
4. No Ashes. Just remove a few clinkers with special Tongs furnished with the machine.
5. Room Temperature is constant regardless of the outside temperature.
6. You have a DEALER at home.

Fred J. Arnold

Phone 77R2 Klemme, Iowa

Around Iowa

Two Birds.

Acting out in real life the old saying about killing two birds with one stone, C. G. Bray, Waukon, killed two pheasants with one shot last week.

-oOo-

No. Engineer.

After traveling 12 miles without an engineer, a Rock Island train was stopped at Thornburg recently. The engineer, Omer Cress, is unable to explain how he fell out of the cab.

-oOo-

For Just An Hour.

Expecting to spend Armistice vacation with his mother at Pierson, Iowa, Dayton Countryman of Montgomery, Alabama, drove the 1,100 miles home. The blizzard changed his plans for him and he was able to spend only an hour with home-folks.

-oOo-

Short Time.

Just one day after he arrived in Logan to start the practice of medicine, Dr. John William Katzenstein was called into the U. S. army service medical corps.

-oOo-

Winners.

Wesley, Bill and Bob Lancaster, LeMars boys, are money ahead after their dog started a fight with a fox. It took all three boys and the dog to conquer the animal, but finally won the battle.

-oOo-

41.

Forty-one cattle belonging to G. C. Brock, Algone, died during a recent storm when they stampeded into a dredge ditch.

-oOo-

Enrolled.

When Ray Burkhardt enrolled at the Frederika 4 rural school in Bremer county recently he was welcomed with open arms. It had been difficult for the school to maintain a perfect attendance record which it needed, with only 10 former pupils, to keep its rating as a standard school.

-oOo-

Five Generations.

Five generations were present at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Leasure at their home in Marion.

-oOo-

Record.

Janet Williams, freshman from Lucknow, India, at Cornell College at Mt. Vernon, not only holds the distance from home record of 10-000 miles, but she holds the All-India women's discus championship record, heaving the platter 80 feet, 3 inches.

-oOo-

Gashed.

A horse belonging to Art Glore, Moravia, was injured severely when a door handle on Harry Pabst's, also of Moravia, car ripped open the horse's side. Pabst's car was thrown out of control and went into a ditch some 60 yards from the accident.

-oOo-

Civet Cat Story.

Mr. and Mrs. George Studor, of near Central City, found a live civet cat on a shlef in the basement. That night, the Studors were unable to tell whether it was the gas from the exterminator used—or what—that kept them awake.

oOo

Pinned Down.

Don Birdsell, Waukon, was pinned between a truck and a string of parked cars when he cranked a truck which had been left in gear. One of his legs was broken.

-oOo-

No. Worry.

A Take-It-Easy club that boasts a national following sprang up on the campus at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon. Membership in the organization means that the individua doesn't quit work, but that he quits worrying over conditions that he can't control. For those who want to join but are worried over platform, dues and badges, take it easy there are none.

-oOo-

Explosion.

J. P. Christensen, Anita, found out that the tank on an acetylene welding machine wasn't empty when he struck a match. Christsen and three other men were injured as a result of the explosion.

oOo

Cousins.

Three cousins, all near the same age, graduated with the class of 1940 from the Gibson high school. All three bear the first name of Lester.

oOo

Artist.

In a listening period in the phonograph room at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, a student asked for a certain piece for which he knew neither the name nor composer — in fact ,he couldn't even whistle it. But he did make a drawing reflecting its mood and tone. The student in charge of the phonograph records (and this is a true story) played the right number. It was "Siegfried's Rhine Journey" from "Gotterdamrung."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Cranberry breakfast bread is a holiday hot bread all winter long. Pour quick coffee-cake batter over three tablespoons melted butter, one-half cup sugar, and one and one-half cups of whole raw cranberries spread in the bottom of an eight-inch pan.

Pork chops go further and taste like more when you have the butcher cut a pocket in each chop, then stuff the pocket with a good bread dressing. Bake in a moderate slow oven (325 degrees F.) for about an hour and a quarter, or until pork is quite tender and golden brown.

Some printed silks take to water, others do not. Instead of risking the whole dress, make certain by testing a piece of the material snipped from a belt or along an inner seam. If the colors do not run, you'll be safe in giving the article a quick washing in your washer in thick, lukewarm suds.

Top holiday mincemeat pies with tree-shaped pastries. Cut the trees out of rolled-out pastry, bake on cookie sheets in hot oven until lightly browned, then place on the baked pies. Spread each tree with cheese spread for an added touch.

Sprinkle chopped parsley over tomato soup for the traditional Christmas colors. Let thin strips of bread, toasted in a slow oven until crisp, be the soup accompaniment.

Just to prove that the wind was really blowing in Spencer recently, residents point to the hole in the steel roof of the grandstand at the Clay County Fair grounds.

The vaccine now used in controling equine encephalomyelitis is produced from the embryos of incubating chicks and makes the animal immune from 5 to 6 months.

Don't like your face? Then cange it. A famous expert on make up tells how to do it with a few cents' worth of cosmetics. Don't miss this page showing the results obtained in making grandma and mother look as young as this season's debutante. See The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Tally Ho Club Entertained At The Neuberger Home

The Tally Ho Club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Neuberger last Friday evening where bridge was played. High scores were won by Harvey Barz and Mrs. Stanley Thada.

Lunch was served after the games.

IOWA HEALTH DEPARTMENT GIVES REPORT ON BIRTHS IN STATE

Girls Lagging Behind In Number Of Births The Past Year of 1940

An increase of 319 births in Iowa during the first six months of this year revealed today by comparison of provisionsal 1940 statistics released by the Iowa state department of health with corresponding figures for 1939.

During the first half of the current year there were 20,667 births in the state compared with 20,348 for the corresponding period in 1939, the statistics showed.

An upswing in male births mainly accounted for the difference in totals. Male births for the first six months this year totalled 10,627 contrasted with 10,385 for the period last year, an increase of 242. Female births showed an increase of 77, rising from 9,963 in 1939 to 10,040 this year.

While all births increased, illegitmate births declined during the period. From January thru June 1939 there were 205 illegitimate births recorded while during the period this year the total was 174.

Death statistics were not available for the first half of the year but for the first four months of 1940 deaths were less than for the same months in 1939. The death total this year from January thru April was 9,41 compared with 9-783 in 1939.

Female death otals, smaller each year than totals for males, gave the largest decrease in 1940. The number of women dying in Iowa the first third of thsi year was 4,-330 compared with 4,443 for these months in 1939. Statistics for male deaths showed that during the period each year there were 5,311 in 1940 and 5,340 in 1939.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaeffer were Mason City shoppers Monday.

The Farm Bureau meeting will be held at District No. 8 Friday night. Dis. No. 7, 8, 9, 3, and 4 will put on the program.

Mrs. D. H. Hammon and Rastus, were dinner guests at the Albert Lange home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ax and family visited at the Paul Stromer home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kropp were supper guests at the Emil Beier home Sunday evening.

Mrs. August Ridder of Klemme was a supper guest at the Ben Ridder home Sunday.

Milton Weisbrod of Fenton called at the George Schoenwetter home Monday.

Mrs. George Schoenwetter and Mrs. Milton Weisbrod and children visited Mrs. Russel Hanson and infant daughter at the Belmond hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Rose Tanner and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kalkwarf and family were dinner guests at the W. E. Tanner home in Goodell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schoenwetter drove to Fenton Saturday and took Mrs. Weisbrod and children to their home there after spending a few days visiting in this vicinity.

Mrs. Roy Schaeffer called on Mrs. Will Lemke at the Park hospital at Mason City Friday.

Anthony Strehl, Remsne, was badly cut when a pheasant crashed into the windshield of his car. The pheasant was killed.

It does not pay to feed a tein supplement when fat cattle are being full-fed on a luxuriant pasture.

KLEMME MOVIES

Klemme Legion Community Hall

Wed., Dec. 18th

"I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby"

Also Comedy and Selected Short Subjects

Show Starts at 8:00 P. M. Adm. 10c & 20

WERE YOU ONE OF THOSE

Caught

WITH YOUR CAR

Unprepared?

DURING THE RECENT UNSEASONABLE BELOW ZERO WEATHER?

The recent surge of unseasonable sub-zero weather experienced the past two weeks caught many motorists unprepared . . . causing more or less damage to many cars. Were you one of them? However, that should be a good warning to all to check your car and be sure it is completely WINTERIZED!

WE ARE GLAD TO CHECK YOUR CAR . . .

It is better to be safe than to be sorry . . . so we will be glad to help you by checking your Radiator, Battery, etc. to see that your car is ALWAYS ready for any emergency. This is just another one of our many motorist services.

SEE US TODAY FOR YOUR . . .

. . . Firestone, Goodyear or U. S. Royal Tires and Tubes for Cars, Trucks and Tractors, Anti-Freeze in Prestone, Zerone, Alcohol; Winter Radiator Fronts for all cars; Pennfield and Paraland Winter Motor Oils; White Rose Gas blended for Winter Driving.

SNOW TIRES . . . Let Us Equip Your Car Today . . . .

Hancock County Co-Op. Oil Station

HERMAN PAUL, Mgr. Klemme, Iow

K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13-1

PANCAKE FLOUR
Dixiana
2 packages for 25c

STALEY'S SYRUP
Waffle
½ Gallon at 35c

MONARCH SPICES 3 boxes 25c
QUALITY for 70 YEARS

IVORY SOAP 2 lg. bars 15

GUN DROPS
Per lb. at 09c

FANCY COOKIES
2 pounds at 19

Nashes Coffee Drip or Reg. per lb. 29

BLEACH
Chlora-San Per Quart 15c

ORANGES, Large
Blue Goose
Per dozen 35

Grapefruit Lg. Texas Seedless Per dozen 25

Klemme Food Market

MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSEN, P

Car.

B. Marquis, Garden Grove, quished his car to the town Osceola to pay a $100 fine for less driving.

eef that turns from a dark red very bright red after it is cut because of exposure to air, because of any change in the lity.

rank Senneff F.E. Blackstone

Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS

rner Iowa

Freak.

A three-legged Duroc Jersey hog on the Ray Lammers farm, of Earlville, gets around as well as any other of the hogs in the pen.

Present indications point to the feeding of fewer lambs in the Corn Belt and the western states this fall and winter than were fed last season.

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insurance
Is A FYR-FYTER
Sold & Serviced By
ELMER AX

Gifts...
For Everyone
At Our Store

Bridge Sets
Atomizers
Toilet Sets
Coty's Sets
Serving Trays
Manicure Sets
Wrist Watches
Safety Razors
Shaving Mirrors
Cigarette Lighters
Alarm Clocks
Wahoo Boards
Military Sets

Pocket Watches
Flash Lights
Xmas Box Cigars
Jack Knives
Smoking Sets
Cribbage Boards
Games
Kodaks
Bill Folds
Christmas Cards
Cedar Chest Stationary

Wilson's Pharmacy
M. Wilson, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

S! WE MUST SELL OUR
Used CARS and TRUCKS
No matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find CAR or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. ny bargains in late models. You take no chances when you l with us. Come in and look them over.
Garner Motor Sales
LDSMOBILE CHEVROLET

Give Practical
GIFTS!

year make it a point to give Practical Gifts that are useful throughout the year. You find such Gifts at this hardware store.

ift Suggestions-
not make this an "Electrical" Christmas?
e have a nice selection of Electric Toasters, Waffle s, Food Mixers, Refrigerators, Wash Machines, Irons s, Lamps, Electric Razors, etc.
o a nice line of Novelty Goods, Glassware, Ovenware, , Silverware and Cutlery.
u will find many nice items on our display tables that make Practical Gifts for every member of your family.

for the Kids
What better Gift than one of our Speedy Sleds, an easy running Coaster Wagon, a Handsome Bicycle or Tricycle? We have a big line to choose from!
EXTRA! EXTRA!
See the wagon which won the dog derby at Garner by the Stromer kids. Our Wagons have SPEED!

E. F. Jacobs, Hdw.
Plumbing & Heating
Farm Service Store"

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor ..... Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor ..... Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman ..... Eunice Larsen
Sophomore ..... Audrey Man
Junior ..... Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior ..... Shirley Johnson
Dramatics ..... Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music ..... Jacqueline Kudje
Sports ..... Henry Kaduce
..... Leonard Kaduce
Grade News ..... Arlene Schmidt

WEEK'S MORAL. "What you are speaks loudly I can't hear what you say" —Emerson

SPORTS

Klemme defeated their third rival in succession last Tuesday night by defeating Garner 20 to 13.

Garner and Klemme were in a deadlock at the half 7 to 7. At the third quarter Garner had a two point advantage

The local second team was defeated 19 to 18.

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The home economics girls finished their dresses this six weeks Now they are starting "Buying and Selling"

Everyone in the study hall from 11 00 to 12 00 on Thursday wondered who it was that was whistling. They found out later it was no one but Mr Onerheim workin. with the steam engine in physics class.

Class officers have started to plan the Christmas program which the high school holds every year the Friday before Cristmas

This really happened the night of the Garner-Klemme game

Stranger "Is your name Schwirenberg?"

John S "Well I'm not a squirt from the Fountain of Youth"

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

GEOMETRY CLASS"

We wonder why Mr Galbreth always picks on the Jnuiors to solve the difficult problems Could it be because the Seniors are not so intelligent" Could be "

Billy Zabilka is the most patriotic boy in the Junior class for he used to wear a red, white and blue novelty flag pin, and a red white and blue novelty airplane pin Lately we noticed Billy has just his flag pin left and the airplane pin has appeared on Phyllis. We wonder which one he is loyal to Phyllis or the United States Dagwood better be on guard for "Blondie" (Betty Lass) has been flirting with a certain blonde-blue-eyed Jnior boy.

In highway safety, Mr. Kingery said it was legal to "PARK" on the highway with lights on dim . . . Ellen blushed. We wonder why????

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

English I, find us frantically studying "Interest in Words."

Mr. Bowles is still trying to show us how to be intelligent buyers in Business Training.

Radio and wireless telegraphy are truly puzzling we found this week in General Science.

Tasty (?) cheese sandwiches were made by the home economic I girls on Wednesday. Doris is turning out to be a cook.

How do you like to be pushed around by Corrine, Calvin?

Miss Ott can't figure out why a certain freshman boy has suddenly become so quiet in study hall. The reason is that he believes in Santa Claus

MUSIC NEWS

The Christmas Vesper Concert of the Klemme High School Music department will be given Sunday, Dec 15, at the high school auditorium at 8 00 p m. All seats are free and may be obtained from the Wilson Pharmacy beginning at noon Wednesday Dec 11 No reserved seats will be held after 7 55 on Sunday evening So come early

This is the first concert given by the combined group and a large attendance is expected. Be sure and give us your support

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

We have been working on our Christmas program. Everyone has some part Plans are being made for decorating our room

Mavis Ewald Ronald and Junior Buntenbach received 100 per cent in spelling

The losing side in the English contest treated the winning side Those on the winning side are Patricia, LaVonne, Herbert Mueller Ewald and Edward Buntenbach.

GRADES 5 & 6

Reporters for this week were Elizabeth and Delores.

In art classes we have been drawing Christmas pictures

The sixth grade made a rating of six on their fifth arithmetic self-testing drill. Roger Ridder got a star rating

The following people had perfect spelling scores this week Roger Bock, Roger Ridder, Clarence, Peggy, Phyllis, Ruth Stokesbary, Elizabeth Mary Lou, Edward, Irene Helen, Velma, Donna and William

The fifth graders are making chalk drawings showing scenes on the Westward Movement.

GRADES 3 & 4

In health class third grade dramatized the story "Mother Goose in Health Land"

Fourth grade are busy studying about the jungle We made a big jungle picture and jungle posters

We enjoyed the story Jacqualea read to us Friday morning

In fourth grade history we are studying about the New England colonies.

We had 100 per cent in spelling Larry, Iris, Marjory, Luella, Merlin and Phyllis Stokesbary.

This week the reporters were Iris and Isabelle

KINDERGARTEN

Sharon's birthday was Thursday. She was five years old. She gave each one of us a pop-corn ball. They were very good.

We choose the person who read the best story to us during the story time, to read the story to the third and fourth grades. We chose Jacqalea, and the name of the story was "The Candy Dag."

Harley, Jacqalea and Sondra had perfect spelling papers this week.

Each one of us made a funny Santa Claus face.

The second grade are reading a new book called "Down the River Road."

New Apple Variety Not Yet Named Shows Much Promise

As a result of crossing two apple varieties, Delicious and the Patten Greening, a new promising apple variety has been developed by horticultrists at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new apple has not yet been named It has the characteristic shape of the Delicious, but is much larger. The skin is a bit tough, but the good coloring and unusual size of the new cross indicates that the apple will have a good market value.

AVERY TOWNSHIP NEWS

Mrs. Clarence Swalve and daughter, Linda Lee, were visting at the Verner Nelson home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trampel and sons; Mr. and Mrs. August Trampel and children were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Peter Trampel home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lauen and son, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Suntken, Mrs. Paul Cavitt and son; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swalve; Miss Anna Trampel, Clarence Trampel, Arthur Conners were among the shoppers in Mason City Thursday.

Mrs. Will Lassohn of Swaledale spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr and Mrs. Wm. Bell.

Mrs. Paul Kramer and daughter, Pauline and son, Donald, returned home from Sullivan, Mo., Thursday being called there by the serious illness and death of her mother Mrs John Lands.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bell and son, Donald, were entertained as dinner guests at the Will Bell home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall and children were entertained to a turkey dinner at the parental Merle Kennedy home, Sunday

Mr and Mrs. Herbert Marshall and daughter, Irene, were shopping in Mason City, Monday.

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL
Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:
Church School	10:00 a. m.
Worship	11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor	7:00 p. m.
Forum Clinic	8:00 p. m.
Recreation	9:00 p. m.
Wednesday:
Bible Study	8:00 p. m.
Thursday;
Choir Practice	8:00 p m.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10 00 a m. English Service.
11:00 a m Sunday School.
1:30 Rehearsal for Christmas program

Young People will meet for play practice at time set by directors of the various plays.

Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:
Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.

Rude.

Hunters on the Lynn Gilmore farm near Delmar will get a very cold welcome in the future. Two hunters, after shooting over a team of horses as Gilmore was shucking corn, were warned to be careful. A few minutes later — another shot. Results, a runaway and Gilmore was thrown under the wheels of the wagon. The two hunters made a hasty exit.

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

EYES EXAMINED
GLASSES FITTED
Dr. Frank L. Knutson
CLEAR LAKE
Our Prices Are Lower

Avery
"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 11-12.
"I Want A Divorce"
with Joan Blondell and Dick Powell.

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13-14. (Double Feature)
"Rangers of Fortune"
with Fred MacMurray and Patricia Morrison.
ALSO —
"Dawn Patrol"
with Errol Flynn and Basil Rathborne

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 15-16-17.
"Moon Over Burma"
with Dorothy Lamour, Robert Preston and Preston Foster.

A Gift to the Woman
Who Takes Pride in Her Cooking
The President
ELECTRIC RANGE
A new, better, easier way to cook. Heats faster. Cooks and bakes better than ever.
SS-T, TAKE A TIP, IT'S A PIP!
For Only 5c A Day!

Give Her This Big, Beautiful New Hotpoint
ELECTRIC RANGE
With Measured Heat

New CALROD Units
Cook With Measured Heat
EACH Calrod cooking unit provides 5 Measured Heats. Cooks faster or slower, as needed, but always economically. Coils are self-cleaning. Easily removable reflector can be washed like a pie tin.

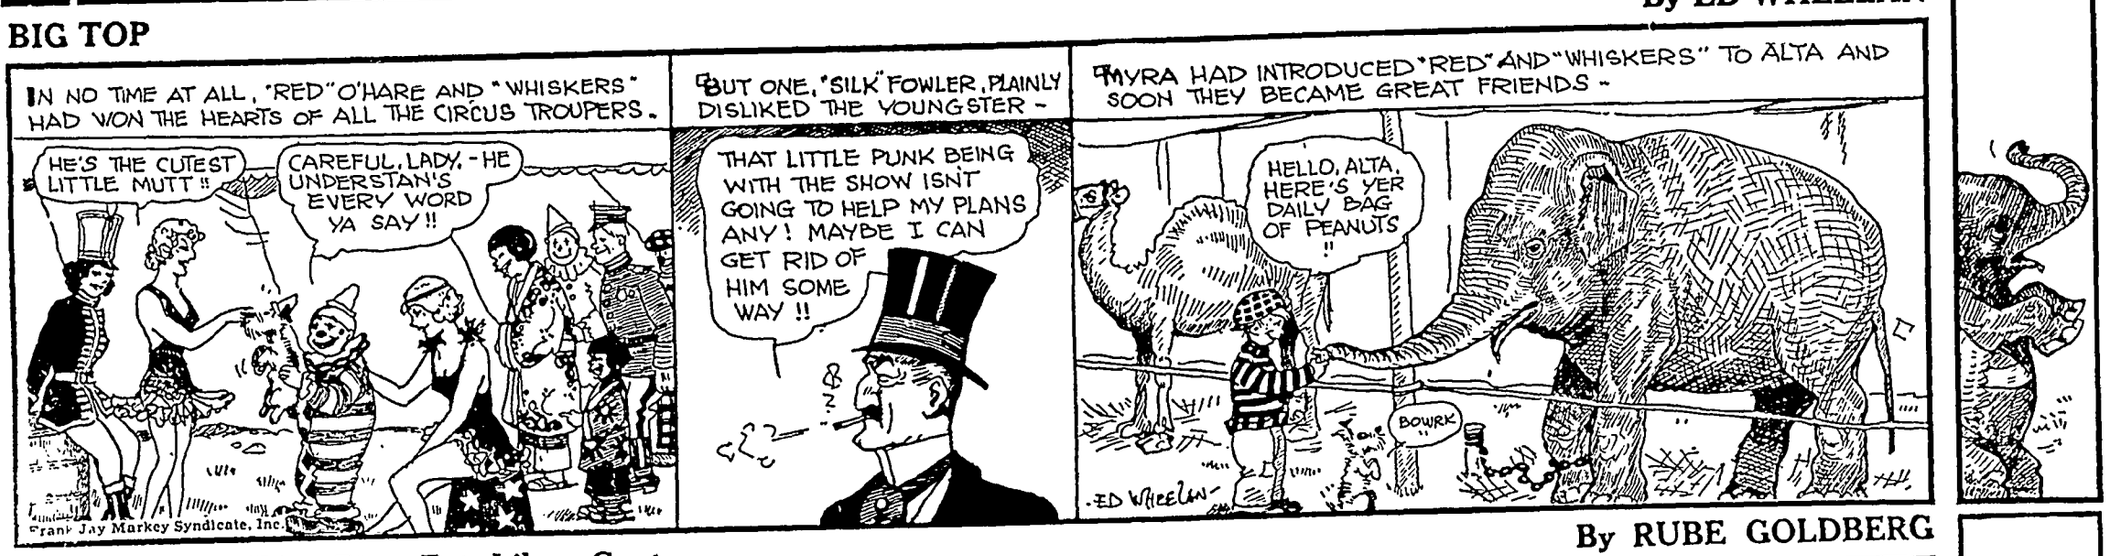
SEE THIS GRAND CHRISTMAS VALUE AT THESE STORES

Central States
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN



IN NO TIME AT ALL, "RED" O'HARE AND "WHISKERS" HAD WON THE HEARTS OF ALL THE CIRCUS TROUPERS.
HE'S THE CUTEST LITTLE MUTT!!
CAREFUL, LADY, - HE UNDERSTAN'S EVERY WORD YA SAY!!
BUT ONE, "SILK" FOWLER, PLAINLY DISLIKED THE YOUNGSTER -
THAT LITTLE PUNK BEING WITH THE SHOW ISN'T GOING TO HELP MY PLANS ANY! MAYBE I CAN GET RID OF HIM SOME WAY!!
MYRA HAD INTRODUCED "RED" AND "WHISKERS" TO ALTA AND SOON THEY BECAME GREAT FRIENDS - HELLO, ALTA, HERE'S YER DAILY BAG OF PEANUTS!!
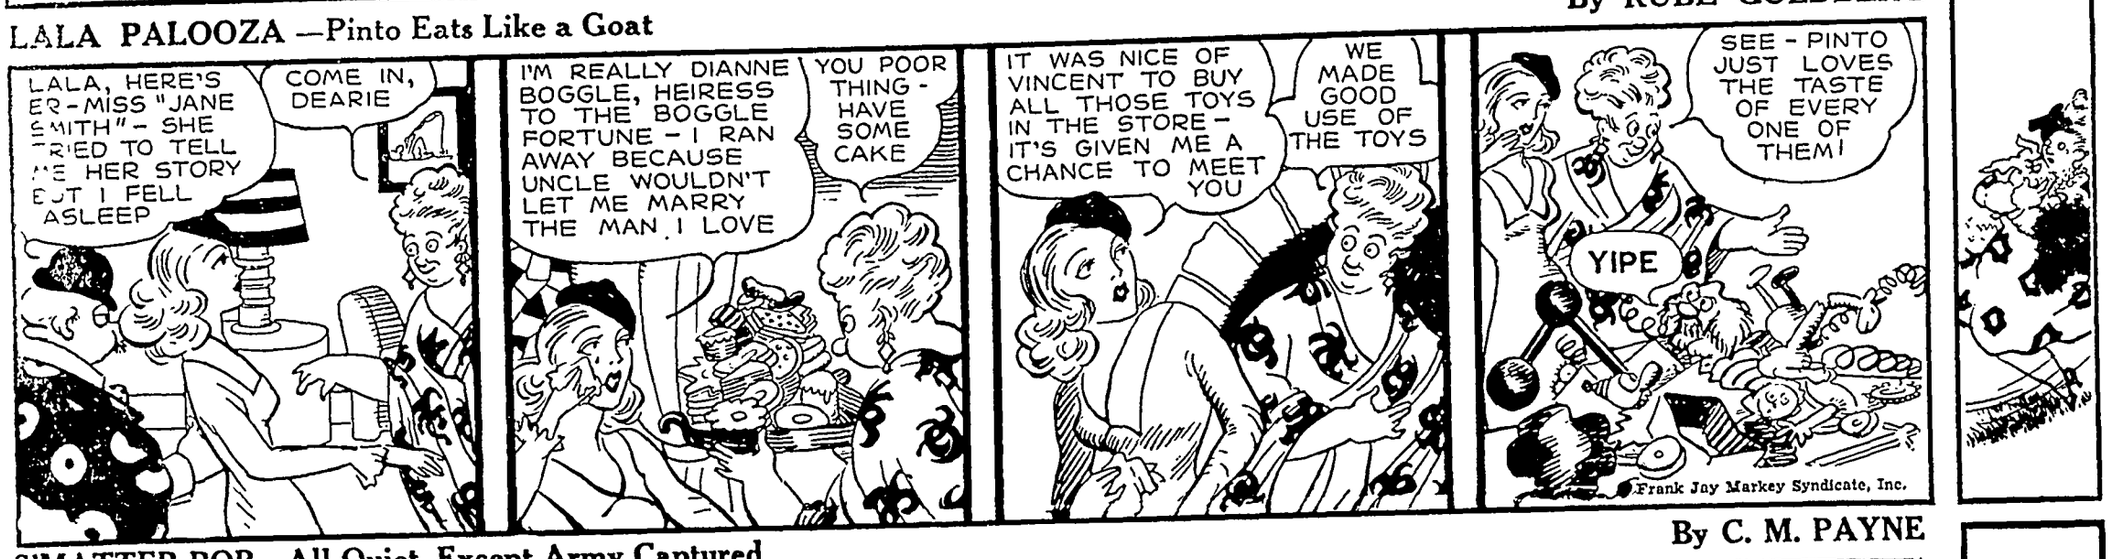
BOWRK
ED WHEELAN
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

LALA PALOOZA —Pinto Eats Like a Goat

By RUBE GOLDBERG



LALA, HERE'S ER-MISS "JANE SMITH" - SHE TRIED TO TELL ME HER STORY BUT I FELL ASLEEP
COME IN, DEARIE
I'M REALLY DIANNE BOGGLE, HEIRESS TO THE BOGGLE FORTUNE - I RAN AWAY BECAUSE UNCLE WOULDN'T LET ME MARRY THE MAN I LOVE
YOU POOR THING - HAVE SOME CAKE
IT WAS NICE OF VINCENT TO BUY ALL THOSE TOYS IN THE STORE - IT'S GIVEN ME A CHANCE TO MEET YOU
WE MADE GOOD USE OF THE TOYS
SEE - PINTO JUST LOVES THE TASTE OF EVERY ONE OF THEM!
YIPE
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP—All Quiet, Except Army Captured

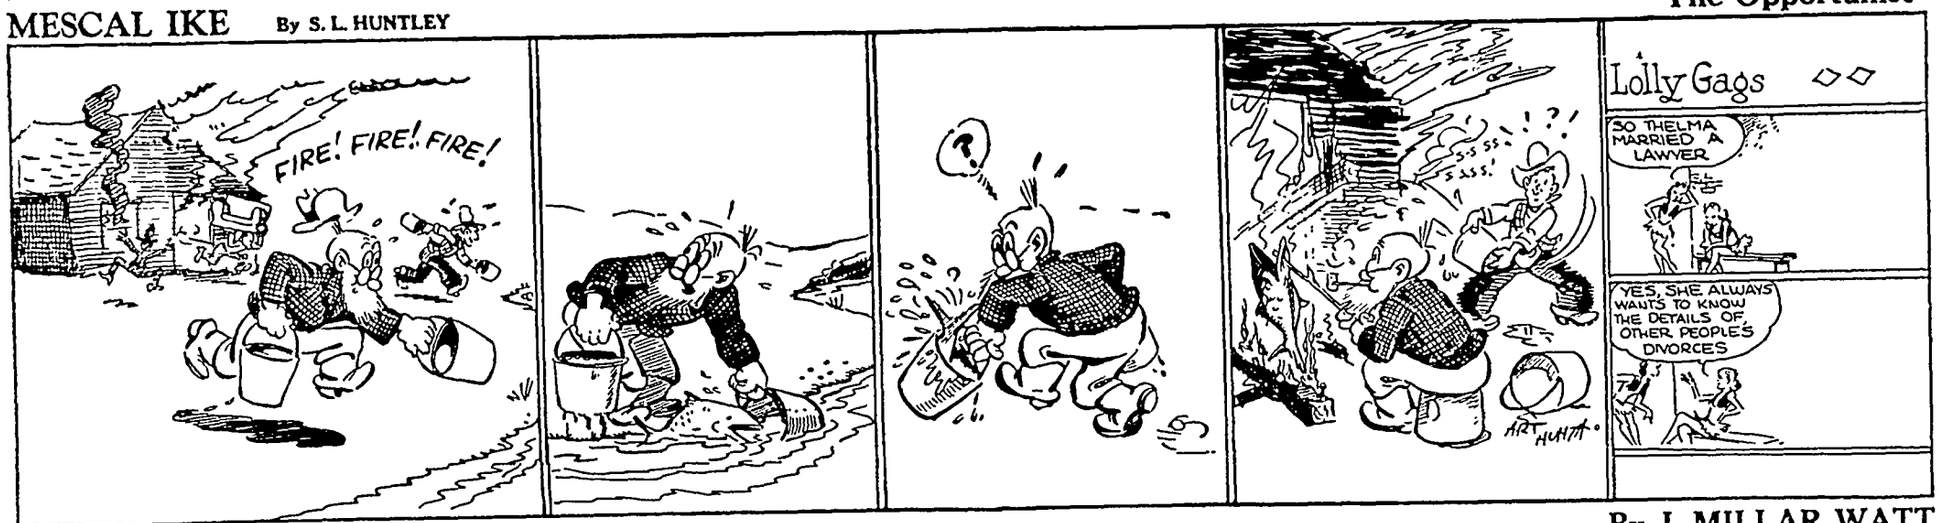
By C. M. PAYNE

HEH, HEH! HERE I AM SAFE FROM THA FOE AN' HE CAN'T FIND ME!
WHAT'S ALL THE JABBERING ABOUT?
OH-H, I WASN'T TALKIN', I WAS JUST THINKIN'!
I JUST WANT TO HEAR WHAT I'M THINKIN' ABOUT!
SURRENDER!
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

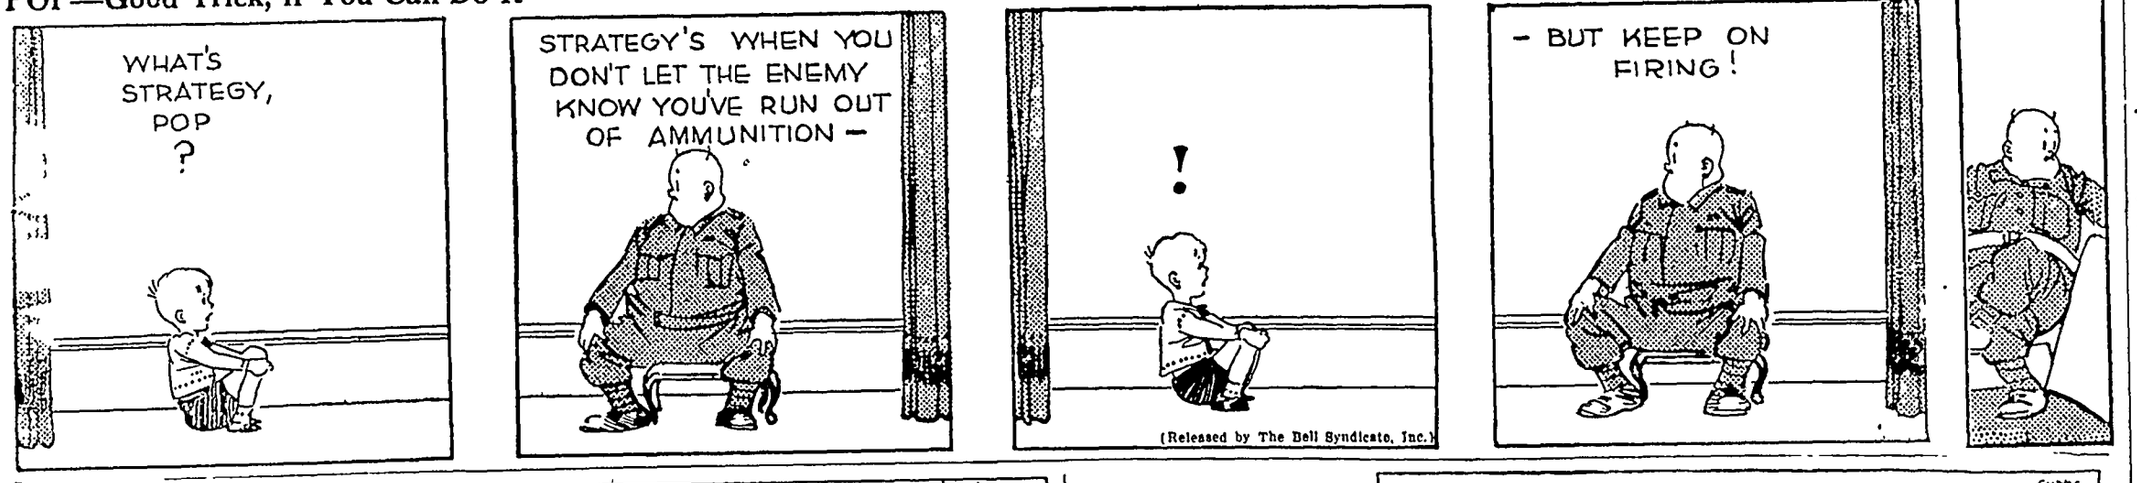
The Opportunist



FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!
Lolly Gags
SO THELMA MARRIED A LAWYER
YES, SHE ALWAYS WANTS TO KNOW THE DETAILS OF OTHER PEOPLE'S DIVORCES
ART HUMMA

POP—Good Trick, if You Can Do It

By J. MILLAR WATT



WHAT'S STRATEGY, POP?
STRATEGY'S WHEN YOU DON'T LET THE ENEMY KNOW YOU'VE RUN OUT OF AMMUNITION -
!
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
- BUT KEEP ON FIRING!

THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

"Lookee, Pop, here comes the daily double."

BOOK MARKER

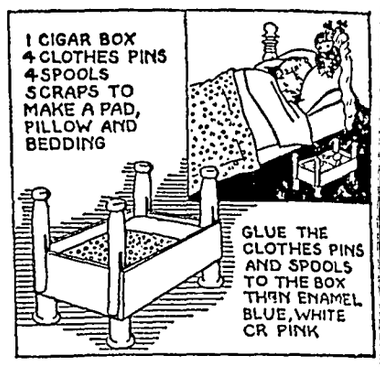
By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

GLUYAS WILLIAMS
SETTLES COMFORTABLY WITH BOOK, OPENING IT AT THE PLACE HE LEFT THE MARKER LAST TIME HE WAS READING IT
AFTER A WHILE BEGINS TO REALIZE HE HAS READ ALL THIS BEFORE AND THAT SOMEONE ELSE WHO IS READING IT, TOO, MISPLACED THE MARKER
AFTER LONG SEARCH FINDS THE PLACE AS WIFE CALLS WILL HE PUT A NEW BULB IN HALL LIGHT. LEAVES BOOK, OPEN, ON ARM OF CHAIR
RETURNS AND READS SEVERAL PAGES BEFORE REALIZING HE'S AT THE WRONG PLACE AGAIN, JUNIOR HAVING KNOCKED BOOK OFF AND PUT IT BACK OPEN AT ANOTHER PLACE
FINDS RIGHT PLACE AT LAST, AS HE IS CALLED TO 'PHONE. HAVING MISPLACED MARKER, MARKS PLACE WITH COUSIN SUE'S LETTER
RETURNS AND FINDS WIFE TOOK COUSIN SUE'S LETTER OUT TO ANSWER IT. GIVES UP READING AND LISTENS TO RADIO INSTEAD
(Released by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Four-Poster Doll Bed For Santa to Bring

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

NOBODY knows better than I how many willing helpers good old Santa has. Hundreds of you have written me that you have made gifts from directions in this column and in SEWING Books 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. Book 6 is now ready and as it goes into the mail I want you all to know that I have a very



1 CIGAR BOX
4 CLOTHES PINS
4 SPOOLS
SCRAPS TO MAKE A PAD, PILLOW AND BEDDING
GLUE THE CLOTHES PINS AND SPOOLS TO THE BOX THEN ENAMEL BLUE, WHITE OR PINK

real feeling of friendship for you who find joy in making things with your hands. Your letters keep me posted about the things you want to know. Refurbishing old furniture, curtaining difficult windows, new slip covers, rug and patch work designs, lamp shades, dressing tables, smocking, gift and bazaar novelties—you have asked for these and they are in the new Book 6. It also contains a description of the other booklets in this series.

* * *

And here is something that is not in any of these booklets. This tiny four-poster doll bed will be just the thing for Santa to leave beside some one's big bed on Christmas Eve. After the cigar box, spools and clothes pins are glued together and enameled you will have a grand time making the bedding, pillow and coverlet. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name .....

Address .....

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN
MOROLINE
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 5¢

Love Is Sight

Love is not blind. It is an extra eye which shows us what is more worthy of regard.—J. M. Barrie

FREE
4 cups of
GARFIELD TEA
You'll like the way it snaps you back to the feeling of "rarin' to go" fitness and internal cleanliness. Not a miracle worker, but for temporary constipation is causing indigestion, headaches, listlessness, Garfield Tea will certainly "do wonders." FREE SAMPLE 10c — 25c at drugstores
For Prompt Relief from Headaches without opiates or quinine
GARFIELD HEADACHE POWDER
10c - 25c
FREE
Stamped, addressed envelope brings liberal FREE SAMPLES.
GARFIELD TEA CO., Inc.
Dept. 4
41st at 3rd Ave.
B'klyn, N. Y.
(See doctor if headaches persist)

Use of Riches

Riches are a blessing only to those who make them a blessing to others.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use 666
LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS
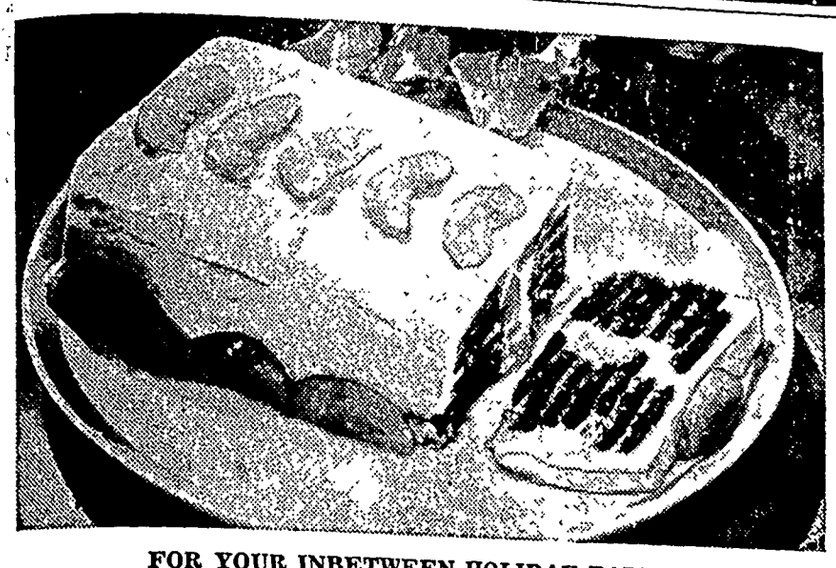
COUGH DROPS

Unsociable One

Society is no comfort to one unsociable.—Shakespeare.

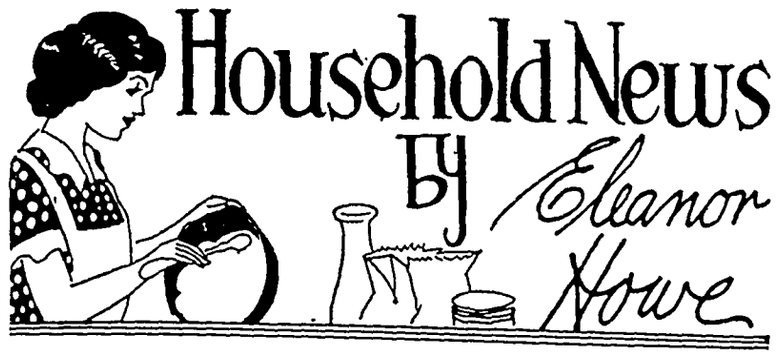
That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acids and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

CREATING NEW WEALTH TO ORDER
● Advertising creates wealth by showing people new and better ways of living, and as it creates new wealth it contributes to the prosperity of everyone touched by the flow of money which is set up. In this way, don't you see, advertising is a social force which is working in the interest of every one of us every day of the year, bringing us more wealth to use and enjoy.



FOR YOUR INBETWEEN HOLIDAY PARTIES
(See Recipes Below)

Household News By Eleanor Howe

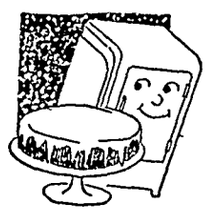


Expected, and unexpected situations too, arise during the holiday seasons. People drop in just to wish you a "Merry Christmas." Others are invited for some specified time. The night before Christmas you may want to have a "trimming the Christmas tree" party. Or, your daughter may ask a few of her chums in for a small party.

Whether you expect to be on the entertainment committee for a family reunion, or just a hostess for a casual holiday gathering, it's a good idea to put on your thinking cap and plan some easy-to-prepare mass refreshments.

Sandwich makings that the guests can put together themselves are always a good choice for quick-party menus.

Fruit refrigerator cakes are the perfect solution for chief cooks who want to play the role of leisurely hostess without last minute culinary responsibilities. They are practical, too, from the standpoint of using left-over fruits that might be cluttering up the refrigerator. These delicacies always have a glamorous "party" look and appeal to every sweet tooth; but, best of all, they can be made in jig time in the morning, leaving the afternoons and early evenings free for "fun."



Peach Refrigerator Cake.
(Serves 8)

1⅓ cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
¼ cup lemon juice.
1 cup canned sliced peaches (well drained)
2 egg whites (stiffly beaten)
24 chocolate wafers

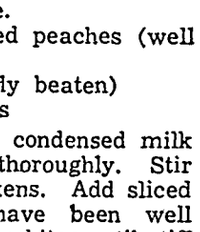
Blend sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice thoroughly. Stir until mixture thickens. Add sliced peaches, which have been well drained. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Line narrow oblong pan with wax paper. Cover with fruit mixture. Add layer of wafers, alternating with the fruit mixture, finishing with a layer of wafers. Chill in refrigerator 6 hours, or longer. To serve, turn out on small platter and carefully remove wax paper. Cut in slices, and serve plain or with whipped cream.

Refrigerator Fruit Cake.
(Serves 8 to 10)

2⅔ cups graham cracker crumbs (rolled fine)
½ pound marshmallows (cut fine)
1½ cups dates (cut fine)
½ cup nut meats (broken)
⅔ cup thin cream
¼ cup Maraschino cherries (cut fine)

Combine ingredients in order listed. Mix well. Press firmly into a tube pan lined with heavy wax paper, buttered. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator over night, or longer. Slice and serve with whipped cream.

Gingerbread Waffles.
(Serves 6)



1 cup molasses
⅓ cup butter
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup sour milk
1 egg (beaten)
2 cups cake flour
2 teasp. ginger
½ teaspoon salt

Heat molasses and butter to boiling point. Remove from fire and beat in the soda. Add sour milk, beaten egg, and the flour which has been sifted with the ginger and salt. Mix well. Bake in hot waffle iron. Serve with whipped cream and a dash of nutmeg.

Refrigerator Fruit Pudding.
(Serves 8 to 10)

½ pound prunes
1-inch stick cinnamon
6 whole cloves
½ cup seeded raisins
¼ cup brown sugar
1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
¾ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup dried figs (cut fine)
¼ cup citron (cut fine)
¼ cup almonds (cut fine)

Soak prunes in sufficient water to cover, until soft. Add cinnamon and cloves and simmer until prunes are tender. Drain, and when cool, stone and chop prunes. Add 1 cup of the prune juice to raisins and brown sugar and heat to boiling point. Dissolve gelatin in hot mixture and blend in orange and lemon juices. Chill until almost thickened, then add chopped prunes and all remaining ingredients. Pour into one large mold or individual molds and chill overnight.

Plum Pudding.
(Serves 6)

½ cup milk
3½ cups soft bread crumbs
¼ pound suet (ground)
½ cup sugar
2 eggs (separated)
⅔ cup seedless raisins
¾ cup currants
¼ pound figs (cut fine)
⅓ cup citron (sliced thin)
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon mace
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup apple cider

Scald milk and pour over bread crumbs. Cool. Cream ground suet in warm bowl. Add sugar, cream together thoroughly, and add well-beaten egg yolks. Combine these two mixtures. Add cut fruits together with spices and salt. Add cider. Lastly, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into well-greased pudding mold. Cover tightly and steam for 6 hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Left-Over Cake Dessert.
(Serves 8)

½ cup butter
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs
⅓ cup maraschino cherries (cut fine)
½ cup nut meats (broken)
½ cup crushed (drained) pineapple.
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Left-over sponge or angel food cake (sliced)

Cream butter, add sugar slowly and beat well. Add beaten egg yolks and blend thoroughly; then add cherries, nut meats, crushed pineapple and lemon juice. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Line a shallow pan with thinly sliced left-over cake and top with a layer of the filling; repeat until all filling is used, ending with a layer of cake. Chill overnight. To serve, cut in slices and top with whipped cream.

Graham Cracker Dessert.
(Serves 6)

3 tablespoons butter
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup milk
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs (rolled fine)
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream butter and add sugar gradually, while beating constantly. Separate eggs and add egg yolks which have been well-beaten. Combine graham cracker crumbs with the baking powder and salt. Add this mixture alternately with the milk to the butter and sugar mixture. Add vanilla extract. Beat egg whites and fold in carefully. Bake in two well-greased layer-cake pans in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for approximately 25 minutes. Serve as a dessert, putting the two layers together and topping with whipped cream.

Better Baking.

Quality in food is what Americans look for today. Not only must the ingredients be good, but they must be combined in the best way possible for perfect results. Formerly, just the thought of baking pies, cakes or breads would frighten the inexperienced cook. Today, the most timid beginner has little difficulty in following recipe directions.

Miss Howe's cookbook "Better Baking" contains such recipes, simple and easy to understand, and easy to follow; and the results will do the young cook proud.

You may secure your copy of her cookbook by writing to "Better Baking," in care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclosing 10 cents in coin.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

How the Idea Started

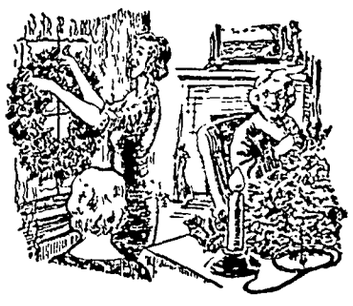
Christmas Candles

Christmas tree candles date back to the very earliest times in the Christian era. The Yule candle, of goodly size, lighted early Nativity celebrations. The lighting of candles is indeed a universl religious and national custom. Candle lighting featured the Norse mid-winter festival of the turning of the sun. The Jewish Feast of Chanuckah or Lights is also celebrated similarly at the same season.

Christmas Gifts

Romans exchanged gifts during gay celebrations. But giving of presents of course goes back much earlier. The Romans, however, gave it clearer identity as a part of their festival program. Christmas boxes and cards of today have a link to the ancient Roman festivities. In France, gifts are distributed to children New Year's eve instead of Christmas. In England, Germany, Italy, and most everywhere else, the custom is like in the United States. Santa comes a-visiting at Christmas.

Christmas Wreaths

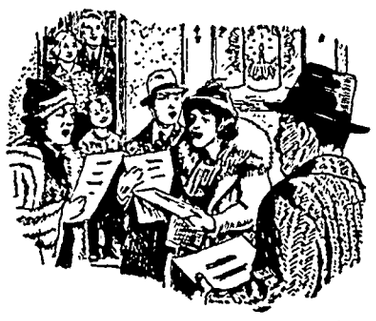


In ancient times the Teutons regarded holly as a symbol of good luck. The custom was widespread of hanging evergreens in the interior of dwellings. Later the legend was widely circulated that all growing things blossomed and bore fruit the night of the Nativity. Holly came also to symbolize the crown of thorns worn by Christ. The Puritans, however, regarded holly and mistletoe decorations as pagan in nature, and they therefore were outlawed.

Christmas Stockings

St. Nicholas rides Woden's horse on Christmas eve in Holland. There the children put up their wooden shoes in the chimney corners as a stop signal for the merry fellow. Children of France followed the custom by placing their shoes for Bonhomme Noel by the hearth. In England and the United States, boys and girls improved on the idea by hanging up stockings. These can hold more gifts.

Christmas Hymns



The Puritans predicted the disappearance of Christmas carols and did what they could to discourage the custom of singing them. But it has grown more and more a part of the Christmas tradition which began in early Christian days in Rome. The French Noel, dating to the Eleventh century, and the German Weihnachtslieder, have the same origin.

National Christmas Tree Scene of Annual Service

The United States has a national Christmas tree! It is not a spruce, fir or hemlock, but a giant Sequoia which stands more than 267 feet high. The tree is located in General Grant National park, 64 miles east of Fresno, Calif. Devotional and patriotic services held beneath the tree each year since it was selected in 1925 are broadcast over a nationwide network.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for December 15

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JESUS TEACHES HIS DISCIPLES TO PRAY

LESSON TEXT—Luke 11:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.—Luke 11:9.

Teach us to pray!

The request of the apostles was not that He should teach them how to pray, for He had already done that (see Matt. 6:5-7) in the Sermon on the Mount. What they needed, and what we need, is not so much to learn how to pray, but actually to pray. Prayer is more talked about than practiced. We discuss the doctrine of prayer, the time of prayer, the manner of prayer, posture in prayer; but how much do we really pray?

This is a very important and plain question which we must face personally, "Do I pray, or do I only talk about praying?" Let us not try to dodge it or excuse ourselves; let us face it honestly, do something about it, and know God's richer and fuller blessing for our lives.

We have in our lesson,

I. A Principle of Prayer (v. 9).

The one who has a right to call God his "Father" (v. 2) has a right to come and "ask" God for whatever he needs. God expects His children to ask, and many "have not, because ye ask not" (James 4:2). Give God a chance to answer you by asking, but be sure to ask aright, not for your own selfish purposes (James 4:3). The real asker is also a seeker—he doesn't ask and run away empty-handed—he persists. He not only "seeks," but he "knocks" at God's door. A knock is an evidence of faith—expectancy, and often persistency—all essential in real prayer.

II. The Promise of Prayer (vv. 9-13).

Here is the promise of our Lord. We are quick to claim the promises of our friends, business associates, the government; why are we so slow in claiming the promises of God? Can it be that we have less confidence in Him than we have in our neighbor? Asking means receiving, seeking results in finding, knocking brings the open door of His blessing. Why not do it?

God is our Father. Even a man rightly bearing the beautiful title "father" is loving and considerate. Will not the heavenly Father then give us every good thing? In fact, the Holy Spirit Himself is ours in all His fullness, and in Him there is every other gift.

III. A Parable Concerning Prayer (vv. 5-8).

The point of this story is that we should be persistent in prayer. Importunity carries with it a sense of being troublesome, bothering someone until the desired result is attained. God encourages His children to a holy boldness which does not give up (see Luke 18:1-8; Matt. 15:21-28). If a man who is only a friend will at the impossible hour of midnight supply a need which should have been anticipated to feed one who is a stranger to him, will not our Father, who "neither slumbers nor sleeps," who knows and loves us all, meet our deep spiritual need? Indeed He will, "exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think" (Eph. 3:20).

IV. The Practice of Prayer (vv. 1-4).

There is no one who can teach us to pray better than Jesus, for He "practiced what He preached." He prayed. It was seeing Him pray that led the disciples to ask Him to teach them to pray. To profess is one thing, but it is far better to practice. The teacher who does not practice prayer will accomplish little in teaching this lesson, but the one who prays, though able to say but little, will cause many to say, "Teach me to pray."

For he practice of prayer, Jesus taught His disciples a model prayer. This does not mean that this is the only prayer to be offered, nor that it is the only form of prayer. As suggested, it is rather a model.

This prayer opens with a recognition of God as Father, followed by a reverent petition that His name may be hallowed; that is, that He may have glory as His will is done and His kingdom established in the hearts of men. Those who have that spiritual life and attitude are ready to ask for the supply of daily needs, and above all forgiveness of sin and deliverance from temptation. Note that verse 4 is not the prayer of the unsaved for forgiveness and regeneration, for that is all of grace (Eph. 2:8). 'The man outside (of the kingdom) gets his forgiveness with no condition; but once he is in the kingdom of the Son of God's love, he lives within the laws of that kingdom. Then he does not get forgiveness unless he is ready to forgive, unless he has forgiven" (Morgan) "Nothing more surely destroys communion than the unforgiving spirit (Matt. 6:14, 15; Mark 11:25). The fact that we forgive others is not the ground on which God forgives us, but it is the condition of our enjoying God's forgiveness (Eph. 1:7; 4:32)" (Bradbury).

Patterns SEWING CIRCLE

IN A season when jumpers have jumped way out in front of any other school style, this one stands right at the head of its very smart class. Why? Because it's the pinafore type, cut high and dart-fitted, that juniors are mad about. Because the skirt is made with unpressed front fullness that looks perfectly charming on slim little figures. Because it's adorned with two big patch pockets, as decorative as they are convenient. Last but not least, it's easy to make.

For the pinafore jumper of this design (No. 1252-B) choose corduroy, flannel, jersey or wool crepe. For the plain little tailored blouse (with short or long sleeves) challis, flannel, linen, flat crepe or batiste are smart.

* * *

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1252-B is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Corresponding bust measurements 29, 31, 33, 35 and 37 Size 13 (31) requires 2⅜ yards of 54-inch material for jumper; 2 yards of 39-inch material without nap for long-sleeved blouse. 1⅝ yards for short-sleeved blouse. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Auctioneer Had No Trouble Obtaining a Higher Bid

At an auction sale, the business was interrupted by a whispered conversation between the auctioneer and one of the prospective bidders. At the conclusion the master of ceremonies announced:

"A gentleman present tells me that since proceedings started in this room he has lost a wallet containing the sum of five hundred dollars. He hereby offers a reward of fifty dollars to anyone for its return."

There was a short period of silence, then one of the members of the crowd nodded his head to the auctioneer and announced: "I bid sixty."

Tin of Sunshine

The idea that sunshine can be canned, like beef or peas, seems preposterous. But sunshine has been bottled in Florida and taken by plane to New York, where it was released

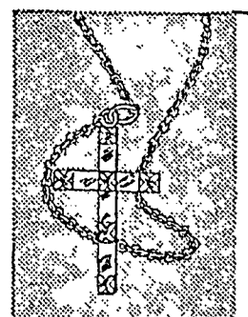
This is how it was done: The sunshine was held in a luminescent powder already in the bottle, and frozen in liquid air. It was then sealed and taken to New York, where the glass tube was thawed by being placed in water. As the air melted, those watching were astonished to see the powder glow brilliantly and throw off sufficient heat to fry a piece of fish.

ADVISES YOUNG GIRLS ENTERING WOMANHOOD

Thousands of young girls entering womanhood have found a "real friend" in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help them go "smiling thru" restless, moody, nervous spells, and relieve cramps, headache, backache and embarrassing fainting spells due to female functional irregularities. Famous for over 60 years. WORTH TRYING!

Wisdom a Coin

Wisdom is the true and unalloyed coin, for which we ought to exchange all things; for this, and with this, everything is in reality bought and sold—fortitude, temperance, and justice; and, in a word, true virtue subsists with wisdom.—Plato.



Solid Sterling Silver Cross
To Make a Happier Christmas
Value not found elsewhere at this outstandingly low price
Be among the first to own this valuable and beautifully designed Solid Sterling Silver Cross (not plated) with 18-inch rhodium-finish chain. Its hand-engraved effect in floral design makes you the envy of your friends and you can have this outstanding value for only 25 cents and two labels from delicious Van Camp's Products.
25¢ AND TWO VAN CAMP'S LABELS
Van Camp's PORK and BEANS
TEAR OUT AND MAIL THIS ORDER BLANK. TODAY
Van Camp's Inc.
Dept. W, Box No. 144, New York, N.Y.
I am enclosing 25 cents and two labels from delicious Van Camp's Products. Please send me the exquisite Solid Sterling Silver Cross (not plated) as illustrated.
NAME_____
ADDRESS_____
CITY_____ STATE_____

Clear Vision

Soundness of intellect is clearness of vision.

Makes for Interest

Uncertainty is what gives life its interest.

MAD

When a cough, due to a cold, drives you mad, Smith Brothers Cough Drops usually give soothing, pleasant relief. Black or Menthol—5¢.
Smith Bros. Cough Drops are the only drops containing VITAMIN A
Vitamin A (Carotene) raises the resistance of mucous membranes of nose and throat to cold infections, when lack of resistance is due to Vitamin A deficiency.

TRADE MARK.

YOU ARE AN INFLUENTIAL PERSON

The merchant who advertises must treat you better than the merchant who does not. He must treat you as though you were the most influential person in town.

As a matter of cold fact you are. You hold the destiny of his business in your hands. He knows it. He shows it. And you benefit by good service, by courteous treatment, by good value—and by lower prices.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23 R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER

RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J C. Penny MASON CITY

GARNER DOG DERBY HONORS TAKEN BY KLEMME CONTESTANTS

The majority of prizes in Garner's second annual dog derby went to the Stromers of near Klemme who took most of the races.

The dogs entered in the races were from Verner Stromer's kennels and the wagon used from the Jacobs Hardware Store.

The four races: the driven big dogs, driven small dogs, lead dogs and free-for-all. Norman Stromer won $3, $2 went to Byron Stromer and another $3 to Delwyn Stromer. Other winners were $1 to Doran Lackore, $2 to Richard Yegge and $1 to Willard Romp and Douglas Wood.

Broken Noses.

John Simon and Willis Baker, both of Osage, received broken noses in different automobile accidents last week.

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mrs. Fred Ridder spent Tuesday in Mason City.

E. J. Schneider was at Des Moines on business Saturday.

Roy Arnold took in the International Live Stock show at Chicago several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt drove to Iowa Falls Sunday for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson visit with relatives at Clarion Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. E. J. Schneider spent Saturday in Garner visiting at the home of Mrs. Marian Rust.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder, Mrs. Naska Bock and several of the teachers were Mason City visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell and Otho and Verl Keraus, of Swea City, spent Sunday visiting at the W C Keraus home.

Margaret Werel, of La Crosse, Wisconsin, was here on business last Wednesday at the telephone office.

Grandpa Freie had the misfortune to fall Saturday night at his home and fracture a couple of ribs

Lydia and William Bock drove to Rockwell, Sunday, where they visited and enjoyed dinner at the Schlichting home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth visited at the Rev. Wm. Galbreth home at Mason City, Sunday afternoon.

Orville Stokesbary was able to be up and around the first of the week and is recovering from a tonsil operation.

Orville Stokesbary had a tonsil operation performed at a Mason City hospital last Thursday morning.

"Pete" Paul and "Bodge" Bowles drove to Mason City Sunday afternoon for a visit with Bob Hartzell at the hospital. Bob was getting fine and able to sit up.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder entertained to dinner at her home Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Art Knoke, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barz and sons, Raymond and Allen.

Ben Coobs injured his foot and leg at the lumber yard last week and is not able to be on the job. Ben dropped some lumber on his foot which caused a bad bruise.

Mr and Mrs. Sam Harvey and daughter, Enid, of Mason City, and William Juergens, of Chicago, Ill., visited Sunday at the home of Mrs. Fred Ridder.

George Griggs and son, Audrey, left on an automobile trip thru the south, Monday. They have a house trailer with them and expect to go south as far as the Gulf of Mexico.

Wm. Baack, former Klemme farmer, and now residing with his family near Rockwell, is confined to the Mercy hospital in Mason City where he underwent a major operation last Wednesday.

Gust. Baack, of Sheboygan, Wis., visited at the M J. Brinkman home Tuesday night. He was called here by the serious illness of his brother, Wm. Baack. He returned to his home Thursday.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz were Mr. and Mrs. Art Brouwer and family of Thornton; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barz; M. and Mrs. Marvin Barz and Daralene and Eugene Greiman.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lamont and Mrs. Ira Overholt drove to Estherville Sunday morning where they spent the day visiting with Mrs. Overholt's sister and brothers and families. Mrs. Overholt remained in Estherville to spend a week visiting relatives.

Bob Hartzell, who works for the Goodrich & Bethke poultry firm at Garner, submitted to an emergency appendix operation at a Mason City hospital last week Tuesday. Bob's Klemme friends will be glad to learn that he is making a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Overholt moved from the former Grange residence to the Wm. Stille house in southwest Klemme. The Grange property was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. George Albers, who will move to town. Their son, Menno, will run the farm.

Celebrating.

Wayne Ross, Ottumwa, celebrated his wedding to such an extent that the Davis county jail was his residence just two hours after the ceremony.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

DANCE Sat. Night Dec. 14
Klemme Legion Community Hall
Huck Shaffer's Orchestra
Adm. 44c - 33c Tax Included

Shop Here For Special Gifts. . .

You can solve many of those Gift Problems by shopping here . . . We have a nice line of suitable Gifts for Dad, Mother, Sister, Brother or that "Particular Friend." We SUGGEST:

- Nice Box of Candy
- Carton of Cigarettes
- Box of Cigars
- Pound of Tobacco
- New Pipe
- Tobacco Pouch

For your Table we have a nice assortment of XMAS Candies . . . Chocolates, Hard Candies, Stick Candies, Nuts, Bulk Ice Cream and Brick Ice Cream.

All Fresh Stock Just Arrived
For The Holiday Trade At

Quandt Cafe
CONRAD QUANDT, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

GIFT SPECIALS are here!!

THIS YEAR WHY NOT

Give Electrical Gifts!

No GIFT could be more welcome than something Electrical. They turn many troublesome household tasks into genuine pleasure . . . We feature a variety of "electrical servants" that are operated by the simple process of pressing a button . . . every housewife appreciates an ELECTRICAL GIFT.

TOASTMASTER TOASTERS In Set, Single and Double. Automatic and Manual.

TOASTMASTER WAFFLE BAKERS

ELECTRIC GRILLS

G. E. HOTPOINT IRONS

COFFEE MAKERS

XMAS-TREE LIGHTS

PIN-UP WALL LAMPS

TABLE LAMPS

FLOOR LAMPS

MAGIC-AIRE New Type of Vaccum Cleaner.

We sell only standard brands of Electrical Goods and appliances that are guaranteed to give Satisfaction!

HAVE A NEW RADIO INSTALLED FOR CHRISTMAS!!!

We can give you your choice of popular models in ZENITH, GENERAL ELECTRIC, PHILCO and MOTOROLA in a variety of styles, models and prices from $9.95 up. Bring cheer to your home all the year 'round with a RADIO!

YEAR AROUND GIFTS FOR THE HOME AND FAMILY . . . .

Perhaps you plan on one fine Gift that the whole family will enjoy and which will lighten household duties 365 days a year, and WE SUGGEST:

Leonard or G. E. Refrigerator
Shellane Gas Range
Maytag Washer
Automatic Water Heater

Lewis Radio Shop
Maytag Washers Leonard Refrigerators Shellane Gas Ranges

The Gift Store

WHERE YOU CAN GET SUITABLE GIFTS FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY . . .

SANTA CLAUS suggests that you look over this fine list of GIFT SUGGESTIONS and SHOP EARLY AT THADA'S.

GIFTS FOR LADIES AND MISSES . . .

Lingerie
Towel Sets
Fancy Pillows
Silk Scarfs
Electric Lamps
Glass Dishes
China Dishes
Gloves
Wool Blankets
Toilet Articles
Dress Goods
Stationary
Aprons
Dresser Scarfs
Toweling
Bed Spreads
Hosiery
Jewelry
Cosmetics
Boxed Candy

CHRISTMAS TREES AND DECORATIONS
Just received a large shipment of beautiful Christmas Trees . . . all sizes. Complete line of Tree Decorations, Electric Tree Lights and Wreaths. Christmas Wrapping Paper, Stickers, Ribbons, etc., for making pretty packages.

GIFTS FOR THE CHILDREN . . .

Games
Toys, all kinds
Dolls, all kinds
Story Books
Warm Mittens
Knit Gloves
Play Dishes
Caps, Scarfs
School Sets
Stockings
Box Candy
Sweaters
Mechanical Toys
Look around here and you will see many fine GIFTS.

GIFTS FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN

Dress Gloves
Dress Shirts
Silk Socks
Neck Ties
Tie Sets
Handkerchiefs
Belts
Suspenders
Shaving Sets
Mittens
Caps and Hats
Cigars
Tobacco
You will find other items to please HIM at our Store!

Come in and look around . . . you will find hundreds of useful items here that are reasonably priced and will make ideal Gifts that will really be appreciated!

Specials For Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13-14

OXYDOL Large 21c Giant Size 56c

NEW DATES FRESH 2 lbs. for 27c

CHOCOLATES, Chopped Cherry Centers Per pound 10c

CAMAY The Soap of Beautiful Women 3 Bars... 19c

BAKING POWDER Calumet Large can 18c

PEAS, Large and Tender No. 2 cans 2 cans for 19c

CORN, Cream or Whole Kernel, No. 2 2 cans for 19c

CAKE FLOUR Swans Dows Box...22c

NUT MEATS FRESH ½ lb. bag 25c

COOKIES Plain, 2 lbs. 15c

RAISINS 2 lbs. for 15c

COOKIES Fancy, 2 lbs. 15c

Dishes and Other FREE Gifts--Be Here!

Saturday, December 14th is GIFT DAY at our Store. Be at our Store at 9:00 P . M. when we give away a 32 piece set of Beautiful Dishes, as well as other Gifts. Ask us for details.

And remember, Saturday, December 21st will also be another GIFT DAY. Be sure to ask for Gift Coupons with your purchases.

Large Assortment of Xmas Nuts and Large Assortment of Xmas Candy
Fancy Chocolates in 1 lb., 2 lb., and 5 Pound Boxes

THADA'S STORE
A Good Store In A Good Town Klemme, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 18, 1940. — NUMBER 29.

ast Of Free Movies In Klemme aturday Before Christmas

AKE A MILLION" IS TITLE OF FREE MOVIE HER SATURDAY AFTERNOON

e Show Scheduled To Start Promptly At 2:00 O'clock, Sat.

"Make A Million" is the title of e free movie to be shown at the mmunity Hall this week, Satday, Dec. 21st, and the show ill start at 2:00 o'clock sharp.

This is the last of the Free Movs to be held in Klemme before ristmas, so be sure to bring ur family and your friends. The ee Movies are a treat from the siness men of this community, ho take this means of giving eir customers some fine enterinment.

Plan to be in Klemme early for e Free Show and to do your ristmas shopping. The Klemme res are well stocked with use- and practical gifts and you ll find a wide variety of gifts choose from. You can save moy by shopping in Klemme.

The Free Movies given the past o weeks on Saturday afternoons ve been attended by good size wds. Let's pack the Community ll for the Free Movies Satury!

RISTMAS PROGRAMS PLANNED FOR KLEMME AND LIBERTY CHRCHES

cial Christmas Programs Will Be Given in 3 Churches Here

Christmas eve programs have en planned for the Klemme and berty Methodist churhes and e Klemme Reformed church for esday evening, Dec. 24th.

At the Klemme Reformed urch, the program begins at 0 o'clock and an offering will e received for the Orphans me. A Christmas Morning serve will also be held beginning at :00 o'clock. An offering will be eived for the Mission House at is service.

Christmas eve programs are eduled for both the Liberty and e Klemme Methodist churches Tuesday evening, De.c 24th.

The regular Christmas sermon ll be given at both churches on nday morning, Dec. 22nd.

LUMNI BANQUET WILL BE HELD DECEMBER 27 AT COMMUNITY HALL

The annual Klemme High School umni banquet will be held at e Community Hall on Friday ening, Dec. 27th. Milvern Barz d Wilma Swalve are in charge ticket sales for the affair.

FACTS CONCERNING 3-YEAR TERM OF 1940 CORN LOANS

There appears to be much misunderstanding in regard to the 1940 corn loan concerning the 3-year term. Many farmers seem to think that this corn must be stored as ear corn for three years, and that there is no other way out This is far from the truth

Any eligible producer desiring to seal 1940 corn may make application at the office in Garner, Ia.

Corn wil be sealed at sixty-one cents per bushel; the chattel mortgage will be drawn for a three-year period at three per cent interest. Borrowers completing their loan, or loans, prior to April 1, 1941, shall be permitted to deliver collateral between August 1, 1941, and October 31, 1941 If the borrower has lost possession of the farm upon which the corn is stored, or has received notice from his landlord requesting removal of the corn from the structure in which it is stored, any any borrower who does not wish to continue his loan until August 1, 1941, may deliver the collateral in satisfaction of the loan between August 1, 1942 and October 31, 1942. In any foregoing event, borrowers must give the county committee thirty days written notice of intention prior to delivery.

Loans will be available up to September 30, 1941.

Any corn sealed now as ear corn may be shelled after July 1, 1941 and stored as shelled corn for the balance of the period.

Sealing fee will be one cent per bushel, and no corn that contains more than nineteen and one-half per cent moisture in an eight-foot crib, or twenty and one-half per cent moisture in a seven-foot crib can be sealed

The producer must carry insurance for a two-year period.

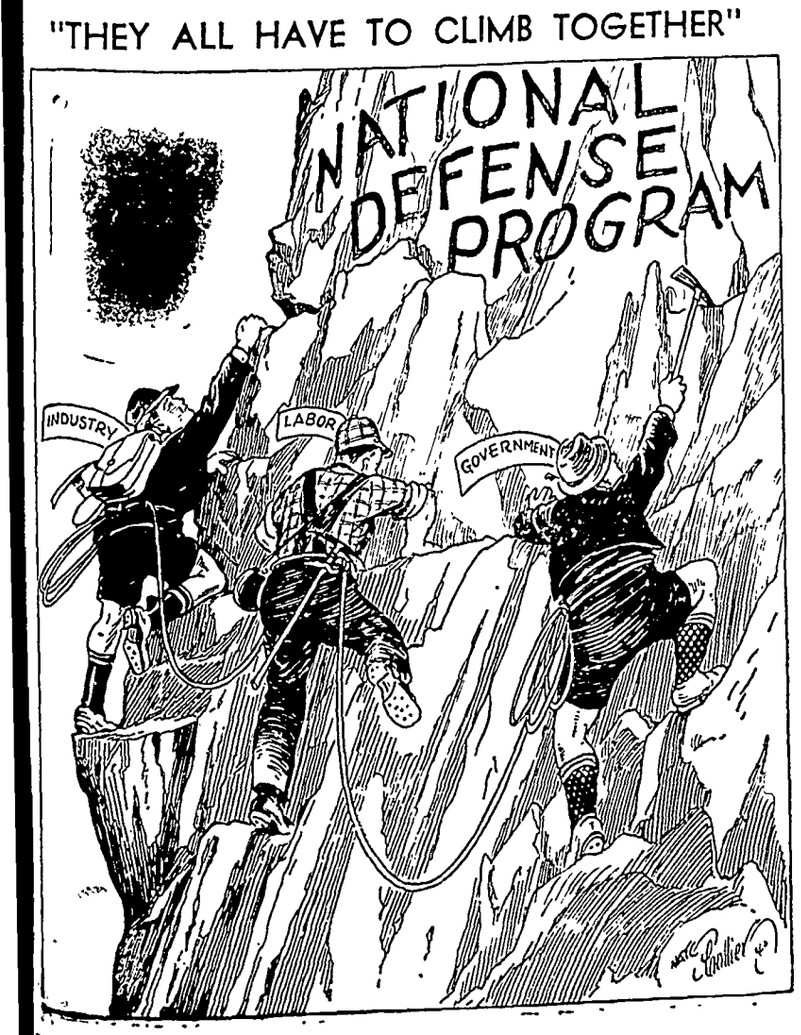
ENTERTAINED AT DINNER AND PARTY, SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs Howard Baack entertained a group of friends to a duck dinner at their home, Sunday Among those present were Herb and Walter Schubert, the Misses Ruth Sorenson and Evelyn Swan, all of Britt; Miss Mary Nell Jones, of Garner, and Leo M. Brinkman, of Klemme.

Following the dinner, a pleasant afternoon was spent in playing Court Whist. Mr. Herb Schubert held high score for the men, and Miss Jones was high for the ladies.

A lunch was served by the hostess following the afternoon's entertainment.

"THEY ALL HAVE TO CLIMB TOGETHER"



Community Sing

Under The Auspices of the Klemme Legion and Auxiliary

Sunday Evening, Dec. 22

KLEMME LEGION-COMMUNITY HALL
At 8:00 O'clock

●

PROGRAM

Master of Ceremonies ..... Mr. A. Wellemeyer
Director ... . Mrs. E. Gerardi
Accompanist .. .. Mr. E. Gerardi

Old Favorites—
"There's A Long, Long Trail"
"Keep The Home Fires Burning"
"Let Me Call You Sweetheart"

Special Instrumental Number .....
Trio .... Mrs. Galbreth, Mrs. Waterman, Mrs. Jorgenson

Christmas Carols—
"Joy To The World"
"It Came Upon A Midnight Clear"
"O, Come All Ye Faithful"
"Silent Night"

Special Number . ..... Reformed Church Chorus
Tenor and Alto Duet . .....
Special Instrumental Number .....

Patriotic Songs and Hymns—
"God Bless America"
"Star Spangled Banner"
"Abide With Me"
"Day Is Dying In The West"

Closing Prayer .. ..
Benediction ... . Rev. Zabilka
Distribution of Treats . .....

Klemme Scouts Won Awards At District Rally Held Here

KLEMME BOY SCOUTS AWARDED AT RECENT DISTRICT SCOUT RALLY

Over One Hundred Scouts Attend West District Rally Here

The West District Scout Rally was held at the Klemme Community Hall on Monday evening, Dec. 8th, with over one hundred scouts and many scouters present from six troops· Britt, Corwith, Garner, two Clear Lake troops and Klemme.

Second Class badges were presented to the following scouts in Troop 56, Klemme. Melvin Coobs, Edward Buntenbach, jr., Duard Lewis, Dean Merkel, Herbert Mueller, Bruce Arnold and Larry Van Syoc.

Training Course Certificates were awarded Scoutmaster Wayne Pavey for Troop Camping and Elements, Part II, and to Earl G Schaeffer, committeeman, Elements Part II.

Camporees Certificates were also awarded to the Flying Arrow and Wolf patrols of the local troop.

Officers of Troop 56 are: Scoutmaster, Wayne Pavey; Assistant, Glenn Lewis; Troop Committeemen: Ralph Reece, P. W. Johnson, James Thomas, Ben Coobs and Dr. E. G. Schaeffer There are 18 scouts in the local troop at present.

FORMER KLEMME LABORER KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Garnet Moore, who resided with his family in Klemme for a few months and who was a laborer on the construction of the new school house, was killed in an automobile accident near Scott, Kansas.

The family now resides at Thompson, where he leaves his wife and three children: Shirley Ann, Larry Dean and Carmen Jean. His parents live at Forest City.

SOME "PUNKIN"

David Pillard, Anamosa, won the prize, he showed a pumpkin weighing 81 pounds.

Mother Of Klemme Farmer Dies

RITES FOR GOODELL WOMAN HELD ON MONDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Andrew Anderson, Pioneer Woman, Dies After Lengthy Illness

GOODELL - Mrs. Andrey Anderson, pioneer mother of this vicinity, died at a convalescent home in Mason City Saturday morning after an illness in which she had been bedfast for more than a year. Funeral services were held at 2 30 o'clock Monday at the home of a son, Elmer. 2 miles north of here, and at the United Brethren church at 3 p. m with the Rev. Harold Knight in charge.

Mrs. Anderson was born in Denmark on Dec. 11, 1865. She came to America in 1883, settling at Cedar Falls with her parents. The following year she was married to Andrew Anderson, who died in 1924 They lived for 35 years in Avery and Twin Lake townships. For 19 years Garner was her home.

Surviving are two sons, Elmer and Jennings, both of Hancock county. A third son, Verdie, died last summer. A daughter and a son died in infancy. There are 15 grandchildren. A brother, Andrew Anderson, lives in Montana and a sister, Mrs. Lars Johnson, in Britt.

KLEMME YOUNG LADY LISTED HAMILTON COLLEGE HONOR ROLL

The name of Marcele Back, who is attending the Hamilton School of Commerce of Mason City, Iowa, appeared on the Honor Roll which was released by the school last week. Honor Roll requirements are an average in scholarship of a straight B with no grade below C. Only about 10 per cent of the students attain this average.

Miss Back is enrolled on the General Business course.

Legion - Auxiliary Will Have Treats For Children

84 YEAR OLD WOMAN AT GARNER SUCCUMBS FOLLOWING ILLNESS

GARNER—Last rites for Mrs. Amelia Grell, 84, a resident of the Garner vicinity for the last 57 years, who died at her home Friday night following a lingering illness, were held at the St. Paul Lutheran church Monday afternoon with the pastor, the Rev. H. R. Wrede, in charge.

Surviving are seven children· Mrs. Herman Jass, Mrs. Emil Kraus and Ferd Grell, all of Garner; Adolph, Ernest and John Grell, all of Clear Lake; and Herman Grell of Mason City. A brother, Theodore Schultz of Ventura, and a sister, Mrs. D. Cartsen as well as 29 grandchildren, and several great-grandchildren, also survive.

Young Farmer Victim Of Self-Inflictd Wounds

YOUNG FARMER FOUND DEAD IN BARN TUESDAY MORNING

Luvernon Flemmig Died From Self Inflicted Gun Shot Wounds

The lifeless body of Luvernon Flemmig, 37-year old son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Flemmig, was discovered by his brother Roy, shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, Dec. 17th, in the barn at their farm home six and three-quarter miles east of Klemme.

It was evident that death was caused by a gun shot wound in the head.

Sheriff Tim Phalen and Coroner J. E. McDonald were called and upon investigation, decided that the the shooting was self-inflicted and not accidental.

Luverne and his brother, Roy, were known as Flemmig Brothers and farmed together at this location for many years.

The family stated that Luvernon had not been in the best of health for the past few weeks and had not been as cheerful and happy as was his usual custom. Luvernon had many friends and his tragic end is a shock to all who knew him.

Funeral services will be held in the Methodist church at Rockford, Iowa Thursday afternoon, and interment made in the Rockford cemetery. Arrangements are in charge of the Wellemeyer Funeral Service of Klemme, Iowa.

NEW YEAR'S DANCE PLANNED FOR COMMUNITY HALL HERE

The dance committee are making plans for a New Year's Eve party and dance at the Klemme Legion-Community Hall for Tuesday evening, Dec. 31st. The public is invited to celebrate New Year's Eve at the Hall where there will be a good orchestra and a big crowd is expected.

Other Dances

For this week Saturday night, Dec 21st, Billy Hughes and his ten piece band wil furnish the music, while Carl Nebbe and his orchestra are booked for Saturday night, Dec. 28th.

The dances have been well patronized and more and more people are attending the weekly Saturday night dances here.

KLEMME TIMES WILL NOT BE PRINTED NEXT WEEK

As Christmas comes on Wednesday this year, the publication day for the Klemme Times, the paper will not be issued next week. For several years. The Times, as well as many other weekly newspapers in the state, have taken a one week's vacation during the holiday season.

—The Publisher

Com'unity Sing Sunday Night At Hall

EVERYONE INVITED TO THE COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Treats For All Children Will Be Given Out Following Program

A Community Sing and Christmas party under the auspices of the Klemme American Legion and Auxiliary will be held at the Community Hall on Sunday evening, Dec. 22nd beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

The American Legion and its Auxiliary issue a cordial invitation to everyone in the community to be present for an evening of fun and entertainment Sunday evening. There will be no charge and no collection will be taken, so come whether you can sing or not.

Choirs Will Be Present

The choirs of the three churches are asked to meet in the Council Room at the hall at 7.45, before taking their place on the stage to form a community choir.

Treats For The Children

Treats will be distributed to all children present following the program.

The proogram is printed elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

KLEMME MAN INJURED SERIOUSLY IN CAR ACCIDENT NEAR DUBUQUE

Dave Ross On Way To Visit Illinois Relatives Has Accident

Lsat Thursday afternoon Klemme and Garner relatives were notified that Dave Ross was in a serious condition at a Dubuque hospital following an auto accident shortly before noon a couple of miles west of Dubuque.

John Day, Klemme postmaster, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross and Mrs. Alex Ross, of Garner, left immediately for Dubuque to see Mr. Ross. Mr. Ross was then unconscious and was suffering from severe head bruises, cuts, loss of blood, shock and exposure.

As near as reports could be gathered, Mr. Ross was involved in a head-on collision with a young woman driver west of Dubuque. Both cars were badly damaged, Mr. Ross was seriously injured but the lady was injured but slightly.

The Garner and Klemme party remained with Mr. Ross until Friday evening, when his condition was greatly improved and latest reports indicate that Mr. Ross will fully recover from his injuries and may be able to return home from the hospital in a few more days.

STORES OPEN IN KLEMME 2 DAYS BEFORE CHRISTMAS

In order to accomodate late Christmas shoppers, the stores in Klemme will remain open next week on Monday and Tuesday nights, Dec. 23 and 24.

BIRTHDAY CLUB EXCHANGED CHRISTMAS GIFTS AT PARTY

The Birthday club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Clarence Lemke. Christmas decorations were used and the members of the club exchanged Christmas gifts. Bridge was played and high score was won by Mrs. W. C. Keraus, while Mrs. Martin Barz held the second highest score. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Bromegrass is excellent pasture and is one of the most palatable grasses adapted to Iowa.

Christmas Eve Church Service Held in Stable

Congregation Selects Barn After Fire Destroys Church Building.

By REV. BENNINGTON ROSS
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

One of the most unusual Christmas Eve services in the country was held in Kansas City last year when members of the Jackson Avenue Methodist church met in a stable.

Desire for a unique setting had not prompted use of this stable, but the choice was forced upon the congregation by a fire which had destroyed their church that morning. Although organ music was lacking and a small stove did not provide perfect

Rev. BENNINGTON ROSS, M. S.

heat, the services evoked enthusiastic response

The fire was discovered the morning of December 24 by two small boys who were reporting early for the last rehearsal of a Christmas pageant. The fire department was hastily notified, but the fire made the building untenable before it could be extinguished.

Smoke was still pouring from the water-soaked building when members of the congregation dashed into the building to bring out armfuls of hymn books and other church valuables.

With their ruined church before them, the onlookers offered a prayer of gratitude that the damage had not been worse.

Members of the Methodist church congregation in Kansas City which held its Christmas eve services in a stable last year are shown above. They met in the stable after their church had been badly damaged by fire.

Faced with the necessity of calling off their Christmas eve services, the members immediately agreed to the suggestion that they meet in an old deserted stable nearby.

Prospects of celebrating Christmas in a common stable aroused spontaneous enthusiasm, as members worked all day to prepare the building for services. The old stable was swept from the hayloft to its concrete floor. A stove was improvised to furnish some relief from the biting cold, and chairs were borrowed and arranged.

People pressed in and filled the building as evening approached. The Christian Endeavor service for the young people was marked by unexpected features which had been prepared to meet the occasion. A young author read an original Christmas story, and an accordionist led the singing of hymns.

Solemn evening services followed the young people's worship. The choir took its seat on one side of the stove next to the accordionist and the pastor assumed his post at the improvised pulpit.

The congregation has long prided itself on its singing, but that night the words of "Silent Night" and "Joy to the World" rose to the bare rafters, filling the stable.

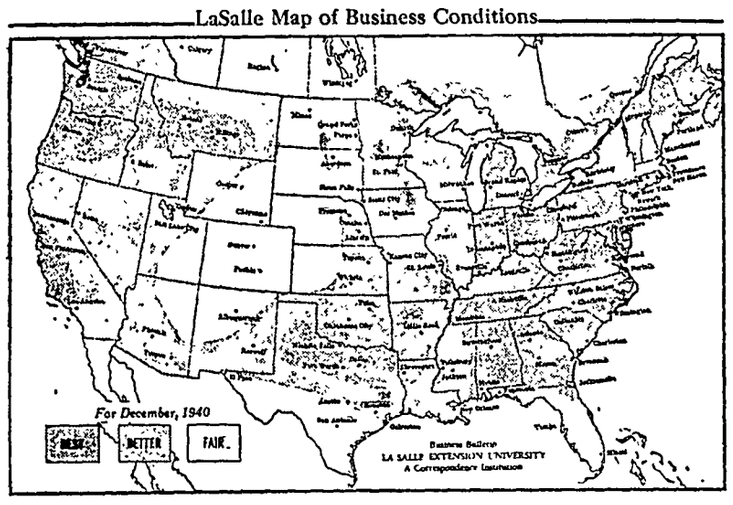
Seated in a semicircle facing the pulpit in the little old stable, the congregation was told by the pastor how the little Christchild was born in a Bethlehem manger. The simplicity of the surroundings seemed to give this story an even deeper meaning

As the moonlight streamed through the window in the old stable, the congregation arose and sang, "All Hail, Emmanuel."

The congregation was radiant when the service ended, and the two small boys who had come early that morning to rehearse their Christmas pageant forgot completely that it would have to be postponed.

Demand for Farm Products Is Improving

LaSalle Map of Business Conditions



The above map pictures the current condition of business and agriculture for the month of December, 1940. It indicates that the harvest of most major farm crops has been above average and that farm prices are higher than last year. Also, Christmas buying in retail stores is close to the highest on record, according to the figures compiled by the La Salle Extension University of Chicago.

By L. G. ELLIOTT
President, La Salle Extension University.

U. S. farmers this year have raised larger than average crops, and are getting higher prices than they received a year ago. Their total cash income will be close to the largest in 11 years.

The demand for farm products continues to improve and is expected to be even greater in 1941. Larger payrolls for industry mean that consumers will be able to spend more for food and clothing. These increases are already speeding up holiday buying in retail stores. The Christmas trade is running ahead of even the high volume of last year and will probably be above all previous peaks.

Those farmers who produce grains, fruits, tobaccos, meat animals, and dairy products have had the greatest gains in income, while those raising cotton and vegetables have received smaller increases over a year ago. Improved demand from consumers, however, has recently been helping these crops. Cotton and woolen mills have been especially busy for some time.

The foreign demand for agricultural products is lagging far behind the domestic demand. Although current shipments abroad are large, they consist mostly of industrial goods and war materials. Exports of farm products are likely to remain relatively small for many months.

Supplies of all crops are large enough to provide adequate food and feed during the next season as well as leave plenty on hand for carryover.

The supply of feed grains per animal is the largest on record and conditions remain most favorable for those farmers raising live stock and producing dairy products. Cattle prices have been better than have the prices of hogs and poultry.

Industrial activity has been speeded up and the volume of goods being turned out by factories surpasses all previous records. The national defense program and the building of inventories has had much to do with this increase. A considerable part of it, however, is due to normal business expansion.

Brazil's Surplus Coffee Used for New Plastics

Brazil will endeavor to dispose of some of its huge surplus coffee production by converting coffee into plastics, in a new plant.

Within a month the plant will be turning out a molding power from which it will be possible to make a wide range of plastic objects.

The plant will have a capacity of 37,000 bags of coffee a year, and may be expanded to consume 5,000,000 bags annually This would considerably reduce the destruction of coffee beans in Brazil which has exceeded 9,000,000 bags in one year.

Because of the low price of this surplus coffee, the new plastics will be among the cheapest to produce. Another factor contributing to its low price is the fact that the coffee beans not only contain the necessary filler but also the resin which is needed to make the plastics.

Selection of Gifts Rates as Real 'Art'

By ALLAN REID

There is more to gift giving, particularly Christmas gift giving, than the mere fulfilling of obligations. The giving of gifts can be fun for the giver as well as the recipient.

The instance of the little crippled boy who received a book on the life of Steinmetz bears out the point. Steinmetz, the electrical wizard, dwarfed and crippled, was an inspiring example to the crippled boy. It was convincing testimony that there is opportunity for everyone in the world, no matter how badly handicapped, if one but follows the right channels. It gave that little cripple a pattern of life. It was a superbly intelligent wonder working gift, that book.

Gifts should be designed to serve beneficent purposes in the lives of those to whom they are sent. An inexpensive kit of tools may be the means of starting a young man off on a successful career. An inexpensive, even second-hand, sewing machine may result in the lifting of the entire personality of a girl whose fund for clothes is limited. These are the sort of gifts which have a deeper meaning—and a constructive rather than ornamental value.

Also, there should be a fitting regard for what the recipient already possesses The instance of the person who received a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica, shortly after he had purchased one, illustrates how thoughtless and wasteful gift giving may be. An automobile radio to one who does not own a car; candy to those who are on a diet; a drawing outfit for one who has neither talent nor interest in art, are examples of pointless gift giving. They betray not only an absence of interest but also a lack of intelligence.

It is well to get away from the ordinary in the choice of gifts. Dolls, cigars, neckties need not make up the entire Christmas gift list. On the other hand, a bicycle or pair of roller skates for the youngster who has a long trek to school, a mandolin for the girl who likes music but whose folks will not be able to afford a piano for some years to come; a game for the chap who is inclined toward developing his mental powers and get fun out of doing so—chess, checkers, citadel, and the like—are worthwhile gifts.

In essence, therefore, give meaningfully. Give as you would want to be given to—with good taste, intelligence, and kindliness.

R. O. T. C. Expands, Enrolls 197,000 Men

MINNEAPOLIS. — The army of students taking R.O.T.C. military training at American colleges, high schools, and academies, has expanded another 11,000 men with the fall enrollments of 1940, to a total enrollment of 197,798 trainees.

Applications are pouring into the war department for establishment of new R.O.T.C. units from schools and colleges now without them; applications are already on file from 375 schools, treble the number of institutions represented on the application files of the war department a year ago.

There is little immediate likelihood of any of these requests being granted, as the army cannot spare any more experienced officers for instruction purposes, according to a new report on military training in U. S. schools by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Total R.O.T.C. student military enrollment totaled 186,750 men in the academic year 1939-1940, which was an increase of 20 per cent over the previous two years. The 1940-41 enrollment consists of 106,651 men taking the basic two-year training, 18,996 taking the advanced course, and 72,151 youths enrolled in junior units — of prep and high school grade, according to the report.

Meanwhile the comparatively limited group of students in naval R.O.T.C. units is also showing a sharp expansion, to a number approximating 3,000, at 19 universities.

Follow These Rules When Addressing Christmas Cards

IN ADDRESSING Christmas cards, many questions are bound to arise with regard to correct form. The following tips on addressing Christmas cards will, therefore, be welcomed by all who have cards to send.

Christmas greeting cards fall into two general classes, formal and informal. If you use printed or engraved cards for formal use, the title Miss, Mr., or Mr. and Mrs. should preferably appear above the greeting. For instance: "Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell wish you a Merry Christmas," rather than "A Merry Christmas from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell."

Whose name should come first, the husband's or the wife's? Generally, the husband's name comes first. On informal cards, signed in ink, it is quite proper to sign, "Bill and Shirley," or Bill and Shirley Adams, depending, of course, upon how well you know the acquaintance.

A married woman, whether her husband is alive or not, should be addressed with "Mrs." prefixed to her husband's full name. Every card sent out should bear a Mr., Mrs., or Miss prefix. Failure to use this prefix is an unpardonable breach of courtesy.

Do not address a divorcee by her maiden name, unless such name has been established by legal procedure.

John Robertson may be a business associate of yours, to whom you want to send a Christmas card, but you do not know his wife. What shall you do in a case of this kind? It is quite proper to send your card to Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson, although, on the other hand, it is equally proper to send the card in his name only. It adds a little of the personal touch to learn the home address and send the card there, although directing the card to a business address is quite proper.

Some question as to the propriety of sending out Christmas cards may enter the minds of the family in mourning. By the same token, some question may arise as to the sending of Christmas cards to them. If the bereavement is very recent—within a month—it may be better for the family to omit Christmas cards. And cards to be sent to the family should be selected with considerable care.

Superstitions About Christmas

SIGNIFICANT meanings surround Christmas, according to superstitions believed in various parts of the world.

¶ In Holstein, Mistletoe is not only supposed to be a cure for all green wounds, but will insure success in the chase and give strength to the wrestler.

¶ Early Norsemen believed for centuries that the Mistletoe would give protection against both bodily ailments and evil spirits.

¶ A person who is born on Christmas will have power to see and command spirits, according to a Scottish belief.

¶ French peasants believe that babies born on Christmas have the gift of prophecy.

¶ If a baby is born at sermon time on Christmas Eve in Middle Europe, it portends that someone in the house will die within the year.

¶ Daughters born in the Vosges, France, on December 25 will be wise, witty and virtuous.

¶ A baby born on Christmas in Silesia will become either a lawyer or a thief.

¶ Girls in the ancient Duchy of Swavia seldom missed the opportunity offered by Christmas to look into the future at their future husbands. On Christmas Eve they would go to the woodpile to draw sticks. If a girl pulled a thick stick, her husband would be stout; if a long stick, he would be tall; if a crooked stick, he would be deformed. They would determine the business of their future husbands by dropping melted lead into a pan of cold water. The molten metal would form various shapes in cooling, and thus resemble the insignia of his occupation: hammer shape, a carpenter; shoe shape, a cobbler. Every piece of lead resembled some occupation to the old wives.

¶ A maiden in Switzerland who accepts a bunch of Edelweiss at Christmas also accepts the man who proffers it.

¶ All animals in the German Alps can speak on Christmas Eve.

¶ It is believed in the Netherlands that nothing sown on Christmas Eve will perish. Even seed sown in the snow will live.

¶ A Bohemian wife will die within a year if she burns a Christmas cake.

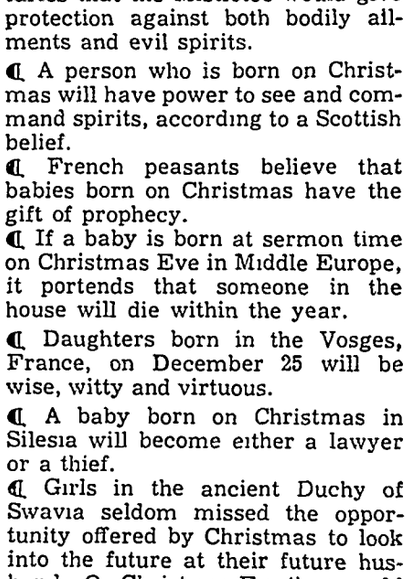
¶ To insure an abundant harvest in Denmark, some of the bread baked on Christmas is kept until sowing time, when it is mixed with the seed.

¶ It is said that bread baked on Christmas in England never becomes moldy.

¶ Ashes must not be thrown out on Christmas day in some sections of Europe, for fear they might be thrown into the Savior's face.

¶ Some families in Scandinavia place all their shoes together on Christmas. This will cause them to live in harmony throughout the year.

Christmas Tree Industry 'Aims to Please'



A highly developed industry, Christmas tree production aims to satisfy all types of customers. Here a workman after bundling his trees according to size and grade is sawing the butts to even lengths. In cities where ceilings are high, as in old communities, taller trees are desired. For modern low-ceilinged living rooms, only medium and shorter sizes find ready market. The most popular kind of Christmas tree is the fir. It is generally preferred because it tends to hold its needles longer than any other evergreen tree. Spruces, pines, hemlocks and red-cedars are also used as Christmas trees.

CHARM OF CHRISTMAS

THE chief charm of Christmas is its simplicity. It is a festival that appeals to everyone because everyone can understand it. A genuine fellowship pervades our common life—a fellowship whose source is our common share in the world's greatest Life which was given to the whole world.—Kimball.

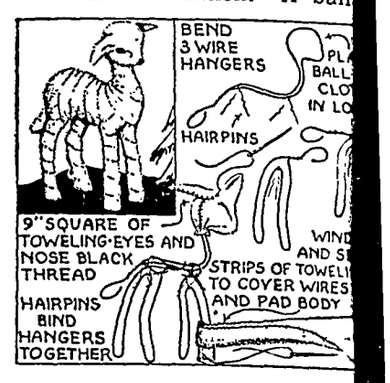
French Village Portrays Story of Christ's Birth

Les Baux in France, a village of shepherds, puts on one of the most dramatic Christmas celebrations in the world, and has done it yearly for over a thousand years. The peasants act out the whole Bethlehem story. Joseph and Mary drive into the "City of David" with real oxen. Thousands of visitors come every Christmas eve to see the event.

Coat Hanger Anima Delights the Childr

By RUTH WYETH SPEAR

THREE wire coat hangers, old bath towels, some fine w hair pins and needle and thr made this cunning woolly la All the directions are in the ske The wire hangers are bent bound together with hair pins make the foundation. A ball



BEND 3 WIRE HANGERS
HAIRPINS
9" SQUARE OF TOWELING EYES AND NOSE BLACK THREAD
HAIRPINS BIND HANGERS TOGETHER
STRIPS OF TOWELI TO COVER WIRES AND PAD BODY

soft cloth is fastened inside loop that forms the head, and covered with a square of the to ing bound and sewn as shown. T rest of the body is all padded a shaped by winding and sewing t inch strips of the toweling, shown.

* * *

Someone has just thumbtacked a ter on my drawing board to give my a good start. It is from a reader says, "I have all five of the sewing bo lets and every time I look through the find some exciting new thing to make t I have not seen before" Hurrah! I certainly happy when people say they those booklets. I have been so interes in doing them and now Book 6 is re for mailing. It is full of new ideas making new things for the home I pretty excited about it and hope you it and use it again and again just as many of you have written me that have used the others This new Boo contains a description of each of the ot five booklets of the series Send order

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New Yor
Enclose 10 cents for Book 6.
Name .....
Address .....

Gift Suggestion

One way to sure popularity w pipe and "makin's" smokers is say "Merry Christmas" with t big one-pound Christmas gift pac ages of Prince Albert smoking bacco. See them at your dealers in gay holiday wrapping includi gift card—and every big one-pou tin chuck-full of prime, rich-ta ing P. A.—the cool-burning toba co. Your tobacco store has Prin Albert in the pound gift tins—p sents all ready to bring Holid cheer to many a man's Christm morn.—Adv.

WHY SUFFER Functional
FEMALE COMPLAINTS
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compoun Has Helped Thousands!
Few women today do not have some sign o functional trouble. Maybe you've notice YOURSELF getting restless, moody, nervou depressed lately—your work too much for you— Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetabl Compound to help quiet unstrung nerves relieve monthly pain (cramps, backache headache) and weak dizzy fainting spell due to functional disorders. For over 6 years Pinkham's Compound has helped hun dreds of thousands of weak, rundown ner vous women. Try it!

Your Opinion

Public opinion is a weak tyra compared with our own priva opinion. What a man thinks himself, that it is which dete mines, or rather indicates, h fate.—Henry David Thoreau.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use
666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH DROPS

Light Heart

A light heart lives long.—Shak speare.

SOOTHE MINOR BURNS MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY 5¢ AND 10¢

WNU—N 50—

Always a Duty

There is not a moment witho some duty.—Cicero.

THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorders of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

"THE BRAVERY OF OUR BUGLER IS MUCH SPOKEN OF..."

The Story of a Forgotten American Hero

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

"IF IT'S Injun war history you're wanting, then you'd better talk to Tom Gatchell," they told me in Buffalo, Wyo. "He knows more about such things than anyone else around here."

So I went to see T. J. Gatchell, druggist, historian and industrious collector of Wyoming lore. He led me to the rear of his store, where the walls of his little office are covered with relics of the days when the troopers of Carrington and Custer and Crook strove mightily with the painted warriors of Red Cloud and Crazy Horse and Sitting Bull.

These mementoes had been brought here from half a dozen battlefields in the country watered by the Yellowstone river and its tributaries, the Powder, the Tongue, the Big Horn and the Rosebud. There were knives and hatchets and spear-heads; bows and arrows, beaded belts and a war bonnet of eagle feathers; carbines and pistols and bayonets; cartridge boxes, canteens, buckles, buttons and other ornaments from soldier uniforms.

In the midst of them hung what was once a copper cavalry bugle. Its mouthpiece was broken off and it was dented and twisted and flattened out of all semblance of its original shape.

"That?" replied Mr. Gatchell, "O, that was picked up on Massacre Hill—you know, the place where Fetterman and his crew were wiped out back in '66. I reckon the bugler dropped it during that melee and it was trampled on by the cavalry horses. Anyway, that's just the shape it was in when a young fellow from Buffalo found it 40-odd years ago and gave it to me."

* * *

A year or so later I was leafing idly through a bound volume of Horace Greeley's New York Semi-Weekly Tribune. On page one of the issue for April 2, 1867, an item, headed simply "The Indians," caught my eye. It read:

The St. Louis Republican's special correspondent at St. Joseph gives the following account of the Fort Phil Kearney Massacre, derived from the Commissioners sent to investigate the matter, from the Sioux Indians:

The Sioux drew our men out of the fort, and killed them all. Our men fought like tigers, and would not have been overcome so easily if they had not kept so close together. The combatants were so mixed up that the Indians killed several of their own party with their arrows. The bravery of our bugler is much spoken of, he having killed several Indians by beating them over the head with his bugle They say that there were only 16 Sioux and four Cheyennes killed on the field, but after they encamped 94 warriors died from their wounds, and of 300 others wounded, half of them were expected to die One "big" Sioux chief was among the killed

"The bravery of our bugler is much spoken of, he having killed several Indians by beating them over the head with his bugle."

Those words seemed to leap out from the page. Instantly my mind raced back to a summer afternoon in Buffalo, Wyo.—to the sight of a battered bugle hanging on the walls of the little office in Tom Gatchell's drug store and his quiet remark, "O, that was picked up on Massacre Hill—you know, the place where Fetterman and his crew were wiped out back in '66."

But who was this heroic musician?

His bravery, which was "much spoken of" by the Sioux, is not mentioned in any of the books which tell of Fort Phil Kearney's tragic history—with one exception That is the autobiography of Malcolm Campbell, a famous Wyoming sheriff who had been a bullwhacker on the Oregon Trail in 1867. He heard the story of the "Fetterman Massacre" from the lips of men who were at Phil Kearney the previous year and refers to the incident thus:

The Indians mutilated every body in Fetterman's command with the exception of the bugler who fought so courageously that his remains were left untouched but covered with a buffalo robe.

But what was this bugler's name?

Although the dull, dry pages of the "Report of the Secretary of War for the Year 1867" gives the names of the officers who were killed near Phil Kearney, it does not identify any of the enlisted men who were victims of the Sioux scalping knives.

So, back to the New York Semi-Weekly Tribune and there on page one of the issue for January 17, 1867, appears an item headed "The Massacre at Fort Phil Kearney." It reads:

FORT LARAMIE, Jan. 14.—The following are the names of the cavalry killed in the recent massacre at Fort Phil Kearney:

Second Lieut. Horatio S. Bingham, killed on the 6th. of December; Sergeant James Baker, Corporal James Kelly, bugler Adolph Metzger, saddler John McCarty, and privates Thos. Anderson, Thos. Brogdin, Wm. S. Bugbee, Wm. L. Cornog, Chas. Cuddy, Patrick Clancey, Harvey S. Denning, Hugh B. Doran, Robert Daniels, Anderson M. Fitzgerald, Nathaniel Foreman, John Glister, Daniel Green, Chas. Gampel, Ferdinand Homer, Park Jones, James P. Maguire, John McCarty, George W. Nugent, Franklin Payne, James Ryan, Oliver Williams, all killed December 21.

in 1869. He served on the Committees on the District of Columbia, Private Land Claims, Manufactures, and Printing.

THE INDIANS.

The St. Louis Republican's special correspondent at Phil. Kearney massacre, derived from the Commissioners sent to investigate the matter, from the Sioux Indians:

The Sioux drew our men out of the fort, and killed them all. Our men fought like tigers, and would not have been overcome so easily if they had not kept so close together. The combatants were so mixed up that the Indians killed several of their own party with their arrows. The bravery of our bugler is much spoken of, he having killed several Indians by beating them over the head with his bugle. They say that there were only 16 Sioux and four Cheyennes killed on the field, but after they encamped 94 warriors died from their wounds, and of 300 others wounded, half of them were expected to die. One "big" Sioux chief was among the killed. They mention a man on a white horse who cut off an Indian's head with a single stroke of his saber, and say that when reënforcements left the fort for the battle-ground they (the Indians) retired, having had enough fighting. There were 2,000 Indians engaged in the fight, and the strength of the concentrated tribes is reported at 2,800 lodges, which are now moving toward Yellow Stone and Missouri Rivers.

The expedition to the Indian country, under the command of Major-Gen. Hancock, left Leavenworth

So we know now who this brave bugler was—Adolph Metzger. It is obviously a German name and one which seems a bit out of place among such "Paddies" as Cuddy and Clancey and Fitzgerald, Maguire and McCarty and Ryan, all so typical of the kind of men who were the hard-riding, hard-fighting troopers of the Old Army days.

But what was his station in life before he put on Uncle Sam's uniform of blue and was sent out to the Wyoming frontier to die on the windswept summit which is known today as "Massacre Hill"? The office of the adjutant-general in Washington gives a partial answer to that question, thus:

The records of this office show that one Adolph Metzger first enlisted May 29, 1855, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, for a period of five years at which time he stated that he was 21 years of age. He last enlisted July 12, 1864, at near Light House Landing, Virginia,, was assigned to Troop C, 2d Regiment United States Cavalry; and was killed in action with the Indians near Peno Creek (about 7 miles from Fort Phil Kearney, Dakotah Territory) December 21, 1866, while serving as a Bugler His birthplace is recorded as Germany No additional information has been found regarding his personal history

And here the record ends—except for this:

Undoubtedly he was the bugler who sounded "Boots and Saddles!" when the message, "Indians attacking the woodchoppers camp on Piney Island!", came to Fort Phil Kearney that morning. We know that he was one of the 26 troopers who accompanied the force of 50 picked men from the Eighteenth infantry and two civilian volunteers, led by Lieut. Col. W. J. Fetterman, Capt. Frederick H. Brown and Lieut. G. W. Grummond, who were acting under these orders from Col. H. B. Carrington, commander of the fort:

Relics from the "Fort Phil Kearney Massacre" in the collection of T. J. Gatchell of Buffalo, Wyo. At the right is the bugle carried by Adolph Metzger of Troop C, Second U. S. Cavalry.

"Support the wood train, relieve it and report to me. Do not engage the Indians at its expense; under no circumstances pursue them over Lodge Trail Ridge."

We know that Fetterman disobeyed those orders and allowed himself to be drawn into an ambush. Then more than 2,000 Sioux and Cheyennes came boiling out of the ravines and coulees beyond Lodge Trail Ridge and, like a red wave of destruction, engulfed the 55 doughboys and their officers. Then the Indians swept up the icy slope of the ridge to which the cavalrymen retreated, leading their horses and shooting back at the savages as fast as they could load and fire their single-shot carbines.

When they reached the end of the ridge and saw the hundreds of warriors swarming up the other side, sudden panic struck them. They let their horses go, and with them went their last chance to cut through the circle of death drawing closer and closer around them

We can see them now as they threw themselves down behind the boulders which formed an irregular circle at the end of the bleak, snow-covered ridge, resolved to sell their lives dearly. We can hear the whooping braves as they came surging up the slope and see them rushing forward right in among the rocks, where a handful of blue-coated men, their white faces streaked with blood and blackened with powder stains, struggled to their feet to meet the onslaught

There was a brief moment of hand-to-hand fighting, of crashing blows dealt with gun-barrels clenched in the hands of fear-maddened men who flailed about them desperately to ward off the slashing knives and smashing war-clubs. It was a dreadful mix-up there in the dust and smoke and flying snow—the kind of fight to which the Sioux give the vividly descriptive name of "stirring gravy."

The fight there couldn't have lasted long. But in that last dreadful moment of slaughter, in the midst of that swirl of struggling, swearing, screaming men, there was one who went berserk. It was Bugler Adolph Metzger who lashed out madly, blindly, with the only weapon he had left, and he laid more than one of the painted enemy low with his strange bludgeon before they, like a pack of gray wolves attacking a buffalo bull, pulled him down at last.

We know that his was one of the 81 bodies, stripped naked and frozen solid (for the mercury dropped to 25 below zero that afternoon of December 21), which were brought in by searching parties from the fort the next day So bitter was the weather that the grave-diggers at Phil Kearney were forced to work in short relays and it was not until three days later that a great pit, 50 feet long and seven feet deep, was hewn out of the frozen ground inside the stockade to receive the victims of Fetterman's tragic disobedience.

There these doughboys and troopers "shared one tomb, buried, as they had fought, together"—thus, Colonel Carrington's official report to his department commander—until several years later when a national cemetery was established on the Little Big Horn in Montana. Then their bodies were transferred to this new resting place where their dust now mingles with the dust of the victims of another famous frontier tragedy, "Custer's Last Stand."

And today the winds come sweeping down from the snow-capped peaks of the Big Horn range — the same mountains which once echoed to the haunting strains of "Taps," blown at old Fort Phil Kearney by Bugler Adolph Metzger—to play a wild requiem over his grave. His name is carved on the simple headstone that gleams white in the bright sunlight of that "barren land and lone" where sleep the dead of Custer's command. It is also written in the dusty records of the adjutant-general's office and it is printed on the yellowed pages of an old New York newspaper. Except for these, there is little else to remind his fellow-Americans that he once lived.

But there is something to recall to them the manner of his dying. On the walls of a druggist's office in a little Wyoming city hangs what was once a cavalry bugle. It is the bugle which blared out its summons to the 81 members of Fetterman's doomed command to keep a rendezvous with death one cold December morning more than 70 years ago. It was carried by "one Adolph Metzger" and it is a symbol of and a monument to the stark courage of an American soldier.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

ROBOT PLANE SCORES HITS

WASHINGTON —No military secret is more closely guarded than a sensational new robot airplane now being tried out secretly by the navy in both Hawaii and Langley field, Va.

Navy experts have been working for more than 10 years to develop a reliable "pilotless" plane operated by radio control. Observers who have witnessed some of the latest tests, pronounce the device as near miraculous A robot bomber takes off, discharges its bombs over a distant target, returns to base and lands without being touched by a human hand

The distance of the target is calculated in advance, and when the robot reaches it a device automatically releases the bombs Naturally the aiming is largely a matter of chance, but in the tests a number of direct hits were scored. The cruising radius of the robots is limited only by fuel supply and the radio frequency range.

While most effective at short distances, the robot can be used for long-range bombing in conjunction with piloted planes or by a secret system of "relay control," that is, by radio stations along the line of flight

So closely is the invention guarded that navy officers have been warned that any talk about it will be considered a violation of the Espionage act, and make them subject to court martial and dismissal.

* * *

DEFENSE 'INFLUENCE'

There was a hidden brickbat in that sharp warning issued by Assistant War Secretary Robert Patterson that no one has an "inside track" in the awarding of army defense contracts.

What the mild-mannered former U S Circuit court judge didn't say was that he is planning to insert a little clause in every army contract, requiring contractors to swear they paid no commissions or any other fees to obtain the order Penalty for doing so is cancellation of the contract.

Under the law Patterson is legally responsible for the entire industrial mobilization program and passes on every large army contract. The boasts of certain lobbyists and high-pressure promoters that they can get army orders through "inside influence" are, therefore, a direct reflection on him He doesn't like it one bit and has no intention of putting up with it.

Some of the "influence" operators have even told officials of cities they could deliver defense projects which had already been located elsewhere by the war department for strategic reasons.

* * *

DUTCH PRINCESS

Inside story of the expected White House visit of Crown Princess Juliana of The Netherlands is that she and Mrs. Roosevelt have kept up a correspondence ever since the princess arrived in Canada six months ago with her two baby daughters

The visit to Washington might have come sooner, but the princess put it off because she didn't relish a round of extravagant entertainment. She wants to avoid being dined and wined while her own people, now under German domination, are living on rationed food.

The princess, with her two children, has been living in a rented house in Ottawa. Her husband, Prince Bernhard, is in London as aide-de-camp to Queen Wilhelmina, and her brother is reported to be in a German concentration camp.

In Ottawa, the princess has not entertained, has amused herself by walking and playing tennis. She will be a White House guest for two days, beginning December 18.

* * *

CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS

The man responsible for the light sentence given the eight divinity college students who refused to register for the draft was not the New York court, but Attorney General Robert Jackson

The young men, who were students of Union Theological seminary, were about to receive a three-year sentence. But as a result of Jackson's intervention, they got a year and a day.

Jackson polled the judges in advance of the decision and found they were all in favor of a long, stiff sentence. Partly for humanitarian reasons, and partly because he didn't want the boys to become martyrs who would arouse wide popular objection to the law, Jackson instructed U. S. Attorney Cahill to ask for a short sentence.

The students now may get out in even less than a year. The short sentence makes them eligible for White House reprieve, whereas with a longer sentence, the President would not have felt free to intervene.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Mrs. Roosevelt isn't the only White House devotee of square dancing Another enthusiast is handsome young Jimmy Rowe, White House secretary, who belongs to a club staging square dances once a week Jimmy's favorite is the "cowboy stomp."

AROUND THE HOUSE

When planning your meals aim for a balance in soft and solid, strong and mild-flavored, and a variety in colors as well as watching out for nutriment values.

* * *

To clean the inside of milk bottles add a tablespoon of salt to one-third cup of vinegar, put into bottle and shake well.

* * *

Waxed paper used freely will save a lot of dish washing. Use a heavy kind or two sheets of the lighter type. Put them on tables to hold sweets hardened in buttered pans.

* * *

Let potatoes that are to be French fried stand in cold water at least half an hour before frying. It makes them crisp.

Gift Specials

A gift that is sure to please any cigarette smoker is a gift of Camel Cigarettes. Local dealers are featuring Camels in two special gift packages. The well-known Camel carton—10 packs of "20's"—is presented in handsome holiday dress. Another Camel gift special is the Christmas package of 4 "flat fifties." Both packages are ready-to-give even to the gift label.—Adv.

An Invitation to Rest & Relaxation
AT
MINERAL WELLS TEXAS
WHERE AMERICA DRINKS ITS WAY TO HEALTH

● Outdoor activities at their best. The ultimate in facilities for recreation and rejuvenation, including the finest therapeutic baths with complete massage.
Bakerwell Health Plan including room, meals, baths, massages, from $35.00 a week.

EUROPEAN PLAN from $2
LOUIS GAMBRELL Manager

BAKER HOTEL

To keep hot fat from splattering, sprinkle a little flour or salt in it before frying.

Be the envy of your friends with this gorgeous STERLING SILVER RING and save money
Looks like a real diamond

This beautiful ring is Solid Sterling Silver (not plated). It is set with a large white, brilliant-cut stone that looks like a diamond. Two smaller stones on either side with heart motif give you pride and pleasure in wearing this distinctive ring that goes with any costume for any occasion. Just send 50c and two labels from Van Camp's Products with this order blank.

50¢ AND TWO VAN CAMP'S LABELS

TEAR OUT AND MAIL THIS ORDER BLANK TODAY

Van Camp's Inc.
Dept. W, Box No. 144, New York, N.Y.
Enclosed are 50 cents and two labels from delicious Van Camp's Products. Please send me the lovely Solid Sterling Silver Ring as illustrated.
NAME
ADDRESS
CITY STATE
RING SIZE SCALE
A SIZES, 0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
Wrap around finger and check your size

Money in Trust
Put not your trust in money, but put your money in trust.—Holmes.

Motion Is Life
Motion is the life of all things.—Duchess of Newcastle.

IT TAKES AN ORANGE LIKE THIS

Best for Juice —and Every use!

You can see and taste the "extras" in California oranges! The juice is deeper in color—finer in flavor—richer in vitamins and minerals.

They are the seedless Navels. Easy to peel, slice and section for fresh salads and desserts. Ideal to eat out of hand between meals or at bedtime.

Those stamped "Sunkist" on the skin are the finest from over 14,000 cooperating growers. Buy several dozen for economy.

Copyright, 1940, California Fruit Growers Exchange

SEEDLESS
Sunkist
CALIFORNIA NAVEL ORANGES

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber.

Supplies of eggs in the United States for the first half of 1941 are expected to be about 3 or 4 per cent smaller than they were in the first half of 1940.

Professional bacon fryers get that way by starting their bacon in a cold skillet, turning it frequently and pouring off fat as it accumulates.

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—NINE GOOD USED Heaters. Coal and oil burning parlor furnaces and regular heaters. All in fine condition and priced right. Jacobs Hardware Store. 1tc

FOR SALE—P. B. - C. W. BOAR Tried. 90 rods west of Avery Center school. Wm. B. Sandry. D11--18c

FOR SALE—CHOICE BUILDING Lots in Klemme. Mrs. Bertha Schlei, Goodell route. N27-D4-18p

FOR SALE— FIVE DUROC JERSEY Boars. Mrs. C A. Arnold, Klemme, Iowa. D-4tfc

FOR SALE— ONE SHORTHORN Bull and Spotted Boars. R. H and A. S Harris, Meservey. D-4tfc

FOR SALE-- 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each Klemme Auto Company. tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

FREE TO THE FIRST FORTY Farmers who bring in their Harnesses for oiling we will give a $1.00 Stockmen's Pocket Knife. Harnesses oiled for only $1.00 at Kimball's Leather Store, Klemme. tfc

CAR OWNERS- AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE. All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND —PAIR OF GLASSES IN worn case on Klemme street Saturday. Owner call at Times office and reward boys who found them. 1tc.

U-DELT-EM BRIDGE CLUB HAD CHRISTMAS PARTY THURSDAY

The U-Delt-Em bridge club met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Kingery to spend the afternoon playing contract bridge. Mrs. Kingery had her home decorated in Christmas style for the occasion. High score was won by Mrs. W. H. Galbreth and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson was second high.

Mrs. R. R. Reece and Mrs. Ernest Lewis were guests. Lunch was served by the hostess.

GARNER FARMERS WIN TOP HONORS IN CORN YIELD CONTEST

An outstanding corn yield of 105 bushels per acre has just won the Championship for Walter Eisberg, of Garner, Iowa, for Hancock County, in the 1940 North Corn Belt Seed Growers, Inc., yield contest.

Mr. Eisberg's corn was grown under just ordinary farm conditions, and good farming practices. His yield is approximately double the average for his county. It was produced with Pfister's 368.

The runner-up to Mr. Eisberg was Henry Hollatz, of Garner, Ia., with a yield of 104.2 bushels per acre, with the same hybrid strain. The yield checks were made by a representative of the seed company and local farmer witnesses.

Many farmers cooperated this year in producing high yields of corn, in similar contest throughout the cornbelt, according to Mr. Walter R. Eisberg, of Garner.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED HIGH SCHOOL XMAS VESPER CONCERT

Sacred Music By Band and Mixed Chorus Rated Best Concert Here

A large crowd was present at the Klemme High School auditorium Sunday evening to hear the Christmas Vesper Concert given by the high school band and the mixed chorus, both under the able direction of Bernard Onerheim, director of music in the Klemme schools.

The concert, which took about an hour, consisted of four numbers by the band, eight numbers by the high school mixed chorus and community singing of Christmas carols by the audience.

Beautiful lighting effects and a Christmas stage scene added greatly to the beauty and dignity of the program.

Those who heard the program proclaimed that it was the best musical program ever presented in Klemme by an amatuer group, and the concert was equal in many respects to similar concerts presented here in the past by college trained groups.

Mr. Onerheim is to be complimented for the fine work he is doing in promoting music in our schools.

Approximately $125 has been added to the value of the average Iowa farm by highwap improvement over a 20-year period, report agricultural economists at Iowa State College.

IT DOESN'T TAKE A

Barrel of Money

To Enjoy These Advantages of A FAIRBANKS-MORSE

Coal Stoker

In Your Home!!

1. Fire your furnace once a day or less.
2. No Dirt or Coal Dust. Stoker Coal is clean.
3. Save almost a third of your Fuel Cost. Stoker Coal is inexpensive and your furnace never gets too hot.
4. No Ashes. Just remove a few clinkers with special Tongs furnished with the machine.
5. Room Temperature is constant regardless of the outside temperature.
6. You have a DEALER at home.

Fred J. Arnold

Phone 77R2 Klemme, Iowa

Ink Spots And Spatters

By Jergie

NEW ECONOMY SLANT . . .

Senator E. A. Augustine, Oskaloosa Democrat, is reported ready to offer the next legislature a new economy opportunity. The senator would combine Iowa's ninety-nine counties into fifty-four larger units thus cutting membership in the lower chamber from 108 to 54 members and the senate from 50 to 25 members. He points out that counties were organized and county seats established in the days when it took all day to drive a county with a horse and buggy. Senator Augustine views his proposal as one that "could save the taxpayers of Iowa a lot of money" although he does not explain what he proposes to do with the other 55 county court houses and other properties now used to house the various departments of county governments.

I-S-A-S

FARMERS AND LAWYERS . . .

Young men and women of Iowa who aspire to the state legislature should tie their wagons to a plow or a legal education if the make-up of the 1941 general assembly can be taken as a guide. According to officials lists compiled by the secretary of state, lawyers and farmers will dominate the session. It is revealed that 93 of the 158 members are either farmers or lawyers; 47 lawyers, 46 farmers. This near even split is almost the same in both houses, there being 17 lawyers and 14 farmers in the senate and 30 lawyers and 32 farmers in the house of representatives. No other single occupation is represented by more than five members. In 1939 the legislature included 45 attorneys and 45 farmers while in 1937 it listed 61 farmers and 32 lawyers. The oldest legislator will be Senator C V. Findlay, 74, of Fort Dodge, and the youngest Representative J. Dick Snakenberg, 25, of Sigourney.

I-S-A-S

CORN CHEMURGY . . .

For many years chemists and politicians have sought new uses for the products of Iowa farms. The chemist and scientist labored only in the interest of industry and perhaps in the hope that society might be benefited. The politician, however, employed the scientific terms he did not always understand in appeals to the voting strength of the farmers. With foreign markets lost and the local markets dwindling, the farmer himself has at times grasped at these chemurgic straws of hope. But the politician's lurid promise cannot always be supported by the accomplishment of the scientist whose work must of necessity lead in and out of many blind alleys before any degree of success is attained. Many of the products of Iowa farm are being directed into new markets via new discoveries but the process has been slow. But enough has been accomplished to indicate the desirability of continuing.

I-S-A-S

SYNTHETIC CORN-RUBBER . .

Recently the Iowa Industrial Resources and Defense council named a committee to explore the possibilities of converting the surplus corn into synthetic ruber. The base material of synthetic rubber, it is said, is butadiene. The greatest potential supply of this product is understood to be found in the carbohydrate yielding crops such as corn and wheat. Quincy Ayres of Iowa State College and Dr. H. H. McCarthy of the University of Iowa have been asked to consult possible manufacturers of synthetic rubber and report back to the defense council. The demands of the huge defense program and the threat of the normal supply of natural rubber, gives great impetus to any discovery or process that could supply a synthetic product in large quantity.

BEST WISHES

E. H. Bump, Grinnell, has two reasons for celebrating December 6. It is his birthday and his wedding anniversary. This year, he celebrated his 87th birthday and his 63rd wedding anniversary.

Wonderlands under the sea. A page of reproductions in full color of paintings by William Crowder, naturalist and marine artist, showing the strange beauty of underwater scenes and life. See them in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Caroline Schlawin To Wayne & Florence Pavey, Wty Deed. 11-4-40, $150. Lot 3, Blk 15, Klemme's 1st Add. to Klemme.

Kathryn Stoner & J. D. To Lloyd E. Griggs, Wty Deed, 12-9-40, $1. NE¼ SW¼ 7-97-25.

Etta Haskin To Opal Arnold, Wty Deed, 10-31-40, $1. Lots 10 & 11, Blk 5, Park Add. to town of Garner.

LOST IN MIDAIR

Bill Orr, Grmnell college student pilot, had people worried when he became lost during some practice power turns. He turned up sometime later, 50 miles from Grinnell.

W. D. DALY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
First Door South of Postoffice
Phone 140—GARNER

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone
Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS
Garner Iowa

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insurance
Is A FYR-FYTER
Sold & Serviced By
ELMER AX

IT PAYS TO USE WANT ADS

KLEMME MOVIES
Klemme Legion Community Hall
Wed., Dec. 25th
They're Sing-Sensational! Bing Crosby and Gloria Jean in
"If I Had My Way"
Also Comedy and Selected Short Subjects
Show Starts at 8:00 P. M. Adm. 10c & 20c

DANCE Sat. Night Dec. 21
Klemme Legion Community Hall
Billy Hughes 10 Piece Orchestra
Adm. 44c - 33c Tax Included
COMING . . . Sat. Dec. 28, Carl Nebbe's Band
Big New Year's Eve Dance
DEC. 31 EVERYBODY WELCOME Good Orchestra

YES! WE MUST SELL OUR
Used CARS and TRUCKS
No matter what you have in mind, we are sure you can find the CAR or TRUCK you want in our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. Many bargains in late models. You take no chances when you deal with us. Come in and look them over.
Garner Motor Sales
OLDSMOBILE CHEVROLET

Christmas--

The Younger Children, God Bless Them, will expect, and must have candy and Toys and things to make a noise, or their happiness at Christmas-time would not be complete.

But, the Older Children and the Grown-ups, quite a long list — in fact, most of your best friends and relatives are in this class.

These mature people are modest, they know all about Santa Claus, and are so busy providing happiness for their younger friends that they hardly expect Santa to visit them.

And still, we owe them so much, these Grown-ups, maybe they made sacrifices so that we could go to school, maybe they sat at our bedside while we were sick, and when we were Kids they always provided for our happiness at Christmas-time.

And again, Older People are so appreciative of any Gift they do receive, they even sometimes shed tears of joy and mildly scold the young folks for spending good money on them.

Yes, Yes, of all people lets remember the grown-up folks with useful and lasting Gifts.

Your Furniture Store Is Well Supplied With Just The Items You Want

ROCKERS CEDAR CHESTS RUGS
PICTURES MIRRORS FLOOR LAMPS
TABLE LAMPS PIN-UP LAMPS
KNEE-HOLE DESKS END TABLES
RADIO TABLES PARLOR TABLES LOUNGE CHAIRS STUDIO COUCHES BED ROOM SUITES, etc. etc.

Sometimes several children will join in to provide a really nice GIFT for the Parents.

A Christmas potted plant, the Poinsettia, for your Christmas table, will add just the last appropriate touch to your Christmas decorations.

Arthur Wellemeyer

...tographs
...LIVE FOREVER
...USSELL
...HOTO STUDIO
...C. Penny MASON CITY

ILLUSION

Road officials are investigating the cause of several deaths on the highway near Whiting. It is believed that the accidents, which all occur about 10 30 a. m., are caused by the sun's rays striking the pavement in such a way that the motorist sees only a straight strip of paving, where there is really a curve

THADA'S

...od Store In A Good Town — Klemme, Iowa

...SYRUP gallon ..... 31c | PENICK SYRUP Dark, 1 gallon . 52c

...CHES 3 boxes for 08c

...TISSUE ..... 21c | BUTTERNUT Jell, 6 pkgs. 25c

...cake Flour DIXIANA 2 pkgs. for 25c

...ONI for ..... 25c | SPAGHETTI 6 pkgs. for 25c

...APPLE Crushed, Buffet Size Tins 3 for 25c

...DRESSING ...t at ..... 19c | COOKIES, Fresh Fig Bars Per lb. at 10c

...ALS FOR HOLIDAY DINNERS

...ave a nice selection of food stuffs for your Holi...ners: Canned Goods, Cookies and Baked Goods, ...Fruits in Season; Fresh Vegetables, Christmas Can... Nuts, Fresh Oysters, Cheese, Pickles and Relishes. ...ere for your Christmas Decorations!

...DAY IS FREE GIFT DAY AT OUR STORE!

...day Night, Dec. 21st we are going to give away ...at 9:00 o'clock a 32-piece set of Dishes, a beautiful ...d another fine gift. Be sure to be here.

... Gift coupons are being given this week for cash ...es and cash paid on accounts. Ask us how you ...eive a fine GIFT!

...HE LATE SHOPPER—

...till have a fine selection of GIFTS. You can find ...le GIFT here that will please that particular per... Nice line of Toys for the Kiddies.

The Shamrock Times

STAFF

Editor — Irene Becker
Ass't. Editor — Lucille Hartbeck

Reporters

Freshman — Eunice Larsen
Sophomore — Audrey Mau
Junior — Lorraine Buntenbach
Senior — Shirley Johnson
Dramatics — Gertrude Grosshuesch
Music — Jacqueline Kudje
Sports — Henry Kaduce, Leonard Kaduce
Grade News — Arlene Schmidt

SPORTS

The Klemme Shamrocks took their first defeat of the season by a thin margin of 12 to 11 at Belmond

The Belmond boys were husky on their own court but the Shamrocks made them work

The Klemme team had the ball but lost it One of the Belmont boys pushed it thru the net in the last twenty seconds.

The second team had better luck because they defeated their opponents, 20 to 17

MUSIC NEWS

The music department of the school wishes to express its thanks to the City Council for the basketbal tickets issued to the members of the band It is the favors like this that make music worthwhile and peps us up for better music.

Several new members will be added to the band after Christmas We are all hoping Santa Claus will be more than generous in handing out new instruments this Christmas

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The seniors have organized an orchestra and will give their first and probably their last concert on Friday afternoon Dec 20

The home economics girls will make Christmas candies next week

When the physics students got through working with compasses and magnets in class Friday, they had the north and south poles interchanged

The manual training boys have built a ping-pong table. The school bought a table tennis set and the students are allowed to play during the noon hour.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

The juniors were wondering all during sociology what Melvin Coobs got into before class. His lip was all swollen.

One junior seems to have it bad She's had a case on a certain senior boy for so long and now she seems to have taken to his freshman brother.

Everybody keeps talking about "Blondie" and "Dagwood" in the junior class. We all know that "Blondie" is Betty Lass but as to "Dagwood," we're all wondering.

One junior boy claims he doesn't like girls' That's all right Charlie, don't we all think that!!!

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

This week in algebra we had 2 tests We have been studying the chapter, "Learning The Language of Algebra"

In history this week we had another one of these nice tests.

What is this about two sophomore boys having a feud over a red-haired freshman girl.

We are getting ready for a test in biology which we have today We're all afraid to see the returns

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS

Business letters are the present object of study in English I Our newly organized English club has been named "The Good Americans English Club"

Friday morning the freshmen were trying to find news for a current event in business training

Time is monopolizing three-fourths of the freshmen's study hall this week What a science book!!!

A basketball gama,
Perhappa,
Out lata,
A classa,
A quizza
I flunka
Gee whizza!

Grade News

GRADES 7 & 8

We have been busy planning our Christmas party James Thomas Duard Lewis, LaVonne Hammitt, and Patricia Kudje are on the decoration committee

Mavis, Edward Barz and Edward Buntenbach received 100 per cent in spelling

GRADES 5 & 6

Edward, Donna, William, Irene Shirley, Esther, Clarence, Mary Lou Carol, Roger R, Roger B, Phyllis, Ruth Stokesbary, Ruth Smith, Arlene, Elizabeth and Dean had perfect spelling scores this week

We did finger painting in art this week Three people made posters advertising the program Sunday night using finger paint.

Dennis Ridder visited Friday afternoon

Carol brought a Christmas scene for our room

We are putting up our Christmas tree on Saturday.

Mary Lou and William were reporters.

GRADES 3 & 4

Fourth grade took Number drill No 5. Ardel had a score of excellent and the class had an average score

In language we have had a unit on letter writing We wrote letters to Canta Claus

We made pictures of Santa Claus for art and made a friez showing the "Three Wise Men."

Phyllis Jean Kirkwood treated us to candy on her birthday Thursday. We wish her many more happy birthdays.

The following had 100 per cent in spelling Luella, Phyllis Stokesbary, Merlin and Isabelle

KINDERGARTEN GRADES 1 & 2

Larry was six years old Thursday. We drew birthday cakes for him. He gaves us a treat.

We made some pictures with finger paints. This was the first time we had done this. We thought it was fun.

JoAnn and Sondra had a perfect score in their review spelling test this week.

RESULTS

Because he failed to observe a stop sign, Jack Laskewick, Mason City, was fined $50 in Northwood Mayor E. N. Klove's court. Stopped on the minor offense by a patrolman, a smoking gun was found in the car, together with a dead hen pheasant. He was then charged with carrying an assembled gun and illegal possession of a pheasant.

CAUGHT

A bobcat, an animal seldom found in this part of the country, was caught in a trap by Walter Henn near Lake Cornelia. Henn's dog received an injured ear in the ensuing fight.

SMILES

Probably it's customary, but Belle Plaine residents had broad smiles on their faces this week when they saw the airplane belonging to Dan Hunter, Cedar Rapids, tied to a fence. Hunter had made a forced landing and had "hitched" his plane to prevent damage by the wind. Just like Old Dobbin.

Only 23 days after celebrating his 100th birthday, Dr. W. H. H. Barker died at his home in Harvey last week.

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL
Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:
Church School 10.00 a. m.
Worship 11.00 a. m
Christian Endeavor 7·00 p. m.
Forum Clinic 8·00 p. m.
Recreation 9.00 p. m.
Wednesday;
Bible Study ... 8.00 p m.
Thursday;
Choir Practice 8·00 p. m.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10 00 a m. English Service.
11 00 a. m. Sunday School.
1 30 Rehearsal for Christmas program.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
William Zabilka, Pastor

Klemme Church:.
Worship Service 10:00 a. m. (Christmas Service)
Sabbath School 11 00 a. m.
League will be closed in time for any who care to go to the Legion Hall program
Sunday School Christmas program Tuesday evening of next week.
Liberty Church:-
Sabbath School 10.15 a m.
Worship Service 11·20 a. m. (Christmas Service)
Sunday School Christmas program Tuesday evening of next week

Christmas trees should not be placed near a fireplace.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

Avery
"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 18-19.
"Blondie Plays Cupid"
with P Singleton, A Lake and L. Simms

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 20-21. (Double Feature)
"Five Little Peppers In Trouble" with Edith Fellows and Dorothy Ann Seese.
ALSO
"Ragtime Cowboy Joe"
Johnny Mack Brown and Fuzzy Knight.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 22-23-24.
"ESCAPE"
with Norma Shearer and Robert Taylor.

Make plans now to attend our New Year's Eve party beginning at 11 30 p. m. on Tuesday, Dec 31. Hats, Horns, Noisemakers and all the fun goes with it!

LAST CALL . . . . ANNUAL KLEMME HIGH SCHOOL
ALUMNI DINNER PARTY
December 27th
7:00 P. M. Klemme Community Hall
Tickets Must Be Reserved!
Please call Wilma Swalve or Milvern Barz

For Year Around Enjoyment
Make This Christmas....
An Electrical Christmas!

...AL ELECTRICAL GIFTS:

Electric Toasters
Waffle Irons
Table Lamps
Corn Poppers
Coffee Makers
Mixmasters
Irons
Electric Shavers
Vacuum Cleaners
Electric Fans
Heating Pads
Extension Cords
Xmas Tree Lights
Electric Grills
Flash Lights

GIFTS THE FAMILY WILL APPRECIATE ....

Why not buy a "grand gift" for the family? We refer to a WESTINGHOUSE REFRIGERATOR

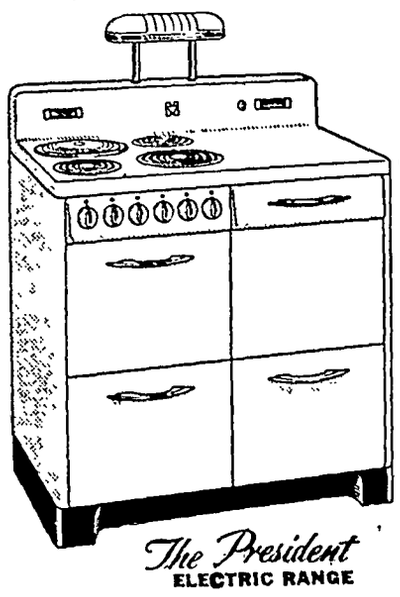
..or, maybe the family would like one of our new WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC RANGES.

Then..we suggest other gifts for year 'round pleasure:
A SKELGAS KITCHEN RANGE

Come in and see the many other "family gifts" in our Store. . . .

...E. F. Jacobs Hardware
...re You Can Shop For Many Family Gifts — Klemme, Iowa

Advice To Women Who Believe In Practical Christmas Gifts



Drop A Hint About This Big, Beautiful New
hotpoint
ELECTRIC RANGE
With Measured Heat

WHY not be practical about Christmas gifts? This full family-size Hotpoint Electric Range with Measured Heat will make Christmas a day to be remembered every day for years to come. Drop that necessary hint right now.

The President ELECTRIC RANGE

New CALROD Units
Cook With Measured Heat
EACH Calrod cooking unit provides 5 Measured Heats. Cooks faster or slower, as needed, but always economically. Coils are self-cleaning. Easily removable reflector can be washed like a pie tin.

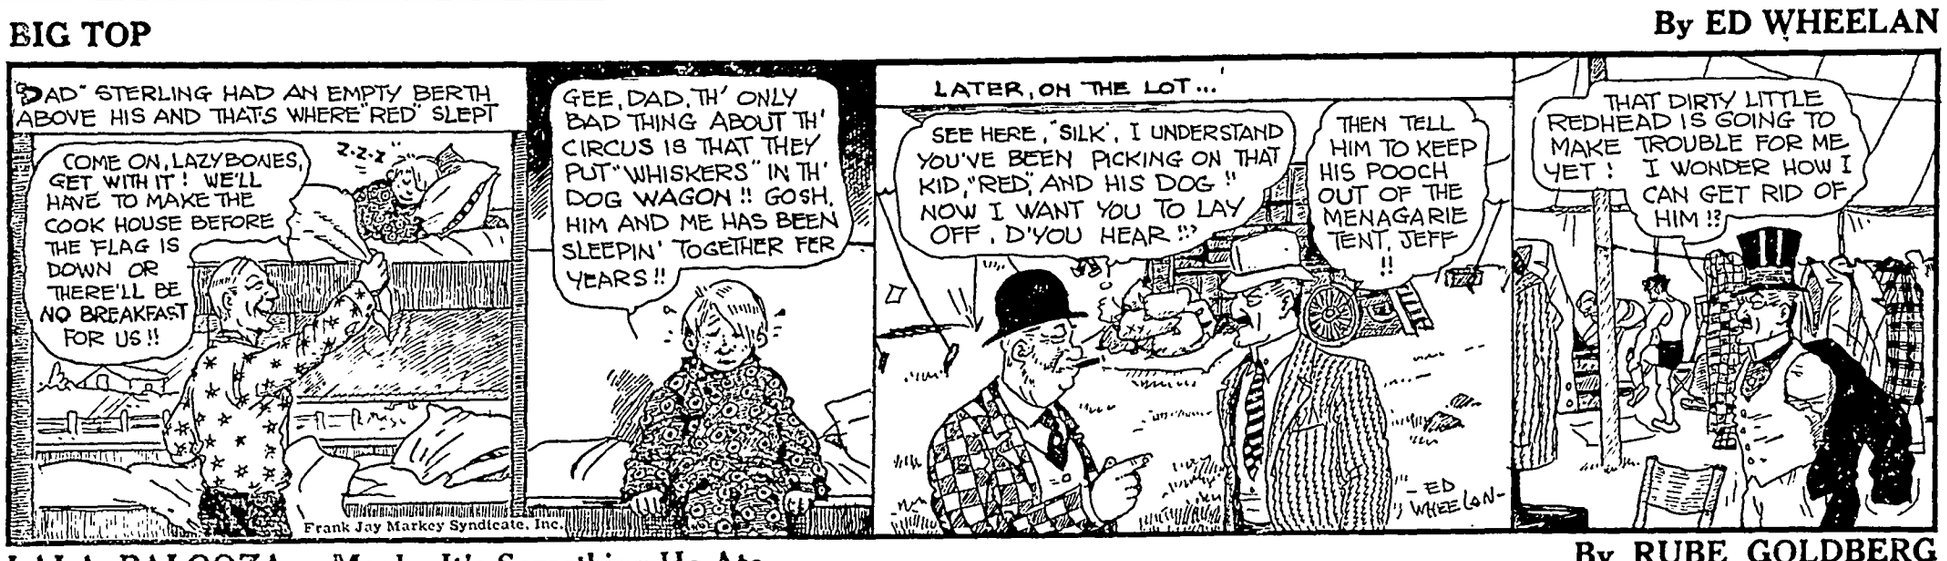
SEE THIS GRAND CHRISTMAS VALUE AT THESE STORES

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN



DAD" STERLING HAD AN EMPTY BERTH ABOVE HIS AND THAT'S WHERE "RED" SLEPT COME ON, LAZYBONES, GET WITH IT! WE'LL HAVE TO MAKE THE COOK HOUSE BEFORE THE FLAG IS DOWN OR THERE'LL BE NO BREAKFAST FOR US!!
Z-Z-Z
GEE, DAD, TH' ONLY BAD THING ABOUT TH' CIRCUS IS THAT THEY PUT "WHISKERS" IN TH' DOG WAGON!! GOSH, HIM AND ME HAS BEEN SLEEPIN' TOGETHER FER YEARS!!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
LATER, ON THE LOT...
SEE HERE, "SILK", I UNDERSTAND YOU'VE BEEN PICKING ON THAT KID, "RED", AND HIS DOG!! NOW I WANT YOU TO LAY OFF, D'YOU HEAR!?
THEN TELL HIM TO KEEP HIS POOCH OUT OF THE MENAGARIE TENT, JEFF!!
- ED WHEELAN -
THAT DIRTY LITTLE REDHEAD IS GOING TO MAKE TROUBLE FOR ME YET! I WONDER HOW I CAN GET RID OF HIM!?

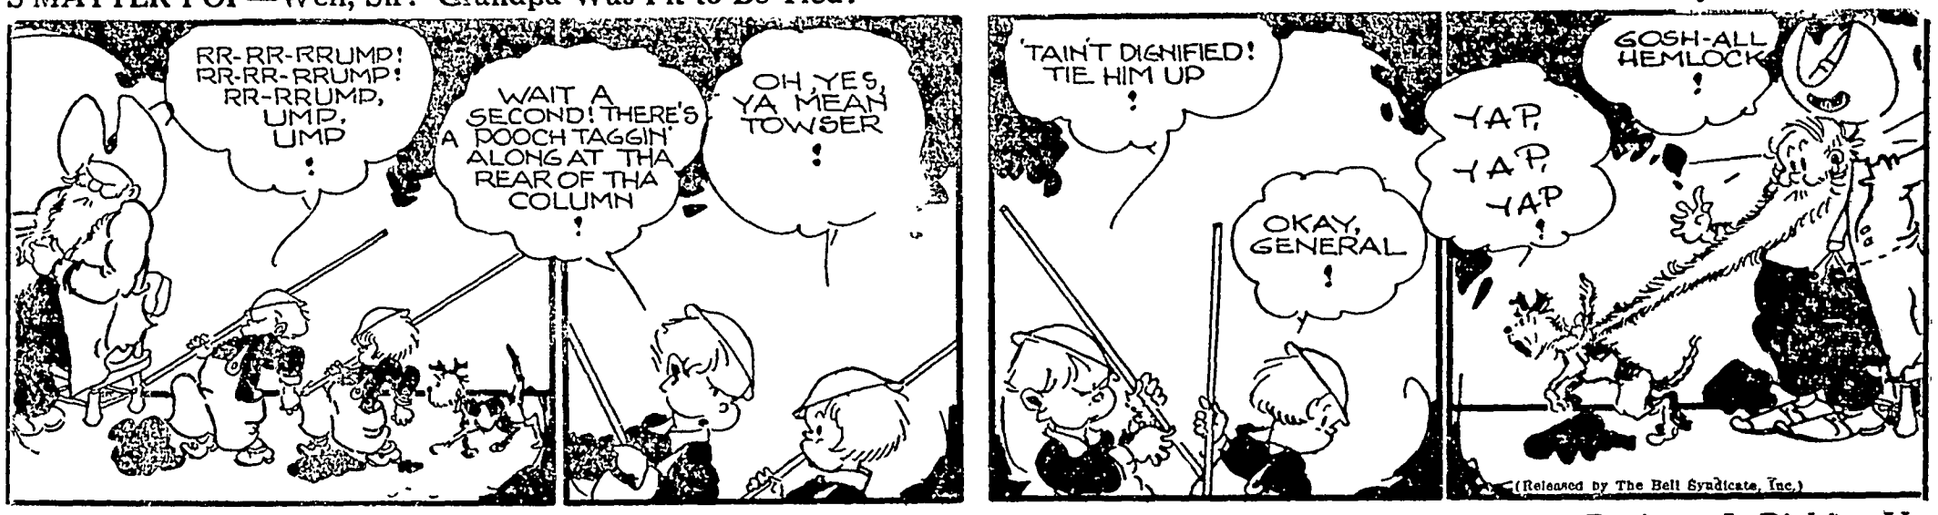
LALA PALOOZA —Maybe It's Something He Ate

By RUBE GOLDBERG

MY UNCLE MUSTN'T KNOW WHERE I AM - HE CAN NEVER MAKE ME MARRY A MAN I DON'T LOVE
I'LL PROTECT YOU FROM THE OLD OCTOPUS
MY UNCLE'S VOICE!
IMAGINE A BOGGLE WORKING FOR A LIVING! AND WITH ALL MY DOUGHNUTS!
YES, MISTER BOGGLE, WE HAVE A NEW GIRL AT THE TOY COUNTER - SHE MIGHT BE YOUR NIECE
RUBE GOLDBERG
A WOMAN WITH WHISKERS! MY PILLS! MY PILLS!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

S'MATTER POP—Well, Sir! Grandpa Was Fit to Be Tied!

By C. M. PAYNE



RR-RR-RRUMP! RR-RR-RRUMP! RR-RRUMP, UMP, UMP!
WAIT A SECOND! THERE'S A POOCH TAGGIN' ALONG AT THA REAR OF THA COLUMN!
OH, YES, YA MEAN TOWSER!
'TAINT DIGNIFIED! TIE HIM UP!
OKAY, GENERAL!
YAP, YAP, YAP!
GOSH-ALL HEMLOCK!
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

Business Is Picking Up

NAW, I AIN'T TH' BARBER - I'M JEST WATCHIN' TH' SHOP FER HIM - SIT DOWN - HE'LL BE RIGHT BACK BARBER
HEY!
RUN OVER TO TH' BUGLE OFFICE REAL QUICK - THE BUGLE
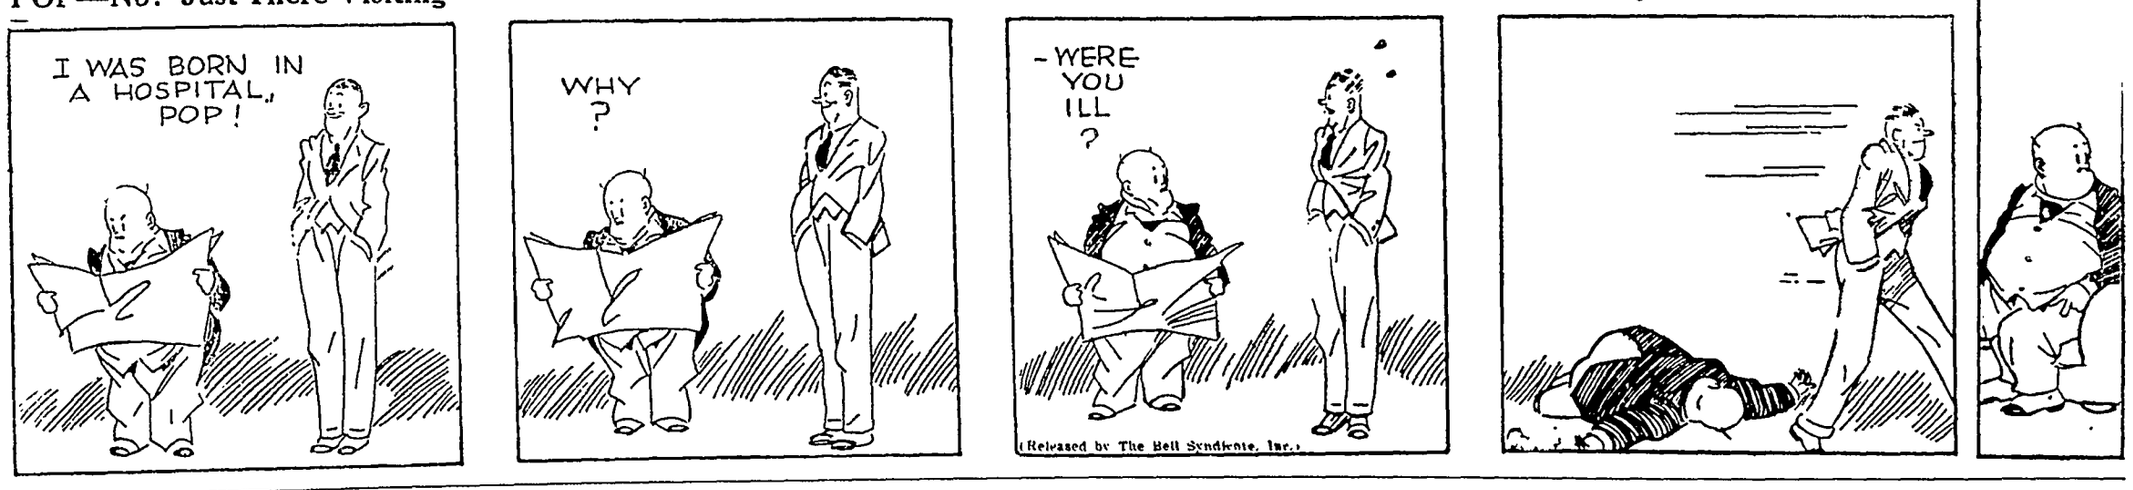
CACTUS COUNTY BUGLE
LUKE HUNT EDITOR
AN' TELL LUKE IF HE'S DONE EDITING THIS WEEK'S EDITION, WE'D LIKE TO HAVE TH' SCISSORS BACK ACCOUNT OF THAR'S A GENT HERE WHAT WANTS A HAIRCUT
ART HUNTA

POP—No! Just There Visiting

By J. MILLAR WATT



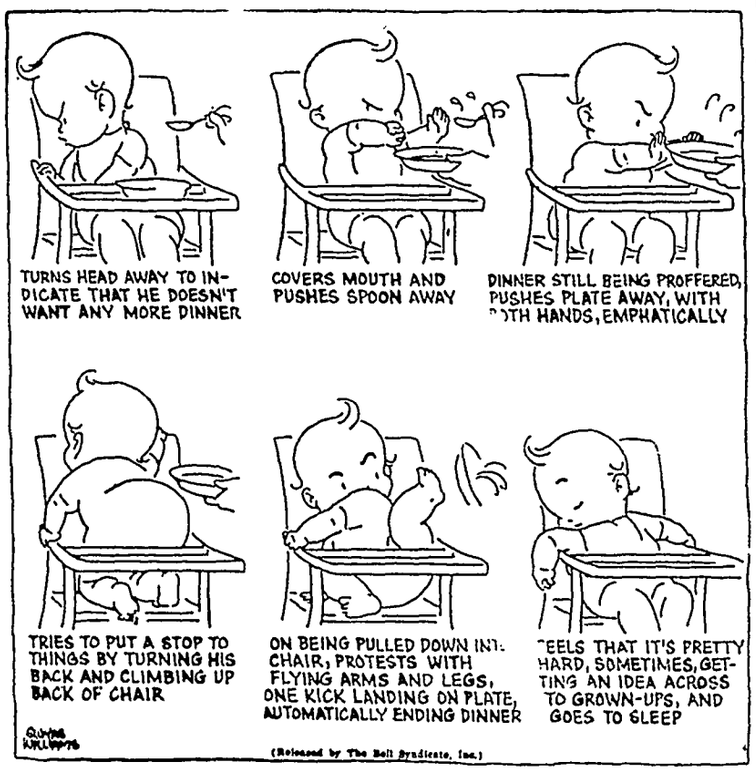
THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

"Ye were right, Jook. we'll each have to carry our own brassie."

NO MORE DINNER

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



TURNS HEAD AWAY TO INDICATE THAT HE DOESN'T WANT ANY MORE DINNER
COVERS MOUTH AND PUSHES SPOON AWAY
DINNER STILL BEING PROFFERED, PUSHES PLATE AWAY, WITH BOTH HANDS, EMPHATICALLY TRIES TO PUT A STOP TO THINGS BY TURNING HIS BACK AND CLIMBING UP BACK OF CHAIR
ON BEING PULLED DOWN INTO CHAIR, PROTESTS WITH FLYING ARMS AND LEGS, ONE KICK LANDING ON PLATE, AUTOMATICALLY ENDING DINNER
FEELS THAT IT'S PRETTY HARD, SOMETIMES, GETTING AN IDEA ACROSS TO GROWN-UPS, AND GOES TO SLEEP
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

SALESMEN WANTED

SALESMEN WANTED in Iowa to sell lo cost monthly payment Accident and Healt insurance. Liberal comm. American R public Ins. Co., Walnut Bldg., Des Moine

As Friendship Is

When I see leaves drop fron their trees in the beginning of au tumn, just such, think I, is th friendship of the world. Whils the sap of maintenance lasts, m friends swarm in abundance, bu in the winter of my need the leave me naked.—Warwick.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with herb laxative, combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gullet. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Narrow Minds

Narrow minds think nothing right that is above their own capacity.—La Rochefoucauld.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION

for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Fool's Curtain

Gold is the fool's curtain, which hides all his defects from the world.—Feltham.

Top the Market

Green Top Mineralized Tankage

and farm grains make market topping hogs.

Get a supply from your local feed dealer

Short Life

Our life is scarcely the twinkl of a star in God's eternal day.— Bayard Taylor.

EARLY PIGS

Will Be Worth $ $ Next Summer

SAVE Them All with CHAMPION HEATED HOG HOUSES. B prepared against freak weather loss lik Armistice Day storm. ORDER NOW, th month, while prices are still low. Addres WESTERN SHO CO., Dept. W, West Des Moines, I

Greatest Gift

He gives double who gives u asked.—Arabian.

In CHICAGO THE MIDLAND HOTE $2 And Up ALL ROOM WITH TILE BATH O SHOWE

●In the heart of Chicago's famous "Loop" you will find the MIDLAND HOTEL . . . one of Chicago's newest hotels . . . modern . . . fireproof . . . all rooms with bath and shower . . . convenient to business, theaters, shopping . . . Restaurant, cocktail lounge and health club on the premises.

GARAGE IN CONNECTION

$2.00 And Up SINGLE ● $3.00 And Up DOUBL

MIDLAND HOTEL

172 West Adams Street at La Salle CHICAGO ILLINOIS

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

The Bystander:

Newspaperman Stuff: This is one of the favorite stories-about-newspapers in the N. Y. U. school of journalism. It concerns an assistant city editor on the desk of a Miami paper. He had to take over one day when his boss was away. The assistant strutted into the city room, took off his hat, and said, "all right, boys, today we'll use the regular front page streamer!"

"But," gasped a man on the desk, you haven't seen what came in!"

"I don't have to see what came in," was the reply, "today we run the streamer headline we run every day:

"EXTRA! COLD WAVE STRIKES NEW YORK!"

Haw!: Recently one of the a. m. gazettes bought a soft drink machine. One of those gadgets into which you put a nickel and out comes a paper cup load of cola. The newspaper didn't want the darn thing in the first place, but the salesman broke down its resistance and so the machine was relegated to the composing room, where it was an immediate success. In fact, the boys kept the refiller working overtime.

Finally the coin collector came. He opened the money receptacle which yielded a jackpot of slugs and a lone nickel. Apparently everybody had forgotten that a composing room has an unlimited supply of lead, which the boys get tired of putting into linotype machines.

The Logic of the Week: From FPA's Conning Tower in the N. Y. Post: "Secretary Ickes is railing at the press again, and we feel that he doesn't know his stuff. He spoke of the question whether a publisher who pays for a columnist and prints him has any responsibility. He was reminded by a reporter at the conference that the views of a columnist were generally held to be his own and not those of the paper printing him. Mr. Ickes said that theory was the bunk. Well, Mr. Ickes, it is not the bunk. Any columnist that is worth anything to his paper has views which are his own; it may happen that they are in accord with the paper's viewpoint, and it may happen that they are in opposition. The truth is that many a columnist doesn't know what the viewpoint of the paper he is printed in is, especially a syndicated columnist whose stuff appears in dozens of papers, some of which are opposed politically and otherwise to the columnist's expressed views."

Family Portrait: The Colyum's unmarried daughter was doing her homework in her room after supper the other night. "Oh, daddy," she pouted, "I have six pages to do on communications."

"I don't envy you," said the Colyum, "but howja like to have to do about 1,000 words for the paper, where a lot of fussy people can see it and claim they didn't get their two cents worth?"

"Yes, I know, daddy," was the retort apprehensive, "but yours is only for the paper—mine is going to the principal!"

Litree Note: Krylov, the great Russian fabulist, according to the New Republic, wrote of the Cuckoo who congratulates the Cock on his great gifts as a singer, while the Cock in turn congratulates the Cuckoo.

But the Swallow, passing by, interrupts them: "My friends, even if you get hoarse praising one another, your music's bad."

You've Met Him: One of those I-hate-everything type of skeptics was supping at the Coq Rouge when a tablemate pointed out Priscilla Lane sitting nearby. "What do you think of her?" the grouch was asked.

He studied her a moment and then growled: "Gwan, she's not THAT pretty!"

Meow!: A cat fight almost started at Spivy's Roof when a deb greeted a ditto. "Oh, hellooo, darling! I didn't recognize you from the back."

"You should," fang'd the other, "you've been talking behind it for years!"

Thumbnail Description: Edwin Hartvich, the CBS Berlin correspondent, here for a visit, says Clare Boothe is just another Dorothy Thompson out of Elizabeth Arden.

In Fewer Words: Charlie Chaplin says you waste half your life trying to get the crowd and the other half trying to get away from them.

Oops!: Paul Harrison, the Hollywood historian, credits Sir Cedric Hardwicke with: "That fellow's conscience isn't his guide, it's his accomplice." That gem was quoted in this colyum and credited to Reader's Digest several years ago and Sir Cedric wasn't the parent . . . The new song, "Looking for Yesterday," has a hunk of literary lace in the wordage, to wit: "My heart has a stone in its shoe." If the ditty is a hit, one trusts the royalty receivers will include Edna St. Vincent Millay in a share of the loot.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for December 22

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

SHARING THE SHEPHERDS' JOY
(Christmas Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2.8-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.—Luke 2:14.

Tinsel and toys, snow and sleigh bells, crowded department stores and rushing throngs, gifts and greeting cards, Christmas dinner and fellowship with family and friends—is that all Christmas means to us? All these things are proper in their place—exciting and interesting—but they are not enough.

They have never been enough and certainly they will not do this year, with a world in chaos. We need not lose any of the thrilling enjoyment of Christmas by properly observing the day; in fact, we shall only enhance its meaning and bring out its real glory by keeping Christ at the heart of our Christmas.

The opening verses of Luke 2 tell us of the coming of Mary with Joseph to God's appointed place at His appointed time for the coming into this world of His Son to be made flesh and dwell among us (John 1: 14). Our lesson tells us of

I. Good Tidings of Great Joy (vv. 8-14).

God had good news for the people of this world and He gave it, as was His custom, to those who were faithfully discharging their humble duties (cf. Judg. 6:11, 12; I Kings 19:19). God is still ready to reveal His glory and grace in the "office, kitchen, mill, barn school-room, and open field—places where people are at work on daily tasks" (Douglas). You need not be in the great church in a large city to meet Him on Christmas day. He will reveal Himself in all His beauty where you are, though you be in the humblest surroundings and at the most menial task. Look for Him!

Jesus came as a Saviour. "The world did not want an adviser. The world had advised itself almost into hell. The world did not ask for a speculator. Everything that man could do had been done, and men sat in the darkness of their own wisdom. The world did not want a reformer, a man who could change his outward and transient relations, an engineer that would continually devote his time (for appropriate remuneration) to the readjustment of the wheels and the pulleys and the various mechanical forces of society. The world wanted a saviour" (Joseph Parker).

Note that the army of heaven came to declare peace, not war; but only to those in "whom He is well pleased" (v. 14, R. V.). As long as men serve the devil and displease God, they will have no peace.

II. Great Faith and Consistent Action (vv. 15, 16).

The shepherds did not say, "Let us now go and see if this thing has come to pass," or "which we expect or hope will come to pass," but said, "which is come to pass." They went not to test God's word, but in the assurance that they would "see" what had come to pass. Blessed faith! Let us too believe God's word to us.

But "faith without works is dead" (James 2:17). The shepherds might have made many excuses for not going but "they came" and "found" the Saviour. Perhaps you who read these words have failed at that point; you have not come to Jesus as your Saviour. No more appropriate time could be found to come than right now. Believe, then act on your faith.

Some of us who are Christians need also to learn of the shepherds. We talk a great deal about our devotion to Christ. Especially at this Christmas season we render much "lip service" to Him. Let us make it real, and our lives virile and active for Him.

III. Good News for Meditation and Proclamation (vv. 17-20).

The gospel is literally "good news." What a blessed privilege it is to have such good news in a day of evil tidings, of darkness and despair.

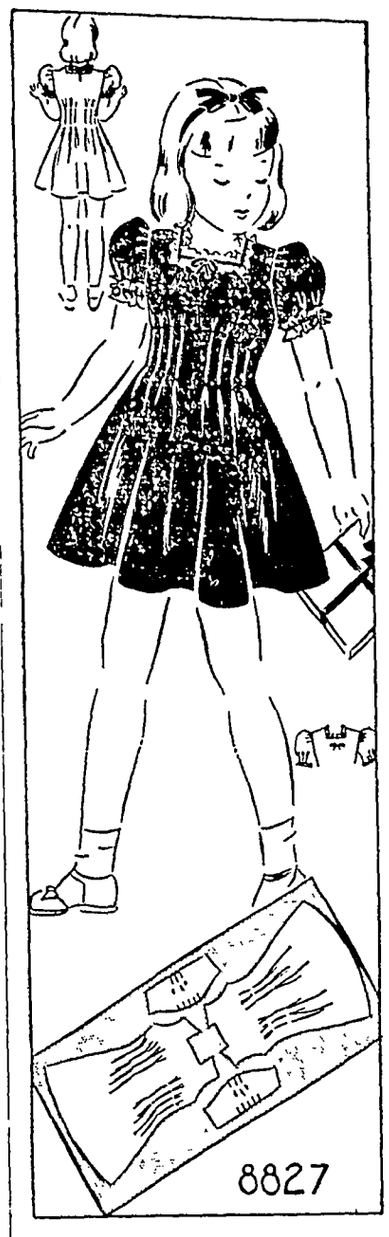
There are two things we ought to do with the gospel of God's redeeming grace. We should make it known to the ends of the earth, but we should also do as Mary, "who kept all these things and pondered them in her heart." We know she had special reasons for doing so, but may we not suggest that you too make this Christmas a time when you will ponder in your own heart what God has done for you in Christ?

The shepherds also set us a Christmas example, for they "made known abroad" the coming of the Saviour. Will you tell someone else today? Will you, like the shepherds, be "glorifying and praising God" this Christmas? You will if you, like them, go to the manger and meet Jesus. If you go to this world's empty show of celebration, you will return empty (see v. 20).

May the blessed peace of Christ be yours this Christmas. That is my wish from the heart to you

---

PATTERN SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT



MAKE this adorable frock for your own little girl, tie a ribbon round her head and send her off beaming to her next important party date! You may be sure she'll have a good time, and be the smartest little girl there! Correctly simple, with waistline slimmed in by inside tucks beneath which the skirt flares and ripples, it's trimmed with frills and ribbon at sleeves and neckline. You can see from the diagram sketch how easy this design (No. 8827) is to make. Just cut out four pieces, make the tucks and the darts, and sew it together. Even the least experienced mother or doting aunt can do it!

For the coming holiday parties this frock will be most appropriate in velveteen or taffeta, with organdy or very fine lace for trimming. Simple as it is, this pattern includes a step-by-step sew chart.

* * *

Pattern No 8827 is designed for sizes 3, 4, 5 and 6 years Size 4 requires 1⅞ yards of 39-inch material; 1⅛ yards trimming and 1½ yards of velvet ribbon. Send order to.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

Indeed Quite Simple, In Subtle Sarcasm

Mrs. Milligan and Mrs. Graystone were neighbors, and often they had a few words over the back fence.

One day Mrs. Milligan said to Mrs. Graystone: "I don't know if you're aware of it, but, my dear, it appears to me you've got odd stockings on."

Mrs. G. was quite prepared for her, and with her sweetest smile, properly squelched her neighbor in this fashion:

"Oh, my dear, I can understand that being a surprise to you, but it's a thing that may happen to anyone who has more than one pair."

Ask Me Another
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Whose poem contains the well-known line: "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"?
2. What is estimated to have been the seating capacity of the Roman Circus Maximus?
3. Where is the original home of the potato?
4. What is a canticle?
5. What officer ranks next above a captain in the United States navy?
6. How did the word "salary" originate?
7. A law which makes acts punishable before its passage is called what?
8. Are Burgundy wines light or heavy, and what is the color?
9. What is a tundra?
10. Had any President ever received a greater proportion of the electoral vote than Franklin Roosevelt did in 1936, when he got 523 electoral votes against 8 for Landon?

The Answers

1. Shelley ("Ode to the West Wind").
2. The seating capacity of the Roman Circus Maximus was approximately 250,000.
3. Peru and Chile. It grows wild on the plateaux high up in the Andes.
4. A little song or hymn.
5. Rear admiral.
6. From a Latin word meaning salt money (salarium, given to Roman soldiers for salt which was part of their pay).
7. Ex post facto.
8. Heavy, rich and dry. Color, both red and white.
9. A treeless plain in the Arctic region.
10. Yes. James Monroe, elected to a second term in 1820, received 231 electoral votes to one for John Quincy Adams. The single Adams vote was one of seven cast by New Hampshire.

Good Actions

Do you act as if you had 10,000 years to throw away? Death stands at your elbow. Be good for something, while you live and it is in your power. What remains but to live easy and cheerful, and crowd one good action so close to another that there may be the least empty space between them.

INDIGESTION
may affect the Heart

Gas trapped in the stomach or gullet may act like a hair-trigger on the heart. At the first sign of distress smart men and women depend on Bell-ans Tablets to set gas free. No laxative but made of the fastest-acting medicines known for acid indigestion. If the FIRST DOSE doesn't prove Bell-ans better, return bottle to us and receive DOUBLE Money Back. 25c.

Active Nature

Nature knows no pause in progress and development, and attaches her curse on all inaction.—Goethe.

WINTER DOUBLES DRIVING ACCIDENTS

Don't Take Chances!

Use WEED
American Bar-Reinforced TIRE CHAINS

● When winter dumps snow and ice on roads and highways, the crash rate goes up. Lives are lost. People are injured. Cars and trucks require expensive repairs. Accident costs are tremendous. Even the most careful drivers are in danger. A quick safe stop may be necessary any second. Play safe. Don't gamble. Keep WEED TIRE CHAINS in your car and truck and be ready to use them for stormy weather.

With WEED AMERICANS you can start easier, drive safer, stop quicker. And you get more than twice the mileage. Ask for the chains with red end hooks. American Chain & Cable Company, Inc., York, Pennsylvania.

4 GREAT FEATURES

1. Bar-reinforcements on cross links more than double the mileage.
2. Made of Weedalloy—a stronger, tougher metal.
3. Patented Lever-lock End Hooks—easy to use and positive fastening.
4. Side chains hardened to resist curb and rut wear—increases cross chain mileage.

AMERICAN CHAIN & CABLE COMPANY, INC.
York • Pennsylvania

IN BUSINESS FOR YOUR SAFETY

Unknown Griefs

If the internal griefs of every man could be read, written on his forehead, how many who now excite envy would appear to be the objects of pity.—Metastasio.

THE GRAND BUY IN ROLLING TOBACCO IS PRINCE ALBERT.
NO SPILLING OR SIFTING OUT— NO WASTE.
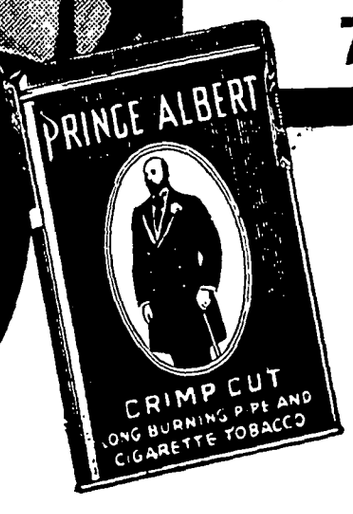
70 FINE 'MAKIN'S' CIGARETTES TO THE POCKET TIN—CRIMP CUT TO ROLL FASTER, EASIER FOR MILDER, TASTIER SMOKES.
THERE'S NO OTHER TOBACCO LIKE
PRINCE ALBERT

20 YEARS of railroading and 10 years smoking Prince Albert sure show that DeWitt T. Smith likes his job and his tobacco, too! Trainman Smith buys P.A. by the pound tin—the size so popular as a Christmas gift! (A swell gift for pipe fans, too!)

70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every handy tin of Prince Albert

PRINCE ALBERT
THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE



In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned
86 DEGREES COOLER
than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested . . . coolest of all!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Shop Here For Special Gifts. . .

You can solve many of those Gift Problems by shopping here . . . We have a nice line of suitable Gifts for Dad, Mother, Sister, Brother or that "Particular Friend." We SUGGEST:

- Nice Box of Candy
- Carton of Cigarettes
- Box of Cigars
- Pound of Tobacco
- New Pipe
- Tobacco Pouch

For your Table we have a nice assortment of XMAS Candies . . . Chocolates, Hard Candies, Stick Candies, Nuts, Bulk Ice Cream and Brick Ice Cream.

All Fresh Stock Just Arrived For The Holiday Trade At

Quandt Cafe

CONRAD QUANDT, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

K. F. M. Specials

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 20-1

Stock Up On These Christmas Specials Today

MONARCH
Leave Your Order For Dressed DUCK and GEESE
QUALITY FOR 70 YEARS

BRAZIL NUTS Large, per lb. 15c

PECANS, Large Polished, lb. at 23c

WALNUTS, English No. 1, Diamond, lb .. 23c

RINSO Per Box 21c

PEANUT BRITTLE 2 lbs. for 19c

CRANBERRIES Per quart 21c

P AND G WHITE NAPHTHA SOAP 7 Bars 25c

GUM DROPS Per lb. 09c

COOKIES Fancy, 2 lbs. 29c

GET VALUABLE COUPONS with each 24½, 49 and 98 lb. sack of

Miss Minneapolis Flour 49 lb. $1.57

IT'S DISTINCTLY BETTER!

SUGAR Powdered, 3 lbs. 21c

OLIVES, Plain Quart jar 45c

BOX CANDY Chocolate Covered Cherries Per Box 20c

EVERYTHING FOR YOUR HOLIDAY DINNERS

We carry a complete line of Monarch Canned Goods, Fresh Bakery Goods, Fresh Fruits and Seasonable Vegetables, Pickles, Cheese, Jams and Jellies, Cookies and Cakes . . . in fact, everything you need to make your dinners a complete success!

WE WISH ALL A MOST MERRY CHRISTMAS

Klemme Food Market

MONARCH STORE C. A. LARSEN, Prop.

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth were visiting in Mason City, Saturday.

Marian Waterman and Dorance Grange, who attend Mason City Junior College, spent the week end visiting with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lemke are the owners of a new 1941 model Ford V-8 which they traded for last week.

Miss Ruth Bailey, of Ames, spent Sunday visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bailey southeast of Klemme.

Mrs. Mary Mutch of Grundy Center, and Dr. Dulmes and family were dinner guests Tuesday evening at the R. A. Jorgenson home.

Mr. G. R. Bowles, of Indianola, visited for a short time Friday noon with his son, "Bodge" Bowles Klemme High School coach.

Bob Hartzell was released from a Mason City hospital last Thursday where he had underwent an appendix operation. Bob is making a good recovery.

Art Wellemeyer drove to Eagle Grove Sunday and brought back a carload of beautiful Christmas flowering plants from the green house.

Gus Baack, who visited with relatives in this community and near Mason City, returned to his home in Sheboygan, Wis. last Thursday.

Mrs. Neta Mackie, of Grundy Center, came last Wednesday and visited until Friday at the home of Lena Schroeder and other Klemme friends.

A L. Kingery, Klemme high school principal, went to Britt Friday night to referee a basket ball game between Britt and Buffalo Center high schools. Britt was an easy victor in the contest.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son, Dick, drove to Grundy Center Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Mary Mutch and daughter, Ada. Mrs. Mutch came to Klemme with the Dulmes family for a visit of several days.

Ed Thompson left Sunday for University hospital at Iowa City for a re-examination and check-up. Ed has been having eye trouble for some time which is thought to be caused from infection. Mrs. Thompson went to Iowa City Tuesday night to be with her husband.

Miss Marie Stille had charge of the music at a funeral on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The deceased was a relative of H. R. Gross, former newscaster over radio station WHO. The services were held at a Lutheran church not far from Malcolm where Miss Stille teaches.

Lester Stille and his sister, Mrs. Lee Anderson of Charles City, returned home last Thursday morning from Los Angeles, Cal., where they had been visiting their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stille. They made the trip to the west with Mr. Wm. Stille and grandson, LaRayne Stille, who are spending the winter in California.

Church Circles Meet

Circle No. 1 will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Schultz on Friday afternoon of this week.

Circle No. 4 meets at the home of Mrs. Henry Busse Thursday afternoon for a Christmas party and exchange of gifts.

Circle No. 3 of the Methodist church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martha Bredbenner.

Eastern Star

The Eastern Star chapter will meet at Garner Friday evening for the annual election of officers.

Bazaar Was A Success

The ladies of the Klemme Methodist church feel well satisfied with their Bazaar and supper held last Wednesday afternoon and evening. They report that they cleared $130.00.

BIRTHDAY

O. H. Coffey, Hamburg, spent part of the day on his 89th birthday by spading in his garden.

SHAMROCKS TAKE 2 GAMES FROM FAST MASON CITY CLUB

Thriller Brings Crowd Standing As Shamrocks Win In Last Minute

A big battling Holy Family high school team went down in defeat before Klemmes' fighting Shamrocks Tuesday night by a score of 23 to 22 in one of the most exciting games ever played on the local floor. Trailing by eight points at the beginning of the second half, Coach Bowles' green and white warriors came back to tie the score at 17 all early in the fourth quarter, and from that point on it was a battle royal.

With twenty seconds to go, the vistors led 22 to 21. The Shamrocks took the ball out of bounds under the enemy basket. worked it down into scoring territory on a series of short but sure passes, and Stille looped in a pretty shot from the side to sew-up the game Stille was high point man for Klemme with nine points, while Brinkman collected six. Schmitt, giant center, scored nine points for the losers.

This victory put a good-sized feather in the hats of the local basketmen, since Holy Family was one of the top-ranking parochial school teams in the state last year. They lost in the semi-finals of the state tournament to Dowling high of Des Moines, who went on to win the title. Holy Family has all but one man back from that strong aggregation.

The second team also scored a victory against the Mason City visitors, winning the curtain-raiser by a count of 14 to 3.

Last Friday Night's Game

The Shamrocks scored an easy double-header victory last Friday night against Kanawha. The first team romped through the opposition for a 33 to 13 triumph, while the second stringers did even better with a score of 21 to 3. Bill Grosshuesch led the scoring for the varsity, and Wayne Bird was high man for the reserves.

MONEY BURNED

Mrs. E. S. Deardorff, Winterset, made great haste to get what she could from the stove after she had accidentally thrown $300 inside She expects to save all but about $45. Practically all of the paper money can be salvaged and Winterset residents who cashed checks are cooperating by writing new ones.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS
Nov. 12th, 1940

Regular meeting called to order by the mayor with four members present.

Minutes as read by the Clerk were approved.

On motion the following bills were allowed.

Geo. Buseman, Oct. Salary ...	$ 75 00
First Nat'l Bank, Klemme, Water bond & int. . .	648 75
Frank Terhufen, Labor . . .	12 00
Harold Johnson, Labor	9 60
Ernest Helps, Tiling .	42.00
Lloyd Lau, Gravel & Hauling	54 90
Fed N Ia. Gr Co., Coal .	11 07
Art Wellemeyer, Shades	1 53
Klemme Times, Pub. Council Proc. .	3 22
Matt Parrott & Sons, Supplies	2 19
Central States Elec., Light & Power . . .	72 61
First Nat'l Bank, Klemme, Drafts for bonds & int.	208 75

Since the council room is now located in the Legion building, the Town will furnish fuel for the oil burner and water for the building free of charge and no further charge will be made by the Legion for use of said room.

Geo. Buseman was granted a 10-day vacation from his regular duties provided that no other paid help be required during that period

Meeting adjourned.

A J KUDJE, Clerk

Corn silage has been found to have less protein and minerals than alfalfa hay.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Take Your Holiday Trip by Train

When you go by train, you'll arrive at your destination feeling fresh and eager to enjoy the companionship of the friends and relatives.

There are no traffic or weather hazards—no doubt as to the time you will arrive. All main line Rock Island trains are air-conditioned and offer complete travel comfort.

Take advantage of low round-trip fares now in effect. Return limits are liberal.

MAKE RESERVATIONS EARLY

Ask Rock Island Agent for complete travel information or address

C. C. GARDNER, A. G. P. A.
721 Locust Street
Des Moines, Iowa

HAVE YOUR TICKET ROUTED Rock Island

Cold Weather Ahead!

AND WE HAVE THE NEEDED FARM EQUIPMENT . . . .

Cold weather and snow makes chores a disagreeable task at best . . . but you can make your work easier and your livestock will do better if you have the right equipment.

We carry a complete line of many of the items you should have for cold weather:

Utility Hog Feeders—several sizes
Mineral and Tankage Feeders
Utility Hog Waterers
Utility Poultry Waterers
Utility Tank Heaters

BARN EQUIPMENT . . . Whatever you need in the way of equipment, come in and look over our merchandise. We are here to serve you in Farm Equipment of all kinds.

NORTHERN
Lumber Implement Store

J. I. Overholt, Manager Phone 40R2

Santa Says Make This A

Musical Christmas

For Year 'Round Enjoyment....

May We Suggest These Appreciated Musical Gifts:

ACCORDIONS

BAND INSTRUMENTS

GUITARS

. . . are GIFTS that will be enjoyed by all the family throughout the entire year. See our fine selection

OTHER SUGGESTIONS:

Kazoo	10c
Bugle Boy	25c
Occarina	25c
Twirling Baton	50c
Xylophone	$1.00
Sheet Music	35c
Musical Stationery	35c

On Display In Klemme At Quandt's Cafe

Gerardi Music Sales Co.

Klemme, Iowa Mason City, Iowa

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME 45 — KLEMME, IOWA, TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 31, 1940. — NUMBER 30.

Northern Lumber Company To Sponsor Free Show Jan. 7

Movies And Vaudeville Acts On Tuesday Eve Of Next Week

FIVE ACTS VAUDEVILLE, MOVIES TO ENTERTAIN LOCAL PEOPLE

Magician and Ventriloquist Will Mystify and Entertain The Audience

Five big acts of high class vaudeville and several reels of educational and entertainment moving pictures are on the program for the free entertainment to be held next Tuesday night, January 7th, at the Klemme Legion-Community Hall by the Northern Lumber Company of Klemme in which both the lumber department and the implement shop are co-operating to make it a big event and one of the finest attractions brought to Klemme for some time.

Heading the five vaudeville acts are the McKay Sisters, two singing and dancing girls who recently performed at the St. Louis Auto Show; and the other acts consist of a magician, a banjo player, ventriloquist and an accordion player. The entire group also puts on a variety program of music and singing that will please old and young.

Moving Pictures Also

Several reels of motion pictures showing the McCormick-Deering farm machines and trucks in operation and other phases of the industry will be shown. In addition the Northern Lumber Co. are procurring for this free show a feature picture from the Weyerhauser Lumber Company, entitled, "Trees and Men" This will be very interesting to all. Also they will have another new picture entitled, "Spinning Wheels." This picture is published by the National Truckers Association and shows the important part the truck of today has made in industry and commerce.

New Trucks on Display

Tuesday will also be the day the implement shop will show the new line of International Trucks for 1941 and will have them on display throughout the day and evening. Call at the implement store for any information you may want on newest types of farm machinery. At the office of the lumber company visitors will find ready information regarding any building problem.

Show Is One Night Only

The free moving picture and vaudeville show will be for one night only, Tuesday, January, 7th, and will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, so come early and get a good seat. Everything is free and you are urged to bring your family..

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Johnson are the parents of a ten pound baby boy born to them on Friday evening, December 27th.

Helped The Red Cross

Klemme Red Cross workers have completed three baby layets and three wool dresses which they have turned over to the Garner chapter of the Red Cross.

Wondering.

Mrs. Kittie McDermott, Waverly, is wondering how a machine gun shell got into her stove. Luckily, she found it before it had exploded.

Basketball Game!

HAYFIELD TO MEET SHAMROCKS ON THE LOCAL COURT JAN. 10th

Both Teams Have Perfect Record So Far This Season

With the conference lead at stake for the second time in as many games, the Klemme Shamrocks are girding for the battle here Friday night, Jan 10, with the Hayfield "Black Raiders" Both teams have won three and lost none, and the winner of this game will be perched, temporarily at least, at the top of the Seven Eagles standings.

Hayfield made an impressive showing at the jamboree here in November, running up a score of 22 to 7 against Kanawha in the abbreviated game played at that time. They have since knocked off Woden, Goodell and Kanawha in regular conference play, all by substantial margins.

It is no news to local fans that the Shamrocks have an equally attractive record In addition to putting away Woden and Kanawha the Shamrocks downed Crystal Lake, the last year's conference champions, by a score of 32 to 26 in the last game before Christmas vacation.

Coach Bowles is expecting plenty of trouble from the rangy Hayfield boys, but if the locals come through with the same fight and drive that marked their play against Holy Family and Crystal Lake, the visitors will have a busy evening.

FUNERAL HELD MONDAY FOR DUSENBERG, KLEMME PIONEER

Funeral services were held on Monday at Garner for Henry William Dusenberg, 77, at the Methodist church

Mr. Dusenberg, who died at his home in Garner, was a horticulturist and spent much time in recent years in perfecting the Hancock apple. He was also a brother of August and the late Fred Dusenberg, developers of the famous Duesenberg racing cars.

Henry Dusenberg was a pioneer of Klemme and was one of the charter members of the German Methodist church. He signed the articles of incorporation for the church on Febr 15, 1892. Other signers were Henry Gruetazmcher C W Knapp, E. H. Lenz and Julius Bettin. All of the signers have died except Mr. Knapp who lives at El Centro, California.

While in Klemme, Mr. Dusenberg built the home where Ben Netland now lives. He specialized in poultry and growing nursery stock, for which there was considerable demand at that time. He was also Klemme's first shoe cobbler.

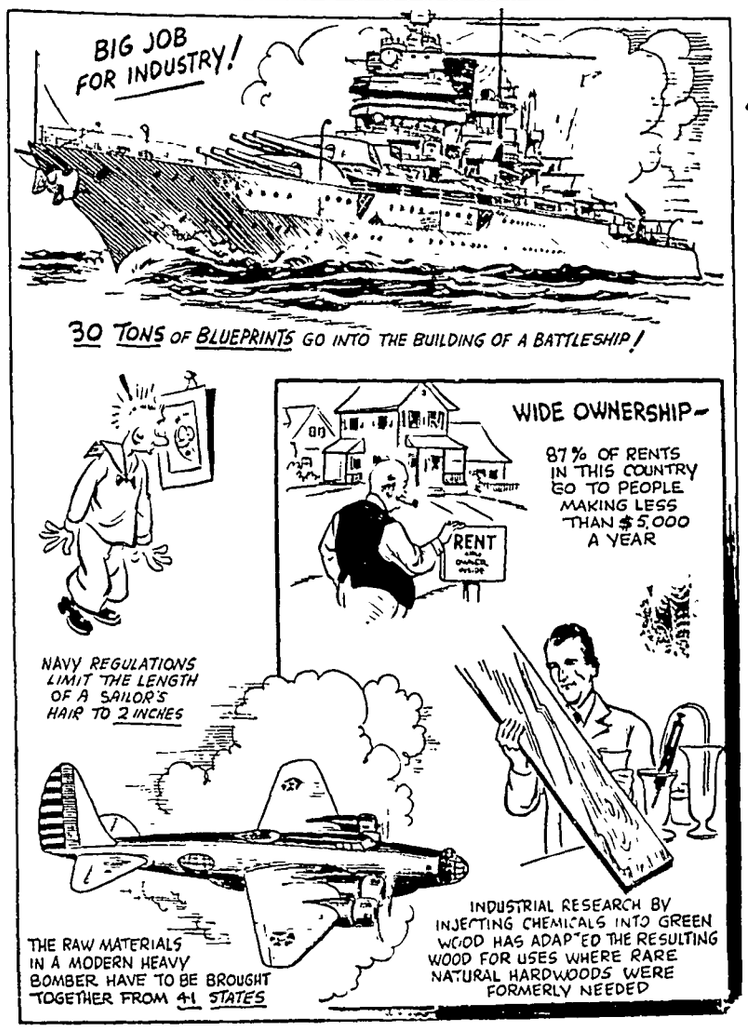
(Editor's Note: The sketch relating to Hr. Dusenberg's activity in Klemme is from the History of Klemme written by Arthur Wellemeyer.)

LEGION FEATHER PARTY BIG SUCCESS

The Legion's "feather party" went over with a real bang and a large crowd was present at the hall all evening. Hot coffee and doughnuts were served to the crowd by the Auxiliary members.

A lot of turkeys, geese, ducks, and chickens were disposed of as well as the special premiums which went as follows: a pig to Owen Conwell of Goodell; turkey to Albert Osborn; goose to Mrs. Herman Back; duck to Mrs. Mary Church and a rooster to Miss Oda Hansen.

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS



BIG JOB FOR INDUSTRY!
30 TONS OF BLUEPRINTS GO INTO THE BUILDING OF A BATTLESHIP!
WIDE OWNERSHIP—
87% OF RENTS IN THIS COUNTRY GO TO PEOPLE MAKING LESS THAN $5,000 A YEAR RENT
NAVY REGULATIONS LIMIT THE LENGTH OF A SAILOR'S HAIR TO 2 INCHES
THE RAW MATERIALS IN A MODERN HEAVY BOMBER HAVE TO BE BROUGHT TOGETHER FROM 41 STATES
INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH BY INJECTING CHEMICALS INTO GREEN WOOD HAS ADAPTED THE RESULTING WOOD FOR USES WHERE RARE NATURAL HARDWOODS WERE FORMERLY NEEDED

Farm Home Near Here Scene Of Dec. Wedding

LESTER STILLE HOME WAS SCENE OF WEDDING, DECEMBER 22nd

Sister Of Mrs. Stille Was Bride Of Michigan Young Man

Miss Gladys Hartzell, of Fort Dodge, and daughter of Mrs Lydia Hartzell of this community, and Mr Charles Van Zanten, of Shelby, Michigan, and son of Rev. and Mrs T W Muelenberg, of Holland, Michigan, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs Lester Stille at 1 00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, December 22nd, with the Rev John Muilenberg of New York City officiating, who used the ring ceremony The ceremony was performed against a background of evergreens.

Preceeding the ceremony, Ralph Ludeke and daughter, Doris, sang 'I Love You Truly," and Miss Marjorie Benzler of Britt played the wedding march Lois Stille was the flower girl.

The Bride carried a bouquet of white roses and wore a long white satin dress with accessories to match, while the Groom wore the conventional blue.

Following the ceremony, a four course dinner was served, and the waitresses were Alice Bailey, June and Doris Ludeke and Ruth Stille.

Guests were Mrs. T. W. Muilenberg, of Holland, Mich., mother of the Groom; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Veld of Rock Island, Ill.; Rev. John Muilenberg of New York City; Wm Rottschafer of Britt; Mr. and Mrs. J. D Bailey and Alice of Cedar Falls; Ralph Ludeke and family of Garner; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hartzell and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hartzell of Britt

The Bride has been teaching in the schools at Fort Dodge, Iowa for several years, while the Groom is a history teacher in the Shelby Michigan schools. After the ceremony, the young couple left for Des Moines. They will make their home at Shelby, Michigan.

Royal Neighbors Entertained By Mrs. Henry Jost

Mrs. Henry Jost was hostess at her home last Monday to the Royal Neighbors of the community honoring a former Klemme member, Mrs. Paul Stille o fDe Ridder, Louisiana, who was here on a visit. Lunch was served by Mrs. Jost.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Jennie E. Pritchard & W. S. hus To William A Hoeft, Wty Deed, 12-12-40, $1. Lot 3, Blk 13, Tallman's Add. to town of Garner

Mary Gardner To T B. Gardner, Q C Deed, 10-27-40, $1. Lots 11, 12, 13, 14 & 15, Blk 11, & Lot 5, Blk 7, Orif. Crystal Lake.

Julius Kunz, Trustee To Agnes Kunz Cory & Anna M. Kunz, Trustee's Deed, 7-23-40, $1. SW¼ 18-96-26.

Rayner Van Oosting, widower, et al To Arle Willemson & Lenore, Q C Deed, 10-15-40, $1. Lots 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 & E 5 feet Lot 10, Blk 1 and Outlot Blk 2, all Van Oosting Add to Kanawha.

Jennie Rust, widow To M. F. Fuller, Wty Deed, 6-29-40, $1. Lots 4, 5, 6, Blk 5, Farmen's 2nd Add to town of Goodell.

Verdella Lucille Lozekar & Frank J. To M. F. Fuller, Wty Deed, 6-29-40, $1. Lots 4, 5, 6, Blk 5, Farmen's 2nd Add. to town of Goodell.

John F W. Nedved & wf et al To Vincent Nedved, Q C Deed, 10-31-39, $1. N½ NE¼ 20-96-24, subj. to mtge. on NE— said Sec. 20

L. M. Brower, sheriff To the Equitable Life Assurance Society of U S, Sherriff's Deed, 12-24-40, f11,776.72, NE— 12-96-24.

Ray Radioff & Anna To Lars Jorgensen, Wty Deed, 7-18-38, $1. N½ Lot 2, Blk 1, Park Add. to town of Garner.

Roy L. McMillin, Treas. To the Town of Britt, Tax Sale Deed, 12-24-40, $196.47, Lot 7, Blk 2, Anderson's Add. to town of Britt.

Mrs. Frank W. Smith, Guardian of Ramona Ruth Tanner To Rosa M. Tanner, et al, Guardian's Deed, 12-14-40, $439.96, SW¼ & S½ S½ NWfrl¼ 3-94-24.

Paul Grange and Julia To Geo. Albers, Wty Deed, 12-23-40, $2,600. Lot 4, Blk 15, Klemme's Add. to Klemme.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness, help and sympathy given us in our recent bereavement; and we also thank those who contributed flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flemmig and Family

Mrs. J. A. Cooper and Family

Twelfth Night Will Be Celebrated Here Sat'day

Blitzkrieg Strikes Ole's Shop!

BLAST BREAKS WINDOWS IN BLACKSMITH SHOP AT GOODELL

An explosion in Ole Sandberg's blacksmith shop at Goodell last Thursday blew out eleven of the fifteen windows in the shop and bowed out a large door in the side of the shop, and horseshoes and other articles hung on the ceiling and walls were scattered around. The explosion was heard for some distance.

Amos Hanson, who works with Mr. Sandberg in the shop, was using a welding torch and a spark is thought to have fallen into a drain pipe of the acetelyne welding generator close by. No one was injured in the terrific blast. Others in the shop at the time besides Sandberg and Hanson, were Walt Mason, Nels Chelsvig and Ben Benson.

ANNUAL ALUMNI DINNER WAS ATTENDED BY OVER ONE HUNDRED

The annual Klemme High School Alumni dinner, which was held at the Community Hall on last Friday evening, was attended by more than one hundred and was the best reunion of graduates ever held.

The dinner was served by the Music Mothers club. A special program was enjoyed after dinner and there were also games and dancing for amusement.

Klemme Man Improving At Home Of Daughter In Missouri

Dave Ross, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Dubuque a couple of weeks ago, and who was confined to the Dubuque hospital, went to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martin Kubecek at Springfield, Missouri last week. Reports are that Mr. Ross is making a good recovery from his injuries.

Legion And Auxiliary Meeting

The Legion and Auxiliary meeting has been postponed and will be held January 14th.

Entertained At Dinner and Bridge Party Friday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje, Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Schaeffer and Mr. and Mrs. A L Kingery entertained a number of friends at a six-thirty o'clock dinner held at the Garner Cafe Friday evening Bridge was later played at four tables at the Kingery home. High scores were won by Mrs. C. G. Waterman and Ed Jacobs; second high scores were held by Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and W. H. Galbreth and travel prize was won by R. A. Jorgenson.

Coffee.

When Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bettis Albia, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary, coffee which had been given them at their wedding by Mrs. Bettis' mother was served. It was in the bean form, was roasted and sealed in a mason jar.

New Way.

Russ Nelson, Des Moines, didn't have to go hunting to get the owl he brought to Corning last week. The bird was caught on the door handle of Nelson's car.

Prices of eggs are expected to average higher this fall and winter than last. Iowa State College economists say that production will be smaller and consumer demand should be better.

PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND BIG BON FIRE

Town Truck Will Gather Christmas Trees Saturday Morning

The ancient custom of burning Christmas trees will again be observed in Klemme this year.

This celebration of the 12th Night will be held on Saturday night, January 4th.

All of the Christmas trees from both town and country will be stacked into a hugh pile on the Implement Company's lot west of the Wellemeyer Store buliding.

The children of the community are asked to gather at the pile of trees at 7:30 p. m. and receive torches and join in the torch-light parade.

The Girl Scouts, Ernie Gerardi and others, who assist with the program, will also gather around the pile of trees at 7:30 so that after the parade, the Mayor of Klemme, Mr. Paul Grange, can apply a torch to the trees.

Everyone enjoys a Bon-Fire, and this is the one time each year, at the close of the Holiday Season, when we can all gather as a friendly community and enjoy the brightness and the warmth of a really nice big bon-fire.

Town folks will put their trees in the street outside their homes by Friday, please, so that the town truck can pick them up early Saturday morning.

The rural folks will please bring their trees when they come to the celebration.

Liberty Township Study Group Meets

Color is an important factor in choosing curtains Yellow, apricot, or orange give the effect of sunshine. Colors used at windows follow the trend of women's apparel by about a year.

When draperies with large patterns are used, the glass curtain curtain should be plain. Light-colored sheer fabrics are most suitable for glass curtains. The three correct lengths for all curtains are to the window sill, to the bottom of the casing or nearly touching the floor.

Liberty township homemakers in districts 7 & 8 met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Howard Spitler. The subject of "Window Treatment" was discussed by the ladies under the leadership of Mrs. Emery Schaefer assisted by Mrs. Spitler. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

TEACHERS WERE ENTERTAINED TO CHRISTMAS PARTY

The teachers of the Klemme high and grade school were entertained to a 6:30 o'clock dinner and Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth last week Wednesday evening. After the three-course dinner, gifts were exchanged and games were played.

Methodist Organization Will Meet Thursday, Jan. 2nd

The W. S. C. S. of the Klemme Methodist church will meet on Thursday, January 2nd at the church parlors with Mrs. Herman Paul as leader; Mrs. J. C. Thomas, devotions and the hostesses are Mrs. Gerald Koerner, Mrs. Earl Schaeffer, Mrs. Oscar Durham and Mrs. Frank Ward. Ladies are asked to bring their sewing and there will probably be a quilt on a frame to work on. Those wanting to quilt should come early.

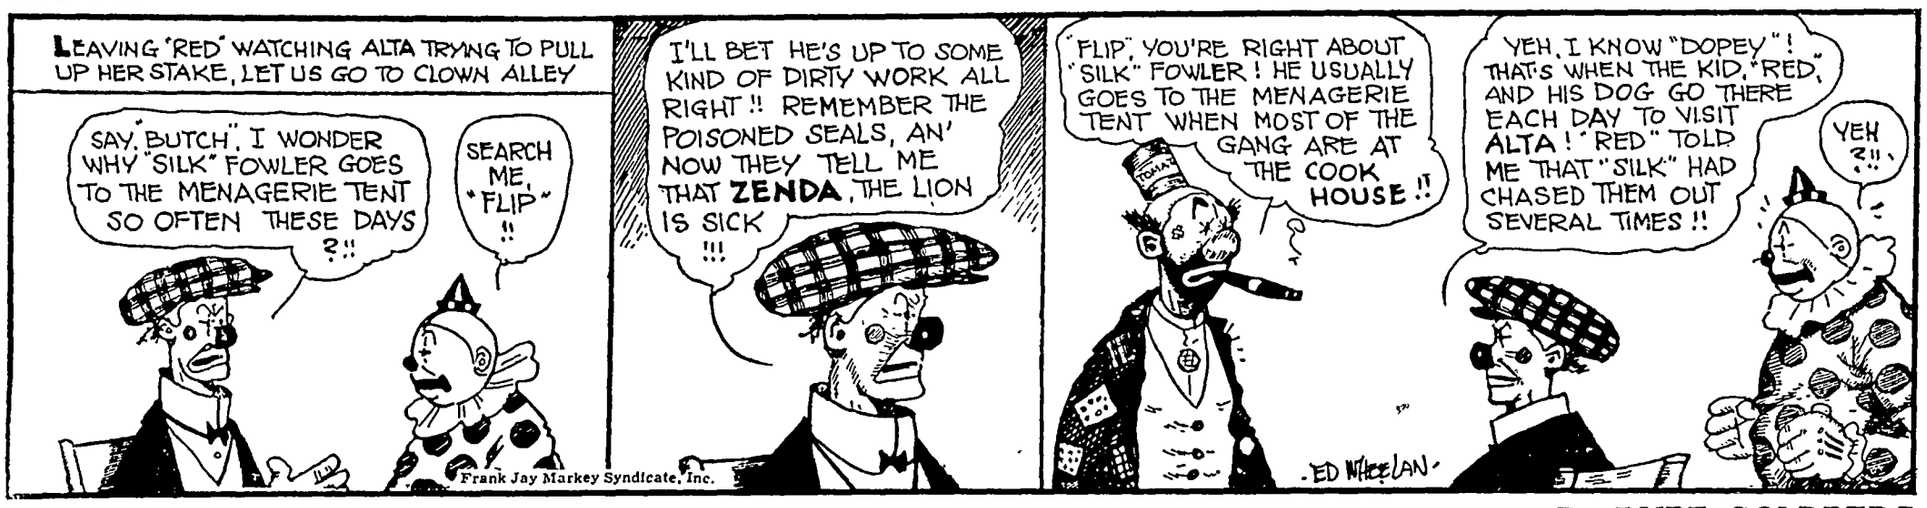
UPSETS

Trying to miss a dog on the highway, R. F. Holden, Carroll, lost control of his car. The car was damaged, a passenger was injured AND the dog died.

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN



LEAVING "RED" WATCHING ALTA TRYNG TO PULL UP HER STAKE, LET US GO TO CLOWN ALLEY SAY, "BUTCH", I WONDER WHY "SILK" FOWLER GOES TO THE MENAGERIE TENT SO OFTEN THESE DAYS ?!!
SEARCH ME, "FLIP" !!
I'LL BET HE'S UP TO SOME KIND OF DIRTY WORK ALL RIGHT !! REMEMBER THE POISONED SEALS, AN' NOW THEY TELL ME THAT ZENDA, THE LION IS SICK !!!
"FLIP", YOU'RE RIGHT ABOUT "SILK" FOWLER ! HE USUALLY GOES TO THE MENAGERIE TENT WHEN MOST OF THE GANG ARE AT THE COOK HOUSE !!
YEH, I KNOW "DOPEY" ! THAT'S WHEN THE KID, "RED", AND HIS DOG GO THERE EACH DAY TO VISIT ALTA ! "RED" TOLD ME THAT "SILK" HAD CHASED THEM OUT SEVERAL TIMES !!
YEH ?!!
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.
ED WHEELAN

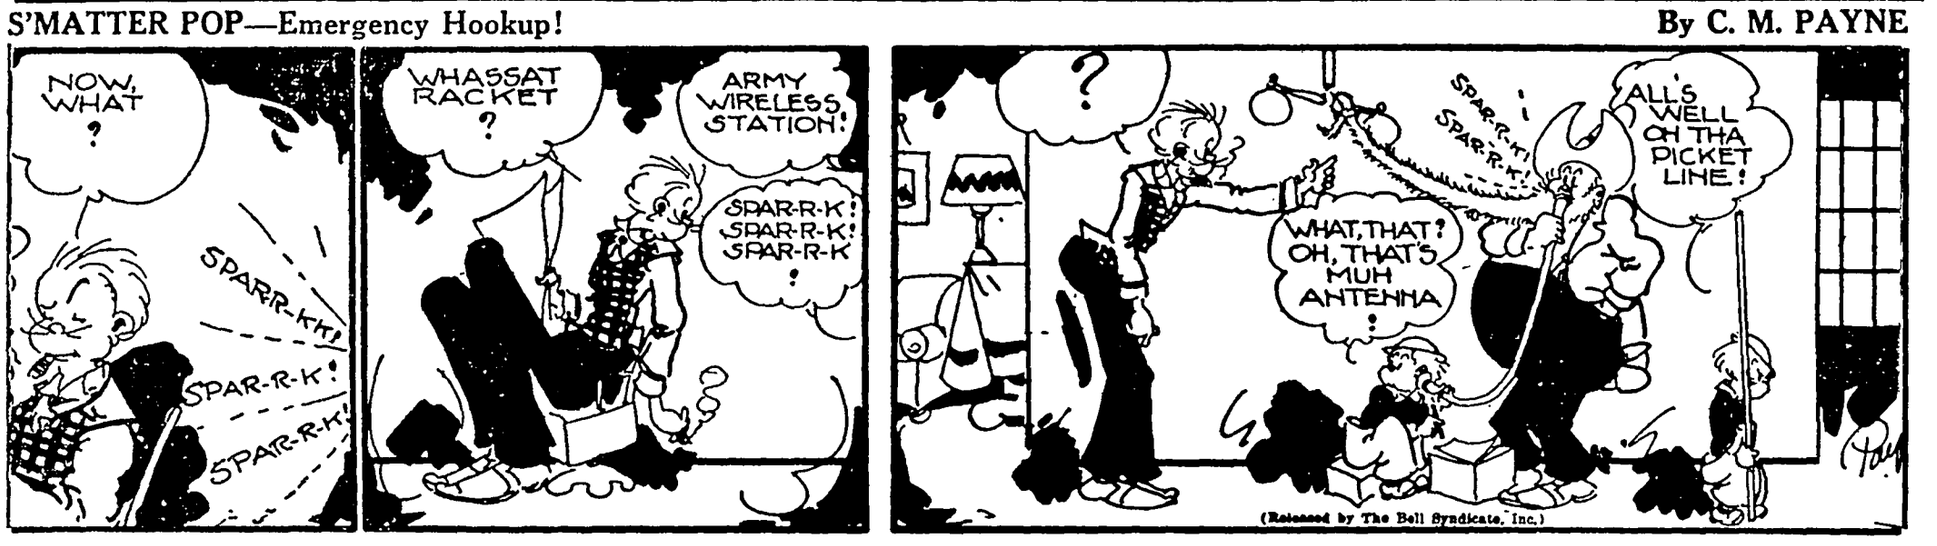
LALA PALOOZA — It Works

By RUBE GOLDBERG

WHEN OLE MAN BOGGLE AN' THAT DROOPY-EARED DETECTIVE COME SNOOPIN' AROUND, I'LL BE ALL READY FOR 'EM
LALA AND DIANNE! COME ON DOWN - I WANNA SHOW YA SOMETHING!
IF THEY COME SNEAKIN' AROUND THIS TIME I JUST PRESS THE BUTTON AN' THEY GET SOCKED - I'LL SHOW YA HOW IT WORKS LOOK -
BONG
Frank Jay Markey Syndicate, Inc.

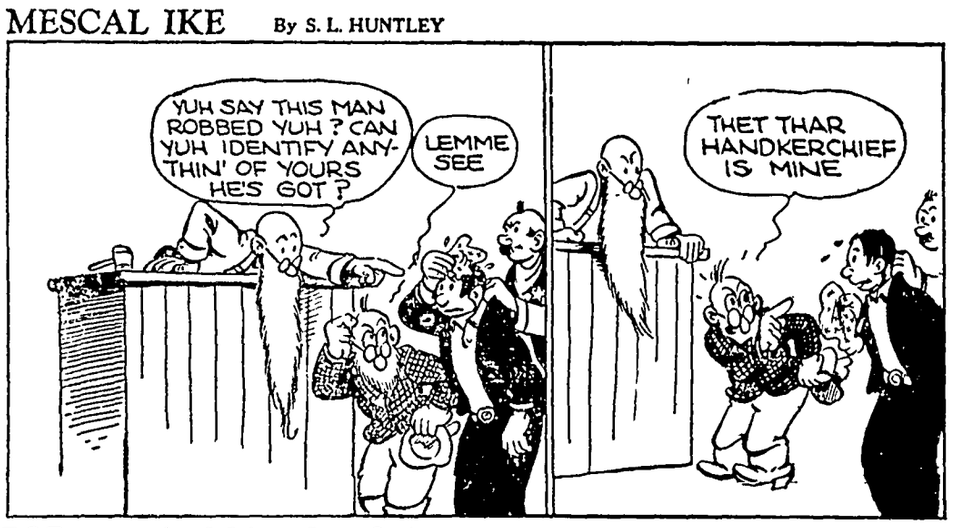
S'MATTER POP—Emergency Hookup!

By C. M. PAYNE

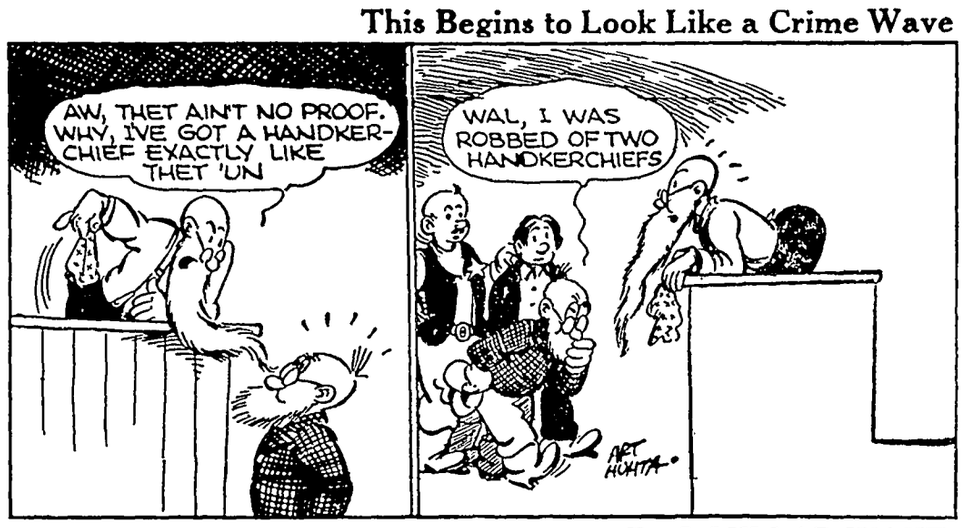


MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

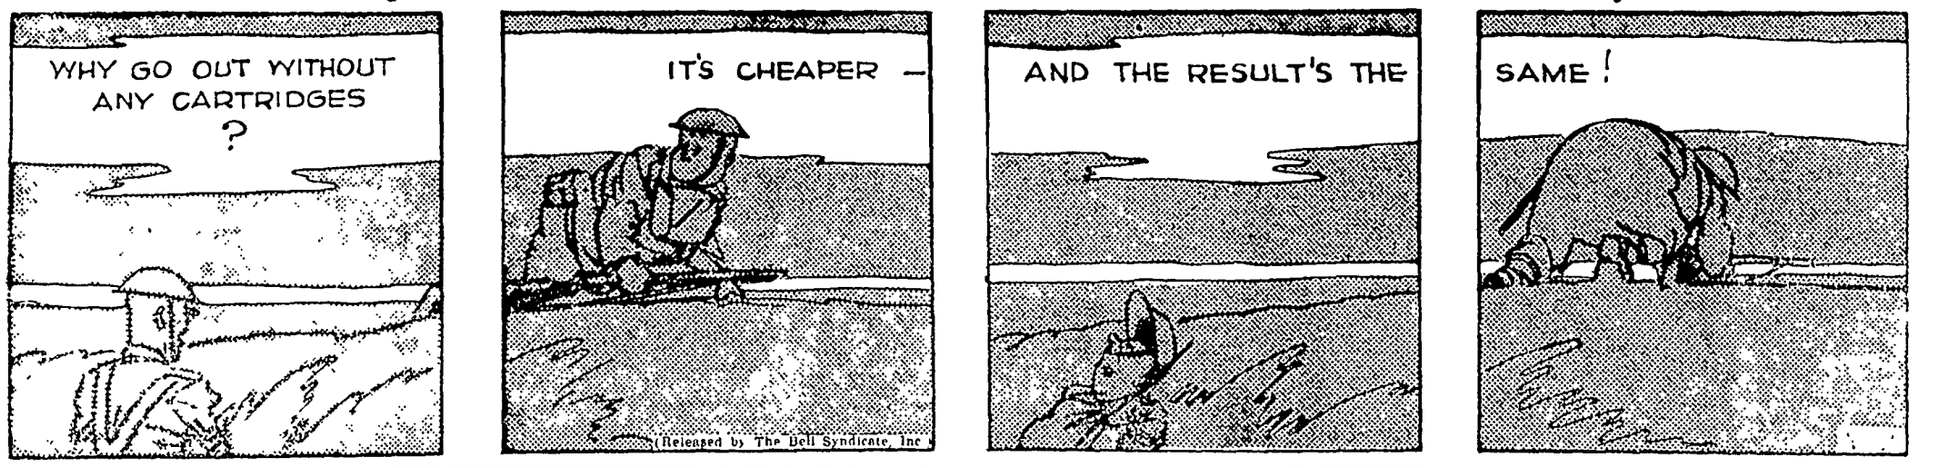


This Begins to Look Like a Crime Wave



POP—. . . And It's a Lot Quieter

By J. MILLAR WATT



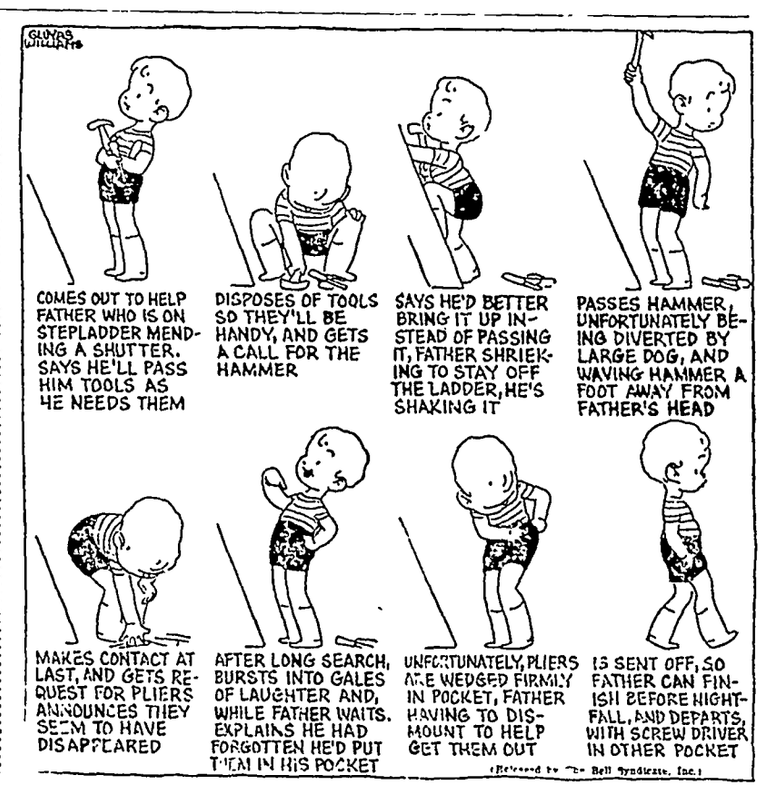
THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

"His cousin's in the third race."

TOOL PASSER

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS



GLUYAS WILLIAMS
COMES OUT TO HELP FATHER WHO IS ON STEPLADDER MEND-ING A SHUTTER. SAYS HE'LL PASS HIM TOOLS AS HE NEEDS THEM
DISPOSES OF TOOLS SO THEY'LL BE HANDY, AND GETS A CALL FOR THE HAMMER SAYS HE'D BETTER BRING IT UP IN-STEAD OF PASSING IT, FATHER SHRIEK-ING TO STAY OFF THE LADDER, HE'S SHAKING IT PASSES HAMMER, UNFORTUNATELY BE-ING DIVERTED BY LARGE DOG, AND WAVING HAMMER A FOOT AWAY FROM FATHER'S HEAD
MAKES CONTACT AT LAST, AND GETS RE-QUEST FOR PLIERS ANNOUNCES THEY SEEM TO HAVE DISAPPEARED
AFTER LONG SEARCH, BURSTS INTO GALES OF LAUGHTER AND, WHILE FATHER WAITS, EXPLAINS HE HAD FORGOTTEN HE'D PUT THEM IN HIS POCKET
UNFORTUNATELY, PLIERS ARE WEDGED FIRMLY IN POCKET, FATHER HAVING TO DIS-MOUNT TO HELP GET THEM OUT
IS SENT OFF, SO FATHER CAN FIN-ISH BEFORE NIGHT-FALL, AND DEPARTS, WITH SCREW DRIVER IN OTHER POCKET
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Blouse-Jumper for Schoolgirl Is Smart

IF YOUR daughter is just about ready for a new jumper, and several new blouses to go with it then make them up with this new design (No. 1282-B) and she'll be perfectly delighted with the result. This jumper is dart-fitted to create a smallness of waist that school girls covet and are not likely to possess, and the skirt has smart front fullness, with two convenient patch pockets to park car fare and hankies. The tailored blouse has a becoming sports collar, and can be made with long or short sleeves.

Corduroy, velveteen, flannel and wool plaid are smart for the jumper. Make the blouse of linen, flat crepe, challis or pique. Both are easy to do, even for beginners.

* * *

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1282 B is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 1⅜ yards of 54-inch material for jumper; 1½ yards of 39-inch material for long-sleeved blouse, 1⅓ yards for short-sleeved. Send order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1324
211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 15 cents in coins for
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

An Invitation to Rest & Relaxation
AT
MINERAL WELLS TEXAS
WHERE AMERICA DRINKS ITS WAY TO HEALTH
● Outdoor activities at their best. The ultimate in facilities for recreation and rejuvenation, including the finest therapeutic baths with complete massage.
Bakerwell Health Plan including room, meals, baths, massages, from $35.00 a week.
EUROPEAN PLAN from $2
LOUIS GAMBRELL Manager

BAKER HOTEL

"All the Traffic Would Bear"
● There was a time in America when there were no set prices. Each merchant charged what he thought "the traffic would bear." Advertising came to the rescue of the consumer. It led the way to the established prices you pay when you buy anything today.

NEW YEAR PARTIES MUST HAVE PLENTY OF ZIP
(See Recipes Below)

Celebrating the advent of a new year is excuse enough for a party in any crowd. Whether it's youngsters or the "oldsters" that gather to see the old year out, the new year in, the party must have plenty of novelty and "get-up-and-go"—new games, new music, new refreshments, too, and something to drink is a requirement!

Drink a toast to the new year with a piping hot punch; while the winds of winter howl and fling sheets of snow against the windows, a hot, tangy drink will cheer your guests (both young and old!) and it starts them on the homeward trip warmed from within.

"Hawaiian Hot Cup" is a drink that is new as the brand new year. Serve it steaming hot in small cups, with crisp crackers and wedges of cheese to accompany it.

Hot Spiced Cider and Holiday Mulled Grape Juice, served with Ginger Cookies or Doughnuts, make simple and satisfying refreshments for a crowd, and crisp, buttery popcorn or salted nuts are good to nibble on while the entertainment is under way.

If you'd like to start the evening with a buffet meal, here's a menu you and your guests will like.

Tuna Curry on Chinese Noodles
Mixed Salad With French Dressing
Hot French or Italian Bread
Orange Ginger Bread
With Whipped Cream
Coffee

Tuna Curry.
(Serves 10 to 12)

6 tablespoons butter
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 quart milk
3 cups tuna (coarsely flaked)
½ cup mushrooms
Mushroom liquor
6 hard cooked eggs (sliced)

Melt butter, add flour and seasonings, and stir until smooth. Add milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thick. Add remaining ingredients. Serve hot on Chinese noodles, and if desired, sprinkle with shredded, salted almonds.

Orange Gingerbread.
(Serves 15)

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
4 teaspoons orange rind (grated)
2 eggs (beaten)
3½ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup molasses
1 cup sour milk

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually. Add orange rind, and beaten eggs. Mix well. Sift together the flour, soda, baking powder, salt and spices. Add to first mixture alternately with milk and molasses. Place batter in 2 greased 8-inch square pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 35 to 40 minutes.

Mixed Salad.
(Serves 10 to 12)

1 large head lettuce
2 cups carrots (shredded)
3 cups red skinned apples (diced)
2 cups red grapes (halved and seeded)
3 tablespoons onion (minced)
French dressing

Separate leaves of lettuce, wash and dry thoroughly. Tear into pieces. Place in large salad bowl with carrots, apples, grapes and onion. Add French dressing and mix very lightly, using forks for the mixing.

French Dressing.
(Makes 1½ cups)

½ clove garlic (grated)
4 lumps sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon paprika
1 cup salad oil
⅓ cup lemon juice or vinegar

Grate garlic on lump sugar. Combine with remaining ingredients, pour into fruit jar, and shake until well blended.

Hot Spiced Cider.
(Serves 20 to 25)

1 gallon cider
2 cups brown sugar
3 sticks cinnamon
12 whole cloves
2 teaspoons allspice berries

Combine ingredients in sauce pan. Simmer for 10 to 15 minutes. Strain and serve hot in small cups.

Holiday Mulled Grape Juice.
(Serves 10 to 12)

5½ cups grape juice
2½ cups water
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
12 whole cloves
2 sticks cinnamon
½ teaspoon orange rind (grated)
½ teaspoon lemon rind (grated)

Combine ingredients in sauce pan. Bring slowly to a boil. Strain. Serve hot.

Hawaiian Hot Cup.
(Serves 10 to 12)

2 cups kumquats (sliced)
1 cup sugar
5 cups canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice
4 tablespoons of lime juice
2 tablespoons of lemon juice

Place sliced kumquats in bowl and mix well with the sugar. Let stand for 1 hour. Heat pineapple juice piping hot but do not boil. Pour over sugar and kumquats and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add lime and lemon juice, and serve at once.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Have You Made Your New Year's Resolutions?

I hope that in your list of resolutions for the new year, there are a few concerning good food and interesting meals. For instance, why not resolve to serve a home-made hot bread once a week? And resolve to keep the family cookie jar filled to the brim? And resolve to try at least one new cake or pie a week?

To make it easy, and to keep your own interest alive, send for my cook book "Better Baking." You'll find it's fun to try the recipes for Mountain Muffins, Honey Drop Biscuits, Hot Cinnamon Rolls, and Boston Brown Bread. And the family will bless you when you serve them Lemon Sunny Silver Pie!

To get the cook book, just send 10 cents in coin to "Better Baking," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When cooking oatmeal, cornmeal, rice or anything likely to stick to the pan, just before serving remove from the fire, cover tightly and let stand five minutes. The steam will loosen the mixture from the bottom and the pan will be easy to wash.

* * *

Try peanut butter frosting for covering white or spice cakes. Add one-third of a cup of peanut butter to your regular uncooked white frosting. Blend in the peanut butter well before icing the cake. Decorated with a few roasted peanuts.

* * *

Pineapples may be used for holding salads or desserts. Use pineapples of uniform size. Cut them in halves lengthwise and using a fork, scrape out the pulp. (It may be used later.) Wash and chill the cases. Stuff them with fruit, melon balls or berries.

* * *

Try making edible place cards for children's parties A simple one may be made by cutting out cards of cooking dough 1 by 2 inches in size. Bake them carefully and then write the name of each guest on his card with thin icing squeezed through a pastry tube.

New Year's RENDEZVOUS

"ONLY a year, my dear," he pleaded. "Twelve months to prove that I'm a new man—for myself, for the world and, above all, for you."

That was last New Year's Eve, the day Joe walked out of prison a free man. Margie met him at the big iron gate, a puzzled and frightened boy wearing an ill-fitting suit. His debt was paid.

Twelve worried months Margie had waited, praying each night that, wherever he might be, her Joe was safe on the narrow path. And now his year's probation was up.

The clock struck eleven thirty and Margie turned on the radio. Back east, in New York, it was already 1941. She should have arranged to meet Joe there; it would all be over now!

At eleven forty-five her heart beat furiously.

"Please, God," she prayed. "Make him come to me at midnight!"

Suddenly she heard a furious clamor in the hallway. Then a knock, nervous and sharp. The knob turned, and suddenly she saw Joe, his eyes wide and his face dead white.

"Margie!" he cried. "Hide me quick. The cops are after me but I didn't do anything . . . Honest!"

"But Joe!" she answered. "Why should you hide, then?"

"Please, honey, don't argue!" His hands were trembling.

While the midnight bells tolled outside, Margie rushed him to the unused closet off the hall. Then she

While the bells tolled outside, she rushed him into the closet.

went calmly back to the living room and sat down.

A second later they came, two burly Irishmen.

"—A young fellow just come in here?" one asked.

"Ah, er, yes," Margie began. Then, resolved: "You'll find him in the closet."

"Ye'll have to come along, too, young lady!" the copper said. And a few minutes later they were driving to the police station. Joe, beside her, was silent.

"I'm sorry, Joe," she offered. "But I couldn't marry a dishonest man."

He didn't answer.

At the station they were whisked into a small room. It was strangely quiet, Margie thought. In a corner two men were whispering and suddenly one of them walked over to her chair.

"Know what ye've done, young lady?" he asked ominously.

"I've done nothing," she replied, thoroughly indignant.

"Yes ye have!" he insisted. A faint smile crept into the corners of his Irish mouth. "Ye've got yerself a husband!"

Suddenly the room was filled with laughter and the next thing Margie knew Joe was kissing her again and again. When she finally looked around they were alone.

"Oh, Joe," she sighed, "then you really haven't done anything wrong?"

"Of course not, dear!" he answered. "I'm a detective now—have been for the last six months since I helped the cops smash a burglar ring."

"But Joe," she moaned, "to think that I refused to hide you back at the apartment. I—I'm not worthy, Joe."

"Don't worry about that, Margie!" he replied. "I'm not a crook myself, any more, and I wouldn't want to marry one!"

Out in the captain's office a faraway radio brought the sound of revelry. Marg looked at her watch. It was one o'clock in the morning now; in the Rocky mountains they were welcoming the new year.

"Honey," she said, "let's pretend we live in Denver."

"And why?" asked Joe.

"Because it's New Year's Eve there now, and you've just come back to me!"

A Resolution

Resolved, to live with all my might while I do live Resolved, never to lose one moment of time, to improve it in the most profitable way I possibly can. Resolved, never to do anything which I should despise or think meanly of in another Resolved, never to do anything out of revenge. Resolved, never to do anything which I should be afraid of if it were the last hour of my life.

—JONATHAN EDWARDS.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for January 5

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JESUS AND HUMAN AFFLICTIONS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 13.1-5, 10-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—We have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities.—Hebrews 4:15.

A sense of guilt for sin seems to be in every human heart. Some deny it, or seek to suppress it, but it has a way of revealing itself, especially when trouble or sorrow comes. How often one hears even persons who are spiritually indifferent and careless say that some catastrophe is a punishment for sin. The assumption is that the one who suffers much is a great sinner, but our study of Job taught us that such is not necessarily the case. In our lesson for today we learn from Jesus Himself regarding human affliction. His attitude toward it should guide us in our attitude. First of all He makes clear that we are all

I. Perishing Sinners (vv. 1-5).

Someone, apparently a Judean, told Jesus, possibly with a sense of real pious satisfaction, that certain Galileans (whom the Judeans did not like) had been slain while they were at worship. Evidently the implication was, "What terrible sinners they must have been!" How like that are the expressions of people today!

Jesus met the question by giving another similar incident right in Judea, thus rebuking false racial pride; then went on to point out that what they (and we) need to remember is that all men are sinners and will perish eternally unless they repent. "A man can perish though Pilate never slay him. He can perish though no tower crush him. He may die in his bed, with his friends all about him; and even have music when he dies, but he will be damned unless he repent" (G. Campbell Morgan).

The important thing is not the relative sinfulness of men, but the fact that God "commands all men everywhere to repent" (Acts 17:30). We are all sinners, either saved by grace or eternally lost. Sinner, turn to the

II. Powerful Saviour (vv. 10-13).

Here was a woman, spiritually alert, but physically afflicted. She was in the synagogue (vv. 10, 11), and she was a daughter of Abraham, indicating that she was a woman of faith. But for some reason, which is not revealed, an evil spirit of Satan (v. 16) had brought about in her body an illness which bent her double. We cannot "explain this. There may be many other such cases in the world. There are things we have not fathomed yet concerning the mystery of suffering and the power of evil" (Morgan).

We see the facts, but, thank God, we see more, for we find her meeting the all-powerful Saviour, who is able and willing to deliver. Jesus saw her. He called her to Him. He spoke to her. He touched her, and He healed her. What a blessed experience. Have you been to Jesus with your need? If not, why not come right now?

Observe that He had power and authority to set the woman free from Satan who had held her bound for 18 long years.

One would suppose that all would have rejoiced at this glorious deliverance, but we find that the ruler of the synagogue was angry. He viewed what he regarded as the breaking of the Sabbath day with alarm and

III. Perverted Solicitude (vv. 14-17).

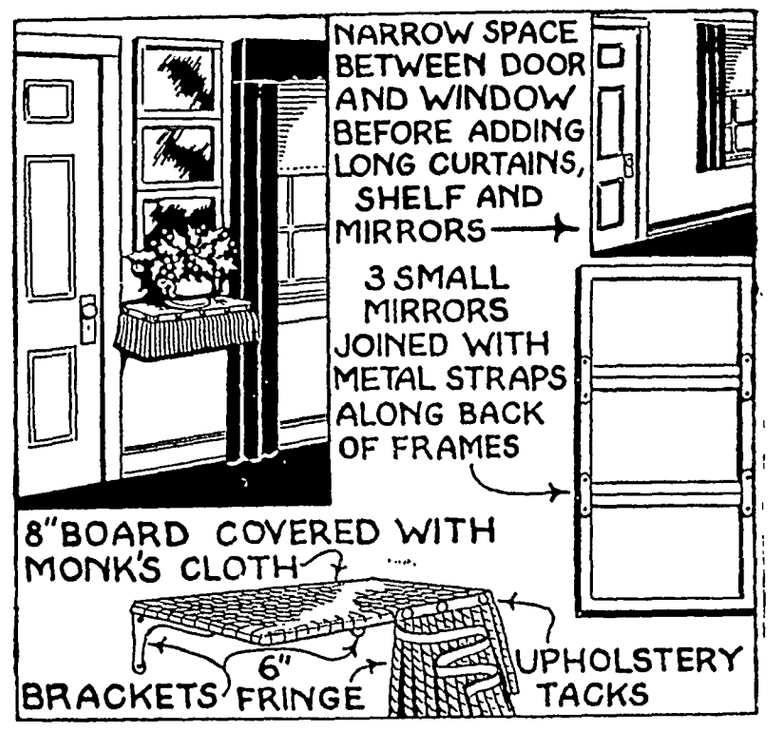
It is a splendid thing to be concerned about good order, proper procedure and decorum, especially in the house of God. But when there is a human need and the Son of God meets that need by the working of His power, it is both folly and hypocrisy to obstruct or become angry because one's own interpretation of the proper order of things has been set aside.

This man, who as a religious leader should have realized that the need of humanity came above his consideration for the beast of the field (vv. 15, 16), and who should have rejoiced that the Son of God had done this miracle in the synagogue, rightly deserved the swift and stinging rebuke of Jesus. His objection was not really to the violation of the Sabbath, but to the working of God. Such men need rebuke.

One marvels that the church can read this passage again and again and never learn the lesson. One of the blights on the church today is the unwillingness of many of its leaders to permit the power of God to work. They don't want it. It upsets their plans and programs If such a man (or woman) reads these lines, it is suggested that he read the eighth and ninth words of verse 15, then verse 5.

May God help us to fairly meet such an important issue honestly, and for the benefit of our eternal souls.

HOW TO SEW
by Ruth Wyeth Spears



NARROW SPACE BETWEEN DOOR AND WINDOW BEFORE ADDING LONG CURTAINS, SHELF AND MIRRORS
3 SMALL MIRRORS JOINED WITH METAL STRAPS ALONG BACK OF FRAMES
8" BOARD COVERED WITH MONK'S CLOTH
6" FRINGE
BRACKETS
UPHOLSTERY TACKS

ON HER way home from the club Mrs. Martindale was thinking, "It will be my turn next. What will they think when they come to our house?" Then she put her latch key into the lock and stepped into her own front hall. "Just what I was afraid of," she said aloud. "When you look at this hall as an outsider the worst thing you think is that its owner is lacking in imagination."

Right then things began to happen. The shabby old hall carpet was washed right on the floor and then dyed a deep green with hot dye applied with a scrub brush. The long lines of the new green sateen curtains turned the space between door and window into a definite panel crying for a long mirror and a console shelf. The sketch shows you how these were made from next to nothing. The frames of the three inexpensive small mirrors were painted red before they were fastened together. The shelf was covered with cream colored monk's cloth to match the walls and woodwork and edged with cream color cotton fringe tacked on with large red tacks.

* * *

The method of making the buckram stiffened valance used for the curtains in this sketch is described fully in SEWING Book 5. This book contains thirty-two homemaking projects with step by step directions for each. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for Book 5.

Name .....

Address .....

AROUND the HOUSE
Items of Interest to the Housewife

Oatmeal on a dampened cloth will clean white paint.

* * *

Freshen up stale loaves, buns or small cakes by brushing over with milk and putting into the oven to crisp again.

* * *

To prevent rust in the stove oven, leave the door open for an hour after baking.

* * *

When lemons become dry immerse them in cold water. They will soon become quite soft and ready to use

* * *

If the roof should leak and stain your ceiling, cover the stain with block magnesia. Rub the block over the spot until the stain is covered, then smooth over with the tips of your fingers. It works like magic.

To make your popovers really pop over, be sure to have the baking pans well greased and very hot. The pans should "sizzle" when you quickly touch them with fingers dipped in cold water.

* * *

Rain spots can be removed from suede shoes by rubbing with fine emery board.

* * *

Stubborn rust stains sometimes can be removed by boiling the article for 10 minutes in a quart of water containing two tablespoons of cream of tartar, then rinsing thoroughly in cold water.

Plenty Said

Dzudi — There goes the most talked-of man in town.

Palmetto — Really! Who talks about him?

Dzudi—He does.

Can alimony be described as a man's cash surrender value?

Mere Floaters

Teacher—Can you tell me where Noah lived?

Pupil—I don't think he had a regular home. I imagine he and his family belonged to the floating population.

A Pickup

Gill—What a nifty overcoat. Where did you get it?

Nick—I picked it up at Jobson's.

Gill—I don't know the place. Is it a clothing store or a restaurant?

Better Than Expected

"Was it a good show at the theater last night?"

"Oh, yes; they advertised a chorus of forty, but none of them looked more than thirty-five."

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB
I have a gorgeous-feeling soul
Although I have a homely face.
I only wish my aura showed—
I'd pass for pretty any place.
R. McCann

INDIGESTION
may affect the Heart

Gas trapped in the stomach or gullet may act like a hair-trigger on the heart. At the first sign of distress smart men and women depend on Bell ans Tablets to set gas free No laxative but made of the fastest-acting medicines known for acid indigestion. If the FIRST DOSE doesn't prove Bell-ans better, return bottle to us and receive DOUBLE Money Back. 25c.

Top the Market
WITH
Green Top Mineralized Tankage
The efficient and economical method of producing hogs.
See your local feed dealer

Need of Advice

Every man, however wise, needs the advice of some sagacious friend in the affairs of life.—Plaulius.

Benefits to Our Readers

THE PUBLIC nature of advertising benefits everyone it touches. It benefits the public by describing exactly the products that are offered. It benefits employees, because the advertiser must be more fair and just than the employer who has no obligation to the public. These benefits of advertising are quite apart from the obvious benefits which advertising confers—the lower prices, the higher quality, the better service that go with advertised goods and firms.

The Klemme Times

R. A. JORGENSON, Publisher

Entered At The Post Office At Klemme, Ia., as 2nd Class Matter

12 — TELEPHONE NUMBER — 12

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In Hancock County $1.50 per year
(In advance $1.00 per year)
All Iowa Subscribers $2.00 per year
Outside Iowa $2.50 per year

All subscriptions for papers going to points within the county are considered continuing yearly subscriptions to be discontinued only upon notice from subscribers or at publisher's discretion. All other subscriptions will be discontinued one month after expiration, if not renewed, but time for payment will be extended if arrangement is made by subscriber

Frank Senneff F.E. Blackstone

Senneff & Blackstone
LAWYERS

Garner Iowa

THE METHODIST CHURCH

William Zabilka, Pastor

. . . extends to all a very Happy New Year.

Klemme Church:.

W. S. C. S. Thursday p. m. this week.

Junior and Senior Choir practice Thursday evening.

Worship Service 10:00 a. m.
Sabbath School 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League 7 p. m.

Liberty Church:-

Sabbath School 10:15 a. m.
Worship Service 11:20 a. m.
W. S. C. S. Jan. 8th p. m.
K. L as above

By rocket ship to the moon! No, it's not fiction—for the flight has been already scheduled for A. D. 2033. Wagner Schlesinger, distinguished director, of the Fels Planetorium, Philadelphia, tells you all about it in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

KLEMME REFORMED CHURCH

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

10:00 a. m. Morning Worship
11:00 a. m. Sunday School.
8:00 p. m. Monday

Adult Bible Class will have oyster stew and meeting January 13, instead of on January 6.

8:00 p. m. Tuesday
Young People's Bible Class
8:00 p. m. Thursday
Mixed Chorus

Confirmation Class will meet on Tuesday and Saturday.

U. B. CHURCH GOODELL

Rev. H. R. Knight, Pastor

Sunday:

Church School . 10:00 a. m.
Worship . . . . 11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor .. 7:00 p. m.
Forum Clinic .... 8:00 p. m.
Recreation . . . . . 9:00 p. m.

Wednesday:

Bible Study ..... 8:00 p. m.

Thursday;

Choir Practice .... 8:00 p. m.

STILLE FAMILY REUNION

Stille relatives of the community gathered at the Community Hall Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Stille, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stille, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stille over the holidays. The eighty people present enjoyed a big dinner together and all had brought food for the noon meal.

First Bath Tub Lead-Lined

The first American bathtub was built in 1833 of mahogany lined with sheet lead It was seven feet long, four feet wide and weighed 2,000 pounds

Want Ads

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — HOUSE IN KLEMme, party modern, with barn suitable for garage. Write I. R., care of Klemme Times. 2tp.

FOR SALE— FIVE DUROC JERSey Boars. Mrs. C. A. Arnold, Klemme, Iowa. D-4tfc.

FOR SALE— ONE SHORTHORN Bull and Spotted Boars. R. H. and A. S. Harris, Meservey. D-4tfc

FOR SALE— 600x16 USED TUBES Good ones at a bargain, 50 cents each. Klemme Auto Company. tfc

SERVICES OFFERED

FREE TO THE FIRST FORTY Farmers who bring in their Harnesses for oiling we will give a $1.00 Stockmen's Pocket Knife. Harnesses oiled for only $1.00 at Kimball's Leather Store, Klemme. tfc

CAR OWNERS—AUTO REPAIRing and Winterizing at prices you can afford to pay at Etchen Auto Company. 9-tc

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE All makes repaired. See the New Zenith Farm Radio. Lewis Radio Shop.

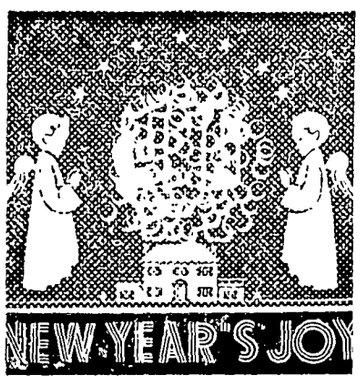
Want two passengers to help pay expenses. Leaving for Los Angeles January 6 and return Chas. Young, Garner. 1tp

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND LICENSE PLATE CLASS E 1941. Call at Times and pay for this ad and get plate. 1-c

The New Year will mean much to all of us new objectives higher standards of achievement —better service. We promis our constant effort to serve you even better in the coming yea

Central States
ELECTRIC COMPANY



We wish to extend to our many good friends our sincere wishes for continued good health, happiness and prosperity

GEORGE LAWHORN
Painter

★ Happy New Year ★

May this be the start of a New Year overflowing with all kinds of joys and pleasant surprises for you.

LLOYD LAU
Dray and Trucking

We extend greetings and good wishes to all our friends. We sincerely hope that there are many pleasant surprises in store for you in 1941.

W. F. PAVEY
Pavey's Stormizing Shop

IN 1941
WE RESOLVE—
To continue to merit your friendship and patronage.

LARSON'S STANDARD SERVICE
Carold Larson, Prop.
U. S. Highway 69

Our three-fold wish to y good health, good times a contentment in the year come.

DR. D. P. ANDERSO Veterinarian

Free Show!

Klemme Legion Community Hall

Tuesday Night, January 7

Beginning Promptly at 7:30 O'clock. Come Early!

5 Acts High Class Vaudeville 5

Including the McKay Sisters in Dancing and Singing, Ventriloquist, Banjoist, Accordionist, Magician and combined group vaudeville entertainment to please all.

Educational, Entertaining Movies

Including "Trees and Men," an educational film of western lumbering; "Spinning Wheels," showing the progress trucks have played in industry, and also International farm machinery in movies. ALL FREE!

BRING YOUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS AND BE OUR GUESTS . . . .

Northern Lumber Co.

PAUL GRANGE, Manager
Lumber Department

IRA OVERHOLT, Manager
Implement Store

BEST WISHES FOR A HAPPY NEW YEAR

WE GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGE YOUR VALUED PATRONAGE AND HOPE WE MAY CONTINUE TO SERVE YOU

ZROSTLIK TRUCK LINE
Frank L. Zrostlik, Owner

IN 1941
We resolve--
We thank you for your business during the past year. We resolve to continue to merit your friendship and patronage.

H. LAU SONS
Radios Farm Implements
Oil and Grease

We extend to you our kindest wishes for good health and good fortune throughout the coming year and invite you and your friends to avail yourselves of all the services offered by this modern banking institution.

LEGAL HOLIDAY

This bank will not be open for business New Year's Day,
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1941

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION $5,000 MAXIMUM INSURANCE FOR EACH DEPOSITOR MEMBER

The First National Bank

Oldest Bank In Hancock County

May the joys of successful achievement be yours this and New Year and through- t 1941.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN
M. D.

May 1941 bring much to you in health, happiness and prosperity

DR. E. G. SCHAEFFER
Dentist

SEASON'S GREETINGS TO ALL

We wish to extend to you our best wishes for a very happy and prosperous New Year

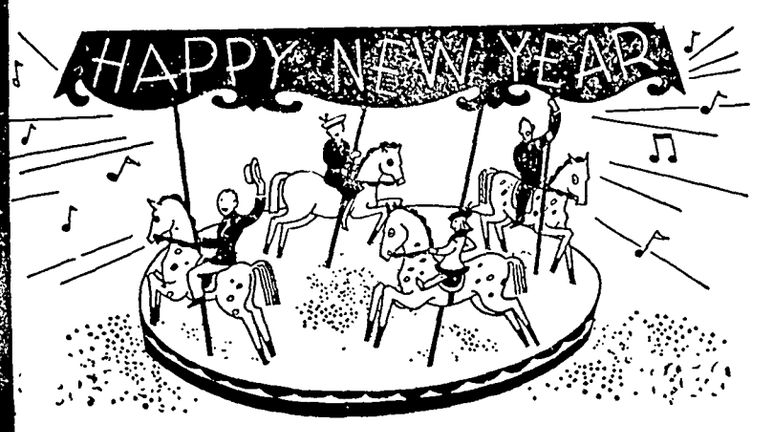
THE BELMOND AUTO CO.
And Its Employees

Phone 108 Belmond, Iowa

We're glad to see the New Year for a lot of reasons . . . but the best of all is that it's anothr opportunity to greet our friends again and wish them the best of everyhing in 1941.

KLEMME AUTO COMPANY

D. S. Day C. D. Fox Wilbur Heninger
Paul Fitzpatrick Vern Presnel



FRED J. ARNOLD

We want to thank you for your Friendship and Co-operation during 1940.

AND

To wish you the best of all Good Things for 1941.

KLEMME CO-OPERATIVE GRAIN COMPANY

DANCE

Sat. Night
January 4

Klemme Legion Community Hall

BOB BLACK'S Orchestra

Popular Prices Don't Miss This One!

Big New Year's Eve Dance

DEC. 31 EVERYBODY WELCOME Good Orchestra

Klemme Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City, Mr and Mrs. Joe Liebendorfer and son, Dick, and Mrs. Bessie Starboard of Hampton were Christmas Day guests at the R A Jorgenson home

Large crowds were present at each of the Christmas programs at the churches in this community Klemme Reformed church, the Klemme Methodist, Liberty Methodist and the Ell Town Reformed

Christmas Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs J C Thomas were John Harms of Alden, father of Mrs. Thomas, her brother Herman Harms and family of Alden, and Miss Irene Harms of Logan

Mr and Mrs Ed Jacobs entertained to Christmas dinner, Mrs Wistey and family of Clear Lake, Mrs Chris Jacobs of Garner, and Mr and Mrs C J Papousek and son of Belmond

"Pete" Kilgore, of Moline, Ill., came home last week Tuesday to spend a week visiting with his parents, Mr and Mrs C. C Kilgore "Pete" is employed in a job printing shop as printer in Davenport

J Jorgenson, who has been at the R A. Jorgenson home for the past seven months, left last week Friday for Rapid City, S Dakota, to spend Christmas with his son, John and family He may remain for several weeks visit.

Mr and Mrs W Henry Galbreth drove to Mason City Christmas Day to enjoy dinner at the Rev Wm Galbreth home Mrs Hodson, of Plymouth, mother of Mrs W H Galbreth, was also a guest

Mr and Mrs Tony Ahrenkiel and son of Goodell, Mr. and Mrs. Worthie Usher and sons of Rowan, Mr and Mrs Conrad Quandt ann Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gerardi and daughter of Klemme enjoyed dinner with Mr and Mrs Tom Blank and Marie Christmas Day

Mr and Mrs. A L. Kingery spent Christmas Day at the home of Mr Kingery's mother at Greene where a big Christmas dinner was enjoyed. Fifty-three relatives of the immediate family were present while a few others were unable to be present. That really was a big family gathering

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson returned home last Wednesday from Iowa City where Mr. Thompson was a patient at the University hospital receiving treatment for an infection which has been causing him a lot of trouble the past few weeks. Mr. Thompson's condition is greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carlson and son, Jimmie, left Friday for their home near Sheldon, Wis, after spending about a week visiting at the Art Wellemeyer home From here they went to Thompson to visit the Donald Bacon family, and from there expected to go to Garden City, Minn. to visit the Albert Jahnke family before going home.

Christmas Day dinner guests at the Paul Van Buskirk home were Mrs. Sarah Van Buskirk and Dick Montgomery of Belmond; Mr. and Mrs Bert Hollenbeck of Fort Dodge, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gilpin and family of Klemme Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Van Buskirk and Harriet were afternoon visitors.

Mrs. R. A Jorgenson and son, Ray Jr., drove to Kansas City, Mo. last week Friday for a few days visit at the Hugh Chapman home Mrs Jorgenson's sister, Mrs. Chapman is recovering from a serious injury in which she was severely burned when her dress caught afire when singeing a chicken. Mrs. Chaman will be confined to her bed for several weeks.

Christmas Day guests at the home of Mr and Mrs Arthur Wellemeyer included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bacon, Jo Ann, and Charles Dennis of Thompson, Mr and Mrs James Carlson and Arthur James of Sheldon, Wisconsin, Mr and Mrs. Harold Shoafstall and son of Fairmont, Minn; and the former Maxine Shoafstall and her husband and son of Blue Earth, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stille and youngest daughter, who have been visiting with relatives in this community for the past ten days, left Monday for their home at De Ridder, La The Stille family have lived in Louisiana for the past seven years They have a store and filling station on the highway near De Ridder. Mrs. Herman Bridges accompanied them home to spend the winter in the south

J. F and Harold Carlson of Barnum, Minn, H. Carlson of Blue Earth, Minn, and Bob Crosby of Duluth, Minn. were over-night guests at the Paul Van Buskirk home Monday night. Bob stayed for a visit with his brother, Jack.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reece visited Sunday with her parents at Nevada.

40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary Saturday, Dec. 28. In honor of the event all of the immediate family met at the Walter Lauden home for a big dinner. There were twenty present, all being there except Lenora and Bessie who were employed. A decorated wedding cake was enjoyed with the dinner

FIRE!
Your Cheapest Insurance
Is A FYR-FYTER
Sold & Serviced By
ELMER AX

Photographs
LIVE
FOREVER
RUSSELL
PHOTO STUDIO
Next to J. C. Penny MASON CITY

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experience and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme, Iowa

● This Fairbanks-Morse Automatic Coal Burner can fire your furnace automatically for less than it would cost to fire it yourself. You shovel no coal. Set the room thermostat and forget it. Let us show you.

Don't buy any kind of automatic heating until you have investigated Fairbanks-Morse automatic coal heat.

EASY TERMS
—of course!

Fred J. Arnold

This is the season when we like to renew our friendships for a coming year . . may it bring to you everything you desire: good health and happiness.

HENRY LEWIS PRODUCE STORE

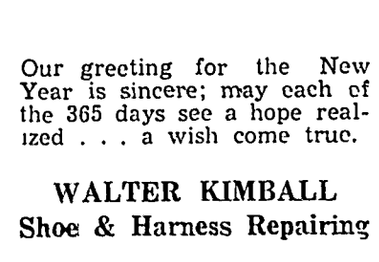
A new view . . . a fresh out look—in other words its 1941. We hope it will bring you all that you desire most!

THOMAS' UPTOWN
BARBER SHOP



Our greeting for the New Year is sincere; may each of the 365 days see a hope realized . . . a wish come true.

WALTER KIMBALL
Shoe & Harness Repairing

We thank you for your patronage during the past year and wish you a New Year filled with contentment and prosperity.

LEWIS RADIO SHOP
Ernest Lewis, Prop.

To all our friends we say "Happy New Year!" And may our friendships grow through out the coming year.

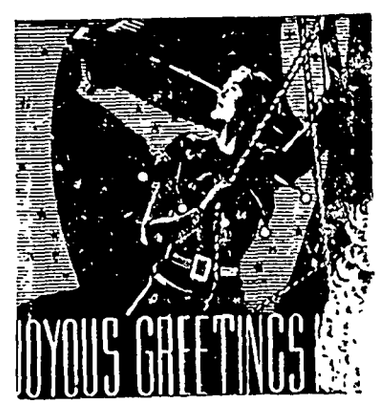
ELDAIRY
R. W. Elder, Prop.

Good wishes for the coming year! We shall endeavor, as in the past, to serve you to the best of our ability. Your continued patronage will be appreciated as always!

DON G. CHRISTIANCE
Barber Shop

The good will of the holiday season reminds us of your good will throughout the year for which we give you our heartfelt thanks May happiness, prosperity and great success attend you in the year to come.

SPEER CAFE



May we look ahead with you to a very prosperous and very happy 1941!

A. H. DULMES, M. D.

At this season we wish to express our appreciation of your loyalty and friendly attitude during the past. May we continue to merit it during 1941.

KLUCKHOHN'S

We thank you for your patronage during the past year, and wish for you and yours a full measure of life's best things in the year to come.

MARIE'S
BEAUTY SHOP

Arbitration Association Settles Disputes Out of Court to Save Time and Money

By WARREN FARNHAM
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

NEW YORK.—Working quietly and without profit, a group of men little known to the average citizen is enabling the nation's business to avoid a serious bottleneck in the national defense program—that of commercial disputes which bog down industry and tie up the flow of capital.

If allowed to pursue their normal course through the courts, these disputes might seriously slow the march of America's rearmament program by a stifling mass of legal red tape, disheartening expense and growing ill will.

The men are members of the national panel of arbitrators of the American Arbitration association. For 14 years their network of tribunals throughout the United States has been helping business men settle their grievances out of court.

Now launching a major expansion of their efforts in the light of the defense emergency, they have behind them a record of satisfactory settlements which might be viewed with envy by any system of courts in the world. Yet their methods are so simple as to seem too easy to be true in a time when business has been finding its life more complicated than ever before.

Idea in Operation.

One can see how the arbitration idea operates, fundamentally, by taking some such hypothetical situation as this one that might arise in your own home town almost any day:

Let us say Otto Schultz, your neighborhood butcher, orders a consignment of homemade sausages from Fred Perkins, a farmer on the edge of town. Otto keeps the sausages in his icebox for a few days, holding them for a big Saturday sale. When he opens them, he finds they are spoiled.

He claims that they must have been delivered in that condition and refuses to pay his bill of some twenty-odd dollars. Farmer Perkins insists that the goods were delivered in perfect condition and wants to collect his bill. There are a lot of harsh words, but both men would like to iron out the difficulty in a hurry because they know they'll probably have to get along with each other for years to come.

They decide to arbitrate. Otto and Farmer Perkins sign an agreement to put their case up to the association and to abide by its decision. Within 10 days three men are selected as arbitrators from the immediate vicinity of the town; Bill Jones, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank; George Smith, the hardware store owner, and Mark Daniels, milk and eggs dealer.

Meeting Is Held.

The five men meet in Bill Jones' office, since the cashier is the most active designated arbitrator for that area and knows the procedure. In less than three hours, the three arbitrators have settled the case at a cost of a few dollars.

It is brought out in the course of the hearing that Farmer Perkins sold several other batches of sausages to customers during the 48 hours preceding his sale to Otto, and that these people had no complaint.

The hardware store man remembers that Otto has had some trouble with his refrigerator in the past year and the bank cashier points out that the butcher already has ordered a new motor for the machine. Farmer Perkins is paid in full for his sausages and the case is ended quickly, except that Otto and his wife are invited to a special sausage dinner at the Perkins' home on the following evening.

Only one hour was required by this New York arbitrator seated in the center above to settle a case involving claims for $200 property damage. Causes of the accident were discussed informally by the witnesses seated about him. The arbitrator is a member of the American Arbitration association which maintains nation-wide facilities for settling disputes out of court.

In just as simple a manner as that, the association, a private nonprofit organization, has handled cases involving sums ranging from $5 to $2,000,000.

Some 20,000 disputes have been submitted for arbitration in the tribunals of the association since 1926. About 8,000 of these were settled before reaching the hearing stage. This indicates, according to the association, that the mere willingness to arbitrate is a long step toward forgiving and forgetting. Of the 12,000 awards made, 6 per cent have been appealed to the courts and not more than half a dozen have been sent back by the judges for rehearing.

Other Larger Cases.

The case of Butcher Otto and Farmer Perkins, of course, does not affect the national defense program—except that enmity is stopped at its source—but it is a simple illustration of how the bigger cases are being settled without fanfare or embarrassing publicity, and at an average cost of only 1 per cent of the amount involved.

Behind the association's plan for encouraging business to avoid the delays of litigation is Cornelius V. Whitney, newly elected president of the organization and former chief of the board of liaison officers.

Whitney, who is also board chairman of the Pan American Airways, worked out the program in cooperation with such prominent business figures as P. M. Haight, secretary-treasurer of the International General Electric company; James F. Hughes, former president of the American Society of Certified Public Accountants, and Evan E. Young, vice president of Pan American Airways.

C. V. Whitney

Seven thousand business and professional leaders in 1,700 cities and towns are being enlisted as "industrial minute men" in the group's nation-wide program for keeping peace in business and commerce.

According to Whitney, the members of the local tribunals, because of their background, prestige and experience, "will form the backbone in this plan to smooth the flow of trade through the increased use of arbitration with the aim of eliminating long court delays and costly fees that bog down industry."

Local Functions.

Primary functions of their efforts locally will be to survey the vital industries of their areas and urge business men to join the 430 other trade groups using the arbitration method as a standard means for settling business disputes.

How important the government regards the need for a swift and effective alternative to court action in times of emergency can be gauged from the fact that army contracts of $15,000 or less now contain provisions for three-man arbitration boards to decide questions of material whenever a disagreement arises between a business firm and military purchasing agencies.

The British Purchasing commission, which spent more than $80,000,000 for aeronautical products alone in this country during 1940, has been using a similar arbitration clause in its contracts with many American firms.

Commenting on these measures, Whitney said:

"Such forethought on the part of both government and private industry is symbolic of a desire to avoid any of the situations of the World war, when millions of dollars' worth of vital contracts became tied up in lengthy court suits."

In the field of commercial peace, the association this year has come upon even greener pastures. It has been named as administrator of all disputes in the motion picture industry by the federal government and the department of justice. This is the first time that an independent agency has ever been selected by the government to settle disagreements in a large industry.

31 Special Tribunals.

As a result of this arrangement, the association is establishing 31 special tribunals in major cities where motion picture producers and distributors will have their trade disputes settled by lay arbitrators.

The committee and the association's six-year-old Inter-American Commercial Arbitration commission, led by Thomas J. Watson, International Business Machines president, have reported virtual perfection of a method to settle commercial disputes anywhere in the Western hemisphere and portions of the Far East entirely by mail.

Through this arbitration machinery the disputants receive the services of top-flight authorities on their problem without ever seeing one another. With the cementing of inter-American relations as its primary aim, the association has launched this mail arbitration campaign to help avoid costly delays in handling of merchandise or in the release of funds involved in trade.

The smallest claim adjudicated by the association was for $5, for a spot a cleaning concern left on a parlor rug. The arbitrator and all concerned visited the rug owner's home, held the hearing "on the spot" and agreed on $1.47 as damages.

The largest amount involved was $2,000,000, sought by an agent as commission on a fur contract. The case had been tried in a state court, and the jury, after listening and pondering for six weeks, had disagreed. Having spent a little over $9,500 in litigation without getting anywhere, the principals tried arbitration. This time, before three arbitrators, the case was settled in nine days at a cost of $507, not counting stenographic charges.

Oddest Dispute.

What is perhaps the oddest dispute and the swiftest settlement in recent records is told in the story of a controversy which arose concerning a Broadway theater hit. On the afternoon of the opening the leading man, according to the case report, found that his name was not in lights on the theater marquee. He threatened a walkout. The producers gave way, but almost immediately the leading lady threatened a walkout of her own. Under their Actors' Equity contracts both stars were bound to arbitrate.

It was nearly 5 p. m. when the association was called. An hour and a half later three arbitrators appeared, and by 8 p. m. the leading man's name went up in lights. The curtain rose on time.

The A. A. A. is supported by membership fees and small contributions graduated up to $100 paid in by 400-odd corporations, organizations, and individuals.

New York Started It.

Congress and many state legislatures have followed the lead of New York, which 20 years ago granted legal standing to private arbitration. Courts and bar associations have voiced approval of it, for it helps keep clogged calendars clear. The New York law was the first of its kind in America.

In recent years the arbitration network, branching out of the organization's main offices in New York city, has spread over all the Americas from Canada to Argentina, following trade routes.

Studies Evidence

When a New York housewife claimed that her rug was damaged by a carpet cleaning company, this arbitrator, an expert, came to her home to examine the "evidence." It took only five minutes to decide the woman's claim was justified and awarded her $1.47 damages.

New Lightweight Engine Develops Great Power

The most modern and efficient airplane engines may soon become as obsolete as flintlocks as the result of a new scientific discovery.

Development of a jet-propulsion blast engine, deriving its power from the controlled detonation of an explosive fuel mixture composed of two liquids, was announced recently at the Guggenheim school of aeronautics of New York university.

The new motor, weighing less than 250 pounds with fuel tanks and fuel, develops 4,000 horsepower and would cost approximately $1,000.

It was developed by E. B. Myers, who worked with the aid of Dr. Alexander Klemin, head of the Guggenheim school.

He reports that it might be adapted to installation in military airplanes as an auxiliary motor to assist in take-offs with enormous bomb loads and to give sudden bursts of speed which are vital during combat.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

PARITY PAYMENTS

Farm legislation for the new congress is still chiefly in the "talk" stage, but one thing can be put down as definite: The parity payment program at best is due for a big slash.

In the new budget now being framed, parity payments are not entirely eliminated, but they are cut to the bone. Instead of the $212,000,000 voted last spring, the figure under consideration is only $50,000,000. And even this isn't certain.

It is entirely possible, under the policy of holding down all "normal" expenditures to the bone to provide more funds for defense, that the parity item may be eliminated entirely before the budget is finished.

Some congressional farm leaders are making no secret of their desire to supplant parity loans with a more financially sound plan. Chief among them is Rep. Hampton Fulmer of South Carolina, new chairman of the house agriculture committee, who is a strong advocate of the "income certificate plan."

This is a modified version of the old AAA processing tax under which processors would pay growers the difference between the market price and parity, in certificates purchased from the government.

* * *

VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS

Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones wasn't exaggerating when he predicted that this would be the most prosperous Christmas in history.

Economists of the federal reserve board, commerce and labor departments estimate a Yuletide business season surpassing even the peak in 1929. According to their private figures, dollar sales will about equal 1929, but business volume will be considerably heavier (1940 price levels are nearly 20 per cent lower). That is, each dollar spent will buy about one-fifth more than it did in the last of the boom years.

This is the way the experts forecast the Christmas season:

Employment—Because of the vast defense program, employment will be greater this month than at any time since 1929, with more than 37,000,000 (excluding temporary Christmas employees) on private payrolls—an increase of 1,400,000 over December, 1939.

Payrolls—Manufacturing payrolls will be 12 per cent greater than last December. That means $25,000,000 more a week will be paid in wages to industrial workers.

Retail trade—Sales generally will be from 8 to 10 per cent greater than 1939. Department store sales will be 5 per cent more than last Christmas, but still under record-breaking 1929. On the other hand, mail order and variety store sales will be the highest in history.

A very Merry Christmas, indeed.

* * *

WILLKIE AND NEW CHAIRMAN

There is a sputtering of ire among Republican national committeemen when they heard that Wendell Willkie considers it his right to name the successor to National Chairman Joe Martin, who wants to quit in order to give all his time to bossing the house Republicans.

Willkie picked Martin, and now takes the position that he also is entitled to select Martin's successor.

But to the hard-headed, political professionals, a candidate running for office and a defeated candidate are horses of entirely different colors. The first is a potential incumbent who may have patronage and favors to dispense, and therefore commands the right to call the tune. But a defeated standard-bearer is a has-been, and the boys are not interested in faded hopes.

So Willkie's claim to continued party leadership is meeting with very glacial response. When he told some of the national committeemen that they should name the man he wants, the boys tactfully, but pointedly, replied that the national committee is an elected body and alone has the power to fill a chairmanship vacancy.

* * *

MARTIN'S SUCESSOR

Martin is very eager to shed himself of the chairmanship.

The undercover maneuvering for the strategic place already is hot. Tom Dewey, Governor Bricker of Ohio, Sen. Bob Taft, Senator Vandenberg and others, with 1944 in mind, each is determined that no one hostile to him shall get it. The situation calls for a neutral, or someone acceptable to a combination of the leaders.

Martin privately is afraid that it won't be possible to find either and that to avoid a battle-royal he will be stuck as national chairman for some time to come.

* * *

MERRY-GO-ROUND

William Reuther, young, red-haired executive of the United Auto Workers, has submitted a plan to defense authorities whereby, by using the entire auto industry as one plant, it would be possible within six months to produce an all-metal, single-motor pursuit plane at the rate of 500 a day. Under Reuther's sensational program the planes not only would incorporate all the latest developments of Britain's famous Spitfires but would cost only one-third their present price.

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

Memos of a Girl Friday

Dear Mr. W.: Admiral Leahy is sore and disgruntled over the lack of instructions given him for his new job as Amb. to France. He is even talking of not going; though probably will, anyway. FDR and Mr. Hull both talk in vague generalities about what he is to do there . . . Senators Wheeler and Norris are getting another blast ready under the guise of probing foreign connections with American industry. The FBI will come in for another heckling, and you, too. You will be called a warmonger, etc. . . . Remember way back when the Fascist armies used to throw up one hand—instead of two?

Camille Williams' CBS vice prexy heart went to So. America on Gov't. business. Gave her a giant-sized ruby and diamond ring with which to console herself during his absence . . . Do you think Amb. Kennedy may chief for RKO as buzzed?

Adela Rogers St. John's boy, Bill, and his bride have parted . . . A women's radio group is plotting a nation-wide boycott of all radio programs, if the big music row isn't ironed out by New Year's . . . Francisca Sims of the Jolson show will wed a doctor in Feb. . . . The Nazis have just opened their eighth movie house in New York. Before the war not even four could make money. But in the U. S. movie theaters are part of Goebbel's scheme. Two others recently opened in Chicago . . . FDR's next book will be called: "The Next Four."

Quentin Reynolds will not return to London after his holiday here . . . Stanley High, the ex-Brain Truster, has become one of the editors at Reader's Digest . . . Mr. Dies will connect a Columbia prof. (no longer there) with his "amazing mass of Italian propaganda data in the U. S." . . . Eddie Pola says the new head of the Italian army is the right man. He's an old campaigner, been in three major retreats.

The German propaganda machine is utilizing American radio commentators and columnists (without their knowledge) in spreading reports that King Leopold of the Belgians is a traitor to his people and is working for the Nazi cause. Actually, he is still a closely guarded prisoner in his palace at Laeken, Belgium, and has not been to see Hitler and will not see the Pope in Hitler's behalf. . . . Don't worry about the source . . . Amazing the way Greece is "fighting for Freedom and Democracy." Greece, you know, is a Dictatorship!

Henry Wallace told a Q. T. story that Harold Ickes means what he says and will quit if the Forest Service isn't handed to him from Wallace's old Agriculture Dep't. They have tiffed for a long time, but Mrs. Ickes is trying to patch up matters. She consults Wallace regarding the 2,500 chickens which she raises in Maryland . . . The lowdown on the quarrel between Ickes and Gov. Cramer of the Virgin Islands is an old "Graphic" honey . . . Capt. J. Cary Jones (Navy recruiting here) acknowledges the numerous broadcast mentions for recruits. Says since first mention there's been a gratifying increase in accepted applicants—not only in the Northeastern Division, but throughout the nation.

—Your Girl Friday.

Man About Town

New Yorkers Are Talking About:

Jimmy Roosevelt's new pulse-taker. She is lovely Roma Aldrich, the blonde photog's model, succeeding nurse Romelle Schneider . . . The blazing of Franchot Tone and Alice Faye . . . Alfred G. Vanderbilt's first choice for his next bride—Dolly De Milo, who is better known in Hollywood . . . The new locks on the hoods of all FDR's motor cars to guard against saboteurs and assassins. Only Secret Service agents can open them . . . The way Joan Crawford thrilled the chorines in "Louisiana Purchase" by coming backstage to chat with them after curtain . . . The several rendezvous of the divided Hal Roachs. Reconciliation? . . . The Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurters, who have "adopted" the three children of Gilbert Murray, the British author, for "the duration" . . . Fred Allen's fury with his agency. Because they sent out a yappy story saying Fred would pay $20 each for any 1898 penny. They came in bunches, so Allen wants the agency to make good..

They're Also Chatting About:

Tallulah Bankhead's understanding. John Emery, her husband, is towning with Tamara Geva, with Tallulah's permish . . . George Price, who is not divorcing his Stock Exchange chair for the risky night club business as rumored . . . Elmer Davis, the commentator, who is convalescing after an operation at Suydenham hosp . . . The press-agented "marriage" of Bonnie Baker and Orrin Tucker. Her heart belongs to Jules Stern, the music pub's boy.

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

WNU Service

DRAFT MAKES MAJOR MISTAKE

The draft army turned down a New York taxicab driver the other day. This must show that it does not think there is any immediate need for fighting men in the army.

* * *

In this case the taxi driver was turned down because he didn't pass a 100 per cent eye test. Imagine that! Why, everybody knows from experience that a New York taxi man is dangerous under all conditions and twice as much of a threat to friend or foe if he can't see.

* * *

For that matter, imagine a taxi driver being turned down by the army for any reason!

* * *

A taxi driver, particularly a New York city one, is the country's best bet in any war. He could even be America's "mystery weapon," if given any encouragement.

* * *

"If I was with an enemy army," declared Elmer Twitchell today, "and I had to choose between mess with an average regiment and one New York taxi driver, I would dodge the cabbie and take on the regiment."

* * *

"Every time I think of the medical experts turning down these cabbies it makes me sore," continued Elmer. "Taxi drivers are the only group in American life who need no training to put up a fight. They are in constant training.

* * *

"I read in the papers that Uncle Sam is short of tanks. Tanks are an urgent need in modern war. Okay, but what can a tank do that a modern big city taxi pilot and his cab can't do, if it's necessary?

* * *

"What is the chief advantage of a tank? It is its ability to get across any kind of terrain, regardless of obstacles, and act as if it did not know they were there. Am I right? Of course I am. And ain't that where a New York taxicab fills the bill 100 per cent?"

* * *

Elmer was quite agitated. "The army not only should've welcomed this driver, regardless of the fact he wore glasses, but should have admitted his CAB!" he insisted, pounding the table.

* * *

"If I was of draft age and had to get into a war, nothing would make me feel safer than if I knew a flock of taxis were advancing ahead of me. They would scare the hell out of any foe on earth, and they goes for Hitler, Goering and Goebels. A mere announcement that America was recruiting a division of cab drivers would bring a peace movement at once, and I don't know why Roosevelt don't appreciate it.

* * *

"Please, Mr. Roosevelt, rescind that ban on that nearsighted New York taxi pilot, throw down the gates to all taxi drivers, and then let Europe get the information that they are to be our first line of attack and defense, and you will have peace in no time."

* * *

TO THE GREEKS

My bonnet is off to the Greeks—
They scorned big machines of "plan,"
And showed to a badly scared world
There still can be fights, man to man;
One terrible stiff kick in the pants
They give to the law "Might makes right,"
And flashed to a darkening world
A steadying, rallying light.

* * *

'DUCHESS' TOOTH WEEK

Miami and Miami Beach have had many curious backgrounds for the formal opening of the winter season, but this is the first time it's ever been done around an infected tooth.

* * *

The bathing beauties and Miss Americas upon whom Miami Beach has so long depended for publicity via press and newsreels are in a state of high indignation. The artist's models have become the forgotten Mannikins. A shapely leg, dimpled knee and the public shin have for the first time gone into the discard, believe it or not. The tooth is the thing!

* * *

No leg ever did as much for Miami and Miami Beach as Walgreen's jaw is doing this season.

* * *

HERO FOR 1940

Here's to Billy Friesell,
A wonderman so strong
That he can make an error
And frankly say "I'm wrong."

* * *

Police Commissioner Valentine of New York is completing plans to mobilize 18,500 policemen for emergency defense. Everything will be okay up to the time some defendant general asks a cop how to reach a certain destination.

But we would hate to be in a jam and have to look for a policeman.

U. S. Navy Is Called Best in World

Who Know Say Fleet Has More Ships Than That Of Any Other Nation.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The United States navy is called the best in the world by men who have been working with ships and men and guns long enough to see what kind of a fighting machine can be brought out of a combination of those three elements.

It has more ships now than any other single navy And when the new building program is finished, it will be almost twice the size of the projected new British fleet. It will have just two fewer battleships than the combined fleets Germany, Japan and Italy are building. It will have more aircraft carriers than these three combined. It will lack just 12 cruisers of having as many as any two of them combined.

Only in the submarine class will Germany have a superiority.

Sub's Value to U. S.

Naval experts say the chief value of the submarine for the United States would be local defense, to defend or throw caution into enemy enterprises, or to raid enemy shipping.

The submarine has sharp limitations. It is slow and can live but a short time under water.

The United States has 103 submarines now, and is building 82 more. Germany has 120 and is building 180 more.

Where the submarine is probably the most vulnerable ship in the fleet, and works on its outer fringes, the battleship is sturdy, well padded to meet blows and is the very heart of the fleet.

It is a floating fortress whose guns can fire eight tons of TNT from 15 to 20 miles at the rate of three loads a minute. In spite of their ponderous weight, modern battleships can move along at a speed of almost 30 to 40 miles an hour.

15 Battleships in Navy.

They take from 49 to 52 months to build and cost, fully equipped but with empty fuel tanks and no groceries for the men, from $86,000,000 to $93,000,000—each. They have a displacement of from 35,000 to 45,000 tons, are from 550 to 750 feet long and have a beam width of about 100 feet.

The navy has 15 of these, the youngest 16 years old and the oldest 27. Seventeen new battleships are in the making.

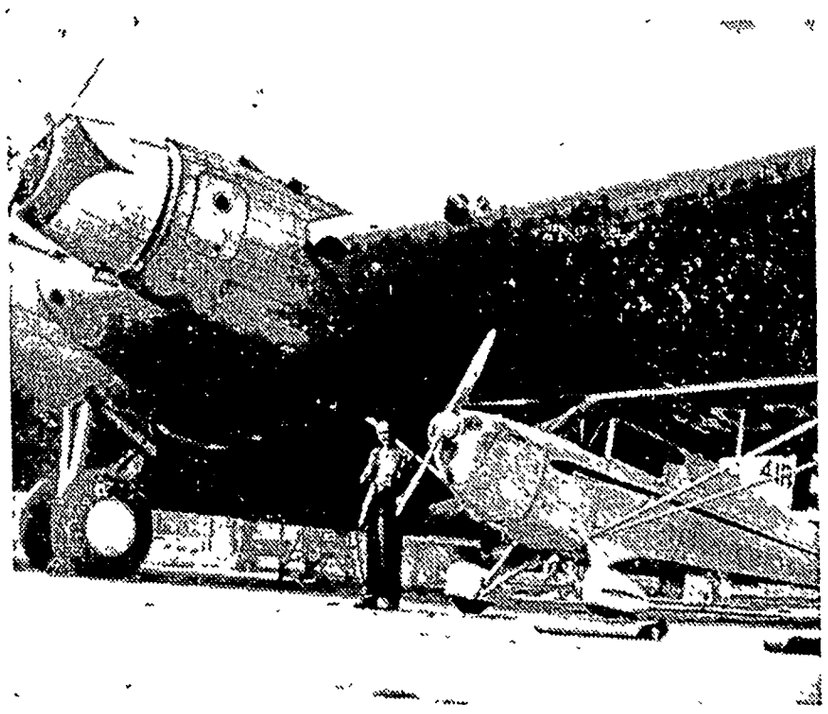
Next on its own list of ships, the navy puts aircraft carriers—huge combination hangars, repair shops and floating landing fields. They have to cling close to the fleet since they carry little armor and might fall prey to either bomb, gunfire or torpedo.

But the cruiser ranks next to the battleship as a fighter. The United States has 37, about equally divided between the heavy and light class. Britain has 37 and is building 23, Japan 44 and 6. The United States is building 48.

In the destroyer class, the United States has 15 and is building 170; Britain has 172 and 18; Japan 135 and 11; Italy 120 and 12; Germany 47 and an undisclosed number building.

Lean, lithe and dangerous, the destroyer is the most romantic and the most uncomfortable of all fighting ships.

Giant and the Pigmy



The wing of the Boeing B-15 super flying fortress, one of the largest planes in the world, makes a nice shelter for the Piper coupe at a Long Island, N. Y., airport. Captain Alex Papana, world famous acrobatic pilot of the Rumanian air force, is shown standing in front of his tiny plane.

Minute Make-Ups

By V. V.

IF YOU find yourself suddenly out of your favorite nail oil, here's an excellent substitute you can whip at home. Mix one tablespoonful of cerin with two tablespoonfuls of castor oil, and add five drops of oil of rose. Work this into your nails right after washing your hands.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Uncle Sam's Story

by Thornton W. Burgess

SAMMY JAY'S MESSAGE TO OLD MAN COYOTE

WHILE Farmer Brown's Boy was doing a lot of hard thinking about those traps he had set for Old Man Coyote Sammy Jay was making a call on Old Man Coyote. Yes, sir, Sammy was calling on Old Man Coyote. You see he had been sent with a message from the little people of the Smiling Pool and the Green Meadows. The message was a vote of thanks to Old Man Coyote for leading Bowser the Hound into a trap and so teaching Farmer Brown's Boy a lesson. You see they all felt, what was really true, that Farmer Brown's Boy would almost rather have been caught himself than to have had Bowser caught.

Sammy found Old Man Coyote at home, and what do you suppose he was doing? He was digging out and uncovering every one of the traps that Farmer Brown's Boy had set so carefully. And as he worked he growled and grumbled to himself for those traps made him very angry. Sammy stopped to listen, a very impolite thing to do, and he grinned as he heard Old Man Coyote say all kinds of unpleasant things about Farmer Brown's Boy. You know Sammy is always willing to believe the worst of anyone. When Old Man Coyote looked up and saw Sammy he snarled at him. You know no one likes to be overheard talking to himself, especially when saying unpleasant things.

Sammy pretended that he had just arrived and that he didn't notice Old Man Coyote's bad temper.

"Good morning, Mr. Coyote," said he, making a grand bow and speaking as pleasantly as he knew how. "I have the honor to bring you a message from the little people of the Green Meadows and the Smiling Pool."

Old Man Coyote pricked up his ears and grinned. "What's worrying them now?" he demanded. "You can go straight back and tell them that I like the Green Meadows and that I intend to stay here. If they don't like it they can go themselves."

You see he knew very well that he was the most feared of all the little people living on the Green Meadows, and that no one had any love for him.

"You've guessed wrong this time," chuckled Sammy. "You've guessed wrong this time, Mr. Coyote. It's a vote of thanks."

"What?" exclaimed Old Man Coyote, looking very foolish and very "Good morning, Mr. Coyote," said he.

much as if he thought Sammy Jay was making fun of him. Probably this was the first time in all his life that he had ever been thanked for anything, and it gave him a queer feeling.

"I said it's a vote of thanks," replied Sammy.

"What for?" asked Old Man Coyote gruffly, and looking very much puzzled.

"For leading Bowser the Hound into a trap and so teaching him and his master what dreadful things traps are," replied Sammy.

"Pooh, that's nothing!" said Old Man Coyote. "I guess that silly dog has learned a lesson, but that doesn't look as if his master has, does it?" He pointed to the traps he had just uncovered.

Sammy scratched his head thoughtfully. "No-o," said he slowly. "No-o, I can't say that it does. What a pity it is that someone doesn't trap him. Then you people wouldn't have to worry. I'm glad I live in trees and not on the ground. I don't have to worry about traps."

"Do you notice that I am doing much worrying?" grunted Old Man Coyote. "Traps don't bother me. It will take some one smarter than Farmer Brown's Boy to set a trap that will catch me."

Sammy looked at Old Man Coyote in admiration, for it was very plain to see that he was not bragging He was just stating a fact.

"My, how smart you are!" exclaimed Sammy. "I've always said that you were the smartest person on the Green Meadows. Nobody else, not even Granny Fox, would have been smart enough to have found those traps."

Old Man Coyote looked very much flattered, Sammy's quick eyes saw it. "I mean it," he said. Old Man Coyote looked at him with a kinder expression in his yellow eyes than Sammy ever had seen before. It began to look as if they were going to be friends.

(Associated Newspapers—WNU Service.)

40 P. C. of Air Deaths Laid to 'Showing Off'

WASHINGTON.—More than 40 per cent of all fatal airplane crashes in the last year were caused by student pilots "showing off" to friends accompanying them on training flights, the civil aeronautics board said.

The C A.B. warned that "an unfinished pilot in a show-off mood is a menace."

Mix Coal Waste and Oil To Produce 'Superfuel'

MANHATTAN, KAN.—An experiment leading to the development of a supercombustion "collodial fuel," under the direction of Dr. J. E. Hedrick, instructor of chemical engineering at Kansas State college, has attracted inquiries from industrialists throughout the United States and as far away as England.

Hedrick has mixed slack from coal washings, a waste product, with oil. Before the theory was developed two main problems arose. One was to develop a method of keeping the coal from settling outside the oil mixture. The other was to find a method to grind coal cheaply.

The three-year experiment will be completed when collodial fuel is proven satisfactory under tests involving actual commercial conditions. Hedrick claims the fuel is cheaper than oil, has a higher heat value and is easier to handle than coal.

The mixture is 40 to 50 per cent slack from coal washings.

WISE BIRD

Pelicans at St. Petersburg, Fla., are wise birds. They have found that they can save energy by just sitting around and accepting donations from anglers who usually give them the smaller fish. Here a lugubrious pelican waits patiently beside a pretty angler.

Smuggling by Refugees Presents New Problem

PHILADELPHIA — Philadelphia customs officials and the coast guard are guarding the Delaware river from Philadelphia to the Breakwater against alleged diamond smuggling by war refugees.

Customs officials refused to comment but it was reported that refugees from The Netherlands and northern France are flooding the United States diamond markets with valuable uncut diamonds.

Star Dust

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

REMEMBER that beloved book of your childhood days, "Little Men," by Louisa May Alcott? Well, imagine what it might be like with the addition of two new characters, to wit, Major Burdle, a fast-talking, amiable swindler who sacrifices everything for the love of his adopted son, and Willie the Fox, "a lovable, amusing 'living corpse'," according to information from RKO. When you've finished this little picture puzzle, go to see the picture.

It's been turned out as adult entertainment, yet it's still a story for young folks. Kay Francis, George Baneroft and Jack Oakie head the cast, which includes Jimmy Lyfon, Richard Nichols, Sammy McKim and Elsie, the glamour cow.

Ruth Hussey's work in Metro's "Flight Command," with Robert Taylor, and in "The Philadelphia Story," with Katharine Hepburn, James Stewart and Cary Grant, have won her a new long-term contract. Incidentally, "Philadelphia Story" is the picture that Cary Grant made for the Red Cross—he accepted the assignment with the idea of turning over his salary to them—$125,000.

Ruth Hussey

Bitter words were said in Hollywood recently when various producers needed stunt women and found that 14 of the best had been corralled by Paramount for "Las Vegas Nights," which already had Phil Regan, Lillian Cornell and Tommy Dorsey and his band.

The maddening part of it was that the daring demoiselles weren't scheduled to do stunts, just to dance with cowboys and drink cold tea, that would screen as Scotch and soda.

Carole Landis is beginning to think there's something about her that makes scenario writers want to see how near they can come to killing her In her last three pictures she has been (1) chased by a prehistoric mammoth, (2) scheduled to climb a flagpole on top of a skyscraper, and (3) requested to get chummy with a cage-full of lions.

Carole Landis

In her newest one, "Topper Returns," she is the target for a falling 250-pound chandelier. Plenty of precautions were taken when it was shot—after all, there's just one Carole Landis. Then, too, the chandelier cost $800. A retake was just out of the question.

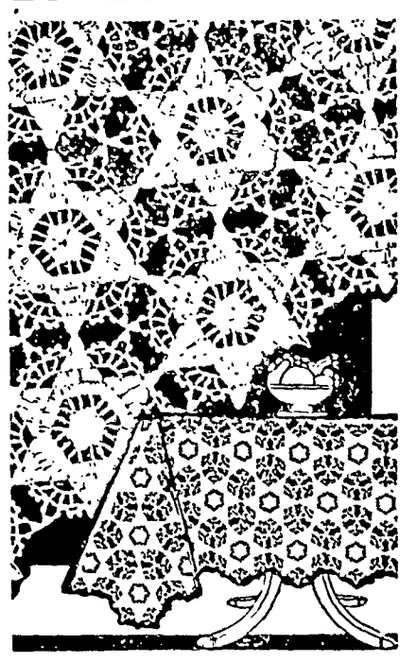
Bing Crosby's brother Bob, well known on the radio, makes his movie debut in "Let's Make Music," which, oddly enough, is a musical comedy. There are four musical numbers that may turn into hit songs, and Jean Rogers, Elizabeth Risdon and Joyce Compton are in the cast.

If you know of a waltz that Wayne King doesn't know you're one in a million. Fourteen years ago he started his library of waltz music; then he became known as "The Waltz King," and the demand for waltz music began to exceed the supply on hand. Since then he's been collecting what has grown into probably the largest library of waltz music in the country. His research staff includes three men in Chicago; two in New York; and one in South America.

The Pittsburgh Symphony men were rather startled when they learned that they were to play "Melancholy Baby" on that recent Musical Americana program. By the way, the song was written by Ed Burnett back in 1910 when he was waiting for his sweetheart to arrive on a train that was 18 hours late. And "If I Forget You," which Helen Jepson sang on that same program, was inspired by an editorial in the New York Times; Irving Caesar saw the editorial, which began with a quotation from the Psalms—"If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget its cunning—"—and wrote the song.

ODDS AND ENDS—The University of California has engaged Rudy Vallee for a series of lectures before the radio class—he'll give practical advice on broadcasting and radio showmanship . . . Kenny Baker has flown back and forth across the country so often, usually at night, that he declares he's travelled more and seen less than anybody else . . . Mary Martin would like to leave that air show so that she can concentrate on motion picture work . . . Bill Stern, director of "Sports Newsreel of the Air," has been offered a lecturing post in a radio announcing course, by a prominent university. He'll accept if he can find time

Things to do



Pattern 6800

EVEN a beginner will find this medallion an easy one to crochet. Joined together the medallions form a lovely pattern for large or small accessories.

* * *

Pattern 6800 contains instructions for making medallion; illustration of it and stitches; photograph of medallion; materials needed. Send order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York
Enclose 15 cents in coins for Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

SALESMEN WANTED

SALESMEN WANTED in Iowa to sell low cost monthly payment Accident and Health insurance. Liberal comm. American Republic Ins. Co., Walnut Bldg., Des Moines.

Deeds of Mercy

Though justice be thy plea, consider this, that in the course of justice, none of us should see salvation. We do pray for mercy; and that same prayer doth teach us all to render the deeds of mercy.—Shakespeare.

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF COLDS quickly use 666 LIQUID TABLETS SALVE NOSE DROPS COUGH DROPS

Great and Small

In the world's audience hall, the simple blade of grass sits on the same carpet with the sunbeams, and the stars of midnight.—Tagore.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

WNU—N 52—40

Cat and the Fiddle

This silver tabby kitten was one of the numerous animals exhibited in the Beresford Cat club show held recently in Chicago. Oldest cat club in America, the annual Beresford show has entries from all sections of the country.

SCIENTISTS USE SOUTHERN RAT TO STUDY DREAD PARALYSIS

CLEVELAND.—From a dingy laboratory in Cleveland's City hospital comes the word that a bushy-haired, high-strung rat from the cotton fields of the South may help scientists discover the cause of infantile paralysis, the microbe which they have never seen.

The little rodent bounded into the spotlight when it was discovered that it could contract the disease from human beings.

For years men have searched the animal kingdom for a suitable experiment victim. There has been only one eligible candidate, the macacus rhesus monkey imported at high cost from India.

Because of a high mortality rate and higher upkeep charges, the costs for a single experiment with the chattering little tree mammals has been staggering—sometimes as high as $650. Hundreds of worthwhile experiment ideas have been tossed aside because of insufficient funds.

The Southern rat can be delivered for $1 a head. It is probable that experiments now may be conducted for as little as $20.

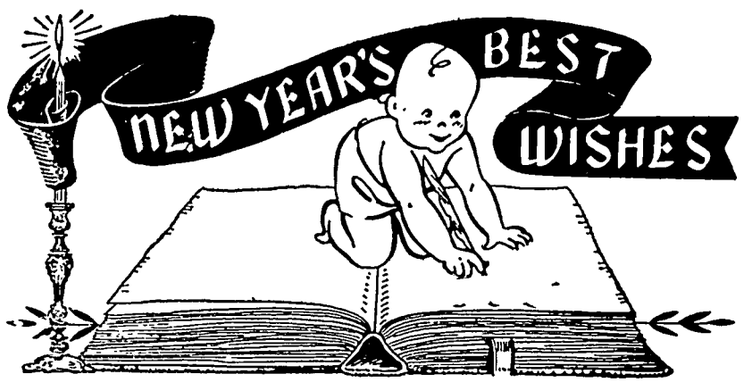
The susceptibility of the rodent to infantile paralysis was discovered by Charles Armstrong of the United States public health service, whose years of search finally took him to the cotton fields of the South. Armstrong succeeded in injecting paralysis virus into the rat from a victim who had died of the disease in Lansing, Mich. He reports that results of the experiment were highly successful.

Today Armstrong and Cleveland's Dr. John A. Toomey, national authority on infantile paralysis, are pioneering the paralysis quest through the new medium.

BUREAU OF STANDARDS

• A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.

• You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.



Let us take the Life Book new, with its leaves unspotted,
And with nobler purpose write, leaving it unblotted!
Let us trust and not despair, hope comes with the morning
"Peace on earth, good will to all," with the New Year dawning.

KLEMME CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY COMPANY

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Sure it's happy! We're happy because of lots of things—chiefly because we've had the opportunity to be of service to you and to this Community.

E F. JACOBS

"Farm Service Store" Klemme, Iowa

As we move into a New Year we want to express our gratification over the cordial relations that have existed between us and to express our desire that they may continue and increase during the year to come.

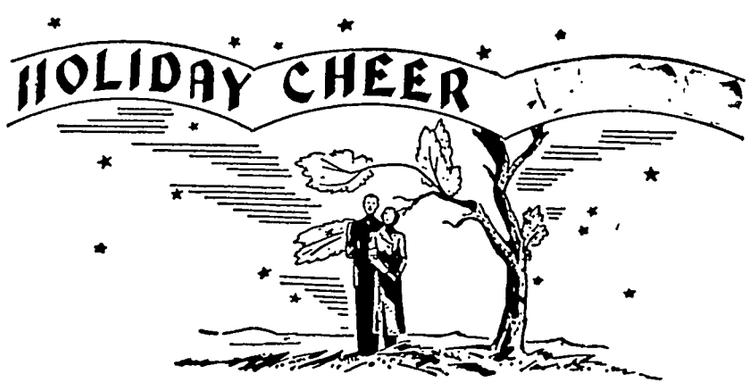
Optimistic!

KLEMME FOOD MARKET

We Are Appreciative . . .

. . . of the opportunity of serving you in 1940 and ask for your friendship throughout 1941.

Herman — "Tubby" — "Ernie"
HANCOCK COUNTY CO-OPERATIVE OIL ASSOCIATION



As the New Year opens we rededicate ourselves to a greater service and building a better community.

NORTHERN LUMBER COMPANY
FARM IMPLEMENTS LUMBER BUILDING MATERIAL

Local Happenings

Klemme and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Schreiner and Marylin spent Christmas Day at the Elmer Schneider home.

Mrs. Cecil Bridges began teaching at the Greiman school two miles north of Klemme, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schlawin spent Friday at Lohrville visiting with their daughter and family.

"Ole" Ramsey and family spent Christmas Day with relatives at Garrison.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clements spent Christmas eve visiting in Estherville.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grange and son, Dorance, spent Christmas Day at the White home in Estherville.

Mr. and Mrs. P M. Wilson spent Christmas Day at the Robert Risser home in Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cuyers of Edgerly, North Dakota, came last Thursday for a visit at the Sumner Trumbull home.

Miss Anna Becker entered the Mercy hospital at Mason City last Thursday to receive treatment for pneumonia.

Paul Schuldt and Ray Jorgenson Jr. left Monday for a week trip to eastern Ohio where they visited. . . . Amen . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lau spent Christmas Day at a family gathering held at the Will Hoeft home near Garner.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka drove to Oskaloosa Friday for a visit with her mother, returning home Friday.

Miss Marie Stille, who teaches at Malcolm, Iowa, is spending the holiday vacation visiting with her parents, Mr and Mrs. J. E. Stille.

Harold Jost drove in from Toledo, Ohio, Christmas eve to spend the holidays visiting with his father, Mr. Henry Jost.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day and son, Garry, were dinner guests Christmas Day at the John Day home.

Mrs. Herman Paul and son, Milton, drove to Des Moines on Christmas eve to spend Christmas Day at the Epps home.

Henry Lewis and family and Verner Lewis and family had Christmas Day dinner with Lew Lewis at his home.

Klemme friends have received announcements from Dr. and Mrs. Raney of Wesley that they are parents of a baby born recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Trumbull spent Christmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair West at Fort Dodge.

C. C. Kilgore and family enjoyed Christmas Day dinner at the Joe Burgess home southeast of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lawhorn and Grandpa Freie spent Christmas Day at the home of John Braund and family at Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reece were entertained to a duck dinner Friday evening at the Harvey Barz home.

Miss Glenna Gruetzmacher, who teaches at Winthrop, is spending the holiday vacation in Klemme visiting with her mother, Mrs. Frank Gruetzmacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet spent Christmas Day at the Meyer home near Forest City where a lot of relatives were entertained to dinner.

Guests at the E. C. Buntenbach home for a turkey dinner Christmas Day were Myron Behrens and family of Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lucas of Clear Lake.

A family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Larson on Christmas Day when their children and families were present for a big dinner.

Mr. Henry Freie, who slipped and fell a few weeks ago and fractured a rib, has greatly improved and is able to be up and around the house again.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mitchell, of Swea City, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman and daughter, Marian, were dinner guests Christmas Day at the C. F. Keraus home.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Zabilka and daughter, Gladys, and son, Billy, were dinner guests on Christmas Day at the George Schoenwetter home in Liberty township.

Mrs. Lida Filkins of Iowa City, and her nephew, Tom Gray, of Rockford, Ill., visited last week Monday and Tuesday at the Dr. Dulmes home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, who live on their farm east of Klemme, entertained all of the Johnson relativs in this community at a Christmas Day dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C .A. Larsen and children, Eunice and Clarence Jr., drove to Cedar Rapids Christmas morning to spend Christmas Day and Thursday visiting with Mr and Mrs. Marvin Isvik.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Carr of Garner, and Mr and Mrs. F. A Arnold and son, Asa, were entertained as Christmas Day dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Arnold.

Stanley Thada and family enjoyed Christmas Day dinner at the home of his parents at Thornton, and for supper they were entertained at Mrs. Thada's parents home at Meservey.

Christmas Day dinner guests at the Dr. D P Anderson home were John Suckow and family, Grandma Suckow, Mrs. Ernest Schuldt and Mr. and Mrs. Art Thompson and Dorothy.

Christmas Day dinner guests at the P. W. Johnson home were, Mr. James Tippy of Evanston, Ill., Mrs Lillian Lau and children, Elise, Jean and Larry of Albert Lea, Minn.

Ben Coobs and family spent Christmas Day at the Rev. Harry Buss home at Hudson. Mrs. Coobs' father and sister from Columbus, Ohio were also guests. They will visit in Klemme later.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder entertained the following at a six o'clock dinner Thursday evening: Mrs. Henry Voetberg of Bismark, N. D., and Mr and Mrs. Wm. Barz of Garner, Dr. and Mrs. Dulmes, Rev. and Mrs. Grosshuesch, Mrs Thada and Mrs. Bock.

JOHN LAMONT
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Phone 15 Klemme, Iowa

Avery

"The Theatre Beautiful"
GARNER, IOWA

Wednesday and Thursday, January 1-2.

"Youth Will Be Served"

with Jane Withers and Jane Darwell.

Friday and Saturday, Jan. 3-4. (Double Feature)

"A Little Bit of Heaven"

with Gloria Jean and Hugh Herbert.

ALSO

"The Gay Caballero"

with Cesar Romero and Chris Pin Martin.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 5-6-7.

"This Thing Called Love"

with Rosalind Russell and Melvin Douglas.

DEAR CUSTOMER:—

"I am sending you this message
Just because I want to say
That I'm glad the fates arranged it
So that we passed each other's way;

Just to hear your voice and see you
Makes our sky a shade more blue
And I'm just a bit more happy,
Since a-crossing paths with you."

May the next 365 days bring you much of Joy and Good Cheer.

Very Truly

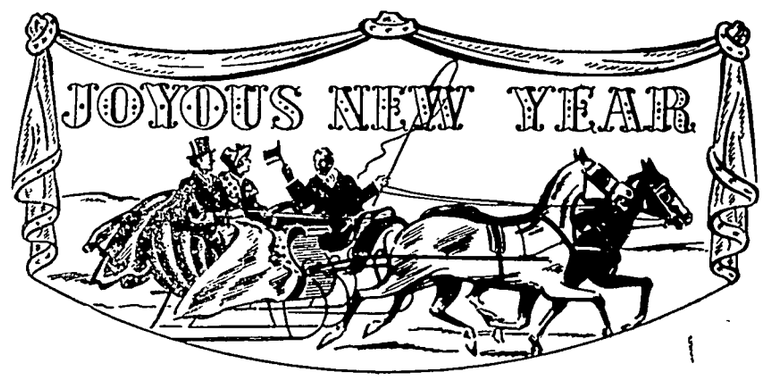
Arthur Wellemeyer

As we approach the New Year, we wish to thank the people of Klemme and vicinity for their patronage during the past year. We also want to thank the merchants of Klemme for handling our products so efficiently.

THE GARNER BAKERY
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lehmann, Prop.

Whatever the New Year may bring, we face it unafraid. For the friendships of the many whom we have served in the past give us courage and hope for the future. For your kindness may we take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation and to extend to all the Greetings of the Season.

FEDERAL NORTH IOWA GRAIN COMPANY



We Welcome This Time . . .

. because it gives us a chance of telling you how much we have appreciated your patronage, and we sincerely hope you will allow us the privilege of continuing to serve you.

THADA'S STORE

That's how we feel about the outlook for 1941. We believe there's much happiness and increased prosperity in store for all of us. That's why we can make our Greeting so sincere.

ERNEST GERARDI CONRAD QUANDT